
MILLIMETERS
MICROCOPY RESOLUTION TEST CHART
(ANSI and ISO TEST CHART No. 2)
1.0
1.1
1.25
2.8
3.2
3.6
4.0
2.5
2.2
2.0
1.8
1.4
1.6
APPLIED IMAGE, Inc
1653 East Main Street
Rochester, New York 14609
14:1

Thomas A. Edison Papers

A SELECTIVE MICROFILM EDITION

PART IV
(1899–1910)

Thomas E. Jeffrey
Lisa Gitelman
Gregory Jankunis
David W. Hutchings
Leslie Fields
Theresa M. Collins
Gregory Field
Aldo E. Salerno
Karen A. Detig
Lorie Stock

Editors

Robert Rosenberg
Director and Editor

Sponsors
Rutgers, The State University Of New Jersey
National Park Service, Edison National Historic Site
New Jersey Historical Commission
Smithsonian Institution

University Publications of America
Bethesda, MD
1999

Edison signature used with permission of McGraw-Edison Company

Thomas A. Edison Papers
at Rutgers, The State University endorsed by
National Historical Publications and Records Commission
18 June 1981

Copyright © 1999 by Rutgers, The State University

All rights reserved. No part of this publication including any portion of the guide and index or of the microfilm may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form by any means—graphic, electronic, mechanical, or chemical, including photocopying, recording or taping, or information storage and retrieval systems—without written permission of Rutgers, The State University, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

The original documents in this edition are from the archives at the Edison National Historic Site at West Orange, New Jersey.

ISBN 0-89093-703-6

THOMAS A. EDISON PAPERS

Robert A. Rosenberg
Director and Editor

Thomas E. Jeffrey
Associate Director and Coeditor

Paul B. Israel
Managing Editor, Book Edition

Helen Endick
Assistant Director for Administration

Associate Editors
Theresa M. Collins
Lisa Gitelman
Keith A. Nier

Assistant Editors
Louis Carlat
Aldo E. Salerno

Research Associates
Gregory Jankunis
Lorie Stock

Secretary
Grace Kurkowski

Student Assistants
Amy Cohen
Bethany Jankunis
Laura Konrad
Vishal Nayak
Jessica Rosenberg
Stacey Saelg
Wojtek Szymkowiak
Matthew Wosniak

BOARD OF SPONSORS

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey
- Francis L. Lawrence
- Joseph J. Seneca
- Richard F. Foley
- David M. Oshinsky

New Jersey Historical Commission
- Howard L. Green

National Park Service
- John Maounis
- Maryanne Gerbauckas
- Roger Durham
- George Tselos

Smithsonian Institution
- Bernard Finn
- Arthur P. Molella

EDITORIAL ADVISORY BOARD

James Brittain, Georgia Institute of Technology
R. Frank Colson, University of Southampton
Louis Galambos, Johns Hopkins University
Susan Hockey, University of Alberta
Thomas Parke Hughes, University of Pennsylvania
Peter Robinson, Oxford University
Philip Scranton, Georgia Institute of Technology/Hagley Museum and Library
Merritt Roe Smith, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

FINANCIAL CONTRIBUTORS

PRIVATE FOUNDATIONS

The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation
Charles Edison Fund
The Hyde and Watson Foundation
National Trust for the Humanities
Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation

PUBLIC FOUNDATIONS

National Science Foundation
National Endowment for the Humanities
National Historical Publications and Records Commission

PRIVATE CORPORATIONS AND INDIVIDUALS

Alabama Power Company
Anonymous
AT&T
Atlantic Electric
Association of Edison Illuminating Companies
Battelle Memorial Institute
The Boston Edison Foundation
Cabot Corporation Foundation, Inc.
Carolina Power & Light Company
Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc.
Consumers Power Company
Cooper Industries
Corning Incorporated
Duke Power Company
Entergy Corporation (Middle South Electric System)
Exxon Corporation
Florida Power & Light Company
General Electric Foundation
Gould Inc. Foundation
Gulf States Utilities Company
David and Nina Heitz
Hess Foundation, Inc.
Idaho Power Company
IMO Industries
International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers
Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Katz
Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd.
Midwest Resources, Inc.
Minnesota Power
New Jersey Bell
New York State Electric & Gas Corporation
North American Philips Corporation
Philadelphia Electric Company
Philips Lighting B.V.
Public Service Electric and Gas Company
RCA Corporation
Robert Bosch GmbH
Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation
San Diego Gas and Electric
Savannah Electric and Power Company
Schering-Plough Foundation
Texas Utilities Company
Thomas & Betts Corporation
Thomson Grand Public
Transamerica Delaval Inc.
Westinghouse Foundation
Wisconsin Public Service Corporation

START

220

A Note on the Sources

The pages which have been filmed are the best copies available. Every technical effort possible has been made to ensure legibility.

PUBLICATION AND MICROFILM
COPYING RESTRICTIONS

Reel duplication of the whole or of any part of this film is prohibited. In lieu of transcripts, however, enlarged photocopies of selected items contained on these reels may be made in order to facilitate research.

SERIAL PUBLICATIONS

Edison Business Phonograph Company
Tips

Starting with the issue of August 1, 1908, Tips was a publication of the Edison Business Phonograph Co. Issued roughly once a week, it provided dealers with technical and promotional information, usually in a single-sheet, broadside format. The publication was continued by Thomas A. Edison, Inc., in February 1911 and endured into the 1940s.

Edison Manufacturing Company
The Kinetogram

The Kinetogram (originally called The Edison Kinetogram) was published by the Edison Manufacturing Co. during the period August 1909-January 1916. The semi-monthly issues provided descriptions of the latest Edison productions and general news about the motion picture business to exchanges and exhibitors.

Edison Portland Cement Company
The Edison Aggregate

The Edison Aggregate was a monthly sales brochure published by the Advertising Department of the Edison Portland Cement Co. Each issue highlights a particular ornamental, residential, or industrial application for Edison's cement. One issue concerns construction projects in Haiti and Cuba; another involves the New York City subways. The March 1910 issue, selected as a sample, identifies factories and warehouses that were constructed with Edison's cement and includes an illustration of his concrete factories in West Orange.

National Phonograph Company
The Phonogram

Written by Herbert A. Shattuck, advertising manager of the National Phonograph Co., The Phonogram was a company publication from May 1900 until Shattuck's resignation in October 1902. It succeeded a publication of the same title, which was issued by the North American Phonograph Co. during the early 1890s.

National Phonograph Company
The New Phonogram

Starting with the issue of July 1904, The New Phonogram was a monthly publication of the National Phonograph Co. The publication was continued in February 1911 by Thomas A. Edison, Inc. Its title was changed to Phonogram in November 1912.

National Phonograph Company
Edison Phonograph Monthly

Starting with the issue of March 1903, the Edison Phonograph Monthly was a publication of the National Phonograph Co. The monthly issues provided jobbers and dealers with technical, promotional, and other information, including articles on products, matters of corporate policy, and the progress of litigation, as well as lists of new records, available printed matter, current jobbers, and suspended dealers. Each issue printed numerous communications from jobbers and dealers who related their experiences or posed questions regarding the sale of Edison phonographs and records. The publication was continued by Thomas A. Edison, Inc., in February 1911, and it was renamed the Edison Amberola Monthly in 1917.

Primary Printed Series - Serial Publications
Tips

Starting with the issue of August 1, 1908, Tips was a publication of the Edison Business Phonograph Co. Issued roughly once a week, it provided dealers with technical and promotional information, usually in a single-sheet, broadside format. The publication was continued by Thomas A. Edison, Inc., in February 1911 and endured into the 1940s.

The archives of the Edison National Historic Site contains nearly a complete run of Tips. The extant issues for the period August 1908-December 1913 can be found in a bound volume with a cover marked "Tips 1-199." The issues through May 13,1911 (number 100) have been selected. An index to numbers 1-49 appears at the end of the issue of December 15, 1909. An index to numbers 51-100 is bound between the issues of June 10, 1911, and June 26, 1911. The indexes have been filmed first.

TIPS INDEXED—No. 1 to No. 49

Advertising, the Edison plan of circular... 5
Advertising, the Edison signature and portraits 36
Advertising limited to finding the prospect... 40
Advertising plan for circularizing class prospects 40
Advertising, Rats should be correct for circularizing 26
Advertisements by Dealers..... 17-29-31
Advice, why not ask for..... 49
Agreement, Edison, for the primary benefit of Dealers..... 30
Allowances and Exchanges prohibited in Agreement 13
Allowances a count of loss in other lines.. 46
Aluminum Herring Tubes, The new..... 1
Alternating Current. (See Electricity for Dealers) Types of E. B. P. are most sold 26
Anecdotes of Edison— 30
His day 24 hours long..... 31
The friendly induction coil..... 33
The black magnetic sand..... 34
Skipping the great dynamo..... 36
Puzzle long poker..... 37
Saving the candy..... 38
Telegraph practice..... 41
The story of the Phonograph..... 42
Discovery of the North Pole..... 43
Edison's tribute to his mother..... 44
The Hudson-Fulton Celebration..... 45
Cement honors..... 47
Age of Edison..... 48
Visit of the Japanese..... 49
The hog in us.....
Astor, John Jacob, extracts from Hubbard's life of..... 36
Attachment cord, the new..... 45
Australian Dealer, Our..... 47
Automobile sales, the lesson in..... 46
"Barnes of Chicago," An article on one Dealer's success..... 22
Belts for shaving machines, How to care for and repair..... 1
Blind people, How the E. B. P. has helped. 22
Book, A good, "How to Write a Business Letter"..... 47
Cards for salesmen, A suggestion for their use 13
Commercial Schools—
The 10-way hearing device for..... 25
How to sell them..... 43
Commutator of motors, Oil on the..... 10
Competition, Hints on meeting..... 11-22-32
Correspondence—An attempt at being funny 41-47-49
Cost Tables—Installation and Transcribing Covers, The new hinges on..... 5
Current, A. C. and D. C. (see Electricity for Dealers) heat electrical, its effect on the motor..... 45
37
Cylinders, Wax—Various references to, 14-23-25-33-46-49
Cylinders, Shaving, at 1c each..... 13
Daylight legislation helps the sale of the E. B. P..... 37
Dealers should personally use the E. B. P. 29
Demonstrations save time in selling..... 7
Demonstrations save time in selling.....
Demonstrations (see "Selling the E. B. P.")
Dictation Index—Its use and advantages..1-11
Dictation, Selecting the best..... 30
Dictators, Electric for Direct Current (see "Electricity for Dealers")
Dyer, E. L., President—Articles and addresses 24-38
Edison Day—A selling plan..... 8
Edison Dealers..... 6-7-8-9-12-24
Electricity for Dealers.....
Enterprise, 20 years of business.....
Fatigue—Less with the E. B. P. than shorthand 25
Fear—An article by Wooly Stanger..... 39
Feed Rates, The correct design of..... 23
Figures showing cost, necessary in dealing. 42
Figures to these—A series of tables..... 19
First Letter, The, most important in instruction 29
Foot-trip, Installing the..... 9
Foot-trip, The levers of the..... 24
Foreign office—The London branch illustrated 25
Governor Safety Screws..... 9
Governor, Oiling the friction belts of the.. 30
Governor, How to order repair parts for the 44
Governor, The new A. B. C. style.....
"Handling" and "Selling." The difference between 30
Hanging Tubes, The new aluminum..... 46
Hanging Tubes, The new aluminum.....
Hiring and keeping a salesman..... 45
Hinged Covers, The new..... 5-10-42
Horn, The Edison Dictation..... 10-42
Horse-sense—Article by L. B. Wycoff..... 39
Hundred Point Man..... 28
Improvements are shown in the Dealer only 46
Inhibition—A story for dealers..... 31
Instruction Sheets, Very complete Edison.. 29
Irland, Fred, The great stenographer..... 27
Knowing the Product, Importance of..... 25
Lincoln on Work..... 28
Letters from Orange..... 3
"Make This Money Yourself"—An article. 5
Mailing Card—Its value in advertising..... 3
Mailing a Catalogue—A good procedure..... 16

TIPS INDEXED—No. 1 to No. 49 (Cont'd)

Machine vs. Salesman..... 27
Manufacturing the E. B. P.—A description 22
Mandrel, The nut on the right end of the. 45
Measuring the Speed of Dictation..... 25
Merry Christmas, 1907—From the Sales Manager 9
National Business Shows—1908-9.....4-44
National Reference Directory..... 13
New York Electrical Show—1908..... 5
One-Price System..... 39
Opposition—An article by T. Diner..... 48
Ordering Goods, Suggestions to dealers in 17
Order Forms, Dealers should employ..... 12
Pedestals—Worn vs. Iron..... 9
Phonograph, The, as an adding machine.... 13
Pierce and Brown, Dallas Dealers..... 38
Placing the E. B. P. promiscuously in installations 15
Prices, Cutting; a loss avoided..... 12
Punctuation, How the E. B. P. helps..... 16
Reciprocity—A plan for helping each other 10
Records, Moulded, for transcribing practice 43
Records, Various articles on.....6-10-11-16-41
Resistance, the variable, on the Universal Motor 7
Repetition of the last word in dictation..... 14
Rubber Stamp, "Dictated to the E. B. P."
1-14-23-42
Rule for Success..... 43
Sales Manager, A chat with the..... 48
Sales to small users—An example and illustration 13
Selling Arguments.....1-12-14-15-21-25-27
Selling the E. B. P.—A series of articles by the Sales Manager of the Company.
10-11-12-14-15-16-17-18-19
Selling the U. S. Government..... 28
Selling Telephone Companies..... 31
Selling Commercial Schools..... 42
Selling the Ministers..... 49
Salesman's Creed, The..... 47
Serial Numbers must be mentioned when reporting trouble or ordering repair parts 48
Service, Meaning of Edison.....37-38-42
Short-hand speed contest at Lake George.. 42
Shortage Claims, How to make..... 12
Speaking Tubes, "Dead"..... 1
Souvenir of the 30th anniversary of the E. B. P..... 6
Standard Outfit—What it means.....6-27
Stenographers, Poor eyesight of..... 7
Stenographers, The new kind of..... 10
Stenographic Mind, The..... 19
Tact—Described by a dentist..... 14
Talking Notes—Compared with Stenography 7
Talking Points, Complete, of the E. B. P. 4
Telephone orders, Caring for..... 20
Threads per inch, 100, 150 and 160..... 17
Three-in-One Oil..... 9
Thirtieth Anniversary of the E. B. P..... 6
Thirst of Josiah—A story..... 39
T. I. P. S—
What the name means, etc..... 1
Must not be distributed to customers... 7
From Philadelphia dealer..... 8
From New York dealer..... 40
Transcribing Contest, The Edison..... 45
Transcribing Contest, The winner of the.. 44
Transcribing Figures..... 20
Trouble—How to locate and report it..... 7
Travels by the Editor..... 18
Typewriter Companies—Securing their friendship 17
Universal Motor, Electrical connection for the 21
Vacation Arguments..... 26
Visitors, Summer, in 1908.....33-37-39
Washington Letters.....23-29-32
Weekly Sermonette—
On becoming confused..... 25
All works must bear a price..... 26
Placing the blame..... 27
Character in the face..... 28
Have a purpose..... 29
Understanding Human Nature..... 30
Up-to-Date Knowledge..... 31
Literary Expression..... 32
The ability to concentrate..... 33
Procrastination 34
Learning thoroughly 35
Preparation before action..... 36
Sharing the Burden..... 37
The Principles of Business..... 38
Don't Block the Way..... 39
Sticking 40
The Word "Impossible"..... 41
Over-reaching 42
Meeting Objections..... 44
Be Cheerful..... 45
Concentration and Comprehension..... 47
Throw on the Light..... 49
Do Your Short Tasks..... 1
Weight of the Universal E. B. P..... 7
Who is to use it?..... 19
Window Displays.....14-28-34-48
Winning in Competition..... 34

INDEX to "TIPS" Nos. 51 to 100

Published by THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc., Orange, N. J.

A.

Advertising Article in Xmas Tips, by L. C. McChesney, Advertising Manager 56
Air Ships, The E. B. P. for 76
Aluminum Hearing Tubes 54
Announcement of Coming Representatives 94
Asking the Stenographer for Information 58

B.

Banks: A new use for the E. B. P. 68
Barnes, E. C., Chicago Dealer 54
Browning, a Big Dealer 73
Bugs, Insect (Housing) 55
Book Advice 58, 63, 74
Brakes and the Machine 51
Brattan, A. A., Columbus O. dealer 78
Bright, Jesse D., Dallas dealer 90
Business Periodicals 62

C.

Cabinets with special finishes 69
"Care of the E. B. P." by E. C. Barnes 57
Cleveleiting Dealer's Prospects (Selling Plan No. 6) 95
Circularizing Results 91
Climbing, The Art of 55, 56
Clubbing Offer 51
Commercial School Outfits 51
Commutator Cleaner 58
Competition Arguments (Hill) 52
Confidence in your line 83
Conventions and Conferences 61
Conditional Orders (Form Plan No. 11) 99
Credit Article in Xmas Tips by E. H. Phillips, Credit Manager 89
Credit, A Talk by E. H. Phillips 67
"Can It Out" (Hubbard) 51
Cylinder Cartons, numbering 89

D.

Dead Ones, Handling 85
Dealers should use the E. B. P. 77
Demonstrating Outfits, Contents of a 92
Demonstration in the Homes 93
Demonstration in the Offices 94
Deck Reciters 91
Dictation, How to measure the speed of 67
Dictation Outfit, The Residence 78
Dictation Records, The Edison Moulded 78
Dictator, The (Edna Harrigan) 56
Discounts on quantity purchases 63
Dismantling an Edison design 58
Duncan, Thomas W. 58

E.

Early Dictation, Advantages of 57
Edison Backlog 71
Edison, His Personal Statement on the Universal Use of Electricity 81
Edison Policy Toward Transcribers 63
Edison Salesmanship, Principals of 76
Edison Summer Tonic 73
Edison's Birthday 57
Edison's Letter to the Christian Endeavor Worlds 59
Edison's Work in Electricity 84
Edison Transcribing Cases 94
Edison Xmas Greeting in Facsimile Handwriting 86
Electrical Current Saving 79
Electrical Test of Motors 83
Electrician, Duties of the Dealer's 72
Endorsement, 400 Figures 92
Endorsements in Partial List of Users 92
Engineering, Article in Xmas Tips by Chas. Schiff, Chief Engineer 86

F.

Field Notes by Tip 82
Fifth Anniversary of the E. B. P. 72
Foot Trip Breakage, Mechanism 52
Foreknowledge 79
Forms Used by H. S. Starr in Soliciting 91
"Friendly Relations" (Hubbard) 51

G.

"Gin-cracks" 97
Gold Medal Transcriber 84
Graphite Lubricant for Foot-Trips 67

H.

Housegy: What it Means 62
Hot Weather Talks 69, 70, 71, 72, 74

I.

Improvements:
Aluminum Hearing Tubes 54
Ball Joint Horn Crane 63
Commutator Cleaner 58
Double-Cap Casting Device 67
Handle Adjustment 93
Improved Shaving Machine 93
Insulated Blasting Posts 82
Mandrel Drive 73
New Cabinet Moulding 78
New Cylinder Carton 89
New Universal Motor Brush 74
Pedestal Platform 81
Pneumatic Connection 93
Pneumatic Foot Trip 63
Reciprocating Adjustment Shaving Knife 93
Scale 59
Self-Cleaning Bird Rod 76
Speaker Guard, Recoil Lever, Pawl, etc. 53
Speaking Tube and Support 93
Spring Transcriber Tablets 69
Universal Motor Cylinder Lubricant 99
Universal Motor Suspension Springs 87
Universal Resistance 51
Inspection Plan, Monthly 84
Form for 89

J.

Japanese at the Edison Works 58
Japanese Auctioneer, The 83

K.

Keep the Government Stenographer 69

L.

Learn to Grow 69
Learn Your Book 73
Lessons, Plan of the Night Letter 64
Light, Heat and Power Dial Transcriber 53
Lines: Keep Dealing 85
Hello 55
Hoyt: Diddle, Diddle 64
His Christmas 86
If I Should Die Tonight 76
Love Days 79
Little Bo-Peep 61
Little Jack Horner 61
Little Boy-Blue 48
Misery 52
Old King Cole 66
Sing a Song 90
The Tiffin 90
List of Users, Partial 92
London Exhibit 60
Luck, (Edward Lyman Bill) 52

M.

Mailing Lists, Forms for..... 87
Magnifying Glass, A Handy..... 66
Mandrel Device..... 95
Manufacture, Article in Xmas Tips by P. Wilson, Gen'l Manager..... 86
Mechanical Help, Replacing..... 89
Mechanic Won't be a..... 68
Morning Mail, Comments on the..... 83

N.

Name Plate on Universal Motors..... 53
Name Tapes for Dealers Use..... 53
New Fall Line..... 76
Newspaper Advertising (Selling Plan No. 9)..... 93
"Nice Day, Little One."..... 76
Nineteen Eleven, Article in Xmas Tips by C. H. Wilson, General Manager..... 86
North, H. E., Underwriting Salesman..... 88

O.

Office Hours at Wheeler Displays..... 71
Office Force, Article in Xmas Tips by E. J. Barrett, Secretary and Treasurer..... 86
Operators, Providing Efficient..... 83
Opportunity, The Fall..... 76
Organizing a Customers Plant..... 84
Outfits: Shorthand Outfits (Discussed by Editors in 1909 Xmas Issue)..... 63
"Pass the Little Girlie"..... 77
Possibilities, Recognizing..... 95
"Price," The effect of..... 63

Q.

Questions for Salesmen..... 66
Quoting Quantity Purchase Discounts..... 68, 71

R.

Rainy Day Selling..... 69
"Rap" Letters..... 89
Recorder Wisdom..... 74
Recording Machines, Sales on..... 84
Remington Typewriter..... 64
Repeaters, "Puzzled"..... 53
Resembling Points on..... 52
Resting Outfits (Selling Plan No. 8)..... 92
Reproducer Gaskets..... 89
Retrospect, The Year's..... 94
R. E. Prospects, Big Sales to..... 94
R. E. Prospects, Soliciting..... 93
Rubber Stamps for Phonics..... 31, 71, 90

S.

Sales, Article in Xmas Tips by Nelson C. Durand, Sales Manager..... 86
Sales, Handling Big..... 94
Salesmen, Benefit of Junior..... 89
Salesmen, The Pessimistic..... 63
Salesmen Wanted..... 99
Salesmen's Letters are very..... 79 to 88
Sandfield, Jr., Dictator..... 77
Scott, Prof. W., On on the "Hot Plate"..... 59
Scully's Method of Selling..... 63
Selling Accessories to Campetitors..... 71
Selling Away From Home..... 69
Selling Branch Office Prospects..... 68
Selling Plan No. 1 to 7..... 52
Selling Plans No. 8 to 15..... 90 to 100
Selling Satisfaction..... 62
Serial number of machines; must be given when ordering repair parts..... 53
Service Schemes..... 66
Shaving Devices, Invincible..... 89
Shaving Machine Device..... 95
Shaving Machines, The New..... 53
Shavings Claims; must be made three days after receipt of goods..... 53
Shop Notes..... 89
Short-Hand Reporters Convention..... 61
Short-Hand Reporter's Endorsement..... 61
Shorthand School in India..... 56
"Show Me" for Two..... 96
Soliciting in R. E. Offices..... 93
Speaking Tube and Support..... 95
Speaking Tube and Support..... 95
Speaking Tube, New..... 95
Special Mention Seattle Exposition..... 54
Speed of Dictation..... 57
Spring Grip Cylinder Holder..... 74
Stenography a Stepping Stone..... 74
Stenography, The Use of..... 76
Storrs' Almanac of H. E. for 1911..... 54
Storr, H. E., Atlanta Dealer..... 91
Struggles (Rochefoucault)..... 56
System: of as much importance as the machine..... 61

T.

Tact in Closing..... 16
Tact with the Stenographer..... 40
Take it Easy (Geo. R. Spencer)..... 72
Telegrams by Dealers..... 87
Ten-Way Hearing Tubes..... 71
Territorial Honor..... 98
Thank for Business to Date..... 76
Thank for Yourself (Pschaman)..... 54
Theb-Hine Advertising..... 88
Today, By Ralph Waldo Emerson..... 61
Traffic, Article by J. T. Rogers, Traffic Manager, Xmas Tips..... 86
Traffic Letters in the Train..... 65
Transcribing Bureau at Dallas, Texas..... 89
Transcribing Contest, Madison Square Garden..... 84
Transcribing Machines, Importance of Good..... 78
Tribal Cycle, A Short..... 69
Trials, Good Typewriter..... 60
Trials, Selling Agents for..... 72
Tromboy, How dealers should explain them to the factory..... 57
Turning off Current at Machine..... 71
Ty Cobb, The Lesson of..... 73

U.

Universal Motor Break, The New..... 74
Universal Motor, Saving in Current..... 79
Universal Motor, Tips on..... 68

V.

Vacationist, Reflections of a..... 80

W.

Weekly Sermon..... 51, 52, 53, 54, 56, 58
Welch, Ady Co., Death of..... 96
"When Are You Busy?"..... 57
Window Display by Mr. Bingham..... 82
Window Displays (Selling Plan No. 5)..... 92
Wireless Messages, The E. H. P. for..... 73
Words on a Cylinder..... 91
Work..... 63

Anniversary Number 223 Aug 12th 1914

Tips

Number 1

August 1, 1908

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS
BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

T. I. P. For Dealers

"Tip" is a words "To The three on a box London " departing his appre
dropped a coin in the "
The title of this from time to time loudly mused, fo men of the Edis natural servants coin" expecting th vice. The cook
Coffee House had order to give the custo has to be right and the wa and attractive. This is a makes success in the disposal o
a cup of coffee to the Phonograph.

We invite correspondence that we may know the mos to be treated in these pages filed away very carefully who enter the business keep posted.

Summer Arguments

Learn th when the work is light
Early train
Good hours for the transcribers.

The stenographers this summ with the Business Phonograph may make unnecessary an crease of the force next fall.

Ladies and gentlemen; work in your own office with the Business Phonograph—and dress for comfort.

Tell customers to keep an extra dozen cylinders on hand. When a rush of correspondence occurs, cylinders must be there or the time ordered.
Under order inders in them."
prepaid," when
the. Regular packages
ing weight, 12 lbs.
" 25 "
" 48 "
" 75 "
" 200 " shaved properly, let chine run over the bar-sound through a head-blank shaved by the ers to do their e the boss up.
the printed num-
h outfit
on the lenses straight and carefully to prevent scratching.
If the ing dirty or cutclean them.
ers should keep a stock of linders, 25 to ining solu
Hand intelligently ap-
stenographic outputs will make you glad of the business boom of the summer campaign.

A salesman who takes it easy rarely gets it

DON'T set down in the meadow and wait for the cow to back up and be milked. Go after the cow.

10205

PUNCH HERE
Cut out this slip and punch a hole in the margin of any page to index.
Cut out this slip, punch a hole in the margin of any page to index.
Punch holes and file in full with the blades of numbers you want to refer to.

CLIP
Clip this slip and file it with the blades of numbers you want to refer to. Then each thousandth AS and each thousandth AT will be found on the same page as the slip.

BIRTHDAY THOUGHTS

Tips came modestly to notice six years ago as you see from the other side of this number. The principal intention has been kept in mind;—to say something to the point about the business as often as desirable without much attempt at appearances.

We've stuck on the job these six years, and the beautiful thing is that most of you boys have been with us, furnishing brains, and thought and initiative to read and put into action the ideas and advice we have printed.

So, when old Tips comes to writing a birthday number like this, it tightens up his resolves and ambitions to the point of promising more activity, if possible, on all of our parts here at Orange, and extending a thank for your patience and good will in the past.

You can't live happily without appreciation. That's what holds us together in this biz and keeps us going. Tips discovers something new or good he can do for you and you show your appreciation of it by boosting. You find the keenest joy in applying the ideas you gather, by service and attention to the appreciative customer.

Six years!—not a long time—but we've certainly moved. Look over the old file of Tips and see the changes—that will give you an idea of invention and enterprise to stir your imagination.

—And we know where we headed for. Six years from now you may not get your Birthday Tips in print; your "trials" will have ended in business propositions—not in demonstrations; your mechanics will be engineers; your buying powers with us must be unlimited—if you grasp the opportunities.

You don't know how Tips will be pleased with your acknowledgment of this issue. It's the chaps I don't know well and those who don't write me often that should loosen up with a written "shake" even if you ask us to cancel your Tips subscription.

Then here's six shakes—and we're off for the lucky seventh.

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Tips

Number 7 — November 27, 1908

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

¶ Our Universal Business Phonograph is the lightest one ever made—weight, 31 lbs.

¶ Do you think of your customers after they are sold? Remember: "There is a third silent party to all our bargains. The nature and soul of things takes on itself the guarantee of the fulfilment of every contract, so that honest service cannot come to loss."

¶ There is no method of making friends equal to the method of making good.

¶ If you want work well done, select a busy man—the other kind has no time.

¶ It is a fine thing to make yourself needed.

¶ The wise business man prizes and practices these two things: Economy and Industry. By being economical he can be liberal. By being industrious he can secure and enjoy rest.

¶ Don't distribute "Tips" to customers—it is a confidential publication for dealers only.

Use "Three in One" Oil

Good oil for the Business Phonograph is like fuel—being good drinking water to the dictators and transcribers. The manufacturers have found that "Three in One" oil is very satisfactory because it does not gum and can be used for cleaning the machine as well as lubricating. Endeavor to carry a stock of this oil which should be purchased locally as we do not handle the oil further than the sample which we send with each outfit.

Customers should be warned to use good oil, and if dealers are enterprising they can obtain a considerable sale of oil by giving the users the proper advice on this point.

Visible Typewriting and Talking Notes

Now that the Remington and Smith-Premier Typewriter Co's have come out with their new visible models, we are not "knocking" when we say that this improvement in the typewriting machine and the great benefits that have been derived by it is an example of the final result that follows strong arguments and constant canvassing to make the public recognize the value of time saving.

"Talking Notes" is another improvement which the Edison Business Phonograph offers, which is just as sure to take its place beside stenography, and perhaps completely supplant it, as the visible typewriting machine has supplanted the old blind writer.

Don't wait till the Edison Band Wagon drives up to your door and someone asks you to take a seat, but go down the road a little way and get on it now, for, later it may be moving so fast that you cannot "get in right."

The Variable Resistance On the Universal Machine

Some do not understand that a variable resistance on the universal machine is the highest type of device for regulating the motor. If a fixed resistance were supplied, as in the D. C. type, when a high or a low voltage, or frequency is found the motor would not always operate with the proper strength. With the variable resistance the motor can be controlled by simply setting the pointer for more or le s current to make the speeds satisfactory. The motor will not be injured by a change of an inch either way from the standard marks on the plate for the current used. Try this. Know that motor speeds and strength is in your hands. Good contact must be made on the sliding resistance—be sure of that if the motor does not start.

Where's The Trouble

Don't write the manufacturer that "something won't work"—puts the difficulty and tell us what you have done, and exhaust the common sense methods to locate it. When you mention a machine or motor tell us the serial numbers and if possible the number of the invoice on which it was billed. Never send anything back without permission—a word from us might save delays and expense. Don't make the mistake of placing new goods in a customer's office until you have tried the machine and allowed the motor to run for half a day. Talk to the recorder, listen to the record—know that it is O. K. The Business Phonograph is the simplest possible machine when you learn it, and everything must be learned in the specialty line.

ALL TOGETHER NOW! 'Lection's over. Now for biz—Everybody! LET HER WHIZ!

THE greatest argument that can be presented for voicewriting lies in the economy tables in "Tips No. 5."

Lift the top and look at the motor governor—is it running evenly—the slightest variation in speed will be noticed by the movement of the balls. Close the top—take the friction off the mandrel by removing the foot trip lever—tapping the "start" key until the clutches are almost, but not quite, together; the mandrel should then spin freely with the arm "up" and slightly less with the arm down, showing that the feed screw is properly adjusted. Try the old rezeeder or a new one to know if that is not working or it may be the reproducer. These are only a few tests—quickly made—and quickly learned to locate trouble. And it isn't often necessary.

Electricity for Dealers
Continued

Electric current, either direct or alternating, is brought into offices for lighting and operating small devices like the Edison Business Phonograph, by conducting wires from a central power station, just as water is supplied through pipes from a reservoir. A dynamo supplies the electrical pressure just as a pump might supply water pressure.

A pump would supply a certain force or pressure of water measured in pounds, which is the unit of pressure for water. Now in electricity the unit of pressure, or force, is called a volt.

The electric pressure found in most offices is 110 volts, but this may vary from 100 volts in some cases to 135 volts in others. It is generally safe to look at the voltage marked on the bottom or inside of an incandescent lamp in a customer's office to understand the local pressure.

However, dealers should always be on the lookout for finding 220-volt circuits or just double the 100 to 135-volt circuit, which is considerably used for power. Again a look at the lamps in such offices will show a much longer carbon which supplies the light and the voltage mark will also furnish a guide.

The Edison Universal Motor, as you know, can be adjusted at the variable resistance on the back of the cabinet for both the 110-volt and the 220-volt pressures or their variations.

Now, again referring to the water pump, we would not only say that it supplied a pressure of so many pounds but that it also discharged the water at so many gallons per minute.

In electricity the rate of flow, in comparison with gallons per minute in the case of water, is amperes per second. For instance the ordinary lamp burns in a pressure of 110 volts and the flow of current is one-half ampere.

The Universal Motor in the same way is supplied with electric resistance, which allows only one-quarter of an ampere to pass through it, and it is therefore less expensive than a lamp.

You understand that the pressure would discharge the quantity of water at a certain rate through a pipe. Now suppose we were to fix two discharge pipes to the tank, the water would be discharged much quicker, would it not? If we try to find a reason for this, we see that a pipe can only, at a given pressure, admit so much water through it at a time.

Electric wires used for conductors—like pipes that carry water—have certain carrying capacities—and so we must proportion the size of the wires to the amperes of current it is to carry just like water pipes.

We say one pipe or one wire offers more or less resistance to the flow of water or electric current. In electricity, we designate the resistance by a unit called ohm (pronounced like "omne" without the "n").

Thus the variable resistance on the Universal Motor is arranged to have about 440 ohms resistance at the 110-volt mark, so that one-quarter ampere will flow through the motor.

A "short circuit" occurs when resistance is not present to check the flow of current, as when we accidentally cross two wires and see the electric arc at the contact which burns out the fuse wires purposely placed for safety to other parts of the circuit.

In the next issue we will endeavor to explain the advantages in many cases of using alternating current instead of direct current.

(To be continued.)

Stenographers Have Poor Eye-Sight

Recently a prominent oculist ventured the assertion that 60 per cent. of the stenographers in any large city had poor eyesight and laid the cause to overexertion and bad eye strain. He said that his experience had more than proved his statement and that consulting with others, in his profession, some startling truths had come to light.

"The stenographic notes are made with hard pencil, the pencil is usually harder than is necessary, and, of course, makes a very light stroke," he said. "The characters are smaller than they should be, and the difference between the light and heavy strokes is generally so slight as to be imperceptible except on very close examination. This, of course, is enough to strain and injure the eyes, even when they are naturally strong, but a harder trial comes when the work of copying begins.

"Sometimes the stenographer has a reading frame or easel to hold the note book, but quite as often as not the book containing the notes is laid flat on the typewriter table, where the reader has to bend over it in order to see it at all. It is at a different distance and height from the sheet of typewriting on the machine, and every change of position involves an alteration in the length of the eye focus and consequently a shifting of the muscles adjusting the eyes."

IF you are ever in doubt or difficulty write to us about any part of the business.

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Tips

Number 10 — December 28, 1908

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

THE NEW STENOGRAPHER

The Millison Office Supply Company, Dealers at Wichita, Supplied the Edison Kind Without Dresses.

The Dealer writes:—

"We know that the following will interest you very much. Three dictators who dictated too much work for two stenographers finally came to the purchasing department of their concern with the request that a new typewriter be purchased, and that they hire an additional stenographer to get out their work; cost of typewriter to be $100; salary of stenographer $500 per year. After seven days' trial of the Edison Business Phonograph it was found that two stenographers could take the dictation of the three dictators, and turn out their work with time to spare. The above cost as compared with five units and a hand shaver, $2.60, shows, saving of the cost of the E. B. P. outfit with a surplus of $40 the first year, a very interesting proposition."

Patented December 10th, 1907

You wouldn't think to look at the Edison dictation horn that it was the result of such experiment and experience. It's just the right size to produce the sharp definition of sounds that the transcriber must have. But the mouthpiece and the flattened shape are the unique features. A round horn—square on the end—invites a dictatore to "back up"—afraid he will hit his nose; there is where trouble begins in getting too far away for good results. The Edison trumpet shape mouth piece invites the dictatore to get close and if he turns his head, the sides still catch the sound. These are distinct selling points. If you see an Edison horn on a competitor's machine—tell us—it's an infringement.

Under this heading a series of articles will appear intending to guide and advise the dealer who wishes to make the most of his opportunities.

Selling the Edison Business Phonograph

When a dealer is appointed to handle the Edison Business Phonograph, we expect him to enter into the active plans of the manufacturers to sell their product.

He becomes part of a mutual selling organization, working under a uniform agreement, and representing to the manufacturers a proportionate part of their entire operating expense.

Any dealer can, therefore, see the importance which we attach to his continuous success in selling the Edison Business Phonograph, and the very good reasons why the dealer who has once taken up a dealership and promises to work a territory should bring his very best interest to bear on studying the selling problem in full justice to himself and the part he fills in the general organization.

Organizing a Business Phonograph Department.

Whether the dealer is operating in a small way, or whether he employs a considerable number of employees to carry out an extensive selling campaign, he should give attention to the organization of three departments, if he is to obtain the fullest results.

First—He should conduct his correspondence with the Business Phonograph and thus furnish a permanent demonstration in his place of business.

Second—He should arrange for a definite method of field work, consisting of the demonstrating of the E. B. P., in offices of prospective purchasers on a systematic plan of placing trial installations and closing them.

Third—A prompt and careful installation department should be organized, in which employees have a full knowledge of the machines with a systematic plan for maintaining them in operation and promptly making repairs.

The Dealer's Correspondence Department.

If a dealer is to be consistent in his arguments for selling the Edison Business Phonograph every letter leaving his office should be dictated and transcribed on the machine.

These letters should be stamped "Dictated to the Edison Business Phonograph," and if possible a special letterhead should be designed, even if it is used only when addressing customers and prospective purchasers.

When all of a dealer's office employees understand the operation of the Business Phonograph, they are able to intelligently answer telephone calls for information from customers who require small repairs or advice, thus saving the time of the outside man.

It recently came to the writer's attention that the representative of a large company was interested to investigate the Edison Commercial

MR. DEALER—Do you look on E. B. P. in the face when you dictate your mail? If you're fair to Edison and your customers you must. And don't forget to stamp your letters "Dictated to the Edison Business Phonograph."

IT isn't what's in your head but what's in your go-ahead. It is'nt what you can do but what you DO do—action wins.

System and in this connection he casually visited the dealer's office to make inquiries. All the employees that he met expressed ignorance of the subject when he asked about the Business Phonograph, and one of them made the characteristic reply "You can search me." Later the dealer's Phonograph Salesman called upon the firm to explain the remarkable advantages of the system, and apologize that the dealer's office force knew nothing about it.

The loss of business liable to result from such lack of interest on the part of a dealer is apparent.

Dealers receive considerable advertising from placing the stamp on each letter "Phonogram of the Edison Business Phonograph," and enclosing literature with every letter, especially if the outside salesman sends follow-up letters at regular intervals to prospective purchasers with whom he is in touch.

Window displays in the dealer's store, or in the stores of other merchants—to ease the dealer has no window at his disposal—are good advertisements.

Advertising a "Demonstration Day" in the dealer's store is a good means of bringing in old and new prospective purchasers to give them a practical demonstration of a successful plank in daily operations.

If the dealers will write the Sales Office of this Company, they will receive every advice and assistance in connection with such plans.

Oil on the Commutator

All Universal motors now designed have the left bearing in "drain" an excess of oil; you can feel a hole on the under side of the bearing to let the oil out. This was necessary in order to make it proof. Some people squirted oil in the bearing and it got on the commutator under the brushes and made a bad contact, causing the motor to slow down. We can supply (no charge) an oil shield to dealers who have had instances of this kind with former shipments of machines. The trouble is seldom encountered, but the Edison policy is not to overlook the slightest improvement.

The Brains of the E.B.P.

Just to please us study the Recorder. The reproducer is of secondary importance, because it generally "talks" if the proper record is made. Learn to know the faint record made by holding the lips too far away from the horn; the transcriber says "I can't hear this record"—don't look for trouble in the machine until you have looked for the trouble out of the machine—with the dictation. "Give a man an inch and he will take a mile," applies to the distance he is away from the horn; the phonograph can't talk back like the telephone and shout in angry tones "Get closer"—it must be in the dictator's heart to make a good record and thus facilitate his mail. So when you find a poor record, talk to the dictator's machine yourself and show him the trouble. Right here let us say that the most unfair test of an E. B. P. that can be made is to see how low you can talk in it. Why? Because the transcriber needs volume when she is banging away on a noisy typewriter. Think of the difference between the dead quiet of the dictator's office and the office of the typewriter. Edison recorders and reproducers are made for ordinary speech, well directed to the machine—not for whispers—low talk is just as unnatural and difficult as shouting.

Next lesson. Preach, Preach, Preach to the dictator to listen for an instant to the steady fight out of a good working recorder. And occasionally turn over to the reproducer to hear his talk. There is no excuse for bad recording if this is done. The man must supply some mental effort in using any machine, no matter how simple; he sharpens his lead pencil and puts ink in his pen when they need it—and he must listen to the recorder in the same simple way. If he does this he will not talk to the reproducer or use a recorder that the office boy has taken out to "look for the band."

Reciprocity

Be a good fellow! Help the game along! Do you know that the firm you are selling has an office in another locality? Then tell us, and let another dealer get some of the business. Don't wait until some other dealer hands you ready money before you return the favor. We at the main office can boost, too, if you tell us about the branch offices of local dealers—if they can't be sold in your town, perhaps if they were "stirred up" at another point it would eventually help.

Wood vs. Iron

Wouldn't you rather have an iron pedestal such as we furnish than the wooden stand we see so often? In a year the wooden stand looks like an old hay rigging, and if its up to you to repair it you must go into the furniture business. Agreed?

"Rush"

On January 1st, 1909—sure as fate—we will be swamped with "rush" orders. We're preparing for it—have been—for months, but it takes time to break in new men on building a machine like ours. Figure ahead—just a little—and avoid the rush instructions. And January is going to be the month for business; every firm that have put off ordering "till after the inventory" will want to start economizing at once. Order now.

HERES to 1909. May your "Record" reflect the tone of happiness, strength, and good will that you put in your work.

Bips

Number 12 — January 15, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Selling Arguments

I would buy if you changed certain details of your machine.

We would like to make those changes, if it was within our power. The fact that you suggest them is sufficient for us to try and please you. The best that we can do, then, is to show you why they are as you find them. You suggest a foot-trip that does not require so much pressure—electric or pneumatic, perhaps. The Edison Co. have tried these designs, but are not satisfied you would be any better off with a different principle. You have plenty of power in your foot—is it wise to save a slight muscular effort and add complications in the machine? You "pound" a typewriter mechanically—not because it couldn't be made to operate with a lighter touch with compressed air or electricity—but because the present plan is more practical. For instance, a pneumatic trip looks and acts well now—will it do the same six months from now? Isn't it better to arrange a flexible tube in long turns once a day so the chain will "pull," and always have a successful trip than to suddenly find your pneumatic rubber tube "punctured" or leaking in the various joints? Anyone can repair the Edison trip—could you find the leak in the other kind? They place a bicycle wheel in a tank of water to find leaks—but that would spoil a phonograph.

What next? Want to talk lower to the machine? Someone put that in your head, put that in your go-ahead. Well, nothing that we can do will compensate for your desire to make our machine a success. When you talk as the telephone you adapt your tone of voice to make the other fellow hear—you don't enter into refinements about the pitch of your voice. Our machine records ordinary dictation—it's just as difficult to talk low as to shout. Be natural, talk as if you wanted to be heard. A recorder might be constructed so the buzz of a fly would be reproduced, but then we are looking back to the foot-trip again and suggesting unnecessary refinements.

Are you honest to yourself in saving half the cost of writing letters—that is the question. The E. B. P. will respond to half an effort on your part.

(When you make a claim for shortage, return the packing slip so we can place the blame in our shipping department.

Electricity for Dealers (Continued)

It should be of interest to dealers to know that resistances must be permanently fixed to the phonograph in order to pass the Board of Fire Underwriters.

This excludes an incandescent lamp connected in series, with the attachment cord, and hanging loose about the machine, which was the old form of resistance. Some companies will use this resistance lamp, not firmly screwed to the phonograph, and customers should have their attention called to the improvement of the Edison wire resistance.

It's a good tip to avoid the advice of the Board of Fire Underwriters, however, if asked in the spirit of condemning a competitor's goods. Different inspectors have different views of safety in electric appliances, and no end of trouble can be stirred up in arguments with these officials.

One feature of electrical connections is very important—that is the attachment cords. We furnish our cords only 8 feet long, no longer, so that they will not be considered electric wiring. Some customers require phonographs set in odd places away from lamp sockets and when the distance is greater than 8 feet they should be sold to have electric wiring installed and passed upon by the Fire Underwriters in order to avoid responsibility with the inspectors.

(Continued.)

(Please order goods on a separate order form of your own with a serial number. Don't order goods in a letter containing reference to other subjects.

Thanks

We have received hopeful statements from our many dealers about the business they expect to do during January and February. We are all ready for it. Our shop forces have been increased—our plans all laid for a big new year rush. Every dealer is really a partner in this great manufacturing plant—you combine under a uniform agreement to take our product. Your returns will be according to your it- est and your energies. Your success means a bigger industry—more advertising—more enthusiasm all along the line. Hold up your end—be a booster —you will directly feel the results.

BUY "Men Who Sell Things"—a book published by A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, $1.00

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Look up the Official Court Reporter in your city and sell him.

Cheer Up!

When a short-sighted customer buys from a competitor on a cut price he presents imaginary defects in the Edison design to account for his decision. Don't let such an occurrence affect your confidence. The weakness lies—not in the Edison machine—but in the bargain hunter and the poor salesman who has purchased a transient reputation.

Selling the E. B. P. (Continued)

Approach. We are not disposed to dwell upon the importance of a salesman's personal appearance in approaching a P. P. Sufficient to say that our proposition demands the strictest attention to details in dress and deportment to properly impress the great business minds which are found at the head of modern offices.

The salesman who has studied pre-approach, lets his interview all planned with the Manager who is to decide the question of voice writing.

Fix in your mind that probably he is a busy man, and don't want to hear a longwinded yarn about what the machine looks like or has done for others.

Have something important to say that interests the P. P.—say it plainly and quickly—afterward you can enlarge your proposition as interest grows.

You don't require an elaborate business card for an introduction; sometimes the card with your goods named on the face starts a train of thought and prejudice that is hard to overcome.

Your name written on a pad will generally get you an audience—after the interview your business card is a good reminder to leave behind.

"Mr. Brown, I have a plan to reduce the cost of dictating and transcribing your letters one-half. I have had a slight opportunity of noting the amount of work your stenographers are doing and I believe I can increase their output sufficiently to save from 2 to 3 cents on the cost of writing every letter that leaves your office."

Or say, "Mr. Brown, you now employ two persons to compose every dictated letter that leaves your office—the dictator and stenographer. If each could work independently they would do the correspondence work in half the time, wouldn't they?"

Or, "Mr. Brown, I happen to know that your average stenographer is writing about 40 folios or 100 typed letters a day. If I could increase her production to 80 folios could I interest you?"

Or, "Mr. Brown, when you hire another stenographer it means $900 salary and $100 for typewriter, could I interest you in my proposition to have your present force write twice as many letters so that more help would not be necessary, and you could reduce your present force?"

What we are driving at is—don't be stereotyped—talk about the P. P.'s own office conditions—mention some dictator's work you have looked up—tell facts—don't be an animated catalog.

Hard, you say? All right—what if it is?—don't you stand to make $2000 out of the smallest sale you can make—can't you afford to spend a little time "scouting" for that amount of money, to talk straight business about conditions as they exist in the P. P.'s office?

When you have aroused the first interest don't be afraid to let the P. P. talk. It is a knack to lead a purchaser to ask intelligent questions. Pause. Let a thought sink in, see if a doubt or question will not be expressed—then answer in a few words.

Suppose the P. P. answers your first approach with, "Well, what have you got?"

"Mr. Edison's latest invention, the perfected Business Phonograph."

Now wait for a row, you will generally hear, "I know all about that—saw it years ago," or "I do not think that is adapted to our class of correspondence."

Don't combat either of these two ideas of the P. P.

If you tell him he hasn't seen the new machine he will ask you for a catalog to look at it—and tell you that is just what he thought it was.

If you tell him the E. B. P. is adapted to any work a stenographer can do you have started by asking him to prove himself mistaken by making a trial of the goods.

"Of course you are familiar with the Edison plan of making corrections and the Universal Model?"—this to the "man who knows" will probably bring out that he remembers an old style machine. Then the discussion of the new design will bring out the reason for the slow progress of the old style and the very natural complaints made against it.

These facts may be mentioned in conversation:—The Business Phonograph before Edison entered the field in 1904 was merely the elementary idea of the talking machine—a recording or reproducing point on a wax cylinder.

When a business man was approached by a salesman of the old machine he naturally asked the question: "How shall I pick up my dictation after interruptions?" and "How can I make corrections?"

The old salesman tried to avoid these dictators' objections—he lamely replied, "Get used to the machine—then you won't think of objections."

(Continued.)

¶The British Embassy, at Washington, D. C., ordered two Spring motors a short time ago. Are you aware of the possibilities of this style of machine? It reaches the "no current" customer and rings an alarm for rewinding. Better order one or two for stock.

¶Took my watch to a jeweler. Charged $5.00 because I had let it become very dirty. Our best tip is to educate your customers to clean their phonographs or let you do it under contract. Go after the old plants TO-DAY.

After investing in two machines, thousands have bought more. People don't encore failures.

Tips

Number 13 — January 23, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

A NATIONAL REFERENCE DIRECTORY.

We are compiling a list of customers from every locality to be furnished to dealers for soliciting purposes. Send in your list promptly. Include only the customers who have paid their account and are "boosters" of the system. Furnish information under these headings:

FIRM — OFFICE MGR. — ADDRESS — BUSINESS OR PROFESSION

1 cent a Shave

There is no doubt that many times a customer would prefer to omit the purchase of a shaving machine. We show below how the Seely Office Appliance Company, New York City Dealers, arrange to shave cylinders in their office on the ticket plan.

The customer buys the ticket outright for $1.00, entitling him to 100 shaves; he must deliver and call for the cylinders; it is usually arranged to sell the customer an extra quantity of cylinders to avoid hurry. Only Edison Business Phonograph cylinders are shaved. The ticket is punched as the work is done.

We do not wish, however, to mislead dealers by advising them to propose this plan of shaving generally. The one machine purchaser with a class of correspondence that is not very important may be glad of the opportunity, but usually the shaving machine is considered a means of keeping dictation private, so, most firms do not want their correspondence to leave their office.

PLEASE PASS ALL CYLINDERS TO SUB FACTORY, 37 HOWARD ST., NEW YORK

| | | |

ARE you marching or marking time? It takes about the same amount of motion so don't judge by that.

Selling Arguments

"Your outfit cuts too much—I couldn't afford it!"

My will admit that "nothing is cheap you don't need," but you have admitted to me that you could use this very conveniently in your business.

It all depends on how high a value you place on your own and your help's time, whether the equipment is expensive or not.

If you are making, say $5,000 a year out of this business, your time is worth at least $2.00 an hour—your stenographer's 25 cents an hour. Every hour you save is worth $2.25.

Save a hundred hours, or with your hustling disposition accomplish twice as much in that time, and it pays for the equipment of two machines and a shaver, $225.00.

Perhaps a $225.00 equipment is too much for your needs. The Edison machine for $85.00 and a hearing tube (50 cents extra) will do for both operations of dictating and transcribing. You can have shaving done at our office at 1 cent a cylinder.

Five days of your time saved will pay for the $85.50 outfit.

When people say of the E. B. P. it costs too much they class it with furniture and fixtures. They don't appreciate that the machine is really working to make profits for the owner and doing as well as the man or woman beside whose desk it is placed, for it helps them to do twice the work.

You say you only have twenty letters a day. Well, that number of letters show that you are busy, principally, with something else, and so is your stenographer. Place twenty letters on our E. B. P. in your leisure moments; forget the duties of dictation except as your time and humor allows. While your stenographer, busy with other duties, can have the same convenience in getting off the letters and still be busy with other important duties.

It is true that many business men who have a limited correspondence, make it limited by not writing the proper number of letters that their customers' wants really require. An E. B. P. placed beside a desk invites more and fuller correspondence and brings results in increased business, without a doubt. There is many a man, especially the small one, neglecting their correspondence because they hesitate to add to their payroll. The E. B. P. solves this question of "How to increase the production in the correspondence department with the least expenditure."

Your Agreement Articles 4 and 5

Exchanges and dealing in second-hand machines are not allowed, for several reasons, all for the welfare of dealers.

1. Users of old machines are generally ready to purchase new Edison ones, because their equipment is old and worthless, when they ask for exchanges.

II. No fixed allowance could be authorized for all exchange transactions. Should the dealer be allowed his own discretion in such matters the old user would ask for bids among dealers. The result would amount to a price cutting competition.

III. The effort to dispose of old machines taken in exchange would sell as many new ones, with more profit and satisfaction.

THE BEST MAN'S FIELD IS FURNISH WORK AND HOME

E. H. Pillsbook

MANAGER
EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH DEPT.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA SECOND DISTRICT
MOVE COMPANY LOS ANGELES, CAL.

(REDUCED SIZE)

Your Card—Please?

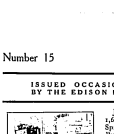
Salesmen will do well to remember that their name scribbled with a confident air, on a pad, for the P. P.'s office boy, will often bring an audience with a business man that would not be welcome when the card describes the salesman's goods. Use your neatly printed card when you leave—after your conversation. Above is the card of the salesman for one of our best dealers. It contains the telephone number, which is very important. That reminds us to advise salesmen to make a note of telephone numbers of the P. P. Telephoning is sometimes a good way to follow up business.

Up-to-Date

How doth the little business bee
Improve each shining hour,
And gather money all the day
From wise and moter power.

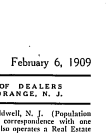
The Adding Attachment

Speaking of demonstrations, one of our good dealers tells of a joke played on a P. P. who was one of those "know it alls." While putting the machine through its paces the salesman quietly iterated the words, "The sum of seven and seven is fourteen." Turning to the P. P., he said: "Just ask the phonograph the sum of seven and seven." The recorder was carefully set back just a little to receive the question and the sum duly propounded to the new Edison Adding Phonograph. Imagine the effect on the listeners when the reproduction was made. First the question, then a dignified wait of a few seconds, during which the machine seemed to be thinking, followed by the clear and distinct answer, "The sum of seven and seven is fourteen." The salesman got his order.



Prepare to celebrate EDISON'S BIRTHDAY, FEBRUARY 11, with your largest sale.

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY



Bips

Number 15 February 6, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS
BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

John W. Grossman, Hardware Dealer, Caldwell, N. J. (Population 1,670), has for several years conducted his correspondence with one Spring Motor Machine and a Shaver. He also operates a Real Estate Business on the outside. Being a hustler he dictates at odd moments and does not stop to sign the letters, allowing the lady cashier of his store to transcribe and mail them. We want dealers to realize that the sale of the Edison Business Phonograph is not limited to large concerns. Thousands of small firms, as illustrated here, can use voice writing to great advantage. Among professional men, business men, at home, in fact, wherever a typewriter is used or dictation is desired, the Business Phonograph can be sold. The field is larger than the typewriter. Every dealer should be prepared to advance this smaller use of the machine, based more on convenience to the dictator than economy in transcribing. Develop at least one good example of this kind at once, for your own benefit, and submit us the facts for publication in Trix.

To the Front

Dealers frequently secure a prospect in some one who has seen the Business Phonograph in an office where he had chanced to call. Thus, Smith, Jones & Co., may use ten machines, and yet a visitor might not see them, because they were placed in such a position in that office, as to make them unnoticeable. Have the salesman set up the machines where they cannot escape notice. This, of course, is not always possible. But a manager will often ask, "Where is the best place to put them?" Let the salesman always suggest a place as conspicuous as possible. The writer recently sold an equipment to a firm, whose business is office supplies. They have a beautiful salesroom and I suggested that the most convenient place would be in the front of it. The machines were placed there and did a lot of advertising for themselves. Three good prospects have been the result of this particular sale. Moral—Let the E. B. P. be seen as well as heard.

Very truly yours,
RICHARD FAULKNER,
Manager Business Phonograph Dept.
Louis Buehn & Bros., Phila., Pa.

¶ When you are selling an Edison product like the E. B. P. and run across some particularly bad case of ill-using the machine, remember the old saying "Genius may have its limitations, but stupidity is not thus handicapped."

Scratch!

Buyers in loose wrappers do not wait for you around the corner. You have to go after the buyers very much as the Romans went after the Sabines. It is persistency that wins.

The buyer is a shy and sly proposition. He likes to be chased.

The man who gets the order is the one with the Salesman's Itch.

Get the Salesman's Itch—a nose for orders, a scent for fromage. Nail the business. Promises do not meet the pay-roll.

Cultivate the Salesman's Itch.

Salesmen who expect buyers to chloroform them and stuff the orders in their pockets, are doomed to disappointment.

It is certainly true that you can not afford to sell a man goods that are going to burden him, but it is also true that it is for you to decide as to what a customer needs, and then see that he gets it. Buyers, thru habit, fight on the defensive.

There are various ways of overcoming their scruples, but unless you have the Salesman's Itch, you'll wander forever a lone, lorn hollusschicke, and Clio will carve on your tomb a single word: SKUNKED—Elbert Hubbard.

¶ Have'n't you got some small "Tip" to give your brothers? Write a word or two for these pages. Join the boosters!

THE meek shall inherit the earth, but the hustler will have the estate before the legatee can probate the will.

Experience is the germ of power. Use the E. B. P. yourself!

Selling Arguments

"The machine is not adopted to my class of work."

The Business Phonograph salesman frequently finds a prospective customer who will say: "Oh, well, that will work all right for the man who has regular routine letters, but not for one who has to dictate different subjects, specifications and technical matters." I find that a good "come-back" for this objection is to tell him the fact that in the reporting of the proceedings of the United States Senate and House of Representatives, where every conceivable subject comes up for discussion, the reporters put every word of it through the business phonograph.

Another good one is the fact that nearly all of the court stenographers in this country are now using the phonograph in the getting out of court testimony; that especially in this work every manner of case is brought before the court and is successfully handled through the phonograph. One day one may be called upon to report a case involving the technicalities of a patent case, or the construing of building specifications, and on another day taking the simple evidence involved in the trial of a man for theft.

Show him that it stands to reason that if it can be used successfully for so diversified a purpose, it can certainly be made to meet the demands of a business house, where those who do the dictating are supposed to be thoroughly conversant with their particular line of business, and where the dictation is always along their own special line.

In other words, the E. B. P. "talks itself" in more ways than one. Here's hoping that 1909 will find a host of converts to the "new way" and with everybody shoving something's got to move.

Yours for success,

E. H. PHILBROOK, Mgr.,
Edison Business Phonograph Dept.,
So. California Music Company, Los Angeles, Cal.

GETTING THE ORDER.

Selling the E. B. P. (Continued)

You should have impressed the P. P. with you demonstration, and made him understand that the E. B. P. is not an experiment—but a modern necessity in correspondence.

Next get a signed order for the installation similar to the one reproduced on this page.

In some cases no trial period will be mentioned and this will depend upon the demonstration.

If a trial is asked for the period can be plainly stated on the order as shown. This is important for it frees the "closing time." When the trial is closed another signed order can be obtained with the words written across it. "After a sufficient trial the above outfit is accepted."

This may look like more "red tape." Perhaps it is when the "man who pays the bills" is the salesman and the P. P. belongs to his lodge.

But most salesmen are employees and need the protection of the signed order as much as the dealer who is financing the transaction.

Why? First. There is the question of price which the shrewd P. P. always wants to beat down in proportion to the salesman's anxiety. Better to have the Edison One-Price Policy understood at once. Also quotations are sometimes misunderstood or forgotten by the P. P.

Second. The question of authority for an order is important. Thus the signed order often shows up the employee of the P. P. who wants to experiment or satisfy his curiosity, when the form will not be signed by a superior.

Third. The date of installation of the applicances and the period of trial are important and should be fixed on an order form to impress the P. P. with the business-like attitude of the salesman.

Fourth. Salesmen who can produce signed orders of this kind for outfits will undoubtedly find more favor with their employer, the dealer, who is required to purchase the goods, than the salesman who carelessly communicates an order by word of mouth.

After all this effort on the part of salesmen (and manufacturers in advertising) to secure a P. P., the regret is that some dealers do not carry the goods in stock to install promptly.

The stock on hand does not have to be large in any dealer's case, but only in proportion to the natural expectations for immediate business.

CUSTOMER'S ORDER

FOR THE

EDISON COMMERCIAL SYSTEM

EQUIPPED WITH THE

BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH

LOUIS BUEHN & BRO.

49 N. NINTH STREET

PHILADELPHIA

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

GENTLEMEN:

PLEASE INSTALL THE FOLLOWING APPLIANCES AT PRICES AND TERMS HEREIN NAMED.

NUMBER	ARTICLE	PRICE	DISCOUNT	TOTAL
1	Writing Unit	85	Extra
1	Shaving Unit	85	10%	1
1	Shaving Unit	85	10%	225

Weight A.C. Current, 110 Volts

Subject to Acceptance after 10 Days Trial.

Name of Firm to be Used in Contract: Jas. Canning & Co.

Address: 110 Fulsome St.

Signed: Jas. Canning Title: Pres.

Accepted: Louis Buehn & Bro. Manager

(Over-last star)

Your opportunity is like a gold mine—it gives you the chance to dig! dig! dig!

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Tips

Number 16 — February 16, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS
BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Selling the E. B. P. (Continued)

MAKING THE INSTALMENTS.

If the dealer has followed the previous articles he will recall our earnest advice to salesmen to use tact and discretion in the selection of both dictator and transcriber.

If this has been done the salesman will not lack for intelligent co-operation and more than all he will have provided for active dictators who have sufficient correspondence to conduct a thorough trial in a short time.

Plan in your own mind to give the customer a trial of the appliances whether you have a bona fide order or not. Firms do not pay for articles that have not proved satisfactory; by assuming that the goods are practically on trial and following up their use to a successful end you will not only make "booster" customers, but get your money more quickly.

First. Collect the articles of your outfits to be installed in your office and test them out thoroughly, so as to make as little trouble as possible in the P. P. Office. Here are some good Tips:

Assemble the Pedestal and connect the footrips.

Make the dictator's foot-trip short like figure 7, page 6, instruction sheet.

Put current on the E. B. P. and let it run a day if possible.

Know that the recorder and reproducer work perfectly.

Oil the machine thoroughly.

Place the numbers on the system boxes that hold the cylinders.

Furnish at least three dictation index pads for each dictator.

Test the shaving machine and look it.

Leave the hearing tubes on the card as packed until ready for use by the transcriber.

Finally, be sure the entire outfit is delivered and temporarily packed so they will arrive in good order (or arrange the goods go only a short distance by truck).

Second. After the installation is correctly made the next and most important question is the Education of the dictators and transcribers

You can't tell an employee how to use the E. B. P. unless you know how yourself. Let that sink in.

When you instruct a dictator stay by him—don't go away until at least a cylinder has been dictated.

Stand by while the dictator experiments with the first cylinder—showing him—guiding him—letting him find out while you are there what he must do to be successful.

The hardest thing for the dictator to realize is the importance of giving the operator a good opportunity to write the letter he desires correctly.

Pound these facts in the dictator with your best tact and intelligence.

1. Don't expect the transcriber to write difficult words or proper names that you do not spell, any more than you would the stenographer at your elbow, who would ask for advice.

2. Proper names in a letter, of course, can be identified by the correspondence sent with the cylinder. Have the transcriber realize this.

3. Ask the dictator to mention paragraphs.

4. Settle the question of how loud the record should be dictated. Better loud than weak. Take a sample dictation by the P. P. to the transcriber and let her understand what a good dictation is and what she may expect.

5. Insist on the use of the dictation index. Show clearly how its use makes corrections, carbons, and additions easy to designate.

6. Obtain a promise that the dictator will use the E. B. P. only and will endeavor to dictate sufficiently to keep the transcriber busy.

(Continued.)

Allowances for old Machines

When dealers ask us if they cannot break Articles 4 and 5 of their agreement with us in regard to making allowances for old machines, they should realize what the typewriter companies have to contend with. Here is a clipping from a current publication on the "Allowance Abuse":

"This question of allowance, too, is one that will tell a tremendous story in the final accounts of many of the typewriter companies next year. Business will have to be obtained, and to get it in many cases there will assuredly be a great slaughtering of the allowance list. So many exchanged machines will be turned in that the price of the older models will reach a level that cannot result in much of a profit. Some of the companies will have to hold a stiff upper lip on the question of allowances, or there will be the dickens to pay."

¶How many firms have you secured to use the rubber stamp (furnished with Tips No. 14) reading, "Dictated in the Edison Business Phonograph"?

GET on the most intimate terms with the goods you sell; know the E. B. P. as well as you know your way home.

A faint heart never won fair dividends; and the man who does not believe he can—seldom does.

Use Your Eyes

Until one becomes familiar with the Phonograph you never think of looking closely at the record cut by the recorder. The section of a record shown above is magnified twenty times, but, without this the eye can see if there is anything defective about the recorder's work. Just for practice, dictate a loud record followed by a weak one. Look at it closely. You can see the indentations clearly and readily discern the loud dictation that is easily transcribed and the weak one that causes trouble. The work of a defective recorder is instantly noticed by looking at the cut on the cylinder. It is only the rank amateur who tells how a record sounds and asks you to pick some trouble in it. Use your eyes! Look! Blow off the cylinder surface! How does the cut look? Then you can tell if it's the recorder or poor dictation, or whether you must look elsewhere for trouble. Again, don't be afraid to go around to the back of a machine and watch a reproducer "talk,"—that will tell a story often. Use Your Eyes!

Punctuation

One of the best arguments for the use of the E. B. P. is the help it gives in correctly punctuating dictation.

The dictation taken in shorthand must be punctuated as written by the stenographer. Very often the notes are carelessly written—the stenographer thinking she will transcribe them before they get very "cold." The result is oftentimes a poorly punctuated letter in which the full meaning of the text is missed by the reader.

When the living voice talks through the E. B. P., the proper punctuation cannot be mistaken. The end of a sentence is plainly marked —the comma—the dash—the semicolon;—all can be placed in the copy with accuracy.

Here is a dictation correctly and incorrectly written. Can you imagine an intelligent Edison transcriber getting the copy wrong? But how easy in shorthand!:

What do you think
I'll shave you for nothing and give you a drink
What! Do you think
I'll shave you for nothing and give you a drink?

What! Do you think I'll shave you for nothing and give you a drink?

When you receive a request by mail for a catalogue—get it off at once, accompanied by a courteous letter. Don't roll the catalogue up—wear the letter envelope the company furnishes. Then follow it up promptly by a personal call. Remember advertising inquiries cost good money—it's a shame to neglect them.

FAITH; Hope; Work; Faith is yourself, Hope is to build on, Work without end—and the sum of these is Enthusiasm.

NOTE.—Voicewriting helps the poor stenographer—it puts live words in her ear—conversation—that is easier to understand and write than stenographic notes. But with this assistance the stenographer sometimes makes a bad showing—simply because she lacks training and education —as the following article explains. The moral for the salesman and purchaser is to distinguish between a poor stenographer and a crude phonograph.

The Stenographic Mind

By Dwight Spencer Anderson.

A business man's correspondence rises to no higher a level than the intelligence of his stenographer. If his stenographer is bright and quick his letters will be sharp and convincing. If she is dull and careless his letters will be weak and limp. There are more stenographers than there are jobs, but there are many more good jobs than there are good stenographers, for the reason that a good stenographer can create a good job in any office in the country, but a good job cannot create a good stenographer anywhere without the raw material.

The writer of this article has had experience with many who follow this vocation. He has worked with girls so apt in following the course of ideas in dictation that they worked mentally be ahead of him, taking down what he was about to say before he had said it. But he has also known the other kind, who cannot get your words into readable English even when you spell out such difficult conundrums as "affect," which they insist must be rendered "effect,"—the kind of girl who can be called neither good nor bad, but most emphatically indifferent.

One such recently in my office was given a clearly written manuscript to copy containing the question, "What is the size of your waist?" and she unblushingly returned as "What is the size of your form?" no doubt still thinking of the corset displays she had seen in the shop windows on her way to the office. The next day she addressed a letter as follows:

Mr. Mother Superior,
Charity Convent,
Canna, O.
My dear Mr. Superior:

What is the matter with the incompetent stenographer? Everything. To be different she must be born again, and while that would be concededly impossible, it is not more miraculous than some of the things she can do with the king's English in the course of a day's work. She is generally descended from parents whose tastes are uncultivated; the vocabulary of the home is limited; there are usually more children than there than books. All the associations of her life has been away from instead of toward the ideas and methods of expression she will need at the office. She is unfit. No matter how hard she works, she can never rise; she lacks the foundation upon which to build.

Bips

Number 17 February 27, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Selling the E. B. P.

THE STENOGRAPHER.

Take particular care in instructing the stenographer who is to do the transcribing.

Install the foot-trip in the most approved manner and teach her how to adjust the chain.

It is a good plan to remove the Recorder from the transcribing machine and show the dictator how he may substitute it on his machine in an emergency.

Look out for recorders laid carelessly around. Tell the dictator how important it is to put it away carefully so the point or hinge will not become damaged.

Instruct the transcriber not to let the shaving boy "grab" cylinders to amuse himself by shaving. Some very bad accidents have happened to cylinders in this way that have not been transcribed.

Hearing tubes are important; we place them on a card so the transcriber will not receive them dirty and bent out of shape. Bear this in mind if you furnish an old hearing tube, and see that the rubber tube is clean.

A green transcriber never understands the comfort of adjusting the tubes so they hang in the ear, she takes them up in any shape and "springs" them directly into the ear opening, and often forms a bad opinion of the appliance for that reason.

Pull the tubes apart to the proper width. Adjust the ear pieces so they are not twisted. Make the tubes comfortable as they can be made by attention.

Show how the sound modifier on the end of the tubes work.

Listen yourself to the early records, and do not trust too much to the casual inquiry, "How are the records to-day?"

Many times the new transcriber does not know what good work is, and very justly "knocks" the machine from her early experience when the dictator and shaving boy are at their worst.

Teach the transcriber (as well as the dictator) what a poorly shaved record is. Give a cylinder a shop cut—place it on the machine—let the reproducer run it over—hear the rough surface.

Deep cuts in shaving produce a worn surface to be detected by fine white specks. Take the shaving boy with you and let him listen to the trouble he is causing the transcriber by careless work.

Using the foot-trip correctly is very important. First, the chain must be adjusted so the machine stops instantly when the pedal is released.

The average dictation is about one word to a revolution of the cylinder, so you see a word ending a sentence can be cut off instantly if the foot-trip is working properly.

Think how a person dictates directly to a rapid typewriter operator—waiting for her to almost finish writing his last words—adding another sentence at just the right moment—keeping her typewriting continuously.

That is the way to operate the foot-trip with the fewest repeats, the least stopping to listen.

I see a number of headband hearing tubes ordered to-day. These we rank as an accessory, and do not sell them with the outfit because they are not practical in all cases.

A cylinder that can be transcribed with the regular hearing tubes many times cannot be heard though the headband type.

Our advice is always use the regular tubes if possible. They are quickly attached to the ears and are easily removed when arising from the desk or placing paper in the typewriter. In summer they are much cooler than the ear cup.

Nature forms the outside of the ear to protect the sound passage; the headband with ear cup presses against this and closes the ear. The regular tube with rubber elbows makes a turn to reach behind this outside ear protection and conveys sounds that cannot be heard except with this design.

IT IS A MISTAKE TO PRESS THE RUBBER ENDS DIRECTLY INTO THE EAR—THEY SHOULD HANG IN THE LOBE OF THE EAR.

This produces an air space that removes the scratch of the record. Occasionally when a difficult word or a low record occurs, the tubes can be adjusted more closely—then dropped into the old position.

Dealers should decide for themselves if the transcriber can properly hear the class of records they have to write with the headband tubes, if they supply them.

Remember, you had better sell a Phonograph that works well with a hearing tube that is not so desirable to an operator (really, she does not know what is best), than to fool yourself into selling anything that is asked for, thinking to avoid trouble.

Confidently, I will say that dozens of models of headband and freak tubes have been made under my direction and without, but the design we have is as good as we can produce.

Yet we are not satisfied to recommend the headband tube. When we sell an E. B. P. it must work.

THE Dealer who doesn't boom the E. B. P. now will probably be working hard this summer explaining how voice writing makes a vacation easy for the customer.

Two National Holidays this month. Think of the thousands of dictators who used the E. B P. when stenographers were not available. Use this for a talking point.

It's a grave injustice to the Phonograph to set a headband over a Merry Widow hair with the ear cups away from the ears, and then use the Phonograph underneath the noisy elevated railway or in a boiler shop—or with the poor dictation that is sometimes experienced.

Furnish the tubes—whether of one design or the other—that reproduces the records perfectly plain. We know the regular tubes are the best in most cases. You, Mr. Dealer, must use your judgment outside of that.

The Smith Premier Typewriter Company

Our Jacksonville Dealer sends us the following endorsement of the E. B. P. from the Smith-Premier Typewriter Co.:

Messrs. John B. Davis Company,
1301-13 Pierpont Building,
Jacksonville, Fla.

Dear Sirs:—Replying to your favor relative to my Edison Dictating Phonograph, wish to advise that the machine is working perfectly and giving entire satisfaction.

I find that in the use of this wonderful machine my stenographer can do about twice as much work in the short time each day this has been in use. Besides the pressure of both stenographer and myself at the time of dictation, I frequently dictate a large amount of letters after business hours, and I find it much easier there to be writing alone, without it.

Unless I should change materially, I will use the Edison Dictating Phonograph hereafter.

With best wishes, I am
Yours very truly,
(Signed) H. L. Lund,
Manager.

It occurs to the writer that this Typewriter Company have shown a singular attachment to machine writing; in New York they use a machine in their employment bureau, and I have seen a booklet issued by their Cincinnati branch in which they offer to furnish Phonograph operators. And I have before me a list of seventy common words, published by another branch, which stenographers generally mis-spell because they are translated phonetically from their shorthand notes (this could not occur with voice writing).

Are all Smith Premier offices like this?

When will the other typewriter offices get in line?

Local Advertisements

About as clever a local newspaper advertisement as we have seen for some time comes to us from our enterprising dealer in Columbia, S. C.—E. A. Jeakins. It was a twelve-inch story in The State, under the heading "Much Needed Legislation." The article goes on to show how doctors making calls with their "4-mile-an-hour hay-burners" and the business man writing letters longhand or with stenographers should be compelled by legislation to stop such wholesale wasting of time. It winds up with this:

"These machines are cheaper than a high-class typewriter, and are just as necessary in the office. People are so prone to stay in the old rut that we believe if the Legislature would immortalize themselves should they require all overworked business men to save themselves for an old age and their country by requiring them at once to equip their offices for this modern correspondence accelerator. Write E. A. Jeakins, Columbia, S. C."

Give your local scribes a chance.

The use that most firms make of voice writing is real news that most papers would be glad to write up.

100, 150 and 160 threads to the inch

For the benefit of new dealers who have missed the development of the business, we explain that voice writing machines, of different makes, are now on the market in which the recorder cuts a groove either 100 or 150 or 160 threads to the inch.

For fifteen years, till we produced the 150-thread machine in June, 1907—the standard thread on the cylinder of all makes of machines was 100.

The change in the machine necessitated only a new feed screw, feed nut, recorder and reproducer. These can be supplied to-day to change any old Edison machine; cost, $9.60.

To make it easy to understand we called 100 threads the "5-minute machine"—the 150-thread the "8-minute machine."

A record dictated with 150 threads cannot be reproduced with 100 threads—or vice-versa. If the 100-thread machine is an old graphophone we have pointed out that the Edison machine can be changed to agree.

Now comes along the "Dictaphone" (the stepbrother of the graphophone) with 160 threads to the inch.

This advantage is only about 30 seconds more running at 100 revolutions per minute of the cylinder, allowing the dictator to place about 50 more words on the whole surface.

The advantage is very small, and we think for practical work it does not pay to go further than 150 threads.

ANY Edison machine of 150 threads will work with a Dictaphone of 160 threads without changing the mechanism.

Language records are all 100 threads to the inch. Therefore, when a customer requires the machines for this class of work the thread must be specified and a machine specially ordered.

Once More

When ordering specify if the machines are for dictating or transcribing. This is important, so we will include the proper proportion of dictating horns and hearing tubes.

Try to place your order in a separate letter, or, better still, on an order form. To order in the body of a letter causes considerable trouble in the Correspondence Department.

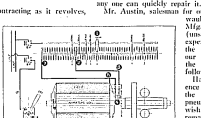
No matter whether your order is for "Universal" machines or not, specify the electrical conditions. This information is particularly necessary for the shaving machine, which is not "universal." We wish to set the pointer on the universal resistance for the correct current on which it is to be used. Think of the need for extra dictation indexes and extra cylinders, and order with machines if possible. Remember, we don't prepay freight on goods weighing under 100 pounds.

ATTEND THE BUSINESS SHOW, CHICAGO—February 27 to March 6—E. C. Barnes, Dealer, 2nd Natl. Bank Bldg., Chicago, will furnish free tickets for yourself or friends.

Bips

Number 21 — April 9, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.



Important Details of The Universal Motor

Those who are interested in the electrical connections of the Universal Motor may refer to the diagram on this page.

When the governor attached to the motor shaft is at rest, the contact points are pressed together at 4. The switch now being turned "on," the electrical current passes from the sliding contact (1) on the variable resistance at the back of the machine, thence through the connections marked 2-3-4-5-6.

It will be seen that the current has a second path from 1, through 7 and 5. But electricity takes the path of least resistance and leaves the resistance coil at 2 instead of 7, to pass through the contacts 4.

Now the governor, contracting as it revolves, instantly the switch is thrown, moves away so as to allow the spring contacts 4 to break, and the current can no longer follow the path 1-2-3-4-5-6. Instead, the current flows through the wire resistance from 1 to 7 and thence through 5 and 6.

The connections are arranged in this manner so as to make resistance between 2 and 7 will not be in circuit when the motor is started—the contacts 4 cutting this resistance out.

With less resistance in the circuit by the path 1-2-3-4-5-6, the motor has a quick start. As soon as it has sufficient motion, the contact 4 breaks and less current will operate the motor so the added resistance from 2 to 7 is put in the circuit automatically.

We are familiar with the added power that is necessary to place a body at rest in motion and the smaller power that will be sufficient to keep in moving. This starting device on the Universal Motor is used for the same reason.

THE EDISON UNIVERSAL MOTOR TAKES ONLY ½ AMPERE OF ELECTRIC CURRENT TO OPERATE IT—ONE-HALF THAT OF ANY OTHER PHONOGRAPH MOTOR HERETOFORE USED.

The automatic starting device is partly responsible for this saving in current.

(Continued on Next Page)

Foot Trips

With the advent of our new clamping devices to make the flexible metallic tube of our foot-trip practically rigid we think we have the ideal arrangement. Previously it was possible with the metallic tube for a careless dictator or transcriber to push the pedal into some new position which would kink the tube and make the chain draw hard; even this was not a real fault as one correct and convenient positions for the pedal could be found and when that was observed the trip would be satisfactory. Now, however, the pedal is practically fixed by the clamps on the pedestal and the transcriber's desk so that the tube must remain straight. The mechanical foot-trip has the great advantage that it will not wear easily and any one can quickly repair it.

Mr. Austin, salesman for our dealers in Milwaukee, the Hoeller Mfg. Co., writes us (unsolicited) on his experience with both the pneumatic trip of our competitors and the Edison trip, as follows:

Having had experience in selling both the mechanical and pneumatic foot-trip, I wish to make a few remarks on the superiority and advantage of the mechanical foot-trip over the pneumatic trip. In the first place, the one disadvantage to the pneumatic trip is the piston. It is about three inches high and you have to hold your foot in the air in order to operate it. This is an unnatural position, as you have your foot half raised the entire period of dictation, and your leg becomes tired. Also the foot slips off the ball-shaped piston continually.

The top of the piston is like a sleeve, and there is a stud screw which holds the cap from coming off. The constant wear on this screw either wears off or works itself out entirely and becomes lost in a few weeks, just like the setion on the shutter of a camera and just as troublesome. The piston is cast iron and must be heavy in order to lay on the floor weighted down, and if this is accidentally kicked it slips off the rubber tubing. This occurs very frequently and is a great inconvenience, and one of its worst faults.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Claims for breakage or missing articles will not be considered unless accompanied by the PACKING SLIP.

Take a tip from Mother Nature. Spring with the Spring! Move Forward!

(Continued from First Page)

The saving of current by means of the Universal Motor amounts to only about 1c. per 8-hour day, or $6.00 per year. This is not much for one machine, but for a plant of 15 machines, the one customer would save $90.00, the price of one outfit each year. Even for two machines the saving in current pays for them during their life.

Dealers are particularly asked to press the contacts together for an instant after the machine starts and notice the greatly increased speed. Some do not appreciate this point and cannot account for a high speed on the motor when the contacts by carelessness have been forced together.

Caution: Do not attempt to adjust or bend these contacts (4) if they are properly pressed together by the governor at rest and move away when the motor starts. Look for trouble elsewhere.

Caution: Read the notice on the current index plate of the variable resistance on the back of the machine and know that when the pointer (1) is so he changed, the switch on the front of the phonograph must be thrown "off." If this is not done during the change, the resistance is liable to be burned.

If at any time carelessness should cause a break in the resistance by burning the wire as described above, the point may be easily seen with the eye and repaired by soldering the break.

BECAUSE OF THE SMALL AMOUNT OF CURRENT THE UNIVERSAL MOTOR REQUIRES, IT WILL OPERATE CONTINUOUSLY WITHOUT FEAR OF BURNING OUT—A VERY IMPORTANT POINT WHERE DANGER OF FIRE IS CONSIDERED.

Good Argument

Mr. Austin, salesman for Hoeffler Mfg. Co., dealers in Milwaukee, submits these very good arguments. The Editor wishes we could have every salesman recorded in the same manner in Tips:

"Well, what have you got?" This is the first question that greets every salesman on his first approach. When you hear this from a stern-faced, cold-featured business man, the air suddenly becomes chilly. You know what you have got and you think of something to say that will immediately interest your prospective purchaser. It is then that confidence grips your hand—without this confidence you are lost.

Now, every salesman knows that if he hesitates after saying he represents the Edison Business Phonograph, seven out of ten prospective purchasers will say "We are not interested." This is due to the fact that mostly every large business firm has heard of or seen the Edison Business Phonograph or some other voice writing machine, and they immediately tell you it cannot be used in their line of business, or they will say, "Yes, it is all right for firms that have got a large correspondence, and it is just simply a routine of work and nothing technical, etc.," and a lot of other excuses. But don't hesitate at this point, but go right in and in as few words as possible tell them of the advantages of the new Business Phonograph, which has just left the inventor's hands. When I say jump right in to your argument, I do not mean any long-drawn-out affair, simply enough to give him to understand you are not talking about the machine he knows all about, has seen or possibly tried, but an entirely new machine just out a few months ago.

One of the first things I do on entering an office is to take a hurried glance around and count the stenographers. I never talk dollars and cents or time saved until I get the prospective purchaser convinced of the new machine, certainly if he never heard of or seen the commercial phonograph. The work is much lighter.

Now for argument: Mr. Economy, we have a machine now that can be dictated to just as easily and quickly as you can talk into a telephone. The transcribing machine will reproduce it to your stenographer in a clear and distinct tone.

I see you employ three stenographers for your correspondence. Supposing the young ladies receive on average of $10.00 a week each, or that would be 25c. an hour; each girl's time is worth 25c. an hour, three hours a day would amount to 75c. for one stenographer, for the three it would be $2.25 per day. We can save you with the Edison Business Phonograph $2.25 a day, the Edison Business Phonograph $2.25 a day, the Edison Business Phonograph $2.25 a day, $13.50 a week, $64.00 a month. Now, we will figure the amount you save the dictator. Supposing the dictator opens, say sixty letters in the morning, reads all these letters over, and figuring that it takes one minute to read each letter, one minute is a very short time to digest the contents of one letter, now if it takes him one minute to read one letter it will take him sixty minutes or one hour to read sixty letters. He will pile those letters up and answer them in a routine way; then he will have to read over the letters a second time. Now, if he dictated the answer to each letter after he read it over first, naturally we could save him this one hour of his time, for we could save this one hour answered, of course, the time would increase correspondingly,—i. e., the amount of time saved. Thus these machines would pay for themselves in a month's time.

Supposing the man has fifty stenographers. Figuring on the same basis, we could save him the sum of $37.50 per day, $225.00 per week, $900.00 per month, $10,800.00 per year, so when you say you can save them three hours on each stenographer, you are figuring very conservatively.

Now, take up the cost of operating. It takes one-half of the amount of current consumed by an ordinary 16 C. P. lamp to run the motor. You can put on 11 letters on the surface of one cylinder, i. e., 11 one hundred words each letter, figuring the cylinder to be shaved one hundred twenty-five times, that would make a total of thirteen hundred and seventy-five letters at the cost of 50c, that is, a cylinder costs 50c to smell ten. The wax cylinders cost, therefore, only about 1c for 45 letters.

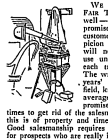
WHY not place the rubber stamp "Dictated to the E. B. P." on every one of your letters and enclose one of the new portrait cards of Mr. Edison, Form 1507.

Tips

Number 29 — May 29, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Washington Letter



They are arguing on tariff in Congress now and here is what they are saying about the linotype or typesetting machine:

"There are 12,000 country newspapers in this country without composing machines," said Senator Paynter. "Their type is set in the same old way. They should have the chance to obtain, at reasonable prices, modern labor-saving devices. Free trade in this article will meet the demands of a progressive reading public. The government cannot put its functions to a more beneficial use than in lowering the necessary aid in the education of the people and the distribution of knowledge."

Remember, it took many more years to make the linotype a success than it has the Phonograph and the economy is applied about the same.

The official reporters of debates, who dictate all their notes into the E. B. P., have been breaking records again. On Thursday, February 25th, the total number of transcribed notes was approximately 150,000 words. In 20 minutes after the house took a recess at 5.20 o'clock, the last page of the immense job was on its way to the government printing office.

And the E. B. P. has been doing work like that at the same speed for the past four years without a replacement of a machine.

WE WILL GIVE IF A FAVORABLE TRIAL THEY are well—but don't take any promises of a prospective purchaser and always suspicion that the E. B. P. will not receive the best use unless you follow up each trial by daily calls. The writer, having several years' experience in the field, knows how glibly the average business man will promise; he does this sometimes to get rid of the salesman. How wasteful this is of property and time for all concerned! Good salesmanship requires the constant search for prospects who are really in earnest. It is not an argument against the trial system that prospects are not fair. Poor trials reflect poor salesmanship. The dealer who has a machine in stock should put it to work—but follow it up and keep the cobwebs off it!

Many a man who wouldn't steal ten cents he found on the floor would cause another man to lose a hundred dollars by a feigned attitude in a business deal, and his conscience would never bat an eye. Learn to know that man.

IF you haven't asked for one of those framed illustrations of the Edison Works that we send free—WHY NOT?

TAKE ALL THE CHANCES you can to get free advertising. Pierce and Brown are hustling dealers down in Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas—they secured the write-up, shown below, in their daily paper. The reporter didn't get the idea very straight, but, that's to be expected. The idea is to get publicity in your locality for voicewriting. Every plant you successfully sell is a news note for the average reporter; he will often insert reading notices about voicewriting in a customer's office that supplies his paper with advertising or you may do advertising yourself in which you have a claim on his consideration. There are a thousand ways of securing legitimate publicity with voicewriting for-news.

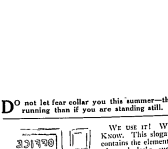
Let's have more of it—and send it to TIPS.

CANNED LETTERS ARE LATEST IN FORT WORTH

You Can Call Down Your Stenographer Now and Have Her Before She Has Time to Reply.

Canned letters are the latest thing in Fort Worth business establishments. Two local concerns have just placed in their offices the "Edison Business Phonograph." The new office man can dictate letters on records at his leisure and his stenographer may reproduce them at will.



The Stanley Grain and Elevator Co. installed its phonograph system of dictation Thursday and a day or so before, the King Candy Co. put in a similar device. Records cost 50 cents each and can be erased off when used and then used again. Each record is good for twenty-five dictations.

One of the first points of the record system is that when a man is afraid of his stenographer and waits to call her down, he can do so quietly and minus his gestures and, the like, as talked off to her mechanically for reproducing when she is far away and can't talk back. The system, she

The farmer has learned that he can't sow and reap the same day. Some city folk don't know it yet.

The best ammunition misses the mark if the aim is poor.

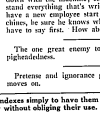
DO not let fear collar you this summer—there is no more danger from lightning if you are running than if you are standing still.

WE USE IT! WE KNOW. This slogan contains the elements of a dealer's success. Would you dare to sell anyone of the modern mechanical devices such as an adding machine or a typewriter without mastering its uses? But many do not look this way on the Phonograph. Perhaps there's a disrespect for it on account of its amusement features—anyone can "play" a Record, therefore anyone can make a business Record. They can, with a slight understanding of their part and there is where the dealer comes in. The dealer has to know about the machine and about the people that use it. Wm. Harrison, our dealer in Utica, writes: "My only regret is that we only sell the machines, and are unable to sell the brains to operate them." There is a lot in this—but if we sold brains with the machine we wouldn't need the dealer—and perhaps then the customer might make the machine himself. Be patient. Teach. Make instruction part of salesmanship. Sell education along with the machines as you would oil to keep them moving smoothly.

The Customer's First Letter

R. C. Farrington of the Typewriter Supply Co., dealers at Boise, Idaho, has a neat invention to prevent the customer using the E. B. P. until he is on hand to instruct him. He places a piece of wire bent in a U shape in the hinge of the arm which lifts the recorder off the cylinder and practically places the machine out of commission until it is removed. This is ingenious and shows the right spirit in making the first experience with the E. B. P. a pleasant one. Put yourself in the place of a customer who is naked to try the machine; you receive it from the dealer and it's up to him to be on hand, if he wants to, when you use it. Invariably you start to talk—to see what happens. Didn't work. Guess is isn't practical. But let the salesman be on hand when that first cylinder is dictated from the first "Dear Sir" to the last "Yours truly"—and satisfaction takes the place of skepticism. Better than the "Paralyzed idea" is to remove the entire electrical attachment cord and place your card on the machine with the hour you will be on hand to demonstrate. Start the customer right. You know a man continues the play when he wins the first stake.

The Seely Office Appliance Co., our dealers in New York, report the sale of machines to Charles Frohman, Paul Armstrong, Maud Adams and several other notables of the theatrical profession. Remember we double the field of the typewriter—we include the brain as well as the type.



WE don't make a cent profit on dictation indexes simply to have them used constantly with every machine. You can't succeed fully without obliging their use. How's your stock?

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Have you a purpose of your own? Are you trying to improve something? Is it your desire to make yourself proficient in any line of work? Have you an idea which you are trying to express? Have you set up before you a mark that is higher than you can conveniently reach? Are you giving any thought to what you may be doing five years from now? Are you looking steadfastly in any direction with the determination of traveling in it? Have you a purpose of your own?

The status of man's life depends largely on how he answers these questions. Many persons can answer them all in the affirmative. But many more—a great many more—could not answer even one of them without stopping to take stock of their thoughts and to see if they really have a purpose. Most people are content to spend their lives carrying out the purposes of others. They work only for the pay. They care more for the pay than for the purpose. Give them the pay and you can have the purpose, for all they care. And in this manner millions of unsatisfactory, unhappy, unsuccessful lives are spent.

If you, in any degree, belong to the latter class, why not look the matter squarely in the face? Why not have a purpose of your own? You can still serve another's purpose—can serve it even better; you can still have the pay, and yet be working out your own purpose. The workman merely becomes a better workman. All good purposes tend in the same direction and can go hand in hand—Warren.

READ THE RULES. How are you to umpire the voice-writing game if you don't? Some fems think they hurt their trade by making their instruction sheets too explicit. Think they will scare the beginner with ideas of complications. Why don't. About everything we could imagine is covered in our regular instruction sheet sent with the E. B. P.

This is for the dealer—it's not for the customer and there no admit it would do harm. Set down with the machine; study the sheet; understand everything that's written. And when you have a new employee start to sell or repair machines, be sure he knows what the manufacturers have to say first. How about you?

The one great enemy to business progress is pigheadedness.

Pretense and ignorance grow thinner as time moves on.

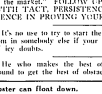
Sips

Number 30 — June 8, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Don't deceive yourself that you are selling Business Phonographs if you are not canvassing and demonstrating. You may be "handling" them—but you are not "selling" them if you don't work at the job. A sale consists in finding a firm that values what you have more than the money they spend for it. What a splendid opportunity it is to present voicewriting with this argument of investment; most firms purchase machinery to reduce costs, if their investment pays only ordinary interest—say 6%. It is not unreasonably to show that the average letter costs 25c. to transcribe it and at least 10c. to dictate it—15c. in all. Voicewriting does the work for about 8c. per letter—25c. saved—or in a day's work economizes 5 to 7 dollars. Granted a plant costing $225.00 will pay for itself in 10 years, that means an investment of only 7½c. per day. WHY, IF THEY WRITE ONLY ONE MORE LETTER A DAY THE INVESTMENT IS COVERED.

When the dealer signs our agreement he should realize that it is not an effort of the manufacturers to get more for themselves—but to get more for the Dealer. We can relieve you of our goods for one price and under certain conditions. It is not on with the Dealer. He is affected by what the other fellow does. If a neighboring Dealer cuts a price, we make it our business to stop it—why?—for the benefit of the other Dealers who are affected and only indirectly ourselves in insisting on those methods that will cause the industry to prosper. Therefore, how proper it is to study prices, terms, conditions and instructions given by the parent company if the Dealer is to continue and succeed. And do not forget that at any time, whether disposing of the line or not, the agreement binds and legally holds the Dealer in his operations. "United we stand—divided we fall." It is our business to see that no one falls.



When you see a feller who alwayz runs on his job you ar liserain 2 a feller thats alwerz to lose that job.—Chicago News.

IT takes a live fish to swim up stream. Any lobster can float down.

Anecdotes of Edison

A glimpse of the incessant labor often involved in a course of experimentation at Mr. Edison's Menlo Park laboratory in the early electric light days is afforded in the following remark of Mr. Upton, one of his chief assistants at that time: "Another point about Edison is in the experimenting. His day is 24 hours long, for he has always worked steadily whenever there was anything to do, whether day or night, and carried a force of night workers; so that his experiments could go on continuously. If he wanted material, he always made it a principle to have it at once, and never hesitated to use special messengers to get it. I remember in the early days of the electric light, he wanted a mercury pump for exhausting the lamps. He sent me to Princeton to get it. I got back in the evening to Menlo Park, and had to take the pump to the laboratory as my back that evening, set it up, work all night and the next day, getting results."

Is everything sailing smoothly with that trial of yours? Don't be too sure! Be suspicious you are going to lose! "Care killed a cat"—you say. Well, perhaps it did—but there's a difference between senseless worrying and a genuine interest in your affairs. It's too late often to take the interest with a customer who has made up his mind unfavorably through experiences that you were not there to correct. No use in getting mad at a customer. You lose $10,000 commissions—that's all there is to it. One Dealer tried that and wrote to a customer: "We agreed to furnish a Business Phonograph, but we didn't agree to furnish ordinary brains." The following day he received a telegram, collect, from the customer: "I did not suppose you had any brains in stock, but I thought you might be able to acquire some in the market." FOLLOW UP YOUR TRIALS WITH TACT, PERSISTENCE AND CONFIDENCE IN PROVING YOUR ARGUMENTS.

It's no use to try to start the flame of enthusiasm in somebody else if your own mind is full of icy doubts.

He who makes the best of opportunities is bound to get the best of obstacles.

NO alarm clock is going to ring when time strikes the hour of your opportunity. Feet never failed to run down the man who waited for something to turn up.

DON'T:

See him first—the dictator minus his tonsils or with some other physical defect that makes voice-versing with such material impossible. The personal equation in selling the E. B. P. demands the closest study. You must secure the right mental attitude of your dictators and transcribers to successfully voice-write—and this will not be forthcoming if the abilities of the employees are lacking in any respect. You know the story of the old Irish lady that drank too much? The Judge asked her what made her drink. She replied: "Because it makes me so pretty in my mind." Just so, some customers like voice-writing—they love the voice—the inclination to save time—the ambition to stand well with their employers—and so, the system "makes them pretty in their minds." Study human nature—get the users (if you can make selections) that are adapted to the system.

DON'T:

Your telephone offers opportunities for the display of the highest diplomacy and business judgment. If there is a call on the subject of voicewriting in your office it should be answered by a person who understands something about it. Your salesman at best can spend only a small part of the day in any customer's plant and at first they will require his assistance in small ways resulting in telephone calls. Don't allow this sort of telephone reply: "Mr. Jones? Not in! Don't know anything about when he will be back! I'll tell him. Good Bye." Dealers should train their help on ask the nature of the call; get someone to the 'phone who can give advice; promise to try and call the salesman outside and send him; —show courtesy—interest. And post your salesman to call up regularly from outside so you can give him messages. It may mean the loss of a sale if you don't. The customer's idea of good service in the beginning is important—cater to it —make him understand you are "on the job."

Repairs on Governors

Sometimes—not often—a governor spring on either of the three types of Edison motors will break. The spring that is broken should not be replaced from another governor nor will we supply one spring for the purpose, because the full set of two to four springs, depending on the type, must be accurately balanced to make the motor operate properly. Therefore, try to keep an extra complete governor on hand if you find repairs of this character necessary, and when a spring breaks send the entire governor back to us for "rebalancing" and the addition of a new spring. We only charge for the actual parts replaced—but for these we come more, but you get the proper article. Or if you prefer, we will send complete sets of springs and balls for any governor crediting you for good springs returned.

GET BUSY

Said one little chick, with a funny little squirm,
"I wish I could find a nice, fat worm."
Said another little chick, with a queer little shrug,
"I wish I could find a nice, fat bug."
Said a third little chick, with a strange little squeal,
"I wish I could find some nice, yellow meal."
"Look here," said the mother, from the green garden patch,
"If you want any breakfast, you must get up and scratch."—The Fieldman.

I do the very best I know how—the very best I can; and I mean to keep doing so until the end. If it's end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong, then angels' swearing I was right would make no difference.—Abraham Lincoln.

KEEP at it; it isn't what you do in a minute, but what you do in a day—a week—a year—that counts.

THE WEEKLY SERMON

Every business man appreciates the importance of understanding something of human nature, but many do not know just what kind of knowledge is desirable. The object of knowing human nature is to get the best from it and not to be deceived by it. The manager who would get the best service from his men needs to understand them as a good violinist knows how to take any kind of a violin as he finds it and get the best music out of it. The worker should understand his employer somewhat as the musician knows a composer—having heard a few of his compositions he knows what to expect when a new one is announced. A man should know his friend as he would a piano that is slightly out of tune; he should be able to set the pitch and still enjoy the music. The seller should understand the buyer as the music teacher understands his pupil. The buyer should understand the seller as the piano tuner understands his instrument; he knows what tone a certain string should give and he turns the screw till he gets it. The man who receives strangers with proper positions should understand them as the electrical manager who receives applicants for the chorus, giving the likely ones a chance to show if they can really sing, weeding out the incompetents and picking up the genius.—Warren.

The use of the word "can't" is never justifiable, except in the expression "can't fail."

When you wrap resolution and courage together you don't need to care a rap for any old obstacle or discouragement; you can't help going forward.

Bips

Number 32 — June 30, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

THE POINTS TO TALK IN COMPETITION

When a customer asks you to write him or personally explain the advantages of an Edison over another machine do not descend into a "knock" by discussing anything but the merits of your own machine. Not—make your claims and talking points the ones that the customer will bear in mind when he gets a hold of the "other fellow." We advise every dealer to digest the following Edison features, and then if he is in competition to study the weak comparative design and know what he is talking about from personal investigation—not from any "knocking" personal picture we might attempt to draw in the dealer's mind. Here are Edison features that make them stand out as incomparable:

I. Universal for all electric and office uses. Any re-chiller that has to be changed in any or in the electric motor when it is moved about the country where there are or by twelve different electric currents is not practical [read Tips No. 6]. Also the economy and convenience are apparent to the "double nut" Edison design which can be used uniform by for shaving or transcribing.

II. Automatic Repeat. An Edison feature is the movement of the lever (11) which automatically repeats about ten words

III. Speaker Guard (14). This very important protection to the "face" of the machine is a feature for every customer to desire upon having.

IV. The General Design of the Edison machine, for fairness, size and mechanical arrangement, combines the experience of origintors of the Phonograph. It is considered good design to have all parts available for easy adjustment and cleaning which is much better than the attempt to conceal working parts in an effort toward simplicity.

V. The Edison Shaving Machine. Has the advantages of long wearing qualities, considerations bind or electric power instantly available on the same circuit.

VI. Edison Prices for the same articles are considerably less than competors' prices.

VII. Suspension Springs (4). Connect the Edison blue to the top-plate and remove any noise which might otherwise be communicated. This is a shaver Edison feature.

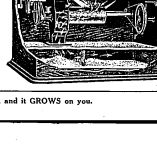
VIII. The Sound Modifier on the hearing tubes is another Edison feature of great advantage to transcribers.

IX. The Dictation Horn, flattened to shape and cut out at right angles, is much more sanitary than the speaking tube and produces a better result.

X. Edison Cylinders, as proved by their adoption, by the largest users, are made of the purest materials which enables a better record to be made on them.

XI. Cylinder System Boxes are the only way of numbering the cylinders besides protecting their surface and allowing them to be handled. The numbers are essential in any successful system.

XII The Printed Dictation Index (arrangement patented) is the most effective feature of this kind yet produced.



XIII. The Edison Foot Trip is practically unbreakable; is unaffected by moisture, and is the most sensitive and natural satisfaction than any other device. Comment must here be made on the fact that this device is subject to the hardest usage under foot and working for the strongest men otherwise will be found unreliable.

XIV. The Knockdown Pedestal with detachable castors and platform top is of great convenience in holding the machine and in shipping the device, if necessary.

There are many other details in design and arrangement which can be proved of distinct advantage over other machines, and will be described, if necessary, upon application.

When a fellow has half knowledge of a subject, he finds it's the other half which would really come in handy.

Be on the lookout all the time for information about the business, and to mail a fact as a sensible man mails a mosquito—the first time.

THE love of money is the ROOT of all evil, and it GROWS on you.

Many a man wants an eight-hour day so he can have a twelve-hour night.

The Washington Letter

June 10, 1909.

EDITOR "TIPS":

Now that the Senate is working on the tariff bill, the House is having an easy time, meeting only Mondays and Thursdays and not transacting very much business; they are waiting for the Senate to send the bill back, when there will be another rush time with the conference report and another rush time with the duties the Senate has put on some of the most discussed schedules.

So many people ask how the work is gotten out in the House, and the phonograph seems to be of so much interest that perhaps a few words of the modus operandi would be of interest. The House corps of official reporters of debates consists of six members, ranking the same and doing the same amount of work. They use the E. B. P. exclusively; each reporter has a dictating machine and a transcribing machine, the two being used in order to expedite the work. Each reporter has a transcriber who does his work exclusively. When the House meets at the legislative hour of a session the dean of the corps, who is Mr. Welch, and who has held his official position for over 20 years, goes first on the floor and takes, in notes, what will amount to one printed column of the Congressional Record. He is succeeded by Mr. Irland, who takes up the report without any break and takes a similar amount of work. He is in turn succeeded by Mr. Small, then Mr. Cochrane, Mr. Lafferty, and Mr. Gray, until it is around to Mr. Welch again, and so on through the day. Mr. Welch, the first man "on," as they say, has in the meantime gone to his room and dictated to the E. B. P. everything that has been said on the floor of the House during his "turn"; his secretary has transcribed it and by the time he is down with his second turn, after dictating it, he reads over the first, revises it, and it then goes to any Member who may have made a speech or to all that have been in a colloquy who have a right to revise their remarks before it goes to the Printing Office. Each reporter is going through the same process and it is one man's duty (Mr. Cameron, assistant to the reporters), to keep the copy straight, get extracts or books that Members read from, etc., etc., and keep the whole day's work in order and see that it gets to the Printing Office in proper shape. Each "turn" consists of some seven or eight typewritten pages (long sheets); an average day's work is seven or eight of these turns, though at the close of a session and when some important bill is up for consideration and the colloquy is fast and furious, a much bigger day's work is done—February 25, for instance, we had 23 turns, or 160 typewritten pages of average court size legal pages—over 90 pages that each transcriber wrote. No matter how hard the day or how much talk there is, 30 or 40 minutes after the last word is said everything is in typewriting and ready for print.

Of course, there are a great many days when the House sits only for a short time and the work as far as quantity is concerned is light indeed. But it is the character and quality of the work that make the positions of the transcriber hard to fill and make the reporters rank with the very best in the country. Printed bills, of course, are not reported; roll calls, which take 30 minutes, give some additional time, and occasionally there is a Member who has what we call a "read speech"—that is, he notifies the reporters that he has manuscript from which he reads—but there is always a reporter on guard for interruptions, which may occur at any time, and to catch interpolated remarks of the speaker.

The Edison machines have made it possible to get the work out in this wonderfully prompt manner, and effect a great saving of time and labor to both the reporters and their assistants.

ISABEL M. PECHIN.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Every business man can well afford to cultivate the art of literary expression. The thought that writing, like painting and music, is chiefly for those who make a business of it is disproved by the daily experience of the average business man. Because some specialize in writing, and carry the art beyond the ability of the average man, it is no less an accomplishment which should in some practical measure be shared by all. Success often consists in expressing a thought so that it will be accepted and acted upon by others.

It may even be said that all work is largely but the changing of one thought for another. When we consider what is really achieved in conferences, interviews, directors' meetings, letters, reports, plans, buying, selling, advertising, and other phases of business activity, we see that in every instance the work consists in changing one thought or one set of thoughts for another. The man who thinks most deeply and accurately, reaches conclusions, and causes these conclusions to be accepted and acted upon by others, is the man who accomplishes the most vital work. Inability to express his conclusions clearly and forcefully would, in the degree of that inability, lessen his influence and success. A command of the modes of language is necessarily a vital part of the equipment of every thorough business man.—Warren.

Perkins, stenographic correspondence clerk for a Cincinnati house, was taking a vacation with his uncle in the country, and was suddenly called upon to ask the blessing. Not being accustomed to it, he promptly tackled the difficulty in the following style: "We acknowledge the receipt of your favors of this date. Allow us to express our gratitude for this expression of your good will. Trusting that our house may merit your confidence in the future as in the past, and that we may have many good orders from you this fall, we are, yours truly, Amen." The old man will say grace himself hereafter.

A thorough knowledge of the smallest details of one's business, well directed effort in work, and the power to organize a business—these are the three foundation stones of success.

THE man who would climb the ladder of fame mustn't linger too long on each round of applause.

Tips

Number 33 — July 7, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Hiring and Keeping a Specialty Salesman

Philip D. Armour built up a great business through his personal qualities and the great ability to find assistants to carry responsibility and make a success of his plans.

"Where do you get your best men?" was asked of Philip Armour.

"I raise them—I raise them!" was the answer.

While this was true, it was Philip Armour's intuitive sense of selecting the right talents in men—men that were susceptible to development—that gave him his great captains and heads of departments.

Elbert Hubbard tells us the comments Armour would make on men as he passed them on the street, thus: "Thinks more of clothes than books —gets fifteen dollars a week and is worth ten." "Late hours—tries—too smart—will be old at forty." "Good boy—not too much top head—he is going somewhere on an errand—wish he would come to me for a job—he doesn't know too much." "He's needlessly sensitive and foolishly good—he'll have to be coddled, or he'll get a sour spot in his soul and imagine you have got it in for him." "Good man—thet-eted, and all that—but too much daylight under the saddle girth. He won't stand without blocking. Put him in the business ballring and he'd spend most of his time flouring how to get out of work." "He's a rare-horse and can do everything but go fast."

Armour was practicing when he sized up men at every opportunity. His business needed good employes and the right man meant profits—the wrong one loss and the failure of cherished aims.

Let the Edison dealer look this matter squarely in the face. If you are not selling the goods you have not found the right man to do it. If you are not trying to find that man you are missing opportunities for profit and doing the manufacturer an injustice in the territory you are expected to work.

The way to get good men is to look for them. Practice the selection of men whether you need them now or not. The right man will come along—nah him!—handle him!—boost him!—get every ounce of ability and profit there is in him!

Awhile ago the Editor had a call from the President of a large firm handling the Edison Business Phonograph among their other lines. He was not a big man physically—very little of the Armour style about him—but while I talked with this keen, discerning business man I began to realize why he held his position at the head of a great house.

The visitor had corresponded with the Edison Business Phonograph Company for nearly a year and now he was sizing up the men behind the signatures. I said to myself, "That man is a success because he has learned to judge men and their abilities to serve him." And I was interested to draw him out on this subject. During conversation he said: "We had a salesman for a while that was the best fitted man I could imagine, but the trouble was, he couldn't get the order—he could get the interest—get the trials—but he couldn't get the money." "I put a man now I think will do—did you notice we ordered twenty-two machines last month?"

This man knew men and the right man for the work to be done. He has many stores, many lines; it was no effort for him to take on the Edison Business Phonograph—he simply found the man to sell it.

Sometimes a dealer writes, "Can you find us a man?" We can, but it doesn't pay. Considerable experience in a training school for salesmen has shown the writer that local men are better than the imported article. Moreover, the Dealer that can't put the "Armour" on the local material probably would not get along with the stranger picked to win by ourselves.

How to obtain good salesmen and keep them interested, told on this page.

Plan a comprehensive campaign with your salesman. Show him how much business he must obtain to cover his expenses. Talk with him. Plan with him. Let him know you want him to succeed. When he fails, know why. If he won't do find out before you lose much. Try till you get the right one.

But don't blame the goods—hundreds of salesmen are successful in the line to-day. Look within for the trouble.

"Everything else being equal, we do business with the man whom we like the best." "Good breeding, good nature, expressed in an attitude of universal courtesy, constitute a business asset as valuable on one side of the desk as the other." The average American has no use for a chronic "grouch," a "pickle-face," or a "knocker."

I make mistakes—but I don't respond to encores. (Philip Armour.)

Sips

Number 35 July 27, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Anecdotes of Edison

The following is one of Mr. Edison's personal reminiscences:

"Some years ago I heard one day that down at Quogue, Long Island, there were immense deposits of black magnetic sand. This would be very valuable if the iron could be separated from the sand. So I went down to Quogue with one of my assistants and saw there, for miles, large beds of black sand on the beach, in layers from one to six inches thick—hundreds of thousands of tons. My first thought was that it would be a very easy matter to concentrate this, and I found I could sell the stuff at a good price. I put up a small plant, but just as I got it started a tremendous storm came up, and every bit of that black sand went out to sea. During the twenty-eight years that have intervened it has never come back."

The E. B. P. and 100 in the shade

When the temperature is high in hot weather, the wax cylinders expand and a few of them may go on the mandrel so far that they touch the cylinder ejector. The manufacturer has tried to gauge the bore of the cylinders so that as little as possible of the wax surface will be lost between hot and cold weather—for you must know that low temperatures in winter cause the cylinder to contract while the position of the recorder at the start and finish on the cylinder does not change.

We suggest in the few hot days that cause trouble with the cylinders to take a strip of thin paper about seven inches long and one inch wide and wrap it around the mandrel of the phonograph in the middle, pasting the ends where they graph in the middle, pasting the ends where they lap but not pasting it on the mandrel. The paper may then be pushed up on the taper mandrel until it rests on the left large end and slightly increases the size. The light fitting paper does not look badly and wears well.

The wax cuttings, in hot weather, are more soft and sticky. Recorders and Reproducers sometimes become coated on the points that bear on the soft wax, so that they do not work well. If the finger is moistened and rubbed on the sapphire points it will clean them by removing the sticky wax. This is particularly good advice to the transcribers.

All electrical devices are designed to remain at a certain desirable temperature above the atmosphere. For instance, a motor is designed not to heat during running more than 20 degrees above atmosphere. In winter this might be 70 degrees or in summer 120 degrees. Therefore, if a motor is hotter this weather than ordinary it is not a sign that it is defective.

The First Stamp

The black penny postage stamp of 1840, the first stamp ever issued, was distinctly unpopular, and gave place to a red one after a year's existence. Great Britain was the first country in the world to use postage stamps, and the English schoolboy of the period seems to have regarded them as a nuisance rather than a national benefit. "Have you tried the stamps yet?" wrote one of them to his sister in the year 1840. "I think they are very absurd and troublesome. I don't fancy making my mouth a glue-pot, although, to be sure, making my mouth a glue-pot, although, to be sure, making my mouth a glue-pot, although, to be sure, making my mouth a glue-pot, although, to be sure, making my mouth a glue-pot, although, to be sure, making my mouth a glue-pot, although, to be sure, making my mouth a glue-pot, although, to be sure, making my mouth a glue-pot, although, to be sure, you have the satisfaction of kissing the back of her gracious Majesty, the Queen. This is, however gracious Majesty, the Queen. This is, however gracious Majesty, the Queen. This is, however MAKE every letter an advertisement with the rubber stamp "Dictated to the E. B. P." and with printed Edison enclosures.

Our Visitors

During the past week several of the "boys" have dropped in at Orange to look us over. There was Mr. N. J. Reid from The Eastern Talking Machine Co., of Boston; he's one of the old Edison guard from the N. Y. District office organization. It seems that once a chap is stung with this voice-writing bee it is hard to break away—and Reid don't seem to want to, for, Boston and the business he's getting suits him.

Mr. Joseph H. Best from the Jos. A. Roach Office Equipment Co., Kansas City, is sure enough a reader of "Tips"; shown at the bottom of one locse we gave our New York Telephone number, 1352 Cranmercy, which connects by private wire with Orange, N. J., so he got us promptly when he arrived and found us waiting for him. How we would like every field man to display the same interest and knowledge Mr. Best has displayed! His visit made us realize the importance of producing the best goods that will continue to bring encouragement and enthusiasm to such bright recruits to our selling force.

Down at Atlantic City the writer met many of our dealers at the National Convention of Talking Machine Jobbers. When we returned Talking Machine Jobbers. When we returned we brought forty-one of the trade back with us; we were met by nine motor cars at the Newark depot and taken to the Orange Country Club for lunch. The E. B. P. dealers in the party who afterward went through the works were: Mr. E. F. Tate, of Boston; Mr. J. B. Ogden, of Lyndsburg, Va.; Mr. H. L. Lucker, of Minneapolis; Mr. Graves, of Portland, Ore.; Mr. J. N. Swanson, of Houston, Tex.; Edwin Boston, of Philadelphia; Mr. N. D. Griffin, of Gloversville, N. Y., and Mr. H. H. Bilah, of Dubuque, Ia.

The Editor caught Mr. Lucker opening an envelope that looked familiar and inquiry showed a very clever bit of special E. B. P. Stationery; across the top of the envelope reads "IT DOES HUMAN NATURE GOOD TO SAY GOOD NIGHT!" How truly of our dealers appreciate the value of advertising the line on the stationery which contains a sample of the machine's work in every written word!

Mr. Lucker is going to write us more of his work in Minneapolis and St. Paul, where, he states, he is making headway with an installment plan in closing most of his trials. The idea is not to offer small installments indiscriminately, but to show his confidence in the goods by practically taking his pay as the customer saves the money with the appliances. Thus a firm buying $225.00 worth of appliances can be closed by $30.00 or $100.00 a month payments without much effort; those accounts are, of course, gilt-edged, and many of them do not bother with the payments but pay in full on regular terms. Remember that oftentimes office managers have trouble in getting their management to expend a large sum in one payment that might consider the smaller payments with the confidence of the dealer that they would practically make the money to pay for the goods.

Our Buffalo and Rochester dealer's representatives, Mr. Monohan and Mr. Smith, also spent an afternoon with us and gave us their hearty encouragement for a big next year's business.

Will you see us in Orange this summer?

A Hot Day

Do you recall, dear Ebenezer, that winter day some months ago? It was a large, three-cornered freezer, its whirkers full of ice and snow. You stood around, my friend, and shivered, and quoted some four hundred lines, from pagan prophets, and delivered dred lines, from pagan prophets, and delivered three lines from sulphur mines. Some thoughts that smelled of sulphur mines. You said, with lips that froze together, that winter was a howling fake; you only wanted summer weather, so you could sit in peace and bake. And now the heat waves fairly sizzle; the fat old sun is on the job; you say that summer is a fraze, and you just pump up tears and sob. The weather is Dame Nature's teaser; with it she often runs amuck; and we're all like sweet Ebenezer—we don't know when we are in luck. If skies are blue, we are complaining, and when it's hot we scream and scold; we raise a riot when it raining, and mutter when it is cold. If all the sensations together planned out a climate that would please, we'd roar about the heatly weather, and want a chance to roast or freeze.—George Matthew Adams.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

The man who desires to be well informed in regard to any line of business should bear in mind that there are two ways of learning a thing—by chance and by conscious intention. One way is merely to absorb the information that can be found in ordinary experience. A man naturally learns some things just by being around. The other way is to set yourself to the task of learning what there is to know about a given subject.

While both ways have merit, it is well to remember that the latter is by far the more effective. By setting yourself to learn a thing you can find out more about it in a day than you might observe in casual observation in a month or a year. The absorbing process is fragmentary and incomplete. You may go for months without coming in contact with fundamental points, and yet often your knowledge of those fundamentals should influence everything you do. A man worked three years making parts of a machine without knowing what it was used for. No progressive man is willing to do that.

The first thing to acquire is the habit or disposition of looking into things. Get a bird's-eye view of the whole, then learn what general kinds there are, then the component parts of each, and then the details of the particular part you need to use. To work from the top downward is the quickest and most comprehensive way. The questions of What, Where, How and Why—especially Why—get quickly at the heart of what is needful to know about any phase of a business.—Warren.

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Tips

Number 36 Aug. 5, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Our Visitors

E. L. Morris, our dealer in Providence, R. I., paid an instructive and interesting visit to our works this week. Mr. Morris succeeded our District Office at Providence over a year ago and the same interest that prompted him to add the E. B. P. to his office appliance line is still retained and strengthened by his experience.

A. M. Bath, our dealer at Shreveport, La., sells to all the towns in northern Louisiana. One cannot help but see the future of the E. B. P. when enthusiasts like Mr. Bath show their mastery of the subject so far from sources of direct information; every part of the proposition, from the cassors of the machine to the tip of the horn was discussed and a trip through the shop left Mr. Bath with a renewed confidence for the boom in business which is now on in Shreveport.

Mr. Fred W. Graves, dealer in Portland, Oregon, had a pleasant time explaining that "his" Portland was not in the State of Maine. To say he came all the way from the Northwest portly in the interest of the E. B. P. is enough to prove that voicewriting is an important subject with him.

New System Numbers 1 to 100

We have always had gummed numbers from 1 to 50 to place on the system boxes that hold the cylinders. (These numbers should not be ever-looked in the package of literature shipped with each outfit.) Now we have printed numbers from 50 to 100 to provide additional numbers where more than 50 cylinders are delivered in system boxes to any plant. By combining these numbers from 1 to 100, higher numbers may be obtained.

Only the 1 to 50 series will be sent with outfits as heretofore. Dealers must make a request for the new 50 to 100 series when they will be promptly mailed an charge.

Take off the belt connected with the crank for hand power underneath the top plate of the shaving machine when it is used on electric power. It will then run more smoothly and with less power.

The best remedy for conceit is to think of all the things you don't know.

No one man was ever big enough to do all the thinking for a business.

Anecdotes of Edison

At Menlo Park one day a farmer came in and asked if I knew any way to kill potato bugs. He had twenty acres of potatoes and the vines were being destroyed. I sent men out and culled two quarts of bugs and tried every chemical I had to destroy them. Bisulphide of Carbon was found to do it instantly. I got a drum and went over to the potato farm and sprinkled it on the vines with a sprinkling pot. Every bug dropped dead. The next morning the farmer came in very excited and reported that the stuff had killed the vines as well. I had to pay $300 for not experimenting properly.

IT'S TIME TO GO TO WORK.

If business seems to slacken up
When bills are falling due
Don't, like a turkey, chase around,
Or let yourself feel blue.
Get out and do the best you can,
Your duty never shirk,
Wake up, and get a hustle on,
It's time to go to work.

Remember, when you started out
To make your way in life,
How others tried to block your stepping stones,
And joy was in the strife?
Get some of that old shirt now,
No gloomy thoughts let bark,
But with a smiling face get up,
It's time to go to work.
—Robert Todd, in Spare Moments.

THE MAN WHO WAITS

Everything comes to the man who goes after the things some other fellow is waiting for.

Everything may be coming to the man who waits, but it's seldom that anything arrives.

Everything comes to him who waits the least.

Nothing that comes to the man who waits is worth waiting for.

Something that should come to the man who waits is a good strong push.

Some men seem to think that a chance in life is a capital prize destiny will award them for being patient waiters.

The fellow who always waits for something to happen, happens to have to wait always.

Everything comes to him who lets the other fellow do the waiting.—Exchange.

If you can't be an early bird, be as tough a worm as you can.

THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH

Thomas A. Edison

Cat 1162—1 inch wide
Cat 1163—2 inch wide

GENUINE EDISON PHONOGRAPHS

TRADE MARK

Thomas A. Edison

BEAR THIS TRADE MARK

Cat 1160—1 inch wide
Cat 1161—2 inch wide

The Authorized Use of the Edison Signature

Dealers who are interested in designing special stationary or literature using the trademark of Thomas A. Edison, will find above the authorized forms permitted by this company. If these designs are engraved they must be copies of the above. Electrotypes may be ordered by the numbers mentioned, addressing Advertising Department.

We advise any dealer who expects to stay in this business to prepare the proper business cards with this trade mark and if possible a special letterhead, using one of the designs.

Any class of merchant, whether his principle business be selling cheese or dynamite, may handle the E. B. P. effectively since the work of selling lies in the customer's office. But it is important to avoid bringing the cheese or dynamite business into prominence when it is the side line of an office appliance that is to be presented. The Dealers stationary of special design is the best way to give the local E. B. P. salesman the individuality that he requires in selling.

The salesman who determines with absolute accuracy what is means, first to prove a proposition, and second, to apply the general principles of demonstration to an immediate matter in hand, knows just how far to go in making a demonstration, what to include and what to exclude. He can see in his mind's eye the chain of evidence that he is fashioning, and will make that chain exact, logical and convincing.

NOTICE—All requests for leave of absence owing to grandmother's funeral, lame back, house-cleaning, moving, sore throat, baby sick, headache, weddings, etc., must be handed to the Manager not later than 10 A. M. "ON THE MORNING OF THE GAME."

John Jacob Astor

Elbert Hubbard's little journey to the home of John Jacob Astor has interesting passages which many employees could read with profit. Here is one passage:

"Here he found work with a certain Robert Bowne, a Quaker, who bought and sold furs.

Young Astor set himself to learn the business—every part of it. He was always sitting on the curb at the door before the owner got around in the morning, carrying a big key to open the warehouse. He was the last to leave at night. He pounded furs with a stick, salted them, sorted them, took them to the tanners, brought them home.

He worked, and as he worked, learned.

To secure the absolute confidence of a man, obey him. Only thus do you get him to lay aside his weapons, be he friend or enemy.

Any dullard can be waited on and served, but to serve requires judgment, skill, tact, patience and industry.

The qualities that make a youth a good servant are the basic ones for mastership. Astor's alertness, willingness, loyalty and ability to obey, delivered his employer over into his hands."

And John Jacob adds these words which contain the pith of advice handed down by all successful men on the great question, "How to Get Rich."

"The man who makes it the habit of his life to go to bed at nine o'clock, usually gets rich and is always reliable. Of course, going to bed does not make him rich—I merely mean that bed does not make him rich—I merely mean that such a man will in all probability be up early in the morning and on a big day's work, so his enemy bones put him to bed early. Regular as their work at night. Honest men work by day. It's all a matter of habit, and good habits in America make any man rich. Wealth is a result of habit."

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Before you make any man a proposition, be sure of your course, the end you desire to reach. Know yourself, know your business, know your man.

No friendly wind is going to pilot your ship into the port of profit. You must map out your entire business voyage before you lift the anchor of initiative or set the sail of action.

It is the minute of toil after the hour of thought, the ounce of effort after the ton of preparation, that steers a business project into the harbor of success.

Before you step—look ahead. Before you fire —aim. Before you act—plan.—System.

Teacher—"Who is the greatest inventor?"

Shaggy-haired Pupil—"Pat. Pending, I guess. I see his name on more inventions than I do any other man's."—L. W. T., in Chicago Daily News.

Do not play with the spoon before you take your medicine. Learn right at the outset.

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Sips

Number 37 — Aug. 14, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Our Visitors

Mr. J. E. Crayton, dealer at Charlotte, N. C., and his Sales Manager of the Business Department, Mr. H. S. Starr, spent two days with us.

The success of the J. E. Crayton Co., for the past year in a territory comprised principally of small Southern towns, made us especially interested in learning their method of salesmans' work.

Their secret lies in three words, "Demonstration, Confidence, Instruction."

When they canvas a locality they demonstrate in order to secure a bona-fide order before shipping the goods to the customer. The careful demonstration in a firm's office with the principal part of an outfit shows beyond a doubt that "it works"; the name of "Crayton," the fine confidence of the salesman and the endorsements given by other firms using voicewriting are all brought to bear in getting the signed order.

When the customer raises the point "How do I know the outfit will continue to work?" the answer is "If the appliances are not serviceable and exactly as represented, you needn't pay."

The signed order of the customer makes him take more interest in the success of the appliances; without this it would not pay to ship goods to the small towns and trust to the customer using them properly.

But the lesson that every dealer must learn is the last of the transaction the INSTRUCTION.

The salesman arrives with the outfits and prepares to stay over one or two days to be sure that the firm and the employees are carefully working IN THE NAME OF EDISON GIVE THE PHONOGRAPH A SHOW.

Don't expect a strange machine to make its way without a hacker. The dictator has many a point to learn in voicewriting. The stenographer certainly needs a day's training on the Phonograph when she spens a year learning stenography and typewriting.

The success of Messrs. Crayton and Starr and their methods are proof that when failures are attributed to the machine more of them can be traced to lack of instruction by the salesman.

We want to add to these remarks that while the "bona-fide order" plan can be made to work in outlying towns, it is not always possible in the large cities where firms are trained to greater privileges and organizations are too large to get quick action.

Every locality however has compensating sales conditions. Where there is a Crayton getting bona-fide orders and quick action we find a large selling expense in carfares and time to reach the small town—in fact this is the sales lever with the customer.

In the cities the traveling expense is practically nothing and the customer expects time to try the outfits.

After all its "leg and leg" for the salesman with the right idea of "Demonstration, Confidence, Instruction."

* * * * *

There's a young man—3 stenographer—working for our dealer, W. D. Andrews, in Syracuse, who has the right idea of getting ahead. This chap Williams had a vacation and it was up to him to don the white duck pants and row the girls on the lake for his two weeks.

Did he do it?

Not until after he saw us, and we have doubts about the girls seeing him for the rest of the two weeks. He came to Orange on his own time and wanted to know all about voice-writing, from Dear Sir to Yours truly—the lake and the girls could wait, but maybe his boss "W. D." wouldn't, when he was looking for another man to sell the E. B. P.

We admire the spirit of Williams—but just as much, the dealer, that can hire, hold and encourage a Williams.

Responsibility is taken, not given and few men make success unaided.

Bad Current

In small towns sometimes the electric current furnished by the power plant is not steady and causes a variation of the operation of the phonographs. This, of course, is not the fault of the Edison Motor.

The writer remembers a town where the same engines that furnished power for the lighting circuit also ran the dynamos for the street railway. Every time a trolley car climbed a hill the whole plant slowed down.

Fortunately this condition is seldom encountered. When a phonograph motor has a tendency to slow down, watch one of the incandescent lights and see if that grows dim at the time of the motor trouble.

If it does, see the Superintendent of the Power House.

A thorough knowledge of the smallest details of one's business, well directed effort in work, and the power to organize a business—these are the three foundation stones of success.

It isn't so much knowing a whole lot, as knowing a little and how to use it, that counts.

IMPORTANT—August 24th the Court Reporters have a Convention at Lake George, N.Y. Go and see the official reporter in your locality, at once, if it is only for a sociable visit. We want them to boost the Edison Proposition in the Convention.

N. B. It is a good deal easier to develop men than it is to find them.

DO THIS FOR US PROMPTLY

By the time this copy of "Tips" reaches you, our letter requesting a record of your sales to date will have been received.

Oblige us in this by sending what records you have, even if they are not complete with the serial numbers of machines.

Each month in the future we will ask for the past month's sales—so be prepared with the records.

Here is an instance which shows the need of these records in our hands and how every dealer will profit by it: A dealer in the South wrote he had a customer ready to buy, but he would not place the order until he understood the customer could have 10 per cent. discount, the same as his Main Office was receiving in the West. Because we could not refer to records, we were obliged to write the dealer in the West and the transaction took two weeks to get the order correctly arranged in the South.

And more than that—had the Western Dealers' records been filed with us giving the branch offices of the customer about the country, we would have referred the prospect to the proper dealer and no doubt the Southern sale would have been made before.

How many sales we are missing with branches of the customers' offices we can only guess, but the Orange record of sales and the careful advice from each dealer with this branch office information will surely make money for all.

DON'T OBLIGE US TO WRITE YOU TWICE FOR THESE RECORDS.

More Daylight.

We see that a law has actually been passed in Cincinnati to take effect in 1910 whereby all the clocks will be set ahead an hour between May and October.

In other words, if we understand correctly, when you set your alarm clock for May 1st, instead of the usual 7 o'clock you make it 6 o'clock—get down to business at 7 o'clock and find the office clock showing 8 o'clock—the janitor has set the clock ahead an hour so everyone will start work early and finish early without working any more actual hours.

How will it work out?

Seems to us this is a great opportunity for the Edison Business Phonograph in Cincinnati.

Will the dictator get to bed any earlier? Won't he come to work late and find his stenographer waiting an hour for him, unoccupied?

Will the dictator quit an hour early in the afternoon (sure the stenographer will). Won't he find his stenographer gone and buy an Edison Business Phonograph for the privilege of getting his important letters dictated?

Why didn't the city fathers be done with it and recommend the Edison Business Phonograph for the daylight saving?

Putting off an easy thing makes it hard, and putting off a hard one makes it impossible.

Seibert's Promotion

George R. Seibert has been up to see us from Pittsburg. He's with A. W. McCloy & Co., dealers. Here is an example of success when the wide-awake business man has the judgment to recognize a good side line and a salesman to sell it.

The Editor of Tips sat in the National Business Show booth in New York City about a year ago and explained the E. B. P. to a quiet young man with A. W. McCloy, Jr., on his card. When he had finished, "Junior" (as he is called by his salesmen) remained quite perfunctorily. "When can you arrange it. I will take the dealership in Pittsburg and push the line."

In time we got to Pittsburg and relieved the old dealer, who thought he had too many irons in the fire, and gave "Junior" a show. Incidentally we may mention that A. W. McCloy & Co. had about a hundred times as many lines to push in their immense printing and stationery establishment as the other chap.

Junior backed Seibert—an old employee—and Seibert backed the E. B. P. to win promotion. Everybody won. I believe Seibert has something to say about taking on new lines himself now.

Want a Seibert? Dig him out of your force, or watch for him passing your store! It takes a McCloy to pick 'em.

Mr. Edison relates the following incident that occurred during the time he was a newsboy on the Grand Trunk Railroad:

"One afternoon, about a week before Christmas, our train jumped the track. Four old Michigan Central cars with rotten sills collapsed in the ditch, and all went to pieces, distributing figs, raisins, dates and candies all over the landscape. I started in to save all I could of this by eating it. Our family doctor had the time of his life with me in this connection."

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Share the business of the men on the firing line.

In the old days, when war was the business of men, the leader's authority came from more than the power to direct.

His men knew that wherever the fight was thickest, he himself would do battle with his strong arm and keen wit.

And the same principle holds good to-day.

The leader in modern battles of business who gets the most loyal service and best results, is he who stands ready to help and work with his men as well as direct them.

Drop at times the policy of simply dictating instructions to your subordinates.

Get into the battle with them—shoulder to shoulder.—System.

The Tariff is settled! Tackle that prospect who said "Wait."

Number 39

Tips

Aug. 31, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Our Visitors

A dealer wrote us a while ago: "Are they selling any machines in Chicago?—I am told there is great opposition to them in that city."

E. C. Barnes sells them in Chicago, and Barnes is the Business Phonograph Co., of Chicago.

Barnes has sold enough machines in Chicago in the last year to make his account with us reach well into five figures, and we're mighty proud of him in Orange.

Opposition? Of course Barnes has opposition—if he didn't have it he wouldn't have sold one-quarter the amount he did.

Opposition is training for strong men.

Opposition is a "knock-out" for the weak one.

Oh! Little Dealer, could we give you the strength of Barnes or hundreds of our other dealers who have eliminated fear from their cosmos, we could put a tidy sum in your pockets selling the E. B. P.

Barnes was down here and left in two days—with his coat-tails standing out straight in the rush to be back on the job.

Opposition? Sure!

Barnes wants it to show its head, for opposition means sales. It means "show me"—that's better than idleness and lack of interest in a customer.

Opposition? Punk!

"Horse Sense" and Tact

L. B. Wycoff, in the Office Outfitter, uses a page in giving advice on the "Training of Typewriter Salesmen" and ends up with remarks that apply well in our similar line as follows:

"It is easy to lay down a code of rules for the salesman, but no salesman could follow them. The old quality known as "horse sense" is the best rule to go by. A man without this important qualification will never make a typewriter salesman, no matter how much time is given him.

A big thing for every salesman to remember is that it is the opinion of a young man or woman who will use the machine which often decides the mind of the buyer. Many a good sale—"nearly" closed—has been lost through the "knock" given the machine by the stenographer after the salesman has left the office. A tactful man will therefore not overlook this point—but demonstrate to the operators as well as the buyer the merits of his goods. Secure the favorable opinion of the typist—convince the buyer and your sale is practically made."

Fear

Fear is the greatest foe of man. It is never what really happens that makes trouble, it is what men fear may happen.

Fear will produce any adverse condition that human mind can conceive.

Fear is the foe man must fight hardest.

Who has not had his pulse quickened, face flushed, respiration increased and body temperature heightened through suddenly seeing his own shadow on a lonely road at night? Immediate consciousness, understanding that the shadow possessed no reality, eliminated fear. Respiration, pulse and body temperature immediately became normal. Elimination of fear restored every function to a normal state.

Men are actually killed by fear. We often read of people being "frightened to death."

Businesses are thrown into bankruptcy because owners fear that something may happen.

A man may break down his health, lose his business, wreck his prospects and drag himself and those about him into the lowest mire through fear.

The very intangibility, unreality of fear should unmask it. When the human race realizes that fear is the intangible, unreal thing that causes trouble, panics, depressions and ills of every sort will cease. Realize fear from your business, from your home, from your individual life, and you will find that you are able to mount heights, win victories and accomplish things you never knew yourself to be capable of before.

Fear is nothing but a shadow that impedes progress. Realize that fear is a shadow and you will see the clear sunshine of success beyond, and know that you may walk unharmed right over the place where you imagined difficulty lay.

You have nothing to fear!—Wesley A. Stanger.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Move as fast as the procession—or move out. Take the pace of the company you are in or make way for the man behind.

Don't stand in the way of new ideas. Don't pause in the path of better systems. Don't settle down on the ladder of success. Don't be a barnacle on the ship of business.

Change means progress. Progress means advancement.

Advancement means movement. Move!

DON'T BLOCK THE WAY.—System.

THE FALL BOOM IS ON! Don't be slow getting in harness.

The Edison Complete, Universal One-Price Outfit is a triumph in modern merchandising.

LEARN THIS STORY OF THE ONE-PRICE SYSTEM, BY HEART.

The greatest change in modern business came with the One-Price System. This has all been brought about since the Civil War.

The old idea was for the seller to get as much as he possibly could for everything he sold. Short weight, short count and inferiority in quality were considered quite right and proper. When you bought a dressed turkey from a farmer, if you did not discover the stone inside the turkey when you weighed it and paid for it, there was no redress.

The laugh was on you. And, moreover, a legal maxim—caveat emptor—"let the buyer beware," made cheating legally safe.

Dealers in clothing guaranteed neither fit nor quality, and everything you paid for, once wrapped up and in your hands, was yours beyond recall—"Let the buyer beware."

A few hundred years ago business was transacted mostly through fairs, ships and by peddlers. Your merchant of that time was a peripatetic rogue who reduced prevarication to a system.

The booth gradually evolved into a store, with the methods of the irresponsible keeper intact. The merchants cheated their neighbors and chuckled in glee, until their neighbors cheated them, which, of course, they eventually did. Then they cursed each other, began again and did it all over.

John Quincy Adams tells of a certain deacon who kept a store near Boston who always added in the year 1775 at the top of a column as seventeen dollars and seventy-five cents.

The amount of misery, grief, disappointment, shame, distress, woe, suspicion and hate caused by a system which wrapped one thing when the by a system which wrapped one thing when the buyer expected another, and took advantage of his innocence and ignorance as to quality and value, cannot be computed in figures.

Suffice it to say that duplicity in trade has had its day. The self-preservation of the race demanded honesty, square dealing, one price to all.

The change only came after a struggle, and we are not always quite sure of the one price yet. But we have gotten thus far that the man who cheats in trade is tabooed. Honesty as a business asset is fully recognized. If you would succeed in business you can't afford to sell a man something he does not want; neither can you afford to disappoint him in quality any more than in count.

Other things being equal, the merchant who has the most friends will make the most money.

To make a sale and acquire an enemy is poor policy. To a peddler or a man who runs a booth at a bazaar or fair it was "get your money now or never." Buyer and seller were at war. One transaction and they never met again. The air was full of hate and suspicion, and the savage propensity for physical destruction was ready to burst forth where hypocrisy and untruth fined in a point where hypocrisy and untruth took the place of violence. The buyer was as bad as the seller—if he could buy below cost he boasted of it. To catch a merchant who had to have money was glorious—we smote him hip and thigh. Later we discovered that, being strangers, he took us in.

The One-Price System has come as a necessity, since it reduces the friction of life and protects the child or simple person in the selection of things needed, just the same as if the buyer were an expert in values and a person who would strike back if imposed upon. Safety, peace and decency demanded the One-Price System. When we reach the point where we see that all men are brothers, we have absolute honesty and One Price.

And so behold! We find the government making favoritism in trade a crime and enforcing the One-Price system by law. And just as surely as this law is the crystallization of public opinion, and no law that is not backed up by the will of the people can be enforced.

As we grow better we have better laws. In Kansas City the other day three men were fined forty thousand dollars each for cutting prices.

They were railroad men, and railroad men have only one thing to sell, and that is transportation. To cut the price of it and sell to some at a less figure than to others is now considered not only immoral, but actually criminal. The world moves.—Elbert Hubbard.

Think of Jonah

Did you ever stop to think it is? If Jonah had stayed with that whale we would never have heard of him again.

He came out all right, however, and did things worth remembering.

A salesman was over in an Indiana town, one day.—That is, the man was there, but the sales were not. The weather was exceedingly trying. The crops in the country were poor. Factories and shops were closing on half time. There were several others, but Van Akin himself was the real cause. He was down in the mouth. He wrote a five page letter to the "House" and went to bed.

When Van came down next morning, later than usual, the clerk handed him a telegram. This usual, the clerk handed him a telegram. This is what he read, "When you've down in the dumps, just think of Jonah. He came out all right."

At first, Van laughed, just as you are doing now. The salesmanager who sent the message intended that he should laugh. Then Van grew serious; and that was according to the manager's plan, too. The salesman returned to his room. But just what happened in that room, perhaps no one but Van Akin will ever know. At any rate, "he came out all right." He took some samples under his arm, called on the trade and made sales. He is "high man" with his company now, with good prospects of becoming salesmanager at an early date.

The thing that gets a man over-board is not important. The particular brand of fish that swallows him is of no consequence. It may be despondency, discouragement, lack of initiative, doubt, fear, timidity or any other kind of fish. They are all lurking just beneath the surface, waiting with open maws for victims.

It's getting out that really counts. Jonah was in for three days and three nights, but according to the story he came out all right. It may take longer than three days and three nights, or it may take less; but get out of it, if you are down in the mouth. If you don't get out, your career is ended. If you do, your chances are better than ever.

Think of Jonah.—Robert W. Clyde.

NOW is the time—before that prospect hires an extra stenographer.

Tips

Number 40 September 10, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Wanted: Contestants

The following is an open letter we are sending out to possible contestants for entry in the Edison Transcribing Contest at the National Business Show which runs at Madison Square Garden, New York, from September 28 to October 2:

THE EDISON TRANSCRIBING CONTEST.

Men and Women who are transcribing from the Edison Business Phonograph will be interested to learn of the Transcribing Contest which we have arranged to take place at the National Business Show, Madison Square Garden, 8 P. M., September 28th, 1909.

The contestants will be limited to those actually receiving their room on Edison Business Phonographs as a regular occupation. This will exclude all professional typists.

The awards will consist of three handsome medals in Gold, Silver and Bronze for the three best records to be decided at the show.

Each contestant will be furnished with a cylinder containing 150 words which will be read at the rate per minute with the standard of the audible ticking 100 revolutions per minute. The contestants will not be allowed to change this speed of the machine. Ten minutes for transcribing will be allowed, at the expiration of which they hand their typewritten matter to the judges. Deductions will be made from the total number of words typewritten according to the rules governing the International Typewriting Contests, copy of which is enclosed. The greatest net amount of words written in the ten minutes will decide the first award, and following in order will decide the others.

Attached is an application for entry to the contest which interested transcribers are requested to fill out and forward direct to the undersigned or through any dealers in the Edison Business Phonograph.

We may state that there will be no expense attached to this contest at any time.

When entries are received we will communicate with the contestant and endeavor to arrange for the machine on which the contest will run, will be loaned gratis by the Phonograph Companies if a machine cannot be supplied otherwise.

The contest will take place in the concert room at Madison Square Garden before a small audience and should not embarrass the contestants, or call for much effort in the ten minutes of writing. Contestants are urged to make application for entry early, as there may be some advantage in the selection of machines. Your prompt and early preference will be given in the order in which we receipt of the written application at Orange, N. J.

Yours truly,

EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO.
NELSON C. BROWN,
Sales Manager.

We expect to secure a very interesting contest and unique advertising from this plan. The result of the transcribers' work will show, principally, that the ordinary machine, which will be used in making and transcribing the dictating, is a practical success.

So many persons know it will talk—"but can any operator succeed with it?"

The fact that the dictation will be made at the rate of 150 words per minute without the privilege of changing it in the contest, will show that the business man can save half his time in dictating more rapidly.

The cut of the medal shown on this page is but an artist's sketch and conveys little idea of the handsome design. The centre of the medal will be in colored enamel and the other parts in relief.

The medals will represent a value of $60.00 for the gold, $30.00 for the silver and $10.00 for the bronze.

It's a good time for Dealers in any part of the country to urge their best transcribers (notice the contestant must be now operating an E. B. P.) to visit New York. The Hudson-Fulton celebration will be in progress the entire time of the Business Show, and the city alight with light and action.

Tuesday, September 28, is the land parade in the celebration and Wednesday night, September 29, is the Edison Transcribing Contest.

If you have any extra send for application form at once. Try to secure a winner from your city—it will be a fine honor and good advertising for your local business.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Men fail—because they begin something.

Men succeed—because they finish a definite thing.

Stick! That is the first law of winning.

Mistakes may mark you back. Men may misjudge you. The half-way spirit may tempt you. The fight may tire you.

But to win—push the thing through, finish it—

STICK!

—System.

CONGRATULATE poor young men upon being born to that ancient and honorable degree which renders it necessary that they should devote themselves to hard work.—Andrew Carnegie.

Our Advertising Department has good Money to Spend on your Circularizing—help them.

AN ADVERTISING PLAN WAITING FOR YOU

Our advertising department is ready NOW to do some special circularizing for you, provided you supply the material. Here is the plan:

Select one of your enthusiastic customers representing some special class or profession, and have them give an endorsement which we can mention or print in our circular letter. Thus, our dealer, the Jas. A. Rasch Office Equipment Co., at Kansas City, supplied an endorsement from a leading architect explaining how the E. B. P. was useful in dictating specifications.

With this letter the dealer gave us a list of 100 of the leading architects. We wrote them personal letters—each one individually written on the typewriter—and mailed them with a 2c. stamp. The letter told how one of their profession used voicewriting and suggested they investigate the system for a similar purpose.

Advertising is news. Give us news to communicate and it is always interesting.

It is better to tell Jones that Smith is using a machine and explain just how he applies it, than to ask Jones to buy for general reasons.

We want to get away from having the prospect believe he is alone in a purchase and make him understand that firms or individuals in a similar position have found the investment good.

Then here is what you do:

First: Secure an endorsement from a good customer whom you can depend upon to boost and answer local questions.

Second: Send the endorsement with 100 names of firms or individuals in a similar business who are likely to know the customer giving the endorsement.

Don't send more than 100 names. We will come back for more if you tell us the plan paid.

Don't fail to spend time on the list and give us the individuals to address besides the firm's name, if possible.

Don't mix the classes of business in the list but have them the same as the endorsement.

Don't fail to get busy on this plan NOW.

In this connection address our Advertising Department.

The Limit of Advertising

"Please note that we have demonstrated to the prospect you sent us. Kindly follow up from Orange and I think he will buy."

This is the gist of an occasional letter we receive after circularizing and referring a prospect to a dealer. We have our limits in advertising. It must stop at handling the prospect to the dealer. Then it's his business to make follow up calls, circularize if he wishes to, or do anything that his ideas of salesmanship may dictate in closing the sale.

Special letters sent to such prospects might conflict with the dealer's remarks—and besides it's pretty near up to the dealer about that time.

As we have said before

Have you forgotten that we give free, when requested, the rubber stamp "Dictated to the Edison Business Phonograph?" Push this with every sale. The customer can be told that voice writing should be identified in his office especially if stenography is also used. Every letter with this stamp makes customers. Incidently—DO YOU USE THE STAMP ON ALL YOUR LETTERS?

When you talk to the E. B. P. or instruct a customer, don't miss that essential of listening a second to the cut of the recorder on the wax cylinder. The recorder stylus is ground to an excellingly fine edge with diamond dust; the least carelessness in touching the point, with a coarse finger or on a hard surface dulls it. This dullness, chipping of the point, or lopsness in the setting will show in the reproduction.

A writer looks at his pen to see that it has ink on it and that it makes the proper marks; as a little practice will enable the voice writer to know his recorder is cutting properly and the eye can detect poor cuts on the cylinder.

Every once and awhile a dealer asks us "What does an outfit consist of?" Aware ye then, the word "Business Phonograph" means "outfit"—as it is written in the Agreement, Article No. 1. A customer must not take more or less than every article described and illustrated in the current catalogue. (Page 24 in the one now used). Show us the complaint of a customer or a competing Dealer that the outfit has been disturbed in its delivery and our legal department will take up the case.

The complete outfit for a standard price is the basis of the Edison One-Price-System that has operated for such great benefit to customer and dealer in the phonograph field.

What are you doing about keeping machines well oiled? We have it to dealers to recommend some good sewing machine or phonograph oil and sell it to the customers for their occasional use. Oftentimes a "balky" machine needs a drop of oil—just as you need food and drink at regular periods to keep agoing.

Governors on the motor sometimes need replacement. Realize that a governor must be accurately balanced or it will not govern. Therefore we do not suggest buying at one spring and bull to replace a broken part, only the whole assembled—ready-to-work article. Keep an extra governor on hand and when a repair is necessary replace the old one with it, sending us the old one for repair. We will only charge for the cost of repairs for the mirring part and you will have a perfect article when it is returned.

A man who does not believe in his proposition, either as a salesman or as a public character, soon degenerates into a confidence gamester.

Anybody can make good under perfect conditions, but it requires a real man to make good with imperfect conditions.

No man who has attained success has seen in advance the working out of the means by which he attained it.

WHICH:—New Stenographer and Typewriter $700.00 or E. B. P. $225.00?

Tips

Number 41 Sept. 20, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

A PLAIN TALK ABOUT RECORDERS.

Considering the number of Edison Business Phonographs that are sold and working we estimate that the monthly repairs on Recorders are less than one per cent. This is a very small amount, although we do not think of it when some disgruntled customer kicks about trouble that is traced to a Recorder.

Here is an instance of how necessary it is to look at these things in a practical light: A customer's transcribing department complained of bad Records from a certain dictator and the Editor of "Tips" went to look at his machine. The dictator was angry to think he had to redictate part of a cylinder—"he didn't see why, etc., etc." Looking at the Recorder we found the point scratched almost off—probably sometime in cleaning the machine got a cloth caught in it. This was the first trouble with the machines in four months. It didn't take long to show the customer that this was better than human service—considering that the "phonograph doctor" fixed the machine in a few seconds with a new Recorder.

Look carefully at an Edison Recorder; see how low the arm sets on the diaphragm to make it sensog; how little the sapphire point projects from the setting to make it solid; how the whole diaphragm is practically as unbreakable as care and experience can make it.

Then consider the speaker guard arrangement, that prevents the cylinder from touching the Recorder. Why, this feature alone prevents thousands of accidents to Recorders that must occur to machines not similarly protected.

As soon as the right occasion presents explain your position to the customer regarding Recorder repairs. Say to him, "Broken Recorders or Reproducers is strictly a question of wear and tear. You have two Recorders and Reproducers for each two machines in use for emergencies and when anything occurs to the 'extras' have them put in order immediately for reserve."

We make repairs on Recorders at 75cents (if the parts are intact) for 60c. each list. Mr. Dealer, you should have several on hand yourself and not "fuss" about a small matter when it's "part of the business."

Our business is not as bad as some others; the recent 24-hour endurance test of stock automobiles showed an average for each car of 3½ hours' repairs for tires and other troubles—or 15%.

Be an optimist—and teach your customers to pay for wear and tear—there is not a mechanical device that doesn't have it.

ANECDOTES OF EDISON

Mr. Edison's reminiscences of his first Phonograph, made in 1877, are full of interest. After conceiving the idea of the Phonograph he made a working sketch of the instrument and gave it to one of his workmen, the late John Kruesi, to be made up. We will tell the remainder of the story in Mr. Edison's own words:

"Kruesi, when he had nearly finished it, asked what it was for. I told him I was going to record talking, and then have the machine talk back. He thought it absurd. However, it was finished, the tinfoil put on, and I then shouted into it 'Mary had a little lamb,' etc. I adjusted the reproducer and the machine reproduced it perfectly. I never was so taken back in my life. Everybody was astonished. I was always afraid of things that worked the first time. Long experiments proved that there were great drawbacks generally found before they could be made commercial, but here was something that there was no doubt of.

"I worked at it all night and we fixed it up to get the best results. That morning I took it over to New York and walked into the office of the Scientific American, walked up to Mr. Beech's desk and said I had something new to show him. He asked what it was. I told him I had a machine that would record and reproduce the human voice. I opened the package, set up the machine, and recited Mary, etc., then I reproduced it so it could be heard all over the room. They kept me at it until the crowds got so great that Mr. Beech was afraid the floor would collapse and we were compelled to stop. The papers next morning contained columns. None of the writers seemed to understand how it was done. I tried to explain that it was so very, very simple, but the results were so surprising that they probably made up their minds beforehand that they could never understand it, and they didn't.

THIS year's business is doubled over last! Are YOU one of the prosperous dealers that we have to thank?

TURN HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

TO achieve what the world calls success a man must attend strictly to business and keep a little in advance of the times.--Edward H. Harriman.

The Spirit of the Times

Record Breaking is the spirit of the times. The daily papers show the progress of the world in every department of business, science and athletics.

Within the last week we have doubly discovered the North Pole—a vessel has crossed the Atlantic in four days—Aviators have lowered the flying records—the mile swim has been made in 26 min. 19 3/5 sec.—an automobile has been driven a mile in a circular track in 50 4/5 seconds.

The world is not taking much newspaper notice of the progress of voicewriting, but this year's business will be doubled and speed records will be established at Madison Square Garden by the transcribers.

If you are not helping this line of progress in your territory by pushing the Edison Business Phonograph—why not?

As manufacturers we look to you—don't miss the spirit of the times in your efforts at record-breaking sales.

Be a booster—also a money-maker.

"Weighty" Advice

While the Editor sat in the station the other day a chap got weighed at an automatic machine and out popped a ticket with this inscription—

> You will obtain what you desire, but only by working hard.

He seemed to think it a joke to have a fortune told with such general advice.

But the trouble with him was that he didn't have a "desire" that this fortune applied to. Work without aim or plan makes life "stale and unprofitable" but add to it a purpose—a desire of accomplishment—and you have a divine combination.

That's you know that Edison in many periods of his life has been so filled with DESIRE to accomplish an almost impossible end that even a penny fortune card like that would be a welcome sign?

It's "desire" that wins most of the hard voice-writing sales. You need that ninety dollars profit—to prove an economy for the customer gets to be an overpowering desire—you follow up the plant, teaching the dictator and transcriber in your daily calls—block every tendency towards failure—your DESIRE helps you to win out with little thought for the work you do.

Pray for desire—it's the motive power to success and riches.

ARE you coming to New York September 25 to attend the Hudson-Fulton Celebration and the National Business Show with Edison Transcribing Contest? Let us know!

SOONER offer for sale a fountain pen without a cap to protect the point than a voice-writing machine without a guard to protect the recorder.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

The worst fall down Marshal Ney ever got from his boss, Napoleon Bonaparte, happened in this way:

Ney had been told to perform a certain task. He looked the job over and returned with the report that the thing was "impossible."

Napoleon was only a runt for size, but on this occasion he looked about seven feet four as he turned upon Ney and said, "Impossible, Marshal, is the adjective of fools."

Marshal Ney went out and did the job.

Perhaps you need a Napoleon to hand you one like that. Nor would you be alone, nor wounded the hand-out do a bit of harm.

The little Big Man who cut his way through Europe; to whom nothing was impossible, has been the inspiration of every generation since his day. His star will never grow dim.

We of this generation have our Napoleons. They are the men who have a goal to make, and make it. They are the men who "Do Things in spite of hell" and pull the ninety and nine with them to blaze the way.

Our Napoleons are our Captains of Industry under whose direction the world is growing bigger and better and brighter every year.

And if we get it good and plenty, once in a while, when we buck at the Cayin's quest for Garcia, he's turn the thing to our own account.

Haven't Got a Man Yet!

We notice that a few of our dealers who are going to get in started with our line, write us that they are waiting for a "good man" to put in charge of the line.

Some dealers have even urged on us to send them a "good man" from Orange.

Let us give our views of the best way to secure an E. B. P. salesman; you must aim to find a salesman who first of all believes in voice-writing and does not ask the questions in order, "What is there in it?" and "What do I do?"

Assuming that the E. B. P. is a sideline in a dealer's store he should not hire a man to sell only them until the employee has showed ability and interest in voicewriting as a general salesman and afterwards proved that he is a profitable investment in selling E. B. P. by gradually working into the line.

Say to an employee "These are your general duties but I particularly want you to master this E. B. P. proposition." Gradually he increases the sales of Business Phonographs and finally he is doing nothing else but selling them.

It is wrong to employ a green man and set him to selling a side line alone; in case of failure you are inclined to charge the man's trouble to the character of the goods—and this is not fair.

Give the man a chance. Give the goods a chance. Develop the man to develop the sales. It's-at's business.

Tips

Number 42 — Sept. 28, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

The National Shorthand Speed Contest

This Stenographic Speed Contest is interesting from the standpoint of its comparison with voicewriting. Tests of five minutes each were read at 150, 175, 200, 220 and 240 words on straight matter—that is matter other than testimony and at 240, 260 and 280 words per minute on testimony. Mr. Willard B. Bottome, New York City, won from three contestants with an average record of 219 words per minute.

The Stenographers in this contest represent the highest skill and intelligence in the profession. We are sure that each had at least ten years' experience with constant practice. What business man could afford to have such an employee to take his dictation and yet many often wish to talk as fast as 200 words a minute.

Take 200 words and dictate them to the Edison Business Phonograph in one minute. You are not talking faster than you sometimes dictate a thought that is on the tip of the tongue and can be expressed better with rapidity of speech.

Now you can see what a benefit to business men the Phonograph must be and what small competition the average human bring can offer to a voicewriting machine.

The only way to have a friend is to be one. —Emerson.

MISS ROSE FRITZ AND MR. W. B. BOTTOME
Champion Typist and Stenographer.

Speaking of the discovery of the North Pole, Mr. Edison recently said:

"I do not know that Cook's work has any particular value from a practical and scientific viewpoint, but it has great value as a demonstration of what American pluck and energy and brains can accomplish and as a stimulus for others to do something that will make their names as famous and aid their fellow man.

"Aren't we Americans great people? We call ourselves Americans, but as a matter of fact we are not. We are a lot of crossbreeds, and in that lies our power. We are a mixture of the best of Europe, for after all it is only the man who has pluck and determination and brains that decides to emigrate to a country wherein he believes he can improve his condition.

"And doesn't this country afford him the best chance to do that? Isn't it a wonderful country? I remember when I was on a railroad out West I used to see immigrants from Sweden and Norway who looked as if they never could be assimilated. Yet in comparatively few years I saw the sons of these men become Senators with every trace of their foreign extraction apparently wiped out.

"Is there any other country on the face of the globe could do that? Isn't it a peach of a country?"

The Sanitary Horn

A dealer writes that the foul odor from one of his customer's dictating horns is causing considerable annoyance. What should he do? Clean it our, says we!

Then we went on to explain that nothing more unsanitary could be found than the old speaking tube with its cloth and rubber. When we made the metal horn we had in mind that one of its greatest benefits would be the ability to clean it out.

Take the horn and scrub out the inside if you wish—let the water run through it.

The dealer should have told that customer, however, to be careful and not run water through the horn when it was on the machine. The water might run through the phonograph on to the floor and spoil his rug.

FAILURE is more often due to a want of ideas than to a want of capital. That's why you should read Tips.

Keep a card File of your Sales, always recording the serial number of machines.

Push the Stamp

Don't forget to push the rubber stamps "Dictated to the Edison Business Phonograph" which we furnish FREE upon request of dealers. Fully 50,000 letters a day in the country are written bearing this stamp; below is a result of the business it is creating.

Sept. 15, 1909.

Edison Business Phonograph Co.,
Orange, N. J.

GENTLEMEN:—Today I received a postal inquiry from a limitless home here, and upon following it up, I found out that the party became interested in the Business Phonograph, solely on account of seeing the "Edison Business Phonograph" stamp on all correspondence from several large firms with whom he did business. I can see that the little rubber stamps you furnish free have a great value as an advertisement, and as I am working on a salary and commission basis myself, I think it a good plan to furnish these stamps to the nursery firms at Syracuse, N. Y., who now have Phonographs, and who do business with the large firms I spoke of. So if you wish to send about six or seven of these stamps to us, we will see that the right potential interest people who will use them to our advantage.

Thanking you in advance, we remain with best wishes,

Yours very truly,
BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH COMPANY
OF BUFFALO,
By (Signed) HOWARD H. BURKHART.

Serial Number Records

Dealers have been told in a circular letter that we will require a monthly report of sales We will ask for this about the first of each month. The serial number of business phonographs and shaving machines is an important part of this record but some have not thought of this and do not seem to understand the reason for our asking.

There are instances when serial machine numbers are the only way to trace transactions; for instance, a dealer wrote us a short time ago and asked who sold machine of a certain serial number into his territory. We were able to tell him promptly that the Larkin Company, Buffalo, N. Y., bought them originally. Futher inquiry brought a letter signed by John Larkin saying that the machines were purchased by him as a personal gift. This was a very satisfactory explanation to the dealer making the original inquiry and ourselves; it showed the continued interest in our product by the largest single user of voicewriting in the world.

When you write about repairs—mention serial numbers. Talk with serial numbers in every case and we will understand you, and you will save much time in correspondence.

Horn Cranes are now being shipped with a small tall piece where the crane attaches to the front of the cabinet. This is so that the screw furnished with the crane may be inserted to prevent the horn drooping to one side or the other when the top is lifted to reach the motor.

What you know is a club for yourself, and what you don't know is a meat-ax for the other fellow.

Dollars outweighs the question—don't forget that in all of your operations. We wish we could pound this proposition into every salesman as hard that the mechanical side of the E. B. P. would not disturb some as it does. Keep in sight the main reason for a customer purchasing. Can I save something? Can I get along with the same stenographer force? This is in his mind—not a trial of machinery to watch as an expert would. True, everything must work well. But suppose a Recorder becomes broken—this is a trifle compared with the results that are being obtained. Make this plain to the purchaser. Don't agree with his peevishness. Show him what he is saving—what voicewriting promises as a convenience.

Some dealers hurt their sales by not taking this optimistic view. You don't have to discuss (or cuss) troubles with the purchaser—just "plug" for results and present them so attractively that the purchaser buys knowing that the "Dollars outweighs the questions."

On one hand, you prove nothing when you let a customer "put it on you" that "it didn't work"—we are selling thousands of machines that do work and bring encores.

On the other hand, when you prevent a customer dwelling on a slight trouble to the exclusion of the general good results, you prove your ability as a salesman and make the profit that you expect.

Get there! Everything is forgotten in the end. Fail! and even Susie Sadface, the stenographer, can tell you just why.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

In forming a purpose in life and sticking to it, every man goes further than he hoped. Sometimes the youth whose ambition is to sit as a local magistrate ends his life in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Often the boy in a railroad office, aiming at a chief clerkship, gains the chief clerkship, finds he can do better still, and at last becomes the president of a railroad.

Trying to do a thing reaches a man to do it. Determination develops ability. With a purpose to succeed, and with that purpose kept in mind and made dominant, success will come.

Among a world filled with the unsurposeful and the aimless, the idle and unthinking, purpose will win, as a compass guided ship must win in an ocean race where all the other entries are shaping their courses as best they can.—Tact Magazine.

No man can explain the secret of his success. It is part ability, part ambition, part environment and part opportunity. Miss the component parts into a whole, embrace the opportunity the very moment it dawns upon you, and you cannot fail.—Lore.

When a fellow makes the same mistake twice he's got to throw up both hands and own up to carelessness or cussedness.

TRY MAKASALA FOR THAT TIRED FEELING.

Tips

Number 43 — October 10, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

EQUIPMENT SOLD BY THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA MUSIC CO., LOS ANGELES, CAL.

SELLING COMMERCIAL SCHOOLS

FREQUENT sales to Commercial Schools and the great success of the Edison Business Phonograph in teaching stenography and typewriting is reason for urging every dealer to canvass this class of prospect.

In "Tips," No. 26, we showed the equipment we recommend. If dealers have any difficulty in presenting the proposition we will be glad to give advice by mail but it is sufficient to say that ten students or more can hear quite as well as one from the same record, relieving the teacher of tiresome dictation that is better given by the machine.

Dealers should look at the Commercial School sale in a broader light than the mere profit on the outfit. First—It provides a source for securing the services of transcribers that are often badly wanted by business firms. Second—It is a splendid advertisement allowing a salesman to argue with a business firm that if new students in schools can use the Edison Business Phonograph, so can experienced stenographers. Third—Every student that leaves a school with a knowledge of the Edison Business Phonograph will probably boost a sale, for it is largely ignorance and prejudice that produce the knockers. Fourth—The Commercial School is in touch with many large business firms and if properly coached become the best reference and friend of the salesman.

Commercial Schools should be treated with more than ordinary consideration. It will pay any dealer making such a sale to spend time in instructing the dictator and in making careful inspection of the appliances to obtain the best results. In schools, a class of girls and boys can play many tricks with an Edison Business Phonograph and by watching the work of a class for a short period, with the teacher to help, all difficulties can be overcome.

Make the installation of the Edison Business Phonograph a permanent one for your own reputation.

The Southern California Music Co., who furnished the equipment shown above, have now sold four commercial schools in Los Angeles and are receiving the greatest advertising benefit from their work. They writes: "We take pleasure in mailing you today, under separate cover, catalogue of the Isaacs Woodbury Business College, showing cut and write-up of your line. We believe that if a general campaign was pursued by Business Phonograph dealers to land the business colleges, as we have done, it would be a great method of educating the public to the advantages of the voice writing system."

THE E. B. P. in a Commercial School provides the best advertisement, removes prejudice, and strikes at the root of ignorance that interferes with the universal use of voice-writing.

ARGUMENT: I will lose my stenography! Not if you practice shorthand a few minutes a day from the same E. B. P. dictation that taught you speed! You can practice up any time in this way!

Transcribers' Practice Records

We offer dealers six moulded records from hard wax, for Transcribers to practice from. These are four inches long, three, and 150 threads to the inch to operate on the regular Edison Business Phonograph. The price is 50c. each list, subject to dealer's discount.

The object of making these moulded records is to encourage the dealer to invite transcribers to their office and allow them to practice on the Edison Business Phonograph, by typewriting from these practice records.

These moulded records are not made in a variety of speeds for commercial schools to work in any system of teaching. Six records are made so that in practice the operator will not run out of dictation. Run them at 100 revolutions per minute.

Many times a dealer has stenographers apply to them for positions using the Edison Business Phonograph. If such applicants could be trained for a short period they would be reliable in the new position or when needed in some emergency. By this training an employment bureau can be operated by any dealer enterprising enough to provide machines for practice. Nothing is more disturbing to the business house than to need a transcriber and be unable to procure one; the dealer who fills this want and advertises it will find it pays him.

The writer operated about sixteen of these employment bureaus for the Edison Business Phonograph at one time and found aside from the service a great advantage in training the regular employees of a prospective purchaser before an installation was made. For instance, a business man was told that it would pay to have his stenographer stop at our office and go into the subject before purchase was made. This enabled us to talk to a young woman on our ground and at a time when she could give her undivided attention to learning the Edison Business Phonograph away from her friends and business interruptions.

When you come to think of it the stenographer does have a rather difficult time of it the first day or two when our machines are installed; therefore, anything that takes the "edge" off of the embarrassment or trouble is worth while. Besides, the salesman has a right to ask this training period of a firm, and if it is refused, a line on future troubles in such an office can be gauged.

Train the operator in your office for an hour or two if you would have short trials and cash purchases.

SEND US IN YOUR ORDER FOR THE SET OF SIX RECORDS AND SHOW US YOU ARE ALIVE.

MR. EDISON pays this tribute to his mother:

"I was always a careless boy," he says, "and with a mother of different caliber I should probably have turned out badly. I never was able to get along at school. I don't know now what it was, but I was always at the foot of the class. I used to feel that the teachers never sympathized with me and that my father thought I was stupid, and at last I almost decided that I was a dunce. One day I overheard the teacher tell the inspector that I was "addled" and it would not be worth while keeping me in the school any longer. I was so hurt by this last straw that I burst out crying and went home and told my mother about it. Then I found out what a good mother was. She brought me back to school and angrily told the teacher that he didn't know what he was talking about, that I had more brains than he had and a lot more talk like that. In fact, she was about the most enthusiastic champion a boy ever had, and I determined then and there that I would be worthy of her faith in me at a critical time in my experience, I should very likely never have become an inventor."

If you strike a them or rose,
Keep a-goin'!
If it hails or if it snows,
Keep a-goin'!
'Taint no use to sit and whine
When the fish ain' on your line;
Bait you hook and keep on tryin'—
Keep a-goin'!

Let your customer know that a personal interest attaches to him—a real personal interest that is one measured wholly by his orders and his dollar—and you will win in return that close, personal association and active support that builds up business.

Things may go back rather far for a time,—so far that some of us may get discouraged, but in reality they are only going back for a good start forward.

SEND in your order for the six Transcribers' Practice Records illustrated on this page. They'll make money for you.

Tips

Number 44 — October 20, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

MRS. ANNA D. DAY

WINNER OF THE

Edison Gold Medal

EDISON TRANSCRIBING CONTEST NATIONAL BUSINESS SHOW.

Record: 43.3 words transcribed per minute from dictation spoken at the rate of 150 words per minute, using an Underwood Typewriter.

Description of the Contest

All of our dealers will be interested in just how we conducted this Edison Prize Transcribing Contest and so we will tell the whole story more to explain the reasons for the rules than to give the contest advertising which will be done in literature now being prepared.

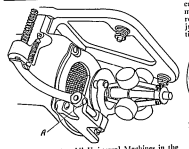
The phonograph at the writer's desk—an ordinary stock machine—was used for making records. No special effort in making an exceptionally good record was attempted.

The copy selected for dictation was a regular letter of some 800 words. Periods, paragraphs and quotation marks were dictated and each contestant was advised of this; they were also told that the rules governing the International Typewriting Contests would be used in marking off for errors and each were given a set of the rules a few days beforehand for their examination. These rules will also be given any dealer who is interested to conduct a contest of his own.

The dictation was at the rate of 150 words per minute with the machine turning 100 revolutions per minute. To be certain each contestant had a record dictated exactly at this speed, every twenty-two and one-half (22½) words on the copy was marked off and this number spoken for every division on the scale. It was a simple matter for the dictator to watch the spaces on the scale on the phonograph and increase the speed or talk slower to keep pace with the marks on the copy. Each machine was adjusted so the 100 speed and the contestants could not change it. Only regularly employed Edison Transcribers were allowed to compete.

After a short preliminary practice from other records the contestants had the contest records placed on their machines—they heard the first words—waited for the word "go" and then wrote 10 minutes till the word "stop" was called.

The winner shown above wrote 523 words, was penalized 90 words for 18 errors and therefore had a record of 43.3 words per minute; this record was made on an Underwood Typewriter.



This contest should not be compared with typewriting speed contests which are nearly manual work in typewriting from copy. We obliged the girl to use two machines—the phonograph and the typewriter—and write an intelligent letter from high speed dictation.

The silver medal, second award, went to Miss Bertha Lange with 40.7 words using an Oliver Typewriter; the bronze medal, third award, to Miss Anna McMannus with 37.2 words using a Remington Typewriter.

The fact that thirty contestants were willing to compete for these medals—and any number to compete for these medals—and any number more might have been obtained in New York City—is an indication of the success which would attend a similar contest where a considerable number of machines had been sold.

Run a contest in your city. Write us and we will give you further advice if necessary.

September was the biggest month of sales in Business Phonograph history.

New Governor on the Universal Motor

All Universal Machines in the future will be equipped with a new governor shown above. The starting device which has appeared before on this type of motor will be discontinued. This governor having four balls will not require the fly-wheel to make the motor steady and is so designed that it will readily start without the device formerly used. The resistance on the back of the machine is now unobstructed by a strait resistance in "series" with the motor. Those who crave to refer to Tips, No. 21, can trace the electrical connections by omitting 2, 3 and 4—the parts that contain the starting device.

The universal motor is no better with this governor; it is only more fool-proof.

This governor also has no key screw in the shaft to assist in driving it. The fellow that "didn't see this screw" or got it burred up in taking it out to remove the governor, will now lose part of his daily job in reporting trouble.

In fact, we feel quite proud in this simplifying process. It took us a year to develop the improvement but that should not be held against us when the machines have always been all right and the loss was principally ours.

Note the screw A in the illustration; by releasing this the friction fork can be set a little closer or further away from the governor disc so that the speed may be changed between different limits. When the machine leaves us it runs 80 to 120 revolutions per minute, but if this need be changed the speed can be made from 90 to 130 or 100 to 140. Never set the governor so the speed adjusting screw will stop it, and 80 is plenty slow enough for the mandrel of the machine to run.

Speaking of improvements, we saw another phonograph motor the other day with a fly-wheel. We are just taking our's off. In two years the other fellow will probably be able to follow us.

And bye-the-bye, don't let any competitor tell you he has a universal motor unless he submits the same proof such as we can do in a letter from a well-known testing laboratory. You see that anyone can claim a thing—it's hard for a customer to prove it. Others have a motor that may run on 60 cycles alternating and direct current—but to run on all currents with an adjustable resistance—that's an Edison feature entirely.

THOMAS A. EDISON viewed the marvellous electric display on the Hudson Saturday night from the New Jersey palisades opposite One Hundred and Tenth Street. When he was visited at his home in Llewellyn Park, West Orange, yesterday afternoon by an American reporter he was found in a delighted and delightful mood.

"It was wonderful! It was wonderful," he exclaimed. "It far surpassed my expectations. It pleased me so much that I have determined to go over to New York Tuesday night and see the show there."

Mr. Edison was remainded by his caller that for his discoveries and development in electricity the display now being made at the most glittering spectacle of the Hudson-Fulton celebration would have been impossible.

"You have put the case too strongly," he replied, adding: "And this is my expression of spoaded, adding: "And this is my expression of spoaded, adding: "And this is my expression of spoaded

Last We Forget—"Push the Printed Dictation Index."

From the Tarentown, Pa., Argus, we reprint the following editorial on

"THE DAWN OF THE AGE OF CEMENT HOUSES"

Some time ago Thomas A. Edison, the great electrician and inventor, "ceased to work," but the venerable wizard has been very active, for a man "at play" and now comes the announcement that within a few days he will begin the pouring of cement houses.

The plan is to prepare a mould into which a complete indestructible dwelling may be poured in six hours. The mould will then be taken apart and reconstructed for pouring of the next house. These moulds will not be sold but will remain the property of Mr. Edison. A house that now costs $6,000 or $7,000 to build will be constructed for $1,300.

Mr. Edison says: "That house is going to solve the problem of decent living. It will take every family out of the slums that is worth taking out. There are some people, you know, who would rather live in the slums than anywhere else.

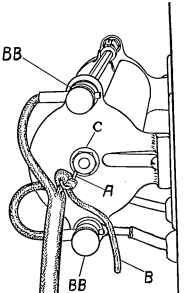
"This is for the dollar-and-a-half-a-day man. Most of my other inventions have helped chiefly the rich. This is for the poor, though the rich will benefit from it, because all buildings will soon be poured from cement. The lumber will soon be gone.

"And I shall take care the contractor shall not wrest from the poor the advantage that I am trying to give them. I shall not sell the moulds from which houses may be cast. I shall only license corporations or individuals to use them. And no license shall be given except upon the terms of a 10 per cent. profit for the contractor. If a ten-room house costs $1,300 to build the contractor must not charge more than $1,430 for it. In fact, I think I shall get some of the captains of industry in on this and let them build houses at a 5 per cent. profit. Why shouldn't they? The houses, being unburnable, would constitute the best security."

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Be cheerful!

No one prefers to give his order to a grouch. No one selects a man with a grievance to make a sale. No one chooses to do business with a sore-head.



A smile removes obstacles, overcomes objections, inspires faith, and paves the way for business.

Cheer spells confidence. Confidence spells success. Men who succeed are cheerful.

Gloom spells trouble. Trouble spells failure. Men who fail are gloomy.

Cheer is an asset. Gloom is liability. It is good business to associate with men who are solvent.

Be cheerful—as a business proposition.—System.

The New Attachment Cord

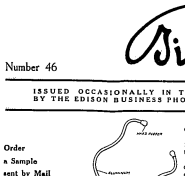
Above is shown the manner of attaching the new cord for carrying current to the Edison Business Phonograph.

A tie-cord (B) is now provided to attach to the ring (A) placed under the nut on the end of the universal resistance. The tie-cord should, of course, be shorter than the leads which enter the binding posts (BB) and so remove the weight which formerly had a tendency to break off these connections. Look at any telephone connection at the receiver and you will see the idea.

When ordering this new cord only, for a Universal machine shipped previously, dealers should request a ring (A) and a washer (C) for attaching the tie-cord.

On direct current cords the tie will be made through a hole provided in the rim of the resistance casing.

Make a talking point of this special cord and dwell on its design, especially the current tap where it is connected to the lamp socket—allowing the user to always retain the light.



REMEMBER—We Have the Only Strictly Universal Business Phonograph for All Office and Electrical Conditions.

Tips

Number 46 November 5, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Order a Sample sent by Mail $1.75 List

The New ALUMINUM Hearing Tube

An added Selling point

Hearing tubes for the phonograph have been made in as many shapes as the human ear itself and the one aim has been to have them light and comfortable. As soon as you go into the headband design you not only interfere with comfort but the useful quality as well. Make a cup for the ear and the sound becomes hollow and the voice loses strength and distinctness: the Edison head-band tube aims to overcome these defects by flatness, and an inside tube for concentration —but the sound nevertheless does not enter the ear passage directly and low tones are not readily heard.

Every experienced transcriber wants a tube that hangs in the ear because they carry more sound and are quickly detached, feel cool, and do not shut off completely the voice of a person who might speak to them.

The trouble with the regular hearing tubes as long furnished to the transcriber has been its heavy weight and bad shape after a short period of use.

A spring in the tubes below the ear either forces the tips in too far or makes the adjustment to a hanging position difficult.

We think the "aluminum" design illustrated on this page overcomes many of the objections of other designs and will be generally popular.

The aluminum tube conveys the sound better than rubber with the spring inside and is extremely light and sanitary.

But the strongest feature in the design is the adjustable joint. The opening between the tips can thus be made at any distance to suit the pressure in the ears and on spring is present to make the tubes ununcomfortable.

In addition, these tubes carry the support pin for taking the weight of the long length of tubes from the ears also the sound modifier to regulate the voice at the phonograph.

The price of the aluminum tube is $1.75 list, when purchased alone, or $1.25 with an outfit in case the regular 50c. tubes are not taken.

A while ago a dealer wrote us complaining of our bad policy in adding expense to the regular price by such "extras" as these hearing tubes.

In defense we point to every machine of the kind, which has a price "with" or "without." Typewriter companies, for instance, could not change their standard price with every accessory invention. True, the typewriter companies do not sell most of the accessories—but they might buy them and include them with a machine only the limit would never be reached.

Just so ourselves, we make an improvement in an accessory that may or may not be a necessity with the machine—we cannot readily change the complete price and so the accessory is made an "extra."

The way to get over this difficulty of price with a prospective customer is to explain at the beginning that you have several styles of hearing tubes to allow the stenographer to choose from, and two of them if chosen would add $1.25 or $1.50 to the total cost—about 2%. If this is talked over in advance no reasonable purchaser would object to adding this small figure to please his stenographer.

But "spring it on the man" in closing and you can't blame the kick. The purchaser thinks you are doing something unusual and there's trouble.

A bargain's a bargain—if you talked $85.00 it's your fault—explain the charge of $86.50 and keep out of a wrangle.

Those who realize the opportunity of pleasing the transcribers with this tube will have them in stock.

IF YOU can suggest a better hearing tube, we would like to manufacture it.

The saving in electrical current with Universal motors will pay for the cylinders used. Know that?

Honk! Honk!

I believe that most people buy motor cars because it gets them over the ground quicker; "Come down to business in ten minutes," "took a spin of 30 miles," are common expressions heard every day. The auto salesman gets his prospect to "jump in and take a ride"—he inoculates him with the "speed fever" —and then quotes him a price.

We had an auto dealer once selling the E. B. P. He had the right idea about demonstrating the auto, for he was out driving all the time—but he never found a prospect that wanted to speed up his correspondence because he didn't look for up-to-date men with old office vehicles.

You can't sell fast unless you get out and find the slow people. Ask an overworked man how he would like to give his correspondence a ride—interest him on the spot—get your machines around—turn on your power and stay with him until you show an hour's job done in fifteen minutes—get the cylinder transcribed—borrow letterheads—transcribe it in your office if necessary.

If the E. B. P. could only be advertised by speed laws we might sell more.

Give 'em a ride!

Improvements

Improvements come along on the Edison Business Phonograph the same as they do on all devices and dealers should not so discourage the manufacturers by kicking about their old stock that we will not be disposed to continue to make the machine more salable.

Everything we add to the machine gives the dealer more for his money—makes phonographs easier to sell—practically giving him greater discounts.

We are extremely careful of the dealer's interest in these changes. The advertised features are placed in his hands to show the prospective customer or not as he finds he has the goods on hand.

And mind you, we are not behind in the design of our products—but rather years ahead, as evidenced by the Universal Motor, which has not yet been duplicated although it is the envy of other manufacturers.

When you see an improvement advertised in Tips, remember it does not reach the customer; he does not know a cabinet was ever made with hinges or the governor changed on the motor.

The worst thing that could happen to you, Mr. Dealer, is to have us stop thinking. If we're ahead of you it is a sign to catch up. Sell your stock—get the new designs to further your sales.

But above all tell us your troubles—if you have them. We could not write anything here, intentionally, that would put a dealer out of touch with us. Your business is ours. When you sell, we sell. We're for helping up to the limit.

The secret of voicewriting sales—that stay sold—lies in the argument that gives enlightenment. Know your proposition thoroughly—know how much voicewriting saves—enlighten your purchaser—don't try to "foist" him with claims and promises that you are not sure of.

Push the line before the Holidays

Cylinders

We have a letter stating that some Edison Cylinders are too large and do not allow the recorder to operate.

These cylinders are probably warped and need to be trued up on the Shaving machines before using.

In the manufacture of every arm the recorder and reproducer are accurately tested on a "high-low blank"—that is, a cylinder half of whose length is the correct large diameter and half the small diameter. So we know that the machine is right and that the cylinders are probably out of shape when they appear too large.

The careful salesman inspects such little defects as this before making any installation and the quickest way is to take a light cut on the shaving machine before any new cylinder is put in use.

Warping is usually the effect of heat on a cylinder. Look out this winter, and caution customers about setting cylinders on steam radiators.

And say—have you run across the champion mean man that isn't satisfied to throw a cylinder away when the "low" point has been used by repeated shavings so the recorder don't touch?

When the customer reaches the low point, he should throw the cylinder away; it is none too strong and might break by further use with valuable dictation in it.

That reminds us that the average dealer don't try to sell cylinders to old customers as he might.

A purchaser with twenty-four cylinders in the beginning in a few months finds some of them broken, deeply scratched or lost so that his stock has depleted to a dozen available for use. Now, half of these are too little to be in the transcriber's hands leaving only six for dictation.

The six cylinders are used up in some spurt of the dictator—more are required quick—a rush follows to get more shaved—then trouble follows —all because of the want of another dozen new cylinders.

Remember you are the goat. A cylinder that wasn't transcribed is shaved or the boy did careless shaving—all blamed against the "System" and you as the dealer.

And when you tell these facts to an old customer get an order for new system hoses as well as the cylinders. Some of the hoses are dirty, broken and unfit for further use in the average plant.

While we are going on this cylinder talk, let us explain that Edison is the only one strictly in the wax business to-day. We are chemists and make a study of wax—others are in the disc or indestructible cylinder line and only make a comparatively few "voicewriting cylinders."

You should sell Edison cylinders to any user of voicewriting machines whether of our make or not. Any time we can give you special advice to get a competition order, write us.

"What is the difference between an optimist and a pessimist?"

"A pessimist is always thinking of his liabilities, while an optimist thinks only of his assets."

Tips

Number 47 Nov. 13, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

OUR AUSTRALIAN DEALER.

We were shipped an order from E. B. P. to W. V. Wyper, manager of the Edison Phonograph Company of Australia, Ltd., at Sydney, N. S. W., that we thought he would have something to say to Tips readers, and here is what he wrote us:

To the Editor of "Tips"—

To-day the world calls for men of scientific training; Science in industry, Science in public affairs, Science in national education, and Science in business; men who can put time and application to business and save money and make time. There never was a period when Science in business was required to such a degree as at the present. The grandest opportunity is "NOW." The man who puts his hours in order does not wait until things become chaotic, but, with the application of foresight and good judgment, he paves the way for progress.

I was impressed with this in a letter last week: "I think the Edison Business Phonograph the most up-to-date method of handling correspondence, but at the present I do not feel disposed to purchase." This man, most likely does not count for much, as his actions show he does not trust his own judgment.

Later in the week our representative called on him with a machine for demonstration, and was asked if "Messrs. So & So" were using the Edison Business Phonograph. A reply in the affirmative elicited a remark from him that he might purchase in the near future, but that he was not in machines at present, which worked well, and are now being used by his manager. It is a peculiar fact that the proprietor of that firm is now seriously ill, with very slight hope of recovery. He was a man of strong personality, and was managing his particular business, which could have been dictated immediately had he installed the Edison Business Phonograph in the first instance, but his typists and stenographers were engaged on other work. This is a fitting illustration showing the necessity of installing the Edison Business Phonograph, and doing it "NOW."

The principle of dictation is a matter that few dictators concern themselves with, yet it makes all the difference between a man who calls letters well, and the man who does not. "I am a bad dictator," says a once manager, "and find my dictation improves with the Edison Business Phonograph." That's it. He can concentrate and construct his letters better and take the subject matter consecutively. Concentration, Constructive, Connectiveness —these are the three things that taking now of—anything right and wrong are keys of things.

Where two people are doing one thing, one leaves certain points to the other, but an Edison Business Phonograph is a receiver direct. Everything is done at the one time. Letters that grip are those which count, and such a letter must be that which approaches nearest to the "Grip" of the man who is actually selling goods. Invariably, a letter transcribed from shorthand notes is failing in its purpose because it does not speak in concise terms and get to business straight away. Verbose words are used where "Snap" is necessary. "The man dictates a good letter" is an occasional remark applied to users of the Edison Business Phonograph, and we look for something, for that remark has given letter dictation a reputation, so we say that remark. Come-specific is "Snapping"—in that part of the business and men who have "Sicknobliveness" are men who obtain the best results from the most up-to-date system.

WE advise you to order the book "How to Write a Business Letter," and offer it for sale. Read other side.

WE save at least $6.00 a year in the consumption of electrical current with the Universal Motor—Don't forget!

A Good Book for Dealers to Sell

Charles R. Wiers has written a book, "How to Write a Business Letter." The price of this is $1.00 retail, to Edison Business Phonograph dealers, 60c. if they remit the cash to him at 631 W. Delavcan Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., and mention that they are Edison dealers.

We want every dealer to buy and read this book—not only for general information, but because it contains four pages (not advertising) on the Edison Business Phonograph, written from the author's experience of many years in the largest voice-writing plant, probably, in the world.

Perhaps we oughtn't to tell on Mr. Wiers, but he is the chief correspondent of the Larkin Co., Buffalo. They use nearly two hundred Edison Business Phonographs and old style graphophones for transcribing. In the writer's personal contact with this customer during four years no more pleasant connections could exist and we are proud to number Mr. Wiers and the Larkin Company among our best and staunchest friends.

It was not Mr. Wiers' suggestion to have our dealers handle his book. It was the Editor of "Tips." Dealers want a piece of literature of this kind to sell, lend, or present to customers, and here is something unique in advertising in that it is written by a "practical voice writer" of standing.

Figure, too, that there is 40% profit in handling this book, and many an odd penny can be made by a salesman in pushing the sale among customers.

Order one or more of the books TO-DAY. Read the description attached.

OFFICE STUPIDITY.

"Our typewriter is going to leave."

"What's the matter?"

"She says she wants a position with an employer who has sense enough to see when she's fixed up to go to the mattiree."

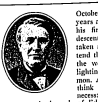
THE SALESMAN'S CREED.

I believe in the goods I am selling, in the company I am working for, and in my ability to get results.

I believe that honest goods can be sold to honest men by honest methods.

I believe in working and not weeping; in boosting, and not knocking; and in the pleasures of my job.

I believe that a man gets what he goes after; that one deed done to-day is worth two deeds to-morrow, and that no man is down and out until he has lost faith in himself.



I believe in to-day and the work I am doing; in to-morrow and the work I hope to do, and in the sure reward which the future holds.

I believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, in friendship and in honest competition.

I believe there is something doing somewhere for every man ready to do it.

I believe I am ready right now.

HERE'S to Thanksgiving—when we think "how different things might have been if they was'nt as they really is."

October 21, 1879, thirty years ago, Mr. Edison made his first successful incandescent lamp. It has taken all these years to extend the lighting circuits of the world so that electric lighting is now quite common. And we must stop to think that this has been necessary before it would pay to push the sale of Edison Business Phonographs and before the time was ripe to produce the Universal Electric Motor. It is indeed remarkable that Edison should be responsible, not only for the Business Phonograph, but for the electrical current which operates it, as well. We are living in the age of Edison.

CORRESPONDENCE

Palabah—For that buzzing noise early in the morning apply strong ammonia—but not on the machine. Hold a sponge thoroughly saturated to the nostrils. Usually, by afternoon all strange noises will disappear.

Stony Point—We advise you not to oil the recorder point. Users who have done this have blamed the phonograph for a slip of the tongue.

W. P. D.—Candy might be a good accessory with the transcribing outfit. But the trouble isn't where you think. Tell him to buy the Edison Business Phonograph "just for appearances' sake."

A. A.—We admit you are up against it with a stenographer whose feet don't touch the floor. This is another result of trying to use child labor. You might find a stenographer with a club foot to reach the footrest.

North Carolina—The stenographer who is annoyed by dictation "of an unbusiness-like character" should be advised to retain the cylinder for salary raising purposes. If he will have the old system with the new let him pay.

There was a young man in Detroit,
Who couldn't read shorthand at soight.
He said, "It's so queer,
I've got all the words here,
But hanged if I think they are roight!"

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

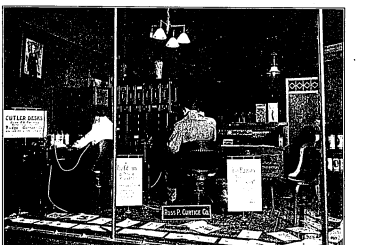
The two greatest things in a business brain are Concentration and Comprehension.

The genius in trade is a combined Edison and Gladstone.

The inventor concentrates on a special problem until it shows new lights and suggests fresh facts.

The statesman looks over the world-wide field, and determines the related values of things and sees the biggest facts in every line.

The business man of high degree has these two faculties of the inventor and statesman.



To get new facts, new suggestions, new leads —then to appreciate which of all are the big and commanding and enduring facts—

That is business. System.

Tips

Number 48 — Nov. 22, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

WINDOW DISPLAY OF ROSS P. CURTICE COMPANY

The Ross P. Curtice Co., our dealers in Lincoln, Neb., has good windows and they use them. They went around to the other office appliance concerns and got them to put in their filing cases, desks, etc., with the Edison Business Phonograph as the central attraction. Mr. Curtice writes us that although he just placed the display in he considers he has one prospect as good as sold through its attraction.

Commencing now is the time to put renewed energy in window displays. The holidays are anonrushing and all of the firms that you have circularized and canvassed will have representatives on the street that will notice a display in the window.

Many ingenious schemes can be worked out; one dealer writes us he has been having his stenographer transcribe his dictation in the show windows. This is a good plan, for, something moving is always attractive.

Then there is the scheme of writing arguments and explanations on small pieces of paper and pasting them on the inside of the glass pane with colored tape passing from the card to the accessories or parts of the machine.

Haven't you a window?

Then hunt up a good friend with a window and, do the work arranging his goods and put the Edison Business Phonograph among them.

Also an empty store is generally to be found and makes the finest kind of headquarters for a week's demonstration.

There's only one out of a thousand ever recorded their voice on a phonograph. Make this a point and invite in the public.

Use your window for the Edison Business Phonograph.

Or, get the other fellow's.

NOTICE: Whenever possible mention the serial number of machine when you order any parts for it.

EVERY good thing worth possessing must be paid in strokes of daily effort.

Opposition

Let us thank the fates, or whoever is responsible, for the "scoundrelly opposition." We should be grateful to those who oppose us. They serve as balancers, as governors. Those who oppose us in our cherished plans are our greatest friends. They put us on our mettle. They draw forth the best within us. Life would be a dead, cheerless, colorless thing were it not for the efforts we have to put forth in order to keep from getting trampled upon by the mob. Those who oppose us are our great co-operators. They assist us indirectly. They serve us as do the winds those ships whose sails are set to send them into the very teeth of the gale. Although no political party is perfect, the party in power would be very apt to abuse that power did not the leaders realize the watchfulness of the opposing parties.

A salesman can only prove that he is a business scientist when some hard-headed buyer tells him that his house is a back-number and his goods a joke. Those who oppose our ideas are our employers. They take our ideas and either polish them or smash them. If they are strong enough to smash them we should be glad, because those ideas that smash so easily are not worth keeping. If ideas can stand the tests applied to them by the opposition they will stand the test of time. The man who complains that his failure to succeed is due to opposition is very apt, in many cases, to be no weak to succeed even without opposition. The joys of mountain climbing are not found on the summit. The joy comes from overcoming obstacles. And when comes from overcoming obstacles. the summit is reached, and we look back over our tracks, we shall find that the part of the journey that yielded the most joy was the part that was the hardest. Our hats off, then, to "the scoundrelly opposition."—Thomas Dreier.

A Chat With the Sales Manager

A most interesting illustrated newspaper article came to my desk the other day showing how the Rev. R. G. Ramsay, 311 W. 10th Ave., Columbus, dictates his sermons to the Edison Business Phonograph. We wrote to the Doctor and asked him if we might tell our dealers about his work. And he answered—"Go as far as you like." So, Mr. Salesman, go and see the Parson when you are in need of a prospect. If they are all as enthusiastic as Dr. Ramsay there is many a sale to be made.

If you want to read a right-on-to-date piece of literature write to A. W. McClure & Co., Pittsburg, our dealers, and ask them for their house organ called "Business Tools." An article in it this month, "Mechanical Love Pirates," is especially good.

I was talking to a careful dealer the other day—one who is making money by showing trials that he can close and getting down to "brass tacks" as soon as possible with the customer—and the subject of bad accounts came up. This dealer said he didn't often lose money through poor collections because he was careful not to render an invoice to any but the best firms. In New York State the simple stamping of an invoice with the words "Pro Forma" leaves you in possession of the goods. Remember that when you render a straight invoice and bar that when you render a straight invoice and bar that when you render a straight invoice and the goods belong to your customer and you must get the money for them unless he sees fit to return them.

When you think your customer will not pay promptly, go around to him with the invoice and don't give it up until you can receipt it "paid."

They are "turning the trick" down in Oklahoma City. Smith's Phonograph Co., our dealers, are pushing the Edison Business Phonograph with energy. Some of their original circulars for distribution in local offices are very clearly written and the fellow who does it cleverly written and the fellow who does it may get an advertising man's job any time if he wants to. Many of our dealers could learn from their style in quoting the remarks of their best customers; once a firm is sold and satisfied good customers; once a firm is sold and satisfied the reference should be pushed—for we are inclined to think what the other prominent fellow does is O. K.

We wish some dealers could grasp the necessity of giving their Edison Business Phonograph salesman the stock to make it possible for them to succeed. Say a salesman draws $75.00 a month; he must make profitable he should sell, for at least $500.00 worth of goods or five Edison Business Phonographs. BUT HE SHOULD HAVE TEN MACHINES IF HE IS TO SELL FIVE. Just as the storekeeper has more goods in stock than he sells per month.

Give a good man a chance.

The Japanese Commercial Commission visited the works the other day and were shown everything by Mr. and Mrs. Edison. As the party entered the phase Mr. Edison was handed a souvenir phonograph. "Presented again," said Mr. Edison, as his wife placed on the badge. "They are very smart people," said Mr. Edison, after the guests had departed. "We are doing about $20,000,000 worth of business a year with them and they are selling us goods worth some $150,000,000."

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Your business principles may be right; your goods the best; your service to customers faultless.

But the Public has got to know!

Keep always your talking points before the public. Get in the glare of favorable publicity. Make known the merits of your proposition.

Success comes by focusing the diverging rays of public opinion—centering buyers' choice on what you have to offer.

Make your ability, your commodity, your service known.

THRIVE ON THE LIGHT. —System.

IT is better to wear out than to rust out. Many persons have heard this saying, and then rusted away.

Number 49

Tips

Nov. 29, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

LETTERS FROM ORANGE.

Our offer to write personal letters to your customers and how the plan must be worked.

It struck us awhile ago when the Editor was out in the field that the Company could help close many a sale if some representative of the manufacturers could step in at the right time and say a few words to back up the dealer.

But there are hundreds of dealers and we could not possibly put enough salesmen out to be on hand when they were needed.

So personal letters are the next best thing and these we now offer to send wherever goods are sold or placed on trial. We cannot send them to prospective customers who do not have machines installed, for that would be too much of a task.

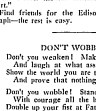
The plan is this: As soon as a dealer places goods out he may write us at once with particulars and we will send at least two personal letters calculated to help sell the goods. The letters will be signed by an officer of the Edison Business Phonograph Company and should be addressed to the man who is to make the decision in the purchase.

You cannot be too explicit in giving us particulars; state if the goods are to be purchased principally on their convenience as an their economy—the type of machines installed—if there is any competition—or any other points that we should know.

Those dealers that are far away from Orange can still have the benefit of these letters of encouragement because no mension will be made of the terms "trial" or "purchase"—and thus they will be probably well received at any period in the use of the system.

Carbons of the letters will be mailed to the dealer.

CORRESPONDENCE



Texarkana. We are glad to know the transcribers at the G. H. B. Manufacturing Co. like the system better since you changed the diesters who erased when the machines were running. Look out for dicrators with hilhexna, ton. Nothing sounds so much like a busted recorder as a sneeze on the phonograph.

North Dakota. You did wrong to promise head band hearing tubes to fit the ladies' hair. There is no book of styles with our hearing-tubes. Send us working drawings showing transcriber's head with and without rat. 30-inch band will cost $5.00.

Bunsting. Notice you are hunting up partly deaf dicrators because they can hear repetitions better on the Edison Business Phonograph. But say—don't let these men's wives know the phonograph will make them hear.

Westerner. Glad you found the trouble with the dictation. We can understand you thought the recorder was bad when the man was only stuttering and whistling for the word.

WHO IS TO USE IT?

Don't let your valuable outfits leave your hands till you know this and have talked with the particular dictator and transcriber who is to decide a purchase. Talk frankly to the customer saying "Time-saving machinery has always its opponents and you and I cannot afford to spend our time unless there is the correct mental attitude shown from the start."

Find friends for the Edison Business Phonograph—the rest is easy.

Edison cylinders are the result of years of experiment in getting the right mixture and extreme care in keeping the materials pure. Mr. Edison is quite as well known in the field of chemistry as electricity and he heads the chemists and wax expert in our works. Improvements in wax are very important and Edison customers receive the benefit of this progression as much as in the machine design. Remember we are the only all wax cylinder manufacturers to-day for both amusement and business.

DON'T WOBBLE!

Don't you weaken! Make a bluff!
And laugh at what assails you;
Show the world you are the stuff,
And prove that nothing ails you!

Don't you wobble! Stand up straight!
With courage all the bolder;
Double up your fist at Fate,
And hit right from the shoulder.

—Los Angeles Express.

THE SERIAL NUMBER of the Phonograph should be furnished when you order any repair parts for it.

LET no man know more of your specialty than you know yourself.—Carnegie.

See the Parson

Here is another minister of the Gospel that is using the Edison Business Phonograph successfully:

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Verona, N. J.

REV. JOHN R. PRATT, MINISTER

Nov. 18, 1909.

Edison Business Phonograph Co.,
Orange, N. J.

Dear Sirs—In reply to your kind favor of Nov. 3, I would say that I am using the Edison Business Phonograph constantly and find it of great service in my work. I had no idea what a great time-saver it was going to be to me.

I use the machine for my regular correspondence and also dictate my sermons to it. The machine is the best sermon critic I ever had. I am now able to hear myself as others hear me. Every flaw in public speaking is reproduced by the machine. It has been of far greater value to me than I anticipated when I purchased it, and I am more than satisfied.

Very truly yours,
JOHN R. PRATT.

Why not ask for Advice?

A dealer writes us that he has been using the Specker Connection, between the Recorder and Reproducer, for transcribing. He can't do it now, of course, because we have it attached to the ball joint of the Horn Crane.

His explanation is that he found the sound properly modified by the connection and preferred to recommend this arrangement instead of connecting the hearing tubes directly into the reproducer.

If you dealers could only appreciate the amount of time and thought that has been put on this question of the best reproduction, you would not use your own judgment in these matters.

A glance at the round-modifier on the end of the hearing tubes, will show that it is specially constructed to get the most sound from the reproducer, at the same time allowing the user to adjust the screw to shut off any objectionable quantity.

So, here is a lesson not to change the design and intention of any part of the outfit without consulting us.

The sound modifier in this case is supposed to do everything that the name implies, yet obtain the best reproduction of a low voice that some arrangement such as the dealer used will not accomplish at all.

Learn to write us on all these points. We can often enlighten you.

"You have missed your vocation," said Fogg, as he gazed at the typewritten letter his stenographer handed to him. "You should conduct a missing word contest."

WE are getting out a Xmas number of Tips with an index of the first fifty numbers. Send in a contribution!

The unhappy people are at the top and bottom of society, the millionaires who are afraid they're going to lose what they have, who think everybody is trying to take away their wealth, and the laboring class who have nothing to lose. Both are miserable. The top men are killed off by worry, high living, all kinds of diseases. Look at Jay Gould, look at Harriman. When a man gets $100,000 he figures how he can keep that and get more. It's the hog in us. The people who are fortunate and happy have incomes of $25 to $30 a week, enough to be comfortable and not enough to worry about. Strictly speaking, neither Rockefeller nor any other man has wealth. He can't get more than so much out of his money. He just has a lot of titles to property. The people have the property. I am surprised that Rockefeller can sell oil so cheap, much cheaper than coal when you consider its heating power. An employer does not make much from his working men, only a few cents a head, and that for the privilege of using his tools and machinery. If you go to a moving picture show twenty or thirty times a year, you pay me a farthing or a cent in royalty. It is the fractions of cents on large volumes of trade that make individual fortunes. —(Extract from interview in N. Y. Tribune, Nov. 14.)

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

It's an easy thing to do a thing tomorrow. It's a cinch for one to do it bye and bye. But the man whose life is sunny (he's the man who gets the money) is the man whose motto is "do it now or die."

There's a stumble stone that's called procrastination. (Ask the man who's lost his nerve to sell you whip.) For the man who's up and coming and who keeps the wheels a-humming, is the man who cuts "tomorrow" from his cry.

There's a surest way to be a "might have been." It's a snap to pick a "has been" on the run. He's the man who's always moping and in futures ever hoping. He's the "going-to-do" who never gets it done.

Is it up to you to take this gentle knocking? Will you blink to have the search light aimed your way? Are you "always borrow sorrow," with your hopes fixed on tomorrow? If you are, old man, just do your stunt TODAY.—Tutt's Magazine.

HE WAS A STENOGRAPHER IN DUBLIN, IRELAND.

Says Nora to Pat—"The other night, when we wuz up to O'Sullivan's you said you wuz goin' to get wurruk next wake at 17.85 per. Now phwat th' divil did you mane by per?"

"Why," says Pat, "You mild goose, don't y' see into it, it manes 'perhaps.'"

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Merry Xmas Tips

Number 50 — Dec. 15, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

THOMAS A. EDISON
INVENTOR AND PERFECTER

The past year has been the most successful in the history of the selling of the Edison Business Phonograph and I wish to thank our dealers for their display of interest. May you all enjoy a very Merry Christmas and a most prosperous New Year.

Thomas A. Edison.

WELL, this Christmas promises a remarkable finish to a year remarkable in many respects. After the panic year of 1908 the year 1909 gradually rounded into prosperity and here we are better off than ever, for all of us have learned that prodigality does not pay and it is better to be prosperous with money in bank than appear prosperous by spending every cent.

These conditions have all helped to popularize voice writing. Economy became popular with most concerns and "dictators that couldn't" and "stenographers that wouldn't" before the panic, promptly got in line and used the Edison Business Phonograph, thereby proving what we all know, that "the things that are best for us we seldom do until they become a necessity."

Look at the fac-similes of the first patent on a Business Phonograph granted to Mr. Edison, printed on the last page of this issue of "Tips," and you may picture the appreciation of the inventor for the present success of his machine.

Thirty years ago the Business Phonograph was ahead of its day: the innovation of the typewriter with the woman stenographer had to be first digested by the business world and electrical progress extend current facilities to every office before voicewriting could come into its own.

Now the bars of opposing conditions are down and it is easy to understand how our dealers who are helping us by helping themselves are considered more as friends than mere business connections.

So, then, you can understand the feelings which prompted the Editor of "Tips" to expand the modest sheet which you have received in the past into the twelve pages that follow and dress the remarks with holly and two colors.

Be kind. Read all we have written.

Our hearts are in the right place—not like some business men who carry around at Christmas a sprig of mistletoe pinned to their coat-tails.

If we awaken in you some of the same good-will — "doing-our-best-to-please"—spirit, this issue will have accomplished a great deal.

FRANK L. DYER
PRESIDENT AND
GENERAL COUNSEL

Our business by future comparison with us has made it's known phenomenal progress, as you the increase in our sales figures. In above testimony of many users we may quote. It work. The we among your sales men performance for the make. Thank you for many business and a hope may shall see

Yours truly,

Edward T. Wilson

THE Officers and Managers of departments in the Edison Business Phonograph Company have each written a few remarks with expressions of reasonable good-will beside their portraits for the Editor of "Tips."

Have you met us all?

No? Then why don't you telephone 1252 Grammercy, New York, when you are there again and arrange to come to Orange—only an hour's run—where the majority of the Edison Business family holds out?

Here is a great cement city with 18 acres of floor space working on Edison products. A visitor asked the writer the usual question, "Is Mr. Edison still active?" For answer a pile of recent experimental records in his careful hand-writing were pointed out, showing the thought expended on every subject he works upon. And just then the man himself came in and talked with all the ardor that could be expected of an inventor with the creations of his genius, growing into shape about him.

But after an Edison invention is made the strongest kind of organization is required to market it. Most other manufacturers can obtain employees from other similar concerns; but the Edison products are unique and require the development of men and methods specially fitted for the work.

On the next page we have shown in diagram form how the Edison Business Phonograph is marketed. The four department managers, Sales, Advertising, Credit and Transportation, have their portraits shown in this issue and all dealers are invited to correspond freely with these heads for the good of the business.

And President Dyer, Vice-President Wilson, Secretary Wester and General Superintendent Weber are behind the general organization, waiting to serve, if possible, any dealer who should require special attention.

Thus the Edison Business Phonograph is backed by the inventor, and an official family directly in touch with him; it is the most unique organization probably in the world, having every ability and reason for fair dealing directly with the dealer.

If any dealer has a grievance it is probably because he does not realize the extent of the organization and our policy of adopting rules that shall have "The Greatest Good for the Greatest Number."

We have over 200 Dealers at home and abroad to satisfy—and we work hard at the job.

Our stock-room is filled sufficiently to meet every need of the business; yet it takes a little time to fill an individual Dealer's order, because the order department, the shipping clerk, credit manager, the shop—what is usually termed "red tape"—all take time to move. If it were not so a great organization would soon be in chaos, and, ultimately the Dealer would have a much greater and more reasonable "kick" than that his orders were not shipped the same day of receipt at Orange.

It is so with repairs, too; the receiving department must accurately detail the articles received—the inspector report their exact condition—and after all orders must be sent to do the work.

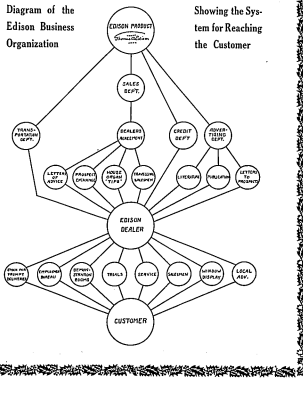
But these conditions are not stated to defend any undue delays, any laxity—of our systems. We know the dealer is handling only a few orders and it is our business to help him as much as possible.

Fire your troubles, your complaints, your hopes, your successes at us.

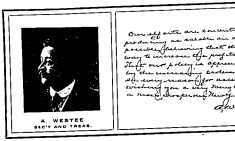
We're here to get business—for you—for ourselves.

C. H. WILSON
VICE-PRES. AND GEN. MGR.

The Edison Re Price System with a standard outfit has helped in the building of a strong reputation for the dealer's prosperity, and the customer's confidence. We are thankful for the loyalty of our dealers, which assists us very materially to carry out these principles.



Fire the compliments of the season and wishing you a happy and prosperous New Year.



Vice President & General Manager.

Dictated personally by Mr. Wilson while away on a business trip.

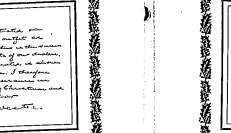


Diagram of the Edison Business Organization

Showing the System for Reaching the Customer

A. WESTEE
SALT AND PEPPER.

THE writer was connected with one of the largest sales organizations in the world when they "took on a side-line." Did they go out and "get a man" to handle it? Not on your life. The building up of a new line within their present organization could not be entrusted to a green employee, no matter what his capabilities.

They selected a man who knew their company from the beginning—an old employee—and said to him, give your time to this to get it going and gradually turn it over to the department you must organize.

Thus a side-line proved to be a success. The old employee who managed it at first knew the limitations of the company's organization and did not "shop over" with cheap enthusiasm or spend more than the profits would warrant while he pushed the sales and got the enterprise on its feet.

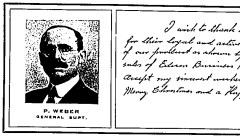
Would that some of our dealers could go at our proposition as sanely.

Let the dealer who reads this article ask himself if he is treating himself or ourselves fairly if he hasn't tried to organize a department along these lines for the Edison Business Phonograph.

Mark you, the first condition for success is that you have an employee that you have had for some time in your organization, or if you hire a new man—don't! Don't!—say, "See what you can do with this line," and then let him drift.

Let the man in charge of an Edison Business Phonograph Department know all about the firm that employs him. Let the boss get in touch with him—know his troubles—share in his successes—and let him understand if he fails in his specialty he is still employed, so that another salesman can be tried and the first will know he can take another position at once—in the firm, not out of it.

This advice will especially apply to the small dealer. He cannot afford to hire a special man for the Edison Business Phonograph, but he might afford part of an employee's time or to hire a new man for general work with the special understanding that he is to learn and do all that is to be done with the Edison Business Phonograph.



And, Dealers, when you select your man to master the Edison Business Phonograph proposition put him in touch with us. Tell him to write us letters and hear what we've got to say. We can't do harm and we can't help but do good.

There are the letters we offer to send to trial customers when we understand the features of the system you are trying to prove. These letters will give a "green" salesman new ideas—new arguments—and the fact that they come from the home of the original phonograph, signed by an officer of this company, will add prestige.

Then the new salesman can secure the greatest assistance by asking the aid of our Advertising Department. Suppose there are several hundred possible customers in your territory; get their names, addresses, and the class of business. When one firm—say a lawyer—is sold, give the advertising department their endorsement and ask them to circularize all the lawyers on your list. And so you can devise many ways of advertising without help and at our expense, if only you will supply the ideas.

We have in mind one dealer who put his own advertising man on a plan that we would not have sanctioned, and spent several hundred dollars—all of which was charged up to the poor salesman who was judged a failure because he didn't sell the outfits immediately to cover the dealer's advertising expense.

Get a salesman you can trust to act wisely—one that you can afford to keep permanently in your employ—and let both of us, you and I, boost him to success.

P. WEBER
SALT, PEPPER, MUST.

THE One-Price System of the Edison organization based on a standard outfit is the best policy that a permanent business can be built upon.

But, while it safeguards the dealer's profits and gives the customer the greatest value in quality of goods and service by the salesman, it nevertheless can be made very unattractive to the purchaser and resell in a less of business if not used tactfully, especially in competition.

We saw a case of prices handled about right the other day. The dealer, instead of answering a customer's request for a quotation with the bald statements, "This figure quoted is the Edison One-Price," or "We never make a reduction on such a quantity," etc, the salesman quietly quoted standard prices, but pointed out the fact that the question of purchase was not settled as yet and said, "When you know more of my firm and what our machine will do you will not think so much about price as you do now without experience."

A trial of the appliances was duly given and the Edison salesman, knowing his profit was secure if he made the sale, prepared to give such attention to the customer that his service would be considered with the price.

In other words, he impressed the customer that a price must include a profit to allow for a service and that a reduction meant less attention, which the customer would not be wise to ignore.

The sale was made against a determined effort of a competitor who had not followed up the trial, but expected to clinch all his arguments with an attractive cut price.

Remember in all cases that the solid side of your salesmanship—the part that you can always count upon in winning out—is your personality and attention to the wants of a customer. When you attempt to let price and design win without personality, every sale becomes a gamble—and like most forms of gambling it will leave you the loser in the long run.

Make price the secondary argument and always in connection with definite results, which you can present attractively because of your intimate knowledge of the customer's office. Don't flaunt "Edison Policy," except for good reason, which you can prove are in the buyer's interest. No one likes to feel that he is up against a price barrier, fair, immediately there is a desire to break it down. The Edison One-Price System is something for the customer to feel is for his benefit—not a scheme for obtaining high prices.

But when, after you have done the best you know how in making a customer realize values and the need of leaving a reasonable profit for your living and future services, then if it's a question of "pull out" or give up in price it's better to retire gracefully with your goods.

Price-cutting is a disease. Every time the question of price is mentioned some men shiver like a drunkard who sees a bottle and a glass. The price-cutter has weakened so many times that "price" gets to be a bugaboo; he believes that price is all the customer thinks of—and when he is around it is so, for, such a salesman talks, thinks, and acts "price" and his attitude suggests the subject.

Any Edison salesman can show, however, that more value is necessarily given in a Standard Outfit plan over a selling plan that is not based on an illustrated assembly of accessories. The desire to make things better, have, for instance, obliged us to add considerable to the price of an Edison outfit but we could not, as these improvements were frequently brought out, change our standard prices on each occasion.

The Edison One-Price System is more than a protection to the stability of a business—it is the moral force that keeps the business clean and worthy of the interest of an honest dealer.

E. H. PHILLIPS
MGR. CREDIT DEPT.

With the innumerable compliments of the Season and the greatest pleasure in the World, I am, only as a customer, Yours faithfully, Christmas 1910.

Certainly wish the Editor a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

VOICEWRITING salesmen are too often one-sided in their interest—they are all mechanical or all commercial; a combination of both is necessary for the greatest success in selling the Edison Business Phonograph, as the following incidents will show:

The Hoosac Agency ordered ten machines for trial, and the salesman thought after ten days of the most pleasant experiences that a sale was sure. But the prospective customer decided not to purchase, and it developed that four machines would have been plenty to install for the amount of his correspondence and the ten machine installation came to such a figure that the company balked at the expense for the work accomplished, so the entire installation was refused.

That salesman was not commercial enough to see that the machines were installed for economy. He thought if they run mechanically that was enough.

Another salesman had a struggle instructing dictators and transcribers, but finally got the plant running smoothly. The mechanical part troubled him, for he was all commercial, with engaging personality and fine enthusiasm. Finally the customer's manager, to whom he appealed for the order, being mechanically inclined, asked a number of questions about motors, recorders, etc., and found him so lacking in his knowledge that the sale was lost.

That salesman did not know his machine and he found by experience that no amount of salesmanship could get him the order.

The Edison Business Phonograph is only a means to an end, which is handling the proper amount of dictation. Easy rees the salesman's head when he sees his machines being used continuously, for his arguments are then easily formed and proved for the closing.

Finally, Jones, the well-balanced salesman, had an installation in a big office where his two machines on trial were scarcely noticed. Every day he counted the cylinders dictated—figured out the economy—answered mechanical questions —and prepared for his closing.

The day came to see the "big fellow" and the first question asked was "Why should I buy?" It wouldn't have done in that five minutes interview to say "The machines run beautifully." What the salesman did say was "Here is an economy statement of what voicewriting has done for one dictator and transcriber—we can duplicate that record throughout your entire office."

Where can I get a two-sided man? —say you.

Develop him—say we.

There is only one phonograph to learn and that is easily done. The trouble is, your commercial salesman never stops to study the reason for a trouble and its cure. Urge upon him knowing what "caused it and what removed it"—and after a little, mechanical difficulties will not come so fast that he can not easily overcome them. Philip Armour said: "I make mistakes, but I don't respond to encores."

Let your commercial salesman learn the mechanical side of the business phonograph by using it—encountering the little "bugs" that his customer surely will later in using any contrivance.

He can gain this experience inside. Then instead of trying to make a lame explanation or attempt a small adjustment outside with only his commercial instinct to guide him, he can act surely—quickly —and inspire confidence by his mastery of the whole proposition.

Many a good salesman quits because he "doesn't know how" and the dealer himself is largely responsible for this. Watch—coach—instruct—encourage—an employee and you can develop a loser into a winner.

L. C. MCHESNEY
MGR. ADVERTISING DEPT.

Our advertising of the Edison Business Phonograph has been just a reflection of the natural interest in our business, nothing in particular to be thankful for, and a great deal to be sorry for. Your kind words we answer in the same spirit, and wish all of you a very Merry Christmas and a Good Installment of Prosperity for 1910.

L. C. McChesney

"IT WILL live in the Past, the Present, and the Future!" Scrooge repeated, as he scrambled out of bed. "The Spirits of all Three shall strive within me. Oh, Jacob Marley! Heaven, and the Christmas Time be praised for this! I say it on my knees, old Jacob; on my knees!"

* * * * *

But he was early at the office next morning. Oh, he was early there. If he could only be there first, and catch Bob Cratchit coming late! That was the thing he had set his heart upon.

And he did it; yes, he did! The clock struck nine. No Bob. A quarter past. No Bob. He was full eighteen minutes and a half behind his time. Scrooge sat with his door wide open that he might see him come into the Tank.

His hat was off, before he opened the door; his comforter, too. He was on his stool in a jiffy, driving away with his pen, as if he were trying to overtake nine o'clock.

"Hallo!" growled Scrooge, in his accustomed voice, as near as he could feign it. "What do you mean by coming here at this time of day?"

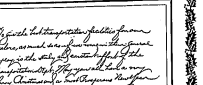
"I am very sorry, sir," said Bob. "I am behind my time."

"You are?" repeated Scrooge. "Yes, I think you are. Step this way, sir, if you please."

"It's only once a year, sir," pleaded Bob, appearing from the Tank. "It shall not be repeated. I was making rather merry yesterday, sir."

"Now, I'll tell you what, my friend," said Scrooge. "I am not going to stand this sort of thing any longer. And, therefore," he continued, leaping from his stool, and giving Bob such a dig in the waistcoat that he staggered back into the Tank again; "and, therefore, I am about to raise your salary!"

Bob trembled and got a little nearer to the ruler. He had a momentary idea of knocking Scrooge down with it, holding him, and calling to the people in the court for help and a straight waistcoat.



"A merry Christmas, Bob!" said Scrooge, with an earnestness that could not be mistaken, as he clapped him on the back. "A merrier Christmas, Bob, my good fellow, than I have given you for many a year! I'll raise your salary, and endeavor to assist your struggling family, and we will discuss your affairs this very afternoon, over a Christmas bowl of smoking bishop, Bob! Make up the fires, and buy another coal-scuttle before you dot another i, Bob Cratchit!"

Scrooge was better than his word. He did it all, and infinitely more; and to Tiny Tim, who did not die, he was a second father. He became as good a friend, as good a master, and as good a man, as the good old city knew, or any other good old city, town, or borough, in the good old world. Some people laughed to see the alteration in him, but he let them laugh, and little heeded them; for he was wise enough to know that nothing ever happened on this globe for good, at which some people did not have their fill of laughter in the outset; and knowing that such as these would be blind anyway, he thought it quite as well that they should wrinkle up their eyes in grins, as have the malady in less attractive forms. His own heart laughed; and that was quite enough for him.

He had no further intercourse with Spirits, but lived upon the Total Abstinence Principle ever afterwards; and it was always said of him, that he knew how to keep Christmas well, if any man alive possessed the knowledge. May that be truly said of us, and all of us! And so, as Tiny Tim observed, God bless Us, Every One!—(From Dickens' Christmas Carol.)

JOHN T. ROGERS
TRANSPORTATION MGR.

A TRANSPORTATION department in a great organization like ours is one of the most necessary and at the same time the least heard about of any.

The average dealer orders goods weighing over 100 lbs. knowing he will not have to pay for their transportation and has no occasion to think of the routing, rates, and the other details which the Transportation Manager has to arrange in the shipment.

The fact that most of our dealers carry a small stock accounts for most of the trouble when complaints are entered about delayed shipments. Selling goods from a sample is never satisfactory, for, when an order is secured there is generally anxiety about the arrival of the goods ordered from Orange and losses occur, attendant upon such a transaction, which should not be charged to a transportation department.

If the dealer will refer to his agreement with the Company he will find that we are not responsible for damages to goods en route, yet we agree to deliver goods weighing over 100 lbs. at our expense, provided the routing is selected by us.

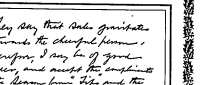
In other words, we have a simplified plan of refunding freight charges and do this with the understanding that you let us decide the roads they shall be shipped on.

When the dealer wants goods "Rushed" it is usually up to the Transportation Department. If the shipment is to be made on routes where considerable other of our goods are moving it will pay, not only in time but money, to wait for an Edison through car; then there is no delay in loading and unloading at junction points on the railroad.

Yet the dealer who finds a delay of a few days in the shipment, when he receives his invoices, is displeased and probably would be better satisfied if we shipped promptly in "part carload" and he received the goods with a week's delay en route.

Occasionally, a dealer has a legitimate "kick" and we are quick to recognize it; goods shipped by freight went astray and they were not found for some time. As soon as we saw the effect of this on the dealer we instituted a rule that goods not received by a dealer a certain number of days after they were due at destination, would be followed by a new shipment.

Packing the goods properly has a great deal to do with the service of a transportation department. Some firms "skimp" on their packing materials and workmanship and lay it to the carriers if there is undue breakage. We think the trade will grant that we exercise the best care in packing and on the average have very little breakage.



This brings up the point that the carrier is the one to make claims against for breakage. We have pointed out that all goods are at the consignee's risk after they are delivered on the cars at Orange.

Claims for shortages are quite distinct from the transportation, of course, but let us point out that thorough packing is sometimes the cause of complaints when articles cannot be found that are shipped and billed. Don't let the porter throw out all the packing until you have checked up the invoice, is a good rule. And it is a good plan to know how an outfit is packed in case you have to ship one, so use a nailpuller and save a few packing cases.

But, let us explain these points to you by personal letter if you are dissatisfied with any service by the Transportation Department. Our part in the Edison Organization is not to make rules except for the general good and a department that doesn't make efficient service its chief aim is as useless as a phonograph that won't talk.

N. ELSON C. DURAND
SALES MANAGER

EDISON business a phonograph sales are made in the customer's office. There isn't one sale in a hundred that is made in the dealer's store.

Therein lies the strength and at the same time the weakness of our proposition of selling through dealers.

Fortunately we are strong because the majority of our dealers recognize the need of personal outside solicitation, and supply it. And to these dealers it is attractive, that they get business outside and do not have to charge up expenses for floor space, light, insurance, etc., as they do to the commodities they carry on their shelves. The stock can be small enough for current sales (demonstration machines are in use in the dealer's office) and with no expense, but by an employee's time in soliciting, it is possible to make quick changes of capital by finding the customer and not waiting for him to come in the store.

But nothing short of an explosion will land the minority—the "inside" dealer—and his Edison Business Phonograph into a customer's office.

Think you, reader, this is rough?

Then probably the shoe fits.

Remember how when we signed you up as dealer, we told you what had to be done—that you would succeed only by going outside to solicit?

Can you blame us for finding fault because no one is carrying the message of voicewriting into the offices of your locality?

And just at holiday time we ask both the "inside" and the "outside" salesman to keep outside soliciting all the more diligently. If you are busy, so is the dictator that needs voicewriting and all of its conveniences during the irregular hours of the season. Confronte the prospect with actual conditions that demand the Edison Business Phonograph, and you are more liable to make sales.

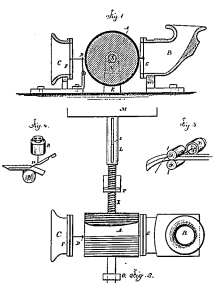
We might mention two incidents that happened this week to show the "signs of the times." One dealer in a city of a million inhabitants admitted he was doing a satisfactory business for his expenditures, and 70 per cent. of his sales was confined to only 5 per cent. of his territory in the heart of the city. That dealer will live another salesman.

Another dealer—an "inside salesman" —was succeeded by a live young man who hired a small office and went into the voicewriting business without a side-line. The business is that city will boom.

The dealer who does not try to gain some perspective of his work but takes the business as it comes is doing himself and ourselves an injustice.

"Inside" you gain no enthusiasm. If he should happen in, the customer with his own ideas of using your goods, makes a purchase and departs leaving no picture of possibilities of other sales, no experience, no endorsement—nothing for you to build on.

"Outside"—if you are working diligently—you create business by your enthusiasm and your intimate knowledge of other's difficulties which you have helped to overcome with your goods. Every sale gives you confidence, references and experience to make a larger and better business.



And outside sales—quicker sales—help to cover fixed expenses by their volume. For instance, it is just as easy to keep ten machines on trial as it is five. The salesman who plans to do this has a bigger average of successful results than as if he had all his eggs in one basket with one or two firms who require but a small amount of his time.

The old saying holds true: "If you want a thing done go to a busy man." Show us the pusher—the fellow with his coattails standing out straight—and we will show you plenty of sales.

Go outside for business—inside there's only stagnation.

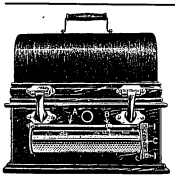
Fac-Simile of the Original Patent Drawing
Edison Business Phonograph

T. A. EDISON.
Phonograph or Speaking Machine.
No. 200,521. Patented Feb. 19, 1878.



Witnesses
Chas. H. Smith,
Horace O. Trusdell.

Inventor
Thomas A. Edison.
per Samuel W. Duvall
Atty.

Tips

Number 51 December 18, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Hearing Tubes for Commercial Schools

It was recently decided to equip the 10-way rail for commercial schools with the upper part of the hearing tubes furnished separately, leaving off the long piece of rubber tube and giving in its place 50 feet of rubber tube not cut in lengths. This will enable the purchaser of a commercial school outfit to cut the rubber tube to the length he wishes for each pupil seated around the phonograph. Before, there was about 4 foot 6 inches of tube attached to each of the hearing tubes, and this was not long enough for some pupils—in other cases it was too long.

When the new aluminum tube is furnished with commercial school outfits the price will be $20.00; with head-bands $22.50, in each case including 50 feet of rubber tubing and the 10-way rail. The price for the same equipment with regular tubes has already been quoted at $10.00.

To refresh the memory of dealers we may say that the outfit recommended for the ordinary school is:—

Dictating outfit Spring Motor free mineute type, price	$60.00
10-Way Rail and Aluminum Hearing Tubes	20.00
Hand Shaving Machine	35.00
Total	$115.00

The New Universal Resistance

Recently we improved the slide rod (a) making it of hexagonal stock, and the sliding collar (b), a hexagonal nut to which the pointer and contact are attached. Now the spring cannot turn and contact must be made on the resistance wire at all times so that the rigid instructions about shutting off the electric current before changing the pointer, are no longer necessary.

A new index plate showing the different electrical currents has also been made and is furnished with all machines of the Universal Type. It should be more plain now on this plate that the universal motor may be adapted to any commercial lighting current.

At C on the end of this resistance is the loop for tying the new attachment cord. This was fully explained in a previous article.

We do not know whether the average dealer appreciates the Universal motor properly, but they may, when this talking point is copied by others after a few more years have elapsed for competition to catch up.

We just had a case of a dictator who insisted in turning off the current at the socket of the lamp, instead of at the machine. The cleaning woman, who came at night, turned on the lamp for light, and so the machine was run continuously for 24 hours.

Include this caution in your instructions to users.

The Old Argument

How many words can you get on your cylinder?

This old, tiresome question is fired at you time-and-time again.

Well, run the machine slower or talk faster, and you get more on a cylinder—don't you?

Run the machine at 160 revolutions per minute and speak 150 words per minute for 8 minutes (that's the time an Edison Business machine will talk) and you have 1200 words.

But the other fellow has 160 threads per inch, and you have only 150 threads.

We standardized 150 threads a year before the other fellow woke up to saving the user 50 per cent. of his cylinder bill, and he did a foolish thing, we think, to make 160 threads, which is inclined to give the customer the disadvantage of selecting a standard machine of whichever model as new ones are introduced.

The difference is only 6 per cent., or 10 seconds more talk on a cylinder.

We think any customer had better tie up to Edison and standardize his plant at 150 threads. Make this a point.

"Better Late Than Never" wins no first money.

CUT PRICES are not a short cut to a big business.

More Rubber Stamps

The President of a large company in New York was rafting with the Editor of Tips the other day and inquired about his business.

Growing! says I.

Putting his hand on a pile of correspondence on his desk, he replied, "Well, I should judge so. I frequently see letters now stamped at the bottom, 'Dictated to the Edison Business Phonograph.'"

Yes, the rubber stamp to identify voice-written letters has been a great achievement. But there is still great activity to be shown by our dealers before all letters will bear our stamp.

The trouble is lack of enterprise among the salesmen: they do not realize that a liberal, quick, work could mean so much for the general good.

We heard the other day a dealer explain that stenographers were largely the stumbling block in the use of the stamp. "It was too much trouble to the rush of business to affix the stamp just over the initials."

Another said there was no reason for affixing the stamp.

So, we have tried to overcome these obstacles with more stamps to fit the various occasions and the firms as they are met.

Here are three propositions:

Personally dictated to the Editor. Business Phonograph but the writer was obliged to leave before signing.

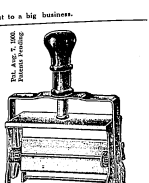
DICTATED TO THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH. N. C. D. - P. C.

No. 1 Given free upon dealer's request.

No. 2 Regular stamp furnished with the dictators and transcriber's initials; price 15c, postage paid in U. S.

Then to satisfy the good customer where it would be of advantage to do something specially attentive, we have prepared a self-inking stamp like the cut on this page, with a rubber stamp like No. 1 or 2, inserted at a cost of 35c, postage paid in the U. S.

Needless to say we have obtained these cost prices from the stamp manufacturers who have already furnished us thousands—and a lower figure would be hard to find.



Thus, we can furnish the special stamps, Nos. 1, 2 or 3, with the names inserted for the busy persons and No. 1 with name or without, for the best agreement to be advanced, viz., "You should not be responsible for a letter if you don't personally sign it."

If one of these firms change their dictator or transcriber, so that the initials or the old name is not proper on the special stamp, the change should properly be made by a stamp manufacturer. New initials can be set in an old stamp, but it requires skill to "face" the stamp so it will all print properly.

But a new rubber stamp can be ordered just as cheap as to have the old one changed, and, therefore, we advise you to e'ther have new ones made locally, if necessary to have them quick, or send to us an order for a new stamp.

Get in the Edison stamp business!

Make the mail advertise your wares!

Are You Going to Stop January 1st?

There are several points wherein an artist, a poet, a musician, an essayist or a playwright has the advantage of a business man. For instance, your artistic party can dope, drug "vulge, booze and soak his epidermis in nicotine until Nature grows disgusted and tosses him into the hell-box. But your business man has got to be decent from the start. Neither his colleagues nor his customers will stand for a hot-whisky voice, beady eyes, and the dark-brown breath.

Commerce is built on confidence. The world will not long deal with men who keep bad hours, and walk the bohemian ways that lead to bedlam. Therein is the world wise—cut it out!—Elbert Hubbard.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

The dealer is a specialist, while the buyer be'ng a consumer of a great number of different things, has only a general knowledge at best. The person with only a general idea as to value, pitted against a trained specialist, is at a great disadvantage.

Therefore, to be on ethical ground the seller must be the friend of the buyer—not his antagonist. For a seller to regard the buyer as his prey is worse than non-ethical—is it immoral—a violation of the Golden Rule.

ELBERT HUBBARD.

BRAINS AND THE MACHINE AGAIN.

A young typewriter had just been hired by a prominent lawyer. She had never done regular work before, and was somewhat nervous.

The lawyer settled himself back in his chair, and began dictating from mind a brief. He had pegged away about five minutes, when the girl stopped, with a horrified look on her face.

"What's the matter?" asked the lawyer.

"Would you mind saying that all over again?" the girl asked, with eyes full of tears.

"Why?"

"I forgot to put my paper in the machine!"

Though you bide your time, cease not to labor while you wait.

When you turn over a new leaf January 1st, what will you do for Edison?

Weak Records

I was tired with a long day's work in Washington and the next day I was to see some of the government officials with new Edison Business Phonograph.

That was in 1903 when the first machine came out.

My greatest pride was the recorder, which was the first that could be found on any talking machine—to my way of thinking.

The machine I was to demonstrate was unpacked and placed in my hotel room during the day and just to test it I made a few remarks to my recorder before going to bed.

The reproduction was "rotten."

I tossed in my troubled sleep all night and the next morning arose to find the "bug."

There wasn't any!

The fact was that with my tired voice I got a "tired" reproduction. The next morning I was rested and with my usual voice made the good record I expected.

If you wants to know what makes a good record, remember the characters you have seen on the stage. You have heard the whisper of the stage villain without the slightest effort, but the stage frightened amateur could not get his voice over the footlights.

Some dictators have stage fright speaking to the phonograph. But the novelty soon wears off and a little practice makes them see only good makers but better dictators of correspondence.

Don't ask for special recorders for these weak sters. It would be a good thing if we had a phonograph that would instantly get them over heir stage fright—but we haven't.

If there was a record with a permanent contruction that was better—more sensitive—we would adopt it on all machines at once.

We confess that what we have is as good as re can make today.

Flooded" Recorders

We had a good sensible letter from a large user of machines down in Texas, complaining about "flooded recorders."

Now this occurs when a dictator holds his mouth inside the horn and talks for hours at a time so as to condense his warm breath against the cold sides of the horn, allowing the moisture to run down into the recorder.

The record with this film of moisture is not as sensitive as it would be without it, although there is no reason why a fair record should not be made.

Look at your various dictators and see if they are having trouble of this kind, and then explain to them the following remedy:

If they will take a piece of blotting paper four 6x12 inches and form it into a cornucopia with an opening on one end of about 2 inches and on the other end about 4 inches, they can push this inside of the horn and it will form itself to the inside so as to take up any of the moisture from the dictator's breath. Our experimenters have gone into this very thoroughly, and we think the blotting paper idea is much better than any cap which might be put on the bottom of the horn to receive this moisture, or any insertion into the horn of a screen or paper diaphragm.

If the dictator will take the trouble to place a few staples in the blotting paper after he has it formed to the inside of the tube, he can remove it quickly and wash out the horn so that it will be sanitary at all times.

From this you can gather something of what the ordinary speaking tube is after continued use. The moisture of course does not reach the recorder, but it soaks into the rubber tubing around the speaking tube, rotting it and making it about as unsanitary as anything could be.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

While discussing the almost miraculous rise of a well-known member of the piano trade recently, a dealer remarked: "He has been favored by extraordinary luck, everything that he has touched seems to have turned out right, and besides being lucky he must be something of a wizard."

Not a bit of it.

The gentleman to whom he referred hasn't any supernatural powers, but simply strength of mind to keep hard at it all the time.

He is not a conjurer, but simply a persevering, persistent worker with grit and determination.

I have known him for many years and I have known that at times he was on the ragged edge, but still he gritted his teeth and kept at it, and, according to the world's standard, he has succeeded.

Yet many men accept defeat because they imagine that they lack some special qualification, some streak of genius which is really not needed at all.

It is not the genius which they are in need of, but the commonplace everyday capacity to buckle down to hard work and stick to it.

This capacity could be cultivated by many if they put their minds to the task.

They would find it immensely more worth while than the "luck" which they accord to other men.

The successful business life is one of ceaseless activity and no man should delude himself with the idea that there is any element of luck in his success.

It is the busy, active, energetic man who wins out.

It is the enthusiast who keeps close to the subject and is not easily led by false lights on the shore. Everyone to succeed must have confidence in himself and what he is doing. To tell pianos one must believe in them, know them, enthuse over them.

Enthusiasm is the lubricant that makes the wheels of success go round.

A grouch is sand in the bearings.

EDWARD LYMAN BILL.

An old negro who had business in a lawyer's office, was asked if he could sign his name.

"How is dat, sah?"

"I ask," the lawyer answered, "if you can write your name?"

"Well, no, sah. I nebber writes my name I jes' dictates it, sah."

"O make you have to spend; to grow a crop you have to plant the seed. Its YOU against the chances of a crop.

Tips

Number 52 December 28, 1909

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS
BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Foot-trip Breakage

Sometimes we hear of a dealer who is troubled with foot trip chain breaking. We have a mental picture of such a dealer not following directions in installing this device as on Page 4 of the instruction sheet.

If you will take hold of the foot-trip lever at the machine and move it—doing the work by hand what the chain has to do—you will see that the strain on the chain should be very, very little.

The rules that prevent chain breakage are four: first, see that all the twist is out of the chain; second, clamp the flexible tube to the pedestal and make a short trip for dictator and just the right length for the transcriber as on page 4 of instruction sheet; third, make the adjustment at the foot trip lever on the machine so that the chain is not stretched by the pull of the pedal; fourth, teach the user how to adjust the chain at the lever.

It's the old story of intelligence. Some of our dealer's have a minimum of trouble with hundreds of machines in use while others can not make a few work well.

The Edison foot-trip whatever its faults, has stood up for five years. For the occasional trouble that's reported, its wise to see if you are not at fault.

Transcribing Department Troubles

The Editor took the trouble to go into a large firm's office where they were using the Edison Commercial System, and investigate why they were not doing more work.

I found that the convenience of the Edison Business Phonograph to the dictators had made them all neglectful of their work, and of the 200 cylinders that were transcribed each week, I found after keeping a record that 44% of the cylinders came to the transcribing department after two o'clock, and 17% of them after 4:30. It was also a noticeable fact that between the hours of eight and ten only 10% of the week's work was received in the transcribing department, while complaints were occasionally lodged against the system by the dictators because 20% of the work was left over.

These figures tell their story to anybody who will take the trouble to look into a voice-writing plant. The remedy was quickly made in this case, for when the management saw the figures and understood that the convenience of the system had worked against the economy of transcribing, there was a circular note sent out, and the trouble corrected.

Getting Down to "Brass Tacks"

Try as we will, we cannot in some cases understand from correspondence what a dealer means in explaining a mechanical defect. And the shop cannot believe that a really defective article ever left their hands, as is occasionally claimed.

If you were in the Shop's position realize that it would be to your interest to do everything well, and therefore, if a general bill of complaint was filed against you by the dealer in Oshkosh you would promptly say—as they always do—SHUAW ME.

Kind dealer, help the sales department in this work of making a perfect machine.

We want things right as much as you do—and more, for, perhaps we can catch some inefficiency that would spell hundreds of chances for sales, where you have only one customer to lose.

The way to go at the question is this. Tell us you have machine, serial number X, received about blank date, and you believe certain parts of the mechanism is wrong. We expect naturally that you have tried adjustments, for these are necessary after long shipments and the rough usage of the carrier.

A good way to secure instruction, and not wait for shipments of new machines that probably will not touch you, is to send us a cylinder which you have dictated upon showing your complaint.

Pack this cylinder in excelsior—put it in a woolen box and send it to us express prepaid. DON'T SEND THE CYLINDER WITHOUT CAREFUL PACKING.

But, suppose, for instance, you think the gears are too noisy. Tell us you have taken a stiff brush and removed if possible any small chips that would make the trouble.

Everything has failed?

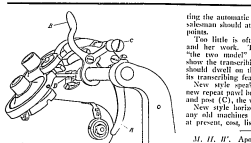
Then, this should be presented as an exhibit for the Shop. It is valuable for the purpose of locating any neglect or poor work that you and ourselves pay for, in workmen.

When you hear from us this Exhibit should be carefully packed and returned directed to the company, for the personal attention of Nelson C. Durand, Sales Manager.

One caution before we quit the subject.

Don't send in an exhibit of a machine or part that shows your attempts at "fixing." The shop, very justly, look at the amateur attempts to use the file or hammer as doing the very harm that is claimed was the original trouble.

Intelligent co-operation on the question of mechanical service by the shop will avoid all the troubles—and its up to you to help.



SUCCESS is rooted in reciprocity. Are there any branches of your customers to be sold in other cities? Tell us!

Number 53

Bips

Jan. 7, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS
BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Keeping Up the Good Work

The machines sent out from this date will be equipped, as shown in this illustration, with the new speaker guard (A), leaving the scale with an unobstructed view, and the post (C) on the side of the arm, for ease in operating the lift lever and sliding the arm.

An examination of these improved devices will show their real value as selling points. To have the scale left to the unobstructed view has always been desirable, but, invention had not proceeded far enough to see how the speaker guard could be placed in back to do this as in the new model.

It was, of course, out of the question to remove the speaker guard, which has been one of the most valuable attachments ever placed on a business phonograph.

Now, we have not only taken all attachments from the front of the support rod where the scale is found, but we have greatly improved the speaker guard in placing it in back, making it more neat and mechanical.

The new feature of the horizontal post directly in back of the lift lever will be particularly liked by the transcriber, who constantly repeats by moving the lift lever.

If the lift lever (B) and the post (C) are pressed together by the thumb and the first finger the correct action of lifting the arm is obtained.

Sliding the arm to left or right by means of this post is easier and keeps the fingers in a convenient position during the operation.

We think the whole arrangement, not forgetting the automatic repeat, is now ideal and every salesman should at once grasp the added talking points.

Too little is often thought of the transcriber and her work. The competing salesman with "the two model" equipment is not anxious to show the transcribing machine. Edison salesmen should dwell on the universal model and show its transcribing features as well as the dictating.

New style speaker guards (A) include also new repeat pawl brackets (D) and lift lever (B) and post (C), the whole costing list $1.50.

New style horizontal posts may be placed on any old machines by substitution for the screw at present, cost, list 15c.

M. H. W. Apologize. Referred to the phonograph when we wrote "if your outfit is not up-to-date."

Gussie We are sure that you operate the phonograph lovely, but we want business phonograph operators, which is quite different work from playing the parlor machine.

Jozsa We don't have special horns and footrips for dictators with the nervous affection you describe. Why not try hanging the whole machine on wires or get a strait-jacket for the man? Don't lose the sale if you have to supply a hypodermic needle with the outfit.

HEREAFTER NO SHORTAGE CLAIM WILL BE ALLOWED THAT IS NOT MADE WITHIN 3 DAYS AFTER RECEIPT OF GOODS AND ACCOMPANIED BY THE PACKING SLIP. AND NO ORDERS FOR REPAIR PARTS CAN BE FILLED UNLESS IT IS PLAINLY STATED THEY ARE FOR A CERTAIN SERIAL NUMBER MACHINE.

Go Right On Working

THE people who never make mistakes are mighty uninteresting.

Taking the Credit

All Universal motors from this date will bear the name-plate shown below. We think we have hid our light under a bushel by not pushing this feature of the Universal motor more in the past. We want every salesman to realize all that is claimed for this motor and present its advantages more in the future. The name-plate on which is printed "current consumption .25 amperes," will help arguments on these lines. Any single condition direct current motor that has ever appeared on a phonograph has taken about ½ ampere, and these single condition alternating current motors that we have tested of other makes, have taken 6/10 amperes. Usually current costs 5¢ a kwh hour (for a 16 c. p. lamp consuming .5 ampere), so a phonograph of a consuming .5 ampere), so a phonograph of a single condition direct current type costs to run 4c a day of eight hours, or $12.00 a year; single condition alternating current motors cost $15.00. The Edison Universal Motor costs but 2c a day, or $6.00 a year, saving from $6.00 to $9.00 over any other types. Hammer these facts into the consumer and back up your statements by the affidavit test sheet of the Electrical Testing Laboratory, New York City.

TYPE A.D.C.
No. 6000
UNIVERSAL FOR ALL LIGHTING CIRCUITS
50 CONNECTION WITH VARIABLE RESISTANCE.
CURRENT CONSUMPTION .25 AMPERES
EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO.
ORANGE, N.J. U.S.A.

The Golden Rule

If you are supplying machines to out-of-town concerns have the interest to write Orange and get the names of dealers where the equipment is to be installed so as to arrange the proper local service. You would not take the proper interest if machines were shipped into your territory by another dealer who made the profit on the sale—and it is the same when you sell the goods outside. For instance, it is not a square deal if our supply branch offices of a good customer away from home, and let them get along as best they can; there is the re-erection of diamond and transcriber and the satisfaction which comes from contact with a dealer who understands the proposition.

Write to the proper dealer and make a deal with him to assist you. We will help you and follow up the case to see that everybody is satisfied. If you have some money "down from home" in the shape of a long felt order for shipment, spend some of it to make satisfaction

EVEN the fellow who knows it all can learn a little by experience.

KEEP SMILING

Learn a trick from old St. Nick,
In optimistic lore,
Though his pack, doth break his back,
He only smiles the more.

—A. V. S.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

The salesman who devotes too much of his time in discussing the merits of competing instruments invariably loses.

If, to use the colonial expression, he exhausts his energies in "knocking" competing instruments he at once arouses curiosity on the part of his callers to investigate the causes why he should become so abusive when referring to certain wares.

On the contrary, if he is over-polite he then exalts his competitor in such a way as to create perhaps too valuable an opinion in the minds of his customers regarding the particular firm to which he alludes. There is always a middle-of-the-road plan.

It is well to remember one thing: That he is held employed as a selling force—that he is paid his salary to sell and not to abuse—and that it should be the one aim of his arguments to convince his customer and not waste any time in trying to explain what his competitors are doing in putting forth instruments without merit.

In truth, most people are willing to be won by argument and is is convincing argument and not abuse that a salesman should use as his stock in trade.

No buyer is so easily convinced as the one who is willing to argue the point, but unfortunately there are salesmen who seem to feel that they are employed not to reason logically with the customer, but to differ on the subject too profusely, and in the end their claims are lamentably weak in ingenuity.

It is said of one of our famous lawyers that he wrote an argument in favor of the gold standard and submitted it to his wife. She was unconvinced.

He then wrote another in favor of the silver standard.

After reading it his wife could not understand why anyone should be in favor of the gold standard.

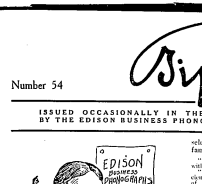
So it is throughout the world.

It depends upon the point of view from which we present our arguments.

There is a measure of right in almost all things and an almost equal degree of wrong.

Salesmen and competing wares every time they mention them. They should act wisely. They should concentrate their efforts upon that which they are selling, and if they have faith and confidence in their wares, enthusiasm born of confidence will have an effect upon the customer so that he can be won over easily.

The man who lacks confidence in that which he offers is doomed to failure.



EDWARD LYMAN BILL.

IF you could use a large blue-print showing a cross-section through the mandrel—write us

Tips

Number 54 — Jan. 19, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

The Business Phonograph Co., of Chicago—First National Bank Building—is E. C. Barnes, and likewise Barnes is the Business Phonograph Co., of Chicago. Barnes has sold more outfits than any dealer in the world during the last six months, and the Editor of Tips has been on a still hunt to find out how he does it. Now the secret is out. Those of you who have repeated in chorus, "How the devil does he do it?" are right—the devil does do it, as the Office Outfitter discloses in their December number. Look at the snapshot above and tell us if those are not devils?—or are they customers returning trial machines?—or just plain salesmen with demonstrating outfits and "attachment cords"? Anyway, you see the orders in the cartoon, and we, sure enough, get the orders at Orange.

Brother, we'll tell you why "Barnvie" succeeds. He gives a Service to every customer that makes them lay awake nights to do Barnes a favor in return. Barnes don't really sell voice-writers—he just conducts the Barnes Boosting Bazaar.

You know how grateful you feel towards a physician that has cured your sickness quickly. Dr. Barnes has a reputation in Chicago for curing sick correspondence, and he very wisely has his prescriptions filled at his own Bazaar. One patient recommends Dr. Barnes to another, and he seldom fails in his treatment. Here is one of his famous circular letter prescriptions:

—We want to help you get the best possible service with your Edison Business Phonograph.

First of all, do you always keep the head a safe exact supply of cylinders? Remember that the cost of reminiscence is no more and the conveniences of voice writing is lost when you are compelled to first write out your dictation.

Each business man who uses cylinders to such excellent advantage as you do, in a few months finds some of them chipped or cracked, broken or lost, so that the available stock is depleted. Half of them are not to be in the transcriber's hands, leaving only a very few ready for dictation.

The dictator—in a sport—uses them all, more are required quick, a rush follows to get some shaved and the result is confusion.

The boy shaves a cylinder that was not transcribed—he shaves a cylinder carelessly, and the blame is attached to you.

Now you are going to need four or more cylinders a year anyway, and you might as well have them on hand. They are good until they are used up.

The Edison Business Phonograph is recognized as the best dictating machine because it is the simplest. It renders dictation upon the intelligence with which it is used. That is up to YOU.

"You will find us ready to do our part. We maintain an efficient organization to supply the service you require. We continued use of the machine. Avail yourself of it.

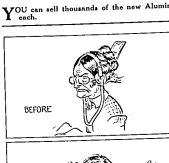
"Should you have trouble don't blame the system. Analyze it. Even the telephone is trying at times, and a train might be late on the best organized railroad. Let us help you. Write us a letter. Call us by 'phone. Send a telegram. A reasonable amount of correspondence and it will serve you well. Call on us when there is anything that we can do to help you—and inventory your cylinder stock now."

In solid form all of Barnes' success is summed up in this: Every dealer is a local Business Doctor who becomes famous, or not, according to the cures he makes—and always for the medicine he sells. The practicing business doctor needs to follow up his patients and shove the same interest as any successful physician.

August 27, 1909.

Co., Henry E. Dorn,
Director of Exhibits, A.-V.-P. Exposition,
Seattle, Wash.

Sir:—The National Phonograph Co. deserve the greatest commendation for its comprehensive display of Edison Phonographs and Records.



This firm has attained the highest standard of excellence in the manufacture of cylinder talking Machines. The Edison Phonograph is unique in its recording, making sounds simply as pure and true reproduction of the original rendition.

Special mention must also be made of the Business Phonograph invented by this firm. This instrument they have now perfected to a point of practical and lucrative value, which unquestionably will revolutionize our present system of business letter writing.

Respectfully submitted,

INTERNATIONAL JURY OF AWARDS.

YOU can sell thousands of the new Aluminum Hearing Tubes to old plants. Price $1.75 each.

Our staff artist read circular letter 33, in which we state that aluminum hearing tubes will be placed in all outfits hereafter, and immediately dashed off the sketch above and this poetry, with one hand:

Aunt Phebe Snow
Was far below
The average, as transcribers go.
But now they say
They raised her pay,
'Cause she beats the rest by half a day.

Seriously, we have good talking points in this aluminum hearing tube; light, sanitary, no spring to press in the ears, and, best of all, it conducts the sound better than other designs.

This new tube is furnished with transcribing outfits, whether you order them or not. No substitutions of head-band hearing tubes are allowed, but if you order head-band hearing tubes they must be at an accessory price—$2.00 list. Those who want to make this substitution should realize that they get a $1.75 aluminum tube now with every outfit, and if they order a $2.00 head-band tube extra they can still sell the aluminum tubes as an accessory to many old customers.

We are frequently asked why don't we give a choice of the two styles in an outfit?

Because if we do so, it teaches the dealer, and we don't recommend the head-band tube except in a few cases.

The aluminum tubes are made attractive because we want them to take the place of the head-band. Transcribers ask for the head-band because they only know of the old style tubes, and it's your business to tell what we know is best and most desirable—the aluminum style.

Hundreds of trials have been lost because the transcribers could not hear everything with a head-band and ear cups. Therefore, don't be fainthearted and ask "Which style will you have?" fainthearted and ask "Which style will you have?" when by so doing there is any chance of losing a sale.

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

Don't govern your thoughts and actions according to the other fellow's standards.

Think for yourself. Make your own brain get busy. Make it record its own impressions. Make it create its own impulses and ideas.

The moment you say, "I wonder what people will think," you admit the superiority of the judgment of others.

You've got a brain of your own, or you couldn't comprehend what all this is about. You've got judgment of your own, or you wouldn't agree or disagree with what you are reading right now. You possess the ability to think for yourself, otherwise you wouldn't know whether you agree or disagree with what is printed here.

Why not exercise that brain? Why not put some confidence in that judgment? Why not rely on those thinking powers to steer the ship of Self?

Being natural isn't hard. Trying to be unnatural is. Thinking your own thoughts is much easier than thinking what you think the other fellow thinks. And there's so much more satisfaction in being one's own self than there is in trying to be somebody else.

Be true to yourself. Believe in yourself. What others have done, you can do. You were made a part of the great Scheme of Things because there is work for you to do. Do it! Don't worry about what somebody else will say when you take off your coat and dig in. Just dig! Dig like fury! And, above all—

Make sure that you are you. Be yourself!

JEROME P. FLEISHMAN.

"Shirkers get paid what they are worth."

"Do unto others as though you were the others."

"Life is too short to spend in chewing the rag."

WOULD you like to have "TIPS" No. 1-50 bound? We will have it done (if you supply the copies) for $1.25.

Tips

Number 55 — Jan. 26, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

The Art of "Closing"

"How long should you leave machines on trial?"

"What would you say when a prospective customer said this?"

"If a good prospect wanted an extension of a trial, would you allow it?"

"How can I close a prospect that has had trouble in adapting themselves."

"Do you know of a way of selling without trials?"

These are some of the questions propounded to the Sales Manager. They are all answered in a general rule—the Golden Rule of Voice-writing Salesmanship. Insist on the bona-fide order or the money when you have proved what you claimed, whether it takes three hours or three months. The application of the rule is as follows:

The average case among our dealers is that the firm hires a salesman on a commission basis: advertising or soliciting brings a prospect; the demonstration of the goods is made; an installation worth at least $225.00 list follows; and afterwards it is a problem when and how to get the order or the money.

Now the "how" should insist on a salesman making a demonstration of the system before every installation—no matter how bright the prospects of a sale or how pressing the instructions.

Be useful in demonstrating. Suppose your prospect wants the machines "right after dinner." Let the salesman bring at once one machine, with accessories sufficient for demonstration. "The balance of the equipment is coming" will be sufficient explanation—"but I must instruct you on this sample machine NOW."

The lazy salesman says this is all unnecessary—and perhaps it is, if you do not want to play safe and sure.

Demonstration brings out the definite facts, just why the prospect is ordering. Before the installation be able to say, "Mr. Prospect, if I prove to you this or that will you buy in blank days?"

When the "boss" knows why he is buying machines from the manufacturers and putting them out he can hold the salesman to results, and further the salesman can proceed "hammer and tongs" to prove to all concerned that he did what he promised. If he didn't prove the claims he knows the reasons early in the trial and "pulls out" quickly if the conditions can't be changed.

So Mr. Boss says to Mr. Salesman, every morning in a few minutes' conversation, "Show me what you are showing your prospects." He notes the conditions of every unclosed plant from the salesman's daily call. One prospect was buying for convenience; "he dictated four cylinders after hours"—score one for closing. Another big prospect that buys because the plant will show an economy is reported on, "Wrote ten cylinders per transcriber yesterday—average 8 to date—if we can keep this showing up we can close promptly in 10 days."

Figure it out, Mr. Dealer, if you stand to make $90.00 in 10 days on a trial—that's $9.00 a day—isn't it worth calling every day regularly and consulting your evidence against a prompt closing?

You know when you're got enough data. Write it out neatly on the dealer's letter head. No matter how weak the personality of the salesman he can be strong and forcible with his "ultimation" —he has accomplished what he said he would and there's the evidence.

Remember, any business man puts up a resistance to buying. The dealer is a business man like the prospect and he should know that the machines are worth the money in every case, when he can be as strong as he pleases in his presentation of the facts.

There's where accomplished claims put the "mechanical kicker" out of arguments; the prospect says, "I'd buy to-day if it wasn't for the trouble yesterday." Your answer: "Here are my figures on economy and a little trouble like yesterday made them less. I'm selling you on results and after all the machine has given better service than a human being, wrong the many calls you are making on it."

So, "close" with proven claims which the salesman takes care are good claims by his daily calls and coaching of the prospect. And let the "Boss" interest himself in these daily records and attend to the "frame up" of the ultimation.

The Edison Business Phonograph will show more time and money saved than any other office appliance sold to-day if correctly applied and sufficiently used. PROVE IT.

The art of "closing" is discussed on this page.

Read every word. Write "Tips" your experience in "Good Ways of Closing." and let your 200 brother dealers gain by your advice.

IT'S not what you think—its what the prospect finds by use—that affects the "closing." And its your business, by constant coaching, to make the finding favorable.

THERE is a physiological moment when "closing" can be affected. If the salesman is ready to show "why," with facts and figures—he wins.

Why Wait?

Say to ninety per cent. of the prospects: "I have come for your order" and they will reply something about what the machine didn't do "day before yesterday." This is only the natural resistance of the purchaser. It will be so often the voice-writing machine is furnished in white enamel and writes the letter while the record is made—probably one hundred years from now.

No, brother—it isn't the machine, its human nature that you must consider in the "closing."

When the prospect makes his little speech about "machines," don't fish in your pockets for the screw driver—get out your figures showing what has been accomplished in the days of the trial and say, "We can easily overcome that, but here's figures why you should buy."

Knowing How!

The man who knew his machine found the chips going everywhere but down the chute of the shaving machine. Blower not working. Drawer full of chips. Out comes the drawer, the chips are emptied, a match is lighted and held to the wire screen to burn off the chips that clogged up the opening. Back goes the drawer. A strong "draft" now pulls down the chips. It's all done in five minutes. Kwitcherkickin.

That Boy

Light cuts! That's the secret of good shaving on any machine. Teach the user as soon as he hears the "kiss" of a heavy cut to stop, re-adjust the knife for a light cut and take three operations if necessary to shave the cylinder. Heavy cuts dull the knife, tear the wax and raise the deuce generally. Get a hold of Willie Fishmouth—the office boy—and pound this into him with an axe and a mop.

A Statement by Mr. Edison

Attached to this issue is the personal statement of Mr. Edison regarding the Universal Motor. Every salesman should carry a copy of the facsimile and present it in his canvass. Orders for a supply should be sent in our Advertising Department.

Use also the disinterested statement of performance of the Universal Motor by the Electrical Testing Laboratory with Tips Number $5. This, with Mr. Edison's statement, should prove beyond any doubt our claims for universality and economy and nail the substitution of any article by a competitor that does not produce a like amount of evidence.

CAUTION. Be sure that branch houses have the power to purchase before you go to any expense with a trial of machines. We will gladly undertake to reach the main office of any prospect to convert them first, if necessary, mentioning your firm as the local dealer to sell the branch in your territory.

Name Plates

Should every Dealer wish a celluloid name plate to place on machines bearing his name and address, we will gladly order them in lots (not less than 200) at $6.00 for the whole quantity. Any wording can be placed on the plate, which is about ½ inch wide and 2 inches long.

HELLO.

When a fellow thinks he's beaten,
And he's feeling down and out,
When he has his courage oozing,
And his sand goes up the spout;
When he starts in feeling lonely,
And he gets to feeling blue;
That's the time you want to help him—
With "Hello, there! Howdy do!"

WANTED ENTRIES

Attached is a circular describing the Second Annual Transcribing Contest to be held this year in New York. Can you produce some one to win the championship?

"The men who do things and not the men who merely talk about things are the men who bless the world."

"Head, Hand and Heart."

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

The man who forgets to call loses the Large Order. The Lucky Man gets it.

The man who neglects to wind the clock misses the Right Train. The Lucky Man gets it.

The man who leaves the Important Letter in his pocket does not get the Helpful Answer. The Lucky Man gets it.

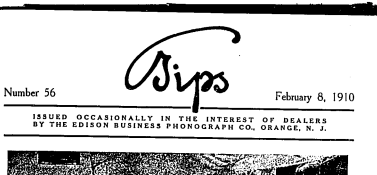
The man who comes to the office too late misses the Big Chance. The Lucky Man gets it.

The man who delays in answering the telephone does not catch the Straight Tip. The Lucky Man gets it.

The man who is not there when the boss wants to fill the Vacancy Higher Up miscomments with the job. The Lucky Man gets it.

The man who mislays his specifications does not make the Success-ful Estimate. The Lucky Man gets it.

Be Lucky!



KENDALL BANNING.

THE faithful phonograph has to talk for itself to be purchased most of the time. Let the salesman help by showing how many times it talked and how much it saved by talking.

Tips

Number 56 February 8, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Y. NARAYAN'S SCHOOL OF SHORTHAND SPEED
3, Esplanade Row, Madras, India

A most interesting and enthusiastic circular has just been received in the mails, describing the E. B. P. used in the school of Y. Narayan, India, from which we have reproduced the illustration above. This is a part of the copy in the circular:

How is a climator that never tires, never gets hoarse and never gets nervous. It talks distinctly and as slowly or as rapidly as you wish. As you improve its speed can be increased. If you get behind it stops and repeats. You can have elevation of all kinds according to the kind of work you utter.

The endless record Edison Business Phonograph as a climator is unlimited. The climator is a machine which gives the speed of dictation and the time upon which it can be made to speak, the possibility of increasing or decreasing its speed according to the ability of the student, make it invaluable as a help in this work.

From which you will see that we do not have to apply at home for appreciation.

"Anyone who wants a convincing proof of the general success of voicewriting can point to its popularity in teaching stenography. If the pupil, engaged in the difficult mental operation of writing shorthand, can use the Business Phonograph, how much more easily can he or she write from phonographic dictation direct on the typewriter!

Dealers and Salesmen will do well to include this use of the E. B. P. in Commercial Schools in their arguments with business firms.

The dealer who has a commercial school interested in his business has an employment department at his disposal without any expense to him.

Many pupils in these schools are particularly good transcribers, being rapid operators on the typewriter and also are well educated: to have access to such names may often mean a help to the dealer in making a sale, especially when he wants an operator quickly.

Boost the Edison Business Phonograph in Commercial Schools.

THOMAS A. EDISON—BORN FEBRUARY 11th, 1847. ¶Let us make this month the greatest in the history of Business Phonograph sales in honor of the inventor's birthday.

BE interested and enterprising enough to see that your customers use the printed dictation index—without it the E. B. P. is not a complete success.

Have You Met Him?

(1 the genius "dictator" there are a few specimens in the office that would electrify the world—if it were ready for electrification. There's Willoughby, the sales manager. Willoughby must be troubled with the scratchits. At least when he wants to think his inspiration appears to come from different parts of his epidermis. A dig at his scalp above the right ear starts him off on "Yours of the 24th received, etc." A brush of the tuft of hair above his brow gives him "and in reply will say, etc." A rub of the cheek leads him into the second paragraph; a pinch of the adam's apple comes next, then follows in succession a scratch of the chest, a sharp thrilling of the right arm, while a pool in the middle of the back ends the paragraph. The third paragraph begins by a vigorous rubbing of the hands, although the day is hot, and continues by an extensive application to both thighs; after that the calves of his legs need a complete overhauling, and the letter ends ingloriously with k's thumb sunk deep in the back of his chair. The second letter starts off with a thorough massage of the face, and ends up in the same place or number one. And so on, until Rose begins to lather a twinge of St. Vitus dance, and seeks relief a twinge of St. Vitus dance, and seeks relief a twinge of St. Vitus dance, and seeks relief

THE cost of living is high. You need the money—the business firms the economy. Get together, in February.

The progress of the Edison Commercial System through every land is brought to mind by the receipt of the photographs above of our Scandinavian Dealer, Filma Co., y Globe, 66 Drottningsbacr, Stockholm, accompanied by our catalogue translated into Scandinavian.

Enterprise and Profit

We filled so many orders for accessories for Barnes of Chicago, last week that we inquired the reason and here is the circular he sent out, and out of sight is the trouble of shipping the goods and lots of us taking in the money:—

THE CARE OF THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH.

I want to emphasize the necessity for keeping the Edison Business Phonograph carefully cleaned and oiled.

Any kind of a machine demands this attention, and there is no reason why the Business Phonograph should be an exception. But will rain the highest turbine engine or the most delicately adjusted watch machine can be expected to run satisfactorily for any length of time without attention? A little oil can and no oily cloth can go over the machine and in less than five minutes make it look as bright as the day it left the factory. It will work as well, too. This should be done each morning.

The shaving, which falls to a height, carefully kept supplied so as to obtain, neatly dressed persons.

The nickel part should be kept bright; the mandrel free from wax; the top plate free from shavings, and the feed rod should not be permitted to gather dust.

The Edison Business Phonograph Co. engineers have compiled a booklet, entitled "How to Install, Operate and Maintain," which treats in a comprehensive manner of the use, care, adjustment and repairs of the Edison Business Phonograph. You should own a copy of this booklet. If you have not received one, I will be pleased to see a copy, write us for one to-day. It is free.

The horn should be cleaned, inside and out, for sanitary reasons, and should not be permitted to rust.

If the flexible speaking tube is used, it should be cleaned occasionally. Run a feather through it to do this. The wax rots and the rubber rots. Then it no longer conducts the sound. Records grow faint and the repeater, or the machine, or the operator may be blamed, when the only trouble is that the rubber lining of the tube has rotted. Get a new one.

The operator's rubber hearing tubes should be renewed from time to time. The rubber may be cleaned with a cloth wet with gasoline. When it becomes old and rotten and loses its elasticity, it should be replaced. Don't wait until you have discomfort in your ears. The cost of a complete new hearing tube is only seventy-five cents.

Good results with the Edison Business Phonograph can only be obtained when the machine and all the conditions used in connection with it are kept in good condition.

Very truly yours,

BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH COMPANY,
OF CHICAGO,
EDWIN C. BARNES.

When You're Dead

It beats the deuce how the folks will weep us you lie in your cellin so fast asleep, and sing of your goodness in countless ways while the parson preaches and talks and prays. 'Tis queer how the public will eulogize and laud you up to the vaulted skies, when the undertaker has called your bluff and squirted you full of embalming stuff. But when you walked on the earth, I swear, you were nothing more than a plodder there and you'd have fainted or dropped down dead at any praise that the public said.
It's only when you're a lifeless stiff that the heartless public will note to the diff.—Ex.

KEEP A-TRYING.

Say "I will," and then stick to it,
That's the only way to do it.
Don't build up awhile and then
Tear the whole thing down again.

Fix the goal you wish to gain,
Then go at it heart and brain,
And, though clouds shut out the blue,
Do not dim your purpose true

With your sighing.

Stand erect and like a man,
Know they can who think they can,
KEEP A-TRYING.

—D. S. Day.

"Do the thing right and do it right now."

"Two to one in all things against the angry man."

"Violence symbols weakness—strength shows itself in patience and poise."

THE three principal cast iron parts of the swivel plate arm are not interchangeable. Send us the whole arm for repairs to those parts.

Tips

Number 58 — February 18th, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

TIPS will regularly recommend good business books for Dealers and their employees to read and sell to customers. These books will cover every phase of Edison Business Phonograph Dealers' work, including Advertising, Electricity, Credits, Salesmanship, Biographies of famous Business Men, and general works on business building.

The average man or woman does not do enough reading on their business, and everyone connected with selling the Edison Business Phonograph would do well to spend a few dollars on this plan to own, read and sell these books, which will constitute a good Business Library.

The Publishers of these books, to whom we have written, enter heartily into our plan. We want you to order the books direct from them and prepare not only to read them, but sell them to your prospects and customers, making the profit which the publishers' trade discount allows.

And, too, no finer souvenir could be given to a good customer or a prospect, to hold their business or effect a sale, than a good book treating pertinently of their business or giving indirectly the advice you have to give.

Forbes & Co., Chicago, Ill., publish four books which we have read and can honestly recommend this week. They will allow 50% discount to any dealer who orders on his letterhead, mentioning this recommendation and the arrangement.

Should the dealer only care to know of the books and read the publisher's literature, Forbes & Co. will gladly respond to any inquiries.

With this issue of Tips we enclose reviews and extracts from the following books, but take this occasion to pass a few remarks on each:

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS. By Waldo Pondroy Warren. Two volumes, Cloth, 12 Mo. $1.25 each, list.

Tip Readers should be familiar with extracts from these books printed under the heading "Weekly Sermons." Each thought occupies only a page. They are quickly read and are doubly interesting because they are classified under such heads as "With the Manager," "Buying and Selling," "Starting Points," etc., etc. Every corporation, business man, or clerk will do well to make an investment in one or more of "Thoughts on Business."

THE MAKING OF A MERCHANT. By Harlow N. Higginbotham, partner of the late Marshall Field, President of the World's Columbian Exposition, and Prominent Financier. Cloth, Large 12 Mo. $1.50 list.

This is one of the most important books on business ever published. No merchant, credit man or clerk can afford to be without "The Making of a Merchant."

THE TRANSACTION OF BUSINESS, by Arthur Helps; and HOW TO WIN A FORTUNE, by Andrew Carnegie, bound in one volume, 12mo, cloth back, price $1.00 list.

Besides articles by the above men, there are included in this book strong articles by John W. Ferguson, of the Chicago Edison Company; John Farson, of Farson, Son & Co., Chicago; W. T. Fenton, president Chicago Clearing House Association; Sir Francis Bacon, and Elbert Hubbard.

BOOKS that TIPS recommend for dealers to read and sell through special arrangement with the publishers is the subject of this page

Extract from "Thoughts on Business"

Good Reading for Employees

A good way to stimulate the energies of employees is to furnish them with good books, which will awaken them to see their opportunities in life and give them a purpose to work for.

In an industrial establishment recently I saw a bulletin to employes which read:

"At the office will be found a number of helpful books, which we believe, will be of great value to those of our employes who will read them. To bring these books within the reach of all, we have purchased a quantity of them and offer them to employes. The regular selling price of these books is one dollar."

When I spoke to the manager about the plan he said, "Yes, we not only sell them the books, but we give them all the time they want to pay it in—several months if they want to."

"And do you dispose of many books?" I asked.

"Not so many as I would like," he replied. "I think we have sold three or four hundred of this last lot. But when you stop to think that we have several thousand employes it doesn't seem a large percentage. But it reaches those that are in earnest, and those are the very ones we hoped to reach when we began this plan. The right kind of a book will do wonders for an employe."

EDISON MONTH is reflected in heavier orders, livelier correspondence, from all the dealers.

FEBRUARY is a short month! Commence your "closing" early!

Tact in Closing

The principal criticism of the Edison Business Phonograph is summed up in the word "complicated."

The writer smiled when this remark was made by a prospective purchaser, the other day.

"And pray, what good things did you find out about our machine?" said I.

Now you know the average man is not a knocker at heart, and here are some of the favorable remarks he made as I quizzed him:

"Yes, I will admit that the universal motor idea, both for electrical current and office uses, is a good thing in any design."

"Yes, the speaker guard is essential."

"Yes, the automatic repeat with the easy lever is much better for the transcriber."

This was enough. Right there I suggested that if we removed all those devices and went back to a more primitive type, we would make the machine appear less complicated, but, "wouldn't the design be less effective?"

Sit a man down to the typewriter of ten years ago and then to the one of to-day, tell him that (like the Phonograph) it takes practically no practice to operate it, and as sure as you live, on this "complicated" argument, he would select to use the old pattern without the adding attachment, three-colored ribbon, etc.

It is the fellows who are trailing along and trying to catch up who howl "complicated"—when they haven't got a similar design to sell.

It was so five years ago when the first of the new Edison features were introduced. The scale, the correction system, the inverse repetition features, were new and the cry was "complicated"—still it was copied,—after a fashion.

Besides, "Do you know, Mr. Customer, the record of what the Edison machine has done in your office?"

"No?"

"Then I can show you here, that we have accomplished fine results. You have admitted that certain Edison features are good, if not indispensable. Did you stop to reason that a 'complicated' design might mean more 'efficiency,' for you can't add a part for some useful service that does not make a more successful machine."

These are some of the arguments that the thinking, enthusiastic Edison salesman advances when he is confronted with such criticism.

"Eternal vigilance is not only the price of liberty, but of every other good thing."

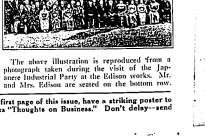
"Are you a cheerful loser? If so, you are bound to win out in the long run—take your medicine."

FORBES & CO., publishers, mentioned on the first page of this issue, have a striking poster to send you with your initial order for the books "Thoughts on Business." Don't delay—send today

THE WEEKLY SERMON.

In order to achieve a responsible position in any great corporation a man must show a disposition to assume responsibility. I maintain position so assumed is rarely taken away from a man once it is found out that a man assumes responsibility with good judgment, there are always plenty of people who are perfectly willing that he should continue assuming it.

Few men can make a success unaided. As a man emerges above the surface of clerkship and begins to take responsibility he becomes more and more dependent upon those below him to carry out his instructions, and no man ever achieved great success unless he was ably supplemented by the right kind of subordinates.



One of the chief requisites to success is the ability to choose and hold assistants who will cooperate in every way to execute plans that are devised.

As an illustration, nothing distresses a man more than to have a poor stenographer and to see her eternally correcting mistakes, or to be constantly harassed by the fear that some mistake may have crept into his correspondence owing to the shortcomings of his stenographer. It is a continuous strain on the man.

And this is true of all kinds of subordinates. If a man has no confidence in the men under him he is always fretting for fear they are not carrying out his orders correctly, or doing something they ought not be doing. This alone justifies a man in being very particular in choosing the right kind of subordinates, and if he has not the faculty or genius for selecting them he will probably wind up a failure himself, because there is no man who can do all the work of any big corporation.

PAUL MORTON.

No sale is complete until you have shown the customer that he should use one of the "Dictated to, etc," rubber stamps. It is just as easy to march, as to mark time.

The above illustration is reproduced from a photograph taken during the visit of the Japanese Industrial Party at the Edison works. Mr. and Mrs. Edison are seated on the bottom row.

Tips

Number 59 February 25, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

A free Commutator Cleaner for the Universal Motor

We are sending under separate cover a tool for more conveniently cleaning the commutator of the Edison Universal Motor. The use of this tool is fully explained in the instruction sheet accompanying the device, but a few words may be added as follows:—Referring to Fig. 3 above, the brass stud mounted on a piece of wire, is intended to hold the piece of rubber bearing tube (Fig. 1) rolled inside a strip of fine sandpaper (Fig. 2) and then placed on the stud so the lap of the sandpaper will be held by the wire, as in Fig. 4. If now the sandpaper is held against the revolving copper commutator inside the left end of the motor the surface may be cleaned so that the brushes which bear against the commutator will have a good contact. A piece of clean rag, if used before the sandpaper and attached to the tool in the same manner, will remove any accumulation of oil or dirt. Use care not to injure the commutator by allowing the hard wire of the tool to touch the motor.

It is not the intention to send these tools out in quantities or with every outfit, since one tool in the hands of each salesman or mechanic is sufficient. Or, perhaps, you have a good customer who is able and thoughtful enough to use one of these commutator cleaning tools, in which case we could supply them as well as your employees. If more than the sample tool sent out with this issue of Tips is required, drop us a line and we will send more.

The "Rap" Letters from Orange

We wish dealers would use us more extensively in ordering "Rap" letters sent to their customers they are "Closing." If we only give a little help and you can possibly make your profit of, say $80.00, it pays to employ every means—and one of them is to let Orange write the "Rap" letters.

Here is what some of the dealers think:—

With reference to the recent sale of machines to the Duplex Printing Press Company of Battle Creek, we in all made 9 or 10 trips to their office and only on one occasion were able to see Mr. Stone, their Manager, and then not over two or three minutes. Mr. Buckley found it our other responsibility to go into detail regarding the possibilities of our machine with this prospect, the Duplex Printing Press Company, and is well satisfied that your personal letters to them helped to quite an extent in making the sale, because they reached the persons that he could not reach.

THE BUCKLEY OFFICE OUTFITTING CO.

We believe a personal letter from you to firms having Business Phonograph on trial assisted us materially in closing sales.

THE BERGH PIANO COMPANY.

We believe that the set of letters sent direct from your office was of great assistance to us, and we certainly think it is the biggest help a salesman can have. We are very honest in our opinions that it will prove profitable for you to continue writing to people who have the machines on trial.

THE INDIANA MUSIC COMPANY.

I substantially state that I believe it will be to our mutual benefit for you to still continue the practice of sending personal letters for your dealers to firms having Business Phonographs on trial. The work that you are doing for us in this respect has assisted us materially in making sales. Hope you will continue the practice.

A. W. HALL.

It is my earnest and honest conviction that this work is of the very first importance.

W. W. WARNER.

It would be a matter of great regret to us to learn that you had discontinued this. It is our opinion that the effect on the prospect is worth a great deal more than the expense of sending these personal letters to them from Orange. Still hust letters cannot be overestimated, in our opinion. Hope that you will continue this service.

THE BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH COMPANY OF TEXAS.

THANKS FOR YOUR FEBRUARY BUSINESS!

THE VOLUME HAS BEEN A GRAND EDISON TESTIMONIAL

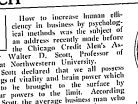
MARCH is the longest month of the year for work. Get busy!

The Pace is not too hot

How to increase human efficiency in business by psychological methods was the subject of an address recently made before the Chicago Credit Men's Association by Walter D. Scott, Professor of Psychology at Northwestern University.

Professor Scott declared that we all possess hidden springs of vitality and brain power which only need to be brought to the surface by concentrating our powers to the limit. According to Professor Scott, the average business man who continually is fearing nervous prostration as a result of the terrific energy injected into his business is a better subject for additional brain work than is the man who is loafing along and taking things easy.

"When a man is doing his best," said Professor Scott, "by changing conditions he can do even better. The same idea is worked out in athletics. A man runs till he is exhausted. Suddenly he gets what is called 'second wind' and then he forges ahead with renewed energy. This he forges ahead with renewed energy. may happen several times. He had used what was merely superficial energy and which when exhausted, led him to believe he had reached the limit of his endurance.



"This is where we make our mistake, and the study of psychology has shown both the reason and remedy. We must get down beneath this superficial energy and tap layer after layer of genuine energy, which is waiting to be used.

"How to get at these layers of excess vitality and utilize it in commercial life gradually is being solved, I believe. Chicago business men have the most strenuous on earth. This excess expenditure of energy is one of the reasons for the remarkable health records for our commercial and financial success. It has brought these hidden springs of energy into play, and great industrial achievements have resulted.

"Competition is perhaps the most potent factor in increasing human efficiency. What is often termed overwork is merely underwork combined with worry. MORE HARM RESULTS FROM LOAFING THAN FROM OVERWORK. The more we do the more efficient we become, and as the business men of to-day utilize psychological methods in forcing their employees into the use of their reserve energy and vitality remarkable results will attain.

"The study of the mind of the individual by his employer is becoming more and more a necessity of modern business life, just as the study of chemistry and physics is necessary in some lines of human endeavor.

"Through this study the efficiency has not kept up with the remarkable development in other lines of work. People are born to-day possessed of no more tact than their predecessors of twenty centuries ago."

A MESSAGE FROM MR. EDISON TO THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR WORLD

Orange, N. J.,
Jan. 25, 1910.

Dear Mr. Wells:

If there is any message I can give that might be of value to your young people, it would be this: to be interested in whatever they undertake or may be doing at the moment; to dismiss from their minds everything else but the one thing they are doing at the time, and to think only of that one thing in all its bearings, from every viewpoint, and to be master of it. Don't mind the clock, but keep at it, and let nature indicate the necessity for rest. After resting, go at the work again with the same interest. The world pays big prices to men who know.

To accomplish things there must first be an idea of possibility, then the watchword must be "Try"; and keep on trying with enthusiasm and "Try"; and keep on trying with enthusiasm and a thorough belief in an ability to succeed. If you are convinced that a certain thing can be done, never mind what the world says to the contrary,—experiment, if you are really interested.

Forget entirely the word "disappointment." Failures, so called, are but finger-posts pointing out the right direction to those who are willing to learn.

So far as I can see, these principles have influenced me in the years that have passed. In fluenced me in the years that have passed. In addition, I have always believed that hard work and a living general interest in everything that and a living general interest in everything that makes for human progress will make men or women valuable to themselves and to the world.

With greetings and all good wishes to your young people, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) THOMAS A. EDISON.

"Patience makes kings."

"To escape criticism: Do nothing, say nothing, be nothing."

"The first item in the commonsense creed is obedience."

The scale illustrated here (reduced 1/4) is now printed on all Edison Business Phonographs. We have made the figures very large, so that operators with bad eyes will no longer have difficulty in seeing them. In combination with the figures we have placed a white line, which leaves the scale entirely unobstructed, this combination is the most important improvement that has appeared for some time.

THE Salesman who thinks with his heart always gets the worst of it when he strikes up against the prospect who thinks with his head.

Tips

Number 60 March 7th, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

APART of every salesman's canvass should be to discuss the attitude of the stenographer. Many weak solicitors are so impressed with the business man's kind permission to grant a trial of the appliances that they do not carry the conversation far enough to secure the employer's support before they "tackle the penitentiary."

Edison Business Phonographs were originally designed, and are constantly improved, to induce the business man to use voice-writing. When he does find the machine convenient and indispensable for his work, he will probably attend to his stenographer, and applaud, at least, any interest she may show in helping him.

Consider the best design of a voice-writing machine when Edison entered the field in 1905; it was nothing more than an amusement phonograph having a six inch cylinder. The salesman who presented the old machine, apologized to the dictator because he could not provide for his making a correction or for hearing his previous dictation after an interruption, but argued that if the business man would only put up with these shortcomings of the machine, he could get typists to take the place of stenographers at half the cost.

Consequently there were not many sales in those days because most business firms hesitated to disorganize a stenographic force, posted on their affairs, in order to experiment with machine dictation which admittedly was ineffective in such important details of the system.

The situation was much on a parallel with the quack doctor who could not help his patient, but added "I can throw you into fits and I'm a—— on fits."

Edison was the first to make a machine for dictation that allowed a system of corrections and for instant repetition. It took several years to prove the efficiency of these devices, but it has been accomplished and now part of the business world understands that disorganization of a vital part of the office force is not necessary in adopting voice-writing, which is only a species of stenography that everyone reads and anyone writes.

Explain this to a business man. Say to him "If one of your stenographers should offer to install a system in your office that would give you greater convenience in dictation and that would enable herself to turn out twice the number of letters without more effort—would you discourage her?"

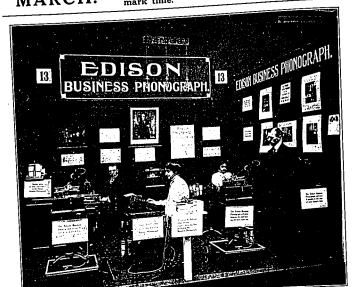
"And if she asked a bonus of a sum of dollars (represented by the cost of the system) payable when the economy was proved, would it not be a good investment and would not the stenographer who made the system 'go' be considered in line for promotion?"

Certainly!—you would boost such a suggestion.

So it can be seen that the stenographer can best be "handled" by the dictator whom she is going to help. If possible, let the dictator do the talking to the stenographer and get the idea out of her mind that a cheaper or different girl will replace her.

Would you help a system that would do away with your services? I guess not. Neither would the average stenographer who caught the wrong end of the idea. Bear this in mind. Tactfully induce the business man to help you and show him that the stenographer must want the system as much as he. And further that it will pay him to raise the stenographer's salary rather than lower it.

TACT WITH THE STENOGRAPHER is the subject of discussion on this page.



Suppose the salesman talks it over with the prospect and he decides to offer the stenographer another $1.00 per week if she makes the system succeed—isn't it cheap? Such a solicitor can be sure of co-operation. The girl has only to write six folios more a day at 4c. a folio to cover the raise, and she will surely do it.

Also many stenographers do not catch the real idea which prompts the purchase of machines by her employer, and so leave him outline there in a friendly chat, with the Edison salesman present, is the tact that often wins confidence and the order. For instance, a business man wishes to purchase machines principally for their convenience, dictating short instructions to his stenographer after hours, etc.; if this be understood probably no objection to the system would be made on her part. But leave the stenographer out of the conversation and misunderstandings are sure to occur.

Don't leave the canvassing of a prospect half done. Talk over the stenographer situation.

TACT in handling the stenographer situation does not call for the salesman becoming a "Lady Killer." But it does require a salesman's appreciation of her position, and an effort to overcome a possible misunderstanding by using the employer's assurance in the beginning.

"MARCH."—The name of this month is suggestive. Don't mark time.

Exhibition by the London, England, Dealer.

Good and Bad "Trials"

Barnes of Chicago was down to Orange to see us. It's a fine thing, these visits; the dealer sees the color of the eyes of the people who have been writing him letters and the general misunderstandings caused by letter writing and unacquaintance with a manufacturing proposition, are cleared up.

Barnes told us of one prospect that had been willing to "try" machines for two months but wouldn't install them. Why? Just because the prospect said, "I don't see how they will be of much use to us—but I will give them a trial." Barnes always replied at such interviews "I can't afford to buy appliances for you to prove the machines are useless. I know they are just the thing for you. It is only a question of a little time before you will need the system in earnest—then you can command me."

That concern are now users of several machines and will eventually buy thirty.

The abuse of the trial system is largely the fault of the salesman. Learn to know a sincere prospect when you meet him—the other kind will get in line finally and meanwhile will not cause you loss or disappointment.

EDISONIZED MOTHER GOOSE.

(Little Boy Blue.)

Blow Little Boy, come blow your horn,
Of trials and sales you'll surely be shown.
Blow loud and deep,
On plain and steep;
Less prospects and buyers go fast asleep.

"There is no joy in life equal to the joy of putting salt on the tail of an idea."

"Enthusiasm is the lubricant that makes the wheels of trade go round."

HANG UP THAT SALES POSTER we sent under separate cover, where everyone interested in the E. B. P. can see it.

Tips

Number 61 — March 15, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Be More Than a "Machine Man"

The Edison Business Phonograph Salesman should realize the full possibilities of his job and aim to direct a firm in systematizing their correspondence rather than to mechanically install a voice-writer and trust to luck that a use will be found for it.

When Edison in 1905 brought out the Edison Business Phonograph he provided for this use of system with the machine. Tips has written much about it since, and the Edison literature is full of it.

This grasp by a salesman of the right ways to use a Phonograph and the place in the firm where it is most needed, places him beyond competition in many instances.

One of the most successful Edison Dealers makes most of his sales by the guarantee of service and system. They are the shining lights of the voice-writing trade and the despair of the machine salesman of competition, who never understands quite why they lost out.

We suppose that as long as talking machines are made they will all of them talk. The machine itself, of course, is the central object of attraction. But with the machine goes "service and system" in which any dealer may excel and largely influence a purchaser.

It is wrong to lead a business man to believe that the shape of the machine or some trivial improvement—although these may all be on an Edison design—is the whole reason for its adoption over another. The prospect should have plans for using the machine after its purchase and the most intelligent and best fitted dealer should get the business if his appliances have any claim to good design or superior quality.

The business man hires a professional systemaizer to re-arrange his office; he does not ask what tools he will recommend before he starts; it is the brains, the plans, the reputation of the systemaizer that swayers him first.

So the dealer may to a large extent rise above "machine" competition in his sales and it is his duty to do so.

Study correspondence systems—know what you are talking about. Be an addition to the machine—not a part of it.

Yesterday? Forget it! Today is here and that's enough to keep us for awhile. The joys of tomorrow, if we work it right, will make up for the woes of yesterday. All's well with the world.

Note—Dealers are requested to start a book department in connection with their handling of the Edison Business Phonograph. We have no financial interest in the sale of books and interest Dealers to direct all orders and correspondence to us. Practically All books recommended in this editorial department are carried in stock and can be had by ordering or specifying reading for all connected with selling, advertising, mechanical, electrical and correspondence work. If other books are desired we will be glad to recommend the Dealers to the Publishers and the discounts to them if they mention this paper. Dealers must be sure to identify themselves with the Publishers, as all arrangements are specially made for them.

Three Books from The Elementary Electro-Technical Series, by Edwin J. Houston, Ph.D., and A. E. Kennelly, Sc.D. Price, $1.00 list each.

Alternating Electric Currents, Fourth Edition, 359 pages, 115 illustrations.

The Electric Motor, Second Edition, 377 pages, 112 illustrations.

Electric Incandescent Lighting, Third Edition, 514 pages, 164 illustrations.

Send your orders to the McGraw-Hill Book Company, No. 239 West 39th street, New York City. They will allow dealers a discount of 33⅓ per cent., transportation additional. Every person who has any part of his duties connected with the E. B. P. should buy and read the-e books, especially the first one on Alternating Electric Currents.

The A, B, C, of Electricity, by William H. Meadowcroft. Price, 50 cents. Send your orders to the Excelsior Publishing House, No. 27 West 21st street, New York City. They will allow a discount of 50 per cent., transportation additional.

The A, B, C, of Electricity is a plain book for plain people. It is written in such simple style that it may be readily understood, even by a boy. It is endorsed by Mr. Edison, and has had a sale of more than 85,000 copies up to this time.

BUY a cheap level in any hardware store, and place it on the support rod of all machines to be sure they set level when in use. This is particularly desirable on the transcribing machine.

NEW CHIP PANS

that set under the Mandrel of the Phonograph, are now ready. If you need any for your stock or customers, write us.

How Storr Got His Man

H. S. Storr, a dealer in Atlanta, won his spurs in selling Edison Business Phonographs for Crayton & Company in Charlotte, N. C. Crayton was up to see us recently and told the Editor of TIPS some of Storr's exxperiences while working for him that illustrate the need of resourcefulness in selling in a small town such as his territory is made up of. Here is the story:

Storr found himself in one of these Cotton Mill towns where the proprietor of the biggest mill was the best business man to sell if the great mill was the best business man to sell if the other firms in town were to be improved and sold quickly. "Why don't you sell Mr. Blank? He has the biggest office in town?" was the question fired at Storr. But Mr. Blank, the Cotton Mill owner, would not even look at an Edison Business Phonograph and had no interest in convenience or economy in correspondence.

Did Storr sit down and write out a report of troubles? Did Storr buy a drink and a segar to help out his imagination in what he would report about prejudice and lack of enterprise in the town?

Not Storr. These men were just like others, if he could only get their attention—arouse their interest—wake them up to their opportunities.

Perhaps he could reach his man at his home and he would act differently there. So he called Mr. Blank on the telephone—not the local 'phone but the long distance. He had a time to convince the operator that he wanted to pay for a long distance message when a local one would do.

The Cotton Mill owner in his home answered the long distance 'phone call, admired the originality and persistence of the "Edison man"—allowed him to come out with his machine and finally bought several.

Next day Storr saw the other fellows that waited on each other's judgment and got them all, for, he had started with the hardest sale and the key was found.

The finest thing about this whole story is that the employer—Crayton—appreciated Storr and was willing to boost him, although he no longer worked for him.

Crayton has other good men left—he knows how to discover them—develop them—keep them —and even see them promoted as he did Storr.

Therein lies the secret of any dealer's success. Goods do not sell themselves—salesmen of the proper temperament and ability must be encouraged to move them.

If you would be a Crayton, secure in a big business, know the boys on the firing line and train them to be winners.

Be the captain of a good team!

Encouragement helps. The employer who never opens his heart and says "that's good," a pretty sure to find things bad.

The pen is mightier than the sword—and about as useless and rusty in these days of Business Phonographs.

Be a Book Dealer

Have you bought the Forbes & Co. books recommended in TIPS No. 58. Good reading will improve your mind and selling them in your place of business or outside to customers will likewise improve your finances. Sometimes the things you would like to say to a good prospect are aptly expressed in one of the books we recommend, and selling it to him or making a loan of the book with the solicitation to sell him a quantity for his employees, will make you the gainer all around. Then, every person who is supposed to know what makes a Business Phonograph operate should read the elementary Electrical books we should read the elementary Electrical books we have recommended in twelve's TIPS. Don't be ignorant like one of the dealers who recently wrote "I didn't get the 110 Volts mentioned on the packing slip."

TO-DAY

Write it on your heart that every day is the best day in the year. No man has learned anything rightly until he knows that every day is doomsday. Today is a King in disguise. Today always looks mean to the thoughtless, in the face of an uniform experience that all good and great and happy actions are made up precisely of these blank todays. Let us not be so deceived, let us unmask the King as he passes.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

EDIGONIZED MOTHER GOOSE.

(Little Bo-Peep.)

Little Bo-pip has lost his grip,
And can't tell where to find it,
Let him alone, and he'll come home
Bringing his sale behind him.

"The man who is worthy of being a leader of men will never complain of the stupidity of his helpers."

"Whenever any good comes our way, let us enjoy it to the fullest and then pass it along in another form."

COMPLAINT FROM A DEALER

"I didn't get the 110 volts mentioned on the packing slip."

Tips

Number 62 — March 25th, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

"CREDIT"

A Talk By Our Credit Manager

So many of our dealers are in constant correspondence with me that I wish I could quit letter-writing and meet them personally to have a little talk on "Credits." But let me say through the columns of TIPS what I would say to an assembled convention of Edison Business Phonograph Dealers,—for there I would meet you all. The whole Edison selling plan is built on uniform outfits—uniform prices—uniform treatment. It is much the same as if all the present dealers pg Edison to manufacture for them and agreed to uphold a selling price for the goods and pay for them on even terms. Now, it wouldn't be fair to all of you if I were the person intrusted with the collection of accounts for your manufacturer, and, knowing your wishes, I gave better terms to one than another or treated anyone except in a uniform manner—would it? If one dealer secured goods on consignment it would be practically taking your money and starting another in business; and exceptional terms are almost as bad as consignment accounts. We don't know but what a customer is seeking special terms from a number of dealers, and to give one dealer "terms" and another not, is pure favoritism which is not allowable if our mutual relations are to exist. Just think of your trading at the Edison Co-operative Store,—what right has the cashier to give one better terms than others?, and you have my position. I often think that by keeping faith with all of you in insisting on the terms of the Agreement, that perhaps I am an indirect force for business progress. I reason this way:—Every dealer knows the terms of payment. This makes him insist on prompt collections from his customers. Result, prods for all. If I were lax it would tend to react in losses for the dealer. Then, too, a high standard of honesty in accounts means a high standard for the position of an Edison dealer, and those that take a dealership may know they are in good company. We often have dealers apply to us for exceptional terms, claiming they are better fitted than most firms to sell the goods and therefore we should be more lenient in requiring prompt payments; perhaps we are too conservative in these matters, but then a desire to be fair to all assures us that we are right in not breaking rules. That an Edison dealership requires a definite capital and honest intentions is not a bad reputation for the old dealer that is doing business, and here again the new dealer can strive to be in good company.

One little point and I must finish:—Many of our dealers take advantage of the Cash Discount —2%, 10 days. In doing this, I believe they are only getting square on their accounts because many customers take 2% on their purchases from the dealer. If only a proportion of your customers take the 2% cash discount, you should figure this out and take 2% on the same proportion from the manufacturers. Suppose you fail to take the 2% Cash discount and the customer does take his 2%—then you are out 4%.

Think it over. I only mention this in your interest.

SELL SATISFACTION

Success in the selling game doesn't simply mean goods sold. It means customers satisfied.

It means treating a man after you sell him as well as you do before. It means bills paid outside of court, and complaints handled on square-deal principles.

Irritating back talk and aggravating threats never got a good-will settlement nor brought back a disappointed customer. A "Chip-on-the-Shoulder" attitude drives trade away.

But courtesy, tact, frankness, fairness—disarm antagonism, melt opposition, bring back business.

Sell satisfaction—and your goods will sell themselves.

WHAT A PITY

the E. B. P. has only one leg and can't walk as well as it can talk—then it could sell itself.

NOTE.—Dealers are requested to send a book department in connection with their handling of the Edison Business Phonograph. We have no financial interest in the books and instruct Dealers to direct inquiries and correspondence to the Publishers as listed below. Only such books as we carefully examine and recommend as decidedly interesting or necessary reading for all commercial selling, advertising, mechanical, electrical or correspondence work, are mentioned here, and we will be glad to recommend other books if we receive a request from any of the dealers to the Publishers and in each case, it is hoped they handle all books at a profit, which is part of the idea of this plan. We must be sure to identify themselves with the Publishers, as all arrangements are specially made for them.

Success in Letter Writing. By Sherwin Cody. Price, 75c.

We have selected the best known books on this subject, knowing that our dealers and customers would be the most interested by such publications.

This book is a fine example of a reasonable priced publication, written in the plain, simple style of a Master of English—Sherwin Cody. Every dealer should obtain and sell it to dictators and transcribers with whom they come in contact.

* * *

Men Who Sell Things. By Walter D. Moody. Price, $1.00.

Salesmen in every line should read this book and take the advice to heart. Dealers could not do better than to place a copy in the hands of each person handling the Edison Business Phonograph. It is equal to a whole year of Tips in suggestions.

"Ginger Talks."

* * *

A. G. McClurg, Chicago, publishes both of the above books and will give substantial discounts to dealers who order direct in accordance with the instructions.

Subscribe to Business Periodicals

The Editor of Tips reads interesting articles and glances through the advertisements in several business periodicals each month, the names of which are given below.

The Office Outfitter. Published by the Class Periodical Company, Chicago. Subscription price, $1.50 per year.

Office Appliances. Published by the Office Appliance Co., Chicago. Subscription, $1.50 per year.

System. Published by the System Co., Chicago. Subscription, $2.00 per year.

The Phonographic World and Commercial Review. Published by E. W. Miner, 23 Doane St., New York. Subscription, $1.00 per year.

Beach's Magazine. Published by E. H. Beach, Detroit, Mich. Price, 25c. per year.

The first two periodicals are particularly interesting from a trade standpoint and should be read by every firm who is seriously in the office appliance line. Both Editors of these publications are personal friends of Tips, and dealers who write and order by themselves can secure subscriptions for $1.00.

System, a well-known publication, is more on the magazine order. Probably it carries the greatest number of popular advertisements of any publication. The publishers do not reduce their rates to our dealers, but will give a book as a premium.

The Phonographic World is a commercial school publication. Every dealer should know what stenographers are doing, and you will read more about the amusements in this periodical than in any other. Mr. E. W. Miner will send our trade this magazine for one year for 50c.

Beach's Magazine is the brightest bit of business literature that one could read. It is worth more than the subscription price advertised—25c. per copy—but I think Beach has sold us he gives a year—but I think Beach has sold us he gives a discount even on that price to our people. Write him.

KNOW WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE BUSINESS WORLD. ORDER ALL THE PERIODICALS WE MENTION. THEY WILL ALL COST LESS THAN $5.00 AND YOU $50.00 WORTH OF GOOD HUSTLE READING THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH ADS.

MISERY.

Nothing to save but money,
No one to hear but the horn,
Everything working but money,
In you wonder I'm forlorn?

WHAT IS HONESTY?

Honesty does not merely mean that you will not lie with your lips, or steal your employer's money or property. It means you will not be dishonest in your work by slighting or neglectfulness in your work by slighting or neglectfulness in your work by slighting or neglectfulness in your work by slighting it, that you will not steal your employer's time, waste or spoil his goods, do every task do your level best in everything, do every task to a complete finish, stamp every job that passes through your hands with superiority, with the trade-mark of your character—Success.

"He that will not hear can not judge."

"Help yourself and everybody will help you."

Have YOU ordered any of the business library we have recommended? Read about ordering Periodicals.

Tips

Number 63 — April 4, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO, ORANGE, N. J

IF you could picture the early days of voice-writing away back in 1905, when we first started in the field, you would see that competition was based largely on the advantage of the Edison mechanical foot-trip over the "rubber syringe" pneumatic.

For years nothing was available on a voice-writing machine but a "cheap pneumatic"; it was a thin, small, rubber tube with a syringe bulb on the end. The tube got punctured easily and the air never stayed in the bulb.

The advent of the Edison mechanical foot-trip brought joy. In fact, we made foot-trips popular with the dictator. Before, the machines were set in the desks or on them and foot-trips were not much used except by the transcribers.

When we commenced to push the business in the large cities, it was out of the question to cut holes in the dictators' decks and quite as impractical to set a machine and cabinet in among his correspondence. The pedestal was the logical solution of the problem and with it came a foot-trip for both the dictator's and transcriber's use.

Few of those who have examined the present Edison pneumatic foot-trip can realize the amount of thought, study and experiment that has been undertaken in order to have the design overcome the faults of the fundamental pneumatic idea that has always been before us. The "rubber syringe" could have been supplanted by a metal piston of the same fundamental pattern much earlier than it was, but Edison could not see how that overcame some of the pneumatic faults.

The ideals that we have had in mind are shown in the "automatic impulse" idea in the Edison pedal.

Have you ever had any experience in manufacturing? Do you know how long it takes to invent and produce some radical improvement in the design of an article like the foot-trip?

If so, you know what troubles are. We have had ours, but are not going to inflict them on you.

Suffice it to say that you can employ brains but they sometimes don't produce the designs you want on time. Say to an expert, "We want a pneumatic foot-trip, built low, operating under light pressure, positive in its action, etc," and then you must wait on inspiration—and perspiration.

But now we have a foot-trip that has been worth study. It has been put under a shop test and worked enough times to equal years of commercial use and we know it will stand up to the hardest usage. It has been tried out in practice for months to bring out every improvement that could be suggested by voice-writing cranks of the first water.

One point should not be missed; the pneumatic design is in such form that it may be attached to old machines. Thus we have given to every former customer the advantage of bringing their old models up-to-date. This is thoughtfulness which any purchaser should appreciate.

Look at the amount of thought, labor and material that the whole represents and figure that $5.00, the price, is very small because, we want every device "attachable" at a reasonable price for the good of the business and the satisfaction of the old customer.

This signifies that degree of interest in the permanent success of the proposition which the prospective customer should recognize is greatest at the HOME OF THE ORIGINAL PHONOGRAPH.

It strikes me that our product will now satisfy the small user more than ever before. The small business man and professional men in all ranks, want a Universal machine and one machine will usually be sufficient. These customers want to push the machine about and require the pneumatic foot-trip for the most satisfactory use. A separate recorder and reproducer with the Universal motor and pneumatic foot-trip is an ideal one-machine proposition. This is an Edison selling point that we should not overlook.

We shall watch the dealers' interest in this new design with a great deal of attention. We don't mind saying that nothing short of a dealer that is "a dead one" will fail to order an attachment—try it on his machine—and get into the pneumatic class quick.

That reminds us it will pay to order early. "First Come, First Served."

A SPECIAL

Number, discussing Pneumatic Foot Trips.

With your first order for pneumatic foot-trips you should order a tube of the special lubricating mixture for the pedals.

DID you receive Circular Letter 34, and does everyone know that outfits with "Pneumatics cost $5.00 more?

YOU CAN obtain mechanical foot trips with outfits only 'till April 22d.

MRS. ANNA D. DAY
Champion Edison Transcriber
Records 40.5 words per minute
Photographed with the Aluminum Hearing Tubes, especially for Her

Our Policy Towards the Ladies

We see where a prospective purchaser has been advised (not by an Edison dealer) to buy the oldest second hand type of machine that could be found for the transcriber with NEW dictating machines. In other words, "anything is good enough for the transcriber."

This has never been the Edison policy.

We believe that the business woman who uses voice-writing should be given the best machine that can be produced in material and design.

One hour's dictation will often require eight hours' transcribing—and this transcribing labor should be made as easy and convenient as possible.

Edison transcribing machines are just like the dictating. Compared with other designs, they are easier to repeat, give a better reproduction and the aluminum hearing-tubes with the sound-modifier are superior by a good measure.

Every salesman should shame the purchaser who would buy any old machine for his transcriber.

March was the biggest month in Business Phonograph sales history! Thanks! But April, with the introduction of new designs, will be bigger! Will you make some of the dealers' profits?

DO YOU appreciate our thoughtfulness in making the Pneumatic Foot Trip interchangable with the mechanical?

The Cause of Failure

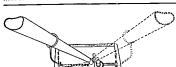
Once in a while some dealer discovers a flaw in the voice-writing system or a grave fault in machine design. He immediately writes or calls on us in person to deliver an ultimatum that: "Unless all the conditions are immediately made perfect, he will quit selling the goods."

"The stenographers are all against me," is a complaint we sometimes hear. Nervous apprehension marks the dreams of this dealer pervaded with ascetic old ladies who threaten to beat him to death with hearing tubes.

Another dealer could sell machines if we corrected just one part of our design that he doesn't like. The fact that the majority of Edison salesmen like this particular part does not convince him—the dealer knows why he fails—and of course he is right—at least he fails.

We always think that the other fellow has no troubles. Our conditions are always the worst. Yet when we take everything into consideration, experienced salesmen in voice-writing would rather sell Edison equipment than any other, for rather having been on the other side of the fence they take hold of our line and easily convince the customer that our design is superior.

As an old salesman, who knows all designs, says: "This job reminds me of the Irishman who was hired to knock down a Protestant church which was compelled to give way to the onward march of trade. Pat remarked, 'This is the finest job I ever had. Just think of me the finest job I ever had. knocking down a Protestant church and getting paid for it.'"



Dear Brother, just get it into your head that several hundred dealers are selling thousands of Edison Outfits a year and have been doing it at Edison Outfits a year and have been doing it at Edison Outfits for years. Satisfied customers the same season for years. Satisfied customers are increasing everywhere. You can succeed if you are enthusiastic for the system. You can fail and negative your selling force if you are timid, or apprehensive of slight troubles, and pessimistic of the future.

Remember that old fable of Phrenlus, "The Bald Man and the Gnat." Phrenlus relates how Bald Man sought to crush a gnat that had settled upon his pate, and only succeeded in striking himself a heavy blow.

We think that dealers should be careful about being annoyed by a pessimistic gnat in the shape of a nonprofessional salesman whom they employ. "Make the goods different and I could sell them," "Make the public different and they would purchase the goods"—these are what the employer of salesmen always hears. We can gain much knowledge from the reasons for failure, but it should encourage us to go on—not to cease—to remove the cause of failure—WHICH IS GENERALLY THE SALESMEN, PROVING NOTHING—EXCEPT THAT HE IS NOT THE RIGHT MAN IN THE RIGHT PLACE.

The pitcher who is batted freely may lose the game if retained in the box. Let him retire to right field and give the pitcher with new curves a chance. The ball is not to blame. IT IS THE PLAYER.

"PNEUMATIC ATTACHMENTS" cost $5.00 list. Remember the outfit with it sells for $5.00 more.

Horn, Patented Nov. 19, 1907
Crane, Patent Applied for

The Ball-Joint Horn Crane

Machines are now equipped with the Ball-Joint Horn Crane, as illustrated above.

This Edison design has several very important advantages:

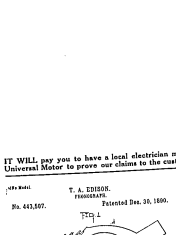
First: Convenience. The whole arrangement may be easily moved, as shown in the illustration, to suit the position of the dictator, and both hands are free to handle correspondence. The ball joints at the horn-crane support and where the horn is attached to the machine allow the maximum movement. It is not necessary to disassemble the parts when the hinged cover of the phonograph is closed, as illustrated, leaving the crane and horn connected ready for immediate use.

Second: Correct Horn Shape. The horn, made of heavily enameled steel, is fastened into a broad narrow mouthpiece which is cut out trumpet shape to allow freedom with closer confidential dictation and yet retain the small cross-section which produces a better record than the same large diameter of a round horn. This shape of horn produces a much louder record than the speaking-tube.

Third: The Horn is sanitary and indestructible. Having no rubber or cloth in its construction, as in a speaking-tube, the horn is sanitary and may be frequently cleaned.

How Seely Sells Them

Seely was driving into the Editor of Tuts some of his pet theories—or should I say practices, for, on this subject of "trials" he was talking about there is not a dealer better qualified as an authority. Seely has as high as a hundred machines out on trial at a time. Don't think for a minute he sets them on doorsteps with a card "Have your money ready when we call." And, don't think the machines stay out long periods before he "closes" the prospect. Here is his practice—which is necessary in New York City—To place machines on trial whenever a good prospect appears and treat the trial as a demonstration of the system in actual practice. When a short time has elapsed—about 10 days—of good performance he is through with his demonstration. If he cannot secure the order promptly, he "pulls out," but a firm is always left with the proof before them that the system was a success. Seely counts these "demonstration periods," mostly all sales—now or later. Many machines are ordered back after a "pull out." The advantage to Seely is in keeping the machines and business moving, with few firms that he can't go back to and sell eventually even if he don't get the order the first crack. Says he—"It's all right, Mr. Jones, you can't give me the order now. I must have my machines to conduct a 'demonstration period' at another firm. We will see you again soon when you're ready to place your order. We proved all we claimed, didn't we?" And the beauty of Seely's plan is that he DUES follow Jones up; he don't kill the prospect by pulling out with angry words—he leaves him as friendly as if it were one machine taken in and out by a salesman in a 10-minute call.



All hearing tubes from this date will be equipped with a support like the illustration. Instead of a pin, the support is now a loop which may be placed in the transcribers belt, or over a button, to carry the weight of the tube.

"The duty of obeying is no less than the responsibility of commanding."

"We awaken in others the same attitude of mind we hold towards them."

IT TAKES 5 minutes by the clock to attach a "Pneumatic"—when ou know how. Bette order an assembled machine for guidance.

IT WILL pay you to have a local electrician measure the current consumption of the Edison Universal Motor to prove our claims to the customer.

The Pneumatic Foot Trip is not new to Edison, as the fac-simile of his patent in 1890, above, will show.

The Effect of "Price"

Does price affect the sale of goods?

Yes, I think so.

Show me two articles of different price and immediately the lower figure becomes attractive because I do not have to spend so much money.

But at the same time I want to know why the other article costs more; then the quality. If it is in the goods, appeals to me, for I know that usually the better article is the most expensive.

Fortunate is the merchant who can show both lower price and better quality in his offerings, and doubly so if his reputation lends confidence to the purchaser's choice.

I have written the above neat little sermon to prepare you for the inevitable reference to the sale of Edison Business Phonographs, for, now you know our prices are higher than they were.

Five years ago, when Edison again entered the Business Phonograph field, the prices were raised 25 per cent. over the machine that the public had bought for 18 years before.

Edison made the price of a Direct-Current Outfit $75.00 when no one paid more than $60.00 for the other machine.

Then there was a battle of price vs. quality and Edison won so handily that "Edison Quality" became the goal and price was forgotten as a talking point.

So much for quality.

To-day, if you look into the prices of voice-writing machines you will not find much difference—if anything they favor Edison.

Granted that "two machines and a shaver" is a normal small purchase, you will find that the advertised prices gives Edison 8% advantage on a Spring Motor equipment, 2% advantage on a Direct Current Motor Equipment, and 6% disadvantage on the Universal Motor Outfit.

If it is true that Edison Outfits are the only ones that contain 12 cylinders we can add another 4% to the Edison advantage.

Prices can be forgotten—it's six of one and half-a-dozen of the other—quality and reputation is the only question to-day in the purchase of a voice-writing equipment.

We could fill you up with a dozen Edison quality arguments, but we ask you to digest only this one now:—the argument of the Universal Motor.

Recently another universal (?) motor has made its appearance. We purchased one on the open market, took it up to the Laboratory and had it tested. The report of our Engineering Department shows the motor is NOT universal, for it will not operate above 60 cycles 110 volts; has no variable resistance; and consumes 25% times as much electrical current as the Edison Universal Motor, thus costing the consumer $6.00 to $9.00 more per machine per year.

"Quality" costs the purchaser a few dollars more for an Edison Universal Motor Outfit. It is spent in the finer electrical construction which saves the additional price in a short time.

WORK.

Yes, work hard.
Forget your troubles.
Make every hour count.
Keep up your momentum.
Close up your old prospects.
Smile at the calamity howler.
Make April your best month.
Keep the manufacturer busy.
Accomplish something every day.
Make a spring record worth while.
Don't waste time on worthless cases.
A rabbit's foot may be lucky, but a plodder's foot is better.
April "ems's" don't grow on bushes; they thrive on pushes.
Work, WORK, WORK!

PRONOUNCE the first syllable of "Pneumatic"—NEW, and demonstrate what you have to the public.

Tips

Number 64 — April 14, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

If the Dealer will look at his Agreement with this Company, giving the Conditions of Sale for Edison Business Phonographs, etc., he will find in Articles 5 and 6 that the handling of used or second-hand equipments, of any make, is prohibited. These Conditions of Sale are still in force and the matter in Circular Letters 33 and 35, issued under date of March 28 and April 7, 1910, bearing on this subject, only premises that we will license or permit such transactions if that is in the best interests of the business upon application of the Dealer.

Get a clear idea of these matters. Everything that we do is in the interest of the general business. Rules and conditions are not made by us just for the sake of "tooling," but to make more money for the Dealer—meaning sales in which the proper profit will appear—and protect one Dealer from another who might be unscrupulous or thoughtless of the other's interest.

Now everyone knows, if he has been in business long, that the worst disorganization is provoked by a general m'xing up of new and second-hand articles. No price is standard under such conditions; the salesman spends more time selling the old machine than the new, and deliberately loses profits by substituting the used articles at a lower price.

Everyone read circular letters No. 33 and 35 which explain how you can handle used machines. We here add a few remarks.

Witness the Typewriter Companies that never allow their salesmen to sell a second-hand or rebuilt machine, and have the most severe penalties against it. Still in Chicago, I am told, the trading and selling of second-hand machines has become so prevalent that the salesmen themselves (against the rules) show a customer how to "beat the game" and get a new $100.00 typewriter for $93.00.

But we have taken the broad view of business and realize that there are conditions that face us in not assisting Dealers to buy and sell used machines; these are:

First—Our Dealers (or ourselves) do not want a strange second-hand man to start up business and make a living by disorganizing prices which the Edison Dealer might control.

Second—Customers want to trade in old machines for new.

Third—The Customer who wishes to sell his equipment, and who cannot be reinstated as an active user, had best be treated with instead of having him adversise negatively.

Therefore, Circular Letter No. 35 will explain how used Edison machines can be bought up by the Dealer, and sent in to us for re-building and licensing for re-sale as a second-hand article.

EVERY EDISON MACHINE THAT IS BOUGHT UP AFTER BEING USED MUST BE IMMEDIATELY SENT TO ORANGE FOR RE-BUILDING, AND AN APPLICATION FOR A LICENSE MUST BE FORWARDED AT ONCE. EDISON IS THE REPAIR MAN FOR ALL OUR DEALERS AND NO EDISON MACHINE MUST BE RE-SOLD WITHOUT HIS LICENSE, WHETHER IT BE GOOD OR BAD IN THE DEALER'S OPINION.

The allowances for old machines of a competitor is a different matter from buying and re-selling used Edison machines, as we have explained in Circular Letter No. 33.

Just as we are interested in Customers regarding our old machines, so we are interested in helping Dealers who want to conduct transactions connected with other machines, with this difference:

First—We cannot re-sell competitors machines taken in exchange, nor can the Dealer do this legitimately.

Second—We do not owe any attent'on to users of competitors' machines, but the Dealer must consider that to handle such is purely a money-making transaction which he is free to reject and which we do not urge upon him.

REMEMBER THAT NO USED MACHINES OF COMPETITORS' MAKE MUST EVER BE BOUGHT WITHOUT OUR SPECIAL PERMISSION IN EACH CASE, AND THAT ALWAYS THE OLD MACHINES MUST BE RETURNED TO ORANGE TO BE SCRAPPED, TO GET THEM OFF THE MARKET.

Don't plead ignorance in any of these transactions, but write us if in doubt.

Where is your order for "pneumatic" machines and attachments? Get in line for customers orders. Learn the goods in advance of the demand.

RULE FOR GOOD SHAVING: LIGHT CUTS. WHEN YOU CAN HEAR A CUT IT IS TOO HEAVY.

HAVE THAT NEW SALESMAN read Tips—past and present—with all the Company's literature. Ignorance is not excused.

Everybody "On the Job"

Two head lines caught my eye in this morning's paper:

NO MAIL BOX NO MAIL.

Government will save $6 annually at each delivery of a letter by not installing the house-hold, amounting to $180,000 annually.

FIFTY WORDS IN NIGHT TELEGRAMS FOR THE PRICE OF 10 WORD DAY MESSAGE

Am. Tele. & Tele. Co. recently absorbing the W. U. Tele. Co., decides to save their night wires busy by this concession to the public.

Several thoughts ran through my mind; wasn't this saving of the waiting on the part of letter carriers like part of the saving by voicewriting when the Edison dictator has his "mail box" always at his elbow and does not have to "ring the bell" for a stenographer?

And if the government can save $400,000 by such a simple rule, how much do all business firms themselves lose by waiting—to say nothing of the advantage of the voicewriting system in other directions?

Then this "telegram night letter" for regular day prices; isn't this an indication that the world does not approve of unnecessary speed in communications? And how wants despatch of the despatch of mail by voice-writing is fast becoming popular?

Stop to think, too, that these telegrams are usually followed by urgent letters that are more quickly phonographed, and you see the trend of public desires to save the minutes.

That made me think of the thousands of telegrams we receive in the course of a year and the many dollars that are spent by telegraphing.

Wouldn't a letter be better and cheaper in some cases? If firms got down to answering mail on our Edison Business Phonograph couldn't they gain the despatch that they now endeavor to put on business by telegrams in many cases?

And say, brother. Take this telegram proposition a little to heart. Don't "put it up to the factory" quite so much as you do in "wiring" that you must have "two million quick." Not that we don't carry the stock; not that we are not thankful to get the order; but some Dealers think the telegram starts the goods that same day to them, when in fact the Shop must have time to enter, pack, and ship.

If you have a gift in salesmanship—selling about so many a month—keep the shipments coming to you—give a thought to the time it takes for delivery—save us both expense—and realize that the over-worked word RUSH isn't as powerful as you may imagine. Everything is RUSH these days.

Summer is coming when you will be required, more than ever, to furnish capable transcribers. Get in touch with Typewriter Employment Bureau. Set aside a desk for practice in your office. Buy the moulded Edison Practice Cylinders. Be a real BUSINESS FORCE in your locality.

Dictating and Transcribing Outfits

In Circular Letter 34, and in the printed circulars on the pneumatic foot-trip attachment, we explained that outfits must be ordered "for dictating or for transcribing."

When a dictating outfit is ordered we make the rubber tube on the foot-trip three feet long and do not include a foot-rest.

When a transcribing outfit is ordered we make the rubber tube on the foot-trip five feet long and do include the foot-rest.

The only object in this change from a standard outfit equipment is to save two (2) feet of expensive rubber tubing and a foot-rest which is not necessary or desirable for the dictator.

We figure that the dictator must generally face the machine to operate it, and so the foot-trip pedal should be in front of the pedestal, when three feet of tubing is sufficient; nor does a dictator require the foot-rest which the active man at a dictator's desk must step over when he moves about.

However, we are satisfied if the Dealer orders just what he requires and will simply use judgment not to accumulate foot-rest castings that he will not use, nor rubbing in long lengths that could be cut into short lengths.

For instance, Dealers may order dictating outfits, and in addition to other specifications, state "with transcribing foot-trips," or they may state "with long length rubber foot-trip tube but not foot-rest."

Be reasonable, that is all we ask. We will not charge extra for an outfit ordered with any part of the foot-trip devices. But we want to save the "junk" that accumulates in a Dealer's office when he orders what he doesn't need.

EDISONIZED MOTHER GOOSE

Hey! Diddle, Diddle!
She quit in the middle,
And wouldn't work after the noon.
The Manager laughed
To see such chaff,
And the Dealer got another one soon.

"No man ever pushed himself forward by patting himself on the back."

"What others say of me matters little; what I myself say and do matters much."

CORRECTION. "The Office Outfitter," published by the Class Periodical Co., Chicago, is $1.00 subscription price for one year. We published the price as $1.50 in Tips No. 62. If you order TWO years subscription it is only $1.50. Order it TO-DAY!

Tips

Number 65 April 18th, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

AN IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION FROM THE TRAFFIC MANAGER

To the Edison:

We are continually receiving requests from our many dealers, to trace shipments that are made to them. In a large percentage of the cases the tracer is unnecessary, for the following reasons.

First—The customer has not allowed sufficient time, under ordinary conditions, for the goods to be delivered.

Second—The goods are in possession of the customer's local R. R. freight station in many instances, when they request us to trace.

These facts are true, as you are aware, and could be overcome if our dealers would consult the representative of the transportation company located in his place of business, at the same time submitting to the agent of the carrier, the memo of shipment which is sent, as information to the trade, and represents a copy of the invoice. Should the memo of the shipment become mislaid, and they will present the invoice, which shows the routing that we have observed in connection with the particular shipment, this would assist the agent in furnishing the customer with valuable information. In other cases, before the shipment is made, it is the expressed wish of the dealer that the shipment be followed by tracer. As you know from experience, when a request is made on a Transportation company to trace a shipment that has not been in transit long enough to effect delivery, while the request may be turned over to the tracing clerk, to follow the consignment as requested by the shipper, Mr. Tracing Clerk, who is up to his neck with requests of this kind, consigns the tracer to the waste basket, and therefore the request is of little importance.

The majority of the Transportation Companies have through service in what is termed package cars, to the larger percentage of the towns where we are represented by dealers, and it is to their interest to maintain their schedule of these cars, to discharge and effect delivery at the earliest possible moment, and if the serv'ce of the rail and water lines is not adequate, in the opinion of our dealers, and they are in a hurry for a certain shipment, we will, upon their request, forward the shipment by one of the standard Express Companies, and charge them, of course, with the d'fference between the freight and express rate, providing the shipment weighs 100 pounds or more, in accordance with our dealers' terms of agreement.

I wish you to be acquainted with the facts that are embodied herein, as I know you are at all times zealous in the interest of our dealers, especially those located at a distance from our factory, where considerable time is absorbed in effecting delivery. The Traffic Department is kept posted as to the existing conditions among the lines of the carriers. As you are aware, the writer spends at least one day a week in New York City acquainting himself with these facts. We know just where traffic is tied up, due to congestion, avalanches, snow-bounds, etc., and if we route a shipment via a certain gateway, that may, in the opinion of the shipper, not be just right, we have a good reason for doing so, and in your correspondence with the trade, I would suggest that if the question of transportation is brought up, that you advise them along the lines indicated herein.

Yours very truly,

JOHN T. ROGERS,
Manager Traffic Dept.

WARNING

A case has come to our attention of wrong quotations to a customer who requested discounts on quantity purchasers. In the Agreement dealers are permitted to give a discount of 10 per cent., 15 per cent. or 20 per cent. when 10, 25 or 50 Business Phonographs are purchased at one time; this does not mean that the customer can give an order for less than the discount quantity and secure a rebate on the proper quantity if accumulated by small orders at different times.

When you buy a carload of an article you usually secure a better price than when one article alone is purchased; so we are willing to have dealers sell 10, 25 or 50 machines, when delivered at once, for a less price.

Big purchasers who want the quantity prices on small orders, claiming they will use a quantity, in a short time, must give their bona-fide order for the entire quantity and specify reasonably short delivery dates for parts of it, if they are to secure the quantity discounts.

Have you received the new agreement with circular letter number 36? Sign the agreement and return AT ONCE.

Talk With Your Customers Now and understand what demands they will make on you for substitute transcribers this Summer. If you are prepared, you can do a great deal more.

We are modest, so don't like to say what fine endorsements we received on "phonautics" Have you ordered?

Service—Salesmen

We are and talk with a great many prosperous Edison Dealers and from this large majority, and from the few who have difficulty in making the right profits, can learn many lessons in management.

First, let us make this one fact clear: The Universal Edison Product represents practically only one simple machine and its peculiarities to learn. Dealers in most other office machinery have complicated designs to sell, with sometimes many different models, requiring the additional services of expert mechanics.

The Dealers who are making the most profit to-day are the ones who recognize the above fact; they obtain a salesman adapted to both ends of the business—selling and service; they put more service-salesmen to work when others are "broken-in"; they recognize the economy of an all-round-man and the added expense of a "machine man."

Looking at others' experience in this matter we can authoritatively speak of the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., who employ hundreds of "solicitor-collectors," with two duties in one, that of soliciting the prospect and collecting the money.

The schools tried in the first place to hire students to get the business and additional employees to collect the accounts. It wasn't the employees to collect the accounts. It wasn't the solicitor's fault if he enrolled a poor paying student; nor was it the collector's fault if the student didn't meet his obligations—he was a poor student.

One half of the employees pulled against the other half. It wasn't that there was any enmity between them, but human nature showing through a —it was just human nature showing through a wrong plan of getting business.

The right plan was quickly adopted; the solicitor who got the student had to collect the line who got the student had to collect the bill—he was a "solicitor-collector" and promptly all losses were stopped because the whole responsibility was placed on one employee.

Now in our line the conditions are much the same as in the I. C. S. We want "service" salesmen" who will create satisfaction—bring in the money—accept all the responsibility—know both ends.

It's easy to hire the irresponsible salesman. It's just as easy to employ the chap that can take a machine apart and can't put it together so it will work.

But the all-round-man has to be discovered by a thoughtful boss; and generally the right one doesn't know that he has the qualifications, unlike the "breezy" salesman or the unkempt mechanic.

We know of a case the other day that illustrates the point: a Dealer sends several outfits, by truck, to a prospect and two employees—the salesman and mechanic to install them. The outfits arrive but the salesman is not trained to assemble them, so he waits for the mechanic who is not on time. Practically double the time is spent in the installation which might have been done quickly and without any loss of dignity by the salesman alone.

Again, outfits are on trial and a service call is sent in by the prospect. The mechanic arrives, tells the story of his life to the prospect, worry, tells the story of his life to the prospect, and interferes greatly with the "closing" by the salesman.

Dealers who can find good "service-salesmen" can save probably 50 per cent. of the salary expense over the two employee plan. Thus, profit is insured by the right selection of employee.

Profit is sometimes wasted in services that the customer does not ask for or expect; a large firm buys a number of machines, when the firm buys a number of machines, when the Dealer's salesman immediately becomes a slave to duty and proceeds to spend all he has made in the sale.

The greatest service that a large firm could receive, in such a case, is the good advice for them to employ a man for internal service. The salesman thus organizes the customer's plant so that everybody has more satisfaction, instead of merely assuming all the blame which attaches merely assuming all the blame which attaches to the care of many machines among all classes of dictators and transcribers.

We know of another user who insisted on discharging his transcriber every little while discharging his transcriber every little while and putting the blame on the Dealer who pro-and putting the blame on the girl, but spend needed to not only furnish the customer's business patiently teaching her the customer's business in his office. Such extreme service should ness in his office. Such extreme service should not be expected or given.

One dealer doubled his profits by buying a motor cycle and the salesman who could motor cycle and the salesman who could in this way make twice the calls.

Another, discovered everyone making aimless excursions at his expense so he put a city map excursions at his expense so he put a city map and located all the customers, prospects, and and located all the customers, prospects, and trials with different colored tacks. Now he supcrials with different colored tacks. Now he supplies the employees' orbits and has "routes" orientals the employees' orbits and has "routes" oriented where the most number of calls are made, thereby making more profits.

You know dozens of acquaintances who with double the income would not keep out of debt—they don't study economy and the management of their affairs.

It is so with the merchant. His income is his discount on the goods he buys and he must spend this judiciously if he is to progress and stay in business.

"You can never stand well with the boss by telling him of those who are laggards."

"You have not fulfilled every duty unless you have fulfilled that of being pleasant."

April is another long month. Orders here show it will total as large in sales as March. You can make big sales with "phonautics" alone.

Tips

Number 66 — May 3, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS!

Any Salesman who wishes to send in written answers to the questions below, can receive the editor's corrections and remarks.

I. What is the price of your machine?

II. What is the difference between a dictating and transcribing Outfit?

III. How much will a single outfit cost, to be used for dictating and transcribing?

IV. Do I need a shaving machine and should it be the leand or electric type?

V. What will you allow me for the old type Edison machines if I buy new ones?

VI. What will you allow me for the old graphophones if I buy new Edison machines?

VII. Do you place the system on trial, and for how long?

VIII. I do not want all the accessories in the Edison Outfit; what reduction will you make for the pedestal, for instance?

IX. I think my Main Office can buy these outfits cheaper than you can sell them. Is that so?

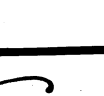
X. Why should I not buy these outfits from the Dealer in X? (Note: the Dealer in X is not in the locality).

XI. What guarantee of the performance of the equipment do you give a customer?

XII. Do you give any discount on quantity purchases?

XIII. Will you furnish me an experienced transcriber if I should require her?

XIV. What evidence can you give me that your electric phonograph motor operates on only ½ ampere and is universal for all electric lighting currents?



XV. Can you furnish the head-band hearing tubes and at what price? Are these the best to use for transcribing?

XVI. Can you substitute the speaking tube for a horn in an outfit and which do you recommend.

XVII. What are the points of superiority in your pneumatic foot-trip? How much will this cost if substituted for my present mechanical foot-trip?

XVIII. What does it cost to operate a phonograph (a) for Electric Motors, (b) for wax cylinders?

A HANDY MAGNIFYING GLASS

Did you ever wish to see a magnified image of any one of the parts of our machines?

A Recording sapphire is chipped, perhaps, but you don't know surely. Or a wax record is not good, but it is soo small a cut for you to see with the unaided eye.

We advise all dealers to procure a magnifying glass for these purposes. The illustration shows a good glass, used by jewellers, made by Wm. Dixon, 59 John Street, New York City, price 40c, mail prepaid, in the United States and Canada.

Send to him direct for the glass, mentioning that you are an Edison Business Phonograph Dealer and enclose forty cents—this is a wholesale price.

STORAGE BATTERY vs. SPRING MOTORS

"The City current is not available at nights or on Sundays; can I use a Storage Battery?"

This question is occasionally asked us. We now answer it here.

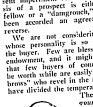
If we were compelled to give a categorical answer, like a witness in court, we would say "yes, you can." If we reply according to our best judgment, we would say "don't," for the following reasons:

The chief sellings points of the Edison Business Phonograph are economy, simplicity and convenience. Years of study have enabled us to build our present standard outfits to represent the perfection of these points. Hence, we say that any additional equipment that adds expense, complication or additional care in connection with an Edison Business Phonograph is not desirable.

Storage Batteries would require an extra investment; simple and efficient as the storage battery is, its maintenance would tend to introduce a complication; and its care would involve additional work to keep the outfit up to its best standard of perfection.

So, our advice is, that in a case of this kind the dealer should sell a customer a few spring motor outfits, (in addition to our regular electrically operated machines), sufficient for dictators who wish to work overtime when current is not available.

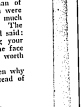
ADOPT A NUMBERED FORM for orders sent us—if it be only a plain sheet of paper. Then when you write us refer to the number of the order. Correspondence and orders should not be mixed.



A PROPERLY MADE OUT ORDER from a dealer is a pleasure to handle. It helps us to give you prompt service. Your order is one of many; make it easily to fill.

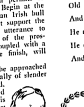
THE TEMPERAMENT OF THE BUYER

Extracts from an Article by James Tolen, in the Advertising and Selling Magazine



The veriest tyro in selling, when asked as to the essentials of success in a salesman, will answer, "Know your line and be able to size up your man," "But, ye gods and little fishes," what ideas they have of "sizing up a man," what ideas they have of "sizing up a man." Talk to the average traveler you meet on the road about psychology, physiognomy or temperament, and his answer will depend on his breeding and your apparent physical ability to resent impertinent remarks. The ordinary analysis of a prospect is either that he is a fine fellow or a "dingrouch," meaning that he has been accorded an agreeable reception or the reverse.

We are not considering now the salesman whose personality is so strong as to dominate the buyer. Few are blessed with such a natural endowment, and it might be added in passing that few buyers of concerns, large enough to be worth while are easily dominated. The "highbrows" who revel in the analysis of such subjects have divided the temperaments into three classes: The Phlegmatic, the Nervous and the Sanguine, each of which has certain marked physical characteristics.



Phlegmatic

The phlegmatic man is generally full-blooded, heavy-featured and slow of speech. Like every rule, this one has its exception, but, generally speaking, such a man thinks slowly. This affords the opportunity for a careful presentation of the salesman's arguments, and persists of considerable elaboration of detail. Begin at the beginning (that's not so much of an Irish bull as it looks) and let each argument support the other, grouping their rapidity of utterance to just about the utmost receptivity of the prospect, and their cumulative effect, coupled with a few strong "reasons why" at the finish, will generally gain the desired order.

Sanguine

The nervous type of man must be approached altogether differently. He is generally of slender physique, thin and white faced. He is a live wire and if reached for without the necessary cue is likely to administer a distinct shock. He thinks rapidly, generally in jerks. One chance word will bring to his mind with lightning speed a dozen ideas all extraneous to the subject in hand. To get his attention and hold it, your arguments must be presented tersely but suggestively. That is to say, be brief, but let every sentence be so framed as to contain the germ of an argument which will develop in his fertile mind and keep it busy.

Nervous

As a case in point, a salesman had been endeavoring to secure an order from a man of the type, but without results. The prices were too high. Local houses quoted prices much lower. The salesman talked quality. The prospect puffed on a Carolina perfecto and said: "Now, old man, there's no use wasting your time. You can talk till you're blue in the face but you can't convince me that quality is worth such a difference in the price."

"No?" came like a flash in answer, "then why are you smoking a 15 cent perfecto instead of a two-for-a-nickle?"

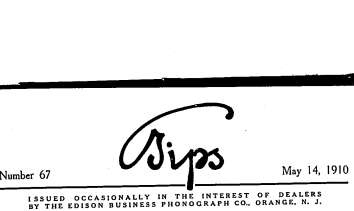
He got the order.

The third pronounced temperament is the sanguine —the cheerful, genial man, full of good red blood, with a vitality that is almost exuberant. Make your arguments the same way—good, straight-from-the-shoulder talk—full of strength, snap and vigor. In the writer's opinion he is to be won more by the candor, frankness and straight-forwardness with which the merits of the article are presented than by an attempt to be "clever." The apparent, absolute confidence of the salesman in the merit of what he is selling carries conviction to a man of this type. The salesman is not hampered by the shyness of the phlegmatic or the irritating vagaries of the nervous man.

EDISONIZED MOTHER GOOSE

Old King Cole, was a busy old soul,
And a busy old soul was he,
He called for his horn,
He called for his 'phone,
And he called for electric-tee.

"The only way to secure friends is to be one."



"What would be the good of havin' luck if nobody was glad; or of gettin' things if there was nobody to divide with?"

DON'T WRITE AN ORDER in the midst of your letter. Use a separate, numbered sheet for the order. It will help us to make a prompt shipment to you.

Sips

Number 67 — May 14, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU IN THE OFFICE OF DUN NEW YORK DEALERS.

This is the time of year that every good Edison Dealer that aims to be a business force in his local community, takes up the vacation problem in earnest by preparing to furnish substitute transcribers.

The telephone bell rings—"Can you furnish a substitute transcriber for two weeks?"

The machine Dealer says "No."

The progressive Dealers say "Oh! yes, Mr. Blank, what are your requirements? We have some well trained girls. I will interview them and send you up the one I think will suit you."

Fall sure, when the customer asks you to help him get a substitute, and you will invite confidence and friendliness that may result in more business and complaints that may result in more loss in the future than the small trouble amounts to.

Do the customer a favor in this way, then, when any question of charges for repairs or replacements come up, or new equipment is to be added, you will find you have made a cheerful buyer and one that will be glad to help your business.

The illustration on this page from the office of the Seely Office Appliance Co. in New York shows how necessary the employment bureau is to-day to the Dealer who wants to succeed and keen in touch with his customers.

The smallest Dealer has coalitions in proportion to those of the dealer in New York.

Everywhere the stenographer is looking for positions. Not a typewriter employment bureau or a commercial school but what has dozens of waiting applicants.

Set about bringing just a few of these business women to your office and show them the simple operation of voice-writing and you have projected a convert into the business world that will surely bring you returns for the slight trouble of your teaching.

Mr. Seely can address hundreds of business women to-day that have spent a few hours in his office in practicing on the Edison Business Phonograph, and these women are constantly assisting him directly and indirectly to more sales by their knowledge and friendliness.

Any Dealer's store has women employes who can give part of their time to receiving, teaching and keeping records of the stenographers who apply.

Start in to-day to prepare this employment bureau. Place at least two machines convenient for practice and make it some woman employe's business to receive the applicants and teach them.

EDISON Transcriber's Practice Records are six in number and list at 50c each. Order TO-DAY. It will cost only 30c extra for mailing expense.

WHEN in competition make the "other fellow" put in writing the service he will give. Price means nothing without service.

Proof—not mere Salesman's talk.

We reprint the following news note:

"At a recent speed exhibition before the students of the Sherbourne Secretarial Schools of New York, Miss Rose L. Fritz, the world's champion typist, scored 159 net words in one minute. Miss Fritz used the Underwood typewriter in one minute and twelve seconds."

This reminds us of the fact that Miss Fritz, a wonderful speed expert, can write only 159 words per minute in stenography and typewriter only about at fast. Arguing backwards the average typewriter operator who does 50 words a minute is considered good, and probably does not write stenography much faster than 75 words per minute as a rule.

But for argument say the stenographer is an expert and writes 140 words a minute which is the highest Civil Service requirement.

Show the dictatee this point, i. e., that he is obliged to limit his speed of dictation to his stenographer's capacity, while he could naturally speak as fast as he pleases to the EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH.

Now let me show you a little canvassing stunt which will bring out this point very clearly: Count off just one hundred words in any letter or piece of printed matter and ask a dictatee to speak the words into an Edison Business Phonograph at his natural rate of speaking. To tell instantly the exact speed of dictation without counting a watch, divide 666 by the spaces passed over on the phonograph scale. The answer will be the rate for one minute's dictation.

Example. One hundred words are spoken into the Edison Business Phonograph (150-thread feed). Three and one-half (3½) spaces on the scale are passed over. The result is a speed of 190 words per minute obtained through dividing 666 by 3½. (Note: The revolution of the mandrel must be exactly 100).

Oftentimes a sale can be made with the argument: "This is the only office appliance that actually saves the time of the brains that direct the business. All other machines save only the time of the clerks,—the helpers."

"Hoss?"

"There is the convenience of dictating at any time, etc., and also the fact that no stenographer can compete in speed with the mechanical amanuensis."

"Don't believe it."

"Just read these 100 words to the machine"—and the proof if given, as explained above.

It seems very mysterious to the purchaser, but the calculation is mathematically correct, as you can prove with your watch.

But you started the argument without watch in hand to put the dictator through his paces—and you thus bring out your point.

Read the regular circular describing the pedal of the pneumatic foot-rip. Note that we furnish a special graphite lubricant in tubes, price 25c list; this is put up in our Laboratory. You had better order a tube TO-DAY.

Here's where you can help us!

Laurence Lucker—know him? Our Dealer in Minneapolis.

Laurence called in to see the Editor at Orange and had time for communicating this one idea —to be passed out to the other Dealers through Tips.

"THINK OF ALL THE MEN YOU KNOW WHO DICTATE TO THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH, AND THEN THINK HOW THEY EMPLOY ANY OTHER TIME IF THEY EMPLOY ANY THE PHONOGRAPH."

I did some thinking.

No, the men who use voice-writing as dictators do not generally use an Adding Machine, Typewriting Machine or any of the other time-Duplicating Machine or any of the other time-saving office appliances you see advertised—those machines are used by superamanuenses.

The idea is good.

Let's put salt on its tail quick!

Go you to at least one rapid dictator, that we would care to mention in our advertising, and tell us the speed of his dictation. If you do not wish to disturb, get one of his records, put it on a machine, register the speed of the mandrel at the speed at which it was dictated, then transcribe a hundred words and afterwards let these scribe a hundred words talk when you hold a watch. If hundred words talk when you hold a watch. If the time is 35 seconds then the speed is 100 x 60/35 or 171 words per minute.

LET US SEE WHO READS TIPS AND HAS SUFFICIENT INTEREST AND COURTESY TO HELP US BY ANSWERING A REQUEST LIKE THIS.

Read the new catalogue. Show the argument "Stenography vs. Voicewriting" to the stenographers. Remember, the catalogues cost too much for door-step distributing; they are made to follow your business card and help your personality. Don't mail them when a local prospect writes—go and see the prospect and with the catalogue before you, tell the Edison story page-by-page. High class literature is for high class salesmen —respect it as you do yourself.

"No man regrets the flight of time except the one who fails to improve it."

"The man who thinks he can't is usually right."

"Your heart does the work."

PNEUMATIC ATTACHMENTS for $5.00 each, represent—not the full cost, but—the net exchange price for a new for an old trip. To save complications, however, we don't require the old trip back.

Tips

Number 68 May 25, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Last Fall, Mr. V. E. Nichols, Vice-President and Cashier of the First National Bank of Englewood, Chicago, purchased an Edison Business Phonograph and used it in taking descriptions of checks drawn on out-of-town banks which were sent out for collection. His bank thus substituted voice-writing for long-hand in taking records of checks which might be lost in the mail and have to be replaced. The cylinders holding descriptions of the checks are held six weeks without being transcribed or shaved—then they are shaved for use once more. The point is that the Phonograph will "talk" back a record of a lost check, whenever required, which can be done at a small fraction of the expense of a long-hand record.

Mr. Nichols has prepared a very interesting letter of endorsement giving full details of just how he is using the Edison Business Phonograph, and to make the explanation complete we have reproduced as considerable expense, the special adding machine form, in facsimile, as used in the system.

Part of Mr. Nichols' letter tersely says:

"But a small part of the many millions of descriptions of out-of-town checks which banks are perpetually sending to protect themselves against possible loss in the mails, are ever referred to or used, and it therefore becomes very desirable to cut down the cost of taking such descriptions to a minimum. The services of two clerks were formerly needed to handle these items. Since we have commenced using the Edison Business Phonograph one clerk does the same amount of work and finishes it in about one-third of the time;" and finishes it in about one-third of the time;"

These bank endorsements and descriptions will be furnished specially to dealers upon request. Every live dealer is urged to order sets for each of his salesmen to carry, but not to pass out, as the number of copies is not sufficient for general distribution.

Write us to-day. Then tell us later of your experiences with the banks for the information of your brother dealer and ourselves.

It takes years of experience to learn what is the best catalogue for a business—Now we think our new production is just about right.

EVERY locality has several banks. Here is a new system for their use, including the Edison Business Phonograph

Of course you have read it.

Too busy to read it?

Say—look over it as you go home on the cars, and give our advertising department a little encouragement.

And you can't tell, some business man might read the cover as you hold it, and become sufficiently interested to make inquiries and order an equipment.

When you know the Edison catalogue you will realize that it furnishes a series of pictures with texts for the prospect to look at while the salesman turns the pages. "Here's the dictator," "This is the way the transcriber works," "The central transcribing department is what you will eventually have here," "Now, our machine is designed, etc," "You need to buy, now, one."

Go right out and try the effects of this new catalogue canvass on a prospect!

The finished elegant style and business-like get-up of the catalogue will make the prospect have more respect for your goods.

And, above all, don't spoil a fine effect by doubling a rubber stamp on the back page. Have your name printed there. If we can afford the cost of the whole work you should be able to pay the printer a small sum to have your name presented carefully.

Some large concern in your territory wants a discount on purchases, and claim they receive it at another point, which they name. You know the dealer there, so you write and fix up between yourselves to allow the discount that seems proper. This is all wrong—you should tell the whole story to us, and we will give you advice that is sure to be right. To set you straight on this discount question, read this:—quantity discounts should not be talked about to purchasers who can not be induced to purchase outright at least ten machines; rebates on a number of small orders—discounts after a number of small orders —and other irregularities don't go. Err on the right side—make the customer wait until you ask us. And, before you take any unusual action with a customer, think of the hardship you may work on the number of dealers about the country who might be involved in selling branch offices.

TELL US WHAT YOUR BANK SAYS!

HOW about vacations in your own office? Have you appointed understudies in the E. B. P department?

Branch Office Prospects

Learn how to get business from these Branch House prospects.

Every once in a while a dealer makes a plaintive wail because the Home Office of some prospect sells the Branch House prospect (whom he has been trying to sell), not to buy; or else the Home Office ships the machines to the Branch, thus cheating the local dealer out of a sale.

Learn this: FIRST, have a distinct understanding in every installation that the prospect has the power to purchase and that no Home Office can interfere. SECOND, When you have a Branch House prospect and learn that purchases are made or passed upon by the Home Office, write to the prospect's Home Office and explain that you can give as good a discount on equantity purchases as any other dealer, and bequantity purchases as any other dealer, and besides you can give the local service while others cannot. THIRD, Tell the prospect's Home Office that it can obtain the same quantity discounts, by distributing the orders among different dealers in order to obtain local service, as long as it specifies that any order is part of the whole order.

These transactions should be confirmed with us to prevent misunderstandings. Help yourself in the above way and let us add our assistance if you wish.

Don't be a Mollusc!

Ever see "The Mollusc"? It's a play.

A mollusc is a sea animal that does not work for a living—just attaches itself to a rock and absorbs its food from the water.

The moral of the play, of course, is—don't be a mollusc.

This week we were reminded that we have an occasional "mollusc" in our organization. A big firm came to us about the purchase of a number of outfits but the dealer in the prospect's territory was, we are afraid, in the mollusc class. As the prospect came direct to us, it indicated that the dealer was evidently waiting for the tide of business to bring him a living.

In "senology" a mollusc is always a mollusc—but it is different in "Edisonology." We love to turn our mollusc into a man-eating shark with an equal preference for lady stenographers.

WHICH?

A stenographer wishing to say the most horrid thing she could to a successful Edison salesman who had sold her employer a Business Phonograph, remarked, "You ought to be sat upon." Whereupon the cautious salesman got safely behind the director's machine and sent the following phonogram for the lady to hear: "You have told me I ought to be sat upon. Is this a promise or a threat?"

Tips on the Universal Motor

If the reader will read page 11 of the instruction sheet which accompanies each Business Phonograph outfit he will find these words (referring to the Universal Motor):

"Remember that if a slightly greater speed or power is required in the motor no harm can be done by changing the electrical resistance as far as one inch from the mark on the plate."

Bear the above in mind when the Universal Motor does not start readily and the pointer on the resistance is set at the normal mark.

This is the great advantage of a variable resistance. The motor may start all right in the slop under the exact electrical conditions named on the resistance plate, but, local conditions may vary with a low voltage or frequency, requiring more current in the motor, with a consequent changing of the resistance.

Moving the pointer on the resistance, toward the Binding Posts, allows more current to flow in the motor.

Remember, too, that it is not necessary to soak the bearings of this motor with oil; the motor will use only a tiny amount of oil each day and any excess will creep up and finally clog the brushes on the commutator.

Should the commutator and brushes show a very dirty and oily condition it is necessary in some cases to clean them, as follows: Remove the driving and idler pulley and the front, or commutator end, bearing-bracket. Take off the brush holders and soak them over night in gasoline or benzine; also wash off the commutator carefully, replace the brush holders, see that the spring tension is correct, replace end-bracket and pulleys, and the motor will start promptly in any position.

Aluminum hearing tubes are the standard ones now. If your order simply "a hearing tube"—the aluminum is shipped. In the same way a 10-way hearing device includes aluminum hearing tubes—price $20.00 list.

Urge transcribers to brush off cylinders before reproducing, using the camels-hair brush; the wax edges clog up the reproducer point.

"Work for yourself by working for the good of all."

"Yesterday can not be recalled; to-morrow can not be assured; this day only is yours."

"The man that endures is the man that wins."

ARE THERE any parts of your territory unworked? In outlying cities, get the names of the best firms on your mailing list, at least.

Tips

Number 69 — June 1, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

LEARN TO GROW

Supposing you have one or more salesmen that are profitable—why don't you put more of them to work?

Now that some of our dealers have been in business several years, the bad effect of letting their Voicewriting business grow top-heavy with customers is beginning to have a bad effect on their sales force, which has not grown in proportion.

Take a case before us: a dealer with one "service-salesman"—bright and energetic—has sold 200 machines. Now other salesmen should certainly be added.

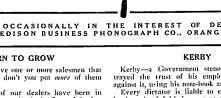
But the dealer leaves the proposition to the one salesman, and he don't want other men on the work, so he struggles between "fool errands" and big prospects, and wishes it was all virgin territory again so he could commence all over and not be "troubled" by those he has sold.

This certainly is the wrong attitude.

Think of the benefit these old customers would be to two or more "service-salesmen" who called on them regularly and use them for references in getting new business!

You know the Edison Business Phonograph is like a mirror—it reflects the man that confronts it.

Leave the customer alone, or be slow in calling on him, and he grows sordid; the machine reflects his attitude, and trouble follows. On the other hand, "pally him up" regularly so that he feels good, and you make him a booster.



Then too, business rivalry among several salesmen is a stimulant that will show in the returns.

Let the first salesman be "boss" if you will—field manager is a good title—but put some ginger in the sales with more men.

Learn to grow!

A minute of judgment is worth a day of energy.

All men are created equal,—the difference is in the development.

"Troubled" By Those He Has Sold

KERBY

Kerby—a Government stenographer—has betrayed the trust of his employer and testified against it, using his note-book as evidence.

Every dictator is liable to experience a similar breach of faith in a greater or lesser degree, when he employs a shorthand amanuensis.

Is the stenographer entirely to blame?

Is not the error in the judgment of the superior in adopting a stenographic system?

Would the shrewd business man choose the average stenographer as a confidant with whom he might discuss his important affairs? We think not!

Yet the stenographer employed in the ordinary way—as we believe Kerby was—practically becomes an assistant to the dictator, whose mind may be filled with great business affairs, and who, in order to put his ideas into concrete form, dictates freely of matters that may be of the utmost importance and secrecy.

HERE IS THE GREAT ADVANTAGE OF VOICE-WRITING IT CONVEYS NO SUGGESTION OF IMPORTANCE TO THE TRANSCRIBER—LEAVES NO TELL-TALE NOTES AFTER THE CYLINDER IS SHAVED.

Money is a great temptation to a moderately paid stenographer to divulge business secrets, although, for the honor of the craft it must be acknowledged that we hear of comparatively few cases of breach of faith on this account. The escape of secrets is more often due to the feeling of self-importance and the almost universal love of sensational gossip when the affairs of business have a dramatic setting.

Had Attorney Lawler employed an Edison Business Phonograph it is not likely that Kerby—lest he been the transcriber—would have realized the importance of the dictation, nor would he probably have been present when correspondence was burned, etc.

And the further moral is, "Destroy your notes with the Edison Safety Shaver."

To be a success, stick like a barnacle to a hog's bottom.

THE COMET certainly pulled up the general Dealer's May business. Did it yours? No? Then perhaps you weren't out "on the trail."

LOOK through every dictation horn and see that the cork in the end is removed. Learn to unpack the outfit.

"Hot" Talks, No. 1

Those talks are addressed to salesmen—men who must earn their living selling goods in hot weather as well as cold.

If you are a real salesman and the thermometer rises high enough to affect a purchaser's temper or his reasons for not buying, the common sense thing to do is,

WORK IN THE COOL OF THE DAY.

In tropical countries, where people learn to live despite the heat, there is always the siesta when the sun is high and no active work is done.

"I'p north" here, we do not have to resort to hammocks between 12 and 4, but we can be wise in arranging to do our least important work at that time.

Arguments for Summer voice-writing are plentiful. The less the dictator feels like working the more need of the best pads when he is active.

Early morning is one of the best times to present your arguments. Make the most of this cool period to tackle your hardest prospective customer.

Prospects arrive fresh to business—they say "Hot day yesterday?" "Going to be hot to-day" —but very seldom "Too hot to argue or think" —in the early morning.

And the salesman in the morning: he too feels better—his linen is clean—he doesn't look like a subject for an ambulance call. Remember: Ill-fitted collars mourn wilted hopes.

So, readjust your schedule of work for Summer. Get to work on the important things early in the day—when it is cool. Do more work, if —or less—when it is cool. Do more work, if you have to, to win—but work when it's coolest when you won't kill your business and your business won't kill you.

Next week we give "Hot" Talks No. 2 on Canvassing in the Evening.

The Rainy Day

Look in at any commercial hotel on a rainy day and note the corridors filled with salesmen.

Did you ever stop to think that some of the biggest orders have been taken on rainy days, when competition is weakest and customers have time to be gracious?

"I have come out in the rain especially to see Mr. Blank. Will you kindly tell him I am waiting?"

What prospect could resist such a salesman's appeal?

You may have cosy chats with your prospect when it is wet outside. The weather seems to say, "We won't be bothered by visitors."

It doesn't rain very often in business hours. Any salesman can afford to have it said of him "He doesn't know enough to come in when it rains."

Rain should whet your appetite for orders.

Whoop 'Er Up

Cut at Ballyvho there was the devilhoopy this week. Ballyvho is a new town to us and it must have been so to four dealers at least. Two local applications for dealerships—all the local banks wiring us what fine fellows the applicants were—old dealers ordering express shipments marked "Rush Ballyvho"; — we haven't had so much going on since we were married. We figured it out that if every territory was worked like Ballyvho was worked last week we would have to keep the factory busy nights and put a special wire in our office. Hurrah for Ballyvho—and the Ballywhoers. Wish all the dealers—four at once—an more, would move on other defenseless cities—and shoot the whole damned country full of phonographs.

The Hog In Us

A telegram just received from a Dealer reads:

"Shall we sell to customer here for use in——?

We confess that this is a more considerate spirit than is shown by many dealers—and we know how hard it must be to act squarely under such circumstances with "good money" (or bad) waiting.

We are all human, and all have a little of the hog in us.

But—are we honest to ourselves when we deliberately get a customer in trouble by shipping Edison Business Phonographs to a distant branch house and so let them make failures of the system to reject on future local business?

We advise the golden rule.

Not only do you as a dealer hurt yourself by selling without a service but you do a bigger wrong to the distant dealer who has no recourse but to lose money for service.

Tips would like to know from any dealer when other dealers inconsiderately make sales outside their locality without advice to anyone.

DON'T grant a discount—a concession of any character,—to a customer until you obtain our advice. Play safe! Don't guess on such an important matter.

WHY should salesmen feel discouraged because prospects are too busy to talk to them, when, if they were'nt busy, they would'et be prospects?

"Think less about your rights, more about your duties."

"Things are never so bad as they seem, and all difficulties sneak away when you look them squarely in the eye."

Tips

Number 70 June 13, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

The Residence Dictation Outfit

We want every dictator (who can arrange to have transcribing done on a Regular Outfit) to use the special Residence Dictation Outfit at home.

You should personally canvass each dictator, showing the descriptive circular. Don't circularize the prospect—go and have a personal talk —it's a ready sale if you present the matter properly.

Here is the canvass: "Mr. Dictator, you often have important letters or ideas that you want to dictate at home, and you know voicewriting is the only convenient and practical way. We have a special Residence Dictation Outfit made for just this use.

"It does not cost much.
"It takes but little room.
"It is easily stored, out of sight.

"Place the cylinders and dictation pads in a drawer; close the hinged cover down with the sneaking tube underneath—and put the machine in an out-of-the-way corner.

"Suppose you are indisposed and stay at home for a day. The office boy brings your important mail up to your house and waits to carry back the cylinders. You could dictate personal directions to assistants or remarks to your chief at the office—and the contents of these cylinders could be 'heard' on an office machine, without transcribing them.

"Here you have a 'telephone with a memory' and the time at home to dictate complete and private communications."

Remember it is not good practice to sell this outfit for transcribing.

The Residence Dictation Outfit has purposely been designed to boost the summer sales; talk it up for summer homes and for the use of business men who wish to be freed as much as possible from office routine in the heated term.

Through the medium of this outfit the enterprising dealer has also an opportunity of interesting public transcribers to do work for home dictators and for business and professional men whose affairs are not large enough to require the employment of a stenographer. It might pay a dealer to have his own transcriber do work of this kind, if she is thoroughly capable.

We caution the dealer on these two points: First: Order the Residence Dictation Outfit from us, and obtain a cabinet without holes or slots; Second: Don't change the special outfit, but if changes are desired, sell the Regular Outfit; Third: Read and understand the contents of circular letter No. 35 announcing the particulars.

IT may be inconvenient for you to canvass the dictators—but think of the convenience to them of using such an outfit this summer!

TEACH VOICEWRITING even if you teach stenography at the same time. Ignorance is our greatest enemy.

The New Edison Dictation Records

When you read this you will have received Circular Letter No. 35 describing the Edison Dictation Records and instructing dealers in the details of their sale.

There are twenty-five of these gold moulded records; they are 100 threads to the inch; and they are the amusement size—4 inches long.

Mr. J. N. Kimball, the well-known stenographic expert, with offices and school at 1338 Broadway, New York City, prepared the matter and dictated the master records.

Mr. Kimball is without doubt the best known Champion of speed work in the stenographic and typewriting professions. The International Typewriting and Stenographic Speed Contests are held yearly under his directions, and he is a constant contributor to current literature on those subjects.

"Why do you make appliances to help stenographers?" is a natural question.

Well, we wouldn't if they didn't learn voicewriting at the same time.

We want you to read the page "Stenography vs. Typewriting" in our new catalog—then you will understand our breadminded views on the stenographic situation.

In our opinion, it pays to make stenographers familiar with our proposition. The only preventive on our part is that they become expert in two systems of ammunosis work.

Edison Dictation Records are the perfection of voicewriting; the enunciation is exact; the tone broad and loud; the voice pleasant and humanlike. Stenographers who hear these records know that voicewriting is a practical need, even if they don't acknowledge it.

Ignorance of our proposition is the greatest enemy we have.

So much for intentions—now to the practice. It is estimated that 200 Commercial Schools are helping their pupils with the Edison Business Phonograph. Also that thousands of amusement machines are giving stenographic practice at home to "graduates." None of these schedules have had the advantage of more than a personally dictated record on a soft wax cylinder.

HERE ARE THE FIRST PERFECT MOULDED PHONOGRAPHIC DICTATION RECORDS THAT HAVE BEEN GENERALLY OFFERED FOR SALE BY AN ORGANIZATION.

Commercial School teachers and pupils will recognize their pedagogic value. Speeds and vocabulary have been carefully considered. The records are more than mere "canned talk"—they are systematized instruction, and as such are easily recognized.

EVERY DEALER SHOULD ORDER A SET OF DICTATION RECORDS AT ONCE AND DEMONSTRATE THEM TO THE COMMERCIAL SCHOOLS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE LOCALITIES.

Remember: A Business Phonograph to operate them must be 100 threads fered; known as the 3 minute model. We have made the records of this tiered because all amusement machines are available for their use, and also because Business Phonographs having a coarse thread do not wear the wax by constant repetition.

An attractive poster and descriptive circular have been prepared for advertising. Order these promptly to be shipped with other goods weighing over 100 lbs.

"Hot" Talks No. 2

Solicit business in the evening—then it is cool and the prospect is apt to be sociable while he is away from business cares. Many salesmen in other lines canvass in the evening the year through—and for less profit than there is in the sale of the Edison Business Phonograph. Take a Residence Dictation Outfit to the home of your customers at night and show them its value; where it will be used; where the wife can agree with your arguments; where a machine belongs and a stenographer is less appreciated.

They're not in our Weight

Curtiss recently flew in his aeroplane from Albany to Governor's Island. They say this is the beginning of real aerial navigation. Well, if that's the case we may as well begin to circularize the aviators so that we can sell them an Edison Business Phonograph when they get "up in the air" with their correspondence. What lady stenographer would be flighty enough to fly with a man in the air, when "taxies" are around the corner? And, mind you, if she does butt into this new field of ours, it will be a case of meeting us at our machine weights—50 pounds—and will exclude the "experienced old stenographer." Business is surely looking up. "Pot-hooks" won't hold the men when they can fly away,—talk to an Edison Business Phonograph,—and have nobody to talk back.

WHY should you and I work and strive to overcome difficulties in order that we may finally succeed, when there are forty-three good reasons why we might fail?

"Do not think the other fellow's opportunities have been greater than yours; he made them."

"Lazy men are just as useless as dead ones and take up more room."

RESIDENCE Dictation Outfits will be more appreciated in the home than the stenographer in the office.

Sips

Number 71 June 18, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

In the face of all of our cautions, about talking a firm's word for it that they receive a discount for quantity purchases elsewhere, and in spite of our pleadings and commands to consult us in all such questions, we just had a case of "bone-head" with one of our most conservative dealers.

The local customer, who was purchasing two machines, said "We receive a discount of 10% in view of the large number of machines we purchase for use about the country, so we must have the same discount here at this branch office."

Now, the dealer knew that he was selling a large user. The mistake he made was in taking the customer's word that they had purchased twenty-five (25) machines of one time, entailing them to the fifteen (15) per cent. quantity discount.

The dealer should have said to the customer "This question of discount will have to be referred to the Edison Co.; I will have their advice in a few days."

As a matter of fact, this customer has practically told us that quantity purchases on their part are out of the question. "When any of our branch distributers want machines they will buy them."

They have never bought more than a few machines at a time and never received a discount of any kind.

HOW to use the privilege of quantity discounts.

STENCIL THIS ON YOUR MEMORY

Quality discounts are given only for purchases of 10, 25 or 50 Phonographs at one time, and the purchases are not accumulative. Never accept any advice but ours when in doubt about these discounts.

For instance, a customer could purchase any number of machines, less than ten at a time, and never be entitled to a discount.

Having established a discount by the purchase of any of the three quantities of phonographs (10, 25 or 50) the customer receives this in the future. Cylinder prices are governed by quantities purchased and accessories are never discounted.

Our dealers being scattered in every corner of the earth, there is only one possible discount arrangement, and that is the present one. It is open-and-shut. Buy the quantity and get the discount. Show a lack of confidence, and buy two at a time, and there is nothing coming to you.

Buy a quantity of almost anything, and you can get it cheaper. Have one room in your house papered and it will cost more, proportionally, than if you had ten rooms done at once.

Dealers should remember, however, that we allow them to give discounts for quantity purchases—but we do not oblige them to. We had a case brought to our attention the other day, where the dealer could not afford to give the limit of discount for a purchase of fifty machines, because the customer was located far out from the center of a city and service cost too much under the conditions.

THIS DEPARTURE FROM THE COMMON DISCOUNT, HOWEVER, WAS FULLY DISCUSSED AND UNDERSTOOD BY THE CUSTOMER. TO MAINTAIN THE ONE-PRICE EDISON PLAN IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT EVERY DEALER SELLS ALIKE EXCEPT IN SPECIAL CASES.

We think that every salesman should know of the quantity-purchase discount, for this is often a great inducement in making large sales. The intelligent salesman, however, does not get in trouble by making discount quotations that conditions will not allow.

A voice on the telephone says "Do you allow any discounts?—is your best price $90.00?" Don't tell the story of your life in a case like this, and quote quantity-purchase discounts. You may be quoting your foot in it with some old customer who has been buying one machine a month until he has acquired ten.

On the other hand, if you are discreet, you can make a strong closing point with the discount which is allowable. When a customer knows that anybody gets a certain discount under certain conditions he wants a better one—offering the regular arguments,—"See who we are," "Look at the advertisement in selling us," "We must have more than ordinary purchasers," etc.

Hold your discount quotations until you know it will be an effective argument for selling ten or more machines. Don't let it become a boomerang on promptly closing an installation of less than ten. Quantity purchase discounts are like whiskey —a good stimulant when used at the right time.

THINK of every customer you have sold and approach him—personally or by letter—to buy a Residence Dictation Outfit.

ALL the dictators will not be away, idle, or lazy, this summer. For instance, Teddy Roosevelt—he's on the job.

The Ways of an Easy Loser

Generosity, in giving away your salary or commissions, is all right if you don't kick later on about being "broke."

An Edison salesman who deliberately allows a competitor to use his accessories on competitive machines exhibits the sportive carelessness usually attributed to the author ashore. This thoughtlessness hurts his future and the future of our product, besides.

Weary years have been spent on the design of many of the accessories that go with an Edison Business Phonograph. To sell them, or allow them to be used on any other than an Edison machine, when you know such a procedure will work an injury to you, is wrong in principle and pernicious.

We don't blame a conniving salesman: he wants to obtain the horn, or the aluminum tube, or the cylinders, that will bring him the best results and his machine.

And the most foolish case of this kind is to allow a customer to obtain two kinds of machines on trial and then mix up the accessories in use, so that the distinct mark of excellence for the Edison equipment is not apparent.

Get wise!

The Stamp of Success

Are you boosting that rubber stamp "Dictated to, etc" An English firm saw the stamp on one of our American Customer's letters the other day and wrote for information. There are fully 100,000 letters mailed a day bearing our advertisements. Could there be anything better? A sample of the system's worth, an acknowledgment of time saving in every line.

Boost the stamp.

Dealers are often slow in this, as evidenced by the many direct requests from customers who read the instruction sheet.

No Leafing

A very attractive post-card with silhouette cuts comes to us from our Seattle Dealer, Eller's Music House. This post-card contains an invitation to attend demonstrations of the Edison Business Phonograph during the week mentioned, between the hours of 11.30 A. M. and 1.30 P. M. and from 4.30 to 6 P. M.

Borgum, the Edison salesman, is winning business by activities like this. He wrests office business while he's in—and also takes time to go out canvassing—so he advertises office hours—Catch the idea?

Judge—"How old are you, Miss?"
Elderly typewriter lady—"I am—I am—I am—"

Judge—"Better hurry up; every moment makes it worse."

"Hot Talks" No. 3

Salesmen in every line bear an almost insignificant proportion in number to those whom they influence towards the purchase of their goods.

You have the short end of the commercial lever. Early and late you may "plug" to improve your condition only a little—but at the other end of the lever you have moved the prospect toward the balance of trade at much greater speed than you often appreciate.

Summer places more weight on "the long end." Will you match it at the short end, by clever sales plans—more judicious hours of work—that will add to your forces and keep the balance true?

Choose, now, on which side of the balance you will add the weight of your effort.

Choose the Edison end!

Edison Backing

We got into a lot competition, the other day, for an order for 10,000 cylinders. The customer was told to begin with that he could buy cylinders weighing 272½ more than ours. When the whole row was over, and we had spent about $7.00 worth of telegrams, the dealer got the order on all the counts. It certainly pays to put up a fight. We wouldn't be in the talking machine business if we couldn't "save" back. Any time you need anyone in your corner—call on us.

WHY does the peevish gentleman think a Universal machine should have a spring motor price because he has a crank?

'Twixt the optimist and pessimist
The difference is quite droll,
One, looks above the horn and speaks in it,
The other views the hole.

"Each morn, if you would rightly live
On this terrestrial ball,
Name o'er your foes, and then forgive,
Else don't get up at all."

CIRCULARIZE the pastors of large churches. They are fine prospects with no stenographic departments to give an opinion.

Our Fifth Anniversary

Sips

July, 1905
July, 1910

Number 72 — July 8, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

About July 4th, we will be shooting off fireworks, or celebrating otherwise if we pick the winner in the prize-fight, still a mild occasion like a Fifth Anniversary of the Edison Business Phonograph will probably not cause excitement or comment.

However, when we reflect that through the efforts of our organization, we are actually securing at the present time over half a million dollars a year from the public in exchange for our product, a laudable pride in creating such an industry is excusable.

In the five years passed, Edison has led in the advancement of the voicewriting art. Here are some of the inventions and plans that have established standards in the business.

The Dictation Index, which makes corrections easy. Instant Repetition for the Dictator: one of the principal reasons for failure in the past to interest the average business man. One hundred and fifty thousand feed, saving 50% of the customer's cylinder expense. The fast alternating current motor which made it possible to successfully sell 90% of the world's territory, before unsolicited. Universal use of the Business Phonograph on any electric lighting current, or on any office use; this made it practical to interest dealers in selling. A Power Shaving Device that removed the chips, and made shaving a clean and easy task.

Five years ago, there were no standard equipments—hence no standard prices—and $60.00 was the price of a machine before Edison entered the field and established standard outfits and the one-price system. The Edison price was, at once, increased to $75.00, and for the first time profits were provided to support active advertising and selling plans.

But, what has stimulated invention and suggested better prices and new selling plans if not the activity of the Edison Dealer? He brought the orders—the money—without which, even an Edison project must eventually fail.

The average dealer has done his part in the double team—Manufacture and Selling. Either member working alone or half-assisted, would not have moved the business. Together, our effort has been irresistible.

We are progressing just in proportion to our ability to co-operate. Let manufacture weaken in producing better goods—better ideas—and Sales are retarded. Let the salesman fail to move the goods—put them in practice—and manufacture must stop until he does.

LOYALTY to the Edison product by our Dealers has been an asset in our sales campaign that we highly value.

We have educated and trained many salesmen in the voicewriting field and to have the confidence and combined support of these men is our constant thought.

Success cannot come to a manufacturer through good goods alone. They require salesmen who are trained to know a good product and appreciate the effort that is made to reduce any shortcomings to the least degree.

Tips is a fair reflection of the spirit at the Edison works that would make every dealer LOYAL to the Business Phonograph.

Everything you see in the voicewriting game that is important was created by ourselves years in advance of others—we say this not in conceit of accomplishment as in pride of being the first to give our trade the latest and best ideas to help them in making money.

This is our claim for loyalty in the future—that we are striving and spending to maintain a supremacy in every branch of our business. Others may "jump up" at times and tempt the thoughtless—transient—dealer or salesman, but the rank and file of the Edison Organization, we think, will not be fickle.

Our whole faith and future lies in the success of our dealers. We have no other offices—no agents—no salesmen—to take profits or credit from them. Good dealers—LOYAL dealers make the successful manufacturer.

KNOWLEDGE, CONFIDENCE, ENTHUSIASM are positive qualities that will lighten the load.

IGNORANCE, HALF-HEARTEDNESS, PESSIMISM, are negative qualities that will clog and stop the commercial machinery.

If-r start on our Ninth Year with a determination to act our part even better than in the past, with five years of experience to guide us.

You deserve the future success that your loyalty in the past has laid the foundation for. Tips and the Edison Business Phonograph Company extend their sincere thanks for a Birthday made possible by your activity.

What we have accomplished in our first five years

THINK how YOU felt when you were five years old—lively—happy—and tickled with the outlook—THAT'S US.

WAX CYLINDERS

warp and blister when exposed directly to the summer sun. How much better it is then, to have them protected in System boxes than to place them unprotected on wooden pegs—the old way.

A LOCAL electrician helped an Edison dealer and his customer in deciding on our design. The electrician's report, after comparison with The competing machine, was in part, as follows:

"The Edison machine, I find very much more efficient of the two in current consumption. The Edison shows a consumption of .7 amperes. This machine has the resistance for either 110 v. or 220 v., while the other has not."

New Classes of Prospects

The dealer, now-a-days, that confines his operations to business offers is missing many opportunities. Two endorsements, printed below, which local dealers have sent us recently, show what may be done in selling clergymen and writers. In this connection do not forget the Residence Dictation Outfit.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 8, 1910.

Dear Mr. Brossell—I have used the Edison Business Phonograph for eight months and am much pleased with my Phonograph for myself and my friends, but I paid little attention as to their opinion of it, for I was fully satisfied myself, but I was not long in finding out that my friends were equally pleased with it, and I have had the pleasure of selling a number of machines to them. I am now in the retail piano business, and as you will see by the enclosed circular, I have a very large mailing list, and I am using it now for ELEVATOR, a paper which I am publishing, and am sending out a circular every week, and am meeting with success. I have also been successful in selling a number of machines to the readers of my paper, and I am sure that I can do a great deal more in the future. I am also using the Phonograph for dictating all of my correspondence, and as soon as my Secretary can take it off, whenever convenient. I am very much pleased with the Phonograph, and would not be without it for any consideration.

If there is any need or with that comes to your attention, that has not been anticipated by the above statement, that I have not discovered it, it is no fault of yours, as I have not discovered it. It is an enormous saving, convenience and satisfaction.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) CHAS. P. LUMMIS.

Walpoleboro, N. C., May 25, 1910.

I can say this, with reference to the Phonograph: I have never had any use into any office are blessing saving time which is equal to it. I do not think I could have gotten along without it, for the sake of my time alone, if I could not have one, I would not take any thing for it. I have found it a very much needed desk, and in a much more satisfactory manner than before. The old system, but this arrangement and convenience in the Phonograph at my side and my stenographer in another room, is much more satisfactory. For the importation of literary I certainly think the Phonograph should be in every study.

Yours very cordially,
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH,
T. W. Chambliss, Pastor.

If you are planning a trip to the East this summer, we hope you will write us in advance and prepare to visit the Edison Works as our guests. When you reach New York telephone 1352 Gramercy and ask to be connected with the Orange Office; there is no charge beyond New York.

Hot Talks, No. 4

A good argument with the prospective dictator and stenographer in Summer; is the privacy she acquires by wearing thin dresses. Why not be reasonable in the manner of dress. Save perfect freedom in this case, turn down his collar, take off his collar—the phonograph supporters, take off his collar—the phonograph never shocked. And the transcriber has her ways of keeping cool, too; she likes to roll up her sleeves, turn down her waist at the neck and generally arrange her dress in ways that would not be becoming for a stenographer taking notes in the presence of the dictator—this difference in the presence of the dictator—this difference in dress has as much effect on the phonograph as it does on her mirror at home.

Oh You Ty!

Have you ever seen Ty Cobb playing base-ball? I often wonder whether Ty was just giving an exhibition or really loved the game, until this article came to my notice in a morning paper:

"Why is Cobb a great ball player? The first and most important reason is that he loves the game. I never have seen a man who had his heart more in baseball. If Cobb was not a baseball player he would be playing some game that Cobb was not a baseball player he would be playing some game that he could love as much as baseball. If he were only a ball player he would be glad to take any salary or think more of base ball than Cobb does. Cobb, being a bright young man, naturally sees that he is getting a big salary for playing baseball, and he likes baseball, and so he is in baseball for a profession. Furthermore, baseball is a game that requires brains, and Cobb is one of the people who has enough brains to understand that they can employ nothing but money ball players and be glad to take any thing for the receipts. But I believe Cobb owns stock in three baseball clubs, and if he were charged something for the privilege of playing baseball he would be sure to pay it, and if he were charged something for the privilege of playing baseball he would be sure to pay it, and if he were charged something for the privilege, and if he were charged something for the privilege, and if he were charged something for the privilege

PITY THOSE WHO NEVER KNOW THE REWARDS OF EFFORT

Organizing a Customer's Plant

An intimate study of conditions in a plant of thirty Edison machines disclosed many interesting facts.

The first and most important fact was that the genuineness responsible for the mechanical success of the system hardly knew a recorder from a reproducer. The dealer having finished with his most active work in selling the plant was obliged to see it placed in the hands of a man who admitted his inability to cope with the most ordinary voice-writing problems.

Second: there were no records kept in the transcribing department by which individual efficiency or total economy could be calculated.

Third: if a new cleanser appeared, no one took the interest to inspect him properly, but he learned voice-writing by transcriber's complaints.

Mind, this was a successful plant and as far as present results go there can be no dispute about efficiency.

But will this condition always remain?

We mean to show how much better and stronger such a customer could be organized with the object of preventing carelessness after a time, when familiarity with the system is liable to breed inattention to details.

These are the plans we recommended and which will be adopted at once.

I. The caretaker of the machines, being shown mechanically, was not to attempt any emergency assistance at first but have the recorders from the transcribing machines and one extra machine, ready for substitution when trouble was reported.

II. The following records were arranged to be kept in the transcribing department:

First: Weekly records of the follies transcribed and copied by each operator.

Second: The number of cylinders received for transcribing at the different hours. (With this record the management could correct the tendency to crowd work into the later hours.)

Third: Weekly records of the number of cylinders dictated by each correspondent with remarks about any difficulty encountered in transcribing due to poor dictation.

III. The head of each department where dictation was done to be responsible for "breaking in" new dictators and act on advice from the head transcriber concerning poor dictation.

This organized effort in the customer's office was needed to cement the interests of all departments; as it was, no one of the departments heads would take the initiative to do what should be done for the good of all.

Now, with the help of the dealer, this groove-ing plant should increase and prosper. Their experiences should point out a duty to every intelligent dealer who has more than a "days, 10 days' easily" interest in his work.

Individual mental attitude is essential but "organized" mental attitude beater and corrects the little faults in color-scribing which tend to break down the surest of our system in force.

Learn Your Book

Let the dealer take an interest in this organization of his customer's office, and he will save himself trouble, expense and misunderstanding while the work he does will bear fruit in unsonnic re-orders.

In a recent investigation by the Government the president of a corporation was asked for a few facts. He replied: "You can have them all." Then he gave the committee all the facts that were asked for—right off the tongue—any date, any figure, any technicality, any detail.

Not strange that he is at the head of his concern.

There's a reason.

How many Edison salesmen can tell all about their proposition, without "looking it up."

What is the weight of a machine? How many letters does the average stenographer write? How fast does the average dictator speak to a stenographer? What is the record for typewriting speed?—for shorthand? How many words ing speed?—for shorthand? How many words does an entire cylinder hold in his life? What does an entire dictators make in voice-writing? What are you starving for several customers?

Get a book—write down facts—learn them, so you can sell them "right off the tongue."

Ask us some questions—we will help.

Time works wonders. So would men if they put in twenty-four hours a day as Time does.

Credit absorbed—like a drug store confectionary vanishes overnight.

IF I SHOULD DIE TO-NIGHT

If I should die to-night
And you should come to my corpse and say,
Weeping and wailing your my lifeless clay—
If I should die to-night,
And you should come in the midst of your woe—
Your every thought other than this you know,
Just say, "Here's that ten dollars that I owe,"
I might arise in my white cravat
And say, "What's that?"

If I should die to-night
And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel,
Clasping my hand in yours and call me your feel—
If I should die to-night
I say, if I should die to-night
And you should come all alone to me, and there and then
Just even bring back part of the ten,
I might arise the while,
But I'd drop dead again.

—Ben King.

"Don't be a knocker. If you work for a man, in heaven's name, work for him."

"The industrious man is light-hearted—the man who works is the happy man."

N. B.: Never attempt to adjust the speaker arm for a thicker or thinner Cylinder than the Phonograph is designed for. When the low limit is reached throw the Cylinder away.

Tips

Number 74 July 28, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

The New Universal Motor Brush Device

The brushes on the Universal Motor are generally satisfactory and thousands of successful plants are operating to-day with the design of brushes you are familiar with.

But the practice of two years has shown us that in some cases the customer cannot be depended upon to place a small amount of oil in the motor bearings—the oil is "sniffed" everywhere else, it seems, principally, on the brushes and commutator.

We have, therefore, made a new arrangement of detachable tension springs to hold the brushes on the commutator, lessening the harm that oil and dirt does and allowing the brushes to be more readily removed for cleaning.

All Universal Motors shipped in the future will have this new construction.

New brush parts, that can be quickly attached on any old motor will be shipped as ordered at the nominal price of 50c list, when the old brushes are returned.

The only instructions we will issue on the attachment of the new brushes is as follows:

Referring to the illustration the new parts of one motor are: Brushes (a), two brush pins (b), two springs (c), two fibre washers (d).

Cost of Exchange of Parts On Any Old Motor 50c List.

Proceed by removing the belt and motor pulley; then the pulley by releasing the screw and the spring from the upper bend screw; finally remove the screws holding the left end of the motor and bearing for the motor shaft, exposing the brushes and commutator.

The old brushes should now be removed and the cover, if it has not already been taken off. The ends on which the brushes turn have a small bore at the point where the pins pass through in the top, this bore should be removed.

Place the new brushes in position and insert the pins (b) in the bore of the post as shown. The pins (b) should move freely and drop on the commutator of their own weight.

The fibre washers (d) have an upright slit in one end to which the springs (c) should be attached. Place the washers on the springs attached to brushes (a) and (b) and, using the machine screws remove the old brushes. Connect the springs to the brushes and see that they do not interfere with the oil slot (m); if desired the fibre washer may be turned to change their position or tension.

The new springs are a little slight length to compensate for wear properly on the cylinder; by lifting the brush up with the finger the tension can be ascertained and increased if for any reason the spring has been lengthened. A very light tension is required, too strong a tension will waste the power and cause heating.

Replace the new ball bearing, the motor pulley on the shaft, and the idler pulley with spring to give the right tension on the belt. Use care to assemble the cup to the left side of motor with the oil hole on top; tighten all the screws evenly, as care has to spring the bearing and cause the shaft to bind.

See that the motor turns freely before using. If there is slight scorching at the brushes, let the motor run and they will adjust themselves to the commutator.

Remove the old brushes for credit.

In overhauling a motor the cleaning of the commutator is always desirable. Dealers should remember the Commutator Cleaner we give away for this purpose; we do not touch, however, to give them to customers except when we understand their mechanical ability.

Commutators can be cleaned much more quickly when running at high speed; remove the governor on the right end of the motor and start the motor for short periods at the high speed, when cleaning.

The adjustment of the sliding resistance (on the back of the cabinet) is important. A little more or less current will often cure a motor trouble and this adjustable feature is one advantage in Edison design not enjoyed by others.

Improvements in design will never end; they should be welcome because they immediately increase sales and lower selling expense. But improvements do not not imply defects in our improvements do not not imply defects in our case we do but better the best. We do not conceal improvements for this reason: we advertise our advancements; and if small nominal charges are necessary for new parts and the dealer must reforate the they are desirable, customer to meet them. To penalize the manufacturer for improvements is to kill progress.

A CUSTOMER will often appreciate your enterprise in taking a machine to your shop and thoroughly over-hauling it for a reasonable charge; it is better than "tinkering" in his office

THE dealer must be a USER to educate the AB-USER.

Important Rules in Recording

Two small but very important details of voicewriting were discussed with one of our dealers, the other day.

We were saying that the most vital rule for the dictator to learn, was the art of fattening to the cut of the recorder on the wax cylinder before speaking. This need not consist of the laborious effort of pleuing the ear to the end of the horn; just a slight turn of the head to catch the true cutting sound of a good recorder is enough.

Every user of more than one Edison machine has extra recorders not required in transcribing. These extra recorders should be carefully put away to be used when some accident happens to a dictating machine.

Every salesman should give this much instruction at least; show a customer how to restruction at least; show a customer how to replace a pone recorder; and also tell the customer to send bad recorders to us for repairs at cost (just as the dealer does with us). In leisure (just as the dealer does with us). In this way, small repair calls can be avoided.

It further developed in conversation that one of our dealers had on a certain occasion readjusted the speaker arm to allow the recorder to touch a thinner cylinder than it would normally reach.

This is very poor practice.

All machines are adjusted at the factory for certain "high and low" limits. That is, the speaker arm, holding the recorder and reproducer, is limited (by a set screw in the center of the arm casting) between the highest cylinder and the lowest cylinder that the machine should operate upon.

To lower the low limit is wrong because the cylinder becomes too thin for practical use.

When cylinders commence to show a small diameter from shaving it is wise to try all of these suspiciously small cylinders on a regular phonograph and put them out of commission if they are below the lower limit of the recorder.

My Stenographer won't let me!

We hear occasionally that hen-pecked excuse, "My stenographer won't let me"; and only last week had to write some arguments for a dealer to present to a poor, defenseless male, who probably said to the salesman; "If you can think up something to say to her, let's have it."

Here was an agency of the R. C. Dun Co.; the woman stenographer had been employed there for years and understood the business thoroughly; the work grew too much for her to handle; she would not use voicewriting; but she would agree to having another stenographer employed with duties like her own.

Now, champions of the Edison Business Phonograph should not shove on over-zealous desire to exclude stenography in favor of voicewriting entirely. Read our new catalogue, "Stenography vs. Voicewriting" to know our attitude on this point. It covers this case very sensibly.

Where this stenographer showed poor judgment, was allowing the "boss" to employ another woman to divide the work with her; other woman to divide the work with her; other woman to divide the work with her; other

I AM TOLD THAT SUCCESS COMES IN CANS.—FAILURES IN CAN'TS

NOW'S the time to take it easy. For—the weather may make you uncomfortable at times and it will be liable to try your patience unless you take it easy.

Taking it easy doesn't mean—lay off work and sit around thinking how hot it is and making yourself hotter by useless kicking.

Not by a long chalk.

That's not really taking it easy at all.

The more you think about the weather, the hotter it will seem and the less you think about it, the less you'll care.

Forget it altogether, keep busy and—you'll find you're beginning to take it easy without realizing.

Now—when I say "keep busy" don't think I'm going to tell you to hustle, and get all worked-up so you will fuss with everybody around you, get in rows, probably lose some of your best friends and, at any rate, make a lot of new enemies.

That's no kind of advice for a man to follow in the month of August.

And—that's not the kind of "taking it easy" that gets results—which is exactly what I'm going to talk about.

Yes, sir! I'm going to tell you how taking it easy gets results.

Ever watch two fellows in an argument and notice how the cool one—the one who takes it easy—wins out?

Did you also notice how hot the other fellow got—what a lot of energy he wastes and—how he loses out?

It's the man who keeps cool—the one who relaxes—the one who does his work with a lot of reserve energy left over—who gets most results for least effort.

Summer is the very best time to get such results, because summer is the best time to relax.

In summer you aren't carrying around any excess weight clothes. You aren't apt to overeat. You realize you need a lot of sleep and rest. You realize you need a lot of days when you take it. You are out-of-doors a lot in summer, breathing the fresh air and getting into condition. Your circulation is good in summer, your pores are all open and, if you go about your work sensibly, your summer health is the best health of all the year.

This is why men think easier and faster in summer time.

So—now is the time for you to do the thinking and planning which will produce a lot of results for you later on.

You've got a lot of problems to solve. Now's the time to ponder them. Now's the time to think and study out the solution of these problems. Now's the easiest and best time to find out how to do a whole lot of things you've been wanting to do for ever so long.

Take your time about it—take it easy but—keep thinking.

The rest will take care of itself. You'll get so interested thinking what you're going to do, that first you know, you'll be wanting to "try out" some of your new ideas.

Then—you'll find yourself getting into your own and has to go see some tough old codger you've been wanting to land for months so you can try your new plans with him and see how they work.

You'll find yourself approaching him from a different direction than any you've ever tried before, too.

You'll take a different way of getting at him and, when you do get him, you'll take it easy and, before you know it, you'll have him landed because your relaxation will tend to make him loosen up also.

That's the way to get results in hot weather—take it easy.

Don't add to possible irritation by asking any man "Is it hot enough for you?"

Anybody can ask such a question—most fools do ask it—and some fortunate ones (if they learn by experience) get kicked for doing it. The reason such a question is irritating is because it suggests an increase of heat which may already seem unbearable.

If you must say something about the weather—and you can conscientiously make such a statement—say you "understand there's a cool wave coming."

That will be a pleasant suggestion, at any rate.

Don't try to talk with a customer when he's manifestly "too hot." Tell him you see he's too busy—that you will come around some other time—and make your "get away" quickly.

That saves your time and his and he'll like you for all the better the next time he sees you.

If you think a customer is not up to stand a little conversation, try to make what you say reduce his temperature.

This may sound impossible but—it isn't, as you can easily find out by trying.

Your temper and manner will make a great difference. Keep sweet, keep a cool mind and—take it easy.

Buyers are thinking out their plans for the fall right now. This is the time for "missionary work" but—don't forget to keep your thinker relaxed so it may act freely.

Don't get "all het up."

That reduces your energy and your earning power.

Keep cool! Take it easy.

That saves your strength and increases your earning power.

All things get further ahead of him who wails.

It makes a lot of difference to a man's future whether he begins the day with the object of finishing his task, or whether he merely begins his task with the object of finishing the day.

TAKE IT EASY

By George B. Spencer in "Office Appliances"

When you strike a firm where the woman runs the business, talk to the silent partner—he may see much virtue in another talking machine for an assistant.

Tips

Number 76 August 20, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

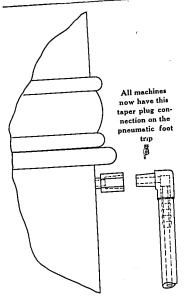
Are You Prepared for the Fall Season?

HOW is your stock? Can you say to a prospect—while his interest is alive—"We'll have the machines installed TODAY." Or, must you show your sideline attitude by promising the goods "when we get them in?"

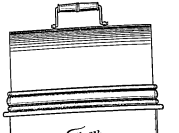
Business to-day is done by the merchant or salesman who has the goods to show and deliver. Ninety per cent. of the prospect's ardor for purchasing is cooled when he believes he is causing trouble; he argues "if the salesman hasn't got goods to deliver it's probably because there is no demand."

Encourage the prospect to say: "Don't order machines for me specially—because I really might not buy them after all"—and you have lost that sale. D'-ye-mind?

Are you alive—hopeful—confident of your abilities?



Then, you know what you can sell and you need the goods to deliver.



We're not pushing you for orders—just introducing you to business demands that surely will prevail this Fall.

And you get to-day the latest type of machine; the only kind—down to a screw—that you will be able to order for a long time. Mr. Dealer—let us introduce Mr. O. P. Portunity.

If you are a loyal Edison Dealer a "Fall-Down" is impossible.

BE OUT FOR BUSINESS WITH THE NEW FALL LINE!

The Fall Line

Well, we are on the job with as fine a model of voicewriter for the Fall business as ever came from the home of the Phonograph.

The pneumatic foot-trip parts are now built on the machine and not attached. See the cut in the catalogue. Cabinets are furnished like the illustration with a deep moulding at the base and the word "Edison" in small neat letters.

The top plate casing has been rounded on the edges and increased in thickness to give a more artistic finish.

Altogether, the machine presents a carefully developed mechanical appearance which is the result of five years' labor.

Yet, while these improvements will add materially to our sales arguments and create better impressions, there are no changes so radical that a dealer's old stock will be unsalable. The Edison policy of improving one design so that all new parts can be added to old designs is maintained, although we do not advise any one to be worried about improvements—for they are all good Phonographs.

Everybody is stepping lively these days—for, It's west, in order to meet the demands of the progressive dealer and the trade—and,

You should keep up in the procession and not hold back the arrival of the whole army of Edison salesmen.

There will be those who read this and commence to be anxious about "those machines in the back room."

It's never too late to mend. You don't have to "bring any machine up-to-date" to sell it. Months ago when you bought them it was the latest thing and thousands of them were being sold—just as you can NOW, if you try.

When you start your trying don't stop with your old stock. Necessity has kicked many a man into Good Luck. Keep up the good work. Order the new machines.

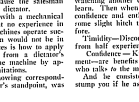
Be a dealer.

THE SELF-CLEANING RACK ROD is now furnished on all Business Phonographs and Shaving machines. The sketch above shows the long spiral groove which is milled in the back rod for this purpose. Formerly, this rod, on which the speaker arm slides, was not milled and it was possible for an accumulation of wax and dirt to gum up the parts. By milling the rod, one movement of the arm across, cleans the surface and forces the dirt into the groove, afterwards allowing the arm to slide freely.

THAT PROSPECT OF YOURS IS ABOUT HOME NOW!

Tips

Number 77 August 24, 1910



ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

THE story of the hunter's dog that chased the fox and was reported later by a farmer to be slightly in the lead, is somewhat like the Edison dealer who starts in chasing prospects and later allows the prospects to chase him.

We believe that a primary cause for discouraging results lies in unfamiliarity with the Edison Business Phonographs because the salesman does not use it practically as a dictator.

Salesmen often go to work with a mechanical knowledge of the machine, but no experience in actual voice-writing. Our machines operate successfully, or thousands of them would not be in use. The trouble in most offices is how to apply them—to know the machine from a dictator's standpoint—to make use of the machine by appreciating its abilities and limitations.

For instance, the Editor knowing correspondence troubles from the dictator's standpoint, was called to straighten out a tangle where "machines" were blamed for all the trouble. We found that 95% of the kicks were the result of a poor office system; dictators were paid to rush out correspondence, which they did at 250 words a minute, speaking about as distinctly as a side-show barker. A day in this salesman's office, brought the dictators and transcribers together and secured the co-operation that got the letter mailed—not delayed.

"This is the way I do."

If the Editor had not used voice-writing personally and been familiar with the details of correspondence, it is a question if we would not have been still looking for "machine" trouble outside of the human machine.

Do you dictate your mail by voice-writing?

Why not?

"OH! I'm just a salesman that doesn't have occasion to dictate." Well, let's find a way. Arrange with your boss so that you can dictate a daily report—follow up the results in transcribing—see for yourself, and know how you succeed with voice-writing—and then you can canvass with your own simple story of continued experience and not an imaginary operation.

Is your office too small for a stenographer, Mr. Dealer? Can't you employ someone who does operate a typewriter along with other duties, if it is only for the few letters you write us? Dictate! Transcribe! Use and study what you are selling—what you pretend to advise about.

We know of one small dealer, who did his own typewriting; he took our advice, dictated his correspondence to the Edison Business Phonograph and transcribed it himself; in this way he quickly learned both ends of the business.

The Edison Business Phonograph is like a cow. You can't learn to milk one by standing by and watching another do the work. Grab hold and learn. Then when you instruct another you have confidence and enthusiasm that is not jarred by some slight hitch that you never "observed" before.

Timidity—Discouragement—Pessimism — grow from half experience.

Confidence — Knowledge — Strength-to-Argument—are benefits which the salesman derives who talks to the machine and also talks about it.

And be consistent. Don't let the prospect stump you if he asks that embarrassing question,

"Why don't you use voice-writing in your office?"

We use forty machines here. From the President to the smallest assistant we write with our voice.

YOU MUST BE A USER TO RECOGNIZE THE AB-USER.

MAKE YOUR VOICE WRITE TO-DAY.

And when salesmen know that their employer's office uses the E. B. P. successfully it will help them more than first appears.

Wherever the salesman may be can start with confidence, "Drop in our office any time and see the system in operation." The shy prospect that fears having a salesman talk him off his feet will go to the dealer's office unobserved and take in what he sees.

When a prospect calls it is not necessary to have a trained E. B. P. salesman take charge. Any one that happens to be around can show what you are doing in a more sincere and attractive way by taking the prospect up to a dictator or transcriber to observe them at actual work.

We know a bright salesman that was badly handicapped by his boss, the dealer. He wanted to go out to work but was in constant fear lest some good prospect would call and be "queered." He knew his prospect would get this: "Wait and see the salesman. We don't know anything about it."

Let the dealers who read this ponder on the condition their office is in and the help they are giving the sales by placing the machines in use.

SELLING EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPHS when you don't use them in actual practice yourself is like conducting a Correspondence School to teach swimming.

"THIS IS THE BEST DAY THE WORLD HAS EVER SEEN. TO-MORROW WILL BE BETTER."

EDITOR'S NOTE—This article written by J. N. Kimball, appearing in a current commercial school publication, is interesting for what it shows the troubles of the stenographer her own system of dictation. We do not fully subscribe to repeat these sentiments except with caution.

POOR LITTLE GIRLIE.

Not once, not twice—more than that—more than a hundred times, I believe, have mothers come to me with confidential complaints regarding the treatment received by their daughters at the hands of their employers. In every case it was something like this: "Jennie gets to the office at nine o'clock, and he (meaning the Boss) comes in at any time before twelve. Then he dictates a letter or two, maybe, and goes out, making her remain in the office until one o'clock before she has any lunch. Then she sits around while he talks business with people who call, until it gets to be four o'clock, and then she gets a big list of letters which he wants to sign before he goes home, and it is often half-past six before she gets her supper. Etc., etc. Likewise. Et al. Ad lib."

Now what do you think of that? This is no fancy sketch—it happens oftener than once a month, I assure you. And—it makes me mad every time it occurs.

In the first place what the dickens have I to do with it? Can I go downtown and take that offending individual by the scruff of the neck and shake him until his teeth rattle and he promises to do differently? I don't want this job. I am sorry if "the poor girl" don't get her supper before six-thirty (although it is sometimes ten before six-thirty [although it is sometimes ten before I get mine) but I don't see that I can help it.

But what is really at the root of this thing, anyway? I'll tell you. This "poor little girlie" business is now overdone in every way. Now business has been overdone in every way. Now and again you will see letters printed in the daily press in the same general strain as the complaint I have outlined above—I have one before me now where "the poor little girl is before me to ask her employer when he said, so-and-so did not catch the word," I tell you when she did not catch the word," I tell you the "poor little girlie" business has to go—it has no place in business. Just so busy as she remains "a poor little girlie" she should remain at home. The real trouble is that many young women try to go into business offices at such an immature age that they have neither sense nor ability with which to back up their ambition.

When a girl goes to work she goes into a very different environment than she had at home. It is seldom is it in any way harmful, but it is different. She leaves behind her the attention to her comfort which has surrounded her from babyhood—she is simply a piece of the machinery of the business in which she is engaged, and if the business in which she is engaged, and if the business is any value to her place, for the place must adapt herself to her place, for the place must adapt herself to adapt itself to her. I don't will never try to adapt itself to her. I don't will never try to adapt itself to her. I have said it, know how many hundred times I have said it, but it is always true and therefore bears repeating: a young woman and a young man should stand on the same plane in business—unless she can do this she has no place in business and business has no place for her. In a long experience I have never had father or mother say anything concerning the treatment received by a son—only a daughter? What is the difference? There is none—only it is hard for the mother to understand this, and the daughter mother to understand this, and the daughter mother to understand this, and understand it. Get sometimes doesn't want to understand it. Get sometimes doesn't want to—a man or woman in line or get out. Whether a man or woman in line or get out. Whether a man or woman that is the stern rule of business—it is logical; that is the stern rule of business—it is logical; more, it is right.

Whenever a young woman enters the lists to contest fortune with her brother, she should expect contest fortune with her brother, she should expect no favors—should desire none. The moment no favors—should desire none. The moment a woman says (as she has the right), "I a woman says (as she has the right), "I mean a woman says (as she has the right), "I mean a woman says (as she has the right), "I mean a man," just then can do that work as well as a man," just then can do that work as well as a man," just then can do that work as well as

FORTUNE MAY FIND THE POT, BUT YOUR OWN INDUSTRY MUST MAKE IT BOIL.

The Dictator's "Better Half."

A dealer writes us that a prospect is trying our machine in comparison with a competitor's, but refuses to take into consideration the report of his transcribers as to the better recording and convenience of Edison machines.

In other words, the dictator assumes that the transcribing operations has nothing to do with him. But, is this true?

When a transcriber hears a record better on a certain machine, and its superiority of design certain machine, and its superiority of design helps her to write more letters, doesn't this directly affect the dictator? Certainly it does!

When this same business man commences to "holler around" for his mail at 5 P. M. and Edison machines can "deliver the goods," isn't that of interest to him?

Of course, some men pretend they don't care what kind of clothes their wives wear, or whether they have the right kind of help in the household. Such men, however, are quite equal to complaining, when neighbors make remarks, or when their own stomachs are affected.

It is up to the dealer to handle such customers. Show them the conveniences to the dictator in the Edison design and also the effect of our devices on the work of the transcriber; mention-ing and proving the transcribing advantages of such parts as the aluminum leaning tube; the automatic repeat lever; the clearness and enunciation of the Edison reproducer, etc.

Show the dictator that satisfying his assistants with the machine they need is a great considera-tion, for, two hours dictation keeps them busy eight hours transcribing.

Those new style nap-plates with rounded corners require a slightly longer belt. Tell us, when ordering, about the length.

PRINCIPLES OF EDISON SALESMANSHIP.

1. Get the order or the cash, first—if you can, but don't be afraid to prove your arguments by trial.

2. Don't talk about one-day trial or 30-day trial. Say "I want your order when I have proved my arguments."

3. Then, follow up every new customer by daily calls, at least. There's profit in success, and the first few days usually tell the story.

4. Rely on figures to prove the economy you claim. Don't attempt closing unless you have "brass tack" arguments up your sleeve.

5. Keep a record of the cylinders dictated, by shaving the cylinder, yourself if necessary.

6. Believe in your goods and the customer will believe in you.

7. Things and persons that do not serve, die. Don't make a hardship of your service to customers; look upon it as the lever to their friendship and assistance.

8. Be an Edison man—all through.

WHEN YOU CHANGE a hand to an electric Shaver be sure to slip off the belt from the hand crank shaft.

When business' a pleasure.

Mr. A. A. Bratton, General Manager of the North American Supply, our dealers in Columbus, Ohio, is a salesman after my own heart.

He's just saying nice things into that one long ear of the old machine most of the day. And ear of the old machine most of the day. And ear of the old machine most of the day. And

YOU should be very careful, you know, you might get interested in your work and let your pipe go out.—William A. McDonald.

"Sammy," a Serial Story for Salesmen—Part 1

ZZ-Z-Z-Z-Z

Sammy swung from his chair into the accustomed groove that marked his way to the office. Languidly throwing himself against boss's office. Languidly throwing himself against the door he put his knife away, brushed his hair with the other hand and straightened up for the brisk entrance that experience had taught was the proper conduct when Flagler fixed him with piercing eye.

Sammy had worked six months as office boy for Flagler & Co. To his restless mind this seemed a long time. Something was about due in the form of excitement if the job was to hold him much longer—but he didn't expect it so soon.

No one noticed him as he entered.

Flagler was talking in the end of a long slim horn. There was evidently something doing, and Sammy's curious gaze shifted from the boss's intent face to the turning cylinder—to the word "EDISON" on the box —and past it to the [illegible] looking stranger, standing in polite expectancy.

In a moment Sammy took in the situation: A Salesman! Flagler's going to buy a phonograph!

Nothing could have been more welcome in Sammy's dull existence. He heard "Years resp. Flagler & Co.," as his boss finished talking—then he turned something, moved something and Sammy listened and followed with the others the words as they came out of the horn.

There was no mistaking the derisive speech of the boss. So intent was Sammy in listening that he was only awakened into activity on hearing Mr. Flagler's command:

"Sammy, ask Miss Blair to step here."

Outside the door, in the vicinity of his own small desk and in the atmosphere of the office workshop he felt his professional importance returning.

"Miss Blair, who let that salesman in with the machine?"

"I did—when you were out—they don't want me, do they?"—in a breath.

Sammy, as if he had arranged the whole scene as part of the office drama, sat down wearily at his desk before he replied:

"Sure, it's up to you to get busy."

* * * * * * *

Inside, Drummond, the salesman, was saying:

"Mr. Flagler, when Miss Blair comes, explain to her the help she can be to you in this matter.

"Years ago, as I explained, business men just got up with an incomplete machine, time and put up with an incomplete machine, time and put up with an incomplete machine, just so substitute typists for stenographers—reduced their salaries—all very false economies.

"We're changing that old distrust of the stenographer now with the dictator's help. If Miss Blair understands then you will do your private work, and that you desire to retain her knowledge of your business, and that you will advance her if she makes it a success—the will feel better, if she makes it a success—the will feel better,

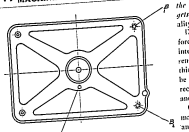
"In putting up my case as a salesman against you—and here's I'd the only one that can lose you—and here's I'd the only one that can lose you, and here's I'd the only one that can lose you, and here's I'd the only one that can lose you,

Don't Make Excuses—Make Good!

SAMMY.

A Serial Story for Salesmen. Part II.

Junior Salesmen



Junior Salesmen are of recognized benefit in disposing of almost every office appliance.

Senior salesmen—older men with more experience—are often handicapped, in the writer's opinion, without the assistance of a Junior in selling the Edison Business Phonograph.

The Junior has the ability to make the approach and instruct the customer where the Senior would not do as well. But, during the conclusion of the trial, the Junior figures in a most important role; shaving the cylinders—daily calls—small repairs and adjustments—records for economy arguments—all these details regarded for the Senior help him in closing.

Sprtel to the Senior presents his arguments he has not suffered by too much intimacy with the customer's office; he has been able to study his customer's office; he has been able to study his customer's office; he has been able to study his

WHEN IN COMPETITION AND ELECTRICAL CONDITIONS ALLOW, SELL THE D. C. MACHINE FOR $60.00—IF IT IS A QUESTION OF PRICE.

The New Pedestal Top

Following our policy of making improvements in details wherever there is the slightest possible advantage, we are now supplying with outfits a new pedestal top, illustrated above, with levelling screws B, B, and provision for holding the cabinet from falling or slipping by means of a wood screw into the bottom of the phonograph cabinet through the hole, A, in the pedestal top.

Each pedestal is assembled before shipment and the levelling screws properly set, but adjustment may be necessary when reassembled by the dealer. A small level should be placed on the front or back support rod of the machine on which the arm moves (not on the cabinet or top plate casting).

Raise or lower the screws B, B, until the machine is level and the cabinet is solid on the pedestal, finally tighten the lock nuts so that the screws cannot move.

With the hinged cover the machine is often thrown out of balance when the top plate is raised to look at the motor; a wood screw through the hole, A, will hold the cabinet fast.

A level machine is particularly desirable in transcribing where the heavy reproducer-weight must "float" in a level position so as to allow the reproducer point to follow the groove made by the recorder.

"SAMMY"—PART III

Putting machines out on trial has an element of risk in that it is generally more uncertain than wrapping them up and selling them over the counter. Articles thus sold are frequently returned or not paid for. But risk is cut down by a clever salesman until trials are a better proposition than a mere delivery because he knows the user; aids in the success of the goods; and gets the money by adding his salesman's personality to the customer's natural desire to purchase.

Drummond knew two sides of the triangle of forces in Flagler & Co.—he felt sure of Flagler's interest as a dictator and Miss Blair's common sense to make a good transcriber. Sammy—the third side—was a doubtful force as yet, he might be small officially and physically but he must be reckoned with or the triangle would not stand and the salesman's plans fall flat.

Co-operation stood out big in Drummond's estimate of successful conditions in a prospect's office and there is no doubt about it, from Sammy's reputation for mischief, that if that gentleman should appoint himself a walking delegate for organized prejudice in Flagler's, voice-writing would be speedily called off.

None of these doubts assailed Sammy. If Flagler had decided to try a flying machine and appoint him as the machinists he could not have been better pleased.

The dussing of Flagler's desk was neglected. Elegh called over the truckman coming from the elevator with pedestal, phonographs and boxes hanging from both arms and Sammy shaving the way to the boss's office.

"Mr. Drummond, don't forget that Mr. Flagler is left-handed. Do you have left-handed machines?"

"Hello, Sammy! I'm a little late. Why no—I never thought about what left-handers do with a phonograph. Which side does Miss Blair take dictation on? Then let's set the machine there."

Like the trained salesman that Drummond was, he had left practically nothing to be done in the customer's office except to set the parts of the outfit in position, numbers were found on all the boxes, the horn crane was already attached, everything was ready for use in a few minutes.

"What's the thermometer for?"

"That's a level, Sammy; we level the machines with these screws under the pedestal and that makes the cabinet set solid, too."

"Now here, Sammy, is something I want you to do. Take this supply of dictation pads and keep them handy so that Mr. Flagler can always have one or two on his desk."

"Say, if I'm to run this business show me all about it. Flagler's absent minded; he may forget where he laid the phonograph, and I want to know what it looks like."

"Well, sir; sit down here in Mr. Flagler's chair and I'll put you through."

(To be continued.)

RECORDERS not in use on transcribing or unused machines should be carefully kept packed away in cotton for future use. Dyamind?

Tips

Number 82 November 17, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

BARNES of Chicago is certainly as live a wire as ever touched the binding posts of an Edison motor.

The business firms of Chicago couldn't know him better if he had been wearing a sandwich sign for the four years he has been a voice-writing man around their offices. And therein lies a lesson for the leader who would succeed.

A volume of sales is built on a volume of prospects; advertising with ink don't make ribe prospects. Ink is a seed. The plant—the flower —the sale are the result of personal attention and study after nature—human nature—has shown the spark of life.

Barnes has a volume of prospects in Chicago, —ink seeds. Out of these he selects—mind you, "selects" the promising customers on whom he can afford to spend his time and attention.

Brother, if you want steady, quick sales like Barnes don't spend your trials—your money—on 100% of your prospects. Concentrate on—say 30% —what mean business and keep boiling down and refining the 100% in the fire of your personality.

"The old gal put an Blanks Co. is dead," said Barnes. "We've been waiting her to retire these two years. Sorry, of course, but she is no doubt happy now in a place where no Edison salesmen will disturb her peace of mind. We put machines in Blanks' to-morrow."

No risk there. Barnes knows the prospect.

* * *

When John D. Howe dies I suppose the citizens in Kansas City, Mo., will have something like this on his stone:

Here rests the body of John D. Howe.
Unrested and unsatisfied in life. He multiplied his voice with ten thousand phonographs for Kansas City.

"Jack" Howe is for Kansas City (and a particular piece of property known as the Robert D. Keith Co.) from sunrise to pajamas. He rests none of the time—but then he is unconscious. He's always unsatisfied—never dis-satisfied. Long may his voice write.

* * *

Kansas City is in line with other successful dealerships in the question of service to customers. The unthinking dealer goes on indefinitely making hurry calls for repairs and adjustments—regular fire department service—and complains of the nuisance. It is in the dealer's hands to handle this repair question intelligently and make some money. After a customer is sold, you must train him to help himself—that is one way. But the average business man is unmechanical and won't even clean his machines; therein lies the trouble—dirty, sticky machines.

Start an inspection service for your customers. The Keith Company do this successfully, charging 75c. a machine a month for trial inspections. The service includes cleaning, oiling and adjusting—not the replacement of parts.

You will find when your customer sees a dealer's employee regularly, he usually improves in his use of the system, and with clean machines kept in order by regular visits, rush calls will be less.

* * * * * *

And while we are on this question of "nuisance calls" let us point out the advantage of mapping your territory. Buy a city map mounted on a board so you can place colored tacks where the customers and trials are located.

When a salesman or mechanic goes out on a call, a glance at the map will suggest other calls he might make in the vicinity that will make his efforts much more effective.

Systematize your calls. Work intelligently.

* * * * * *

Do you have customers where there is a possibility of selling them more Edison machines? My friend, Child, in St. Louis, makes the most of this situation in a clever way; he finds a user with an older type of machine, demonstrates the latest model—succeeds in selling the latter looking article with the argument that the old ones can be used in a less conspicuous part of his office.

"You want the best and latest, Mr. Boss. I will take these old machines, put them in perfect order for Mr. Clark, who really needs the system, and renew the service on the entire plant, if you buy the new models."

* * * * * *

The speaking tube connection, that fits over the recorder and reproducer, did not please a dealer because it was too snug and came off with difficulty. Watch me, gentlemen!—the hand is quicker than the eye. I release the set screws holding the recorder and reproducer—allow the connection to adjust itself, so that it does not bind—tighten up the set-screws once more—PRESTO—trouble gone. Just a matter of seeing that the angle of the stems is adjusted correctly.

Tips and Trip

"A successful man is one who can guess right three times out of five." Therefore have five prospects for three "trials."—don't calculate that 100% prospects means 100% sales.

"AN ACTIVE CUSTOMER IS WORTH TEN PROSPECTS"—provided you use him to win the business of the ten.

"SAMMY."

Oftentimes a sale is made or lost during the first experience of the dictator or transcriber with the machine.

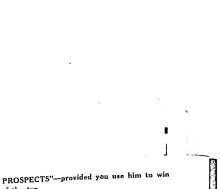
Drummond knew this. His watchful eye followed the machines "from shop to letter" during the first day and Flugler, when he felt the inspiration of voice-writing, found a guide at his elbow to tactfully prevent "respondent dictation" "a foot from the horn" and the general bad opinion that dictators form when they are misinterested.

Sammy made bold to enter Flugler's office with Drummond and watch the imitation of the boss's voice.

Drummond felt Sammy his ally by this time and made double shift to include his education with Flugler's by closing the cover of the machine, turning off the current at the lamp socket thine, turning off the current at the lamp socket —just as if the machine was in a week's disuse.

"All ready, Mr. Flugler. Please be patient with me if I bore you at first, because I want you to learn this machine from a common sense standpoint as you would a motor car that you expected to run yourself."

"Close the cover of your machine when it is not in use—it will keep it clean and keep away the meddlers."



"When you lift the cover, connect the horn,—so. Turn on current at this switch. You see the motor won't run; that's because the current at the lamp socket is not turned on. Always leave the current on at the lamp socket and use the switch at the machine; but if the machine doesn't start see if the current is on at the socket. Perhaps the current is off of the entire office. You would be surprised to see the calls we have after installations to educate the users on this one detail—and you will save us both trouble by catching this one point."

"Notice the lift lever and this guard at the end of the mandrel. When you lift the arm the guard raises to allow the cylinder to pass. That prevents the damage to the recorder if you should forget to raise it out of the way with lift lever."

"I've shaved a cylinder here very roughpurposely. I want to here the sound of the surface through the reproducer. Hear it? Look at a cylinder occasionally and see if Sammy is taking his work well. Don't think you have to attend to too many details, only you should know how easily a careless boy can make a cylinder unpleasant to hear for the transcriber."

WISE MEN are instructed by Reason, men of less understanding by Experience, the most ignorant by Necessity.

In my time I've seen some pretty absent minded men, but I have never met a fellow who didn't know when it was pay-day.

This is the way we are now equipping Universal motor resistance to insulate the binding posts. I and I₂ are porcelain cups, enamelled in black. The large binding post screws are discontinued and in their place special small round-head screws, S and S₂, are passed through the insulators to hold the pin tips of the attachment cords. Spring washers (not shown) are placed underneath the screw heads to hold the insulators and not break them. It will not be necessary to remove the insulators when it be necessary to remove the insulators when attaching the cord. Every part of the binding posts, and pin-tips on the cord, are now insulated, preventing shocks and short circuits through careless-ness. The price of this equipment complete, as illustrated, to place on any machine previously sold is 35c. list, subject to the regular dealer's discounts. Postage extra.

IS YOUR WINDOW WORKING?

Borgum, you will recall, is that hustler in Seattle, managing the E. B. P. Dept. at Eiler's Music House. He is the chap that invented demonstration hours for Edison salesmen. You can see Borgum certain hours if you wish to know voice-writing—most other hours he will see you—sure as death.

Borgum wrote:

"We have pulled off a model office demonstration in our window this week and we are herewith enclosing a couple of newspaper notices, which we think are mighty good. During the first two days we distributed 2,000 circulars in every office in the city."

We wrote:

"Fine. But write us again, later, and tell us what you sold from this effort."

He answered:

"We received orders for three installations and have already closed one of these from with the prospect of early closing for the other two. With these results so far, we figure that the window display easily pays us for our efforts, not considering the general publicity and educational value."

Tips

Number 83 November 2, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

IF you could sit beside us in the morning as we go through the daily mail you would learn many ways to facilitate your business and ours.

Here is a letter of several pages, we like to get them—honest. A letter is a conversation and at best we don't have enough good talks; if we had more there would not be the one belated missive at a time when advice from us is often too late.

The only fault with a long letter from a dealer is that it touches on a dozen subjects;—all for different departments. Such a letter loses time for the dealer; the order in one part of it takes it to the order clerk for a day; the traffic department must wait for its part; and so with other subjects for other departments.

Of course, we facilitate everything as much as possible by redictating remarks for departments, but even this slows up the business machinery a good deal.

The dealer's order blank we have just printed for the use of dealers will facilitate shipments. Ask for this form and keep your orders out of the body of letters. Small dealers do not need such a form if they will confine their orders to any single sheet of paper.

Here is another letter with the most meagre reference to a mechanical trouble. How we wish we knew what had been done to correct it, or that we even knew the serial number and type of the machine. You know how peevish it makes you, (who expects to find unmechanical minds), when a customer says simply "it won't work".

Picture us. A dealer can't send machines back on suspicion; he's got to think and act in his job of selling, just as we have to think and act in our business of manufacturing. Is the motor running correctly?—this can be readily seen by watching the governor balls. Was a new recorder or reproducer tried?—breakage might occur to any mechanical device. Was the machine properly oiled and cleaned?—a drop of oil will work wonders. Are the centers on the feed screws and is the mandrel set up properly?—a screw driver and ten seconds for this adjustment.

Then here is a letter: "We intend to order more machines when we close a trial we have had out two months." For the love of Edison, does he stay after two months? Pocketbook or voice paralyzed? Cheer us up a bit! Say: "I have written letters in that plant for three cents a folio that cost them eight cents before but can't close them," or something else in definite. Or, tell us why the customer won't close—perhaps we can help.

What is this? A monthly report of sales without serial numbers or types of machines; how can a dealer run a business successfully without names. Something comes up months after a sale; a machine is stolen; a strange machine appears in your territory, and in all these cases the serial number tells the story and supplies the missing information through both our records. We must have serial numbers or quit business—so must the dealer.

And where is the letter you owe us as a business courtesy? Dealers owe us consideration as long as they occupy territory that must be worked. Some conditions require explanation. We ask about sales prospects; other questions of business arise to be answered. The dealer who does not reply promptly and fully is not fulfilling his end of the sales agreement. Neglect on our part would not be understood and our business would suffer. Why not the same spirit on the dealer's part?

Comments on the Morning's Mail

Business is a difficult problem at best and we should try to reduce friction to a minimum by improving in the little things we mention. On our part, we recognize our shortcomings—but we work at the job, taking and giving, doing a day's work; improving in the whole, we think.

Give us the deuce if you will, remembering to do it regularly, intelligently, and in a business-like spirit.

The action we see in your communications, is an index to your activity in selling; if you don't warm up to us it certainly must be hard for the best Edison customer who has invested several hundred dollars in a voice writing plant.

On the job—it's November.

FROM DENVER:—"Electrician's report attached, shows Edison Universal takes less than one-third amount of current consumed by competitor. Closed customer."

TIPS IS ON THE JOB AGAIN—BEEN TIPPING PORTERS AND BELL HOPS.

"SAMMY"

Whether Drummond had wasted his salesman's time on Sammy remained to be seen. Whether Sammy would "queer" the plant of Flagler & Co. was also a problem—but, any Flagler & Co. was also a problem—but, any salesman with an interested friend at court has an advantage, so Drummond figured it.

Flagler entered his office and found a Business Phonograph beside his desk. Drummond was there also. Flagler looked in from the stenographer's room: "Good morning Mr. Flagler. When you have your mail together I want to help you dictate. I'll be out here with Miss Blair when you call—all right?"

—and with a pleasant nod disappeared.

To have a stenographer transformed with good dictation and have her know what the dictator actually does to produce her records, Drummond thought, from experience, knew was good policy.

So, Miss Blair, instead of the assisting and "useful" that she anticipated, as once found a pleasant salesman seated beside her preparing to dictate and explain what Flagler, her boss, was about to do in the next room.

"Miss Blair, you should understand what good voice-writing is. You see, I will instruct Mr. Flagler to periodically write your notes for you. Whenever you hear the word 'Operator' he is speaking to you. He will often give instructions—ask you to make replies without his dictation—send messages to you. Please get the habit that he is doing this at double speed at convenient times and to facilitate his correspondence—he's not doing it to make a 'machine' of himself or you—just the reverse—he has only furnished you with a wax memory.

"Catch the idea? You wouldn't be worth a thing to him if you had a phonograph memory, and didn't use it. You'll be worth a lot if you do work this memory to his advantage."

Drummond caught up a letter from the desk and dictated the contents with a dictation blank before him. Corrections were illustrated. Extra curlons were indicated. Miss Blair understood the whole system before he finished.

"The important things for you to remember are the length of letters which the index shows and the points on the scale where corrections are marked. When you take up a cylinder to write in front at the index first.

"Generally five points on the scale cover an ordinary full page letter, double spaced, with address and signature. Experience may show you differently. If you find a letter with ten points marked off for length you could single space it for one page. A very short letter might be a memorandum for some one in the office—you had better listen to the address on the machine before putting paper in the typewriter, in order to select the right letter head.

"When you look at a dictation index, put the cylinder on the machine and take a few minutes to listen wherever a correction is marked. For, a correction might refer to another part of the cylinder. Whenever Mr. Flagler happens to think of something that might be a correction he just talks it; he might say 'Operator—in that letter to Jones make the date when he can call the 20th'—you want to know that before you write Jones' letter.

"And sometimes, late, you will find a letter marked 'Rush,' which should be written first and sent in ahead for his signature.

"I am going to take this records out of the machine now. You only need the reproducer. Sammy will have it put away and if some discussion arises your machine in an emergency he can ask for it.

"The aluminum tubes are extremely light. Don't 'punch' them in your ears—just hang them loosely—and remove the weight by fastening the wire holder in your belt.

"I purposely dictated this letter in short parts so you could start and stop the machine with the foot trip to hear enough to remember and write. It's just like reading your notes; you study your shorthand—so, in the same way, get the sense of a sentence or expression and then write."

It took Miss Blair but a few minutes to catch the idea, and Drummond saw with satisfaction the first letter transcribed at Flagler & Co.'s as Sammy appeared—"The boss wants you. just as Sammy appeared—"The boss wants you. I'll be shaving for a week if he writes all those letters on his desk."

(To be continued.)

It is a salesman's duty to demonstrate, to prove that the article he is selling is worth the price asked for it. If he cannot see the value himself; if he does not believe the article is worth the money, he is no fit salesman for the line he is carrying. Unless he can practice the law of mutual benefit and have full confidence in believing he is practicing it, he had best get out of the field—the sooner the better, not only for himself but also for the house he is striving to represent.

* * * * *

The tireless Japanese auctioneer patiently wheedled the bargain-hunting crowds. An article plainly worth several dollars receives a starting bid of ten cents. Everyone listens to the glowing description by the Jap. A dozen bids follow. Each bid is the occasion of more description. There is a pause at one ninety. Sold! Who got it? Why, an employee of the auctioneer!

You see, the Jap couldn't get his price so he didn't sell the article at all.

Reflection. Here is an exhibition of the highest art in demonstrations. The Oriental knows that demonstration is the greatest factor in Salesmanship. And behind the joy of haggling is a well established price limit which is never revealed. Modern salesmanship has improved on these market place methods, however, by making the price limit at once—saving the haggle—eliminating the One-Price-System—making selling an honest, manly, employment.

Tips

Number 84 November 23, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

CONSIDER THIS MONTHLY INSPECTION PLAN

Intelligent, live dealers all over the country have awakened to the plan of contracting for the monthly inspection of machines in their consumers' offices.

Dealers, naturally, will not broach such a plan to a prospect, but after the sale is made and the customer's plant is organized, it is necessary to arrange the question of mechanic's calls on some regular basis in order to prevent a loss for the dealer and insure the efficient working of the machines.

Just now we are giving one of the largest Edison users a price on this inspection service; the customer took it up with Orange, and we were obliged to write to five dealers to standardize the cost of the work for their different local offices.

THE DEALERS AGREED ON 50c. A MACHINE FOR MONTHLY SERVICE, CONSISTING OF CLEANING, ADJUSTING AND OILING. NO REPAIRS OR REPLACEMENT OF PARTS ARE INCLUDED IN THIS AGREEMENT.

Dealers must see the immense advantage in this arrangement. When you are paid for keeping a plant running, the business at once becomes more interesting. Complaints and hurry repair calls (that never will be paid for) are reduced to a minimum. Satisfied customers will pay for a large part of the mechanic's time—a natural result.

We hear the dealer (who has closed many of his large plants with difficulty after arguing price with close buyers) saying, "You couldn't get many customers in my territory to pay for such service—we have to do that work free."

You can obtain inspection contracts if you go about it properly. First, understand we are only proposing cleaning, oiling and small adjustments for inspection service.

When you propose the monthly service, don't talk about "repairs"—that is another matter. Very justly the new customer will say: "It is customary to keep machines after sale in repair for a year. I don't pay for such service."

Present your plea for inspectors this way: "Mr. Customer, you know the average dictator and transcriber don't keep their machines cleaned and oiled; they don't want to dirty their hands, and, furthermore, cannot be bothered with understanding where to oil an electric motor and something about its operation."

"We propose to do the janitor's work on Business Phonographs—cleaning, oiling and polishing. You have persons clean your offices regularly, polish your windows and beat your rugs.

"What provisions are you making for the same service on our machines? Dirt and lack of attention are enemies to any machine. Is it fair to neglect machines running eight hours a day—doing human work—saving you thousands of dollars—and then send for me in a hurry to perform "repairs" that are usually nothing more than balky, dirty machines.

"With my increasing business I would have to keep several mechanics sitting idle like hell hops in my office part of the time waiting for your hurry calls.

"Help me systematize my business and make your plant more of a success. What employee is there who would not even privately pay 75c. a month for this service to help insure quick, accurate use of his machine? It's only 3c. a day."

WE WANT EVERY DEALER TO WRITE PROMPTLY WHAT HE THINKS OF THIS PLAN, SO WE CAN STANDARDIZE THE PRICES AND PREPARE LITERATURE FOR YOUR USE.

Are the prices right? Two prices, it seems, are sufficient—one for the small, another for the big plant.

How many calls a month should he make for the price? Will you agree in general on one call a month and in special cases make several calls, depending on the size of the plant, etc.?

MONTHLY INSPECTION RATES

75c per machine for plants with 5 machines or less.

50c per machine for plants with more than 5 machines.

Dealers are asked to change the number of Tips 82 to 83 and vice versa, so that the installments of the "Sammy" series will come in proper sequence.

WE REQUEST YOUR PROMPT ADVICE ON THE ABOVE

CAUTION: Cylinders heated by standing on steam radiators give bad results; when left on machines they stick, as offices cool off.

"SAMMY."

(Continued from Tips No. 83.)

Drummond next explained the correction system; teaching Flagler that when he gave this help to the transcriber he was really saving much more time in getting his letters back than it cost to make out the dictation index.

"Now take up your correspondence, Mr. Flagler. Dictate to the machine as if you were speaking in the telephone. Adopt a tone of voice that would carry on the telephone without the return voice—"talk up, please." Realize that Miss Blake can't say that to you in the phonograph."

"Hear that cutting sound of the recorder? That's a sign that your voice will write well. Listen at each cylinder when you begin, for an instant only—then you will never dictate to the reproducer. Hear the difference when the reproducer is in position? No cutting—eh? Perfectly clear? And on every cylinder before you finish listen with the reproducer: know that you are writing—don't trust to luck."

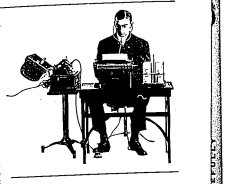
Flagler was coached through an entire cylinder and letters were checked off on the Index; he was taught to talk to Miss Blake—not to the machine. He naturally blundered in some places; then the index was marked and he talked the corrections, with the assurance that Miss Blake would hear him before any part of the dictation was written.

"Mr. Flagler, will you please tackle the next cylinder alone? I am going over this with Miss Blake and will remain to answer your questions and talk over your results before I go."

"Place the index in this cylinder—the correspondence with it—Sammy can take another cylinder to Miss Blake as fast as you finish."

Sammy sat looking at Miss Blake as she wrote the Book's eighth cylinder.

"I don't see what kick you stenographers have on the phonograph. Flagler in there is doing all the heavy work. All you do is to press the button and hear your note-book talk—and you even didn't have to write the note."



"It isn't the difficulty of the machine," replied Marjorie, "but the idea of the thing that gets on my nerves."

"It's no easy—that's the trouble," she went on. "Why, yesterday I was a stenographer—now any typist could write this talk, and my value goes down to a typist's level."

Sammy was about to do some more Edison boosting when he saw Drummond behind Margaret motioning to her continue.

"Sammy, you know how the boys used to dictate to me when I wrote shorthand—he repeated —in cigars as he talked—walked the floor—and I had to get down what it was all about and then write an intelligent letter. Now look at this dictation to the phonograph. It's almost perfect. He's trying now to make a machine out of me, and I think he believes I am worth less."

(To be continued.)

MR. LIGHT

Gold Medal Winner Edison Transcribing Contest, October 26, 1910

We had our Transcribing Contest at Madison Square Garden on October 26th, and the above illustration shows Mr. Light, the gold medal winner.

Mr. Light wrote 516 words in ten minutes with the least errors, from dictation at 150 words per minute.

If you compare this record with professional typewriter speeds, it is possible to go as high as 121 words a minute on the typewriter—a record made by Emil Trefzger on the Business Phonograph in our London Office.

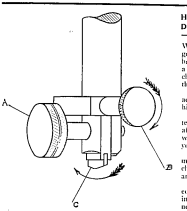
We publish an endorsement also by Miss Rose Fritz acknowledging 118 words a minute on the typewriter written from the E. B. P.

MARK YOU, THESE HIGH SPEEDS WERE MADE FROM SLOW DICTATION.

So we decided at the start of these contests to make them phonographic ones—not typewriting contests.

One contestant this year we knew had great speed on the typewriter; but in writing from the phonograph she did not do as well as the regularly employed operators, comprising the average contestant; she found difficulty in starting, stopping and repeating at the high speed of dictation on the cylinder.

An interesting fact is that Mr. Light, the winner, has used the Commercial Graphophone for four years and the Edison Business Phonograph the last four years, making eight years in all.



Mr. Light does all the transcribing work for the President and his son in a large company. They find voice-writing so useful that they pay Mr. Light high wages, and so disprove the many pessimistic arguments concerning low operators' salaries, slow advancement, etc.

WHEN you break the turkey wish-bone think of big November sales—then go to work and make good the balance of the month.

Tips

Number 85 — December 10, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

THE NEW RAPID ADJUSTMENT SHAVING KNIFE

The above illustration shows the design of the new Knife; when the clamp screw A is released, the adjusting screw B may be used to turn the Knife C to any angle for a rapid adjustment.

A complete descriptive circular is sent with each Knife, containing further details.

The price of the new Knife and bar complete as illustrated is $2.50; for the Knife (C) only, $2.00.

These screws, especially the clamp screw A, are made large enough to adjust with the fingers —never use pliers on the screws.

Be sure the clamp screw A is released before adjusting with the screw B; if this is not done the thread in the top of the knife setting will be stripped.

The Rapid Adjustment Knife will be shipped in working order and operating on standard shaving machines when inspected at the works. The dealer may not need to adjust the knife when it is installed—but if this is done the user, afterwards, should be cautioned not to tamper with a perfectly operating knife, treating it the same as the old knife which was unadjustable.

Handling Dead Ones

"What shall we do with a customer who asks us to sell his machines—says he can't use them?" Well, cheer up first!

Watches are indispensible but there's many a good time-piece found in a hock-shop. We can be very frank in talking to these customers with a change of heart; most of them praise the machine—they acknowledge the trouble lies with themselves.

But it is small satisfaction to make a customer acknowledge his weakness; we want to retain him as a "booster"—and here is a good way.

Say to the customer—"Sure. It's an easy matter to dispose of them. But naturally, I can't afford to add two selling costs to your machines, which would be the case if I sold them over for you.

"Now you know how valuable they are to many firms—just you find the prospective purchaser by talking them up and offering them at an attractive price.

"Tell me, any time when you have an interested party, I will install your outfit for him, charging you only for the few articles that will be needed to make the outfit complete and in good working order."

In this way customers are bound to help and be satisfied. The dealer does not lose if he is intelligent enough to make the proper charges for new parts, etc.

Special Uses

The trade will be more impressed as times goes on with the special uses of the Edison Business Phonograph. Thown in Lynchburg, Va., is a lawyer who travels into surrounding cities and towns to copy titles to property: the trains are generally arranged with a morning and an afternoon train in and out: he must rush to the court house and attempt to locate and copy the title to a property if he is to avoid staying over night.

Simple matter after he met Ogden down in Lynchburg. Ogden hasn't many big offices like most of you fellows, but the business men down there travel, which makes their time at home just as valuable as the office slave.

Mr. Lawyer now carries an Edison Business Phonograph—arrives between trains in a small town—drives to the court house—talks a stream from the county records—and beats it back to the station and home with his haul of voice-writing.

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY FOR DECEMBER SALES.

WHY use the commutator cleaner? The new universal motor brush maker them unnecessary and stops service calls.

"SAMMY"

"Excuse me, Miss Blake, I've been listening," said Drummond.

"What's the record to-day?"

"Eight cylinders so far. That's fine!"

"Every efficient machine you are—don't you think?"

"You don't mind my discussing these matters with you for a few moments—do you? You've put up some pretty stiff arguments, and I want you to feel right about this system, so you'll take the proper interest.

"Honestly now, you think this machine is very clever and a big time saver—don't you?

"Can you imagine Edison stopping the manufacture and sale of the phonograph when it's doing the work because he can't find sensible business women to help a man like Mr. Flagler?

"Many girls just like you have these doubts about how voice writing will affect them, but still the sale of the system goes on, and the facts are that men like Mr. Flagler in dozens of cases right here in the city do appreciate the transcriber that does her part.

"You might as well argue that the chauffeur is worth less than the conductor.

"You'll do stiffer folios to-day on the typewriter. A few days ago you could do only forty folios.

"Yesterday you were driving an old style business vehicle; to-day you have a modern one. When you put a motor under the system—whether it's an Edison or a gasoline motor—you speed up the same people. And when the saving is shown so clearly in dollars and cents the boss feels better about the employee who helps him in either case."

(To be continued.)

The President of the Shorthand Reporters Association Says:—

November 20, 1910.

The Southern California Music Company,
325-331 South Broadway,
Los Angeles, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: In response to your recent inquiry as to how I like the Edison Business Phonograph which you installed in my office about a year ago, it gives me pleasure to say that after what I consider the severest test to which a machine of this kind can be subjected, they are in perfect condition and doing good service. I have always found them absolutely reliable and easy of manipulation, giving no trouble to either dictator or transcriber. I used the machine several years in my work, and have carefully examined the merits of the various machines, and do not hesitate to say I consider the Edison Business Phonograph the best talking machine on the market to-day for the exacting work of the court reporter.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) W. F. TIFFANY,
President Shorthand Reporters Asso.

Do you use the tie cord properly to prevent strain and breakage at the binding posts of the universal motor resistance? Don't be careless.

New Speaking Tubes

There was a time when flexible speaking tubes, covered with soft rubber inside, were a detriment to continued good work; the soft rubber hardened and broke and the tube would not carry the voice—it was then called "dead."

But now we are furnishing speaking tubes with the rubber covering replaced with rubber cloth, which makes them durable.

So, when you sell a customer, try to understand his wants and give him the speaking tube or the horn, whichever he likes best.

This is especially necessary in competition. We hold the patents for the flattened horn, and no other shape is as good. This obliges a competitor to enlarge on the convenience of the flattened horn. If the Edison salesman is not speaking tube. If the Edison salesman is not wise he blindly installs his outfit with a horn without mentioning the flexible tube or demonstrating to the prospect so prove that he has it; the result is occasionally a preference for other goods on just this one point.

Remember the while that the horn produces a louder record and is more generally acceptable on account of the wide mouth-piece and the freedom it gives the hands.

The regular horn crane (price $1.00 list extra) has been used effectively to support the flexible tube, through which it is passed, making it handy to reach.

When a speaking tube is sold with an outfit it is equipped with the speaker connection, which fits over the recorder and reproducer; when it is sold singly it, the speaker connection, is not furnished unless ordered in addition, price 50c.

Bear in mind, therefore, to order outfits with speaking tubes, if you expect to sell any. Of course, it will be possible to unsolder the speaking connection from a horn and re-solder the speaking tube. But, the speaker connection must in any case be attached to the horn or speaking tube—as left on the machine—for, then the cover will not go on.

Thirty-three (33) inch speaking tubes can be furnished, price $1.75; the regular length is twenty-seven (27) inches, price $1.50; speaker connection in both cases, extra 50c.

ELECTRICAL TEST ON MOTORS JUST MADE IN CHICAGO

Volts.	Amperes.	Watts.
110	.72	81.70—Connecticut
110½	.84	92.35—Edison D.C.
111	.168	17.35—105.15 Universal

Tested on direct current.—Column 3 shows the comparative cost of operation.

HAVE YOU MADE YOUR TEST?

CONFIDENCE

Merry Xmas

Gips

Number 86 Dec. 15, 1910

It is with the greatest pleasure that I wish a very Merry Christmas and a most prosperous New Year to our Business Phonograph dealers, their Salesmen and their employees.

Thomas A Edison

The Passing Year

FRANK L. DYER
PRESIDENT AND
GENERAL COUNSEL

Here it is Christmas! Another year nearly gone—crowded with recollections of three hundred strenuous days of business.

To the individual dealer it may not seem that we have made remarkable progress. You are right from your standpoint. From ours, we have done the best year's work of all.

Let any dealer manufacture Business Phonographs for himself alone—supposing he were competent to do so—and he would make quick changes, rapid progress, until his business grew. The slowing up process would continue in proportion to his growth, and his progress in the past.

The Edison Works is a great industry. The improvements we think of to-day may require a month or a year to become operative, depending on the magnitude of the change.

Look through the pages of Tips, and you will find a continuous stream of betterments. Depend upon it, that progressive idea of yours will show up in practice, surely, if slowly.

And stop to think that Edison progress is not limited. We do not confine ourselves to new yearly models. We go at it hammer and tongs for improvements every day in the year. We acknowledge criticisms for immediate correction. We try to be sympathetic and helpful in making the salesman's work easier. Besides, we carry the principal stock at the Edison Works so as to put the latest and best in the dealers' and customers' hands.

But the greatest progression we believe lies in the improved attitude of the dealer, the public and the customer. In the past year the dealer has become bigger and better satisfied, and the public, as well as the customer, has become more appreciative and enthusiastic.

Take it all in all, 1910 was the greatest year in our history.

Nineteen Eleven

C. H. WILSON
GENERAL MANAGER

The important fact that voice-writing sales have steadily increased in the face of a commercial situation which is generally deplored by business men, statesmen and politicians, argues well for the prosperity of our dealers in 1911.

Louis D. Brandeis, Counsel for the Shippers in the R. R. rate hearing, has tersely defined the National needs:

> "What we need in this country is a combination to reduce the cost of production in place of combinations to increase prices. The result of the application of efficiency methods in many departments of industry have shown that in the United States we have been shockingly prodigal of our resources of labor and material."

President Taft has appointed permanent committees, sitting in the Executive Offices of the White House, to decide upon economical methods for conducting the Government business.

Postmaster Hitchcock is wiping out the deficit of his department by the application of simple, reasonable business methods.

No amount of money spent in advertising could have produced the demands for economic appliances which have become almost a factor in National growth.

Doubt, prejudice, pessimism can no longer stand in the way of progress. Economy is now a question of necessity. Personal preferences must give way before the greater principle of life—namely, existence. So we feel that voice-writing prosperity in Nineteen Eleven is only limited by all of our activities. Let us go out into the New Year with these conditions fully in mind.

Surely a Happy and Prosperous New Year awaits us.

Sales

NELSON C. DURAND
VICE-PRES. AND SALES MGR.

To be a success in any job you must get a perspective of the entire subject and calculate to omit the unimportant details as far as possible, so that you can concentrate on the big things that are worth while.

Now your problem of selling the Edison Business Phonograph, viewed in perspective, shows that there are ten—one hundred—five hundred—business concerns or individuals that should buy in your territory. Have you prepared a file with their names?—The best man to see?—number of stenographers, etc?

Yes? Then, realize that the big thing to do is to get in touch with these prospective purchasers. You can circularize and advertise—that will help—but you must get out and talk to the firms, also, knowing that advertising has helped to introduce you.

No list of prospective purchasers? No canvassing plans? Well, you are not selling the Edison Business Phonograph—probably you know that.

Successful salesmen keep working among their prospects with a systematic follow-up and a "nose for business"; they are like reporters for the newspapers who are constantly circulating in the channels where news is found.

This reminds me of the cub reporter who was detailed to report a society wedding. He came in late. The forms had been held waiting for his story. He said, "I didn't get anything, for the couple eloped."

If you "go up against" prospects like that reporter you will soon learn your faults and how to sell successfully—but, never if you sit at your desk and wait for experience. One turndown doesn't mean anything—see a dozen firms a day—smiling, enthusiastic, inviting a "call again." Brilliancy is not so necessary as "plugging."

Tips can't help this opportunity to lecture a bit even though we know that we have the most loyal and interested salesmen on earth.

Cheer up! And a bright and Happy Holiday to you all.

Our Office

E. J. BERGGREN
SEC'Y AND TREAS.

When you come to Orange, you hang your hat up in the Administration Building—one of the great five story cement buildings in the Edison Works.

All office and correspondence work is done here—the "home of the red tape" as some one has said.

You will find we take our own medicine in using the Business Phonograph, from President Dyer down. Our Central Transcribing Department for the general work of all Edison Companies consists of ten employees who write letters for three cents a folio.

All dealers' mail is placed in the office of the Vice-President and Sales Manager to be answered with the assistance of two secretaries and their clerks. It is our aim to attend to all correspondence the same day communications are received, endeavoring to present an example of promptness to the trade and prove the claims for our own system.

In this work of correspondence, dealers can assist us greatly by confining orders to separate order forms and placing important communications of different character in separate letters where they will receive the attention of various officials or employees.

Our office fully realizes that our dealers are independent business men who must be influenced and educated rather than criticised, unless our criticism can be accompanied by interesting advice.

We wish that all of our people knew each dealer personally, for then we could all address each one of them with better understanding. But in our mind's eye we see many faces we do know—and to you—our acquaintances—possible Holiday and a New Year of Prosperity.

"Sir, you are very welcome to our house;
It must appear in other ways than words;
Therefore, I scant this breathing courtesy."

Manufacture

P. WEBER
GENERAL SUPT.

Building a Business Phonograph is, in many ways, more difficult and exacting than making a time-piece, which latter is the popular idea of accuracy in manufacture.

If your watch runs slow or fast, runs down or becomes noisy, your business is not affected—with a business phonograph perhaps it is.

Constancy and uniformity of motion in all moving parts of a phonograph are required, It is easy to detect a variation of less than 1% in the speed of revolution of a cylinder playing a musical note.

And what makes it easily the most unique and wonderful machine manufactured to-day is that it performs its human-like work successfully without assistance. No extraneous power can compel a more perfect operation. When it leaves our hands we have practically endowed it with "individuality"—we have almost placed the breath of life in the wheels and wax—improved over the human, if possible.

We believe that we build the most perfect Voice-writing Machine obtainable. This is not conceit. Our customers demand it, and the inventor of the original machine still has the aim, desire and ability to fulfill the most exacting requirements. Our dealers—considerate as they are—being independent of the factory, must necessarily regard us as strictly business connexions. We operate without branch offices, and we ask prompt payment for our shipments in return for goods that operate successfully.

But, build as we will, the occasional ills of the machine must be understood in the field to be corrected.

With pride we acknowledge that as manufacturers we could not succeed to-day but for the intelligence and mechanical interest that our dealers display in their daily work.

Advertising

L. C. McCHESNEY
MGR. ADVERTISING DEPT.

A short cut in advertising our product lies in addressing a letter directly to the prospective purchaser showing clearly the advantages of voice-writing, and urging immediate investigation through the local dealer, whose name and address appears on an enclosed postal card ready to mail.

When you add to this plan the follow-up of the salesman who originated the mailing list, you have cut out all lost motion, all useless expenditure, and concentrated the last ounce of advertising effort at the desired time and place.

In this way Edison advertising has covered the entire country according to the growth, demands and interest of the local representation. It is estimated that fully one million letters have been mailed from Orange in the five years we have been employing this plan of circular letter advertising.

More spectacular campaigns of newspaper and magazine advertising might have been tried but we have withstood these opportunities "to see ourselves in print," and worked directly for efficiency and quick results with the unassuming personal letter.

In 1911 even greater activity will be displayed. We urge the dealer to make up his lists most carefully and retain a copy for the local salesman's effort in canvassing the same firms.

Remember that mailing card returns are not always an index to effectiveness: often-times the better—larger—more conservative prospect does not commit himself to writing for a catalogue—but, we find he knows the Edison product well enough when the salesman makes his personal follow-up.

The Advertising Department wishes you all a most prosperous New Year, and, with your co-operation, will surely make it one.

Credit

E. H. PHILLIPS
MGR. CREDIT DEPT.

A dealer's credit is like his shoe; if small, it pinches; but, if large, it causes him to stumble.

Small capital—small credit—is sometimes an unfortunate accompaniment to energy and ability in selling the Edison Business Phonograph.

Large capital and credit are very desirable, but they usually indicate the "side-line" dealer, who does not always secure the specialists who could make the most of such favorable conditions.

Can you sell Edison Business Phonographs? Then, your first duty to yourself is to obtain capital sufficient to meet the manufacturer's terms on purchases that you know must be made if you yourself are to be satisfied.

The raising of this capital must remain a local issue with the dealer. If he has ability to sell goods which he cannot purchase, it is a logical conclusion that local connections are in a position to know and investigate the truth better than the manufacturer. After all, the manufacturer can do no better than to treat all dealers uniformly; make the goods worth handling by high standards of credit; and, by a minimum of risk, have more profits for the advancement of the growing industry.

We urge upon all dealers operating on small credit to give this subject the consideration that the growth of the business demands. Local capital can be interested now that could not a year ago. Capital must increase with the growing public demand for the voice-writing system.

It is a pleasure at this holiday time for our Credit Department to reflect upon our close and friendly relations with the trade—a condition which could only exist with a fixed and honorable policy toward all.

May you enjoy a Merry Christmas, and may the New Year bring you added prosperity.

Engineering

CHAS. SCHIFFL
CHIEF ENGINEER

It is one thing to multiply a machine after it has once been created, but quite another problem to obtain that starting point in design which will repay the expenditure for tools and material to satisfy the sales of a great organization like ours.

When you come to visit the Edison Works, you will find that Invention and Engineering form a distinct branch of the industry. This branch is independent of manufacturing and is separately organized, with its own power plant and shops complete.

In the Engineering Laboratories, Mr. Edison spends his time, actively interested in every detail pertaining to technical matters.

The Sales Departments of many other concerns suffer for lack of this engineering ability and the spirit of progressive development which in our case encourages the men on the "firing line" to assist in keeping the product up to the most advanced standard.

How fortunate it is for the future of the Business Phonograph that the Edison Works are so thoughtfully organized. For a Sales Department to know that an open ear is offered at all times by a capable engineering force constitutes a keynote of success.

Furthermore, the close association of Engineering and Sales is one of the most attractive guarantees of the value of an Edison Dealership. To know that selling efforts will continually be made easier by active invention and progressive design is a distinct consideration for those who give their time, energy and capital to disposing of our product.

With renewed efforts we will plan and work to make your New Year both Happy and Prosperous.

Traffic

JOHN T. ROGERS
TRAFFIC MGR.

Simply "shipping" goods at the consignee's expense is an easy task. But to assume the expense and become responsible for good routings and satisfactory deliveries is the work of an organized Traffic Department, such as ours.

This service is more valuable to the dealer than would appear at first thought. It embodies an expert's study of traffic conditions; avoiding routes that are in trouble through strikes or other difficulties; special consideration for the consignee by inviting R. R. competition; quicker deliveries by combining small shipments in carloads; in fact, working just as if the expert were the dealers' representative, paid by them, to advise the manufacturer.

So, let us have as much co-operation as possible. Try to calculate your future demand for goods in time; carry a reasonable stock; consult the local freight agent about delays, even before consulting us; anticipate slow deliveries during the storms of winter. And, in other ways, help the Traffic Department to make a better showing with less correspondence, or telegraph charges, and to a record for giving better satisfaction.

After all, let us say that we appreciate the position of the dealer as an independent business concern desiring to turn over his capital as often as possible. This includes the necessity for prompt deliveries on short notice.

The Traffic Department wishes you all a very Merry Christmas and a most Prosperous New Year, in which it will assist to its fullest power.

"His Christmas."

1.

"You can decorate your office,
With a thousand gilded signs,
And have upholstered furniture
In quaint antique designs;
Have the latest telephone exchange
Where you can say 'Hello'
But," said she, "I just made up my mind
That stenographer must go."

2.

"You can stay down at the office,
As you have done, after hours;
And if you are partial to bouquets,
I'll furnish you with flowers,
You can spring the old club story
When you come home late you know,
But remember, I've made up my mind
That stenographer must go."

3.

"You can let your bookkeepers lay off
And see a game of ball;
The office boy can leave at noon
Or not show up at all.
There—what is this upon your coat?
It isn't mine—don't laugh—
I think I know the gift for you—
A BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH."

(With apologies to Ben King.)

STENCIL IT ON YOUR MEMORY.

"I must work OUTSIDE these golden months of the New Year when ambition is young and new resolutions for economy are made by every office manager."

Tips

Number 87 December 30, 1910

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

The Personal Letter Campaign for 1911

We have organized a new department to facilitate the personal letter campaign, to be known as the MAIL SOLICITED DEPARTMENT.

All dealers are urged to co-operate with us in our New Year effort to make the Edison Personal Letter even more effective—although the results have been splendid in the past.

This will, in part, depend upon the character of the dealers' mailing list; if the list is carefully prepared and frequently revised, the advertising will show better returns—the business will grow faster—and we will put in more and more money and effort.

Dealers owe us such mailing lists because they occupy valuable territory that must produce sales, you want know the prospective purchasers and both of us concentrate to sell them by mail and personal solicitation if we are to continue successfully in business.

SPECIAL FORM FOR LISTS.

Under separate cover we are mailing printed forms on which the mailing lists must be furnished; all of the columns must be filled out; the last column, calling for "occupation," will be useful if special "class" letters are desirable at any time.

WE WILL RETAIN LISTS.

Dealers should, therefore, keep carbon copies—several are desirable for the use of salesmen and clerks. Remember, that a constant revision of the list will show us the attention we request.

CONCENTRATION OF "TYPE AND TONGUE."

Our plans do not include an indiscriminate mailing of letters; they are based on the supposition that salesmen are calling on the prospective purchasers named in the lists. By the concentration of "TYPE AND TONGUE" both efforts will be more profitable.

SIZE OF LISTS.

It is better to start with fifty names on a mailing list that you know are complete and accurate, than five hundred names hastily copied from a telephone book. Aim to address our "type" as you would your "tongue"—to the right man—the firm with a need for our system—the prospective purchaser you believe will eventually order. Try to build up comprehensive lists that you can furnish to any salesman—to-day or next year—until the firm is sold or determined to be "hopeless." As a guide to the possible work we can do for dealers in the Mail Soliciting Department we have calculated that prominent business concerns represent one to 1,000 population; to these best prospects we can, at proper intervals, mail personal letters each year. For instance, the total population of your territory is 200,000; you could maintain a list of 200, and, discarding the "hopeless," adding new names, enlarged. The foregoing is a conservative figure, assuming that all of our dealers will actively respond with their full quota. But one dealer's loss through lack of interest will be another's gain, for our efforts will not diminish and our complete campaign will be carried out.

"Get on the job" when you receive this. Give us targets for our ammunition. Don't procrastinate. Some things are more important than others—one of them, YOUR MAILING LIST, CORRECTLY MADE OUT ON THE SPECIAL FORM.

This personal request by MR. Edison, as shown below, will be used in an attractive circular enclosed with our personal letters:

I want every ambitious man and woman in business to dictate or hear at least one letter on my perfected Business Phonograph. The rest I can safely leave to their good judgment.

Thomas A. Edison

THOMAS ALVA EDISON—BORN FEBRUARY 11, 1847. A most fitting birthday gift would be your largest report of sales in January. Nothing could please him more.

RESOLVED: That I will go out and show the E.B.P. to at least one new prospective purchaser each day in 1911

New Motor Suspension Springs

An important Edison patent is the suspension of motors underneath the phonograph, by means of springs, which insulate most of the noise and vibration. It is very impractical to mount a motor directly in contact with the phonograph mechanism. Rubber washers, used by other manufacturers, are only a temporary and inferior substitute for the Edison spring suspension.

While our design with three devices has been greatly in advance of others, it has been our constant endeavor to reduce the sound of the operating motor, especially when alternating current is used.

To-day we are shipping all universal motors (not other types), with lighter suspension springs, by means of which the communication of noise and vibration is practically nil.

Look at your next purchase. Place the responder on the wax cylinder (not moving), and with the battery taken try to detect the noise of the motor when running.

If you haven't noticed the small hole in the top of the body of the sound modifier, you probably don't know how this takes out more of the noise. Place your finger over this hole in back—the noise is greatly increased or diminished as you remove your finger.

It is troublesome but not difficult to replace old springs with new ones. Dealers who wish old springs with new ones will be furnished them to have these springs will be furnished them without charge—but their employment is seldom a matter of necessity.

SAMMY

Drummond was ready Monday morning to make his "closing" with Flagler. He had good economy figures and several instances of decreasing outside of office hours that helped his "convenience" arguments; furthermore, he had counted 100 words from copy and held his watch against Flagler's dictation as it was reproduced, in order to prove that he was talking at fully 160 words a minute. Flagler had thus cut his time of dictation about half.

But, thought Drummond, Monday is a bad day to tackle my man like Flagler with a voice-writing argument. He accordingly waited until Wednesday, timing his call for two o'clock when Flagler had said he would be in and finished with lunch.

Drummond arrived in time to have a private conference with the faithful Sammy. All the troubles that the plant had encountered were rehearsed, Sammy telling with glee of the one time that Flagler dictated to the reproducer and had to re-dictate a cylinder.

Time was up—two o'clock—and Flagler found a very serious salesman confronting him.

"Mr. Flagler, I've called to get your check for my machines."

"Why, I've just commenced to get used to them—" thought you allowed thirty days' free trial of the phonograph," replied Flagler.

"My plan, Mr. Flagler, is to get my money when the customer gets results. I have made more than a purchase by you now is a good investment and when you agree with me you will be willing, I am sure, to accommodate me."

As Drummond took his posters from his pocket to present a memorandum of results, Flagler walked to the window and back, finally burst-ing out with, "I'm not going to pay any two hundred and thirty-five dollars for a new thing like this, Drummond, unless I know more about it. I can't agree you my check to-day or even promise when I will buy. Why, I've got to try these machines for probably two months more!"

"Furthermore"—he went on—"I'm not satisfied that this machine is built right—I've had some trouble with it that were very annoying."

As he paused, Drummond asked abruptly: "How much trial did you get when you bought your automobile and your amusement phonograph?"

"The answer is this, Mr. Flagler, I have a machine that is paying for itself every day. In three months it will not have cost you a penny. three months it will not have cost you a penny. But you put me off while you accept other articles without question and pay for them. Why? cles without question and pay for them. Why? Simply because you have confidence in your judgment in one case you're succeeding in business

"Mr. Flagler, you are acting on lots of propo-to-day because you are not positively sure of, but sitions that you are not positively sure of, but you back them up with your judgment and on the average you are right.

"The fair to me. I've spent my time against yours here for ten days. I've proved definite results—you don't always get as sure a proposition in all your business affairs. Look at my figures here—let us get together on this thing.

"As for your troubles with the machine—examined with my machine as you dictating to me, and some mistakes as dictating to machine and some mistakes as dictating to the reproducer will be forgotten."

"Drummond, I guess you are right. A business man's mind has got to be made up most of the time—like a woman's. Your mind the time—like a woman's. Your mind seems to be made up now—so I'll match you with my decision to-day."

Sammy answered the buzz, "Send for Mr. Lightwin, I want him to go into this phonograph proposition with us, at once."

(To be continued.)

When you telegraph, realize that we are not always to blame for the necessity of this expensive form of communication. If there is need sive form of communication. If there is need for more than ten words, wire a night message. Or, if you can make a letter do, write us. We want to facilitate business, but caution you against the "wire habit."

YOU SHOULD CARRY stock outfits with the new special finished cabinets.

Tips

Number 88 January 16, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Two Valuable Books.

EDISON—His Life and Inventions; Two Volumes, by Harper & Bro., New York.

The Editor of Tips has known Mr. Edison personally since '88, and most of the time since has been spent in his employ.

"The old man," as he is affectionately called by his intimates,—has been an inspiration and a teacher, not only to the writer, but to thousands of other employees. With a close personal knowledge of Edison's daily life always clearly before him there has naturally been a tendency to write and refer to him in a disconnected manner in dealing with many subjects. It is, therefore, a great satisfaction to the Editor that other friends have written a complete story of his life and inventions.

Prior to the publication of this book no complete, authentic and authorized record of the work of Mr. Edison during an active life has been given to the world.

Dealers should have a special interest in this book. F. L. Dyer, the president of this company, is one of the authors; the work as a whole has been approved by Mr. Edison, and the data, anecdotes, and history of his great and small inventions have come from his own library and conversations.

Neither Tips nor the Company can have any part in the distribution of these volumes. In the first place, Mr. Edison, owing to his personal connection with the work, does not wish to do any self-advertising. And, secondly, the publishers, Harper & Brothers, are so bound by contract with their book trade that purchases of the volumes must be made directly from them at the list prices, plus mailing expenses ($4.28 in all), or from the local book-seller at $4. The publisher's circular is enclosed with this number of Tips for further description.

A SUCCESS MOTTO.

Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shirk,
Don't think of your worries, but think of your work;
The worries will vanish, the work will be done:
A man sees his shadow who faces the sun!

—Unidentified.

If you are looking for a perfect vacuum exhaust the head of the man who "wasn't hired to do that."

Special Cabinet Finishes.

Office furniture to-day is finished in four principal styles: (1) Golden Oak, similar to our regular phonograph cabinet; (2) Light Oak, known as "Library Bareau"; (3) Stained Oak in various shades, called Flemish (dark), Mission (Medium), and Fumed (light); and (4) Mahogany—dull or polished.

With the growth of our business the time has come when our salesmen should furnish cabinets on machines to match the different finishes which they encounter in their customers's office furniture. We are therefore prepared to ship cabinets with special finishes as named below after ten days from receipt of the order.

Material	Finish	Extra Cost
Oak	Mission	No
Oak	Library Bureau	No
Whitewood	Dull Mahogany	$5.00 list
Mahogany	Polished	$12.50 list

Mahogany cabinets specially finished cabinets are ordered with curtain cylinder racks will be matched at no extra cost.

Sample boards showing the finishes will be forwarded upon application.

When cabinets only are ordered the base list price of $7.50 subject to usual discount.

We wish to point out, in the case of mahogany, that our limitless finish on whitewood ($5.00 extra, above list), is clever enough to deceive an expert judge of wood. It is much better than any finish that could be accomplished on Oak.

If dealers attempt to exchange cabinets they will find it a very troublesome transaction. In each case they must return perfect cabinets of the latest style with the deep moulding at the base; pay return transportation charges; and accept a charge for refinishing the returned cabinet (this charge will be nominal, but must be understood in order to guarantee positively new pouch in shipments to other dealers).

The best way is to always order specially finished cabinets with complete outfits. Customers can be told that special finishes take a little time; then, when dealers order outfits they can exchange the special cabinets they receive for the customers' regular cabinets, thus conducting the exchange locally and saving the factory and other charges.

Remember, that cabinets for Direct Current and Universal Motors are drilled differently to receive the resistance. This is also true of spring motor cabinets, which have the crank hole on the side. Therefore, specify the style motor for the cabinet, or order machines of the type in the customers' offer.

CORRECTION; TIPS No. 89 SHOULD BE CHANGED TO No. 87.

WE WANT YOUR MAILING LIST in accordance with our request in last Tips. DON'T DELAY.

Great Advertising.

Mr. Julius Tisch, of the Tisch-Hine Co., our dealers in Grand Rapids, Mich., sends us the cleverest and most attractive piece of literature we have seen in the history of voice-writing. We say this honestly, because it is designed to advertise both the house of Tisch-Hine and the salesmen who will call upon the prospect who is addressed.

The brochure is about 6x8 inches, of heavy paper, folded double, and sealed with a Tisch-Hine purser. Inside the photographs of two of the specialty Salesmen are reproduced on white paper, "mocked in." Opposite is a notice that the prospect may expect a call soon, etc.

We think enough of this dealer's enterprise to print a copy of the salesmen's photo above. Mr. H. E. North is the voice-writing man. You will notice he has his machine with him. That's good business; he knows some trouble is being taken to show what they have for sale. How much better this plan is than allowing a salesman to spend time and money canvassing with only a card case in the hip pocket and a "game of talk" in place of the article.

And, mark you, gentlemen—Tisch-Hine and H. E. North are successful.

Isupint!

Nature gives some folks gravity in place of brains.

The cardinal principal of voice-writing success is CONSTANT USE of the machines; troubles disappear, quick sales are possible; arguments are made good with results. DISUSE IS MISUSE.

"SAMMY"

The final test of salesmanship lies in the fatal minutes of "closing"—and Drummond realized this when Flagler, the President and General Manager, called in his Auditor, Mr. Lightwin, to test his arguments.

There was no time wasted after introductions were made. Drummond proceeded with his daily records of transcribing results to prove his arguments.

"Mr. Flagler," said the auditor, "it seems to me you are the one to pass on this purchase. I see you are the one to pass on this purchase. I have no check on these figures."

Flagler was quick to shift responsibility. "That's just why I called you in Lightwin.

"I want you to watch this trial a while longer and know for yourself whether this system is going to be of use for the whole office force. If it's good for me it should be for all—and this must be decided by you first."

Drummond stood up—he could talk better standing.

"I happened to know you had an expert system-atizer employed here not long ago. You paid him well for his advice, but you didn't keep him here to see his system working for a month after he proved his points to you.

"I came here on my own responsibility to prove a system and I have done it—fairly, and at my own expense.

"Because I brought my tools with me—that is no offense. If you don't want them I will take them out while you study the results.

"But that would be unfair to both of us. Why should you put two stenographers, instead of one, to do Mr. Flagler's work, assuming you the price of the equipment in a short time, probably need habit of "long trials" that you probably need with typewriters or adding machines. My results are positive—speed and dictators are not souls are positive—speed and dictators are not always so.

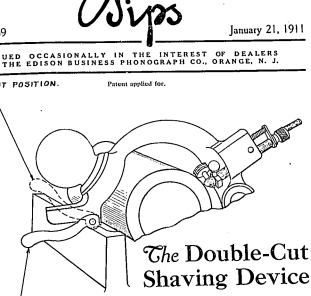
"Mr. Flagler, let's cut this short. Give me the order for my two machines. You can't lose. I represent just as responsible a firm as you have in the city. Call up any of my customers, who bought just as I am asking you to buy, and they will endorse my goods.

"Let Mr. Lightwin go into this system further with other machines which I will install whenever he says. But give me my wage—as you did your expert systematizer—as I proceed."

Flagler gave his consent by his expression, and Drummond was wise enough to quit talking.

"Much obliged, Mr. Flagler; we won't bother you any further now. Mr. Lightwin and I will fix the matter outside."

PINES.



Editor's Note—I have been asked "what became of Sammy?" and "what the chief, with readers, here called "sweet heart-breaker" in "Sammy" North-rop—the gentle salesman. Sammy simply lived to be one of our most quick sales; Sammy still on the job and if you wish, you can get him for a big customer, with the minimum disturbance of trouble to the purchaser. Sammy is most efficient. If you are scared for said customer, Sammy is wise enough to hunt him up and educate him.

Tips

Number 89 January 21, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

2ND CUT POSITION. Patent applied for.

1ST CUT POSITION.

The Double-Cut Shaving Device

TRADE MARK Thomas A. Edison

All shaving machine arms are now equipped with the device illustrated above. It accomplishes two things: First, Does the work faster, because the depth of the second cut is automatically adjusted by simply raising the lever, thus saving the second operation of re-setting the knife and stopping and starting the power. Second, Prevents rough surfaces by the automatic adjustment of a light finishing cut.

The operation of using the device may be simply explained as follows: Set the shaving knife as usual with the lever "down." Take the first cut. Then, without stopping the power, re-setting the knife, lift the lever up until it touches the shaving machine arm. Lift the entire arm and place it on the left end of the straight edge as usual; the lever will then readjust up without assistance and the correct second cut be taken, automatically.

It is important to note that the weight of the arm holds the lever in the second cut position after the lever has been lifted by the hand. If the arm is lifted off the straight edge the lever will drop to the first cut position; and, if the lever is disturbed while "up" the knife will be raised and the cylinder will be shaved in grooves as often as the lever is raised and lowered.

The shaving boy must be taught the simple operation. In view of the prevention of rough shaving, the trouble he can cause by "monkeying" with the device is not to be anticipated. Further, if he doesn't want to use the device at all the shaving arm is not made inoperative.

Dealers or customers who wish to have old arms equipped with the double cut device will be charged the difference, i. e., $5 cents list, transportation extra. In returning old arms it is better to strip them of all parts, including knife and bar, and feed nut and spring.

WE SEND "RAP LETTERS" to prospects who have machines on trial; they contain strong arguments over the personal signature of the Vice-President.

MARK A MAP WITH THE LOCATION OF YOUR CUSTOMERS—It will save a whole lot of time in seeing how to call on them systematically.

EXTRA TIPS

If there is an old mechanical foot-trip in use in your territory your plain duty is not finished until it is replaced with the pneumatic design.

We say the same about the old rubber bearing tubes; they should be replaced with the adjustable aluminum ones.

Here's an offer. Tell us of the customers with old accessories like these and we will write them, soliciting orders for your benefit.

Will you look the matter up?

Many of Tips' readers will sniff at a sound modifier lesson—but right at that point is where many a new transcriber gains an unnecessarily bad impression of voice-writing. Teach a transcriber, first of all, to adjust the screw in the modifier, so that the surface noise of the cylinder is cut off and only the clear sound of the voice remains. Early in the use of the machine, stenographers are very sensitive to "scratch," and when it can be removed so simply it is a shame that any Edison salesman should forget to explain the operation. Overlooking these little things often loses a sale.

Read the instruction sheet on the construction of reproducers: There is an important detail that you should note, namely, the rubber gaskets on each side of the diaphragm. Usually a salesman will overlook the repair of a reproducer gasket tirely. Take any old reproducer that has been in use—say a year—and note how live-rubber gaskets in place of the old dead ones. Be sure to replace the metal, paper and rubber gaskets in their proper position. Tighten up the screw ring, using the strength of the fingers—no more.

This is not a difficult operation, and it greatly improves results.

Order rubber reproducer gaskets TO-DAY, and do some practicing.

Important: Now then you have the rapid adjustment shaving knife in which the sapphire blade can be replaced, be careful to specify sapphire knife only when you need a knife for the new style bar. And look out when you put a new knife in place that you get it "face up," so that the edge will cut.

It cost us a dollar or so good money with stenographers (we have a hundred or so more)—telegraphing here he could measure the current consumption of the Universal Motor. You may need just such figures for comparison in our next comparative trial. Why wait? Get any local electrician on the job TO-DAY. Be able to prove by a disinterested report that other Universal (?) Motors cost $8.00 to $10.00 more a year per machine to operate.

Paste three numbers on the cylinder system boxes at equal distance; the one number that is usually put on does not appear to the dictator at all times and causes him the trouble of handling the box to turn it around. Three numbers prevent this.

(Original)

Monthly Inspection Service

U. R. Wise and Company

Mechanicsburg, Everywhere

Inspection Order No. ..... Date .....

Name of Customer .....

Address .....

Serial No. and Type of Machine .....

Inspection to commence .....

In consideration of the sum of $ ..... per month we agree to inspect, clean and oil the machines mentioned in the above agreements and shown thereon, and, when necessary, to make Shaving Machines, and when necessary, to make such adjustments as can readily be done without removing the machines from your office. It is expressly understood that this agreement does not consider a guarantee against repairs, does not consider extensive repairs rendered necessary by abuse, misuse and accident, nevertheless will work to specifications returned of the machines from your office, nor are any repair parts included.

This agreement to remain in force until cancelled in writing by either party.

U. R. WISE and COMPANY.

U. R. WISE and COMPANY:—

You are hereby authorized to care for our machines on the above terms.

Signed .....

AN INSPECTION FORM

We give above a suggestion for an Inspection Form. Every dealer should have a form of this kind, either printed or typewritten. If dealers will drill their salesmen and mechanics into soliciting for these Inspection Agreements there will be less kicks from customers, and in addition to the income from such agreements, the tion to the license from such agreements, the satisfaction of old customers will bring new business that would otherwise be lost.

There is a physiological effect in presenting a neatly printed Inspection Form for signature at the end of an argument with a customer; he sees you fill out the form for a small monthly payment; he listens to your service talk with a definite figure before him of what it will cost; he is apt to sign an agreement if you have it ready; he will put it off if you appear to have to regular proposition in writing to present.

The Editor, at the first opportunity, will prepare a folder on the benefits of inspection for salesmen to present or distribute through the mails.

Watch the speed of the mandrel after new machines are installed. Starting at 100 revolutions they will gradually increase with oiling and wear and should be adjusted occasionally.

BUY A SATURDAY EVENING POST. If there are any advertisers in your territory you will find them good prospects: they are receiving replies—else they wouldn't advertise.

Tips

Number 90 — January 26, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Selling Plan No. 1

(Demonstrating in the Homes)

Every day, if you are a hustling salesman, you encounter the busy prospect who is inclined to cut your remarks short with "Can't you see me some other time when I am not so busy?"

To these prospects the suggestion to demonstrate quietly in their homes in the evening should be well received.

You can promise more than a dry talk on "writing letters," saying something like this:—

"Let me come up to your home some evening. I will bring my appliances and show you the whole system when you are free from interruptions. You can talk to the machine; see how it operates; discuss your present cost of writing letters in the office; put yourself in a position to KNOW this important Edison product which is a big factor in correspondence today.

"And here is an entertaining part of my demonstration. You can invite your friends, neighbors and family to make a record of their voices on the wax cylinder which I will leave with you to preserve and reproduce any time.

"Read over this circular. You see I give you the voices of the family in "canned form." The children will grow up and leave home and you will want a record of their childish voices—perhaps one of their recitations. Then the old folks can make a record too."

This is only one of the many ways to interest a prospect and make a sale by demonstrating. It is especially desirable when the prospect is a "boss" that you cannot reach in business hours with any degree of satisfaction.

Any salesman who will report cylinders given away at "home demonstrations" will have them replaced, "no charge, in next shipment." Make this report more than a mere claim; tell us in an interesting way what you did and accomplished.

The circular we speak of above is very attractive, showing the home scene illustrated on this page. We have printed them for dealers who refer to this number of "Tips" and agree to make home demonstrations when the opportunity presents. Write for some today.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a series of Selling Plans to be followed by others used by successful Edison Salesmen. The entire series will furnish a guide to the beginner and the experienced salesman as well. Prospects must be reached in various ways and by different plans which the dealer must apply at the proper time.

WILL YOU HELP THE EDITOR? Send us descriptions of your best selling plans, to be written up in Tips like the above. Here's a chance to become famous.

OUR CIRCULARIZING FORCE IS NOT BUSY ENOUGH—SEND IN YOUR MAILING LIST! SEND IT IN!!

Bright Work

John D. Bright, the man who runs the Business Phonograph Co. of Texas, at Dallas, writes us of the first organised and successful effort to do public voice writing. He says:

"Swiggard and Lynn have quite a number of our Machines, some of which they keep in their office, and the balance of which they rent to people at $1.00 per month, with the understanding that they are to get the transcribing. They furnish the records and the machines, $5.00 a month and send for the machines when they are worn out. This is working very promptly, and secures the cylinders in addition to the rent of the Machines, at $1.00 per month per folks. They are also talking to the people who have their records transcribed, but when, at times, have more records than their transcribers can do promptly, tell a man that it help to us here, as we can give him his operator could once he should at times. We prefer here who will take care of, that they are quite a remarkable trade in this line, and do it for him in a reasonable time. I think it amounts to a great saving of worry and of money to have three Multigraphs and a Typewriter, address the envelopes, work they fill in, letters, circulars. They are cheap and turn out a finished product. They are delightful.

We have another concern in Fort Worth that we will have lined up, we think, by the 15th of December, with probably a total of four or five Machines, to do the same class of work.

We advise you to write Bright and get any pointers you need to start something like this in your city.

Edison Business Phonograph Co.,
Chicago, Ill.

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 5, 1910.

GENTLEMEN:—

Rubber Stamp Results

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. ——, P. O. Box ——, in reference to orders which he is placing with us, and he further writes as follows:

"I now take this opportunity of asking you a favor. I notice at the bottom of your letters, also in the PHONOGRAPH, I understand this is to be a phonograph, conscientious letter has been given me, and kindly let me and shall feel much obliged if you will kindly let me know the reason this manner, and whether same is on account of letters being taken down notes by shorthand, perhaps as compared by talking down machine.

We are to-day writing him, giving him your matter and address, and we think you will probably take the matter up with him direct, advising if you have a satisfactory Agency, and if not, the manner in which he could order such a commercial outfit.

Inasmuch as the system is very flexible to us we are able to recommend same very efficient, and economical.

THE ACME SHEAR COMPANY,
(Signed) Per THOMAS C. SHEAR, Secretary.

Dec. 9, C. W.—E. R.
Phonograph 3-98.

Pitching the Voice Writing

This story was told while the boys were laughing at an Edison salesman who was afflicted with a very high-pitched voice that did not reproduce well on the mmeline. It was said, he would hold his chin in and make desperate efforts to speak in a manly in and make desperate efforts to speak in a manly baritone, but he never could lower his pitch.

"Perhaps here is a suggestion that will help, brother," and a salesman told this story:

"One cold, wet and windy night I came upon a negro sequestionator shivering in a doorway of a store. Wondering what the darky could be doing, standing on a cold, wet night in such a draughty position, I said:

"Jim, what are you doing there?"

"Scuse me, sir," said Jim, "but I'm gwine to ring hahs to-morrow mornin' at church, an' I'm tryin' to ketch a cold."

A Short Trial Artist

Peter Hacigaluzi & Sons, San Francisco, in handing an order for the first part of this month from the Pacific Coast Casualty Company of San Francisco, report as follows:

"We entered this order simply on a strong recommendation of our machine by them. First, not a demonstration of our machine should beginning for trial. We think this is an exemption thoroughly in the new year 1911, and as an exemption thoroughly in the future as well. We put out the trial business as much as possible. Of course it is necessary to use a certain amount of judgment in this matter, for the reason that some of prospects are not prepared for a short trial in some cases, as you understand. If the prospect was would assure an order, and would result in our losing out, turned down, which would result in our losing out. As in the above case, the writer and three principals of the concern, and their first request upon entering the proposition was for their machine to try at home for a week. This simply was that we need not say that these goods can sell itself. Therefore we do not put these goods out on trial, but will order you to concern who would just as soon think of borrowing out their neighbor's wife as to turn them out on trial. This argues writers as their Business Phonographs. This argument went and the writer came back all up a pronouncement in any case, however, it is our intention to do away with the long trials."

The Tally.

It isn't the job we intend to do
Or the labor we've put into;
That puts us right on the ledger sheet;
It's the work we have really done.

Our credit is built upon things we do,
Our debit on things we shirk,
The man who totals the biggest plus
Is the man who completes his work.

Good intentions do not pay bills;
It's easy enough to plan.
To wish is the play of an office boy;
To do is the job of a man.

—Richard Lord in System, the Magazine of Business.

MY! Those specially finished cabinets are fine; Read about them in Tips No. 88—then order.

Tips

Number 91 February 10, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Selling Plan No. 2

(Demonstration in Offices)

Experience has proved that Demonstration is necessary in selling the Edison Business Phonograph, for several reasons.

1. Demonstration is economical. While it may seem a hardship to transport the principal parts of an outfit to show a prospective purchaser, it is the least expensive means of knowing whether a sale is possible or not. The man who will not give the salesman fifteen minutes to show the system will probably not give his time to a more lengthy trial.

2. Demonstration locates the best material for dictating and transcribing. Canvassing a firm having several dictators and transcribers without a demonstration does not bring out the objections that an actual test will. By obliging prospective users to speak and listen, the clever salesman can often select the ones with the most need and enthusiasm for the System.

3. Demonstration is the only sure means of obtaining bona fide orders without trials. Certainly a prospective purchaser should be given the opportunity of investigating the System if he is to be asked to buy without a trial. Furthermore, demonstration is a mark of the salesman's confidence in his goods and the very act places him in a position to insist on an order and point to the trial as unnecessary.

4. Demonstration is a check on the inexperienced salesman. Trials are easily secured by enthusiastic salesmen who do not always realize the necessity of following them up to a successful conclusion. When a trial order is secured after a careful demonstration, the sale is half made, and the interests of all concerned are protected. The dealer knows he has invested wisely—the salesman that his time will be profitably spent.

The art of successfully selling the Edison Business Phonograph consists in locating the best prospective purchasers on whom it will pay to concentrate in education and in proving the System.

To spend a short time in a preliminary test of what we believe to be good material for a sale is only an extension of advertising—another step in the eliminating process of locating the buyer.

If we neglect demonstration we are only taking greater chances, with perhaps an expensive penalty waiting us, in a refusal to buy after a tiresome trial.

Experience shows that February is a better business month than January.

Don't be too proud to carry a demonstrating machine.

Every successful salesman shows his samples if possible. In our line we can do this more easily than many others. Hence, we should not be foolish enough to miss the advantage because demonstration appears troublesome at first sight.

MAKE ALL CHECKS OR DRAFTS PAYABLE TO H. S. STORR

H. S. STORR
DEALER
EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPHS
70 N. BROAD ST., ATLANTA, GA.

....., 191

Please ship to.....

Edison Business Phonographs.....Motor Accessories Complete @ $

" " " " " " @

" Shaving Machine " " " " @

.....Dollars as follows

for which agree to pay..... F. O. B. ATLANTA
Discount for Cash on installation.

ALL VERBAL AND WRITTEN AGREEMENTS ARE MERGED IN THIS ORDER

Signed.....

THIS ORDER NOT VALID UNTIL APPROVED BY H. S. STORR

NO PROTEST

THE EDISON PHONOGRAPH

Thomas A. Edison

$ ..... ATLANTA, GA., ... 191....

ON ..... AFTER DATE.... PROMISE TO PAY

TO THE ORDER OF H. S. STORR

..... DOLLARS.

PAYABLE AT.....

This note having been given to the said H. S. Storr, as per contract, it is hereby agreed that the ownership and title to the said goods remains in said H. S. Storr, until this note is fully paid.

VALUE RECEIVED WITH INTEREST.

SIGNATURE.....

ADDRESS.....

Two valuable forms used by H. S. Storr, our Atlanta dealer are reproduced above.

The order form is necessary to avoid misunderstanding in settlements. The dealer who is not careful to secure such an order is often confronted by the customer, after the goods are installed, with statements that certain wrong prices were quoted or terms were offered that make the sale impossible. A dealer who employs a salesman should especially insist on a signed order by the customer for the smallest article, and the salesman himself should want the same protection as the dealer.

Mr. Storr does a good business in outlying territory. He carries a demonstrating outfit with him and invariably shows the system in practical operation to the customer; then he is in a position to secure a bona fide order.

When the goods are installed, Mr. Storr does not rush the customer through a hasty education, but spends a day or two in proving that his installation was a true representation of what he claimed in demonstration.

With this earnest attentiveness, the customer is brought to the point of either paying for the outfits at once or in making a part payment in cash and the balance in notes on the note form shown above.

With notes Mr. Storr is in a better position to make collections than with simply a customer's promises; he can also negotiate these notes with his bank in obtaining money for more machines from us, which he purchases in most cases for cash, thus saving two per cent.

Ever meet a factory representative? He carries a machine! Do you?

Tips

Number 92 — February 14, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS
BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Selling Plan No. 3

(Proving Arguments By Trial)

You must remember that practically every installation you make is a trial of the system up to the time when you receive payment for the outfits.

"Trials" grew out of a desire on the part of conservative prospects to defend themselves against unscrupulous salesmen who tried to collect payment on the slightest evidence of interest in their goods.

The honest buyer has only to experience one unpleasant instance of a salesman claiming that a bona fide order was given—when the intention was merely to investigate—to insist on a trial period for every future purchase.

Of course, there are dishonest buyers who adopt the method of sincere purchasers and ask for trials with no intention of retaining the goods under any circumstances.

These conditions the salesman must be shrewd enough to understand and investigate the customer's sincerity as he would his credit, since, after all, both are questions of honest dealing.

But, granted you have tried to make a bona fide sale through demonstration, and a sincere prospect requires further evidence before purchasing, there should be no hesitancy in placing the system on trial.

THERE IS NO OFFICE APPLIANCE SOLD TODAY WHICH COMPARES WITH OURS IN THE EASE WITH WHICH DEFINITE ECONOMIES CAN BE SHOWN IN SO SHORT A PERIOD.

The cardinal principles of salesmanship in successfully conducting trials lie in three things:—

First. Selecting the prospect who will buy with proper proof.

Second. Securing co-operation in the use of the system to produce results.

Third. The interest and ability to tabulate these results and present them with strong closing arguments.

An energetic salesman can always find prospects to employ his time. The real test of his competency lies in spending his time profitably. He must weigh the prospect's intentions and decide to put his time in with those offering the least risk of finally refusing to buy. The cultivation and selection of ripe prospects by canvassing, advertising, and demonstration are equally important as the more mechanical work of conducting the trial.

Enthusiasm, the ability to make friends, and knowledge of the system are qualities that produce results in a trial: without the proof of definite values a sale cannot be made. So, it follows that a salesman who cannot organize a prospect's office and have the dictators and transcribers co-operate for higher accomplishments is badly handicapped.

Whatever the circumstances, the faithful, if not brilliant, salesman can carefully follow up he daily calls the comparative results of voice-writing vs. stenography. Edison figures don't lie. Closing arguments become easy with definite results to show the prospect.

This a trial of the Edison system becomes a game worth playing, with sure rewards for the enthusiastic salesman.

A SALESMAN who can close one trial in ten days can make at least $10 a day for his firm and himself. Get in the game! Take a chance! Edison machines can do everything but ask for a job!

SAY TO ANYONE: Here is proof in our Partial List of Satisfied Users that 75 million letters are voice written a year, saving at least 5 million dollars for Edison customers

1200 Boosters

We take considerable pride in announcing a new Partial List of Satisfied Users. This contains 1215 names classified under 295 different kinds of business, located in the principal cities of the country.

Every user in this list has personally replied to our inquiry concerning satisfaction with our System. There has been no attempt to collect a list of the greatest possible number. We have been content to secure a representative collection of the best of concerns carrying on a great variety of businesses.

Attention is called to the insert in the front of the booklet which notifies the reader that the parties named in the list will not answer inquiries.

At first sight, our failure to present the names of Satisfied Users as references may seem peculiar; indeed some persons might take it as an indication that the list is not trustworthy.

To dealers, we may say that our limitation in offering the list as we do is principally in their interest. The reason will be quite apparent, on explanation. For instance, a prospective purchaser—possibly a large firm with a staff of prejudiced buyers—might send a cautious or prejudiced buyer—might send a confidential letter of inquiry to every name on the list. Such a letter would ask every conceivable question: "did the machines ever get out of order?" "did you ever have trouble obtaining transcribers?" etc., etc.

Out of many letters received in reply, the enquirer could, of course, prove any attitude he wished to assume, and although every answer might be practically an endorsement of our system, the wording of each letter that best suited his arguments would be quoted.

The whole procedure would be manifestly unjust. Hence, the "Smart Alec" who now proceeds to circularize the New Edison list for scrap knocks will only be out his time and postage.

To further block these efforts to discredit our splendid showing we ask each dealer to locate the names of his customers in the list, to supplement presents, and point out to them our forgoing reasons.

The list presents a great testimonial of extended popularity into many trades and professions. Any prospective purchaser who glances at its contents will find these questions answered—"Is your system much used in offices today?" or "will the system be practical in my office?"

Finally, the reader should bear in mind that we were allowed to publish the names of many of our customers—especially the large concerns —only on the express understanding that they should be exempted from answering inquiries.

The booklet, "A Partial List of Users," can be ordered from our Advertising Department in small quantities for salesmen's personal distribution; it is not intended as a piece of general advertising.

CONSULT THE LOCAL DIRECTORY with the Partial List of Satisfied Users. Are there any branch offices of users in your territory? Any prospects in similar lines?

Contents of a Demonstrating Outfit

The whole art in making a smooth demonstration lies in rehearsing the description of each part and operation with the part or accessory at hand in perfect order.

Needless to mention, the machine itself is of first importance; have it in good order and of the type you expect to sell (ascertain from the prospect if electrical current is available—if not you must carry a Spring Motor Machine).

For ease and convenience in transportation, have a leather handle attached to the machine and another detached handle with snap catches and another detached handle with snap catches ready for your assistant to use on the some machine, if you can obtain help.

Then, obtain a small leather case and pack it with important literature (especially dictation indexes) and accessories. The latter should include two cylinders in numbered system boxes, four trip, amendment card, speaking tube and hearing tube.

Go about your demonstrating in a business like way. Learn to stop talking when you have shown how a letter is dictated and transcribed, and have made brief mention of the important features of the machine and system.

Remember the object of your work is to make a sale.

Finish your discourse in time to come to the main point before exclusive or business callers the prospect to end the call.

The prospect will ask you questions and urge you to demonstrate, if you have interested him.

"TAKE THIS TIP. ASK THE PROSPECT THE NAME OF A FRIEND YOU CAN REPEAT THE DEMONSTRATION TO AND PERHAPS HE WILL INTRODUCE YOU ON THE PHONE OR BY CARD.

An enthusiastic dealer compliments our Mail Soliciting Department with these words—

"The less of average holds good in this business just as surely as in manufacturing lines. Acting on our experiences, the prospects recording to our calculations. The rule of ceived will not six hundred. Well, here, 'an order for every card' holds good here. Good work! Keep it up! That's the kind of work that will make 1911 a winner!"

Not that We Think—

A young salesman recently entered a restaurant, glanced at the menu and then looked at the waitress.

"Nice day, Little One," he began.

"Yes, it is," she answered, "and so was yesterday, and my name is Ella, and I know I'm a day, and my name is Ella, and I know I'm a little peach and have pretty blue eyes, and I've been here quite a while, and I like the place, and I don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working here. If I did I'd quit my job. My wages are satisfactory, and I don't think there's a show or dance in town to-night, and if there is I shall not go with you, and I'm from the country, and I'm a respectable girl, and my brother is cook in this hotel, and he weighs two hundred pounds, and last week he wiped up this floor with a fifty-dollar-a-month travelling man who tried to make a date with me. Now what'll you have?"

—Realty Magazine.

Number 93

Tips

March 10, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Selling Plan No. 4

(Providing Edison Operators)

If everywhere you tried to sell you could say "I have an Edison operator who will write double the letters your present stenographer is writing", or "Your stenographer has not done as well with the Edison Business Phonograph as an operator that I can send you", you certainly would sell more—wouldn't you?

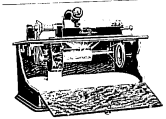
Every Edison dealer realizes this, sooner or later, but some do not seriously apply themselves to the task of having operators available for positions, forgetting that such a convenience will help them and their customers when the demand arises.

One of the most serious mistakes that a dealer can make in this connection is to be a party to robbing a customer of his help. Loyalty to the customer is the first rule. You cannot successfully organize a territory and make more sales by disorganizing the customers you already have.

A dealer says "What shall I do for operators—the demand is increasing"?

First: In a diplomatic manner, explain to a customer that he must try to keep his operators by appreciating the work they do in double production. A user we know, who employed both stenographers and transcribers, placed a higher wage scale on the latter, which consequently produced more applicants to operate the Edison Business Phonograph than he could accomodate.

Second: Every sale is made with successful operators; the scarcity is caused by losing track of them. Therefore, make it your business to know and carefully list every operator you train. A little tact will impress these business women with your genuine interest in their welfair; they will then visit your office and tell you of new recruits whom you should be able to train and list. Souvenirs, such as the dictionaries recently offered, prove a means of registering good stenographers.



Third: Keep in touch with Typewriting Offices, Business Schools, The Y. W. C. A. and other sources of stenographic supply. One dealer successfully showed a Y. W. C. A. stenography class how to qualify for Edison transcribing and this proved a steady source of supply.

IT'S A WISE AND ENTERPRISING DEALER THAT RECOGNIZES THIS SITUATION, PARTICULARLY BEFORE THE SUMMER SEASON OPENS.

This is MARCH. Twenty-seven (27) working days full of possibilities for Edison workers. DON'T MARK TIME.

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Is there a R. R. Office in your territory? Read the article below.

The Improved Shaver

Description of Changes. The Cabinet has no chip drawer but is hinged in front to allow access to chip bag which takes its place; the motor-driven cutter is in a bag (similar to vacuum cleaner) which is quickly detached and replaced; the chip chute extends through the cabinet to the cylinder; all tubes extend through the top plate so that the connecting-hose system cannot be rifled without lifting the top; the motor-hose has been rebuilt; pulley for direct drive has been added; the belt is so located so that the belt cannot drop off. The cylinder has also new construction metal seldom be lifted. All new shavers have the knife bar combined with a bronze, easy clamp lever, rapid adjustment shaving knife and double fly-nut shaver. Items for erected to know: Electric motor attachments remain effective. No price, see $30.00.

The most exacting critic of shaving machine technique, will, we are sure, be satisfied with the above design.

In regard to the new prices we have simply to state that is a question of cost and $500 additional for the new design is necessary.

Often times dealers do not appreciate Edison design in its results and particularly in its adaptability to selling, which requires interchangeable hand and electric power in one machine.

In the first place we point out that the removal of the wax chips by air is known to produce the finest wax surface and while a cheaper device could be manufactured, the result we aim at could not be accomplished.

The device for removing the chip now in use by another company today, for instance, is the device formerly sold on all Edison amusement machines for years. It is cheap, but not entirely effective.

The Edison standard of results calls for a better surface, which requires an exhaust fan and correspondingly a motor of more power—both adding considerable to the expense.

In the second place, every Edison shaving machine is equipped for hand shaving, adding in the case of Electric Shavers, the countershaft and hand drive attachment.

No other firm does this for the customer or the salesman. Why?

The Edison Company appreciate that a customer wants the choice of either a hand or electric drive, and it would add expense and cause dissatisfaction to all concerned if every shaver was not quickly adaptable to either. To add the Electric drive without the exclusive of different machines and without the expense of carrying two types in stock is a great advantage to the dealer.

So, also, is the dealer and customer benefited by the rapid adjustment knife. New salesman and outlying customers require an easy quick adjustment of the knife in place of the professional adjustment necessary in a less ingenious and expensive device.

WE WILL BE PLEASED TO HAVE THE COMMENTS OF THE TRADE, AFTER TRYING THE IMPROVED DESIGN.

Soliciting in R. R. Offices

Recent sales have shown the interest of the Rail Roads in effecting economies with voice-writing.

THIS IS A NOTICE TO ALL DEALERS TO PROMPTLY DEMONSTRATE TO R. R. OFFICES IN THEIR TERRITORY AND IN EVERY INSTANCE REPORT RESULTS TO ORANGE WHICH WILL ACT AS A CLEARING-HOUSE OF RAILROAD INFORMATION AND ADVICE.

The work of the government and of such great economizers as Brandeis, Emerson and Ralston have awakened the managements of the Roads to every improvement possible in the cost of operating. Prejudice against any method that shows economy has been put aside, and the device that can prove a money saving will have an audience if properly presented.

This is particularly true in the Freight Claim Departments, where, in addition to the desire for economies, there is the necessity (also forced on the R. R.'s) of promptly settling freight claims

The Comptrollers, the Auditors and particularly the Freight Claim Agents are the ones to reach.

DON'T BE A PIKER IN PRESENTING YOUR PROPOSITION.

The R. R. management in most cases must have the prospect of a big saving presented to them to wake them up.

"Two machines and a Shaver" is all right as far as it goes—but in any event, look over the Freight Claim Department and make a true statement that you can save them one third to one half of their stenographic expense and enable the work to be done promptly.

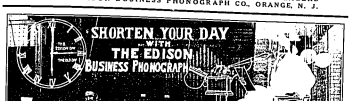
Successful sales are made to R. R.'s, by proving big economies. The Freight Claims are behind. Two machines are a den bike; they inject prejudice into the department; the results are proportional if you can make the R. R. see it—but not so apparent as the results of a big installation.

Make a bid for big results!

The Edison Company is behind every dealer with its full-est assistance to help you make good.

Above all, make it clear that you are an Edison exponent and get in your demonstration early.

And tell us what you do!



When a Competitor copies Edison features years after their introduction you can realize how far we are in the march of progress and how weak we frequently are not to be more enthusiastic for what we have.

PUNCH-SEEK-AND-FILE CAREFULLY

Tips

Number 94 March 16, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH CO., ORANGE, N. J.

Selling Plan No. 5

(Window Display)

We reproduce, above, a postal card photograph of a window prepared by the Stone Piano Company, our dealer in Fargo, N. D. This dealer deserves the greatest praise for a very unique and practical arrangement. An air pencil was used to paint on the window the dictator and the clock from our current advertising. Actual voice-writing was demonstrated in the window space by the Sales Manager and his stenographer in despatching the firm's regular mail.

From our experience of many years we give the following suggestions:

Make the window sell the goods. Too often a salesman makes a window display an excuse for laziness by loafing on the trimming of the window followed by a period of waiting make it the center of an active campaign for business getting, using personal calls, circularizing, newspapers, etc. to direct attention to it.

Use the machine or have it moving. Aside from attracting attention, a machine should show the purpose of its use. During those times of the day when a window is most noticed, a dictator, a transcriber, or a shaving machine operator can demonstrate with profit.

Explanatory cards and cards with talking points. A display should be thought out with reference to the passer-by, whom we must assume does not know our business. If dictating is desirable. A clever plan is to allow the transcriber, working beside the dictator, or alone, to typewrite various talking points and paste them on the window to be read. Descriptive cards may be pasted on the window with colored tape running from them to parts of the machine. In a word, aim to make the whole story of voice-writing as comprehensive as possible to the onlooker.

Make it an Edison display. Hammer it into the prospect that we are selling an Edison product, by using the name and trade-mark in a prominent manner.

You can borrow or rent a window. Oft-times a part or whole of a window may be secured, if you have none of your own.

Have window office hours. Never depend on a window alone for a living. Be on hand at regular hours—and spend the balance of your time as usual. Interested parties will generally leave their cards and a receptacle for cards may even be placed on the outside to assist the busy and reticent prospect.

Every dealer and salesman should know the rules in appointing outlying Representatives—Read Circular Letter No. 41.

Dealers' Outlying Representatives

Let dealers and their salesmen read and understand Circular Letter No. 41, recently mailed, on the Appointment of Outlying Representatives. It is often difficult for the latter to take the time to understand the plans devised at Orange for the extension of our business. Circular letter No. 41 clearly explains how outlying representatives can be appointed to assist a dealer operating from a given point. Sit down and read the letter. Give the plan serious thought. We want you to realize that the growth of a business like ours makes it necessary to reach the prospects in outside districts who have heard of our success in the larger centers.

"THE DEALER WHO SHOWS THE ABILITY TO ORGANIZE AND WORK OUTLYING TERRITORY WILL BE GIVEN GREATER OPPORTUNITIES BY THE MANUFACTURER. POWER GRAVITATES TO THOSE WHO CAN ASSUME IT. THE DEALER OF THE FUTURE, WHO WILL CONTROL THE PROFITS, MUST BE BIG ENOUGH TO ENLARGE HIS SPHERE OF INFLUENCE.

Desk Brackets

Before the pedestal became popular and was found to be a convenient means of installing the Edison Business Phonograph, the Desk Bracket was used entirely for dictation. We have a supply of these which dealers can use in many instances. Order a desk bracket with your next shipment (Price $10 list). It saves your next shipment (Price $10 list). It saves room in crowded offices and swings out of the way. It can be substituted in the dictation outfit in place of the pedestal. Never install it for transcribing.

When installing the Pneumatic Foot-trip Attachment, in place of the mechanical foot-trip, observe these points: Make the start and stop buttons work easily, remembering that the pneumatic pressure is very slight and will not lift a button that sticks. Also note the clutch teeth; if these are worn so that they release while the foot is still on the pedal, the teeth on the pulley may easily be filed to correct the difficulty. If the teeth are badly worn it may be necessary to place a washer on the stud next to the existing to set it over. We will supply these washers without charge, upon application.

Handling Big Sales

Small dealers are often confronted with big "prospects", which they do not handle so as to produce big results because they lack the nerve, training and capital of the larger dealers with more capable salesmen.

The small dealer who deals in small installations is inclined to think small, which we do not particularly complain of, but we want to not particularly complain of, but we want to suggest to the entire trade that they think over and profit by the advice which follows:—

Suppose, for instance a large Railroad Office, is located in a territory where a dealer is representing the Edison Business Phonograph. Possibly it is not the habit of the dealer or salesman to hunt up the big concerns and offer to place one hundred (100) machines on trial to prove to them a big saving in economy. The dealer's livelihood depends upon small transactions with sure profit and small investment with the manufacturer, and so the big concern is not approached in a way that in many cases secures the big order.

"Two machines and a shaver" is the limit in most cases for trial. We, ourselves, advise this as a normal proceeding in order to prevent disorganization. An abnormally large vent disorganization. An abnormally large trial, if unsuccessful, may leave the dealer in a badly overstocked condition, and such a suggestion to the entire trade is decidedly unbusinesslike.

But now in these days of increasing popularity of the Edison Business Phonograph we hesitate to limit caution the dealer—small or large—not to limit his aggressiveness to small concerns or small trials when big effort to prove economies for large firms, like the Railroads, promise large returns.

Remember the Edison Company is behind you. Talk as big as you please to the biggest prospects and let us help you if necessary. "Don't Pike." See the big boss. Skin, if you can, Pike." See the big boss. Skin, if you can, the petty prejudice of the flea-bite trial by reaching the Manager who pays the bills and wants big proof—a big working voicewriting department—to base calculations upon.

Talk as big as Edison would himself—then ask for help if you need it.

The only man permitted to enter Fortune's gate is he who keeps on fighting, and never yields to fate.

If you have an outlying Representative at the present time, report it promptly on form 1952.

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Tips

Number 95 — March 27, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THE THOMAS A. EDISON, INCORPORATED, ORANGE, N. J.

RETURN IN FIVE DAYS TO
THOMAS A. EDISON, INC.

MESSRS. TYPE AND TONGUE,

FOLLOWUPS,

PA.

Selling Plan No. 6

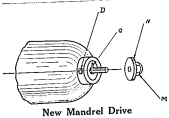
(Circularizing Dealer's Prospects)

Edison salesmen have their powers and personality magnified and extended by our circularizing plans. We send our personal soliciting letters, primarily, to facilitate the salesman's personal calls—NOT TO CREATE A PROSPECT THAT THE DEALER HAS NOT MADE PROVISION TO REACH WITH PERSONAL SOLICITATION WITHIN A SHORT TIME, FOR, SUCH A PROSPECT WOULD PROBABLY NOT BE SOLD IF INTERESTED BY US.

A live salesman in ordinary territory should easily solicit ten or more firms a day. Even with other duties besides soliciting, such as caring for trials, making mechanical adjustments for customers, etc., he can at least call on ten firms to ascertain their manager's names, the number of stenographers, etc.

With this daily increasing data of prospects a list of one or two hundred names that will be worth while may quickly be supplied to us for circularizing. Lists that do not show this accurate knowledge will be questioned.

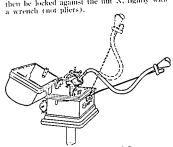
With frequent new lists, furnished as we call for them, a territory can be successfully covered in so far as the dealer shows a disposition to do active canvassing with capable salesmen.



The injustice of extensive circularizing on our part for the dealer who does not supply a proper sales force can readily be appreciated by those dealers who are under a heavy expense for salesmen and who must command our efforts to assist their salesmen to accomplish the maximum results.

Every dealer should compile a list of prospects and edit such a list continually, otherwise full information concerning prospects cannot honestly or successfully be made up on short notice. When we require lists from a dealer we write expecting to have them furnished soon with new names, if possible, and old names that are useless, omitted.

Lists must be made up on the special blank forms which we furnish. Every column left blank for information should be filled out with name of firm, location, business, party to address, and if you can add the number of stenographers employed, it will help us to write more intelligent letters in many instances.



AS A MATTER OF PRINCIPLE AND FINANCE we cannot circularize for a dealer who does not provide active salesmen: the combination of type and tongue is essential.

HAVE YOU DEMONSTRATED RECENTLY to the Freight Agents and Freight Claim Agents of R. R.'s in your territory?

New Mandrel Drive

Mandrels are now assembled to the driving shaft in a more convenient manner for adjustment. The pin, O, in the interior shaft, now does the driving; the set screw, D, serves as a temporary adjustment in fixing the position of the mandrel for just the right amount of endplay. The lock nuts N and M complete a practically permanent construction; knurled nut, N, should be threaded on the shaft against the mandrels with the fingers, so as not to disturb adjustments; hexagon nut, M, should then be locked against the nut N, tightly with a wrench (not pliers).

New Speaking Tube and Support

All dictating outfits ordered with speaking tubes, in the future, will be equipped with the new mouthpiece on the speaking tube and the support crane illustrated above.

This device provides a combination of the conveniences of the dictating horn and the flexible speaking tube. The dictator is now provided with the wide, flattened mouthpiece found on the horn, which produces better records than the old round rubber mouthpieces formerly furnished on speaking tubes and allows a greater movement of the speaker's lips away from the center of the opening; the new mouthpiece, being heavily nickel-plated, is also more sanitary because it is larger and does not attract as much moisture with accompanying dust and dirt.

When the tube is placed in the support crane in which it is held with a spring clip it provides, practically, the same features as the dictation horn, although the record made through the tube is not quite as loud and the flexible tube itself, is not as sanitary as the metal horn which may be more readily cleansed.

Dealers and customers should always appreciate that no speaking tube is proof against deterioration with age, and therefore, the tube may have to be replaced in time.

One feature of this flattened mouthpiece is interesting to our salesmen who continually encounter the dictator who carelessly talks to the reproducer instead of the recorder.

If the speaking tube is held in the hand the mouthpiece turns into a vertical position when the reproducer is on the cylinder and as this is very inconvenient for dictation the user will be forced to turn back to the recorder before dictating.

DEALERS SHOULD NOTE THAT THIS ENTIRE DEVICE IS FURNISHED WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE WHEN ORDERED WITH OUTFITS; THIS DEVICE IS AN EXPENSIVE ACCESSORY FOR COMPETITOR'S CUSTOMERS.

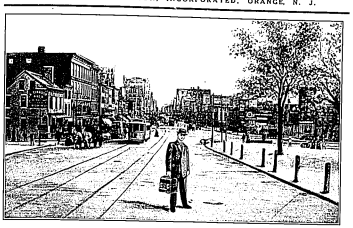
Dealers will be supplied upon application with descriptive circulars of the speaking tube and support crane for local circularizing and soliciting among old customers who should be found ready purchasers.

When sold as an accessory the mouthpiece price, only costs 50c. list; it may be attached to speaking tubes by heating the old ferrule to melt the shellac. The old parts may be replaced by the new mouthpiece, attaching it with fresh liquid shellac and allowing it to dry.

Complete 27 inch speaking tubes with new mouthpiece and recorder and reproducer connection and ball joint support costs $3.75 list; 33 inch tubes cost $4.25 list.

Recognizing Possibilities

Clever Edison Salesmen place their machines on trial with a definite object in view, which is to prove a particular claim made to the prospect. Too often the salesman makes the preliminary request "let me put in a couple of machines". Some times a small installation is desirable and many times a larger one would multiply results into big economies that would force recognition. If you make a small installation, endeavor to select a transcriber and arrange to obtain sufficient dictation for a good economy record. It might require three dictators, supplying thirty letters each, or perhaps four with twenty-five letters a day. A good rule to remember is that big firms require big proofs. The Pennsylvania R. R. require more than deductive grands based on one or two stenographers, while this might prove sufficient to the Dinkenspiel Outfitting Co., where the President, Mr. Dinkenspiel, can look into the next room and see the machines in operation.



If you don't have a say in every sale to a R. R. — and we are not asked for advice — one of us is going to feel mighty bad.

PUNCH HERE AND FILE CAREFULLY

Bips

Number 96 — April 7, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THOMAS A. EDISON, INCORPORATED, ORANGE, N. J.

Selling Plan No. 7

(Outlying Representatives)

The dealer who stays at home when his territory embraces outlying points is not doing justice to himself or the manufacturer.

Every adjacent locality contains a certain number of preferred prospects which, at least, should be on the mailing list of the dealer with the intention of reaching them during a systematic business trip at frequent intervals.

Thus, in addition to the dealer's home town a circle of outlying prospects and customers can be reached that will multiply among themselves and add a profitable income to the more carefully worked territory where the dealer lives.

New fields are frequently a means of stimulating a dealer's business that does not grow at home. This is especially true of small towns where salesmen encounter "a run of luck" and seem to do better work among strangers. We know of towns of less than 200 population where nearly fifty machines are in operation among small users.

If the reader will observe the town illustrated above, he may be inspired with the business possibilities that awaits him outside. Look sharp and see the salesman with the phonograph "on the job". To work outlying territory you must carry a machine and demonstrate frequently; remember you are away from home and until you have several customers in the locality the subject of voice-writing is new and requires personal proof.

We have covered the privileges of appointing outlying representatives by dealers in printed Form 1952 which every dealer should read and understand. The necessity for assistance is apparent wherever machines are sold; aside from the local service which an outlying representative can give to customers is the advertising done by a person acquainted in the community between the dealer's calls.

YOU MUST FILL IN AND MAIL US FORM 1952 for every appointment of every Outlying Representative.

Give the Manufacturer as good a chance as you can on shipments. Anticipate! Take some chance in a small Stock.

A. C. Welch

DIED.

The recent death of two great men at the head of their professions, both personal friends of the Editor and advocates of voice-writing, marks a distinct loss to the business world.

Benn Pitman, The American exponent of the Pitman system of phonography.

A. C. Welch, Senior Reporter of Debates, House of Representatives.

Benn Pitman

Collections

Too often dealers complain that they cannot collect their accounts. They complain because collections are slow and that customers take all sorts of liberties. In every case the dealer puts the blame on the customer and never looks into his own organization to find out what is wrong. The house that establishes a rule for prompt collections is the house that will get the business and that will get its money when due. Almost any business man will take all of the time he reasonably can in payment of accounts, for he knows that every dollar in the bank to his credit means just that much more working capital and means an interest earning of a certain specified amount. Business men or not looking for firms to be lax in collections, but they are aware of the existence of those who do not insist upon prompt payment and the firm that does not establish the rule of prompt collections must expect to be held up. Establish a rule for close collections. Let it be known that you expect your bills paid when they are due. Of course, a "tight" policy of no leniency under any circumstances will kill business but no same business man feels badly when a firm asks him for money that he owes. You must pay your bills promptly to get the discounts and other advantages offered by the manufacturer, wholesaler or jobber, and it is only logical that you should expect those with whom you do business to treat you as you must treat your creditors.

"Show Me" for Two

The modern Edison Salesman has been educated by sufficient success to know that he can probably save a prospective customer the cost of several stenographers, depending upon the size of the installation.

There was a time in the past when the salesman wasn't so sure about the outcome of a trial, so he gave the prospect all the advantage and proceeded without further parley to spend time and money when he heard those magic words, "show me".

Now, the Edison salesman with any presence of mind and stamina, has a fatal say with the prospect and replies:

"If I show you—will you show me?"

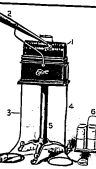
"Let two of us play as the "show me" game. If I show you a saving of so-and-so, will you show me an order for the installation?

But—and this is important—don't use this bold argument unless you have given time and thought in naming a definite figure of economy for your part of the agreement. Thus, the high-class salesman interests his prospects,—talks over his office conditions—knows the game he has to beat—and finally affirms what he can accomplish with voice-writing.

For instance; he finds a R. R. Office writing fifty letters a day per stenographer and believes he can make it seventy five or more. In another smaller office he finds he can do the work with two stenographers less.

In many cases the prospect who talks to the salesman doesn't want to be nailed himself. He says, "Oh, no! I couldn't promise anything like and order, even if you did prove your part".

Then the salesman must suggest an interview with the "man who can". At length he finds the boss, who agrees to play the "Show Me Game for Two". Here is the test of real salesmanship,—before any work has been done —when it is possible to prevent misunderstandings and get the proposition down in black and white.



You can't blame the prospect if you don't know what you want before you begin. Wanting an order does not make it. Figure it all out, first; start with a definite aim—something to win—then win.

Every old Customer wants to know about the new Speaking Tube and Support. Order Form 1992 and circularize them.

Tips

Number 97 — April 15, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THOMAS A. EDISON, INCORPORATED, ORANGE, N. J.

TO RENT

Edison Voicewriting Outfits on Reasonable Terms

Selling Plan No. 8

(Renting Outfits)

The Editor recently had the following experience, in which a rental of outfits will assist a big future sale; the prospect—a great corporation—had tried several outfits with such good result that the department head could not obtain the approval of the Vice-President of his Company, who had decided upon "retrenchment (?)"

To remove the system, meant loss of reputation for the dealer and difficulty in obtaining as good a start in the future. The department head was appealed to in the matter to find some way to settle the question, and, finally, rental was suggested.

Additional stenographers would have to be employed to replace the machines—why not put the phonographs on the payroll? This was arranged at $3.00 per month per outfit with privilege of purchase and application of rental payments within six months.

While a general policy of "Rentals" may not be wise in many cases, it will serve the dealer as a polite notice to a prospect that the appliances are valuable and should not be used longer without payment.

Other circumstances will warrant a dealer suggesting a rental proposition on terms to suit the occasion.

Good rental prices should be secured from transient dictators when the dealer can furnish a transcriber to work in conjunction. This was accomplished recently when an owner of Edison machines remained in an out-of-town hotel several weeks and was obliged to dictate his correspondence on a rented machine in his room, the transcribing being done on another machine placed with the public stenographer.

Enterprising dealers have also worked out profitable plans with local transcribers to rent machines in small offices.

The prices for rentals should depend upon the length of use, bearing in mind that cylinders are damaged in one month as much as in three. Cylinders supplied above the twelve with the outfit should, of course, be charged for.

This would like to publish for general information the experience of dealers in renting.

Many a prospect who hasn't the money to buy would RENT and thus end an otherwise unsatisfactory trial.

When you quote a PRICE, pound it into the prospect that it includes EVERYTHING that creates satisfaction; it does not exclude ONE article in the accessory list.

"Gim-cracks"

When you buy an automobile there are shock absorbers and a dozen other accessories that cost big money in addition to the standard equipment. All of them make the machines more usable. The reason why one price is not quoted on the whole equipment is because the manufacturer of the car doesn't control and supply the accessories—not because they are not necessary or desirable.

Edison controls all the accessories that make his business Phonograph (or any other similar business Phonograph for that matter) without them and devices more usable than without them and includes them in one outfit at one price for the satisfaction of the purchaser.

Since the introduction of the Business Phonograph in 1905, Edison has held that the purchaser is not properly treated when he is furnished with less than a complete device to produce the most efficient results.

We are accused of selling an outfit with "gim-cracks." Let the customer decide if he wants them—if he does, then we are guilty. There is money in selling "gim-cracks" as one dealer can testify who sold fifty aluminum tubes with sound modifiers to complete a competitor's plant.

The dealer must study voice-writing and know the improvements effected by Edison accessories. To be teased with the word "gim-cracks" implies a weakness in understanding but to know and explain a useful "gim-crack" is the part of the Edison salesman.

Let us put in a plug for our-selves on the policy of "completeness." How many salesmen can collect for a "special" accessory not included in the price of an outfit? To exclude this support, means that no one ease the dealer will not advance their use because of the difficulty of collecting for their cost or in the other case, that he will advance their use by paying for the article out of his own pocket.

So, Edison knowing human nature in the buyer and seller and wanting the best results with the best profits for the dealer, arranges a complete outfit.

When quoting in competition enumerate everything and insist on a true comparison of prices. Edison dealers can't lose in such a contest—and the customer will appreciate the information.

The Advantage in Consulting Edison

Our dealers' work is a triumph of organization and the one-price system. Five years ago you bought a commercial machine (not ours) with only a speaking tube or a hearing tube—very little else—for $6000; today you pay $9000 and obtain better value with more profit for everyone.

Rules—strict and imperative—were necessary to accomplish this result. Not that the dealer had to be meddled and hunted to make him do. The dealer, in fact, anyone selling others, prefers a rigid, uniform policy, laid down by the manufacturer.

But here is a point. Perhaps this rigid policy might be varied on occasion with profit if we were consulted. We do not wish to be in the same predicament as the storm parent who refused permission to his small boy to interrupt him while he was speaking at the table and later while he was speaking at the table and later found that Willie wanted to explain about a bursted water-pipe.

For instance: a short time ago, a dealer wisely wrote us that in competition a customer was "peeved" because he had to buy universal machines (for both dictating and transcribing) to be used in a large transcribing department. He wanted straight transcribing machines like the other fellows had.

Here we had the opportunity to help the dealer. We made a proposition of a single reproducing machine at $5,00 less list, arm reproducing machine at $5,00 less list, arm reproducing machine at $5,00 less list, arm

Are you thinking about substitute transcribers for this Summer? Commence early to register every available assistance and plan to give this service.

THOMAS W. DUNCAN of the
Office Specialty Co., Boston, Mass.

Nearly five years ago, when the Edison organization was extended to Boston, the Editor took a young man there—a man from our own factory. It was Duncan, and the history of modern voice-writing in New England was begun with "Tom" Duncan on the job. From mechanic, dealer's salesman, traveling factory representative, he has recently risen to the position of Manager and partner in the Edison dealership held by the Office Specialty Co. The Edison organization has been fault around such men as Duncan, who work with "head, heart and hand". To be able to retain the interest and co-operation of men of his type is the most genuine pleasure that comes to a manufacturer.

We are able to reproduce a particularly good photograph of Mr. Duncan, taken at the moment when the photographer, purposely, made a slighting reference to the E. B. P. and Tom dug for his rolls in both pockets to make a wager.

Honor Bright—Now

Honor bright—now what would you do if a customer offered you an order to be shipped away from home, for some other dealer to take care of?

Honor bright—once more—what if the customer wanted five machines at home and five more sent away?

Would you arrange with us to see your customer served and sold by the dealers where the other machines were to be used and at the correct quantity purchase discount?

Or, would you let the customer fail in securing the best results by shipping the goods to him and leaving him try to make use of them without local assistance?

We wish every dealer would answer these questions to himself before the temptation comes in the form of a "large juicy" order with shipping directions attached.

There's only one way to do our business—and that is according to your best knowledge of what is right and fair to all concerned—yourself—your customer—and the manufacturer. Aside from what the agreement does or does not allow—BE HONORABLE.

When you accept purchase money at home for outfits shipped by you to other dealer's territory YOU ARE NOT HONORABLE, BECAUSE YOU KNOW THE PRICE SHOULD INCLUDE THE LOCAL ATTENTION WHICH YOU DO NOT PROVIDE FOR.

For our part, we can ask every dealer to sign some kind of writing that will point out more clearly, the "rules of the game". But more clearly, we will have to be in the hearts of after all, we will have to be in the hearts of dealers to act with fairness to each other, and to the customers—and to have loyal interest in the customers—and to have loyal interest in the customers—and to have loyal interest in

Send for a Sample SPRING GRIP CYLINDER HOLDER and CARTON for 15 cents list — if you can't do better, be a winner.

THE SPRING-GRIP CYLINDER HOLDER

The Edison Spring Grip Cylinder Holder is a simple device, but one of the best things we've done in years. You get all cylinders now in a uniform carton that lists a large hole in the bottom. When the cylinders are furnished with outfits, the cartons are equipped with the metal bottom bolting a spring steel loop as shown above. When the customer buys more cylinders he detaches the bottom and places it on the new carton in which the cylinder is delivered and so has clean boxes. Add to this feature the prevention of the Ashe to this feature the prevention of the loss, and dropping out of cylinders from the box, and you have a great new talking point for the Edison product.

Send for the descriptive circular we have printed and proceed to sell all old customers. New cartons cost, 7c.; Holders, 18c.; Cartons with holder 15c. Every old customer should start straight by buying cartons and holders at 15c. each. Rec.

Old System boxes can be altered to take the holder, but the old delivery boxes (with cap closed on the outside) cannot be altered. However, for several months we have been shipping all cylinders in boxes that fit the holders; ship all cylinders in the large size cap glued on any carton that has the large hole in the inside, and contains a large hole in the bottom will fit the holder.

Recorder Wisdom

When you install transcribing machines do you remove the recorders? One of the great advantages you can give a customer is extra recorders for the dictators secured in this way.

Careless salesmen leave the recorders on the transcribing machines where they are liable to get out of order. A repair call from a dictator in such a plant causes delay and expense; if the dictator had been handed the extra recorders, carefully packed in cotton,—as they are shipped—he could attend to his own recorder trouble for the time being, at least.

If customers are instructed to use these extra recorders as such for repairs, and to immediately have a defective one repaired by the dealer, there will result much greater satisfaction on the part of everyone.

The Recorder-repair system is something that every dealer should learn especially since the manufacturer provides for details in machine design that include the furnishing of extra recorders to begin with.

The New Spring Grip Cylinder Holder should help to control the entire cylinder trade, if properly pushed.

Wanted — Salesmen

When the big leagues want recruits they watch the local leagues and pick up local ball players that show form and class. The players that show form and class. The players themselves don't know they are coming stars, but the big trainers find them and recognize ability. Hans Wagner and Dot Miller played on local New Jersey teams that the Edison watched out so many years ago. And in this summer great jockeys come from humble stable boys—also picked by trainers.

We hear from many dealers, "Can you send me a good salesman?" We wish we always could. But you, the dealer, must be the trainer—the scanner for talent, the one that arranges for the time, the place, and the Salaries for the man. It is no reasonable that a paragon is going to hunt the dealer up and proceed systematically to make good. Look out for the "experienced Edison salesman"—he may be a "hoaster", or something worse.

There are good salesmen at your door if you only look for them. Among the customers you may find young theatres that are already half trained with a practical knowledge of voice-acting.

It all takes time. If the Edison dealership is not worth thinking about, with the chief end in view of building up the sales by the use of competent men—then our advice is worthless. But if it is worth while. A little watchful careful education, and encouragement will produce successful salesmen that will stick and make the business go ahead.

Stop waiting for salesmen to show up! Make them!

Shop Notes

We are now making cylinder racks of just the right size to fit in the opening of the cabinet over when it is thrown back. Send orders in the rack are then handy to reach. Old racks need only a few shavings taken off one side to make them fit.

The front support rod which holds the sole should never be accidentally assembled that the teeth on the phonograph; the repeat left hand side of the case teeth and unless there is panel engages in these teeth and unless there is some movement for the arm remaining when the last tooth is engaged, the arm will be jammed and the pawl will be broken or stripped.

Always adjust the tension on the feed-on spring as lightly as possible. Too heavy a spring as lightly as possible. Too heavy a pressure wears the parts unnecessarily and makes repairing difficult, because the nut does not lift free of the screw when the arm is raised.

Wax chips often clog the reproducer point, and transcribers should be told to remove them with a dampened finger, while the reproducer is on the machine. Reproducer points should be more carefully cleaned with a soft cloth.

The burn of a motor is sometimes caused by the switch handle touching the top-plate and communicating the motor noise.

Number 100 — Sips — May 13, 1911

ISSUED OCCASIONALLY IN THE INTEREST OF DEALERS BY THOMAS A. EDISON, INCORPORATED, ORANGE, N. J.

We Celebrate Our 100th Number and pass a few remarks on the past, the present and the future of Our Business and this Modest Sheet

We look way back in our files and find the first number of this dated August 1st, 1908. To-day it is the same modest sheet that probably impresses only with its persistency. That's the thought—PERSISTENCY. Not so much what you say or what you do—when you're headed right—as that you say it often and do it continually. Tips has mirrored for a hundred numbers the persistency of a great organization—it has chronicled the channel of thought and action of great and small—its pages are a record of progress that furnish an aim for competitors. We are satisfied with this distinction.

A man came in the Edison office and carefully scrutinized the Business Phonographs he saw. "I was looking for the new things you had," he said. "It wouldn't be here if you haven't read of it in Tips", he was told, and we then enlightened him on another function of this sheet—to inspire confidence in the dealer that he is receiving the latest and best devices on his orders. This may seem a small point, but it is well taken.

We knew before the days of Tips, of an Edison Salesman, who never called a cylinder twice by the same name; one minute it was "bobbins", the next "reels" "rolls", etc. If at that time he could have been given a file of Tips to read over, his education would have been quicker and easier. You must learn the language of a business before you feel at ease in discussing it. Catalogues are old in one reading, while Tips "goes on for ever."

Some companies publish a Journal of Selling, but to our mind a file of Tips is more interesting and complete than any Manual could be made unless continually revised and rewritten as new ideas develop from day to day.

All successful salesmen have general characteristics such as capacity for work, honesty, character, integrity, etc, but imagination develops different methods in each one's work. Tips aims to stimulate the salesman's imagination, showing various ways of accomplishing the same ends, impressing always that selling is a battle of wits between the buyer and salesman.

If salesmen wish to show their appreciation of our work, they will send us their experiences for publication. It's the accounts of live field work that appeals to the reader. Multiply your optimisms and advice by those of several hundred at work in the voice-writing business and you have the possibilities of a free exchange of salesmens' ideas through the columns of Tips.

Out of the daily mail and from straight contributions to Tips we are able to identify the worker in the organization and to enjoy his enthusiasm. We believe this man is a distinct gain in the efforts to write down his experiences and views; for the things we place in type are remembered and practiced, while the fleeting thoughts that we are too indolent to write down are only half believed or practiced.

If you become tired of reading Tips—and we generally find this out—its a sign that you are tired of the game. Aside from the personal gain of having your efforts continue we are sorry for the dealer or salesman who stops struggling in the business game. Life is activity and if the struggle is not in well doing it will still be necessary in a less profitable state.

Tips has a genuine affection for every reader. We know the Edison Business Phonograph requires brains and energy and application to sell it. If we assist to retain this character of men by teaching them in the least by our writing, we have filled our mission and are thankful for the opportunity.

We are finished and off for another century mark.

TIPS' MISSION is to occasionally add an original idea but more directly to impress you that our business improves with the constant thought and action of the entire field of which you are an important part.

The Editor of Tips was away for three days on the road and sold 2,000 Spring Grip Cylinder Holders to customers. They sell on sight. Are you trying?

SPECIAL LICENSE No. 357

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

That these presents constitute a special license when attached to

EDISON BUSINESS PHONOGRAPH, Serial No. 842

permitting its sale at a reduced price and its subsequent use, subject, however, to the following conditions:

(1) The license to sell hereby granted is effective only so long as this label remains pasted upon the cabinet of this machine; and if removed, the original license under which this machine was sold again goes into effect.

(2) This machine must not be advertised at a reduced price, nor displayed with a reduced price marked thereon or attached thereto.

(3) All the conditions of the original license as defined in the Dealer's Agreement not inconsistent herewith remain in full force and effect.

(4) The Company reserves the right at any time to cancel and annul this special license.

A violation of any of the foregoing conditions, or of any of the conditions of the original license not hereby modified, will be considered an infringement of the Letters Patent under which this machine was manufactured, and any person having possession of it after such breach may be sued for such infringement. A purchase of this machine is an acceptance by the vendee of these conditions.

THOMAS A. EDISON, Inc.

Form 390.

Selling Plan No. 11

(Selling Rebuilt Machines)

There are occasional opportunities to buy old Edison machines from customers who wish to dispose of them for various reasons, and upon consulting us such a transaction may be arranged with profit to the dealer. It must be kept in mind that dealers are not permitted in their agreement with us to buy and sell second-hand Edison machines without our permission and the attachment of the Special License label reproduced above. In this way we are able to prevent price-cutting while licensing a re-sale, with the manufacturers' knowledge that the machine is in operative condition. Every honest dealer should seek to comply with this arrangement, if only for the selfish reason to prove to the customer by the license that the manufacturer approves of the machine for use.

We take this opportunity to explain our difficulty in attempting to buy old machines, as manufacturers, for the purposes of re-sale: we are confronted with the fact that no separate organization exists for handling re-built machines (as in the case of the typewriter); and, most important, we have never sold a Business Phonograph that could not be repaired with attachments and prove a better investment to the owner than the exchange of an old for a later design.

It is much better to leave this buying and selling of used machines to the dealer. You may read in every trade paper of the curse to various lines of the indiscriminate exchange proposition,—the cutting of profits in two—the placing of two selling costs on one article. For the manufacturer to initiate an exchange plan for the purpose of forcing the dealer into greater disposal of the product is bad judgment, in our opinion, at this time in the development of the art.

We deprecate indiscriminate exchanges, but urge the dealer to consider bargains, especially if a transaction promises the sale of more machines at a net profit, with only the task of re-selling perfectly good machines when repaired and brought up to date with attachments.

There are many purchasers who appreciate a low price and will buy "re-builts" because they recognize the fact that every Phonograph is alike in principle (this is peculiar to the phonograph more than any other machine). The wise dealer will be prepared for such cases and take the opportunity of purchasing machines for reinselling in time.

You should keep customers' machines up-to-date as far as possible by the sale of attachments and the purchase of their old ones when it is profitable; but when customers are liable to be lost because you cannot accomplish these ends we should be promptly consulted for advice.

Do not plan to buy second-hand Edison machines without first consulting us, mentioning serial numbers and full details.

Primary Printed Series - Serial Publications
The Kinetogram

The Kinetogram (originally called The Edison Kinetogram) was published by the Edison Manufacturing Co. during the period August 1909-January 1916. The semi-monthly issues provided descriptions of the latest Edison productions and general news about the motion picture business to exchanges and exhibitors.

The archives of the Edison National Historic Site contains a complete run of The Kinetogram, as well as a card-file index to the publication. The first issue (August 1,1909) has been selected as a sample. It contains an announcement about the inauguration of the publication, along with statements by Edison and Frank L. Dyer.

The EDISON KINETOGRAM

VOL. 1 AUGUST 1, 1909 No. 1

SCENE FROM
"THE PRINCE AND THE PAUPER"
FILM No. 6494

EDISON FILMS RELEASED FROM AUGUST 1 TO 14 INCLUSIVE

10401

Vol. I. AUGUST 1, 1909 No. 1

The Kinetogram

Listing Edison Films from August 1-11, 1909

A Bi-Monthly Bulletin of Moving Picture News, with the emphasis on Edison Films and Kinetoscopes. Published by THE EDISON MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Orange, N. J., U. S. A.

ANNOUNCEMENT

THE KINETOGRAM is the outcome of a belief that the time has arrived for a better and more dignified medium of informing the trade about Edison Kinetoscopes and Films than was possible with the supplements, bulletins, etc., heretofore issued.

It has also been designed to bring the Edison organization into closer touch with the Exchanges and Exhibitors. Its pages will furnish a new opportunity to tell the trade about our work, our aims and our products.

It will provide a better way of illustrating and describing new Films and will make it possible to list more of them at one time.

THE KINETOGRAM will be dated the 1st and 15th of each month. The issue of the 1st will include all Films issued between the 1st and 14th; that of the 15th all Films issued between the 15th and 31st.

This, the first issue, has some matter from the pen of Mr. Edison and also an interesting article from Mr. Dyer, Vice President.

THE KINETOGRAM will be mailed without charge to all present and prospective Exchanges and Exhibitors handling or exhibiting Edison Films.

We want the trade to feel that this publication is being issued for its benefit, quite as much as it is for ours, and we hope that all receiving it regularly will co-operate with us in making each issue better than those that have gone before.

Kinetograms

In its initial publication the KINETOGRAM wishes, in an especial manner, to call the attention of Exchanges and Exhibitors generally to the new film, "The Prince and the Pauper," described fully in this issue. It was a stroke of enterprise on our part in securing the consent of Mr. Clemens ("Mark Twain") to a pictural reproduction of his famous story, which consent was given only on the assurance that the production would be staged in a manner that would be entirely in keeping with the dignity and reputation that his book enjoys. This was done to his entire satisfaction, and the film receives his unqualified approval. As proof of his pleasure over the result it will be noticed that we were able to induce him to sit for the frontispiece, which fact we consider to be a very graceful compliment from America's greatest humorist, and one of her most noted sons.

"The moving picture is not a makeshift for the playhouse—its dignity is greater—its importance far beyond the puny function of comedy and tragedy. It is a clean entertainment, lecture and amusement all rolled into one—in its highest effort it stands above literature—in its less ambitious phase it ranks above the tawdry show house. It teaches nothing harmful, and it usually teaches much that is helpful. The moving picture is not a makeshift, but the highest type of entertainment in the history of the world. It stands for a better Americanism, because it is attracting millions of the masses to an uplifting; drawing them as improving, as well as an amusing, feature of city life. Its value cannot be measured now, but another generation will benefit more largely through its influence than we of today can possibly realize."—Professor Frederick Starr, of the University of Chicago.

Are you considering the purchase of a new machine? If so, study the prominent features of our type "B", One Pin movement Underwriter's model, the most up-to-date projecting machine on the market today. (See cut on back cover.) Or, perhaps, you are using a machine with a two-pin mechanism. Are you aware that you can change it to a one-pin mechanism at a cost of $25.00, including material and labor for assembling the parts? Write us today for details.

The elimination of the element of danger that the use of a non-inflammable film will accomplish is bound to result in a tremendous increase in attendance at exhibitions, through the assurance that it will bring to the minds of the timid and skeptical. The old cement will not join non-inflammable films, but the new cement will mend the ordinary film.

Courtesy on the part of attendants at a moving picture theater is an unfailing asset. Small details that will add to the comfort of a patron are not forgotten. Civility and attention by employes are good investments and inexpensive.

Edison Film No. 6494

The Prince and the Pauper

By MARK TWAIN

An Extraordinary Film

Copyrighted, August, 1909

Code, VERRINGERN — App. Length, 1070 feet

Released August 3, 1909

In the limited space at our disposal it is impossible to give an adequate description of the various qualities which make this film one of the most notable and remarkable that has ever been offered. Only the salient facts can be presented and these in the briefest form.

The story embodied in the production is from the pen of one of the most celebrated American writers and is one which has had universal renown and popularity.

It has been translated into nineteen different languages and over a million copies of it in book form have been sold since the day it was first published.

To secure the right to use "The Prince and the Pauper" was a task of no mean magnitude, and many of those who were cognizant of the plan freely predicted its failure.

Once he understood the large audience the film production would reach and the great good the splendid story would accomplish in this way, Mark Twain entered heartily into the plan and gave every assistance possible to help it to a successful conclusion.

Having attained what was believed to be the impossible, therefore, the Edison Company set about fulfilling Mark Twain's stipulation that the production should be of the highest artistic character.

The story was rendered into a beautiful and concise silent drama and the plot was established with the utmost clarity in every scene.

The cast was selected with painstaking care and no part, however small, was entrusted to any but the best players.

Miss Cecil Spooner was engaged for the dual role of the Prince of Wales and Tom Canty, the pauper boy, and her support included twenty-two well-known actors, while in a number of scenes sixty-three additional persons were employed.

Many different sets of scenery were used and each set was perfect, historically and architecturally, down to the minutest detail. That depicting the thoroughfare on the London Bridge was ninety-seven feet deep, the largest and most massive setting ever built for motion picture purposes.

The costumes, properties, armor and trappings were also carefully selected for historical accuracy, beauty and impressiveness.

Apart from the interest of the story and the quality of the acting, the film is a splendid lesson in the customs, manners and appearance of old London, not only in court circles, but in the lower strata of society as well.

The story that inspired this production is so well known as to require but a brief description.

It is founded upon the remarkable resemblance that existed between the youthful Prince of Wales and a beggar boy, their accidental meeting and the extraordinary complications that followed.

Its credibility is the subject of the following introductory passage by the author:

"I will set down a tale as it was told to me by one who had it of his father, which latter had it of his father, this last having in like manner had it of his father—and so on, back and still back, three hundred years and more, the fathers transmitting it to the sons and so preserving it.

"It may be history, it may be only a legend, a tradition. It may have happened, it may not have happened; but it could have happened.

"It may be that the wise and the learned believed it in the old days; it may be that only the unlearned and the simple loved it and credited it."

It was with these simple words that Mark Twain introduced his story of "The Prince and the Pauper" when he presented it to the world. Clear and plain, without rhetorical flourish, they create an interest that no amount of bombastical utterance ever could.

They arouse curiosity because they suggest mystery, and mankind ever loved the mysterious.

Was it truth or fiction? Was Edward the kindly monarch when he sat on the throne for a brief and well loved reign because he had suffered for a period when as Prince of Wales fate had cast his lot with the masses? None can answer that question, none can answer the first.

"It may have happened. It could have happened." There Mark Twain speaks the truth.

And that such a strange experience could have befallen the Prince of Wales is one of the vital elements of the fascination in which we are lost as the story is unfolded by the film.

Wrestling with problems affecting history is not for us, however; ours it is to briefly narrate the story.

Tom Canty, an intelligent and partly educated pauper boy, a beggar, the son of a ruffianly father, bore the strongest resemblance to the Prince of Wales.

One day Tom wandered near the palace gates. Too near, thought the guard on duty, for he cuffed him away, and Tom cried aloud under the sting of his blows.

Edward, the prince, was in the palace grounds near the gate, and, hearing the outcries, made inquiry as to the cause. A courtier brought the answer.

Edward had a gentle heart. There was misery in the cries of the lad outside. He ordered him brought within to console him. The prince's word was law. The pauper boy was brought before him.

Never having conversed with a boy of the streets before, Edward retired with him to a secluded room and there both noticed the resemblance between them through an accidental joint glance in a mirror.

The thing suggested the boyish prank that they change clothes for the moment. No sooner said than done. Tom pranced about in the prince's royal raiment and truly royal he looked, while the prince masqueraded as the pauper boy and looked Tom Canty to the life.

At this moment Tom spoke of the unnecessary brutality of the guard. In a flash, forgetting his attire, the prince was off to chastise the guard. Alone and with one whom he thought the pauper boy, the guard was not gentle. He pitched the prince in beggar's rags into the street.

Wildly the prince proclaimed himself, but a jeering crowd drove him away. Before he could return he encountered the elder Canty and was hauled off, despite his protests, to their hovel. Here he was beaten because he had begged no money, and later was dragged off to join a band of roving rogues.

From these he was rescued by a poor knight, Miles Herndon, and the two became fast friends, though the knight laughed at the supposed beggar's pretentions to royalty.

Meanwhile Tom had been having many strange adventures at the palace, where he was supposed to be the prince. His singular conduct caused an impression among the courtiers that he was demented.

King Henry VIII, Edward's father, died at this juncture, and here truly was a fateful circumstance; for the pauper boy was hailed king of England, and, though in agony of mind over it, was about to be crowned.

The ceremony was in actual occurrence in Westminster Abbey when the prince succeeded in gaining admittance. Loudly he proclaimed himself and would have been struck down by the soldiery as a traitor had it not been for Tom himself.

He was the first to acknowledge his rightful king, and it was through his aid that Edward was enabled to step to the throne and receive the crown that in a few moments more would have been placed on the pauper boy's head.

It is a splendid story, one told with all the grace and charm peculiar to Mark Twain's inimitable pen, and all of these qualities have been perfectly retained in the pictorial presentation.

It is one of the most beautifully executed films that has ever been produced. Not an atom of the story has been lost in the new medium employed for its telling.

Clearly and concisely it is unfolded, superbly acted and embellished with the best art of the scene painter and costumer. Its interpretation is perfect.

Edison Film No. 6495

Lochinvar

(A DRAMA)

Code, VERRONS Copyrighted, August 6, 1909 App. Length, 790 feet

Released August 6, 1909

Sir Walter Raleigh's romantic story of the love that laughed at more than locksmiths, and to which even castle walls and haughty fathers were no bar, is told by the Edison Company with a wealth of scenic vesture and old Scottish atmosphere that brings out all its picturesque details.

We see young Lochinvar, who "rode out of the West," sending one of his retainers disguised as a peddler, to the fair Ellen, who, much against her will, has been betrothed to Douglas.

The retainer brings her a message of hope; yet the eve of her forced marriage arrives and no Lochinvar. But as the marriage festivities are in progress our hero appears before the castle walls and asks permission to congratulate Douglas.

After being disarmed he is admitted, and then during the one and last dance which he is permitted to have with Ellen, he suddenly seizes a sword from the wall, takes her in his arms, and before any one can stop him, breaks one of the high windows and carries her down the castle wall.

His swift horse is waiting for him below, and with Ellen in his arms he dashes off, hotly pursued by her father, Douglas and a castle guard.

Because his horse is the best in the land, the lovers succeed in reaching the monastery so far ahead of their pursuers that when the latter arrive the ceremony has been performed and their pursuit is in vain.

The presentation of this story is full of vitality, life and good red blood, and one's heart must beat faster when watching its unfolding and its happy termination at the altar.

Edison Film No. 6496

The Tobacco Edict

Old New York, 1648

(A HISTORICAL COMEDY)

Code, VERROOKEN Copyrighted, August, 1909 App. Length, 199 feet

Released with No. 6495

In the early days of New York, when this whole district was known as New Netherlands, an early Governor, familiarly known as "William the Testy," issued an edict against the smoking of tobacco. The story of the effect this edict had on the burghers of the town is shown in Boughton's famous painting, but the real reason for the Governor's issuing the edict has never been made known until now. The rebellion of the burghers against the edict and their coming in a formal body to smoke out the Governor on his own doorstep is, in the Edison picture, supplemented by the story, understandable to every smoking man, of why the Governor sent out this unusual proclamation.

Old Dutch New York, with its quaint houses, costumes and characters, is reproduced here with human and comic touches that will appeal to any audience.

Edison Film No. 6497

Apprentice Boys at Newport Naval Training Station

(A NOVELTY PICTURE)

Code, VERROSTEN Copyrighted, August, 1909 App. Length, 216 feet

Released August 10, 1909

Short of an actual engagement at sea nothing in naval tactics presents a picture of such brisk action, picturesque effect and stirring qualities as a large landing party crashing through the surf in long boats, the men leaping and dashing through the water and then surging forward in a thin wicked line of attack on a semi-concealed enemy.

It is a thing full of fire, vim and dash, and it was the Goddess of Chance, smiling in one of her happier moods, that enabled the Edison Company to secure a picture of such an occurrence during the naval apprentice maneuvers at the Newport training station.

Nearly three hundred apprentices participated in this particular piece of "small boat" practice, which was carried out to the point of showing the men entrenched, firing and then advancing in heavy skirmish order.

It is a decidedly unusual scene, revealing the method of landing and of how our sea dogs conduct themselves when ordered ashore to fight as infantry.

Another interesting feature of the maneuvers was the "setting up" drill, executed by a full battalion of sailors, and a reproduction of this in pictures has been placed on the same reel with that showing the landing party and shore skirmish line.

There is a certain fascination in watching three hundred or more tars performing their movements in perfect unison that baffles description. Mere words could never convey an adequate idea of the charm of this picture.

It may be entertaining to know, in passing, that the "setting up" drill was performed in the open when the temperature stood somewhere around zero and the band accompanied the exercises by playing "In the Good Old Summer Time" in slow measure. Certainly a cheerful air for a cold day.

Edison Film No. 6498

A Coward

(A DRAMA)

Copyrighted, August, 1909

Code, VERROTERIE App. Length, 784 feet

Released with No. 6497

No writer of modern times save Flubert has ever been able in compress in so short a space and with such vivid, lurid force illuminate the lumost workings of a man's soul, as has Guy de Maupassant, the famous French writer and novelist.

Such was his art and genius and never did it so wonderfully assert itself as in his short story and masterpiece called "A Coward." We here have a study of life in all its fatal reality, powerful, strong, dramatic, devoid of sentiment, stripped of pathos and deprived of humor.

De Maupassant was a skilled surgeon of human emotions, and his dissecting knife never failed to penetrate the outer covering of mere flesh and reveal to the gaze the pulsing heart, the quivering mind and the naked soul.

The presentation of this story to the moving picture world required the skill and training of the highest type of actors, and only through the exercise of great pains and patience was the Edison Company enabled to secure a cast that is worthy of this masterpiece of literature.

The story in itself is very simple, and yet intensely dramatic in the extreme.

We are shown a man of the world taking life lightly till suddenly he is confronted with that awful tragedy of death. While dining with his fiancee, after the opera, in one of the numerous Parisian cafes, she becomes very much annoyed by the constant gaze of a stranger seated at the opposite table.

Turn which way she might, there were those dark eyes staring boldly at her. At last, unable to stand it any longer, she calls her companion's attention to the ungentlemanly and insolent conduct of the stranger.

Loud words are spoken between the two gentlemen. A blow, a challenge, and a duel to be fought at dawn, are the outcome of simply a look—yet what tragedy sometimes lurks in a glance of the eyes!

Midnight finds the Duke in his room arranging with his seconds for the duel at dawn. Filled with hot anger and excitement, he chooses pistols as the weapons and insists that the duel shall be fatal to one or both.

His old servant is instructed to call him at four in the morning, and the man of honor is left alone with his thoughts.

Two o'clock and the Duke is still awake. Deprived of sleep, and his hot anger cooled, the slow watches of the night begin to tell on his nerves.

The slightest noise in the street startles him. He cannot force the thought of the coming dawn from his mind.

Three o'clock and he is now pale and haggard. Self-pity and fear creep from the shadows of the room and drag him down to a nervous wreck.

His hand trembles. Glass after glass of wine fails to bring relief. His brain keeps crying to his body, "the dawn, the dawn, the dawn!"

He picks up the revolver from the table. It falls from his nervous grasp. His will fails to respond to the command, "be steady, be calm," while the lamp casts its golden beams over a grinning death's head that lies on the table.

It mocks and jeers at him. He tries to shut it from his sight. At last his trembling hand reaches the light and turns it out, but through the window the pale moonlight steals and cheats him of his success.

The symbol of death only mocks him more in the moonlight. Oh, to shut it out of his sight! To stop his brain from crying out, "the dawn, the dawn!" At last he rises and closes the shutters. As the last beam catches his white, terror-stricken face, we see a Coward. A Coward stamped in every line, every feature.

The next moment the shutters are closed, and then darkness, silence. A sudden flash in the night and all is still!

At four the old servant comes in to call his master. As he throws aside the closed windows, the first faint rays of sunlight stealing through disclose to view the white, cold face of the Duke resting on the table, a tiny scarlet stream gliding from beneath his left temple across the white paper, and losing itself in the gloom. The sun shines strongly on the face of the dead Duke, and the old servant knows then that it is Dawn.

No more powerful silent drama has ever been presented upon the moving picture canvas than De Maupassant's famous story, "A Coward." It is a picture that cannot be forgotten.

Edison Film No. 6499

The Price of a Soul

(DRAMATIC)

Copyrighted, August, 1909

Code, VERRUCAIRE App. Length, 569 feet

Released August 13, 1909

This powerful story of the saving of a man is from Victor Hugo's masterpiece, "Les Miserables," and is the foundation incident of the whole great work.

Jean Valjean, a released convict, finds that his yellow passport makes him a free man, but an outcast. He is filled with hatred of the world, the society that has punished him and the men who shun him.

Refused shelter at the inns of D——, he sullenly demands shelter of the good bishop. The latter lives solely for the purpose of helping such downtrodden and sinful men as Jean, and, to the latter's complete surprise, meets his rough demand with gentleness and offers him not only food but a lodging for the night.

Jean's all-embracing hatred is almost shaken, but his heart feels the gentler emotion only temporarily, and waking in the middle of the night scornful of his softened mood, he returns to his hatred and mistrust of all. He robs the old bishop of his silver tablesvare and escapes.

When the theft is discovered the old bishop refuses to let the town or police know of his loss, but Jean is arrested on suspicion and the silver is found on him.

In spite of his protests that the bishop gave it to him, the gendarmes bring their prisoner to his benefactor's house.

Realizing that the convict is a soul and can be saved, the good old man astonishes the police by greeting Jean with, "But how is this? I gave you the candlesticks too, which are of silver like the rest. Why did you not take them with your forks and spoons?"

Such heights of magnanimity and sweetness overcome Jean's despair and hatred at last and he bends in contrition before the man of God.

The bishop has bought his soul from evil and given it to God.

Edison Film No. 6500

Furnished Rooms to Let

Copyrighted, August, 1909

Code, VERRUCARIA App. Length, 425 feet

Released with No. 6499

Did you ever live in a furnished room? If you did you will enjoy this picture. If you didn't, you will laugh just as heartily.

A young man's parents start on a trip to the country, expecting to be gone for several weeks, but find that the time-table has been changed and there is no train for several hours. They return home rather than wait at the station.

Superstitious people say it is bad luck to turn back after once starting on a trip. Now, it was certainly unlucky that this couple turned back—although not for themselves.

Their son and his chum had rented the rooms during the absence of the old folks, and business was good until one of the lodgers attempted to flirt with one of the ladies whose husband objected rather strenuously.

It was during this exciting scene that the old couple returned, and—well, what's the use of spoiling it all by telling.

Go and see the picture and enjoy a hearty laugh.

New Copyright Law

The new copyright law, which was passed last March, went into effect July 1st. Under the decisions of the courts, motion picture subjects are considered in the same light as dramatic productions and entitled to similar protection. The new law improved upon the mode of reaching infringers. Once an injunction is secured in any competent court, it may be served upon the parties against whom it is granted at any place within the United States, and will be operative and enforcible by contempt proceedings by any other court or judge possessing jurisdiction of the defendant.

Another important change is that it is made a misdemeanor to wilfully and for profit infringe any copyright secured under the act, or to knowingly aid or abet such infringement. The penalty upon conviction is imprisonment for not exceeding one year, or a fine of not less than $100 or more than $1,000, or both, in the discretion of the court. This penalty is separate from the right of injunction and the right to damages for infringement.

Manufacturers of motion picture films gain some adequate protection under the new law which they did not have under the old. Under the new terms it will go rather hard with "dupers" of copyright pictures who are found guilty.

A Word from Mr. Edison

When I invented the modern Moving Picture in the summer of 1889, I sought to do for the eye what the Phonograph had done for the ear. The growth of the business since then, the high character of the pictures made by my own company, and other American and foreign manufacturers under my patents, and the thousands of theatres, many of which were built especially for the purpose, represent a development that has far exceeded my most ambitious hope.

I am proud of the Moving Picture industry, of the effect it has had and must have in the education and entertainment of the public, and of my own part in the development. Living, as we do, in an age of rapid fire growth, in my opinion the Moving Picture will do much towards the intellectual development of the American people. In the twinkling of an eye one may visit cities and places of scenic and historic interest; and in the passage of but a few minutes books, poems and dramas that we may not have the time nor inclination to read may be brought before us, in tabloid form, it is true, but sufficiently in detail to be perfectly comprehensible.

The Moving Picture has brought within the means of all the opportunity to cultivate and broaden and delight the mind that in the old days was only possible by much travel and extensive reading; and I predict that in the years to come a good part of the education and culture of our citizens will be based on this particular source of amusement.

THOMAS A. EDISON.

Mr. Dyer to the Trade

To our friends in the Moving Picture business, both Exchange and Exhibitor, we wish to say a word of friendly greeting. We expect by this and subsequent numbers of the KINETOGRAM to put before the public the new issues of Edison films, explaining their character, pointing out their strong features and with copious illustrations, sufficiently far in advance of their release dates to permit the Exchanges to order them and the Exhibitors to require them from their Exchanges.

Edison films have always kept pace with the evolution of the art, have represented the very highest standard of artistic, dramatic and photographic excellence, and we mean that they shall continue to do so.

We have been manufacturing Moving Pictures for more than fifteen years, operate three large studios in New York City, and maintain an extensive developing and printing plant at the Edison Works, Orange, N. J.

For the production of our pictures we require the services of four separate theatrical companies, each in charge of a highly skilled stage director, capable of interpreting the lines of the plot or scenario and developing from it a finished and artistic theatrical performance.

Many of the actors are on our permanent roll; others are specially engaged, because of particular qualifications, for individual pictures. We spare no time nor expense in these pictures, nor in the scenery, properties and other paraphernalia.

We intend from time to time (as we have in the past) to put out especially high-class pictures, based on familiar themes or plots of well-known playrights and literary producers, with actors of known reputation, and these special pictures, sold as they will be at the same price, will, we believe, commend themselves strongly to the trade as an indication of what the Edison Company is willing to do to advance the interests of the business.

Some of our recent pictures, such as "Brothers in Arms," "The Legend of Sterling Keep," and "The Man Without a Country," compare most favorably with any pictures ever put out in the United States or abroad, and we say to our friends that if hard work and the expenditure of money are factors in the business, we intend that there shall be no backward step from these standards.

Recognizing that the Exchanges and the Exhibitors prefer two pictures per reel, we will endeavor to meet their wishes in this regard; and we will put out single reel pictures only when the character of the subject requires it. Comedy and special "trick" pictures will also be produced, of as high a character as we are capable of making.

We take this opportunity of thanking our many friends for their patronage and support in the past, and we continue to welcome any and all criticism by which the quality of our pictures may be improved.

FRANK L. DYER,
Vice-President.

Kindly place us upon your mailing list for lectures on your output. We are running straight association output and take pleasure in complimenting you on your film, "Brothers in Arms," really the most popular picture with our audiences we have ever shown. Anything new in accessories you get out kindly notify us—A. S. Lorier, Asst. Mgr., Camera Theatre, Oakland, Cal.

An Announcement from the Production Department

The Standing of Motion Pictures

The future of Motion Pictures is almost beyond our ability to forecast. We have seen the development that has taken place in the last few years and from that we may dimly imagine the possibilities of the future. From a trifling form of amusement, interesting chiefly because of its novelty, the business has been established on a permanent basis with the investment of millions of dollars of capital and the employment of talent of the highest order. In this country it has been estimated that the pictures are shown daily to seven million people, thus making an appeal the importance of which can hardly be overestimated. And far more than literature or the drama the appeal is to the masses. At a trifling expense unfamiliar scenes, the great incidents of history and religion, the masterpieces of the world's literature are laid before the people, combining education with amusement in a way which requires no effort of the will to comprehend. As there are, even in this enlightened age, narrow men and women who disapprove of fiction and the theatre, so there are some who can see in Motion Pictures nothing but a depraved form of amusement. The writer was told of one such recently. Asked to attend an exhibition of pictures in connection with a movement to introduce them into the public schools, this gentleman, a well-known clergyman, replied that he would like to do so, but he "feared that his presence at a Moving Picture show would be misunderstood!" Fortunately there are few such. The thinkers, the press and the public are recognizing in the silent drama of Motion Pictures a cheap, clean form of amusement and a tremendous moral force. This is an expressive phrase. Leaving aside at this time the combination of the Phonograph with Motion Pictures—a certain development of the future—we are concerned with the clear and intelligent translation of a story on the screen by actions alone, excepting such incidental information as may be conveyed by announcements, letters and telegrams.

The Edison Silent Drama

It is true that in the theatres the effectiveness of a picture is often greatly increased by the work of the orchestra or pianist. A case in point was the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner," during the Edison Picture, "The Man Without a Country," at one of the most prominent New York theatres. As the leader of the band on the screen raised his baton to direct the national air, the real orchestra commenced it. In perfect time to the playing and singing expressed on the screen the music kept on and the last notes fell as the characters in the picture broke out into applause. A most effective aid to the story of the picture. But we cannot depend upon such aid. The story must in itself "get over." If based upon a well-known book, it must not presuppose a knowledge of the book by the audience in order to be understood. This is the test to which each picture must be put.

What We Mean to Accomplish

Believing firmly that the standard of Motion Pictures is daily becoming higher, we shall work in that direction. The public demands the best, and the best we mean to give. The days of cheap and vulgar melodrama and "slapstick" comedy are passing. Clean, bright comedy and strong dramatic compositions are wanted and will be furnished. We cheerfully submit to the broad and intelligent censorship of the Board of Censors of New York City, and only wish its authority could be extended over the entire country. The movement begun in France, to employ well-known writers and actors, is bound to spread to this country, and we have already anticipated it. "The Prince and the Pauper," by Mark Twain, to be released August 3rd, will be given with his full authority, and this is, we believe, the first time here that a writer of international fame has been so used. We have contracted with Edward W. Townsend, the author of "Chimmie Fadden," and Miss Carolyn Wells, well known as a writer of light comedies, to write exclusively for us. Other well-known names will follow. All this costs money, but we are not afraid to spend money for this purpose, believing that results will more than justify it.

We recognize the demand for short pictures and shall meet it. Long pictures will be issued only when the character and interest of the plot justify length in telling.

As to actors we have used in "The Prince and the Pauper," Miss Cecil Spooner, a very well known actress of great charm and individuality. We hope to employ others as well known in the near future, and meantime we are building up our own force with care and discrimination. The day of extravagant gesturing has passed—that of quiet, tense action and meaning conveyed by facial expression has come. Even in minor parts none but capable actors will be employed. No favoritism will be shown, no likes and dislikes will be considered. "Can this man or woman intelligently portray this part?" This is the question and the test at the Edison Studio.

In no spirit of narrow rivalry, but believing that in a broad sense an improvement made by any of the licensed manufacturers is a benefit to all, by raising the standard of Motion Pictures and attracting more favorable consideration from the press and public, we take the occasion of the first issue of the KINETOGRAM to announce our aim and policy.

Criticisms and suggestions from our friends in the trade will, at all times, be cheerfully welcomed.

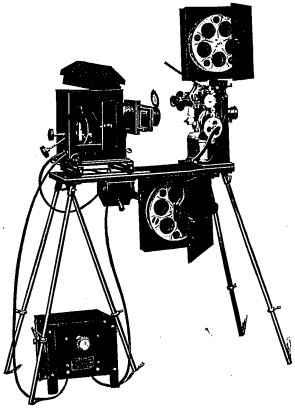
Miss Spooner Before the Camera

Miss Cecil Spooner was especially employed to enact the difficult dual role of Tom Canty, the pauper boy, and Edward, the boy Prince of Wales, in the film production of Mark Twain's celebrated story, "The Prince and the Pauper." Graceful, effective and polished as an actress, her finished art has contributed much to the beauty and strength of this notable silent drama. Yet it was not without misgivings she entered upon her task.

"I was very much afraid," she said, "when I first faced the camera. From what I had seen of motion pictures before, I feared it would be impossible to get much art in such tabloid plays. The story was so big, the best that was in one so necessary, it seemed hopeless. Yet now I am convinced that not only can the highest type of mimic art be successfully presented in the films, but that they are helpful to the player's fuller grasp of work. They inculcate what the American actor needs most—the art of expression and gesture. Depending upon the spoken word and inflexions of the voice so much on the stage, these necessary things are almost forgotten. The motion picture revived this in me, it has really helped me. The experience was helpful and beneficial. I was almost sorry when the three weeks needed for the rehearsals and photographic work were at an end. I believe that now that the best players on the stage are beginning to embark in this pantomimic work, the stage productions themselves will be lifted up wonderfully in their interpretation through the greater skill the motion picture work will give the actors. Not only is the motion picture field helping the theatre by making more numerous the army of playgoers, but it is helping the actors in their work."

Art in Moving Pictures

Maude Adams has declined an offer of $50,000 to give a performance of her Joan of Arc for a moving picture firm, to be exhibited all over the country. She does it because she thinks more of her art than of money making. Artistically, she may be right, so far as her own feelings are concerned, but so far as the general public is concerned, and particularly so far as elevating and instructive influences are concerned, she is wrong. It can safely be said that Miss Adams would do more for the education of the masses and to elevate the sum total of appreciation of clean and wholesome dramatic art by one performance before the kinetoscope than by a thousand on the stage. She would reach millions who would otherwise never see either her or her production. She would be contributing much of educational value to the masses.



The musicians at first took the same attitude toward the Phonograph and condemned it as a desecration of the divine art of music, but many of them have come to view it in a far different light, and some of the world's greatest musicians are now willing to contribute their voices and instruments to make the records that go to the ends of the earth and penetrate into the artistic wilderness where good music and the works of the world's masters were never heard before. There is coming a knowledge of, and appreciation for, the higher music of the world through the Phonograph, that is bound to be felt in the general raising of the musical standards of the masses.

Just so with the moving pictures. Miss Adams and others can contribute something instructive, elevating, refining and intellectually developing, or they can leave the eager millions to witness simulated train robberies and the fatal sixth round of prize fights. There is to-day no single educating factor in our daily life equal to the moving picture. Every child in the land sees it and drinks it in with eager intelligence. Would it lower the art of Miss Adams or be other than a glorious opportunity for her to do good work far beyond the capacity or the possibility of the great majority to contribute something good to this tremendous educating force? —St. Louis Star.

Ventilation

In the May issue of the Nickelodeon appeared an interesting and instructive article on the ventilation of moving picture theatres that should be read and digested by exhibitors generally, but especially by proprietors of small places where the air becomes vitiated quickly. This is a matter of sanitation, as well as comfort, and the cost of installation of such a ventilating system, as was described in the article referred to, is infinitesimal compared to the results that would be obtained in the health and comfort of the patrons of such places, to say nothing of the increased attendance that the remedying of any defects in ventilation is bound to bring.

"Pictures and music speak a universal language. In them are the latent possibilities for the molding of public opinion and public morals."—Robert B. Armstrong, Former Asst. Sec'y U. S. Treasury.

Edison Underwriter Kinetoscope

ONE-PIN MOVEMENT

PRICE - - - $225.00

Most Up-to-Date Projecting Machine on the Market

Approved by the New York Board of Fire Underwriters and the Bureau of Water, Gas and Electricity

SOLD BY ALL LICENSED EXCHANGES

WRITE FOR CATALOGUE TO

EDISON MANUFACTURING COMPANY

ORANGE, N. J.

Primary Printed Series - Serial Publications
The Edison Aggregate

The Edison Aggregate was a monthly sales brochure published by the Advertising Department of the Edison Portland Cement Co. Each issue highlights a particular ornamental, residential, or industrial application for Edison's cement. One issue concerns construction projects in Haiti and Cuba; another involves the New York City subways.

The archives of the Edison National Historic Site contains seven issues for the period March 1910-March 1911. The March 1910 issue has been selected as a sample. It identifies factories and warehouses that were constructed with Edison's cement and includes an illustration of his concrete factories in West Orange.

691.505 1910
1910-03

MARCH

The Edison AGGREGATE

FACTORIES AND WAREHOUSES

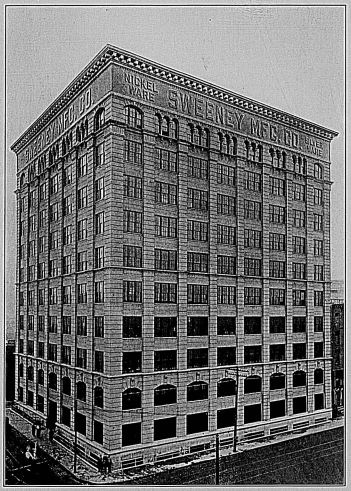
MADE OF

EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT

The Edison Aggregate.

Copyright 1910 by the Edison Portland Cement Co.

THE average annual fire loss in this country for the past five years is over $250,000,000, at which figure we burn up $500 worth of property every minute, day and night, a large percentage of this loss falling on our factory owners.



The business men of large interests are steadily adopting the reinforced concrete factory as a means of stopping this tremendous waste and everywhere, from coast to coast, may be seen innumberable buildings of this type, either constructed or under construction.

The architect and engineer of today have it within their power to aid a national building movement of this nature by advocating concrete construction to their clients and on account of its many desirable features, namely: safety, durability, fire resistance, low insurance rates, light, cleanliness, rapid construction, economical upkeep, freedom from vibration and a variety of architectural ornamentation.

It is well known that in San Francisco, Baltimore and other large cities wherever a great conflagration has occurred concrete was the only type of construction which withstood the ravages of the fire.

The following pages contain illustrations of many interesting types of concrete factory buildings made of Edison Portland Cement.

SPECIFY AND USE "EDISON" ON ALL YOUR WORK.

THE W. H. SWEENEY MFG. CO.'S BUILDING,
66 Water St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

This building is 115 by 132 feet, 11 stories high and is reinforced concrete throughout, including foundations, floors, walls, stairs and roof.
H. I. Moyer Engineering & Construction Co., Supervising Engineers.

EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED

New Factory of THE THOMPSON & NORRIS COMPANY in Brooklyn shown on the front cover of this publication, is one of the largest reinforced concrete structures in the world. It is 86 x 170 ft. and rises to a height of 155 ft. from curb level. The cost was more than $200,000. The columns are 18 feet centers and range from 30 inches square on the first floor to 16 inches square on the top. The girders are reinforced with 7 inch steel bars and the beams with three 1¼ inch steel bars. In the floor slab the reinforcing is by means of ⅝ inch steel bars set on 6 inch centers. The concrete work was begun in the last week of August 1909 and on the first of the following December the roof was completed, the time required for the pouring of each story being one week. Wet concrete was used throughout and when poured was continually puddled. No voids appeared when the forms were removed.

The Past Reinforced Concrete Factory in Brooklyn

So thoroughly fire proof is the building that it is the opinion of experts that the contents of any floor or department could be entirely consumed without affecting in the least the remaining part of the building. 10,000 barrels of cement 10,000 tons of stone and gravel and 500 tons of high carbon steel were used in the construction.

In manufacturing the corrugated paper, for which this firm is noted, very heavy machinery is necessary and it is interesting to note that their machine shop, where all the heavy machinery is made is on the top floor of the building. A unique feature which recommends the highest efficiency in this method of construction.

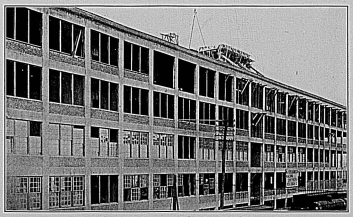
Mr. Robert H. Thompson, the head and founder of this firm was the pioneer in the use of reinforced concrete plants for manufacturing purposes. He secured the first permit in Brooklyn in 1904 to build a reinforced concrete building eight stories high, reproduction of which appears on this page. Since then, the practicability of this method of construction has been clearly demonstrated, in Brooklyn alone forty-five new reinforced concrete buildings having sprung up in five years; five very large ones in the year 1909.

H. I. Moyer Engineering & Construction Company, designers and builders.

EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

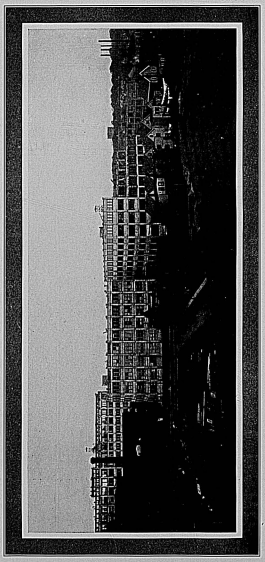
THE HUDSON TERMINAL BUILDING, HOBOKEN, N. J.

This building is an example of rapid construction, having taken about 31 working days from the time the first forms were put up until its completion, including roof and towerette.

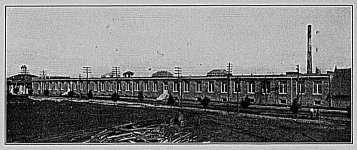


Begun June 7th, 1909, three floors completed by July 8th—seven stories by July 22nd and the roof and towerette by July 29th. The elaborate ornamentation of cast cement adds greatly to the attractiveness of the building.

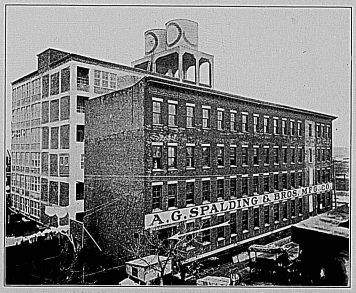
Designed and constructed by the Terminal Building Company, whose Superintendent, Mr. C. A. Rose, is an authority on concrete construction, having had much to do with work on the Chelsea Improvement Piers, New York City.



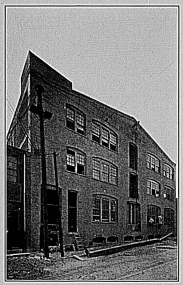
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.



REINFORCED CONCRETE FACTORY—PHILADELPHIA.
Wolstenholme & Clarke Woolen Mills.
Designed by Wm. Steele & Sons Co., Philadelphia.
Concrete construction by The Southern Ferro Concrete Co., Atlanta, Ga.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.



REINFORCED CONCRETE FACTORY, LINCOLN FURNITURE CO.
19th St. & Lehigh Ave., Philadelphia.
Beams, 23 Feet; Girders, 14 Feet; Slab, 7 Feet; Proportion of Mixture of Concrete, 1-2-4.
"Steele" System of Reinforcement. Wm. Steele & Sons, Phila., Designers and Builders.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.



GROUP OF REINFORCED CONCRETE BUILDINGS, NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH WORKS, ORANGE, N. J.
60,000 barrels Edison Portland Cement used.

HERSHEY CHOCOLATE COMPANY, HERSHEY, PENNSYLVANIA.
Reinforced concrete interior: 600 ft. long by 85 ft. wide.
Designed and constructed by John Wickersham, C. E., Lancaster, Pa.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

A. G. SPAULDING & BROS. MANUFACTURING COMPANY, BROOKLYN.
Economy of space is herewith demonstrated in the construction of the addition of a reinforced concrete structure, back of the original site of the factory.
The material used in the construction of this building was taken through the driveway shown at the left of the old building; also note the platform for water towers on the roof made of reinforced concrete.
Designed and constructed by R. H. Howes Construction Co., New York City.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

Reinforced Concrete Factory of the BRIDGEMAN COMPANY
15th St. and Washington Ave., Philadelphia.

Brick Veneer Facing Front and Rear.
85 x 100 Feet.

Ballinger & Perrot, Architects.
Moore & Co., Contractors.

EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

HEYWOOD BROS. AND WAKEFIELD BLDG.
5th St., below Locust, Philadelphia, Pa.

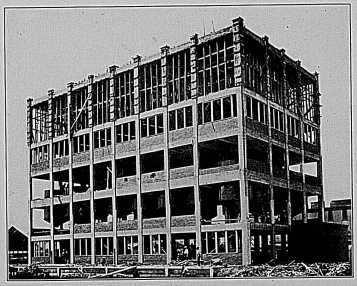
This building is 200x117 feet; five stories with basement. Reinforced concrete skeleton construction with brick curtain wall spandrels, with exception of front, which is faced with light gray brick, sills and window arches. Floors consist of reinforced concrete beam, girder and slab construction supported by reinforced concrete columns, designed for heavy manufacturing purposes.

Ballinger & Perrot, Architects, Philadelphia.

Moore & Co., Contractors, Philadelphia.

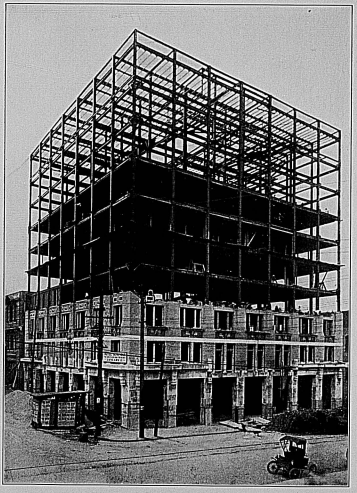
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

BERNARD GLOEKLER BUILDING,
Pittsburgh, Pa.



Baillinger & Perrot, Engineers and Architects, Phila.

This concrete warehouse and factory is ten stories and basement, 80' x 100' and of reinforced concrete throughout, including walls, floors, roof, stairs and ornamental features. A tower containing three tanks, two of 5000 gallons capacity, and one of 20,000 gallons capacity, and reinforced concrete chimney 48 inches in diameter and 165 feet high, are special features. The whole constitutes a fire-proof structure of the most substantial character and its height indicates that concrete is perfectly adapted to structures of this sky-scraper type.



EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

C. R. MACAULAY BUILDING, 18th St., near 5th Ave., Brooklyn.
Buttin & Sons, Engineers.
Building 100 x 100 Feet. Reinforced Concrete Throughout.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

COLUMBIA COTTON OIL & PROVISION CO., Relee, Va.
Reinforced Concrete with Brick Curtain Wall 90 x 135 Feet. Five Stories and Basement.
Architect and Engineer, N. A. Coburn, Washington. Contractors, Bailey & Co., Washington.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

HOTEL SEMINOLE SAVANNAH, GA.

Architect—H. J. Klutho, Jacksonville.
St. Johns Construction Co., Jacksonville, General Contractors.
Southern Ferro Concrete Co., Concrete Work.

EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

THE BAYUKE BUILDING
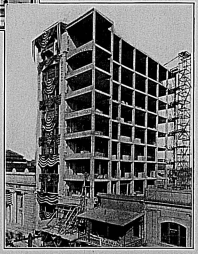
PHILADELPHIA

Reinforced Concrete Interior.
100' 5" × 80' 3⅜"
Height of Floors 14' 5"
Beams 27'
Girders 23'
Slabs 6'

Architect
E. Allen Wilson.



Contractors
Wm. Steele & Sons Co.,
Philadelphia.

Edison Portland Cement Used.

REINFORCED CONCRETE BUILDING
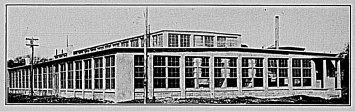
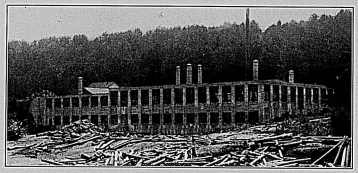
Jacksonville, Fla.

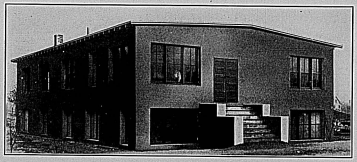


After completing the first building 27 feet wide, a second building was attached to it as an extension. The columns of the first building were securely dug into and the steel of the girders of the new addition were bent around the column steel of the old building, so that the two together are one piece of monolithic construction.

Designed and Constructed by the Southern Ferro Concrete Co., Atlanta, Ga.



THE BISBEE BUILDING



EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

REINFORCED CONCRETE FACTORY, Hyde Park, Mass.
The Marshall Electric Company,
Architect—Adolph Sisch, Hyde Park.
Contractors—Armstrong Concrete Specialty Co., Boston.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

REINFORCED CONCRETE PAPER MILL, Lyons Falls, N. Y.
Eaton & Brownell, Architects, Watertown, N. Y.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

REINFORCED CONCRETE FACTORY, Winchester, Mass.
Architect—J. J. Smith, Boston, Mass. Contractors—Thos. Nolan, Boston, Mass.
EDISON PORTLAND CEMENT USED.

A Few of the Prominent Architects using Edison Portland Cement

New York City

Ernest Arend
Don Barber
Beatty & Stone
Clarence Brazer
Clement B. Brun
Carpenter Blair & Gould
Chas. S. Clark
Clinton & Russell
Cram, Goodhue & Ferguson
Crow, Lewis & Wickenhoefer
I. R. Dodge
Dodge & Morrison
Ridlita & MacKenzie
Bradford L. Gilbert
G. Curtis Gillespie
Wm. Higginson
Hill & Stout
Paul B. LaVelle
W. H. McElfatrick
Wm. H. Hume & Sons
Norman McGlashan
Maynicke & Frank
Mowbray & Uffinger
Albert Morris
John Russell Pope
F. H. Quimby
Renwick Aspinwall & Tucker
Rossiter & Wright
J. B. Snook & Sons
Fredrick J. Sterner
D. N. B. Sturgis

Massachusetts

G. Henri Desmond, Boston
Henry F. Keyes, Boston

Philadelphia, Pa.

Ballinger & Perrot
Amos W. Barnes
C. W. Bolton & Son
Cope & Stewardson
Henry E. DeHoff
Carl DeMoll
Morris Erskine
Hewitt & Paiste
Louis C. Hickman
Chas. Hoffman
Henry B. Hughes
J. A. Jeffries
C. B. Keen
P. H. Kelsker
R. C. Loos
M. B. Medary
Geo. T. Pearson
C. K. Peddle
W. K. Phillips
W. W. Potter
W. B. Powell
Price & McLanahan
C. E. Rahn
Henry L. Reinholds
Frank Rommell
C. E. Schermerhorn
P. Russell Sturtuck
Herbert C. Wise

Pennsylvania

A. W. Leh, South Bethlehem,
Stetler & Mengel, Reading
L. Reisman, Scranton
J. D. Lengle, Wayne

New Jersey

J. J. Schmidt, Bayonne
T. W. Biddle, Jersey City
C. F. Long, Jersey City
E. M. Paterson, Jersey City
John A. Resch, Jersey City
Fred Parker, Lambertsville
E. Sibley, Palisade
W. B. Harris, Princeton
H. A. Hill, Trenton
W. W. Slack, Trenton
W. E. Berries, Union

Newark

Francis Avercamp
Arthur Connelly
Faulkner & Pougner
H. D. Havell
Hooper & Co.
H. J. King
J. V. King
Bruse P. Kitchell
Robt. C. Klemm
Nathan Myers
Rizzolo & Gonelli
W. K. Schorning & Son
R. Sellick
G. Staehlin
C. L. Steinbrenner
M. B. Silberstein

New York

Geo. E. Cottrell, New Rochelle
John Kleist, New Rochelle
R. C. Lynch, Richmond Hill

The Edison Aggregate is published monthly and will be sent free, upon request. Address all communications to the Advertising Department, Room 920 St. James Building, New York City.

85% THRU 200 98% THRU 100

UNIFORMLY 10% FINEST GROUND IN THE WORLD.

GENERAL SALES OFFICES

NEW YORK, St. James Building
PHILADELPHIA, Arcade Building
NEWARK, N. J., Union Building
BOSTON, Post Office Square Building
PITTSBURGH, Machesney Building
SAVANNAH, National Bank Building

Primary Printed Series - Serial Publications
The Phonogram

Written by Herbert A. Shattuck, advertising manager of the National Phonograph Co., The Phonogram was a company publication from May 1900 until Shattuck's resignation in October 1902. It succeeded a publication of the same title, which was issued by the North American Phonograph Co. during the early 1890s.

The archives of the Edison National Historic Site contains fifteen of the twenty-nine monthly issues. The May 1900 issue has been selected as a sample.

The PHONO GRAM

Copyright 1900, by Herbert A. Shattuck

FIRST NUMBER

MAY 1900

PRINTED MONTHLY FOR THOSE INTERESTED IN PHONES, GRAPHS, GRAMS & SCOPES. DEVOTED TO THE ARTS OF RECORDING AND REPRODUCING SOUND.

We can furnish you with some of these PHONOGRAMS for general distribution, The June number, ready the 18th, contains a list of 51 new Records. The July number, ready July 1st, will have a list of 80 new Concert Records.

Address Publication Department
National Phonograph Company, 135 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

The PHONOGRAM

SUBSCRIPTION THIRTY CENTS A YEAR

CONTENTS FOR MAY, 1900

	PAGE
A Riddle	5
As a Means of Salvation	5
Doggerel, "A"	7
It Caught even the Deacon	9
It's Naturalness Deceived Him	9
Who Has Ever Heard of a Phonograph Bony	10
Doggerel, "B"	11
Talking Clocks	12
Doggerel, "C"	14
New Edison Concert Records	16
Having Fun with an Echo	17
A 'Phone Nap Costs Money	18
An Up-to-date Ghost Story	19
Thomas A. Edison (portrait)	20
The Story of the Phonograph	21
May Notes	26
Rag Time Songs	28

¶ The title of this periodical has been chosen for its peculiar significance; φωνή, PHONE, the voice, and γραμμα, GRAM, that which is written. In simple words, THE PHONOGRAM is a magazine devoted to the arts of recording and reproducing sound.

Phonograph Records made by Ira D. Sankey

"The Ninety and Nine."
"When the Roll is Called Up Yonder."
"Where Is My Wandering Boy."
"Shall We Gather at the River."
"Saved by Grace," and others of the famous

MOODY AND SANKEY HYMNS

Price, 75c. per record $8.50 per dozen.

Can be HEARD at ALL Phonograph Dealers.

The Bigelow & Main Co. 128 FIFTH AVE NEW YORK

Languages—Cortina's Self Instruction by Phonograph

TEXT BOOKS:

FRENCH, in 20 lessons complete, $1.50
SPANISH, in 20 lessons complete, $1.50
GERMAN, in 20 lessons complete, $1.50
&c., &c.

Awarded First Prize Columbian Exposition.

FOR USE IN SCHOOLS, ETC.

French, sample 8 in's, 30c.
10 records, any lang'ge $10
20 " " " 20

Circulars, etc. on application.

Catalogue of other text and imported Spanish Books.

R. D. CORTINA
ACADEMY OF LANGUAGES
44 West 34th Street, New York.

A Dainty Bibelot

We Sat Apart

By EUGENE LEE

A CHARMING little love poem, quaintly conceived and written in such a delightful manner that it will appeal to everyone.

THIS little book is issued in a 18mo, volume, choicely printed on hand-made deckle edge paper, and bound in old style wrappers. It has specially designed ornaments, headpieces, etc.

Price (postpaid), Fifty Cents

Printed by AUGUSTE GIRALDI and published by him at No. 139 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

A RIDDLE.

Brown, Round and Long
With permutations and combinations.

It's round and long and brown,
Cylindrical in shape;
It's found in every town,
From it you can't escape.

It's round, and brown and long;
It's center is a hole;
It's music, speech and song;
It's human all but soul.

It's brown, and long and round.
It's built upon a plan
A Great Inventor found—
Now guess it if you can?

AS A MEANS OF SALVATION.

THE talking machine has come to stay. It's wonderful adaptability to all the varying moods and needs of human nature has placed it in the front ranks of mechanical music makers of this generation. By reason of its versatility, it is continually finding new uses for itself. First, it was a scientific toy; next, it showed a fondness for business as a help to the stenographer and typewriter. Then it entered the amusement field and found its fitness as an entertainer. It is in this stage of its life that its greatest usefulness has developed.

It has invaded every walk of life, and has become an article of furniture in the home of rich and poor alike. It is for the millionaire and the humblest toiler in the land. It is for the Royalty—the Queen, the Emperor, and the Sultan—as well as for plain John Smith of Lonely Hollow, Wis. The President has one. Senators, Supreme Court Judges, janitors and preachers find a certain charm in one or another of its accomplishments; each finding something in the instrument that suits his needs.

Copyright 1901.

New uses are found daily.

The Salvation Army has tumbled to the Phonograph. Ask Ensign Johnson, in charge of the Canonsburg Corps at Washington, Pa., how he'd get along without it. Talk to Major Robert Ball, chief divisional officer of the Army of Connecticut. He will tell you of his New London meetings last Spring, in which he drew large crowds daily and nightly at Army Hall, 456 Bank Street. Get the experiences of Brigadier Brought at his Norwalk, Conn. meetings, and elsewhere. Write to Ensign and Mrs. Atkins about their rally at Bath, N. Y., whose they saved many souls at their hall in the Ayer Building. Write to Cadet French of Norwalk, Conn. Talk to the Salvation Army in New Albany, Ind., Louisville, Ky., and all over the country.

Verily, verily, the talking machine hath done a good work in the saving of souls.

Here is the "experience" of a well known Toledo man, as reported in the Chicago Tribune, last August.

"M. O. Waggoner, the infidel who has announced his intention of sacrificing his valuable collection of books treating on infidelism and will make a bonfire of them in public, was converted in a peculiar manner. Mr. Waggoner, who is 76 years old, is a lawyer, and ranks high in the Lucas County Bar. He made open avowal of his con-

A

A is for ARMY
That fights for salvation
The Phonograph using
For its jubilation.

version in the presence of a large congregation at the Memorial Church in this city recently.

Some time ago he listened to the sermon of an evangelist, and the thought of his disbelief preyed on his mind. He has a gramophone with which he is wont to amuse himself, and at midnight, being unable to sleep, he arose, and, placing a disk in the instrument at random, started the machine.

The air of "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow" filled the room, and this was followed by "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me." At the conclusion Mr. Waggoner was singing and shouting praises of the Lord."

Mr. Waggoner burned his infidel books. His first idea was to have a public bonfire, but he decided, in view of the fact that many might doubt his sincerity, to burn them in the furnace of the Memorial United Brethren Church, corner of Lawrence Avenue and Hicks Street, which was done last January, in the presence of the Rev. E. P. Roseler, the pastor, and a few intimate friends. He appeared to be the happiest man in Toledo as he saw the flames gradually destroying his collection.

These are Results.

Results that were never dreamed of by Edison, Bell and Tainter, Macdonald, Berliner, and Bettini when they conceived their different talking machines and their talking machine improvements.

All hail, therefore, to Edison, Bell, Tainter, Macdonald, Berliner, and Bettini! They are soul savers! They, through their instruments, are the means of salvation!

IT CAUGHT EVEN THE DEACONS.

Among the numbers given at a recent Phonograph entertainment in a little Presbyterian Church out in the suburbs, was a song "The County Fair," and the usual race track accompaniments—band playing a lively air, crowd shouting for the race to begin, etc. When the performance started some of the more conservative members exchanged glances of horror, as the unconverted "graph" with brazen disregard of all pious scruples, coughed up the clatter of horses' hoofs and voiced the huzzas of the crowd. They were not sure whether they were in a church or in the grandstand of some driving park association, but as the rhythmic movement of horrying hoofs came louder and clearer, horror gave place in the spot of "Get there," etc., and when the winner passed the judges' stand and the clang of the bell announced the close of the race, it was observed that even the deacons did not abstain from the applause that followed.—News, Detroit, Mich.

IT'S NATURALNESS DECEIVED HIM.

A countryman dropped into the bar at the village hotel and called for a drink. Just as he was about to stow it beneath his vest the Phonograph began to play one of the popular cake walks. A look akin to terror came over his face. He set his glass down on the bar and making a bolt for the door exclaimed: "Gee Willikins! there comes the Warren band down the street and I forgot to tie my horses."—Democrat, Warren, Pa.

WHO HAS EVER HEARD OF A PHONOGRAPH BUOY?

After George Ade.

A Twentieth Century Inventor who hails from Oshkosh, Wis., and Who Says that "his hat has no holes in it" either, propounds the following Crisp One. Just now he has Charge of the Draw One in a Dennett Beauxry. "We intend to place one of our Phonograph buoys on the noted Kitty Hawk reef at the mouth of the Savannah River. At present a bell buoy marks that dangerous reef, and you know the action of the waves tolls the bell of the buoy. It will doubtless surprise many vessel captains to hear our buoy, with its clear distinct sound, say, 'I am Kitty Hawk, Kitty Hawk, Kitty, Kitty Hawk,' and they will hear it further than they can hear the bell buoy."

It remains to be seen if he continues to Reach Out Sideways for the Brim of his Hat, or if he makes a Quick Touch on some Easy Mark and Nails him as a Backer and Makes Good. It is a Large Project that the Oshkosh One has suggested. The Objection are in the Line of the Corruption that cometh through Moth and Rust—principally Rust. And How a delicate Mechanism like the Phonograph could be Tossed and Buffetted by Mobic Waves and yet avoid harm, is yet Also to be explained. At the Present Stage of the game, his Talk Talk is technically known as Hot Air. Until the Beauxry Manager hires another Intellectual Giant to "draw one in the dark," thus releasing the Inventor from his Arduous Duties, we fear that he and his Good Thing will remain in Innocuous Desuetude.

B

B is for BUOY
Tossed by the waves,
Hoarsely it bellows,
It warns and it saves.

TALKING CLOCKS.

And why not?

Certainly you! If people want them. Which, after all is only a question of some enterprising man getting a lot of them made, and advertising their advantages to the public. If a thing is good, all it needs is advertising. Even if it's only three-quarters good, it will go if it is properly exploited. Or, further still, even if it's only half good, and it's advertised properly, it is possible for it to win success. But a thing must have some merit, to make a financial hit for its proprietor; that is one of the maxims of the Advertising Profession.

Come back to clocks—talking clocks. For a century or more we have had but two varieties of alarm clocks—the cuckoo and the gong. To be sure, the cuckoo is a talker in a measure, but not a diversified talker. All it says is "Cuck-oo" once or twelve times as the case may be (or up to twenty-four if you are Italian and your cuckoo is an Italian also). "Cuck-oo"—same tone of voice—twelve times—middle of the night—and if you're real sleepy—all these are provocations that have discouraged the talking clock idea. But the trouble is not with the idea; it's with the imperfect manner it has hitherto been worked out.

The time is ripe for something new in clocks. Because the Ancients clung to the sun dial and the clepsydra and the sand glass for a couple of thousand years, it's no reason why we should not have something new, and right away too, if we want it. The early English used a rush light in a horn to measure the passing hours. Then came the pendulum and weights, then springs and finally the balance and balance wheel that made possible the modern watch.

Bells and gongs have been known for thousands of years; but the Phonograph has barely reached the age of twenty-five—indeed, in its present form, it is just five years old. So there is yet time for the talking clock.

Now my idea of a talking clock is that it should above all things be discreet. There are times when speech is silver but silence golden. So with clocks. After eleven at night, till waking time in the morning, it should just whisper the hours; only loud enough for you to hear it if you're listening for it, and no louder. What do you want of a clock that wakes you from a sound sleep by banging away twelve times on a bell? Why wouldn't a gentle "twelve" spoken in a refined quiet way, be ever so much better?

Then there's the complication that arises in your mind when you hear a clock strike the half hour. Is it one o'clock, you ask yourself? Or half after one? Or half after what? You actually feel obliged to stay awake for the next half hour to find out what the clock meant by striking once; whereas if the clock said "one thirty" or "five thirty" you would know right off whether to turn over for another snooze or to prepare for daily toil.

Likewise to married men, who have lodge meetings to attend or frequent club nights or "work at the office"—the talking clock whispering the early morning hours, would be a boon. The all too familiar vision of a white robed waiting figure, (kept awake during her lonely hours by the striking of bells), would become a thing of the past. She would sink into calm slumber at the accustomed hour of retiring, and undisturbed by the gentle whisper of the clock, speaking the midnight hour and the subsequent small hours, she would continue to sleep. Then would the Belated One retire to find his homecoming unwatched.

C

C is for CLOCK
With a Phonograph Horn,
Telling young Smith
"It's time to be gone."

He could fiddle with the key hole to his heart's content. No one to chide him as he hangs up his shoes on the hat rack. No one to cuss him coldly as he tries to take off his shirt before removing his collar. Only himself to blame if he disturbs the sweet slumberer. Oh why doesn't some good friend of humanity step forward and announce the long—delayed—gentle—vocal talking clock!

Then the alarm feature of the new clock. Full of possibilities. The commuter could arrange a talking record which announced, promptly at 7:18, "Come Jones, time to go—time's up. Don't eat the rest of that sausage—remember the last time you ran for the train—don't do it again—hurry up—hurry—you ought to be at the door now—goodbye." How much more expressive, coercive and explicit than just one stroke of a bell meaning half past several. Result, Jones would catch the 7:43 every morning, without churning up his coffee, and without barking his shins on the bottom step of the last car.

At night too, when young Smith came to call on Clara, Jones could go to sleep with perfect content; knowing full well that at the reasonable hour of 10:15, his Phonograph Clock would start off with a fitting preamble, whereas and resolutions, striding young Smith "It's time to be gone. Young man, come again, come often but just now it's time to be gone." Young Smith would be surprised, perhaps. That's what the New Clock is intended for. Next time he stayed late, he'd go surely before 10:45; for he wouldn't know what other little pleasantry the clock would work off on him. That would be the beauty of the thing; a new and different alarm could be prepared for each particular event, thus keeping the novelty always fresh.

It's novelty that quickens the pulse and stirs the blood.

NEW EDISON CONCERT RECORDS.

Songs by George H. Broderick.

B 339 Absent Minded Beggar.
B 337 Anvil Song.
B 337 Beer Song.
B 335 Calf of Gold.
B 332 Cooper's Song.
B 342 Down Deep Within the Cellar.
B 343 Father O'Flynn.
B 331 Friar of Orders Gray.
B 347 Heart Bowed Down.
B 336 How Fair Art Thou.
B 334 King O'er Land and Sea.
B 338 Let All Obey.
B 346 Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep.
B 341 Simon the Cellarer.
B 344 Since Thou Art Mine.
B 333 Song of the Turnkey.
B 348 Tale of a Whale.
B 339 The Palms.
B 335 The Red Scarf.
B 338 The Vagabond.
B 330 Thursday.
B 340 Yarn of the Dutee.
B 349 Who Treads the Path of Duty.

Talking Records by Cal. Stewart.

B 361 Uncle Josh and the Bunco Steerers.
B 365 Uncle Josh at Delmonico's.
B 360 Uncle Josh at the Camp Meeting.
B 364 Uncle Josh at the Opera.

Talking Records by Cal. Stewart.

B 362 Uncle Josh on the Pumpkin Center R. R.
B 363 Uncle Josh's Arrival in New York.

Violin Solos by Charles D'Almaine.

B 335 Because.
B 333 Bon Bolo.
B 331 El Miserere, from Il Trovatore.
B 334 Imitation of Bag Pipes and Scotch Air.
B 332 Polish National Dance.
B 336 Scenes That Are Brightest.

HAVING FUN WITH AN ECHO

The mischievous pages of the House have discovered a new trick of the echoes in Statuary Hall. They play it upon the tourists by the score and upon pretentious statesmen occasionally, when they can do so without discovery.

There is a certain spot, near the beaten path of travel from the central doorway of the House toward the Senate, where this peculiar echo is effective. If any coin or metal object is dropped on the marble step between the telegraph office and the reception room it sounds to one passing the particular spot in question as though the object were dropping immediately at his feet. A boy with a dime or a nickel is able to have all sorts of fun by waiting till some one passes the point. Even the Senate pages slip away from their work to visit the boys on the other side and play with the echo.—From the Washington Post.

A 'PHONE NAP COSTS MONEY.

To begin with, he's "a good fellow." That's a phrase easier understood by men than by women. It generally means—well, it means he's an all-round good sort in the male line.

Saturday afternoon he was feeling pretty good. He had been quite thirsty, if what he had taken was to be judged as a criterion. And the libations left him in a thoroughly good humor, and he felt at peace with the world.

In this delightful mental and physical state he bethought him of a friend of his in Providence, R. I. And he further thought that he would call up that particular friend on the telephone.

So he went to a Broad street hotel, told the young women there who had charge of the 'phone that he wanted to speak to Mr. So-and-So in Providence, and wouldn't she kindly call up the party.

The girl did as she was bade.

"Party's on the 'phone," she said, and the man went into the telephone box, sat down and put the receiver to his ear.

And then he calmly and sweetly dropped off to sleep.

When he woke up he owed the telephone company $30.90.

He said he wouldn't pay it—but he did.

—From the Philadelphia Press.

Miss Helen Gould has shown her interest in the sailors of the American navy by donating a Phonograph and exemplicion to the crew of the United States training ship Hartford.

AN UP TO DATE GHOST STORY.

By MR. OPPERER.

My friend Fisher recently decided to move.

A Ghost was the cause of his decision.

Fisher lives alone with a maiden sister who is stone deaf; and for weeks past his slumbers have been broken—sometimes by hands playing about his head, and sometimes by ring-time songs. Again he would be awakened by a sermon telling of future punishment. He investigated but could find no clue. He asked his sister; but she hadn't heard a word for twenty years. He sat up nights with a shotgun. The ghostly sounds continued, but his ability as a detective was baffled. Then he decided that the house was certainly haunted, and last week they packed up their goods preparatory to moving.

Then he did some hard thinking, before really and truly moving away just because of a Ghost.

Fisher still occupies his old home and is superstitious no more. The mystery was explained by two neighbor's boys. They had attached a long hose to a Phonograph, and had run the hose through an old water pipe to the house and fixed the nozzle so that the sounds would reach Fisher's bedroom. At first noises were threatened; but the penitence of the boys (when they learned of the anguish they had caused), called for mercy and a settlement was effected out of court.

But it was certainly a very severe test of Fisher's nerves before he did that hard thinking.

A peaceful dog may not fight; but he often does that which is worse—he watches where the other dog hides his bone.

THOMAS A. EDISON

*THE STORY OF THE PHONOGRAPH.

History: Ancient, Medieval and Modern.

CHAPTER I.—ANCIENT.

From the beginning of Time, mankind has sought to reproduce by mechanical means, the sounds of the Living World. Of the great antiquity of musical instruments there are many evidences; but the first attempt to simulate the human voice is doubtless the wonderful statue of Memnon at Thebes, dating back to the 18th Egyptian Dynasty, B. C. 1490. Two colossi statues still stand on the west bank of the Nile, near the present village of Karnak, 'mid the ruins of some eighteen others. At one time, the most northern gave forth sounds at sunrise, supposed to be Memnon's morning salute to his mother Eos, the Goddess of Dawn. That this is more than a mere fable seems to be attested by several cuniform inscriptions on the base of the statue, placed there by famous travellers. The statue was tumbled over by an earthquake in B. C. 27. Strabo, one of the earliest globe trotters on record, visited Memnon in the year 7 A. D., and writes rather cautiously of the voice, calling it merely a noise. Other writers (among them Tacitus, recording the visit of the Roman General Germanicus, A. D. 79) refer to the sound as distinctly musical; while still other enthusiastic writers dignify it as a song. Among the notables whose visits to the statue are recorded, are Titus Petronius Secundus, a Roman Prefect, A. D. 82, and the Emperors Hadrian, A. D. 130, and Septimius Severus, A. D. 194.

*Reprinted by license of the National Phonograph Company Copyright 1900

Several of the inscriptions (the earliest dating A.D. 63) express or imply the fact that Memnon, when entire, could speak in language; but since his mutilation was reduced to inarticulate sounds. The last of the lot is by one Asklepiodotus, the imperial procurator: "Know, O sea-born Thetis, that Memnon could not die. When the hot rays shot by his mother [Eos] fell brightly upon him, his clear song rings out while the Spreading Nile puts the Lybian hills from hundred gated Thebes."

The statue was restored A. D. 196, by Septimius Severus, soon after his visit; but alas! the wonderful gift of speech had departed.

MEDIEVAL.

During the next ten centuries, there are instances without number of talking automatons that have been genuinely constructed to perform mechanical wonders, but the voices have been produced by trickery; either a concealed person has talked through tubes or by echo from a concealed position.

The first authentic talker appeared in the 13th century, when Friar Roger Bacon, the early English Philosopher, constructed an ingenious talking head.

Gerbert, a German Monk of an earlier period than Bacon, is said to have made a most wonderful brazen head that talked, as did also Albertus Magnus; but there is so much that is legendary interwoven in the records that all but Bacon's head may be fairly put down as fables. Bacon's talking machine was doubtless suggested by the Speaking Head of Orpheus, which was an awe inspiring enigma to the early Greeks; but it is more than probable that this wonder was to be accounted for on the same principle as the vocal power of the colossal statue of the Indian God, Siva (the Destroyer) where a seat was provided for a priest under the headgear of the figure. In the case of Memnon however, it is generally conceded that the sounds were due to some artifice of construction or peculiarity of material used rather than the deception of priests; thus establishing it as the first talking statue. The same may be said of Bacon's head. Its verity is vouched for by early testimony, thus establishing it without doubt as the first talking automaton.

MODERN.

From Bacon to Faber of the present time is a long step, with no great achievement to chronicle, unless we except the famous duck of Vaucanson, so often referred to as one of the mechanical wonders of the century. This was constructed in 1740, and astonished all beholders by not only quacking in a life-like manner, but by waving its wings, pluming its feathers, eating grain and even digesting its food. The crowning point of mechanical ingenuity was reached by Herr Faber, a Vienna experimenter, who in 1860 built a most elaborate talking man, which really stands at the head of all talking machines of the automaton class.

A brief description of Faber's talking man may be of interest. It has flexible lips of rubber, and also a rubber tongue, ingeniously controlling vowels and consonants. In its throat is a tiny fan wheel, by which the letter 'r' is rolled. It has an ivory reed for vocal cords. Its mouth is an oval cavity, the size of which is regulated by sliding sections, rapidly operated from a key-board. A tube is attached to its nose when it speaks French. It is really a most wonderful piece of mechanism, but a hundred times more complicated than Mr. Edison's Phonograph of 1877, or the perfected Phonograph of to-day.

But Faber and his predecessors were on the wrong track in attempting to solve the problem of sound reproduction in this manner, on its physical side. Faber sought a cause; Edison saw an effect, and said, "The Thing is there, it has but to be found." Faber started from the source of the sound, and built a mechanism, reproducing the causes of the vibrations that made articulate speech. It remained for Edison to start from the vibrations; to obtain the mechanical effects of such vibrations; to record them on a pliable material and then to reproduce them.

Faber copied the movements of the vocal organs, Edison studied a vibrating diaphragm, and reproduced the action of the ear drum when acted upon by the vibration caused by the vocal organs.

(TO BE CONTINUED).

The PHONOGRAM

MONTHLY

SUBSCRIPTION:— THIRTY CENTS A YEAR
Advertising rates to be had on application.

The PHONOGRAM, No. 135 Fifth Avenue, New York

Published by HERBERT A. SHATTUCK for those interested in the arts of recording and reproducing sound. ¶ A very Special Department will be devoted to all Questions and Answers relating to Phones, Graphs, Grams, and Scopes. Correspondence welcomed by him Copyrighted 1900, by Herbert A. Shattuck.

MAY NOTES

¶ My friend Col. George Smith, down in Jersey, is somewhat of a genius. He has caused a telegraphic and Phonographic connection to be made between his house and the First M. E. Church, which is directly opposite; and he is thus enabled to hear every part of the service without the bother of going to church. This arrangement will, I have no doubt, be a great source of religious comfort to him in the future.

¶ The Scopes are an ever increasing family. First the Phantascope; also known as the Phantasmascope and the Phenakistoscope. This was a curious optical toy, popular some thirty or forty years ago. It consisted of a revolving disk, on which figures were drawn in different attitudes, so that, when seen successively, they produced the appearance of an object in actual motion; as an animal leaping or a man walking or eating,—due to the continuance of the successive visual impressions on the retina. Along comes Muybridge in the seventies or eighties, with his wonderful instantaneous photographs of the horse in motion, upsetting all preconceived ideas as to exactly how a running or leaping horse should be drawn. Then Mr. Edison substituted instantaneous photographs for those progressive drawings, and the Kinetoscope was born. Then followed Latham's Eidoloscope, the Mutoscope, the Biograph, the Cinograph, the Cinematograph, the Wargraph, the Vitascope, and among others, the Kalatechnoscope. All these wonderful names mean just "moving picture machines."

¶ I know a man who bought a Phonograph to sing to his baby. He also bought a lot of blank cylinders to record the baby's coos. But the baby didn't coo all through the latter experiment. I've heard some of the home-made masters, and I tell you, some of them are "howling" successes.

¶ My book plate is a lamb, with a large black S artfully interwoven; and, mysteriously superposed thereon, a Bird; holding in its beak a scrit or screed or scroll, call it as you may.

All writers are Birds, inasmuch as they gather stray shreds of information and threads of knowledge and weave them into a nest which they call a Book.

This month I am Yellow Bird; a Scribbling Lark; otherwise, a Yellow-Hammer, or a Yellow shafted Woodpecker; which, perforating the bark of apple trees for grubs and insects, makes strange punctuations thereon, and which I have often seen in varied forms, some of which do resemble attempts at writing.

I pray my friends to bear gently with me in this my number one and volume one. I am clinging closely to the trunk of the talking-machine-knowledge tree; and am pecking here and there all over the bark for fat facts and interesting information; food for thought for you and indirectly, food for myself. If my peckings make punctuations that resemble attempts at writing, and if these attempts meet with your interest and approval (as shall be evidenced by the stream of dimes which I confidentially hope will flow my way, neatly pasted in three's to a letter announcing a year's subscription), I shall feel that I have not misjudged my ability to pose as a real Scribbling Lark, yellow only in plumage.

(Continued on page thirty)

SOME RECENT RAG-TIME SONGS

You're Talking Rag-time. With Banjo Accompaniment
You are Certainly Hard Luck to Me.
With Banjo Accompaniment
No Cake Comes too High for Me.
With Orchestra Accompaniment
My Babe from Boston. With Banjo "
I'd Leave My Happy Home for You.
I Ain't Seen No Messenger Boy.
Smoky Mokes. Cake Walk Song
She's the Warmest Baby in the Bunch.

Douglas & Company

H. C. Douglas, Manager

Edison Phonographs

Wholesale & Retail.

EDISON Phonographs, Records, Supplies.
EDISON Stereo-Projecting Kinetoscope and Films.

Batteries and Fan Motors.
Bates Numbering Stamps.
Seabey Records.
Cortina's Records for the Study of Language.
Original Records. Improved Speakers.
Polyphones. Bettini Records.
Bettini Reproducers.
Records to order.

151 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.
Corner Twenty-first Street

(Continued from page twenty-seven)

In other issues to follow I shall perhaps be a Green Bird—a Parrot, repeating only what others have said. Or I shall be a Blue Bird, "flooding with melody the neighborhood." Or an Orange Bird—an Oriole, weaving queer stories for your edification and amusement. Or I shall be Black—a Crow, with split tongue repeating (but with more wisdom than the Parrot) odd bits I have heard concerning talking machines. Or again, some other time, a Magpie, stealing bodily that which pleases my eye and which I think may please yours. Whatever Bird I may be, however, I shall always bear in my beak a scale, screed or scroll, call it what you may; the contents thereof to be—I swear it—of general interest and utility to talking machine owners and users.

On with your dimes. Stick three on your visiting card and write "Send it."

Brevity is the Soul of Wit. I shall appreciate your wit during the months to come.

¶ I met Cal Stewart on the train the other day, on his way to Orange, New Jersey, to put in a morning of work at the Edison Laboratory making records. Everybody knows Cal or ought to. He is the Popular Yankee Comedian, and the author of the quaint talks known to all talking machine enthusiasts as the "Uncle Josh" series. And he's just as jolly in everyday life as he is on his Records.

"How be yew," he said to me. "How's your family. What you've been up to?" "Oh tolerble" said I, and I told him about THE PHONOGRAM.

Well, the upshot of our conversation was his promise to give me the text of three or four funny talks; something new that he has up his sleeve—never been published before. Watch for the June PHONOGRAM.

KHAKI CLOTH

A New Fabric for Summer Wear.

Made famous (in this country, at least) by the Rough Riders and their charge "up the hill."

Until the Spanish-American unpleasantness, what khaki cloth had been used by the U. S. Army was imported from England. For many years England has equipped all her Indian troops with khaki uniforms. The cloth is light weight. It is fairly waterproof. It don't show dirt. It makes a cool garment.

DIRTPROOF COOL WATERPROOF

Early in 1898, the United States Government solicited bids from American manufacturers for enough khaki to equip the Cuban Army of Invasion. Contracts were awarded to many firms, with the result of several grades of cloth. One mill in particular, however, produced such an excellent weave that the Government reserved the output of that one mill for the exclusive use of its OFFICERS.

N.B.—This is the mill whose Khaki Cloth I offer.

ONE DOLLAR A YARD.—36 inches wide

It cannot be excelled in fitness for golf skirts or for walking skirts. For children's use, entire suits are the thing. For men's wear, it is cooler than duck and more serviceable. Samples sent to any one interested. Goods sent C. O. D. with privilege of examination. I pay express charges both ways if the fabric does not meet your expectation.

JOHN WRIGHT, 234 Union St., Hackensack, N.J.

N.B.—I respectfully request intending purchasers to avail themselves of my offer to send samples, that I may feel certain that each package sent C. O. D. will stay placed.

THE
PHONOGRAPH
"SUSTAINED BY ITS REPUTATION"

THE ONLY PERFECT REPRODUCTIONS OF SOUND ARE OBTAINED BY USING EDISON RECORDS ON THE PHONOGRAPH. PRICES FROM $10.00 TO $100. CATALOGUE FROM ALL PHONOGRAPH DEALERS.

NONE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS

Thomas A. Edison

Primary Printed Series - Serial Publications
The New Phonogram

Starting with the issue of July 1904, The New Phonogram was a monthly publication of the National Phonograph Co. The publication was continued in February 1911 by Thomas A. Edison, Inc. Its title was changed to Phonogram in November 1912.

The archives of the Edison National Historic Site contains a majority of the monthly issues through March 1914. The July 1904 issue has been selected as a sample.

Vol. I JULY 1904 No. 1

THE NEW PHONOGRAM

Published Monthly by the National Phonograph Company, 83 Chambers Street, New York City

20 CENTS A YEAR 2 CENTS A COPY

THE JULY LIST OF EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGES TWO TO SIX

EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR JULY, 1904

The July list of Edison Gold Moulded Records will be a delight to all interested in the Edison product. The initiated will find in them ample evidence of the monthly improvement being made by our Recording Department. Not only is the quality of the highest character, but the list abounds in variety. Of the twenty-five Records, twenty-one are made by different combinations of talent. The combinations having more than one Record are the Edison Military Band and the Edison Symphony Orchestra. The proportion of instrumental to vocal is eleven of the former to fourteen of the latter.

8724. The Jap's Tattoo — Edison Military Band
A characteristic Japanese war march. In view of the war in the far East it is a timely Record. The music is distinctively Japanese, but it is sufficiently tinged by Western musical effort to make it melodious and tuneful. The composer is L. F. Laurendeau.

8725. Starry Night for a Ramble — Edison Male Quartette
A popular waltz song with solo, duet, quartette chorus and orchestra accompaniment. The title of this composition is that of a song well-known many years ago and which is here written to new music and for a longer extent new words. The chorus will be recognized for its similarity to the old song of the same name.

8726. The St. Louis Rag — Vess L. Ossman
A characteristic banjo solo with orchestra accompaniment, written by Tom Turpin, and quite apropos of the Exposition. A typical banjo composition, and one calculated to bring out the best effects of that instrument. "The St. Louis Rag" is being played by Sousa and other bands throughout the country. It will be one of the popular airs of the summer.

8727. My Kangaroo — Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley
A remarkably fine contralto and tenor duet, with orchestra accompaniment. It is composed by Joseph C. Farrell and Charles Kohlman.

8728. The Man with the Ladder and the Hose — W. H. Thompson
Pays a tribute to the fire fighting heroes of the country and is dedicated to them by its composer, T. Moyo Geary. It is sung with splendid voice by W. H. Thompson, with an orchestra accompaniment.

8729. Invitation to the Waltz — Edison Symphony Orchestra
This is a Record of von Weber's charming composition. It is splendidly made.

8730. Oysters and Clams — Arthur Collins
A descriptive buckster's song that will remind all who hear it of that successful song "Any Rags." It is sung with orchestra accompaniment. Dick Ferdinan is the writer of the words and Theodore Morse the composer of the music.

8731. An Interrupted Courtship on the Elevated Railway — Campbell and Roberts
It tells a humorous story of the efforts of Lavender to propose to Lulu on an elevated railway train in New York City. A feature of the Record is the characteristic rolling out of the stations by the guard, who, as usual, cannot be understood.

8732. Pride Prize March — Albert Benzler
An instrumental selection written by S. E. Henry, composer of "The Colored Major March." It is a clever and well written composition, and is played as a xylophone solo, with orchestra accompaniment. Mr. Benzler ably seconds the work of the composer.

8733. Just a Gleam of Heaven in Her Eyes — Byron G. Harlan
Charles K. Harris' latest sentimental ballad. It is sung in Mr. Harlan's best manner. It has an orchestra accompaniment. The combination of Mr. Harris' sweet song and Mr. Harlan's singing make an unusually attractive sentimental Record.

8734. My Old New Hampshire Home — Campbell and Harrison
This Record will require no introduction to Phonograph users. It is an old friend, but is here presented in a new and attractive form. It has been listed before it was sung as a tenor solo. It is here given as a tenor and baritone duet with orchestra accompaniment. The voices of the singers blend nicely, and with the attractive air of the song will be found that will meet with universal popularity. The words of the song were written by Andrew B. Sterling and the music by Harry Von Tilzer.

8735. Sylvia (Scherzo) — Frank S. Mazzolettı
One of the best piccolo solos by Mr. Mazzoletti that it has ever been our pleasure to list. It is played with orchestra accompaniment. The composer is Ch. LeThiere.

8736. Two Rubes at the Vaudeville Harlan and Stanley
A descriptive selection introducing a scene at a vaudeville theatre. In making it Messrs. Harlan and Stanley had the assistance of Daisy Bousla, a serio-comic artist, and the orchestra. This is one of the most ambitious Records ever made, although it may not so appear to the ordinary listener. The scene opens with two Rubes at the ticket office trying to purchase a ticket that costs a standing room only. A ticket speculator induces them to buy two seats "way up front," and they enter the theatre. While they are buying their tickets the orchestra is heard playing on the inside. As the door opens to admit them the full volume of the orchestra is heard. The seats "way up front" prove to be in the last row. The soubrette on the stage begins to sing the popular song "Bim Bell." The loud talking of the two Rubes interrupts her until finally she refuses to sing until the noise is stopped. The crowd remonstrates and the Rubes are suppressed for the moment, only to again begin talking when the soubrette continues her song. She then gives it up in disgust, saying that if they are so smart they can sing it themselves. They then take the stage, get the orchestra to play, and sing "Don't Get Weary."

8737. Hannah Billy Murray
A popular coon song. It is sung with orchestra accompaniment. This composition is the work of Farrell and Frantzen.

8738. Encouragement Overture Edison Symphony Orchestra
A delightful selection, composed by E. Bootgez.

8739. Dream of Youth Eugene A. Jacobs and Eugene C. Rose
Another delightful violin and flute duet. The composer of this selection is G. Langer. It is fully as meritorious as any of the violin and flute selections heretofore listed.

8740. American Students Waltzes Edison Military Band
Recorded in slow tempo for dancing, in consequence of a general demand for a regular number of this character. This selection includes "The college Rose," "My Love at the Window," "Dear Evelina," "Spanish Guitar" and "Climbing, Climbing, Climbing." The composer is Jean M. Missenai.

8741. Everywhere Collins and Harlan
A comic male duet, with orchestra accompaniment. The words and music are by Farrell and Frantzen. This song is just being issued by its publishers and our Record will be practically its first introduction to the American public. "Everywhere" is a song of the same character as "Oh! Didn't He Ramble," and will undoubtedly be as popular. The Record gives three verses and three choruses.

8742. A Bit of Blarney Edison Concert Band
An Irish intermezzo and two-step, written by J. Fred Helf. It is an original melody of an Irish character, and worked in it is an occasional reminder of well-known Irish airs. This Record will appeal strongly to those who are fond of Irish music.

8743. How's Your Hat, What's Your Hurry? Bob Roberts
A clever and very funny Record. It tells of the hardships that befel a hoveick coon at the hands of his rival.

8744. The Old Cabin Home Edison Male Quintette
The second of the series of old plantation scenes. The first was issued in June under the title of "Slavery Days." This second selection is a continuation of the first, which closed with a possum feast. As the opening of this Record the possum feast is in progress and all the darkies are having a merry time. Uncle Jasper discovers that his favorite boy, "Ephriam," has disappeared, and is afraid that the boy has run away to escape the vengeance of the overseer. The coon and the possum are missing. Ephriam returns, and Uncle Jasper invites the darkies to an old-fashioned Kentucky song, "Come Along Children." They sing and then leave the cabin, their voices dying away in the distance. The old man then gives way to his fears for the safety of his boy.

8745. Kryl's Favorite Schmidt Kryl
A cornet solo. Mr. Kryl, who is an artist of the first rank, is now filling an important engagement at the St. Louis Exposition. This Record is made with orchestra accompaniment. Its composer is W. Paris Chambers.

8746. There's Nobody Just Like You Harry MacDonough
A sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment. It has a pretty air and is splendidly sung by Mr. MacDonough.

3747. Where the Mocking Birds Were Singing James F. Harrison
Sentimental song, with orchestra. This song has been popularized through the efforts of a New York newspaper. Chimes and the singing of birds are introduced in the song in a suggestive manner only. Mr. Harrison sings it in superb style. Harry J. Breon wrote the words of the song and T. Mayo Geary the music.

3748. Down on the Brandywine Medley Edison Military Band
These medleys have become a strong feature of the usual list from the fact that each of these selections so many different airs. This one is even better than its predecessors in this respect, for it introduces "Down on the Brandywine," "Meet Me in St. Louis, Louis," "My Little Love Bird," "The Goo Goo Man," "Good Bye, My Lady Love," and "The Irish, the Irish."

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Concert Records may also be ordered from this list, but they will not be made by the Moulded Process. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the Number and letter C.

THE PHONOGRAPH ON THE FARM

The Phonograph brightens the monotony of farm life. It entertains your callers. It will furnish music for a whole party. Its sacred music will keep bright the long Sunday afternoons. It will keep the boys at home. Too many farm homes lack the cheering influences of music. The Phonograph will remedy that.

The Edison Phonograph and the Edison Gold Moulded Records stand for first quality.

BECOME A REGULAR SUBSCRIBER

The subscription price of THE PHONOGRAM has been fixed at 20 cents a year to pay cost of mailing.

TO REGULATE SPEED

A simple way to regulate the speed of a Phonograph is to let the machine run for one and a quarter minutes with the Record off and the speaker arm down. If the machine has traveled exactly two inches in that time the speed is correct, namely 160 revolutions per minute.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

One of the most interesting departments in the average publication of general circulation is that headed "Answers to Correspondents." We shall be glad to devote at least a page a month to such a department, all we need is the questions. What are you most anxious to know concerning the Edison Phonograph or Edison Gold Moulded Records? In writing state that you want a reply in THE PHONOGRAM.

Mrs. D. A. B. recently wrote "Who are the singers in 'Sweet and Low' and 'Lead Kindly Light'?" meaning Edison Records No. 8356 and No. 9023. We replied: "Sweet and Low" was sung by the Edison Mixed Quartette, composed of Miss Chapell, soprano; Miss Morgan, contralto; George Seymour Lenox, tenor; Frank C. Stanley, bass. "Lead Kindly Light" was sung by the Edison Male Quartette, composed of John Bieling, first tenor; Harry MacDonough, second tenor; S. H. Dudley, first bass; William F. Hooley, second bass.

For home entertainment and for music-loving people the Edison Phonograph has never been equalled.

ODDS AND ENDS

Most of the Masters for the May, June and July lists of Edison Gold Moulded Records were made at our new recording plant at 65-69 Fourth avenue, New York City. This is one of the most completely equipped plants of the kind in the country. It is a splendid auxiliary to our recording facilities at the Edison Laboratory, Orange, N. J.

The Kaiser has composed an ossay on Frederick the Great, to be recited from a Phonograph at the prospective unveiling of the warrior king's statue in Washington, D. C.

The harp that once through Tara's halls
The soul of music shed
Is silent, for the Phonograph
Now turns out tunes instead.
—Toronto Saturday Night.

THE NEW PHONOGRAM

ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS TO
THE PHONOGRAM
83 Chambers Street, New York

ONCE AGAIN

A combination of circumstances caused the discontinuance in December, 1902, of THE PHONOGRAM, the little publication issued by the National Phonograph Co., with Herbert A. Shattuck as publisher. The principal circumstance was the ill-health of Mr. Shattuck, which compelled him to relinquish his position as Advertising Manager of the Company.

THE PHONOGRAM was ever a popular publication. It had thousands of admirers. Its discontinuance was much regretted. The demand for copies has continued up to the present. This demand and other events have induced the National Phonograph Co. to revive the publication.

The aim of the new PHONOGRAM will be the same as the old, i. e., to exploit the sale of Edison Phonographs and Edison Gold Moulded Records. To this end every effort will be put forth to make it interesting to its readers. It will contain each month a list of new Edison Gold Moulded Records, "Comments" on the same (reprinted from the Edison Phonograph Monthly), pictures of the artists who make the Edison Records, and departments bearing on every phase of the Edison output. It will contain the latest information upon Edison Phonographs and Records that may from time to time be issued from the Edison Laboratory. Mr. Edison and his assistants are ever seeking to improve the Phonograph and the processes of making Records, and this little publication will tell the result of their efforts when ready for the public. Many interesting things concerning the Phonograph have occurred since the invention of this remarkable instrument and they will be treated in these columns from time to time. Intermingled with all this will be matter of general interest, reprinted from the public press.

A VARIED LIST OF GOOD RECORDS

A correspondent recently asked us to give him a list of Records that we considered especially good. This is always a difficult task, since a choice of Phonograph Records is largely a matter of individual taste. The list given below was sent. It is here printed as a possible guide for the purchaser of a Phonograph in selecting a stock of Records. They are all well recorded and afford excellent variety.

7274	Hail to the Spirit of Liberty	Peerless Orchestra
8434	Spring of Love	Violin and Jubilee and Alt. Mixed Quartette
8435	Lucia	Edison Concert Band
8472	American Patrol	Edison Military Band
8490	Ballet Music from Faust, Part I	Edison Military Band
8475	Santiago Waltz	Jere Murphy
8497	Happy Days	Columbia Mine Bluegrass
8498	Down the Sea Way	Peter Harlan
8552	Ballet Music from Faust, Part II	Edison Military Band
8525	Any Rags	Baritone Collins
8532	Laughing Water	Edison Concert Band
8533	Vocal Chorus (Band accom.)	Peerless Quartette
8538	Coronation March	Edison Military Band
8557	Scenes in a Country Blacksmith Shop	Male sketch Harlan and Stanley
8503	North and South Medley	Fife and Drum Corps
8523	Peaceful Henry March	Edison Band
8547	Don't Forget to Write a Letter Papa	Harlan and Stanley
8552	Melody of Love	Edison Symphony Orchestra
8569	Two Sweeties Polka	Cornet Duet Hand and Seltzer
8574	Dakota Medley	Edison Concert Band
8582	Last Rose of Summer	Cornet Kryl
8585	An Evening Call in Zayville	Male sketch Harlan and Stanley
8587	New Colonial March	Edison Military Band
8586	Polka	Edison Symphony Orchestra
8601	Far Away	Soprano and Tenor Miss Chapell and Mr. Strickfadt
8606	A Serenade	Tenor George Seymour Lenox
8607	Coming Thro' Georgia	Harlan and Stanley
8608	Gay Waltz	Cornet Kryl
8610	Corrotrio's Called Band.	Baritone Collins
8618	Merry Birds.	Steele Gamuch
8619	Beautiful Dreams	Steele Gamuch
8628	Harlem Rag-time Auto Ride	Spencer
8630	Bridal Rose Overture	Edison Symphony Orchestra
8622	Girlish Dreams	Hale Stanley
8623	Daughter of Love Waltz	Edison Military Band
8624	The Gondolier	Edison Military Band
8625	Sweet Rose	Baritone Collins
8631	Alabama Minstrels	Minstrels
8632	Uncle Sammy March	Edison Military Band
8634	In the Lives of Famous Men	Steele Gamuch
8626	Tenement	Hayden Hayes
8620	Beautiful Birds Sing On	Harlan and Belmont
8640	Navajo	Jere MacDonough

EDISON RECORD TALENT

ARTHUR COLLINS
BARITONE

A PHONOGRAPH ANGEL

Written for THE PHONOGRAM by William Kline, Albany, N. Y.

It was a pathetic scene in the little parlor bedroom of the Livingstones' flat, in the capital city of New York state. Old Hiram Livingstone was lying on the bed, dying, his thin and worn hand clasped in that of his loving wife, Mary. The old couple were visiting their son, Charles, having left their home in North Dakota a month before. Failing ill, during his visit, the old man

EDISON RECORD TALENT

BYRON G. HARLAN
TENOR

grew steadily worse and felt that his days on earth were numbered.

"Mary, dear," feebly murmured the old man, gazing affectionately into the tear-bedimmed eyes of his wife, "I am going; the end is near. Hark! I hear the angels' voices."

In the death-like stillness the words of the beautiful hymn "Refuge" could be plainly heard, like a voice from the other world. A smile spread over the wan features of old man Livingstone. "Isn't it heavenly, Mary," he gasped, and his soul passed from earth, as the voices to his singer ceased.

"Charles," said the widow, later, to her son, "I did not know there was a church nearby."

"The music did not come from a church, mother. That was our neighbor's Edison Phonograph singing the hymn, 'Refuge'."

"I will always owe a debt of gratitude to the Phonograph, then," declared the old lady, "for it made happy the last moments of poor John's life, thousands of miles away from his own home. It was so beautiful he thought he was listening to the voices of angels welcoming him to heaven."

MECHANICAL SUGGESTIONS.

Extract from Direction Sheet for Operating Phonographs.

Sometimes the machine may repeat or tremble. This may be caused by the Record being loose on the cylinder, in which case a light push at the end of the Record will fasten it. Or the Reproducer weight may be caught; in this case raise lift lever and drop it again gently. This also happens when the machine is set on a table or other surface not perfectly level, which allows the Reproducer weight to lean toward the lower side. It is therefore important that the machine should set on a level surface.

If the machine should not run freely, apply a drop of oil to centers of cylinder shaft and feed screw bearings. Rock rod and straight edge should also be cleaned and oiled; also look at belt, as it may have run on the flange of the pulley, which would retard the motion. After a time the belt may become too long, so that the reach of the lifter cannot keep it at the proper tension, then a new belt is required.

If gears become noisy, put a few drops of oil on the teeth. Above all, keep the machine clean, as the mechanism will not work properly unless free from grit. Always keep cabinet top on the machine when not in operation, to prevent dust from accumulating on working parts.

NO ADVERTISING

No advertising of any description will be accepted for THE PHONOGRAM.

The edition of this issue of THE PHONOGRAM is 85,000 copies.

THE BETRAYAL OF CUSSIN' JIM

The May issue of The Jest Book, of Chicago, contained an interesting short story in which a Phonograph played an important part. It was entitled "The Betrayal of Cussin' Jim." Because of his swearing propensities James Campbell was known to everyone as "Cussin' Jim." He was a widower with a family of grown children and he was about to marry the Widow Saunders, who also had grown children. The families of both were opposed to the marriage. The widow had been told that Jim was a most profane man, but she declared "she'd have his own voice 'fore she'd believe it." The children had exhausted all means of preventing the marriage and had become about reconciled to its taking place, when a young son of the widow unfolded a scheme which he thought would do the trick. He told his plans to the Campbell children and they agreed to co-operate with him.

Young Saunders thereupon bought a Phonograph and one night brought it over to the Campbell house. After he had played several musical selections, to the great delight of "Cussin' Jim," one of the latter's children announced that the calves had gotten out and were making for the back pasture. This interested the old man at once and he began to search for his boots, which he had taken off for the evening. While the old man was looking for his foot-gear young Campbell was busy with the Phonograph, and had made it all ready for taking a record of the old man's voice.

"'Jim, Charley, what in thunder hav you done with them boots?' he stormed as he paced up and down the room, searching in every conceivable place for the missing articles.

"Jim and Charlsea, who were' anxious to avoid the completion of complicity, joined eagerly in the search, and in an over-zealous moment the programme was carried just a little further than was intended by Jim setting his heavy cowhide boot on his august sire's toe.

"For a moment there was silence. Then the old man subsided into a chair and began to exercise a vocabulary so wonderful and terrific in its profanity, that it caused a smile of joy to illuminate the countenance of Pete, who was carefully regulating the speed of the whirring little machine.

"He seemed awed upon the advent as the author of his woes: yawed over the male calls with a few blood-curdling adjectives; vituperated Frankie as a thing who didn't know enough to pound sand in a rat-hole; pawed down the list methodically, and finally wound up with a stirring eulogy upon Jim and Clarissa as a couple of blanked chuckleheads who needed a whole forty-acre field to turn round in."

The old man had gotten ready to go out when his son appeared with the announcement that the calves had been captured and safely housed. The object of the children had been accomplished, however, and the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in listening to other Phonograph selections.

A taffy pull and Phonograph concert with young Bentley operating the Phonograph was announced to take place at a neighbor's house a few nights later. Occupying seats close to the front were Mr. Campbell and the Widow Saunders. Several musical selections were played on the Phonograph and then a record which had no name on it was placed in the machine.

"The audience waited in silence for the announcement, but none came. Only the steady whirr of the machine. Then, at last, when everybody had begun to think that there was something wrong with the machinery, it demanded in stentorian tones:

"'Jim, Charley, what in thunder are you done with them heifers?'

"The audience was too surprised to laugh. One corpulent old lady, who was resting her ponderous weight upon a settee, seemed to think the remark was addressed to her personally by the furtive manner in which she felt under the article of furniture she was seated upon.

"Then the machine began to cuss. One mirthfully inclined farmer started to laugh, but was immediately squelched by his wife, and thereafter he bore the guilty, cowed look of one who had laughed in church. Mrs. Bentley, the hostess, arose to remonstrate against such language, but suddenly changed her mind and sat down without a word.

"Old Jim met his fate like a man and a soldier. The damned fer boots brought a few drops of perspiration to his brow, succeeded by a look of sullen anger; but when the machine really warmed to its work, he leaned forward with his hands on his knees and regarded it with admiration not unmixed with awe at the thorough manner in which every intonation of his voice had been registered.

"'Well, I'll be dinged,' he uttered as the record came to a close, a remark which brought forth a roar of laughter.

"'You'll be worse than dinged, Jim Campbell,' said the Irish Widow Saunders, her whole frame shaking with rage and mortification as she pointed an accusing finger at the unoffending machine. 'You'll be damned if ivver I'll be imposed on as innocent widder, but I shall thank the Lord this night for snatchin' me out o' the clutches of such as you,' she added devoutly.

"'Madam,' said Cassels' Jim, and he made the widow a courtly bow, 'the Lord didn't have nothin' to do with this business. It all originated in the head of that snub-nosed son o' your'n. Good-night, one and all.'"

The old man forgave the children for the part they had taken in the plot against him and the next day announced that he was going to Indiana for a visit.

A TRIBUTE

"I have had one of your Standard Phonographs in my home only a short time, in which it has given me much pleasure," wrote a resident of St. Paul, Minn., recently.

"I believe that you have done more than most of our great men to-day in helping to make people happy, and affording wholesome pleasure and amusement in homes in every part of the universe.

"By spending a few dollars one can bring the music of a grand opera to the bedside of an invalid. The blind may be entertained as never before.

"People of all nations speaking different languages find that some pleasure in listening to its music. The old and the young alike find pleasure in listening to your Phonograph, for it will play all kinds of sweet music to suit all kinds of people. The invalid seems to gain strength while listening to its cheerful notes. The babe is hushed to sleep by its sweet lullabies; while its mother's heart seizes the heart of every patriotic youth who hears it.

"People tired with the labors of the day may rest and become refreshed while listening to the human voice of a brass band or the melodious strains of an orchestra, or, perhaps, a vocal solo rendered by some famous artist. The sad are made glad; the sorrowful, happy; and the weary, rested. As 'music hath charms to soothe the savage breast,' so also it has a subtle power to rest our tired nerves."

EDISON HOME PHONOGRAPH

PRICE, $30.00

Plays the Standard Size Record

An ideal PHONOGRAPH for the home. Equipped with a Model C Reproducer, new Edison Recorder, 14-inch horn, sapphire shaving-knife, oak body box, oak cover, winding crank, camel's hair chip brush.

MADE of steel, iron and brass throughout. Finished in black enamel and gilt. Mandrel is nickel-plated and polished. Operated by a powerful spring motor. It has the new style cabinet and carrying cover of antique oak with handsome edge mouldings, all highly polished. Will make Records, will reproduce and will shave blank Records. Fitted with a speaker clamp screw for easy interchange of speakers.

OTHER POPULAR STYLES

Edison Gem - - -	$10
Edison Standard - - -	$20
Edison Triumph - - -	$50

Others $60 to $100

Primary Printed Series - Serial Publications
Edison Phonograph Monthly

Starting with the issue of March 1903, the Edison Phonograph Monthly was a publication of the National Phonograph Co. The monthly issues provided jobbers and dealers with technical, promotional, and other information, including articles on products, matters of corporate policy, and the progress of litigation, as well as lists of new records, available printed matter, current jobbers, and suspended dealers. Each issue printed numerous communications from jobbers and dealers who related their experiences or posed questions regarding the sale of Edison phonographs and records. The publication was continued by Thomas A. Edison, Inc., in February 1911, and it was renamed the Edison Amberola Monthly in 1917.

The archives of the Edison National Historic Site contains a complete run of the Edison Phonograph Monthly. All issues for the period March 1903-December 1910 (volumes 1-8) have been selected. Prior to 1908, the monthly issues are numbered from 1 (March) through 12 (February). Beginning in 1908, the January issue is the first numbered issue. Each issue is individually paginated and contains approximately twenty pages. The volume and issue numbers appear on page one. Each issue contains a table of contents; the contents pages are missing from the 1908 volume. A 20-page index, prepared by the editors, has been filmed first.

The majority of terms in the index are the names of jobbers and dealers. Also included are recording artists and company employees who are the subject of feature articles, as well as Edison products and other topics that are noted in particular detail. Among the items not indexed are lists of jobbers and dealers, lists of new record releases, and the names of recording artists associated with those releases. A useful source for information about early cylinder records and recording artists is Allen Koenigsberg, Edison Cylinder Records, 1889-1912, 2nd ed. (Brooklyn, N.Y.: APM Press, 1987).

Index entries appear in the following format:

Index term: Volume [Issue]: Page (Month Year).

INDEX

A

Ackerman & Co: 1[6]:8 (Aug 1903), 1[10]:6 (Dec 1903), 2[1]:12 (Mar 1904), 5[5]:15 (Jul 1907)
Adams, I C: 5[10]:14 (Dec 1907)
Adams, James G: 6[1]:12 (Jan 1908)
Agency Co: 7[3]:19 (Mar 1909)
Agreement, Dealers': 1[5]:7 (Jul 1903), 1[6]:3 (Aug 1903), 1[8]:5 (Oct 1903), 4[11]:7 (Feb 1907), 5[8]:1 (Oct 1907), 5[8]:6 (Oct 1907), 5[10]:6 (Dec 1907), 6[2]:12 (Feb 1908), 6[3]:9 (Mar 1908), 7[1]:15 (Jan 1909), 7[5]:5 (May 1909), 8[7]:6 (Jul 1910)
Agreement, Dealers' and Jobbers': 2[6]:2 (Aug 1904), 4[4]:4 (Jun 1906), 4[4]:12 (Jun 1906), 5[2]:6 (Apr 1907)
Agreement, Jobbers': 1[3]:1 (May 1903), 1[4]:1 (Jun 1903)
Aiken, Edward L: 6[3]:11 (Mar 1908)
Ainsworth Music Co: 3[1]:13 (Mar 1905)
Albani (Madame): 1[3]:10 (May 1903)
Albert, M Francois: 1[8]:10 (Oct 1903), 4[8]:5 (Oct 1906)
Alden Bidinger & Co: 6[2]:17 (Feb 1908)
Allen's Emporium: 8[9]:9 (Sep 1910)
Amberol Attachment: 6[10]:7 (Oct 1908), 6[11]:5 (Nov 1908), 7[11]:11 (Nov 1909), 7[11]:2 (Dec 1909), 8[1]:4 (Jan 1910), 8[3]:2 (Mar 1910), 8[5]:1 (May 1910), 8[6]:2 (Jun 1910), 8[11]:12 (Dec 1910)
Amberol Grand Opera Records: 7[7]:7 (Jul 1909), 7[11]:9 (Dec 1909)
Amberol Records: 6[10]:7 (Oct 1908), 6[11]:5 (Nov 1908), 6[11]:2 (Dec 1908), 7[2]:2 (Feb 1909), 7[3]:1 (Mar 1909), 7[5]:4 (May 1909), 7[9]:12 (Sep 1909)
Amberola: 7[10]:2 (Oct 1909), 7[11]:2 (Nov 1909), 8[1]:4 (Jan 1910), 8[3]:7 (Mar 1910), 8[4]:3 (Apr 1910), 8[4]:5 (Apr 1910), 8[5]:2 (May 1910), 8[6]:4 (Jun 1910), 8[9]:2 (Sep 1910), 8[11]:6 (Dec 1910)
American Electro-Chemical Society: 5[9]:21 (Nov 1907)
American Federation of Musicians: 2[2]:6 (Apr 1904)
American Phonograph Co: 2[2]:5 (Apr 1904), 2[10]:10 (Dec 1904), 3[2]:6 (Apr 1905), 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905), 3[10]:10 (Dec 1905), 5[2]:15 (Apr 1907), 5[10]:15 (Dec 1907)
Andem, James L: 5[9]:15 (Nov 1907)
Anderson, George L: 8[4]:8 (Apr 1910)
Andrews, W D: 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906), 4[7]:4 (Sep 1906), 5[7]:9 (Sep 1907), 7[11]:29 (Dec 1909)
Araki, Waichi: 1[1]:5 (Mar 1903)
Argentine Records: 7[7]:14 (Jul 1909)
Aschbach, G C: 2[8]:7 (Oct 1904), 4[6]:19 (Aug 1906), 4[10]:7 (Dec 1906)
Atkin, L H: 7[6]:21 (Jun 1909)
Atwood, F M: 3[3]:7 (May 1905), 6[5]:12 (May 1908)
Austin Music Co: 6[9]:2 (Feb 1908), 6[7]:2 (Sep 1908)
Austin, George P: 7[9]:13 (Sep 1909)
Aylsworth, Jonas W: 5[4]:5 (Jun 1907)

B

Babson Bros: 4[4]:11 (Jun 1906), 5[3]:12 (May 1907), 5[6]:15 (Aug 1907), 7[11]:16 (Dec 1909), 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Babson, Gustavus: 4[1]:12 (Mar 1906)
Bachelder, George H: 4[2]:13 (Apr 1906)
Bacigalupi (Peter) & Sons: 7[1]:20 (Jan 1909), 7[2]:8 (Feb 1909), 8[3]:29 (Mar 1910), 8[5]:20 (May 1910)
Bacigalupi, Peter: 2[1]:7 (Mar 1904), 2[9]:12 (Nov 1904), 2[11]:13 (Jan 1905), 4[3]:7 (May 1906), 4[4]:10 (Jun 1906), 4[5]:10 (Jul 1906), 4[10]:11 (Dec 1906), 7[11]:9 (Nov 1909)
Bailey, W E: 7[3]:18 (Mar 1909)
Ball-Fintze Co: 3[6]:4 (Aug 1905), 3[11]:13 (Jan 1906), 4[9]:5 (Nov 1906), 4[11]:7 (Jan 1907)
Ballard Music House: 8[8]:9 (Aug 1910)

Banner, William: 7[11]:8 (Nov 1909)
Banta, Frank P: 1[11]:4 (Jan 1904)
Barden, Will: 3[6]:8 (Aug 1905)
Barklow, B R: 4[8]:3 (Oct 1906)
Barney (James H.) Jr & Co: 8[2]:9 (Feb 1910), 8[8]:11 (Aug 1910)
Barney, F M: 2[2]:4 (Apr 1904), 8[6]:9 (Jun 1910)
Bartlett, C W: 3[11]:12 (Jan 1906)
Batchelor, Charles: 5[4]:17 (Jun 1907)
Batchelor, E A: 1[5]:10 (Jul 1903)
Bates, General: 2[1]:5 (Mar 1904)
Bauland Co: 1[2]:8 (Apr 1903)
Bawden, Charles: 6[4]:13 (Apr 1908)
Becht, Fred, Jr: 6[11]:20 (Nov 1908)
Beckwith, O R: 7[3]:20 (Mar 1909)
Bell, Digby: 7[6]:17 (Jun 1909)
Bellamy, Edward: 3[1]:11 (Mar 1905)
Bent (G.R.) & Sons: 2[11]:12 (Jan 1905)
Bentel (Theo. F.) Co: 1[8]:5 (Oct 1903), 3[6]:13 (Aug 1905), 4[3]:12 (May 1906), 5[2]:8 (Apr 1907)
Bergen Empire Athletic Goods Co: 1[9]:13 (Nov 1903)
Bergen, C B: 7[3]:17 (Mar 1909)
Berggren, Ernest J: 8[7]:9 (Jul 1910)
Bergmann, Sigmund: 5[4]:4 (Jun 1907)
Bernath, Adolph: 4[11]:9 (Feb 1907)
Bernhardt, Sarah: 8[2]:3 (Feb 1910), 8[3]:6 (Mar 1910), 8[8]:5 (Aug 1910), 8[11]:7 (Nov 1910)
Bernier, J E: 1[3]:8 (May 1903)
Bertholf, Roy E: 7[4]:8 (Apr 1909)
Bettini Phonograph Laboratory: 1[2]:8 (Apr 1903)
Bicycle: 2[3]:3 (May 1904)
Billboard Advertising: 5[3]:15 (May 1907), 5[5]:11 (Jul 1907), 5[6]:14 (Aug 1907), 7[9]:8 (Sep 1909), 8[7]:10 (Jul 1910), 8[11]:11 (Nov 1910)
Bishop, F N: 7[11]:12 (Dec 1909)
Blackman Talking Machine Co: 1[7]:12 (Sep 1903), 3[3]:7 (May 1905)
Blackman, J Newcomb: 1[4]:13 (Jun 1903), 4[11]:16 (Feb 1907), 7[6]:13 (Jun 1909)
Blair, James: 8[6]:8 (Jun 1910)
Blake, P W: 6[3]:13 (Mar 1908)
Blankenbaker Phonograph Concert Co: 1[5]:11 (Jul 1903)
Bohemian Records: 8[8]:5 (Aug 1910), 8[11]:13 (Dec 1910)
Bollinger (R.C.) Music House: 6[5]:9 (May 1908), 6[6]:16 (Jun 1908)
Bomberger, Franklin E: 6[5]:12 (May 1908)
Bori, Lucrezia: 8[9]:10 (Sep 1910)
Boston Cycle & Sundry Co: 1[8]:12 (Oct 1903), 1[10]:7 (Dec 1903), 2[11]:7 (Feb 1905), 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906), 5[8]:19 (Oct 1907), 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Bozeman Pharmacy: 8[4]:9 (Apr 1910)
Brandon, A E: 5[3]:5 (May 1907)
Brenner, John F: 8[4]:6 (Apr 1910)
British Records: 1[9]:4 (Nov 1903), 2[5]:11 (Jul 1904)
Brobeil, C F: 8[2]:8 (Feb 1910)
Bromley, A H: 7[9]:13 (Sep 1909)
Bromley, Mrs N A H: 7[8]:13 (Aug 1909), 8[4]:9 (Apr 1910)
Bronx Air Light Co: 2[9]:6 (Nov 1904), 8[4]:9 (Apr 1910)
Brooks, Ruby: 8[3]:7 (Mar 1910)
Broussard, W L: 2[3]:10 (May 1904)
Brown & Durham: 4[4]:11 (Jun 1906), 4[11]:5 (Feb 1907)
Brown, C J: 7[3]:13 (Mar 1909)
Brown, S M: 2[7]:11 (Sep 1904)
Browning, Robert: 5[8]:22 (Oct 1907)
Broyles, L W: 7[3]:10 (Mar 1909)
Bruce & Brown Co: 7[3]:9 (Mar 1909)
Bryan, William Jennings: 6[7]:9 (Jul 1908), 6[7]:16 (Jul 1908), 6[11]:7 (Dec 1908)

Bryant, R M: 7[6]:21 (Jun 1909)
Buckeye Music Co: 2[11]:11 (Feb 1905)
Buckingham, Charles L: 5[10]:7 (Dec 1907), 7[7]:10 (Jul 1909)
Buehn (Louis) & Bro: 5[8]:19 (Oct 1907), 6[6]:8 (Jun 1908)
Bullock, Arthur E: 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Burkholder, J H: 1[5]:10 (Jul 1903)
Burt, Fred: 4[2]:10 (Apr 1906), 5[5]:14 (Jul 1907), 7[8]:8 (Aug 1909)
Buss, George E: 4[11]:6 (Feb 1907), 7[1]:10 (Jan 1909)
Butin, Roy H: 7[11]:8 (Nov 1909)

C
Cabañas, Raphael: 3[9]:3 (Nov 1905), 5[10]:9 (Dec 1907), 6[4]:11 (Apr 1908)
Campbell & King: 4[11]:9 (Jan 1907)
Canary, S L: 7[2]:3 (Feb 1909)
Carle, Richard: 5[8]:14 (Oct 1907)
Carnegie, Mrs Andrew: 1[3]:10 (May 1903)
Cartwright, Earl: 7[8]:9 (Aug 1909)
Central States Talking Machine Jobbers Assn: 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906), 4[5]:5 (Jul 1906)
Chandler, A B: 3[3]:10 (May 1905)
Chandler, A V: 5[7]:14 (Sep 1907)
Chandler, Martin G: 2[2]:10 (Apr 1904)
Chapple, Joe Mitchell: 1[3]:5 (May 1903)
Chinese Records: 1[1]:6 (Mar 1903), 1[5]:12 (Jul 1903), 1[10]:12 (Dec 1903), 8[3]:15 (Mar 1910), 8[9]:4 (Sep 1910)
Chipot, Louis A: 2[4]:12 (Jun 1904)
Christie, Nimmo: 3[1]:11 (Mar 1905)
Cilla, Luigi: 8[4]:12 (Apr 1910)
Clarke, Herbert L: 7[11]:8 (Nov 1909)
Clavel, A C: 5[7]:13 (Sep 1907)
Clayton Music Co: 6[5]:9 (May 1908)
Clokey, C W: 5[8]:12 (Oct 1907)
Clough, Arthur C: 7[11]:8 (Nov 1909)
Cochran (G.W.) Co: 1[6]:7 (Aug 1903)
Cockburn, H D: 7[9]:7 (Sep 1909)
Coe, C G: 2[1]:12 (Mar 1904)
Cohen & Hughes: 8[4]:24 (Apr 1910)
Coin Slot Phonographs: 2[6]:10 (Aug 1904), 3[1]:4 (Mar 1905), 3[8]:10 (Oct 1905), 4[4]:4 (Jun 1906)
Collingwood, F J: 1[2]:5 (Apr 1903), 2[4]:10 (Jun 1904)
Collins, Arthur: 3[4]:13 (Jun 1905), 3[5]:10 (Jul 1905)
Columbia Phonograph Co: 2[4]:5 (Jun 1904)
Commercial Phonograph: 1[2]:6 (Apr 1903), 1[3]:7 (May 1903), 4[11]:12 (Jan 1907), 5[3]:7 (May 1907)
Commercial System: 3[6]:3 (Aug 1905), 4[9]:18 (Nov 1906), 4[11]:6 (Feb 1907), 5[1]:6 (Mar 1907)
Compania Edison Hispano-Americana: 5[3]:3 (May 1907), 6[5]:14 (May 1908)
Compton, N R: 5[4]:15 (Jun 1907)
Concert Records: 1[2]:7 (Apr 1903), 2[8]:6 (Oct 1904), 4[2]:5 (Apr 1906), 6[11]:11 (Nov 1908)
Concerts: 4[9]:3 (Nov 1906), 4[10]:10 (Dec 1906), 6[1]:15 (Jan 1908), 6[3]:15 (Mar 1908), 6[8]:8 (Aug 1908), 6[10]:17 (Oct 1908), 6[11]:9 (Dec 1908), 7[1]:6 (Jan 1909), 8[3]:16 (Mar 1910), 8[8]:11 (Aug 1910), 8[10]:10 (Oct 1910)
Concrete: 5[5]:3 (Jul 1907)
Conroy Piano Co: 3[5]:7 (Jul 1905), 3[7]:4 (Sep 1905), 5[8]:19 (Oct 1907), 7[5]:7 (May 1909)
Conroy, P E: 5[4]:4 (Jun 1907)
Constantino, Florencio: 4[10]:7 (Dec 1906), 5[3]:11 (May 1907)
Conway, J A: 1[8]:6 (Oct 1903)
Cook (A.S.) Co: 7[3]:18 (Mar 1909)
Cook Bros: 5[9]:19 (Nov 1907)

Cook, C H: 1[4]:13 (Jun 1903)
Copyright: 4[11]:3 (Jan 1907), 6[3]:18 (Mar 1908), 6[5]:12 (May 1908), 7[7]:10 (Jul 1909)
Corrington, B: 4[7]:11 (Sep 1906)
Cowles & English: 7[7]:16 (Jul 1909)
Cox, (Miss) Ray: 7[7]:11 (Jul 1909)
Crabb, C C: 4[2]:11 (Apr 1906)
Craig Jay Co: 3[11]:7 (Jan 1906)
Cronkhite, W H A: 4[1]:4 (Mar 1906)
Crosby (S.L.) Co: 1[8]:6 (Oct 1903), 2[1]:7 (Mar 1904), 2[10]:13 (Dec 1904), 4[8]:10 (Oct 1906), 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Crosby, Fanny J: 8[11]:7 (Dec 1910)
Cuban Records: 4[2]:10 (Apr 1906), 5[5]:5 (Jul 1907), 5[9]:8 (Nov 1907)
Cuenca, Amalio: 7[5]:7 (May 1909)
Cummings Shepherd & Co: 8[3]:29 (Mar 1910), 8[4]:24 (Apr 1910)
Curry, A H: 6[6]:5 (Jun 1908)
Curtice (Ross P.) Co: 5[2]:8 (Apr 1907), 6[5]:11 (May 1908), 6[6]:8 (Jun 1908)

D

D'Entremont, H L: 6[4]:13 (Apr 1908)
Daniel, L D: 7[7]:16 (Jul 1909)
Daniels, C I: 7[11]:21 (Nov 1909)
Danish Records: 5[10]:8 (Dec 1907)
Daspit Hardware Co Ltd: 7[9]:13 (Sep 1909)
Daspit's (O.B.) Sons: 2[4]:10 (Jun 1904)
Davega, I, Jr: 1[11]:13 (Jan 1904), 6[3]:20 (Mar 1908), 8[5]:20 (May 1910)
Davega, Solomon B: 1[4]:4 (Jun 1903), 1[9]:11 (Nov 1903), 5[7]:9 (Sep 1907)
Davidson, E E: 5[4]:5 (Jun 1907)
Davidson, J H M: 2[2]:10 (Apr 1904)
De Angelis, John: 8[3]:21 (Mar 1910)
De Foreest (W.C.) & Son: 3[4]:5 (Jun 1905), 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906)
Dean (John M.) Co: 2[3]:5 (May 1904), 6[3]:20 (Mar 1908), 7[2]:8 (Feb 1909)
Dean, John M: 2[11]:13 (Jan 1905)
Demorest Sewing Machine Co: 1[3]:4 (May 1903)
Dennison, Edgar W: 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905)
Denver Dry Goods Co: 6[5]:16 (May 1908)
Diaz, Porfirio: 2[8]:11 (Oct 1904), 7[9]:5 (Sep 1909)
Dillon, E L: 2[3]:10 (May 1904)
Dillon, George B: 4[9]:5 (Nov 1906)
Dixie Music Co: 5[10]:14 (Dec 1907)
Dodge, C J: 1[6]:7 (Aug 1903)
Doersam, J: 7[3]:17 (Mar 1909)
Dolbeer, Frank K: 1[5]:11 (Jul 1903), 5[1]:5 (Mar 1907), 5[5]:4 (Jul 1907), 5[5]:14 (Jul 1907), 5[8]:10 (Oct 1907), 6[2]:7 (Feb 1908), 6[5]:9 (May 1908), 6[6]:13 (Jun 1908), 6[11]:6 (Nov 1908), 7[1]:6 (Jan 1909), 7[3]:9 (Mar 1909), 7[6]:21 (Jun 1909), 7[11]:6 (Nov 1909), 7[11]:11 (Dec 1909)
Dorland's Music House: 8[3]:9 (Mar 1910)
Douglas & Co: 1[6]:4 (Aug 1903), 2[9]:5 (Nov 1904)
Douglas Phonograph Co: 2[11]:10 (Feb 1905), 3[7]:4 (Sep 1905), 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906), 5[5]:4 (Jul 1907), 6[11]:20 (Dec 1908)
Doyle, W C: 6[3]:17 (Mar 1908)
Dressler, Marie: 8[1]:5 (Jan 1910), 8[7]:1 (Jul 1910)
Droop (E.F.) & Sons: 3[5]:7 (Jul 1905), 4[8]:4 (Oct 1906), 4[8]:5 (Oct 1906), 7[11]:29 (Dec 1909), 8[4]:24 (Apr 1910)
Dulitz, E: 4[8]:12 (Oct 1906)
Duncan, Wallace: 4[7]:5 (Sep 1906)
Durand, Nelson C: 1[6]:10 (Aug 1903), 3[6]:3 (Aug 1905)
Durham, L M: 8[11]:8 (Nov 1910)
Dyer, Frank L: 6[9]:2 (Sep 1908), 7[7]:10 (Jul 1909), 7[8]:5 (Aug 1909), 7[9]:3 (Sep 1909), 7[10]:4 (Oct 1909), 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Dyer, W H: 3[2]:12 (Apr 1905)

E
Early Music House: 4[8]:4 (Oct 1906)
Eastern States Talking Machine Dealers Assn: 8[3]:11 (Mar 1910), 8[4]:7 (Apr 1910), 8[5]:16 (May 1910)
Eastern Talking Machine Co: 1[7]:12 (Sep 1903), 3[3]:7 (May 1905), 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905), 3[9]:13 (Nov 1905), 7[5]:15 (May 1909), 8[4]:16 (Apr 1910), 8[5]:9 (May 1910)
Eastern Talking Machine Jobbers Assn: 4[5]:5 (Jul 1906), 5[7]:13 (Sep 1907)
Eastman Kodak Co: 2[3]:10 (May 1904)
Eastman, I F: 3[4]:13 (Jun 1905)
Eclipse Musical Co: 3[4]:5 (Jun 1905), 5[8]:19 (Oct 1907)
Edison Gesellschaft: 2[9]:10 (Nov 1904), 3[1]:7 (Mar 1905)
Edison Phonograph Works: 8[3]:1 (Mar 1910)
Edison Polyform Co: 5[7]:12 (Sep 1907)
Edison v. American Mutoscope & Biograph Co: 5[2]:3 (Apr 1907)
Edison, Thomas Alva: 1[1]:3 (Mar 1903), 1[3]:5 (May 1903), 2[1]:5 (Mar 1904), 3[3]:10 (May 1905), 3[3]:11 (May 1905), 3[6]:11 (Aug 1905), 3[7]:9 (Sep 1905), 4[5]:12 (Jul 1906), 4[9]:12 (Nov 1906), 4[11]:14 (Feb 1907), 5[1]:3 (Mar 1907), 5[10]:16 (Dec 1907), 6[3]:7 (Mar 1908), 6[4]:7 (Apr 1908), 6[11]:11 (Nov 1908), 7[5]:5 (May 1909), 7[10]:7 (Oct 1909), 8[9]:9 (Sep 1910)
Edison-Bell Consolidated Phonograph Co Ltd: 6[2]:6 (Feb 1908)
Eiler's Music House: 7[8]:13 (Aug 1909)
Einselen, G A, Jr: 8[11]:8 (Nov 1910)
Electric Phonograph: 5[5]:7 (Jul 1907), 5[10]:12 (Dec 1907)
Ellett, George J: 7[4]:9 (Apr 1909)
Emporium of Music: 8[7]:8 (Jul 1910)
Erickson, E C: 5[10]:15 (Dec 1907)
Ethnography: 1[10]:4 (Dec 1903), 4[9]:9 (Nov 1906)
Ethology: 3[11]:5 (Jan 1906), 6[6]:11 (Jun 1908)
Eureka Phonograph Co: 7[11]:20 (Nov 1909)
Evander Drug Co: 8[3]:12 (Mar 1910)
Excelsior Phonograph Co: 7[1]:20 (Jan 1909)
Exhibition. Alaska Yukon Pacific (1909): 7[11]:3 (Nov 1909), 8[1]:3 (Jan 1910)
Exhibition. Boston Mechanics (1910): 8[10]:6 (Oct 1910), 8[11]:11 (Nov 1910), 8[11]:5 (Dec 1910)
Exhibition. Christchurch (New Zealand) (1907): 5[3]:16 (May 1907)
Exhibition. Grand Rapids Furniture (1907): 5[6]:13 (Aug 1907)
Exhibition. Jamestown Ter-Centennial (1907): 5[3]:5 (May 1907), 5[4]:11 (Jun 1907)
Exhibition. Nottingham (U.K.) Midlands (1904): 2[8]:12 (Oct 1904)
Exhibition. Portland (Ore.) Lewis & Clark (1905): 3[2]:5 (Apr 1905)
Exhibition. Richmond Piano (1910): 8[5]:7 (May 1910), 8[6]:5 (Jun 1910)
Exhibition. St Louis (1904): 1[11]:4 (Feb 1904), 2[3]:1 (May 1904), 2[3]:6 (May 1904), 2[4]:11 (Jun 1904), 2[5]:13 (Jul 1904), 2[6]:12 (Aug 1904), 2[11]:6 (Jan 1905), 3[2]:12 (Apr 1905)
Exhibitions: 1[8]:5 (Oct 1903), 2[6]:11 (Aug 1904), 8[10]:10 (Oct 1910)

F
Factory, European: 1[6]:1 (Aug 1903), 2[4]:7 (Jun 1904), 7[1]:4 (Jan 1909)
Factory, Expansion of: 1[5]:5 (Jul 1903), 1[7]:3 (Sep 1903), 2[2]:7 (Apr 1904), 4[2]:5 (Apr 1906), 4[6]:19 (Aug 1906), 4[7]:3 (Sep 1906), 4[8]:11 (Oct 1906), 4[9]:3 (Nov 1906), 4[10]:6 (Dec 1906), 5[2]:8 (Apr 1907), 5[4]:5 (Jun 1907), 5[9]:7 (Nov 1907), 6[6]:13 (Jun 1908), 6[7]:17 (Jul 1908)
Factory, London: 5[7]:15 (Sep 1907), 5[10]:21 (Dec 1907)
Factory, Mexican: 2[4]:4 (Jun 1904)
Factory, Paris: 3[11]:7 (Feb 1906)
Fair: 1[5]:4 (Jul 1903)
Farrell & Leroux: 2[1]:13 (Mar 1904)
Farrell & Wuller: 4[2]:12 (Apr 1906)
Ferriss, A F: 3[10]:12 (Dec 1905)
Field, J L: 5[4]:17 (Jun 1907)

Fields, Lew: 3[2]:6 (Apr 1905)
Finch & Hahn: 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905)
Finney, John E: 1[11]:5 (Feb 1904)
Fireside Phonograph: 7[6]:10 (Jun 1909), 7[7]:12 (Jul 1909)
Flint & Brickett Co: 3[3]:7 (May 1905), 6[2]:17 (Feb 1908), 7[11]:29 (Dec 1909)
Florence, Marie: 8[4]:16 (Apr 1910)
Fort Bragg Music House: 8[10]:8 (Oct 1910)
Fort Morgan Drug Co: 8[6]:9 (Jun 1910)
Foster & Foster: 2[1]:12 (Mar 1904), 3[8]:11 (Oct 1905)
Foster, J A: 1[7]:10 (Sep 1903)
Fredericksen, C: 8[2]:8 (Feb 1910)
Fredricks, Charles: 8[4]:6 (Apr 1910)
Freeman, C H: 1[5]:13 (Jul 1903)
Freight: 3[1]:7 (Mar 1905), 3[9]:7 (Nov 1905), 3[11]:3 (Jan 1906), 3[11]:10 (Jan 1906), 3[11]:4 (Feb 1906), 6[3]:7 (Mar 1908), 8[2]:20 (Feb 1910)
French Records: 6[1]:15 (Jan 1908), 6[5]:10 (May 1908)
French-Canadian Records: 1[9]:4 (Nov 1903)
Fritchey, F L: 3[4]:6 (Jun 1905), 3[6]:5 (Aug 1905)

G
Gamage (A.W.) Ltd: 2[11]:7 (Feb 1905)
Gardner, C S: 5[10]:7 (Dec 1907)
Gardner, L S: 1[11]:4 (Jan 1904)
Garland City Music Store: 6[6]:14 (Jun 1908)
Garner, R L: 3[11]:5 (Jan 1906)
Garnier, Emile: 5[1]:7 (Mar 1907)
Garret, George H: 5[4]:17 (Jun 1907)
Garvin, James E: 2[8]:4 (Oct 1904)
Geltz's Cash Store: 2[11]:12 (Feb 1905)
Gent & Eagen: 6[11]:20 (Dec 1908)
George, Howard: 2[1]:12 (Mar 1904)
Gerhart & Hassler: 5[3]:14 (May 1907)
German Records: 4[11]:4 (Jan 1907), 5[10]:1 (Dec 1907)
Gerson, Louis J: 6[2]:18 (Feb 1908), 7[5]:7 (May 1909)
Gibson, Will S: 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Gilmore, William E: 1[6]:3 (Aug 1903), 1[9]:10 (Nov 1903), 1[11]:3 (Feb 1904), 2[2]:5 (Apr 1904), 2[5]:6 (Jul 1904), 3[9]:7 (Nov 1905), 5[3]:3 (May 1907), 5[4]:5 (Jun 1907), 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907), 6[5]:9 (May 1908), 6[6]:13 (Jun 1908), 6[7]:11 (Jul 1908), 6[8]:7 (Aug 1908)
Giorgini, Aristodemo: 8[9]:11 (Sep 1910)
Glegg, A S: 6[10]:13 (Oct 1908)
Golden, Billy: 1[1]:6 (Mar 1903)
Goldsmith, A M: 8[8]:8 (Aug 1910)
Goodwin, C E: 7[8]:9 (Aug 1909), 8[5]:11 (May 1910)
Gordon Bros: 3[9]:5 (Nov 1905)
Gordon, M A: 8[4]:16 (Apr 1910), 8[6]:8 (Jun 1910)
Gove, G A: 3[8]:12 (Oct 1905)
Gove, S A: 8[11]:8 (Nov 1910)
Graf, Thomas: 4[6]:18 (Aug 1906), 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907), 5[7]:7 (Sep 1907)
Grand Opera Records: 3[11]:4 (Jan 1906), 3[11]:3 (Feb 1906), 4[1]:4 (Mar 1906), 4[2]:5 (Apr 1906), 4[2]:6 (Apr 1906), 4[5]:5 (Jul 1906), 4[9]:9 (Nov 1906), 4[10]:3 (Dec 1906), 4[11]:7 (Jan 1907), 4[11]:12 (Feb 1907), 5[2]:7 (Apr 1907), 5[4]:10 (Jun 1907), 5[7]:8 (Sep 1907), 6[6]:5 (Jun 1908), 6[7]:17 (Jul 1908), 8[1]:21 (Jan 1910), 8[2]:4 (Feb 1910), 8[3]:18 (Mar 1910)
Grant, R E: 3[11]:13 (Feb 1906)
Graves & Co: 3[10]:11 (Dec 1905), 6[2]:22 (Feb 1908)
Graves Music Co: 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Graves, C W: 6[4]:16 (Apr 1908)
Green, F N: 1[2]:5 (Apr 1903)
Greisch, Nicholas F: 5[10]:17 (Dec 1907), 7[7]:16 (Jul 1909)

Grinnell Bros: 5[4]:4 (Jun 1907), 5[9]:22 (Nov 1907), 6[5]:8 (May 1908)
Grinnell, C A: 6[7]:10 (Jul 1908)
Grist, F E: 1[6]:9 (Aug 1903), 7[3]:16 (Mar 1909)

H
Hagadone, Harry N: 2[1]:12 (Mar 1904)
Hagerty, E: 7[4]:11 (Apr 1909)
Hall (G.W.) & Co: 3[11]:13 (Jan 1906)
Halloway, Henry: 3[3]:9 (May 1905)
Hammitt & Cook: 2[2]:13 (Apr 1904)
Hampton (George D.) Piano Co: 4[11]:19 (Jan 1907)
Hanna, J O: 5[4]:15 (Jun 1907)
Hansen, M A: 8[9]:9 (Sep 1910)
Harding & Miller Music Co: 8[7]:8 (Jul 1910)
Harding (J.C.) Co: 8[9]:9 (Sep 1910)
Harding, E H: 8[5]:8 (May 1910)
Hardy's Music House: 5[3]:18 (May 1907), 5[9]:19 (Nov 1907)
Hardy's Music Store: 8[3]:8 (Mar 1910), 8[5]:8 (May 1910)
Harger & Blish: 5[8]:19 (Oct 1907), 5[9]:1 (Nov 1907), 6[11]:11 (Nov 1908), 7[2]:8 (Feb 1909), 8[4]:24 (Apr 1910), 8[5]:20 (May 1910)
Harlan, Byron G: 2[5]:3 (Jul 1904), 3[4]:13 (Jun 1905)
Harrell, George F: 7[8]:12 (Aug 1909)
Harrington, John: 1[11]:7 (Feb 1904)
Harrison, William: 5[9]:21 (Nov 1907)
Hart, H S: 8[4]:10 (Apr 1910), 8[11]:8 (Dec 1910)
Hartez, J L: 5[6]:9 (Aug 1907)
Hatfield, H D: 8[3]:21 (Mar 1910)
Hay, John: 3[6]:4 (Aug 1905)
Hayes, Howard W: 1[11]:3 (Jan 1904)
Haynes (C.B.) & Co: 4[11]:7 (Jan 1907), 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907), 7[7]:10 (Jul 1909), 8[5]:20 (May 1910)
Haynes, A Scott: 5[9]:22 (Nov 1907)
Haynes, C B: 1[7]:7 (Sep 1903), 4[8]:4 (Oct 1906)
Hebrew Records: 2[11]:6 (Feb 1905), 4[7]:5 (Sep 1906)
Heim, Gustav F: 8[6]:5 (Jun 1910)
Heinemann, Alexander: 8[11]:7 (Dec 1910)
Henkel, C V: 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906)
Henry, W E: 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905)
Henton, H Benne: 8[1]:5 (Jan 1910)
Heppe (C.J.) & Son: 1[8]:5 (Oct 1903), 1[11]:5 (Jan 1904)
Herbert, Victor: 7[6]:2 (Jun 1909), 7[6]:4 (Jun 1909), 7[6]:9 (Jun 1909), 7[7]:4 (Jul 1909), 7[9]:3 (Sep 1909), 7[9]:7 (Sep 1909), 7[11]:7 (Nov 1909)
Hersey, H B: 6[4]:14 (Apr 1908)
Hibbard, Charles L: 3[6]:3 (Aug 1905)
Hindermeyer, Harvey: 7[11]:7 (Dec 1909)
Hines, Henry G: 2[11]:12 (Jan 1905)
Hird, Allan M: 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906)
Hobbs, Alfred K: 2[9]:6 (Nov 1904)
Hobson, William: 1[11]:11 (Feb 1904), 2[4]:9 (Jun 1904), 2[9]:6 (Nov 1904)
Holleman (H.M.) Co: 2[11]:11 (Jan 1905), 3[4]:13 (Jun 1905), 3[5]:10 (Jul 1905)
Holmes, C E: 7[3]:19 (Mar 1909)
Homan & Co: 8[11]:8 (Nov 1910)
Home Recording: 1[8]:4 (Oct 1903), 6[7]:5 (Jul 1908), 6[7]:11 (Jul 1908), 8[10]:9 (Oct 1910), 8[11]:6 (Nov 1910), 8[11]:19 (Dec 1910)
Hoover-Ball Co: 3[6]:4 (Aug 1905)
Hopkins Bros: 6[11]:5 (Nov 1908), 8[3]:29 (Mar 1910)
Hopkins, Harry C: 7[4]:7 (Apr 1909)
Horn Equipment: 5[6]:6 (Aug 1907), 5[7]:1 (Sep 1907), 5[8]:13 (Oct 1907), 5[9]:1 (Nov 1907), 5[9]:15 (Nov 1907), 5[10]:12 (Dec 1907), 6[2]:11 (Feb 1908), 7[8]:3 (Aug 1909), 7[10]:5 (Oct 1909), 7[11]:3 (Dec 1909), 8[8]:7 (Aug 1910)

Houck (O.K.) Piano Co: 3[5]:12 (Jul 1905), 3[9]:11 (Nov 1905), 4[3]:12 (May 1906), 7[5]:13 (May 1909), 7[8]:12 (Aug 1909), 7[11]:29 (Dec 1909), 8[3]:16 (Mar 1910), 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Hough, Thomas C: 3[2]:11 (Apr 1905), 4[1]:12 (Mar 1906)
Houghton (L.D.) & Co: 8[5]:9 (May 1910)
Houston Phonograph Co: 7[5]:7 (May 1909)
Huber, J A: 7[4]:8 (Apr 1909)
Huberdau, Gustave: 8[3]:4 (Mar 1910)
Hug, W H: 7[9]:6 (Sep 1909)
Hullinger, Charles: 7[6]:20 (Jun 1909)
Humboldt Piano Co: 7[2]:11 (Feb 1909)
Hunt, William F: 5[3]:18 (May 1907)
Hyatt, E B: 2[4]:11 (Jun 1904), 7[4]:24 (Apr 1909)

I
Idol, P H: 6[4]:14 (Apr 1908)
Ilsen & Co: 1[9]:8 (Nov 1903)
Import Duties: 6[3]:7 (Mar 1908)
Indiana Music Co: 8[4]:9 (Apr 1910)
Indiana Phonograph Co: 8[3]:29 (Mar 1910)
Installment Sales: 1[5]:4 (Jul 1903), 2[9]:6 (Nov 1904), 3[10]:4 (Dec 1905), 3[11]:12 (Jan 1906), 3[11]:11 (Feb 1906), 3[11]:12 (Feb 1906), 4[1]:7 (Mar 1906), 4[11]:3 (Feb 1907), 5[5]:12 (Jul 1907), 5[8]:5 (Oct 1907), 7[2]:4 (Feb 1909)
Interchangeable Parts: 7[7]:15 (Jul 1909)
International Correspondence Schools: 1[5]:5 (Jul 1903), 1[6]:10 (Aug 1903), 1[10]:5 (Dec 1903), 1[10]:11 (Dec 1903), 2[3]:6 (May 1904), 2[4]:11 (Jun 1904), 2[11]:12 (Jan 1905), 3[2]:12 (Apr 1905), 5[1]:5 (Mar 1907)
Ireton, Albert C: 1[4]:3 (Jun 1903), 5[4]:5 (Jun 1907), 8[4]:7 (Apr 1910)
Italian Records: 7[7]:5 (Jul 1909), 7[8]:9 (Aug 1909)

J
Jackson, Harry: 2[10]:5 (Dec 1904), 4[1]:5 (Mar 1906)
Jacot Music Box Co: 1[3]:10 (May 1903)
Japan. Honorary Commercial Commission: 7[11]:20 (Dec 1909)
Japanese Records: 1[4]:7 (Jun 1903), 1[6]:4 (Aug 1903), 1[7]:3 (Sep 1903)
Jenkins (J.W.) Sons Music Co: 1[8]:11 (Oct 1903), 5[4]:4 (Jun 1907)
Jerd, J E: 1[10]:13 (Dec 1903)
Johnson, A W: 8[9]:8 (Sep 1910)
Johnson (Iver) Sporting Goods Co: 1[7]:12 (Sep 1903)
Johnston (D.S.) & Co: 5[1]:10 (Mar 1907)
Jones, Ada: 6[3]:11 (Mar 1908), 8[4]:11 (Apr 1910), 8[7]:4 (Jul 1910)
Jones, Francis Arthur: 3[3]:11 (May 1905), 3[7]:9 (Sep 1905)
Jones, H S: 6[5]:13 (May 1908), 6[10]:11 (Oct 1908)
Jorda-Rocabruna Quintet: 7[11]:7 (Dec 1909)
Jorn, Karl: 8[6]:11 (Jun 1910)
Jurgens & Walker: 7[3]:18 (Mar 1909)

K
Kaner & Co: 7[6]:20 (Jun 1909)
Kauffmann, Oliver K: 5[4]:5 (Jun 1907)
Kaufmann Bros: 1[1]:3 (Mar 1903)
Keefe, Andrew: 4[7]:12 (Sep 1906)
Keefe, M F: 4[10]:12 (Dec 1906)
Keely Phonograph Co: 1[11]:9 (Jan 1904)
Keim, Charles B: 2[2]:3 (Apr 1904)
Keller (William H.) & Sons: 8[4]:8 (Apr 1910)
Kellogg, George H: 7[11]:12 (Dec 1909)
Kern, George L: 7[8]:12 (Aug 1909)
Killea, William J: 2[4]:10 (Jun 1904), 2[8]:13 (Oct 1904), 3[6]:8 (Aug 1905)
Kimball, J N: 1[5]:12 (Jul 1903)

King & Gager: 7[4]:15 (Apr 1909)
Kipp Bros Co: 4[3]:12 (May 1906)
Kipp-Link Phonograph Co: 5[5]:4 (Jul 1907), 7[8]:12 (Aug 1909), 7[9]:20 (Sep 1909)
Kishpaugh, R A: 5[6]:12 (Aug 1907)
Klar & Kress Jewelry Co: 6[6]:11 (Jun 1908)
Knowles, H G: 8[6]:9 (Jun 1910)
Knoxville Typewriter & Phonograph Co: 1[11]:7 (Feb 1904), 6[3]:15 (Mar 1908)
Knuepfer & Dimmock: 8[4]:9 (Apr 1910)
Koehler & Hinrichs: 4[8]:4 (Oct 1906), 4[9]:3 (Nov 1906)
Kohler & Chase: 5[1]:5 (Mar 1907), 6[1]:14 (Jan 1908), 7[3]:9 (Mar 1909), 7[5]:7 (May 1909), 7[11]:9 (Nov 1909)
Kostenbader, E W: 5[9]:16 (Nov 1907)
Kroeber, A L: 1[10]:4 (Dec 1903)
Kurz, Selma: 8[9]:10 (Sep 1910)

L

Labels: 2[2]:6 (Apr 1904), 2[5]:3 (Jul 1904), 2[8]:13 (Oct 1904), 3[11]:4 (Jan 1906), 4[7]:4 (Sep 1906), 6[7]:12 (Sep 1907), 7[2]:6 (Feb 1909), 7[2]:12 (Feb 1909)
LaFollette, Robert M: 3[1]:5 (Mar 1905)
Lambert Co: 1[1]:5 (Mar 1903)
Language Study: 1[7]:13 (Sep 1903), 1[8]:7 (Oct 1903), 1[11]:8 (Jan 1904), 2[3]:11 (May 1904)
Larue, A N: 7[1]:10 (Jan 1909)
Lauder, Harry: 6[1]:9 (Jan 1908), 6[2]:1 (Feb 1908), 6[3]:5 (Mar 1908), 6[3]:14 (Mar 1908), 6[4]:11 (Apr 1908), 6[9]:7 (Sep 1908), 6[10]:9 (Oct 1908), 6[11]:4 (Nov 1908), 6[11]:1 (Dec 1908), 7[3]:10 (Mar 1909), 7[5]:15 (May 1909), 7[11]:17 (Nov 1909), 8[3]:3 (Mar 1910), 8[4]:5 (Apr 1910), 8[10]:9 (Oct 1910)
Laureigh, C A: 1[6]:6 (Aug 1903)
Lauten, Albert E: 1[11]:10 (Feb 1904)
Leeming, H T: 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906), 5[10]:7 (Dec 1907), 6[6]:13 (Jun 1908), 6[11]:6 (Nov 1908)
Leonard, Thomas H: 1[5]:7 (Jul 1903), 4[1]:7 (Mar 1906), 4[4]:11 (Jun 1906)
Lepper, J H: 3[6]:8 (Aug 1905)
Levi, Maurice: 7[2]:7 (Feb 1909)
Lewis (J.G.) Music House: 7[7]:16 (Jul 1909)
Lewis, L L: 5[10]:9 (Dec 1907)
Lift Mechanism: 1[3]:4 (May 1903)
Linnell, H C: 7[3]:18 (Mar 1909)
Lipchitz, Louis: 2[9]:12 (Nov 1904)
Lipton, Thomas: 1[6]:6 (Aug 1903)
Little, E O: 6[5]:15 (May 1908)
Loftus Music Co: 3[11]:13 (Feb 1906)
Logue, William S: 1[3]:12 (May 1903), 4[3]:7 (May 1906)
Lola la Flemenca: 7[5]:6 (May 1909)
Longone-White, Carolina: 8[9]:10 (Sep 1910)
Lothrop (J.E.) Piano Co: 4[1]:13 (Mar 1906)
Lovejoy Novelty Works: 3[8]:3 (Oct 1905)
Lovett, Earl J G: 7[3]:19 (Mar 1909)
Lowman & Hanford: 2[3]:12 (May 1904)
Lynch, John Henry: 7[4]:9 (Apr 1909), 8[9]:9 (Sep 1910)
Lyon & Healy: 3[9]:6 (Nov 1905), 3[9]:7 (Nov 1905), 4[3]:11 (May 1906)

M

MacGowen Cycle Co: 1[2]:8 (Apr 1903)
Macon Phonograph Co: 3[9]:7 (Nov 1905), 6[6]:14 (Jun 1908)
Madison, Frank E: 3[11]:5 (Feb 1906), 4[6]:18 (Aug 1906), 4[7]:5 (Sep 1906), 5[4]:5 (Jun 1907)
Maguire, Charles S: 2[3]:13 (May 1904)
Malhiot, A E: 4[10]:7 (Dec 1906)
Markham, Edwin: 6[2]:13 (Feb 1908)
Marks, George Croyden: 2[3]:11 (May 1904), 4[1]:5 (Mar 1906)

Marmouth & Pflum: 8[3]:7 (Mar 1910)
Marschalk, Henry E: 6[2]:18 (Feb 1908)
Marsh, Ira: 8[8]:8 (Aug 1910)
Martin (W.) & Co: 5[5]:10 (Jul 1907), 6[6]:14 (Jun 1908)
Martin, Edward H: 6[2]:10 (Feb 1908), 7[4]:6 (Apr 1909)
Martin, Louis R: 8[8]:9 (Aug 1910)
Martin, Thomas Commerford: 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Marvin, Cornelia: 8[4]:16 (Apr 1910)
Matheis, Archie: 6[9]:21 (Sep 1908)
Matthews, Azel D: 1[4]:4 (Jun 1903)
Maxwell, Joe: 8[3]:19 (Mar 1910)
Mayhew, Stella: 7[11]:7 (Dec 1909), 8[5]:20 (May 1910), 8[7]:1 (Jul 1910)
McChesney, Leonard C: 8[2]:19 (Feb 1910)
McCullom, J W: 5[3]:7 (May 1907)
McCusker, James: 6[2]:15 (Feb 1908)
McGreal Bros: 1[8]:11 (Oct 1903), 1[11]:4 (Feb 1904), 2[8]:13 (Oct 1904), 2[9]:8 (Nov 1904), 2[11]:11 (Jan 1905), 3[3]:7 (May 1905), 4[1]:11 (Mar 1906), 4[4]:7 (Jun 1906), 5[2]:8 (Apr 1907), 5[5]:4 (Jul 1907)
McGreal, L E: 5[4]:5 (Jun 1907), 5[8]:19 (Oct 1907)
McGreal, Lawrence: 6[6]:8 (Jun 1908), 8[3]:27 (Mar 1910)
Mead, F L: 7[8]:12 (Aug 1909)
Meehan, F J: 8[9]:8 (Sep 1910)
Melis, Carmen: 8[3]:4 (Mar 1910)
Menardi Stationery Co: 7[1]:9 (Jan 1909)
Mendlow Bros: 2[2]:7 (Apr 1904)
Metropolitan Phonograph Co: 5[6]:14 (Aug 1907)
Mexican Records: 2[11]:4 (Jan 1905), 3[7]:5 (Sep 1905), 5[2]:7 (Apr 1907), 5[5]:14 (Jul 1907), 6[3]:8 (Mar 1908), 7[8]:8 (Aug 1909), 7[11]:10 (Nov 1909)
Miller, Carl F: 4[4]:11 (Jun 1906)
Miller, Charles: 2[7]:5 (Sep 1904)
Miller, Giles B: 4[11]:7 (Jan 1907)
Miller, Harry F: 6[3]:13 (Mar 1908)
Miller, L C: 2[8]:7 (Oct 1904)
Miller, Polk: 8[1]:5 (Jan 1910), 8[3]:18 (Mar 1910)
Miller, Walter H: 3[4]:12 (Jun 1905), 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905), 4[1]:4 (Mar 1906)
Milner Music Co: 6[6]:8 (Jun 1908), 8[3]:29 (Mar 1910)
Minnesota Phonograph Co: 1[7]:6 (Sep 1903), 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Mitchell, L: 8[4]:22 (Apr 1910)
Mole, Charles: 2[11]:6 (Feb 1905)
Montenegro-Riehm Music Co: 4[11]:5 (Feb 1907)
Moore, Guernsey: 6[2]:20 (Feb 1908)
Motion Pictures: 1[7]:13 (Sep 1903), 5[2]:3 (Apr 1907)
Moulded Records: 1[6]:11 (Aug 1903), 1[10]:1 (Dec 1903), 2[9]:7 (Nov 1904), 3[2]:13 (Apr 1905)
Muhlenberg, George H: 4[10]:11 (Dec 1906)
Murray, Louis R: 6[3]:17 (Mar 1908), 7[4]:9 (Apr 1909), 7[5]:12 (May 1909)
Murray, Pete: 7[7]:11 (Jul 1909)
Music Instruction: 3[1]:11 (Mar 1905), 4[7]:12 (Sep 1906), 5[3]:14 (May 1907)
Musical Echo Co: 7[5]:7 (May 1909)

N
Narelle, Marie: 4[2]:3 (Apr 1906), 8[7]:1 (Jul 1910)
Nashville Furniture Co: 5[9]:16 (Nov 1907)
National Association of Talking Machine Jobbers: 5[8]:5 (Oct 1907), 6[6]:17 (Jun 1908), 7[6]:13 (Jun 1909), 7[7]:24 (Jul 1909), 7[8]:11 (Aug 1909), 7[11]:12 (Nov 1909), 8[5]:16 (May 1910), 8[6]:14 (Jun 1910), 8[8]:14 (Aug 1910), 8[10]:19 (Oct 1910)
National Business Show: 5[1]:6 (Mar 1907)
National Phonograph Co (Australia): 3[11]:7 (Jan 1906), 6[1]:11 (Jan 1908)
National Phonograph Co (Canada): 4[10]:4 (Dec 1906)
National Phonograph Co (Chicago): 4[4]:3 (Jun 1906), 4[5]:4 (Jul 1906), 5[3]:5 (May 1907)

National Phonograph Co (Mexico): 3[11]:7 (Jan 1906), 4[1]:6 (Mar 1906), 5[1]:4 (Mar 1907), 5[10]:9 (Dec 1907), 7[11]:7 (Nov 1909), 7[11]:12 (Nov 1909)
National Phonograph Co (New York): 4[5]:4 (Jul 1906), 5[8]:15 (Oct 1907), 7[7]:7 (Jul 1909)
National Phonograph Co Ltd: 1[11]:3 (Jan 1904), 2[5]:10 (Jul 1904), 2[8]:6 (Oct 1904), 2[9]:11 (Nov 1904), 2[11]:7 (Feb 1905), 5[7]:15 (Sep 1907), 6[2]:6 (Feb 1908), 6[5]:9 (May 1908)
National Phonograph Company of Australia Ltd: 4[1]:6 (Mar 1906), 5[5]:13 (Jul 1907), 7[10]:13 (Oct 1909)
Neal Clark & Neal Co: 4[7]:4 (Sep 1906)
Nebraska Cycle Co: 2[11]:10 (Feb 1905), 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907), 7[1]:20 (Jan 1909)
Neff, E A: 8[3]:27 (Mar 1910)
Nelson (B.E.) Drug Co: 6[1]:15 (Jan 1908)
Nelson, C G: 8[3]:20 (Mar 1910)
Nelson, Minnie: 4[2]:10 (Apr 1906)
New Century Talking Machine Co: 4[11]:17 (Feb 1907), 6[1]:11 (Jan 1908)
New York Phonograph Co: 1[4]:4 (Jun 1903), 3[5]:5 (Jul 1905), 4[2]:3 (Apr 1906), 4[6]:8 (Aug 1906), 4[11]:3 (Feb 1907), 5[10]:7 (Dec 1907), 6[3]:8 (Mar 1908), 6[7]:6 (Jul 1908)
Niehaus & Dohse: 5[2]:8 (Apr 1907)
Nightingale, Florence: 5[8]:22 (Oct 1907)
Nikolai, George: 8[5]:8 (May 1910)
Niles, John I: 3[11]:11 (Feb 1906)
Nisbett, George M: 2[3]:5 (May 1904), 2[8]:4 (Oct 1904), 3[8]:4 (Oct 1905), 4[1]:5 (Mar 1906), 4[8]:4 (Oct 1906), 4[9]:9 (Nov 1906), 7[3]:9 (Mar 1909)
Nishkian, K H: 8[1]:9 (Jan 1910)
Noorbhoy, Rustamji Jamsedji: 3[7]:13 (Sep 1905)
Noyes, C W: 1[1]:4 (Mar 1903), 1[5]:14 (Jul 1903), 1[8]:10 (Oct 1903)

O

O'Connor, T H: 7[7]:7 (Jul 1909)
O'Dea, James K: 3[4]:5 (Jun 1905), 5[1]:10 (Mar 1907)
Oakford, Clara B: 8[4]:6 (Apr 1910)
Ohio Assn of Talking Machine Dealers: 7[9]:6 (Sep 1909), 8[3]:28 (Mar 1910)
Oil: 6[3]:11 (Mar 1908), 7[4]:15 (Apr 1909)
Olinger & Warvel: 6[7]:5 (Jul 1908)
Olney, C M: 5[3]:18 (May 1907)
Omaha Bicycle Co: 3[1]:5 (Mar 1905)
Osborne, E A: 1[9]:10 (Nov 1903)
Otto, John: 2[3]:7 (May 1904)
Outcault, Richard F: 3[9]:7 (Nov 1905)
Outlet Co: 2[9]:11 (Nov 1904)

P

Pacific Phonograph Co: 7[5]:7 (May 1909), 8[3]:29 (Mar 1910), 8[5]:20 (May 1910)
Packaging: 2[6]:6 (Aug 1904), 2[7]:4 (Sep 1904), 3[1]:11 (Mar 1905), 3[7]:3 (Sep 1905), 5[8]:7 (Oct 1907), 6[2]:16 (Feb 1908), 6[3]:5 (Mar 1908), 6[7]:8 (Jul 1908)
Pancoast, F R: 5[6]:5 (Aug 1907)
Pardee-Ellenberger Co: 1[2]:7 (Apr 1903), 1[11]:5 (Feb 1904), 3[10]:12 (Dec 1905), 3[11]:7 (Jan 1906), 4[3]:13 (May 1906)
Park's Music House Co: 4[2]:12 (Apr 1906)
Paxton & Baker Co: 7[5]:5 (May 1909)
Peary, Robert E: 4[9]:9 (Nov 1906)
Pease, Richmond: 2[2]:12 (Apr 1904)
Peeler, William: 4[2]:7 (Apr 1906)
Pelzer, William: 5[10]:7 (Dec 1907)
Penick, R L: 4[6]:21 (Aug 1906)
Penn Phonograph Co: 2[3]:12 (May 1904), 8[2]:20 (Feb 1910)
Pepper & Powell: 5[6]:12 (Aug 1907)
Perkins, E S: 1[7]:10 (Sep 1903)

Petersen, Peter: 2[2]:12 (Apr 1904)
Petit, Albert.O: 2[2]:4 (Apr 1904), 5[1]:5 (Mar 1907), 6[11]:20 (Dec 1908)
Pfau, Fred: 2[7]:10 (Sep 1904)
Philips, E H: 5[9]:15 (Nov 1907), 6[2]:7 (Feb 1908), 6[11]:6 (Nov 1908), 7[1]:6 (Jan 1909), 7[3]:9 (Mar 1909)
Phillips & Crew Co: 3[11]:7 (Jan 1906), 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907)
Philology: 4[11]:21 (Jan 1907)
Phonograph-Clock: 5[3]:17 (May 1907)
Pianos: 3[11]:11 (Jan 1906), 8[5]:7 (May 1910)
Picard & Moss: 2[3]:10 (May 1904)
Pike, William A: 2[8]:6 (Oct 1904)
Pittsburgh Phonograph Co: 6[5]:8 (May 1908)
Pius X (Pope): 8[6]:7 (Jun 1910)
Pleasants, Jack: 8[1]:5 (Jan 1910)
Polese, Giovanni: 8[6]:11 (Jun 1910)
Polyform: 5[7]:12 (Sep 1907)
Pommer (A.J.) Co: 8[3]:29 (Mar 1910)
Pommert, Charles J: 7[3]:17 (Mar 1909)
Porter, L R: 1[6]:9 (Aug 1903), 4[5]:13 (Jul 1906), 7[3]:11 (Mar 1909)
Portland Phonograph Agency: 3[5]:10 (Jul 1905), 4[11]:15 (Jan 1907), 6[10]:12 (Oct 1908)
Powers & Henry Co: 4[1]:5 (Mar 1906)
Prendergast, William A: 2[2]:6 (Apr 1904)
Price Phonograph Co: 1[6]:6 (Aug 1903), 2[10]:5 (Dec 1904), 3[5]:7 (Jul 1905), 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906)
Prospect Phonograph Co: 1[4]:8 (Jun 1903)
Purseglove, Thomas A: 8[10]:8 (Oct 1910)

Q

Quick, A R: 2[2]:4 (Apr 1904)
Quincy Phonograph Co: 3[3]:7 (May 1905)

R

Ramsay & Co: 7[5]:12 (May 1909)
Randolph, John F: 6[3]:9 (Mar 1908)
Rapke Phonograph Co: 6[11]:20 (Dec 1908)
Rapke, Victor H: 1[9]:9 (Nov 1903), 1[10]:7 (Dec 1903), 2[2]:6 (Apr 1904), 2[4]:7 (Jun 1904), 2[8]:13 (Oct 1904), 3[9]:10 (Nov 1905), 7[2]:8 (Feb 1909)
Rawling, John: 8[11]:3 (Nov 1910)
Ray Co: 1[4]:11 (Jun 1903), 1[5]:15 (Jul 1903), 1[10]:9 (Dec 1903), 1[11]:5 (Feb 1904)
Raymond, George J: 7[3]:4 (Mar 1909)
Raymond, Maude: 8[7]:5 (Jul 1910)
Record Exchange: 3[1]:5 (Mar 1905), 3[2]:7 (Apr 1905), 3[4]:3 (Jun 1905), 3[4]:7 (Jun 1905), 3[11]:6 (Jan 1906), 4[8]:6 (Oct 1906), 4[9]:4 (Nov 1906), 4[10]:4 (Dec 1906), 5[9]:1 (Nov 1907), 5[10]:12 (Dec 1907), 7[1]:4 (Jan 1909), 7[2]:2 (Feb 1909), 7[5]:3 (May 1909), 7[6]:9 (Jun 1909), 7[8]:4 (Aug 1909), 7[9]:2 (Sep 1909), 8[3]:2 (Mar 1910), 8[4]:10 (Apr 1910), 8[7]:5 (Jul 1910), 8[8]:4 (Aug 1910), 8[10]:3 (Oct 1910), 8[10]:10 (Oct 1910), 8[11]:4 (Nov 1910), 8[11]:12 (Dec 1910)
Recording Plant: 2[2]:7 (Apr 1904), 4[9]:6 (Nov 1906), 7[1]:4 (Jan 1909)
Rees (H.C.) Optical Co: 3[7]:4 (Sep 1905)
Regina Co: 5[1]:5 (Mar 1907)
Reichard, D S: 1[6]:10 (Aug 1903)
Reid (Frank H.) & Sons: 4[4]:12 (Jun 1906)
Reinhorn, David: 8[7]:6 (Jul 1910)
Repeating Attachment: 1[7]:5 (Sep 1903), 2[8]:10 (Oct 1904), 2[9]:3 (Nov 1904), 2[11]:10 (Jan 1905), 4[1]:6 (Mar 1906), 4[7]:11 (Sep 1906), 6[8]:7 (Aug 1908)
Reproducer Exchange: 3[4]:3 (Jun 1905), 7[7]:5 (Jul 1909), 8[8]:4 (Aug 1910)
Reynolds Talking Machine Co: 4[5]:13 (Jul 1906), 8[3]:18 (Mar 1910), 8[4]:8 (Apr 1910), 8[8]:9 (Aug 1910)
Reynolds, O A: 7[3]:17 (Mar 1909)

Rhodes, E B: 3[7]:5 (Sep 1905)
Rice, John S: 7[3]:19 (Mar 1909)
Richaud, Leon: 7[11]:28 (Nov 1909)
Ricker & Son: 5[9]:22 (Nov 1907)
Riehl, E: 5[7]:15 (Sep 1907)
Rinehart, Ora E: 8[11]:5 (Nov 1910)
Ritt, Julius: 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Roberts, D: 4[4]:13 (Jun 1906)
Robertson, Charles E: 6[6]:8 (Jun 1908)
Rocabruna, Jose: 8[5]:5 (May 1910)
Rodgers, D M: 4[2]:12 (Apr 1906), 8[5]:9 (May 1910)
Rogers, John T: 6[11]:6 (Nov 1908)
Roland, P P: 4[10]:10 (Dec 1906)
Romain, Manuel: 8[5]:7 (May 1910)
Rosen, Harry: 8[5]:9 (May 1910)
Ross (W.H.) & Son: 5[1]:5 (Mar 1907), 8[4]:24 (Apr 1910), 8[11]:9 (Dec 1910)
Roth, M J: 7[4]:11 (Apr 1909)
Roush, J C: 8[10]:19 (Oct 1910)
Routh (H.H.) & Son: 3[8]:11 (Oct 1905)
Routh's Music House: 4[8]:5 (Oct 1906)
Rowlen, Mrs S C: 7[9]:13 (Sep 1909), 7[11]:21 (Nov 1909)
Ruegnitz, F C: 7[11]:12 (Dec 1909)
Ryan & Dame: 8[11]:8 (Nov 1910)

S

Sacker, Charles S: 8[3]:8 (Mar 1910)
Sackett, H R: 8[4]:9 (Apr 1910)
Sadler, Josie: 7[6]:18 (Jun 1909)
Salesmen: 4[11]:9 (Jan 1907), 6[2]:7 (Feb 1908), 6[9]:21 (Sep 1908), 7[2]:5 (Feb 1909), 7[11]:17 (Nov 1909), 8[2]:19 (Feb 1910), 8[5]:11 (May 1910), 8[10]:7 (Oct 1910), 8[11]:13 (Nov 1910)
Sample Records: 2[1]:3 (Mar 1904), 3[1]:3 (Mar 1905), 3[3]:3 (May 1905), 3[10]:3 (Dec 1905)
Sampson Music Co: 4[11]:6 (Jan 1907)
Santa de Leon, J: 1[11]:5 (Jan 1904)
Sante Fe Watch Co: 3[8]:13 (Oct 1905), 8[1]:9 (Jan 1910), 8[11]:8 (Dec 1910)
Schaefer, Fred G: 6[4]:6 (Apr 1908)
Schaff Bros Co: 4[1]:13 (Mar 1906)
Schall Talking Machine Co: 5[8]:14 (Oct 1907)
Scheffer, Fred G: 4[3]:10 (May 1906)
Schermerhorn, John Relyea: 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905), 3[11]:13 (Jan 1906), 4[6]:18 (Aug 1906), 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907)
Schirmer, J C: 5[6]:13 (Aug 1907)
Schlegel-McNevin Piano Co: 2[3]:4 (May 1904)
Schmelzer (J.F.) & Sons Arms Co: 3[3]:7 (May 1905), 3[7]:13 (Sep 1905), 5[4]:4 (Jun 1907)
Schmidt (H.) & Son Co: 2[1]:6 (Mar 1904), 2[7]:13 (Sep 1904), 7[11]:20 (Nov 1909)
Schonberger, Ludwig: 7[11]:7 (Dec 1909)
Schreiber, Leopold J: 7[4]:11 (Apr 1909), 7[4]:15 (Apr 1909)
Schultz, Frank: 4[8]:12 (Oct 1906)
Scott & Jones: 7[10]:14 (Oct 1909)
Scott, J W: 3[10]:9 (Dec 1905), 3[11]:5 (Feb 1906), 8[2]:19 (Feb 1910), 8[3]:21 (Mar 1910)
Scripture, Edward W: 2[1]:6 (Mar 1904)
Scull, George F: 8[6]:2 (Jun 1910)
Severin (Theodore) & Co: 5[5]:16 (Jul 1907)
Shackleton, Ernest H: 8[5]:3 (May 1910)
Shattuck, Herbert A: 1[1]:4 (Mar 1903)
Shaving Machine: 2[1]:10 (Mar 1904), 8[11]:12 (Nov 1910)
Shaw Bros: 6[5]:13 (May 1908)

Sheets, W A: 3[3]:13 (May 1905)
Sheibley, W L: 5[9]:16 (Nov 1907)
Sheridan, John E: 6[3]:17 (Mar 1908)
Shipley & Bopst: 4[1]:13 (Mar 1906)
Shull, E W: 5[9]:16 (Nov 1907)
Sibilance: 5[9]:15 (Nov 1907)
Sidles (H.E.) Cycle Co: 1[8]:9 (Oct 1903), 2[2]:7 (Apr 1904), 2[3]:11 (May 1904)
Siegel-Cooper Co: 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907)
Silverstone Talking Machine Co: 5[3]:5 (May 1907), 5[6]:11 (Aug 1907), 7[2]:8 (Feb 1909), 8[10]:8 (Oct 1910)
Simon's Music House: 3[9]:11 (Nov 1905)
Slezak, Leo: 7[8]:7 (Aug 1909), 7[9]:5 (Sep 1909), 8[1]:2 (Jan 1910), 8[3]:4 (Mar 1910)
Smith, A F: 4[11]:19 (Jan 1907)
Smith, Arthur H: 5[8]:10 (Oct 1907)
Smith (M.) & Co: 1[11]:10 (Feb 1904)
Smith, S L S: 3[6]:7 (Aug 1905), 4[8]:10 (Oct 1906)
Smith's Phonograph Co: 8[8]:10 (Aug 1910)
Snider, George L: 8[8]:8 (Aug 1910)
Snyder, J A: 1[5]:11 (Jul 1903)
Soes, J B: 7[3]:16 (Mar 1909)
Sousa, John Philip: 4[8]:10 (Oct 1906), 7[7]:3 (Jul 1909), 7[9]:10 (Sep 1909), 7[11]:12 (Nov 1909)
Southern Phonograph Co: 3[7]:13 (Sep 1905), 6[10]:12 (Oct 1908)
Spahr, Henry: 7[6]:12 (Jun 1909)
Spalding, Albert: 7[6]:17 (Jun 1909)
Spanish Records: 7[5]:6 (May 1909)
Speed Indicator: 2[4]:6 (Jun 1904)
Spencer, Len: 2[10]:12 (Dec 1904)
Spratt & Corcoran: 3[8]:7 (Oct 1905)
Squire, Charles C: 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906)
Standard Music Co: 5[6]:14 (Aug 1907)
Standard Talking Machine Co: 5[2]:8 (Apr 1907), 6[3]:20 (Mar 1908), 6[11]:20 (Dec 1908), 7[2]:8 (Feb 1909), 7[11]:29 (Dec 1909), 8[2]:20 (Feb 1910), 8[4]:24 (Apr 1910)
Stanton, J Frank: 4[10]:7 (Dec 1906)
Star Phonograph Co: 6[7]:1 (Jul 1908)
Stevens, Walter: 3[7]:5 (Sep 1905), 3[11]:11 (Jan 1906), 5[3]:3 (May 1907), 5[5]:13 (Jul 1907), 6[4]:10 (Apr 1908), 6[6]:13 (Jun 1908), 7[7]:7 (Jul 1909), 7[11]:6 (Nov 1909), 8[2]:19 (Feb 1910), 8[5]:13 (May 1910)
Stevenson, Fred E: 8[1]:9 (Jan 1910)
Stewart, Cal: 1[8]:4 (Oct 1903), 6[9]:14 (Sep 1908)
Stilley, William J: 4[11]:17 (Feb 1907)
Stock, Frank G: 8[11]:9 (Nov 1910)
Stoll Blank Book & Stationery Co: 1[10]:9 (Dec 1903), 1[11]:13 (Feb 1904), 3[3]:6 (May 1905)
Strauss, Johann: 7[10]:6 (Oct 1909), 8[8]:3 (Aug 1910)
Superior (J.H.) Phonograph & Music Co: 1[3]:10 (May 1903)
Swedish Records: 3[5]:4 (Jul 1905)
Sweet, J S: 6[3]:15 (Mar 1908)
Switky, David: 2[2]:12 (Apr 1904), 2[3]:7 (May 1904)
Sykes, John: 3[4]:5 (Jun 1905)

T

Taft, E F: 3[3]:00 (May 1905)
Taft, Jay N: 4[7]:4 (Sep 1906)
Taft, William H: 6[9]:4 (Sep 1908), 6[11]:6 (Dec 1908), 7[3]:3 (Mar 1909), 7[4]:4 (Apr 1909), 7[10]:12 (Oct 1909)
Talking Machine Co: 4[1]:5 (Mar 1906)
Talking Machine Jobbers Assn: 4[4]:6 (Jun 1906), 6[8]:7 (Aug 1908)
Taussig, Emil: 7[4]:10 (Apr 1909)

Taylor Bros: 4[4]:12 (Jun 1906), 5[5]:16 (Jul 1907)
Telephone: 2[4]:6 (Jun 1904), 2[11]:11 (Feb 1905), 5[4]:11 (Jun 1907)
Temple of Music: 6[1]:14 (Jan 1908)
Tennyson, Alfred: 2[2]:10 (Apr 1904), 5[8]:22 (Oct 1907)
Texas Phonograph Co: 3[5]:7 (Jul 1905), 3[10]:11 (Dec 1905), 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907)
Thierien, B, Jr: 7[2]:7 (Feb 1909)
Thomas Bros: 3[9]:11 (Nov 1905)
Thompson, O C: 1[11]:12 (Feb 1904), 2[2]:6 (Apr 1904)
Tighe, Thomas J: 6[3]:11 (Mar 1908)
Tilley, Vesta: 7[6]:19 (Jun 1909)
Tolstoy, Leo: 6[6]:9 (Jun 1908)
Trademark: 6[1]:6 (Jan 1908)
Trading Stamps: 1[3]:12 (May 1903)
Tucker, Sophie: 8[3]:19 (Mar 1910), 8[7]:1 (Jul 1910)
Turner Bros: 8[2]:9 (Feb 1910)

U
Utica Cycle Co: 6[5]:8 (May 1908), 8[3]:29 (Mar 1910)

V
Vallorbes Jewel Co: 8[3]:15 (Mar 1910)
Van Vleck, Frederick B: 2[5]:4 (Jul 1904)
Vanderbilt, Reginald: 1[3]:10 (Apr 1903)
Victoria (Great Britain): 1[11]:7 (Feb 1904)
Vim Co: 1[9]:9 (Nov 1903)
Vincent (G.) & Co: 1[8]:10 (Oct 1903)
Voltz, Walter A: 8[3]:21 (Mar 1910)
Von Buelow, Count: 2[9]:9 (Nov 1904)
Voss, C Frederick: 7[6]:16 (Jun 1909)
Voullaire, F A: 3[3]:5 (May 1905), 4[1]:5 (Mar 1906)

W
Waco Electric Supply Co: 1[9]:9 (Nov 1903)
Wagner Drug Co: 7[10]:14 (Oct 1909)
Waitt (M.W.) & Co: 4[11]:13 (Jan 1907), 4[11]:5 (Feb 1907), 5[3]:17 (May 1907), 8[2]:20 (Feb 1910), 8[8]:15 (Aug 1910)
Waldhorn Quartette: 8[6]:5 (Jun 1910)
Walker, E W: 2[7]:10 (Sep 1904)
Walthall, E B: 2[2]:5 (Apr 1904)
Walz (W.G.) Co: 3[6]:4 (Aug 1905), 7[4]:7 (Apr 1909), 8[2]:20 (Feb 1910), 8[3]:9 (Mar 1910)
Wanamaker, John: 3[11]:7 (Jan 1906), 5[8]:16 (Oct 1907), 8[5]:7 (May 1910)
Wangemann, A T E: 3[3]:11 (May 1905), 4[5]:6 (Jul 1906)
Wardell, Thomas: 1[2]:7 (Apr 1903), 2[7]:12 (Sep 1904)
Warner, W W: 3[1]:5 (Mar 1905)
Weber, Peter: 4[2]:4 (Apr 1906), 5[2]:5 (Apr 1907)
Weiss, Alfred: 3[3]:7 (May 1905), 4[1]:5 (Mar 1906)
Wellmann, Walter: 5[6]:14 (Aug 1907)
Wells Phonograph Co: 4[11]:5 (Feb 1907)
Welsh Records: 8[7]:5 (Jul 1910)
Werlein (Philip) Ltd: 8[4]:24 (Apr 1910)
Werner Music Co: 3[7]:13 (Sep 1905)
Werner Music House: 1[4]:9 (Jun 1903)
Werner, George: 4[2]:10 (Apr 1906), 5[2]:7 (Apr 1907), 5[5]:14 (Jul 1907), 7[8]:8 (Aug 1909)
Westbrook, C D: 5[7]:11 (Sep 1907)
Westee, Alphons: 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905), 6[3]:13 (Mar 1908), 8[7]:9 (Jul 1910)
Western Talking Machine Co: 3[4]:5 (Jun 1905), 4[11]:7 (Jan 1907)
Weymann (H.A.) & Son: 5[6]:10 (Aug 1907), 7[5]:20 (May 1909)
Wheat, James M: 7[7]:16 (Jul 1909)

White Co: 7[4]:24 (Apr 1909)
White, C C: 8[5]:5 (May 1910)
White, James H: 1[1]:5 (Mar 1903), 1[3]:3 (May 1903), 1[6]:3 (Aug 1903), 2[2]:7 (Apr 1904), 2[4]:6 (Jun 1904), 2[5]:6 (Jul 1904), 4[6]:3 (Aug 1906)
White-Smith Music Publishing Co v. Apollo Co: 3[7]:5 (Sep 1905)
Whitney Bros: 7[8]:9 (Aug 1909)
Whitsit (Perry B.) Co: 2[2]:10 (Apr 1904), 6[10]:11 (Oct 1908), 7[3]:2 (Mar 1909), 8[3]:9 (Mar 1910), 8[5]:11 (May 1910)
Wilber, C T: 5[4]:15 (Jun 1907)
Wilhoite (W.W.) & Bros: 5[9]:16 (Nov 1907)
Wilkes, Alonzo: 7[1]:11 (Jan 1909), 7[9]:13 (Sep 1909), 8[3]:9 (Mar 1910)
Wilkins, W H: 5[5]:16 (Jul 1907)
Williams (R.S.) & Sons Co Ltd: 3[4]:5 (Jun 1905), 4[9]:20 (Nov 1906), 4[10]:10 (Dec 1906), 5[8]:19 (Oct 1907), 7[11]:9 (Nov 1909), 7[11]:16 (Dec 1909), 8[4]:24 (Apr 1910)
Williams, Charles A: 1[11]:10 (Feb 1904)
Williams, George W: 7[6]:20 (Jun 1909)
Williams, Joseph G: 7[4]:7 (Apr 1909)
Williams, R S: 4[2]:6 (Apr 1906)
Williams, T E: 5[2]:14 (Apr 1907), 5[5]:4 (Jul 1907)
Willis, M B, Jr: 3[2]:10 (Apr 1905)
Wills, Nat M: 7[6]:18 (Jun 1909)
Wilson, C H: 1[9]:10 (Nov 1903), 1[10]:3 (Dec 1903), 3[4]:7 (Jun 1905), 3[8]:3 (Oct 1905), 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905), 3[11]:11 (Jan 1906), 4[10]:4 (Dec 1906), 5[8]:10 (Oct 1907), 7[11]:10 (Nov 1909), 8[1]:3 (Jan 1910)
Wilson, D R: 1[11]:13 (Feb 1904)
Wilson, F K: 1[8]:7 (Oct 1903)
Wilson, T F: 2[1]:13 (Mar 1904)
Window Dressing: 3[3]:4 (May 1905), 5[2]:5 (Apr 1907), 6[4]:12 (Apr 1908), 6[5]:15 (May 1908), 6[6]:18 (Jun 1908), 6[7]:14 (Jul 1908), 8[5]:16 (May 1910), 8[11]:5 (Nov 1910), 8[11]:6 (Dec 1910)
Winn, J D: 8[11]:8 (Nov 1910)
Winnek Co: 6[8]:2 (Aug 1908)
Winnek, C F: 6[7]:11 (Jul 1908)
Wisconsin School for the Deaf: 2[7]:10 (Sep 1904)
Wise (Clark) & Co: 7[6]:20 (Jun 1909)
Wise Piano House: 7[5]:13 (May 1909)
Wiseman, John A: 7[6]:20 (Jun 1909)
Wittmann Co: 1[1]:3 (Mar 1903), 1[2]:3 (Apr 1903), 2[2]:11 (Apr 1904)
Woodard Clarke & Co: 7[3]:5 (Mar 1909), 7[6]:19 (Jun 1909)
Woodbury, Frank M: 1[8]:3 (Oct 1903)
Woodman, Helen M: 7[5]:5 (May 1909)
Woolworth, F W: 6[2]:18 (Feb 1908)
Wright & Metzler: 6[11]:20 (Dec 1908), 7[3]:4 (Mar 1909)
Wright's Music House: 1[5]:9 (Jul 1903)
Wu Ting Fang: 6[6]:18 (Jun 1908)
Wurlitzer (Rudolph) Co: 2[3]:7 (May 1904), 2[11]:10 (Jan 1905), 5[5]:13 (Jul 1907), 6[11]:20 (Dec 1908), 7[1]:20 (Jan 1909)
Wurth, Charles N: 3[8]:5 (Oct 1905)
Wyeth, C E: 4[9]:20 (Nov 1906)
Wynn, Bessie: 7[11]:8 (Nov 1909)
Wyper, William: 3[9]:3 (Nov 1905)

Y

Yeatts, William C: 5[8]:17 (Oct 1907)
Youmans, George R: 3[3]:7 (May 1905), 3[4]:5 (Jun 1905)
Youmans, Warren V: 7[7]:10 (Jul 1909)

Z

Zacharias, C R: 2[5]:7 (Jul 1904), 6[1]:15 (Jan 1908)
Zimmerman, Eugene: 2[6]:12 (Aug 1904)

EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY
(1903)

789.9065
E

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. 1. NEW YORK, MARCH, 1903. No. 1.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 144 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 32 HENGART SAINT GEORGES.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

	Page
Announcement	1
Advance List of April Records	1
Mr. Edison of To-Day	2
Wittman Company Enjoined	3
List Prices Must Be Maintained	3
New Machine Catalogue	4
Mr. Herbert A. Shattuck	4
C. W. N. Handbook	4
Numerical Record Catalogue	4
Decision against the Lambert Record	5
Discount Sheet Errata	5
Supplement for Catalogue No. 380	5
Chinese Moulded Records	6
New Record Lists	6
Billy Golden's Records	6
Our Policy	7
The Phonogram	7
The March Records	8
How We "Follow Up"	8
March Advertising	8

TO THE TRADE.

THE EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY owes its birth to the belief by this Company that some means of keeping in closer touch with the Jobbers and Dealers has become a necessity. The Company also believes that the trade will at once recognize the advantage of a medium that shall at least monthly keep it informed concerning Phonographs and Records. To keep the trade advised on these subjects will be the sole aim of the MONTHLY. It will take the place of the Monthly Advance List of New Records, which will no longer be issued in its former shape. The list of new Records for April is given on the next page of this issue and will hereafter be found on that page. The MONTHLY will keep the trade posted on changes made in the Phonograph from time to time, will give new goods listed or dropped from the list, will note the progress of new catalogues being gotten up, and refer to new advertising matter of any kind about to be issued. In a word, it will endeavor to further the sale of Phonographs and Records by doing all in its power to advance the interests of the Jobbers and Dealers. To this end we ask the co-operation of the latter. Our interests are alike. The more we do to add to the popularity of the Phonograph or to increase the demand for Records, the more you profit. Consequently, anything that you may do to assist in this movement of publicity must eventually return to your advantage.

We want your criticism, if you have one, of the plan of getting out the MONTHLY, and would regard you as advancing our joint cause if you will give us your candid opinion of it, accompanied by a suggestion or two as to ways of improving it. We know what we want to say and do concerning its object, but we cannot see the subject from your side. So, let us have your opinion, whether favorable or adverse. You can scarcely write a line that will not assist in making the MONTHLY a valuable adjunct to your business.

We especially want to know what subjects you would like touched upon each month. Are you in the dark about any part of the business? Let us know, then, and we will throw some light upon it. If occasion demands, we will publish a department of questions and answers, for a reply to the query of one Jobber or Dealer will serve to settle that very point in the mind of others. The MONTHLY will occasionally treat upon plans for increasing business, and will ask the trade for contributions on the subject. It will have comments from the Mechanical Department, the Sales Department, the Credit Department and others. Let us have your good will and co-operation.

THIS ISSUE CONTAINS THE ADVANCE LIST OF APRIL RECORDS. ORDER FROM IT.

4017

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS FOR APRIL, 1903

FIFTEEN DOMESTIC TITLES ONE FOREIGN TITLE

RECORDS listed herein will be ready for shipment as near April 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to March 15th, will be shipped.

April Supplements will bear the date of April 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to April Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

8377 Selection from The Sultan of Sulu Introducing Since I First Met You Peerless Orchestra

8378 The Song Bird of Melody Lane Waltz song from Mr. Blue Beard Thompson

8379 Pretty Peggy Song and dance Bells with orchestra accompaniment Rubsam

8380 Somebody's Waiting for Me Descriptive song Harlan

8381 The Beer that Made Milwaukee Famous Comic song from Mr. Blue Beard Favor

8382 Alice Where Art Thou Cornet and trombone duet Bolumir Kyrl & Leroy Haines

8383 Hebrew Vaudeville Specialty Introducing parody on Rip Van Winkle was a Lucky Man, talking and singing Julian Rose

8384 It's the Man in the Soldier Suit Descriptive male duet W. H. Thompson & Albert Campbell

8385 Heidelberg (Stein song) from The Prince of Pilsen MacDonough

8386 When the Winter Time Comes 'Round Comic waltz song Male duet Collins & Harlan

8387 Alagazam March Xylophone with orchestra accompaniment Hopkins

8384 What's the Matter with the Moon To-Night Descriptive song from The Mocking Bird Arthur Clifford

8389 I Wonder Why Bill Bailey Don't Come Home Coon song with orchestra accompaniment Collins

8390 When Our Lips in Kisses Met Contralto and bazo duet from When Johnny Comes Marching Home Miss Morgan & Mr. Stanley

8391 Selection from Maritana Edison Concert Band

12812 Hamavdel Von ein groben jung Comic Hebrew song Selden

Edison Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

Copyright 1901 by Scientific American.

MR. EDISON OF TO-DAY.

THE Scientific American of December 27, 1902, contained a half-tone portrait and sketch of Thomas A. Edison. The portrait is so characteristic of Mr. Edison as his associates see him in their daily work that it is here reproduced by permission of Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American. The photograph was taken in Mr. Edison's Laboratory at Orange, N. J., a privilege accorded to few persons, and is marked by a naturalness that it would be difficult to attain had the subject posed before a professional photographer. It is the latest picture made of Mr. Edison, and for faithfulness one of the best. The article that accompanied the picture in Scientific American was very interesting, being written in an anecdotal and sketchy style rather than biographical.

WITTMANN COMPANY ENJOINED.

LAST Fall the Wittmann Company, of Kansas City, Mo., and Lincoln, Neb., began cutting prices on Edison Phonographs, Records and Blanks, in violation of its agreement with the National Phonograph Company. We at once instituted proceedings against the Wittmann Company, and on January 30th, 1903, Judge Munger, in the U. S. Circuit Court for the District of Nebraska, ued two restraining orders, one enjoining the Wittmann Company from "directly or indirectly selling or causing to be sold at prices less than the prices set out in the terms and conditions of the contract set up and described and referred to in complainant's bill, all Phonographs, Records and Blanks furnished and sold by the complainant to the defendant and its predecessors." The other restrained the Wittmann Company from selling or using Phonographs from which the numbers have been erased.

LIST PRICES MUST BE MAINTAINED.

FOLLOWING is a copy of the final decree of the U. S. Circuit Court, Western District of Pennsylvania, in the case of the National Phonograph Company against Kaufmann Bros., of Pittsburg, restraining them from violating the Edison patents by cutting prices, and assessing the damages and costs to be paid the National Company at $1,500:

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT,
WESTERN DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA.

EDISON PHONOGRAPH CO. AND NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., vs. JACOB KAUFMANN, MORRIS KAUFMANN, HERRY KAUFMANN AND ISAAC KAUFMANN. } In Equity No. 8 May Term, 1901.

And now, January 30th, 1903, this cause coming on to be heard on final hearing on bill, answer, replication and proofs, it is adjudged and decreed that the plaintiffs are entitled to the relief prayed for in their bill of complaint and that a perpetual injunction do issue against the defendants as prayed for in said bill of complaint.

And a reference to a Master being waived, it is ordered that the profits, damages and costs to be recovered by the plaintiffs from the defendants be assessed at the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, and that execution do issue therefor according to the rules and practice of this court.

BY THE COURT.

This decision is the final result of the policy of this company in promptly and vigorously prosecuting all violations of its contracts. Kaufmann Bros. operate one of the largest Department Stores in Pittsburg. They were on our list of suspended dealers; and, knowing of our established plan of business, they purchased Phonographs and Edison Records from one of our jobbers, who had signed the regular agreement. They then started in to cut prices. The Court granted us two preliminary injunctions, declaring Kaufmann Bros. to be infringers of the Edison patents and enjoining them from using or selling Edison Machines and Edison Records; which preliminary injunctions were followed by final decrees in due course. The decree printed above is a complete vindication of the legality of our position and furnishes a precedent for any similar cases that may occur.

FORTHCOMING MACHINE CATALOGUE.

A NEW Catalogue of the Phonograph—it will be Form 375—will be ready for the trade about March 15th. It will be the most expensive and most attractive catalogue yet gotten out by this Company. It will contain twenty-four pages, with a handsome cover having a plush effect. The plush surrounds a half-tone picture of Mr. Edison. Both cover and inside will be printed on Dill & Collins' papers. The illustrations of the various types of the Phonograph are the best that could be made. In order to get the best results the several styles of machines were consigned to the Photo-Chromotype Company, of Philadelphia, who made a set of beautiful wash drawings of them. These drawings were in turn made into vignetted half-tones of a superior character. This catalogue will not contain any matter referring to outfits or accessories, but will be strictly a machine catalogue. The Advertising Department will receive orders for this catalogue, but reserves the right to hold them until a sufficient supply has been received from the printer to supply all Jobbers with a quantity. It also reserves the right to reduce the size of the orders where the quantity asked for seems excessive. Jobbers will do better if they order a small supply and re-order later.

This catalogue will be too expensive to use for circulating by mail and to save the necessity for doing so we expect to get out for shipment with the catalogue an exceedingly attractive four-page folder, advertising the Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph Phonographs. The Advertising Department will enter orders for this folder also.

MR. HERBERT A. SHATTUCK.

IN October last Mr. Shattuck was compelled by ill health to relinquish his position as Manager of the Advertising Department of this Company. We desire even at this late day to say a word with respect to his connection with the Company. Mr. Shattuck entered our employ five years ago, when the business of the Company was comparatively small. He created the Advertising Department, introducing into it the various systems now in use. He worked faithfully, unremittingly, unifringly in our behalf and to him is due no small share of credit for the present widespread popularity of the Edison Phonograph. He severed his connection with the National Phonograph Company solely because of ill health and that such action became necessary was deeply regretted by his associates.

C. W. N. HANDBOOK.

ONE of the features of the Phonogram a year or more ago was a series of articles, running through about fourteen numbers, by C. W. Noyes, of Cincinnati, on the use of the Phonograph and the art of making Phonograph Records. These were written from the viewpoint of a man of practical experience and made those issues of the Phonogram much sought after. Mr. Noyes has now re-written the articles, added new material to them and the whole has been published in book form by Ilsen & Co., of Cincinnati. The book contains 78 pages, 5x8, is profusely illustrated and is sold at 50 cents for cloth and 25 cents for paper covers. It is the most up-to-date treatise on the subjects treated. Ilsen & Co. will fill orders for it.

NUMERICAL RECORD CATALOGUE.

A NEW Numerical Catalogue of Records, Form 395, which included all domestic and foreign selections listed to March 1, 1903, was sent out to the entire trade in February. As this catalogue is for store use only, it was decided that five copies to each Jobber and one to each Dealer should be sufficient for their needs, and that number was mailed. We have since been compelled to refuse a number of requests for a quantity of them. A very small edition was printed of this catalogue, and it is now practically impossible to fill orders for more than a few copies at a time. Dealers should not depend upon their Jobbers for extra copies when needed, but write direct to the Advertising Department of this company.

Through an oversight, four foreign selections were omitted from this Numerical Catalogue. They were 12124, 12125, 12127 and 12141, all German selections by Hugo Gottschall. The trade is hereby advised that these titles are still made and may be ordered as before. Make a note of this in your catalogue.

THE supply of the brown advertising card, Form 288; the "Figure It Out Puzzle," Form 277, and the Key Puzzle, Form 278, is exhausted, and no more orders for them can be filled.

If you get tired of talking about the same thing, remember that other people, while they may know about you and what you have to sell, need gentle, constant reminders of the fact.—Business Problems.

DECISION AGAINST THE LAMBERT RECORD.

IN the suit of the National Phonograph Company against the Lambert Company, for infringement of our patent rights, the United States Circuit Court at Chicago has just decided that the Edison patent covering the tapering-bore Phonograph record is a valid patent, and that it is infringed by the Lambert record. A decree has been entered, awarding the National Phonograph Company profits and damages, and also an injunction against the Lambert Company. As is usual in such cases, the Lambert Company has taken an appeal and has secured a suspension of the injunction until the appeal is decided, but we have every reason to believe that the favorable decision of the Circuit Court will not be disturbed. The following statements are taken from the opinion of the Court:

"The complainants have made considerable improvements, both novel and useful, which are entitled to a generous construction. The first question presented is whether defendants' record or phonogram is an infringement of claims 1 and 2 of complainants' patent No. 382,418 for a phonogram having a bore tapered throughout its length. Or, in other words, is defendants' phonogram or record, with its end flanges varying in depth to engage a tapered mandrel at each end of the record, an equivalent of complainants' tapered bore?"

"Defendants' device is of material rigid and strong enough to effect this result with no other than end frictional engagements with the mandrel. Defendants claim that their record may be used upon a stepped mandrel just as well. In my judgment, this would not alter the character of the device. Complainant was the first to establish frictional engagement of the record with the mandrel at both ends, as well as throughout its length. I am further of the opinion from the record that the defendants' device, with its end flanges varying in depth to engage a tapering mandrel, is an infringement of claims 1 and 2 of complainants' said patent No. 382,418, and that as to such infringement complainant is entitled to the injunction prayed."

We hereby notify all dealers that the selling of the Lambert records provided with end flanges varying in depth to engage a tapering mandrel is an act of infringement, for which we will hold them liable, and that we propose to enforce our rights, which have now been acknowledged by the Courts, by bringing suits against dealers handling such Lambert records.

A PLEASED ENTHUSIAST.

A Chicago correspondent in writing to this Company for a catalogue said:

"I use the most pleasing and smoothest running machine in the world—the Edison Home Phonograph. Wouldn't have a disc machine for a gift."

DISCOUNT SHEET ERRATA.

THAT portion of the Jobbers' and Dealers' Discount Sheet, Form 386 J, referring to Edison Reproducers and Recorders, should be changed to read as follows:

	Jobbers.	Dealers.
Edison Reproducers, Model B,	40%	30%
" " Models C & D	50%	40%
" Recorders, . . .	50%	40%

The discounts on Model B Reproducers have always been 20 and 30 per cent., but they were omitted when Form 386 J was printed.

BON VOYAGE.

JAMES H. WHITE, who for a number of years has had charge of the Kinetoscope Department of the Edison Manufacturing Company, of Orange, N. J., sailed on February 5th, to take charge of the Antwerp office of the National Phonograph Company.

DELAY IN SHIPMENT OF MARCH RECORDS.

THE National Phonograph Company, under date of February 24th issued the following notice to the Jobbers:

"Owing to the large increase in orders for March Records, together with the late day and increased orders received for Records previously listed, it will be impossible for us to make shipment of March Records before the middle or latter part of March."

SUPPLEMENT FOR CATALOGUE No. 380.

RECORD Catalogues No. 380 sent out in February included a four-page supplement, giving the November, December, January and February Records. Jobbers and Dealers who have a supply on hand of the former edition may have a sufficient number of these supplements to make their catalogues complete by advising the Advertising Department of the number required. State how you want them shipped.

A PHONOGRAPH FOR THE EMPEROR OF JAPAN.

IN commemoration of the opening of the Industrial Exposition at Osaka, Japan, on March 1st, the Emperor of Japan was presented with a Phonograph by Thomas A. Edison. It was finished in an unusually handsome manner. The presentation was made through Waichi Araki, of the firm of Y. Araki & Co., Osaka, Japan, who was in this country in the interest of the Japanese government.

CHINESE MOULDED RECORDS.

IN the February Advance List we announced the making of forty-six Moulded Records in Chinese. These were made at San Francisco especially for The National Phonograph Company. In order that they might be made in the most careful manner, we had Walter H. Miller, Manager of the Record Department at our factory at Orange, N. J., make a special trip to California. He took with him the most approved devices for Record-making and as the result of his efforts we are able to place before the thousands of Phonograph enthusiasts a lot of the best Chinese Records yet made for any talking machine. They are the most unique Records ever made in a foreign language. These forty-six Records comprise nineteen different subjects. It was found necessary in nine instances, in order to give the song or selections in a satisfactory manner for the Chinese trade, to use more than one Record for the entire selection. For instance, the first title on the list is a song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "To Destroy the Four Gates." This required twelve Records to give the complete song. They are twelve of the most curious Records ever reproduced by the Phonograph. They are numbered from 12741 to 12752 inclusive. The remainder of the list of these Records are as follows:

12753 to 12755. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "A Widow's Lament." Requires three Records to give song complete.

12756-12761. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "Assembly on a Sand Bank." Requires six Records to give song complete.

12762-12764. Comic recitation, by Sher Doy Wong. Requires three Records to give recitation complete.

12765. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "The Nest in a Shoe."

12766. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "To Visit a Friend."

12767. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "Traveling by the West Lake."

12768. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "Our Leong Collects Rent."

12769. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "An Old Valet Carries a Letter."

12770-12771. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "A Wise Man in the Snow." Requires two Records to give song complete.

12772-12773. Song, with orchestra accompaniment, entitled "The Death of Coong Ming." Requires two Records to give song complete.

12774. Comic recitation, by Sher Doy Wong.

12775. Comic recitation, by Foong Wong Song.

12776. Comic recitation, "The Wizard Captures a Demon."

12777-12780. Chinese band selection, entitled "To Celebrate Long Life and Present a Son." Requires four Records to give song complete.

12781. Chinese Band selection.

12782-12783. Chinese Band selection. Requires two Records to give selection complete.

12784-12785. Chinese Band selection, entitled "To Prepare Dinner." Requires two Records to give selections complete.

12786. Chinese Band selection, entitled "To Persuade a King."

A circular concerning these Records, printed part in English and part in Chinese, has been prepared by this Company and was mailed to the entire trade early in February. A small quantity of these circulars will be furnished to such Jobbers and Dealers as may be able to use them to advantage among the Chinese of their cities. Address requests to the Advertising Department.

NEW RECORD LISTS.

THE plan followed at the Edison Laboratory at Orange, N. J., in deciding upon lists of new Records each month, has reached such a degree of perfection that in most instances Jobbers and Dealers when placing advance orders include the entire list, simply ordering a larger number of such titles as in their opinion are likely to sell more rapidly. Dealers report that not infrequently their customers order the entire list in advance, experience having shown them that few undesirable selections ever get on the list. In making up the advance list our Record Department endeavors to make it sufficiently varied to suit all tastes and the verdict of the public, as demonstrated by its patronage, is that it succeeds perfectly.

BILLY GOLDEN'S RECORDS.

THE January Records welcomed Billy Golden back into the fold of talent for the National Phonograph Company, and the listing of his songs was followed by an almost unprecedented demand for them. The three songs made by him for the January list, "Turkey in the Straw, (No. 8293); "Stroll on the Ground," (No. 8298), and "Mixed Ale Party," (No. 8311), have been ordered in quantities beyond the capacity of the factory to make them. The February list of Records showed two more selections by Golden, "Rabbit Hash," (No. 8328), and "Uncle Jefferson," (No. 8345) and these were also ordered heavily. "The Wedding Over the Hill" (No. 8358), listed in March, promises to be a large seller.

OUR POLICY.

THE policy upon which the National Phonograph Company is conducting its business is embodied in the following notice, which now appears upon all of its catalogues:

Every Edison Phonograph and every Edison Record and Blank is sold by the NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY under restrictions as to the persons to whom and the prices at which such Phonographs, Records and Blanks are to be sold, and as to the removal or change in whole or in part of the serial numbers on such Phonographs. Any violation of such restrictions terminates the license to use and vend such Phonographs, Records and Blanks implied from the sale thereof, and any subsequent use or sale of such Phonographs, Records or Blanks is an infringement of the Edison Patents.

The object of this policy, as every one in the trade knows, is to maintain uniform prices and prevent the sale of our goods at cut rates. It is a policy that should commend itself to every wise business man; it should require no threats or persuasion to enforce. Indiscriminate cutting of prices brings no advantage to any one. Wherever permitted without check the cut of one dealer is met the following day by a competitor, who goes him a point better, and in a short time, both are selling at prices that do not yield a proper business profit. Before long the dealers are anxious to combine and find a way to induce people to pay list prices again.

This Company purposes enforcing its policy to the fullest extent. It is investigating cases of price cutting—cases where men have pledged themselves, over their signature, to comply with the terms of the Company—and as fast as conclusive evidence is obtained the offenders are placed on a suspended list and every obstacle put in the way of their buying Phonographs and Records. This has a salutary effect in most cases. Where it does not we begin suit for injunction and damages just as soon as we can collect the necessary evidence.

The demand for Edison Phonographs and Records is so widespread that it is simply impossible for a dealer in talking machines to do without them. The public know too well that Thomas A. Edison invented the Phonograph with its many improvements and they know, also, that other devices are but inferior imitations of his. A dealer may cajole a customer into taking some other machine, but in nine cases out of ten his customer becomes disgusted and wants an Edison Phonograph. Such has been the experience of thousands and must from the very nature of things continue to be the case. People want Edison goods and they will not be fooled.

THE PHONOGRAM.

SINCE we decided in December to discontinue the publication of the Phonogram we have received almost daily letters asking "Why are you discontinuing the Phonogram?" "Are you going to get out anything else of the same character to take its place?"

Then the mails have brought expressions like these: "I am sorry that you are giving up the Phonogram." "I have always thought the Phonogram a bright little publication and I shall miss it very much." "I shall miss the monthly visits of the Phonogram."

We are not surprised that correspondents should express themselves in this regretful manner. We should have been disappointed in ourselves had we taken out of monthly circulation 60,000 copies of the Phonogram without quite a considerable number of persons missing it. We should have felt that we had gone to considerable expense without getting any return.

When it was decided to discontinue the Phonogram it was not deemed of sufficient importance to get out a special letter informing the trade as to our reasons for doing so. The PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is just the medium for saying a word on the subject. Briefly stated our decision was reached because of the conviction that the benefit to the business was not commensurate with the cost of the publication.

It was found that a large majority of those who wanted the Phonogram sought it chiefly for the list of new Records given in it each month, a demand that was being met by the attractive Record Supplement that we are getting out in large quantities each month. Other reasons of a business nature entered into the decision that closed the Phonogram's existence. The fact that we have not had a greater number of protests against the discontinuance of the Phonogram confirms our opinion that we have made no mistake in stopping it.

Concerning a substitute for the Phonogram, we might say that nothing of the same character is now contemplated.

NO MORE 180 PEG CABINETS.

IT has been decided to discontinue furnishing the 180 Peg Record Cabinets listed in the Catalogue of Accessories. No more orders for them will be filled.

The EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY will be issued in four, six or eight page form as may be found necessary from month to month.

THE MARCH RECORDS.

A FEATURE of the March Records was No. 8349, "Dream of the Tyrolienne" (Traum der Sennerin), a violin and flute duet by Eugene Jaudas and Louis Ats. The latters' names appeared among the Edison talent for the first time. This Record is the first good violin and flute duet ever made and our Record Department is delighted over its success. The air of the selection is exceedingly pleasing and it is played artistically, the instruments blending finely, yet each retains its individuality throughout. The Record is one that is certain to sell largely. This March list gives one selection by Alfred Campbell, who will be remembered as one of the former favorites among the Edison talent. Another feature of the list is No. 8347, "Hiawatha," played by the Edison Concert Band. This has become widely known in the music trade as the $10,000 composition. It is a charming air and must become very popular.

Additional single copies of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY will be mailed to the trade upon request. We cannot send copies to others.

HOW WE "FOLLOW UP."

National Phonograph Company, New York City.

GENTLEMEN—Your postal of recent date at hand. Yes, I have heard from your Dealer. Have had letters and personal visits from no less than four of them since I wrote you for Catalogue of Records. Any one who follows up their customers in this manner certainly deserves success if they do not get it. Yes, I own a Phonograph and have owned one for several years—one of the large spring motors that run sixteen records. Have several hundred Records and may have several hundred more before I get done with it as I never seem to tire of the Phonograph. Have recently purchased one of the new reproducers and have quite a number of the new records. * * *

With best wishes, I remain
Very truly yours,

Does this not show, Mr. Dealer, that we are sending business your way?

NEW ELECTROTYPE PRICE LIST.

A NEW catalogue of electrotypes will be ready for the use of the trade in about a month.

MARCH ADVERTISING.

THE advertisement herewith of the National Phonograph Company will appear in the March number of the following publications:

Leslie's Popular Monthly.
McClure's Magazine.
Munsey's Magazine.
Scribner's Magazine.
Argosy.
Harper's Magazine.
Everybody's.
Pearson's.
Ainslie's.
Smart Set.
Good Housekeeping.
Success.
Lippincott's.
National Magazine.
Overland.
Metropolitan.
Booklovers' Magazine.
Saturday Evening Post.
Collier's Weekly.
Life.
Town Topics.
Outlook.
New Era Magazine Supplement.

(The latter is the Magazine Supplement to the Sunday issue of about 200 of the largest daily papers in each of fifty different cities.)

The aggregate circulation of these mediums is about 4,500,000 copies. Since the benefit of this expensive advertising can only come to us through the Jobbers and Dealers, we ask that you do your share toward pushing Edison Phonographs and Edison Records by advertising in the local papers, street cars, etc.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. 1. NEW YORK, APRIL, 1903. No. 2.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 38 REMPART SAINT GEORGES.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

	Page
Advance List May Records	8
The Wittmann Case	1 & 8
About Delayed Orders	3
Anticipate Orders	3
About Printed Matter	4
Progressive Advertising	4
An Enthusiastic Dealer	5
Trade Notes	5
The May Record List	5
Unique "Ads"	6
Foreign Records	6
Commercial Phonograph	6
Trade Questions and Answers	7
Gleaned from the Press	7
No Concert Records by the Moulded Process	7
Among the Jobbers	8
A New National Ad	9
Correct Gross Weight	9
List of Suspended Dealers	9
Trade Opinions on the Monthly	10
Jobbers of Phonographs and Records	11
April Advertising	12

ON PUSHING GOODS.

WE shall be glad to publish in these columns contributions from Jobbers and Dealers concerning plans for selling Edison Phonographs and Records. A Jobber having a successful method of getting his goods before the public can lose nothing by telling the trade about it and may be doing some one a good turn. His competitors at home already know how he does it and those at a distance cannot affect his trade.

VOLUME I, NUMBER 1.

THE first issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY has been cordially received by the trade. In another column we print the comments of a number of Jobbers and Dealers. Many others wrote in a similar manner, our limited space making it impossible to print more of them this month. Without exception all commend the publication as furnishing an excellent method of "talking shop." Not a few correspondents offer suggestions for adding to the value of the MONTHLY which we shall take pleasure in acting upon. One writer asks two questions of interest, and these, with replies, are published elsewhere. Matters of this kind will be similarly treated each month and we believe that the department will be one of the most valuable features of the MONTHLY. A number of points concerning the Phonograph and Reproducers are constantly being asked about by Dealers. It will be the mission of this paper to answer such questions here as well as replying direct by mail.

We have had requests from Jobbers to send them a quantity of the MONTHLY. It will be impossible to do this. The edition each month will only be sufficient to send five copies to each Jobber and one to each Dealer. Every Dealer who has signed an agreement should be on our mailing list. If he is not it is because his name has not been sent in by the Jobbers. If Dealers complain that they do not receive our advertising matter by mail, Jobbers should advise the Advertising Department. The matter will receive prompt attention.

The Chicago office of the National Phonograph Company has been moved from 144 Wabash avenue to larger quarters at 304 Wabash avenue. The growth of the business in that territory made the change necessary.

THE ADVANCE LIST OF MAY RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS FOR MAY, 1903

TWELVE DOMESTIC TITLES

RECORDS listed herein will be ready for shipment as near May 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to April 20th, will be shipped.

May Supplements will bear the date of May 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to May Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

8392 In Old Alabama — Peerless Orchestra
Characteristic Barn Dance

8393 My Little Pansy — Collins
Serio-comic song with orchestra accompaniment from The Billionaire

8394 Violets (Transcription) — Piano solo Frank P. Banta

8395 Life's Dream Is O'er — Miss Chapell & Mr. Stricklett
Soprano and Tenor Duet

8396 Under the Bamboo Tree Medley — J. Frank Hopkins
Introducing The Little Gypsy Maid—Xylophone solo with orchestra accompaniment

8397 The Banquet in Misery Hall — Descriptive song Harlan

8398 Blaze Away March (with bells) — Edison Concert Band

8399 I Wonder If Your Love Will Last — Thompson & Campbell
Sentimental male duet

8400 Hamlet Was a Melancholy Dane — Favor
Comic song from Mr. Blue Beard

8401 Glory — Arthur Clifford
March song from The Billionaire

8402 Waltz Me Down the Alley Sallie (Waltz song) — Collins & Harlan
Male duet

8403 Hebrew Vaudeville Specialty — Julian Rose
Introducing parody on In the Good Old Summer Time

Edison Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Recor.ls may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Recor.ls are wanted, give the number and letter C.

FURTHER DECISIONS IN OUR FAVOR IN THE WITTMANN CASE.

ONE after another the courts of the country are upholding the validity of the agreement system of the National Phonograph Company. Last month we noted in these columns the granting of two restraining orders by Judge Munger, of the U. S. Circuit Court for the District of Nebraska, restraining the Wittmann Company, of Lincoln, Neb., and Kansas City, Mo., from cutting prices and also from changing the serial numbers on Phonographs. Just as we go to press with this issue, we are advised that the same judge and court have issued two preliminary injunctions against the Wittmann Company for the same violations of contract. Abstracts of the opinions appear on another page.

ABOUT DELAYED ORDERS.

IF we did not feel that some explanation was due the trade because of the delay in filling orders, we would rather not refer in these columns to the growth of our business in the last six months. A year ago we believed that our factory facilities at Orange, N. J., were sufficient to meet all demands for a long time. Early in the fall orders began to increase beyond their usual number, making it necessary to work overtime in some departments. Soon other departments were working the same way. Then the working force was increased in every department and still the orders exceeded the output. The holidays found several departments working with one force during the day and another all night, the factory being closed at no time except Sundays. We thought that the unusual demand was due to the holiday season and that January would see a let-up, giving us a chance to catch up with orders. It pleases us to have such a volume of business but at the same time we regret that anyone has to wait a day for our goods.

We have perfected plans for several additions to our factory and until they can be built we must ask the trade to bear with us patiently. Rely upon it that nothing is being left undone to get goods on the market. If we were disposed to be boastful and give out figures showing the number of Phonographs and Moulded Records that we are shipping each week the public would be amazed. It is evident that the talking machine idea has grown tremendously throughout the entire world and that the Edison Phonograph, as the leading type, is reaping the harvest.

The situation was such on March 1st that it was deemed advisable to cut down the number of new Records to be listed in April and instead of thirty or more, as has been the custom, a list of only sixteen was made up. This will, we believe, aid materially in filling orders for Records previously listed. For the same reason a small advance list has been made up for May, and we expect that before that time we shall be filling orders as fast as received.

ANTICIPATE ORDERS.

A JOBBER suggests that we advise the trade in these columns not to promise too prompt delivery of Phonographs, Records and Reproducers, in view of the inability of the Company to make them fast enough to fill orders. While it is just as well that the trade should understand the situation, we think that both Jobbers and Dealers should anticipate the probable demand in their territory and place orders in advance, instead of waiting until their stocks run low. There is no risk in keeping a large stock of Edison goods. They are as stable as flour and just as certain to sell.

RECORDS BY MAIL 17 CENTS NOT 10 CENTS.

IN the new machine catalogue, Form 375, through a misunderstanding, the price for mailing Records is given as ten cents. This was formerly the cost when they were mailed unregistered. In many cases, however, claims were made that they were not received and it was decided to mail no more unless registered. This increased the mailing cost to seventeen cents. We make every effort to induce users of Records to buy from the trade, but when they insist upon having them mailed we are compelled to add the cost of mailing and registering.

Jobbers and Dealers who are in doubt as to whether to address the Company at Orange or New York are advised to write to the New York office, unless they are replying to a communication sent direct from the factory. All orders must be sent to the New York office.

Jobbers and Dealers should keep a file of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. They will find it useful to refer to from time to time.

ABOUT PRINTED MATTER.

We have placed an order for a handsome show card for window displays. It will be a celluloid card, 9¾x19¾ inches in size, and lithographed in six colors. It will probably be the middle of May before it can be sent out to the trade. It is the handsomest card of its kind ever gotten out by this Company.

A new edition of the Foreign Record Catalogue, Form 381, will be issued about June 1st. If orders for the present edition are cut down it will be because we want to make the supply last till the new catalogue appears.

Orders for Record Catalogue No. 380 will shortly be filled with a new edition, which will include the March and April titles. The trade is asked to use up these now on hand before ordering a new lot. The present issue may be made complete by adding the March Supplement.

Catalogue of Parts, No. 371, is exhausted. Another edition is in preparation, but as it will be arranged on different lines it will not be ready for about two months.

The new machine catalogue, Form No. 375, is now being sent out to the trade. This catalogue is too expensive to be used in quantities for circularizing by mail, and those who contemplate such advertising will be given a supply of a very attractive four page folder, Form 414. This folder is nicely printed on fine coated paper and shows the Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph types in good style.

Advance copies of a pretty card, Form No. 409, illustrating the lad who with a hatchet is trying to find the hand that he can hear so plainly but cannot see, have just been sent to the trade. It has been gotten out for mailing and for use at openings, fairs or any similar occasion where it is desired to freely give away an attractive card. Get a supply through your Jobber.

The new electrotype catalogue, Form No. 415, has been received from the printer. Since only a portion of the trade use electrotypes, it will be sent only to such Jobbers and Dealers as order it.

Dealers buying through Jobbers are requested to get printed matter in the same manner. This makes it possible for us to send out catalogues, etc., more expeditiously and at less expense. Catalogues are too heavy to send by mail and small quantities cannot be sent by freight. If Dealers cannot be supplied by their Jobbers and insist upon our sending a small quantity in an emergency, they must pay express charges and advise how we shall ship. The same rule applies to direct Dealers.

A new edition of the Accessories Catalogue, No. 376, will soon go to press, and in it the 72-pag. 120-pag and 180-pag cabinets will no longer be listed. Orders will only be filled till the present stock is exhausted. The Edison "V" Battery will also be omitted from this catalogue.

For the information of Dealers who thought we had overlooked them in sending out the March Supplements and Bulletins, and who wrote concerning them, we would state that neither are sent out to any one in the trade until the Records for the month have been shipped. The delay in shipping the March Records caused a similar delay with Supplements and Bulletins.

PROGRESSIVE ADVERTISING.

THE past month has seen some most progressive Phonograph advertising on the part of several enterprising Jobbers. Plenty of advertising in a local manner has been done for a long time, but few have taken up the matter in a general way. In February the Vim Company, of Chicago, came out with a very attractive advertisement in Collier's Weekly, of New York City. Since then S. B. Davega, of New York, has offered the Phonograph on the dollar a week plan in the columns of Success and other magazines. The Eastern Talking Machine Company, of Boston, has a full page advertisement in the April issue of the National Magazine, devoted entirely to offering Edison Phonographs and Records on the mail order plan.

The Siegel-Cooper Co., of New York, has been running an advertisement ten and a half inches deep and three columns wide in every daily paper of large circulation in New York City and adjoining cities, devoted exclusively to the sale of Edison Phonographs and Records on the instalment plan. Their returns have been of the most gratifying character.

All of the above advertising has been done entirely by the firms named and without any arrangement or understanding of any kind with this Company. In no case was it even suggested and except in one instance we did not know of the advertising until it appeared in print. Credit for the enterprise is alone due these firms. They know the merit of the Edison Phonograph and have been willing to expend large sums to further its sale.

Dolly.—Have you learned to manage your "auto" yet?

Daisy.—Very nearly. I can do everything but stop it and steer it!

AN ENTHUSIASTIC DEALER.

F. J. Collingwood, manager for the C. F. Jackson Co, Dealers at Norwalk, Ohio, under date of January 23, wrote the following letter to this Company, and later he gladly consented to its use in the MONTHLY:

National Phonograph Company.

GENTLEMEN—I have just finished playing over your selections gotten out for January, and I feel as though I must congratulate you upon your wonderful success in Record making; also your new Model C Reproducer. I have no doubt that you are bothered with similar letters, but I must give vent to my feelings. I have thought every time I have received the Records for each month that I would write you but have not until I received the January list, and they are all so very fine I had to do it. Would say that I have handled the —— make for several years, but since your new Reproducer came out and your Moulded Records I have no use for the ——. The $25.00 —— machine I sold at $17.00, and their records at fifteen cents to get rid of them, and now handle only the Edison Records and machines.

Several evenings in the week I have a machine and Records at my house and ask people to come and hear them. I find it very amusing to see how perfectly carried away they are with the outfit, it being so much better than they could imagine. This has been the means of selling several Edison outfits. I have introduced three customers this week to get rid of the —— machine which I had sold them and buy the Edison.

People who have been down on talking machines are lovers of the new Edison. I would rather have an Edison Gem than the ——$20.00 or $25.00 machine. I have put them to a test side by side. It seems now as though you must stop trying to get anything better, for some of the Records now seem as if they were better than the real thing.

The sale of an Edison Phonograph is but the beginning of business. The sale of Records goes on indefinitely.

TRADE NOTES.

AFTER commenting favorably upon the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, F. N. Green, of Willimantic, Conn., writes: "In making an exhibit of Edison Phonograph and Edison Moulded Records at the Stafford Springs Agricultural Society of Connecticut I was presented with a large diploma of merit for excellence of Edison Phonograph and Records over all other machines."

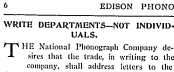
A Dealer to whom we referred an inquiry concerning Edison goods writes: "As I believe it is of interest to you to know the results of my work among the people referred to on your inquiry card, I beg to advise you that I am now shipping a Phonograph with a complete outfit to the party at Woodburn, Va., and am expecting an order from one of the others at an early date. I will greatly appreciate further suggestions of the same character."

A fact not generally known in the trade is that electric light companies throughout the country will bear the entire cost of installing electric signs where storekeepers will contract to burn a certain amount of light each year. A Phonograph dealer in Brooklyn has such a sign, and its advertising value is worth many times what it costs him.

Bernard Bearwald, of 373 West 11th street, New York City, sends a communication to the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY in which he makes several excellent suggestions, and talks interestingly of his success in selling Phonographs. We regret that the length of the letter makes it impossible to publish it in full. One of his suggestions is that dealers should furnish us with a list of their customers, to whom we should send lists of the new Records each month, such lists to bear the name of the dealer. Such a plan would result in a large amount of business, but the lists would be so large and the cost so great as to be almost prohibitory.

HOW A WESTERN JOBBER SOLD HIS 14-INCH HORNS.

ONE of the problems that all Jobbers and large Dealers have to contend with is to find a way of disposing of their stock of 14-inch horns, left on their hands when customers exchange them for larger horns. A Western Jobber cleaned out his stock recently in a very clever manner. A political campaign in his city made such a demand for tin horns that the supply gave out. Seizing the opportunity, this Jobber had a lot of tin mouthpieces made to fit the 14-inch horns and soon sold his entire stock at a nominal but satisfactory figure. Quite clever, wasn't it?



THE MAY RECORD LIST.

THE list of new titles for May, given on page 2 of this issue, number only twelve, but they are especially good. A feature of the list is a piano solo, "Violets," by Frank P. Banta, one of the best piano players for Record making in the country. This is probably the first really successful piano Record ever made. The list as a whole is well assorted and every owner of a Phonograph should have the entire dozen.

WRITE DEPARTMENTS—NOT INDIVIDUALS.

THE National Phonograph Company desires that the trade, in writing to the company, shall address letters to the department and not to its head by name. If you want your letter to go direct to the Sales Department address it to that department. Write in the same way to the Credit Department, the Advertising Department, etc. If your letters are personally addressed to the head of a department and he should be out of town, those in charge do not know whether you are writing about company matters or not. If you write to the department there can be no such doubt and your correspondence will get immediate attention.

UNIQUE "ADS" OF LIVE DEALERS.

Every night a concert in your own home
Every evening at home a pleasant one
Edison's Band will play for you
Edison's Singers sell cheap for you
Entertain yourself, family, and friends
Easily yourself with a call

EDISON PHONOGRAPH

I sell them from $10. up. New Moulded Records.
F. P. Monfort, 416 Douglas St., Sioux City, Iowa.

Mailing Card—one-fourth of original size.

Edison's Latest

E Stands for Phonograph of Ediisons Make
E Stands for Him who will no other take.
C Stands for Orders which exceeds the supply
O Stands for Natural Tone of records you buy.
C Stands for Others of inferior kind
C Stands for Gem not left behind.
E Stands for Records the best in the land
A Stands for ability in Edison's Band.
E Stands for People who own a machine
E Stands for Happiness there to be seen.

Bowen The Jeweler

Newspaper Advertisement reduced from two columns wide. Mr. Bowen is a dealer at Kawanee, Ill.

FOREIGN RECORDS.

MANY dealers do not realize that in the foreign Edison Moulded Records they have some of the most desirable selections ever made for the Phonograph. Because they are made in foreign languages they do not regard them as having any value for general sale. This was aptly illustrated by an incident that came to the notice of one of our salesmen in a large Eastern city. A gentleman asked a large dealer if he had an Edison Record with the title "Ave Maria." The dealer looked through a catalogue of domestic selections and regretted that the title was not listed. A day or so later the gentleman made the same inquiry of another dealer in the same city. The dealer replied:

"Yes, I have Gounod's "Ave Maria," and put the Record on a Phonograph for his caller's benefit. It was not the one wanted. Tosti's "Ave Maria" was according played and this proved to be just what was sought. A sale followed and the gentleman went away much pleased. The incident showed that the second dealer had given the foreign records the attention they deserved. In the foreign list are many excellent selections, and dealers would do well to extol their merits to English-speaking customers as well as those of foreign birth.

COMMERCIAL PHONOGRAPH.

WE are constantly asked, "When are you going to get out a Commercial Phonograph?" To such inquirers we reply that the Edison Commercial Phonograph will not be put on the market until it is a much more perfect machine than any device now in use. A number of experts, under Mr. Edison's supervision, are constantly at work on a Phonograph for commercial dictation and transcribing. They are daily getting nearer the point of excellence that Mr. Edison insists must be reached before the machine can be sold, but we cannot say just when it will be put on the market. When its sale is definitely announced the public may rely upon the Edison Commercial Phonograph being a thoroughly practicable machine for office use.

ONCE or twice every month we send out new printed matter by mail to the entire trade. Those who fail to receive this matter regularly should write direct to the Advertising Department, in order that the cause of the trouble may be looked up.

Be honest, straightforward and explicit—the future customer will prove more satisfied, more lasting.—Direct Advertising.

TRADE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

From Santa Fe, Watch Co., Topeka, Kans.—We have this day received the first copy of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and are glad to know that you will have something of the kind to keep us posted. Please answer these questions through the columns of your MONTHLY. 1st. We often find that Reproducers, when they come from Jobbers, have a blast or jar to them; this is not always the case, so there must be a remedy. We have not been able to improve them. 2nd. In regard to cutting prices; where we find through our customers that certain Dealers are cutting prices, what evidence do the Edison people require before they will take any action; before whom do we place it?

ANSWERS—1st. If a Reproducer blasts, it may be due to the diaphragm not being clamped tight enough, or the rubber cushion underneath the diaphragm may have slipped from the seat in the cup, leaving the diaphragm loose at that point. The remedy is to take the Reproducer apart and see whether the rubber cushion fills the seat in the cup. After the diaphragm is placed in position, care should be taken that the top gasket also fills the cup, and should be stretched if too small. Care also should be taken not to stretch it too much, in which case it would buckle and prevent the diaphragm from lying flat. It may be necessary to try several times before the exact tightness of diaphragm is determined to stop the blasting.

2d. The evidence we require in order to take action, is to have goods purchased at cut price, properly marked for identification by the person who made the purchase, tog. ther with receipted bill and affidavit, with witness. This evidence should be sent to our Sales Department.

ALWAYS AS ADVERTISED.

IT is to be seriously questioned if an advertiser ever advanced his interests one jot by lying about his goods, especially where the buyer must order on faith.

If the article doesn't come up to what is promised for it, the trade that results won't stick, and often it is only in the future patronage that the profit lies.—Fame.

The secret of the success of the Edison Phonograph is due to the fact that it is found to be "as advertised." No claims are ever made for it that are not fully carried out. Mr. Edison never allows anything to be said about the Phonograph or Records that misrepresents them in any way.

GLEANED FROM THE PRESS.

A HARTFORD, Conn., woman has brought suit for divorce against her husband, and part of her evidence is said to be a number of Phonograph Records, giving conversations that took place between her husband and the other woman in the case.

Thomas A. Edison says genius is two per cent. inspiration and ninety-eight per cent. perspiration. Thomas is certainly right. He is the genius to whom we owe more than to any living man our ability to transact business with ease and comfort. Quadruplex telegraphy, the incandescent electric light and the microphone, which makes the telephone of to-day practicable, are his, and we know his genius to be of the inspiration and perspiration kind.—Battle's Weekly.

A Swiss mechanic claims to have invented an automatic baby's nurse. The apparatus is attached to a cradle. If the baby cries air waves cause specially arranged wires to operate a Phonograph, which sings a lullaby, while, simultaneously, clockwork is released and rocks the cradle. When the crying stops the wires cease to vibrate and the cradle stops rocking.

CONCERT RECORDS NOT MADE BY THE MOULDED PROCESS.

OCCASIONALLY a Dealer asks when we are going to make Concert Records by the moulded process. The Concert Record was originally placed on the market in consequence of a demand for a Record loud enough for exhibition purposes. It met the demand fully, and thousands of them were sold. Then the small Record was made by the moulded process, and it proved to be as loud as the Concert Record, causing the demand for the latter to fall off greatly. The new moulded Record in the small size so completely fills every need for the Phonograph that no serious attention has been given the matter of making Concert Records by the same process. For the present, at least, it will not be done.

A JOBBER'S INVITATION.

THOMAS WARDELL, a Jobber at Lowell, Mass., has adopted the plan of sending out the following card each month to those whom he thinks will be interested:

DEAR SIR:—For the next three days we shall play this month's Records continuously. You are invited to step in and hear them.

Very respectfully yours,
THOMAS WARDELL.
111 Central street, Lowell.

THE Advertising Department of this Company will consider it a favor if Jobbers and Dealers will send it clippings of their advertisements in daily or weekly papers, magazines, or other publications. Address them to the Department.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEBRASKA.

EDISON PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Complainant,
v.
THE WITTMANN COMPANY, Respondent.
No. 101, V.
MEMORANDUM DECISION.

MUNGER, D. J.

This is an action brought by complainant to restrain the respondent from disposing of certain phonographs having the serial number placed thereon erased or otherwise changed.

The action is framed upon the theory that the obliterating of the serial number is an infringement of complainant's patent. There does not appear to have been any contract between complainant and respondent. The articles in question were purchased by respondent from jobbers and dealers, but it appears from the evidence that respondent had no knowledge of the provisions of the contracts under which such machines were placed upon the market for use and sale. The objection of respondent to the introduction in evidence of the printed contract between the Omaha Hicycle Company and complainant, on the ground that no foundation for the introduction was established, and such contract has not received consideration.

There was placed upon each machine a plate, having plainly and distinctly engraved thereon, among other words, the following language:

"This machine is sold upon the condition that it is licensed to be used or vended only as long as this serial number S——— is not removed or changed in whole or in part."

It is alleged that the serial numbers have been obliterated, and that it was done by respondent, or was done by respondent. That these serial numbers are obliterated and that it was done by respondent is not denied, but it is claimed that such act does not constitute an infringement, and as there was no contract between complainant and respondent, the action cannot be maintained.

The Court of Appeals of this Circuit in Dickerson v. Tinling, 84 Fed. 192-199, with reference to the sale of a patented article upon conditions, uses this language:

"If the complainant sold the patented article subject to restriction, the purchasers, with notice of this limitation upon their right to use or vend the same, could acquire no better right than that acquired to infringe upon the monopoly secured by the patent."

This, in effect, is a holding that the owner of a patented article may sell the same upon such terms and such conditions as he sees fit, and a violation of those conditions upon the part of any subsequent owner with notice thereof would be an infringement of the patent. Such seems to be the law as announced in Button Fastener Company v. Russell, 101 Fed. 859.

For these reasons the injunction as prayed will be granted, upon complainant executing a bond to be approved by the Clerk of the Court, conditioned as provided by law, in the sum of $5,000; such bond to be given within ten days.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEBRASKA.

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Complainant,
v.
THE WITTMANN COMPANY, Respondent.
No. 99, V.
MEMORANDUM OPINION.

MUNGER, D. J.

This is an application to enjoin the respondent from disposing of certain phonographs in violation of a contract between complainant and respondent. The provisions of the contract material to the consideration in this inquiry are in substance that the Company will not sell said articles at less than the price stated in the contract, and that, as charged in the bill and established by the evidence in the record, men has violated the contract in this respect, and is doing so in violation of the agreement. This is sought to be justified on the part of respondent on the ground that complainant has not observed the terms of the contract, which violation on the part of complainant absolved the respondent from further observance of the contract; or, to be stated in another way, that complainant, in seeking equity must do equity, and having first violated the contract it is not in a situation to ask for the aid of a court of equity.

It is clear from the authorities, I think, that complainant is entitled to the relief asked under the terms of the contract, unless it shall appear that the contract was first violated upon the part of complainant, and that by reason thereof complainant cannot invoke the aid of a court of equity for its enforcement in the respect sought in this action.

I have carefully read the various affidavits and correspondence, and am unable to find from the evidence that respondent has shown a breach of the contract upon the part of complainant. Respondent's claim is that their contract gave them the exclusive right as jobbers within certain territory for a certain period of time, and that complainant violated this provision of the contract by furnishing the articles to other jobbers within such territory.

As stated, I am unable to find from the evidence offered that complainant did give to respondent the exclusive right to job the machines within the territory designated.

Such being the case, a temporary order of injunction will be granted as prayed, upon complainant executing to respondent a bond to be approved by the Clerk of the Court, with the usual conditions, in the sum of $5,000; such bond to be given within ten days.

AMONG THE JOBBERS.

THE MacGowan Cycle Company, of New Haven, Conn., has been succeeded by the Pardee-Ellenberger Company.

The Ray Company now has stores in four-teen cities.

The Rauland Company, at Fulton and Duffield streets, Brooklyn, has been succeeded by Chapman & Co.

The Pittsburg Phonograph Co. has removed to 937 Liberty avenue, Pittsburg.

The Theo. F. Bentel Co., of Pittsburg, is now located at 433 Wood street.

The Ray Company branch at Cincinnati has removed from 308 Walnut street to 143 W. 5th street, and the Ray Company branch at Nashville has moved from 606 Church street to 30 The Arcade.

OUR PHONOGRAPH HAND-BOOK.

SINCE the reduction in the price of the Hand-book of the Phonograph from seventy-five cents to fifty we have had an increased demand for it. We still have a supply on hand and can fill trade orders for it. The book contains 180 pages of information and ninety illustrations about the Phonograph, Record making and kindred topics. It is bound in buckram, with board covers.

WILLIE WISELY'S WAY.

Mrs. Wisely—John, I was just reading about a man who traded his wife for a phonograph. Now isn't that horrible?

Mr. Wisely—Not at all, Mary; a phonograph will not talk without winding. He knew his business.—N. Y. Evening Sun.

SUSPENDED LIST, APRIL 1, 1903,—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

KANSAS.

LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DEWOLFF.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
R. L. CORWIN, also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway, also Philadelphia, Pa.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 209 Broadway.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
STAR CREDIT CO., or Paul Sacks, 180 East Houston st. and 57 Third ave.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
UHRICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—P. F. MOORE.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus.

A NEW NATIONAL AIR.

"MY Own United States," the patriotic song from "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," promises to become a national air of this country. It is now being sung in hundreds of the public schools in all sections and its popularity is growing with wonderful rapidity. Both music and words are very stirring, especially when sung by a chorus. This song was listed by this Company in February and the demand for it has been large.

CORRECT GROSS WEIGHTS.

Changes in the equipment and manner of packing have from time to time changed the gross weights of the several styles of the Phonograph. The correct weights are given in the following table.

'Gem.....	22 lbs.	1 case
Standard.....	50 "	"
Home.....	70 "	"
'Triumph.....	90 "	"
Concert.....	135 "	2 cases
Excelsior.....	100 "	"
Bijou.....	68 "	"
Ajax.....	420 "	4 "
Climax.....	335 "	3 "
Triton.....	85 "	1 case

TRADE OPINIONS ON THE MONTHLY.

The Pittsburg Phonograph Co.:—

We have gone over the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and are much pleased with its contents, as it gives a great deal of condensed information and in connection the advanced list of new moulded records, which makes it a very useful and attractive sheet.

I. W. Maple, Ridgeway, Mo.:—

I received first copy of PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. Have read every word and find it full of valuable information. Will be pleased to receive it regularly.

L. S. Porter, Brockton, Mass.:—

Vol. I, No. 1, EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, at hand. It's just what I wanted to see. Long may it live.

C. W. Noyes, Iten & Co., Cincinnati, O.:—

I beg to acknowledge receipt of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. I really think this paper will be greatly appreciated by Phonograph dealers in general. The only suggestion I might make that would improve the MONTHLY would be to give us more of it. I was very sorry to reach the last page. I hope it may grow each month and develop finally into a magazine of twenty-five or thirty pages. I feel sure that there is enough news in the Phonographic world to fill this much space in small type.

James A. Speed, Newfields, N. H.:—

No. 1 of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY at hand. Thanks. I think this is just what the trade has wanted for a long time. It will put the retail trade in touch with the home office, and keep all hands posted as to what is doing and will be done.

Douglas & Co., New York City:—

We commend your enterprise in issuing the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, which should be of great assistance to both Jobbers and Dealers.

Morley Bros., Saginaw, Mich.:—

We are in receipt of the No. 1 EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, which meets our hearty commendation.

J. H. Snyder, Uhrichsville, O.:—

The EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is immense and is something we have been looking for. Every Jobber and Dealer should be proud of it. I for one will not leave a stone unturned to make it a success. * * * We are all one family, and children should assist the father. Let us all put our heads and ideas together and note the results.

C. S. Perkins, Bishopville, N. H.:—

Am very much pleased with the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and hope that it will be continued. Would say that it keeps the Dealers in touch with ideas and improvements and gives notice of all advertising matter about to be published.

Albert Palmer, Garrett, Ind.:—

It is with pleasure I can say that I am very much taken up with the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, and it will be an ever looked for and welcome visitor at my place of business. I am putting all my time in selling Edison goods, for I think there is no other like them. I am doing all I can to advertise them. I will tell you about how many Edison Records I have sold in a city of about 4,500 people. I have sold in the past year over 3,000 Records. How is that for doing business?

H. A. Richards, Parry Harbor, Ont.:—

I think that the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is a good move in the right direction. Think that thoexchange column will be all right.

J. B. Rich, Hobart, N. Y.:—

The first copy of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY received. It is just what Dealers in Phonographs and Phonograph goods want. You ask for suggestions and criticisms. If the new MONTHLY is worth anything it is worth preserving. I would suggest that you have a cheap binder made that will hold twenty-four numbers with cord in the back so that each number can be put in the binder when received. Send it only to Dealers interested who will ask for it, or, if you wish, who will pay for it. Should you decide to get out a binder just me down for the first copy. I will pay the price. [We will look into this matter. —Advg. Dept.]

Henry Ros, Jersey City, N. J.:—

I received the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and carefully noted contents. I think that it fills a long felt want, as it will keep the Dealers in close touch with the "National."

J. W. Dilbeck, Marrilton, Ark.:—

Your first copy of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY received. Please accept Thanks for the same. I like it much better than the Phonogram.

N. C. Hall, Fort Worth, Texas:—

I have just received a copy of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. Thanks. It is just what the Dealer needs. I am very much pleased with your method of assisting the Dealers. The Edison Phonograph is the only talking machine of real merit on the market. There is a constantly growing demand for it.

J. Anderson, Stromsburg, Neb.:—

The new EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY received, which I think is all right. Am glad to see that the prices on Edison goods are to be maintained.

Wesley T. Harrison, Williamstown, Ky.:—

I have the pleasure of acknowledging the receipt of your paper, Vol. 1, No. 1, and have carefully read every word of same. I believe that it will be of great benefit to Dealers.

Robert F. Storey, Mt. Holly, N. J.:—

I am in receipt of a copy of the first issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, and I was very much pleased with it.

The Musical Supply Co., South Bend, Ind.:—

The first copy of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is certainly a welcome visitor. We have felt the necessity of something of its nature for some time. The advance list of records is certainly desirable, and I don't see how a Dealer could get along without it. It is needless to say that although we handle all makes, the Edison Machine and Record sales lead to one. We keep all the machines and over five hundred Edison Records in stock, and are fast securing the entire trade of northern Indiana.

JOBBERS OF PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

The following is a list of firms in the various cities of the United States and Canada who are handling Edison Phonographs and Records as Jobbers:

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2021 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Ray Co., 54 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Pioter Buckgnall, 933 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., California and 16th streets.
Western Phonograph Co., 649 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Cushing & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Pardee-Ellenberger Co., 135 Orange st.

GEORGIA.

Atlanta—The Ray Co., 6 S. Broad street.
Savannah—The Ray Co., 126-128 Barnard street.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Oscar J. Iverge, 245 E. Chicago avenue.
Kelley Clarke & Co., 1 Chicago avenue.
James I. Lyons, 13 Fifth avenue.
The Ray Co., 97 Washington street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 207 Madison street.
The Von Co., 56 & 58 Lake street.
Woodmansee & Co., 222 Michigan ave.
Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 312 S. Adams street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Kipp Bros. Co., 72 S. Meridian street.
The Ray Co., 83 Massachusetts avenue.
Wahl & Co., 45 E. Illinois street.
Lafayette—Wahl & Sandt, 30 Main street.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 620 Fourth avenue.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 628 Hawley street.
The Ray Co., 111 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—Bangor Phonograph Co.
Portland—W. H. Cole & Son, 507 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 2 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 176 Tremont street.
J. C. Haynes & Co., 235 Washington street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 165 Washington street.
Read & Read, 256 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Fitchburg Sporting Goods Co.
Lowell—Geo. H. Gilson Co., 222 Merrimack street.
Thomas Wardell, 121 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 106 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 225 Woodward avenue.
Russell Phonograph Co., 168 Griswold street.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 232 Nicollet avenue.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 12 E. 5th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1052-1055 Main street.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1112 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 305 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. E. Sidles Cycle Co., 1215 O street.
Omaha—H. E. Fredricksen, 1500-1502 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 1316 and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 306 Washington street.
Newark—H. J. Koehler Sporting Goods Co., 845 Broad street.
A. G. Spalding & Bros., 48 New street.
Paterson—James L. Dykes, 122 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank L. C. Martin Auto. Co., 320 Park avenue.
Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
A. D. Matthews' Sons, 394 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1224 Broadway.
Buffalo—F. A. Powers, 643 Main street.
Elmira—The Ray Co., 117 Main street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co.
Kingston—Forsyth & Davis.
New York City—Jacobus & Kemp Co., 38 Vesey street.
Bettini Phonograph Co., 120 Fifth ave.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 29 Dreckman street.
J. H. Bunnell & Son, 149 street and 3d avenue.
I. Hevzer, Jr., 892 Third avenue.
S. B. Davega, 32 E. 14th street.
Douglas & Co., 89 Chambers street.
E. R. Graves, 1123 Fifth avenue.
Hacker & Dorn, 1 E. 125th street.
Harry Jackson, 2986 Third avenue and 790 Eleventh avenue.
Inzer Music Box Co., 39 Union Square.
Lloyd D. Ramsey, 1061 Second avenue.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
Rochester—Mackie Hunt & M. Co., 100 State street.
Talking Machine Co., 99 E. Main street.
Schenectady—Jay A. Rickard & Co., 233 State street.
Syracuse—C. A. Andrews, 216 E. Radford street.
Troy—James Lee, 2 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark, Horrocks & Co., 34 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelman Co., 226 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Iten & Co., 24 W. 4th street.
The Ray Co., 121 West 5th street.
Cleveland—The Ray Co., 965 Erie street.
W. J. Roberts, Jr., 254-256 Arcade.
Columbus—Perry B. Wilson, 1 N. High street.
Dayton—Nicholas & Bosse, 31 E. 4th street.
East Liverpool—Smith & Phillips Pub. Co.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Bruno, 1 Federal street.
Allentown—G. C. Aschbach, 539 Hamilton street.
Easton—William Warner, 401 Northampton street.
Philadelphia—C. J. Heppe & Son, 1217 Chestnut street.
Penn Phonograph Co., 19 S. 9th street.
Talking Machine Co., 41 N. 9th street.
Western Electric Co., 930-932 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 1021 Market street.
Pittsburg—Theo. F. Bentel Co., Inc., 433 Wood street.
Keating & Co., Diamond alley and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 201 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Meller Co., 309 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 632 Liberty street.
Reading—Light Phonograph Co., 641 Penn street.
Reading Phonograph Co., 641 Penn street.
Scranton—Charles B. Scott, 119 Franklin avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. A. Foster Co., Weybossett and Dorrance streets.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., 46-50 Pine street.

TENNESSEE.

Knoxville—Reynolds Phonograph Co., 519 Clinch st.
Memphis—The Ray Co., 82 Monroe building.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 317 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—G. B. Harris, Agt., 247 Main street.
Waco—Waco Electric Supply Co., 518 Austin avenue.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 729 Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 197 3d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons, 143 Yonge street.

LOVERS of MUSIC LOVE The EDISON

PHONOGRAPH

The PHONOGRAPH is the only machine that satisfies the musical ear. Those who judge the PHONOGRAPH by the old styles, or by other "talking machines," should visit the nearest dealer and hear Mr. Edison's marvelous improvements, that produce this perfect result.

PHONOGRAPH Catalogues and Record Lists are Free at all dealers. Five thousand stores sell PHONOGRAPHS. Nine Styles, $10.00 to $100.00. Records 50c; $5.00 per dozen.

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY
Orange, New Jersey
New York, 83 Chambers St. Chicago, 304 Wabash Ave. San Francisco, 933 Market St. Europe, 31 Rempart Saint Georges, Antwerp, Belgium.

APRIL ADVERTISING.

THE advertisement of the NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY will appear in the following publications in April:

Ainslie's.
Argosy.
Bookman.
Brown Book.
Century.
Collier's Weekly.
Commercialist.
Craftsman.
Current Literature.
Four-Track News.
Harper's Magazine.
Life.
Lippincott's.
McClure's.
Metropolitan.
Musical Record and Review.
Munsey's.
National Magazine.
New Era Magazine Supplements.
Outdoor Life.
Outlook.
Overland.
Pearson's.
Review of Reviews.
Saturday Evening Post.
Science and Industry.
Scientific American.
Scribner's.
Smart Set.
Strand.
Success.
Sunset Magazine.
Town Topics.
World's Work.

This means that nearly 6,000,000 homes in the United States and Canada will have an opportunity of knowing about the Edison Phonograph and Edison Records. It means an immense amount of publicity for our goods, all of which goes to the benefit of the Jobbers and Dealers, since we sell only through the trade and have no retail stores anywhere. Having done this much to popularize the products of Mr. Edison's genius, it only remains for the trade to do such advertising in local, daily or weekly papers, street cars, etc., as will tell the public in their localities where Edison Phonographs and Records may be had. We have found that the dealer who does the most advertising in this way is the one who is doing the most business and who is way ahead of his less enterprising competitor.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. 1. NEW YORK, MAY, 1903. No. 3.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 31 REMPART SAINT GEORGES.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

A New Agreement 1, 3
Advance List June Records 2
Our Export Trade 3
New Lift Mechanism on the Standard..... 4
A Dealer's Frank Comparison 4
Edison's Favorite Invention 5, 6, 7
About Local Advertising 7
The Commercial Phonograph 7
An Every Day Experience 8
To Make Records in the Arctic Regions.. 8
Important Notice..... 8
About Printed Matter 9
More Comments on the Monthly..... 9
What Madame Albani Said of the Phonograph 10
Pointers on the June List 11
Trading Stamps a Violation of the Agreement 12
Mr. Logue to Come East 12
No More Trade Mark Electros 12
Form Numbers of Printed Matter 12
Dealers Who Will Co-operate 13
Suspended List 13
Edison Laboratory and Works of the National Phonograph Co., Orange, N. J., 14
Jobbers in Edison Goods 15
Talking Machine as an Aid..... 16
May Advertising 16

One mail on May 7 brought us forty-eight different orders from one Jobber. This shows that in spite of the statements of competing companies there is still "something doing" in Edison goods. This lot of orders establishes a record as to number received at one time from one Jobber.

A NEW AGREEMENT.
HOW IT AFFECTS JOBBERS.

A new Agreement between the National Phonograph Company and the various Jobbers in Edison Phonographs and Records is now being signed by the latter. It is dated May 1, and will go into effect July 1. One of its most important new provisions is the naming of a fixed amount of business that must be done each year to enable a firm to continue to get Jobbers' discounts. At the same time the amount of the initial order to be placed by a Jobber has been increased. These changes have been made with a view of protecting Jobbers so that it will not be possible for a firm to buy a Jobber's quantity when taking up the line and then do practically only a retail business afterwards. In a word the Company is endeavoring to compel firms to do a jobbing business in order to get and continue to receive Jobbers' discounts. Other changes are shown in the following notice, which is being laid before every Jobber when asked to sign the new Agreement:

NOTICE.

Before signing AGREEMENT handed you herewith, we would call your particular attention to the following changes in PRICE LIST and CONDITIONS OF SALE, as compared with PRICE LIST and CONDITIONS OF SALE heretofore in effect:

1st.—That the special price of Five Dollars ($5.00) per dozen on Edison Records (Standard size) applies only when a full dozen or more is purchased at one time.

2d.—In paragraph No. 3, that in order to secure the same purchasing the required amount of business, signing AGREEMENT, etc., they must have an established STORE in which to display and handle our goods, before they are entitled to Dealers' discounts.

3d.—In paragraph No. 4, that we will accept 5 per cent. of the gross sales for 1902 as the amount to be given to Dealers, and furnish a copy thereof to the National Phonograph Company upon request.

4th.—In paragraph No. 6. That the allowance for old Records taken in exchange for new Edison Records sold at full retail list price of 50 cents each, must not exceed 10 cents per Record.

5th.—In paragraph No. 14. That all Dealers established by you, on AGREEMENT, properly signed, MUST be forwarded at ONCE. Such AGREEMENT must also bear the signature of a witness.

(Continued on page 3.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF JUNE RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS FOR JUNE, 1903

TWENTY DOMESTIC TITLES
ONE FOREIGN TITLE

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near June 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to May 20th, will be shipped.

June Supplements will bear the date of June 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to June Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

DOMESTIC

8404 Spring of Love Violin and flute duet Eugene Jaudas & Louis Atz
8405 Won't You Roll Dem Eyes Arthur Collins
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment
8406 Up the Street March Edison Concert Band
8407 If I But Knew William H. Thompson
Sentimental song from the Sultan of Sulu
8408 The Mississippi Bubble Banjo Vess L. Ossman
8409 In the Valley where the Bluebirds Sing Byron G. Harlan
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment
8410 My Country 'Tis of Thee Quartette Edison Male Quartette
8411 Julie Serio-comic song from Mr. Blue Beard Edward M. Favor
8412 Down Where the Wurzburger Flows Medley J. F. Hopkins
Introducing Susie Anno, Xylophone solo with orchestra accompaniment
8413 Long Ago Sentimental song Arthur Clifford
8414 Capidietta Intermezzo Peerless Orchestra
8415 Down at Lover's Roost Waltz song Harry MacDonough
8416 Butterfly Gavotte Edward F. Rubsam
Bell solo with orchestra accompaniment
8417 Hebrew Vaudeville Specialty Julian Rose
Introducing parody on When the Boys Go Marching By 8418 Sing, Smile, Slumber (Gounod) Cornet Rohumir Kryl
8419 In the Starlight Contralto and basso duet Miss Morgan & Mr. Stanley
8420 Little Dinah Jones J. F. Hopkins
Xylophone solo with orchestra accompaniment
8421 Ma Starlight Sue Male duet W. H. Thompson & Albert Campbell
8422 Refuge Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette
8423 Hebrew Vaudeville Specialty Julian Rose
Introducing parody on Go 'Way Back and Sit Down

FOREIGN

12813 to 12826. These are 14 Japanese titles, about which a special circular will be issued in June. (The numbers are inserted here to keep the list complete.)
12827 Kol Nidre. Hebrew religious song Frank Selden

Edison Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

(Continued from page 1.)

We bring these changes to your attention, owing to the numerous complaints recently received in connection therewith, and to give you notice that for any further violation of these particular clauses, immediate action will be taken and the Jobber so violating will be liable to immediate suspension, as well as such legal action as the case may warrant.

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY.

New York, May 1, 1903.

HOW DEALERS ARE AFFECTED.

The changes affecting Dealers are shown by the following notice, a copy of which is attached to every Agreement that Jobbers will lay before Dealers prior to July 1:

NOTICE.

Before signing AGREEMENT handed you herewith, we would call your particular attention to the following changes in PRICE LIST and CONDITIONS OF SALE, as compared with PRICE LIST and CONDITIONS OF SALE heretofore in effect:

1st.—That the special price of Five Dollars ($5.00) per dozen on Edison Records (Standard size) applies only when a full dozen or more is purchased at one time.

2nd.—That in taking up our line you must have an established STORE suitable to display and handle same.

3rd.—In paragraph No. 4. That the allowance for old Records, taken in exchange for new Edison Records sold at full retail list price of 50 cents each, must not exceed fifteen (15) cents each.

We bring these changes to your attention, owing to the numerous complaints recently received in connection therewith, and to give you notice that for any further violation of these particular clauses, immediate action will be taken and the Dealer so violating will be liable to immediate suspension, as well as such legal action as the case may warrant.

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY.

New York, May 1, 1903.

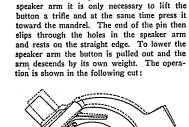
The changes in both Jobbers' and Dealers' agreements are only such as the experience of the past few years have shown are essential to the proper continuance of the system under which Edison Phonographs and Records are sold—a system that time has demonstrated is one of the best in use in connection with any line of business. We believe that the entire trade will concur in the wisdom of these changes.

The price of $5 00 per dozen on Edison records can be allowed only when a full dozen, or more, are purchased at one time, or actually paid for in advance.

The Edison Phonograph was given much unsolicited advertising throughout Japan in March and April through the presentation of a Phonograph to the Emperor of Japan by Mr. Edison, mention of which was made in the March MONTHLY. The presentation was referred to in all the Japanese papers. Some of the articles were copied in Japanese papers published in San Francisco, and these in turn found their way into American papers.

OUR EXPORT TRADE.

The demand for Edison Phonographs and Records in Europe, South America and Australia is rapidly becoming one of the important features of our business. During the past year the business of our Foreign Department was more than double what it was the year before and a still greater impetus has been given the export trade since James H. White went to Antwerp, Belgium, as manager of sales for Europe. The Continent for some time has been flooded with talking machines of crude construction and doing imperfect work—the kind of devices that have caused many persons to feel prejudiced against talking machines in general. These cheap machines have not reached South America to the same extent, and the Edison Phonograph has long been the most popular instrument of its kind in that country. The people in various countries of Europe are rapidly awakening to the fact that the Phonograph is in a class by itself. Its fame as a sweet and satisfactory musical instrument has become so general in the past year that it has not been possible for months to make Phonographs fast enough to meet the demand. The sale of Records has been no less satisfactory than the demand for machines. Edison Phonographs and Records seem destined to have a splendid future in foreign countries.



WHY A LARGE DEPARTMENT STORE BECAME JOBBERS IN EDISON GOODS.

The hold that the Edison Phonograph has upon the public was again demonstrated during April, when one of the largest department stores in the country, located in a large Eastern city, came to us voluntarily, and without solicitation became Jobbers in our goods, placing one of the largest initial orders ever received by this Company. The firm referred to had been handling goods of a competing company and the fact was recently given wide publicity. And yet so many calls were made upon them for Edison Phonographs and Edison Records that their business judgment caused them to become Jobbers in our goods.

Dealers whose names are not now on our mailing list correctly are requested to send their proper addresses to the Advertising Department. Every month we learn of errors of this kind in our mail list and realize that there must be others of which we have no knowledge.

NEW LIFT MECHANISM ON THE STANDARD PHONOGRAPH.

All Standard Phonographs now being shipped from our factory at Orange are equipped with a new lift mechanism, which is extremely simple in operation. It takes the place of the old style lift lever. Instead of the latter there is a button attached to a movable pin which passes through holes in the lower end of the speaker arm. To raise the speaker arm it is only necessary to lift the button a trifle and at the same time press it toward the mandrel. The end of the pin then slips through the holes in the speaker arm and rests on the straight edge. To lower the speaker arm the button is pulled out and the arm descends by its own weight. The operation is shown in the following cut:

The solid lines show the speaker arm lowered for reproducing, and the dotted lines the arm raised and the pin resting on the straight edge. It will be noticed that the sliding pin has a lug on each side which prevents it from pulling out or passing in too far.

RECORD SHIPMENTS.

Although our factory worked day and night we were not able to complete the shipments of March Records till May 1st. The manufacture of April Records is already under way and we hope to get them all shipped before May 20. The May list will then follow immediately. An effort will be made to get June Records out soon after June 1, and to get back to normal conditions by July. We believe that with the increased factory facilities now under way there will be no repetition in the future of the delay of the past two months.

Jobbers or Dealers violate their Agreement when they give trading stamps with Edison Phonographs or Records.

A DEALER'S FRANK COMPARISON.

We are in receipt of an attractively printed circular from a New York city Dealer. which, after referring to the good qualities of the Edison Phonograph makes the following comparison between cylinder and disk machines:

On these machines [the Edison Phonograph] records can be made as easily as they can be reproduced and they can be erased, and the surface made ready for the reception of a new record many times. The Phonograph is quite different from the so-called Disk Machine in this respect. In order to make a record on a Disk Machine, it must be made by an expensive and complicated recording device, supplemented by a cumbersome and intricate process, nor can the disk be again used if the record becomes worn or the subject matter unserviceable.

In the use of this last machine it is necessary to renew the little steel needles which trace the sound waves, with each change of record, while on the Phonograph, the reproducing point is a sapphire ball which is permanent. The hard flat disk can be handled roughly and will stand misuse that would ruin a wax cylinder; but so will a street piano stand usage that would ruin a fine piano, while at the same time it is louder. The buyer of a fine Phonograph does not buy records to throw on the floor, or at the cat. The Phonograph records are for the purpose of reproducing the most delicate phenomena in nature—Sound Waves.

The undersigned having secured the agency for the sale of the only desirable Talking Machine—The Edison Phonograph, are prepared to furnish you with one or more of these instruments for cash or on the easy payment plan of One Dollar Weekly. Send for catalogue and prices, or if you find it inconvenient to call, our representative will call on you with an instrument and demonstrate their superiority over all other talking machines.

DEMOREST SEWING MACHINE Co.
M. L. Gregson, Proprietor,
153 West 23d Street, New York City.

The selling of Edison Records by card system, whereby the price of $5.00 per dozen is eventually allowed, but where a full dozen records are not purchased, or paid for, at one time, is a violation of contract.

In the March MONTHLY comment was made upon No. 8349, "Dream of the Tyrollene," a violin and flute duet by Eugene Jaudas and Louis Ate, which was included in the March Records. The statements then made have been fully confirmed by the public. All who have heard the Record pronounce it one of the sweetest ever made for the Phonograph or any other style of talking machine. Every Phonograph owner will want it in his collection.

EDISON'S FAVORITE INVENTION.

By Joe Mitchell Chapple.

The following interesting article on the Phonograph appeared in the May issue of the National Magazine, accompanied by a full page picture of Mr. Edison:

Of all the names to conjure with, in a horoscope of the present century, none surpasses that of Thomas Alva Edison. When I entered his laboratory at Orange, New Jersey, I felt that it was truly a shrine of the great inventive genius of the age.

There I saw the Wizard, just one day past his fifty-sixth birthday, mixing a substance in a mortar, pestle in hand, more with the air of an absorbed and concentrated workman than of the great inventor of an age. Attired in a light gray suit covered with stains of real labor, with spectacles focused well down on his nose, he was involved in the intricacies of a new process of making Portland cement so as to bring the price within the range of a commercial necessity.

There is a gentle and sweet winsomeness in the smile of Thomas A. Edison that is attractive. His blue eyes light up, and there is an expression of kindness in his countenance that one seldom sees in the face of a man. He left his work and took me through an arsenal of chemicals, compounds and contrivances to a quiet corner, where, on plain stools, we could talk. Mr. William E. Gilmore, the president and manager of the National Phonograph Company, was with me, and it was plain to see where the successful alliance has been formed that has caused the Edison phonograph so great and so complete a commercial success.

As he leaned back on the bench from his stool, Mr. Edison began to talk in his own quaint methodical way, with an expressive twitch of the mouth and shoulders by way of emphasis. He is slightly deaf, which he minds but little, as do those with him, and his voice has a gentle softness that is charming. His keen eye catches the words and expressions so quickly that one soon forgets that the ears of the man who invented the phonograph, as well as a thousand other things, do not absorb every sound of articulation. Perhaps he hears just enough to concentrate his attention only on things that count.

My first interrogation as to his favorite invention child, among the long array of his brain creations, elicited a prompt reply.

"The phonograph—the phonograph, by all means!" he exclaimed, with the enthusiasm of a lad with his first kite. "It has been a long time since the first phonograph, as we count time nowadays, and improvements come every day; but I think I have accomplished more the past year on it than in any of the years before. My ambition is to have it so perfect that it will reproduce your Boston symphonies to perfection, giving the distinct intonation of every instrument.

"Yes sir, the Edison Phonograph has more than a commercial mission to perform, although that is the first practical point we seek. It will make American homes brighter and more cheerful and attractive. If we can produce them so cheaply that they can go into every home and bring the little circle in touch with the greatest music and oratory of all time, I shall esteem a life's work well repaid. These long winter evenings, in the solitude of isolated homes—I knew what they were as a boy—there is where the real character of the individual is determined."

It was plain to see that in this laboratory, containing almost all, if not all, the known substances on earth; from lima beans, cotton skins, chemicals, including every known mineral ranging from kalium, that ignites water and is preserved in benzine, to radium, ten times as valuable as gold; there was a Wizard who worked with real things, as well as with ideas. This has been the great characteristic of Mr. Edison's work. He has practicalized products as well as projects, and produced them at a cost that has brought them within the ranges of every day use, as he did the incandescent light. I shall never look upon an electric light again without recalling a picture of the modest man who made it all possible.

When asked as to how he came to invent the phonograph, he replied in his grimly humorous way:

"All things within reason are possible, if you keep at them long enough, but the phonograph when first discovered, was as great a surprise to me as it is to the world. I was working on some telephone receivers and observed that the point moved and made a whirring sound, as it does recording a telegraph message. I put a piece of tin foil on a cylinder and it recorded sound, a whirring noise, that seemed to me, then, almost articulate. From that moment, I was convinced that sound could be practically recorded and reproduced.

"In those days, I used to make a rough draft of my ideas on paper, and mark the price on the paper for the boys to produce the machine according to specifications. Sometimes it was sixty dollars—sometimes it was ninety dollars. The question of profits never entered their heads. They made it. Sometimes it was a profit for a day's work, other times a loss of a month. But dear old John Kruesi, who recently died at Schenectady, made my first phonograph for me, and his quaint, German-accented comments to broken English were always cheery and optimistic. We took it in a box to the office of the Scientific American in New York. I had recorded the verse—

Mary had a little lamb,
Its fleece was white as snow,
And everywhere that Mary went,
The lamb was sure to go,—

and the reproduction of my own voice sounded almost supernatural at first. Of course the articulation was not especially distinct—unless you knew what the words were—but it revealed the wonderful possibilities in the perfection of the work performed on that piece of tin foil."

Those who recall the days when Edison introduced the first phonograph, remember the tremendous sensation it occasioned. Here he was twenty years after, as enthusiastic as ever, and at work on the same machine, the Edison phonograph, which has echoed the human voice in every country on earth. The original plant of the Phonograph Company was a modest beginning, which has been added to, building by building, until now it covers acres and requires the work of thousands of skilled artisans, night and day, to supply the demand for machines and records. At first it was thought the phonograph would be only a fad, a curiosity; but to-day it has developed into a household article, as essential to the home as organ or piano.

The front part of Mr. Edison's famous laboratory, which is connected direct with the works of the Phonograph Company, is a large library and museum with several lofts. In the center are the bits of statuary and a business-like array of desks; for the great inventor can come right from his chemical tests, or electric elaborations, or forge and smithy, and dip into a patent law question or a bit of legal transaction with the poise and equanimity that he passes from one experiment to another.

Behind a net-work of iron bars, in the adjoining room, is a collection of almost every known material and substance—a soet of scientific Noah's Ark. To inventory this collection, or rather to collect it direct from the markets of the world, would represent a sum far into the millions, and the various articles there would run up into many thousands; and yet Edison could tell you where every box or bottle was located, and almost go to it in the dark. He lives, breathes and has his being in his laboratory, and a few couches scattered about would indicate his desire to sleep there for the few hours of rest he requires.

Always at it—usually at it—never quitting —and with the genius to see clear through propositions pronounced impossible, this seems to state concisely the genius of Mr. Edison.

"It is the simple things that stagger," he resumed. "They are so simple that they are overlooked, oftentimes, by the inventor and scientist. The most wonderful achievements are small things that men have been stumbling over for centuries past, and generations to come will likely have similar things to say of us."

Here a forge, there a cauldron, and here an oven; here a room with delicate electrical appliances; opposite, a complete X-ray outfit; in an adjoining room a regiment of draftsmen, poring over blue prints. On one floor a gigantic machine shop, with chemical appliances interspersed. Here on a bench are several pieces of plate glass on brown paper, on which the inventor has been scraping with his knife. All this great establishment in connection with the Phonograph plant, from gigantic castings to the most delicate films; for experimenting and testing the plans and ideas of the great Edison. In this one initial workshop were evolved and perfected the ideas which have created great industrial plants all over the world and given enjoyment to millions. All from the genius of the one modest, gray-haired man, who goes apparently at random from one thing to another in that gigantic chemical, mechanical, electrical museum, as impulse leads him. Every stage of the work is carefully noted, recorded, discussed and argued, for there is no time lost by Thomas A. Edison in taking up the threads of his work.

A pen picture of Thomas A. Edison cannot be made without telling of his phonograph, for that is the one thing upon which his greatest personal enthusiasm concentrates. Those who have Edison's phonograph have what has done more than any other one thing to contribute to his greatness. The early records, containing the voice of Gladstone and Bismarck, were a priceless heritage, only recently destroyed by accident; the voice of William McKinley is preserved by the Edison phonograph for future ages. The phonograph now supplies the part of instructor in all the modern languages. And all this is the result of the keen but kindly blue-eyed man, whose vim and inventive genius first comprehended all of the great and almost bewildering commercial possibilities of what was at first regarded chiefly as a toy of scientific investigation, or a laboratory exhibit.

Since 1881 Mr. Gilmore, the present president and general manager of the Edison Phonograph Company, has been associated with the Edison interests, but it was not until 1894 that he became the head of the Phonograph Company. He has seen the magic development of the phonograph under the master's genius. Perhaps no man is closer to Thomas A. Edison than the president of the National Phonograph Company, and it is he who has made a commercial triumph of the invention. The industry now gives employment to 1,500 in this one company alone, and the process of manufacture is an interesting and fascinating study of the full voltage of an Edison idea, once it enters the arena of industrial development.

The array of automatic machines, singing their busy songs in "making the parts" as if by some great invisible directing force; the assembling of the various parts; the nickeling vats; the japanning room; even to the boxing and crating of the various types of machines, labeled for all parts of the world, is a scene beyond the wildest prophecy of a century ago.

The Edison phonograph is more than a mere article of commerce. It has a moral influence in the charm it lends to the glow of the home circle, and has become more than the National Edison phonograph—it is truly international. The triumph of American commercial designs is inseparably linked with the inventions of Edison. Thousands, with the aid of the phonograph, are mastering the languages, to enlist in the conquest of trade, who would feel that they could not afford the time or expense of a tutor.

To me the most fascinating portion of the great Edison phonograph plant was the record-making building, where the magnificent records are being made. Here was Kryl, the great cornetist, with hat and coat off—his collar unloosed, his long hair flowing, pouring the masterly strains into a funnel, beside which stood two operators, watching minutely every detail.

A slight error is made, which to an audience would pass unnoticed, but Kryl shakes his locks—the record is destroyed, and he begins all over playing a strain that in a short time is to echo all over the world. The accompanist at the piano, placed on a high platform to bring the sound within the range of the large trumpet, patiently repeats the interludes.

There are rooms fitted up for brass bands, vocal choruses and orchestras with elevations adjusted according to the science of sound, to get the best possible results for the records. There are chimes of bells, in fact, all of the properties of a theatre, for here the indelible record is made that time cannot wither. It is marvelous how this great department is kept busy to supply the world with something new for every hour of the day. Years ago the new piece of sheet music was purchased after its popularity was assured; now it is the new record that takes up the main burden of the distribution of popular airs.

The new records are of much darker color than formerly, and are much more loud and distinct. A contrast of records recently made and those made a year ago, showed a marked improvement, and with Mr. Edison's watchful eye on the lookout for further advancement, one feels that the Edison will remain the standard phonograph of the times. The records are now electrotyped in gold, so that they are all virtually and actually "originals," instead of reproductions, as formerly. The whole process is so simple when once understood as to be startling, and, as Mr. Edison remarked, "It's strange that it was not made a practical success before."

Scattered through the various departments, from X-ray to machine lathe room, are those rough pencil drafts, made by Mr. Edison. His drawings have nothing of the polished finish and exactness of the blue print in the drafting room, but they have the vitality of the great and yet simple idea. These drafts are made oft-times to show the impossibility as well as possibility of a project. And in all the range of ideas from the first tin-foil record to the perfected wax record of 1903, Thomas A. Edison has surpassed even his own expectations in the phonograph. It is the one predominating hobby of his life, and with a phonograph in the home, every American home has a souvenir remembrance and record of that "Edison" which Edison considers the greatest achievement of his life.

ABOUT LOCAL ADVERTISING.

Occasionally a Dealer asks to have this Company do some advertising in his field for his special advantage. We are compelled by our policy to refuse such requests. If but a few Dealers were selling our goods we should take pleasure in making an advertising appropriation for the benefit of each, and we could afford to do the same for all. With over 5,000 Dealers in Edison Phonographs and Records the situation is very different. Our system does not permit one Dealer to have the slightest advantage over any other in selling our goods, and to be consistent we cannot show a few Dealers favors and deny them to the remainder. The utmost care is taken to see that no one is discriminated against in shipping goods or sending out printed matter. An appropriation of $50 for advertising each Dealer locally would be as small as it could be used to advantage, but even that amount to each Dealer would mean an additional expenditure yearly of over $250,000 —an expenditure quite out of the question. We think that Dealers will see the question in the same light as we do, and will realize that when we refuse to do local advertising it is because of a desire to maintain a consistent policy, and not because of the small amount that individual cases would involve.

MORE ABOUT THE COMMERCIAL PHONOGRAPH.

A private exhibition of the perfected Edison Commercial Phonograph was made in April before Mr. Edison, President William E. Gilmore, and the heads of our various departments. It was given a thorough trial and pronounced by all to be perfect. It must not be inferred from this, however, that the Commercial Phonograph is ready for the market. Such will not be the case for some months. Before even another machine can be made it will be necessary to build special machinery to manufacture a number of special parts. A sufficient number of the machines will then be made to equip all the departments of the National Phonograph Company. This will furnish a demonstration of the complete success of the Edison Commercial Phonograph. Just as soon as it can properly be done the machine and its methods of operation will be fully described in these columns.

APPROVES THE MARCH SELECTIONS.

Under date of May 4 the Pardee-Ellenberger Co., Jobbers in Edison Phonographs and Records at New Haven, wrote:

The March selections came duly to hand and they seem to have met with very general approval with the trade, if our orders are any indication. We have heard only good words for the list and want to compliment you on the quality of the goods and the character of the selections. Several of them, such as "Sweet and Low," "Monkey Shines on the Mobile Levee," and the "Symphia Waltz" are particularly fine. If this high standard is maintained there is no chance of Edison goods losing the prestige they already hold.

THE TRIUMPH A TRIUMPH INDEED.

T. W. Bether, a Dealer at Rushville, Ind., in a letter to his Jobber, Kipp Bros. Co., Indianapolis, Ind., said:

The Triumph Phonograph is certainly well deserving of its name, for it is certainly a triumph in the reproduction of music. The maker should certainly triumph over his achievements, and the possessor cannot help the triumphal feeling, which the Triumph Phonograph is bound to inspire in him when it plays. Long may the Edison lead.

AN EVERY DAY EXPERIENCE.

A New York Jobber tells an interesting story of an experience he had in selling an Edison Phonograph. He keeps in stock every make of talking machines. One day a gentleman asked to be shown a talking machine, naming the style he wanted. Its merits were fully explained, various airs were played upon it and a sale was soon made. The manager of the store, finding the customer could spare the time, played various other musical devices and concluded by playing a Moulded Record on an Edison Phonograph. The gentleman asked to have played on the Phonograph the same air he had heard on the other machine. Then he had the air replayed on the machine he had just bought. The outcome of the comparison was the repudiation of the order just placed and the purchase of an Edison Triumph Phonograph

The name of the Jobber having this experience and the name of the repudiated machine may be had from our Advertising Department by any one who doubts the story. There is little occasion, however, to doubt it, for it is an experience that many Dealers are having who carry Edison Phonographs and any other style of talking machines.

TO MAKE RECORDS IN THE ARCTIC REGIONS.

Captain J. E. Bernier, of Ottawa, Canada, will in a few months head an expedition to the Arctic regions that is being fitted out under the direction of the Canadian government. His outfit will include an Edison Phonograph, a lot of Records and a quantity of blanks. The entire outfit will be loaned Captain Bernier by the Jacot Music Box Co., of New York city. The Records will serve to amuse the explorers during the long Arctic nights and it is hoped with the blanks to make many interesting and valuable Records. One of Captain Bernier's officers will be given special instruction in Record making before the ship sails.

In acknowledging the receipt of the Suspended List sent out in April, Edwin C. Putnam, a Dealer at Millbury, Mass., wrote:

Can assure you we will co-operate with you in keeping the goods out of these people's hands. The stand that you take and people like you (The Eastman Kodak Co. for instance), is one of the best things in the world to induce retailers to push your goods. I used to sell * * * goods entirely, but for the last two years have not sold more than three of Edison Record anywhere for less than we can sell them, and it makes it more satisfactory for us and them too.

SAT UP ALL NIGHT TO LISTEN TO THE PHONOGRAPH.

A Michigan dealer sends the following interesting experience with reference to the sale of an Edison Phonograph:

GENTLEMEN:—I asked for and obtained the agency for selling the Edison Phonographs and Records from the Chicago House in March. My first order from the House was for three machines and 152 Records.

When the Phonographs arrived I started up the Triumph for one of my customers at 7.30 P. M. and it was run all night until 5.30 the next morning. One of the listeners was a lady who had given music lessons on the piano and organ for twenty-five years, and another was a gentleman who had led Orchestras and Brass Bands for over twenty years. Other listeners belonged to orchestras and bands and others were great lovers of fine music. So you see how the Edison Phonograph is appreciated here.

Very truly yours,

JAMES J. FAY, M. D.

Carleton, Mich., April 21, 1903.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The price of $3.00 per dozen, as quoted on Edison Records, applies and can be allowed only when a full dozen or more are purchased at one time. The use of a card system or any other method, whereby the dozen price ($3.00) is allowed on Records purchased in less quantity than one dozen, at one time, is a cut in price; therefore a violation of agreement. Any Dealer or Jobber violating Agreement in this manner, will be subject to immediate suspension and such further action as the case may warrant.

AMONG THE JOBBERS.

H. A. Weymann & Son, of Philadelphia, moved in April from 1022 Market street to 923 Market street.

The Betini Phonograph Laboratory, of New York city, moved on May 1 from 110 Fifth avenue to 80 Chambers street, opposite the office of the National Phonograph Company.

The Ray Company, of Louisville, during April opened branch stores at Kansas City, Mo., and Toledo, O.

Thomas C. Hough, of Minneapolis, Minn., has moved from 234 Nicollet avenue to 714 Hennepin avenue.

Dealers are urged to sign the new Agreement promptly and keep their names on our mailing list.

ABOUT PRINTED MATTER.

Among the new things in the way of printed matter is a pamphlet entitled "The Art of Making Phonograph Records." It is Form No. 497. The matter of successfully making Phonograph Records is so much a question of experiment and experience that no treatise can cover the subject thoroughly. The best that can be done is to offer general suggestions, and that is what our little booklet does. The subject is treated under the following heads: Introduction, Selecting a Recorder, Adjusting the Phonograph, Blank Cylinders, Concerning Horns, Making Talking Records, Vocal Records, Band Records, Violin, String Orchestra, Banjo and Mandolin Records; Vocal Duets and Quartettes. We want all Jobbers and Dealers to have a sufficient supply of these booklets to give one to every owner of an Edison Phonograph who is interested in making Records, but the edition at our disposal is not large enough to permit them being used for general circulation. A sample copy is being sent out with the April Supplements.

A new edition of Catalogue of Accessories and Coin-Slot Phonographs, Form 376, is now ready. It is simply a reprint of the catalogue now being used and contains no new matter. Jobbers will please use up those they have on hand before placing a new order.

Form 409, the card showing in colors the curious boy and his hatchet, and Form 414, the four-page machine folder, are in much demand by the trade.

The mails daily bring requests from Dealers for a supply of catalogues and other printed matter, but no instructions are given concerning shipping. We want every Dealer to have a reasonable quantity of catalogues, etc., and if he cannot get it from his Jobber we want him to write us. We feel, however, that when we make no charge for printed matter we have done all that can be expected of us and that Dealers should pay expressage. Catalogues are too heavy to send by mail and we cannot send them that way.

In a few days we shall send to every Dealer on our list an order entitling the holder to one of the celluloid show cards now being made by this Company, and upon presentation of this order any Jobber through whom the Dealer has signed will supply the card. If a Dealer buys direct, the card will be sent with the next goods shipped from the factory after the order is sent back to us. Jobbers will be instructed to send them to none but bona fide Dealers who have signed through them. This plan will get one of the cards in the hands of every Dealer and will avoid duplication.

After many delays the printer has delivered the eight-page booklet "Looking for the Band," about which the Jobbers were advised in February. Orders then placed, both for imprints and without, will be shipped before May 20. Further orders for this booklet, if not too large, will be filled to those in the trade who will agree to use in some specially nice way. The booklet shows the series of pictures of the two little girls "Looking for the Band" which were used on hanger No. 366. A sample copy will be mailed this month.

KIND WORDS ABOUT THE MONTHLY.

Theo. F. Bentel Co., Pittsburg, Pa.:

The EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, published exclusively for the benefit of the trade, came to us in due time, and we are very glad to receive it, as it contains some very valuable information, and the idea strikes us as an exceptionally good one, and removes any possibility of over-sight on the part of regular Jobbers in supplying Suspended Dealers. There are a number of other points that strike us as good ones, but this fact alone is worth the cost of the issue. Again congratulating you on the issue and hoping it will continue, we remain.

L. S. Atkinson, Tilton, N. H.:

Your new MONTHLY is all right and fills a long felt want.

Monroe S. North, Batavia, N. Y.:

I have found the first two copies of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY full of valuable information, and that is just what I want as I am young in the business, sixteen years of age.

Daniel R. Weed, Jr., Watkenson, N. Y.:

Have received the second issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and to show you my appreciation would say I would be willing to contribute to the support of it if I thought it was to be discontinued, and I think I voice the sentiment of many more admiring Dealers. The EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is the printing line is like the new Moulded Records in the Record line—the best on the market.

George E. Bues, New Philadelphia, O.:

I thank you very much for the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. It will, in my mind, keep the Phonograph world together.

E. N. Whitford, Great Cacapon, W. Va.:

Have just received the April number of PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, but you failed to send me the March number. Please send me one. I think you have done a splendid thing in issuing this journal as it will be a help to Dealers.

Turner & Kennerdell, Kittanning, Pa.:

Our April PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY does not contain page 2, giving the May list of Records. Kindly send us a complete number. The MONTHLY is of great value to the Dealer, and we do not want to miss any number or part of a number.

C. C. Bubenzer, Bunkie, La.:

I am in receipt of your PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, which I heartily welcome. I think this publication fills a long felt want.

Elmer O. Bechtelt, Germantown, O.:

I to-day received No. 2 of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY; and have derived much good from a careful perusal. I haven't received No. 1 and ask you to kindly send me same, so that I can keep a complete file of them.

Robert E. Snipes, Selma, N. C.:

I have received two issues of your PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and must say that much credit is due the promoters of this neat and helpful little volumes. It can prove nothing less than greatly beneficial to Phonograph Jobbers and Dealers at large.

W. A. Bowen, Kewanee, Ill.

We thank you for the compliment paid us in bringing our efforts out so nicely in placing our "ad" in your April EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. It's a fine publication. We wish you all kinds of success and predict that flattering results will follow in the furthering of your immense business. We carry other machines in stock because we cannot get rid of them or close them out at any price.

H. W. Kelly, Pittsburg, Pa.:

Your PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is just what was wanted to bring all the friends of the Phonograph together. I hope that it will increase in size and contents.

John Pflueger, 899 N. Talman Avenue, Chicago.

I did not receive the first issue of the Edison Phonograph Monthly. Please send me one. Have been expecting something of this kind for a long time, and it has come at last. It is a great benefit to us Dealers. It keeps us out of trouble with customers on many points which they argue with us.

WHAT MADAME ALBANI SAID OF THE PHONOGRAPH.

One of the most interesting letters received by the Advertising Department in the past month was the following from a Dealer at Montreal, Canada :

On receipt of this month's MONTHLY I notice you request clippings of advertisements, and I herewith enclose a clipping of my advertisement which appeared in four of the best papers in this city. I consider the statement as in the advertisement of considerable honor as well as a great advertisement for the Edison machine, for in Canada as well as all over the world, Madame Albani's name is known to everybody, and her statements are highly valuable.

Yours truly,

J. H. SUPERIOR.

The clipping referred to was from the Montreal Daily Star of April 3, 1903, and it is here-with reproduced :

Madame Albani's Visit.

During her recent stay in this City, on March 27th last, the Canadian prima donna paid a special visit to our store, No. 2268-68 Catherine St., and hearing several selections on the

EDISON PHONOGRAPH

She was delighted with the wonderful reproduction, also the ability, of RECORDING your voice, to perfection, to be heard at any time and as often as desired. and expressed her delight, saying "IT'S SURPRISINGLY MARVELLOUS." You will all agree with her opinion, if you only hear the Genuine Phonograph. PRICES TO SUIT ALL PURSES.

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS:—

The J. H. SUPERIOR PHONOGRAPH & MUSIC CO.

2458 St. Catherine Street, MONTREAL.

Reduced from a three column advertisement. 891

TRADE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

F. N. Green, Willimantic, Conn.: Q.—Have recently received machines with a loud humming noise caused by the governors; would like to know how to overcome it. A.—The application of a little graphite or vaseline will usually cause the noise to disappear.

The Jacot Music Box Co., of Union Square, New York, in one day last month sold an Edison Phonograph to Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, another to Reginald Vanderbilt and a third that was sent as a wedding present to Miss Katherine Neilson, who was married to Mr. Vanderbilt in April. Each machine was a Triumph.

Jobbers or Dealers giving trading stamps with Edison goods are liable to suspension for violation of contract.

GLAD TO PUSH EDISON GOODS.

C. A. Dodds, Dealer, at Patoka, Ill., writes under date of May 2d :

Yours of the 29th ult. advising me of the request of ——, of Vandalia, Ill., is at hand. I thank you for the same, and have written him to-day. Rest assured he will hear from me until he either buys or concludes not to buy. This feature is one of the several that makes a Dealer glad to push Edison goods, and especially so when they are his favorite, as is the case here.

POINTERS ON THE JUNE LIST.

The list of Records for June comprises twenty domestic selections and one foreign selection. It is a list fully up to the standard of this company. The numbers and titles are given in order on page 2 of this issue. For the information of the trade we give below a brief comment on each title.

No. 8402, "Spring of Love," is another violin and flute duet by Eugene Jaudas and Louis Ate, whose Record in the March list has won unstinted praise throughout the trade. This new selection is played with more volume of sound and the air is equally pretty. It will be fully as popular as No. 8349 in the March list. No. 8405, "Won't You Roll Dem Eyes," is a coon song with orchestra accompaniment, sung by Arthur Collins in his usual clever manner. The song itself is one that has become very popular.

No. 8266, "Up the Street March," by the Edison Concert Band, is a selection that has been made popular throughout New England by the fact that the students of Harvard College have taken it up and made it one of their college airs. It is added to the list in response to a large demand from our New England trade.

No. 8407, "If I But Knew," is a sentimental song from the tuneful comic opera "The Sultan of Sulu." It is sung by William H. Thompson, whose singing of sentimental airs has caused his Records to be much in demand. No. 8408, "The Mississippi Bubble," is another clever banjo solo by Vess L. Ossman. Every lover of banjo Records will want this one. No. 8409, "In the Valley Where the Bluebirds Sing," is a descriptive song by Byron G. Harlan and is accompanied by the Edison Symphony Orchestra. It is a pretty air, introducing in the chorus the singing of birds, ringing of chimes and an echo effect sung by a soprano voice. This will sell wherever played.

No. 8410, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," gives the Edison Male Quartette an excellent opportunity to display its abilities in making a quartette Record. No. 8411, "Julie," is a song from Mr. "Bluebeard" which has become a great favorite on account of its swing and rythmic air. It is sung by Edward M. Favor. No. 8412, "Down Where the Wurzburger Flows Medley," introduces the air "Susie Anna." It is a xylophone solo by J. F. Hopkins with orchestra accompaniment, and cannot fail to be as good a seller as all the xylophone solos made by Mr. Hopkins have been.

No. 8413, "Long Ago," is another sentimental song. It is sung by Arthur Clifford. The words of this song tell a cute little story. No. 8414, "Cupidietta," is an intermezzo composed by Tobani, whose work "Hearts and Flowers" has made him known throughout the entire world. It is claimed by some that this new selection, "Cupidietta," will be as great a favorite with music loving people.

No. 8415, "Down at Lover's Roost," is a waltz song. It is sung in an excellent manner by Harry MacDonough. No. 8416, "Butterfly Gavotte," is a bell solo played by Edward F. Rubsam, accompanied by the orchestra. Mr. Rubsam's bell solos have always found a ready sale, and this one will be equally in demand.

Nos. 8417 and 8423 are two more of the series of Hebrew specialties by Julian Rose. They open with the usual talk in Hebrew dialect, followed by singing. The song in 8417 is a parody on "When the Boys go Marching By," and that in 8423 is a parody on "Go 'Way Back and Sit Down." One or more of Mr. Rose's Hebrew specialties will be found in every complete selection of Edison Records. No. 8418, "Sing, Smile, Slumber," is the same air as Gounod's "Serenade." It is given as a cornet solo by Bohumir Kryl, and is played as only Mr. Kryl can play for Record making.

No. 8419, "In the Starlight," is another of those delightful contralto and bass duets by Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley, which have been so much admired since the first one was listed in February. In No. 8420 Mr. Hopkins gives that well known air "Little Dinah Jones," an excellent rendition on the xylophone, accompanied by the Edison Orchestra. No. 8421, "Ma Starlight Sue," is a nicely sung duet by Thompson and Campbell. No. 8422 "Refuge," by the Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette, will find much favor among those who prefer the more serious Records.

No. 12827, "Kol Nidre,"the only foreign selection listed for June, is the great Hebrew religious song. It is sung by Frank Seiden. Mention is made in the list on page 2 of Nos. 12813 to 12826, Japanese Records, simply to retain the numerical order of the list. These Records will not be ready for trade use till late in June, before which time a special circular will be issued.

The London office of the National Phonograph Company, Ltd., has been changed from 56 Chancery Lane to 52 Gray's Inn Road, Holborn.

TRADING STAMPS A VIOLATION OF AGREEMENT.

We have received letters from several Dealers asking if it is allowable to give trading stamps with Edison Phonographs, Records and Blanks. We take this means of informing the trade that giving trading stamps is equivalent to giving a discount on goods and is a violation of our Agreement, rendering the violators liable to the same penalties as for price cutting. The principle involved is the same as if a Dealer openly offered a discount on all sales, and we cannot countenance it in any instance. A New York Department store handling our goods created a sensation in the city early this month by offering to give trading stamps with purchases in every department. When we called their attention to the matter, the offer was modified to except Edison Phonographs and Records, and these are now sold as restricted goods.

MR. LOGUE TO COME EAST.

W. S. Logue, who for nearly a year has had charge of the Chicago office of the National Phonograph Company, will come East on June 5 to become Manager of Sales for the battery department of the Edison Manufacturing Company and also Manager of Sales for the Bates Manufacturing Company. The latter positions have been held by J. W. Gladstone since the organization of the two companies several years ago. Mr. Gladstone will embark in business for himself. Under Mr. Logue's management the business handled by the Chicago office has largely increased. Mr. Logue's successor has not yet been chosen.

NO MORE TRADE MARK ELECTROS.

By the advice of counsel, we have decided to send out no more electros of Mr. Edison or his signature, Nos. 332, 376, 434 and 435, all being trade-marks of this Company. A few copies of the new electrotype catalogue, No. 415, have been sent out showing these electrotypes on the second page, but in the remainder of the edition they will be eliminated. The trade is asked to send in no more orders for these electros.

A play put on at the Third Avenue Theatre, New York city, on April 7, has an Edison Phonograph for its central figure. Two villains plot to rob a safe and throw the blame on the hero. A phonograph record is made of their conversation, however, and at the proper moment the record is reproduced and the villains are given a knockout blow.

FORM NUMBERS OF PRINTED MATTER.

The following is a list of the form numbers of catalogues and other printed matter in use at the present time by the National Phonograph Co.

FORM.

291. Jingle Book No. 3.
360. "Looking for the Band" Hanger.
371. Catalogue of Parts—superseding Form 270.
375. Catalogue of Phonographs—superseding Form 345.
376. Catalogue of Accessories and Coin Slot Phonographs—superseding Form 342.
380. Catalogue of Domestic Records—superseding Form 360.
381. Catalogue of Foreign Records.
386. Jobbers Discount Sheet—superseding Form 355 J.
386D. Dealers Discount Sheet—superseding Form 355 D.
390. "Soldier" Hanger.
391. "Sailor" Hanger.
392. "Uncle Sam" Hanger.
393. "Coon" Hanger.
394. "Bird" Hanger (will be sent out this month).
395. Numerical Catalogue of all Records—superseding Form 251.
398. March Bulletin of Records.
399. April Bulletin of Records.
400. Chinese Record Folder.
402. May Record Supplement.
407. March Record Supplement.
408. May Record Bulletin.
409, 410. "Looking for Band" Card, (given a different number on each side through error.)
412. Supplement to Record Catalogue—shows titles listed from Nov. to Feb.
414. Four-page Folder, showing Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph.
415. Electrotype Catalogue—superseding Form 256.
416. April Record Supplement.
418. "Looking for the Band" Booklet.
419. April Suspended List.
425. Record Order Pads in 5 sheets (sheets A, B & C for Domestic titles; sheets E & F for Foreign.
427. Art of Making Records—superseding Form 64.
430. Jobbers Agreement (new form)—superseding forms 130 and 131.
440. Dealers Agreement (new form)—superseding Forms 140 and 141.

In ordering printed matter the trade is asked to use these form numbers. It will facilitate handling same.

Any Dealer or Jobber selling Edison records by card system, or otherwise, whereby the dozen price ($5.00) is allowed on sales of less than one dozen actually taken or paid for at one time, will be considered a violator of Agreement, and liable to immediate suspension. See explanatory paragraph, page 8.

SUSPENDED LIST, APRIL 1, 1903.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

KANSAS.

LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DEWOLFF.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—P. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
R. L. CORWIN, also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway, also Philadelphia, Pa.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 191 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
STAR CREDIT CO., or Paul Siebs, 180 East Houston st. and 57 Third ave.

SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
ULRICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus.

DEALERS WHO WILL CO-OPERATE.

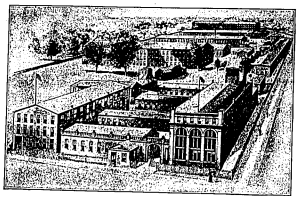
GENTLEMEN :—We are in receipt of your notice for the trade combining the suspended list of agents and agencies. We are not only glad to acknowledge the receipt of these lists from you from time to time, but we take pleasure in saying that not a cent's worth of goods could possibly be obtained from us by any of the firms mentioned in said list or any of the agencies if we knew it. It could do them no good, as they could only get them at retail price if they would buy them.

I hope that you will continue to pursue "to a finish" all violators of their contract with the National Phonograph Co.; they should all be stung out of the hives as they are a contimnous nuisance and an all around menace to every legitimate Dealer.

Yours respectfully,
W. T. GELTZ.

Mansfield, O., May 4, 1903.

GENTLEMEN :—I acknowledge the receipt of Suspended List of April 1, and fully expect to co-operate with you. I want to thank you for the "addresses" of parties concerning Phonographs, etc. I am more than pleased with your Phonograph Monthly, and understand now the cause of the delay in not receiving my March order. I am pleased to note the great increase in your business. It shows the people know a good thing.



H. C. LENTZ.

Cairo, Ill., May 3, 1903.

GENTLEMEN :—In acknowledging the receipt of the list of suspended Dealers, I wish to congratulate you on the firmness of the Company in weeding out the price cutters. I realize that it must be very trying and difficult at times to procure the necessary evidence against a certain class of agreement breakers. I can see from the list that you have been persistently after them.

C. H. FREEMAN.

Bloomington, Ill., May 2, 1903.

Edison Laboratory and Works of the National Phonograph Co., Orange, N J.

The brick building at the right in the foreground is Mr. Edison's laboratory and workshop, built by him when he moved from Menlo Park to Orange. The four smaller buildings to the left of the laboratory are also used by Mr. Edison for experimental work.

The three-story building at the left in front is where the moulded records are made. In the other buildings are made the various parts of the Phonograph.

It is worth while to work hard to sell an Edison Phonograph, for such a sale means a pleased customer, who will become a regular purchaser of Records. A few such customers make up a nice business.

When you receive the new Records each month, Mr. Dealer, invite the public to hear you play them, and invite the fullest comparison between the Edison Phonograph and other styles of talking machines. It will pay.

JOBBERS OF PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

The following is a list of firms in the various cities of the United States and Canada who are handling Edison Phonographs and Records as Jobbers:

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2009 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Ray Co., 54 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 933 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., California and 16th streets.
Western Phonograph Co., 619 17th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Cushnie & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Pardee-Ellenberger Co., 155 Orange st.

GEORGIA.

Atlanta—The Ray Co., 6 S. Broad street.
Savannah—The Ray Co., 108-118 Barnard street.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Oscar J. Jones, 204 E. Chicago avenue.
Kelley Cigar Co., 80-82 Wabash avenue.
James I. Lyons, 71 Fifth avenue.
The Ray Co., 90 Washington street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 107 Madison street.
The Talk-O-Phone Co., 144 Michigan ave.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 111 Michigan ave.
Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 312 S. Adams street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Kipp Bros. Co., 31 S. Meridian street.
The Ray Co., 232 Massachusetts avenue.
Wulf & Gausch, 29 S. Illinois street.
Lafayette—Wulf & Gausch, 304 Main street.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 620 Fourth avenue,

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 628 Gravier street.
The Ray Co., 111 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—Bangor Phonograph Co.
Portland—W. H. Rossignol, 907 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 2 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 196 Tremont street.
J. C. Haynes Co., 453 Washington street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 165 Washington street.
Reed & Kent, 356 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co.
Lowell—Ring Music Co., 133 Merrimac street.
Thomas Waridell, 111 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 106 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 105 Woodward avenue.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 514 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 32 E. 7th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1013-1015 Main street.
The Ray Co.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1115 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 923 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. E. Sidles Cycle Co., 1317 O street.
Omaha—H. E. Fredrickson, 1301-1305 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 1518 and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 206 Washington street.
Newark—H. J. Mosler Sporting Goods Co., 845 Broad street.
A. G. Pelli, 91 New street.
Paterson—James K. O'Dea, 122 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank L. C. Martin Auto. Co., 310 Park avenue.
Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
P. G. Matthews' Sons, 304 Fulton street.
The Ray Co., 1359 Broadway.
Buffalo—F. A. Powers, 849 Main street.
Elmira—Elmira Arms Co., 172 Main street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co.
Kingston—Forsyth & Davis.
New York City—Barlow & Kent Co., 36 Vesey street.
Bettini Phonograph Co., 81 Chambers street.
Blackmun Talking Machine Co., 83 Beekman street.
J. F. Blackman & Son, 142d street and 3d avenue.
I. Davega, Jr., 824 Third avenue.
S. H. Derrigs, 32 E. 14th street.
Douglas & Co., 83 Chambers street.
H. S. Gordon, 123 Fifth avenue.
Hacker & Horn, 148 E. 58th street.
Harry Hoffman, 1198 Third avenue and 70th street.
Jacot Music Box Co., 32 Union Square.
Victor H. Hapke, 1061 Second avenue.
Kesselfeld Mfg Co., 468 Hudson st.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
Rochester—Mackie Piano Co. & M. Co., 100 State street.
Talking Machine Co., 19 E. Main street.
Schenectady—Jay A. Rickard & Co., 233 State street.
Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 216 E. Railroad street.
Troy—James Lucey, 330-36 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark, Hanks & Co., 54 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelman Co., 216 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Ilsen & Co., 22 W. 6th street.
The Ray Co., 125 West 5th street.
Cleveland—The Ray Co., 69 Erie street.
The Sperry Co., 1 Euclid Arcade.
Columbus—Perry B. Whitsel Co., 173 S. High street.
Dayton—Niehaus & Dowdy, 31 E. 5th street.
East Liverpool—Smith & Phillips Music Co.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Harry Braun, 940 Federal street.
Allentown—Lichty Phonograph Co., 1 Hamilton street.
Easton—William Werner, 401 Northampton street.
Philadelphia—C. J. Heppe & Son, 1115 Chestnut street.
Lit Bros., Market and 7th streets.
Penn Phonograph Co., 29 S. 9th street.
Talking Machine Co., 41 N. 9th street.
Weymann & Son, 1305-1311 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 919 Market street.
Pittsburg—Thos. F. Beutel Co., Inc., 432 Wood street.
Kaufmann Bros., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 221 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Mellor Co., 319 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 937 Liberty street.
Reading—Lichty Phonograph Co., 641 Penn street.
Reading Phonograph Co., 113 Penn street.
Scranton—Charles B. Scott, 119 Franklin avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. A. Foster Co., Weybossett and Dorrance streets.
Murray Hazzard, Young & Co., 96-99 Pine street.

TENNESSEE.

Memphis—The Ray Co., Lyceum Building.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 32 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, Agt., 340 Main street.
Waco—Waco Electric Supply Co., 318 Austin avenue.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 729 Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 173 3d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons, 143 Yonge street.

THE TALKING MACHINE AS AN AID.

The Phonograph in its various forms has thus far been more a thing of amusement than of practical advantage. The talking machine is a most wonderful affair and its uses must become of great benefit in scientific and other practical matters. In fact it is gradually working up to fill a place in the arts and utilities of life. The anthropologist and philologist are finding it a great aid to their investigations. The Academy of Sciences in New York city is making a collection of the various dialects of Austria, Germany, France, India and the North American Indians, which is to be preserved for future use. A method of preservation of the Records has been devised, and in the future the historian, novelist and philologist will find them of great value in their studies. There are indeed a thousand ways in which the talking machine may be of practical use, both in immediate service and in the preservation of spoken language.—Musical Trade Review.

HOW A STOLEN PHONOGRAPH INFORMED THE POLICE.

A New York city thief made the mistake of his life on April 21 when he stole a Phonograph from a resident of the Bronx district. He forgot that the Phonograph was a talking machine. The owner of the Phonograph gave the police its number and names of several Records stolen at the same time. Two detectives sent out to find the stolen property were passing a shop on Third avenue when they heard a Phonograph playing one of the missing tunes. Entering they found the thief trying to sell the stolen machine and Records.

Giving trading stamps with Edison Phonographs and Records is a violation of our Agreement and will not be allowed.

MAY ADVERTISING.

The May advertising of the National Phonograph Co. introduces to the trade and the public a new Phonograph girl. Her charming and smiling face appeared in half and quarter pages in the following May publications:

American Boy, Argosy, Booklovers, Bookman, Brown Book, Collier's Weekly, Craftsman, Current Literature, Everybody's, Four Track News, Field & Stream, Good Housekeeping, Harper's Magazine, Life, Lippincott's, Metropolitan, Munsey's, National Magazine, Outing, Outlook, Overland, Pearson's, Photo Era, Popular Monthly, Recreation, Review of Reviews, St. Nicholas, Saturday Evening Post, Smart Set, Success, Town and Country, Town Topics.

Advertisements of the Company in other forms also appeared in the Commercialist, Musical Record and Review, Overland Magazine, Science and Industry, and many smaller publications.

There are few lines that yield such quick results from a little pushing as Edison Phonographs and Records. The experiences of Jobbers and Dealers everywhere is that local advertising, sending out circulars by mail, etc., are at once followed by a gratifying increase in business. The public is fully aware of the superior character of Mr. Edison's inventions, and the Dealers who are pushing the business are getting excellent results. Let the people know, Mr. Dealer, that you carry a complete stock of machines and can get Records at short notice, if you cannot carry a full stock, and thus get your share of business. Get a quantity of circulars printed by the company and see that they go to the people interested in music. If your Jobber cannot supply you, write us direct. All we ask is that you pay expressage. If you are nearer to Chicago write our branch office at 304 Wabash avenue.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. I. NEW YORK, JUNE, 1903. No. 4.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 32 KEMPENEY SAINT GEORGES.
LONDON: 39 GREAT'N EUS ROAD, HOLBORN.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

CONTENTS

New Agreement Generally Approved 1, 3
Advance List July Records 2
More Factory Room 3
Mr. Ireton Promoted 3
Suits Dismissed 4
Selling Suggestions 4
No Changes Contemplated 4
The July Records 5, 6
The Phonograph Advertisement in the Public Eye 6
Appreciative Comment 7
Japanese Records 7
Co-operating Dealers 8
How Some Dealers Push the Business 8
Concerning Printed Matter 9
A Jobber's Prize Selection 9
See that all Phonograph Owners Get a Supplement 10
Posters and Street Car Cards 10
A Phonograph Incident in the Philippines 10
Record Shipments 10
What the World Has Lost 11
Listed Records by Other Talent 11
A Chicago Phonograph Enthusiast 11
Criticisms and Suggestions Wanted 12
Anent the Phonograph "Crank." 12
The Phonograph Way Ahead 12
A Jobber's Original Advertisement 13
"Happy" Gets a New Hat 13
An Author's View on the Phonograph for Dictation Purposes 13, 14
Suspended List, June 1, 1903 15
June Advertising 16

NEW AGREEMENT GENERALLY APPROVED.

The new Agreement, which was laid before all our Jobbers early in May, has been signed almost without exception. The exceptions have been not because of any criticism of the Agreement itself, but because of distance or some immaterial reason. The unanimity and willingness with which the Jobbers signed this Agreement have been most gratifying. Before the blanks were sent out and the changes explained, we rather expected more or less objection to some of the clauses, although we believed at the same time that when the Jobbers were fully acquainted with the intent of the changes they would gladly co-operate with us in putting the Agreement into force. Such proved to be the case. The Jobbers not only signed willingly, but in many instances wrote us, commending the result sought in having the new Agreement signed.

The Agreement is now being laid before the Retail Dealers by the Jobbers, and already large numbers of the Agreements have been returned to us, properly signed and witnessed, showing quite clearly that the Dealers mean to co-operate fully in the matter.

We believe that the system under which this Company is now conducting business is one of the fairest and most just in use in the business world to-day, and we further believe that the changes made in the system by this new Agreement will add further to the benefit of all concerned. The changes were determined upon only after the most careful consideration and discussion, and we have no doubt that those who may at first object, being disposed to question their value, in the end will be the warmest in commending them. We therefore urge all Retail Dealers to carefully read the new Agreement upon receiving it, and if the same meets with their approval sign it

(Continued on page 2.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF JULY RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS FOR JULY, 1903

TWENTY-FIVE DOMESTIC TITLES.

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near July 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to June 20th, will be shipped.

July Supplements will bear the date of July 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to July Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

8424	American Patrol (Patrol effect)	Edison Concert Band
8425	Hiawatha (His song to Minnehaha)	MacDonough
	With orchestra accompaniment
8426	My Old Kentucky Home (Organ effect)	Mandolin Siegel
8427	The Lord's Prayer and Gloria Patri	Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette
8428	Heart's Desire	Violin and flute duet Landis & Arz
8429	Marriage is Sublime	Comic male duet Collins & Harlan
8430	Mighty 'nk a Rose (Nevin)	Song Clifford
8431	De Beriot's 6th Air with Variations	Violin D'Almaine
8432	Potpourri from Mignon	Edison Concert Band
8433	Stradella Overture	Edison Concert Band
8434	Every Morn I Bring her Chicken (Coon idea of the song "Violets")	With orchestra accompaniment Collins
8435	'Deed I Do	Contralto and basso coon duet Miss Morgan & Mr. Stanley
8436	Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground	Edison Male Quartette
8437	Engaging an Opera Company (Vaudeville)	Dudley
8438	Sweet Rose	Song and dance with yodel Watson
8439	Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana	Edison Symphony Orchestra
8440	I'm a Jonah Man	Coon song Collins
8441	Reuben Haskins of Skowhegan, Maine (A rural ditty)	Len Spencer
8442	Selection from Peggy from Paris	Edison Symphony Orchestra
8443	Pretty Little Dinah Jones	MacDonough
	Coon love song with orchestra accompaniment
8444	Annie Laurie (Dudley Buck)	Edison Brass Quartette
8445	I Could Love You in a Steam Heat Flat	Coon song Harry West
8446	Farewell Beloved	Miss Chapell & Mr. Stricklett
	Soprano and tenor duet
8447	Hurrah for Baffin's Bay	Comic male duet Collins & Harlan
8448	Hebrew Vaudeville Specialty	Rose
	Introducing parody on "On a Sunday Afternoon"

Edison Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

(continued from page 2)

in the presence of a witness without delay. If there be any who prefer to ask questions before signing, we would urge them to follow the matter up at once until fully satisfied as to the wisdom of signing; in other words, do not lay the matter to one side at the risk of having it lost sight of or forgotten. Give it immediate attention, and keep in good standing with Jobbers and this Company. We want to see every Dealer's Agreement in our files before July 1, the time when the new Agreement will be in force. Those who have not signed by July 1 may find themselves put to considerable trouble in getting goods promptly and in receiving printed matter.

We realize that we are putting our Jobbers to considerable trouble in asking them to get all their Dealers to sign this Agreement, but we would like still further to trespass on their good nature and ask them to follow up such Dealers as may be slow in returning the Agreements properly signed and witnessed. If, after reasonable time, any Dealers have not responded, write them again, and point out the desirability of having the matter taken care of without delay.

Following are some of the comments of Jobbers on the new Agreement:

NEW YORK, May 18, 1903.

We are glad to be able to compliment you on the successful outcome of the latest evidence of your liberal policy. We refer to the 35-cent rate for exchanging records. On April 27th we received notice from you that this change in price would go into effect on July 1, 1903. Notwithstanding the length of time which allowed us to prepare our customers for the new price, we immediately substituted the new exchange price, and, up to the time of writing, we have yet to hear of any valid complaint from a single one of our thousands of customers.

We have always had an enormous exchange business, and we are confident the results have already demonstrated that the raising of the exchange price will be in no way detrimental to the general welfare and the continued prosperity of the Edison Phonograph, but, on the contrary, will benefit all concerned to no little extent.

Hoping that you will keep up the good work, and, with the assurance of our heartiest support, we are

S. B. DAVEGA.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., May 13, 1903.

Your letter of the 9th, enclosing Price List, Terms of Sale, and Agreement Form 430, Dated May 1, 1903, received. We have signed same and return herewith.

The changes you have made in Conditions of Sale, both to Jobber and Dealers, are, in our opinion, an excellent move, inasmuch as it draws a line on certain points that Jobbers and Dealers have heretofore been able to crawl out of, in case they are found violating that part requiring Dealers to have an established place of business, in which to display machines and records. This we trust will be rigidly enforced. We know of a number of cases where Jobbers in the West have given Dealers' discounts to peddlers and fakirs traveling around the country selling patent medicine or doing work of that sort.

We will conform strictly to terms and conditions. Very truly yours,

MEGRAL BROS.

READING, PA., May 11, 1903.

We enclose you the Jobbers and Dealers Agreement received by us this morning, properly signed and witnessed. Having both carefully read same, would say that we fully endorse your methods and know that we can easily sell the required amount of goods. If you will send us new Retail Dealers' Agreements we shall be glad to have our listed Dealers sign same and return to you at our earliest convenience. We predict increased business for the summer.

READING PHONOGRAPH CO.,
E. A. Gerber, Mgr.

NEWARK, N. J., April 25, 1903.

We take pleasure in returning to you the new form of contract, properly signed. We do this with pleasure, and feel quite confident that with your usual attention a great deal of good will be derived by all Jobbers and Dealers of your apparatus. Yours very truly,

A. O. PETIT.

MORE FACTORY ROOM.

The matter of increasing our factory facilities at Orange is well under way. The first department receiving this attention is that in which the Reproducers are made, and it is hoped shortly to make Reproducers as fast as they are demanded by the trade. This building also includes the Shipping Department, and the enlargement of the building will give ample room for that important end of the busines. The contemplated changes in other buildings will be begun shortly, and it is expected that they will be ready for an increased business in the fall.

MR. IRETON PROMOTED.

Albert C. Ireton, one of the salesmen of the National Phonograph Company, was on May 18 promoted to the position of Assistant Manager of Sales and will hereafter be found at the New York office. Mr. Ireton has had considerable experience in the Phonograph business, having been with the old United States Phonograph Company at Newark, N. J., for two years and with the National Phonograph Company for four years. For some time past he has sold our goods in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

SUITS DISMISSED.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our Jobbers and Dealers to the following copies of Decrees, dismissing suits brought by the New York Phonograph Company against two of our prominent Jobbers in New York city. The suits were attempts to assert the old exclusive license claimed by one of the so-called "sub-companies" of the defunct North American Phonograph Company. The suits were abandoned when called for trial.

At a Special Term of the New York Supreme Court for the County of Westchester, held at the County Court House at White Plains, New York, on the 11th day of May, 1903.

Present—
HON. SAMUEL T. MADDOX, Justice.

NEW YORK PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Plaintiff, against
SOL. B. DAVIDA, Defendant.

This action having been regularly called for trial at a Special Term of this Court on the 11th day of May, 1903, and the defendant herein having appeared by attorneys, Robinson, Biddle & Ward, and no one appearing on behalf of the plaintiff, and the defendant having moved that the complaint herein be dismissed, now, on motion of Robinson, Biddle & Ward, attorneys for the defendant, it is ORDERED that the complaint be and it hereby is dismissed.

S. T. M.

At a Special Term of the New York Supreme Court for the County of Westchester, held at the County Court House at White Plains, New York, on the 11th day of May, 1903.

Present—
HON. SAMUEL T. MADDOX, Justice.

NEW YORK PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Plaintiff,
against
AZEL D. MATTHEWS, et al., trading as A. D. Matthews & Sons, Defendants.

This action having been regularly called for trial at a Special Term of this Court on the 11th day of May, 1903, and the defendants herein having appeared by their attorneys, Robinson, Biddle & Ward, and no one appearing on behalf of the plaintiff, and the defendants having moved that the complaint herein be dismissed,

Now, on motion of Robinson, Biddle & Ward, attorneys for the defendants, it is ORDERED that the complaint be and it hereby is dismissed.

S. T. M.

SELLING SUGGESTIONS.

Fairs will be the principal attraction in all parts of the country during the next three months. These should furnish Dealers an excellent opportunity to push Edison Phonographs and Records. We would suggest that Dealers secure space at such fairs, make an exhibit of the several styles of machines, select a lot of the most pleasing Records with which to give free concerts and give away printed matter to those who will not fail to gather around to hear the music. We have several kinds of circulars that we are willing to furnish in quantities for such use. They are forms 297, 409, 414, 418, and 428. Dealers who intend making exhibits at fairs should write us for samples of these forms and then ask the Jobbers through whom they deal to get them a supply. It takes time to get printed matter in this way, and it is not too early to give the matter immediate attention.

Dealers whose places of business are near summer resorts, either in the mountains or by the sea, should find the hotels at those places good customers for Phonographs. The Edison Phonograph is an ideal device for entertaining guests at a hotel. Its cost is small, it is easy to operate and the Records at the command of the public make it possible to have all the newest and most popular music. Scores of hotel proprietors would make a Phonograph a part of their outfit if they could be told of its merits and made to realize how attractive it is for amusement purposes.

Young Men's Christian Associations should also prove profitable customers for Edison goods. There are none so poor that could not afford a Phonograph and a supply of Records, and no one will deny that they would prove a great attraction to the young members of the Associations.

NO CHANGES CONTEMPLATED.

One of our Jobbers recently said to us that if he could be sure there would be no changes in the various types of Phonographs this year, he would place an order for five hundred machines. We replied that he could be certain that no radical changes would be made in any of the several types this year. Such is the case, and we desire the entire trade to know it. The Edison Phonograph today is the best machine ever put out by this company, and is the superior of any talking machine device on the market. It does not require radical changes to improve it, and some such will be made. We do not say that time may not bring about further improvements in the Phonograph, but none are under contemplation at the present time. We make this statement now in order that the trade may feel safe in placing orders for the fall season. To place orders will make it possible for us to manufacture machines during the summer, and will enable the trade to avoid the annoying delays of last year when hundreds of orders came in at one time and the demand far exceeded our ability to supply.

We desire Dealers to invite the fullest comparison by the public between the Edison Phonograph and other styles of talking machines. Such comparison cannot fail to sell Phonographs.

THE JULY RECORDS.

With the May Records not yet shipped from the factory, it is a far cry to talk about July Records. But we have been told time and again by Jobbers and Dealers that the getting out of new lists of Records each month is the life of the business; so we shall continue to get out a new list each month, and to write about them, no matter whether those of previous months have been shipped on time or not. There is no other one thing in the Phonograph business in which so much interest is felt by the trade as in the lists of new Records sent out each month. He will be a hard man to suit who will not find in the July Records a number of selections entirely to his liking. The list comprises twenty-five Domestic selections and covers a wide variety of subjects. In the list are three selections by the Edison Concert Band, two by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, two quartettes, four duets, seven vocal solos, two instrumental solos, one instrumental duet, three talking and singing records, and one selection by the Brass Quartette. The list, as a whole, furnishes additional evidence that our Record Making Department never stands still—that it is constantly improving.

The selections by the Edison Concert Band are Nos. 8424, American Patrol, with patrol effect; 8432, Polacca, from "Mignon," and 8433, the Stradella Overture. In the first named three patriotic songs are played with patrol effect, the whole forming a novel Record. The last two were made after the Edison Band had been rearranged by taking out some of the former players and substituting for them others of superior talent. These two Records show a marked difference in execution even over the work of the former band, which was one of the best in the country for making Records.

In No. 8425 Harry MacDonough sings the famous $10,000 song, "Hiawatha," with orchestra accompaniment. This song as an instrumental Record found a large sale, and, given now as a vocal solo, it cannot fail to be equally popular. It is probably one of the best advertised songs in the country. No. 8426, My Old Kentucky Home, is a mandolin solo by Samuel Siegel, an exceedingly clever player. This selection is given with an organ effect, and mandolin players will appreciate the difficult work necessary to get such a result on this instrument.

No. 8427, The Lord's Prayer and Gloria Patri, by the Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette, is another Record that will appeal strongly to those who prefer the more serious titles. This quartette is composed of Miss Chapell, Miss Morgan, Mr. Stanley and Mr. Strickfadt, and they have succeeded in making Records that have never been equaled for mixed voices. It has always been a difficult matter to make successful Records of female voices, and after months of careful experimentation our Record Department has succeeded in getting perfect results in quartettes and duets. It is now at work on solos, and expects before long to list some very good songs by female voices. No. 8428, "Heart's Desire," is another of the series of violin and flute duets by Eugene Jaudas and Louis Arr, the Record showing the splendid blending of these two instruments.

No. 8429, "Marriage is Sublime," is a comic male duet by Collins and Harlan. This popular comic opera hit is exceedingly funny and is sung most cleverly. No. 8430, "Mighty Lak' a Rose," by Nevin, is a coon lullaby, sung in Arthur Clifford's best style.

Lovers of classical music will be pleased with No. 8431, De Beriot's Sixth Air with Variations, played as a violin solo by Charles D'Almaine. Mr. D'Almaine's ability as a maker of violin Records is too well known to need comment. In No. 8434 and No. 8440 we have two of Arthur Collins' inimitable coon songs. The first named, "Every Morn I Bring Her Chicken," gives a coon's idea of the song, "Violets." It is sung with orchestra accompaniment. No. 8436, "I'm a Jonah Man," will rank as a seller with the other coon songs made by Mr. Collins in the past few months. In No. 8435, "Deed I Do," Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley have somewhat departed from the sentimental songs they have been singing as contralto and bass duets, this title being a coon song, although of a sentimental character. It is one of the best Records in the list, and will further enhance the popularity of these two singers.

No. 8436, "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," is the other quartette on the list, and is sung by the Edison Male Quartette. The first and second verses are sung by the bass, accompanied by a sort of vocal rag time. It is a good quartette Record. In No. 8437, "Engaging an Opera Company," S. H. Dudley tells of the troubles of the impresario in trying the voices of would-be opera singers. No. 8438, "Sweet Rose," is a song and dance with Yodel, all given in Geo. P. Watson's best style.

The two selections by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, 8439, Intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana," and 8442, Selection from "Peggy from Paris," are both played as only this organization can make orchestra Records. In No. 8443 Harry MacDonough gives a vocal rendition of the coon love song, "Pretty Little Dinah Jones," and is accompanied by the orchestra. This air is given in the June list as a xylophone solo.

Many admirers of Edison Records regard those made by the Edison Brass Quartette as the most desirable of all instrumental Records. Such will find No. 8144 "Annie Laurie," with music by Dudley Buck, fully equal to any of those made by these players. No. 8445, "I Could Love You in a Storm-Heat That" introduces in Harry West a new singer of coon songs for the Edison Phonograph. The good impression that this Record will make will be heightened with later songs by Mr. West.

No. 8446, "Farewell, Beloved," soprano and tenor duet, by Miss Chapell and Mr. Strickfadt, is another Record in which the soprano voice is given clearly and pleasantly. Collins and Harlan in No. 8447, "Hurrah for Buffalo's Bay," have an exceedingly funny duet. The manner in which this song mixes up nautical terms would make a sailor seasick. No. 8448 is another Hebrew vaudeville specialty by Julian Rose. In this Mr. Rose gives his usual hilarious talk in Hebrew dialect, and follows it with a parody on "On a Sunday Afternoon."

THE PHONOGRAPH ADVERTISEMENT IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

One of the features of the Bookbuyer's Magazine, of Philadelphia, published in the interest of the Bookbuyer's Library, is a monthly competition in which prizes are offered for the best full-page, half-page and quarter-page advertisements in its columns. The advertisements receiving the most votes each month are considered the prize advertisements, and then the prize winners are chosen by the best reasons given by the competitors for their choice. The object of the competition is to get readers to carefully look over the advertising pages and in this it succeeds admirably. In the May issue the National Phonograph Company had a half-page advertisement. It was the same Phonograph girl as shown on the last page of this issue, except that the advertisement was enlarged to a half page. This advertisement was chosen by many as the most attractive in the May issue, but it did not receive enough votes to be classed as a prize advertisement. Some of the reasons for choosing our advertisement were so interesting that we reprint them here, believing that our readers will find them equally readable. They are:

Both good "Talking Machines."

The machine which pleases such a girl must please everybody.

The girl's expression shows what a pleasure a Phonograph is.

Edison's Phonograph will banish the thoughts of the day.

Something a woman will listen to and not talk back.

You hear as well as see what is being advertised.

Her evident enjoyment arouses our desire to hear also.

A machine that inspires such love sells itself.

Only a perfect instrument could cause that look of joy.

Suggests the wonderful entertainment in the Phonograph.

It suggests the amusement and pleasure afforded, with convincing evidence of merit and popularity.

Suggests the enjoyment and pleasure of the Edison Phonograph.

Everybody stops to look at a pretty face.

The face shows the pleasure derived.

No need of a second glance to determine the meaning.

We are at once interested in that which everyone loves.

Certainly appears lovable and mutely eloquent.

This ad. is clear, concise—fully illustrates the Phonograph.

Speaks for itself.

Very attractive and highly expressive of keen pleasure and interest.

It talks for itself.

Her smiling face tells she hears a natural, loving voice.

A silent expression of pleasure appealing to the multitude.

Attractive girl, attractive machine, combined into a most attractive total.

Her look in your eye makes one want to buy. The girl takes the eye, and then, Edison the ear.

We feel the girl's pleasure and feeling makes us interested.

If it could win her, it must win us all.

Because a pretty girl is always good.

The more it conveys is good news.

It appeals to the one in search of home amusement.

Phonographic love, to thrill the heart, must be natural indeed.

Portrays the genuine pleasure of listening to the Edison Phonograph.

Shows the importance of getting Edison machines for pleasing results.

Expressive of the "Edison's" human and lovable characteristics.

Only clear, natural tones could result in the listener's delight.

Announces an amusing and instructive entertainment for all without effort.

It is evident that its keynote is enjoyment. It both appeals and persuades.

It speaks for itself.

Solace for our ills, a handsome woman and a Phonograph.

The Phonograph pleases the girl, and it will please all.

The sale of a Phonograph must be made before you can sell Records.

APPRECIATIVE COMMENT.

C. J. H., Philadelphia.

The ... ase of the Edison Phonograph ... is indeed a success, and is ... all other efforts of the National ... Company in that it is ...

... in its day served as a pio... way for the MONTHLY, as ... machine for the Triumph, ... is particularly interes... to the notice of Jobber ... conditions under which ... Records are sold. ... of a monthly monitor, ... MONTHLY is incal... Talk" which covers ... rules must assist all Job... Salesmen will also work ... by a perusal of these ... of the new issues of ... valuable feature ... that the authors' names be ... mention of those new num... selling points are to be ... the story of a song or ... We are often asked the ... your number. ... the success your efforts de...

... Eton, Col.:

... gratification that I re... of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH ... ed coming keeping Jobb... touch with all that is pro... indeed, that in making ... and gaining favorable ... never made. Wherever in... become the Phonograph be... family. By having the pop... the Edison Phonograph and ... sales have increased tre...

... Air, Ga.:

... two issues of your Edison ...thly, and must say that it ... to Jobbers and Dealers. ... this little volume deserve ... to receive a copy every ... it is a great help to me.

...hfield, W. Va.:

... MONTHLY for May just ... think it a great aid to Deal... many valuable hints and sug... which if followed are bound ... increased business for the Dealer ...

... Machine Co., M. L. Gregson, Prop., No. 133 West 2nd Street, ... Pa.:

PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY of ... me a day or two ago. I ... to it, and was so pleased ... that I cannot refrain from ... are to be congratulated upon ... keeping in touch with your ... agents. It certainly has a tendency to cause ... the Dealer to feel that you are interested in his success, thereby bringing about that close business relation that should always exist between an enterprising and energetic manufacturer and the one who comes in direct contact with the purchaser. I venture to say that the majority of your agents feel as I do in this regard and that beneficial results in the shape of increased sales will follow as a natural result of your latest enterprise.

May 25, 1903.

McLeanie Novelty Company, Butte, Montana.

I have just received the May number of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, and think it fills a long felt want. Have got more information from this number of the MONTHLY that I desired than from all the advertising matter I received from the company for months. Kindly send me back numbers for 1903.

May 25, 1903.

Frank H. Malone, Dothan, Ala.:

I received the second and third issues of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, but have not received the first issue, please send me a copy. I am glad for myself and all other Dealers that you have gotten out such a magazine devoted to the Phonograph trade. I think your Monthly is the nicest magazine of its kind that I ever saw. It is just what I have been expecting and wishing for. I know it will be a big help to all Dealers and Jobbers. I wish your Monthly much success and hope it will grow in volume.

May 28, 1903.

The Kreuling Phonograph Co., Reading, Pa., Edw. J. Gilcher, Manager.

The EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is to the Jobber and Dealer what the new model "C" Reproducer is to the old Phonograph, new life. At once interesting and instructive, it shows the protection afforded all Jobbers and Dealers of Edison goods. We feel that the trade will be greatly benefited by the many good points shown in this MONTHLY and think that every man in the business to-day should read each MONTHLY carefully, from beginning to end.

May 26, 1903.

C. F. Littlepage, Anthony, Kan.:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of the March and April numbers of your most interesting and valuable magazine, the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. It ought to be in the hands of every owner of an Edison Phonograph. I have shown it to some music lovers and owners of Edison Records. They all thought it would be a welcome visitor. I hope you will continue to enlarge and give us more of it. I for one will pay for such a magazine if you will name your price. With best wishes for your success.

JAPANESE RECORDS.

Some time in July we shall get out a folder with reference to the Japanese Records, and will then be in shape to fill orders for them.

In ordering supplies or repair parts give the name and number of the Phonograph for which they are wanted.

CO-OPERATING DEALERS.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., May 9, 1903.

Your circular letter of April 1, 1903 (Form 419), received and contents noted. Your policy of protection is too thoroughly appreciated by me to permit any act of mine to tear down the structure you are trying to build up for the benefit of us all. C. K. ZACHARIAS.

AMANA, Iowa, May 6, 1903.

I herewith state the receipt of Suspended List, April 1st. I intend fully to co-operate with you. ANDREW SCHIFF.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 14, 1903.

Beg to acknowledge receipt of your list of Suspended Dealers up to April 1, 1903. We wish to assure you that you have our hearty co-operation in your dealings with these people. Right here, we wish to say just a word as regarding the March list of Records. It is certainly a winner and far ahead of anything yet received from your house. From the advance list of April, May and June, we see still greater advancement in the quality of the Records. Every month shows a gain in the tone and clearness of the Records and it is appreciated by our customers, as is shown by our increase of sales.

Assuring you our hearty support at all times.

HOFFMAN & WEAVER.

GERMANTOWN, KY., May 5, 1903.

In reply to the Suspended List April 1, will say I will co-operate with you, and no suspended Dealer can get Phonographs or any goods of any kind from me.

E. E. HENDRICKSON.

HOW SOME DEALERS PUSH THE BUSINESS.

BOSTON, Mass., May 15, 1903.

Your monthly magazine is one of the best things you have ever issued towards increasing the trade in a general way. The many points of great value tend to keep the Dealers "talking" machines. The many novel ways the smaller dealers have of keeping the Edison goods before the public interests me very much. Put here is one which differs some from those in your magazine. During a short trip in one of our suburban towns the other evening I was attracted by a large crowd in the square who were watching a moving picture machine. At intervals the operators would show the picture of T. A. Edison and announce that they were headquarters for Edison Phonographs and Records. They did a good business. I feel that it is worthy of mention in your magazine and I trust you will find space for it.

This enterprising house was the Prospect Phonograph Co., Cambridge, Mass.

S. J. FREEMAN.

[Mr. Freeman is connected with the Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston, Mass.]

GARRETT, Ind., May 25, 1903.

The third edition of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY at hand. Am so well pleased that I can hardly wait till the next number arrives. I would like to tell you and all other Dealers how I advertise my business. When I receive my stock of new Records I hang a large sign in the window announcing "Fresh supply of Edison Records just received. Free concert to-night. Come one and all. Bring your wife or some one else's wife, or your sweetheart. Your baby will sleep while you hear the free concert." I advise others to try a similar plan and see what good results they will have.

ALBERT PALMER.

MATTEAWAN, N. Y., May, 1903.

One of the best methods I find of advertising the Phonograph is to play it and I can tell you the ones we use in our stores are going about all the time. I have notices put in the local papers every time we receive a new shipment of Records and when we find a Record that takes extraordinarily well we put in a special notice inviting people to come in and hear that one, and then they stay to hear more, and I have found that it often causes the sale of a machine. Another good plan is to always accept an invitation to play at private parties or entertainments and do it gratis, for as the old saw says, "You can catch more flies with molasses than you can with vinegar."

In shipping out Records in barrels I take this liberty to suggest you put on this sign,

"A BARREL OF FUN."

EDISON NEW AMUSEMENT REVIVER.

Yours very truly,

DANIEL R. WEED, Jr.

Harry E. Stover, a Dealer at Hagerstown, Md., under date of May 27, comments as follows on his success in selling Edison Phonographs and Records:

The Standard has been taking everything in sight. I have a * * * and several types of * * * machines, and when a customer comes in and wants a talking machine I give him his choice. I have sold more Edison machines since you have made your new Records and Reproducers in the spring of 1902.

HARRY E. STOVER.

W. G. Fawcett, a dealer at Salem, Ohio, sends us a circular printed with a half tone picture of Arthur Collins, the singer of coon songs for the Edison Phonograph. The circular also gives the names of a number of Records made by Mr. Collins, and calls attention to the fact that Mr. Fawcett carries a full line of these and all other Phonograph Records. The circular is well printed, and presents the matter in good style. We understand that it is Mr. Fawcett's intention to get out similar circulars for other makers of Edison Records and distribute them to his customers.

"Our Record Boy does nothing but play Records, but don't hesitate to call and hear them at any time," is a suggestive phrase in a Phonograph advertisement of Wright's Music House, 209 Washington street, Portland, Oregon, which occupied two-thirds of a page in the Portland papers on May 23 and following days.

CONCERNING PRINTED MATTER.

Form No. 428 is another four page folder, samples of which will be sent out to the trade this month. This folder shows the first Phonograph made by Mr. Edison and also the Triumph type, and includes a general argument on the merits of the Phonograph and Edison Records. This has been gotten out in large quantities, and we should be glad to have Jobbers and Dealers use them where they can do so to advantage.

The fact does not appear to be known to all Dealers that we get out a set of Record Order Sheets, giving the numbers of all Records listed by us. These are printed so that it is only necessary to insert the figures showing the quantity of such Records as it is desired to order. We are anxious to have these Record Order Sheets used by all Dealers who order any considerable number of Records at one time. They not only make it easier for a customer to send an order, but they prevent mistakes and make it possible to handle orders with greater facility at our factory.

We have been much disappointed in not receiving the supply of the new celloloid placard from the manufacturer. They should have been in before this, but various causes have combined in delaying their completion. As soon as we receive them, we shall take immediate steps to get them in the hands of the trade. Until then, we must ask the Jobbers and Dealers to have patience.

The four page folder, "Music in Every Home," was so largely demanded by the trade that we have issued the first edition of 250,000 copies. A new edition is now being printed, and will be ready for use in about a month.

We have on hand a large supply of the colored lithographed card, No. 499, showing the boy "Looking for the Band." This should be a very useful card for sending out with mail matter, and we shall be glad to furnish it to all Dealers who will make careful use of it. We might say concerning this, as well as all other printed matter issued by this Company, that we have plenty of it for such Dealers as will use it advantageously, but have not a single card to be wasted.

The carrying limitations of a one cent postage stamp caused us to omit the sending out of a colored poster in May. It will go out with the June matter, possibly with this copy of the MONTHLY.

Catalogue of Paris, No. 371, is daily expected from the printer. Jobbers and Dealers who have orders on file for this form, will get them as soon as they are received.

A JOBBER'S PRIZE SELECTION.

The following is a reprint of a circular issued by a Jobber at Easton, Pa., and it is published here to show what one Jobber regards as "a Prize Selection" of Edison Records:

15,000 EDISON RECORDS.

WERNER MUSIC HOUSE,
Cor. 4th and Northampton Streets, Easton, Pa.

We now have all the Edison Records in catalogue in stock to select from.

SPECIAL LIST OF 37 EDISON RECORDS.

These are what we call A Prize Selection—the cream out of the lunch. We have them. Call and hear them. Each one is worth having. We try our best to keep you informed and do all we know how to please you. Will you in return kindly give us your business?

8046 Fantasia Sonnambula (Clarinet)
8439 Dixie Medley (Banjo)
8981 Sunflower Dance (Banjo)
8363 Good-Night Quartette from "Martha" (Brass Quartette)
8140 Dream of the Tyrolienne (Violin and Flute)
8810 Nightingale and , rig (Flute)
8317 Hiawatha (Band)
8570 Swedish Waltzes (Band)
8331 Boston Commandery March (Band)
8493 The Coliseum March (Band)
8267 Tipperary March (Band)
8266 Mr. Dooley Medley, introducing "Just Kiss Yourself Good-Bye" (Xylophone)
8311 Heimweh, Longing for Home (Zither)
8085 Parody on "Good-Bye Dolly Grey"
8301 Summer River (Parody)
8373 Larboard Watch (Duet)
8255 They Were All Doing the Same (Duet)
8286 O That We Two Were Maying (Duet)
8098 Fare Thee Well, Molly Darling (Duet)
8076 Rehearsal for the first edition of 250,000 Down on the Old Plantation (Orchestra)
7785 Selection from the Burgomaster (Orchestra)
7986 March from the Strollers (Orchestra)
389 Narcissus March (Orchestra)
7741 Hearts and Flowers (Orchestra)
8411 Tell's Serenade (Orchestra)
8295 Marriage Bells (Bells)
8373 The Cuckoo Song (Talking, Whistling and Singing Duet)
8414 The Robin Song (Singing and Whistling)
8375 Just Kiss Yourself Good-Bye (Song)
8230 Come Down My Evening Star (Song)
8470 Jerry Murphy Was a Friend of Mine (Song)
8412 Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home (Song)
8425 Mister Dooley (Song)
8418 In the Good Old Summer Time (Song)
8152 Molly Come Drive the Cows Home (Song)
8193 Please Let Me Sleep (Song)

You cannot sell Records, Mr. Dealer, till you sell Phonographs. This done and a good Record trade is assured.

SEE THAT ALL PHONOGRAPH OWNERS GET A SUPPLEMENT.

The monthly supplement of Records issued by us should go to all owners of Phonographs in United States and Canada. The theory of the Company in getting out this supplement is that Jobbers shall have a sufficient supply to furnish all of their sub-dealers with them, and that the latter shall see that they are sent to all customers who have bought Phonographs. Dealers who do not get a supply for this purpose should take the matter up with their Jobber, and if the latter is not getting a large enough supply to meet such demands, we desire that he shall increase his order with us. Sending these supplements to owners of Phonographs means more business for the Dealer, the Jobber and ourselves, and all should do everything possible to get it.

POSTERS AND STREET CAR CARDS.

Once in a great while we get a request from a Dealer for a supply of cards for street car advertising, but up to the present time the demand has not been sufficient to warrant the expense of getting out a line of these cards. We are willing, however, to bear the expense of lithographing not only street car placards but also a lot of four and eight sheet posters, if the Jobbers and Dealers can use them to advantage. To that end, we shall be glad to know from the trade whether they will bear the cost of street car advertising or putting up posters, if we will go to the expense of having the same printed or lithographed. The policy of treating all Dealers alike makes it impossible for us to do any advertising of this kind in certain territories and neglecting others, and the cost of doing it for all is too great to be considered. If it is done at all, it must be done by each Dealer in his own locality, and not by us. We shall be glad to hear from the trade on this subject.

AS GOOD AS GOLD BONDS.

1224 Broadway, Brooklyn, May 16, 1903.

Enclosed find advertisement and clipping from our local weekly paper, which speaks very highly of the Edison Phonograph and Records. I hope in the next five years to further increase my business, as I believe I will do more and more each year. When I started four years ago I only had three machines and 150 Records, and now I carry for my retail department about fifty machines and 5,000 to 10,000 Records, which goes to show what can be done with the Edison Phonographs. Any live dealer can do business if he will carry the goods, or, as the best Chief New York ever had said, "be caught with the goods" in stock. This will go to show any dealer that Edison goods are as good as gold bonds.

H. S. Price.

A PHONOGRAPH INCIDENT IN THE PHILIPPINES.

In a letter to Mr. Edison, from Manila, in the Philippine Islands, a correspondent writes as follows:

Craving indulgence for occupying your valuable time, I wish to relate an amusing incident which occurred in his far-away country apropos of the Phonograph. The story compares favorably with the yarn on the countryman in the States, which has been so widely advertised.

While giving an advertising exhibition in an interior town, an old native walked up to the horn and gazed steadily into it for a long time, then veered around and examined the box, then looked intently at the operator—then the ceiling, on the floor, returned to the horn, took out a kerchief, mopped his brow, went outside, brought in an old woman, went through the same antics as before, and exclaimed to his companion, "Mother of God, we hear the voice of the Devil, but he is invisible." At that moment the operator put on a stirring band selection, and when it became exhausted the old man caught the woman by the arm and dragged her to the door, murmuring as he went: "Holy Saint Mary, the Devil has visited Heaven and is screaming God."

I have been selling Edison Phonographs for one year on these Islands in the interests of The American Book and News Company, and have had some very interesting experiences.

Have on hand a number of excellent native dialect impressions which may be of use to you.

Sincerely trusting that I have not bored you, and awaiting your good disposition regarding the dialect records, I am, sir, yours to command,

Lew Davis.

Legaspi, Province Albay, P. I., April 11, '03.

RECORD SHIPMENTS.

No effort was spared in hurrying forward the making of the April Records, but it was not until June 2 that the last of them were shipped. We have already begun to make the May Records, and confidently expect to get them out by the 25th of this month. If we succeed in doing this, the June Records will be shipped early in July, probably not more than two weeks later than would have been the case had we not been so far behind with orders.

ONE OF THE BEST LINES HE HAS EVER HANDLED.

Hagersville, Ont., May 27, 1903.

Received No. 3 of the Phonograph Monthly. Please send me Nos. 1 and 2. Want to make a file for future reference. It is just what we need in the business and would willingly remit you a subscriber's price, but fail to find any mention of that item. The Phonograph is proving to be one of the best lines that I have ever handled and am pushing it for all it is worth.

J. H. Head.

WHAT THE WORLD HAS LOST.

(From the Salt Lake Tribune.)

In an interview with Thomas A. Edison in the National Magazine, Joe Mitchell Chapple reports the great inventor as saying, in reply to an inquiry as to which of his inventions was his favorite:

"The phonograph—the phonograph, by all means! It has been a long time since the first phonograph, as we count time nowadays, and improvements come every day; but I think I have accomplished more the past year on it than in any of the years before. My ambition is to have it so perfect that it will reproduce your Boston symphonies to perfection, giving the distinct intonation of every instrument."

And the speaker is represented as speaking "with all the enthusiasm of a boy with his first kite." Well he may be enthusiastic, for the phonograph is one of the sort of inventions that is not only marvelous in itself, but it is marvelous that one should have thought of such a thing as within the range of practical possibilities. To catch the human voice and fix its speech and tones in durable form and for all time, is a thing so incredible to the ordinary mind as to partake much of the nature of the miraculous. And when it was demonstrated as a brilliant fact, then the thought at once arose, What a misfortune to the human race that this invention was not known of old, so that the voice and speech of the great ones of the ages could have come down to us with exactness. How many questions would it not solve, if we had the living voice of Cesar, Cicero, Demosthenes, Pericles, the Ramses, Alexander the Great, and above all, the Master! The thought is well calculated to bring newly to the mind the losses we have sustained because this and some other inventions were born too late. If we could hear the voice of Menes in directions to his overseers in the building of the great pyramid, we would no longer be in doubt why he built it. If we could hear Cicero's orations, there would be no uncertainty about the pronunciation of Latin. If we could hear the voice of Assurbanipal, we would know the origin and methods of Assyrian and Babylonian civilization. If we could have the conversations of Hammurabi, we would know where he got his great civil code, and what his ideas were of the ancient days, that had been lost sight of in the mists of the ages, even in his time. The world has lost so much in the way of perished knowledge that might have been preserved, that it is hungry to learn as much as it can of its loss, and a little resentful that there was no Edison, in the ancient world, to provide for its preservation while yet it was in position for transmission to posterity.

LISTED RECORDS BY OTHER TALENT.

Hereafter, all Records of the following titles shipped from our factory will be sung by Arthur Clifford instead of J. J. Fisher.

7011. Love's Sorrow.
7735. I'll be Your Sweetheart.
7054. Believe.

The many admirers of Mr. Clifford's Records will approve the substitution.

All Records hereafter made of No. 7850, "I Must a Been a Dreamin' " will be sung by Collins and Harlan and not by Collins and Natus as now listed .

In a letter to our Foreign Department received late in May an important Dealer in England wrote:

"After trying many kinds of Talking Machine Records, we have decided to push your gold moulded Records only, and shall stock no other. They are the loudest, clearest and purest in tone and are entirely free from scrapeiness."

LIKES OUR "FOLLOW UP" METHOD.

Fairygrove, Mich., May 27, 1903.

Some time ago I received a card from you stating that ——, of Unionville, Mich., had written you asking about the Edison Phonograph and Records, and asking me to follow the matter up, which I did, and sold him an Edison Standard Phonograph and one dozen Records. Since that time I have taken his order for a larger horn. I appreciate your way of doing business and assure you that I shall do all in my power to sell your goods.

A. H. Moses.

A CHICAGO PHONOGRAPH ENTHUSIAST.

Chicago, Ill., May 2, 1903.

I have one retail customer of whom I want to tell you about. March 1 of this year we sold him a Triumph outfit with a 56-inch by 28-inch bell, B. & G. horn, a cabinet for 144 Records and two dozen Records. He now has 304 Standard Records, and has had built in his house a cabinet that holds 650 Records (in addition to the cabinet sold him.) This cabinet is a handsome thing with silk curtains in front, costing him all told, $23.50 for the cabinet complete, and his 144 cabinet cost him $20. We are having a horn factory make him now a special horn 56 inches long with a 16-inch throat where brass and steel are joined, and this horn will cost him $40. Enthusiastic! You never saw just such a gentleman. He is a Hungarian and a fine baritone singer.

I do not believe there is a finer or better constructed collection in Chicago—if in the United States—than his. The Ray Co.

Per E. B. Walthall, Manager.

Have any of our Jobbers or Dealers an equally enthusiastic customer?

CRITICISMS AND SUGGESTIONS WANTED.

It is evident from the many letters we have received that the getting out of the Edison Phonograph Monthly is fully approved by the trade. We should, however, like something more than mere approval. We cannot believe that the Monthly has no shortcomings, and would like to have its readers point out what they are. It must fail to cover some points concerning the Phonograph business, and we would consider it a favor if such failures were brought to our attention. We also would be glad to have suggestions for making the Monthly more interesting to the trade. Criticisms and suggestions cannot fail to make the Monthly a more readable publication.

ANENT THE PHONOGRAPH "CRANK."

Referring to your invitation on the first page of the first number of the Edison Phonograph Monthly, I feel like saying a few words in favor of the continuance of such a journal.

When one buys a Phonograph, he immediately becomes more or less of a "crank" in relation thereto. He thinks he can improve it in various ways; he thinks his own machine is better than that of his neighbors; he experiments and breaks things; he makes records of his dog and his cat and his grandmother.

The braying of a jackass in the horn affords him infinite delight, because there is an opportunity to reproduce; the sound of the chanticleer that wakes all the people in the neighborhood at 4 A. M., causing them to let go their hold on sleep and profanity, is, to the owner of the Phonograph, a veritable charm—another opportunity to reproduce. A funeral passes, headed by a band; his wife wants to find out all about the departed, 'but he cares not who rides in the front vehicle; his only ambition is to poke his horn out of the window and "take" the dirge. If you call upon him, he talks nothing but Phonograph, and brings out his machine and holds you far into the night, practicing upon you with his collection of records. In other words, he is a crank of the first order, and until he gets over the disease he buys everything that comes along; only mention that it has to do with the Phonograph, and out comes his pocketbook.

Now, it seems to me that this sort of people should be entered to. It is peculiar, but it is human nature, nevertheless, that people like to see things in print concerning the fad that has possession of them for the moment. They like to know what other people are doing, and to exploit their own ingenuity.

These people, I say, ought to be looked after. They are going to spend all the money they have—that is a foregone conclusion when they start in. The disease has got to run its course, and it is only charity for the dealer to help the victim. The trade should have something to send to its retail customers every month, something broad, something bright, something breezy, something worth reading, and filled with hints to keep the "crank's" brain and hand busy. That is just what the trade wants, and it need not be very expensive. Books, circulars, catalogues—these can never take the place of a once-a-month, up-to-date little magazine. Moreover, if properly carried on, there would be a balance on the right side of the ledger at the close of the year, be the expense never so great.

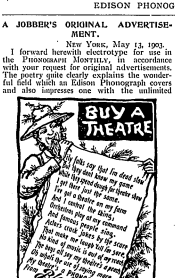
J. N. Kimball.

138 Broadway, New York City.
May 8, 1903.

THE PHONOGRAPH WAY AHEAD.

Anthony, Kan., May 9, 1903.

I want to tell you that the Edison Phonograph, with the new moulded Records, are far ahead of the flat disk records. There are several of the disk machines here in stores. I took an Edison Phonograph and new Records and put them side by side with the disk machine. People who were in the habit of passing by on account of the buzzing and scratching of the disk, came in and they complimented the clearness and naturalness of tone of the Edison machines and Records. Once in a while you can get a pretty fair record on the disk machines, but you find that an owner of a disk machine has very few good records. When you hear them you hear a terrible scratching noise that spoils the record. That grating sound is not very musical to the ears. A merchant here owns a late-improved $50 disk machine. It is a loud affair and a few records that were considered good five weeks ago are now almost worthless. I have used new moulded Edison Records for a year, and they are as good and clear as when first bought. You can throw this in the waste basket, but I wanted to tell you my experience with the different machines. I think more of your new moulded Records each time I get a new lot. Wishing you success.



C. F. Littlepage.

Any Dealer or Jobber selling Edison Records by card system, or otherwise, whereby the dozen price ($5.00) is allowed on sales of less than one dozen actually taken or paid for at one time, will be considered a violator of Agreement, and liable to immediate suspension.

A JOBBER'S ORIGINAL ADVERTISEMENT.

New York, May 13, 1903.

I forward herewith electrotype for use in the Phonograph Monthly, in accordance with your request for original advertisements. The poetry quite clearly explains the wonderful field which an Edison Phonograph covers and also impresses one with the unlimited variety of music it furnishes.

This advertisement was run for about one month and a half in the leading New York theatre programmes. Trusting you may find this worthy of attention in your Monthly, I beg to remain, sincerely yours,

Blackman Talking Machine Co.,
J. Newcomb Blackman, Prop.

GREAT FUTURE IN THE PHONOGRAPH.

"There is certainly a great future in the Phonograph, and no one is now recognizing this condition more thoroughly than the general music dealer. When one stops to think what steps forward have been made since Edison's tinfoil cylinder, considered an absolute failure from a practical standpoint from the start, to the present day talking machine, the advance toward perfection is scarcely realizable. Yet I believe still more remarkable improvements are to come, and in the near future; and perhaps what we may now think a wonderful achievement will then be a back number."—Interview in Music Trade Review.

"HAPPY" GETS A NEW HAT.

"Happy Hooligan" has substituted an Edison Moulded Record for the time honored tin can; at least, that is the conception of W. C. Patrick, one of our Western salesmen, as presented in the above drawing.

AN AUTHOR'S VIEWS ON THE PHONOGRAPH FOR DICTATION PURPOSES.

The March issue of the Author, the official publication of the British Society of Authors, contained an article on the use of the Phonograph for dictation. It is entitled, "The Shorthand Substitute," and is written by C. H. Cook, whose writings under the nom de plume of "John Bickerdyke," are widely known. The article is of such interest that liberal extracts are here made from it:

THE SHORTHAND SUBSTITUTE.

I have no pen in my hand; there is no shorthand writer in the room worrying me to repeat what I said, and asking the way to spell this or that word; there is no typewriter in front of me with its odious click, click; and yet this article is being evolved rapidly and without effort. Now and again I press a key, but that is all. When I have dictated to the extent of 800 words, I push aside a little lever, place a wax cylinder in a box, label it No. 1, and have no more care or trouble about the matter until the afternoon, when my amanuensis brings me a neatly-typed article for revision. Thanks to an excellent voice recording and reproducing machine, I have done most of my literary work and correspondence after this fashion for some years. The only serious fault I have to find with the system is that in course of time the Phonograph comes to be regarded as almost indispensable, and that when away from home without my mechanical assistant, literary work of any kind becomes a grievous toil. Undoubtedly there are writers who could not use the Phonograph with advantage. Some cannot dictate. In other cases the voice possesses a somewhat muffled quality, which makes the record of it too indistinct for the amanuensis to understand when phonographically reproduced, and I may say here that women make by far the clearest record. There are, again, authors who are incapable of understanding and managing the most simple piece of machinery, though they somehow seem to learn to use a pen, which is an infinitely more difficult instrument to manage than a Phonograph, and takes much longer in the learning. But there are large numbers of authors and journalists by whom the Phonograph would be found as useful as I have found it, and for whose advantage I venture to offer some account of my experiences. I have only heard of two authors who use the Phonograph—Mr. Guy Boothby and Mr. Houghton Townley—and the output of these is considerable. A few business men use them in their offices instead of shorthand clerks. One whom I know —Mr. Upcott Gill, publisher—has used a Phonograph for many years for his correspondence.

The first question which an author will naturally ask himself is, "Can I do as good work if I dictate as if I write?" This is very largely a personal matter, depending on the idiosyncrasy of the individual. The author who thinks and writes slowly, and whose literary output rarely exceeds 500 words in a day, should, I think, confine himself to the pen, but those who compose about 2,000 words a day or more are likely to keep up a better average quality of work if they dictate than if they write. The reason I express this opinion is that after about 1,000 words have been written with the pen there is a certain amount of bodily fatigue which affects the mind to a certain extent, and toward the end of the day's work, the quality of the literary matter is inclined to suffer in consequence of the writer's bodily weariness. As a general rule the literary man should, during and just before his hours of work, avoid anything which tends either to distract or weary him. The Phonograph itself is undoubtedly when first possessed something in the nature of a distraction; but this feeling passes off, and very soon one's hand does the slight manipulation which is required without conscious reference to the mind, just as the hands of the piano player work mechanically while the eyes and mind of the player are fixed on the page of music.

This question was one which I considered very anxiously in connection with my own work, and the conclusion I came to was that dictated work was, on the whole, as good as work with pen and ink. I was able in this connection, to compare two novels. The first, "Lady Val's Elopement," was written by me in pencil, and the revised draft was almost illegible, I dictated it to a shorthand writer, making further alterations as I went. After the shorthand notes had been transcribed, I revised the story for the third time and sent it to press. With this I can compare "Her Wild Oats," a novel which was dictated in a very few weeks, though the arrangement and scheme of it required many months of work. I can get no indication of which was the better book from the reviews; but it appears to me (if an author is able to judge his own work) that the wholly-dictated book was the better, and from the publisher's point of view it was by far the most successful. It is shorter and generally less verbose than the written novel, and the dialogue is more crisp. The books are long out of print, so I do not hesitate to mention them by name, in order that others may decide whether my judgment is correct or not on this point, which is one of considerable importance.

It is a good many years now since the first Phonographs were introduced. A serious mistake was then made by the owners of the patent. It was supposed that pretty well everyone would require a Phonograph, and that the invention would come into general use for correspondence, business purposes, etc. Instead of manufacturing the machines at a moderate price and selling them, the company merely hired them out on rather high terms, making an arrangement for the lessees to be visited by an inspector from time to time, who would look over their instruments and keep them in order. This system was an absolute failure. The Phonographs were little used, but within the last few years have come into popular favor in the shape of what I may term musical toys. Talking and music reproducing machines of various kinds are now sold at a low price by quite a number of makers, and at the present day the practical and useful side of the Phonograph seems in danger of being lost sight of. The entertainment Phonograph is not suitable for literary work, and an ingenious author is likely to get a machine which for his particular purpose is of little use.

* * * *

I find that Phonographs have several advantages beyond those which are obvious. In the first place the author and his amanuensis can both be working at the same time, which doubles the time the amanuensis can give to transcription. Secondly, the author can work at any time it pleases him. Shorthand writers who have to come up to the study at eleven o'clock at night will not often be found in a very amiable frame of mind. The author who has a Phonograph into which he can dictate at night, can please himself as to his hours. Thirdly, the machine is, I need hardly say, an endless source of amusement to one's friends, for even those made specially for literary and business purposes will reproduce music, songs, etc., with more or less accuracy, and the friend who is not interested in literary matters is sometimes very much interested in the Phonograph. And, lastly, where members of an author's family are anxious to assist him in his labors, they can always do so by shaving the cylinders and by writing out for him anything he may dictate into the Phonograph, for obviously no knowledge of shorthand is necessary. One of my delights in my leisure moments is to place my Phonograph at the back of the piano, ramble about over the keys, and imagine I am composing. The Phonograph makes a record of the resulting sounds and enables me to study them and hear what poor stuff I have evolved. The instrument may be therefore recommended as a moderator of vanity.

The most pleasant way to hear music, or indeed any sounds, reproduced by the Phonograph is through thin, hard rubber tubes, the ends of which are connected with the ears like the modern stethoscope. These fine tubes have the curious property of softening away the grating or hissing noise, which is really the reproduction of the noise of the sapphire cutting into the wax, while at the same time increasing and rendering more faithfully than the trumpet the sounds one desires to hear. When a trumpet is used objectionable sounds are emphasized, and there is a good deal of metallic vibration as well. I should explain I am referring to the literary Phonograph and not those specially constructed for concert use. When dictating it is best to speak into the metal trumpet provided with the machine.

It is perhaps interesting to mention that the foregoing remarks are recorded on exactly three cylinders and a half, and therefore in all probability consist of about 3,600 words.

Dealers are urged to sign the new Agreement promptly.

SUSPENDED LIST, JUNE 1, 1903.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

KANSAS.

LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DEWOLFF.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORPER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—L. WIGDOR, 430 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH Co., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
R. L. CORWIN, also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway, also Philadelphia, Pa.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 124 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 41 Broad street.
STAR CREDIT CO., or Pool Socks, 180 East Houston st. and 57 Third ave.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
URBICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 603 Chestnut street.
PITTSBURG—*A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

* Added since last Suspended List was issued, April 1, 1903.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus.

THE MEGAHORN.

Most of the devices gotten out for improving the Phonograph amount to little when tested by experience. The Douglas megahorn, however, is one of the devices which seems to have real merit. The horn is made of hard-finished pressed board (not papier mache). It is constructed of several pieces built around a model or mould on a plan of an ever-increasing circle, there not being a straight line in the entire construction.

Authorities on acoustics pronounce this horn the best of its kind in use for reproducing of records. It is made in two sizes, as follows: Mega Jr., 22 inches long with 13-inch bell; mega large, 32 inches long with 24-inch bell. A few points claimed by the manufacturer of this horn is that a greater individuality is given to instrumental records, distributing the volume of tone and imparting a resonant quality not to be had in any other horn.

The C. W. N. Handbook of the Phonograph

—AND—

Instructions for Making Records.

BY C. W. NOYES.

Every Owner Of a talking machine should have a copy of this valuable book. It is replete with Instructions for the Care and Use of the Phonograph, and the chapters devoted to RECORD MAKING are compiled from the author's many years of experience in some of the principal laboratories of this country.

Any one possessed of ordinary intelligence can make a perfect record if the directions are followed.

Fully Illustrated — Handsomely Bound.

PAPER, 25 CENTS. CLOTH, 50 CENTS.

Mailed Postpaid on Receipt of Price.

For Sale by All Jobbers, or ILSEN & COMPANY, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEALERS WRITE FOR DISCOUNTS.

JUNE ADVERTISING.

"The Phonograph is sold in 5,000 stores. Call at the nearest Dealers and hear the modern Phonograph with the new Edison Moulded Records and the New Reproducer." This is again the theme of the advertising of the National Phonograph Co. for June. It directs the attention of the public to the Dealers in Edison Phonographs and Records, and if there is any value in advertising it is constantly creating business for the Dealers. If a Dealer is making the effort he should keep the public informed of the fact that he sells Edison goods, then this advertising is of almost as much value to him as if his name and address appeared in it. Should the advertisement make an impression upon an individual sufficient to induce him to look into the merits of the Phonograph, then he instantly calls to mind the Dealer who has been keeping his name in the papers as selling Edison Phonographs and Records. In this way Dealers may at a small expenditure get much benefit from the general advertising of this Company —advertising that costs many thousands of dollars more than he could spend himself.

The mediums used by this Company in June were the following: Ainslee's, American Boy, Brown Book, Century, Collier's, Craftsmen, Everybody's, Field and Stream, Independent, Life, McClure's, Metropolitan, Musical Record and Review, Outing, Outwest, Overland, Photo Era, Saturday Evening Post, Scribner's, Smart Set, Strand, Success, Town Topics, Town and Country.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. 1. NEW YORK, JULY, 1903. No. 5.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 20 REMPART SAINT GEORGES.
LONDON: 25 HATTON GARDEN HOLBORN.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

Order Early for Fall Trade..... 1
Advance List August Records..... 2
Price-Cutters Will Suffer Sooner or Later. 3
Agreements To Be Signed with Every Jobber..... 3
Record Shipments..... 3
Order and Injunction in "The Fair" Case.. 4
Instalment Plans for Selling Phonographs. 4
Factory Additions..... 5
French, German and Spanish I. C. S. Language Outfits..... 5
The August List..... 6
A Pioneer in the Phonograph Business.... 7
On "Following Up"..... 7
Posters and Street Car Cards..... 7
Dealers Must Sign Agreement at Once..... 7
About Printed Matter..... 8
Price-Cutting Abroad..... 9
Odd Uses for the Phonograph..... 9
Why Bill Bailey Returned Home..... 9
Detroit "Raises" Chicago..... 10
Owns Over 1,000 Records..... 10
A Large Advertising Horn..... 11
Among the Jobbers..... 11
Thomas A. Edison's Patents..... 12
Phonograph for Dictation Purposes..... 12
Suspended List..... 14
A Jobber's Large Order..... 15
July Advertising..... 15
A Reporter Hears Our Chimes Records... 12
A Phonograph Incident in the Philippines 13
A Dealer's Commendation..... 13
A Peculiar Phonograph Belt..... 14

ORDER EARLY FOR THE FALL TRADE.

Although it is July, it is none too early to begin to think of the fall. Jobbers and Dealers who were handling our goods a year ago will recollect how difficult it was towards winter to get Phonographs, Reproducers and Records promptly. This was largely due to the great influx of orders as the holiday season approached. A similar difficulty may be avoided by placing orders for goods in advance; in other words, anticipate your fall needs. Look over your last year's business to see what goods you sold, then take account of stock so as to determine what styles of machine or what Record titles you are short of, and then place orders for sufficient goods to make your stock complete. Bear in mind, if you are a Dealer, that it takes time to get an order to your Jobber; it takes more time for him to place his order with us, and, as shipments are made by freight, it takes considerable time to get goods to him, to say nothing of the possible delays at the factory in consequence of the number of orders already on file. Your order, however, will get attention in its turn, if others are ahead of it, and in this way you will get your goods at about the time you are needing them most. Even if you should get them ahead of your demand, there is no chance for loss in having them. There will be no changes in the styles of Phonographs this fall; there are scarcely any Record titles not saleable at all times and there is no likelihood of loss because you have a complete stock. We know from past experience that business is very frequently lost because a customer cannot get a Phonograph quickly or get a supply of Records of his choice when he wants them. Having a stock on hand, therefore, makes it possible to sell more goods than would otherwise be possible without it. Anticipate your wants; place orders early.

The Phonograph will sell itself. Play it.

THE ADVANCE LIST OF JULY RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS FOR AUGUST, 1903

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near August 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to July 20th, will be shipped.

August Supplements will bear the date of August 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to July Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

8449 Badinage (Victor Herbert) Edison Concert Band
8450 Ballet Music from Faust, Part I Edison Concert Band
Waltz corps de ballet
8451 Love's Dream After the Ball (Czibulka) Edison Concert Band
8452 I'm Thinkin' of You All of de While Coon song Billy Murray
8453 Alec Busby, Don't Go Away Coon song Billy Murray
8454 Up-to-date Minstrelsy No. 1 Edison Modern Minstrels
Introducing song "My Love I Dare Not Tell," by Arthur Clifford
8455 Heart Bowed Down, Aria from "The Bohemian Girl" Tuson
Clarinet solo with orchestra accompaniment
8456 Congo Love Song MacDonough
By composer of "Under the Bamboo Tree"
8457 A Scene in a Country Store Harlan & Stanley
Comic Rube talking and singing duet
8458 The Moss Rose (Rose-Mousse, Valse lente) a Parisian Success
Edison Symphony Orchestra
8459 A Lucky Duck, a web-foot promenade with "quack" effect
By composer of "The Mosquito Parade" Edison Symphony Orchestra
8460 You Can't Fool All the People All the Time Coon song Collins
(Marie Cahill's big hit)
8461 Onward Christian Soldiers Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette
8462 Alita (Wild Flower) Bells Albert Benzler
With orchestra accompaniment
8463 While the Moon Shines Bright Harlan
Waltz song with orchestra accompaniment
8464 On the High Alps (Lander Idylle) Violin and flute duet Jaudas & Atz
8465 Only a Dream of the Golden Past Descriptive song Franklyn Wallace
8466 My Emmaleen Coon song from "Peggy from Paris" Collins
8467 When We Get Married Comic song Denny
8468 There's a Mother Always Waiting for You at Home,
Sweet Home Male duet Harlan & Stanley
8469 It's a Lovely Day for a Walk Miss Morgan & Mr. Stanley
Serio-comic contralto and bazo duet
8470 Coming Thro' the Rye, Theme and Variations, Mazziotta
Piccolo solo with orchestra accompaniment
8471 Ephasah Dill Comic coon male duet Collins & Harlan
8472 The Girl Who Comes in From the West Serio-comic song from "Peggy from Paris" with orchestra accompaniment MacDonough
8473 Santiago Waltz Xylophone solo with orchestra accompaniment Hopkins

Edison Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

A SMALL SUSPENDED LIST.

The fact that out of nearly 5,500 Dealers in Edison goods we find it necessary to place only thirty-four on the Suspended List is a record of which we are proud. Even thirty-four is a high number, for we know that several of the firms on this List are no longer in the Phonograph business. The smallness of the number shows that there is little price cutting in Edison goods. It is most gratifying to us to find the trade living up to our Agreement System with such unanimity. This is doubtless because Jobbers and Dealers have found from experience that it is much more profitable and more satisfactory to sell Phonographs and Records at a uniform price than to endeavor to increase their business by selling at less than the established prices.

PRICE CUTTERS WILL SUFFER SOONER OR LATER.

Occasionally we get a letter from an impatient Dealer, informing us that his competitor is cutting prices, and demanding that some immediate action be taken to stop it. He cites instances of customers leaving his place after learning that he will not sell at less than the established prices and later returning with the statement that they had bought goods at his rival's store at a discount. Too frequently the only evidence that a Dealer has is the statement of the customer made under such circumstances, and it would, of course, be impossible to take action upon such testimony. Even, however, where a Dealer goes to further trouble and has someone buy goods at his competitor's store at a cut price, it is difficult to stop it at once. It takes time to lay the information before the Jobber who is selling to the price cutter, in order that he may refuse to sell him any further goods. This frequently must be done in the case of several Jobbers through whom a Dealer may buy. Those who keep faith with the company, however, may depend upon it that sooner or later price cutters will be summarily dealt with. Their supply of goods will be cut off, and if they are individuals whom it would pay to bring suit against, we shall bring action against them. We, therefore, ask the complaining Dealer to continue to send us his evidence and be patient.

ADVERTISEMENTS WILL BE ACCEPTED FOR THE MONTHLY.

Since the first issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, we have had inquiries as to whether we would run in its columns the advertisements of other goods. At first it was thought better to do no advertising except for this company, but last month the matter was re-considered so far as to agree to publish advertisements of goods or articles allied to the Phonograph trade, such as horns, cabinets, handbooks, etc. In consequence of this re-consideration, we accepted an order from Ilsen & Company, of Cincinnati, to advertise their Handbook of the Phonograph. This will explain why the advertisement appeared in the June issue. The rate of $10 per page or $5 a half page has been fixed upon for this advertising, no advertisement for less than a half page being accepted. We are not soliciting advertising, but if firms selling goods to the Phonograph trade desire to use the columns of the MONTHLY to reach Jobbers and Dealers they may do so at these rates.

AGREEMENTS TO BE SIGNED WITH EVERY JOBBER.

Jobbers frequently complain that Dealers think they can buy Edison goods through any Jobber on our list as long as they signed an Agreement through any one Jobber. This understanding is wrong. In order to deal with any Jobber, a Dealer must sign an Agreement through him, and if he is buying through half a dozen Jobbers, he must sign as many different Agreements. A Jobber who does not have an Agreement of this kind has no knowledge that a Dealer has signed at all. It is not enough that the Dealer claims that he has signed or that he even shows a duplicate of the Agreement he has signed. He must sign with every Jobber through whom he desires to buy.

Kellar, the magician, recently bought an Edison Phonograph from one of our New York City Jobbers. This is the way that the Jobber put the question: "If Kellar is the king of amusement makers and the Phonograph amuses Kellar, is not the Phonograph greater than the king?"

RECORD SHIPMENTS.

We are glad to be able to report that we are gradually catching up on the shipments of the monthly Records. Those for May were completed on June 20th and the June list will be in the hands of the trade before July 10th. If we continue to make the same gain we shall be caught up by September. We had hoped to do better than this, anticipating a decrease in orders with the approach of summer, but the volume of business shows so little change from that of midwinter that it has not been possible to do so.

ANOTHER DECISION SUSTAINING AND PROTECTING THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, ITS JOBBERS AND DEALERS IN THE SALE OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

Below will be found copies of an order and an injunction recently entered in a suit brought by the National Phonograph Company, to prevent "The Fair," a department store in Chicago, from selling Edison Records procured by them without their signing the required Agreement.

We might add in this connection, that "The Fair" has now signed Agreement with us, and will, we believe, hereafter live up to our Terms and Conditions in every respect.

THE ORDER.

Circuit Court of the United States.
Northern District of Illinois, Northern Division.
Monday, May 19, 1902.

Present, Hon. CHRISTIAN C. KOHLSAAT, District Judge.

EDISON PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, AND NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, vs. THE FAIR (a corporation). No. 28613.

This cause coming on to be heard upon the pleadings, the demurrer of defendant herein having been overruled, Mr. Charles K. Offield, appearing in behalf of complainants, and Mr. Howard W. Hayes, solicitor of record, and it appearing to the Court that the defendant does not further desire to contest this action, and admits the truth of the allegations of the Bill of Complaint, and has settled and paid to complainants the profits and damages which they have intended for in said Bill of Complaint, now, therefore, it is Ordered and Decreed, that a perpetual injunction issue in accordance with the prayer of said Bill of Complaint filed herein, and that the defendant pay the taxable Court costs in this action, and that this Decree thereupon and thereby is final.

Northern District of Illinois, } ss.:
Northern Division. }

I, Marshall E. Sampsell, Clerk of the Circuit Court of the United States, for said Northern District of Illinois, do hereby certify the above and foregoing to be a true and complete copy of the order entered of record in said Court on the twelfth day of May, A. D. 1902, in the cause wherein Edison Phonograph Company and National Phonograph Company are the complainants and The Fair (a corporation) is the defendant, as the same appears from the original records of said Court now remaining in my custody and control.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my office in Chicago, in said District, this twenty-fifth day of May, A. D. 1902.

MARSHALL E. SAMPSELL, Clerk.
[L.S.]

THE INJUNCTION.

United States Circuit Court.
Northern District of Illinois, Northern Division.

EDISON PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, et al., Complainants, vs. In Equity.
THE FAIR (a corporation), Defendant.

The President of the United States of America to The Fair, its officers, agents, attorneys, servants and workmen, and each and every of them.

GREETINGS:

Whereas in a certain final decree made in our Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois, Northern Division, on the twelfth day of May, 1902, in a certain cause therein depending wherein Edison Phonograph Company and National Phonograph Company are complainants and the said The Fair is defendant, it was ordered, adjudged and decreed that a perpetual injunction should issue against you, the said The Fair, in accordance with the prayer of said complainants' Bill of Complaint filed herein; we therefore, in consideration of the premises, do hereby strictly enjoin and command you, the said The Fair, your officers, agents, attorneys, servants and workmen, under the penalty that may fall thereon, that you and every of you do from henceforth and forever refrain and desist from directly, indirectly selling or causing to be used, selling or causing to be sold, any apparatus, articles or devices, embodying or constructed or operating in accordance with the inventions and improvement set forth in Letters Patent of the United States granted to said complainants respectively, without the license of said said complainants.

Witness, Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of our Supreme Court, this twelfth day of June, 1902.
[Seal] MARSHALL E. SAMPSELL, Clerk.
OFFICE, TOWER BUILDING, CHICAGO.
HOWARD W. HAYES, Solicitors.

Service accepted of the above injunctional order.
WALTER H. CHAMBERLIN,
For Defendant.

June 12, 1902.

INSTALMENT PLANS FOR SELLING PHONOGRAPHS.

Some weeks ago a Western Jobber wrote to our Sales Department with reference to the plan followed by Dealers who make a feature of selling Phonographs and Records on the instalment or easy payment plan. The reply of the Sales Department covered the ground so fully that it is printed below:

Replying to that portion of yours of the 6th inst., relative to plan adopted by Dealers in selling Phonographs on the instalment, easy-payment, weekly or monthly-payment basis, we have met with a number of six different Dealers in this city, who do a very large business in this manner, and find their system to be as follows:

They add to list price of machines, with regular outfit, as follows: Gem, $2 to $3; Standard, $2 to $3; Home, $3 to $5; Triumph, $5 to $10.

Terms of payment as follows: In one case $1 down on any outfit, and $1 per week until paid for. In all other cases, first payment runs $3 down on Gem, $5 on Standard, $10 on Home, and from $15 to $20 on Triumph, with weekly payments of $1 per week until full amount is paid.

In no case are Records or accessories, such as large size horns, Records' cases, etc., included on the instalment basis. Such goods are cash down.

In all cases a lease is taken, which makes the outfit the property of the Dealer until it is paid for in full. Any Dealer taking up the instalment business can, of course, use such agreement or lease as he thinks best.

In talking this method of doing business over with our different Dealers here, we find it is a very successful one, and they all report the percentage of loss on instalment business is less than on their regular credit business. Writer knows, from personal investigation, that all of the six dealers referred to have made a lot of money by selling our apparatus in this manner, and as this system of selling goods is being taken up more extensively every day, and in almost every city in the country, fully believes if you will take it up and be the pioneers in that direction in your city, you would meet with unqualified success.

FACTORY ADDITIONS.

The improvements now being made to the factory of the National Phonograph Company, at Orange, N. J., comprise two things: First, an entirely new brick building; second, adding a second story to a building that has been in use several years. The new brick building will be a two-story structure, 66 feet wide and 276 feet long, with an L 58 by 105 at one end. It will be built with 16-inch walls and little effort will be made at exterior ornamentation. This building will be devoted entirely to the manufacture of Moulded Records. Under its roof every process will be carried out, from the mixing of the special composition, up through the moulding, testing and other processes, till they are wrapped in cotton and paper and then packed in cases for shipment to all parts of the world. It is expected that with this building we shall have facilities for turning out twice as many Records as at present. The building now used for Record making will be devoted to making Masters and Moulds, both of which branches are badly cramped for room at present.

The building that is having a story added to it is a frame structure 50 by 279. Its one story was used for assembling, making reproducers, making cases, packing, and as a store room, and every department was working at a disadvantage for want of proper working space. In adding another story to the building considerable ingenuity was shown by the architect in charge. With every foot of space in constant demand during working hours and frequently far into the night, it became necessary to make the improvement without interfering with work. The building was therefore literally sawed in half from the roof to the ground. The north half was then raised by jacks to the required height, supported by heavy wooden columns, with steel beams, inclosed on the sides and floors laid. Between 200 and 300 men remained at work while the work was going on, and soon found themselves working twenty feet above their old quarters on the ground floor. The force at work on the ground floor of the southern half of the building moved into the new floor of the northern end, and the southern portion is now being raised to the same height as the other half. This addition will add 13,000 feet of floor space to the building. Each department will get a large slice of this increase and all will be in splendid shape to take care of an increased business.

Keep ahead of the demand for goods by ordering early.

FRENCH, GERMAN, SPANISH I. C. S. LANGUAGE OUTFITS.

The International Correspondence School of Scranton, Pa., has been most successful in the past few years with its use of the Edison Phonograph in teaching its French, German and Spanish language courses. Students using the Phonograph and the Records prepared by the school have been unanimous in their praises of them. The system is a pronounced success. Up to the present time it has not been possible to secure these language study outfits except from the International Correspondence School. This institution has now decided to place the outfits in the hands of the Phonograph trade generally, and Nelson C. Durand, manager of the language department of the school, is taking the matter up with Jobbers and Dealers as rapidly as possible. He expects to call personally upon many of them and to correspond with the others. Any who may desire immediate information should address Mr. Durand at Scranton.

The advent of the I. C. S. Language Study Outfits opens a new field for the Edison Dealer by helping him to place the Phonograph in more homes and keeping alive the interest of customers. Only regular Edison Jobbers and Dealers may purchase the class of goods and regular Edison contracts, mentioning the language material, must be signed before sales will be made. The standard prices are given below:

Set of 25 I. C. S. Records and Textbooks sold in combination	25.00
Complete I. C. S. Language Outfit, Records and Textbooks, without correspondence instruction	30.00
I. C. S. Phonograph Outfits sold separately	38.00
Set of 25 I. C. S. Records, sold separately	18.00

Attractive posters and advertising matter are furnished by the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., in connection with their sales. We hope that the trade will post themselves on this new feature of the business at the first opportunity.

Newtown, Iowa, June 4, 1903.

I acknowledge receipt of list of suspended Dealers and desire to congratulate you on the splendid system used in connection with your business. I shall certainly co-operate with you in keeping out the price-cutters. I know from experience that the Phonograph is the only really dependable talking machine sold to-day at any price. I admire their perfect mechanical construction, which speaks well for the skill of the workmen who make them.

W. E. DINGMAN.

One of our Pennsylvania Dealers is a furniture dealer and undertaker, and sells Phonographs as a side line. Can any other Dealer show a greater contrast in business?

THE AUGUST LIST.

In the twenty-five new Record titles listed for August our Record Department has prepared what we regard as a real treat for lovers of the Edison Phonograph. The list contains more new and novel things than any similar list in some time past. The first title, No. 8449, "Badinage," is a composition by Victor Herbert. It illustrates in a musical way the carrying on of a vivacious conversation, some clever effects being given. The composition may be found on the best concert programmes. It is very popular among music lovers. Our new band does it full justice. The second selection by the band, No. 8450, gives Part I. of the Ballet Music from "Faust" (waltz for the corps de ballet), written by Gounod. This is one of the prettiest parts of this famous ballet music. Parts II., III. and IV. will be listed later. A third band title is No. 8451, "Love's Dream After the Ball," by Czibulka. This beautiful concert number is played by the best bands and orchestras.

Nos. 8452 and 8453, "I'm Thinkin' of You All de While" and "Alec Busby, Don't Go Away," are coon songs by Billy Murray, a new man on our staff of entertainers. He sings these songs in a highly amusing manner and gives evidence of being a success. The demand for our minstrel Records already listed has induced us to make another. It is No. 8454, "Up-to-Date Minstrels No. 1." It is made by the Edison Modern Minstrels, and in it Arthur Clifford sings "My Love I Dare Not Tell."

No. 8455 "Heart Bowed Down," aria from "The Bohemian Girl," is one of the novel things on the list. It is a clarinet solo by William Tuson, but it is accompanied by an orchestra instead of the piano, as all clarinet solos of the past have been. A more perfect Record would be hard to make. In No. 8456 Harry MacDonough sings "Congo Love Song," written by the composer of "Under the Bamboo Tree," and it will probably be as popular. No. 8457, "A Scene in a Country Store," a Rube talking and singing duet by Harlan and Stanley, will cause many a merry laugh.

The Edison Symphony Orchestra has two selections in this list. No. 8458 is a Paris success called "Rose Mousse." We have given it the English name, "Moss Rose." It is a delightful waltz air. No. 8459, "A Lucky Duck," is styled on our list as a "web-foot" promenade, with "quack" effect. It is written by Howard Whitney, composer of "The Mosquito Parade," and it has been played with great success in the far West. In San Francisco for weeks everybody did nothing but "quack."

No. 8460 gives "You Can't Fool All the People All the Time," the coon song in which Marie Cahill has just made such a hit in New York city. Arthur Collins sings it in an excellent manner. Those who heard "Refuge," by the Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette, in the June list, cannot fail to be pleased with No. 8461, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," by the same quartette.

No. 8462, "Alita" (Wild Flower), is a bells solo, with orchestra accompaniment, played by Albert Benzler, another new entertainer. In No. 8463 Byron G. Harlan sings another of his sentimental songs, called "When the Moon Shines Bright." So popular have the violin and flute duets by Jaudas and Atz become that a monthly list is not now complete without one. That in the August list is "On the High Alps." It is a pretty air and played charmingly. No. 8465, "Only a Dream of the Golden Past," leaves Franklyn Wallace back to the public ear. This song will deepen the good impression made by his previous selections.

In the July list we gave a selection from "Peggy from Paris," by the Edison Symphony Orchestra. This bright musical comedy by George Ade and William Loraine, is now enjoying a popular run at Boston, and it is shortly to be produced in New York. This month we give two songs from this operetta, No. 8466, "My Emmaleen," a coon song by Arthur Collins, and No. 8472, "The Girl Who Comes in from the West," a serio-comic song by Harry MacDonough. Both are catchy airs and will be whistled the country over ere long.

No. 8467, "When We Get Married," brings before Phonograph users another selection by Will F. Denny, and all who know about his clever singing of songs of this character will recognize in the title a song suited to his talent. No. 8468, "There's a Mother Always Waiting for You at Home, Sweet Home," is a well-rendered duet by Harlan and Stanley. Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley again sing pleasingly in No. 8469, "It's a Lovely Day for a Walk." In playing No. 8470, "Coming Thro' the Rye," theme and variations, by Frank S. Mazziotta, the piccolo was accompanied by the orchestra for the first time, and an excellent Record was secured.

No. 8471, "Ephasafa Dill," is a comic coon duet by Collins and Harlan, and it is sung with good blend and swing. No. 8473, "Santiago Waltz," is another one of J. Frank Hopkins' excellent xylophone solos.

If you have not signed the new Agreement do it at once and keep in good standing.

A PIONEER IN THE PHONOGRAPH BUSINESS.

COLTON, California, June 20, 1903.

Beg to acknowledge receipt of your late list of suspended Dealers. THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY comes to hand regular, and I am greatly pleased with it. I am one of the oldest Phonograph Agents in the West; I bought Phonographs from the North American Co. before you had a Jobber in San Francisco. I believe I am the only person in California that has been handling Phonograph goods exclusively for ten or more years, all other Dealers I have seen handle something else along with Phonographs, but I have had plenty to do with Phonographs alone. I make it a point to repair every Edison Phonograph I see out of order. I do not wait for my customers to come to me, I go to them; I am well known all over this State and parts of Mexico.

I want to tell you about one party in San Diego, Cal. He is a German; he bought a Concert Machine when they sold for $125, and Records for $2 each. He has now upwards of 500 Records and has paid out about $800 for Phonograph goods. The first time I went to his place of business with a Phonograph he told me he would not have one of them in his stable. (I think some one had just been in ahead of me trying to sell him a Scratch-o-phone).

In the way of advertising I have had several suits of clothing made up in a sort of a uniform, yet different than any I have seen any one else wear, with the letters "Edison Phonograph" on the cap.

At present I have a large nickel-plated badge with the words Edison Phonograph Agent. The Phonograph is "O. K." and I want the people to know I am in the business.

THOMAS H. LEONARD.

Who has sold Phonographs continuously longer than Mr. Leonard?

ON "FOLLOWING UP."

Most of our Dealers know all about our system of following up the inquiries that we receive from our advertisements. For the benefit, however, of new Dealers, we desire to again refer to the matter. When a reply to an advertisement is received by us, the catalogues or information requested are at once mailed and the inquirer advised that his request has been referred to the Dealers nearest him. The location of the inquirer is then looked up, and all Dealers in his vicinity are advised that he is seeking information about Phonographs or Records. The result is that the prospective buyer gets almost immediate attention from one or more Dealers, and we know of thousands of cases where sales have followed. It must be evident to Dealers that a company which goes to this trouble for their benefit must be a good one to tie up to. It is but one of many things being done to turn business over to the trade instead of seeking to get it direct.

POSTERS AND STREET CAR CARDS.

The reference in the June MONTHLY to our getting out a supply of posters for use on billboards and placards for use in street cars was responded to by only a few Jobbers and Dealers, and they, in some instances, had interpreted the paragraph to mean that the posters and placards were already to be had for the asking. To get up posters and placards in an attractive manner and in a large quantity means the expenditure of considerable money. It would be unwise to go to this expense and then find that the trade did not care to use them, unless we bore the expense of posting or putting the placards in street cars. The paragraph referred to was intended to get from the trade some idea as to the possible use of these advertising forms. The responses thus far are not enough to warrant us in going ahead with the work; but before deciding the matter, we will wait another month and see how many other Jobbers or Dealers write us on the subject.

DEALERS MUST SIGN AGREEMENT AT ONCE.

July 1 was the time fixed when the new Retail Dealers' Agreement would go into effect. That date now being past, Dealers who have not signed the new Agreement are liable to be put to considerable trouble in getting goods. If the matter has escaped the attention of any Dealers and they have not yet signed, it will be advisable for them to sign at once and forward Agreement to their Jobber, or to either of our offices if they are dealing direct. We do not want to be harsh with any one in the trade or to take their names off our books; but if Dealers do not sign, we have no other option in the matter under our system.

Under date of June 23, the American Phonograph Co., Gloversville, N. Y., writes:—"The continued holding on of the season's business has passed all calculations as compared with past years."

5821 Sydenham St.,
PHILADELPHIA, June 18, 1903.

I wish to assure you that you have my hearty co-operation in your dealings with all named on the suspended list.

The PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is welcome and greatly appreciated, and trust it will grow each month and develop finally into a magazine of twenty-five or thirty pages. I shall do all I can to help the good work along.

Assuring you my hearty support at all times, I am, yours truly,

J. M. EISENHUTH.

ABOUT PRINTED MATTER.

Requests to mail the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY to individuals outside of the trade cannot be granted. It is published only for the information of the trade.

A new edition has been printed of Form No. 414, the four-page folder showing the Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph types of the Phonograph on its inside pages. New half-tones of the machines have been made and the matter on the last page has been re-written.

Recognizing the justness of the complaints from Dealers that hangers come out of the mail badly creased after being folded, we have decided to adopt some other means of mailing them. The next lot will probably go out in mailing tubes and we shall be glad to know if they reach Dealers in better shape. In the absence of complaints we shall assume that the service is better. The same method will probably be adopted for mailing the Record bulletin.

We would again ask Dealers to get catalogues and other printed matter from their Jobbers instead of writing direct to us for it. We have no means of knowing how much business a Dealer is doing and without that knowledge cannot form any estimate as to what a Dealer should have in the way of advertising literature. The Jobber should have a good stock of this matter on hand and be in a position to save the Dealer transportation charges on it.

With the May Record supplements a variation was made in the style of work on these slips. As all the trade now know, the May supplement showed a youthful imitator of Sousa, with eyeglasses and medals, leading the band, the music of which is issuing from the horn of a Standard Phonograph. The June supplement will show the Phonograph amusing a group of foreigners, each one of whom represents a different nation. Still another idea will be illustrated with the July list.

Some of our Dealers do not seem to be aware of the fact that we furnish, without charge, an order book for their use. They are probably Dealers who have taken up the line since these books were sent to all Dealers, a year or more ago. We are desirous that all Dealers shall have one of these books on hand at all times and use them in placing orders. They are printed in duplicate, enabling Dealers to keep a carbon copy of their order. Ask your Jobber for an order book, or, if you are buying direct, have one mailed from the New York office.

Some time in July we will send out the first of a new series of posters lithographed in a manner quite different from anything heretofore issued by this company. There are three posters in the series, each 11x22 inches in size. Each shows the Phonograph in connection with some attractive scene. The first to be issued is Form No. 431, showing the Phonograph amusing three lonesome Summer girls. Its caption is "More Fun Than a Man. The Man is in the Edison Phonograph." In August we will send out the second of the series, Form No. 432, showing a pair of lovers on a yacht at sea and spending their idle time listening to the Phonograph. Its title is "Two's Company. Three's More Fun with the Edison Phonograph." The third of the series will be issued in September. It shows the Phonograph entertaining a dinner party. It is called "The Up-to-date After-Dinner Speaker, the Edison Phonograph." Only one of these posters will be sent out each month, and we believe they will be considered among the best things yet gotten out for the use of the trade.

The paragraph in the June MONTHLY called "Selling Suggestions" has brought us a good many requests for sample copies of the five forms which we suggested could be used to advantage in advertising the Phonograph at fairs, etc. If those who have received these forms desire to get a supply for the uses named, we wish that they would write their Jobbers in order that the latter may send us an order for a sufficient quantity to fill their demands. Some Dealers have asked us if we could print their names upon the circulars. We have been compelled to reply that it was not feasible. To stand ready to do imprinting for 5,000 Dealers is more of a proposition than we can undertake, and we can see no way of doing it for a few unless we are ready to do it for all. Dealers can have this work done as cheaply as we can, for in all cases the circulars are printed and cut so that they can only be printed one at a time, no matter where the work is done.

"WELL PLEASED."

GRAND SALINE, TEXAS, June 21, 1903.

I received your Phonograph all right and in good shape. Am well pleased with it. It is the only Edison Phonograph in the little town of Grand Saline, which has a population of 2,500. We have two Phonographs in the town but you can scarcely make out what they play. There is a very good chance here to sell four or five of your Phonographs as people are wild over mine.

C. C. STEPHENS.

PRICE CUTTING ABROAD.

Until very recently we had never felt the necessity of adopting measures to regulate the sale of our goods abroad, as our prices have always been maintained. Of late, however, on account of the unprecendented sale of our apparatus, there has arisen a tendency in certain territories to cut prices, particularly on Phonographs and Records. Immediately this matter was brought to our attention we prepared to meet the exigency by arranging a form of Agreement similar to that in use so long and successfully in this country. We have received numerous communications of late from our most important clients abroad urging us to make this Agreement operative at once. This Agreement is now in the printer's hands, and as soon as received they will be distributed among the Dealers and Jobbers for their signatures, as we propose to take immediate steps to stop this ruinous practice of price cutting. In the event of any Jobber or Dealer violating this Agreement after same has been properly signed, we will take steps to cut off his supply, as we are determined to keep the sale of our apparatus on a sound basis.

That we will have the hearty co-operation of the trade in correcting this abuse, we do not for a moment doubt. We can assure our clients that we propose to protect their interests in this matter, and we ask our friends abroad to support us in this endeavor.

ODD USES FOR THE PHONOGRAPH.

A Chicago paper recently contained an article telling how a leading Paris dentist uses the Phonograph to lessen pain while extracting teeth.

Several photographers in the East have introduced the Phonograph in their studios as a means of getting their patrons to "look pleasant."

A Philadelphia dealer in pet stock is quoted by the Philadelphia Record as having trained a parrot to repeat advertising phrases by means of a Phonograph. He thinks that his idea has a great advertising future.

KITTANNING, Pa., June 16, 1903.

We take pleasure in signing the enclosed contract, and once more must congratulate you on the betterment of your policy, which we assure you will be to our mutual advantage.

We are particularly pleased with the second paragraph, in which parties taking up your line, must have an established store suitable to display same. This will correct an evil which we have suffered from somewhat. Wishing you continued prosperity, we remain, yours truly,

FURNEE & KENNEDELL.

WHY BILL BAILEY RETURNED HOME.

MALDEN, Mass., June 9, 1903.

Inclosed find one of my May booklets, which I thought would interest you. The verses are original, and are intended to show the influence that the Phonograph, the bicycle and good cigars had on Bill Bailey, by inducing him to return to his lady-love, where the influence of gold failed, as shown in the April No. 8389 "I Wonder Why Bill Bailey Don't Come Home."

JAMES CONWAY,
Manager Malden Sporting Goods Co.

The folder referred to by Mr. Conway had a pretty design on the first page, a list of the May Records on the second page and the following verses on the third page:

THE REASON BILL BAILEY CAME HOME.

On a dark and stormy night
The rain was falling fast,
Bill Bailey's former lady love
Was thinking of the past.
As Bill was passing by,
He heard his sweetheart say:
Come back again, Bill Bailey,
Come to your sweetheart true;
I've got a lovely Phonograph,
And the latest Records, too;
I've got a bike for you to ride,
And cigars for you to smoke;
Come home again, Bill Bailey,
My heart is nearly broke.
They live happy now together,
And it makes Bill Bailey laugh,
The comic songs and speeches
On his lady's Phonograph.

TRADE ADVERTISEMENTS.

O. W. Teffts, of 541 Albany street, Little Falls, N. Y., sends us a clipping of an advertisement that occupied three full columns in a local paper. It is full of good arguments about Edison Phonographs and Records, is well arranged and displayed in good style. We regret that space will not permit us to reproduce the advertisement or quote at length from it.

Other enterprising Jobbers and Dealers who have sent clippings or papers containing their advertisements during June were the following: McGreal Bros., 173 Third street, Milwaukee; Samuel T. Shroff, 920 Fourth street, Sioux City, Ia.; Monroe S. North, 46 Main street, Batavia, N. Y.

Wright's Music House, at Portland, Oregon, gets out a large mailing card every month when it gets a new lot of Edison Records and extends the following invitation to the public:

We beg to inform you that we have just received another shipment of new Edison Moulded Records. Our "Record Boy" does nothing but play Records, so do not hesitate to call and hear them at any time. We sell genuine Edison Phonographs from $10 to $100, cash or instalments. Wright's Music House, opp. Cordrays, 340 Wash. street, Portland, Or.

DETROIT "RAISES" CHICAGO.

Apropos of the Chicago Phonograph enthusiast referred to in the June issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, E. Percy Ashton, manager of the American Phonograph Co., Detroit, Mich., sends the following:

DETROIT, Mich., June 12, 1903.

About six years ago we sold O. R. Looker, President of the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company, a Triumph machine, and a few months later a Bettini attachment, since which time we have exchanged his original Triumph machine for a new model Triumph and sold him another Triumph and a Standard. Both of these Triumph machines are in his music room together with an imported music box (which cost $1,100) and an expensive piano. One Triumph is equipped with the Edison diaphragm, the other is equipped with a Bettini. The Standard Phonograph is in the children's room.

Further we sold Mr. Looker a solid mahogany 100-gift cabinet for $35.00, two mahogany veneer 180-pin cabinets at $30 each. Besides these he has had built a quarter sawed oak cabinet in imitation of a book-case, with bevel glass doors and silk curtains, to hold carrying cases. The capacity of this cabinet is something over 1,000 Records. Mr. Looker has at present almost every Record made by the National Phonograph Company, most of the Bettini Records, some Berliner Records, has visited every original Record plant in New York and purchased samples of their work. He has bought at least 3,000 Records from me to date.

In asking Mr. Looker for this data he wished me to impress upon you the fact that he has not bought this stock because he is crazy on the subject but as an educator and diversion from business. He has a most complete machine shop and carpenter's bench in his house and considers his investment an economical one.

Just a word on diaphragms. Mr. Looker took his Bettini diaphragm to pieces and copying after the laminated micro diaphragm used in the model "C" reproducer has gone one notch further on the Bettini as he uses ten laminations in a very novel and unique way. The slightest whisper, even the echo of the Record making room being quite plain. The effect is startling, the fact uncanny, even to an old experienced hand in the business. We have a standing order to deliver to Mr. Looker one each of the new monthly Records as soon as received. I think that the Chicago enthusiast is not in it with the Detroit enthusiast.

Can any one "call" or "raise" Detroit?

OWNS OVER 1,000 RECORDS.

Concerning enthusiastic users of the Phonograph, one of our Western salesmen writes:

I know a very prominent lawyer in this city who has a Triumph and 650 Edison (selected) Records. He is a music lover, and has studied at Milan, Italy. He thinks our Records by Rosti, Salz, and Miellno the finest ever produced. He says further that Rossi is more than the equal of De Reszke. I have met another gentleman who, I think, lives at Kewanee, Ill., who told me he had over 1,200 of our old wax records, many over five years old, which are as good as when first purchased. In addition he now has over 700 moulded—bringing his total to over 1,900. I believe there are about thirty parties in Chicago and suburbs who own Triumphs and who have collections running from 100 to 300 Records each.

GEORGIA ENTERS THE LIST.

89 CHAMBERS ST., NEW YORK, June 23, 1903.

One of our customers in Georgia calls our attention to a statement in a recent issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, that a Chicago house claims to have a customer with 404 Standard Records in his collection. He states, "You have a customer in me who has nearly double that number of Records, and a hall 36 feet long by 14 wide, built specially in which to use an Edison Triumph Phonograph, where more than 100 visitors hear it every week, while often the street outside is filled with hearers." This customer is a well known resident of Fort Gaines, Georgia.

DOUGLAS & CO.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, June 25, 1903.

Several days ago the writer gave a public entertainment with a Home Phonograph, and the letter herewith enclosed will speak for itself as to how well the same was appreciated by the listeners.

"Give the Phonograph the floor" occasionally and it will advertise itself in a modest manner.

Would it not be a nice idea to have a Record made especially for the opening of such an entertainment? Respectfully,

J. H. BURKHOLDER.

The letter referred to by Mr. Burkholder was one from Branch No. 5, Catholic Knights of Ohio, thanking him for a Phonograph entertainment given by him.

AN ADVERTISING HORN 8 FEET 8 INCHES LONG WITH A 3 FOOT 3 INCH BELL.

"Perhaps the largest advertising horn in use is the one that hangs in front of our supply house," writes E. A. Batchelor, manager of the Utica Electric and Phonograph Supply House, at Utica, N. Y. "We use this horn and a Home Phonograph to give concerts on certain evenings during the week. Every night that we use it the street becomes so crowded that it is hard for anyone to pass through. This horn is made of galvanized iron and bronzed with aluminum. It is very distinct and full of volume. It may be easily heard above the rumbling of the street railroads and the rattling of wagons. Any Dealer wishing to build a horn of this size may ascertain the cost of the horn and a swinging arm to hold same from the building by writing to Frank Ecker, iron pattern maker, 72 Pearl street, Utica, N. Y. We believe this will be of great value to Phonograph Dealers who will take hold of it. No Dealer need think this is an experiment, for it is not; it is in actual use at our store."

AMONG THE JOBBERS.

The firm of Hacker & Horn, of New York city, has been succeeded by Oscar Hacker, and he has moved to 2 Murray street.

The Ring Music Co., of Lowell, Mass., has moved from 133 Merrimac street to No. 112 on the same street.

The Eclipse Phonograph Co., of Hoboken, N. J., has moved from 306 Washington street to more commodious quarters at 205 Washington street.

Wahl & Gassch, of Lafayette and Indianapolis, Ind., have opened a branch store at 47 West 5th street, Cincinnati, O.

The Russell Phonograph Co., of 168 Griswold street, Detroit, Mich., is now owned and operated under the name of the Ray Company. It is a branch store of the latter company.

James I. Lyons, of Chicago, has opened a branch store at Theatre Arcade, New Orleans.

Hereafter Records made of No. 5710, "Because," will be sung by Albert C. Campbell and not by Joe Natus.

PERSONAL.

Frank K. Dolbeer, manager of the Credit Department of the National Phonograph Co., attended the annual convention of the National Association of Credit Men at St. Louis, June 8 to 11, as a delegate of the New York Credit Men's Association. While in the West he called upon our Jobbers in Chicago, Milwaukee, Lafayette and Cincinnati.

The Blankenbaker Phonograph Concert Co., of Louisville, Ky., sends out a mailing card having on its back a photograph of the head of the company standing alongside of an Edison Home Phonograph. It makes the following announcement:

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 17, 1903.

We give Phonograph concerts for all occasions. Over 500 Records to select from. We also make Records. Have a few made. They talk for themselves. Address, The Blankenbaker Phonograph Concert Co., P. O. Box 1447, Station D.

David Downer, a Dealer at La Junta, Colo., sends a clipping from a local paper, giving the programme of a Phonograph concert given at Shadow Town, Devils Lake, on June 17. The entire programme was played by a Phonograph.

Jobbers or Dealers violate their Agreement when they give trading stamps with Edison Phonographs or Records.

NOT INJURED BY THE FLOOD.

In a news and cigar store on Central avenue near Ewing street an Edison Phonograph that was six feet under the flood and all through it was grinding out its tunes as cheerfully to-day as if nothing had ever happened to upset its tranquility. The flood did not injure it.—Kansas City Star, June 11, 1903.

In sending us the above clipping the J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., of Kansas City, Mo., wrote:

"The machine referred to is one we sold, and it was under water eight days. The cabinet of the machine was so filled with mud when it was taken out that it did not seem possible that anything could ever be done with the machine again, but the facts are as stated in the article, which is that the machine is playing as perfectly as ever. The Records, which were also under water for the same length of time, seem to be as perfect as ever."

IT COULDN'T BE BETTER.

DOWLING, Mich., June 22, 1903.

My last dozen Records came in fine shape and in quick time. Of all fine Records No. 8349 is simply out of sight. My speaker talks as plain again as when it came. Couldn't be better; send any reference to me. I'll give you the glad hand. My machine has the name of the finest ever heard. People who have traveled a good bit pronounce it the finest. I wonder if you know how fine my machine talks and sings after three months' use.

G. E. FERGUSON.

LAVELLE, Pa., June 22, 1903.

The Phonograph business is steadily increasing. I have received the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY since its first issue and want to say that it is the best publication of its kind that I have yet seen. The Phonogram was good but was too small. The MONTHLY beats it as the new model Reproducer C beats the old style or automatic speaker as it was called. I am willing to pay for it if you named the price, as I do not want to be without it.

Every Friday night I give a free Phonograph concert from a high porch in front of my place, which attracts great crowds of people who line the sidewalks in front of my place. An idea struck me that if I had a Moulded Record (Standard size), telling about the different styles Phonographs and Records all through, the Record would be something new and would attract the attention of hearers so that they would buy. I am willing to pay a fair price for such a Record. Let me hear from you on this subject. I am going to work just as hard as I can to sell more Phonographs and more Records.

J. A. SNYDER.

The selling of Edison Records by card system, whereby the price of $5.00 per dozen is eventually allowed, but where a full dozen Records are not purchased, or paid for, at one time, is a violation of contract.

THOMAS A. EDISON'S PATENTS.

The clerks of the Patent Office began several years ago to keep a systematic account of the patents issued to Thomas A. Edison. They have his various inventions tabulated and indexed, so that they can put their hands on each different idea he has protected by patent from the beginning of his marvelous career of invention. When a pending claim is allowed, as it no doubt will be this month, Mr. Edison will have received 791 patents in all.

He is not adding to the list as many ideas nowadays as he did some years ago. Up to 1805 he had taken out 711 patents. Since then he has added to the list from three to twenty-three patents each year. Last year he took out nineteen. In ordinary fees for patents Mr. Edison has spent over $51,000.—New York Times.

PHONOGRAPH FOR DICTATION PURPOSES.

J. N. Kimball, of 1358 Broadway, New York City, is a Dealer who makes a feature of specially setting up Edison Phonographs for dictation purposes. That he has met with success in his special field may be seen from the following few of the many endorsements he has received:

From J. E. Fuller, Principal Shorthand Department, Goldey College, Wilmington, Del. ("Home" Outfit.):

"I am glad to say that we are well pleased with the machine. It has made a decided hit with the school, and I find it even more useful than I had expected."

From J. T. Thanson, Principal Steubenville Business College, Steubenville, Ohio. ("Triumph" Outfit.):

"We are obtaining splendid results from the machine. Our students are taking more interest in their work than they have manifested for some time and the improvement in speed is quite marked."

From Mrs. K. Carr, Putnam (Conn.) High School. ("Home" Outfit.):

"I had four boys in my graduating class whom I simply despaired of finishing in good form, until the Phonograph was given us. Great benefit is, that the instructor has more time to overlook the work of each individual in the class. I have put your suggestion into practice and feel sure that I shall see lasting results."

From S. P. Benthyzen, Principal Shorthand Department, Grand Prairie Seminary, Onargo, Ill. ("Home" Outfit):

"I am pleased with the Phonograph. It is doing excellent work; beyond my expectations. I find I can set it to work, in the hands of a responsible student, and go about the room and do other things that are necessary. Please send us material to add more pupils to the system."

From J. D. Paxton, Principal Shorthand Department, Wesleyan University, University Place, Nebraska:

"Your dictation records are 'just the stuff.' The subject matter pleases my young folks very much, the speed being just about right for beginners. Within a few weeks I hope to send for more, dictated at a higher rate of speed."

From M. J. H. Badell, of Los Angeles, Cal.:

"Persistently used, it will increase speed and at the same time tends to give an accurate set to one's hand. I passed the examination for reporter in Orange County (Cal.) Superior Court with no other aid to speed than the Phonograph."

A REPORTER HEARS OUR CHINESE RECORDS.

WORCESTER, MASS., June 8, 1903.

I inclose a clipping from a local paper in regard to an outfit that I sold to a Chinaman. I received from my Jobber sooze of the yellow slips containing the names of the various Chinese Records, and left some in the different Chinese laundries that I passed going to and from the office. It resulted in a sale of about $40 worth of Edison goods, a Standard machine, about thirty Records, with a large horn and some small stuff. E. H. WILSON.

The article is from the Worcester Telegram, and is so funny that we know it cannot fail to interest the trade:

MUSIC ALA CHOP SUEY.

CHARLIE GOEY OBJECTS TWO DOZEN EDISON PHONOGRAPH CHINESE RECORDS.

"Pingee-pongee dong, Sher Doy Wong, lallie, wow-ee-lallee-woo-ee."

That is an accurate phonetic report of the first line of a comic recitation entitled "Sher Doy Wong," as reported on an Edison Phonograph Record in Chinese.

Charlie Goey is the up-to-date Chinaman who owns this Record, along with twenty-five others, all in Chinese. They are the first of this sort ever brought into Worcester country, and it is understood there are no others in New England outside of Boston and Providence.

Charlie Goey is quite a goer in things that are modern; he wears Melican clothes and does a thriving laundry business at 616 Southbridge street. He learned that the wonderful talkee machines could talk Chinese like a Pekin mandarin and through Everett H. Wilson, of 7 Blossom street, bought twenty-six Edison Records and a Phonograph. The Records were made in San Francisco.

A Telegram reporter was privileged to hear selections from these records, yesterday, and he has eaten nothing but chop suey since. One of the most remarkable things about these new century talking marvels that reproduce the oldest language known, is that it is necessary to use from two to a dozen of them in giving just one Chinese selection.

The first selection was from a Chinese band, entitled "To Prepare Dinner." The best way to describe a Chinese band is to say that it is different from anything else. Like Chinese voices, there is little bass in the tones, while all manner of shrill notes abound.

The music started off with a crash of dinner gongs that seemed to be the end of the selection in the beginning by announcing dinner was already prepared. Following that the music was something tremendous; something fearful. Whole handfuls of high C's and E flats were torn out by the roots and scattered broadcast through the Phonograph horn into the room.

Crashes like falling of brass kettles, snorts like an automobile on a strike, sonorous sounds like an exhausted locomotive, blowing of horns, squaling of pigs, roaring of lions, and many sounds that were invented by Confucius 500 years B. C. were assembled in that selection. No Salvation army band could have stood a minute in open air competition with that aggregation of Chinese musicians who made the Record in San Francisco. That part of the music was terrible, and only the choicest adjectives from pink laundry checks could adequately describe it. Quite remarkable, however, was the high, thin, sweet single note of pure melody that ran through the entire selection like a silver thread through sackcloth.

There was one selection, song and orchestra, that was good music, accurate time and sweet melody from beginning to end. It was called "A Widow's Lament," and seemed lively enough to have been called a rejoicing instead. A wonderful song entitled "To Destroy the Four Gates" needed twelve Records to complete. A sample of one Record was sufficient for the Telegram reporter, who was satisfied that at least five gates had already been destroyed.

Some of the titles of these selections were "Assembly on a Sand Bank," which was full of grit; "The Maid in a Shoe," with western accompaniment to boot; "To Visit a Friend," who would probably instantly cease to be a friend after that; "A Wife Man in the Snow," who probably figured on beating the new ice trust in Worcester and "To Persuade a King," which only aces could beat.

Mr. Wilson said the first three of these Records came several days ago and Charles Goey heard them. He had ordered a few to see if they were really good Chinese selections unbutchered with other languages at the factory. Solemnly Charlie sat down before the big brass horn and listened.

Mr. Wilson tried him with the comic recitation, "Sher Doy Wong." Sher Doy must have been a funny boy as he sprouted a whole bunch of Chinese through that brass horn that made Charlie's mouth widen from ear to ear in a grin of pure delight. When the band Record was tried the terrible music settled it and Charlie instantly ordered a couple dozen Records and a Phonograph, which arrived yesterday and from now on he will entertain Worcester Chinamen with Phonograph selections from the first Chinese Records ever introduced in Worcester.

KEEPS PHONOGRAPH PEOPLE BUSY.

When a musical comedy is rated a success, its song "hits" are not only in demand through its publishers, but the manufacturers of Phonograph Records are called upon almost as quickly to furnish a supply.—Music Trade Review.

A PHONOGRAPH INCIDENT IN THE PHILIPPINES.

The following, addressed to Mr. Edison, was received on May 26, too late for the June issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY:

LEGASPI, PROVINCE ALBAY, P. I.,
April 11, 1903.

Thomas A. Edison, New York, N. Y.—Most Esteemed Sir: Craving indulgence for occupying your valuable time, I wish to relate an amusing incident which occurred in this far-away country apropos of the Phonograph. The story compares favorably with the yarn on the countryman in the States, which has been so widely advertised.

While giving an advertising exhibition in an interior town, an old native walked up to the horn and gazed steadily into it for a long time; then veered around and examined the box; then looked intently at the operator, at the ceiling, on the floor, returned to the horn, took out a kerchief, mopped his brow, went outside, brought in an old woman, went through the same antics as before and exclaimed to his companion: "Mother of God, we hear the voice of the devil, but he is invisible." At that moment the operator put on a stirring band selection, and when it became exhausted the old man caught the woman by the arm and dragged her to the door, murmuring as he went: "Holy Saint Mary, the devil has visited heaven, and is serenading God."

I have been selling Edison Phonographs for one year on these islands in the interests of the American Book and News Co., and have had some very interesting experiences. Yours to command, LEW DAVIS.

A DEALER'S COMMENDATION.

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., June 25, 1903.

Having read the new contract and conditions, and having signed it with pleasure, I wish to compliment you on its completeness and the comprehensive way in which you have treated its several provisions. It has no loopholes, no double meaning; every signer must know just exactly what he has to do. There is no way for him to plead, "I didn't understand its provisions." In looking at the contract from a business point of view, it must be of great value to the National Phonograph Company, for the prices being fixed and maintained gives to the Edison Phonographs and Records a standing and value. To the Dealer it gives an assurance that his goods are worth to-morrow what they are worth to-day and warrants him in carrying a full and complete line of Edison Machines and Records in stock. To the purchaser it gives the satisfaction of knowing that he has bought his Edison Machine and Records at the lowest standard price. The contract being printed in a neat and attractive form can be easily framed and hung in a conspicuous place and it will often help the Dealer in handling some close-fisted buyer. I believe it would be a good suggestion to have Dealers frame their contracts and place them where they can be plainly seen. I am, yours, C. H. FREEMAN.

[In connection with the latter suggestion we would say that we are now getting out a copy of the principal parts of the Agreement, to be used for framing or hanging up in the stores of our Dealers.]

A PECULIAR PHONOGRAPH BELT.

CINCINNATI, O., June 29, 1903.

Peculiar things sometimes happen in connection with repairs on Phonographs. We sold a Home Phonograph to a family in Kentucky some six or eight months ago, and they have been good customers since. The three daughters, who seem to have the instrument in their care, have purchased a number of records. The last time they had occasion to call on us they mentioned to the writer that their machine was not working particularly well; that it would at times dis-cord. In endeavoring to locate the trouble, I inquired if the belt seemed to slip. One of the young ladies informed me that shortly after they had purchased the machine the belt was broken. Evidently they had put on a new belt of their own manufacture, and as they said this they looked from one to the other, and seemed to be tickled. I didn't quite understand why until the machine came in for repair, when my attention was called to the belt used thereon. I am inclosing it herewith. The only question in my mind is which one of the young ladies it belonged to. Yours very truly,

ILSEN & CO., Per C. W. Noyes.

[The inclosure was a black elastic garter.]

CARMEL, IND., June 27, 1903.

In acknowledging the receipt of the list of suspended Dealers, would like to say that I congratulate you on the way you have of doing business, for it is so much easier selling anything when they are strictly one price.

GEORGE W. HINSHAW.

SUSPENDED LIST, JULY 1, 1903.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

KANSAS.

LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DEWOLFF.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
R. L. CORWIN, alsp Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway, also Philadelphia, Pa.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 124 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
STAR CREDIT CO., or Paul Sacks, 180 East Houston st. and 27 Third ave.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
UHRICHSVILLE—F. A. MASURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—*A. R. CASSADY, 2783 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—P. P. MOORE.

* Added since last Suspended List was issued, June 1, 1903.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus.

O. A. RAY, Pioneer.

Louisville, Atlanta, New Orleans, St. Louis, Memphis, Baltimore, Detroit, Nashville, Richmond, Va., Oakland, Chicago, Kansas City, Texas, Toledo, CAPITAL $75,000.

THE RAY CO.

EDISON LABORATORY PRODUCTS.

RECEIVED JUN 17 1903 Ans'd

June 15th, 1903.

National Phonograph Co.,
83 Chambers St., N. Y.,
C. H. Wilson, Esq.,
Mgr. of Sales:-

Dear Sir:-

Enclosed we hand you our order for fifteen hundred and fifty (1550) Phonographs, assorted types, two hundred (200) Model "C" Reproducers, fifty (50) Model "B" Reproducers and fifty (50) Recorders.

You will please ship these goods immediately as per shipping directions hereto attached.

Yours truly,
The Ray Co.,
By... O. A. Ray, Pres't.

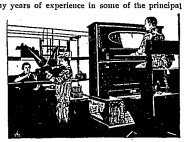
The above letter explains itself. In sending the order Mr. Ray wrote that he was proud of his ability to use so many Phonographs. We are quite as proud as Mr. Ray over the order. It is gratifying to be able to put on the market a machine that will enable a Jobber to sell so large a number.

JULY ADVERTISING.

The July advertisement of the Edison Phonograph, shown in the adjoining column, is, we believe, one of the most attractive yet issued by this company. The fair operator is the same young lady who appeared in the June advertising. The type matter accompanying the picture again appeals to the public to call at the Dealer's and hear the Phonograph—another effort to put business in the way of the Dealer. The mediums used in July were:

Atlantic Monthly, Booklovers, Bookman, Brown Book, Collier's, Current Literature, Field and Stream, Harper's, Leslie's Popular Monthly, Life, Lippincott's, Munsey's Magazine, National Magazine, Outing, Pearson's, Review of Reviews, Saturday Evening Post, Smart Set, Sunset Magazine, Town Topics, Town and Country, World's Work, Mines and Minerals, Scientific American, Musical Record and Review, Outdoor Life, Craftsman, Photo Era, Independent.

The C. W. N. Handbook of the Phonograph



—AND—

Instructions for Making Records.

BY C. W. NOYES.

Every Owner of a talking machine should have a copy of this valuable book. It is replete with Instructions for the Care and Use of the Phonograph, and the chapters devoted to RECORD MAKING are compiled from the author's many years of experience in some of the principal laboratories of this country.

Any one possessed of ordinary intelligence can make a perfect record if the directions are followed.

Fully Illustrated—Handsomely Bound.

PAPER, 25 CENTS.
CLOTH, 50 CENTS.

Mailed Postpaid on Receipt of Price.

For Sale by All Jobbers, or

ILSEN & COMPANY, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEALERS WRITE FOR DISCOUNTS.

A CARD TO THE TRADE

JOBBERS AND DEALERS

Interested in giving their customers best results are invited to write us for quotations on

DOUGLAS

Mega* (Paper) *Horns and Record Cabinets

The Horn that Made us Famous.

Superior to any metal horn made in purity, volume and absence of metallic tones. GREAT AIDS TO THE SALE OF PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

"MEGA"	Length 32 inches; Width 24 inches.	List $7.50
"MEGA JR."	Length 26 inches; Width 23 inches.	List $2.25
MEGA RECORDING HORN,	Length 24 inches; Width 6½ inches.	List $1.50

Look for the Trade Mark

"PHONO-MEGA."

Attractive and Substantial.

Superior to any Line in the Market,

STRONGLY MADE.

BEAUTIFULLY FINISHED.

100	Peg Polished Oak,		List $12.00
125	" " "	"	14.00
125	" Quartered Oak,	"	15.50
150	" " "	"	18.00

Prices Restricted.

WRITE FOR SPECIAL LEAFLETS AND NET PRICES.

DOUGLAS & CO.,

89 Chambers Street, 71 Reade Street,

NEW YORK.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. I. NEW YORK, AUGUST, 1903. No.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 32 REMPART SAINT GEORGES.
LONDON: 31 GRAY'S INN ROAD, HOLBORN.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

Headquarters of National Phonograph Co., London..... 1
Making Records Abroad..... 1
September Advance List of Records..... 2
No More Goods or Printed Matter to Dealers Who Have Not Signed New Agreement..... 3
Personal..... 3
Agreements Not Sent In..... 3
Japanese Records..... 4
As Busy As In Winter..... 4
Phonograph Incidents..... 4
A Jobber's "Anticipation" of Fall Business. 4
Comments on September Records..... 5
Window Displays..... 6
Sir Thomas Lipton and the Phonograph... 6
A Jobbing Firm's New Quarters..... 6
A Novel Suggestion..... 6
Made Happy with a Standard Phonograph. 7
Comments from Abroad..... 7
Persistence Commended..... 7
August Advertising..... 7
A Talking Machine Publication..... 8
Trade Advertisements..... 8
Record Shipments..... 8
Current Catalogues and Printed Matter... 8
Sought the Best..... 8
More About That Georgia Collection..... 9
Made a Rival Machine Look Cheap..... 9
Home Phonograph Outsells All Other Machines..... 9
I. C. S. Language Outfits..... 10
No General Edition at Present..... 10
Moulded Records for Phonographs..... 11
Advertising Department Matters..... 14

Headquarters of the National Phonograph Co., 82 Gray's Inn Road, Holborn, London, England.

MAKING RECORDS ABROAD.

The National Phonograph Co. is making extensive arrangements for the increase of its business abroad. A permanent master Record-making plant has been established at 82 Gray's Inn Road, Holborn, W. C., London, where master Records of prominent British military and civil bands, high class instrumentalists and vocalists, as well as various comedians and comic singers are being constantly made. Master Record plants are also to be established in the chief cities and musical centers of six other European countries.

(Continued on Page Three.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF SEPTEMBER RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS FOR SEPT., 1903

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near September 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to August 15th, will be shipped.

September Supplements will bear the date of September 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to September Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

8474 Anona (Intermezzo) Edison Concert Band
8475 Parody on Hiawatha Comic male duet Collins & Harlin
8476 Hot Scotch March Hopkins
Xylophone solo with orchestra accompaniment
8477 I Could Never Love Like That Coon song Billy Murray
8478 You'd Better Ask Me Traditional Irish ballad Clifford
8479 The Chapel Male Quartette Edison Quartette
8480 When We Were Boys Sentimental male duet Harlan & Stanley
8481 Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming Edison Brass Quartette
8482 National Fantasia (Kryl) Cornet solo Kryl
8483 My Little Coney Isle Waltz song Harry L. Tally
8484 Two Rubes in an Eating House Harlan & Stanley
Comic Rube talking and singing duet
8485 Scarecrow Dance Characteristic Edison Symphony Orchestra
8486 When Jane and I Were Wed Harlan
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment
8487 The Minstrel Boy Bagpipe McAuliffe
8488 I Ain' Got No Use for Sleep Coon song Collins
8489 Bungaloo A Hindoo love song Edison Concert Band
8490 Ballet Music from Mathias Sandorph Tuson
Clarinet solo with orchestra accompaniment
8491 Medley of Coon Songs Golden
8492 The Star Dreamer Oriental serenade Edison Symphony Orchestra
8493 Dreamy Eyes Banjo Osmun
8494 Though It Was Within this Hour We Met Duet from "Robin Hood" Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley
8495 Mountain Echoes Violin and flute duet Jaudas & Atz
8496 Home, Sweet Home (John Howard Payne) Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette
8497 Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes Walter Wheatley
Old English song
8498 Hebrew Vaudeville Specialty Rose
Introducing parody on "Ain't that a Shame"

Edison Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

(Continued from Page One.)

Those master Records will be shipped to the laboratory at Orange, N. J., where moulds will be made and duplicate Records turned out and shipped to Europe for sale. This will be done until plants can be established for making duplicates. The company proposes doing this as quickly as possible, and in this way cover the entire field with Edison Records. It is the intention of the National Phonograph Co. to secure Records of the voices of all the great artists of the world.

NO MORE GOODS OR PRINTED MATTER TO DEALERS WHO HAVE NOT SIGNED THE NEW AGREEMENT.

This issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY will be the last printed matter of any kind that will be sent out from the Advertising Department to any Dealers except those who have signed the new Agreement. Dealers, therefore, who find that their names have been dropped from our mailing list or who find that their orders for goods are held up will understand that it is because their signed Agreement is not on file at our office. We hope that every Dealer who has not yet signed will do so at once, either through his Jobber or through us direct and keep himself in good standing. We believe that every Dealer now handling Edison goods desires to continue to do so, but he cannot expect to get goods, printed matter, etc., if he does not sign the new Agreement. Not to sign one is to cause trouble for you and ourselves in getting reinstated and getting your name back on our books.

PERSONAL.

Among the visitors at our New York office during July were E. F. Tafft, manager of the Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston; L. E. McGreal, of McGreal Bros., Milwaukee, Wis.; W. D. Andrews, of Syracuse, N. Y., and J. M. Linscott, of the Boston Cycle and Sundry Co., Boston.

William E. Gilmore, President and General Manager of the National Phonograph Co., sailed on the Oceanic, on July 29, for a business and pleasure trip to England and the continent. He was accompanied by Mrs. Gilmore. They will be absent till September. James H. White, European Manager of Sales for the National Phonograph Co., sailed on the same steamer.

Jobbers are urged to send in all Dealers Agreements.

AGREEMENTS NOT SENT IN.

Putting into effect the new Agreement brought to light the fact that some Jobbers were selling goods to Dealers who had signed an Agreement, but a copy of which had not been sent to us. Just why such Jobbers did this is difficult to understand. There are so many advantages on the side of a strict adherence to the Agreement system that it would seem impossible to believe that it has been done intentionally. The only disadvantage that could possibly arise to a Jobber is in giving to this company the names of the Dealers to whom he sells Edison goods. Experience of the past has shown that this is no disadvantage. This company does not make any effort to solicit orders direct. On the other hand, it has a number of men traveling constantly, who are securing orders from Dealers and turning them over to Jobbers. If we desired direct orders, it would not be necessary to do this. The policy of the company is to sell everything through the trade, and, as far as possible, to have Dealers buy through Jobbers. On the other hand, there are many advantages in having Dealers sign Agreements and in sending copies of them to us. In the first place, a Jobber who sells to unsigned Dealers is liable to have his supply of goods cut off for failing to comply with the Agreement that he has signed himself. It is also, in a measure, hindering the furtherance of a protective policy that has proven of great advantage to this Company, to Jobbers and to Dealers. Then, too, when a Dealer signs an Agreement and it is sent to this Company, the name of the Dealer is put on our mailing list, and once or twice every month he receives copies of printed matter issued by the Company, together with the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, and is thereby kept much better informed concerning the Edison Phonographs and Records than he could possibly be, if his name were not on our mailing list.

This matter of selling goods to unsigned Dealers is one about which a great deal could be said, did space permit. We hope that all Jobbers will realize that the matter of getting Dealers to sign Agreements is a thing that is even more advantageous to them than it is to us, and that we shall have their entire cooperation in making the system a complete success.

SUSPENDED LIST OMITTED THIS MONTH.

Lack of space has made it necessary to omit the Suspended List this month. It has not been changed since July 1st. Copies in circular form are being mailed with this issue of the MONTHLY.

JAPANESE RECORDS.

In the Advance List of new Records for June reference was made to fourteen Japanese titles. We shall issue a folder in August concerning these Japanese selections, and will then be ready to fill orders for them. The selections are as follows:

12813—Kimigayo. National Anthem of Japan. Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12814—Suruganuru. Song of Mount Fuji. Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12815—Imayo. Song of Four Seasons. Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12816—Hotaru nohikari, "The Firefly's Light." Air of "Auld Lang Syne." Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12817—Ukikumo. "Fleecy Clouds." Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12818—Omoi iturdu. A Student's Thoughts of Home. Air of "Bonny Doon." Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12819—Ware no Kami ni. "Nearer My God to Thee." Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12820—Kappore. Dancing song. Sung by Otake Tanaka.

12821—Suiryo bushi. Two love songs. "Think It Over," with Shamisen accompaniment. Sung by Otake Tanaka.

12822—Komori uta. Japanese lullaby. Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12823—Hitotsutuya. Japanese New Year's Song. Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12824—Kii no Kuni. Song to the God of Rice. Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12825—Dodoitsu. Three Love Songs. Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

12826—Kappore. Dancing Song. Sung by Sokichi Kudzuoka.

Selections 12822, 12823, 12824, 12825, 12826 are accompanied with an instrument similar to the mandolin; the others are accompanied with piano.

AS BUSY AS IN WINTER.

The demand for the Edison product this summer has broken all records in the history of the National Phonograph Co. The falling off in business that we naturally expected in July and August has not materialized. We are as busy at our factory in Orange as we were in the height of the winter season and orders continue to come in in a surprising manner. Instead of cutting down our factory force as usual at this season we have made large additions to it, and this number will be still further increased as soon as we get our new buildings completed. The popularity of the Edison Phonograph, with its improvements, and the Montlied Records, is increasing in leaps and bounds.

"Goodness, Maria, was that Phonograph open during a dog fight?"

"No, I turned it on last night when you were sleeping. I suppose you will believe now that you snore?"—Talking Machine News.

PHONOGRAPH INCIDENTS.

"Some odd things happen in connection with the sale of Phonographs," said L. Kaiser, Assistant Manager for Douglas & Company, Jobbers in Phonographs, New York city. "Some days ago a native of Finland came into our store and asked to be shown a Phonograph. He could only speak enough English to make his wants understood, gestures forming a large part of his conversation. We showed him a Phonograph and played two or three selections upon it. He did not, however, seem to care for the music. We then put on a Recorder, and got him to sing a song to the machine in his own language. When we put back the Reproducer and re-played the song for him, his face brightened and he clapped his hands in joy. A moment later his pleasure gave way to tears. He finally bought the Phonograph and a supply of Records and Blanks."

"Another odd incident occurred in connection with a resident of a suburban town. We sold a Phonograph to a resident of the place and heard nothing from it for several weeks. One day the wife of the purchaser of the instrument came into our place and said that the Phonograph had completely changed the nature of her husband. Before he bought it he was of a morose, moody disposition. Now, she said, he has learned to hum and whistle the airs played on the Phonograph and has become a veritable "Sunny Jim" in character. He goes to his work with a smile on his face and returns in a cheerful manner, and his home life is the reverse of what it was before he bought the Phonograph."

A JOBBER'S "ANTICIPATION" OF FALL BUSINESS.

The following letter tells its own story in a most suggestive manner:

DOUGLAS & COMPANY,
EDISON PHONOGRAPHS,
Wholesale, Export, Retail.
89 Chambers Street and 71 Reade Street,
New York, July 22, 1903.

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., Orange, N. J.

GENTLEMEN:—Herewith find our order for five thousand Phonographs, as per specifications marked thereon, all to be shipped pro rata, as promptly as possible.

The entire order to be delivered before December 20, 1903. The above is in addition to orders for immediate delivery now on file, which we trust you will forward with the utmost possible dispatch.

Very truly yours,
DOUGLAS & Co.,
A. C. D. Loucks, Mgr.

Have you signed the new agreement, Mr. Dealer? If not, do so at once.

COMMENTS ON SEPTEMBER RECORDS.

Twenty-five selections are again listed for September. This number will probably be issued each month. It is as many as the Jobbers and Dealers care to have put out monthly; it is as many as we can fill orders for with our present factory facilities, and it is a list large enough to furnish variety for all tastes. The September list is unusually varied in character, and includes some new and novel things. It also introduces two new Record makers to our patrons.

The newly arranged Edison Concert Band has two titles in the list and both show marked improvement over the work of the old band. This is not only because the band itself is better, but because those in charge of the Record-making department are constantly improving in their methods. The band selections are No. 8274, "Aneona" (intermezzo), and No. 8285, "Bungalow." "Aneona" was written by Vivian Grey, the nom de plume of Miss Mabel McKinley, a niece of the late President. In commenting upon this composition, the Telegraph of May 10, 1903, said: "To 'Aneona,' the intermezzo, nothing can be given but the highest praise. It is by that mysterious 'Vivian Grey.' The characterization of it is certainly novel and the motive is delightful. Without in any way comparing it with 'Hiawatha,' it may be said that it fully equals it in sweetness, tenderness and romance." As played by the Edison Concert Band it is an unsurpassed Record.

"Bungalow," the other band selection, is a Hindoo love song, and its music is of a novel character, at once suggestive of a foreign clime. The use of the cymbals is greater in this Record than ever before attempted but their tones are not so prominent as to be unpleasant. It is a well made Record.

The Edison Symphony Orchestra has two more of its well-executed Records in the list, Nos. 8285 and 8292. The first is "The Scarecrow Dance," and its music is characteristic of its title. It is written by Justus Ringelhen. No. 8292 is "The Star Dreamer," an Oriental serenade, composed by Theodore Bendix.

The Records made by the Edison Brass Quartette have become so popular that a monthly list would be incomplete without one. That for September is No. 8281, "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," and it is finely rendered. This is one of those old airs whose charm never grows less.

Eugene Jaudas and Louis Ata in No. 8295, "Mountain Echoes," contribute another of their delightful violin and flute duets. The music is Alpine in character and very sweet.

The instrumental solos are fully up to the reputation of their several makers. J. Frank Hopkins, in No. 8276, "Hot Scotch March," has a xylophone solo, with orchestra accompaniment, that has a good swing. It is made with the clever execution usual to Mr. Hopkins' work.

Bohumir Kryl, our cornet soloist, plays in No. 8282, "National Fantasia," one of his own compositions. It is as cleverly written as it is played. The triple tone variations of "Yankee Doodle" are especially good.

James C. McAuliffe, in No. 8287, "The Minstrel Boy," makes the first bagpipe solo for some time. This one will suit those fond of bagpipe music.

William Tuson's rendition of the ballet music from "Mathias Sandorph" as a clarinet solo, in No. 8290, is musicianly, and makes a fine Record. Its runs are excellent and the entire Record is free from blasting or unpleasant notes.

Vess L. Ossman's banjo contribution is No. 8295, "Dreamy Eyes," written by the composer of "Creole Belles." Mr. Ossman's banjo work is always of the highest class and this new selection is up to his standard.

The vocal selections on the September list could hardly be better. Each is as good a piece of Record making as the experience of years can make it. There are two quartettes on the list. The Edison Male Quartette sings "The Chapel," No. 8279, a composition written in a low key, the bass parts predominating. It is somewhat religious in character. The Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette, in No. 8296, gives a very artistic rendition of John Howard Payne's famous song, "Home, Sweet Home." The Record cannot fail to please those who admire the work of a quartette of male and female voices. It will be appropriate for a concluding number in a home entertainment.

The duets are four in number, three humorous and two sentimental in character. Collins and Harlan, in No. 8278, sing a comic parody on "Hiwatha," which cannot fail to be a good seller. The duet work of these singers can hardly be improved.

Harlan and Stanley, in No. 8284, "Two Rubes in an Eating House," add another to this entertaining Rube series. The situation is extremely ludicrous and the dialogue witty and characteristic. The scene closes uproariously with the two rubes singing the old song, "Shine On." "You two Rubes are all right," is the congratulatory comment of the other guests.

Harlan and Stanley's sentimental song, No. 8280, "When We Were Boys," is a lingering and tuneful melody set to a very pretty story describing events (quoting the beginning of the refrain) "When we were boys together, down on the dear old farm." Entertainingly rendered and perfectly recorded—a fine Record.

Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley, whose contralto and bass duets have become such a feature of the Edison Records, sing "Though It Was Within This Hour We Met," from "Robin Hood." It is No. 8294. Lovers of operatic airs will surely want this Record.

Solo Records are made by eight different artists, two of them being listed for the first time. The new men are Harry L. Tally and Walter Wheatley, both well-known singers in vaudeville. Mr. Tally sings "My Little Coney Isle," No. 8283. It is a waltz song after the style of "The Good Old Summer Time." Mr. Tally has a good voice and makes an excellent Record.

Mr. Wheatley's selection is No. 8297. "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," an old but ever delightful English song. Mr. Wheatley's splendid voice does full justice to the melody.

Billy Murray, whose name appeared in the August list for the first time, has for September another well rendered coon song. It is No. 8477, "I Could Never Love Like That." Mr. Murray is a natural singer of coon songs, and, having an excellent voice, will ere long rank among the leaders in this class of work.

Arthur Clifford's song, "You'd Better Ask Me," No. 8478, is a quaint bit of music. It is a traditional Irish ballad and must be heard to be appreciated. The music is by Herman Lohr.

Byron G. Harlan, in No. 8486, "When Jane and I Were Wed," has made an unusually attractive Record. It has an orchestral accompaniment, and is descriptive of a church wedding. It introduces the ringing of church bells, the organ playing the "Lohengrin" wedding march as the wedding party enter the church, the blessing of the clergyman after the ceremony, and the playing of the Mendelssohn wedding march as the party leave the church. This is all woven together so cleverly as to make a Record of more than ordinary merit.

Arthur Collins' coon song for the month is No. 8488, "I Ain't Got No Use for Sleep." This is a companion song to "Please Let Me Sleep," No. 8103, and Mr. Collins' rich voice has transferred it to wax in a perfect manner.

Billy Golden's contribution, No. 8491, "Medley of Coon Songs," will please the many admirers of his characteristic Records. No one else makes Records just like Golden's. Few Records are in greater demand.

Julian Rose, in No. 8498, adds another amusing Record to the Hebrew vaudeville series. The parody is on "Ain't That a Shame?"

WINDOW DISPLAYS.

C. A. Laureigh, a Dealer in Phonographs and Records at Orange, N. J., has quite a novel window display at his store. In one corner of the window he has hung a large brass horn and has arranged a large number of Record boxes so that the boxes seem to be pouring out of the bell of the horn and filling the window. He calls the display "The Horn of Plenty." It has attracted much attention from passersby. The idea is one that others may follow at practically no expense.

The Advertising Department will be glad to receive from Dealers descriptions or photographs of their window displays. This is a subject of much interest to the entire trade, and Dealers having novel displays will confer a favor upon others by sending facts about them for publication.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON AND THE PHONOGRAPH.

Sir Thomas Lipton, who is again a very prominent figure in the public eye, has two Phonographs on his steam yacht "Erin." He also has 400 master Records on board. His guests select their own pieces and make up the programmes.

A JOBBING FIRM'S NEW QUARTERS.

On July 1 the Price Phonograph Company opened its new retail store at 1238 Broadway, Brooklyn, which it considers one of the finest establishments of the kind in the country. It has every facility for the satisfactory display of the Phonograph business in all its details. It has several private Record rooms for its patrons, having learned from past experience that this is essential for a proper and satisfactory selection of Records, avoiding the delay and confusion resulting from having but one room for this purpose. Machines and outfits are neatly and tastefully arranged, enabling the company to readily give its patrons all information necessary as to prices, etc. The company now has everything in readiness for the opening of the busy season in the early fall, and is prepared to meet the large business which it expects to have, as all signs point to a very successful season in the Phonographic line. The store that the company has at 1224 Broadway, Brooklyn, will be used exclusively for the wholesale end of the company's business.

A NOVEL SUGGESTION.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., July 17, 1903.

I have been attracting the public's attention by the Phonographs which perhaps many readers of the MONTHLY would like to try, as it is an idea of my own and does not take much work to arrange for) at my headquarters as follows:

Arrange seven Phonographs on the counters or tables in the display room so as to be distinctly heard from the street by passers by, select the following Records and place one on each machine: Nos. 7985, 607, 8355, 8293, 2226, 3877, 8335. Place a 24 or 30-inch horn on each machine, personally announce that there will be a street fair or Midway in the store within a few minutes, start all of the machines as near one time as possible and listen to the result, which will be an exact reproduction of one of those famous Midways that almost every one is so familiar with.

You may also arrange the seven machines in a half circle and use another machine with a blank Record and preserve your experiment, which I have done. This will satisfy some inquisitive customer who has not heard the original and will save you time in arranging the machines for his special benefit. Try it and see if it does not attract attention.

C. C. THOMPSON,
Manager for the Ray Co., New Albany, Ind.

INVENTION MULTIFARIUM.

"I see," said Mrs. Rolande Parke, "that a machine has been invented to shave a man and take the place of the barber."

"Well, I be durned!" exclaimed her spouse; "it's funny the number of uses they can put the Phonograph to, ain't it?"—Baltimore News.

MADE HAPPY WITH A STANDARD PHONOGRAPH.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 15, 1903.

In the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY for May I was reading "An Every Day Experience," and it called to mind one that I had which is not an every day one but ought to be. I called on two brothers who owned another style of Talking Machine, to sell them some Moulded Records. They said that the ones they had were worn out as they had never seen or heard any Edison Moulded ones. I took my case containing thirty-six, and undertook to play them on their machine. Before starting the machine they had to fasten the crosshead to glass with a piece of chewing gum. The outcome was that I did not make a sale of a single Record as the machine was intent on chewing gum. So I left my case there and the next night I took a Standard Phonograph there and played, and sold nearly half of the Records. In less than a week I sold them the Phonograph after refusing to trade for their machine. They still have it on their hands. They have $38 invested in it and are trying to get $10 for it. But, if they never sell it, they were made happy with a Standard Edison Phonograph.

C. J. DODGE.

COMMENTS FROM ABROAD.

The following are extracts from letters written by Dealers in Europe and England to our Foreign Department:

From a Dealer in Sarthe, France.

I am pleased to acknowledge receipt of your new Phonograph Monthly. This is just the publication your Dealers in France should receive, for my part I want it, and beg you not to omit sending it me regularly. As a matter of record I have for the past eight years retained all of your catalogues and have them nicely bound, as I thoroughly appreciate their value. I wish you would continue mailing me all your literature and especially your EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY.

Dealer in Walthamstow, Essex, England.

I have purchased one of your Standard Phonographs with latest model reproducer, and the result with your Gold Moulded Records is marvelous and delightful to listen to. Some of your marches by the Grand Concert Band which I have just obtained here, viz: "Imperial Edward," "Semper Fidelis," "Pan-American Exposition," "Stip Van Wrake," and various others, are very fine, as also are the Edison Male Quartette and Cornet Solo Records.

From a Dealer in London, England.

I am a great admirer and user of Edison Phonographs and Records. I have used many kinds of talking machines, but have never found anything to touch the Edison Phonograph, and in my opinion it is the acme of perfection.

The Alien — Don't you like to stand in a great city street and feel the great pulse of humanity?

Citizen — Yes; but I'm a physician, anyway.— Detroit Free Press.

AN UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIAL.

We are indebted to the New York Times of July 20, 1903, for the following unsolicited paragraph on the Phonograph and its Records:

Phonographs have to some extent taken the place of the music box, particularly for people who do not care for the delicacy of tone of the latter. A Phonograph is sold without Records. They cost with a 14-inch horn from $10 up—$20, $30, $50, and $75. Those with larger horns are more expensive. There have been people who have said that the Phonograph was a fad which would lose its hold after a time, but while people like variety and prefer a vocal selection, as the majority of people do, to instrumental music, the Phonograph is likely to be popular. One may have the music of any known instrument, bass, tenor, or soprano voice, at will, or an entire concert if it seems worth while.

Records cost 50 cents apiece, or $5 a dozen. There are two kinds of Phonographs, one working with a spring motor or clock work, and the other by electricity. The battery is separate from these, and any kind desired may be used. The less expensive Phonographs will run two Records with one winding, and the more costly fourteen with one winding.

PERSISTENCE COMMENDED.

ERIE, PA., July 15, 1903.

We beg to acknowledge receipt of your late list of Suspended Dealers, dated July 1, and wish to commend you for the decisive action taken in this part of your enormous business.

Your firm can certainly claim their part nobly in compelling Dealers to live up to their Agreement with you, and every Dealer in the country should assist you in seeing that your just rules and requirements are properly enforced.

We receive the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY regularly, and feel that it is almost equal to a face to face talk with your firm. It certainly is greatly appreciated by the trade, and should be confined to the trade, and not given out for general distribution. We feel that the Edison Phonographs and Records are becoming more popular every succeeding month.

G. W. COCHRAN CO.

AUGUST ADVERTISING.

The publications used by the National Phonograph Co. in August for advertising its goods were the following: Aimster's, Argosy, Atlantic, Association Men, Collier's, Craftsman, Everybody's, Independent, Life, Metropolitan, Musical Record and Review, Mines and Minerals, Outwest, Recreation, Strand, Sunset, Scribner's, Success, Town Topics, Town and Country.

The orders thus far sent us for "Hiawatha," sung by Harry McDonough in the July list of new Records, shows that this famous song has lost none of its popularity. When listed as a band selection in March it proved the best selling Record thus far this year. Mr. McDonough's solo will excel it in popularity.

A TALKING MACHINE PUBLICATION.

We have received the first three issues of the Talking Machine News, published by E. T. Heron & Co., 9 Tottenham street, London, England. It is published in the interest of the entire talking machine trade in England and announces that it will treat all styles with equal fairness. The numbers thus far issued are full of interesting matter.

TRADE ADVERTISEMENTS.

A novel advertisement of Edison goods was that of the Minnesota Phonograph Company, 27 East 7th street, St. Paul, Minn., which appeared in the St. Paul Daily News of July 9. The advertisement was printed in red ink, while the remainder of the paper was printed in black, as usual. It was an advertisement that would attract more attention than an entire page printed in the usual manner. It stood out so strongly that no reader of the paper could fail to see it. It was a most creditable bit of advertising.

RECORD SHIPMENTS.

We are steadily catching up on orders for the monthly Records. The June Records were entirely shipped early in July, and the July Records were out of the factory on July 29. This leaves only the August list to be sent out. It is probable that these will go out early in August, and that the September list will get back to the normal time of shipping, viz: on or before September 1. We hope from that time to make regular shipments each month and have them out before the first of the month.

CURRENT CATALOGUES AND PRINTED FORMS.

The following is a list of the form numbers of catalogues and other printed matter furnished to the trade at the present time:

291 Jingle Book No. 3.
371 Catalogue of Paris.
373 Catalogue of Phonographs.
376 Catalogue of Accessories and Coin Slot Phonographs.
381 Catalogue of Foreign Records.
390 Soldier Hanger.
391 Sailor Hanger.
395 Numerical Catalogue of all Records.
400 Chinese Record Folder.
404 July Supplement.
409 "Looking for Band" Card.
414 Four-page Folder showing Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph.
415 Electrotype Catalogue.
418 Leaking for Band Booklet.
423 Record Order Pads in 5 sheets (sheets A, B, and C for Domestic titles; sheets E and F for Foreign.)
E and F for Foreign).
427 Art of Making Records.
428 Four-page Advertising Folder.
431 "Summer Girls" Hanger.
446 July Bulletin.

SOUGHT THE BEST.

PRAIRIE CITY, Ill., July 14, 1903

We signed the new contract July 1, 1903, and it is a source of great pleasure to us to realize how well you protect the Dealer, and assist him in the selling of your goods.

We have been receiving your list of Suspended Dealers, and we will co-operate with you in every manner possible to put down this ruinous practice of price cutting, etc., and we only wish that other manufacturers would follow up these same methods, thereby protecting the retail dealer to the fullest extent.

The EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY has reached us regular since its first publication. We thank you for same, and trust we may not miss a single number, as it is of great interest to us, also a great help in many ways.

We have been selling Edison Phonographs and Records, in connection with our jewelry business for the past three years, and we have built up a nice business here in that line. We obtain our goods through your general agent, Eugene Zimmermann, of the Peoria Phonograph Co., Peoria, Ill.

About four years ago we were selling ——phones, but being a great admirer of Mr. Edison, his achievements and inventions, we naturally sought for the best sound reproducing machine on the market.

During the past year we have had very numerous inquiries for Piano Records, but have always been compelled to tell our customers that no exclusive piano solos had as yet been manufactured. Since the piano Record "Violets," by Frank P. Banta, has been made, it has been pronounced the top very first, by all who have heard it, and we trust the demand will be so great for these particular Records that you will find it to your interest to add a piano solo to your list every month.

During the fall and winter we give Phonograph concerts every two weeks, inviting all our jewelry customers and Phonograph patrons to spend a few hours in our store and hear the Moulded Record selections.

In this manner we do a great amount of free advertising, to say nothing of the local newspaper advertising and distribution of your printed matter. As a result of these concerts we find it is a good way to sell your goods, and we invariably sell from one to two machines as a direct result of these entertainments.

ACKERMAN & CO.

MEANS TO GET MORE BUSINESS.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., July 14, 1903.

I will give you my idea on the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and about advertising matter. I think the MONTHLY is the best thing that ever could have been printed, because it lets one Dealer know what the other is doing, and how they do business, and you can learn and see where you make mistakes, and you can increase your business by doing the same. Through the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY I intend to increase my business fifty per cent. I intend to advertise more than I did; I intend to do as the Western Dealer did, sell on the easy payment plan, and I have no one to thank but the MONTHLY for the idea.

D. E. HERR.

MORE ABOUT THAT GEORGIA COLLECTION.

At our request last month, Douglas & Co., of 89 Chambers street, New York, wrote to their customer at Fort Gaines, Ga., whose collection of Edison Records was referred to in the July issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, for permission to use his name and for more information about his collection. With true Southern courtesy the gentleman in question replied as follows:

FORT GAINES, Ga., July 2, 1903.

Messrs. Douglas & Co., New York, N. Y.:

GENTLEMEN.—Yes have my permission to use my name in any way that can be of benefit. I hardly know what to say about my collection.

At my residence on Hancock street I keep for my own amusement three Phonographs, two that play the Standard, and one that plays the Concert Records. While I find the Edison Concert Records all that is claimed for them, the Edison Triumph Machine with the Edison Standard Records have proved the favorite. For my Concert machine I have a ball fifty feet long. In an adjoining room, 16x18 feet, I have the two other machines, and over seven hundred of the late Moulded Records. These Records are kept in two large cases, and in two cabinets, each holding one hundred and twenty Records, and have twenty-four one dozen boxes filled with Records.

I found that this floor space was often crowded with visitors, and am building (to be completed next week) another room, 14x18 feet, and fifteen and a half feet from floor to ceiling. The hall and room mentioned have a ceiling a little higher. This new room, built especially for the Triumph Edison, connects with the present room, and is reached from the street by two entrances, one a piazza eighty-five feet in length.

My business (absent in fancy poultry,) requires my attention only from 7 to 9 A. M., and I have plenty of time to entertain my friends with this wonderful invention, which seems more wonderful the more we see of it. I have used the machines for four years, and feel that I have just learned to appreciate it. As an entertainer, nothing can approach the Edison machine. Very respectfully,

F. E. GRIST.

Colonel Grist has been a resident of Fort Gaines for more than fifty years; has been Mayor of the city and held other positions of trust.

GETS POINTS FROM OTHERS' LETTERS.

APPLETON, Wis., July 20, 1903.

I am in receipt of July MONTHLY, and must say I find many points of interest in each and every issue. I like your policy and you can rely on me carrying out my end of it every time. Daniel R. Weed, Jr.'s suggestion as to a "Barrel of Fun" is very good. I like the correspondence column as I am a very extensive advertiser and pick up a good many ideas from others' suggestions.

H. E. PEARSON.

MADE A RIVAL MACHINE LOOK CHEAP

GERMANTOWN, Ky., June 29, 1903.

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your June Suspended List. I wist to assure you that no suspended Dealer on this list can get Phonographs, Records or any of Edison's goods from me. And I trust all Dealers will cooperate with you. The new Agreement I signed June 10 and sent you, and I believe that the system under which this company is now conducting business is one of the fairest and most just systems laid down, and that it will benefit all concerned.

Now a word for the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. I have received three issues and must say that much credit is due to the promoters of this neat and helpful little volume. I do not want to miss any number or part of a number.

I recently made a competing machine look cheap. On June 25 I took a trip over in Robertson county, about twelve miles from Germantown. I stopped at Mr. Hester's store, known as the Hill P. O. The manager of the store played two airs on the ——phone and then called on me to play his Phonograph. I took an Edison Standard Phonograph from my buggy, set it up and started it. After playing eight airs one of the listeners said, "that is the best talking machine I ever heard. Say, it makes the ——phone look as cheap as a coffee mill." He said that right. I would just about as soon hear a coffee mill as a ——phone.

E. E. HENDRIXSON.

HOME PHONOGRAPH OUTSELLS ALL OTHER MACHINES.

BROCKTON, Mass., July 1, 1903.

I beg to acknowledge receipt of Suspended List to June 1. And I want to say a word for the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. I have received all four numbers and read every word from beginning to end. I look for each issue long before it arrives. * * * While I am averse for every talking machine made, I sell more Home Phonographs than all the other kinds put together. The Home is good enough for me. And it is good enough for me to sell, so I push it along. Sometimes I have a customer come into my store to buy a machine that don't seem to know just which machine to buy. I get right to work and play the same piece by the same artist on each machine, and that settles it right away. They always take the Home Phonograph. My business is not yet very large but growing every day. I started about a year ago with three machines and 150 Records. To-day I carry a stock of about a dozen machines and 1,000 Records.

L. R. POSTER.

RECORD CABINETS.

The Catalogue of Accessories, Form 376, now being furnished to the trade does not show any Record Cabinets, it having been decided to discontinue listing them after the present supply is exhausted. We still have a few of these cabinets at the factory, and Jobbers and Dealers who have a demand for them should write to our Sales Department and ascertain just what we can furnish.

I. C. S. LANGUAGE OUTFITS.

Nelson C. Durand, Manager of the Language Course of the International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa., reports that he is making very satisfactory progress in the matter of having I. C. S. language outfits handled by the trade. He did not begin to lay the matter before the Jobbers personally until June 15, but by July 1st he had secured signed Agreements from the following Jobbers:

Blackman Talking Machine Co., New York.
I. Davega, Jr., New York.
Douglas & Company, New York.
Jacot Music Box Co., New York.
Boston Cycle Co., Boston.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston.
J. C. Haynes & Co., Boston.
Wells Phonograph Co., Philadelphia.
Pardee-Ellesberger Co., New Haven.
W. H. Ross & Co., Portland.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., Providence.
Thomas Wardell, Lowell, Mass.
Forsyth & Davis, Kingston, N. Y.
W. D. Andrews, Syracuse, N. Y.
Edisonia Co., Newark, N. J.

Mr. Durand will shortly make a trip West for the purpose of getting Jobbers in that section to handle the line. The advertisement of the International Correspondence Schools in another part of this issue points out that an owner of the Phonograph may now have a double use for his machine. He may get as much amusement out of it as he now does and at the same time may use it for the study of French, German and Spanish. The International Correspondence Schools have met with wonderful success in teaching languages by the use of the Phonograph, and when the public find that it will be possible to purchase these language outfits from local Dealers, the use of the Phonograph for that purpose will be even greater.

CANNOT GET GOODS FAST ENOUGH.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 16, 1903.

We acknowledge receipt of the late Suspended List and also the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY for July. We are glad to get the little paper as it contains lots of good suggestions for the Dealers. We are doing a very nice business in this city in Edison goods. The only trouble we have is to get the popular Records to keep up our stock. We carry from 1,000 to 1,500 Records on hand all the time and sell lots of them.

THE WERNER CYCLE & SUPPLY CO.

RECOMMEND THEM TO ALL.

DANVILLE, Ill., July 14, 1903.

Suspended List received and will act accordingly. You are on the right track. We have handled your Moulded Records ever since their introduction and have yet to find a poor one. We therefore recommend them to all.

BENJAMIN'S TEMPLE OF MUSIC.

NO GENERAL EDITION AT PRESENT.

Some correspondents have suggested that in their opinion it would be a popular move to get out an edition of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY that could be sent to the general public. Several Dealers have offered to pay for a certain number of copies each month. It is improbable that anything in this direction will be done at present. Such an edition would involve too many changes and cost more than it would be possible to get back in money or results. We feel quite satisfied with the good feeling accorded the MONTHLY as now published and will not change it just now.

PHONOGRAPH EXHIBIT WON A PRIZE.

The town of Watsonville, Cal., had a celebration on July 3 and 4, and the committee in charge of the affair offered a prize for the best decorated store front and show windows. The prize was won by Steinhauser & Eaton, Dealers in Edison Phonographs and Records. Steinhauser & Eaton are druggists and have two show windows. One of these was used exclusively for a display of Edison goods. Photographs of the front windows show that the committee made no mistake in awarding the prize to this enterprising firm.

SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

CRESTON, O., July 18, 1903.

I acknowledge list of Suspended Dealers, and congratulate you on your system of doing business. It is the best protection to the straight Dealer that I know of and I certainly co-operate with you in keeping out the price cutting of others.

I am a music man from my boyhood and I know that the Edison Phonograph is the best constructed and plainest talking machine that is built, reproducing the natural tone and voice superior to all others.

D. S. REICHARD.

WOULD CREATE CONFIDENCE.

NEW YORK, July 7, 1903.

I acknowledge receipt of your favor of June 20, enclosing copy of decree and injunction in suit by your company against "The Fair," of Chicago. If the other talking machine companies would protect the Jobbers and Dealers half as well as the National Phonograph Co., in my opinion it would give the talking machine business a solid foundation, and create confidence, which now is woefully lacking.

G. L. GOODAY.

WILL NOT SELL SUSPENDED DEALERS

TUSCARAWAS, O., July 14, 1903.

We have to-day received Suspended List of July 1, 1903. We will be very careful and not supply any of those people with your machines or Records. You can depend on it, for we are very careful. We are greatly pleased with the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. It keeps us in touch with everything that is going on.

REISER & HOUK.

MOULDED RECORDS FOR PHONOGRAPHS.

The American Machinist of New York, for July 9 contained an exceedingly well written and interesting article on the process of making Edison Moulded Records. It is given in full below, the drawings being reproduced on a somewhat smaller scale than they appeared in the article:

"Just play that 'Hapsburg March' once more, boys," the leader of the band calls out: the man behind the megaphone announces "Hapsburg March" played by the Edison Concert Band," and the band bursts into music and the making of a Phonograph record is under way. It is a record of wax, and one which, if sufficiently well produced to pass inspection, becomes a master record from which 2 mold will be formed for the making of a great number of wax cylinders destined to reproduce the "Hapsburg March" in all parts of the world.

At least once each week this band of trained musicians—each one an artist—plays at the Edison Laboratory, Orange, N. J., making new master records; on other days throughout the week vocalists and others are engaged in similar undertakings. It might be truthfully said therefore that there is always an entertainment of some kind at this unique establishment. The band comprises about twenty-five pieces; and in the arranging of the various instruments in front of the Phonograph horn there are many interesting departures from the conventional band groupings. It was formerly the practice to use in the band room a number of Phonographs, each making a master as the sound waves entered the horns. These masters were then placed in duplicating machines and records reproduced from them, the master record and blank rotating together and the instrument for cutting the blank being controlled by a guide following the indentation in the surface of the master. Now but one Phonograph is employed for making master records; this has a horn 4 feet long, 18 inches in diameter at the mouth, and placed horizontally at a height of 4 feet from the floor. Seats at various heights are provided for the musicians, and the latter are so placed that each of the instruments will be at the proper elevation and angle, and at the right distance from the horn, so that the different parts will be evenly balanced in the record. In locating the instruments to gain the desired effect several of the men are forced in a directed rendering it impossible for them to see the leader, and in order that they may follow his direction intelligently the walls of the room have been provided with a series of large mirrors. In making a band record bass drums are never used, as these blur or "fog" the record; cymbals are seldom used and snare drums in solo parts only.

The master, and also the actual or working records, are shaped as shown in Fig. 1. They are—for the majority of the Edison Phonographs—about 4½ inches long and 2 3-16 inches diameter. The bore is taper, ¼ inch to the foot, to suit the Phonograph mandrel, and a number of recesses are formed, as shown, leaving bearing rings or surfaces 3-16 inch wide. The master blanks are made of a hard white wax preparation; the inside is finished and the outside then turned a few thousandths of an inch taper, the finished cylinders being as smooth as glass and having the appearance of polished ivory. They are turned, or shaved, in small Phonographs mounted on a workbench and lifted from shafts at the back of the bench. The horns are, of course, removed from the machines, and provision is made for blowing the chips from the work. The cutting tool operating at the back of each machine is adjusted by means of a screw with a micrometer dial. The work naturally is rotated at a high speed.

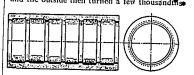

FIG 1.—End View and Section of Phonograph Record.

Not every blank cylinder that is placed in the Phonograph behind the big horn comes out a perfect master; far from it. More or less experimenting is required to find for the case in hand the best suited recorder, that is the sensitive diaphragm with its holder and sapphire cutting point. And then great attention has to be paid to the proper tempering of the different voices. The master records as they are made are thoroughly tested both by musical and mechanical inspectors, to detect any errors or imperfections in the quality of the music reproduced or the workmanship of the record. With the master running in the Phonograph the trained ears of the specialists enable them to detect the most minute imperfections; as a result many masters which to most people would appear to be all that could be desired, are rejected. Such masters as satisfy all requirements under this inspection are tested again later on to make doubly sure that they are satisfactory from a musical point of view. An examination under a powerful microscope is then made, to determine if the wax surface of the cylinder is satisfactory in all particulars. Then comes the making of the mold from the master record.

The first operation in the construction of the mold is the plating of the surface of the wax master. This to the average man would seem a difficult proposition. Fig. 2 gives an idea of the apparatus invented by Mr. Edison and employed in accomplishing this seemingly impossible task. The wax cylinder is shown at a in this engraving; and at b is a hood over which the cylinder is slipped and which acts as a support for the latter, it being placed as shown on the conical-ended post c. At the top of b is secured an armature d; and over armature, cylinder and support is placed the glass e, this resting on a ground glass base f. By means of the pipe g, connected to a vacuum pump, the air is exhausted from the glass jar —the plating being perforated in a vacuum. At h h are two glass uprights, insulated from the base by hard rubber bushings i i and carrying conductors j j, around which the upper ends of the glass supports are sealed.

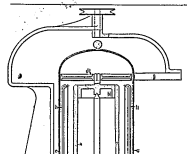

FIG. 2. Apparatus for Plating Records.

The conductors are hooked at the top, and on these hooks are suspended two strips of gold leaf b b. The magnet f is arranged to be revolved by means of the pulleys shown, and armature d and the wax cylinder turn with it. An arc being established between the electrodes suspended on the conductors, the gold is vaporized and—as the wax record rotates in the vacuum—is deposited in an infinitesimally thin coating upon the surface of the cylinder.

The master record now having received its plating of gold is electro copper plated, about four days being required to secure the desired thickness of copper—nearly 1-16 inch. This copper shell, with the master still within it, is then turned off smooth and straight and fitted into a brass shell, which forms really the body of the mold. A section through the mold would now appear something like Fig. 3, m being the master, n the copper shell (between which the wax surface is the minutely thin coating of gold), and o the brass shell in which is fitted the copper sleeve. The wax is removed from the mold by placing the latter for a few moments in a temperature slightly lower than that of the work-room, the contraction of the wax releasing it from the metal. The inside of the mold, which is now gold lined, is thoroughly cleaned by washing with benzine, and the mold is ready for business.

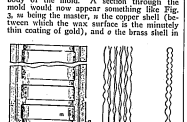

FIG. 3.—Section of Mould.

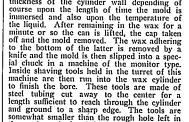

FIG. 6.—Appearance of Record under Microscope.

For holding the wax preparation from which the records are formed, a number of long tanks, subdivided into nearly square compartments and heated by gas, are provided. The melted wax in these tanks is dark brown in color—in fact, nearly black. In molding the record the mold is lowered into the hot wax by means of an arrangement shown roughly in Fig. 4. In this sketch p is the mold, q a cap placed over the top of the latter, and r a can in which the mold is placed and held, as indicated, in a vertical position. The can is carried in a frame, s, which may be moved up and down on uprights t by means of the wire bail u. The can is lowered into the tank until the top of the mold is below the surface of the wax w, the latter entering the mold through the large opening in the bottom of the can. The wax as it passes up into the mold solidifies on coming into contact with the metal and a hollow cylinder of wax is thus formed, the thickness of the cylinder wall depending of course upon the length of time the mold is immersed and also upon the temperature of the liquid. After remaining in the wax for a minute or so the can is lifted, the cap taken off and the mold removed. The wax adhering to the bottom of the latter is removed by a knife and the mold is then slipped into a special chuck in a machine of the monitor type. Inside shaving tools held in the lower of this machine are then run into the wax cylinder to finish the bore. These tools are made of steel tubing cut away to the center for a length sufficient to reach through the cylinder and ground to a sharp edge. The tools are somewhat smaller than the rough hole left in the work, and after being run in to the right distance they are brought over against the wax wall by a lever which serves to move the turret laterally on its carriage. Three tools are required to finish the bore; the first roughs out a plain taper hole; the second (which is notched at the edge) cuts the half-dozen grooves around the inside of the cylinder; the third, or finishing tool, brings the narrow bearing surfaces left to the correct taper. These shaving tools operate very readily as the work is rotated at a very high speed, the material of course being a little softer than anything the average screw machine operator has ever had anything to do with.

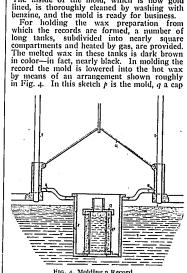

FIG. 4. Molding a Record.

When the work is removed from the machine the wax contracts sufficiently in a moment to admit of the record being removed from the mold. And as fast as the records are finished inside they are placed on cast-iron shells, or hollow plugs, to prevent their being injured or becoming distorted in further cooling. They are next slipped, one at a time, on a taper arbor held in a machine spindle which is constantly in rotation, and the ends are here finished. After this operation each record is carefully inspected to see if it runs true and if it is free from flaws of all kinds. Passing this inspection, the record is packed in cotton, slipped into a cylindrical pasteboard box and packed ready for shipment.

The molding of these records is without doubt one of the most delicate, accurate and interesting operations ever performed in a shop. Just consider for a moment the shallowness of the indentations in the surface of the master record; the gold plating of the wax surface—indentations and all; the preservation in the mold of each and every tiny swell corresponding to its hollow in the master; the accurate reproduction on an endless number of records of every indentation in the surface of the original wax cylinder. The deepest of the impressions in the master are something less than one one-thousandth of an inch; the shallowest are much less than this. The surface of the cylinder presents a wavy appearance not unlike that of a chattering lathe job, besprinkled as it is with these tiny impressions. And yet all the circumferential grooves traced in the wax by the recording sapphire, and every shallow indentation—no matter how insignificant it may appear—are faithfully reproduced in the surface of the molded record.

With this process a much harder preparation can be used and a more durable record made than was possible under the old method of cutting each cylinder, and besides there is practically no wear upon the mold and the thousandth record molded in it is as clear and sharp and will reproduce the vibrations originally received by the master record as well as the first one cast.

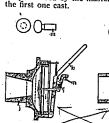

FIG. 5. The Recorder.

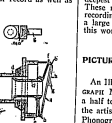

FIG. 7. The Reproducer.

A sectional view of the recording device used is given in Fig. 5, a being the diaphragm of glass or mica about .005 inch thick and 1 3-16 inches in diameter; b the metal rim in which the diaphragm is held by means of a ring of wax, a thin rubber ring being placed, as shown, under the disk; c a tube with spherical end matching a seat formed in the hub of b; d the body of the device bored to receive c and provided at the back with a neck to receive the tube at the end of the Phonograph horn. The part b is hinged at e, and at f is a stop pin limiting the downward movement of the diaphragm rim or weight. The recording point is shown at g; the holder h for the latter is cemented at the inner end to the diaphragm and at the outer end is attached to the rim b. The enlarged view at the top shows the sapphire point g more clearly. It has a body about .040 inch diameter capped at the end, as indicated, to form a keen cutting edge and is held drilled in holder h. A good idea of the appearance—under a powerful microscope—of the surface of a record operated upon by this recorder is given in Fig. 6. The center lines of these rows of indentations are actually .010 inch apart as the lead screw rotating with the record arbor and feeding the recorder along the wax cylinder is cut 100 threads to the inch. The line traced on the record is therefore a thread of .010 inch pitch.

Some very curious results are produced in the wax by the vibrating diaphragm and recorder; the string of nearly round impressions shown to the right in this engraving illustrating the effect produced by a single xylophone note.

A sectional view of the reproducer is shown in Fig. 7. Here i is the diaphragm built up of three disks of mica, and held by a clamping ring between rubber rings in a shell or body j, the latter having the same general outline as the body of the recorder. At k is a hinged movement by a needle-pin, and provided with a log in which arm l carrying reproducer point m is pivoted. This arm is connected by a link with the diaphragm and causes the latter to vibrate as the reproducer follows the path formed by the recorder, the sound waves originally recorded being now reproduced. The sapphire m is shown enlarged above the section and it will be noticed that the head is button shaped, this form following readily the deepest and shortest indentation in the record. These reproducing points, like those used in recording, are all made at the Orange shops, a large number of bench tools being used on this work alone.

PICTURES AND SKETCHES OF THE "TALENT."

An Illinios Dealer suggests that the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should contain each month a half tone cut and sketch of one or more of the artists who make Records for the Edison Phonograph. Similar suggestions have been made by others and we expect to do something in this line before long.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT MATTERS

It is not likely that we shall get out a series of posters and street car cards. The cost of this kind of advertising is too great for most Dealers. The number who have been written about them is too small to warrant us in having the work done.

We have on hand a small quantity of the monthly Record supplements issued since January. They are of no use for the purpose of pushing new Records but most of them are quite attractive and some Dealer may find them useful for general advertising. We shall be glad to supply them as long as they last.

Sample copies of the new edition of the four-page machine folder, Form 414, showing the Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph Phonographs, has just been sent by mail to the entire trade. We regard this as a very useful folder. The edition just printed will permit us to fill orders for reasonable quantities.

A paragraph in the July issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, concerning the furnishing of Order Books to Dealers, has caused some Jobbers considerable annoyance. The paragraph made it appear as if we furnished an Order Book which could be used by Dealers to order goods through Jobbers. This was an unfortunate mistake. The Order Book is one that can only be used by Jobbers in ordering goods from us and by such Dealers as place orders direct, and not through Jobbers. It bears the name and address of the New York office of this company, and could not be used for ordering through Jobbers without causing confusion. The Advertising Department asks the trade to accept its apologies for this error.

We have received from the printer a supply of hangers showing the Price List, Terms and Conditions of Sale under which Edison Phonographs and Records are sold. It is form 454. It has been issued for the purpose of supplying Dealers with something that they may either frame or hang up in their stores, and thereby show doubtful customers the conditions imposed upon them in the sale of Edison goods. This hanger will be mailed to all Dealers some time in August. It is being held up, along with the Celluloid Card, in order that only those Dealers who sign the new Agreement will be supplied with it. The hanger will be mailed direct, but the show cards will be placed through the Jobbers. A card will be sent to every signed Dealer, entitling him to one of these cards, and Jobbers will not be allowed to give out any of them except to Dealers who produce this card.

CYLINDER RECORD CABINETS

made with the practical knowledge of what a Cylinder Record Cabinet ought to be. We illustrate two popular leaders—and there are others.

No. 2.

No. 2. Height 53 inches, width 19 inches, depth 18¾ inches; five drawers with stops, 180 pins, Mahog. any veneered front and top, birch imitation sides, false back, piano finish..... 22.50

No. 3. Height 37 inches, width 19 inches, depth 20 inches; five drawers with stops, 180 pins, quartered oak front, back, both sides and top, piano finish..... 28.00

Dealers will find it profitable to write for special discounts. These cabinets are made in the most reliable manner—in the best standard of furniture making.

No. 3.

AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH COMPANY

106 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., U. S. A.

TO PHONOGRAPH DEALERS:

Live dealers who have used the EDISON KINETOSCOPE with MOVING PICTURE FILMS and ILLUSTRATED SONG SLIDES, accompanied by PHONOGRAPH RECORDS, to attract crowds and advertise their business, have made striking successes.

Write for Detailed Plans, giving answers to the following questions:

1. Is there at your disposal a low building or roof upon which to hang a stereopticon curtain from 12 to 20 feet square for use at night?
2. Or have you a large show window for an 8 to 12 foot curtain, and a deep store which you are willing to darken during the show, while the crowds gather?
3. Can you obtain the electric current for light, preferably 110 volts direct?
4. Do you want to add to your profits by advertising your neighbors' business?

KLEINE OPTICAL CO.,

52 State Street, Chicago, Ill.

Largest Distributors of Edison Kinetoscopes and Films in the United States.

(FACTORY DISCOUNT ALLOWED TO DEALERS ENTITLED TO THEM.)

Language Study on the Phonograph.

Every Phonograph now has a double use—amusement and language study. French, German and Spanish have been successfully taught for the past three years by the I. C. S. Language System with Repeating Phonograph. Each Language Outfit contains 25 Edison Moulded Language Records and 40 I. C. S. textbooks in pamphlet form.

These Language Outfits are now offered to the trade complete for $50.00, or the records and textbooks only at $25.00. -:- -:- -:-

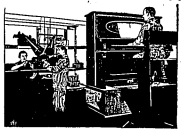
FOR FURTHER PARTICULARS ADDRESS

INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS

SCRANTON, PA.

Language Department, Nelson C. Durand, Manager.

The C. W. N. Handbook of the Phonograph



— AND —

Instructions for Making Records.

BY C. W. NOYES.

Every Owner Of a talking machine should have a copy of this valuable book. It is replete with Instructions for the Care and Use of the Phonograph, and the chapters devoted to RECORD MAKING are compiled from the author's many years of experience in some of the principal laboratories of this country.

Any one possessed of ordinary intelligence can make a perfect record if the directions are followed.

Fully Illustrated—Handsomely Bound.

PAPER, 25 CENTS.
CLOTH, 50 CENTS.

Mailed Postpaid on Receipt of Price.

For Sale by All Jobbers, or

ILSEN & COMPANY, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEALERS WRITE FOR DISCOUNTS.

A CARD TO THE TRADE

JOBBERS AND DEALERS

Interested in giving their customers best results are invited to write us for quotations on

DOUGLAS

Mega (Paper) Horns and Record Cabinets

The Horn that Made us Famous.

Superior to any metal horn made in purity, volume and absence of metallic tones. GREAT AIDS TO THE SALE OF PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

"MEGA" List $7.50
Length 32 inches; Width 24 inches.

"MEGA JR." List $2.25
Length 22 inches; Width 13 inches.

MEGA RECORDING HORN. List $1.50
Length 24 inches; Width 5½ inches.

Look for the Trade Mark
"PHONO-MEGA."

Attractive and Substantial.

Superior to any Line in the Market, STRONGLY MADE. BEAUTIFULLY FINISHED.

100 Peg Polished Oak,	List	$12.00
125 " " "	"	14.00
125 " Quartered Oak,	"	15.50
150 " " "	"	18.00

Prices Restricted.

WRITE FOR SPECIAL LEAFLETS AND NET PRICES.

DOUGLAS & CO.,

89 Chambers Street, 71 Reade Street,
NEW YORK.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. I. NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER, 1903. No. 7.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 144 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 1170 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 12 HEMPER DE PAEPE GEORGIEN.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

Explain Its Improvements	1
Record Shipments	1
Advance List of October Records	2
Dealers Should Write Nearest Headquarters	3
Building Progress	3
Art Calendar for 1904	3
Get the Writing Habit	3
Japanese Records	3
Plan for Fall and Winter	3
Binder for EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY	4
A Catalogue Suggestion	4
New Style Repeating Attachment	5
A. O. U. W. Lodge Entertained with a Phonograph	6
To Edison Is Due the Honor	7
Non-Signers Removed from Mail List	7
Personal	7
Comments on October Records	8
September Advertising	9
Phonograph Should Be in More Homes Than Any Other Musical Instrument	10
Favors a Publication for the Trade Only	10
Gives an Open Air Concert	10
Best Selling Records	11
Publicity Methods of Enterprising Jobbers and Dealers	12
About Printed Matter	13
Sales of Moving Picture Outfits by Phonograph Dealers	13
September Suspended List	14

EXPLAIN ITS IMPROVEMENTS.

It should be part of the duty of every Dealer in Edison goods to convince the people of his city that the Edison Phonograph has made marvellous advances in the past few years. Many persons heard the Phonograph in its early days and formed an unfavorable opinion of it which has remained to this day. They became prejudiced against it and still retain their dislike solely because they have not heard the present-day Phonograph and know nothing of its improvements. It is the daily experience of Dealers to have people, after hearing some of the new Moulded Records, exclaim, "Why I did not know that the Phonograph could make music like that." Hundreds of sales have followed incidents of this kind. It is not enough, Mr. Dealer, that we know how good the Phonograph is or that you consider it the best talking machine in existence. We are striving to get the public to call at your stores and hear it play some of the new Records. Follow this up by urging the people on all occasions to come in. Then put on Records calculated to suit the taste of each individual. Don't put on rag time coon songs when your judgment tells you that your customer prefers music of a different character. Endeavor to ascertain their preferences and then play Records to suit them. A little care in this respect will do much to increase sales and the popularity of the Phonograph.

RECORD SHIPMENTS.

The demand for Records continues to be so heavy that it has been impossible to make much headway during the past month in gaining on the time for shipping August Records. The last of these were not shipped from our factory until after August 25. We had hoped to gain a week or more on this time, but had not anticipated such a steady demand for Records, both for August and for those previously listed.

THE ADVANCE LIST OF OCTOBER RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS FOR OCT., 1903

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near October 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to September 15th, will be shipped.

October Supplements will bear the date of October 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to October Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

8499 Happy Days — Miss Corrinne Morgan
Contralto song with violin obligato
8500 American Standard March — Edison Military Band
8501 Always in the Way — Byron G. Harlan
Chas. K. Harris' latest descriptive song, with orchestra accompaniment
8502 Hungarian Dance No. 1 (Brahms) — Edison Hungarian Orchestra
8503 Praise Ye, from Attila — Metropolitan Mixed Trio
8504 The Laughing Medley — Male Quartette Invincible Quartette
8505 In Starlight — Sentimental Song W. H. Thompson
8506 Thy Sentinel Am I — Frank C. Stanley
Basso song with orchestra accompaniment
8507 Leona Polka — Leo Zimmerman
Trombone solo, accompanied by the Edison Concert Band.
8508 Budget of Short Stories (Humorous) — Len Spencer
8509 It Was the Dutch — Comic male duet Collins & Harlan
8510 Sweet Remembrance Intermezzo — Edison Symphony Orchestra
8511 Waiting for the Dinner Horn to Blow — Harlan & Stanley
Comic Rube talking and singing male duet
8512 Must You — Comic song from "Wizard of Oz" Edwin M. Favor
8513 Le Tremolo — Flute solo with orchestra accompaniment Charles Molé
8514 Poverty's Tears Ebb and Flow — W. H. Thompson
As sung in Edward Harrigan's "Old Lavender"
8515 Good Bye Eliza Jane — New coon song Arthur Collins
8516 Ballet Music from Faust, Part 2 — Edison Concert Band
(Gotterdammerung and Her Trojan Maidens)
8517 Down on the Farm — New descriptive song Franklyn Wallace
8518 There's Music in the Air — March Song Harry L. Talley
8519 The Crowd on McNally's Rock Steps — Collins & Harlan
Waltz song, male duet
8520 Love's Dilemma (She is so Queer) — Love song Arthur Clifford
8521 Won't You Kindly Hum Old Home Sweet Home to Me — Coon song Billy Murray
8522 My Cosy Corner Girl — Harry MacDonough
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment
8523 Love and Passion (Pensée Pathetique) Edison Symphony Orchestra

Edison Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

DEALERS SHOULD WRITE NEAREST HEADQUARTERS.

Dealers in Edison Phonographs and Records will get better service if they will address this company at its office nearest to their city or towns. Those doing business in Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois, and Indiana should refer all matters pertaining to the business to our Chicago office, 304 Wabash avenue. Dealers in Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Montana should be able to get better attention through Peter Bacigalupi, 933 Market street, San Francisco, headquarters for our goods on the Pacific coast. He gets large quantities of goods by water from our factory and is able to save Dealers part of the heavy transportation charges when goods are shipped overland by freight. Canadian Dealers will find it advantageous to deal with R. S. Williams & Sons Co., 143 Yonge street, Toronto, Canada. Dealers in all States not named above should address their correspondence to our New York office.

BUILDING PROGRESS.

Excellent progress is being made in the new building operations at our factory in Orange, New Jersey. The new Record building is going up rapidly, the laying of bricks for the first story being about completed. Our architect has promised that we shall be making Records in this new building before December 1. The work of adding a story to the building used for assembling, packing and shipping, is completed.

ART CALENDAR FOR 1904.

We expect within the next month to make definite announcement concerning an unusually fine Art Calendar for 1904 that we shall issue the latter part of this year. It will not, however, be distributed gratuitously, but will be sold to the trade at a price which will enable every Jobber and Dealer to purchase a limited number for distribution as Christmas souvenirs among his best customers. The calendar will comprise six sheets, each printed in twelve colors, with different sketches, the drawing of which will equal the work of the best artists in the country. It will be gotten out on lines similar to the Art Calendar of the Armour Beef Company, of Chicago, the Fencing Girl Calendar of the Chicago and Alton Railroad and the Art Calendar of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, all of which were in tremendous demand all over the country. In addition to placing these calendars before the trade, we expect to advertise their sale at twenty-five cents each in the same manner as the above-named calendars were sold. Further details about this calendar will be given next month, about which time we hope to have a sufficient number of samples to send one to each Jobber.

GET THE WRITING HABIT.

As the columns of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY show from time to time, we are receiving some very interesting letters concerning trade matters from Jobbers and Dealers. We shall be glad to receive more of these. By this, we do not mean letters in praise of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, but those containing suggestions for its improvement, criticisms of its treatment of matters, descriptions of methods of selling goods, advertising, window display, etc., Phonograph incidents and the many other every day happenings in connection with the sale of Phonographs and Records.

JAPANESE RECORDS.

With the August Bulletins and Supplements was mailed a folder of the Japanese Records, Form 464. We are now in a position to supply orders for these Records. With the exception of two, these Japanese Records are by Sokichi Kudansho, who possesses an excellent voice for Record making. We think that these Japanese titles will become quite popular in the English trade for the reason that some of them are sung to well known English tunes. For instance, No. 12816, "Hotaru no hikari," is sung to the air of "Auld Lang Syne;" No. 12818, "Omoi inureba," is sung to the air of "Bonny Doon;" No. 12819, "Ware no Kami ni," is the Japanese version of "Nearer My God to Thee," and is sung to the same tune. These Japanese Records are very different in character from the Chinese Records listed by this company, and should find even a greater sale in this country.

PLAN FOR FALL AND WINTER.

Now that the vacation days are about over, it is time to give serious attention to fall and winter business. Keep in mind the difficulty of a year ago in getting orders filled, look over your stock carefully, ascertain how much business you did in the fall and winter of last year, and place orders accordingly. Your Jobber will be very glad to have you order goods well in advance, and we shall be equally pleased for the longer time in which to get goods into the hands of the Jobbers. The time was when there was considerable uncertainty as to the future of the Phonograph and Record business, but that time is past. Just as close calculations can be made in this business at the present time as are possible in the sale of groceries or dry goods, and Dealers are safe in placing orders accordingly.

BINDER FOR THE E. P. M.

We have placed an order for a supply of binders for the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. Each binder will hold twelve issues. Each issue may be put in the binder as fast as it appears and each may be removed without disturbing the others. The binders will be attractive in appearance and be suitably lettered with the name of the publication. They will be sent postpaid for fifty cents to Dealers who have signed the new Agreement. Send orders to the Advertising Department and they will be filled as soon as binders are received. One cent or two cent stamps accepted.

A CATALOGUE SUGGESTION.

"Let me give you a suggestion," said one of our Jobbers to the Advertising Department, when in the city recently. "In your Record Catalogue you classify titles beginning with 'A' or 'The' under the letters 'A' and 'T,' etc. As a result when a customer asks for the Record 'The Bedouin Love Song,' we are not quite certain until we look whether we shall find it classed under 'T' or 'B.' In my opinion, it would be better to drop the use of the articles, 'The,' 'A' and 'An,' and classify accordingly. This would classify 'The Bedouin Love Song' under the 'B's,' and would make it possible to find it more readily." This suggestion seemed to be a good one, and we shall probably act upon it in issuing the next edition of our Record Catalogue. This instance is cited here to show the trade how helpful it is to have Jobbers and Dealers make suggestion concerning seemingly small matters which come to their attention. We shall be glad to hear from others in a similar way.

HOME OUTSELLING THE STANDARD.

WATERLOO, Ohio, Aug. 8, 1903.

We have received the August number of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and Suspended List, and expect to fully co-operate with you. While the Phonogram was always a welcome little sheet we think the new EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is as much better as the Moulded Record and model C Reproducer are better than the old style.

If a man will only read the MONTHLY he will get information that would take years to get otherwise and put him in shape to talk intelligently when a person asks a question about talking machines.

Last year the Standard was our best seller, but this year we have been selling Home machines when in other years we sold very little of any in the hot months. We look for a large talking machine trade this fall. We formerly handled the —— goods, but are glad we changed. We may be compelled to put in a line of disc goods, not that we expect to sell many, but there is a certain demand for noise among some people that must be filled. Where a person has the two styles of machines, Edison and disc, side by side, it is strange to see why any one will ever invest in a disc.

JENNISE & WHITNEY.

A UNIQUE WINDOW DISPLAY.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., Aug. 11, 1903.

Your MONTHLY received this morning and I was well pleased with same. I think the August number was the best yet published. You talk about a window display, I think I have the best of them. All I have is a large sugar barrel with a Gem machine in it. On the barrel is a large sign reading, "Barrels of fun in an Edison Phonograph." More people look at that than any window display I ever had. The entire window is covered with whining and only three pass holes. It is lots of fun to see people "rubber."

D. E. HEEB.

FROM NEW ZEALAND.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., July 6, 1903.

Your EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY to hand, for which accept our best thanks. Kindly see we get this interesting pamphlet posted monthly. As to your article on pushing goods I forwarded the manager a Palmerston newspaper containing a paragraph to the effect that we gave a public demonstration from the band rotunda situated in our large city square. We used a Concert Phonograph, and the newspaper was very flattering in its remarks on the loudness and tone of machine, and trusted we would soon favor the public again at intervals.

ENOS S. PEDLER.

ARE PAYING REGULAR PRICES.

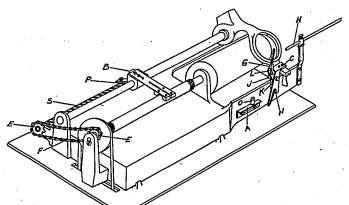
BARABOO, Wis., Aug. 7, 1903.

Yours of late date containing lists of Suspended Dealers received to-day. You can rest assured we will do all we can to maintain prices on Edison goods. Some of our customers have left us at different times to do better, but they have returned and are not kicking about paying regular prices.

C. C. THOMPSON & SON.

VOTES FOR PICTURES OF THE "TALENT."

HARPER, Kan., Aug. 8, 1903.



Your Suspended List, Form 466, for August, at hand, also the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. It is getting better all the time. I vote for pictures and description of the "talent."

M. S. LIDEN,
Of Liden & Liden.

NEW STYLE REPEATING ATTACHMENT.

The accompanying cut shows our new style Repeating Attachment applied to the Triumph Phonograph, and illustrates equally well its application to the larger spring motor and electric machines. On the Home Phonograph a slight variation in construction is made, which will be spoken of further on.

The operation of the device is very simple and will be readily understood from the cut and what follows, since we know that to accomplish the result sought it is only necessary to lift the speaker arm at the end of Record and at the same time engage it with some returning means. This returning means is a deep grooved screw S, supported in bearings at the back of the machine body and driven by means of sprockets E-E and chain F, running from the main shaft to it. To engage the speaker arm with this screw there is a plate B rigidly fastened to back of arm and projecting out over the return screw. The projecting end of this plate carries a pin P on its under side, of the right diameter and proper position to enter the groove in the return screw when the speaker arm has been lifted sufficiently to disengage the feed nut from the feed screw.

To lift the speaker arm at the close of the record, a plate C is firmly screwed to the forward projection of speaker arm and carries on its inner side a pivoted lever L, which in turn carries on its inner end, a pin J, which projects back over the top of straight edge and serves as lift lever. A spring is also attached to the inner end of L, tending to pull it down, thus bringing the pin down on top of straight edge and lifting the speaker arm; at the outer end of the lever L a latch G is pivoted, so that when L is pushed down, allowing the speaker arm to drop, the feed nut to engage the feed screw and the arm to ride on straight edge as usual, this latch hooks under the edge of plate C, retaining it in that position, the spring tending to pull it in the opposite direction.

To automatically release this latch G at the end of the record, there is an adjustable stop H, mounted on the right hand end of the machine body and as the speaker arm advances to the right the latch L comes against this stop and the arm continues until it has unhooked the latch, at which instant the spring draws the lever down, thus lifting the speaker arm, which disengages feed nut and screw and brings the pin P into slot of the return screw S, which carries the speaker arm back to the left.

The cut shows it returning. On its way back, the post O engages a swinging pawl K on lever L and resets it, locking the latch L under plate C, leaving the speaker arm free to drop back on the straight edge as soon as foot N of plate C, now riding on top of plate A, drops off at the extreme left of its travel, thus completing one entire operation, which will be automatically duplicated as long as the machine runs.

One great advantage of this attachment is that when the machine is reproducing there is no power used for anything else, as it is self contained and uses power only during the return.

In applying it to the Home machine, the return screw S is mounted directly on the motor on the inside of machine and is driven by gears instead of chain and sprocket; the plate B is longer and extends out over the back edge of top plate, passing through the cabinet; otherwise, all attachments are identical in design.

This attachment is sold at the same price as the one now listed in Catalogue No. 375.

AN A. U. O. W. LODGE ENTERTAINED WITH A PHONOGRAPH.

The following letter was received on the day that the forms of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY for August were closed. It was addressed to Peter Bacigalupi, Jobber, in Edison goods at San Francisco:

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18, 1903.

On Thursday evening, July 16, Burns' Lodge, No. 68, A. U. W., gave an entertainment immediately after the installation of officers, consisting in part of addresses by a number of the old members as well as the installing Grand Officers, and also vocal and instrumental selections rendered by means of the Edison Triumph machine which you so kindly loaned me for the occasion. The concert was an overwhelming success and demonstrated most clearly the advantage of using the Phonograph for public as well as private entertainments. Every number on the programme (of which I enclose you a copy) was enthusiastically encored and had to be repeated, some of them three and four times. I was most agreeably surprised at the result myself, as I had an idea that the hall would be too large to fill with the volume of sound from my horn, as I had never used it in a room larger than an ordinary parlor; as a matter of fact it was a decided advantage to have more space and every note was as clear to those in the hall who were seated at least forty feet from the stand on which the machine was placed, as it was to those who were within eight or ten feet. At the close of the entertainment I was given a rising vote of thanks by the members, and was invited to give a similar concert when we celebrate our "silver" anniversary. Permit me to extend to you my thanks for your kindness in loaning me the Triumph as it would have entailed considerable trouble on me to have taken my Victor and the large cabinet on which it is mounted from my residence to the hall. The Triumph answered every purpose, and with the assistance of a friend, I had no difficulty in taking it, together with my horn, tripod, and carrying case of Records. After more than a year's experience with the Phonograph I am still as enthusiastic as ever; in fact, I am known among my friends as a Phonograph "crank," a title that does not annoy me in the least as I have received more enjoyment listening to the "choir invisible" of my Phonograph than I could have secured from any other source that I am aware of at the present time. I note from the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY for June that there will be a splendid list to choose from for July and I shall await the arrival of same with delight. The instrumental duet for violin and flute, by Jandus and Alz, violin solo—De Beriot's 6th air with variations, by D'Almaine, Annie Laurie, by the Edison Brass Quartette, together with many other gems, will be a musical treat to which I look forward with pleasure.

JOHN W. SEELEY,
(The Edison Phonograph Enthusiast.)

NOTE—In the near future I shall send you a classified list of my Records (of which you are aware I have over 200) and perhaps we can make some Eastern "cranks" open their eyes to the fact that there are some people out here in the "wild and woolly" West who can appreciate a good thing when they see and hear it.

[The Records played by Mr. Seeley during the evening were the following: Nos. 7666, 527, 8256, 8166, 8088, 8272, 3666, 8048, 8349, 8223, 8101, 8382, 8393, 614. They were well selected as those who will take the trouble to look up their titles may ascertain.]

CANNOT KEEP STOCKED UP.

The following is an extract from a letter received in August from the Minnesota Phonograph Co., St. Paul, Minn.:

Enclosed please find an additional order for stock Records, which please add to our order now at your factory. We are extremely low on these numbers and it would be a great accommodation to us if you would kindly rush this order through the factory.

We have been trying to anticipate our wants in regards to our Record stock, but the people of St. Paul have taken so kindly to Edison Phonographs and Records, that we have found it an utter impossibility to keep our stock in near the shape that it should be.

MINNESOTA PHONOGRAPH CO.

GIVE THE BEST SATISFACTION.

POTSDAM, N. Y., AUGUST 17, 1903.

Your August list of Suspended Dealers at hand. I am glad to note that you use all Dealers alike, both large and small. I cannot understand why Dealers wish to cut prices on your goods, as their own merit will sell them, and I can honestly say that the Edison goods give the best satisfaction of any on the market.

H. D. FRENCH.

TESTIMONIAL.

The following is an unsolicited testimonial from a Phonograph admirer:

ALEXANDRIA, VA., August 13, 1903.

When I decided to purchase a Phonograph nearly a year ago, I wanted to be sure of getting the best on the market. With this object in view, I looked at a number of other styles of machines. I decided to purchase an Edison Phonograph. The Edison is a magnificent machine, both in quality of tone, which is superb, and in outward style and finish.

G. C. GOODRICH.

TO EDISON IS DUE THE HONOR.

A correspondent to the Talking Machine News, London, England, furnishes the following information concerning the early attempts at reproducing sound:

Edison was not the first man that tried to solve the problem of recording and reproducing human speech—but in pre-Edison days the utmost accomplished was in the direction of tracings (generally on a smoked surface) illustrative of voice inflections. Leon Scott's "talking machine" never existed, neither was it "a practical attempt to solve the problem of voice reproduction." The crux of the problem was infinitely more in the direction of reproducing than in recording, and this (the reproducing of speech) Scott never even mentions. What Scott accomplished, and great honour is due to him for it, was the invention of the Phonautograph, in 1856. This smooth looking instrument marked, in its operation, a distinct advance, yet the utmost it did was tracing sound vibrations on a smoked surface. The tracings had no permanence whatever, much less was there any thought of reproducing from them. In reference to Charles Cros, the case is different, yet not to the extent some may think. There seems also no room for doubt that neither Edison or Cros knew of each other's work, or idea, in this direction. Cros never made a machine, and never got beyond theory, but all the same he theorized well. He was hardly an inventor, but a thinker. He could not, as Edison can, foresee practical realizations from small indications. Still Cros's ideas were brilliant, and worthy of high praise. The method sketched if the instrument described by Cros could ever be capable of reproducing speech. The Abbe Lelubane also made several experiments to carry out the instructions of Cros, but without success. Attempts to make a phonograph were also made by M. Napoli and M. Depree, also without success. To Edison alone is due the honour of solving the great problem. He first worked out not only a practical principle, but evolved from that principle a practical result. Dr. Mnier, in his interesting description of Larranaga's phonograph, well says, in reference to pre-Edison efforts:—"Previous records of sound suggested no practical way of reproducing it, nor was this effected until Edison produced his talking phonograph." As to Edison, in the world of invention I believe, he is the most imitated man.

THANATOPSIS.

H. C. Bickle, Dealer at Chardon, Ohio, sends the following clipping from Geauga County Record of August 7:

The exhibition of the Edison Home Phonograph by H. C. Bickle attracts much attention. The seemingly inexhaustible repertoire of exquisite music which is daily produced by the obliging exhibitor of this marvelous invention is a source of pleasure to many. But the climax was reached when Mr. Bickle announced that ex-Sheriff Edward Clapp's matchless rendition of Bryant's "Thanatopsis" was ready for reproduction. The Record was taken by John Chapman, and it requires very little stretch of imagination for the listener to see the venerable ex-Sheriff's every gesture as the marvelous poem is rendered, word for word, with perfect imitation of detail in expression.

A TRANSPOSITION ERROR.

The interesting article on "Moulded Records for Phonographs" reprinted from the American Machinist in August issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, contained an annoying error in make-up. On page 13 the cuts of the Recorder and Reproducer were transposed, the cut of the Reproducer appearing over the title of the Recorder and vice versa. Fortunately the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY circulates only among Phonograph Dealers and the error deceived no one. In spite of this fact, however, we regret that it occurred. We thank the various Dealers who pointed out the error.

NON-SIGNERS REMOVED FROM MAIL LIST.

Jobbers who receive complaints from their Dealers that they have not received this issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY or other printed matter usually send out by this company, will understand that it is because such Dealers have either not signed the new Agreement or because their Agreement has not been forwarded to us to make our records complete. All Dealers who had not signed the new Agreement on September 1 were removed from our mailing list and will not be restored to the list until they have conformed to our request in the matter of signing the new Agreement.

PERSONAL.

Among the visitors at our New York office the past month were W. H. Beck, of the Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston; P. E. Conroy, of the Conroy Co., St. Louis, Mo.; Fred and Henry Babson, of the Talking Machine Co., Chicago, Ill.; Henry Winkelman, of John C. Haynes Co., Boston, Mass.; C. A. Ray, of the Ray Co., Louisville, Ky.; P. A. Powers, Buffalo, N. Y.; William Werner, Easton, Pa.; J. E. Ellenberger, of Pardee-Ellenberger Co., New Haven, Conn.; H. Shields, of the Denver Dry Goods Co., Denver, Colo.

C. B. Haynes, who for two years represented this company in the middle West and who for the past two years has been with the Armour Company, of Chicago, has been re-engaged as salesman by the National Phonograph Co. His territory will be New York State, (except New York city and Brooklyn), and part of New Jersey and Connecticut.

COMMENTS ON OCTOBER RECORDS.

The October list of new Moulded Records abounds in new features. In this respect it is one of the notable lists of the year. Perhaps the most attractive of these new features is the listing of a selection by the Edison Military Band, an entirely new organization and different in every respect, man for man, from the Edison Concert Band. This organization has been perfected for the purpose of making Records of music of a military character. The instruments entering into its makeup are different from those of the ordinary band, and the music rendered is of a distinctly military character. The selection listed for October is No. 8500, "American Standard March." It is difficult in an article of this length to attempt to describe the work of this new band, and we will leave it to the hearers of this selection to ascertain the difference for themselves. We think that for certain kinds of music the results achieved by this organization are superior to those of the old. .

Another new feature of the October list is the introduction of the Edison Hungarian Orchestra to the lovers of the Edison Phonograph and its Records. Everyone knows that the music played by a Hungarian orchestra is much different from that of an ordinary orchestra. The reason for it is that Hungarian orchestras include several instruments seldom found in a modern orchestra. One of the instruments peculiar to a Hungarian orchestra is the cymbals—not the cymbals used in connection with a brass band and bass drum, but an instrument resembling the dulcimer. It is, however, much larger in size, and contains many more strings. In the selection listed—No. 8502, "Hungarian Dance No. 1," by Brahms—the peculiar music of the cymbals is brought out in a marked manner, and the Record is one quite different from that played by the Edison Symphony Orchestra.

The third feature in No. 8503, "Praise Ye," from Attila, sung by the Metropolitan Mixed Trio. This selection was formerly made in the old Wax Records under the name of "Attila," and was discontinued when the new Moulded Records were first made. It was a Record always in great demand, and has been put back on the list in response to a general demand for it. The singing of the selection by this trio makes the Record a much better one than when formerly listed.

A fourth feature for October is the listing of one of the best Records ever made by a woman's voice. It is No. 8499, "Happy Days," and is sung by Miss Corrinne Morgan, with violin obligato. The song itself is a charming one. It is sung by Miss Morgan with entire absence of all objectionable features of Records made by women's voices, and the violin obligato adds much to the attractiveness of the Record. We believe that this Record will be one of the most popular of the entire list, if not for the year.

With No. 8513, "Le Tremolo," a flute solo with orchestra accompaniment, Charles Molé (pronounced Jlo-lay) makes his bow to the great clientele of the Edison Phonograph. Mr. Molé was formerly with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, in which organization he played first flute. As a soloist on the flute he is the equal of any one now before the public. The selection that Mr. Molé plays for his initial number is a clear and sweet air, and is one that affords him an excellent opportunity of showing his ability as a flute player.

No. 8514, "Poverty's Tears Ebb and Flow," sung by W. H. Thompson, is a selection that will doubtless cause many to wonder why it is being listed at the present time. We do it because of the popular demand that has existed ever since the introduction of the new Moulded Record. Hundreds will remember the success with which Edward Harrigan sang this song in "Old Lavender," and few who heard it will fail to enjoy it with pleasure. It is doubtless this feeling which caused so many of our friends to ask us to make it available for use on the Phonograph. Mr. Thompson's excellent voice does full justice to the song and makes it a most desirable Record. Mr. Thompson has a second selection in the October list, No. 8505, "In Starlight," a love song of the better or more standard class and one of Mr. Thompson's best efforts.

In No. 8501, "Always in the Way," Byron G. Harlan sings Charles K. Harris' latest descriptive song, with orchestra accompaniment. The publisher of this song predicts for it great popularity. It is already well known in certain parts of the country.

The Invincible Male Quartette, in No. 8504, "The Laughing Medley," sing a selection in which the laughing effects are well brought out.

Frank C. Stanley, in No. 8506, "Thy Sentinel Am I," makes an excellent contribution to the monthly list. Mr. Stanley's voice requires no commendation on our part. It is as well known as the Phonograph itself. The selection is accompanied by the orchestra.

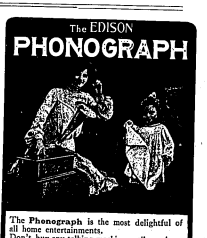
The trombone makes an exceedingly attractive Record, and in No. 8507, "Leona Polka," Leo Zimmerman has one of great excellence. It is accompanied by the Edison Concert Band, a new feature in work of this kind. Something out of the ordinary is No. 8508, "A Budget of Short Stories" (and, of course, they are funny stories), made by Len Spencer.

Collins and Harlan have two excellent male duets in the list. They are both humorous, as usual. No. 8509, "It Was the Dutch," is sung in Dutch dialect, but the dialect is not exaggerated and is easily understood. The song is somewhat on the "Mr. Dooley" style. The words are by Vincent Bryan and the music by Neil Moret. The other selection by these clever artists is No. 8510, "The Crowd on McNally's Back Stoop." It is one of the waltz songs so popular for the past year or two.

The Edison Symphony Orchestra has two selections on the list, both charming selections and made perfectly. They are, No. 8516, "Sweet Remembrance," a new intermezzo composed by Alfred Müller-Nerden, now being played by all the best orchestras and meeting with instant favor; and No. 8523, "Love and Passion" (Pensee Pathetique). This is described by its composer, J. F. Bellois, as being a pathetic thought. The melody is of the "Hearts and Flowers" character, orchestrated for the oboe, violoncello, flute and violin parts.

No. 8511, "Waiting for the Dinner Horn to Blow," is another characteristic Rube talking and singing duet by Harlan and Stanley. It fully equals in fun any of this popular series already listed.

In No. 8512 Edward M. Favor sings "Must You?" one of the hits in the musical success, "The Wizard of Oz." Mr. Favor cleverly brings out the good points of the song. Arthur Collins' solo Record is No. 8515, "Good-Bye Ellen Jane." This is not the old song with this name, but a new and popular "coon" composition, the words of which are by Andrew B. Sterling and the music by Harry von Tilzer. It goes without saying that Mr. Collins makes a good Record of the song.



The Edison Concert Band in No. 8516 plays "Ballet Music from Faust, No. 2," and make a Record fully as artistic as was "Ballet Music, No. 1," in the September list. No. 8517, "Down on the Farm," is another new song with an old name. It is quite unlike its namesake. Frank'yn Wallace sings it in good style.

Harry Talley, who made his first Edison Record in the September list, has another in October. It is No. 8518, "There's Music in the Air," a march song, the words of which are by Andrew B. Sterling and the music by Silvio B. Hein. Arthur Clifford's contribution is No. 8520, "Love's Dilemma" ("She Is So Queer"). As its title indicates, it is a love song, and Mr. Clifford sings it nicely.

The name of No. 8521, "Won't You Kindly Hum Old Home, Sweet Home, to Me?" would seem to the ordinary individual as being too long to be good, but such is not the case. It is a coon song of the "Bill Bailey" family, and is meeting with success wherever sung on the vaudeville stage. This Record of it is made by Billy Murray, whose "coon" song Records have become very popular. The last solo Record on the list is No. 8522, "My Cosy Corner Girl," made by Harry McDonough. This air first became popular as an orchestra selection and then words were written for it by Charles Noel Douglas. The music was composed by John W. Bratton.

SEPTEMBER ADVERTISING.

The accompanying cut of our September advertisement shows the new Phonograph Girl in still another attractive pose. Again, Mr. Dealer, does this advertisement direct the attention of the public to your stores. "Don't buy any talking machine until you have heard the Phonograph at the nearest Dealers. Five thousand stores sell Phonographs." It is all for your direct benefit, and, of course, indirectly, for our own; but it is an honest effort to see that you get your share instead of trying to have orders sent directly to us. In return, you should see that every reasonable effort is made to inform the public that you are "the nearest Dealer," and that you can supply all wants in the Phonograph line. Our September advertisement appeared in the following publications: The Bookman, Century, Collier's, Craftsman, Harper's, Independent, Leslie's Popular Monthly, Life, Metropolitan, Mines and Minerals, Munsey's, Music Record and Review, National, Out Door Life, Recreation, Review of Reviews, Saturday Evening Post, Scientific American, Smart Set, Sunset Magazine and World's Work.

The Phonograph is the most delightful of all home entertainments.
Don't buy any talking machine until you have heard the Phonograph at the nearest dealer's.
6000 STORES SELL PHONOGRAPHS WITH THE EDISON RECENT IMPROVEMENTS, IMPERFECTION.
National Phonograph Co., Orange, N. J.
NEW YORK 31 Union Sq. CHICAGO 304 Wabash Ave. SAN FRANCISCO 916 Market St.
EUROPE: ANTWERP, BELGIUM, 22 Rempart Notre Dame

PHONOGRAPH SHOULD BE IN MORE HOMES THAN ANY OTHER MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

We wonder if Dealers realize that of all the musical instruments now in existence none should find their way into as many homes as the Phonograph. Such is not the case at the present time, but it should be if proper effort was made. The Phonograph should be in more homes than the piano for the reason that its cost is not one-tenth that of the latter instrument. More of them should be in general use than the violin, banjo, or other solo instrument because the latter require months of training to be able to use them satisfactorily, while the Phonograph requires no skill whatever—anyone may play it. The Phonograph is the greatest of all music making devices because of its easy adaptibility to homes of all classes.

FAVORS A PUBLICATION FOR THE TRADE ONLY.

SUNAPEE, N. H., Aug. 10, 1903.

Acknowledge receipt for the August list of Suspended Dealers. Also note that some Dealers advocate that the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be published in large quantities for distribution among Phonograph owners and interesting purchasers. I would like to say that in my opinion the National Phonograph Co. issues a great plenty of advertising matter for distribution among the public at present—by this I do not mean any too much—but I think that the Dealers should have a paper issued them only, wherein any business concerning discounts or other private matter can be discussed freely. Also think that the hanger No. 454 showing price list, terms and conditions of sale under which Edison Phonographs and Records are sold, to frame or hang in the store, will be a fine thing, as some people always think that the goods that they want can be secured at a discount from some Dealer. Thanking you for the numbers of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY already received and hoping that it will be continued on the present lines indefinitely. In reviewing the policy of the National Phonograph Co. in protecting its Dealers, also their customers, I think that the business is carried on in as near a perfect manner as it is possible to handle such a large business.

E. S. PERRINS.

TRADE INCREASES EACH MONTH.

QUITMAN, Mo., Aug. 5, 1903.

We are in receipt of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and think it one of the best we have had the good fortune to read. The article, "Moulded Records for Phonographs," gives us an idea as to the care and time that is given to produce the Records as we get them.

Do not fail to send us the MONTHLY regularly for we do not want to miss any of the trade ideas given in it. Our Record trade increases each month.

J. R. BOYER.

WOULD NOT PLAY WHEN FULL.

PICKOW, Mich., July 24, 1903.

We acknowledge with pleasure the receipt of the last issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and found it very interesting. We had a peculiar circumstance occur the other day and we thought it might be of interest to the readers of the paper. We sold an Edison Standard machine to a gentleman who owns the hotel and has a bar in connection. The other day he brought us the machine and wanted it fixed up. Said something was the matter with it, and there certainly was. Upon removing the Reproducer and holding it up side down we found that it was full of beer, which goes to prove that the Standard is a strictly temperate machine and will not play when full.

LEIPPRANDT BROS.

GIVES AN OPEN AIR CONCERT.

J. A. Foster, Dealer at Lisbon Falls, Me., sends one of the circulars he gets out each month when he receives each new lot of Edison Moulded Records. It was set in display type and was arranged as follows:

FREE OPEN AIR
CONCERT

SATURDAY EVENING, AUGUST 8, '03. consisting of the July list of
NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS
Made in Standard Size. Sung 50 per dozen.
[Here was given the July list of Records.]

Concert takes place in front of FOSTER'S Store at 7.00 Sharp.

Why not buy a Phonograph? $10, 20, 30, 50, $100. By Paying
ONLY $1.00 PER WEEK.

Catalogues and full information on request.

MUSIC FOR EVERY HOME.

Do not forget the day and date
FOSTER'S

MONTHLY "COMMENTS" A VALUABLE GUIDE.

FORT GAINES, Ga., Aug. 8, 1903.

I acknowledge receipt of Suspended List for August, and it is my pleasure to state I will not violate my contract, will under no circumstance deal with names published.

In this connection allow me to thank you for the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. It is precisely what has long been needed. Among the many matters of interest are the "comments" on the monthly issue of Records. I was much interested in "Comments on September Records," these will form a valuable guide.

F. E. GRIST.

Hereafter Record No. 7013, "The Toreador Song," by J. J. Fisher, will be sung by Arthur Clifford.

BEST SELLING RECORDS.

The Record Department at our factory in Orange makes up a list every month of the best selling Records of the monthly Supplements and also the best sellers for the month of all titles previously listed. This record of sales is so interesting that we have given up in this issue considerable space in referring to the subject and commenting upon these lists as far back as January. This comment is interesting as showing the tastes of the public in the matter of Phonograph Records. In January we listed thirty-three Domestic Records. Of these the fifteen best sellers were the following:

8293. Turkey in the Straw.....Golden
8313. Strike Out McCracken.Collins & Harlan
8314. Nationality Medley, Invincible Quartette
8287. On Broadway in Dahoney Bys and Bye Collins & Harlan
8298. Roll on the Ground.....Golden
8285. Eva—Xylophone .....Hopkins
8293. Marriage Bells.....Rubsam
8294. Tell Me Dusky Maiden, Harlan & Stanley
8311. Mixed Ale Party.....Golden
8300. In the Sweet Bye and Bye.....Libby
8299. Dance of the Skeletons.....Band
8306. There's No Place Like Home...Harlan
8301. Dat's de Way to Spell Chicken..Collins
8291. When It's All Goin' Out and Nothin' Coming In, Quinn
8309. I'm so Tired Livin' I Don't Care When I Die.....Collins

In February thirty-two Domestic titles were listed, and of these the following fifteen were the most in demand:

8315. Reminiscences of Minstrelsy..Minstrels
8316. Echoes of Minstrelsy.....Minstrels
8319. My Own United States.....Thompson
8315. Katie My Southern Rose.....Thompson
8317. I've Got My Eyes on You.....Band
8331. Little Cotton Dolly...Edison Quartette
8315. Turkish Patrol.....Hopkins
8321. Good Night, Good Night, Beloved, Mixed Quartette
8319. Trouble.....Collins & Harlan
8332. I'll Kill the Man Who Swiped My Can, (2) Collins & Harlan
8337. Second Reg. Conn. N. G.....Band
8338. When the Autumn Leaves are Falling, Harlan & Stanley
8333. Boston Commandery March.....Band
8322. Noreen Mavourneen.....Harlan
8341. I'll be Busy All Next Week....Collins

There were thirty titles listed in March, and the following fifteen lead all the rest, the difference in sales between the highest and the lowest of the fifteen being 2,400 Records:

8366. Mr. Dooley Medley—Xylophone, Hopkins
8347. Hiawatha.....Edison Concert Band
8368. Monkey Shines on the Mobile Levee, Edison Band
8372. O'Brien.....Collins & Harlan
8373. Larboard Watch.....Harlan & Stanley
8356. Sweet and Low, Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette
8352. The Lost Chord.....Edison Quartette
8376. Dream of the Tyrolienne..Jaudas & Atz
8349. Home Ain't Nothing Like This..Collins
8370. Health, Wealth and Happiness Waltzes, Orchestra
8351. Please Mamma Buy Me a Baby..Harlan
8360. Cuckoo Song.....Harlan & Belmont
8375. Symphia Waltzes.Edison Concert Band
8365. Then I'd Be Satisfied With Life..Favor
8354. The Pooh Bah of Blackville Town, Collins

Only fifteen titles were listed in April, and of these the following five had the greatest demand:

8389. I Wonder Why Bill Bailey Don't Come Home .....Collins
8370. Pretty Peggy—Belle.....Rubsam
8386. When the Winter Time Comes Round, Collins & Harlan
8387. Aligazam March—Xylophone..Hopkins
8390. When Cats Lips in Kisses Meet, Morgan & Stanley

Of the twelve titles listed in May the following five proved the most popular:

8396. Under the Bamboo Tree—Xylophone, Hopkins
8394. Violets—Piano .....Banta
8398. Blaze Away March, Edison Concert Band
8402. Waltz Me Down the Alley Sally, Collins & Harlan
8395. Life's Dream is O'er, Chapell & Strickfett

In the June list there were twenty titles, the ten leaders of which were the following:

8412. Down Where the Wurzburger Flows, Hopkins
8416. Butterfly Gavotte—Bells.....Rubsam
8409. In the Valley Where the Bluebirds Sing .....Minstrels
8404. Spring or Love.....Jaudas & Atz
8419. In the Starlight.....Morgan & Stanley
8420. Little Dinah Jones—Xylophone, Hopkins
8421. Ma Starlight Sue, Thompson & Campbell
8406. Up the Street March, Edison Concert Band
8405. Won't You Roll Dem Eyes.....Collins
8422. Refuge..Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette

Of the twenty-five Records listed in July the ten leaders were as follows:

8425. Hiawatha .....MacDonough
8428. Heart's Desire.....Jaudas & Atz
8424. American Patrol.....Band
8434. Every Morn I Bring Her Chicken, Collins
8429. Marriage Is Sublime..Collins & Harlan
8435. 'Deed I Do.....Morgan & Stanley
8420. I'm a Jonah Man.....Collins
8417. Hurrah for Baffins Bay, Collins & Harlan
8436. Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground, Male Quartette
8443. Pretty Little Dinah Jones..MacDonough

The ten best selling Records of the August list were the following:

8457. A Scene in a Country Store. Harlan & Stanley
8473. Santiago Waltz.....Hopkins
8462. Alita ..... Benzler
8451. Up-to-date Minstrels, No. 1.....Clifford
8468. There's Always a Mother Waiting for You.....Harlan & Stanley
8456. Congo Love Song.....MacDonough
8471. Eghasafa Dill.....Collins & Harlan
8451. Love's Dream After the Ball.....Band
8460. You Can't Fool All the People All the Time.....Collins
8459. A Lucky Duck.....Orchestra

PUBLICITY METHODS OF ENTERPRISING JOBBERS AND DEALERS.

The Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., of Boston, issued a very clever and attractive mailing folder in July for the purpose of advising their Dealers with reference to the August advance list of new Edison Moulded Records. It had a lithographed design on the outside, showing a hand grasping a hammer and about to drive a nail into a board. Above the hand and hammer were the words "Square on the Head." On the center panel inside was the August list and above it this phrase, "You will hit the nail square on the head if you send us your order early for Phonographs and Records." On another panel was the article from the July PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY headed "Order Early for the Fall Trade." Altogether the folder could not fail to attract attention.

Copies of trade advertising cards, folders and novelties have been received from the Hartford Phonograph Co., 25 Asylum street, Hartford, Conn.; Musical Supply Co., 122 North Michigan street, South Bend, Ind.

That William H. Keller, of Easton, Pa., is a live Dealer in Edison goods was shown by his full column advertisement of Phonographs and Records in the Easton Free Press and Easton Daily Express of August 4. Mr. Keller is a persistent advertiser.

One of the most useful advertising novelties that we have seen in some time was a folder sent out in July by W. J. Roberts, Jr., Jobber in Edison goods at Cleveland, Ohio. Attached to the second page of the folder were about forty needles of various sizes and for all possible uses. The evident cost of the novelty at once compelled the recipient to seek the name of the enterprising firm sending it out.

One of our New York city Jobbers has had a frame made in which to place the Bulletin of new Records as it appears each month. The frame is kept in the show window as part of the display and as the Bulletin is printed in two colors it is much more attractive than when hung up loosely. Many more people read the list when framed than they did before. We do not know how much of this is done throughout the trade but the idea is good and Dealers would do well to copy it. The cost of a neat oak frame is small and as the Bulletin is always the same size the frame may be used a long time.

In the April issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY comment was made upon some Phonograph advertising in the National Magazine by the Eastern Talking Machine Company, of Boston. In this advertisement the company named announced the sale of Edison Phonographs and Records on the mail order plan. Desiring to know what success the company had with this advertising, we questioned Mr. E. F. Taft, Manager of the company, when at our New York office, recently, concerning it. Mr. Taft said that it was so successful that they not only received orders for goods from the New England States, but shipped goods as far West as Illinois, and as far South as Texas on account of the advertisement. He also said that his company were so well satisfied with the results that they expected to continue it on the same lines this fall.

Many Jobbers are now making a feature of getting out each month a card or folder giving the numbers and titles of the Edison Moulded Records for the month and mailing them to their various customers. We have received copies of lists of this character issued by the Blackman Talking Machine Company, 19 Beekman street, New York, issued for the months of May, June, July and August. Each new list is gotten out in some unique way and in a different style from any that preceded it. This company reports that it finds this mode of keeping its customers posted quite profitable.

Thomas Wardell, Jobber at Lowell, Mass., has flattered the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY by deeming its monthly comments upon the advance list of new Moulded Records as having sufficient advertising value to reproduce in circular form and mail copies to his customers. We have heard indirectly that a large jobbing firm in Boston contemplates doing the same thing. The idea seems good. While these monthly comments are far from complete, they furnish information about the new lists that could not be written by the Jobbers themselves. It will be our aim to have these articles contain as many points for the guidance of the trade and their customers as may be possible without making them too lengthy.

ABOUT PRINTED MATTER.

The edition of Catalogue of Foreign Records, Form 381, that has been in use since January 1, 1903, is exhausted. Orders now being received will be filled with a new edition in September. Jobbers whose orders for Foreign Record Catalogues are not filled promptly will understand the reason for the delay.

We have on hand a small quantity of the compartment boxes used by Dealers for holding catalogues and other printed matter, known to some as "Take one boxes." Each box contains four compartments. They are covered with black paper and present a neat appearance. We can supply these in quantities from ten to twenty-five to such Jobbers as did not receive a supply last year, or we will mail one to any Dealer sending six cents to pay postage on it.

The Numerical Catalogue, Form 395, is nearly out of print. We cannot supply it in quantities to Jobbers, and this will explain why several orders sent in by Jobbers recently for this catalogue have not been filled. The few copies we have left will be used for supplying new Dealers in Edison goods and for such demands as seem urgent.

In printing the edition of Catalogue of Parts, Form 371, dated June 1, two trifling errors crept in. On page 11 the price of the Motor Frame Holding Screw Posts for the Home Motor is printed in the repair column, when it should appear in the supply column. On page 16 the price of the Triumph Spring Retaining Washer is listed under the supply column, when it should appear in the repair column.

We have had numerous requests during the past month for copies of Form 454, the hanger showing the Price List and Terms and Conditions of Sale under which Edison Phonographs and Records are sold. We have not yet sent out any of this form for the reason that we do not want them to get into the hands of people who are no longer handling our goods. We have removed from our mailing list all Dealers who have not signed the new Agreement, and with this issue of the Edison PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY we are mailing one of these hangers and an order for a celluloid card to all Dealers.

Requests to have their names and addresses printed on catalogues and other advertising matter are still occasionally received from Dealers. We are compelled to refuse them. It is quite impossible to do this work for nearly 5,500 Dealers, and, as we have before said, it would be impolitic to do it for a few and refuse it to others. Even if Dealers were willing to pay the cost we still should not want the task of consigning from one to ten different forms to a printer, looking after the work, repacking, shipping and billing the charges, especially when it would cost the Dealer just as much as if he had the work done in his own city. Most Dealers put their names and addresses on with a rubber stamp and with care it can be done neatly.

LEARN SPANISH.

Most readers will recall the article, "A Message to Garcia," written by Elbert Hubbard in the Philistine and published in editions of hundreds of thousands by the New York Central Railroad. Captain Rowan was the man who "carried the message," and he is now located at Manhattan, Kansas, where he heard an Edison Phonograph and a Spanish Record from the International Correspondence School Language System. That he was very much impressed is shown by the following endorsement:

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, February 24, 1903.

I have examined the method of teaching Spanish in the International Correspondence Schools, and have no hesitation in recommending the course to any one who is desirous of quickly learning to use that language practically. By that method it is possible to get the correct pronunciation so that one may understand and be understood by Spaniards.

Very sincerely,
A. S. ROWAN,
Captain Nineteenth Infantry.

OUR SYSTEM A BENEFIT TO SMALL DEALERS.

WALLINGFORD, Conn., July 27, 1903.

The writer is a very enthusiastic Phonograph Dealer. I realize that your system of doing business is a great thing for the small retail Dealer and I only wish other goods could be sold in the same manner.

HERBERT G. MIX

SALES OF MOVING PICTURE OUTFITS BY PHONOGRAPH DEALERS.

Dealers in Phonographs have an occasional inquiry for prices and general information concerning Edison Kinetoscopes and Films. These inquiries are frequently not productive of results, because the Dealer may not carry these goods in stock, and from lack of experience is unable to give the information required. This article intends to point out the manner in which such inquiries can be turned into profit, and good results obtained from the small investment necessary.

Edison Kinetoscopes are made in two styles, the Exhibition model selling at $115, and the Universal model, at $75. The latter has recently been placed on the market. Both instruments are high grade moving picture machines and none of the competing instruments on the market can be compared with it.

Edison moving picture Films are divided into two classes, A and B. Class A retails at 15 cents per foot for subjects of any length; class B sells for 12 cents per foot. The price classification is determined by considerations other than quality, such as the original cost of obtaining the negative from which the films are made.

The price conditions relative to the selling of Edison Kinetoscopes and Films are the same as with the Phonograph and Records. List prices must be maintained. The effective carrying out of this policy has been of benefit to all Dealers in Kinetoscopes and Films, and price cutting is practically unknown as well as unnecessary.

The Phonograph Dealer who receives an inquiry for information need not have special knowledge of the goods, as the printed matter issued by the Edison Manufacturing Co. covers the subject thoroughly, and this can be transmitted to the customer. If the Dealer is asked whether he can furnish out of stock any of the subjects listed in the Film catalogue he will answer in the negative and still not be at a disadvantage in competition with other Dealers. It is impracticable to carry a complete line of Films in stock. Many of the subjects are ordered but rarely, and the Edison list is very large, comprising many hundreds of Films. Orders for Films sent to the factory will be filled in from one to three days.

In accepting orders for Films, it should be understood between the Dealer and customer that they cannot be placed conditionally and the Films must be accepted when received. It would not pay the Dealer to order Films subject to examination, with chances of rejection.

The Dealer's first investment should embrace the following as a minimum: Two Edison Kinetoscopes of either style; first order for two machines being requisite to entitle the Dealer to a trade discount; one reel of moving picture Films, assorted subjects, including comics, mysterious and traveling scenes. A few additional objective lenses, condensers, lime light burners, curtains, and other accessories would complete the necessary stock. The total investment of the Dealer need not exceed $300. Instruments and Films can easily be replaced as sold.

It is desirable that the Dealer have a dark room for demonstration. Any room that can be darkened is sufficient, and the dimensions may vary. The instrument is placed at one end and a screen or white sheet hung opposite. The distance between the sheet and the machine may vary from 60 down to 15 feet. For dark room purposes a 20 foot throw is desirable. Most of the Dealers in moving picture apparatus are restricted to smaller rooms, some of them using as short a range as 15 feet. For a 20 foot distance use a 10 foot sheet; for 40 feet a 12 or 15 foot. As the size of the picture increases in ratio with the distance it will be twice as large at 40 feet as at 20 feet, and the results will be more effective.

The electric light is the most practicable for use with the Kinetoscope. The alternating current can be used, although the direct is preferable, at 110 volts—if this is to be obtained. The alternating current usually runs at about 52 or 104 volts. The local electrician can make the connections; which having once been made, the light becomes the simplest of all to operate, as well as the most effective.

Customers will ask for information about light other than electric, to be used in projecting machines. Traveling exhibitors frequently exhibit in halls where the current is not to be had, and another form of illuminant must be provided. For this purpose the lime light gases can be purchased in tanks from the calcium light companies, but as this involves repeated express or freight charges and possible delays, a gas making outfit with which the exhibitor can make his own gas is often purchased instead. These outfits range in price from $20 to $75 retail. Catalogues issued by Dealers who make a specialty of projection instruments describe the various types. Customers should be advised to purchase the best, which are usually the highest priced; cheap gas making outfits are dangerous, because liable to explode.

The arc electric and lime light are the only illuminants that are satisfactory for moving picture work. Acetylene and vapor lights are frequently powerful enough for lantern slides, but rarely answer the requirements for moving pictures. The sale of Kinetoscopes with inferior illuminants should be discouraged.

Buyers of moving picture goods may wish to purchase lantern slides, or other stereopticon goods. It is not necessary to carry these in stock unless the volume of business warrants. They can usually be obtained from stereopticon houses at short notice.

Dealers in all parts of the country can be promptly supplied with Kinetoscopes and Films. This is necessary to facilitate sales when the Dealer's stock is limited. Interested Dealers may get information concerning discounts, etc., by writing the Edison Manufacturing Co., at Orange, N. J., or to any of the following selling agents: The Kinetograph Co., 41 East 21st street, New York; Kleine Optical Co., 52 State street, Chicago, or Peter Bacigalupi, 933 Market street, San Francisco.

SUSPENDED LIST, SEPTEMBER 1, 1903.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

KANSAS.

LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DEWOLFF.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 430 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
R. L. CORWIN, also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway, also Philadelphia, Pa.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 200 Broadway.
*RICHMOND PEASE, 41 W. 132d st.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
STAR CREDIT CO., or Paul Sachs, 180 East Houston st. and 57 Third ave.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
URBICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2783 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

*Added since last Suspended List was issued August 1, 1903.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus.

ALLEN'S JAPANESE LACQUERED HORN

BLACK OUTSIDE — RED INSIDE

HIGHEST JAPANESE ART

IMPORTED — Weight 28 ozs. — 30 inches long — 15 inch Bell

PRICE - - TEN DOLLARS.

Peter Bacigalupi, Sole Agent U. S. A.

933 MARKET STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.

THIS IS AN IDEAL HORN, MADE AFTER YEARS OF EXPERIMENTING BY A CONNOISSEUR. DOES AWAY WITH ALL THE METALLIC SOUNDS FOUND IN OTHER HORNS.

The C. W. N. Handbook of the Phonograph

—AND—

Instructions for Making Records.

BY C. W. NOYES.

Every Owner of a talking machine should have a copy of this valuable book. It is replete with Instructions for the Care and Use of the Phonograph, and the chapters devoted to RECORD MAKING are compiled from the author's many years of experience in some of the principal laboratories of this country.

Any one possessed of ordinary intelligence can make a perfect record if the directions are followed.

Fully Illustrated—Handsomely Bound.

PAPER, 25 CENTS.
CLOTH, 50 CENTS.

Mailed Postpaid on Receipt of Price.

For Sale by All Jobbers, or

ILSEN & COMPANY, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEALERS WRITE FOR DISCOUNTS.

A CARD TO THE TRADE
JOBBERS AND DEALERS

Interested in giving their customers best results are invited to write us for quotations on

DOUGLAS

Mega (Paper) Horns and Record Cabinets

The Horn that Made us Famous.

Superior to any metal horn made in purity, volume and absence of metallic tones. GREAT AIDS TO THE SALE OF PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

"MEGA" . . . . . List $7.50
Length 32 inches; Width 24 inches.
"MEGA JR." . . . . . List $2.25
Length 20 inches; Width 13 inches.
MEGA RECORDING HORN, List $1.50
Length 24 inches; Width 6½ inches.

Look for the Trade Mark
"PHONO-MEGA."

Attractive and Substantial.

Superior to any Line in the Market, STRONGLY MADE.

BEAUTIFULLY FINISHED.

100 Peg Polished Oak,	List	$12.00
125 " " "	"	14.00
125 " Quartered Oak,	"	15.50
150 " " "	"	18.00

Prices Restricted.

WRITE FOR SPECIAL LEAFLETS AND NET PRICES.

DOUGLAS & CO.,

89 Chambers Street, NEW YORK. 71 Reade Street,

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. 1. NEW YORK, OCTOBER, 1903. No. 8.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 32 REMPART SAINT GEORGES.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

To the Trade..... 1
Advance List of November Records..... 2
More Injunctions Against Violators of Agreement..... 3
The Phonograph for Newspapers..... 4
Don't Hold Back Agreements..... 4
Teach Your Customers to Make Records.. 4
Punkin' Centre Stories..... 4
Will Even Stand Abuse..... 5
A Jobber Criticises..... 5
All's Lovely..... 5
Canadian Dealers Must Sign by Nov. 1.... 5
County Fair Advertising..... 5
Record Titles in Rhyme..... 6
Printed Matter..... 6
October Advertising..... 6
Advertising Language Study Outfits..... 7
Comments on November Records..... 8
Fair Exhibits a Success..... 9
A West Australian Advertisement..... 10
Personal..... 10
Best Selling Records..... 11
The Agreement Hanger..... 11
Trade Advertising..... 11
Suspended List, October 1..... 12
Jobbers of Phonographs and Records..... 13

TO THE TRADE.

Jobbers and Dealers in Edison Phonographs and Records are hereby formally advised that no change will be made in prices or discounts on Phonographs or Records. Announcement has repeatedly been made to the trade that no changes of any kind, either in the style of the various types of Phonographs or in the prices of Phonographs or Records, were in contemplation, and nothing has taken place that will have any effect upon this decision. Relying upon our statements in these matters, orders have been placed with us for large quantities of machines and Records. The fact that there are cheaper goods on the market has never been considered in fixing prices for Edison goods.

The National Phonograph Company protects its Jobbers and Dealers to the utmost, and will continue to protect them in maintaining the prices of Phonographs and Records as they now exist.

Very truly yours,
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.
W. E. Gilmore,
President and General Manager.
September 29, 1903.

The foregoing is a copy of a letter mailed on September 29 to all our Jobbers and Dealers. It explains itself.

Edison Phonographs and Edison Records are worth all that is asked for them, and no reason exists for cutting the price. Every article bearing the trademark of Thomas A. Edison has always been sold at the highest market price. And they have been the cheapest

THE ADVANCE LIST OF NOVEMBER RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON MOULDED RECORDS FOR NOV., 1903

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near November 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to October 15th, will be shipped.

November Supplements will bear the date of November 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to November Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

8524 Jack Tar March (Sousa's latest) Edison Concert Band
8525 Any Rags Coon song with orchestra accompaniment Arthur Collins
8526 By the Sycamore Tree Harry MacDonough
Song from "The Rogers Brothers in London"
8527 Selection from Three Little Maids, introducing "The Miller's Daughter" Edison Symphony Orchestra
8528 He Was a Sailor Comic male duet Collins & Harlan
8529 The Girl I Left Behind Me Medley, introducing "Auld Lang Syne" and Bugles U. S. Marine Fife and Drum Corps
8530 When the Fields are White with Cotton Francklyn Wallace
Descriptive love song
8531 A Handful of Earth from Mother's Grave W. H. Thompson
As sung in Joe Murphy's Irish play, "Shaun Rue"
8532 Laughing Water (A novelette) Edison Concert Band
Conducted by the composer, Frederick W. Hager
8533 In the Village by the Sea Byron G. Harlan
Descriptive love song with orchestra accompaniment
8534 I Like You, Lil, for Fair Dan W. Quinn
George Ade's comic character song from "Peggy from Paris"
8535 The Vacant Chair (or We Shall Meet but We Shall Miss Him)
Song accompanied by the Edison Military Band Byron G. Harlan
8536 Beaumarie (Caprice-Gavotte) Albert Benzler
Bell solo with orchestra accompaniment
8537 Nigger Stew (Characteristic) Male quartette Invincible Quartette
8538 Waldmere March Edison Military Band
8539 Out Where the Breakers Roar Descriptive bass song Frank C. Stanley
8540 The Lobster's Promenade Banjo solo Fred Van Epps
8541 Under a Panama Coon song Billy Murray
8542 Four Leaf Clover Song Arthur Clifford
8543 Once in Awhile Miss Corinne Morgan
Contralto song with Violin obligato
8544 Goldfinch Polka Frank S. Mazziotta
Piccolo solo with orchestra accompaniment.
8545 My Alamo Love Harry MacDonough
Song hit from the musical play, "The Tenderfoot"
8546 Le Secret Polka (Polka Brilliante) John Hazel
Cornet solo played by composer and accompanied by Edison Military Band
8547 Mister Breezy Was an Easy Mark Will F. Denny
Comic song from "The Rogers Bros. in London"
8548 The Sun Dance (Characteristic Indian Dance)
Edison Symphony Orchestra

Edison Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

at that. Cheapest because they represent in quality the best that can be made. Mr. Edison is never satisfied with himself or his people unless that is so. Edison products never fail to satisfy, and they will ever command prices possible with no competing goods.

Our policy of protection has ever had the good feeling of the trade, and as we have no retail stores in various parts of the country to oppose them and get a large share of the retail trade, the Dealers have always cordially co-operated with us. We firmly believe that this will continue to be the case and that nothing further on our part is necessary to improve it.

Continue in the future, Mr. Dealer, as you have in the past, to demonstrate to the public the superior qualities of the Edison products, and the competition of cheap goods will never affect you.

MORE INJUNCTIONS AGAINST VIOLATORS OF AGREEMENT.

Following are copies of preliminary injunctions granted by the Circuit Court for the Western Division of the Western District of Missouri against Frank H. Woodbury, of Kansas City, restraining him from selling Phonographs or Records by any violation of agreement, and from selling Phonographs from which the serial numbers have been erased:

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE WESTERN DIVISION OF THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF MISSOURI.

IN EQUITY.

No. 1781 { Patents Nos. 586,032 / 589,168

ORDER FOR PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION.

Now on this day this cause came on to be heard on application by complainants for a preliminary injunction against the defendant in consonance with the allegations and prayer of the complainants' original bill of complaint hereinfore filed in this cause.

And on reading the said original bill of complaint and the waiver by defendant of notice of application by complainants for a preliminary injunction, and the affidavits filed herein by complainants in support of their application, and considering the affidavits filed herein in opposition thereto, and the complainants' original bill of complaint considered, and counsel for defendant, as well as for complainants, having waived notice of this application, and the court being fully advised in the premises, and it appearing to the court from the bill of complaint and affidavits on file herein that complainants are the owners of the complainants' patents Nos. 586,032 and 589,168 for talking machines and the records therefor, and that the defendant is now engaged in the manufacture, sale and use of talking machines and

THE PHONOGRAPH FOR NERVOUSNESS.

A New York Jobber recently told a curious instance in connection with the sale of a Phonograph. His customer, a prominent business man, had a wife who was so extremely nervous that she would not even see her friends. She practically shut herself indoors, would not leave the house, and was rapidly developing into a morbid state that almost threatened to affect her reason. Her husband tried many different things in the hope of interesting her and get her mind away from her conditions and surroundings. Hearing a Phonograph one day, it occurred to him that possibly here was something that might interest his wife. He induced her to consent to having one sent to his house, at the same time making a careful selection of such Records as seemed to him to be of the proper character. In purchasing the machine he told the Jobber in question about the condition of his wife and why he was buying it. Some weeks later he returned to the store and said that the Phonograph had been a success beyond his utmost expectations. His wife had become interested in it from the start. She readily learned to operate it and frequently ran it for long periods of time. Her condition improved at once, and he said that she had reached a point where she would go out for a walk or a drive, and actually asked to see company. He attributed the entire change solely to the use of the Phonograph. This may read like a testimonial in a patent medicine advertisement, but its truth is fully vouched for.

DON'T HOLD BACK AGREEMENTS.

We do not know that such is the case, but if there are any Jobbers who hold back the Agreements of their sub-dealers with the idea that they are protecting their own interests, we would like to disabuse their minds. When the name of a Dealer is sent to us, it is entered upon our books, and when we receive inquiries concerning our goods from people living in that locality, we write the Dealer informing him of such inquiry, and we also advise the inquirer that goods can be had at this Dealer's store. In thousands of cases of this kind sales have followed. These sales mean business for the Jobber and business for the Dealer. They mean business that would not have been possible had the Jobber withheld the Dealer's Agreement. Then, too, every Dealer whose name is on our books is sent samples of the printed matter every month, frequently twice a month. This printed matter includes the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, Bulletin or Supplements of new Records as they appear, catalogues, cards, folders and various other advertising literature, all of which keep the Dealer fully informed concerning the Phonograph business, and enable him to not only do more business, but to do it more intelligently. A Jobber can make no greater mistake than to believe that we desire the names of his Dealers for our direct benefit. Everything done by this company is for the benefit of the trade, and our system in this respect has the same end in view.

TEACH YOUR CUSTOMERS TO MAKE RECORDS.

To demonstrate the value a little time spent by Dealers in teaching their customers to make Records is evidenced in the following from Douglas & Co., Jobbers of this city, as related by G. H. Baker, a well known Dealer of Ossining, N. Y.

Mr. Baker has three Records he uses for this purpose, a tenor solo made by himself, a song by his daughter, and the third Record made by a three-year-old child of a well known judge. These Records always interest the listener and are a strong influence in effecting a sale. When the judge referred to heard the Record made by his little daughter, he ordered a $50 outfit from Mr. Baker, and an uncle of the child purchased a $40 outfit.

PUNKIN CENTRE STORIES.

Cal Stewart's fun, so well known to users of Edison Records, has just been published in book form under the title of "Uncle Josh Weathersby's 'Punkin Centre' Stories." The matter has been written by Mr. Stewart himself, and the preface of his book gives the following reason for doing it:

The one particular object in writing this book is to furnish you with an occasional laugh, and the writer with an occasional dollar. If you get the laugh you have your equivalent, and the writer has his.

In Uncle Josh Weathersby you have a purely imaginary character, yet one true to life. A character chuck full of sunshine and rural simplicity. Take him as you find him, and in his experiences you will observe there is a bright side to everything.

The book is just as funny in print as Mr. Stewart is in the Phonograph. It contains aff his humorous sketches, which are illustrated, and the book is handsomely bound with illuminated covers. Its contents afford one continuous laugh. The Penn Phonograph Company, 19 South 9th street, Philadelphia, are distributors to the talking machine trade for this work, and in their advertisement elsewhere in this issue they are offering liberal discounts to the trade.

WILL EVEN STAND ABUSE.

"A rather interesting matter came to our attention to-day," wrote C. J. Heppe & Son, of Philadelphia, under date of September 22. "A Standard Phonograph was brought to us for repairs with practically all of the top broken away from the bed plate. All the machine parts were badly rusted, and upon questioning the owner, we elicited the information that this Phonograph had been laying under a pile of rubbish in the cellar of his home for more than a year, that he had unearthed it and wanted to use it.

"We wound it up to test it and found that even with all the rust and accumulated filth in the motor parts, it started off promptly, and practically needed no attention with the exception of cleaning and oiling. We have always realized that the Edison product will stand use, but cannot realize how this one withstood so much abuse."

A JOBBER CRITICISES.

One of our Jobbers has written the Advertising Department, criticising it for omitting from the August issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY the list of Suspended Dealers. We confess that the omission was a mistake, and promise not to offend in the same manner again. The same Jobber suggests that the list of distributors be published more frequently. We will endeavor to publish it more often in the future.

ALL'S LOVELY.

With the exception of Canada, which has been delayed for legal reasons, our new Agreement is in full force throughout the country and is working satisfactorily. Dealers who have gone out of business have been removed from our mail list and hosts of new ones have been added, and everything has again resumed its normal condition. We shall be glad if Jobbers will advise us of any cases where their Dealers do not receive matter by mail. We have endeavored, of course, to get on our mail list every signer of the new Agreement, but with so large a number it is quite possible that here and there a name has been overlooked. If Dealers find errors in the address that comes to them, we shall also be glad to have them send corrections direct to the Advertising Department.

CANADIAN DEALERS MUST SIGN BY NOVEMBER 1.

Owing to a legal delay Canadian Phonograph Dealers were not asked to sign the new Agreement until September. Their names were continued on our mail list in the meantime, and this will be done until November 1. All who desire to continue in the Phonograph business must sign by that time. Those whose Agreements are not in the hands of their Jobbers by that date will find it difficult to get orders filled. Their names will also be removed from our mailing list.

COUNTY FAIR ADVERTISING.

It is now too late for county fair advertising, but the following letter is re-printed as showing an interesting manner of awakening the interest of Dealers in the matter. It was sent by The Thos. F. Bentel Co., Inc., of Pittsburg, to all of its Dealers:

"The question of whether it is profitable to exhibit at County "Fairs" is one that you have no doubt considered. Our own experience, together with others, has proven to us that it is one of the best mediums of advertising that a Dealer can adopt. You come in contact with a class of people whom you could not meet otherwise. You meet them face to face, thus furnishing you an opportunity to explain the merits of the goods, and furthermore, give the prospective buyer an opportunity to judge for himself. He hears the goods, and therefore does it not appeal to him in the same vein as were you to send him a beautiful lithograph cut, accompanied by a circular letter, explaining its virtue in glowing language, as we stated before, we have tried it and found it profitable as an investment and a good medium of advertising. You can sell enough and more goods than the small expense attached to it. We furnish you all the catalogues free of charge—think the matter over and see if it won't pay you to try it. The investment is small and the returns as great as you make it.

E. P. M. AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM

E. A. Batchelor, Manager of the Utica Electric and Phonograph Co., in ordering a half-page advertisement in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY for October, writes:

"The little article in your PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY for July, 'An Advertising Horn Eight Feet Eight Inches Long With a Three Foot Three Inch Bell,' has been read by most every Dealer in the Country, we guess, owing to the large amount of inquiries coming in every day. We have hired Mr. Ecker to make horns for us, and have filled several orders for same."

The advertisement of this horn may be found in another column.

SOLD TWO TRIUMPHS.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 17, 1903.

I have just sold two Triumph machines to one man. A wealthy miller of this city called at my place several days ago and said he wanted to hear a Phonograph. I played the Triumph machine, and he was so well pleased he bought two, paying cash for same. I learned later one was for his superintendent at the mill. The Edison is all right.

MORTON LEWIS.

RECORD TITLES IN RHYME.

J. A. Conway, Manager of the Walden Sporting Goods Co., Walden, Mass., issued another attractive folder last month, advertising the September list of new Records. In it he ingeniously weaves into poetry the titles of some recent Edison Records as follows:

REQUEST.

Sing me a song of the Sunny South
Where the sweet magnolias bloom
Sing again that sweet refrain,
The Whistling Girl, or Laughing Coon.

Please go 'way and let me sleep,
Under the bamboo tree,
Down where the Warzburger flows,
Somebody's waiting for me.

In the valley where the bluebirds sing,
I wonder if your love will last.
I could love you in a steam heat flat
If I could only blot out the past.

While the band is playing Dixie
Or My Country 'tis of Thee,
Any old place I can hang my hat
Is Home, Sweet Home to me.

J. A. Conway.

PRINTED MATTER.

The new Catalogue of Domestic Records is now in the hands of the printer, and will be ready for the use of the trade sometime the latter part of October. This will contain all Records listed to and including October. Orders now being received for Record Catalogues 380 are being cut down in some instances for the twofold purpose of making our present supply last until the new edition is printed and to see that the Dealers do not have a large supply of the present edition when the new one appears. Every Jobber and Dealer wants to be up to date with the printed matter, and will thank us to see that he does not have on hand catalogues that do not include the latest titles. The new catalogue will be somewhat different from the one now in use, in that it will have a colored cover, made necessary by the additional Records listed in the last three months.

We expect to make announcement next month concerning the new Machine Catalogue. Preparations are being made for a new edition, but the details are not sufficiently definite to give to the trade. We shall, however, take the liberty of holding down orders for Machine Catalogues of the present edition so as to make our present stock last until the new ones are printed.

The new edition of Foreign Record Catalogue, form 382, was received from the printer in September and samples copies were sent out with September Bulletins and Supplements to the entire trade. This catalogue includes not only all foreign selections listed to and including September, but it also contains Chinese and Japanese selections.

OCTOBER ADVERTISING.

In the advertising of this company for October, the same cut and copy was used as in September. This cut shows the Phonograph as a means of entertainment, and the copy urges prospective purchasers not to buy any talking machine until they have visited the nearest Dealer and heard the Phonograph. The mediums used were the following: Argosy, Current Literature, McClure's, Munsey, Saturday Evening Post, Field and Stream, Craftsman, Ainslee's, The Bookman, Brown Book, Colliers, Everybody's, Good Housekeeping, Life, Lippincott's, National Magazine, Pearson's, Scribner's, St. Nicholas, Strand, Success, Smart Set, Town Topics and Sunset Magazine.

AMONG THE JOBBERS.

The Bangor Sporting Goods Co., of Bangor, Me., has combined its interests with S. L. Crosby. The new firm will be known as the S. L. Crosby Co.

ANTEDATED THE E. P. M. COMMENTS.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7, 1903.

We note in your September MONTHLY that Thomas Wardell, at Lowell, Mass., has adopted your monthly comments, and put same into circular form. We think that we are the original ones to ever use this method of advertising, as the writer personally issued such a list even prior to the time that you printed it in your MONTHLY. Of the list of Records that were issued we selected from twelve to eighteen, and made such comment as we felt would be about correct. We adopted this style of advertising in February of this year.

WELLS PHONOGRAPH CO.,
LOUIS BUEHN, Sec'y and Treas.

PRAISE OUR RECORD MAKING.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 11, 1903.

Suspended List of September 1 received, and you can depend upon our co-operation as regards prices for all times. Advance list for October received and it certainly is a "dandy." We delight in receiving the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, and always place an order for the list of Records therein at once.

We keep three styles of machines, the genuine Edison, the scratching machine and the choking machine. The latter two are wall flowers. The Home Edison is out-selling the others at present.

There has been a great call among our customers at both stores for My Old New Hampshire Home, as sung by the Edison Quartette, and Dear Old Bess and I, by Natus, also The Picture No Artist Can Paint, by Harlan and Stanley. You are certainly doing wonderfully in the advancement of Record making and hope you will be able to keep up the good work.

FOSTER & FOSTER.

ONE RECORD PLAYED 1525 TIMES.

COATSVILLE, Pa., September 27, 1903.

I wish to give the following report in reference to one of your Records. I purchased one of your Moulded Records—don't know the number just now—it was Hiawatha (Band Record.) This record was subjected to the very hardest service in "Slot machine gallery" at the park and afterward in Philadelphia. It played 1525 times that we can account for before it was worn out. I consider this very remarkable, as there are wax Records of other makes that will not stand one-fourth of this service.

F. K. WILSON.

[This is not such an unusual case as it appears, for we believe that most Edison Moulded Records can be played equally long.]

EASIER TO SELL.

CARMEL, Ind., Sept. 7, 1903.

I think the Edison Records are the easiest to sell of anything I ever sold, for they can talk for themselves better than we can talk for them.

GEORGE W. HINSHAW.

ADVERTISING LANGUAGE STUDY OUTFITS.

Below is given one of a series of reading notice advertisements that R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Ltd., of 143 Yonge street, Toronto, Canada, are running in the Toronto daily papers:

"Je muchee pleased!"

That was all he could say, just "me muchee pleased!"

It was a strange sight when, the other day in Toronto, a number of Edison Phonographic Records filled in China were reeled off to the sons of the Orient. They looked at the machine as they would look to their God—in awe, in reverence, and with faces that spoke peculiar amazement. And when they had heard their own strange language spoken with perfect enunciation, when they heard the sounds of their streets and the tom-toms and stringed instruments of Pekin, they were too astonished to say much, too frightened; but one, more bold than the rest, said: "Me muchee pleased!"

This morning a Frenchman from Paris walked into the R. S. Williams Piano warerooms, 143 Yonge street. He was in Toronto to attend the Exhibition.

Going up to the offices of Mr. Stanton, the General Manager, and Mr. Richard Williams, the Vice-President of the company, he shook hands.

Then the members of the firm asked him to the Phonograph Department.

Placing a Record on the machine, the man from Paris heard a French of the Parisian Capital spoken fluently.

The old plan of learning a language from flesh and blood is a dead one. To-day the most enlightened minds of the world learn difficult pronunciations over the Phonograph, and the students in languages who are the most up-to-date are doing the same.

This morning, after the Frenchman from Paris had gone out from the Williams store, I entered and then and there received my first lesson in French, for I never knew how to properly say "I do not speak French."

Mr. Stanton placed a student Record on the Phonograph and handed me a book. It was great. I wanted to argue with the teacher, but he wouldn't stop.

"You see," said Mr. Williams, "by this arrangement and by plans we are formulating, languages may be taught in every city and hamlet in Canada, and if any Dealer wants any information we can explain the matter very clearly by mail."

Supposing a student wants to study in his own room, he can have the Phonograph going, and, by a patent attachment, no one else but himself will hear it.

And then the machine started on phrases—Je parle; Vous parlez aussi Anglais n'est-ce pas? And I knew by the book that it said: You speak English also, do you not?

Here was perfect pronunciation. A man asked Demosthenes: "What is the first requisite to perfect oratory?" "Action," he replied. "And the second?" "Action!" "The third?" "Action!"

And so in learning a living language repetition is the great essential.

Well, you know how tireless a Phonograph is, don't you?

It never has a headache or the blues. It never gets thick-tongued.

The fast ships, the fast trains, and the wireless telegraphy are bringing the great live nations very near together. It is almost absolutely necessary now for the rising man or woman to know something of German, Spanish, and French.

G. W. Johnson, commercial master at Upper Canada College, has sized the thing up nicely, and says:

"I desire to express to you my appreciation of your method of teaching modern languages. It is perfection accentuated. When I began your lessons in French a few months ago I had a knowledge of the language—a book knowledge—but I desired to be able to speak it with the freedom, ease, and accent of a native Parisian. No living teacher could have helped so fully, so constantly, so untiringly, and so satisfactorily as your French Records have helped me. The living voice could not have been plainer; the living teacher could hardly have endured the unlimited and continuous repetitions which I demanded, and I could ill afford the expense of such constant ministration. I have gone over the course many times and with increasing pleasure. Latterly, I just seated myself in front of the machine and let it talk to me over and over and over again, till my mind and ears have become completely saturated with French words and French sounds, so that now French seems almost as natural to me as English itself."

And the writer got two or three lessons this morning, and walked out saying "Je parle Francais et allemand."

COMMENTS ON NOVEMBER RECORDS.

Now comes the time for a new crop of popular airs. With musical plays running at several of the New York theatres, extensive additions have been made to the list of compositions likely to become popular throughout the country. The list of new Records for November includes several selections which have already made a decided hit among those who have heard the musical comedies now on view in New York. Each of these musical comedies contains other airs which may become popular, but that fact cannot definitely be determined at the present time. Since it is practically impossible to list all pleasing selections given in comic operas or musical plays, we have selected for November only such as thus far really love met popular favor.

We have listed two selections from Rogers Brothers' new musical comedy called "The Rogers Brothers in London," both of which are being repeatedly encored at each performance of the play, and are selling heavily in music stores. The first of these selections is No. 8526, "By the Sycamore Tree," and is sung by Harry MacDonough. The words of this song were written by George B. Hobart and the music by Max Hoffmann. Mr. Mac Donough's articulation is always good, and buyers of this Record will have no trouble in catching the words as well as the air. The other Rogers Brothers' selection on the list is No. 8517, "Mister Breezy Was an Easy Mark." This tells of the adventures of a Texan in New York and his readiness to give up his money rather than take any chances of his wife's learning of his escapades. Will F. Denny makes the Record in good style, the words and air being clearly brought out. This song is written by Ed. Gardenier, and the music is by M. Melville Ellis.

No. 8527 is a selection from "The Three Little Maids," a play now running at Daly's theatre, New York. The selection introduces "The Miller's Daughter," a song which is even better known than the play itself. The air of this composition is exceedingly pretty, and every lover of popular music will want the Record. It is played by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, and is practically a perfect orchestra Record.

George Ade's operetta, "Peggy from Paris," is not exactly new, having run in Boston and Chicago before coming to New York. Some of its popular airs have already been listed, but the play still continues to yield taking songs. The November list includes No. 8534, "I Like You Lik, for Fair," from this play. Our Record of it is sung by Dan W. Quinn, and his rendition is quite as good as the song is given in the play itself.

The musical play, "The Tenderfoot," which has not yet exceeded New York, but which promises long runs wherever presented, yields for the list No. 8548, "My Alamo Love." The words are by Richard Carle and the music by H. L. Heartz; the Record is made by Harry MacDonough. The air is a good one and will certainly be popular.

Not from any musical comedy or opera, but yet very popular, is John Philip Sousa's new "Jack Tar March." It is No. 8524, and is played by the Edison Concert Band. This selection is quite unique. In it is played a sailor's hornpipe, and the music also gives the "bosun's" whistle and the bells noting the time on board ship. This air has become popular, aside from Sousa's fame.

Another line selection by the Edison Concert Band is No. 8532 "Laughing Water" (characteristic). When this Record was made the Edison Concert Band was led by Frederick W. Hager, the composer of this very clever selection. This composition is written to suggest various kinds of laughing voices, from the shrill laughter of a child to the deep one of the adult, and from the laugh of the individual to that of many voices. Our band does the selection full justice.

Another unique Record is No. 8528, "The Sun Dance." The music is written to suggest this characteristic Indian dance, and the Record ends with the whoops of the Indians. The Record is made by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, and although the music is difficult to play, the Record is well made. Phonograph users who like odd Records will appreciate this one.

The Edison Military Band, whose Records have already met with wide sale, has one selection in the November list, No. 8518, "Waldemore March," composed by P. H. Losey. This is written in the Sousa style and has a good march air.

No. 8546, "Le Secret Polka" (Polka Brillante), is a cornet solo formerly listed in the wax records. It is a very pretty air, but has not been listed in the Moulded Records until now because of the difficulty in finding a soloist who could play it to our satisfaction. We were finally able to induce Mr. John Hazel, the composer of the piece, to play it for us. The result is a cornet solo of unusual excellence, both from a musical and mechanical standpoint, the Record being free from blasting and other objectionable noises. The solo is accompanied by the Edison Concert Band and the accompaniment is a decidedly pleasing feature.

A monthly list without a coon song by Arthur Collins would be like a play with a prominent actor missing. Mr. Collins' November selection, No. 8525, is "Any Rags." This is styled a coon song, but is quite unlike ordinary songs of this kind. It has a good air, the words come out clearly and distinctly, and the Record is well made in every respect. It has an orchestra accompaniment. Thomas S. Hayden wrote both the words and the music.

No. 8528, "He Was a Sailor," is a comic male duet by Collins and Harlan, and gives a very unique description of Bill Perkins, who was a sailor but who was never on the sea. A sailor's hornpipe is played at the end of each chorus. This Record is quite in line with the comic male duets already listed by these two people. The words and music of the song are by Jerome and Schwartz.

No. 8529, "The Girl I Left Behind Me Medley," is a field music Record introducing "Auld Lang Syne." It is played by the U. S. Marine Fife and Drum Corps, with good work by the drums, fifes and bugles.

No. 8530, "When the Fields are White With Cotton," is a song written by Robert F. Roden, and the music was composed by Max S. Witt. This descriptive song, as its name implies, is a song of the South, and is sung for our Record by Franklyn Wallace. Mr. Wallace's Records are steadily increasing in popularity.

No. 8531, "A Handful of Earth from Mother's Grave," is another selection made by request. The words and music of this song are by Joe Murphy, the old time favorite Irish comedian, and was sung with great success in the play "Shaun Rue." The Record of it is made by William H. Thompson.

No. 8535, "In the Village by the Sea," is a descriptive ballad sung by Byron G. Harlan, accompanied by the orchestra. There is a family resemblance in all selections of this kind, but they are good sellers. The words of this ballad were written by Andrew B. Sterling, and the music is by Stanley Crawford.

In No. 8536, "The Vanity Chair, (or We Shall Meet but We Shall Miss Him)," we list an old and well known air. It is sung by by Byron G. Harlan, accompanied by the Edison Military Band. The words of this song are by Horney Stevenson Washburn, and the music by L. F. Rose. This Record was made because of the repeated requests for it.

In No. 8526, "Beaumarie" (Caprice-Gavotte), Albert Benzler has a bell solo with orchestra accompaniment. The air is pretty, and the Record well made. B. S. Carnes is the writer of the music.

No. 8539, "Night Hawk," is an excellent quartette Record made by the Invincible Quartette.

No. 8530, "Out Where the Breakers Roar," is a selection which pays tribute in song to the life saving crews of the coast and their work. It is a descriptive bass solo, and is sung with splendid effects by Frank C. Stanley. The song is similar in character to "Asleep in the Deep," and other compositions requiring an unusually deep voice. Mr. Stanley meets all the requirements of the song without effort. The words of this composition are by Harlow Hyde, and the music was written by H. W. Petrie.

In No. 8540, "The Lobster's Promenade," Fred Van Epps adds another excellent banjo solo to those already catalogued. The composer is Porter Steele.

In No. 8541, "Under a Panama," we have a coon song by Billy Murray. It is a play upon the titles of various other songs of this kind, and is quite unique. Mr. Murray's Records are daily becoming more popular, and many Phonograph admirers regard him as one of the best makers of coon song Records now before the public. "Under the Panama" was written by Vincent Bryan, and the music was composed by J. B. Mullen.

No. 8542, "Four Leaf Clover," by Arthur Clifford, is a song written by Ella Higginson, with music by Leila M. Brownell. The four leaves of the clover are hope, faith, love and luck. The words of the song are as pleasing as Mr. Clifford's rendition.

In No. 8543, "Once in a While," Miss Corinne Morgan has another contralto song with violin obligato. Records by female voices are becoming more and more popular, and this one by Miss Morgan is an excellent addition to the list. The violin obligato is especially pleasing. This song was written by H. L. D'Arcy Jaxone, and the music is by Caroline Lowthian.

No. 8544, "Goldfinch Polka," is a piccolo solo by Frank S. Mazziota, and has an orchestra accompaniment. The solo part of the Record is good and the accompaniment is also an attractive feature. This Record was written by J. Occa.

FAIR EXHIBITS A SUCCESS.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 11, 1903.

This is the last day of the State Fair at Lincoln, Neb. As you know, we have had quite an extensive exhibit of Edison Phonographs and Records in the Mercantile Hall, and will say that we think it was the greatest advertisement which we have ever had, not only for our own city business, but for the entire West, as we have met people from the Missouri River to the wild cattle ranges of the West, and also the Indians of the Indian Reservations, and will say that our booth was the center of attraction of all the booths in this hall, and we were kept busy answering questions "What was one of those Phonographs we read about," and all of the other foolish questions which have been mentioned in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY in the last issues.

We think that it would be the greatest advertising scheme going if you would see that yourself or your Jobbers would exhibit machines and Records at every State Fair in the United States, and we believe that all of our agents in the West will appreciate this fact that it will do them all good in making sales, as we always, in conversation with the people inquiring, mentioned the Edison agent who was nearest to their homes.

One thing we noticed, the 20,000 forms, No. 2003, and the pamphlets of the four machines that we distributed, were not thrown away on the grounds, but were taken home by nearly every person we gave them to. This goes to show that the people in the West are interested in this line of goods.

H. E. STEELES CYCLE CO.

WILL ALWAYS PUSH EDISON GOODS.

HONESDALE, N. J., September 8, 1903.

Have received September Suspended List, and with pleasure state, that if all our every business was conducted like yours, there would be no trouble for a small Dealer or business man like myself. Even if I practically so-called talking machines, I always did and will in the future push your goods. I have found that where I sell an Edison Phonograph, the purchasers become steady customers. They always come back for Records, and each claims to have the Phonograph in town. To one customer I have sold over 500 Records, and he sits patiently for the new Records every month. I don't think I have sold 500 Records to all the customers together to whom I have sold other styles. I promise you that I will keep the Agreement I signed as long as I am in business. H. JAFFEE.

A WEST AUSTRALIAN ADVERTISEMENT

The circular copied below comes from a customer of our Foreign Department at Esperance Bay, West Australia:

Y Y Y Y Y Y Y

Be without a
PHONOGRAPH
There is nothing
UNDER THE SUN
To equal the
P H O N O G R A P H
AS A MODERN ENTERTAINER.
IT WILL

Make you laugh and sing, talk with you and teach you how to talk, teach you pronunciation and how to recite, teach you how little you know and how much you have to learn, will teach you when to mind your own business and talk only when asked to, teach you when you buy one how much enjoyment there is in having one, will drive away the blues and keep you from talking about your neighbor.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPHS have no rivals, and they are the best talking machines made.

WHY BE WITHOUT ONE.

What made me sick
And hard to please,
And pray upon my bended knees
That its everlasting noise would cease,
The ——phone.
What made me laugh
And dance with glee,
And sing with joy and happy be,
And kept me from going out on the spree,
The Phonograph.

G. VINCENT & CO.,
Importer of Edison's Phonographs,
Records, etc.

All goods of Edison manufacture can be indented.

PERSONAL.

M. Francois Albert, junior member of the firm of Albert & Son, Albert Building, 137-139 King St., Sydney, Australia, is in New York City on business for his firm. Mr. Albert is accompanied by his wife and son and recently favored us with a call. Albert & Son handle a full line of our goods and are very important clients. Francois Albert alternates with his father, Jaques Albert, in making annual visits to this country. It is needless to state that we anticipate these visits with genuine pleasure.

Among the Jobbers who called at our New York office during September were William Werner, of Easton, Pa.; George Ilsen, of Ilsen & Co., Cincinnati; H. L. Ellenberger, of the Pardee-Ellenberger Co.

C. W. Noyes, who is well known throughout the Phonograph trade as the writer of the C. W. N. Handbook of the Phonograph, has joined forces with the Ray Company, of Louisville, Ky., and will spend most of his time in visiting the various branch stores of that company.

GLAD HE IS A "PHONOGRAPH CRANK".

New Iberia, Sept. 9, 1903.

I am fortunate enough to be so situated to get your valuable Phonograph Monthly, and I must say it is the best of its kind for Dealers and owners of Phonographs I have ever seen. I look with longing to the day when I can get a hold of it, to see what more you have to say about this wonderful invention. I am but a poor engineer, and still I own one Edison Triumph Phonograph with twelve dozens of the best selected Records. I would not part with this outfit for double its value, because some of these Records cannot be obtained in this neighborhood. I am called a Phonograph crank, and I am glad of it. It shows that I am an up-to-date man.

I notice that you ask for remarks that will improve your paper. I would suggest as others have, you publish a cut of two or three of your talent each month. I know that it would very much improve it.

W. L. Broussard.

CAPTURES A FIRST PREMIUM.

I advertised extensively for the Edison Phonograph during the Henry County Fair. My oldest son, two young ladies and myself included, put forth our best efforts to make this advertising a success. We succeeded in capturing the first premium for the best decorated hooth, and distributed quite a large number of circulars, &c.

Walter J. Stilley.

BEST SELLING RECORDS.

The twenty best selling Edison Records from the entire catalogue for August, exclusive of the September Supplement, were the following:

8347	Hiawatha.....Edison Band
8425	Hiawatha—Song.....McDonough
8018	Holy City.....McDonough
8260	Tell me Pretty Maiden...Edison Sextette
8424	American Patrol.....Edison Band
8398	Blaze Away March.....Edison Band
8236	O That We Two Were Maying, Morgan and Stanley
8435	'Deed I Do.....Morgan and Stanley
8299	In the Valley Where the Bluebirds Sing.....Harlan
8295	Marriage Bells—Bells.....Rubsam
8473	Santiago Waltz—Xylophone...Hopkins
8083	Warblers' Serenade.....Edison Band
19	Under the Double Eagle March, Edison Band
8379	Pretty Peggy—Bells.....Robsam
8366	Mr. Dooley—Xylophone.....Hopkins
8262	Alita (Wild Flower)—Bells....Benzler
8349	Dream of the Tyrollenne. Jaudas and Aus
8286	Under the Rose.....Clifford
8454	Up-to-date Minstrels.....
8368	There's a Mother Always Waiting for You at Home Sweet Home. Harlan and Stanley

Out of the twenty-five Records listed for September the twelve best sellers were the following:

8475	Parody on Hiawatha. Collins and Harlan
8483	My Little Coney Isle....Harry L. Tally
8484	Two Rubes in an Eating House, Harlan and Stanley
8476	Hot Scotch March—Xylophone. Hopkins
8486	When Jane and I Were Wed,...Harlan
8474	Amona.....Edison Band
8480	When We Were Boys, Harlan and Stanley
8496	Home Sweet Home, Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette
8485	Scarecrow Dance.....Edison Orchestra
8479	The Chapel.....Edison Quartette
8489	Bungalow.....Edison Band
8491	Though It Was Within This Hour We Met.....Morgan and Stanley

THE AGREEMENT HANGER.

About September 1 we mailed to the trade, with the September Phonograph Monthly and other forms, copies of the Agreement hunger, Form 454, showing the terms and conditions under which Edison goods are sold. It was intended to be hung up in the stores of Dealers. Following are some of the comments we have received from Dealers:

I think it will save the retail Dealers a lot of talking to have it placed in a conspicuous place so the public can see it.

W. J. Monkhouse, Altoona, Ont.

We acknowledge the receipt of your Suspended List under date of September 1, and wish to assure you we will watch it closely. The Price List for framing is a good idea. We will frame and display same.

Purner & Kennedell,
Kittanning, Pa.

The large Retailers' list and Conditions just received, and we have hung same in our store.

J. H. & S. M. Robinson,
Hudson, Mass.

The Retail Dealers' Price List and Condition of Sales is just what we wanted. Some people think the small Dealer is so hard up for trade that he will give the machines away so that he can sell Records. Let the good work go on, I have my hold on a spoke.

Howard T. Tripp,
237 Linden St.,
Brooklyn, N. Y.

I received the Retail Dealers' Price List and Condition of Sale, which I will put up in a prominent place. Also received Suspended List of September 1, 1903, and will abide by same. I am much pleased with Edison Records and Phonographs. I will sell no others as long as I can get Edison's.

Oakes M. Palmer,
Gardiner, Maine.

We will put the Retailers' Price List and Conditions of Sale in a conspicuous place.

Grinnell Bros.,
Kalamazoo, Mich.

Your Dealer's Price List and Conditions are the proper thing. It is something necessary for our protection. There is too much juggling with prices, which tends to make a show of the Dealer, and the article loses its merit to a certain extent with the people.

Yours respectfully,
F. M. Neal,
Manager Bridgeport Decorating Co.
Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 21, 1903.

TRADE ADVERTISING.

The Eastern Talking Machine Company, of Boston, Mass., had a full page advertisement in the National Magazine for October, the entire page being devoted to booming the Phonograph as a teacher of languages in connection with the I. C. S. language courses.

J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., Jobbers in Phonographs at Kansas City, Mo., ran a series of unusually attractive and well written advertisements in the Kansas City Star during July and August. They occupied a quarter page of space. We quote from one of them as follows:

The Edison Phonograph. The original and best talking machine; will bring new life into your home! It will make it easier to entertain company. With it you can amuse your family and friends whenever you wish with a programme of clear, sweet, enjoyable music ranging from ragtime to the best musical compositions. The Edison Phonograph plays everything, sings everything, whistles everything, recites everything, talks everything.

From another we quote:

THE PHONOGRAPH TIRES THE FARM.

It brightens the monotony of farm life. It entertains your callers. It will furnish amusement for a whole party. Its sacred music will make bright the long Sunday afternoons. It will keep the boys at home. Too many farm homes lack the cheering influences of music. The Phonograph will remedy that.

McGreal Bros., Jobbers in Phonographs at Milwaukee, Wis., announced the beginning of their second year in business on September 1 with the following advertisement in the Milwaukee papers:

WATCH OUR SMOKE

SECOND CAMPAIGN OPENS WITH A BOOM.

GENERAL IMITATION VANQUISHED. GENERAL MERIT WINS!

JUST ONE YEAR IN BUSINESS—JUST 2404 EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND 58,000 EDISON RECORDS SOLD IN MILWAUKEE ALONE.

We are distributors of Edison Phonographs and Records for Wisconsin. We are to-day the largest exclusive Phonograph Dealers in the world.

McGREAL BROS.
THE TALKING MACHINE MEN.
173 Third St., just north of Grand Ave.
Sold $1.00 down, $1.00 a week to residents of Milwaukee.

With its supplement of August Records the Eastern Talking Machine Co., of Boston, mailed a circular to their customers, giving the comments on August Records from the Phonograph Monthly for July. Concerning the success of the plan they write as follows:

That it was a benefit to us is proven by the fact that we have received thus far this month almost double the number of orders through the mail than we usually have heretofore for the new Records, and that it is appreciated by our customers is assured, for we have already received several letters commending the "Pointers," one of which we give copy of. J. M. D., of St. John, N. B., writes under date of September 3: "I am in receipt each month of the list of new Records, and appreciate very much your kindness. The 'Pointers' accompanying the list this month is something very timely and is a great help to parties at a distance who are unable to hear Records before buying. I hope you will issue these pointers every month."

We migh add that we are so well pleased with the results obtained by the sending out of these "Pointers," that we shall continue to supply them to our customers, and therefore trust that the "Comments" on the new Records in the MONTHLY will not be discontinued.

The Boston Cycle & Sundry Company issued another unique novelty in September to furnish their Dealers with the list of new Records for October and solicit their orders. It was a mailing card printed in colors on the reverse side. This showed a scene on a dock at the river with a colored stevedore pushing a truck upon which is loaded a wooden case. This case is attached to a card, and when opened discloses the October list with the usual blank space for the Dealer's order. It was even more attractive than the one gotten out by this house to exploit the September Records.

The article on "Moulded Records for Phonographs," published in the American Machinist on July 9, was re-printed in the English Mechanic and World of Science on August 14, the illustrations also being reproduced in the same size as they appeared in the American Machinist.

Copies of advertisements of Edison goods have been received from the following Dealers: Steinhauser & Eston, Watsonville, Cal.; William H. Keller, Easton, Pa.; C. Mattingly, Owensboro, Ky.; George E. Buss, New Philadelphia, Ohio.

SUSPENDED LIST, OCTOBER 1, 1903.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

KANSAS.

LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DEWOLFP.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
*HOBART—F. H. MARSHALL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
R. L. DURYEE, also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway, also Philadelphia, Pa.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 209 Broadway.
RICHARD PEASE, 44 W. 132d st.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
UHRICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2763 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

*Added since last Suspended List was issued September 1, 1903.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2003 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Ray Co., 54 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 933 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 619 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Cushion & Post Co., 206-208 Main street.
New Haven—Model Phonograph Co., 135 Orange st.

GEORGIA.

Atlanta—The Ray Co., 6 S. Broad street.
Savannah—The Ray Co., 106 W. Bernard street.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Oscar J. Lange, 242 S. Chicago avenue.
Kelley Cigar Co., 80-82 Wabash avenue.
James I. Lyons, 73 Fifth avenue.
The Ray Co., 96 Washington street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 217 Madison street.
The Uhl Co., 1-7 E. 12th street.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 115-121 Michigan ave.
Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 304 S. Adams street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Kipp Bros. Co., 35 S. Meridian street.
The Ray Co., 234 Massachusetts avenue.
Wahl-Gasech Co., 119 S. Illinois street.
Lafayette—Wahl-Gasech Co., 309 Main street.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 640 Fourth avenue.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—James I. Lyons, Theatre Arcade.
National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 614 Gravier street.
The Ray Co., 121 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—S. L. Crosby, 28 Exchange street.
Portland—W. H. Rowe & Son, 507 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 18 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 127 Tremont street.
J. C. Haynes & Co., 451 Washington street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 165 Washington street.
Read & Read, 398 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 147 Main street.
Lowell—Hugg Music Co., 122 Merrimac street.
Thomas Wardell, 111 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 364 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 206 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 229 Woodward avenue.
The Ray Co., 106 Griswold street.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 714 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 32 E. 5th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons' Music Co., 1025-1027 Walnut street.
The Ray Co., 1001 Grand avenue.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1111 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 909 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. E. Bilies Cycle Co., 1317 O street.
Omaha—Edholm & Erickson, 1513 Capitol avenue.
Schroeder Cycle Co., 1408 and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Hollyer Phonograph Co., 205 Washington street.
Newark—H. J. Koehler Sporting Goods Co., 845 Broad street.
A. J. Quinby, 49 New street.
Paterson—Louis E. Ullman, 107 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank L. C. Martin Auto. Co., 820 Park avenue.
Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
J. Matthews' Sons, 225 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1156 Broadway.
Buffalo—J. A. Powers, 841 Dudley st., 1156 Broadway.
Elmira—Elmira Arms Co., 172 Main street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co., 29 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Forsythe Bros., Limited, 307 Wall street.
New York City—Bristol Phonograph Co., 80 Chambers street.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 19 Beekman street.
J. F. Blackman & Son, 1674 3d avenue.
C. Fiqs, Jr., 802 Third avenue.
S. R. Dean & Co., 1133 Broadway.
Dreyfus & Co., 36 Chambers street.
H. S. Gordon, 133 Fifth avenue.
G. Hacker, 1 Murray street.
Harry Jaksons, 129 Bowery.
Victor H. Emig, 1482 Union Square.
Victor H. Emig, 1482 Second avenue.
Rosenfeld Mfg. Co., 1276 Third avenue.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
Rochester—Mackie Piano Co., 100 State street.
Schenectady—Jay A. Rickard & Co., 333 State street.
Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 216 E. Railroad street.
Troy—James Lacey, 330-361 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark, Horrocks & Co., 54 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelman Co., 216 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Ilsen & Co., 28 W. 5th street.
The Ray Co., 151 West 4th street.
Wahl-Gasech Co., 18 W. 4th street.
Cleveland—The Ray Co., 1836 E. 9th street.
W. J. Roberts, 1240 Superior street.
Columbus—Perry B. Whited Co., 103 S. High street.
Dayton—Nicholas & Doohie, 21 E. 4th street.
East Liverpool—Smith & Pulling Music Co.
Toledo—Hayes Music Co., 626 Cherry street.
The Ray Co., 160 Madison street.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Braun, 30 Federal street.
Allentown—J. H. Auchbach, 139 Hamilton street.
Easton—William H. Keller, 20 Centre square.
Philadelphia—C. J. Heppe, 1109 Chestnut street.
Lit Bros., Market and 11th streets.
Penn Phonograph Co., 29 S. 9th street.
Wells Phonograph Co., 41 N. 9th street.
Weymann Bros. Co., 1210-1212 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 1305 Market street.
Pittsburg—Theo. F. Beutel Co., Inc., 432 Wood street.
Kaufmann Bros., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 251 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Mellor Co., 319 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 937 Liberty avenue.
Reading—Reading Phonograph Co., 232 Penn street.
Scranton—Charles B. Scott, 124 Franklin avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Dean Co., 185-191 Westminster street.
J. A. Foster Co., Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Household Furniture Co., 231-235 Weybosset street.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., 26-30 Pine street.

TENNESSEE.

Knoxville—The Ray Co., 370 Gilreh street.
Memphis—The Ray Co., Lyceum Building, and 208 Jefferson streets.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 70 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, Agt., 197 Main street.
Waco—Waco Electric Supply Co., 318 Austin avenue.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 709 E. Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 173 3d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Ltd., 143 Yonge street.

Uncle Josh Weatherby's Punkin Centre Stories

IN BOOK FORM.

Written by Mr. Cal Stewart.

200 PAGES OF FUN AND LAUGHTER

Contains all his humorous sketches as told by him in the various makes of talking machine records, together with several new stories and poems. The book is handsomely bound with illuminated cover. EACH STORY IS ILLUSTRATED, depicting the most laughable incidents in the sketch.

PRICE $1.00.

Liberal Discounts to Jobbers and Dealers. Write for Quotations.

PENN PHONOGRAPH CO.

Distributors to the Talking Machine Trade

19 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THIS IS THE 8 FOOT

HORN

LOOK FOR IT IN THE

JULY ISSUE

OF THE EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY

THE BEST WAY TO ADVERTISE

WRITE FOR PRICES

Utica Electric and Phonograph Supply House

EDWIN A. BATCHELOR

12 PEARL ST., UTICA, N. Y.

CYLINDER RECORD CABINETS

made with the practical knowledge of what a Cylinder Record Cabinet ought to be. We illustrate two popular leaders—and there are others.

No. 2.

No. 2. Height 37 inches, width 19 inches, depth 18½ inches; five drawers with stops, 180 pins, Mahogany veneered front and top, birch imitation sides, false back, piano finish..... 22.50

No. 3. Height 37 inches, width 19 inches, depth 20 inches; five drawers with stops, 180 pins, quartered oak front, back, both sides and top, piano finish ... 28.00

No. 3.

Dealers will find it profitable to write for special discounts. These cabinets are made in the most reliable manner—in the best standard of furniture making.

AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH COMPANY

106 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., U. S. A.

ALLEN'S JAPANESE LACQUERED HORN

BLACK OUTSIDE RED INSIDE

HIGHEST JAPANESE ART

IMPORTED Weight 28 ozs. 30 inches long 15 inch Bell

PRICE - - TEN DOLLARS.

Peter Bacigalupi, Sole Agent U. S. A.

933 MARKET STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.

THIS IS AN IDEAL HORN, MADE AFTER YEARS OF EXPERIMENTING BY A CONNOISSEUR. DOES AWAY WITH ALL THE METALLIC SOUNDS FOUND IN OTHER HORNS.

The E. W. N. Handbook of the Phonograph

—AND—

Instructions for Making Records.

BY C. W. NOYES.

Every Owner Of a talking machine should have a copy of this valuable book. It is replete with instructions for the Care and Use of the Phonograph, and the chapters devoted to RECORD MAKING are compiled from the author's many years of experience in some of the principal laboratories of this country.

Any one possessed of ordinary intelligence can make a perfect record if the directions are followed.

Fully Illustrated—Handsomely Bound.

PAPER, 25 CENTS.
CLOTH, 50 CENTS.

Mailed Postpaid on Receipt of Price.

For Sale by All Jobbers, or

ILSEN & COMPANY, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEALERS WRITE FOR DISCOUNTS.

A CARD TO THE TRADE

JOBBERS AND DEALERS

Interested in giving their customers best results are invited to write us for quotations on

DOUGLAS

Mega (Paper) Horns and Record Cabinets

The Horn that Made us Famous.

Superior to any metal horn made in purity, volume and absence of metallic tones. GREAT AIDS TO THE SALE OF PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

"MEGA"	Length 32 inches; Width 24 inches.	List $7.50
"MEGA JR."	Length 22 inches; Width 15 inches.	List $2.25
MEGA RECORDING HORN,	Length 24 inches; Width 6¾ inches.	List $1.50

Look for the Trade Mark
"PHONO-MEGA."

Attractive and Substantial.

Superior to any Line in the Market,

STRONGLY MADE. BEAUTIFULLY FINISHED.

100 Peg Polished Oak,		List $12.00
125 "	" "	" 14.00
125 "	Quartered Oak,	" 15.50
150 "	" "	" 18.00

Prices Restricted.

WRITE FOR SPECIAL LEAFLETS AND NET PRICES.

DOUGLAS & CO.,

89 Chambers Street, NEW YORK. 71 Reade Street,

EDISON Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. I. NEW YORK, NOVEMBER, 1903. No. 9.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 1304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 31 REMPART SAINT GEORGES.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

Good Records and Others..... 1
Advance List of December Records..... 2
Special Advance List of British and French-Canadian Records..... 3
British and French-Canadian Records..... 4
Keep Sending Agreements..... 5
Phonograph Art Calendar..... 5
Changes in Accessories Catalogue..... 6
"Comments" for Trade Use..... 6
Frames for Record Bulletins..... 6
Phonographs for Lodges..... 7
Increase in Advertising Rates..... 7
Pays to Carry a Full Line..... 8
Get After the Y. M. C. A.'s..... 8
Stock Up for Holidays..... 8
Retained Phonograph Literature..... 8
Trade Literature and Advertising..... 9
Edison's Latest..... 9
The Phonograph's Description of Itself..... 9
Among the Jobbers..... 9
Printed Matter..... 10
Business Keeps Coming..... 11
Comments on December Records..... 11
Little Talk About a Talking Machine..... 13
November Advertising..... 14
Dealers' Comparison of Two Kinds of Literature..... 14
Best Selling Records..... 15
To Determine a Speed of 160 Revolutions. 15
Suspended List..... 16

GOOD RECORDS AND OTHERS.

As every one in the Phonograph trade knows the announcement made by this company a month ago to the effect that no change would be made in the price of Edison Phonographs and Records was due to the fact that another company had cut the price of its records to twenty-five cents each. So far as action on the part of this company is concerned, no further statement was necessary. It has always been our policy to attend strictly to our own business and pay no attention to that of others. The world is wide and there is room for us all, whether makers of good or inferior products. All kinds have their uses.

Continuing this policy, we should not dignify the company in question by referring to its official confirmation of the price at which its records have sold for a long time. But our trade is writing on the subject, and in order to avoid a lot of correspondence, we must ask the indulgence of our friends in departing from our policy and publishing this article.

There is no likelihood of our making a reduction in the price of Records, nor is there any need of such a step. The manufacturers of the cheap record referred to were compelled to announce a lower price for it because unable to successfully compete with the Edison Record. The acknowledged superiority of the Edison Gold Moulded Record had brought its business to a point where it was compelled to sell at a lower price or cease the manufacture of cylindrical records altogether. The manufacturers alone are the only ones in the entire talking machine trade of this or any other country who will deny this. The same superiority of our Records which brought about this condition will enable us to continue to get fifty cents each for them. The gold moulded process by which Edison Records are made is employed only by us and the results secured by its use are attained by no other

(Continued on page 4.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF DECEMBER RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. SPECIAL ADVANCE LIST OF BRITISH AND FRENCH-CANADIAN SELECTIONS APPEARS ON PAGE 3. ORDER FROM THEM.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR DECEMBER, 1903

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near December 1st, 1903, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to November 15th, will be shipped.

December Supplements will bear the date of December 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

Stock orders for Records contained in this list must be written on separate order blanks, and letters relating to December Records should refer to no other matter.

Kindly comply with above requests and thus aid your Jobber and ourselves in handling advance orders.

8549 Southern Smiles March, by the composer of "Peaceful Henry" Edison Military Band
8550 Bedelia, an Irish Coon Serenade Billy Murray
8551 The Flowers of Dixie Land Franklyn Wallace
As sung by Lillian Russell in Weber & Fields' "Whoop Dee-Doo"
8552 Trixie Serio-comic song Will F. Denny
8553 I'm Going to Leave Collins & Harlan
Coon male duet, with banjo accompaniment by Vess L. Ossman
8554 Soko, Moorish March-Intermezzo Edison Symphony Orchestra
8555 Tell Me that Beautiful Story Sentimental Tenor and Baritone duet Andrew Schneider & Franklyn Wallace
8556 The Last Farewell Franklyn Wallace
Expressly written and composed by Chas. K. Harris for Adelina Patti's Farewell Tour of America
8557 Scene in a Country Blacksmith Shop Harlan & Stanley
Comic Rube singing and Talking male Duet
8558 The Miller's Daughter Harry MacDonough
Descriptive song with orchestra accom from "Three Little Maids"
8559 That's How I Love You Mame Howery Love'song Arthur Collins
8560 North and South Medley U. S. Marine Fife and Drum Corps
Introducing "Marching Through Georgia" and "Dixie" and Bugles
8561 Down Where the Swanee River Flows Byron G. Harlan
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment
8562 Peaceful Henry Edison Concert Band
Characteristic March and Two-step
8563 Won't You Write a Letter, Papa Male duet Harlan & Stanley
8564 Up in the Cocoanut Tree Billy Murray
Love Song of the Cocoanut Grove
8565 Sammy Serio-comic song from "Wizard of Oz" Harry MacDonough
8566 Melody of Love Edison Symphony Orchestra
8567 Moriarity Comic Irish male duet Collins & Harlan
8568 The Girl You Love Harry MacDonough
Serio-comic song with orchestra accom. from "Three Little Maids"
8569 The Two Comrades Polka John Hazel & Frank S. Seltzer
Cornet duet accompanied by the Edison Military Band
8570 I'm Longing for You Sweetheart Day by Day
Sentimental song Franklyn Wallace
8571 Keep on A-Shining Silv'ry Moon Edison Quartette
Song and quartette chorus with orchestra accompaniment
8572 The Maid of Timbuctoo Harry MacDonough
As sung by Lillian Russell in Weber & Fields' "Whoop Dee-Doo"
8573 Any Rags Medley, introducing the Coon song "Any Rags" and other popular songs Edison Military Band

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

SPECIAL ADVANCE LIST

of British and French-Canadian Selections Edison Gold Moulded Records.

These special British and French-Canadian Records will be ready for shipment, if possible, with the December Records, providing Jobbers' stock orders have been placed prior to November 15. We reserve the right, however, to defer shipment of these Records till a later date should the demand for regular Records make it impossible to manufacture these special selections in time for such shipment.

Special supplements will be issued for these selections and will be forwarded with the Records to such Jobbers as order a supply.

Jobbers are requested to order these Records on separate sheets and not on sheets with orders for regular Records or other goods.

Retail dealers should place stock orders with the Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

BRITISH SELECTIONS.

12858 March, "His Majesty," British Military Band
12859 War March of the Priests, British Military Band
12930 "Tommy Atkins" and "Soldiers of the King," British Military Band
12831 Selection from "The School Girl," British Military Band
12832 Motherland (San Toy), Leonard Mackay
12833 Bonnie Banks o' Loch Lomond, Miss Octavia Barry
12834 "Coo" (From "A Country Girl"), Miss Octavia Barry
12835 I've Made Up My Mind to Sail Away, Leonard Mackay
12836 Queen of Love, Hamilton Hill
12837 Bird Imitations, I. Miss Maud Dewey Blackbird, Nightingale, Thrush.
12838 Salvage Man, (Dan Leno), Fred T. Daniels
12840 Forward March, British Military Band
12841 Tres Jolie Waltz, British Military Band
12842 Selection from a Country Girl, No. 1, British Military Band
12843 Selection from a Country Girl, No. 2, British Military Band
12844 Skylark, Hamilton Hill
12845 Best of All, Hamilton Hill
12846 Let Her Drown, Leonard Mackay
12847 O! The Business (Harry Randall,) Leonard Mackay
12848 Blue Bells of Scotland, Thomas Reid
12849 Robin Adair, Thomas Reid
12850 Mary of Argyle, Thomas Reid
12851 Killarney, Miss Octavia Barry
12852 Selection of Popular Songs, II. British Military Band
12853 Selection of Popular Songs, III. British Military Band
12854 Intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana," British Military Band
12855 I'll be True, Hamilton Hill
12856 Once, Hamilton Hill
12857 The Auld House, (Scotch Song), Thomas Reid
12858 Bonnie Dundee, Thomas Reid
12859 At the Seaside (Ernest Shand), Leonard Mackay
12860 Oh! Isn't it Singular, (Ernest Shand), Leonard Mackay
12861 Recruiting Sergeant, (Dan Leno), Fred T. Daniels
12862 Banks of Allan Water, Miss Octavia Barry
12863 Bird Imitations, II Miss Maud Dewey Canary, Skylark, Chaffinch.

FRENCH-CANADIAN SELECTIONS.

12876 Blue Bells of Scotland, ("The Kilties") 48th Highlanders' Band
12877 Cock of the North, ("The Kilties") 48th Highlanders' Band
12878 Reb Roy, ("The Kilties") 48th Highlanders' Band
12879 Coming Through the Rye, ("The Kilties") 48th Highlanders' Band
12880 Pretty Maid Milking Her Cow—Bagpipe, J. C. McAuliffe
12881 Paddy on the Turnpike—Bagpipe, J. C. McAuliffe
12882 Donnybrook Fair—Bagpipe, J. C. McAuliffe
12883 Jonas dans la Baleine, H. Cartel
12884 Manzelle Duplumeau, H. Cartel
12885 Le Flegme, H. Cartel
12886 L'Enfant du Regiment, H. Cartel
12887 O Mikedy, H. Cartel
12888 Y' connait tout c't' animal-la, H. Cartel
12889 V'la les poires, H. Cartel
12890 La Sonnerie d'Alsace, H. Cartel
12891 La Gobinois, R. Harmant
12892 Je N'Suis Rouk', R. Harmant
12893 Ca Va Tres Bien, R. Harmant
12894 Bibi Bobino, R. Harmant
12895 Elles En Veulent, R. Harmant
12896 Ayez pitié D'Elle, R. Harmant
12897 Cque Jec'comprends pas, R. Harmant
12898 Faut K'lUser Ca, Leo Méry
12899 Tout le long du Boulevard, Leo Méry
12900 Les Jours qu'il Fait Froid, Leo Méry
12901 Conscrit Soldat, Leo Méry
12902 La femme du Boulier, F. Kelm
12903 Nous avons fait Comme eux, F. Kelm
12904 La Marseillaise, F. Kelm
12905 Les Petits Joyeux, F. Kelm
12906 Vielle Fille, F. Kelm
12907 Larirette et loulouta, F. Kelm
12908 La Vigne au Vin, F. Kelm
12909 Rosen et Juliette (Duett), Rhea et Harmant
12910 Petite Flûte et Cordon Bleu, Rhea et Harmant
12911 Jen 'ai pas l'habitude de fumer, Edmund Lamoureux
12912 En Suivant le Regiment, Mme. Harmant

Those Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give number and letter C.

(Continued from page 1.)

manufacturer. Edison Records are in a class by themselves. The American people know this and as they are essentially a people who want the best to be had our Records will continue to find a ready sale.

As a result of the announced reduction in its price, the record that we are dignifying by so much attention has in a single month become the "bargain lot" record of the country. It has to-day no fixed price. It can be bought at retail for one dollar a dozen, if the advertisements of dealers can be believed. Department stores are selling it at fifteen cents as an advertisement of their talking machine department. Some Dealers who sell these records as well as the Edison Gold Moulded get fifty cents each for the latter and find it difficult to dispose of the others for sixteen cents. One Dealer advertised his "bargain lot" records at sixteen cents each," and said: "If you don't like them bring them back when they are worn out and we will allow you fifteen cents each for them in exchange for Edison Records. This will make them cost you but one cent each, and they are really worth it." This is but a sample of the feeling entertained by the trade in general toward these records. Its manufacturers may sell them in their own retail stores, but no dealer can handle them with the expectation of making money out of their sale. The record situation may be compared to the sale of typewriters. There are machines on the market that sell at from $50 to $100, but fifty business men buy $100 machines to one purchasing the cheaper type, and yet both continue in business. In a world as big as this there is room for the Edison Gold Moulded Record at fifty cents each, and for the other with its 18-cents-to-day - and - 12 - cents - to-morrow price, with quality to correspond.

DON'T BELIEVE IN PRICE CUTTING.

CEDAR BLUFF, ALA., Oct. 12, 1903.

We acknowledge receipt of Suspended List of October 1. You can depend on us "sticking to the text." We don't believe in price cutting anyway.

JOS. W. M. WITT & SON.

AGREEMENT HANGER JUST THE THING.

CRESCENT CITY, CAL., Oct. 9, 1903.

I acknowledge receipt of the late Suspended List and also the Hanger, form 452, and will certainly co-operate with you. Allow me to thank you for the Hanger. It is exactly what I have been wanting for a long time, as the people of my town think they can get Edison goods cheaper by sending out of town. It will be of a great benefit to me.

PETER DUFFY.

BRITISH AND FRENCH-CANADIAN RECORDS.

On Page 3 of this issue we print a special Advance List of British and French-Canadian Records, made by the Edison Gold Moulded process. The Masters for these Records were made some time ago, but for various reasons no announcement has been made concerning them. We have been making Gold Moulded Records of the British titles for some time, but our London and Antwerp offices have been and are still demanding more than we can make of them. They are listed now because our new Record plant is nearing completion and we expect in a short time to have facilities that will enable us to fill orders for these titles, besides giving better attention to orders of the trade in this country. The same enlarged facilities made it possible to list the French-Canadian selections. On Page 3 we state that advance orders for both British and French-Canadian Records, if received before November 10, will be ready for shipment, if possible, with the December Records. We reserve the right, however, to hold back the shipment of these special lists if orders for regular Records or delay in getting into our new Record plant make it impossible to fill orders for them.

The thirty-five titles in the British list will afford the American public a good opportunity of comparing the Records made in the two countries. The verdict would probably be decided by the personal feelings of the listener, for the British Records are well made and an Englishman would doubtless claim that they are superior to those made here. These British selections were made at our Recording Plant in London, by English bands and singers, and the only American feature in connection with them was the direction given by recording experts sent from our factory at Orange. They may therefore be called strictly British Records.

Eleven of the selections are made by the British Military Band, and it would be hard to find an equal number of better rendered band Records. They are made with unusual volume of tone and the band plays with great precision and fine attack. The selections are sufficiently varied to suit all tastes. Five Records are made by Leonard Mackay, who has a fine baritone voice. His songs are both sentimental and humorous. The four selections by Miss Octavia Barry are unusually good Records of a soprano voice, the most difficult of all voices to reproduce in a pleasing manner. Miss Barry's selections are well known Scotch songs and selections from popular operas. Hamilton Hill, the Australian baritone, has five selections in the list, part humorous and part sentimental. Miss Maud Dewey, perhaps the best woman whistler in the world, has given in two Records some remarkable imitations of English singing birds, the blackbird, nightingale, thrush, canary, skylark, and chaffinch. These Records will especially remind every Englishman of his native country. Fred T. Daniels makes two talking and singing Records, both being titles made famous in Great Britain by Dan Leno. Five old Scotch songs have been given to the list by Thomas Reid, whose excellent baritone voice has made splendid Records.

Of the thirty-seven French-Canadian selections four are made by the famous "Kilties" Band of the Forty-eighth Highlanders, and three are bagpipe solos by J. C. McAuliffe. The others are solos and duets in French, most of them being of a comic character. They are a well-made lot of Records and cannot fail to be popular in Canadian territory. Lack of space and time makes it impossible to give a detailed description of them.

FAIR OPENED BY PHONOGRAPH.

The value of the Phonograph was demonstrated in a remarkable manner at the Maidenhead [England] Baptist Church yesterday afternoon. The pastor of the church, the Rev. R. R. Williams, was stricken with illness a few days ago in the midst of arranging a bazaar in aid of the organ fund. Mr. Thomas Timberlake took a Phonograph to the bedroom of the pastor, who spoke an opening message into the instrument.

The experiment was a great success, the brief address by the pastor being received by a large audience with pleasure at the opening of the bazaar yesterday.—From the London. Daily Mail.

KEEP SENDING AGREEMENTS.

We would again urge Jobbers to keep sending in Agreements of new Dealers. To have their names on our files aids the Dealer, aids the Jobber and aids ourselves. It is of benefit all around. It will pay Jobbers to look over their lists occasionally to make sure that they have sent in the Agreements and Index Cards of every Dealer who has signed. We will also thank them if they will keep us advised from time to time concerning Dealers who have discontinued handling Phonographs and Records or who have recently gone out of business. We desire to take their names from our mailing list.

PHONOGRAPH ART CALENDAR.

The Phonograph Art Calendar for 1904 still drags. Copies are expected daily from the lithographers, and one will be mailed to each Jobber, accompanied by a letter on the subject. Retail Dealers who feel that they would like a few copies to sell or give to their customers are asked to write the Advertising Department for information. This Calendar was gotten up with the intention of advertising its sale by means of our magazine announcements. This will still be done, the advertisement first appearing in the December issues. Its price by mail will be twenty-five cents, postpaid. It costs fifteen cents a copy and such Jobbers and Dealers as may desire one or more copies will be supplied at cost.

This Calendar is equal in every respect to any similar art Calendar yet issued, and since no advertising appears on the face of the sheets it may be hung up anywhere in the home. It consists of six sheets, 10¾ x 14¾ inches in size, beautifully lithographed in twelve colors on fine embossed paper. The sheets are tied together with white satin ribbon.

The sketches are the work of John Cassel, the well known artist, and are of the most attractive character. Cupid is a prominent figure in all of the sketches, his mateh-making propensities being charmingly brought out in each. The sheet for January and February shows a young couple stepping while out sleighing to lift Cupid in out of the snow. March and April shows a young artist gazing enraptured upon the fair one whose portrait he is painting. Cupid holds the palette, a mischievous smile on his face the while. On the May and June sheet a youth and young damsel sit side by side in a birch canoe. Cupid, paddle in hand, is furnishing the motive power. July and August shows a pair of lovers in steamer chairs on board ship. They are "holding hands." Cupid appears, tray in hand, as the up-to-date steward. September and October are typified by a young Indian brave and a charming squaw who are making love while Cupid plays on his lute. November and December shows a hunting scene, but the young couple have laid aside their guns and are sitting side by side on a log, with Cupid between them. A hunting dog in the background looks reproachfully at this unsportsmanlike method of hunting.

An argument on Edison Phonographs and Records appears on the backs of the sheets, but it does not in any manner mar the attractiveness of the Calendar.

CHANGES IN ACCESSORIES CATALOGUE.

The present edition of Catalogue Form 376, Phonograph Accessories and Coin-Slot Phonographs, is exhausted, and an order has been placed with the printer for a new supply. These are expected about November 1. Hereafter Phonograph Accessories and Coin-Slot Phonographs will not be printed in one Catalogue, but will be issued as separate folders. The Coin-Slot Folder will be Form 484 and the Accessories Folder, Form 485. In the new edition of the Coin-Slot Folder no changes have been made. In the Accessories Folder, Record Boxes and Record Carrying Cases have been omitted. These will no longer be carried as accessories. We will fill orders for such of these goods as we may have at the factory and when the stock is gone we shall discontinue their sale. The eighteen-inch Flexible Connection has also been omitted from this Folder. Several changes have been made in the prices of Way Rails with and without Tubes and Flexible Connections. The new prices of these will be as follows:

6-way Rails, with Tubes and Flexible Connection $5.80
10-way Rails, with Tubes and Flexible Connection 7.40
14-way Rails, with Tubes and Flexible Connection 9.20
17-way Rails, with Tubes and Flexible Connection 10.35
6-way Rails, only..... 3.00
10-way Rails, only..... 3.25
14-way Rails, only..... 3.50
17-way Rails, only..... 3.70

"COMMENTS" FOR TRADE USE.

Early in October we received a letter from a Jobber approving the plan of the Eastern States Jobber who sends to his retail trade each month a reprint of the Comments on New Records from the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. This Jobber also suggested that these Comments be printed each month for use by the Jobbers in general, either at the expense of this company or at the expense of the Jobbers themselves, if the company did not feel that it could bear the additional expense. We did not feel that we could send out the sheets in large quantities in addition to the Supplements now being issued; but we sent out a letter to all Jobbers, advising them that if they desired to have us print these Comments each month, we would do so at the actual cost of printing. This cost was given in the circular at $1.25 for 500, with imprint of the Dealer, or $2.25 per thousand with imprint. The letter brought responses from a number of Jobbers who ordered such a quantity of the Comments that it was possible to issue them at less cost than these figures. The Comments for November were printed on one side of a single sheet, but if the demand is sufficient we will have them printed in booklet form. This has been requested by some Jobbers and we think that it can be done at very little more expense than the prices given above for single sheets. Printed in book form they will make a very desirable method of advertising. If any Dealers would like to have us print for them a supply of these Comments, we shall take pleasure in filling their orders, but they must suggest a way of getting them in their hands without cost to us. This might be done by placing orders with Jobbers, or, if Dealers are ordering direct from us, we can ship them with other goods. We would suggest that if a Dealer is interested in this matter he write us for one of the letters sent to Jobbers and any other information he may desire on the subject.

FRAMES FOR RECORD BULLETINS.

In a recent issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY reference was made to a New York Jobber who made a feature of framing copies of the Record Bulletin and displaying them in the window. This Jobber has found this feature so popular that he has had a stock of these frames made and has sold a number of them to his Dealers, as many as six at one time. When a Bulletin is placed in a frame it forms an attractive part of an exhibit, whether in the show window or on the walls of the store. The New York Jobber in question has also framed supplements and other display advertising matter issued by this Company and these frames add much to the attractiveness of his store. We do not know whether or not other Jobbers handle these frames, but they would find it quite an accommodation to their Dealers if they would do so. They are made for the New York Jobber in question at a price that enables him to sell them to his Dealers for fifty cents each.

MERIT ALL PRAISE GIVEN THEM.

VACAVILLE, CAL., Oct. 7, 1903.

We hereby acknowledge receipt of Suspended List dated October 1. You may rest assured that we will uphold the Dealers' Agreement, as we are of the opinion that the way you handle this tremendous business is the only way. The goods merit all the praise that can be spoken of them and are well worth the prices stipulated by you.

HOPE MUSIC STORE.

PHONOGRAPHS FOR LODGES.

The Phonograph should be a feature of Lodge work throughout the country. One of the difficulties in successfully conducting secret societies and similar organizations is the finding of some means of interesting the members. How many faithful officers have been discouraged because of the poor attendance at meetings! Their own talent in the way of providing amusement is soon exhausted, and they are almost at their wits' end to offer inducements for members to attend. We believe that in nine cases out of ten the attendance at meetings of this character would be greatly improved if the lodges would purchase Phonographs and then make a selection each month of the new Records as they appear.

These remarks are offered as suggestions to induce Dealers to take the matter up with societies and see if they cannot be made to see the situation in the same light. With an initial expenditure of about $30 and an outlay of $5 a month a lodge would have a means of keeping its members constantly amused. The initial purchase would result in bringing out members to hear the Records, and the purchase of a dozen new ones each month would keep the interest alive. This sort of a campaign would also result in considerable advertising for the Dealer. Every Phonograph and every lot of Records sold for a purpose of this kind would be a constant advertisement for the Dealer. The way to follow up this matter is to make a list of all the lodges in your town or city and then send a series of letters to one or more of the officers, including in some instances postage for a reply. The number of societies in the average town or city is not so large but that letters could be typewritten at practically no expense to the sender, and the postage would be a small matter. It would be strange, indeed, if from one to a dozen Phonographs could not be sold by this method in every place where it was taken up, the number depending upon the size of the city.

Another good way to introduce the matter is to offer to play a selected lot of Records on the Phonograph for lodges as an introduction to the purchase of a machine, allowing the lodge ample opportunity to notify its members of your intention to do so. In many cases an entertainment of this kind would be followed by the vote of the lodge to purchase an outfit.

A Repeating Attachment for the Home Phonograph will be listed in the new edition of our Machine Catalogue, Form 500. It will be catalogue No. A 11051, Code Word Sirius, price $15.00.

INCREASE IN ADVERTISING RATES.

Beginning with the January issue, the advertising rates of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY will be $20 per page, instead of $10 as at present. Copy for half or quarter pages will be accepted at a pro rata rate. This advance is not made because of a desire on our part to make money out of those who desire to advertise in the columns of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. It is done simply with the expectation that it will cut down the number of pages of advertising over the number now appearing in its columns. When it was decided to accept advertising from Jobbers and Dealers for these columns, we did not think that we would be called upon at any time to publish more than two pages. This we could do and yet be able to have sufficient space for such reading matter and such other information as we desire to lay before the trade. With six or more pages, however, it has become necessary to add additional pages over the sixteen which we had fixed as the number we thought sufficient for this publication. The additional advertising will probably pay the cost of adding the extra pages. This is the only extra cost we have, unless it should be found necessary to send out other printed matter in the same inclosure with the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. Then the extra pages would add one cent for every copy sent out. This with an edition of 7,500 copies is more than we can afford in connection with this publication. We believe that this advanced advertising rate will result in cutting down the number of pages to three or less in each issue, and if it does not, then the additional revenue obtained from the greater number of pages will pay for whatever additional postage we may have to lay out. We have no desire to make the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY a money-making publication. We simply want to keep its cost down to a certain point. We believe that even with the increased rate for advertising the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is one of the best mediums that the Phonograph trade could possibly use in exploiting its goods.

AMUSES HIS CUSTOMERS WITH PHONOGRAPH MUSIC.

SHAKESPEARE, KY., Oct. 14, 1903.

Your Suspended List for October 1, 1903, just received, and will do all to keep these dealers from handling your apparatus and hope all others will do the same. I keep one of your Standard Machines running in the store for the amusement of my customers.

J. F. BEDFORD.

[Mr. Bedford conducts a General Store.]

PAYS TO CARRY A FULL LINE.

A Jobber recently related to us an experience he had with a Brooklyn Dealer which will show to many Dealers in Edison Phonographs why they do not make a great success in selling these goods. Like many other Dealers, the Brooklyn man bought a few machines and a small stock of Records. He ordered in a small way from time to time, and finally said to the salesman of the jobbing house: "I do not seem to make much of a success of this business and think that I shall give it up entirely." The salesman replied: "Unless you conduct your business in a different manner than you are doing, I agree with you that it will be better to give it up entirely. Unless you feel able to put in a larger stock and carry a complete line of Records, it is really hardly worth while trying to make much of a success of it." The Dealer asked a number of questions and then agreed to think the matter over. The outcome of the conversation was an order to put in every Record in the entire catalogue and a larger supply of machines. In telling of this Dealer's experience, the Jobber said that the Dealer is now doing one of the best businesses of anyone in the line in Brooklyn. He carries a complete stock at all times, and his customers are sure of finding what they want when they enter the place. This experience is the same as many Dealers throughout the country have had. They buy one, two or three machines and two or three hundred Records, and endeavor with this outfit to carry on a Phonograph business. It is an even chance that when they are asked for a certain Record they do not have it in stock and if they get it at all they are compelled to send to their Jobber some distance away, occasioning a loss of time, or, in many instances, failing to make a sale at all. The successful Dealers in this line to-day are those who carry the entire stock of Records as shown in the catalogue. All Dealers, like the Dealer in Brooklyn, would do well to think this matter over.

GET AFTER THE Y. M. C. A.'S.

In every city of size in the country there is a Young Men's Christian Association. Every such association is constantly devising means of amusement for its members and those who frequent the rooms of its buildings. Every such association, therefore, should be ready to meet a Dealer half way in an effort to sell it a Phonograph and a supply of Records. Of all musical devices that might be placed in a building of this kind, the Phonograph is unquestionably one of the most popular. Its simplicity of operation makes it possible for anyone to operate without injuring it. Our lists of Records includes numbers of airs which are popular among young men. Altogether the Phonograph is an ideal instrument for Young Men's Christian Associations, and every Dealer should make every reasonable effort to sell one to the association in his town.

STOCK UP FOR HOLIDAYS.

Dealers would do well at this time to look over their stock of Phonographs and Records and make up an order so as to have a full supply of both in the holiday season. The experience of past years has been that the demand for Edison goods is greater at the holiday season than at any other time in the year, and Dealers who do not have a large stock on hand fail to get the business. There is no risk whatever in stocking up in this manner, for prices are not to be changed and our goods will be just as saleable in January and February as in December. It will only mean a little more outlay of money in anticipation of business, but it cannot fail to pay in the end.

RETAINED PHONOGRAPH LITERATURE.

Ilsen & Company, Jobbers at Cincinnati, report a similar experience with advertising matter concerning Phonographs distributed at a fair as was written about last month by H. E. Sidles Cycle Company, of Lincoln, Neb. Ilsen & Company made an exhibit at a recent fair in Cincinnati and they state that after the close each night they purposely looked around to see whether or not circulars given out by them had been kept or thrown away. They were able to find very few of them, showing that in nearly every case the recipient of these folders and cards took them away, although the floor was strewn with printed matter of almost every other exhibit.

We have received a supply of Binders for the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and will take pleasure in sending one prepaid to any Jobber or Dealer upon receipt of fifty cents. These Binders are neat in appearance, and are lettered with the name of the publication. They will hold copies for one year.

DOING BUSINESS A PLEASURE.

LACONIA, IOWA, Oct. 10, 1903.

I have just received your October 1st list of Suspended Dealers. It is a pleasure to do business with a firm who makes it possible for the retailer to get full prices.

S. A. RALSTON.

TRADE LITERATURE AND ADVERTISING.

The plan of getting out cards, folders, etc., showing the list of new Records each month is steadily on the increase. In past issues we have given the names of several Jobbers who have done this for some time. We have this month received copies of these lists from R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada; Penn Phonograph Co., Philadelphia, and Grinnell Bros., Detroit, Mich. The folder issued by R. S. Williams & Sons Co. is most attractively printed in red and black ink on coated paper. The front page shows a picture of the two little girls "Looking for the Band," and below the picture the following neat phrase is printed in imitation of handwriting:

"EDISON.

"THESE ARE THE RECORDS THAT ARE MAKING THE TALKING MACHINE THE MOST POPULAR ENTERTAINMENT OF THE TIMES."

The folder of the Penn Phonograph Co. is printed on bright red paper and is a "warm" bit of literature.

Grinnell Bros. sent out their list in the shape of a large mailing card.

Copies of newspapers containing advertisements of Edison goods have been received from the Penn Phonograph Co., Philadelphia; J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., Kansas City, Mo.; the Ray Co., New Orleans; W. J. Devall, Pittsfield, Mass.; R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Toronto, Canada; P. A. Powers, Buffalo, N. Y.; Graves & Co.'s Music Store, Portland, Oregon.

Specimens of advertising literature exploiting Edison goods have been received from McGreal Bros., Milwaukee, Wis.; Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston; George E. Buss, New Philadelphia, Ohio; Newark Phonograph Co., Newark, N. J.; Prospect Phonograph Co., Cambridge, Mass.

EDISON'S LATEST.

P Stands for Phonograph of Edison's make.
H Stands for Him who will no other take.
O Stands for Orders which exceed the supply.
N Stands for Natural Tone of Records you buy.
O Stands for Others of inferior kind.
G Stands for "Gem," not left behind.
R Stands for Records, the best in the land.
A Stands for Artists in Edison Band.
P Stands for People who own a Machine.
H Stands for Happiness there to be seen.

An advertisement used by the Phonograph Exchange, Albert Hall, Commercial Road, Portsmouth, England:

THE PHONOGRAPH'S DESCRIPTION OF ITSELF.

I am the Phonograph, without teeth or tongue,
I am not very old nor yet very young,
Still I sing any song that ever was sung,
And I speak every language under the sun.

You may whistle or sing, you may wail or cry,
And you get it all back in my reply;
Whatever the message you give to me,
Returned again each word will be.

The rush of the river, the ocean's roar,
The surges thundering on the shore,
The cry of man, or beast, or bird,
Or any sound that ever was heard.

If given to me, I give again
In all their force distinct and plain;
And yet I am dead, devoid of breath,
And my silence is like the silence of death.

The land that with wires has girdled the earth
Is the glorious land that gave ME birth,
And I love to warble the musical lays
Of that grand old song of the "Stripes and Stars."

AMONG THE JOBBERS.

The Waco Electric Supply Co., of Waco, Texas, has been succeeded by the Duncan-Hobson Electric Co., who have removed to 225 Elm street, Dallas, Texas, with a branch house at Houston.

The Vim Co., of Chicago, has opened a branch house at 704 West Walnut street, Des Moines, Iowa.

The Ray Co. branch at Atlanta, Ga., has removed to 72 Whitehall street.

NEW STYLE HORN CRANE.

Victor H. Rapke, of 166t Second avenue, New York, in another column, advertises a new style of clamp horn crane for use with horns as large as thirty-six inches and having 20¼ inch bells. Up to the present time it has been necessary to have a stand for horns of this size. The cut in the advertisement shows just how the crane clamps to any talking machine except the smallest styles.

WILL AID HIS OTHER LINES.

524 WEST BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
October 12, 1903.

Since I became a dealer in the goods of the National Phonograph Company about a month ago I have been quite successful in their sale. I see a good future for my other lines through the sale of these goods, for I expect to carry a good stock and to co-operate with you in every respect.

PAUL CAZENAVE.

PERSONAL.

We were very pleasantly surprised to receive a call from E. A. Osborne, senior member of the firm of Osborne & Jerdan, 393 George street, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia. Mr. Osborne expects to spend some time in this country, dividing his time between New York and Philadelphia in the interest of his firm. Osborne & Jerdan are very large dealers in Edison apparatus, and have a fine display of our goods at their store and warerooms. It is a source of great pleasure to meet our foreign friends from time to time, as we are enabled thereby to keep in close touch with them and their interests.

W. E. Gilmore, President of the National Phonograph Company, and Mrs. Gilmore returned on October 6 from a two months' trip to Europe. Mr. Gilmore went abroad to look over the foreign field and make arrangements for the extension of the business in Great Britain and Europe. He and Mrs. Gilmore then made a tour of the Continent. They went over on the Teutonic and returned on the Deutschland.

C. H. Wilson, Manager of Sales of this company, returned October 3 from an extended trip through the West. He visited Jobbers at Syracuse, Buffalo, Toronto, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Omaha, Lincoln, Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Columbus, Canton, Allegheny and Pittsburg.

Visitors from a distance who called at the New York office during the past month were, C. A. Ray, President of the Ray Co., of Louisville, Ky.; E. F. Taft, of the Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston; J. H. Superior, of Montreal; Peter Bedinghuis, of San Francisco, Cal.

PRINTED MATTER.

All orders for Record Catalogues are now being filled from the new edition, Form 490. This Catalogue contains all Records listed to and including October. Jobbers who have already filed with us orders for large quantities of this catalogue are asked to be patient if they do not get the entire quantity at one time. We cannot obtain the entire edition from the printer at once, and shall therefore be compelled to make partial shipments until all Jobbers needing Catalogues have had a supply. The remainder of the orders will be filled as soon as possible thereafter.

Now that the December Advance List has been issued, we shall at once take up the matter of preparing copy for a new Numerical Catalogue to be issued about January 1. This will include all Records, both domestic and foreign, listed to and including December, 1903. It is our present intention to issue this catalogue twice a year hereafter, January 1 and July 1.

The new Machine Catalogue, Form 500, will be ready for the use of the trade early in November. This will be printed upon an entirely new line and will, we think, be one of the most attractive editions issued by this Company. It will be printed in two colors throughout, and besides its novel features, it will show the various types of the Phonograph in a neat attractive way. As soon as a supply is received from the printer, sample copies will be mailed to all Jobbers and Dealers. The principal object in issuing this catalogue in this form is to have a booklet that will be more useful for holiday purposes than an ordinary catalogue would be.

The little blue ticket, Form 351, now being sent out with all Records from our factory shows a transposition of the matter so as to bring the circle at the top of the ticket. This was done in response to a demand that the slip be so changed as to make it easier to cut it off and paste it on top of Record Boxes, and also to bring the title nearer the top of the slip, so that when the Record sets inside of the pegs in a Record Box the title will be more easily read. If the upper part of the ticket is now cut off on the cutting line, it will go on top of the single Record Boxes without any further cutting.

We have received from Fred G. Temme, a printer at Orange, a very attractive mailing card printed in colors after the style of souvenir cards now so popular at sea-side and mountain resorts. The card shows pictures of the Edison Laboratory; of "Glenmont," the home of Thomas A. Edison, and the entrance to Llewellyn Park, in which Mr. Edison's home is situated. If this card should interest any of our trade, Mr. Temme will doubtless be willing to furnish quotations upon it. His address is Orange, N. J.

DIDN'T HAVE "FAMILY TROUBLES."

Daniel R. Weed, Jr., of Matteawan, N. Y., sends the following:

A married lady called at my store a short time ago and asked for some Records. After hearing the ones she called for, she asked me if I wouldn't play some comic ones for her, so that she might get them if they suited. I played different ones for her, and while one of the Records was playing I said to her, "Have you got Family Troubles?" She said, with a surprised look on her face, "No." She thought I was asking about her family affairs instead of the Record of that name.

BUSINESS KEEPS COMING.

"The Phonograph business is one of the best that I have ever had connection with," said an enthusiastic Jobber at our New York office a few weeks ago. "It is one of the few businesses in which the customer nearly always comes back. If I sell a man a piano, he may buy a little sheet music, and that is the end of it. It is also true of other musical instruments. But when I sell him a Phonograph, my business with him is practically only begun. He not only continues to buy Records from the catalogue, but he becomes a monthly customer when each new lot of Records appears. Then again, every machine and every lot of Records that is sold is an advertisement of the business, and is constantly bringing in new customers. In fact, it is a business that is constantly advertising itself."

This is practically the situation in connection with the sale of Phonographs and Records. It is worth while making an unusual effort to sell a few to get started. A start of this kind once made, the business practically grows without effort. A Dealer that has only one Phonograph and a few Records in his store has at his command a means of advertising, not only the Phonograph line but also his own business that cannot be had in any other line of goods.

PHONOGRAPH MUSIC FOR A WEDDING.

S. B. Davega, a Jobber at 32 East 14th street, New York, recently furnished Phonograph music for a wedding in 121st street. He sent a man with a machine and a specially selected lot of Records to the home of the bride. The guests were entertained before and after the ceremony with various selections and the Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the bridal party entered the parlor. This use of the Phonograph was sought by those in charge of the wedding in preference to an orchestra. Mr. Davega frequently supplies Phonograph music for social gatherings and entertainments, but this was his first experience in supplanting the orchestra or pianist at a wedding.

SEEN RISE AND FALL OF MANY IMITATIONS.

STOCKTON, CAL., October 15, 1903.
The Suspended List, October 1, 1903, and October EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY received this day. I am now entering the tenth year of handling Edison Phonographs and Records exclusively, and during that period I have seen the rise and fall of many imitations making a path for their superior—Edison Phonograph and Records. You may always depend on me for hearty co-operation.

H. W. MOSHER.

COMMENTS ON DECEMBER RECORDS.

The twenty-five new Edison Gold Moulded Records, which the National Phonograph Company has prepared as an offering for the holiday season, are beyond question the best lot of Records ever issued in one month for use on the Edison Phonograph. No similar list before issued represents so much expenditure of time and money as does that for December. The titles throughout are of the most popular character and most of them include new and novel features, besides being rendered in a manner which shows clearly the progress being made at the Edison Laboratory each month in making Records. Anyone hearing the entire list will realize that no expense is being spared to maintain the reputation of Edison Records as the best of their kind. Now that others have abandoned the competition with us, we purpose demonstrating more positively than ever that Edison Gold Moulded Records are in a class by themselves. This December list of new Records shows marked improvement over those of previous months and each succeeding month will be equally better. This list shows a greater number of singing Records than usual and will probably be more popular on that account, especially since the titles are for the most part songs that have been approved by the public throughout the country and have been made into Records in the most perfect manner. Owners of the Edison Phonograph make no mistake if they buy this entire list.

Perhaps the most notable of these new Records is No. 8556, "The Last Farewell." Unless all plans miscarry, this Record will be one of great popularity. In February last Robert Gran, Manager of Adelina Patti's farewell tour in this country, wrote to Charles K. Harris, the celebrated song writer, stating that it was his desire, and also of his associates, that in her farewell tour Madame Patti should sing a distinctively American ballad as an encore, the ballad being written by a representative composer of American music. Mr. Gran asked Mr. Harris to write such a song, stipulating that Mr. Harris should continue his efforts until he had written one that Madame Patti should approve. Mr. Harris wrote this selection, "The Last Farewell." It is a ballad of the "Home Sweet Home" order, and is one of Mr. Harris' best efforts. It was sent to Madame Patti and her acceptance was received by cablegram. She has agreed to sing it at her opening concert to be given in New York City on November 2d. Scarcely a doubt exists that she will do it. If she does, the popularity of the song is assured, and it will in a short time become one of the most talked of songs of the day. Even if it did not have such an introduction to the public car as will be given it by Madame Patti, it would still become a song of wide fame because of its real merit. The Edison Record made of the song is by Francklyn Wallace and he has sung it in the most careful manner, making a Record of recognized superiority. It will be strange indeed if the demand for it does not exceed that of any Edison Record yet made.

Another novelty is No. 8552, "I'm Going to Leave," a coon male duet by Collins and Harlan with banjo accompaniment by Vess L. Ossman. The latter is a star performer and to get him to play a banjo accompaniment of this character is something unusual in Record making. "I'm Going to Leave "was written by Walter Wilson, and it is a coon song of a most attractive character, the air being especially pleasing. Collins and Harlan have sung it in excellent style.

Another title which represents unusual difficulties in the way of Record making is No. 8571, "Keep on Shining Silv'ry Moon," which included a solo, a chorus by the Edison Quartette and an orchestra accompaniment. The words of this song are by Arthur J. Lamb and the music by Ben M. Jerome. The music is pretty and the Record thoroughout is played in a striking manner.

Two songs that are being sung by Lillian Russell in Weber and Fields' "Whoop-De-Doo" are given in No. 8551 and No. 8572. The first of these two is "The Flowers of Dixie Land." This is quite the hit of this musical comedy. It goes without saying that the air is a pleasing one, for Miss Russell will sing nothing else. It is sung for this Record by Francklyn Wallace, whose voice is especially well adapted for it. Miss Russell's other selection, No. 8572, "A Maid of Timbuctoo," is sung by Harry MacDonough. This song is quite unlike any song Miss Russell has sung for some time, and many persons will like the air quite as well as that of the other selection just named.

No. 8569 is another Record which requires unusual care and attention in the making of the Master. It is the "Two Comrades Polka," a cornet duet by John Hazel and Frank T. Seltzer, accompanied by the Edison Military Band. This composition is by J. S. Scott. It has a delightful air, is played in a masterful manner by Messrs. Hazel and Seltzer, and the band accompaniment is an attractive feature.

"The Miller's Daughter," which is the most popular song in the "Three Little Maids," and which was listed last month as an orchestra selection, is given in No. 8568 as a song by Harry MacDonough, with orchestra accompaniment. We can say nothing more in praise of this charming ballad than was said last month. Mr. MacDonough's fine voice and clear articulation makes of the song an unusually attractive Record. The orchestra accompaniment is also a pleasing feature. No. 8568, "The Girl You Love," is another song from "Three Little Maids." This is also sung by Mr. MacDonough, and it has an orchestra accompaniment. Paul A. Rubens wrote the words and music of both of these songs.

No. 8555 "Tell Me That Beautiful Story," a sentimental tenor and baritone duet by Andrew Schneider and Francklyn Wallace, introduces to the Edison clientelle a new Record maker in Mr. Schneider. He has a cultivated baritone voice and is a prominent concert singer. The Record of this duet is very fine and cannot fail to please. The words of the song were written by Arthur J. Lamb and the music is by Albert Von Tilzer.

The Edison Military Band has two selections in the December List Nos. 8549 and 8573. The first is "Southern Smiles March," written by E. Harry Kelley, the composer of "Peaceful Henry." It is published by the J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Company, of Kansas City, Mo., and has been cordially received wherever played. Many musical organizations of the country have made it part of their daily programmes. The Record by the Edison Military Band does the selection full justice. The other Record by the Edison Military Band, No. 8573, is "Any Rags Medley." It introduces that clever composition "Any Rags" and also "My Little Coney Isle," "Down on the Farm" and "Pretty Little Dinah Jones." The Record closing with the chorus of "Any Rags."

In No. 8559, "Bedelia," an Irish coon serenade, Billy Murray has broken away from the singing of coon songs in which he has found many admirers among the users of Edison Records. This song has made a big hit throughout the country. Mr. Murray's rendition of it is even better than his coon Records. The words and music of the song are by Jerome and Schwartz. Mr. Murray also has a coon song in No. 8561, "Up in the Cocoanut Tree." The words are by Edward Madden and the music by Theodore Morse. The song tells of the love of a Nigrunzee, the king of the cocoanut tree. The piano accompaniment of this Record is quite a feature. This song is a big seller in the music stores, and we anticipate that Records will sell equally well.

"Trixie," the title of No. 8552, is another song that is having a big sale throughout the country. It is a serio-comic song of a coon character and is sung effectively by Will F. Denny. Andrew D. Sterling composed the words of this song and Harry Von Tilzer the music.

No. 8551, "Soko," a Moorish march-intermezzo, by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, is an air that reminds one of "Anona." It is equally well rendered and extremely pleasing in every respect.

No. 8557, "Scene in a Country Blacksmith's Shop," is perhaps one of the best of the "Rube" singing and talking male duets yet made by Harlan and Stanley. The dialogue is especially clear, the humor excellent, violin music is introduced and the Record closes with the sineing of "Nellie Bly." Those who have been pleased with these "Rube" Records of the past cannot fail to like this one.

Arthur Collins has so long been making Records of coon songs that it seems quite difficult to imagine him as making any other kind. Yet in No. 8558, "That's How I Love You, Mame," he has made a superior Record of this well known Bowery love song. The song tells of the Bowery tough's adoration of his "Mame," and Mr. Collins has only put enough of the dialect into it to carry out the idea of the composer. In spite of the title, the song is quite sentimental. It was written by Vincent Bryan and the music is by J. B. Mullen.

No. 8562, "North and South Medley," is another Record by the U. S. Marine Fife and Drum Corps. It introduces "Marching Through Georgia," "Dixie," and the bugle work is excellent.

Harry Von Tilzer, the well known song writer, has been most successful in his adaptation of the names of old songs for new compositions. No. 8561, "Down Where the Swanee River Flows," is an especially good example of this success. It is a descriptive song and is rendered with orchestra accompaniment by Byron G. Harlan. This song has become very popular in the music stores. It has a very pleasing air and Mr. Harlan sings it in good style.

"Peaceful Henry," the title of No. 8562, is a characteristic march and two-step played by the Edison Concert Band. It was composed by E. Harry Kelly and has already achieved great musical success. It will certainly, however, leave a vogue for a long time and he one of the airs always played for dance music,—one of those airs that dancers always ask for. The Record as made by the Edison Concert Band could hardly be better.

It is seldom that we are able to offer a better male duet than is given in No. 8563, "Won't You Write a Letter, Papa." It is sung by Harlan and Stanley and is very pleasing. The song tells of a child's request to her papa to write a letter to the angels asking them to send her mamma back to her. The music is quite in accord with the song and the Record is bound to sell. The words and music of it are by Thomas J. Hughes and Charles Miller.

In No. 8565 Harry MacDonough gives an excellent Record of "Sammy," the serio-comic song from the "Wizard of Oz." Mr. MacDonough's distinct articulation is especially good in songs of this character.

No. 8566, "Maid of Love," by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, is a Record that will especially appeal to those who are fond of fine musical compositions. It has a soft, pleasing melody. It introduces the singing of birds, good violin music and the playing of bells. It is altogether a delightful Record.

In No. 8567, Collins and Harlan present in "Moriarity" a comic Irish male duet. This tells in verse of the glorious times done by Moriarity and reminds one of the fame of Dooley. The air is good and the Record is made in the usual excellent style of these two artists. The words of the song are by Charles Horwits and the music by Fred T. Bowers.

No. 8570, "I'm Longing for You, Sweetheart, Day by Day," is a sentimental song rendered by Francklyn Wallace. The success of this song in sheet music form cannot fail to make a demand for it in Edison Records, and those who buy it will not be disappointed in Mr. Wallace's rendition of the air. The words of the song are by H. Wakefield Smith and the music by James W. Casey.

SUPERFLUOUS.

Duffer—You ought to buy a talking machine. There's nothing like one to keep a fellow home nights.

Suffer—Buy one? I married one. That's what keeps me out.

"A LITTLE TALK ABOUT A TALKING MACHINE."

It is seldom that Dealers get out more attractive advertising literature than the booklet sent us by the Bergen Empire Athletic Goods Co., of 5603 Third avenue, Brooklyn. It is a booklet of eight pages and cover, the whole of a size small enough to go in an ordinary business envelope. The cover is of gray paper, printed in red and white inks, and it overhangs the inside pages on three sides. The first page bears the above title. The inside pages are of antique paper and are attached to the cover with red silk cord. The argument on the merits of Edison Phonographs and Records is so good that we take pleasure in quoting part of it:

The Edison Phonograph of to-day is acknowledged on all sides to be the leading talking machine and this recognition is the result of pure merit.

In all the points that make for leadership in talking machines, such as ease in handling, simplicity, durability, style, or the ability to faithfully record and reproduce sounds, the Edison is far and away ahead of its rivals.

There is no other form of amusement for the home that is at once so satisfactory, so easily controlled or that offers such a vast range of subjects as does the Edison Phonograph.

It brings to you all that is best in music, both vocal and instrumental, rendered by leading artists of the day.

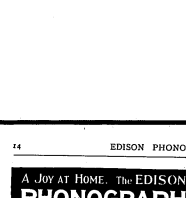
The musical selections run from the best productions of the leading old masters of music to the big hit of the current comic opera or the popular song of the day.

It is no exaggeration to say, that the residium of these pieces is often far above the best efforts of some of our leading orchestras and bands.

The leading hits in the way of the latest popular songs are all listed in the Phonograph catalogue and there are also many of the good old favorites that never wear out. The vocalists who sing these songs for the Phonograph generally confine themselves to one sort of song, as for instance, comic, coon, sacred, or sentimental, and the result is the songs are sung in such a way as to bring out the best in the selection.

The talking Records are pretty hard to beat in the way of real humor and are often as funny as a whole farce.

Persons often desire to make a Record themselves. With the Edison Phonograph this is easily done—a simple change in the mechanism makes the machine ready for use.



Considered in the way of an investment, the Edison Phonograph is as good as a bank account. It is something that is always ready to amuse you and it cannot become tired. You will never grow weary of it on account of the always growing number and variety of Records. It will give unending instruction and amusement. It will brighten many a dull hour and make time pass more pleasantly.

Then follows a reference to the plan of the company in selling Phonographs on instalments.

A JOY AT HOME. The EDISON

PHONOGRAPH

NONE GENUINE WITHOUT THIS TRADE MARK Thomas A. Edison

Of all devices for producing music in the home no one questions the infinite superiority of the Phonograph, who knows it as it is to-day: clear, sweet-toned and free from all mechanical noises.

It is not one instrument, but all instruments in solo or orchestra; with the perfect instrument, the human voice, included.

Many people are prejudiced by hearing imitation machines or obsolete styles, and do not realize that Mr. Edison's recent improvements have made the Phonograph delightful even to the most critical trained musician.

It is a musical educator and general entertainer in one.

The nearest dealer will gladly let you hear the Phonograph in its perfection. Five thousand stores sell Phonographs.

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.,
Orange, N. J.

NEW YORK 83 Chambers St. · CHICAGO 304 Wabash Ave. · SAN FRANCISCO 933 Market St.
EUROPE: ANTWERP, BELGIUM, 32 Rempart Sûd Avenue.

"A JOY AT HOME."

The use of half page copy makes it possible to present a longer argument than usual in the November advertising of this Company. It also introduces a somewhat new style of illustration. So charming a child as here shown could not be otherwise than "A Joy at Home"; a phrase that applies equally well to the Phonograph. The mediums used in November were:

Argosy, Atlantic, Bookman, Colliers', Century, Craftsman, Current Literature, Everybody's, Four Track, Harper's Monthly, Independent, Life, Lippincott's, McClure's, Munsey's, Metropolitan, Musical Record & Review, National Magazine, Outdoor Life, Outlook, Pearson's, Review of Reviews, Saturday Evening Post, St. Nicholas, Strand, Success, Scribner's, Smart Set, Town Topics, World's Work.

Are you letting the people of your city or town know that you carry Edison Phonographs and Records?

A DEALER'S COMPARISON OF TWO KINDS OF RECORDS.

A Kansas Dealer, whose name will be furnished to any Dealer upon request, sends the following under date of October 17:

Well, here I come again. I have had some experience in buying some of the latest new Moulded Records, Cut Price twenty-five cents each. These records were advertised equal to any other records made. Well, some of the owners of talking machines here wanted to try them. I sent an order for three dozen of the latest and marked my first and second choice. I got about five first choice, the balance second and a few others that were rather back numbers.

I was eager to see the new moulded extra loud records that could be sold for twenty-five cents each. Some of my customers wanted a fifty-cent record for twenty-five cents and did not care whether it was an Edison or some other make. I opened the box, examined each record, and, to tell the truth, I could not tell the difference between them and the late new Moulded Edison Records by their looks. Their color was black like Edison Records; the impressions were sharply cut like Edison Records, and they were as nice looking as the genuine Edison Records. But when the test came—what a difference between them and the latest Edison Records! They were loud enough, and that was all. They were run the same rate of speed as Edison Records, but the songs by quartettes and minstrels were so mingled up and run together that the words were not plainly understood. If the song was accompanied by orchestra the music drowned the words. And talk about orchestra and band; they simply are not in it with Edison Records. Put on a new Moulded Edison Record; start the Phonograph and it don't make any difference whether it is a Band, Orchestra, Banjo,

Cornet, or other musical instrument; it is reproduced with that clear, sweet, natural musical tone that is free from blast and that noisy, scratching sound so often found in the inferior class of records. Put on a song Record, and whether it be a solo, duet or quartette, and you will hear the song faithfully reproduced without that awful scratch to mar the beauty of sound. It is only when the song is finished that you realize the fact that you have only been listening to an Edison Record reproduced on an Edison Phonograph.

Well, to make a long story short, when my customers heard the new twenty-five cent records they said that they would rather pay fifty cents and get Records that everybody liked. They did not consider that there was any comparison. Edison Records were the only ones that gave satisfaction. I might have sold them twenty-five cent records if they had heard them first, but after hearing the new Edison Records, they concluded that they would pay the Edison price and get the best. I can conscientiously and knowingly say to all intending purchasers of Records that when you send an order for twenty-five cent records, don't expect to get a Record as good as the genuine fifty-cent Edison. If you do, you will certainly be disappointed.

BEST SELLING RECORDS.

Of the twenty-five new Records listed for October, the ten most demanded by the public were the following:

8509 It Was the Dutch. ....Collins and Harlan
8511 Waiting for the Dinner Horn to Blow.....Harlan and Stanley
8501 Always in the Way.....Harlan
8504 The Laughing Medley.....Invincible Quartette
8519 The Crowd on McNally's Back Stoop.....Collins and Harlan
8522 My Cosey Corner Girl.....MacDonough
8500 American Standard March.....Edison Military Band
8517 Down on the Farm.....Wallace
8503 Praise Ye, from "Attila".....Metropolitan Trio
8515 Good Bye, Eliza Jane.....Collins

The twenty best selling Records for the month of September from the entire Catalogue, exclusive of October, were the following:

8247 Hiawatha.....Band
8473 Santiago Waltz (Xylophone).....Hopkins
8474 Aeona.....Band
8495 Hiawatha.....MacDonough
8468 There's a Mother Always Waiting.....Harlan and Stanley
2018 Holy City.....MacDonough
19 Under the Double Eagle March.....Band
8396 Blaze Away March.....Band
8499 In the Valley Where the Bluebirds Sing.....Harlan
8256 O That We Two Were Maying.....Morgan and Stanley
8295 Marriage Bells.....Ruhsam
8272 Refrain.....Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette
8475 Parody on Hiawatha. Collins and Harlan
8435 'Deed I Do.....Morgan and Stanley
8480 When We Were Boys.....Harlan and Stanley
4 American Republic March.....Band
8260 Tell Me Pretty Maiden..Edison Sextette
527 Echoes of the Forest.....Orchestra
621 Stars and Stripes Forever March.....Orchestra

LANGUAGE TEACHING BY PHONOGRAPH

The following letter explains itself:

INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS,
Scranton, Pa.

GENTLEMEN—Your system of teaching languages is certainly all that could be desired by any one wishing a practical knowledge of a foreign language. I have nearly completed the French Course, and from the first the study has been a source of pleasure and recreation; results have been better than I expected. I have no difficulty whatever in making myself understood when speaking with French people, which makes me satisfied with the pronunciation and colloquial style acquired. The old joke about the unintelligible French spoken by an American will not apply to a student of your school who gives the course a careful study. Respectfully,

A. N. EAST.

September 6, 1903.

Mr. East is General Freight and Passenger Agent, Illinois Southern Railway Co. He is only one of many thousands who have easily learned French, German, or Spanish, at their homes, in perfect ease, by the I. C. S. Language System with the Edison Phonograph.

TO DETERMINE A SPEED OF 160 REVOLUTIONS.

J. S. Hooven, of the Hooven Novelty Mfg. Co., Hazelton, Pa., sends the following:

"Here is something that may be of interest to the PHONOGRAM MONTHLY. How do you determine that a Phonograph is running 160 revolutions per minute? We found that it was a difficult job to count each revolution at that speed but by running very slow we could count them, so we ran it 160 turns, then we measured the distance the arm had traveled and found it to be 1 39-64 inches.

"Now here is our rule. Cut a small strip of cardboard exactly 1 39-64 inches in length, start your Phonograph with the arm against the frame, let it run one minute and see if the cardboard gauge fits exactly between the space it traveled. It is then easy to determine whether it should be speeded faster or slower and with a few trials you can get it exact."

MUCH PLEASED WITH THE GOODS.

FLOWERVILLE, MICH., Oct. 5, 1903.

Your September list of Suspended Dealers at hand. I am glad to note you give Dealers a list of those who you do not want to get your goods, as they have gone against your orders. I am very much pleased with the goods I have received and shall do my part to help increase the sales of the same.

Hoping to be kept in touch with the Phonograph world, I am

A. M. WETTON.

THAT 8-FOOT ADVERTISING HORN.

The Utica Electric and Phonograph Supply House, Utica, N. Y., is meeting with much success in selling its eight-foot advertising horn. The following letter is one of those this company is constantly receiving concerning this horn:

WELLSBORO, PA., Oct. 5, 1903.

Utica Electric and Phonograph Supply House, 12 Pearl St., Utica, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—I received the horn and attachments October 3. Have not had it put up outside yet, but have tried it inside of building and am well satisfied with the results. It is more natural than any horn I have ever tried, and I have used them all, both metal and fibre and all sizes.

J. H. SMITH.

"COMMENTS" SELL RECORDS.

RENOVO, PA., Oct. 13, 1903.

I have received from you postal referring to an inquiry for Phonographs and Supplies and have forwarded letter, etc. Permit me to extend my thanks for your treatment. I consider that the system you are pursuing towards the retailer is better than that we receive from competing companies in the Talking Machine business. I have been the recipient of your various circulars, relating to price cutters.

I consider your MONTHLY superior to the PHONOGRAM which it succeeds. The department explanatory of new Records for current month is, to my mind, worth the price of the paper, and would suggest that if possible a circular be forwarded for distribution to customers. It would be good profitable advertising. My experience has been that upon showing the copy of the MONTHLY to my customers the explanation relating to new Records has been the means of selling Records and enabling a customer to make an intelligent selection.

W. M. EISENBREIN.

AN ADVERTISING IDEA.

LOWELL, MASS., October 9, 1903.

I beg to submit the following as an advertising idea:

BUY THE BEST,
EDISON RECORDS
HAVE STOOD THE TEST.

I have had a large sign made of the above. I think the jingle is catchy, and what is more it is the truth.

THOMAS WARDELL.

SUSPENDED LIST, NOVEMBER 1, 1903.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

KANSAS.

LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
*E. O. MOSHER, 420 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—I. B. DeWOLFF.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 58 N. Main st.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
HOBART—P. H. MARSHALL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
R. L. CORWIN, also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOVENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 207 Broadway, also Philadelphia, Pa.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
RICHARD, PEASE, 44 W. 132d st.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 42 Broad street.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
URBICHSVILLE—P. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2763 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

*Added since last Suspended List was issued October 1, 1903.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus.

DEAL DIRECT AND SAVE AGENT'S COMMISSION. WE HAVE NO AGENTS.

LARGEST AND MOST THOROUGHLY EQUIPPED HOUSE IN THIS COUNTRY,

DEALING EXCLUSIVELY IN

Talking Machines and General Supplies.

All goods guaranteed to be as represented or money refunded.

$5.10 Worth Supplies for $1.00

We will ship you PREPAID the following goods if you are a dealer in Talking Machines (one outfit only):

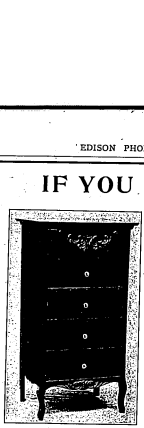
1 Hearing Tube, (unassembled,) 3 Cross Heads, 10 Gaskets, 3 Mica Discs, 3 New Shape Rubbers, 3 Oil Cans, 1 Needle Box, 10 Rubber Nails, 6 Belts, 3 Q Governor Springs. These are figured at list price.

If you do not care to accept the above offer, send us your address and we will mail you our new price list just out.

We wish to impress upon the trade that there is no Petit except A. O. Petit connected with this house and he does not travel.

TERMS CASH WITH ORDER UNLESS REFERENCES GIVEN.

We Meet All Prices



Open Wednesday and Saturday Evenings.

THE EDISONIA CO
CORNER NEW & HALSEY STS. OPP. P.R.R. DEPOT
Newark, N. J., U. S. A.
A. O. PETIT, President and Treasurer

WE HAVE NO AGENTS. DEAL DIRECT AND SAVE AGENT'S COMMISSION.

IF YOU ARE SURE

of quick delivery of goods from your jobber you can greatly increase your business with less capital because you can turn your money quicker. A large and complete stock makes it possible for us to do this.

Let Us Demonstrate It to You.

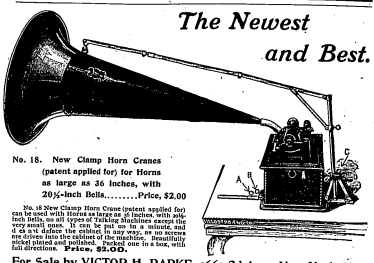
Supplies a Specialty

Write for special prices on Horns.

100 PEG RECORD CABINETS.

These can be supplied in Green to match Edison Machine Cabinets or in Brown.

Try Our Professional Recording and Reproducing Horns.



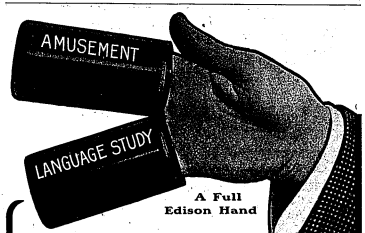
BETTINI PHONOGRAPH CO.

80 CHAMBERS STREET,

NEW YORK.

100 Peg Golden Oak Cabinet, $7.75.
100 Peg Figured Oak Cabinet, $8.50.

The Newest and Best.



No. 18. New Clamp Horn Cranes (patent applied for) for Horns as large as 36 inches, with 20¼-inch Bells.....Price, $2.00

No. 18 New Clamp Horn Crane (patent applied for) can be used with Horns as large as 36 inches, with adjustable Bells, on all Edison Talking Machines except the very small ones. It can be attached in a minute, and does not deface the cabinet in any way. Simply screw one screw into the cabinet of the machine. Beautifully nickel plated and polished. Packed one in a box, with full directions. Price, $2.00.

For Sale by VICTOR H. RAPKE, 1661 2d Ave., New York City.

Liberal Discounts to Jobbers and Dealers.

A Full Edison Hand

Double Service

FOR EVERY PHONOGRAPH

THOUSANDS of Phonographs are doing "double service" since the introduction of I. C. S. Language Outfits by the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa. Mr. Dealer, are you familiar with these Language Outfits prepared and protected for the Edison trade? If not, you should send for sample records and full particulars to your jobber at once and be able to solicit for them.

SAMPLE LANGUAGE LESSONS AT COST

Regular French, German, and Spanish Lessons are offered to the Trade as samples. They are put up in sets containing three (3) Molded Conversational Records and three (3) 40-page Textbooks, complete with full directions for demonstrating.

The following Jobbers of I. C. S. Outfits will supply these sample sets at $1.50 net, expressage prepaid to any part of the United States or Canada:

PORTLAND, ME., W. H. Rue & Son.
LOWELL, MASS., Thomas Wardell.
BOSTON, MASS., J. C. Haynes & Co.
" " Boston Cycle & Sundry Co.
" " Eastern Talking Machine Co.
NEW HAVEN, CONN., Parker-Blakeslee Co.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Muesey, Blanchard, Young & Co.
KINGSTON, N. Y., Fenwick & Davis.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., W. D. Andrews.
NEW YORK CITY, Blackman Talking Machine Co.
" " " I. Davega, Jr.
" " " Leeds & Co.
" " " Jesse Musie Box Co.
NEWARK, N. J., The Edisonia Co.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Wells Phonograph Co.
EASTON, PA., William Werner.
BUFFALO, N. Y., F. A. Powers.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Talking Machine Co.
COLUMBUS, OHIO, Perry B. Whitsel Co.
DAYTON, OHIO, Bickham & Dobes.
CHICAGO, ILL., O. Jaeger.
" " Jones & Lewis.
MILWAUKEE, WIS., McGreal Bros.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Thos. C. Hough.
OMAHA, NEB., Nebraska Cycle Co.
KANSAS CITY, MO., J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co.
ST. LOUIS, MO., The Conroy Co.
TORONTO, CAN., R. S. Williams & Sons Co.
NINETEEN STORES, The Ray Co.

SILK FINISH HORNS

They are as the name implies

"FINE AS SILK."

Bells of Brass. Bodies of Steel.
Outside Covered with Black Silky Cloth.
Inside Japanned.
No Counter Vibration. No Rattle.
All Absorbed by Cloth Covering.

Don't be deceived, but get the best made.
Write for information and prices on the

Most Popular Horn Produced

Dealers write for Discounts and Sample.
Direct all communications to Lafayette House.

Send to us also for the famous book,

Uncle Josh Weathersby's Punkin Centre Stories,

IN BOOK FORM, WRITTEN BY MR. CAL. STEWART.

PRICE, $1.00.

WAHL-CAASCH CO.,

(INCORPORATED)

Jobbers of Phonograph Supplies,

CINCINNATI, 47 W. 5th Street.
LAFAYETTE, 304 Main Street.
INDIANAPOLIS, 199 S. Illinois Street, (Grand Hotel Block)

New England Dealers in Edison Goods

CAN BUT APPRECIATE

That to have their orders filled promptly and fully is an advantage in almost any line of business, but in none more so than the Talking Machine business.

COMPETITION IS KEEN, and a customer kept waiting, is at best a dissatisfied one and often a customer lost.

A PROGRESSIVE HOUSE handling one line of goods exclusively can give better service in that line than a house that considers the line a side issue and gives it only a part of their time and attention.

CONCENTRATION OF TIME and thought and progressiveness brings success. Contact with success breeds success.

THERE IS A MORAL TO IT ALL.

It's this. Send us your orders for

Edison Phonographs, Records and Supplies, and they will be filled promptly and fully the day we receive them, enabling you in turn to give your customers prompt and satisfactory service, which is the key to successful business building.

We are exclusive New England Distributers of several specialties for Talking Machines, about which we shall tell you in the December issue of the MONTHLY. If you can't wait write us for particulars now.

THE EASTERN TALKING MACHINE CO.

Distributers Exclusively of Everything for Talking Machines.

177 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

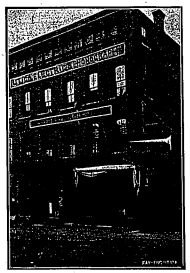
Uncle Josh Weathersby's "Punkin Centre" Stories

IN BOOK-FORM.

WRITTEN BY MR. CAL STEWART.

200 PAGES OF FUN AND LAUGHTER

Contains all his humorous sketches as told by him in the various makes of talking machine records, together with several new stories and poems. The book is handsomely bound with illuminated cover. EACH STORY IS ILLUSTRATED, depicting the most laughable incidents in the sketch.



PRICE, $1.00.

Liberal Discounts to Jobbers and Dealers. Write for Quotations.

PENN PHONOGRAPH CO.

Distributors to the Talking Machine Trade

19 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THIS IS THE 8 FOOT HORN

LOOK FOR IT IN THE

JULY ISSUE

OF THE EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY

THE BEST WAY TO ADVERTISE

WRITE FOR PRICES

Utica Electric and Phonograph Supply House

EDWIN A. BATCHELOR

12 PEARL ST., UTICA, N. Y.

CYLINDER RECORD CABINETS

made with the practical knowledge of what a Cylinder Record Cabinet ought to be. We illustrate two popular leaders—and there are others.

No. 2.

No. 2. Height 37 inches, width 19 inches, depth 18½ inches; five drawers with stops, 180 pins, Mahogany veneered front and top, birch imitation sides, false back, piano finish..... 22.50

No. 3. Height 37 inches, width 19 inches, depth 20 inches; five drawers with stops, 180 pins, quartered oak front, back, both sides and top, piano finish . . 28.00

No. 3.

Dealers will find it profitable to write for special discounts. These cabinets are made in the most reliable manner—in the best standard of furniture making.

AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH COMPANY

106 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., U. S. A.

ALLEN'S JAPANESE LACQUERED HORN

BLACK OUTSIDE RED INSIDE

HIGHEST JAPANESE ART

IMPORTED Weight 28 ozs. 30 inches long 15 inch Bell

PRICE - - TEN DOLLARS.

Peter Bacigalupi, Sole Agent U. S. A.

933 MARKET STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.

THIS IS AN IDEAL HORN, MADE AFTER YEARS OF EXPERIMENTING BY A CONNOISSEUR. DOES AWAY WITH ALL THE METALLIC SOUNDS FOUND IN OTHER HORNS.

The C. W. H. Handbook of the Phonograph

—AND—

Instructions for Making Records.

BY C. W. NOYES.

Every Owner of a talking machine should have a copy of this valuable book. It is replete with Instructions for the Care and Use of the Phonograph, and the chapters devoted to RECORD MAKING are compiled from the author's many years of experience in some of the principa laboratories of this country.

Any one possessed of ordinary intelligence can make a perfect record if the directions are followed.

Fully Illustrated—Handsomely Bound.

PAPER, 25 CENTS.
CLOTH, 50 CENTS.

Mailed Postpaid on Receipt of Price.

For Sale by All Jobbers, or

ILSEN & COMPANY, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEALERS WRITE FOR DISCOUNTS.

A CARD TO THE TRADE
JOBBERS AND DEALERS

Interested in giving their customers best results are invited to write us for quotations on

DOUGLAS

Mega (Paper) Horns and Record Cabinets

The Horn that Made us Famous.

Superior to any metal horn made in purity, volume and absence of metallic tones. GREAT AIDS TO THE SALE OF PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

"MEGA" List $7.50
Length 32 inches; Width 24 inches.
"MEGA JR." List $2.25
Length 24 inches; Width 15 inches.
MEGA RECORDING HORN, List $1.50
Length 24 inches; Width 6½ inches.

Look for the Trade Mark
"PHONO-MEGA."

Attractive and Substantial.

Superior to any Line in the Market,

STRONGLY MADE.

BEAUTIFULLY FINISHED.

100 Peg Polished Oak,	List	$12.00
125 " " "	"	14.00
125 " Quartered Oak,	"	15.50
180 " " "	"	18.00

Prices Restricted.

WRITE FOR SPECIAL LEAFLETS AND NET PRICES.

DOUGLAS & CO.,

89 Chambers Street, 71 Reade Street,

NEW YORK.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. 1. NEW YORK, DECEMBER, 1903. No. 10

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 31 KEMPART SAINT GEORGES.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

The Record Situation	1
Advance List of Edison Gold Moulded Records for January	2
Always Protecting	3
A Story Without a Moral	3
No More Advertising in EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY	4
Phonograph Holds the Secret of the Mojaves	4
The I. C. S. Language Courses	5
And Better Lists To Come	5
Printed Matter	6
Among Jobbers	6
Partial Shipments	6
Cheap Plan for Carrying a Stock of Records	7
Phonograph Art Calendar	7
Trade Advertisements and Novelties	8
Dealers' Comments in Brief	8
Made Here and Heard in Germany	9
Record Shipments	9
Personal	9
Dealers Suspended in November	9
Comments on January Records	10
I. C. S. Language Outfit Requires No Initial Quantity	11
December Advertising	12
Suspended List, December 1, 1903	13
Jobbers of Edison Phonographs and Records	16

THE RECORD SITUATION.

Every day makes it clearer that there are now two classes of cylindrical records—the Edison Gold Moulded and the "steen cent" kind. We believe that there is a large market for both and that neither will interfere with the other. There are a large number of persons who will buy nothing unless it is cheap. Quality is of little consideration. So it will be with records for talking machines. As long as the record has on it the music they want it is all that is necessary.

On the other hand there is a larger number of lovers of music with discriminating powers who will buy nothing but the best to be had. To them quality comes first. If a record pleases them its price is not considered. A good record is a constant pleasure; a poor one, an abomination.

From the latter class the National Phonograph Co. is getting the largest business in its history—a business that now exceeds its factory capacity and that threatens to exceed even the extensive enlargements now under way and planned for the future.

Dollar watches are made in large numbers but their sale and use never affected the marketing of better goods. More high grade watches are sold to-day than at any time in the history of the world. Hundred dollar typewriters increase in number daily, and yet many cheaper machines are to be had.

So with the Edison Gold Moulded Record. Made by the best process ever invented for the purpose, a process used by no other manufacturer, and one that insures the best possible quality and most uniform results; made by the leading record making people of the world and under the direction of men who have devoted most of their lives to a study of the art; upheld in price by the fairest system of its kind ever devised in the business world, the Edison Gold Moulded Record will continue in its successful career, with the admiration of the buyer and the respect of the Dealer.

THE ADVANCE LIST OF JANUARY RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR JANUARY, 1904.

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near January 1st, 1904, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to December 15th, will be shipped.

January Supplements will bear the date of January 1st, and will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records.

Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8574 Bedelia Medley — Edison Military Band
Introducing "The Maid of Timbuctoo," "By the Sycamore Tree," and "Keep on A Shining Silv'ry Moon"

8575 Under the Anheuser Bush — Billy Murray
By the composer of "Down Where the Wurzburger Flows," waltz song with orchestra accompaniment

8576 Keep off the Grass — Vess L. Ossman
Banjo with orchestra accompaniment

8577 Nobody's Looking but the Owl and the Moon — Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley
Contralto and basso duet

8578 The Rooster Dance — Edison Symphony Orchestra
Characteristic selection from "The Runaways"

8579 Peggy Brady — Harry MacDonough
Waltz song from "The Isle of Spice" with orchestra accompaniment

8580 Hickory Bill — Talking and banjo Len Spencer and Parke Turner

8581 My Dixie Lou — Arthur Collins
Coon love song with orchestra accompaniment

8582 The Last Rose of Summer — Cornet Bohumir Kryl

8583 Like a Star that Falls from Heaven — Francklyn Wallace
Descriptive song

8584 Dixie Girl — Characteristic march and two-step Edison Concert Band

8585 An Evening Call in Jayville Center — Harlan and Stanley
Comic Rube singing and talking male duet

8586 Uncle Sammy March — J. Frank Hopkins
Xylophone with orchestra accompaniment

8587 The New Colonial March — Edison Military Band

8588 What Would the Neighbors Say — Comic male duet Collins and Harlan

8589 Sukey Sue — Harry MacDonough
Coon love song with orchestra accompaniment

8590 Little Dolly Driftwood — Byron G. Harlan
Descriptive song by the composer of "Anona," "with orchestra accompaniment

8591 Come Ye Discousolate — Organ effect, mandolin Samuel Siegel

8592 Celia — Coon love song with orchestra accompaniment Arthur Collins

8593 The Whistling Bowery Boy — Song with whistling S. H. Dudley

8594 The Banjo Evangelist — Len Spencer and Parke Hunter
Comic talking selection, introducing banjo

8595 Pretty as a Butterfly — Albert Benzler
(Bobby Newcomb's song and dance) Bells with orchestra accompaniment

8596 Felice — (Canzonetta) Edison Symphony Orchestra

8597 Mary Ellen — Billy Murray
Irish coon serenade with orchestra accompaniment

8598 Two of Us — John Hazel and Frank S. Seltzer
Cornet duet accompanied by the Edison Military Band

12913 Malkes — Comic Hebrew song Frank Seiden

12914 Dem Rehens chochmes — Comic Hebrew song Frank Seiden

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

ALWAYS PROTECTING.

An incident occurred in New York City on November 4th which furnished an excellent means of comparing the popularity of two companies manufacturing and selling cylindrical Records, one of which is the National Phonograph Company. A New York jobbing firm failed some time ago, and its stock of all kinds of talking machines and records was offered for sale on the date mentioned. In the stock was a large number of Edison Records. In order to make sure that these Records did not fall into the hands of unauthorized Dealers, C. H. Wilson, Manager of Sales of this company, was present. When our Records were offered, the highest bid was made by Mr. Wilson, and he took the entire lot. The sale was largely attended by authorized Edison Dealers and when Mr. Wilson stepped forward and his identity became known as the purchaser of the entire lot of Records, one impulsive Dealer shouted out "What is the matter with Edison? Three cheers for Edison!" Cheer after cheer followed and for several minutes it was impossible for the auctioneer to proceed with his business. It was the most remarkable expression of good feeling toward this company that we have heard of in some time. To have allowed these Records to be sold to an unauthorized Dealer and by him possibly disposed of at cut prices would have affected the business of practically every Dealer in and near New York City. To have the entire lot bought back by the company was gratifying to every Dealer who attended the auction, as well as to every one interested in the business.

OPENED BY MEANS OF A FIRE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 4, 1903.

A few evenings ago there was a fire in the tailor shop above our store and the firemen broke in our door believing the fire worse than it was, for the chemical put it out. After the excitement was over the officer in charge of the store sent me the following note which struck me as being about the funniest thing I have seen in some time and I thought it might strike the readers of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY as funny, also. I will not try to spell it the way he did.

Manager of the Talking Machine Co.,
No. 43 Lawn Street.

SIR. The Talking Machine Co:—Your store has been opened by means of a fire upstairs. Please come and fix door or tell the boy where the manager lives.

Officer Pat Hennessey.

W. B. B. SMITH, Mgr.,
The Talking Machine Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

A STORY WITHOUT A MORAL.

One of our Western Jobbers relates an incident that is amusing as showing the stature of some men. For the purpose of telling the story we will say that the Jobber's name is Mack. The list of our Jobbers will not show such a name, but real names are not necessary for the purpose. Mr. Mack was selling the "steen cent" records. One day his stenographer answered a telephone call and a male voice asked if Mr. Mack had any more of the "steen cent" records on hand. He had just bought some and found them so fine that he wanted more. He was told that there were still several hundred in stock. He gave a name and address and said that he would be right over to get a dozen or two. His name and address could not be found in the list of record buyers kept in the store.

The next day the young lady in the store had a similar telephone conversation and recognized the voice as that of the man who had called the day before. He praised the "steen cent" records as the best ever and would call that evening to get some. He gave another name and address. As none of the parties to whom Mr. Mack had sold "steen cent" records had paid them any compliments, but, on the contrary, had stated that they would have no more at any price, he began to suspect the sincerity of the telephoning individual, and directed his stenographer to call him to the 'phone if the man called up again.

The opportunity came a few days later. The telephone rang and upon answering it the young lady found the same voice asking questions. Mr. Mack was close at hand and at a sign from his stenographer took the receiver. A man's voice told him how he had bought some "steen cent" records and had found them superior to the Edison, etc., etc.

Mr. Mack recognized the voice as that of the manager of the branch house of the company manufacturing the "steen cent" record and called him by name, assuring him that so far he was the only one who had said anything good about the records in question. Mr. Manager denied his identity at first, giving a fictitious name and address, but after a little further pressure he admitted the fact. He asked Mr. Mack how he knew who called him up. Mr. Mack replied that as he was the only person who could speak well of the "steen cent" record he was satisfied that he knew where the messages came from.

The smallness of the incident does not permit the story to have a moral.

NO MORE ADVERTISING IN E. P. M.

The November issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY had scarcely been issued, containing the announcement to the effect that beginning with January the advertising rates in it would be increased to $20 per page, before another decision was reached to cut out all advertising of every description except that of the International Correspondence Schools, advertising the Phonograph Language Course. It was found that Jobbers who were not availing themselves of the opportunity to advertise in its columns were dissatisfied because the advertisements of others were accepted. They claimed that the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY was mailed to all signed Dealers, and it furnished one Jobber with a means of soliciting business from Dealers of another Jobber. Since we did not want anything to affect the cordial relations between all Jobbers and this company, it was decided to cut out all advertising with the exception above noted. To have continued the publication of advertisements would possibly have furnished some Jobbers with an excuse for withholding Agreements, which are exceedingly anxious shall not be done. Then, too, there was in these advertisements an opportunity for fraction, so that altogether it seemed wisest to cut out all the advertising at once. All enterprising Jobbers and Dealers had begun to realize that the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY was an exceedingly good medium for their business, and had we continued accepting advertisements the publication would have been self supporting in another month. We feel that we can better afford to sacrifice whatever income may have been derived from this source, however, rather than do anything to affect our relations with the trade.

ON MAKING RECORDS ABROAD.

SYDNEY, Sept. 26, 1903.

By chance a copy of your valuable little journal, the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, has fallen into our hands. This little journal fills a long felt want to us people who are so far away from you. We read with pleasure one article in it, remaking Records abroad. We can assure you that this is something to look forward to, and when it comes about it will no doubt double the Australian trade with the National Phonograph Co. Our customers are always asking us for English songs, bands, comic songs, sung by well known English singers. A comic song Record sells five to one of any other Record, and vocal Records sell ten to one of bands and other musical instruments. The ideas one learns from this little journal is valuable to dealers in the talking machine line.

W. J. DEANE & SON.

PHONOGRAPH HOLDS THE SECRET OF MOJAVES.

For the past month the western building of the Affiliated Colleges of the University of California has been the scene of a unique bit of scientific research. Through the efforts of Dr. A. L. Kroeber, secretary of the department of anthropology, aided by Captain Joe Nelson and Captain Jack Jones, two Mojave Indians from the Needles, the Mojave customs, language, ceremonies, etc., are now on record in the form of over 100 Phonographic cylinders. The two Indians, who for nearly a month past have been talking and singing into the Phonograph for the benefit of science, left last night to rejoin their people at the Needles.

For some time the university, through its department of anthropology, has been engaged in an ethnological and archaeological survey of the State. With a view to the studying of the Mojave Indian, Captain Joe and Captain Jack were imported from their homes in the South. The Mojave language, although a very complete one, has no symbols by which the words can be recorded in writing; consequently the Phonograph was pressed into service to accomplish what the pen could not.

Captain Joe among his own people is a chief of high standing and comes rightly by the distinction of Captain, the title given by the Mexicans in early days to all bona fide Indian chiefs. As an evidence of his standing with the Federal authorities, Captain Joe carries a bundle of letters from various officials of the Interior and the Army.

Among the Phonographic Records, which are the result of the visit of these two Mojave chiefs, is a song rendered by Captain Joe which covers nearly sixty cylinders. It is a semi-religious ceremony and takes the entire night in its rendition. Beside the Phonographic cylinders, Dr. Kroeber has in his possession a large amount of data bearing upon the tribal history, customs and traditions of the Mojave Indians.—San Francisco Examiner, Nov. 12, 1903.

A PUSHING DEALER.

STOCKTON, CAL., Nov. 9, 1903.

The ever-welcomed EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY and Suspended List, under date of November, received to-day. I am letting the people of Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys know that I carry Edison Phonographs and Records. Seven mediums are used, having a combined weekly circulation of 35,000 copies, besides advertising through the mails. Next week will see our advertisements doubled. Last year's experience has taught me to advertise more extensively this time of the year.

H. W. MOSIER.

AND BETTER LISTS TO COME.

A Philadelphia Jobber wrote: "If you keep on making Records as fine as October and November lists you will put the ——— record up Salt River." We have no desire to do such an unkind act, but have no hesitancy in saying that the December list is even better than the two months named, and that each month in the future will find a similar improvement. Every month will contain pleasing novelties, and the entire list will be so good that no one will err who places an order for the entire lot.

THE I. C. S. LANGUAGE COURSES.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN,
MADISON, WIS., Oct. 30, 1903.

International Correspondence Schools,
French Department,
Scranton, Pa.

DEAR SIRS:—It is a very great pleasure to me, I assure you, to add my name to the list of those, your students, who have found that the Phonograph Method does teach French. The conversation, grammar and composition courses have proved practical and interesting, also I must add, though the world has not been accustomed to expect anything interesting in the usual dry-as-dust grammar. That the said usually dry-as-dust grammatical matter has been so presented as to seem a necessary and not at all disagreeable comment on the lesson, the usual method being quite the reverse, reflects great credit on the I. C. S. system. As to the Phonograph Records: every person studying a foreign language with the intention of learning to speak it should have the help of these Records. For acquiring an accurate pronunciation the Phonograph offers one great advantage, an advantage that cannot be too strongly emphasized:—wireless repetition of a word or phrase, endless repetition if you please. Some persons with quick auditory perception may learn a new sound upon once hearing it, or upon hearing it a small number of times. The majority, however, are not so blessed. The new sound must be dinned into the ear before it is fixed. The Phonograph will do, here, what very few teachers attempt to do, or in fact can do.

As to the "kind of French" the machine speaks, several of my French-speaking friends who were at first a little inclined to scoff at the idea of "machine-made language," are quite ready to testify to the purity of the Parisian accent. The course as a whole offers a practical means for making rapid and thorough progress toward a very real and solid "speaking acquaintance" with the language. Perhaps I can offer no surer proof of my estimate than this: that I wish you to send me the Spanish Records and text-books.

If any other word from me can be of any use to you I will be glad to have you offer suggestions.

Yours very truly,
R. B. MACNISH, Instructor.

LETTERS SENT TO OLD DEALERS.

When the new Agreement went into effect on September 1st, we took off from our mailing list the names of all Dealers who had not signed the new Agreement. We found that there were quite a large number of such names. Believing that it was not businesslike to drop them without some further attention, we sent out a letter to all such, asking why they had dropped the Phonograph business and had not signed our new Agreement. This letter fell into the hands of persons who had signed the new Agreement, but for one reason or another, the Agreement either had not been sent to us by their Jobber or we had failed to get their names on our mailing list. These are now being straightened out as quickly as possible, and we shall shortly have back on our mailing list all Dealers who are entitled to be there. We ask the indulgence, either for the Jobbers or ourselves, of those Dealers whose names have been dropped by us through no fault of their own. We would also ask all Dealers to keep us advised of any changes in their addresses and to write us if their printed matter is now coming to them with errors in the address.

A CORRECTION.

Through an error the paragraph in the November issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, concerning the furnishing of Phonograph music at a New York City wedding, was credited to S. B. Davega, of East 14th street. As a matter of fact the music was furnished by I. Davega, Jr., of 802 Third avenue and 125 West 125th street, New York.

AN EDISON RECORD PLAYED 3,000 TIMES.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Oct. 28, 1903.

I noticed in your October number where one Edison Record was played 1,525 times. I can go you one better, as I have a customer here in Memphis who says he played one on a slot machine 3,000 times. How is that for the wear of Edison Records?

W. L. HUGHES,
Manager for Ray Co.,
Memphis, Tenn.

LIKES OUR PLAN OF ASSISTING DEALERS.

TUPELO, MISS., Nov. 2, 1903.

I write to thank you for the names you sent me of parties who wrote you in regard to Edison Phonographs and Records. I wrote each and succeeded in selling Mr. ———, of Ripley. I like your plans of business, also the protection afforded by having each Dealer sign Agreement.

J. R. PHILIPS.

PRINTED MATTER.

Just as the new Record Catalogue, Form 490, was coming along from the printer in good shape, something fell on the locked up form and smashed a lot of the plates, causing a delay of about ten days before new plates could be made and the run begun over again. Consequently, shipments of catalogues have been delayed. They are now coming through nicely, and we hope to have no further trouble in supplying the needs of the trade.

The first copies of the new Machine Catalogue, Form 500, are only now being received, fully six weeks behind the most positive promises of the printer. We are now sending this catalogue out to Jobbers as fast as we receive it, and if the unexpected does not happen, we shall soon have part shipments in every one's hands. Those who are accustomed to having a large quantity of literature printed will probably appreciate some of the troubles we have had in the past six weeks in having printed work done, especially since all printers and lithographers are more than busy at this season of the year.

The reprint in sheet form of the Comments on new Records each month, which was done with the November Comments for the first time, proved much more popular than we had anticipated. A quantity was ordered by 33 different Jobbers who have renewed their orders for another month. As before explained, these sheets will be printed at their cost to us, viz: 20 cents per hundred if blank and 25 cents additional, with each order without regard to quantity, for such orders as may be imprinted with Jobbers' names and addresses. The sheet will be printed in different colors each month, that for November being white and that for December being yellow.

We have had printed a neat four page folder in red and dark green ink on a light green tinted paper for use in the holiday season. We have not had time to advise Jobbers with reference to it, but shall send out to each with December Records such quantity of these folders as we think can be used to advantage. The edition will be 250,000, and we shall send out almost the entire lot in this manner, reserving a smaller quantity for Dealers' orders or for such Jobbers as feel that they must have a few additional copies.

AMONG JOBBERS.

C. B. Scott, Jobber at Scranton, Pa., has been succeeded by Ackerman & Co. The latter are located in the Coal Exchange Building.

In the advertisement of the Wahl-Graach Co., of Lafayette and Indianapolis, Ind., and Cincinnati, in the November issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, the address of the Indianapolis house was incorrectly given as No. 199 instead of 119 S. Illinois street.

The Wells Phonograph Co., of Philadelphia, who are among the most frequent and persistent advertisers of Edison goods, recently received a postal card from Mexico, written in Spanish, which upon being translated was found to be a request for Catalogues of Edison Phonographs and Records. They were puzzled to know how the inquirer could have obtained their name and address, but presumed that it was due to their newspaper advertising.

PARTIAL SHIPMENTS.

A New York City Jobber a few days ago said "Why don't you put a paragraph in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY telling Dealers that when they get short shipments on machines and Records it is not always the fault of their Jobber? As you know, we are not always able to get either machines, Records, Reproducers or supplies as fast as we want them or in such quantities as we order. You ought to make it clear that when the factory does not fill our orders in full, we, in turn, are compelled to make short shipments to our Dealers." We are compelled to admit the truth of this Jobber's statements. The demands for machines, Records and other goods are such as at times to make it impossible to fill all orders in full. We therefore are compelled to make part shipments in order that every Jobber may get his share of the goods being manufactured. We would ask the Dealers to be as patient in the matter as possible, relying upon our assurance that we are doing at all times all that we can to take care of the needs of the trade.

WELL PAID FOR HIS COUNTY EXHIBIT.

FAYETTE, ME., Oct. 20, 1903.

Acting on the suggestion given in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY I took three machines and an assortment of Records to the county fair where I showed up the machines and distributed advertising matter. I have been well paid for my trouble in direct results. Only just show the Edison Machine and let it be heard and it will sell itself.

A. A. CAMPBELL.

CHEAP PLAN FOR CARRYING A STOCK OF RECORDS.

For the benefit of those Dealers who have not been able to find a satisfactory way of keeping a stock of Records, we would like to comment upon the plan adopted by Victor H. Rapke, of 1661 Second Avenue, New York, in taking care of his Retail stock. Mr. Rapke is also a Jobber. In order to have a way of carrying his retail stock so as to be readily accessible, and also enable him to carry all Records listed in the catalogues, he recently had made a lot of paper board boxes, each large enough to hold six small Record cartons lying on their sides, with their covers showing outward. Each box had compartments for six Records. The boxes are in size about 25¾ inches high, 4½ inches deep and 16¾ inches long. Each compartment is practically 2¾x2¾x4½ inches deep, just large enough to permit a Record carton to be slipped in and out easily. Then Mr. Rapke had made a series of good sized numbers and gave each carton a number corresponding to the numbers in the catalogue. The boxes are made small enough to admit of their being placed one upon the other without the use of shelving of any kind. A little thought will show the Dealer this is a very inexpensive way of carrying his stock of Records. The boxes that Mr. Rapke had made cost him $3.50 a hundred. An expenditure of $14 gave sufficient boxes to carry every Record in our list. The box makers in any of the large cities should be able to make similar boxes at practically the same cost. Records arranged in a system like this are not only readily accessible to those in charge of the store, but the vacant compartments show at once what Records are needed to supply the stock. Doubtless, other Jobbers and Dealers throughout the trade have excellent methods of taking care of their stock of Records, and we shall be glad if some of them will send us a letter explaining how they do it. These suggestions cannot fail to be of interest to the entire trade.

OUTDISTANCES ALL OTHERS.

———, ERIE, PA., Nov. 9, 1903.

Will co-operate with you in endeavoring to maintain your just requirements and commendable business methods. Price cutters are detestable creatures and should be sidetracked as speedily as possible. We are having a steady and increasing trade in Edison Phonographs. We handle other makes of talking machines, but consider the Phonograph the superior of them all. For perfect reproduction of very delicate sound waves the Phonograph has them all out-distanced.

G. W. COCHRAN COMPANY.

PHONOGRAPH ART CALENDAR.

The Phonograph Art Calendar for 1904 is now ready. It was described in these columns last month, and is, we believe, quite as effective as any similar calendar yet issued. We think that it will be an excellent souvenir to be used as a holiday present by Jobbers and Dealers to their best patrons. It is something that cannot fail to be appreciated and to be kept throughout the year. Sample copies have been mailed to all Jobbers, and their orders when received will be filled and made ready for shipment with other goods. The price of the calendar will be its cost of production to us, viz: 15 cents each. Dealers who are interested in the subject are asked to send 15 cents in stamps for a sample copy. We do not feel that we can send copies to Dealers without making a charge for them.

MOVED INTO LARGER QUARTERS.

The large increase in the talking machine business of the Boston Cycle and Sundry Co. has necessitated removal of this department into larger quarters. They have recently taken an entire floor in the large building at 48 Hanover street, and in the future all of the wholesale business will be done from this address rather than the previous address on Federal street. The new quarters are fitted up on a large scale in anticipation of a much larger business than ever before, having accommodations for over 60,000 Records. Some idea of the growth of this business may be obtained from the fact that two years ago this firm's standing order for new Records was for twenty-five of each, while now their orders run as high as 1,000 copies of a single selection.

Owing to the more central location and better facilities for handling the business there seems to be every prospect of a large increase of an already large talking machine business.

NO TROUBLE TO CONVINCE HIS CUSTOMERS.

BENHAM, TEXAS, Oct. 21, 1903.

We received your advice as to the inquiry of ———, of this place, and we have just filled his order for one dozen Records and this in face of the fact that the ——— records are handled here at $1 per dozen. We had no trouble in convincing Mr. ——— that the Edison Records were far superior to any made and that they were well worth the price asked for them. Thanking you for your kindness in directing him to us and assuring you that we will at all times hold up the price and talk up Edison goods.

CHAS. DAVIS & CO.

TRADE ADVERTISEMENTS AND NOVELTIES.

Among the interesting advertising literature received from the trade during the past month was a set of six of the Perry pictures from Emil Meinardus, of Chilton, Wis. The pictures bore on the back an excellent argument on the advantage of buying an Edison Phonograph. Part of the advertising was also printed in German.

L. R. Porter, a Dealer at Brockton, Mass., had a four-inch double-column advertisement in the papers of his city on November 10, largely devoted to calling attention to the Edison Record of "Any Rags," sung by Arthur Collins and listed in November.

Copies of newspaper advertisements, circulars or other advertising literature have been received from the Penn Phonograph Co., Philadelphia; Stratton's, Brownsville, Tenn.; C. Veeder, Rosendale, N. Y.; L. C. Hartzell, Holyoke, Mass.; Blakeman Talking Machine Co., New York; Boston Cycle and Sundry Co., Boston; Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston; George E. Bass, New Philadelphia, O.

Jobbers and Dealers are urged to send our Advertising Department copies of any advertising they may do or get out.

DEALERS' COMMENTS IN BRIEF.

"Will co-operate with you, for I think your plan a benefit and a success."—C. F. Littlepage, Anthony, Kas.

"I will co-operate with pleasure and am highly pleased with your method of doing business."—P. L. Gordon, Fairfield, Ia.

"I am much pleased with Edison Phonographs and Records, and I will keep strictly to your conditions. They are the best on the market."—E. S. Krauss, East Greenville, Pa.

"Since I am a strong opposer to all price cutting, you can rely on my hearty support."—A. F. Wollenberg, Kootskia, Idaho.

"You will have my co-operation to the best of my ability, for I have no use for price cutters."—George W. Hinshaw, Carmel, Ind.

"You need have no fear of my changing prices of Phonographs, Records or supplies manufactured by Edison."—W. A. Waddams, Chico, Cal.

"We would not care to handle Edison goods if regular prices could not be maintained."—C. C. Thompson & Son, Baraboo, Wis.

"We are doing all we can for Edison Phonographs, Records and supplies, knowing that they are the best."—Prospect Phonograph Co., Cambridge, Mass.

"Edison goods are good enough for me."—J. W. Thrasher, Gwinda, Col.

"We will uphold the Dealers' Agreement, as we know of no other company that helps and protects the Edison Phonograph Dealers, as you do. We expect to do the largest 'Edison' business in the history of our five years in business."—S. D. LaRoe & Son, Woonsocket, R. I.

"Am acting in strict accordance with the agreements, 'giving the Edison Machine its dues as the best.' The knowledge that prices are uniform induced me to put my whole energy into selling them, and they take well in our part of the country. Last year I made an effort to sell the ——— and sold quite a few, but customers could send off and get disks as cheaply as I could and now, presto—the trade comes my way on Records."—John P. Best, Hamilton, Ill.

"Will file Suspended List for reference in order to co-operate with you in your efforts to maintain uniform prices over the United States."—Cummings, Shepherd & Co., Fort Worth, Texas.

"Your Suspended List of November received. You may rest assured we will never have our name on that List."—J. B. Meiler & Sons, Dayton, O.

"It is a pleasure to do business with a firm which makes it possible for retailers to get full prices."—W. E. Hall, 298 Third avenue, New York City.

"Your latest List of Suspended Dealers received, and we assure you our hearty cooperation to prevent their obtaining machines or supplies. We also appreciate the MONTHLY. —L. J. Schreiber, Plymouth, Mass.

"Your November Suspended List at hand. Kindly acknowledge my approval of same. It is the only systematic way of protecting the trade and doing away with the price 'butcher.' I am handling your goods to good advantage and have compared them with other makes and am fully decided as to which is the inferior."—Wm. F. Hunt, Wenatah, Ind.

"We shall use our best endeavors to keep Edison's goods on top."—W. C. Cutler, Baker City, Ore.

"We gladly agree to co-operate with you, because from experience we know that there is none superior to that of Edison's. It is just what we have been looking for for a long time. Our motto is when we have a good thing, hold to it, and this is certainly it!"—Syb Bros., Dodge, Neb.

"You may count on me for one in supporting the text. I have a good trade, considering the territory, only small piece of business, but the people do admire the Edison Phonograph."—Peter Nordstrom, Jr., Walsburg, Kas.

"Edison Phonographs and Records have taken the lead in my county, and will keep it as long as I am in the business here."—Peter J. Duffy, Crescent City, Cal.

A Connecticut Dealer, who handles all makes of talking machines, writes: "Have you heard 'Any Rags?' in the ——— [the bargain counter record]. It is rotten. I am not selling any ——— now. Only sold thirty last week."

MADE HERE AND HEARD IN GERMANY.

"I would like to tell you about a man from Germany, who came in our store a few days ago, and had us put a Record on the Home Phonograph for him," said A. R. Ingram, manager for the Ray Co., in Cleveland, O. "When the machine was started the reproduction was that of a dog barking and howling; the gentleman explained to us that it was a Record made by his dog in Germany—a dog in Germany, barking in the United States. This man purchased a Home Phonograph, one dozen blank Records, Recording Horn, thirty-six inch Amplifying Horn, just for the purpose of making Records. He has an Edison Phonograph at his home in Germany, and gave the one he purchased of us to his daughter here in this city. His wife's mother lives with the daughter, and this old lady makes Records here and sends them to her grandchildren in Germany, where they are reproduced on an Edison Phonograph, making the interesting combination of a grandmother in the United States talking to grandchildren in Germany."

WANTS HIS RECORDS AT ONCE.

A Dealer at Matteawan, N. Y., states that he has a customer who had a telephone put in his house in order that he may be at once informed when the new Edison Phonograph Records arrive each month. He is an enthusiast and wants his Records at the earliest moment possible.

RECORD SHIPMENTS.

After striving for a year to catch up, we were able to ship November Records close to the first of the month. It is expected that December Records will go out from the factory equally early and be in the hands of the trade in good season for the holiday trade.

THEY GIVE THE BEST SATISFACTION.

BETHEL, ME., Nov. 13, 1903.

I acknowledge receipt of Suspended List of November 1, also copy of EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, for which accept thanks. I find that the Edison machines and Records are the best on the market and the only kind that people will buy here. They give the very best of satisfaction in every case. You may look for my hearty co-operation with you.

C. O. FOSTER.

IT BACKS THE RETAILERS.

BELMONT, N. H., Nov. 12, 1903.

We have just received your November 1st list of Suspended Dealers. It is a pleasure to do business with a firm that backs the retailers so they can get full prices for their machines.

F. C. HALL & CO.

PERSONAL.

The out-of-town Jobbers who called at our New York office during the past month were: G. L. Ackerman, of Ackerman & Co., Scranton, Pa.; N. D. Griffin, of the American Phonograph Co., Gloversville, N. Y.; William Werner, Easton, Pa.; W. O. Pardee, of Pardee-Ellenberger Co., New Haven, Conn.; Mr. Caulkins, of the Caulkins & Post Co., Middletown, Conn.; Mr. Williams, of the Western Electric Co., Philadelphia; Mr. Babson, of the Talking Machine Co., Chicago; James K. O'Dea, Paterson, N. J.

DEALERS SUSPENDED IN NOVEMBER.

The following Dealers have been placed upon our Suspended List during the past month, and the trade is warned against selling them Edison goods of any description:—

Hopkins-Sears Co., or Hopkins Bros. Company, Des Moines, Iowa.

E. M. Gowenlock, Clay Centre, Kansas.

Marvin A. Cote, Saratoga Springs, New York.

Bentley & Craig, Boulder, Colorado.

Osborn Gillette, or the Boston Jewelry Company, L. F. Maloney, Manager, Woburn, Mass.

Finch & Hahn, Schenectady and Albany, New York.

F. A. McMaster & Co., Nashua, N. H.

UNIQUE WINDOW DISPLAY.

A Trenton (N. J.) paper wrote as follows concerning a window display made by the Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co. of that city:

Stoll's blank book and stationery store has an attractive window display of October Phonograph Records. The Records are enclosed in circular paste board boxes and arranged to represent a house. On either side of the door, right up close to the window, are two small Phonographs.

The house, which is two stories high, is only one of the many unique features which the firm has displayed in advertising the Phonograph.

RATHER HAVE EDISON AT 50 Cents THAN ANY OTHER AT 10 Cents.

CARMEL, IND., Nov. 6, 1903.

You can always depend on me to do my part in holding prices on Edison goods, for they are well worth the price. When the so-called Leader twenty-five-cent record came out I lost some trade, but when I got some of them that were also on the Edison List and by the same artists and then played both kinds to my customers, they all said they would rather have Edison Records at fifty cents than the others at ten cents, as they sounded just like disc records.

GEORGE W. HINSHAW.

COMMENTS ON JANUARY RECORDS.

The list of Edison Gold Moulded Records issued for the opening month of the new year by the National Phonograph Company is fully up to the high standard set by the December list. It is another list full of popular airs, the newest music and attractive novelties. One of its features is the large number of Records made with orchestra and band accompaniment. The use of piano for accompanying songs has now become a thing of the past with the making of Edison Gold Moulded Records. Occasionally it may be found necessary on account of the peculiar composition of a song to have it sung with piano accompaniment, but such occasions will be rare. The use of an orchestra or band for accompaniments makes a Record of unusual richness and brilliancy, and adds greatly to its value. To have a full-sized orchestra or band play simply the accompaniment to a singer means much in the way of expense and trouble, but neither expense nor trouble will be allowed to stand in the way of more emphatically emphasizing the superiority of Edison Gold Moulded Records. The process by which they are made has always enabled the National Phonograph Company to make the most uniform, the most brilliant, the smoothest and the richest cylindrical Record on the market. Its reputation as the best will now be enhanced by the introduction of many novelties and new features. No reduction will be made in the price of these Records, but the utmost pains and care will be taken to make them more than ever worth their cost to the public. No product bearing the name of Edison is known as cheap goods, and the word cheap will never be used in connection with the Edison Gold Moulded Record, unless it be to say that it is cheap at the price asked for it. It will never be used as a record with which to advertise bargain sales and attract attention to goods of other make. The January list comprises twenty-five domestic and two foreign selections. Any Phonograph owner can buy the entire list without hearing them and not be disappointed in one.

The opening number on the list is No. 8274, "Bedella Medley." In December was listed a medley of the popular song, "Any Rags," made by the Edison Military Band, and it was received with such favor that it was determined to make a similar medley in January of some other popular song, "Bedella," which was one of the most popular songs on the December list, was chosen. The "Bedella Medley" is also made by the Edison Military Band. It opens with the first verse of "Bedella," followed by "The Maid of Timbuctoo," "By the Sycamore Tree," and "Keep On A-Shining, Silv'ry Moon," and then closes with the chorus of "Bedella." This combination of airs, coupled with the splendid work of the band, makes a great Record.

Harry Von Tilzer, who wrote "Down Where the Wurzburger Flows," a song that achieved wide popularity, has just written another which he and his publishers believe will be equally popular. It is No. 8275, "Under the Anheuser Bush," and is not intended in any way to advertise wet goods. The National Phonograph Company secured by special permission the early use of the music of the song, and has made an excellent record of it. It has been sung by Billy Murray, with unusual care and with splendid enunciation. The song has a waltz air, and the singer is accompanied by the Edison Symphony Orchestra.

The banjo Record with orchestra accompaniment made by Vess L. Ossman in December was such a success that another has been made for January. It is No. 8276, "Keep Off the Grass," and it also is made by Mr. Ossman. It will be difficult for lovers of fine banjo music to determine which of the two Records is the most attractive. Most of them will decide the question by buying both Records. Those who do so will make no mistake.

The comedy and bass duets by Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley are one of the features of each monthly list of new Records made at the Edison Laboratory, and that for January is fully as pleasing as any yet made by these artists. It is No. 8277, "Nobody's Looking but the Owl and the Moon Man." The rousing air of the well known song is much enhanced by the charming blend of the singers' voices. The contralto voice is subdued and there are no blasts.

One of the hits in "The Runaways," which ran so long in New York, is a dance by a comedian made up as a huge rooster. No. 8278, "The Rooster Dance," is a Record made of the music to which the comedian dances. It is a very clever characteristic composition, the crowing of a rooster being given by first one and then another of the instruments in the orchestra, all blending well with the general work of the orchestra. The Record is made by the Edison Symphony Orchestra in faultless style.

No. 8279, "Peggy Brady," is a waltz song of the "Good Old Summer Time" style, still so very popular. It is now being sung in "The Isle of Spice," which is running in Chicago, and is drawing large crowds at every performance. "Peggy Brady" will eventually be as popular as "My Little Coney Isle" and other songs of the waltz order. The Record of the selection is made by Harry MacDonough, whose fine voice and clear articulation combine to make it most desirable.

In No. 8280, "Hickory Bill," Len Spencer and Parke Turner have made an interesting Record which tells by means of a dialogue and banjo music how "Hickory Bill's" brother found him after years of separation. No one could play the banjo like "Hickory Bill," and this led his brother to identify him. A Record out of the ordinary.

Arthur Collins, in No. 8281, "My Dixie Lou," has a Record that is quite up to his usual high standard of coon love songs. The song is by Harry Von Tilzer and has a very pleasing air. Mr. Collins not only sings it nicely, but the song is accompanied by the orchestra, the two making a splendid selection.

Bohumir Kryl has made no better cornet Record at the Edison Laboratory than No. 8282, "The Last Rose of Summer." It is straight cornet playing without frills or fireworks and reminds one of the best days of the late Jules Levy.

Franklyn Wallace's solo Record for January is No. 8283, "Like a Star That Falls from Heaven," a descriptive song written by Arthur J. Lamb and set to music by Kerry Mills. Mr. Wallace sings it in a very satisfactory manner. It cannot fail to please those who admire this style of songs.

No. 8284, "Dixie Girl," is a characteristic march and two-step played by the Edison Concert Band. This composition is the work of J. Bodewalt Lampe, and it is published by the Whitney-Warner Co. It is well written and well played by the Edison Concert Band.

No. 8285, "An Evening Call in Jayville Center," is another of the very popular series of Rube talking and singing male duets by Harlan and Stanley. The comedy and singing are both good.

J. Frank Hopkins has in No. 8286 "Uncle Sammy March," a fine xylophone solo, accompanied by the orchestra. The latter makes an excellent background for Mr. Hopkins' clever playing. This is a good two-step. It was written by Abe Waltman.

Perhaps the best instrumental Record of the month is No. 8287, "The New Colonial March," a new composition by R. B. Hall, and published by the John Church Company. The Record is made by the Edison Military Band. We believe that it will be as popular as the "American Standard March." It has a very pretty air and is played admirably.

Collins and Harlan's comic male duet for the month is No. 8288, "What Would the Neighbors Say?" Besides being a comic selection it has a decidedly pleasing tune and it is sung in the usual good style of these well-known Record duetists.

Harry MacDonough has a second solo Record in the list in No. 8289, "Sukey Sue," a coon love song with orchestra accompaniment. It has a pleasing air and is a well made Record.

In No. 8290 Byron G. Harlan sings "Little Dolly Driftwood," a descriptive song written by Vivian Grey (Miss Mabel McKinley, niece of the late President McKinley), the composer of "Annona." The tune is charming. Mr. Harlan sings it in good style, and the orchestra accompaniment gives the whole a fine setting.

No. 8291, "Come Ye Disconsolate," is a mandolin Record by Samuel Siegel. It is played with organ effect and will be especially attractive to mandolin players or those partial to the music of that instrument. Mr. Siegel's mandolin work is that of the real artist.

No. 8292, "Celia," is a coon love song with orchestra accompaniment. It is sung by Arthur Collins and bears all the evidences of the pains taken by Mr. Collins to make a good Record. The work of the flutes and clarinets is a pretty feature of the accompaniment. The words and music of this selection are by Smart and Willman.

It is some time since S. H. Dudley has made a whistling Record for the Edison Phonograph. No. 8293, "The Whistling Bowery Boy," shows that Mr. Dudley has lost none of his skill as a whistler of the first grade.

No. 8294 is another unique Record by Len Spencer and Parke Hunter. It is called "The Banjo Evangelist," and introduces a comic negro dialogue and banjo music.

Bobby Newcomb's well known song and dance, "Pretty as a Butterfly," has been made into a fine bells Record, with orchestra accompaniment, by Albert Benzler. It is No. 8296 and is one of the desirable numbers.

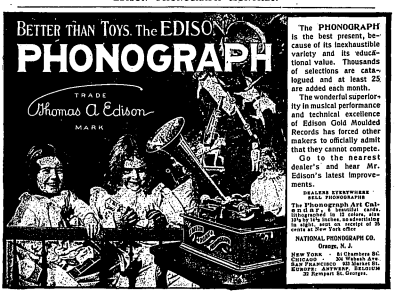
No. 8296, "Felice," is a canzonetta with a most charming and delicate air. It is played by the Edison Symphony Orchestra. This Record will be especially pleasing to lovers of music of a classical character.

In No. 8297 Billy Murray has another excellent solo Record. It is "Mary Ellen," an Irish serenade that reminds one of "Bedella," with which song it is expected to divide honors. The music of "Mary Ellen" is by Tom Lemonier.

The cornet duet listed in December as played by John Hazel and Frank S. Selzer, has proved to be such a hit that another has been included in the January list. It is No. 8298, "Two of Us," and is in every respect as fine a Record as that given last month. The selection itself is just as pretty and the work of the cornets fully as artistic.

Nos. 12913 and 12914 are two comic selections in the Hebrew language by Frank Seiden.

I. C. S. LANGUAGE OUTFITS REQUIRE NO INITIAL QUANTITY.



The International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., have made it extremely easy for Dealers to sell their language outfits with practically no expense or risk. As they are advertising on pages 14 and 15 of this issue, they will send to any Dealer, expressage prepaid, a sample outfit, including three Records and text books, for $1.50. With this outfit the Dealer may explain the merits of the system and order only such goods as are required by his customers. The text books explain the system fully, the Records are made in foreign languages and the Dealer himself has the Phonograph. With these the Dealer has a language outfit that will make it easy for him to demonstrate to possible purchasers just what the International Correspondence Schools Language Courses consist of.

A PACIFIC COAST CO-OPERATOR.

HEMET, CAL., Oct. 18, 1903.

I will state that I have received Suspended List. I will join you heartily in keeping up the reputation that the Edison goods have gained. I will also join in sustaining the present prices on said goods.

ALVA C. VAN WINKLE.

DECEMBER ADVERTISING.

The above Phonograph Advertisement appeared in full pages, half pages and quarter pages in the following December publications: Ainslee's, Argosy, Atlantic, Bookman, Brown Book, Century, Collier's, Country Life, Craftsman, Current Literature, Everybody's, Field and Stream, Four-Track News, Harper's Monthly, Independent, Leslie's Popular Monthly, Life, Lippincott's, Metropolitan, Munsey's, National Magazine, News Letter of San Francisco, Outing, Pearson's, Review of Reviews, Saturday Evening Post, Scribner's, Smart Set, Strand, Success, Sunset, Town Topics, World's Work.

This publicity should have been of much benefit to the trade.

CHINESE RECORDS GIVE SATISFACTION

The following is an extract from a letter received from a Dealer in Rangoon, India, referring to our Chinese Records:

"I have great pleasure in advising you that the Phonographs and Chinese Records recently supplied have given great satisfaction, and were disposed of as fast as they came in. My Chinese customers (the purchasers) were delighted with them, and stated that the tunes were admirably clear and natural."

DOING A RELIGIOUS WORK.

A Nebraska Dealer, who asks that his name and city be not published, sends the following incident:

Last winter I received an order for a Phonograph and one dozen Records from another county with the request that I include "one religious piece." I sent No. 1539, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." About a month later the old gentleman's son-in-law was in the store and I asked him how the selection of Records sent had suited the folks. He said they were all right, and that "Father will sit and play 'Safe in the Arms of Jesus' over and over, and with the tears running down his cheeks he will say: 'I ain't there boys, I ain't there; I ought to be but I ain't.'" I thought at first of reporting the case to some neighboring minister, but on reflection concluded that they had had their chance and the Phonograph was doing the work better than they had done it, so I left it to this wonderfully versatile machine.

NO WEAR ON EDISON REPRODUCERS.

Fort Dodge, Iowa, Oct. 10, 1903.

I notice a paragraph in the October Phonograph Monthly from Coatsville, Pa., where a Record ran 1525 times. I ran an Edison Reproducer at least 10,000 times and if there was any difference the last time was better than the first. Then I sold it to a gentleman who would not buy anything he did not know was all right.

S. W. Corey.

SELLS ONLY EDISON RECORDS.

Randolph, Vt., Nov. 13, 1903.

In talking about other records which are sold at twenty-five cents and sixteen cents and any old price they can get, will say in order to satisfy the curiosity of some of my customers I ordered a few of them. One customer had a dozen, others two and three each, but they all say they do not care for any more of them. They say that some are good and plain and lots of them are harsh. One customer asked me to exchange his for the Edison and was willing to pay me thirty cents difference and I told him I certainly could not exchange Records, and I certainly did not care to stock up with records that people would not buy. So he said he would keep the best of them and would shave down the remainder. I am glad to say that I have not one Record in stock but the Edison. I sold ——— records long before I did Edison's, but have found out the difference and am satisfied with them, and so are my customers.

J. E. Jeud.

SOLD THREE PHONOGRAPHS IN ONE FAMILY.

Colon, Mich., Nov. 16, 1903.

I have received November Edison Phonograph Monthly with Suspended List. Am having a good trade in Edison Phonographs. Recently sold three in one family, as they are about the only kind of talking machine sold here. The three sold in one family were one Triumph and two Home Phonographs.

O. B. Culver.

SUSPENDED LIST, DECEMBER 1, 1903.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

COLORADO.

*Boulder—BENTLEY & CRAIG.

IOWA.

*Des Moines—HOPKINS-SEARS CO., or HOPKINS BROS. COMPANY.

KANSAS.

*Clay Centre—E. M. COWENLOCK.
Lawrence—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Lawrence—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
E. O. MOSHER, 420 Essex street.
Malden—A. T. FULLER.
New Bedford—B. B. HOWLOFF.
*Woburn—OSBORN GILLETTE, or THE BOLTON JEWELRY COMPANY, L. F. Maloney, Manager.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
Saginaw—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—THE WITTMANN CO.
Omaha—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

*Nashua—F. A. McMASTER & CO.

NEW JERSEY.

Atlantic City—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
Bayonne—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
Jersey City—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
Newark—R. L. CORWIN.
Paterson—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
West Hoboken—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

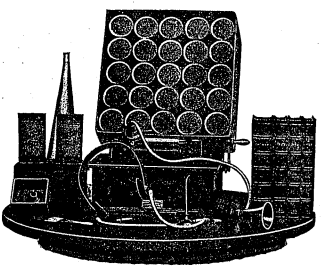
NEW YORK.

Bedford Park—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
Hobart—P. H. MARSHALL.
New York City—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
R. L. CORWIN, also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 89 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway, also Philadelphia, Pa.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 124 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 192 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
RICHARD PEASE, 44 W. 132d st.
P. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
Saratoga—W. J. TOTTEN.
*Saratoga Springs—MARVIN A. COTE.
*Schenectady and Albany—FINCH & HAHN.

OHIO.

Cincinnati—J. L. ANDEM.
Springfield—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
Uhrichsville—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.



Philadelphia—A. R. CASSIDY, 2763 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street, or Oxford street and Wascher street.
Pittsburg—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—F. P. MOORE.

*Added since last Suspended List was issued November 1, 1903.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus.

I. C. S. Phonograph Outfit, Records, and Textbooks

Prepared by the

International Correspondence Schools
of Scranton, Pa.

and protected for the Trade by Edison Agreements

If you are an Edison retail dealer, that is enough. You are elected to represent the I. C. S. Language Outfits with no risk and with sure profits.

There is no risk, because you order what you want when you need it. The Outfits are kept in stock by leading jobbers with no restriction on the quantity you are to order at any time.

True, you must demonstrate the language lessons in order to sell them, but all such work is effective, because you advertise your store and the general features of the phonograph in the most attractive manner.

The progressive Edison dealer is prepared to use arguments with his customers like these:

(1) "Edison Phonographs are the only talking machines perfectly adapted for double service—amusement and language study. We want you to hear this I. C. S. Language Lesson, prepared specially for the Edison Phonograph, then you will understand why this machine offers the best investment."

(2) "The proof of the perfection attained by the Edison Phonograph is listening to an I. C. S. Language Lesson. Use the hearing tubes and get close to the living voice of the professor. There is no scratching—only the marvelously natural conversation."

You could sell many I. C. S. Outfits if you had the lessons to demonstrate. Here is a sample-lesson offer made only to the Edison retail trade:

Three (3) regular I. C. S. Lessons (French, German, and Spanish), consisting of three (3) I. C. S. Molded Records and three (3) forty-page textbooks will be sent prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada, with full information for demonstrating. Price $1.50 net.

Order Today From the Following Jobbers of I. C. S. Outfits:

PORTLAND, ME., W. H. Ross & Son
LOWELL, MASS., Thomas Wardell
BOSTON, MASS., Eastern Talking Machine Co.
BOSTON, MASS., J. C. Haynes & Co.
BOSTON, MASS., Boston Cycle & Sundry Co.
NEW HAVEN, CONN., Fowler-Ellenberger Co.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co.
KINGSTON, N. Y., Forsyth & Davis
SYRACUSE, N. Y., W. D. Andrews
NEW YORK CITY, Blackman Talking Machine Co.
NEW YORK CITY, I. Davega, Jr.
NEW YORK CITY, Douglas & Co.
NEW YORK CITY, Jacot Music Box Co.
NEWARK, N. J., The Edisonia Co.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Wells Phonograph Co.
EASTON, PA., William Werner
BUFFALO, N. Y., P. A. Powers
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Talking Machine Co.
COLUMBUS, OHIO, Perry B. Whitsit Co.
DAYTON, OHIO, Nichaus & Dobse
CHICAGO, ILL., O. J. Jones
CHICAGO, ILL., James I. Lyons
MILWAUKEE, WIS., McGreal Bros.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Thos. C. Hough
OMAHA, NEB., Nebraska Cycle Co.
KANSAS CITY, MO., J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co.
ST. LOUIS, MO., The Conroy Co.
TORONTO, CAN., R. S. Williams & Sons Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Peter Bacigalupi
NINETEEN STORES, The Koy Co.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2021 Second avenue.
Mobil.—The Ray Co., 54 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 333 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 619 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Caulkins & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Pardee-Zilenberger Co., 125 Orange st.

GEORGIA.

Atlanta—The Ray Co., 72 Whitehall street.
Savannah—The Ray Co., 116-118 Bernard street.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Oscar J. Junge, 191 E. Chicago avenue.
Kelley Cigar Co., 3809 Wabash avenue.
Lyon & Healy, 243 Wabash avenue.
The Ray Co., 90 Washington street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 109 Madison street.
The Vim Co., 56 E. Lake street.
Montgomery Co., 111 Michigan ave.
Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 304 S. Adams street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Kipp Bros. Co., 37 S. Meridian street.
Talking Machine Co., 120 Massachusetts avenue.
Wahl-Gausch Co., 128 S. Illinois street.
Lafayette—Wahl-Gausch Co., 304 Main street.

IOWA.

Des Moines—The Vim Co., 201 West Walnut street.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 620 Fourth avenue.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—James I. Lyons, Theatre Arcade.
National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 614 Gravier st.
The Ray Co., 111 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—E. L. Crosby Co., 166 Exchange street.
Portland—W. H. Rose & Son, 200 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 48 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 177 Tremont street.
J. C. Haynes & Co., 441 Washington street.
Lyon-Thomson Sporting Goods Co., 163 Washington street.
Read & Read, 358 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 247 Main street.
Lowell—Bing Bros. Co., 112 Merrimac street.
Thomas Wardell, 121 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 364 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 106 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 259 Woodward avenue.
The Ray Co., 168 Griswold street.

MINNESOTA.

Saginaw—Morley Bros.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 324 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 37 E. 5th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1013-1015 Main street.
The Ray Co., 1102 Grand avenue.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1112 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 913 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. E. Sidles Cycle Co., 1317 Q street.
Omaha—H. E. Fredrickson, 1310-1312 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 1416 and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 205 Washington street.
Newark—H. J. Koehler Sporting Goods Co., 845 Broad street.
A. O. Petit, New and Halsey streets.
Paterson—The Ray Co., 29 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank L. C. Martin Auto. Co., 810 Park avenue.
Trenton—Steil Blank Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
A. D. Matthews' Sons, 394 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1238 Broadway.
Buffalo—W. D. Powers, 844 Main street.
Ilion—Ilion Cycle Co., 319 Main street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co., 29 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Forsyth & Davis, 302 Wall street.
New York City—Bettini Phonograph Co., 60 Chambers street.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 19 Beekman street.
J. F. Blackman & Son, 1634 2d avenue.
I. Davegan, Jr., 802 Third avenue.
Edison Shop, 83 E. 14th street.
Schultze Bros., 37 Chambers street.
H. S. Gordon, 130 Fifth avenue.
O. Hacker, 2 Murray street.
Harry Jackson, 229 Bowery.
Jacot Music Box Co., 31 Union Square.
Victor Talking Machine, 1 Leonard avenue.
Wanamaker's Store, 381 Hudson st.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
Rochester—A. J. Dunlogery, 357 North street.
Mackie Piano Co. & R. C. Co., 100 State street.
Schenectady—Wahl-Gausch Co., 316 State street.
Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 216 S. Salina street.
Troy—James Lacey, 333-341 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark, Horrocks & Co., 54 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelmann Co., 216 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Ilsen & Co., 12 W. 6th street.
The Ray Co., 122 West 4th street.
Wahl-Gausch Co., 37 W. 5th street.
Cleveland—The Ray Co., 1109 Euclid ave.
W. J. Roberts, Jr., 250-258 Arcade.
Columbus—Perry B. Whitall Co., 213 S. High street.
Dayton—Nichols & Dunbe, 31 E. 4th street.
East Liverpool—Smith & Phillips Music Co.
Toledo—Heyes Music Co., 608 Cherry street.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Brann, 900 Federal street.
Allentown—Wm. C. Auchbach, 639 Hamilton street.
Easton—William C. Auchbach, 639 Hamilton street.
Philadelphia—J. Hoppe & Son, 1121 Chestnut street.
Lit Bros., Market and 8th streets.
Penn Phonograph Co., 21 S. 9th street.
Wells Phonograph Co., 41 N. 9th street.
Western Electric Co., 931-933 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 913 Market street.
Pittsburg—Theo. F. Bentel Co., Inc., 431 Wood street.
Kaufmann Bros., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 221 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Meller Co., 319 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 937 Liberty avenue.
Reading—Reading Phonograph Co., 232 Penn street.
Scranton—Ackers Music Co., Coal Exchange Building.
Technical Supply Co.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Dean Co., 169-191 Westminster street.
J. A. Tilley, Jr., Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Household Furniture Co., 251-257 Weybossett street.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., 26-30 Pine street.

TENNESSEE.

Knoxville—The Ray Co., 519 Clinch street.
Memphis—The Ray Co., Lyceum Building, 2nd and Monroe.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 32 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Hertz, Art., 197 Main street.
Dynamo-Hobson Electric Co., 225 Elm street.
Houston—Dawson-Hobson Electric Co.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 729 E. Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 172 32 street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Ltd., 143 Yonge street.

EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY
(1904)

789.9065
E

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. 1. NEW YORK, JANUARY, 1904. No. 11

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
ANTWERP: 30 HEMPART SAINT GEORGES.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO. LTD., 25 CLERKENWELL ROAD, LONDON, ENG.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

Still Crowded with Record Business..... 1
Advance List of Edison Gold Moulded Records for February..... 2
Death of Judge Hayes..... 3
New Headquarters of the National Phonograph Co., Ltd., London, England..... 3
Frank P. Bants..... 4
Of General Interest..... 4
A Way To Learn a Popular Song..... 4
Child's Cries Sold a Phonograph..... 5
An Unusual Caller..... 5
Names of "Out of Business" Dealers Wanted..... 6
Printed Matter..... 6
Record Suggestions Gladly Received..... 6
A Tribute..... 6
Comments on February Records..... 7
Educators Approve Language Courses with Edison Phonographs..... 8
A Dealer To Be Proud of..... 9
Extracts from Trade Letters..... 9
Phonograph Sings and Talks the Parts..... 11
Omitted British Selection..... 11
Trade Novelties..... 12
Neat Device for Use with Phonograph at Sea..... 12
Dealers' Advertising..... 13
January Advertising..... 13
Suspended List, January 1, 1904..... 14
Jobbers of Edison Phonographs and Records 15

STILL CROWDED WITH RECORD BUSINESS.

Notwithstanding the reduction in price of another make of cylindrical record, which the trade might naturally expect would affect the sale of Edison Gold Moulded Records, the factory of the National Phonograph Company, at Orange, N. J., has never made so many Records as at the present time. Our Record plant is being run day and night, with two entirely different forces of hands, and in spite of the utmost efforts we are unable to turn out Records as fast as orders come in. We have but one plant in this country, and cannot get any more goods out of it no matter what the inducement might be. The demand for Edison goods is always greatest at this time of the year, but in no previous year has such a demand been made upon the factory. It is greater now because our manufacturing facilities are larger and we are as far behind with orders as in any other year. If the reduction in the price of records has had any effect upon the trade it has been to cause the public to buy just so many more than usual. It has proved our claim that a cheap record will not affect the sale of a better one; that there is room for two classes, just as there is room for good and cheap pianos; good typewriters and low-priced imitations. If the Edison Gold Moulded Record had not proved its superiority there would have been no reason for cutting the price of the competing record. No manufacturer doing a good business cuts the price of his goods in half; he would only do it under compulsion, and to hold business or get back a losing one. The reduction in price was an admission of Edison superiority. If the Edison Gold Moulded Record was then superior it is now much more so, for greater pains are being taken and no expense spared to improve the latter. No cylindrical Records

[Continued on page 3.]

THE ADVANCE LIST OF FEBRUARY RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

4018

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR FEBRUARY, 1904

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near Feb. 1st, 1904, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to Jan. 15th, will be shipped. January Supplements will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records. Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8599 It Was the Dutch Medley — Edison Military Band
Introducing "It Was the Dutch," "Under the Anheuser Bush," "Up in a Cocoanut Tree," "Always in the Way" and "Celia".

8600 Your Mother Wants You Home, Boy — Byron G. Harlan
(Paul Dresser's latest) Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment

8601 Far Away Soprano and tenor duet — Miss Chappel and Mr. Stricklett

8602 Wouldn't It Make You Hungry — Bob Roberts
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment

8603 Lovey Mary (Characteristic dance) — Edison Symphony Orchestra

8604 Clancy's Prize Waltz Contest — Len Spencer
A Bowery dance hall scene, with various typical characters and orchestra

8605 A Dream (Bartlett) — George Seymour Lenox
Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment

8606 Marching Thro' Georgia — Harlan and Stanley
Song and duet chorus with orchestra accompaniment and drum corps effect

8607 At the Mountain Inn (Idyl) Violin and flute duet — Jaudas and Atz

8608 Barney Irish male duet with orchestra accom. — Collins and Harlan

8609 Cary Waltz — Bohumir Kryl
Cornet solo with orchestra accompaniment, played by the composer

8610 Coonville's Colored Band — Arthur Collins
Descriptive coon march song with orchestra accompaniment

8611 Your Dad Gave His Life for His Country — Franeklyn Wallace
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment

8612 The American Flag March Whistling solo — Joe Belmont

8613 Dear Old Girl — Harry MacDonough
Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment

8614 The Cavalier March — Edison Concert Band

8615 If You're Such a Great Star, Why Don't You Shine — Arthur Collins
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment

8616 Merry Birds Polka — Frank S. Mazziotta
Piccolo solo with orchestra accompaniment

8617 The Woodchuck Song — Bob Roberts
With orchestra accom., as sung by Fay Templeton in "The Runaways"

8618 Razzle Dazzle — Vess L. Ossman
(Characteristic cake walk) Banjo solo with orchestra accompaniment

8619 Reuben Haskins' Ride on a Cyclone Auto — Len Spencer
A realistic comic descriptive talking selection

8620 The Bridal Rose (Overture) — Edison Symphony Orchestra

8621 I Ain't Got No Time — Collins and Harlan
Comic coon male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8622 Girlish Dreams — Albert Benzler
(Gavotte) Bell solo with orchestra accompaniment

8623 Daughter of Love Waltz — Edison Military Band
(Recorded at slow tempo for dancing)

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

ever made by this or any other company equal those now being made at the Edison Laboratory. Nor are we satisfied with this. Nothing is being left undone to make each month's output better than the month before. Dealers and owners of Edison Phonographs may depend upon it that Edison Gold Moulded Records will always be the highest type on the market.

We have received hundreds of letters from Jobbers and Dealers in all parts of the country commending our decision to make no reduction in the price of our Records, and asserting their ability to get fifty cents each for them as easily as they can get a less price for other kinds. That this is so is shown by the lack of price-cutting on our goods; the necessity for it does not exist.

DEATH OF JUDGE HAYES.

It is with deep regret that we announce the death, at Newark, N. J., on November 26th, of Howard W. Hayes, general counsel for the National Phonograph Company. Mr. Hayes had been the legal adviser of this company for several years and in such capacity had rendered almost invaluable services. During that time he conducted every important suit brought to maintain our rights in the courts and few there were in which he did not obtain a favorable decision. Besides possessing unusual legal ability, he was a man of resources, and he had a faculty of successfully applying his legal knowledge to commercial affairs. Only those who relied upon his advice and acted upon his suggestions can know how keenly his death was felt by Mr. Edison and the officials of this company.

Mr. Hayes was born in Newark, N. J., May 9, 1858. He prepared for college at the Newark Academy and the Phillips Academy, at Andover, Mass., and graduated from Yale in the class of '79. In 1881 he graduated from the Columbia Law School and soon afterward became a counsellor in New York and New Jersey. Mr. Hayes was successful in his legal practice. In the controversy over the boundary between Delaware and this State he was associated with the Attorney General of New Jersey. In 1888 Mr. Hayes was appointed assistant United States Attorney, and later he served as a police justice in Newark. He was a director in the Howard Savings Bank, the National Newark Banking Company, a member of the Essex County Park Commission, a member of the Essex Club, the Essex County Country Club, and belonged to the collegiate Zeta Psi Fraternity. In politics he was a Democrat. He is survived by a widow.

NEW HEADQUARTERS OF THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., LTD., LONDON, ENGLAND.

By the time this issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY reaches England the European headquarters of the National Phonograph Co., Ltd., will be located at 25 Clerkenwell road, London, E. C. All the continental offices of the company will be operated from and controlled by the London office. The National Phonograph Co., Limited, will carry a stock of at least one million Records at the Clerkenwell road premises; will equip and operate a complete repair department for Edison Phonographs, and for Edison laboratory products. The building will be equipped for carrying the most complete stock of Phonographs and Records, sufficient to supply all the British Isles. The complete office staff of the company will also be quartered in the same building, occupying the entire ground floor. The Shipping Department will be maintained on the St. John street side of the building, where all goods will be received and shipped. The National Phonograph Co., Limited, hope hereafter to make all deliveries of goods in British territory from Clerkenwell road premises.

Alfred K. Hobbs, a Dealer at Manchester, N. H., sends a photograph of a Phonograph window display recently made by him. Nothing but Edison goods and Edison posters and cards are shown. Few Dealers in any of the large cities make a better display than is shown in this photograph.

FRANK P. BANTA.

Frank P. Banta died at his home in New York City on November 30. The average Dealer in Edison Phonographs and Records will recall the fact that the list of Edison Records includes a piano selection—the only one in the catalogue—No. 8394, "Violets," made by Mr. Banta, but beyond this the death of Mr. Banta will at first awaken little interest. Mr. Banta was, however, better known in the Phonograph world for his work than for his personal identity. His were the hands that played the piano accompaniments to more than half of the Records in the Edison catalogue and his was the musical ability that re-arranged or re-wrote the music which has made the piano accompaniments to Edison Records so attractive. Accompaniments as ordinarily written cannot be used in Record making. Each selection requires a practically new arrangement of the music. In this Mr. Banta was remarkably successful. He was one of the first pianists to play for the Phonograph. He began when quite young and was constantly identified with Record making at the Edison Laboratory to the day of his death. He was also a composer of numerous musical successes. His "Hallmar," orchestral rondo, our Record No. 8051, was played by all the famous musical organizations in the country. His piano solo, transcription of the song "Violets" which he composed has been much admired. His versatile talents made him one of the most valuable men in the Edison organization and his place will not soon be filled by any one man.

At his death Mr. Banta was but thirty-three years old. He had been in poor health for some time, but his death was wholly unlooked for by his family and friends. His death was doubtless hastened by overwork, for he was ambitious and a hard worker. He was unusually popular among his musical associates and with those for whom he worked. His death was deeply regretted. Men like Frank P. Banta are few and can ill be spared.

The list of Jobbers and Dealers who have advertised Edison Phonographs and Records extensively during the past month or more includes practically every name on our mailing list. To enumerate them would be impracticable in the limited space at our command. Even those who have sent in copies of their advertisements would make a list of unusual length.

The Edison Gold Moulded Records—never found on bargain counters.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The latest thing in talking machine enterprise is a catalogue of all records made by the various companies manufacturing cylindrical and disk records, the first number of which has just appeared and includes all records listed to and including December, 1903. This is being published by L. S. Gardner, Theatre Arcade, New Orleans, La. It gives in comprehensive form the number and title of every record gotten out by the various companies and is a publication that should be of much value to the talking machine trade, to which it is sold on a subscription basis.

We have received several complaints from Dealers that we had omitted from the December issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY the list of best selling Records. This omission was intentional, it having been deemed inadvisable to continue its publication.

W. L. Brousart, an owner of a Triumph Phonograph at New Iberia, La., writes concerning an interesting incident in the making of a Record. He has a collection of Records of all instruments used at the Edison Laboratory, and was anxious to add to this a Record of a steam calliope. The opportunity came one day when a floating palace came to his city and anchored about 150 yards from his house. The calliope was playing popular airs at intervals, and Mr. Brousart succeeded in spite of the distance in making a very good Record of "In the Good Old Summer Time," as played by this steam musical device, if "musical" the calliope can be called.

A WAY TO LEARN A POPULAR SONG.

An advertising friend tells an amusing and interesting story of how his Phonograph helped an acquaintance out in a social matter. This acquaintance was down on a programme to do something at a dinner. He wasn't much of a speaker, but could sing fairly well, so he elected to sing. The affair was arranged at a late hour and he had but a short time to prepare himself for the occasion. So he hunted up his advertising friend, selected the song "It Was the Dutch" as his offering for the after dinner festivity, and spent the evening in playing this selection on the Phonograph again and again until he learned the music and the words so far as the Record gave the latter, and later he supplemented it with the printed words. This plan of learning a popular song was effectual, although rather hard on the advertising man's family, who heard more of this one selection than they would have heard from choice.

A CHILD'S CRIES SOLD A PHONOGRAPH

A. Estrin, a Dealer at 381 Palisades avenue, Jersey City Heights, tells an interesting incident in connection with the sale of a Standard Phonograph. He had a friend who was very much prejudiced against talking machines of all kinds, and who had resisted all importunities on the part of the Dealer. One day the wife of this gentleman with her child called at the store of the Dealer. While there something went wrong with the youngster, and he began to cry loudly. Partly for amusement, the Dealer hastily put on a Recorder and made a Record of the child's crying, his cries continuing to the end of the Record. About the middle of the Record he stopped it long enough to make the announcement that the Record was made by the child of his friend, giving his name. The next time his friend came in, the dealer put the Record on, after coaxing him for some time to listen to it. His friend displayed little interest in it until he came to the point where the name of the maker of the Record was announced. He heard it to the end with much greater pleasure. He then wanted to buy the Record. The Dealer refused to sell it, and in order to become the possessor of it, his friend bought a Standard machine and Records. All of this shows that there are more ways than one to sell a Phonograph.

AN UNUSUAL CALLER.

"A few weeks ago a New York weekly published an article telling how parrots could be made to talk by Phonograph, using for illustrations, disk machines," writes Alden March Collins, of C. J. Heppe & Son, Philadelphia. "A lady who was born many years before sound transmitting machines were perfected read the article, but could not understand. Using her own words: 'I do wish you would show me how parrots may be made to talk; how do you repeat the words so that the bird will hear them so many times that he must say them?" The article was all wrong, since no recorder can be used with the disk machines. Our salesman played an Edison Triumph, and the old lady was more mystified than ever. 'I don't see the person I am hearing, but I have four parrots at home and have tried for a month to make one of them say "Aunt Lou" and he won't talk at all.' The machine was arranged for recording and the salesman repeated 'Polly, say "Aunt Lou"' for two minutes. The old lady's surprise and delight was a picture fit for the inventor to see when she heard the result. Now Polly has no peace, but the old lady has a Triumph."

CATALOGUE OF I. C. S. GOODS.

The International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., have just issued a complete catalogue pertaining to their Language Courses. It is a pamphlet of sixteen pages and includes all necessary information concerning the use of the Edison Phonograph in connection with their Language Courses. It also gives detailed information about the books, etc., required by the courses. The text suggests the use of the Edison Phonograph for "double service"—amusement and language study. The pamphlet has been written so that Dealers may put their names on the back cover and send it to prospective customers. Dealers interested should ask any of the Jobbers named in the advertisement of the International Correspondence Schools, on page 16, to send them a copy of the catalogue.

Steinhauser & Eaton, Edison Dealers at Watsonville, Cal., issue a complete almanac and handbook, in which only goods sold in their store are advertised. Edison Phonographs and Records get an excellent showing.

Among the advertisers in the Chinese Free Press, published in the Chinese language, at San Francisco, appears the name of Dr. Tom Shc Bin & Sons, 615 Kearney street, announcing the sale of Edison Phonographs and Gold Moulded Records.

A PHONOGRAPH ENTERTAINMENT AT CARACAS.

The managers of El Pregonera, a Spanish paper published at Caracas, Venezuela, opened its offices on the night of November 29th for a Phonograph exhibition, and on December 1st El Pregonera referred to it as follows:

Saturday night our offices were favored with a gathering of friends, accompanied by the ladies of their families, the occasion being a Phonograph entertainment tendered by Señor J. Santa de Leon.

Two apparatus were put in use, one of which was an Edison Concert; both of these apparatus were admirably perfected, as all others lately received by Mr. J. Santa de Leon. The purity of the sound is absolutely complete in this famous invention of the Wizard of Menlo Park, and therefore there is nothing to detract from the illusion of originality produced by these musical selections. We heard about twenty-four Records, the extensive repertoire possessed by this gentleman; songs, tenor airs, duets, popular songs, military selections by brass bands, etc., all of which were loudly applauded.

We thank Mr. J. Santa de Leon in our behalf as well as in that of the distinguished company composing our audience, for the most charming evening tendered.

NAMES OF "OUT OF BUSINESS" DEALERS WANTED.

Jobbers will confer a favor upon our Advertising Department if they will at least once or twice in each year go over the list of their Sub-Dealers and advise us of any names that should be taken from our mailing list. Dealers will go out of business and we do not desire to continue mailing them literature when they have no further use for it. A little attention to a matter of this kind will be appreciated by our Advertising Department.

PRINTED MATTER.

The trade is hereby advised that printed forms Nos. 414, 418 and 428 are out of print and cannot be supplied in any quantity.

The use by Jobbers of sheets giving the Comments on new Records each month seems to be on the increase. The number printed each month is larger, and more Jobbers are ordering them than before.

We expect late in January to mail a new Numerical Catalogue to every Jobber and Dealer on our mailing list. This copy is intended for the store use of a Dealer and should be kept until the next edition appears. The present edition will not permit of duplication. It will therefore be useless for Jobbers to order them in quantities with a view of sending another copy to their Dealers. A few extra copies will, of course, be sent to Jobbers, but no large quantity will be sent out. It will save correspondence if Jobbers will not ask for them in quantities.

The December Supplement was the first of a new series of eight to be sent out in as many consecutive months. These have been printed in a simpler style than those previously issued, it having been found that plainer Supplements will answer every purpose of the Dealer. Some Dealers were of the opinion that a perfectly plain one would be as good as a colored one, but we did not care to make so radical a departure at one time.

The quantity of interesting matter submitted to us for insertion in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is frequently more than we can use in the issue of one month. We are, therefore, compelled to discriminate between some of the matter and to lay part of it over for another month. We desire, however, to have Dealers continue to send us readable matter for use in its columns. Facts in connection with the sale of Edison Phonographs and Records are especially desirable. We shall also be glad to receive suggestions from Dealers on methods of carrying a stock economically

RECORD SUGGESTIONS GLADLY RECEIVED.

Occasionally we receive a letter from a Jobber or a Dealer offering suggestions concerning the making of a Record or the listing of a certain musical composition among our Records. These are always referred to our Record Department and receive due consideration. The fact may not be generally known to the trade, but we shall be glad to receive at any time suggestions that Dealers may care to send in. Such will be carefully considered by our Record Department. We may not be able to follow all of them, but such suggestions may result in very decided benefit to the entire trade. We are, therefore, glad at all times to hear from our Dealers on such matters.

A TRIBUTE.

The following tribute to the Edison Phonograph comes from an admiring user at St. Paul, Minn:

ST. PAUL, MINN., NOV. 5, 1903.

I have had one of your Standard Phonographs in my home only a short time, in which it has given me much pleasure.

I believe that you have done more than most of our great men to-day in helping to make people happy, and affording wholesome pleasure and amusement in homes in every part of the universe.

By spending a few dollars one can bring the music of a grand opera to the bedside of an invalid. The blind may be entertained as never before.

People of all nations speaking different languages find that same pleasure in listening to its music. The old and the young alike find pleasure in listening to your Phonograph, for it will play all kinds of music to suit all kinds of people. The invalid seems to gain strength while listening to its cheerful notes. The babe is hushed to sleep by its sweet lullabies; while its martial music stirs the heart of every patriotic youth who hears it.

People tired with the labors of the day may rest and become refreshed while listening to the brazen voice of a brass band or the melodious strains of an orchestra, or, perhaps, a vocal solo rendered by some famous artist. The sad are made glad; the sorrowful happy; and the weary rested. As "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," so also it has a subtle power to rest our tired nerves.

LEON C. MEAD.

ARE SIMPLY PERFECT.

The following is an extract from a letter received from A. Eherbech, Santiago, Chile:

"I received the shipment of Phonographs and Records, per S. S. Caribou, in good condition. The improvements both in Records and Reproducers are striking, and I beg you to accept my compliments. The Edison Concert Records—Bands, Orchestras, etc.—are simply perfect."

COMMENTS ON FEBRUARY RECORDS.

Of sufficient variety to suit every taste is the advance list of new Edison Gold Moulded Records for February. He will be critical, indeed, who cannot find in the list a number of Records to suit his taste. The list comprises the usual twenty-five domestic selections and is nicely balanced in the number of band, orchestra and instrumental selections and in the number of singing and talking Records. The quality, too, is all that can be desired. The list represents the most advanced methods and skill in the art of making Phonograph Records. The men or women who play, sing or talk for the Master Records are the best to be had and the men who direct every detail of the various processes have spent years under the general supervision of Mr. Edison. The men in the Record department of the Edison Laboratory are always abreast of the times. They not only have the experience gained by Mr. Edison's and their own unceasing experiments, but they at once avail themselves of any new discoveries made in other record making plants. Each selection, therefore, is the best that present human knowledge can make.

In putting our a list of twenty-five new Edison Gold Moulded Records each month no claim is made that every title will suit every individual. On the contrary, it is made up with a view of suiting the tastes of the greatest number and as many different sections of the country as possible. Long experience has taught the people at the Edison Laboratory just what the public wants in Phonograph Records and the advance lists sent out by the National Phonograph Company meet this want to a nicety.

No. 8500, "It Was the Dutch Medley," is another of the series of medley Records being made by the Edison Military Band, one being listed each month. This one introduces "It Was the Dutch," "Under the Anheuser Bush," "Up in a Coconnut Tree," "Always in the Way," and "Celia." It is quite unusual to get five popular airs on one Record.

No. 8600, "Your Mother Wants You Home, Boy," is a splendid Record of Paul Dresser's latest song hit. It is sung by Byron G. Harlan and has an excellent orchestra accompaniment.

No. 8601, "Far Away," is an unusually fine soprano and tenor duet by Miss Chapell and Mr. Stricklett. This song was written by Mrs. J. W. Bliss. It has a charming air and the Record is made with excellent blend of the voices.

No. 8602, "Wouldn't It Make You Hungry?" is an unusually characteristic coon song by Bob Roberts, with orchestra accompaniment. A very hungry coon is told by his lady friend that she is going to dine on "Little Neck clams, thick cut of roast beef rare, hot chicken swimmin' in gravy, hash browned, pomme-de-terre, asparagus tips dipped in butter, corn, tomatoes, and pie." This forms the refrain of the song and Mr. Roberts sings it with much unction. This song is written and published by Harry Von Tilzer.

No. 8603, "Lovey Mary," is a characteristic dance air of uncommon charm. It is played by the Edison Symphony Orchestra in an artistic manner.

No. 8604, "Clancy's Prize Waltz Contest," is a tale of a Bowery dance hall by Len Spencer. It introduces typical Bowery characters and orchestra music. Clancy offers a De Barrios diamond ring for the best lady dancer and a meerschaum cigarette holder for the best "gent" dancer, and it is announced that Clancy's only interest in the dance is the sale of the "booze." The dance begins to the music of "My Little Coney Isle," when word comes up from below that the bar is doing "nothin'." The orchestra is instructed to play that "riraty" music, "de Wurzburger." The prizes are awarded to the lady with the red hat, the green veil, and the pink shirtwaist, and to the "gent" with the derby hat and the linen duster. One of Mr. Spencer's best Records.

No. 8605, "A Dream," is J. C. Bartlett's delightful sentimental song. It is sung by George Seymour Lenox, who has a fine tenor voice and sings in a finished manner. It is one of the best Records of a tenor voice ever made at the Edison Laboratory. Mr. Lenox was accompanied by an orchestra.

No. 8606, "Marching Thro' Georgia," is a duet Record by Collins and Harlan of that patriotic air which will ever live in the hearts of Americans. The chorus is sung as a duet. The singers are accompanied by the orchestra and drum corps effects are introduced. It is a Record that will remain in collections when Records of later music have been forgotten.

No. 8607, "At the Mountain Inn," is another of those delightful bits of Alpine music played as a violin and flute duet by Jandas and Alt. The sweet and graceful character of this music suggests the country from which it emanates. These duets have met with great favor among lovers of Phonograph Records.

No. 8608, "Barney," is a companion Irish song to "Heidelia," although its air does not resemble the latter in any way. It has character of its own and is a rollicking Irish ditty. It is sung as a duet by Collins and Harlan, with orchestra accompaniment, and is made with unusual volume of tone. The music of this song is by Ed. Rogers, and it is published by Harry Von Tilzer.

No. 8609, "Cary Waltz," is an original composition by Bohumir Kryl, the famous cornetist, and he plays it as a cornet solo, with orchestra accompaniment. The music is as creditable to Mr. Kryl as his ability to play the cornet. It is a splendid Record in every respect.

No. 8610, "Connville's Colored Band," is a descriptive coon march song by Arthur Collins and has an orchestra accompaniment. The music is full of life and vim, and Mr. Collins enters into the spirit of the song in making the Record. The music reminds one of the coon marching songs so popular a few years ago. Davids and Meakin are the authors and M. Witmark is the publisher.

No. 8611, "Your Dad Gave His Life for His Country," is a patriotic song of Decoration Day; the kind of song that touches a popular chord in the average American. It is sung artistically by Frauchlyn Wallace, and has an orchestra accompaniment. The words are by Harry J. Breen and the music by T. Mayo Geary.

No. 8612, "American Flag March," is a clever whistling solo by Joe Belmont, the first Record by Mr. Belmont that we have been able to list in several months.

"No. 8613, "Dear Old Girl," is a pathetic and sentimental ballad, with orchestra accompaniment, nicely sung by Harry Macdonough. Records of this character are always in demand. The words are by Richard Henry Buck and the music by Theo. F. Morse.

No. 8614, "The Cavalier March," by the Edison Concert Band, is a splendid twostep air and a Record that will sell whenever played for admirers of band Records.

No. 8615, "If You're Such a Great Star, Why Don't You Shine?" is a coon song Record in Arthur Collins' best style. The song portrays the scorn and indignation of a coon girl, who was taken to the circus by a gentleman friend. He had told her that he was a great star, but at the circus she found him in one of the cages. Mr. Collins sings the part splendidly. With orchestra accompaniment it makes a Record that will be a good seller.

No. 8616, "Merry Birds Polka," is another well made and delightful addition to the list of piccolo Records made by Frank S. Mazziota. Few instruments make such clear Records as the piccolo, and when played by an artist like Mr. Mazziota they are doubly desirable. "Merry Birds Polka" is accompanied by the orchestra. It was written by J. S. Cox.

No. 8617, "The Woodchuck's Song," is a Record of Fay Templeton's song in "The Runaways." Words by Bob Roberts, a baritone who is thereby introduced to buyers of Edison Gold Moulded Records. This song has for its chorus the old query, "How much wood would a woodchuck chuck if a woodchuck would chuck wood?" The Record has an orchestra accompaniment. The music of the song is by Theodore F. Morse and the words by Robert Hobart Davis.

No. 8618, "Razzle Dazzle," is a characteristic cakewalk air played as a banjo solo by Vess L. Ossman, whose talent needs no comment. The orchestra accompaniment makes the Record exceedingly attractive. "Razzle Dazzle" is the work of Harry Von Tilzer and is clever throughout.

No. 8619, "Reuben Haskin's Ride on a Cyclone Auto," is an unusually good talking Record by Len Spencer. It gives in a realistic and extremely funny manner a description of a Maine farmer's ride in an automobile: how he is frightened out of his wits by the terrific speed of the machine, and how it ran over and killed chickens and dogs on the way. This Record will be a great laugh provoker.

No. 8620, "The Bridal Rose," is an overture by the Edison Symphony Orchestra. It is a pretty bit of music and played in the best possible manner.

No. 8621, "I Ain't Got No Time," is a comic coon sheet by Collins and Harlan. This Record is also made with orchestra accompaniment, and with No. 8608 are the first Records ever made at the Edison Laboratory with such accompaniment. "I Ain't Got No Time" is an excellent Record and will attract more than ordinary attention. Mr. Collins sings the air and at each pause Mr. Harlan breaks in with a funny remark. The chorus is then sung as a duet. Felix F. Feist wrote the words and Ted S. Barron the music of this song.

No. 8622, "Girlish Dreams," is a bell solo by Albert Benzler, with orchestra accompaniment. The air is pretty. Mr. Benzler plays it perfectly, and the orchestra music adds to the attractiveness of the Record. This composition was written by E. Hotel.

No. 8623, "Daughter of Love Waltz," is a fine Record by the Edison Military Band. Its music is very attractive and the band execution could not be better. It was recorded at slow tempo for dancing. The music is by C. W. Bennet.

EDUCATORS APPROVE LANGUAGE COURSES WITH EDISON PHONOGRAPHS.

Modern educators are becoming deeply interested in the Phonograph method of teaching French, German and Spanish employed by the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa. We have received newspaper clippings telling of demonstrations at teachers' conventions in Duluth, Minn., and Chardon, Ohio, of the value of the Phonograph as an aid in teaching languages. The following endorsement shows how educators are taking up the matter:—

Department of Romance Languages,
Johns Hopkins University,
Baltimore, Md.

International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa.

Mr. A. Menke, Jr., Asst. Supt., Baltimore, Md.

DEAR SIR:—I wish to thank you again for your most interesting exposition of the method of teaching modern languages with the aid of the Phonograph, now in use by the International Correspondence Schools. The Phonograph Records are excellent and so carefully graded that the student can understand the grammatical construction as well as the meaning from the first. The accompanying textbook is put together on a rational basis and contains far more minute explanations of rules and idiomatic usages than an instructor usually gives in class. The system of correcting the student's pronunciation by means of the Phonograph should also be entirely satisfactory in view of the standard quality of the machine in use.

I wish to add that I consider the system superior to any other method of phonographic language teaching now on the market, and I may say, the least expensive for the learner because of the eminent privileges afforded.

MURRAY P. BRUSH,
Associate in Romance Languages.

A DEALER TO BE PROUD OF.

One of the most enthusiastic Dealers in Edison Phonographs and Records is the Keely Phonograph Co., H. P. Keely, manager, 6109 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Keely never sells any other make of talking machines or records if by any means he can avoid it. Edison goods have not Dealers more loyal than he. One of his many unique ways of advertising is a rubber stamp with which he prints the following on all his mail matter:

EDISON RECORDS (The Only)
50c each, $5.00 Doz.
——— Records (Indestructible)
25c each, $3.00 Doz.
——— Records, X P

ANY OLD PRICE.

IF YOU CANNOT BUY GOOD ONES,
WE SELL THE IMITATION
Hard Brittle and Easily Broken Super Hardened.

We asked Mr. Keely if he objected to a mention of his rubber stamp in these columns and received the following characteristic letter from him:

In regard to my "ad" you are very welcome to use the same and also use my name. In reference to my experiences in handling disks will say that the disk machine, no matter who makes it, is a "dead one," and should be treated the same as any other public nuisance. Any one selling or using same should be fined or given ninety days in the workhouse. I have sold every make of disk records in the market for one cent an inch (this means diameter, not circumference), and consider myself well rid of such truck. I will never be found with the evidence on me again. I have sold over 3,000 Edison Phonographs which have made me famous as Keely's Talk and seven disk machines, for which I hope to be forgiven in the hereafter. I have seven enemies. They bought the disk machines. This does not include their families who were tortured by them.

The disk machine carrying cases are not in demand, as nearly every home has an attic which answers the purpose very shortly after the disks are purchased. The most novel use for a disk machine is that made by a farmer who feeds his poultry corn with a lavish hand and then starts his disk machine and they take to the woods hungry rather than eat in such torture. The trolley cars in Pittsburg are very musical in a disk sense when they are climbing the hill; if anything, they make sweeter music. The growl and grind is there without the trouble of changing the needle. I have several disk machines on hand, but shudder when compelled to play one, as all musical customers leave at once. The X. P. (X poor), hard, brittle and easily broken record is not much in demand, as they are cheap in price, cheap in sound and made by a cheap concern, who only only man who use cheap and slippery methods to dispose of this junk.

Mr. Keely's reference to selling disk records at one cent an inch is an actual fact of almost daily occurrence. When asked the price of disk records he replies: "One cent an inch," and actually sells them for seven or ten cents, according to diameter. Another of his unique methods of advertising is to announce a sale of the cheap cylindrical records at ten cents a dozen, and he carries out his promise. He had been holding a sale of this kind one day each week and disposing of cheap cylindrical records at twenty-five cents a dozen. The manager of the branch store of the manufacturers of these records was skeptical concerning the sales and sent a boy with twenty-five cents to the Keely store to buy a dozen. The boy returned with the dozen records and fifteen cents in change, saying: "They're selling them for ten cents a dozen to-day." With all this Mr. Keely is a staunch upholder of the Edison Agreement and prices.

EXTRACTS FROM TRADE LETTERS.

"You may depend we will co-operate with your text to the letter."—Pierce & Quinn, Northport, Wash.

"I have never seen any occasion for price cutting on Edison goods, therefore you can rest assured of my hearty co-operation.—E. S. Harper, Mount, Ohio.

"We are very much pleased with new Records which have orchestra and band accompaniments. In our little town more interest is being taken in the Edison Phonograph. We have sold to pleased customers nine Home Phonographs.—Thos. Coates, Prescott, Ariz.

"In looking over the MONTHLY I see a great talk about the 'steen cent' records. They remind me of a corner band when most of the players are not collecting the pennies. The best story I have is this: We were playing November Records for a couple of customers when in came one of our cranks with two 'steen cent' records. He told me he had a Laughing Water (No. 8532 on our list), and asked to hear ours. I played steen and ours and sold three of ours on the spot, one of them to the crank.—Howard T. Tripp, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"We wish to thank you for postal received a short time ago stating the name of a party that wrote you for catalogues. We called on them and got an order for some Edison Records and he has bought eight Records every week, and last Saturday we sold him a Triumph and a 42-inch horn. This is only one case of your great help to dealers of Edison goods."—S. D. LaRoe & Son, Woonsocket, R. I.

"December Suspended List received. I think you are doing a noble act with these cutters, and hope the good work will go on."—W. M. Henderson, Port Chester, N. Y.

. Am handling nothing but Edison Machines and Records. My customers say they are the best and the cheapest in the long run, and I know they are. I will uphold the Dealers' agreement and see that there is no price-cutting on Edison goods down this way.—Albert J. Yoder, Sandwich, Mass.

"We have not adorned (?) our racks with the 'steen cent' records, nor do we want to. Our motto shall be: 'Stick to those who have stuck to us.' Wishing you a prosperous future, to which we will contribute our share."—Jamez T. Coughlin, New York City.

"I have no trouble in selling Edison goods without cutting the prices, for I think the Edison Phonographs and Records are the best in the world."—Jamez Cowen, Ebrenfeld, Pa.

"We hereby acknowledge receipt of December List of Suspended Dealers, and we note with surprise that Dealers in seven different cities have been added since the last List was published. We cannot understand how some Dealers can be so short sighted as to try to evade the conditions of the contract. We assure you of our hearty co-operation in assisting you to keep the Edison business on as sound a basis as it is now conducted, and to this end we will certainly refuse to supply Edison goods to any Suspended Dealers."—The Klein & Heffelman Co., Canton, Ohio.

"We acknowledge receipt of your Suspended List and assure you that none of the suspended firms can purchase from our agency any of your Phonographs or supplies. Why don't you add at the bottom of your Suspended List: Firms that violate a written contract are not safe people to do business with. The prevailing glory of the world is the Edison Phonograph."—Boehm & Strickler, Ellenboro, W. Va.

"I will join you in keeping up the reputation that the Edison goods have gained. I will also join you in sustaining the present prices on said goods."—William P. Teed, Uniontown, Pa.

"We acknowledge the receipt of your Suspended List, and we think it is a good plan of knowing who tries to spoil the trade. You may be assured that we intend to co-operate with you to hold the trade right."—S. M. Feltz & Co., Holdrege, Neb.

"I read with interest the article in the December PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY in regard to the best manner of handling a retail stock of Records. I have tried various ways, but think that the 'wire Record rack,' made by the Syracuse Wire Works, the only thing. It is not expensive, is neat, attractive and most convenient. You may be sure of my hearty co-operation to prevent price cutting."—I. F. Eastman, Lewiston, Me.

"The Phonograph business is pretty good with me. I have sold fifteen machines up to date, and will sell more before the year is out. A party put in a ——— agency here. He lasted about one month and hunted pastures new. He sold a few records, but not a single machine. The Edison was too much for him. He will have to hunt out a town where the Edison is not sold to do business."—C. J. Lefevre, Los Gatos, Cal.

"I am no opposer to price cutting and have no sympathy for those that allow their names to appear on the Suspended List. They surely don't know when they have got a snap."—George B. Bonner, Toma, Iowa.

"I will not sell any of Edison's goods to any one that is on the Suspended List. Your goods give perfect satisfaction."—Henry W. Townsend, Wilton Junction, Iowa.

"I think your Records are the best ever made and the plainest I have ever heard. My customers think so, too. I will always stick by the Edison goods."—Bert G. Smith, Trichetwung, Mass.

"The Edison Phonograph is taking the lead wherever it is introduced, and the Records cannot be excelled by any other make."—I. H. Althouse, Shelby, Ohio.

"I will stick up for the Phonograph every jump in the road. If everybody is giving the 'steen cent' records the same recommend that I am they will soon be out of the talking machine business. I have handled the Edison Records for over four years now and I can get the Edison goods. I handle all makes of machines and sell the Edison over them all. I had a customer to-day for a machine and he wanted a disk, so I played the disk for him and then I played the Edison Home. He said: 'Fix up the Home, that is good enough for me.' I sold him a little over $100 worth of goods, all Edison, too. I am still selling the Edison Records at fifty cents each, and I have the business, too. Wishing you all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year."—C. W. Jacobs, Hastings, Neb.

"You can depend upon us doing all in our power to further the interest of the National Phonograph Co."—O. B. Daspit's Sons, Houma, La.

"Several of my customers asked me why I did not sell the 'steen cent' record, so I got one sample to show them. Well, that was enough. I still have the sample; no one wants it. I have one customer who has bought of me over 175 Records, all Edison Gold Moulded Records."—Henry Taulman, St. Johnsville, N. Y.

"Edison machines give the very best of satisfaction about here. You may expect my co-operation with you."—H. C. Stevens, Philippi, W. Va.

"You are on the right track. I have handled your Moulded Records ever since their introduction and have yet to find a poor one. I therefore recommend them to all."—B. L. Hayward, Barre, Vt.

"I am heartily in accord with you. I will do all in my power to keep the trade where it is—on sound business principles. I tell my customers that the Edison machine is the only talking machine in the world; also the Moulded Records are wonderful. I do not handle any other machine or records, and I would not if they gave them to me for nothing. This you can rely on."—W. E. Hall, New York City.

"Your Records are the only Records. In the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY we see that one dealer says that Edison Gold Moulded Records are worth fifty to the others' ten cents. We say that the Edison Records are the cheapest Records made; and if price was $1 each they would still be the cheapest Record made, as it is the best."—The George W. Page Co., Winter Park, Fla.

"Your Suspended List received, and we will see that none of these firms get Edison goods from us at less than contract price."—Fulton Mercantile Co., Verndale, Minn.

"You can depend on me keeping up the prices on all Edison goods and not selling any goods to any one you have dropped from your List. I am doing a nice business this winter, and hope to sell about one thousand Records during the holidays. I do think Edison Records are getting better all the time. It is impossible to sell ——— goods here."—Albert Palmer, Garrett, Ind.

"We have no time or place in our store for anything but the 'Edison' in the talking machine line. Price cutters have no right to live (commercially), and we will do all we can to kill them and the 'steen cent' records."—Hooven Novelty Mfg. Co., Hazleton, Pa.

"We have had some little experience lately with the 'steen cent' records, and wish to say now that we will never leave the Edison fold again. We have a fairly liberal dose of those records yet, and may decide soon to give them away, as they will not sell, and our room is valuable. We enjoy the Edison goods very much ourselves, and only wish we had sufficient trade to sell ten times as many as we do."—W. A. Garver, Canal Dover, Ohio.

"It is a pleasure to deal with a house that lives up to what it publishes, and that is what you folks do. We are not envious of our competitors, but we do like to see the Edisons suspended that don't live up to your contract. We are keeping ample from the wool go, and hope to do more in the future with your go-ods."—Frank W. Thomas, Albany, N. Y.

"Am glad to see that you keep up the price on Records. I can get fifty cents just as easy as sixteen cents. You can depend that I will not cut prices."—Charles B. Kein, Louisville, Ohio.

"We are much pleased with the last edition of Records, as they are perfect. We will handle no other, for we know and appreciate good music when we hear it and do our trade."—Hammett & Cook, Philadelphia, Pa.

"I for one will not sell any of your apparatus to any of the Suspended List or to customers for less than the list prices, as I think they are fully worth all you ask for them. I have as good a chance for as many sales as any of your authorized Dealers under your rules and regulations, and when I get so I can't comply with these I will resign from the business."—Joshua Doz, Liberty, N. C.

"I talk National goods forever; in fact, they talk for themselves."—W. B. Hall, Sr., Riverside, N. J.

"We opened up our Edison Phonograph Department quite recently, and both the sale of the apparatus and Records for some has been more than satisfactory to us. The only thing that we now have to regret is, that we did not open this department up at least a year earlier."—O. K. Houck Piano Co., Memphis, Tenn.

A WONDERFUL REPRODUCTION.

C. J. Heppe & Son, of Philadelphia, write: "A. Bonanzo, one of the leading structural engineers of the country, who is at the same time an authority on good music, considers Edison Record No. 8490, Ballet Music, Mathias Sandorph, with Clarinet Solo, the most wonderful reproduction of a wood wind instrument he has ever heard. To use his own words, 'It is as natural as the thing itself.'"

A PHONOGRAPH SINGS AND TALKS THE PARTS.

Samuel Briggs, Jr., a boy living on Stacy street, Burlington, N. J., has constructed a toy theatre that excites the envy of his young friends and the marvel of older acquaintances. The miniature stage is two feet deep, two feet high and three feet wide, and is so arranged that the scenes may be easily and quickly shifted behind an automatically rolling curtain. The ingenious young owner has made up scenery for the different acts which he presents. The backgrounds and landscapes are clipped from show posters, while paper or wax figures represent the actors. The plays range from the minstrel to the drama, the illustrations showing scenes from Dumont's Minstrels and "Way Down East." In the pit the wax figures of the orchestra appear in the attitude of furnishing the stage music, and a mechanical doll drums noisily on a toy piano. Another feature of this miniature playhouse is that it is connected with a Phonograph, which talks, sings or plays the parts of the actors. The clever boy, who is but eleven years of age, has delighted many an audience, adults as well as children, with this home-made toy.—Philadelphia North American, December 14, 1903.

OMITTED BRITISH SELECTION.

No. 12830, "Auld Lang Syne," by Thomas Reid, was omitted from the list of British Records issued in December. We have moulds of this Record and can fill orders for it.

Douglas & Company, Jobbers at 89 Chambers street, New York City, recently had a customer from New Jersey call at their place and buy a Home Phonograph. He does not sell Edison goods, but those of another company, and said that he desired to purchase a good machine for his personal use. He therefore bought an Edison Phonograph.

"EDISON RECORDS."

"There are numerous imitations, with many claims of superiority, but there is no other Record made that equals the genuine Edison, for perfect tonal qualities."—From a Holiday Folder issued by R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada.

TRADE NOVELTIES.

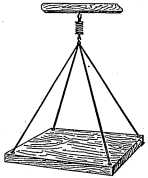
The Kremmer Indicator Co., of 829 DeKalb avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., is marketing an indicator to regulate time and speed on Phonographs.

The Syracuse Wire Works, of Syracuse, N. Y., is manufacturing a wire rack for the convenient handling of Phonograph Records.

In the November issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY we published an advertisement of a new horn crane made by Victor H. Rapke, of 1661 Second avenue, New York City. This is one of the advertisements that we regret being unable to continue in these columns. It advertises an article of much interest to every Dealer and Jobber and conflicts with the business of none of them. This horn crane has attracted considerable attention in the trade as being a most useful device. It is clamped to the under side of any style of talking machine in such a way as to serve all the purposes of any horn crane, and yet not be in the way at all. Readers interested in this horn crane are referred to Page 18 of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY for October.

Some time ago we published a paragraph from the Hooven Novelty Manufacturing Company, of 84 North Wyoming street, Hazleton, Pa., referring to a device for determining when an Edison Phonograph is being run at a speed of 160 revolutions per minute. This device was a little card cut to the exact length of a minute of travel of the Phonograph arm running at the rate of 160 revolutions per minute. This company has now had this device manufactured in polished steel, and is anxious to get in touch with Dealers, with a view of furnishing them with a quantity to give away for advertising purposes to owners of Phonographs. In their own city they got out a letter offering to give one of these devices to each of their customers who would call, and found that it resulted in increased business.

The forms of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY practically close on the 20th of each month. We do not get the Advance List until the 25th, but the forms are supposed to be ready by that time with the exception of inserting the Advance List and Comments on the same. Therefore matter sent in about the 20th of the month must be frequently held over, and if it does not appear in the current issue, the senders will understand that it was received too late for use.



A NEAT DEVICE FOR USE WITH PHONOGRAPH AT SEA.

Phonograph Dealers who sell goods for use by ship captains and owners of yachts will read the following with interest:

T. S. S. "TAURIC."

PORTLAND, ME., Oct. 19, 1903.

I have an Edison Home Phonograph, and as my occupation is a marine engineer, I am almost continually at sea, where the Phonograph always accompanies me, and has done so for the past two and a half years. For a time I found some difficulty in playing the machine at sea, on account of the great vibration and rolling of the vessel. I tried several means to get something like results, and after several futile attempts I got a spring, similar to the one I am sending you, and fixed it to a strong hook in the roof of my cabin. On to the spring I hang a shelf two feet six inches long by one foot wide, with strong cords from each corner, and of equal and suitable length. The opposite ends are all brought together and secured to a hook and the whole contrivance supports the Phonograph. The result is absolutely the best. It makes no difference how the ship rolls or pitches, the machine plays in good shape, without any discordant sounds or jumping over sound waves, or anything that is disagreeable to a lover of music. The reason I have sent this to you is I thought it might be of service to those who would like to have their Phonographs on their yachts, a la Sir Thomas Lipton and others, who no doubt have to abandon all idea of a tune or a song when at sea. Since I hit upon this simple plan I spend many a happy hour, while otherwise things would be very slow. Several persons who have seen this affair think it is first-class and are surprised to hear the machine playing away in good shape, although the vessel may be rolling all over the ocean.

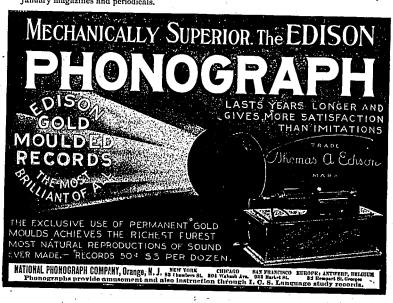
A. W. BYRNE,
Chief Engineer.

DEALERS' ADVERTISING.

Between the acts at the Murray Hill Theatre in New York City advertisements are shown on the curtain by means of a kinetoscope. Among the advertisements thus displayed is that of I. Davega, Jr., a New York Jobber, showing a Phonograph, a camera and a bicycle with the words "A dollar a week will buy any of these articles" underneath the three.

The Eastern Talking Machine Company, of Boston, heads its January Advance List with the following phrase: "January Edison Gold Moulded Records. Moulded in gold; as good as gold; staple as flour, and not on the bargain counters of Department Stores." Every loyal Edison Dealer will agree that this phrase is good.



The Star Phonograph Company, of 1034 Broadway, Brooklyn, had quite a unique window display during December. It had two figures made up, one showing Uncle Sam taking off his hat to the Phonograph and the other showing the Boy with the Hatchet looking for the Band. These were attached to motors and both figures worked constantly, in a very life-like manner. It follows that they attracted much attention from passers-by.

William D. Hall, Sr., a Dealer at Riverside, N. J., gives a Phonograph party at his store each week and distributes cards among the callers. He then plays a number of Records on the Phonograph, leaving out the announcement at the beginning of the Record. Afterwards he gives prizes to those who guess most correctly the names of the band, orchestra, or individual making the Record. He finds this quite a success in pushing business.

Unusually pretty is a Christmas folder sent to us by Charles E. Robertson, a Dealer at West Philadelphia, Pa. It is excellently printed with green ink on green paper and is a credit to the printer who turned it out. The folder shows a list of the Edison Gold Moulded Records for December and a number of articles suitable as gifts for users of talking machines.

JANUARY ADVERTISING.

The advertisement below was published in full, half and quarter pages, in about twenty January magazines and periodicals.

FOOLS THE RABBITS WITH A PHONOGRAPH.

There is a law in Lake County, Illinois, against chasing the rabbit out of his warm burrow or brush heap by means of the squeaking ferret. The Chicago Tribune of December 13, contained an article telling at length how a hunter gets around the law by means of a Phonograph. He made a Record of a squeaking ferret and with it succeeds in frightening the rabbits as much as with the real article. The squire who was asked to arrest the offender refused and reasoned thus: Suppose a gang of men should surround your house, and hoot, and yell, and hammer on the doors until you ran out in a fright and then robbed your house. That would be riot and robbery. But suppose some one should load up a Phonograph with these yells, and hoots, and cries, and set the machine outside your house some night and turn it loose—you couldn't arrest any one for riot, could you? It would be a practical joke, wouldn't it? And no judge or jury could hold you for a practical joke played on a rabbit, could it? Well, I guess not."

In the meantime, says the Tribune, the mere dog who "knows his master's voice" is entirely passe in Lake County, Illinois.

SUSPENDED LIST, JANUARY 1, 1904.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

COLORADO.

BOULDER—BENTLEY & CRAIG.

IOWA.

DES MOINES—HOPKINS-SEARS CO., or HOPKINS BROS. COMPANY.

KANSAS.

CLAY CENTRE—E. M. GOWENLOCK.
LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
E. O. MOSHER, 420 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DeWOLPP.
WOBURN—OSBORN GILLETTE, or THE BOLTON PIANO COMPANY, L. F. MALONEY, Manager.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

NASHUA—F. A. McMASTER & CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Atlantic avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 156 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN; also New York City.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
*PLAINFIELD—S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT; also New York City.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLÄNDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 109 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

ALBANY—FINCH & HAHN; also Schenectady.
BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.

NEW YORK—Continued.

HORART—F. H. MARSHALL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
*BRONX PHONOGRAPH CO., or DAVID SWENSKY, 526 Willis Avenue.
R. L. CORWIN; also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 25 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
*S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT, 7 Barclay st., or 32 Cortlandt st.; also Plainfield, N. J.
*O. HACKER, 38 Murray street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway; also Philadelphia, Pa.
*N. HORN, 148 E. 58th street.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 192 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
RICHARD PEASE, 41 W. 125th st.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.
SARATOGA SPRINGS—MARVIN A. COTE.
SCHENECTADY—FINCH & HAHN; also Albany.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & H. VANDERPOOL.
UHRICHSVILLE—P. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2783 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street, or Oxford and Wascher streets; also New York City.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—P. P. MOORE.

WISCONSIN.

*MILWAUKEE—J. C. BLATZEK.

*Added since last Suspended List was issued December 1, 1903.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus, either at addresses given or any other address.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2003 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Ray Co., 54 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 573 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 624 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Caulkins & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Porden-Eisenberger Co., 155 Orange st.

GEORGIA.

Atlanta—The Ray Co., 77 Whitehall street.,
Savannah—The Ray Co., 116-118 Barnard street.,

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Oscar J. Junge, 244 E. Chicago avenue.
Kelley Cigar Co., 80-82 Wabash avenue.
James I. Lyons, 53 Fifth avenue.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking machine Co., 109 Madison street.
The Vim Co., 58 E. Lake street.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 111 Michigan ave.
Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 314 S. Adams street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Kipp Bros., 31 S. Meridian street.
The Ray Co., 734 Massachusetts avenue.

IOWA.

Des Moines—The Vim Co., 704 West Walnut street.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 640 Fourth avenue.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—James I. Lyons, Theatre Arcade.
National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 614 Gravier street.
The Ray Co., 112 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—S. L. Crosby Co., 186 Exchange street.
Portland—W. H. Rand & Son, 205 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Phonograph Co., 49 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 177 Tremont street.
J. C. Haynes & Co., 151 Washington street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 163 Washington street.
Reed-Welch, 218 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 247 Main street.
Lowell—Ring Music Co., 119 Merrimac street.
Thomas Wardell, 111 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 304 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 106 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 219 Woodward avenue.
The Ray Co., 188 Griswold street.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 714 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 31 E. 5th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1013-1015 Walnut street.
The Ray Co., 1010 Grand avenue.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1121 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 1009 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. E. Sidles Cycle Co., 1317 O street.
Omaha—H. E. Fredrickson, 1214-1216 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 518 and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 205 Washington street.
Newark—Edison Co., New and Halsey streets.
H. C. Tuttle Sporting Goods Co., 824 Broad street.
Paterson—James E. O'Dea, 122 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank L. D. Ennis Auto. Co., 820 Park avenue.
Trenton—Stoll Brass Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
A. D. Matthews' Sons, 304 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1048 Broadway.
Buffalo—F. A. Powers, 641 Main street.
Elmira—Elmira Arms Co., 119 Main street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co., 99 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Forsyth & Davis, 300 Wall street.
New York City—Barkelew & Co., 36 Vesey street.
Bettini Phonograph Co., 80 Chambers street.
Blanchard Talking Machine Co., 19 Park place.
J. F. Blackman & Son, 1654 1st avenue.
I. Davegen, Jr., 60 Third avenue.
S. B. Davegen, 32 E. 14th street.
Douglas Phono. Co., 82 Chambers street.
H. R. Gross, 159 Fifth avenue.
Harry Jackson, 1 Union square.
Jones' Music Box Co., 39 Union Square.
Victor H. Rapke, 1062 Second avenue.
Rosenfeld Mfg. Co., 187 Hudson st.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
John Wanamaker, Broadway and 9th street.
Rochester—A. J. Deringer, 39 North street.
Gibson, Plain, & Co., 30-32 E. 200 State street.
Schenectady—Finch & Hahn, 316 State street.
Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 128 E. Railroad street.
Troy—James Looney, 359-361 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark, Horrocks & Co., 114 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelmen Co., 216 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Ilsen & Co., 21 W. 4th street.
The Ray Co., 142 West 4th street.
Cleveland—The Ray Co., 281 Erie street.
The Vim Co., 1103 Euclid avenue.
Columbus—Perry B. Whitall Co., 66 High street.
Dayton—Nicholas & Doshe, 31 E. 4th street.
East Liverpool—Smith-Phillips Music Co.
Toledo—Hayes Music Co., 6a Cherry street.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Braun, 920 Federal street.
Allentown—J. C. Deshler, 639 Hamilton street.
Easton—William Werner, 20 Northampton street.
Philadelphia—Edison Co., 1031 Chestnut street.
Ed. Heisler and his brother, 1216 Market street.
Penn Phonograph Co., 19 S. 9th street.
John Wanamaker.
Wells Phonograph Co., 41 N. 9th street.
Western Electric Co., 250-253 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 913 Market street.
Pittsburg—Theo. F. Beisel Co., Inc., 433 Wood street.
Kaufmann Bros., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 222 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Mellor Co., 319 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 937 Liberty avenue.
Reading—Reading Phonograph Co., 559 Penn street.
Scranton—Scranton Talking Machine Exchange Building.
Technical Supply Co.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Hone & Co., 289-293 Westminster street.
J. A. Pastre, Jr., 89 Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Household Furniture Co., 231-237 Weybosset street.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., 26-30 Eddy street.
A. T. Stantzgard & Co., 106-110 N. Main street.

TENNESSEE.

Knoxville—The Ray Co., 319 Gillock street.
Memphis—The Ray Co., Iroquois Building, 2nd and Jefferson streets.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 30 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, Adv., 249 Main street.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 219 E. Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Cycle Co., 191-201 Reed street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Ltd., 143 Yonge street.

LOOK FOR DOUBLE SERVICE

For Every Edison Phonograph

To the Edison Trade

Wise dealers have both eyes open for business, and are quick to grasp the opportunity of securing more business through "Double Service." It is certain that those who buy Language Outfits, afterwards buy amusement records; then there are language sales to be made to thousands of Phonograph owners who perhaps are not active buyers. As a selling point for the Edison Phonograph there is nothing more unique and forcible than an I. C. S. Language Lesson.

Prepare Yourself at Once

Ask for the new free Catalogue of I. C. S. Language Outfits, and order the Demonstrating Outfit, consisting of three (3) Molded Records with Textbooks, delivered prepaid in the United States or Canada. Price, $1.50

Apply to the Following Jobbers of I. C. S. Outfits

PORTLAND, ME., W. H. Rose & Son
LOWELL, MASS., Thomas Wardell
BOSTON, MASS., Eastern Talking Machine Co.
BOSTON, MASS., J. C. Haynes & Co.
BOSTON, MASS., Oliver Ditson & Society Co.
NEW HAVEN, CONN., The Bradley Co.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Harvey, Hunt, Young & Co.
KINGSTON, N. Y., Forsyth & Davis
SYRACUSE, N. Y., W. D. Andrews
NEW YORK CITY, Blackman Talking Machine Co.
NEW YORK CITY, I. Hevman, Jr.
NEW YORK CITY, Jacot & Co.
NEW YORK CITY, Jacot Music Box Co.
NEW YORK CITY, John Wanamaker
NEWARK, N. J., The Edisonia Co.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Wells Phonograph Co.
DAYTON, PA., William Werner
BUFFALO, N. Y., Lyon & Healy
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Talking Machine Co.
COLUMBUS, OHIO, Perry B. Whitsit Co.
DAYTON, OHIO, Dickson & Dubas
CHICAGO, ILL., S. J. Jones
CHICAGO, ILL., Lyon & Healy
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Metzgar Bros.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Thos. C. Hough
OMAHA, NEB., Nebraska Cycle Co.
KANSAS CITY, MO., J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., The Cyrene Co.
TORONTO, CAN., Nordheimer & Sons Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Otter Zaeslein
MONTREAL STORES, The Hay Co.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. I. NEW YORK, FEBRUARY, 1904. No. 12

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., LTD., 25 CLERKENWELL ROAD, LONDON, ENG.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

Anent Records..... 1
Advance List of Edison Gold Moulded Records for March..... 3
Mr. Gilmore on the Present and Future... 3
Western Freight Rates Reduced..... 3
Phonograph Records as Part of a School Exhibit..... 4
Loyal Dealers..... 4
Visiting Jobbers..... 4
Phonograph Takes the Place of an Orchestra at a Theatre..... 5
Novel Way of Using a Phonograph at a Christmas Entertainment..... 5
Printed Matter..... 6
Cheap Records as an Aid in Selling Goods 6
A Publicity Method That Other Dealers Might Follow..... 7
Queen Victoria's Phonograph Message..... 7
Comments on March Records..... 8
Window Displays..... 9
Playing Records by Telephone..... 10
A Dealer's Argument..... 11
No Use for Any But Edison Goods..... 11
New Record Box..... 7
Makes Selling Goods Easy..... 12
A Model "Follow Up" Letter..... 12
Mammoth Phonograph Horn..... 13
Window Display Made by the Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co..... 13
Suspended List, February 1, 1904..... 14
Jobbers of Edison Phonographs and Records 15

ANENT RECORDS.

The inability of our factory to fill orders for Records is not the only evidence we have that the Edison Gold Moulded Record is holding its own everywhere as the leading cylindrical Record on the market. An investigation into the output of every factory in the country making cylinder Records shows that we are to-day, and have been for months, making fifty per cent. more Records than any other company. This statement is made on the most reliable information, and the claim of others to the contrary is the merest buncombe. Besides this, letters from the trade in all parts of the country show that Dealers generally are selling as many Edison Records as ever before. This business is being done purely on the merit of the Edison product. Many of our Dealers have put in a line of cheap Records and are using them as a means of selling Edison Records. They play them side by side, and invariably make a sale when a customer is looking for quality. For the richest, clearest and smoothest effects, for its wearing qualities and for its all round desirability, the Edison Gold Moulded Record has no equal; and the buying public admit it.

We are again compelled to ask the indulgence of the trade for our tardiness in making shipments of January Records, the last of them not leaving the factory till January 27, nearly three weeks later than should have been the case. Orders for Records previously listed were so numerous and so urgent that we felt compelled to devote considerable time in manufacturing to fill them, with the result that the January list was held up. We had hoped to get into our new Record plant long before this, but delays in getting ironwork, the extreme cold weather and the difficulty of moving a plant that works nights as well as days have combined to put off the day of occupancy. Until we can get into this new building we must

[Continued on page 3.]

THE ADVANCE LIST OF MARCH RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR MARCH, 1904

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near Mar. 1st, 1904, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to Feb. 15th, will be shipped. March Supplements will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records. Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8624 The Gondolier (Intermezzo) Edison Military Band
The new $5,000 instrumental hit purchased by the popularizers of "Hiawatha"

8625 Maydee (Pretty South Sea Island Lady) Arthur Collins
Song with orchestra accompaniment

8626 For Sale—A Baby Byron G. Harlan
Charles K. Harris' new descriptive song with orchestra accomp.

8627 A Winter's Evening (Overture) Edison Symphony Orchestra

8628 Somebody's Waiting 'neath Southern Skies
Harry MacDonough and John H. Bieling
Sentimental male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8629 Bye, Bye, My Honey Coon song Billy Golden

8630 Du Du, air and variations Bohumir Kryl
Cornet solo with orchestra accompaniment

8631 Alabama Minstrels Minstrels
Introducing the ballad "Down in Mobile Long Ago," sung by Harry MacDonough

8632 Uncle Sammy March (Holzmann's Latest) Edison Military Band

8633 I'm Longing for My Old Kentucky Home Harry Anthony
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment

8634 In the Lives of Famous Men Bob Roberts
Comic song with orchestra accompaniment

8635 Auction Sale of a Musical Instrument Store Len Spencer and Comic descriptive talking Parke Hunter selection, introducing various musical instruments and effects

8636 Träumerei Mandolin solo Samuel Siegel

8637 Hannah Won't You Open that Door Arthur Collins
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment

8638 Medley of National Airs U. S. Marine Fife & Drum Corps
Introducing "The Red, White and Blue" and "Yankee Doodle," and Bugles

8639 Beautiful Birds Sing On Harlan & Belmont
Whistling and singing male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8640 Navajo (Indian Love Song) Harry MacDonough
As sung by Marie Cahill in "Nancy Brown," with orchestra accomp.

8641 Swedish Garde March Edison Military Band

8642 Over the Pilsener Foam Collins & Harlan
By the writer of "Down Where the Wurzburger Flows."
Male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8643 Dance of the Song Birds Edison Symphony Orchestra

8644 I'm Just Barely Living That's All Bob Roberts
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment

8645 Where the Sunset Turns the Ocean's Blue to Gold Byron G. Harlan
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment

8646 Sweetest Girl in Dixie Harry MacDonough
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment

8647 My Little Irish Canary Collins & Harlan
Waltz song, male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8648 Barney Medley Edison Military Band
Introducing "Barney," "In the Village by the Sea," "Congo Love Song," and "Coonville's Cullud Band"

(Continued from page 1.)

ask the trade to be patient. Unless the business increases beyond our expectations, we shall before long be in splendid shape to not only fill orders for catalogue numbers promptly but get out those for the monthly supplement on time.

Beginning this month, a new plan will go into effect with Jobbers, by which they will be enabled to hear all new Records before placing an order for them. For two years or more Jobbers have had nothing upon which to base their judgment of each new list except their general knowledge of the selection and the individual making it, and latterly by the information furnished in the monthly "Comments." A letter was sent to Jobbers in January, offering to send a complete set of each new lot of Records to each Jobber who placed an order for a set and agreed to pay express charges on them. Without exception, all Jobbers have availed themselves of the offer, and a shipment of samples of March Records was made to each on February 5, allowing each Jobber time to play the Records over and still get his order in by the 15th of the month. The plan has met with the most cordial approval of all the Jobbers, and it is expected to be of much assistance in placing orders.

MR. GILMORE ON THE PRESENT AND FUTURE.

W. E. Gilmore, President and General Manager of the National Phonograph Co., gave an impromptu and informal dinner to a number of Jobbers and officials of the company at Martin's, New York City, on the night of January 21. Twenty-eight were present. The occasion was of a more than ordinary interest for the reason that Mr. Gilmore, on behalf of the company, made his first public announcement concerning the present and future policy of the company.

Mr. Gilmore first referred with much feeling to the loyalty to the Edison product on the part of Jobbers through the entire country; a loyalty in which he felt the greatest pride and a loyalty that meant much for the success of the National Phonograph Company.

Mr. Gilmore then spoke in detail of the introduction upon the market of a cheap cylindrical Record. He said that he was in Europe at the time the announcement was made and he cabled a reply to the effect that no change should be made in the Edison Record. He admitted that the cheap Record had disturbed the trade, and he referred also to the general unrest in all lines of business. He did not doubt that the lower-priced record had affected the business of some of the Edison Jobbers, but he could say with all sincerity that it had not affected the output of the factory at Orange. The quantity of goods manufactured in the last five months had never been larger. This fact had made it practically impossible for him to put into effect plans which had been under consideration for some time and which would, he thought, not only retain the present prestige of the business but would add greatly to its volume.

He would not say definitely what the plans of the company were, but, whatever the improvements promulgated and carried out, the trade would be taken care of and fully protected. There would be no cutting prices and none would be permitted. The policy of the company in this respect would be carried out with even greater vigor than at any time in the past.

The National Phonograph Company never had said to any of its Jobbers that they should not carry a line of talking machine goods made by other people, but had preferred that they should carry them, if they felt by so doing they could add to their profits. Personally, he was satisfied to have this done. He felt sure that the Edison product would sell the quicker when brought into comparison with others. He closed by inviting the Jobbers present to express themselves frankly on any phase of the business which in their judgment required change or improvement. Every Jobber present availed himself of the opportunity to express his opinion. They suggested changes in equipment and prices of machines; spoke of improvements that they thought could be made in the making of Records; discussed restrictions in selling goods; spoke of credit plans, and dwelt at length upon the situation in general. The trend of this exchange of views may be summed up as follows: No change was necessary in the price of the Edison Record, but, on the contrary, a higher price should be asked for it, if it could be made better; the price of the various types of machines should be increased so as to furnish a better equipment than at present; the cheap Record was cutting much less figure than had been expected, several of the speakers stating that while they had put in the line of them they believed that they had increased the sale of Edison Records by so doing; that the Agreement of the National Phonograph Company should be even more rigidly enforced for the benefit of all concerned, and that Jobbers generally should cooperate with the National Company in eliminating the commercial "dead-beat" from the trade.

WESTERN FREIGHT RATES REDUCED.

At the recent meeting of the Western Classification Committee, the freight rate on Phonographs in the territory west of Chicago and St. Louis was reduced from double first class to one and one-half times first class, effective February 1st.

PHONOGRAPH RECORDS AS PART OF A SCHOOL EXHIBIT.

The public schools of Milwaukee, Wis., are to be represented at the St. Louis Exposition this year, and part of their exhibition will be Phonograph demonstrations of class work, recitations, etc. The school authorities took up the matter with McGreal Bros., of Milwaukee, as agents for Edison Phonographs and Records, and another talking machine company. In spite of special inducements on the part of the latter, the Board of School Directors awarded the contract to McGreal Bros. at full list prices. Following is a copy of the official order:

BOARD OF SCHOOL DIRECTORS, MILWAUKEE, WIS.
Henry E. Legler, Secretary.

Milwaukee, Dec. 29, 1903.

MCGREAL BROS., 139 Third Street, City:

Gentlemen—The World's Fair Committee of the Milwaukee Board of School Directors have awarded to you the contract for furnishing the following Edison Phonograph Records and Cabinets at the following figures:

1 Phonograph with brass horn (30-in.).....$35.00
2 Home Phonographs at $30.....60.00
2 Sets of three-way ear tubes at 25 cts. a set.....0.50
2 Cabinets No. 291 in weathered oak at $12.50.....25.00
Records at 25 cents each.

Time consumed in taking records, 20 cents per hour; work to begin January 1.

Henry E. Legler, Secretary.

McGreal Bros. have agreed to furnish a man, a Phonograph and the necessary apparatus for making Records, and about ten days will be consumed in visiting the different schools. This contract is a distinct endorsement of the Edison product, for the school authorities went over the matter with unusual care, finally selecting the McGreal Bros.' proposition at a higher figure than offered by the competing company. Dealers in Edison Phonographs and Records who visit the St. Louis Fair during the coming Summer should look up Milwaukee's school exhibit and inspect the result of this new feature. The Milwaukee Free Press on January 17 said of this matter:

"Singing of Milwaukee school children will be heard at the Louisiana World's Fair in St. Louis as the result of the departure of the School Board. It has engaged McGreal Bros., 173 Third street, dealers in Phonographs, to make Records of the voices of the children. These Records will be sent to the Edison Laboratory at Orange, N. J., where they will be duplicated and sent to the Fair.

"Nearly every school in the city will be represented. A class from each school, the number being left to the discretion of those in charge, will be taken to the offices of McGreal Bros., where a record of their singing ability will be made by Phonographs. About 100 Records will be taken. It is the intention of those in charge to have twelve classes a day taken to the offices, and each class will be allotted one-half hour.

"McGreal Bros. have brought Harvey Emmons to the city to conduct the taking of records. Mr. Emmons has been engaged in this line for fifteen years with the National Phonograph Company, of Orange, N. J., a part of the Edison Company. He arrived in the city yesterday with special paraphernalia."

LOYAL DEALERS.

One of the most gratifying things in connection with our business is the loyalty to the Edison product shown by Jobbers and Dealers everywhere. It has always been a feature in which the officials of the National Phonograph Company have felt the greatest pride, but it has never been so strongly manifested as in the past five months. Our salesmen meet it everywhere. Whenever an official of the company comes in contact with one of the trade he finds that Edison Phonographs and Records are being pushed to the exclusion of other goods. Letters from all parts of the country are full of kind words for Edison goods and the National Phonograph Company. All of this is gratifying to the company because it shows that the trade has realized beyond question that our chief aim is to sell our product through Jobbers and Dealers and not at retail. It is a complete recognition of our policy, and shows an absence of distrust on the part of the trade. It is a strong approval of the plan we are following in restricting prices, protecting the trade and prosecuting those who violate our Agreement; a plan that grants no favors to a few, but treats all with absolute uniformity. There will be no change in this plan, but on the contrary nothing will be left undone to make it more effective in increasing the business of Jobbers and Dealers.

VISITING JOBBERS.

The visiting Jobbers from out of town during January were the following: William Werner, of Easton, Pa.; S. J. Francis and D. R. Harvey, of the Iver-Johnson Sporting Goods Co., Boston; John N. Willys, of the Elmira Arms Co., Elmira, N. Y.; W. O. Pardee and H. L. Ellenberger, of Pardee-Ellenberger Co, New Haven, Conn.; H. E. Fredrickson, Omaha, Neb.; J. M. Linscott and G. A. Patten, of the Boston Cycle and Sundry Co., Boston; Louis Buehn, of the Wells Phono. Co., Philadelphia; W. D. Andrews, of Syracuse, N. Y.

ART CALENDAR EDITION EXHAUSTED.

The edition of the Phonograph Art Calendar is now exhausted and no more orders from the trade can be filled. This calendar was everywhere conceded to be one of the most attractive issued by any firm for advertising purposes.

PHONOGRAPH TAKES THE PLACE OF AN ORCHESTRA AT A THEATRE.

"Immediately on taking charge of this store fortune threw an excellent opportunity in my hands of giving the Triumph Phonograph a hearing by a select audience," writes John E. Finney, successor to The Roy Co., at Savannah, Ga., under date of January 5.

"The management of the local theatre have been having considerable trouble with their orchestra, and on Thursday evening last Virginia Harned was booked to present 'Iris.' One of the largest audiences of the season assembled at the theatre, and it was learned at the last moment that the orchestra was not to put in an appearance. The writer stepped in the breach and supplied the place of the orchestra with the Triumph, and a selection of operatic and popular music, playing before the performance and during the intermission. The innovation caused some amusement at the start, but before the evening the occasion made many new friends for the Edison wonder, judging from the frequent and long applause following our selections.

"We made good beyond doubt; for the management requested that we repeat our 'orchestra' for Roselle Knott, who, with 'When Knighthood Was in Flower,' attracted a large audience at a matinee on Friday and a brilliant audience that night. Our end was a pronounced success, and has been favorably commented on by the players here. I write this to you because while I have been pretty well posted on the doings of playhouses generally, I have never heard of this being done before. Whole entertainments have been given without doubt; but never as an orchestra that I have heard.

"We have been asked to continue this week, which we are doing. The Savannah Press, in commenting on the performance of 'Iris,' says in part: 'Not the least enjoyable part of the evening was contributed by the Edison Phonograph, which, in place of the orchestra, supplied the musical end of the evening.'"

ADVERTISING PHRASES USED BY SOME PROGRESSIVE DEALERS.

Edison Phonographs double the pleasure of living.—Douglass & Co., New York city.

Unapproachable in the perfection of the Edison Phonograph.—John E. Finney, Savannah, Ga.

Don't be fooled, the Genuine Edison Gold Moulded Record will outlast six of any other style wax records. The Edison Record is, in fact, the only genuine Moulded Record made.—Wells Phonograph Co., Philadelphia.

The Great Edison Phonograph sings its own praises and leads the world.—Keller's Music House, Easton, Pa.

Edison Gold Moulded Records: Moulded in gold, as good as gold, staple as flour, and are not on the bargain counters of department stores.—The Eastern Talking Machine Company, Boston, Mass.

If you use the standard or cylinder Records and want the very best then you simply want the Edison.—C. R. Zachariss, Asbury Park, N. J.

A NOVEL WAY OF USING THE PHONOGRAPH FOR A CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT.

The Pardee-Ellenberger Co., of New Haven, Conn., send the following contribution from F. W. Willoughby, of East Haven, a Phonograph enthusiast:

There was a family gathering of twenty-four in New Haven, Conn., on Christmas Day and the Phonograph was used as a "Santa Claus." For instance, one of the party had a favorite Record—"The Parrot Said." At the finish of the Record he received a large green parrot. The Record entitled "The Miller's Daughter" was then played, all joining in the chorus. The Record "Aroma" was played for a "two-step" with good success, the music being loud and clear. Another of the party had a favorite Record, "Turkey in the Straw," by Billy Golden, and at the finish of this Record a turkey stuffed with straw was given. The Military Lanciers was then played for a good old-fashioned square dance, the music and prompting being very distinct. Then the party sang "Won't You Roll Them Eyes," by Arthur Collins. Another of the party is a great lover of Indians. "Hiawatha" was then played and an Indian was presented. A number of two-steps and waltzes were played for dancing and gave excellent satisfaction. Still another of the party who thought "Under the Bamboo Tree" was "about what the Doctor ordered" was given a Bamboo Queen. The owner of the machine played the Record "High Up in a Cocoanut Tree," and was the recipient of five monkeys. "Turkey in the Straw" was then played for a Virginia reel, and so on through the day the Phonograph was brought in as a funmaker, and was a grand success, there being no end to the uses to which a Phonograph can be put.

A PHONOGRAPH PARTY.

"Enclosed find copy of rather unique invitation, which proved profitable to both Mr. Delahanty and ourselves, as each guest bought from one to three Records. — C. J. Jones, 245 E. Chicago Ave., Chicago, Ill."

The invitation was as follows:

WHOA BILL! WHOA BILL!
STOP! BACK UP!

Mr. O. J. Jungs, you are respectfully invited to attend an Edison Phonograph Party, to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Delahanty, at their Summer home, 311 Illinois street, Saturday evening, August 8, 1903. The leading man of the evening will be Mr. James Hall, and DON'T FORGET TO BRING YOUR RECORD. As ever, your old-time friends,

MR. AND MRS. E. E. DELAHANTY.

J. H. Snyder, a Dealer at Urichsville, Ohio, on one Sunday recently gave a Phonograph entertainment to about 100 inmates of the county infirmary, in place of their usual Sunday afternoon preaching service. The inmates declared that the Phonograph entertainment was better than that led by the minister.

PRINTED MATTER.

We do not seem to be able to make Dealers understand our position with reference to sending out printed matter. Most Dealers have no direct connection with the company, and it is not possible to send them printed matter with their goods. In most instances the quantity of printed matter supplied to Dealers is not large enough to make a freight shipment. Therefore, only one other way remains, to get the matter into the hands of the Dealer, viz., to send it by express at his expense. Instead of having Dealers ask us to do even this, we prefer that they get printed matter from their Jobbers. We endeavor to keep the latter supplied, and they should be able most of the time to take care of the wants of the Dealers. If a Dealer cannot get this attention, we are willing to do whatever we can to assist him, but it must be understood that such orders for printed matter can only be sent by express at the expense of the Dealer.

The printing in sheet form for the use of the trade of the Comments on new Records from the Phonographic Monthly continues to be popular. A number of Dealers have written that they would like to use these sheets if they could get them. All such and others interested may have these Comments mailed to them by remitting to the Advertising Department postage stamps at the rate of 20 cents per hundred for the Comments and 8 cents for postage. The amount is so small that we must ask Dealers to send postage with their order.

We have had printed a quantity of gummed stickers 1x1½inches in size, printed in gold on black paper, for the use of such Dealers as will agree to stick them on envelopes, packages or any other matter going out of their stores. The different forms of these are as follows:

EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS.
Richest, Smoothest, Most Brilliant.

EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS.
Sustained by their Reputation.

EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS.
No Scratch. No Changing Needles.

EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS.
They Praise Themselves. Hear Them.

These can be sent out by mail, and we shall be glad to furnish small quantities to all Dealers who will agree to use them to advantage.

A new Dealers' Discount Sheet was recently mailed to the entire trade. This contains but few changes. The only change of importance is that of straightening out the matter of discounts on Model B Reproducers, which was not clear in the former Discount Sheet. We have also cut out the discounts on some accessories that we are no longer carrying.

A new Record Catalogue will be issued about March 1st which will contain all Records listed to and including March. If the trade finds that the Advertising Department is cutting down orders for the present catalogue it will understand that this is being done in order to make the present edition last until March 1st, and because we do not want the trade to have many of the present catalogue on hand when the new one comes out.

The last of the series of colored hangers, Form 433, was mailed to the trade in January. New designs are under consideration and will be sent out later in the year.

Catalogue of Parts, Form 371, has been superseded by Form 515, but the latter includes no new matter and no changes of any moment. Dealers who have catalogue Form 371 on hand will find it quite as reliable as the new edition.

We are reprinting Form 427, a booklet on the Art of Making Phonograph Records. This is a booklet that might be used to advantage by all Dealers. The Record-making feature is one in which the Edison Phonograph excels all others beyond a question of doubt, and it should be made more of a talking point in the sale of machines than is now done. They, too, many individuals who now own a Phonograph, but whose interest in it has waned, may be induced to take a new interest if given this little booklet on making Phonograph Records.

CHEAP RECORDS AS AN AID IN SELLING EDISON RECORDS.

Campello, Mass., Jan. 18, 1904.

I have put a man on the road, selling and advertising Edison Phonographs, and his principal work, together with this, is talking in the shoe factories at the noon hour. The city of Brockton is one of the largest shoe cities in the world and employs about 12,000 operators in that capacity. Now, our method is to call at the factory, set up our machine, and give them a concert during the noon hour, at the same time giving out circulars and advertising matter to each and every one. We find that this is a fine idea, and we have made lots of sales this way, together with lots of advertising.

I put in a stock of ——— Records. I have been slow not to put them in before, for I am certain that they will be a help in selling Edison goods. Lots of people realize that the ——— looks very similar to the Edison, but when they hear the two it gives them a very different idea, and I find that I am right in this respect. I have sold a great many Edisons to people who have come in to buy ———.

One particular instance I would like to mention. A gentleman called at my store the other evening and asked if I kept ——— Records, and if he could hear some. I played about a half dozen of the same, and he picked out two of them. Then I put an Edison in without his knowing it. When the piece was played he said, "That is the finest Record that I have ever heard; you can save that out for me."

I then informed him that that was an Edison, and he said: "What did you do that for?" I replied that I simply wanted to show him the difference. So I put the Edison back on the shelf, and put on more ———'s. After the next ——— was played, he said: "I want that Edison Record you just played if it costs me a dollar."

GEORGE J. DONAHUE.

A PUBLICITY METHOD THAT OTHER DEALERS MIGHT FOLLOW.

John E. Finney, successor to The Ray Co., at Savannah, Ga., gave a complimentary concert with an Edison Triumph Phonograph to Mistletoe Camp, No. 4, W. O. W., at its annual banquet and installation of officers on January 8. Mr. Finney operated the machine personally and worked up considerable "ad" talk during the evening. The following programme was given:

1. Southern Smiles—March.....
.....Edison Military Band
(Note absence of "Scratch" and "Blast" effects.)
2. Up in a Cocoanut Tree—Song.....
.....Billy Murray
3. Le Secret-Polka—Cornet Solo. John Hazel
4. Sammy—Song .....Harry McDonough
5. Laughing Water.....Edison Concert Band
6. Down in the Depths—Song.....
.....Frank C. Stanley
7. Waldmere March.....Edison Military Band
8. When Kate and I Were Coming
Through the Rye.....Byron G. Harlan
9. Peaceful Henry.....Edison Concert Band
10. The Girl You Love—Song.....
.....Harry MacDonough
11. Donkey Laugh.....Peerless Orchestra
12. In Silence—Song.....Arthur Clifford
13. Any Rags—Medley.....Edison Military Band
14. Jack Tar—March.....Edison Concert Band
15. Violin Solo.....Chas. D'Almaine
16. Piano Solo.....Frank P. Banta
17. Thy Beaming Eyes—Song. Arthur Clifford
18. Amourette Vals .....Peerless Orchestra

A PRIMITIVE DIAPHRAGM.

John Rogers, of the Knoxville Typewriter Exchange, Knoxville, Tenn., recently wrote:

It is truly said that "Necessity is the mother of invention," but it is curious to see what necessity brings forth sometimes. For example, note the enclosed diaphragm which we have just taken out of a reproducer sent in from a remote mountain district.

The diaphragm was a piece of thin tin, plain solder had taken the place of stratena, and the rubber gasket was a piece of rubber cut with scissors. It would be interesting to know how this device reproduced sound.

NEW RECORD BOX.

We are planning to adopt a new style box for packing single Records. It will be made so that it will not be necessary to wrap the Records in cotton. It will be slightly over 2⅜ inches in diameter and 4⅝ inches long. It will have a countersink top and bottom of nearly a half-inch so as to hold the Record firmly on the peg inside the box. We cannot yet say when we shall begin to use this box. Reference is made to it in order that Dealers may know of its size in putting in new racks or re-arranging their present racks.

A WORD FOR THE GEM.

"One of our regular customers called last week," wrote C. J. Heppe & Son, of Philadelphia, recently "and made this remark: 'I want to buy a Phonograph as good as the one I have just sold. I have had a Gem for two years, and last Saturday evening one of my neighbors called and asked if I would sell it; I told him I paid $10 for it and couldn't sell it for less, but that it had been running for two years. The neighbor went home and in half an hour came back with the $10, saying he would rather have a machine that had been run two years than a new one he did not know anything about.' Out customer purchased a Standard and went away much pleased.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S PHONOGRAPH MESSAGE.

Sir John Harrington—for he has been knighted by King Edward—is the only person who ever succeeded in inducing the late Queen Victoria to talk into a Phonograph. And she did this reluctantly, merely because in expelained to her the immense weight that a message from her to the Emperor of Abyssinia conveyed in that fashion would have upon the monarch of Ethiopia.

Queen Victoria, however, stiuplated that once her message had been delivered to the negus the record should be destroyed, and pledged Sir John Harrington to see to this in person. Meinlik was so delighted at hearing the Queen's voice that he promptly demanded that the record should be handed over to him. But Sir John sternly was obliged to defer to the commands of his royal mistress, and, taking hold of the record, he stamped it to pieces in the presence of the negus.—London letter to the Chicago Daily Tribune.

A LETTER FROM HALIFAX.

9 MAYLOCK ST., LOT 2, MOUNT, HALIFAX.

I now have great pleasure in thanking you for the Edison Phonograph Motorette. Both myself and friends have read and looked it over many times. It puts us people right up to date. It tells us what to look out for and what is coming, and, best of all, what is popular. I have been using Concert Records up till now for exhibiting, but I have taken large cylinder off and put a small one on, with just one an Edison's. It is a pleasure to look at a selection of Records at the present time—every one an Edison's. It is a pleasure to look at a Edison Gold Moulded Record, and much more to hear one. I think I ought to know when I hear one, having been in the line twelve years. There is a lot of cheap rubbish on the market here at the present time—Record destroying machines and all kinds of "moulded" rubbish.

By the way, I am sorry to see that my countrymen should stoop so low as to throw dirt by advertising as they have done against the Gem Machine. In my estimation it is the neatest, compact and best little machine that has ever been produced at the price, and always gives satisfaction. I never knew any one to rue his bargain yet.

ALFRED HOYLE.

COMMENTS ON MARCH RECORDS.

Plenty of variety marks the list of new Edison Gold Moulded Records for March. The twenty-five new Records for the month include four by the Edison Military Band, two by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, a cornet solo, a mandolin solo, four vocal duets, ten vocal solos, one talking with music, one fife and drum corps and one minstrel. The purchaser of the entire list will find himself the possessor of a lot of Records that will furnish a delightful evening's entertainment and be sufficiently diversified to amuse any company, either large or small. All of the vocal selections but one are accompanied by a complete orchestra, and these accompaniments are a most delightful feature of each Record. Those who buy any of them will find the accompaniments quite as attractive as the songs themselves.

No. 8624, "The Gondolier," an intermezzo played by the Edison Military Band, is the new $5,000 instrumental hit purchased by Shapiro, Remick & Co., proprietors of the Whitney-Warner Company, who popularized "Hiawatha." The publishers expect a great popularity for "The Gondolier" as was achieved by "Creole Belles" and "Hiawatha." This selection has an exceedingly attractive air, and is played by the Edison Military Band in a manner that does the selection full justice. It is certain to be a popular Record.

No. 8625, "Maydee" ("Pretty South Sea Island Lady"), is a song written by Arthur J. Lamb, the music of which was composed by Harry Von Tilzer. This song, with orchestra accompaniment, as sung by Arthur Collins, is a worthy addition to Mr. Collins' long list of good selling Records. The air of the song is of a character that cannot fail to make this Record popular.

No. 8626, "For Sale—A Baby," is a new descriptive song by Charles K. Harris, and is sung with orchestra accompaniment by Byron G. Harlan. Mr. Harlan's rendition of Mr. Harris' songs has made this class of Records in great demand. The story told by the song is very pathetic. Mr. Harlan sings the selection in excellent style.

No. 8627, "A Winter's Evening," an overture by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, is taken from "To-Night We Say Farewell," a potpourri by R. Schlepegrell. The music is charming and the Record is finely played.

No. 8628, "Somebody's Waiting 'Neath Southern Skies," is a sentimental male duet by Harry MacDonough and John H. Bieling, who sing together for the first time. The result of their effort is a Record of much merit, their voices blending together finely. An orchestra accompaniment adds to the beauty of the selection. The words of the song are by Arthur J. Lamb and the music by John W. Bratton.

No. 8629, "Bye, Bye, My Honey," is another of Billy Golden's inimitable coon songs, the demand for which shows little signs of diminution. "Bye, Bye, My Honey," is as full of comic talking and singing as "Rabbit Hash," and should equal it in popularity.

No. 8630, "Du Du," air and variations, is a cornet solo, with orchestra accompaniment, played by Bohumir Kryl. This composition shows what can be done with the cornet when played by an artist of the first rank.

No. 8631, "Alabama Minstrels," is the first of a new series of minstrel Records, and is made by the Edison Minstrels. The introductory overture is the "Tariff Galop," and after the usual jokes Harry MacDonough sings the ballad, "Down in Mobile Long Ago," the chorus being sung by a quartette. One of the best minstrel Records ever made and one that represents unusual care and expense in the making. All who hear this Record will realize that in making Master Records the National Phonograph Co. is leaving nothing undone to make its Records superior to anything on the market.

No. 8632, "Uncle Sammy March," is a two-step by Holzmann, and is played by the Edison Military Band. It has a lively swing and is an excellent Record in every respect. This selection was listed in January as a xylophone solo and became very popular. It has been made as a band Record at the general request of the trade. It will be one of the best sellers on the list.

No. 8633, "I'm Longing for My Old Kentucky Home," is a descriptive song, with orchestra accompaniment, which introduces to the Edison Phonograph public Harry Anthony, a new singer. Mr. Anthony has a well known vocalist, and has a fine tenor voice. His first Record is an excellent one and promises much for the future. The music of this song is very pretty. It was written by J. B. Muller. The words are by Vincent Bryan.

No. 8634, "In the Lives of Famous Men," is a comic song with orchestra accompaniment. It is sung by Rob Roberts. It is topical in character and shows how great men gain distinction. It has witty hits on Washington, Columbus, Macbeth, Wagner and other men of fame. Edward P. Moran is the writer of the words of this ditty and Spencer Furth wrote the music. Every word can be clearly understood, adding much to the desirability of the selection.

No. 8635, "Auction Sale of a Musical Instrument Store," is a good descriptive talking and musical Record by Len Spencer and Parke Hunter. It introduces various musical instruments and musical effects, with a funny talk by Mr. Spencer upon the merits of each instrument as it is put up for auction.

No. 8636, "Trimmery," is a mandolin solo of Schumann's delightful composition, and is played by Samuel Siegel. It is an excellent mandolin Record.

No. 8637, "Hannah, Won't You Open That Door?" is a coon song, with orchestra accompaniment, by Arthur Collins. It is a song of the "Bill Bailey" style. It tells how Bill Johnson stands outside the door, cold and hungry, and appeals to Hannah to open the door and let him in. The air is catchy, the words funny, and Mr. Collins sings in a manner that shows what a good voice and earnest effort will do toward building up a reputation for a singer. If this Record does not prove popular the judgment of all who have heard it will be at fault.

No. 8638, "Medley of National Airs," is a Record by the United States Marine Fife and Drum Corps and introduces "The Red, White and Blue," "Yankee Doodle," and the playing of bugles. It will be popular with those who like Records of this character. The playing of the bugles is excellently brought out.

No. 8639, "Beautiful Birds, Sing On," by Harlan and Belmont, is a whistling and singing duet, with orchestra accompaniment, that will be in great demand. Mr. Belmont does the whistling in a most artistic manner and joins in singing the chorus, Mr. Harlan singing the air. The music is unusually pretty.

No. 8640, "Navajo," is a Record of the now well known Indian love song by Marie Cahill in "Nancy Brown." The Record is made by Harry MacDonough with orchestra accompaniment, and it gives a fine rendering of this popular song. It will certainly be a great seller. Harry W. Williams wrote the words of this song and Egbert Van Alstyne wrote the music. This song is listed at a most opportune time, for it is being sung and played everywhere. It is so well known that there cannot fail to be a great demand for it in Edison Records.

No. 8641, "Swedish Garde March," by the Edison Military Band, is a Record of an excellent march very popular in the Northwest, and listed in response to demand from Phonograph enthusiasts in that part of the country. It will be a most desirable Record, for it has a soldierly air and is played in the unequaled style of the Edison Military Band.

No. 8642, "Over the Pilsener Foam," is a song by the writer of "Down Where the Wurzburger Flows," and is sung as a male duet, with orchestra accompaniment, by Collins and Harlan. The air has a good swing and the chorus will be popular. The words and music of this song are by Vincent Bryan and J. B. Mullen. It goes without saying that Collins and Harlan make the Record artistically.

No. 8643, "Dance of the Song Birds," by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, is a novel composition by Benjamin Richmond and arranged by C. A. Eggner. Interspersed with the music is the warbling of several species of birds, making a Record of unusual attractiveness. It would be difficult to find a more beautiful reproduction of bird songs.

No. 8644, "I'm Just Barely Living, That's All," is another coon song, with orchestra accompaniment, by Rob Roberts, whose Records are proving an excellent addition to the monthly list. This song tells of a coon's hard luck in speculation and in the Klondike gold fields. The words are by Harry Brown and the music by Tom Lemonier.

No. 8645, "Where the Sunset Turns the Ocean's Blue to Gold," is a descriptive song, with orchestra accompaniment, by Byron G. Harlan. The words of this song are by Eva Fern Buckler and the music by H. W. Petrie. Besides its pretty air, prominent features are the ringing of bells and the singing of birds. Mr. Harlan's singing will make it a good selling Record.

No. 8646, "Sweetest Girl in Dixie," is a pretty descriptive song, with orchestra accompaniment, sung by Harry MacDonough. The words of this song are by James O'Dea and the music by Robert Adams. Mr. MacDonough makes the Record with excellent voice and clear articulation. The latter, in fact, is a feature of all of Mr. MacDonough's Records.

No. 8647, "My Little Irish Canary," is a new member of the popular waltz family, and is sung as a male duet, with orchestra accompaniment, by Collins and Harlan. A feature of the song is the warbling of a canary. The Record is made in the usual careful manner characteristic of the work of these two singers, and will make the air popular all over the country. The words of this song were written by Andrew B. Sterling and the music is by Will M. Cook.

No. 8648, "Barney Medley," is another of the popular medleys, one of which is being issued each month. This one introduces "Barney," "In the Village by the Sea," "Congo Love Song," and "Coonville's Called Band." This Record will be popular not alone because it is finely played, but because it gives the airs of four different songs, all of which are well known and popular.

WINDOW DISPLAYS.

On another page we print a picture of a window display made by the Rand Blank and Stationery Co., of Trenton, N. J. We shall be glad to have other enterprising Jobbers or Dealers send us photographs of any unusually good window display they may make. Such as possess sufficient merit will be reproduced in these columns.

"My Phonograph department had a very novel attraction in the window during the holidays," writes Andrew Redmond, a Dealer at Harrisburg, Pa. "It was as follows: We had nine small (14-inch) horns placed in a semi-circle, with a colored electric light in each of them. The window was trimmed in black. Under these small horns we set a Concert Phonograph, with a 24-inch horn attached, the horn having a red electric light inside it. The remainder of the space was taken up with a Home, a Standard, reproducers, tubes, single Record boxes, and one and two dozen Record boxes.

"It made quite an attraction and, best of all, an excellent advertisement in that line."

LETTERS FROM DEALERS.

We have received an unusual number of letters from Jobbers and Dealers—letters full of kind and encouraging words—but owing to a crowd of other matter we have been able to print only a few of them. Next month we will give them more space.

PLAYING RECORDS BY TELEPHONE.

Albert E. Lauten, of the Washington Cycle Company, New York City, has arranged a device by which he makes it possible to play Records by telephone; in other words, a device which enables him to put a Record on a Phonograph in his store and enables any user of the telephone to hear it almost as satisfactorily as he would if in the store. Mr. Lauten places the Phonograph within twenty inches of the telephone transmitter, which must be lowered to a point exactly at right angles from the wall. He then connects the Phonograph and the telephone with ⅜ inch bicycle tubing, polished on the inside as brightly as possible, using fluxine, a brazing compound found in bicycle stores. This tubing is connected to the Phonograph with the usual rubber tubing, the edge of the metal tubing at the point of connection being filed within, so as to permit of ready transmission of the second waves. The mouthpiece is unscrewed and the tubing placed within one-thirty-second of an inch from the diaphragm of the telephone.

It is quite impossible in this article to explain in detail just how these connections are made, but any one with a mechanical turn of mind will doubtless be able to accomplish the same result, even though they do not arrange the device in the same way that Mr. Lauten has done. With the receiver of the telephone it is possible to talk to the customer at the other end of the wire, or the Phonograph horn may be placed inside the mouth piece and the Record heard in the same room in which the Phonograph is placed; in other words, the sounds from the Records may pass through two telephones and come back to the operator at the played a Record for a customer in Jersey City and heard it in his store at the same time. We have no doubt that if any Dealers are interested in the matter, Mr. Lauten will be willing to furnish information about it upon request.

A SUCCESSFUL DEALER.

Zanesville, Ohio, Jan. 14, 1904.

My experience in the Phonograph business has been somewhat different than what I expected when I first took it in as a side line in connection with the sewing machine business. I thought that if I could clear a profit of three or four dollars a week I would be doing very well. If I can do as I should the rest of the month, my first year, ending with January, will be a business of over $2,000. I started with a stock of 150 Records and three Phonographs. Now I carry a stock of over 2,000 Edison Records with from 12 to 15 Phonographs on hand. I am doing a payment business with the machines, but Records are cash. I never have any calls for ——— goods, and as for ——— machines and discs, while I have the three machines on hand I bought seven or eight months ago, and I sell a few of their Records. I don't think that it has ever paid me. So with what little I know of the business I will stay with the Edison goods. As a new Dealer for the first year, I do not think that I have done so bad. To the Edison Company must be given the credit for holding up prices.

CHARLES A. WILLIAMS.

A HANDSOME SALE.

H. Jaffee, a Dealer at Hoboken, N. J., reports the sale of a Triumph Phonograph, a large horn and stand, cabinet and 150 Edison Gold Moulded Records to one customer and at one time. He claims that this sale is almost a record breaker.

OUTDOOR PHONOGRAPH EXHIBITIONS AT 13 BELOW ZERO.

M. Smith & Co., of Quebec, Canada, recently wrote that they were giving outdoor exhibitions at 13 degrees below zero with an Edison Home Phonograph. They made a seven-eighths inch hole in the door frame and passed through the end of an eighteen inch long rubber tube, attaching the horn outside of door, and the other end of the tube to the Home machine inside. They found that playing music in this manner was a good advertising medium.

THE EDISON PHONOGRAPH STANDS FIRE.

"Not long ago a dwelling caught fire here in our neighborhood in which was an Edison Phonograph and a piano," writes L. R. Porter, of Brockton, Mass. "Strange as it may seem the piano was pretty well burnt up but the Phonograph escaped with hardly a scratch. After the fire was out some one in the crowd standing around remarked that it was singular that the piano should get burned and the Phonograph not. A lad in short trousers then spoke up. "Oh, that's easy. You see the firemen can't play on the piano, but they can all play on the Phonograph." Cheers were given for the kid and the Edison Phonograph."

I. C. S. MATTERS.

AMHERST COLLEGE.

Amherst, Mass, January 15, 1904.

The system of teaching German employed by The International Correspondence Schools has been in use in my German Club for nearly a year. The Phonograph, Records and the instruction books have proved an invaluable aid in acquiring the spoken language, and in supplementing the work of the class room. I believe every college could make good use of this system in connection with the regular methods of instruction.

H. B. RICHARDSON, Professor of German.

Asbury Park, N. J., Jan. 9, 1904.

INTERNATIONAL TEXT BOOK CO., Scranton, Pa.:

Seeing your advertisement in December issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, I sent to Douglas & Co., of New York, for a sample set of Language Records and text books, and have succeeded in selling one set of German along with the Phonograph, and feel sure that other sales will result. I thank you for your interest and pains taken in getting me started right.

C. R. ZACHARIAS.

A DEALER'S ARGUMENT.

One of the most interesting bits of printing matter received from Dealers during the past month was a four-page folder, containing the following unique argument in favor of the purchase of an Edison Phonograph:

A SUGGESTION TO RURAL SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Whether teaching is your life work or only a temporary expedient, you want to be successful at it and you cannot afford to neglect any means that will contribute to that success.

As an invaluable assistant to your work I wish to suggest to you the Edison Phonograph.

To those of you who are acquainted with the merits of this machine a multitude of ideas will immediately occur for its use in the school room.

To those of you who are not familiar with it I will enumerate a few only, and after you have a Phonograph in your school new uses will constantly occur to you.

CAN YOU SING?

If not, the Phonograph will lead the singing for you. All the national songs and the grandest hymns are on the list of the Phonograph Records and sung in such a way, too, as few, if any, persons drawing a district school salary can equal. The pupils will soon learn the songs from—and sing them with—the Phonograph. The machine has no low-spirited days; it never has a cold; it always puts the same life and spirit into its songs, so the school will learn to sing well.

DO YOU PLAY?

If you have ever attended the city schools you know what an important part instrumental march music plays in the training there. It gives all the spirit to calisthenic exercises, and many well authenticated cases attest the inestimable value in saving life and preventing panic among the pupils of the drill used in dismissing school. The habit of this drill and the readiness of the response by the children to the familiar march music becomes second nature. The rural school seldom possesses an instrument of any kind, and the Phonograph is the most easily obtained, and its portability alone makes it the only possible one in many cases.

Perhaps you are teaching languages, or are yourself, in spare moments, studying language. Here you will find the records with absolutely correct pronunciation of great assistance. Your pupils could practice pronunciation while you are busy at something else—or you acquire it yourself, as you could not otherwise without an expensive teacher. The Phonograph is always ready to repeat patiently and distinctly. It has no nerves—does not get cross and scold, or call you dull and stupid. It never tires of a scholar, and will not get impatient with the dullest.

If you are a musician you will enjoy playing the music of the masters to the school, and in this way many will be able to hear music of a class that never in their life time would they hear were it not for the Phonograph. When you realize that the blare of the circus band once a year and the country town brass band are the only music that many people ever hear, and that with the Phonograph you can give them the performances of the very best orchestras and the music of the grand operas, you will find a new interest in life in watching the development of the instinctive musical sense that exists in embryo in many tender natures in the remotest settlements.

Many other ideas suggest themselves, but I will stop with this for the present.

Buy a Phonograph. Buy one at once; even if it takes the big end of a month's salary, buy. You will be surprised and pleased at your own and the scholars' pleasure in it, and it may be the one thing that decides your board to call you back next year.

I enclose price list and hope to have your early order. Write to me anyway. Yours truly,

E. R. GUTHRIE.

1540 O Street, Lincoln, Neb.

NO USE FOR ANY BUT EDISON GOODS.

Vincentown, N. J., Jan. 14, 1904.

Your Suspended List received, and will say that no one gets anything from me only at flat prices. As for ——— Records, I would not have them given to me, as I have had a little experience in them. I had a $60 ——— machine that I bought from a man that had got an Edison Home. He had got tired of the old one, so I got it cheap. One day a young man passing my place heard me playing my machine; he had a Standard and three dozen Records in a case. His business was to give entertainments at public schools. Well, I thought that I would like to try some of his Records, so he said, "With pleasure; use any you like." After I had played a few he asked me if he might put his machine behind my large horn. I said yes. Well I found a great difference, but did not pretend to know it. I said: "How will you trade?" But he shook his head. I offered him $5, then $10; but he said: "Look here, boss, I would not have that machine as a gift." Well, I felt so cheap I did not know what to do with mine. I believe if anybody had offered me ten cents for mine I would have taken it. So I chanced it off, and now that I am a Dealer I don't want any Machine or Records but Edison's. They don't scratch or wear the sapphire flat and run two crests at one time, but give clear and distinct music. I am not afraid to sell an Edison, for I know they will give satisfaction; but as for the ———, why, I have some now that have been brought back and I cannot sell them around here or even give them away.

WILLIAM HOBSON.

AN ENGLISH DEALER'S COMMENDATION.

Following is an extract from a letter written to our London office by James A. Bailey, a Dealer at Cross Green, Soham, England:

Cross Green, Soham, Eng., Dec. 29, 1903.

Just a line to say that since you fixed the prices for Edison Machines and Records we increased our stock and have pleasure in stating that this Christmas we have sold three times the quantity of machines and Records that we have previously disposed of. We shall always keep as good a stock as possible if prices are strictly fixed in future.

MAKES SELLING GOODS EASY.

O. C. Thompson, a Dealer at New Albany, Ind., has devised an attachment to the Phonograph which he is using at his store and in which many readers of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY will be considerably interested. Mr. Thompson describes the device as follows:

"To a Home machine (or any other type) bore a hole in the start lever and attach a chain, which should run over a shieve at the edge of the machine, which will prevent chain from scratching varnish. To this chain is attached a weight, which will, when dropped about three or four inches, throw the start lever and cause the machine to start. This weight is a part of an electrical contrivance known as a chain drop (commonly used in fire engine houses for opening doors, dropping harness, etc., when an alarm is sounded), which I constructed myself. This chain drop is connected to a set of dry batteries through a common door bell switch and a Victor door trip, which is on the front store door. I put on the machine a record which I made especially for the occasion and then set same ready for operation, taking care that the beginning of the record is far enough from the end that the machine will attain the proper speed before any results are heard.

"I then make it a point to seclude myself from view of any one who may enter the store. The result is as follows: A customer enters, and in doing so the opening of the door causes the door trip to close the circuit through the chain drop magnets. This in turn releases the hook that holds up the weight, the weight drops and starts the machine to running, but the closing of the store door, etc., drowns the sound of the falling weight and the customer does not know that he has started the machine. By this time the machine has gained its speed, and when the customer looks around and sees no one in view the machine begins as follows: 'Do you want to see the proprietor? Well, just have a chair and I will call him. Mr. ——, here is a party that would like to see you in regard to a Phonograph.'

"By this time you are aware of the surroundings, and all that is necessary is to go up to the prospective buyer and take his purse from his hand, count out enough to pay for a good machine and some Records, hand him back the balance in his purse and go to wrapping up your sale.

"This outfit could also be used to an advantage for turning away collar button and lead pencil merchants who bother you every day, or perhaps refusing some one-arm or peg-leg railroad man who is seeking enough money to pay his fare to Mexico or the Islands."

A MODEL "FOLLOW UP" LETTER.

O. K. Houck Piano Co., Dealers at 359 Main street, Memphis, Tenn., send out the letter given below to the names sent them by this Company. It covers the ground so thoroughly that we gained the consent of the writers to reproduce it:

DEAR SIR:—Your recent inquiry to the National Phonograph Co., New York City, has been referred to us for attention. We take pleasure in forwarding you to-day by mail, under separate cover, catalogues of Edison Phonographs, also records for same.

Detail information about these wonderful instruments will be found in the catalogue. We do, however, wish to call your special attention to the most desirable styles in the medium price instruments.

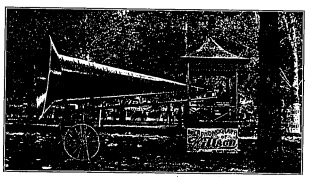
We unhesitatingly recommend the following outfits which we have supplied to many of our patrons, and they have given universal satisfaction:

No. 1.

1	Edison Standard Phonograph equipped with Model C Reproducer, plays six Records with one winding; price, net	$20 00
1	Dozen Records	5 00
1	Solid brass horn, 30 inches long, with 13¾ inch bell	4 00
1	Nickel plated stand for supporting horn	2 00
1	Record carrying box; capacity 24 Records	75
		$31 75

No. 2.

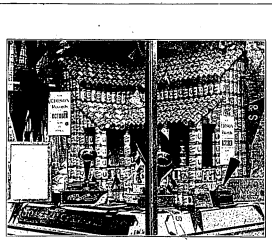
1	Edison Home Phonograph, equipped with Model C Reproducer, plays seven Records with one winding; price, net	$30 00
1	Dozen Records	5 00
1	Solid brass horn 30 inches long with 16½ inch bell	5 00
1	Nickel plated stand for supporting horn	2 00
1	Record carrying box; capacity 24 Records	75
		$42 75



No. 3.

1	Edison Triumph Phonograph equipped with Model C Reproducer, plays fourteen Records with one winding; price, net	$50 00
1	Dozen Records	5 00
1	Solid brass horn, 42 inches long with 20½ inch bell	10 00
1	Nickel plated stand for supporting horn	2 00
1	Record carrying box; capacity 24 Records	75
		$67 75

We can, of course, reduce the price of any of these outfits by cutting down some of the accessories, furnishing smaller horns, etc. We would not, however, advise this, for the outfits described above are almost perfect.



We want to thank you for giving us this opportunity of writing you about these beautiful instruments, and in the event you wish any further information about them do not hesitate to write us on the subject, as it will afford us pleasure to answer your questions in detail.

We trust that the purchase of a Phonograph will have your careful consideration, and we hope you will decide to favor us with your order.

A MAMMOTH PHONOGRAPH HORN.

The above is a photograph of a mammoth Phonograph Horn used by D. R. Wilson, a Dealer at Shenandoah, Ia., in giving entertainments with a Standard Phonograph at the Page County Fair last fall. The horn weighs 420 pounds, is 21 feet long, and has a bell 10 feet across.

WINDOW DISPLAY MADE BY THE STOLL BLANK BOOK AND STATIONERY CO., TRENTON, N. J.

HE GOES AFTER BUSINESS.

Picton, Ont., Jan. 18, 1904.

I have only had the privilege of selling Edison Phonographs in Picton since October 31, but handled them at West Lake for about four years. I keep two horses, and when I hear of a party who wants a Phonograph I just put one in the rig and call on him. I don't have to bring it back. I find it pays to go to them and not wait for them to come to you. I have sold three machines in a day—not so bad for a small town. In regards to Suspended List, I would say, if a man can't sell the Edison goods without cutting prices he had better give it up to some one who can. I have no trouble. I bought a disk machine for the purpose of comparing, and I am something like Keely, I have no use for them. If I want a noise I will buy a drum. S. M. BROWN.

"NOTHING BUT THE BEST."

Hallowell, Me., Jan. 12, 1904.

We do not do a large business, but we endevor to carry nothing but the best, therefore we have in stock nothing but Edison Machines and Records. We occasionally sell a disc machine, but have noticed that whenever this happens the sale is made to some one who is looking for quantity and not quality. Was much impressed with the expression used by a lady in our store. In speaking of a disc machine which is on sale, at cut price, in this city, she said: "It certainly sounds like nothing human or mechanical that I have ever heard." We are doing some advertising and are taking the stand that the Edison goods are sold on their merits and that we do not have to "cut price" in order to make sales.

HORACE G. TURNER.

SUSPENDED LIST, FEBRUARY 1, 1904.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

COLORADO.

BOULDER—BENTLEY & CRAIG.

KANSAS.

CLAY CENTRE—E. M. GOWENLOCK.
LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
E. O. MOSHER, 490 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DaWOLFF.
WOBURN—OSBORN GILLETTE, or THE BOLTON JEWELRY COMPANY, L. F. MALONEY, Manager.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—P. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

NASHUA—F. A. McMASTER & CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—J. WIGDOR, 456 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN; also New York City.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 71 N. main st.
PLAINFIELD—S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT; also New York City.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

ALBANY—FINCH & HAHN; also Schenectady.
BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
NEW YORK—Continued.
HOSKART—F. H. MARSHALL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 206 Wall street.
BRONX PHONOGRAPH CO., or DAVID SWITKY, 506 Willis Avenue.
R. L. CORWIN; also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 81 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT, 7 Barclay st., or 68 Cortlandt st.; also Plainfield, N. J.
O. HACKER, 2 Murray street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway; also Philadelphia, Pa.
N. HORN, 148 E. 28th street.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
RICHARD PEASE, 44 W. 132d st.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 41 Broad street.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.
SARATOGA SPRINGS—MARVIN A. COTE.
SCHENECTADY—FINCH & HAHN; also Albany.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
URBICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2783 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street, or Oxford and Wascher streets; also New York City.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 613 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—P. P. MOORE.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE—J. C. BLATZEK.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus, either at addresses given or any other address.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2003 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Ray Co., 54 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 933 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 619 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Cauldina & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Purdee-Blisenberger Co., 135 Orange st.

GEORGIA.

Atlanta—The Ray Co., 72 Whitehall street.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Oscar J. Junge, 245 E. Chicago avenue.
Kesley Cigar Co., 80-82 Wabash avenue.
Jamel I. Lyons, 72 Fifth avenue.
The Ray Co., 56 Washington street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Sherman House, Clark and Madison street.
The Von Co., 58 E. Lake street.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 111 Michigan ave.
Peoria—Pearls Phonograph Co., 311 S. Adams street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—King Bros. Co., 35 S. Meridian street.
The Ray Co., 135 Massachusetts avenue.
Wahl-Gasnech Co., 111 S. Illinois street.
Lafayette—Wahl-Gasnech Co., 324 Main street.

IOWA.

Des Moines—The Vim Co., 704 West Walnut street.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 620 Fourth avenue.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—Jones & Lowenthal Theatre Arcade.
Maison Lyons, 1117 Rue Alarm Co., 614 Gravier street.
The Ray Co., 111 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—S. L. Crosby Co., 28 Exchange street.
Portland—W. H. Ross & Son, 507 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 18 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 197 Tremont street.
J. C. Haynes & Co., 451 Washington street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 165 Washington street.
Read & Read, 256 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 247 Main street.
Lowell—Bijou Music Co., 101 Merrimac street.
Thomas Wardell, 111 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 304 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 206 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 259 Woodward avenue.
The Ray Co., 168 Griswold street.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 514 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 37 E. 7th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins Music Co., 1013-1015 Walnut street.
The Ray Co., 1001 Grand avenue.
St. Louis—Conway Co., 1113 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 931 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. E. Sidles Cycle Co., 1317 O street.
Omaha—H. E. Sidles Cycle Co., 1419 Farnam avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 1416 Harney street.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 209 Washington street.
Newark—H. J. Koehler Sporting Goods Co., 825 Broad street.
A. D. Pavia, New and Halsey streets.
Paterson—James F. O'Dea, 277 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank L. C. Martin Auto. Co., 820 Park avenue.
Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
A. D. Matthews' Sons, 304 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1258 Broadway.
Buffalo—P. A. Powers, 693 Main street.
Elmira—Elmira Arms Co., 107 Main street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co., 39 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Forsyth & Davis, 302 Wall street.
New York City—Barkeloo & Co., 36 Vesey street.
Bettini Phonograph Co., 82 Chambers street.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 19 Beekman street.
J. F. Blackman & Son, 261-263 Avenue.
L. Davega, Jr., 802 Third Avenue.
S. B. Davega, Jr., 14th street.
H. Goldmark, 1199 Fulton Opera street.
H. F. Gordon, 1270 Fifth avenue.
Harry Jackson, 239 Bowery.
Jacot Music Box Co., 39 Union Square.
Victor H. Hanke, 1061 Second avenue.
Rosenfeld Mfg. Co., 182 Hudson st.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
John Wanamaker, Broadway and 4th street.
Rochester—A. J. Deninger, 249 North street.
Edward Bauer, 1 and 3 State street.
Schenectady—John A. Rickford & Co., 15 State street.
Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 216 E. Railroad street.
Troy—James Lucey, 309-311 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark, Horrocks & Co., 24 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelman Co., 216 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Ball & Co., 25 W. 4th street.
The Ray Co., 121 West 4th street.
The Vim Co., 25 W. 4th street.
Cleveland—The Ray Co., 812 Euclid street.
W. J. Roberts, Jr., 254-256 Arcade.
Columbus—Fuller & Co., 23 S. High street.
Dayton—Nielson & Deube, 31 E. 4th street.
East Liverpool—Potter Music Co.
Toledo—Hayes Music Co., 644 Cherry street.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Braun, 100 Federal street.
Allentown—Wm. Knecht, 1027 Hamilton street.
Altoona—Wehn Music Co., 1207 Northern ave.
Philadelphia—C. J. Heppe & Son, 1217 Chestnut street.
Ed Heyl, 1224 Market street.
Penn Phonograph Co., 19 S. 9th street.
Penn Phonograph Co., 41 N. 9th street.
Wanamaker & Brown, Chestnut and Juniper streets.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 913 Market street.
Pittsburg—Theo. F. Bentel Co., Inc., 433 Wood street.
Kaufmann & Baer Co., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 201 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Meller Co., 319 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 937 Liberty street.
Reading—Keim Phonograph Co., 237 Penn street.
Scranton—Ackerman & Co., Coal Exchange Building.
Technical Supply Co.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Dean Co., 69-71 Westminster street.
J. A. Foster Co., Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Household Furniture Co., 231-237 Weybosset street.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., 56-58 Pine street.
A. C. Scattergood & Co., 106-110 N. Main street.

TENNESSEE.

Memphis—The Ray Co., Lyceum Building, 2d and Jefferson streets.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 30 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, Jr., 197 Main street.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 709 E. Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 173 3d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Limited, 143 Yonge street.

Equip Yourself for Double Service

We will furnish any Edison dealer with I. C. S. literature and a demonstrating outfit consisting of 3 moulded Records with I. C. S. Textbooks in French, German, Spanish, delivered prepaid in the United States and Canada for

$1.50

Apply to the Following Jobbers of I. C. S. Outfits

PORTLAND, ME., W. H. Rose & Son
LOWELL, MASS., Thomas Wardell
BOSTON, MASS., Eastern Talking Machine Co.
BOSTON, MASS., J. C. Haynes & Co.
BOSTON, MASS., Boston Cycle & Sundry Co.
NEW HAVEN, CONN., Parker-Blenkensop Co.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Morgan Bothwell, Young & Co.
KINGSTON, N. Y., Forsyth & Davis
SYRACUSE, N. Y., W. S. Andrews
NEW YORK CITY, Fleetwood Talking Machine Co.
NEW YORK CITY, I. Davega, Jr.
NEW YORK CITY, Jos. Rosen & Co.
NEW YORK CITY, Jacot Music Box Co.
NEW YORK CITY, John Wanamaker
NEWARK, N. J., The Edisonia Co.
PLAINFIELD, N. J., F. L. C. Martin Automobile Co.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Wells Phonograph Co.
PITTSBURG, PA., Wallace Warner
BUFFALO, N. Y., Clinton Brown
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Talking Machine Co.
COLUMBUS, OHIO, Perry B. Wiltsie Co.
DAYTON, OHIO, Nicholas & Dubar
CHICAGO, ILL., D. J. Jones
CHICAGO, ILL., Lyon & Healy
MILWAUKEE, WIS., Badger Brass.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Thos. C. Hough
OMAHA, NEB., Nebraska Cycle Co.
KANSAS CITY, MO., J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co.
ST. LOUIS, MO., The Conroy Co.
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Whitney & Sons Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Sherman, Clay & Co.
NINETEEN STORES, The Day Co.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. II. NEW YORK, MARCH, 1904. No. 1.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., LTD., 25 CLERKENWELL ROAD, LONDON, ENG.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

About Trade in General..... 1
Advance List of Edison Gold Moulded Records for April..... 2
Imitation is Flattery..... 2
Sample Record Plan..... 2
A New Volume..... 3
Electros to be Dropped..... 3
227 Selections to be Cut from Catalogue..... 4
February Records..... 4
Banquet to Mr. Edison..... 5
Concert Phonographs May be Changed to Play Small Records..... 5
Phonograph Effected the Suls Treaty..... 5
Phonograph Records of Emperor William's Voice..... 6
Here's a Plan Worth Copying..... 6
A New South Wales Way..... 7
Advertising the Greatest Essential..... 7
Comments on April Records..... 8
Cabinet for Double Service..... 8
A New Shaving Machine..... 10
Supplement to Parts Catalogue..... 10
No Complaints About Edison Goods..... 11
Printed Matter..... 11
Dealers' Experiences..... 12
Suspended List March 1, 1904..... 14
Jobbers of Edison Phonographs and Records 15

ABOUT TRADE IN GENERAL.

"We never saw such a rush for Records as this month. Thought we had plenty, but calculations have not held good." This is the way the Penn Phonograph Co. of Philadelphia writes, and it fully represents the Record situation so far as Edison Gold Moulded Records are concerned. The steadily increasing demand for our Records shows that no matter how many cheap ones are put on the market, there will always be a sufficient number of buyers of the genuine Gold Moulded article to keep our Record-making plant running to its capacity. Dealers in all parts of the country are writing that the cheap Records are cutting no figures in their localities, and that customers who have been led by their price to buy a few are coming back, declaring that they are through with them. We ask nothing else from the public than that it will compare Edison Gold Moulded Records with any on the market—either cylinder or disc—and no matter by what talent they are made. Many of our Dealers have put in a line of cheap Records for the purpose of showing their customers the difference between them and Edison Gold Moulded Records. They report that almost invariably the comparison sells Edison goods.

In all that has been said and written during the past six months about the talking machine trade, it has been clearly demonstrated that the Edison Phonograph is the only high high grade machine of its type now being bought by the public. The only other cylindrical machine approaching its sale in quantity is one given away as a premium with newspaper subscriptions and equally cheap mail order propositions. The trade may be assured that the Edison Phonographs will never get into that class. When such a course seems necessary, the National Phonograph Co. will retire from the field.

(Continued on page 3.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF APRIL RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR APRIL, 1904

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near April 1st, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to March 15th, will be shipped. April Supplements will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records. Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8649 March of the Holy Grail — Edison Military Band
From Richard Wagner's sacred music drama "Parsifal"

8650 The Man Behind — Collins and Harlan
Comic male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8651 In Zanzibar (My Little Chimpanzee) — Harry MacDonough
Song hit from "The Medal and the Maid" with orchestra accompaniment

8652 Birds of Spring Mazurka — Edison Symphony Orchestra

8653 Kiss Me Good Night, Dear Love — Byron G. Harlan
Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment, as introduced in Eleanor Robson's great success "Merely Mary Ann"

8654 Colored Major March — Vess L. Ossman
Banjo solo with orchestra accompaniment

8655 Blue Bell (March Song) — Harlan and Stanley
Male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8656 Uncle Tom's Cabin (Flogging Scene) — Len Spencer
Introducing the characters Uncle Tom and Simon Legree together with orchestra incidental music

8657 Rosedale March — Edison Military Band

8658 You're Always Behind Like an Old Cow's Tail — Bob Roberts
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment

8659 If I Were Only You — Byron G. Harlan
A new waltz song by the writers of "Navajo" with orchestra accomp.

8660 Bunch of Violets (Flower Song) — Edison Symphony Orchestra

8661 I've Got a Feelin' for You — Arthur Collins
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment

8662 Robin and the Wren — Harlan and Belmont
Whistling and singing male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8663 King Carneval Polka — Bohumir Kryl
Cornet solo with orchestra accompaniment, played by the composer

8664 Breeze of the Night — Male Quartette Edison Quartette

8665 Llewellyn March — Dulcimer solo Wm. A. Moriarty

8666 Come Down from the Big Fig Tree — Collins and Harlan
Male duet with orchestra accompaniment

8667 In a Nutshell (George Rosey's latest) — Albert Benzler
Xylophone solo with orchestra accompaniment

8668 Dear Sing Sing — Billy Murray
Comic waltz song with orchestra accompaniment

8669 Mr. Black Man (Cakewalk) — Edison Military Band
Introducing male chorus

8670 General Hardtack—On Guard! — Frank C. Stanley
Humorous march song with orchestra accompaniment

8671 The 17th of March — Arthur Collins
Comic Irish march song with orchestra accompaniment

8672 Georgia Minstrels — Minstrels
Introducing the coon song "Uncle Billy's Dream," sung by Len Spencer

8673 Navajo Medley — Edison Military Band
Introducing "Navajo," "Hannah Won't You Open That Door," "For Sale—A Baby" and "Maybee"

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

The difference between Records actually made from gold-lined moulds and those claimed to be so made is just the difference between Edison Gold Moulded Records and cheap imitations. The dealer in the latter must have smiled when the manufacturers told him only a month ago that they were "gold moulded." It was, doubtless, the first time that he had heard of it. It would have been interesting to have known just what the dealer thought of the claim, much as it may have amused him.

A NEW VOLUME.

With this issue the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY begins its second volume. Its publication has apparently been a success. We have found it a useful medium for advising the trade concerning many matters, and judging from the hundreds of letters of approval received from the trade during the year, it has been a success from a trade standpoint. This has been due to no small measure to the interest in it manifested by Jobbers and Dealers, who have contributed suggestions and experiences that have been interesting and valuable to others. We appreciate this support, and ask most sincerely for its continuance.

IMITATION IS FLATTERY.

Ever since Mr. Edison invented the Gold Moulding Process for making Phonograph Records the term "Edison Gold Moulded Record" has been universally used in England. In September last the National Phonograph Company decided to also use the phrase in this country. It proved to be an excellent decision, for it furnished a distinctive name for a distinctively superior Record. It furnished a name that contrasted splendidly with "cheap." It was so good a name that another company is now claiming that its product is "gold moulded," which if true makes it a self-confessed infringer of Mr. Edison's patents. Imitation is most sincere flattery.

ELECTROS TO BE DROPPED.

The following electros will not be supplied after our present stock is exhausted, and they will be omitted entirely when a new catalogue is printed: 295, 347, 351, 353, 354, 355, 361, 365, 372, 373, 374, 377, 378, 379, 383, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 391, 392, 396, 398, 399, 403, 407, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 464, 465, 466, 468, 471.

Dealers are asked to cross out these numbers in their catalogues.

SAMPLE RECORD PLAN.

The plan of sending sample Records to such Jobbers as ordered them was put into effect in February, the samples of March Records being shipped on February 5th. On the same day the following letter was mailed by the Sales Department to all Jobbers who had ordered sample Records:

We are shipping to-day, by express, from Factory, samples of March Records, as per your recent standing order. Please bear in mind that stock orders for these Records must be sent us on or before the 15th inst., in order to have shipment made at the same time it is made to other Jobbers. Any orders received after the 15th inst. cannot be shipped with first lot of stock orders.

Furthermore, a second stock order sent in by you, received after the 15th inst., with the request that it be included with your original orders received prior to the 15th inst., will have to be considered a second order, and cannot be shipped at the same time as original order.

At the same time a letter was mailed to Jobbers who had not ordered sample Records, as follows:

We will to-day or to-morrow make express shipments from factory of sample Records covering March list to such Jobbers as have placed standing orders with us. Inasmuch as you have placed no such order, you will, of course, not receive samples. We will, however, mail you to-day or to-morrow Advance List of these Records, and desire to advise that such stock order as you care to place for them, shipment of which you desire made at same time stock orders are shipped to other Jobbers, must be received by us not later than the 15th inst. Any orders received after this date will be somewhat delayed, and shipment cannot be made until after such orders as are received prior to the 15th inst. have been filled.

The new plan seemed to please all who took advantage of it. Many Jobbers at once issued an invitation to their Dealers to call and hear the sample Records played over as a guide in placing orders. As a result nearly every Jobber placed a larger order than usual, and every order showed by its varying quantity for each selection that greater discrimination than usual had been exercised in making out the order, each ordering more of such selections as would probably be the best sellers in his special territory. The future success of the plan will depend upon the judgment of the Jobbers in making up their orders. If they find that their judgment is borne out by sales, then the plan cannot fail to be popular. In any event, it enables a Jobber to place his orders with his eyes open concerning the merits of the Records themselves. The advance orders for March were the greatest in the history of the National Phonograph Co.

227 SELECTIONS TO BE CUT FROM CATALOGUE.

We have just mailed to the entire trade a list of 227 selections that will not appear in any catalogue after July 1st next. Of these, 30 are marked to indicate that orders for them cannot now be filled because we have no stock on hand and the moulds are out of commission. Orders for any of the others will be filled as long as our present stock lasts, or until the moulds become unfit for manufacturing. We want every Dealer to have a copy of this list of cut-out, and any one who did not receive it, enclosed with the new Numerical Catalogue, is asked to write the Advertising Department for another copy.

The principal factor in determining to cut these selections from the catalogue was the argument of many Jobbers that some steps should be taken to drop each year a number of titles nearly equal to the additions. The facilities of many Jobbers and large Dealers have been taxed to carry a stock of every selection, which must be done no matter how slow some may sell. With the addition of 300 domestic titles each year, to say nothing of the foreign selections, the Jobbers began to wonder how they could carry a stock a few years hence unless something was done toward cutting out some of the selections. This company accordingly decided to make a beginning in this direction, and after carefully going over the entire catalogue, and also asking many Jobbers for their views concerning slow sellers, this list of 227 was issued. It may not be as large as many Jobbers would like to see, but it could not be made larger without loss of business. All others in the catalogue are still selling too well to be omitted. In fact, there is not one among the 227 cut-out that is not ordered almost daily.

July 1st has been fixed as the date after which these selections will not be catalogued in order that the trade may have four months in which to work off such stock as they may have on hand, for it is not our intention to take them back for credit or replace them with other Records.

THEY SWEAR BY THE PHONOGRAPH.

A Cincinnati resident recently bought a Home Phonograph and became so enthusiastic that he sent us the following letter:

We all swear by the Edison and likewise your Records. Our folks have got the craze in all its stages, and we have Records for breakfast, dinner and supper. It's Phonograph from morn till night, and we're all broke buying Records. We always talk, speak and recommend the Edison Phonograph to our friends.

ANOTHER METHOD OF PLAYING BY TELEPHONE.

"I notice in the Edison Phonograph Monthly for February, how A. E. Lauten plays Records by telephone," writes S. W. Corey, of Fort Dodge, Iowa. "I think I have an improvement on his method, and one causing less trouble. In the first place, I take a fourteen-inch horn and put the small end in the transmitter of the telephone. Then set my Phonograph on a stand a little lower than the telephone, so as to get both horns in line, with the bells of both horns about twelve to fourteen inches apart. By putting the receiver to your ear the distance can be regulated. I have run Records this way that have been heard fifty miles. In fact, I was informed by the manager of the telephone company that it was too strong for him. He could not cut it out. I am informed by persons that have listened to Records played over telephone that they are more distinct and louder than away from the telephone."

FEBRUARY RECORDS.

Notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts on the part of our Record Department, we were not able to ship out the list of the February Records till February 20th. The demand for Records previously listed was so great that the department was unable to catch up on the February selections. Reference is made to the above facts in order that Dealers may know that the inability of their Jobbers to fill orders earlier in the month was not due to any fault of the Jobbers, but simply because they did not have the goods.

RECORDS BY SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Many of the children in the Milwaukee public schools had the time of their school lives during January when they were marched in turn, singly and in classes, to the headquarters of McGreal Bros., 173 Third street, and talked and sang into an Edison Phonograph, and thus made Records for exhibition at the World's Fair. It was probably the first time that such a thing had ever been done in public school work and the youngsters greatly enjoyed the novel experiment.

LOYAL MEXICAN DEALERS.

Monterey, N. L., Mexico, Feb. 12, 1904.

Suspended List January 1st to hand and noted. Will do all we possibly can to aid you in this mutual protection. Let shoddy makers use the shoddy methods to secure trade; Edison goods sell themselves without discounting.

Yours truly,
Crown Importing Company.

BANQUET TO MR. EDISON.

Thomas A. Edison was the guest of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at a Waldorf-Astoria banquet in New York City on the night of February 17th. The affair was a celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. Edison's invention of the electric light. Everybody of electrical prominence was there and enough interesting things were said and done to fill all the pages of the Phonograph Monthly. The function of this publication is not to act as a press agent for Mr. Edison, however, but to exploit one of his great inventions—the Phonograph. From this standpoint we reprint the following cablegram from Lord Kelvin:

"I join heartily with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in gratitude to Edison for his great electric work and for the Phonograph, a most exquisite and instructive scientific discovery, and for his many other useful and well worked out inventions for the public good."

[The italics are ours.]

T. C. Martin, who acted as toastmaster, in his speech referred to Mr. Edison as "the deaf investigator at Menlo Park who wreaked unique retaliation on his affliction by preserving human speech forever with his Phonograph."

A CHICAGO PROFESSOR'S ENDORSEMENT.

The following endorsement of the I. C. S. Language Course by Prof. Jerome Hall Raymond, associate professor of sociology in the University of Chicago, was the result of a demonstration made by Atwater & Fullerton, Dealers in Edison Phonographs at Norwood, New York:

Norwood, N. Y., Jan. 29, 1904.

Mr. Atwater has shown me the Edison Phonograph, and I have listened to a number of International Correspondence School Records in French, German and Spanish. The pronunciation seems to me perfect, and the system of teaching most admirable. I wish I had had the advantage of such a method when I began to study French and German.

Jerome H. Raymond, Ph. D.

HIS RANGE OF VOICE.

"Range?" repeated the young but compact baritone, "yes, indeed, I have a wide range. My voice is heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific."

In truth, he had made more Records than any other Phonograph soloist going.—Newark (N. J.) Evening News.

CONCERT PHONOGRAPHS MAY BE CHANGED TO PLAY SMALL RECORDS.

Here is an opportunity for live Dealers to work up some new business. We are now manufacturing a new diaphragm arm and a new main shaft and mandrel by which Concert Phonographs may be changed so as to play standard size Records. These parts are sold at $7.95, subject to the usual repair discounts to the trade. The new parts may be applied by any one of ordinary intelligence. With these new parts the owner of a Concert machine will have one equal to a Triumph. Many Concerts are now unused because their owners do not care to make the sacrifice necessary to exchange them for other types. It is important to note, however, that only the Model B or Model D Reproducers can be used; Model C will not work. Dealers will do well to ascertain the names of owners of such Concert machines and get them to put on the new parts. The profit on the parts will not amount to much in itself, but the sale of Records should be considerable.

PHONOGRAPH CONCERT INVITATION.

Among the good things brought by the mails during the past month was the following from John E. Finney, a Dealer at Savannah, Ga.:

You are cordially invited to attend our daily concerts by the assistance of the inventive genius of
MR. THOMAS A. EDISON,
"The Edison Phonograph,"
Every afternoon from four to five o'clock, and from eight to nine o'clock,
thirty-six delightful
evenings,
At our store
Barnard and State Streets,
Savannah, Ga.,
This 8th day of January, Nineteen Hundred.
Wednesday afternoon Children's Matinee each week;
Recitations, Nursery Rhymes and special music for the little ones.

PHONOGRAPH EFFECTED THE SULU TREATY.

It was a Phonograph that finally caused the Sultan of Sulu to make his famous treaty with the United States through the agency of General Bates in 1899. Just the effect that modern science had upon the mind of the semi-barbarians at this time is told by E. C. Rost in the Scientific American.

General Bates made his headquarters in the town of Jolo, and thither the Sultan and his staff came on several occasions to discuss the treaty.

Subsequently another visit was made to the Charleston. This time the mother of the Sultan accompanied the party. A Phonograph owned by one of the officers rendered very pleasing selections for the entertainment of the guests. The aged dame sat entranced throughout the performance. It was not until the time came for her son to affix his signature to the treaty that she awakened. Under one condition only would she permit the Sultan to sign—the Phonograph must become hers at once.

For a time that Phonograph threatened to be the means of upsetting all of General Bates' well-laid plans for the amicable taking over of the Islands. Fortunately, the owner was prevailed upon to part with the machine in the interests of his government, and the coveted music-producer changed owners at the signing of the treaty by the Sultan.

PHONOGRAPH RECORDS OF EMPEROR WILLIAM'S VOICE.

The daily papers of February 4 contained the following cable dispatch:

BERLIN, Feb. 4, 1904.—A Phonographic Record of Emperor William's voice will be the first European deposit made in the phonetic archives that are to be kept at Harvard University and in the Congressional Library and National Museum at Washington. The Emperor, upon the application of Dr. Edward W. Scripture, the psychologist, of Yale University, through the United States Ambassador here, has given two examples of his voice for permanent preservation.

The Emperor received Dr. Scripture after the morning church service on Sunday. During the making of the Record His Majesty was alone with the Phonograph. He spoke twice into the apparatus. The first cylinder, made specially for Harvard University, contained observations on Frederick the Great. The other was a short disquisition on "Fortitude in Pain."

The Emperor's manner was kind and he showed interest in the matter. These archives of voices are said to be the first for historical purposes.

These Records of Emperor William's voice were made with a special Phonograph outfit furnished Dr. Scripture for this purpose by the National Phonograph Co.

HERE'S A PLAN WORTH COPYING.

H. Schmidt & Son Co., of Muscatine, Ia., on February 1st mailed copies of our booklet "A Lasting Impression" to about 500 prospective customers in and about their city. The booklet was accompanied by a handsome circular printed in gold on bright red paper. This circular read as follows:

MUSCATINE'S PHONOGRAPH CENTER.

Feb. 1st, 1904.

DEAR SIR:—This red letter has some valuable news concerning the Edison Phonograph. Read the little story in the enclosed booklet entitled "A Lasting Impression." It's a pretty little story, and also shows the true worth of the unequaled Edison Phonograph with the Recorder.

The Edison Phonograph is always ready to play, sing or speak, and will furnish you some of the sweetest music and most pleasant entertainment you ever enjoyed.

The Phonograph isn't a short-lived instrument, but is just as essential and durable as a piano. An Edison Phonograph in your home means pleasure, happiness and entertainment for all, old and young.

We cordially invite you to our store to hear this, "The World's Greatest Entertainer."

Respectfully yours,
H. SCHMIDT & SON CO.

PLANS FOR CARRYING RECORD STOCK

In sending its February advance list to Dealers the Penn Phonograph Company, of Philadelphia, included the following paragraph:

> In calling on our trade we have frequently been surprised at the manner in which the Record stock is being carried. In many cases there is absolutely no attempt whatever to arrange the Records systematically.
>
> This has made such an impression on our minds that we have decided to call your attention to the fact that by this indifference you are losing much valuable money. Your stock should be so arranged that when a customer asks for a Record you can tell in a moment whether you have it in stock or not. In making up an order you will find it much easier if your stock is systematized. Several dealers to whom we have already spoken have found their business increased 25 per cent. since the system has been and continues text of their time.
>
> Where a dealer is carrying only a small stock he could not conveniently use the same system as a dealer who carries a complete line. We cannot go into details in this matter, but any dealer who is at all busy dealer is sufficiently interested in this subject to write us stating how he arranges his stock and about the quantity of Records he wishes to carry, we shall be pleased to advise him as to what we consider the best plan for him to adopt.
>
> We hope we will give this matter your consideration as you will find the system more pleasing and profitable under improved conditions.

We should think that Dealers would take kindly to suggestions of this character.

MORE PHONOGRAPH MUSIC BY TELEPHONE.

Hearing Phonograph Records by telephone was a boon to such residents of Otsego county, New York, as had telephones during the periods of heavy snows this winter. William Cushman, a farmer, bought an Edison Phonograph last summer and with it he entertained his neighbors at long distance. He called up the families on the circuit and they opened the receivers. Then he set the Phonograph up to the transmitter and started it going. Its Records were thus heard over miles of snowbound country by a widely scattered audience.

FINED FOR DUPLICATING EDISON RECORDS.

The Talking Machine News, published in England, in its February issue, reports the imposition of a fine of £10 upon a Londoner for duplicating Edison Gold Moulded Records and selling them as originals. The suit was brought on behalf of Thomas A. Edison. Such duplication is an infringement of Mr. Edison's patents and persons so offending will be vigorously prosecuted.

ADVERTISING THE GREATEST ESSENTIAL.

It is evident that many small Dealers in Edison Phonographs and Records make little effort to push the line. They buy the quantity necessary to become a Dealer, put the goods in their stores and wait for buyers to come along. If there are slow in coming and the goods are not sold quickly, they eventually dispose of what they have and close the line, deciding that such goods are not profitable. Had they done some advertising, either in their weekly paper or with circulars, in all probability they would have sold their stock quickly and created a demand that would make it necessary to replenish. The life of business in these days is advertising, and every Dealer has it in his power to get as effective results from advertising as any business house in the land. No matter how small his town or how remote from a large city he may be, he can do effectual advertising. If he only places a small advertisement in his weekly paper he will get as proportionate results as the large advertiser who takes a page in a city daily. He will get even more attention, for the average country weekly is perused with greater care than any city daily. An expenditure of one dollar will secure from four to six inches in many weekly papers, and such an advertisement will be read by from 300 to 1,000 different families. And it will sell goods. If a town has no weekly paper, a Dealer can send out a circular or a catalogue to a selected list of families who should be interested in Edison Phonographs. An expenditure of $100 in Edison Phonographs and Records will yield a profit of from $75 to $80 according to the types of machines bought, and we firmly believe that an expenditure of $5 for advertising will sell goods to that amount. Too many Dealers regard such an expenditure as a loss, but the lack of courage necessary to make it is the most potent reason why they do not succeed in business. Go where you will, you will find that the successful men are the believers in advertising.

A NEW SOUTH WALES WAY.

Peter Bacigalupi, Jobber at San Francisco, sends the following letter gotten out by one of his Dealers at Sydney, New South Wales:

100 WESTBOURNE ST., Petersham,
Jan. 8, 1904.

DEAR SIR OR MADAM—I have much pleasure in bringing under your notice that I have just landed two fine shipments, ex "Venture" and "Persic," of Edison new Moulded Records for November. These Records are much improved, and a better lot has never been heard in Sydney. The volume is greater and the tone is sweet. Edison has scored again, and has left his would-be imitators miles to the rear. Come early and judge for yourselves.

The shipments also include Standard and Home Phonographs, Recorders, C Speakers 21/- Cement, Main Springs, all Duplicate Parts of Machines, Jewels for B and C Speakers and Recorders, Glass and Mica Diaphragms, Carrying Cases and Boxes for Records, Stands for Horns.

I would also draw your attention to the Speed Indicator for Phonographs. This is a great help to the machine, and enables the best results to be obtained from the Record when used.

The enclosed catalogue, together with the supplements, makes your list complete up to November.

Thanking you for your many past favors, and hoping to have the pleasure of an early call.

JAS. BLACKADER.

13 OUT OF 16 CALLED IT A PHONOGRAPH.

One of the trials of manufacturers of other styles of talking machines is to get the public to realize that their particular machine is not the one invented by Edison. A Chicago young woman recently gave an advertising guessing party. She cut from magazines a series of well known advertisements and gave prizes to those guessing the greatest number correctly. One of the advertisements was that of a talking machine. Of the sixteen persons present thirteen guessed the advertisement correctly. The other thirteen called it a Phonograph.

NOVEL ADVERTISEMENT.

A new and novel advertising scheme was successfully worked last Saturday for the Firemen's minstrels. J. B. Kennerdell, of the firm of Furnace and Kennerdell, agents for the Edison Phonographs, also a member of the fire department, made a record announcing the Minstrels on Washington's Birthday, and played it during the afternoon and evening, interspersed with popular songs, etc., from the second-story window of their store. It was certainly a good advertising scheme.—Daily News, Kitanning, Pa.

A JOBBER'S INVITATION.

Following is the form of an invitation sent out by the S. L. Crosby Co., Bangor, Me.:

> You are cordially invited to call at our new store, 186 EXCHANGE STREET, or at our branch store at 32 HARLOW STREET, and listen to
>
> CONCERT
>
> by The National Phonograph Co., on next. ..... afternoon and evening
>
> Edison's latest improved Phonograph and all of this month's Gold-Moulded Records will be used. Any number of these Records will be played on request. No records offered for sale at this time. Come and bring your friends.
>
> THE S. L. CROSBY COMPANY,
> Proprietors of THE BANGOR PHONOGRAPH CO.

COMMENTS ON APRIL RECORDS.

The list of Edison Gold Moulded Records for April contains several interesting novelties. There are the usual twenty-five selections, and, as becomes a list of the only high grade Record of its class now before the public, they are splendidly made. Each represents the most advanced progress in the art of making Records by Mr. Edison's corps of assistants at the Edison Laboratory. In arranging these monthly lists no effort is made to get out twenty-five Records that will please every individual. Cognizance is taken of the varying tastes of different persons and different sections and the lists made up so that every one will find from six to a dozen to suit him. Many Phonograph enthusiasts buy the entire twenty-five every month, but the large majority make selections from the list according to personal preference. A reference to each selection follows:

No. 8619. "March of the Holy Grail," is from Richard Wagner's sacred music drama, "Parsifal." This march is slow, stately and solemn. No more difficult music is written for Phonograph reproduction than that by Wagner. It is seldom that so much trouble is met in making a satisfactory Record as was experienced in making this selection. Had it not been for the high musical ability of the men who composed the Edison Military Band, we could not have made so perfect a Record as this one is. Unusual interest attaches to any music from "Parsifal," and we predict a great sale for this selection.

No. 8620. "The Man Behind," a male duet by Collins and Harlan, with orchestra accompaniment, tells in a most humorous way of the glory of the man behind,—how in battle the general gets the credit for he's "The Man Behind the Gun," and the man with the baton is the man behind the tune. The words of this song are by Vincent Bryan and the music by J. J. Mullen.

No. 8621. "In Zanzibar," (My Little Chimpanzee,) is a song hit from "The Medal and the Maid," one of the comic opera hits of the New York theatres in the past season. It is sung by Harry MacDonough with orchestra accompaniment. The words of this song are wards. The air is attractive and Mr. MeDonough makes the Record with clear enunciation and good expression.

No. 8622. "Birds of Spring Mazurka," by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, is a Record that will be most timely for the opening of the spring season. It is filled with the warbling of birds and is very pretty throughout. The peculiar rhythm of the mazurka lends itself nicely to this style of Record. "Birds of Spring Mazurka" was in our old catalogue and is now made over in consequence of demands for it.

No. 8623. "Kiss Me Good-night, Dear Love," is a popular sentimental song from Eleanor Robson's great success, "Merely Mary Ann," which was one of the best things produced at the New York theatres this season. The song and refrain of this selection are by Malcolm Williams and the chorus by Israel Zangwill. It is sung by Byron G. Harlan and is accompanied by the orchestra. The combined features of a charming air from a popular comic opera success and Mr. Harlan's excellent rendition will make this Record a fine seller.

No. 8624. "Colored Major March," is a banjo solo by Vess L. Ossman with orchestra accompaniment. It was written by S. R. Henry. It is a fine ragtime Record and the accompaniment forms an excellent background for the banjo.

No. 8625. "Blue Bell," is a male duet by Harlan and Stanley and has orchestra accompaniment. It is a march song with a charming air, and the voices of the singers blend nicely. The words of the song are by Edward Madden and the music by Theodore F. Morse.

No. 8626. "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by Len Spencer, is certainly the most unique Record of the April list and one of the best of Mr. Spencer's productions. It represents the flogging scene in the fifth act of the play "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and introduces the characters of Uncle Tom and Simon Legree. The dialogue by Mr. Spencer is especially good and it is accompanied by incidental orchestral music. This should be a good selling Record and a seller also for a long period of time.

No. 8627. "Rosedale March," is a composition written by Frank L. Seltzer, and with John Hazel, made a very clever cornet duet in the December list. The selection is made by the Edison Military Band, the prominent instruments being the cornet and the clarinet. It is an excellent band Record.

No. 8628. "You're Always Behind Like an Old Cow's Tail," is a coon song by Bob Roberts, with orchestra accompaniment, which tells how a lazy coon was always behind time. He celebrated Christmas on St. Patrick's Day and after loving a girl for fourteen years he finally told his love and the date was fixed for the wedding. He arrived two hours too late only to find that she had married Mose-Levi Johnson. The verse of the song are interpolated with some very funny talk by Mr. Roberts. This song is the work of Farrell and Fruitzen.

No. 8629. "If I Were Only You," is a waltz song written by the writer of "Navajo." It is sung by Byron G. Harlan with orchestra accompaniment. The words are by Harry G. Williams and the music by Egbert VanAlstyne. Waltz songs are always popular and this one will be no exception. It is sung rather rapidly, has a fine rythm, and an excellent accompaniment.

No. 8630. "A Bunch of Violets," (Flower Song), made by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, is a composition by C. W. Bennet. It is played at a slow tempo and is one of the most delicate and charmingr airs imaginable. It has been finely rendered by the Edison Symphony Orchestra and is altogether a delightful Record.

No. 8631. "I've Got a Feelin' For You," sung by Arthur Collins, is a typical coon song and is made in the typical Collins' style. Funny talk between the verses and the chorus is a feature. The words of this song were written by Edward Madden and the music by Theodore F. Morse.

No. 8632. "The Robin and the Wren," is a composition written by the late Frank P. Banta. It is a whistling and singing male duet by Harlan and Belmont with orchestra accompaniment. The composition is exceedingly clever and includes a duet between the robin and the wren in which the warbling of each bird is given in a surprisingly clear and artistic manner. All indications will fail if this Record is not extensively sold.

No. 8633. "King Carnoval Polka," a cornet solo by Bohumir Kryl, with orchestra accompaniment, is Mr. Kryl's own composition. It introduces a very difficult and elaborate cadenza and is an excellent demonstration of Mr. Kryl's ability as a cornetist.

No. 8634. "Breeze of the Night," is sung by the Edison Quartette without accompaniment in deference to the taste of a large number of people who believe that quartette Records are more satisfactory when sung without accompaniment. This one is well rendered in every respect.

No. 8635. "Llewellyn March," by William A. Moriarty is the first duligmar solo we have listed in a long time. We were induced to list another of these solos from the large sale of No. 8021, "Ain't Dat a Shame," made by Mr. Moriarty two years or more ago. This Record will appeal to all who are familiar with dulcimer music.

No. 8636. "Come Down From the Big Fig Tree," a male duet by Collins and Harlan with orchestra accompaniment, is one of the best Records of the April list. It is a song of the African country, telling of the love of the monkey and chimpanzee, but its music is quite unlike anything of the kind yet written. The words are by Edward Madden and the music by Theodore F. Morse. Sung by Collins and Harlan, it is a splendid Record.

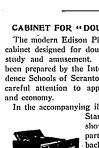
No. 8637. "In a Nutshell March," xylophone solo by Albert Benzler, with orchestra accompaniment, is the latest composition by George Rossy, the writer of the well known "Honeymoon March." "The Handicap March," "Tzigania Waltzes" and others equally popular. The music is especially adapted to the xylophone and the Record is a good addition to our list of these solos.

No. 8638. "Dear Sing Sing," is a comic waltz song by Billy Murray, with orchestra accompaniment, and tells in verse of the advantages of life in Sing Sing. The words were written by William Jerome and the music by G. Schwartz.

No. 8639. "Mr. Black Man," Arthur Pryor's new characteristic cakewalk, made by the Edison Military Band, is full of ragtime music. It also introduces a male chorus with whistling and excellent cornet work. Because of its unique character and general superiority it cannot fail to be a record selling Record.

No. 8640. "General Hardtack—On Guard," is the first solo Record that Frank C. Stanley has made for us in two months, he having just recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia. "General Hardtack—On Guard" is a humorous march song by Dave Reed, Jr. It is sung with orchestra accompaniment. This song has a striking air and Mr Stanley sings it with good articulation and his usual good voice.

No. 8641. "The 17th of March," is a comic Irish march song rendered by Arthur Collins. It is sung with orchestra accompaniment. The music resembles "Mr. Dooley" in its general character. This Record again shows that Mr. Collins can make Records of Irish songs as well as those of coon songs. "The 17th of March" is the work of Jack Drislane and F. H. Shepherd.



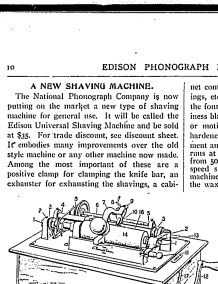
No. 8642. "Georgia Minstrels," made by the Edison Minstrels, is one of the best of the kind that we have yet made. The principal fun in the Record is made by Len Spencer, who also sings "Uncle Billy's Dream." The things that Uncle Billy has dreamed about are too ludicrous for description. The singing is done by the Edison Quartette.

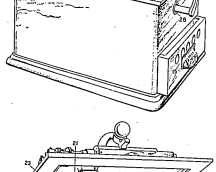
No. 8643. "Navajo Medley," is another of the very popular medleys now being made by the Edison Military Band. In addition to "Navajo," this medley introduces "Hannah, Won't You Open Dat Door," "For Sale—A Baby" and "Hayden." The cornets predominate in this Record to an extent that almost makes it possible to list it as a cornet solo. It follows that the work of the band is of a high class character.

CABINET FOR "DOUBLE SERVICE."

The modern Edison Phonograph demands a cabinet designed for double service—language study and amusement. Such a cabinet has been prepared by the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., with the most careful attention to appearance, convenience and economy.

In the accompanying illustration the Edison Standard Phonograph is shown in the upper compartment, while directly back of it is a space for hearing tubes, speaking tubes and other accessories. Two sliding shelves hold fifty records; one shelf will contain a complete set of twenty-five Language Records, and the other shelf will accommodate twenty-five Amusement Records, furnishing entertainment for over an hour. Four bound textbooks and the horn may be placed below.





The cabinet is handsomely finished in weathered oak. When closed there is no objectionable display of drawers or instrument, making the cabinet an ornament in any home. Its outside dimensions are: 34 inches high, 18 inches deep, 13 inches wide.

When the student desires to use the Phonograph for language work, the simple action of raising the cover of the cabinet lifts the Phonograph into position, where it latches. The cabinet is also equipped with a convenient book rest.

A NEW SHAVING MACHINE.

The National Phonograph Company is now putting on the market a new type of shaving machine for general use. It will be called the Edison Universal Shaving Machine and be sold at $35. For trade discount, see discount sheet. It embodies many improvements over the old style machine or any other machine now made. Among the most important of these are a positive clamp for clamping the knife bar, an exhauster for exhausting the shavings, a cabinet containing a drawer for catching the shavings, etc., etc. The machine will shave either the four-inch regular blank or the six-inch business blank. This machine may be run by hand or motive power. The mandrel bearing has hardened steel centers, insuring perfect adjustment and running absolutely true. The mandrel runs at high speed when turning the crank at from 50 to 75 revolutions per minute. A high speed shaving knife is used on this shaving machine, which insures a perfect, smooth cut to the wax cylinder. The exhauster consists of a small exhaust fan with chip chute protruding through the top plate just below the knife and back of the wax cylinder. The shavings are instantly drawn down through this chute into the drawer below. There are no gears used on this machine. With it a six-inch blank may be shaved in from fifteen to twenty seconds. The following cuts and index of parts, taken from one direction sheet for operating the machine, will explain to the trade its construction and method of working:—

INDEX OF PARTS.

1. Main shaft center adjusting screw.
2. Main shaft center set screw.
3. Main shaft centers.
4. Back rod.
5. Feed screw centers.
6. Feed screw.
7. Knife bar arm.
8. Knife bar clamp lever.
9. Knife bar.
10. Sapphire knife.
11. Lock bolt knob.
12. Crank.
13. Swing arm.
14. Taper cylinder.
16. Chip chute.
15. Drawer.
17. Catch lever.
18. Supporting links.
19. Counter shaft centers.
20. Counter shaft center adjusting screw.
21. Fan case oil hole.
22. Crank shaft bearing.
23. Crank shaft.
24. Fan case.
25. Slot for motor belt.
26. Counter shaft pulley.
27. Counter shaft.
28. Crank hole thimble.

SUPPLEMENT TO PARTS CATALOGUE.

Parts for changing Concert Phonographs so as to play standard size Records:

New Diaphragm Arm (casting only).....$2.95
New Main Shaft and Mandrel..... 5.00

Total.....$7.95

Subject to usual Repair Discounts.

TRADE ADVERTISING.

It is out of the question, in the limited space of this publication, to mention the names of the Jobbers and Dealers who have sent copies of newspapers containing their advertisements and other advertising literature that they have issued. Their receipt is, however, appreciated by the Advertising Department. We are keeping scrap-books of trade advertising and will be glad to receive copies of everything issued that advertises Edison goods.

NO COMPLAINTS ABOUT EDISON GOODS

Symonds' London stores, one of our largest Jobbers in Great Britain, under date of February 6, writes to the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY:

"We have a letter from one of our friends who visited your establishment in Orange, New Jersey, upon a letter of introduction given by us and he expresses the utmost delight at the greatness of your enterprise and general system prevailing in your works.

"We have sold, as you know, many thousands of dollars' worth of your goods which have been distributed by us through the United Kingdom and Colonies. They invariably give satisfaction and we may tell you in fact, that, although we handle all the leading lines, yours is the only one wherein we do not receive complaints more or less frequently on the matter of quality."

ONE REASON FOR EDISON LOYALTY.

"I to-day received the name of a prospective buyer from you, and followed same up, with following results: sold one Triumph, seventy-two Records, one seventy-two peg Record Case, one 42-inch brass horn, one Record Cabinet."

This is one of many letters constantly being received from Dealers in Edison goods. It is but one of the ways in which this company is seeking to benefit the trade of its Dealers. The fact that we have so many loyal and hustling firms handling Edison goods is due to just such things as these.

ON SPEED REGULATION.

A Phonograph Dealer at Ashburton, New Zealand, sends the following:

I notice in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY that one of your correspondents gave a hint for calculating the speed of a Phonograph. You will find no difficulty if you let the machine run for one and a quarter minutes with Record off and speaker arm down. If the machine has traveled two inches in that time, the speed is correct, namely 160 revolutions to the minute. The above method does away with complicated fractions, and is absolutely correct.

PRINTED MATTER.

Some Jobbers who get out a special advance list to send to their Dealers have asked to have a copy of our Advance List sent a few days prior to the shipment of sample Records each month, in order that they may send it to their printer and get their lists ready to mail when the sample Records are received. The request is reasonable and will be granted. Within two days after the Advance List is decided upon we will have copies printed of the second page of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, and will mail one to each Jobber. This will be for printing purposes only. The PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY will be mailed on the same day that the sample Records are shipped.

We have had printed a neat four-page folder containing an argument on the reasons for the superiority of the Edison Gold Moulded Record. It is form No. 535. We want to get these into use at once, and are now sending to every Jobber with goods a quantity based on his monthly order for Record Supplements. Any Jobber who can use a still further quantity to advantage is asked to place an order after he receives the first lot. We will thank Jobbers if they will see that some of these folders are sent to such Dealers as have mailing lists, or will distribute them advantageously.

The somewhat belated Numerical Catalogue, Form No. 510, has just been mailed to every one in the trade who has signed our Agreement. Five copies were mailed to Jobbers and one to every Dealer. The edition printed will permit every Jobber to have a supply for new Dealers, but orders for large quantities cannot be filled. This catalogue is intended for store use only, and in printing it no provision is made for general circulation.

Judging by the demand, the little gold and black gummed stickers referred to in the February issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY have become popular, especially among Dealers who are unable to get advertising matter quickly. We still have a supply of these stickers on hand, and will be glad to mail a small quantity to any one in the trade who will use them.

We have had requests to publish a list of form numbers of catalogues and printed matter in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. We began this some months ago, but found that by the time the numbers became known to the trade many of the editions were exhausted and orders could not be filled. It has since been thought inadvisable to print such a list.

ADVERTISING PHRASES OF JOBBERS AND DEALERS.

A little money will bring much happiness if invested in an Edison Phonograph.—Douglas & Co., New York.

Edison Gold Moulded Records are the best. A trial will convince. Fit any cylinder machine. Natural in Tone, Loudest and Clearest—Moulded by a secret process and will not split on the mandrel. Not injured by handling—will outwear imitations.—Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston.

The Edison Phonograph is the most marvelous of sound-reproducing inventions. It is a perpetual entertainment.—Siegel-Cooper Co., New York.

For home entertainment and for music-loving people the Phonograph has never been equalled, either in quality or price.—Ackerman & Co., Prairie City, Ill.

There is only one best Record. The Edison Gold Moulded Record is the best.—Blackman Talking Machine Co., New York.

Sell the Record which made the talking machine business.—Penn Phonograph Co., Philadelphia.

DEALERS' EXPERIENCES.

EAST AURORA, N. Y., Feb. 15, 1904.

I don't have much trouble with the ——— records. I keep some of them and play them in comparison with the Edison. Customers nearly always take the Edison. Last week a customer wanted an outfit. He liked the Home machine, but said he could get the ——— outfit for $25. I happened to have one of the latter in the shop for repairs. I put on one of the sixteen-cent records and ran it for him. I then took the record off and put it on the Edison Home. He could see the difference. Then I put on the Edison Gold Moulded Records, Nos. 8574 and 8579 on the Home. When I was through he said: "That is the machine I will have." I sold him a Home, thirty-inch horn, two dozen Records, Record Case, half-dozen blanks, and horn crane. I shall stick to the Edison as long as they keep up the prices, and take care of their agents. I have sold the Edison goods for five years and have had very few repairs to make.

C. G. COE.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13, 1904.

We have decided to handle only Edison goods, and although several of our competitors have put in a stock of ——— goods, our sales have not diminished apparently, as we sold more Records in December than in any previous month. Here is one of many of our experiences. A regular customer insisted upon having a few selections of ——— records, and said he could not understand why we did not keep them. He purchased three of them in the city, and after playing them at home, he informs us that the three are not equal in value to one Edison, and he now gives us credit for being wise enough to let them alone. We also find that where we were having a dozen ask for ——— records three months ago, we do not have two persons ask to-day. We also notice the people who ask for these goods are of a very illiterate class, who are satisfied with a quantity of noise of any kind.

HOWARD GRONER.

PRAIRIE CITY, ILL., Feb. 6, 1904.

In November, 1903, a dealer in ——— disc machines, from Galesburg, Ill., made his appearance in Prairie City with two ——— machines, and a large supply of disc records. After playing an entire evening in a leading business house here, he condescended to inform the audience there was no machine but the disc north bank. The proprietor was very enthusiastic with the showing this instrument made, and remarked that it was the best talking machine he had ever heard. He had decided to purchase one of these ———'s, when we heard of the incident. We called at his place of business and told him we would like to have the opportunity to show the merits of the Phonograph, and after our concert we would let him be the judge.

He gave us the privilege, but said it remained to be seen whether we could make a better showing than the disc machine. We took an Edison Home machine and seventy-two Gold Moulded Records to his store, and gave him a concert of five hours' duration. The first piece we played was the "Imperial Edward March," by the Edison Grand Concert Band. After playing this fine band selection his wife said her decision was already made. "And that in favor of the Edison Phonograph," and she would have no other, as there was no scratch or roar to the Edison Records, and the machine ran so smoothly. Her husband was of the same opinion; also the crowd which had collected. We sold him a Home Phonograph, and nine dozen Records; also a 36-inch spun brass horn. Since then they have purchased many dozens of Records.

This prompts us to again say there is no competition in the field with Edison goods. We find this to be true by experience extending over a period of three years; for, after hearing Edison goods, the verdict is universally for the same.

ACKERMAN & CO.

SPOKANE, WASH., February 19, 1904.

Being so far West we do not get our Records as quickly as some Dealers, and have just lately received January Records. We consider this the best lot of Records up to date, and will predict if you keep this improvement up you will have the world of music at your feet. Every home in the land will have and will prize an Edison, and Dealers will retain themselves and their friends, and we are doing all we can to further this end. We see by the trade journal what are considered extra sales. We would like to speak of one. We have one customer to whom we sold a Home outfit, and within two months he has bought forty-three dozen Records, at 50c, and has a standing order for everything that comes out. Can any one beat that? We are very pleased to learn of the new style box in contemplation and trust it will be in use as quickly as possible. We also note a reduction in freight rates on Western roads. The Western Dealer has considerable to contend with in these high freight rates.

FOSTER & FOSTER.

SPANTA, MICH., Feb. 13, 1904.

I would like to relate a little incident which occurred recently. A gentleman came to me, and after purchasing some Records, I said to him: "I have a Record here which I admire very much. It is called 'The Little Boy in Blue.'" "Oh," he said, "I have a very good Record of that Number in the store." I played ours for him, and he said, "I do not need two 'Little Boys in Blue,' but you may wrap that one up for me." While I am not doing a large business, my trade is steadily growing, and I am proud to be numbered among the Dealers who handle the goods that sell without price cutting.

HARRY N. HAGADONE.

RACINE, O., Feb. 8, 1904.

. . . I have been asked why I don't carry cheaper records and machines. I haven't time to waste with cheap trash, and when I sell a customer a machine or records, I don't want to be ashamed to meet him a few days afterward. I will handle no other goods but Edison goods.

ED. HARPER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13, 1904.

The great drawback to our trade in selling the Phonograph is the Disc or "Scratch-o-Graph." You talk to a person about a Phonograph and they will promptly tell you that they have heard the Phonograph, and when you ask them where they heard it, they will say over to "Smith's," when the fact of the matter is that "Smith" has a disc, which, of course, does not compare with the Phonograph. I must congratulate you on the fine Records you are putting out; for instance, the "New Colonial March," "Two of Us," "American Standard," "Any Rags," and so on, as I could name any quantity of them that never will be equalled by any other company.

One night a young man came to my place to buy a machine, and the gentleman who brought him had been speaking about a disc to him. I happened to have a disc in the house that belonged to a friend of mine, so put it up and played two pieces. I then started my machine. The result you can imagine. He bought the Edison and two dozen Records.

A gentleman came to my place, who owned a disc, for which he paid $200, and $60.00 for records, and said he wanted to hear the Edison. I played a few Records for him, with the result that he bought a Home machine, a fifty-six-inch horn and five dozen Records, and paid cash for the entire outfit. I have since sold him a six-dozen case and one dozen Records, notwithstanding the fact that there are ——— records in this city selling for twenty-five cents.

One of my customers, who had bought an outfit from me, bought a dozen of the ——— records, and one night about ten came to my place in company with the customer to whom I sold the large outfit, and I had just received "Any Rags." I put it on the machine, and when it had finished he said, "That is the best I have ever heard," and bought it. Another one of my customers, who had bought some ——— records, came to my place one evening to see about his reproducer, and I put the "American Standard March" on the machine to try his reproducer. Well, if you ever saw a surprised man in your life, that man was the one. After the Record had finished, he said, "I do not want any more ——— records."

I wish the public could understand that there is only one Phonograph, and that is the Edison.

OIL CITY, PA., Jan. 28, 1904.

A few evenings ago two brothers came in to price an outfit. One liked the cylinder machine best; the other preferred disc. We played eight different machines, from the cheapest to the best of the two disc makes. By using a Triumph we sold a Home outfit. The next morning this was returned, the customer saying that his mother would not pay his share unless they took a disc pattern. This we supplied. The next night he returned to secure the Home, saying that the family, after hearing the disc at home, preferred the Edison. People we could not interest before will stop and listen when we have a Triumph running, with a good Record. As we average from four to six hundred customers a day and have machines running most of the time, we are in a position to catch all classes. Local musicians pronounce the reproduction as near perfect as could be expected.

FARRELL & LEBOUF.

MARKDALE, ONT., Feb. 12, 1904.

I see by the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY of February that M. Smith & Co., of Quebec, Can., have been giving outdoor exhibitions by means of a tube passing through the door to the Phonograph inside. I may say that I had the same device during Christmas week. The connection was made with a tin tube twenty feet long, from the door jack to the counter. This town has a population of 1,200, and the Phonograph could be heard almost anywhere in town. My sales of Edison goods doubled after that.

T. F. WILSON.

JUNCTION CITY, KAN., Feb. 13, 1904.

I want you to know that I for one appreciate your way of doing business. I also handle the ——— records, not for the profit there is in them, for there is none, but to help sell Edison Records. If I had to sell ——— records alone, I would soon go out of the business. If a Dealer values his time any (as most customers want to hear a record before they buy) and knows by experience that there are some ——— records so poor that he will never be able to get rid of them, he will agree with me that there is no money in handling ——— records, but a Dealer has to keep a few in stock, so he will be able to compare them with the Edison.

E. L. WITZIG.

COLON, MICH., Feb. 15, 1904.

I have been a Dealer in talking machines for the past four years and think the last year was double that of the year before. Have sold nothing lately but the Edison Phonograph. They seem to be the universal choice in this vicinity.

O. B. CULVER.

MONTAGUE FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1904.

We are a village of a thousand, and another man has put in ———'s. A few of my customers some little time ago bought some of these records and now they are coming back to me and saying: "Either the ——— were not good in the first place or are playing out." I first thought of putting in ———'s and cutting price, but now am keeping perfectly still, and am getting there all right.

E. W. HUBBARD.

DELMONT, W. VA., Jan. 18, 1904.

I will stick to you in upholding prices of Edison goods. Whenever we want to commit a crime among our fellow beings we will sell Grauss or "Scratchaphones;" we would not give away (let alone sell) such a thing to the disgrace of it.

J. E. GREEN.

FREDERICK, MD., Feb. 10, 1904.

I am trying to knock the ——— records. Very few people in Frederick will pay the twenty-five cents for ——— records, since I have been pushing the Edison. They say they would rather have one Edison than one dozen ———.

W. H. DYER.

KNOXLEYSVILLE, N. Y., Feb. 12, 1904.

My trade in Edison goods is better now than at any time during the past eighteen months, which proves that the Edison goods are gaining in popularity. People are realizing as never before the true worth of the Edison goods.

S. S. PRINGLE.

BRITISH SELECTIONS COMPLIMENTED.

The National Phonograph Company are to be complimented upon their latest list of British and French-Canadian selections of Gold-moulded Records. There are thirty-five titles in the British list, all of a highly popular character. These were recorded in London. Eleven of them are by the British Military Band. Mr. Leonard McKay, Miss Octavia Barry and Mr. Hamilton Hill are among the vocalists, whilst Miss Maud Dewey has two Records, remarkable imitations of British singing birds. We predict a big demand from English Dealers for these Records and an ever larger demand from the Englishmen abroad, since they will serve as a reminder of his native land. Of the thirty-seven French-Canadian selections, four are by the famous Kilties' band of the 48th Highlanders. These four the National Company have sent us for review and we can conscientiously state that we have never heard clearer, better balanced, or more perfect band Records than these. One of these "The Blue Bells of Scotland," after a pianissimo opening, suddenly bursts into a full volume, the air being played by the treble and the trombones, and the basses playing a running staccato variation. The rendering of "The Cock of the North" is by both band and bagpipes, but all are of exceptional merit and attest the skill of the National Company's recording staff. By-the-way, as showing the conspicuous success of these Records, 1000 factor alone, after a small trial order, gave "a repeat" for four thousand of them, and asked that they should be cabled for.—Talking Machine News, London.

SUSPENDED LIST, MARCH 1, 1904.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

COLORADO.

BOULDER—BENTLEY & CRAIG.

KANSAS.

CLAY CENTRE—E. M. GOWENLOCK.
LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
E. O. MOSHER, 420 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DeWOLFF.
WOBURN—OSBORN GILLETTE, or THE BOLTON JEWELRY COMPANY, L. F. MALONEY, Manager.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

NASHUA—F. A. McMASTER & CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—J. WIGDOR, 190 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN; also New York City.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
PLAINFIELD—S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT; also New York City.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
Re-instated since February 1—FINCH & HAHN, Albany and Schenectady, New York.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus, either at addresses given or any other address.

NEW YORK—Continued.

HONART—F. H. MARSHALL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
BRONX PHONOGRAPH CO., or DAVID SWITKY, 596 Willis Avenue.
R. L. CORWIN; also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 125th street.
S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT, 7 Barclay st., 58 Cortlandt st.; also Plainfield, N. J.
O. HACKER, 2 Murray street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway; also Philadelphia, Pa.
N. HORN, 248 E. 58th street.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 112 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 193 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
RICHARD PEASE, 42 W. 125th st.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.
SARATOGA SPRINGS—MARVIN A. COTE.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
URBICHSVILLE—P. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. E. ASSIDY, 2783 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street, or Oxford and Wascher streets; also New York City.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE—J. C. BLATZEK.
Re-instated since February 1—FINCH & HAHN, Albany and Schenectady, New York.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2025 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Ray Co., 12 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 533 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 604 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Caulkins & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Pardee-Hitchcock Co., 135 Orange st.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Oscar J. Junge, 242 E. Chicago avenue.
Kelley Piper Co., 80-82 Wabash avenue.
Talking Machine Co., 72 Fifth avenue.
The Ray Co., 111 Randolph street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 197 Madison street.
The Vim Co., 68 E. Lake street.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 111 Michigan ave
Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 314 S. Adams street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Kipp Bros. Co., 27 S. Meridian street.
The Ray Co., 234 Massachusetts avenue.
Wahl-Gunsch Co., 121 S. Illinois street
Lafayette—Wahl-Gunsch Co., 304 Main street.

IOWA.

Des Moines—The Vim Co., 702 West Walnut street.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 640 Fourth avenue.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—James I. Lyons, Theatre Arcade.
National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 614 Gravier street.
The Ray Co., 111 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—S. L. Crosby Co., 16 Exchange street.
Portland—W. H. Ross & Son, 207 Commercial street.

MICHIGAN.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 18 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 127 Tremont street.
E. Ivers & Pond Co., 431 Washington street.
Lyman Sporting Goods Co., 165 Washington street.
Read & Read, 258 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 247 Main street.
Lowell—Ring Music Co., 112 Merrimac street.
Thompson & Hill, 104 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 364 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 106 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 219 Woodward avenue.
The Ray Co., 161 Griswold street.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 324 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 37 E. 7th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1013-1015 Walnut street.
The Wittmann Co., 1112 Grand avenue.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1122 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 923 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. B. Sidles Co., 1315 O street.
Omaha—H. E. Fredricksen, 1506-1510 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 1318 and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 205 Washington street.
Newark—A. G. Petit, New and Halsey streets.
H. J. Koehler Sporting Goods Co., 845 Broad street.
Paterson—James E. O'Dea, 222 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank L. C. Martin Auto. Co., 800 Park avenue.
Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
A. S. Hamilton Co., 324 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1197 Broadway.
Buffalo—F. A. Powers, 843 Main street.
Elmira—Elmira Arms Co., 117 Main street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co., 39 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Forsyth & Davis, 322 Wall street.
New York City—Berkshire & Co., 36 Vesey street.
Bettini Phonograph Co., 80 Chambers street.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 19 Jackson street.
F. Blumann & Bro., 962 1st avenue.
J. Dressler, 58 Cortlandt street.
S. H. Dudley, Jr. & Co., 1482 Broadway.
Douglas & Co., 89 Chambers street.
H. S. Gordon, 1179 Fifth avenue.
Harry Jackson, 122 Bowery.
Leeds & Catlin Co., 89 Union Square.
Victor H. Emmel, 1 Diamond avenue.
Rosenfeld Mfg. Co., 87 Nassau street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
John Wanamaker, Broadway and 9th street.
Rochester—A. J. Demuger, 297 North street.
Stickle Flash, O. & M. Co., 100 State street.
Talking Machine Co., 29 S. Clinton avenue.
Schenectady—H. W. A. Pickard & Co., 521 State street.
Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 216 E. Railroad street.
Troy—James Lee Love, 253 River street.
Utica—Clark, Horrocks Co., 84 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffner Co., 226 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Ilsen & Co., 178 W. 4th street.
The Ray Co., 36 W. 4th street.
Wahl-Gunsch Co., 47 W. 4th street.
W. J. Roberts, Jr., Normal Arcade.
Columbus—Perry B. Whitsel Co., 913 S. High street.
Dayton—Geo. Arnold Co., 23 E. 4th street.
East Liverpool—Smith & Hall, 1 Diamond.
Toledo—Hayes Music Co., 208 Superior.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Braun, 904 Federal street.
Allentown—I. C. Aschbach, 1 Hamilton street.
Easton—William Werner, 20 Northampton street.
Philadelphia—C. J. Heppe & Son, 1113 Chestnut street.
Lit Bros., Market and 8th streets.
John Wanamaker, 13 S. 9th street.
John Wanamaker.
Wells Fisher & Co., 41 N. 9th street.
Western Electric Co., 232-233 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 925 Market street.
Pittsburg—Theo. D. Emmel Co., Inc., 423 Wood street.
Kaufmann Bros., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 251 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Mellor Co., 339 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 2330 Liberty avenue.
Reading—Reading Phonograph Co., 629 Penn street.
Scranton—Ackerman & Co., Coal Exchange Building.
Technical Supply Co.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Dean Co., 285-291 Westminster street.
J. A. Foster Co., Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Household Furniture Co., 231-237 Weybosset street.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., 26-30 Pine street.
A. T. Scatergood & Co., 206-210 N. Main street.

TENNESSEE.

Memphis—The Ray Co., Lyceum Building, end and Jefferson streets.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 30 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, Adv., 242 Main street.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 214 E. Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 373 3d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Limited, 143 Yonge street.

Equip Yourself for Double Service

We will furnish any Edison dealer with I. C. S. literature and a demonstrating outfit consisting of 3 moulded Records with I. C. S. Textbooks in French, German, Spanish, delivered prepaid in the United States and Canada for

$1.50

Apply to the Following Jobbers of I. C. S. Outfits

PORTLAND, ME., W. H. Shaw & Son
LOWELL, MASS., Thomas Marshall
BOSTON, MASS., Eastern Talking Machine Co.
BOSTON, MASS., J. C. Haynes & Co.
BOSTON, MASS., Hunter Circle & Sunday Co.
BOSTON, MASS., New England Phonograph Co.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co.
HUNGTON, N. Y., Forsyth & Davis
SYRACUSE, N. Y., W. D. Andrews
NEW YORK CITY, Blackman Talking Machine Co.
NEW YORK CITY, Leeds & Catlin Co.
NEW YORK CITY, Douglas Co.
NEW YORK CITY, Jacot Music Box Co.
NEW YORK CITY, John Wanamaker
NEWARK, N. J., The Edisonia Co.
PLAINFIELD, N. J., F. K. C. Hartin Automobile Co.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Wells Phonograph Co.
EASTON, PA., William Werner
BUFFALO, N. Y., P. A. Powers
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Talking Machine Co.
COLUMBUS, OHIO, Perry B. Whitlit Co.
CINCINNATI, OHIO, Nolmes & Bolse
CHICAGO, ILL., Siegel Cooper Co.
CHICAGO, ILL., Isbell & Lyons
MILWAUKEE, WIS., McCrossi Bros.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Thos. C. Hough
OMAHA, NEB., Nebraska Cycle Co.
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co.
LOS ANGELES, CAL., Blackman Co.
TORONTO, CAN., R. S. Williams & Sons Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Peter Bacigalupi
NINETEEN STORES, The Ray Co.

EDISON Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. II. NEW YORK, APRIL, 1904. No. 2.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., LTD., 25 CLERKENWELL ROAD, LONDON, ENG.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

The Trade 1
Advance List of Edison Gold Moulded Records for May 2
Plans for Carrying Records 3
More British Selections 4
Record Playing by Telephone 4
Printed Matter 4
He Changed His Views 5
Record Shipments 5
Personal 5
The I. C. S. Display Rack 5
No Longer Antagonistic 6
Numbers for Record Stocks 6
A Phonograph Address 6
To Also Make Masters in New York 7
Not an American Tree 7
Comments on May Records 8
A Record Incident 9
Dealers, Read This! 10
A Historic Record 10
My Phonograph 10
Final Decrees in the Wittmann Cases 11
Injunctions Against Price Cutting 12
Suspended List 13
Jobbers of Edison Phonographs and Records 14
A Striking Comparison 15

THE TRADE.

There is practically nothing new to say concerning the conditions of trade in Edison Phonographs and Edison Gold Moulded Records, Jobbers and Dealers everywhere report that business is excellent, and their reports are borne out by the orders being received and by the weekly output from our factory. Trade is better than Jobbers and Dealers expected, because for a time it was feared that the introduction of a cheap record might affect the sale of the Edison Gold Moulded Record. Now that experience has shown that such is not the case, a better feeling pervails, and less attention is being paid to the cheap record complication. It was predicted in these columns six months ago that the public would soon find out the difference between Edison Records and the imitation product, and time has shown the correctness of the prediction. No one disputes the claim that many cheap records are being sold, but they have created their own market and are being bought solely because of their price. The demand for Edison Gold Moulded Records remains unchanged. They are still eagerly sought by thousands of music loving owners of Phonographs, who regard the best obtainable as none too good. To supply this demand the output of Records at our factory is the largest in its history. Nor is there any doubt in any one's mind that this demand will continue to grow as it has grown since the National Phonograph Co. was organized.

This Company has never attempted to restrain a Dealer from handling other styles of talking machines or records. It has held to the belief that Edison Phonographs and Records would hold their own in comparison with any other kind sold and has been willing that Dealers should add to their profits by supplying the demand that other companies

(Continued on page 3.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF MAY RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR MAY, 1904

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near May 1st, as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to April 15th will be shipped. May Supplements will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records. Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8674 Fashion Plate March — Edison Military Band
8675 Cordalia Malone — Edward M. Favor
Irish waltz song with orchestra accom. from "Glittering Gloria"
8676 My San Domingo Maid — Harry MacDonough
Song hit from "The Yankee Consul," with orchestra accompaniment
8677 You're the Flower of My Heart, Sweet Adeline — Albert Campbell and Henry Burr
Tenor and baritone duet with orchestra accompaniment — Fred'k Harrison
8678 Pop Goes the Weasel Medley — Charles D'Almaine
Violin solo with orchestra accompaniment, introducing "Pop Goes the Weasel," "Irish Washerwoman," "Tempest," "Speed the Plow," "Miss McCloud's Reel," and "D'Almaine's Favorite Reel"
8679 Good-bye, Fadora — Collins and Harlan
Comic Italian dialect male duet with orchestra accompaniment
8680 In the Days of Old — Bob Roberts
Comic song, as sung by Raymond Hitchcock in "The Yankee Consul," with orchestra accompaniment
8681 Yaller Gal — An old time coon song — Billy Golden
8682 The Roses' Honeymoon (Reverie) — Edison Symphony Orchestra
8683 The Man in the Overalls — Byron G. Harlan
Song by the composer of "A Little Boy in Blue," with orchestra accompaniment
8684 Good-Bye, My Lady Love — Harry MacDonough
Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment
8685 The Gondolier — Venetian love song with orchestra accom. — Arthur Collins
8686 The Irish, The Irish — Edward M. Favor
Comic song with orchestra accompaniment
8687 Dance of Honeybells — Edison Military Band
8688 I'll do the Same for You — Byron G. Harlan
Descriptive march with orchestra accompaniment
8689 That is a Habit I Never Had — Billy Murray
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment
8690 California Minstrels — Minstrels
Introducing the ballad "I'm Going Home to Cle," sung by Harry MacDonough
8691 He Done Me Wrong (or the Death of Bill Bailey) — Arthur Collins
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment
8692 Down South (An American sketch composed in England) — Vess L. Ossman
Banjo solo with orchestra accompaniment
8693 What I Heard at the Vaudeville — Len Spencer
Introducing a Gus Williams' German dialect recitation, "Only a Lock of Hair," with orchestral embellishment
8694 Idle Moments (Entr' Acte) — Edison Symphony Orchestra
8695 Nancy Lee — Harlan and Stanley
March song, male duet with orchestra accompaniment
8696 On a Good Old Trolley Ride ("Out With My Pearlie, My Steady Young Girlie") — William M. Redmond
A new summertime waltz with orchestra accompaniment
8697 'Possum Pie (or the Stuttering Coon) — Collins and Harlan
Coon song male duet with orchestra accompaniment
8698 Turkey in the Straw Medley — Edison Military Band
Introducing "Turkey in the Straw," "Blue Bell," "Ja Zanahar," "The Man Behind," and "General Hardtack—on Guard"

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

(Continued from page 1.)

might create for their product. It is not pleasant, however, to have Dealers tell us that if it were not for Edison Phonographs and Records they could not remain in the business. They call or write apologetically in about this way: We handle cheap records simply because some of our customers want them—customers who do not care about quality so long as they can get the air of a song or instrumental selection. These customers admit that they are inferior and do not last as long, but say that they are good enough for their purpose. We feel compelled to carry a line for this reason, say the Dealers, but we don't make any money on them. The usual losses and the time it takes to play them eat up the margin of profit. If we did not do a profitable Edison business we could not sell them at all, and if Edison Records were sold at the same price we could not continue in the business.

This is about the tenor of the Dealers' apologies. Pleasant, isn't it, to have Dealers tell us that they must make money on our goods in order to be able to sell a cheaper product that yields them nothing.

As a matter of fact, these Dealers are wrong in believing that they must meet the demand for cheap records, and they are following a policy that is injuring instead of helping their business.

If their customers found that they did not carry cheap records, they would, in most instances, buy Edison Records, particularly when the difference in quality was properly explained to them. Many of our Dealers who have not put in a line of cheap goods state that such is the case with them. Once in a while a customer will refuse to pay the price for Edison Records and go elsewhere for cheaper ones, but most of them yield to argument and buy a Record that will always be a pleasure to them and give the Dealer a profit for his trouble.

The idea of selling something cheap or at a bargain price is all very well for a department store, but it will not be a success in the talking machine business. When the business is conducted on the same lines it will cease to be profitable. The salvation of the entire talking machine business to-day depends upon the National Phonograph Co. doing everything in its power to uphold prices. No one recognizes this more fully than the manufacturers of disk goods. Their greatest concern is that this company will cut its price on Records to meet the price of the cheaper product. Of all people in the business they are the most anxious that we shall not do it. They know that if Edison Records are ever reduced in price it will bring down the price of disk goods to the same level, and the whole talking machine trade will suffer. Dealers especially will see their profits diminish.

The National Phonograph Co. has no doubt as to its ability to win out against any competition and to solve in its own way whatever difficulties may arise, but it does believe that it is the plain duty of every one in the talking machine business, whether manufacturer, Jobber or Dealer, and whether selling cylindrical or disk goods, to do everything that he can to maintain the present selling price of Edison Records. There never was a more short-sighted move in the history of the talking machine business than the putting out of a record at twenty-five cents. Time will prove this to every one's satisfaction. And the more that is done to discourage its sale the better it will be for the entire trade, including the manufacturers of the record under discussion.

We commend the subject to the thoughtful consideration of every enterprising Dealer.

The Kaiser has composed an essay on Frederick the Great, to be recited from a Phonograph at the prospective unveiling of the warrior King's statue in Washington, D. C.

PLANS FOR CARRYING RECORDS.

Charles B. Keim, a Dealer at Louisville, Ohio, sends a description of his plan of carrying his Record stock. He has a series of shelves 7½ inches apart and 7 inches deep. He then prints a special label, 2¾x4 inches, one of which he puts on every carton. He has one color for band Records, another for orchestra, etc. In the upper part of each label he writes in the number and title of the Record. He then puts all band Records together, all orchestras on another shelf, etc. Mr. Keim only carries in stock what he considers the best selections and claims that his plan enables him to find any title readily or to quickly determine that it is not on hand.

J. S. Bowen & Co., Dealers at Cobourg, Ont., send the programme of a concert held in the local opera house on March 17, in which they furnished music with an Edison Phonograph between the two parts of the programme. Thirteen Records were played with great success.

MORE BRITISH SELECTIONS.

Twenty-eight new British selections of Edison Gold Moulded Records are listed herewith. They are placed before the trade principally because they will appear in the next edition of our catalogue of Foreign selections. Orders for any of them will be filled after April 1 and shipped with April Records. If there are sufficient requests for a special supplement of these Records, one will be issued for general circulation. An expression of opinion in the matter of a supplement is asked from Jobbers:

12864	Coronation Prize March H. M. Grenadier Guards Band
12865	Selection, "The Girl From Kays" H. M. Grenadier Guards Band
12866	Selection, "My Lady Molly" H. M. Grenadier Guards Band
12867	Overture to Zanetta — British Military Band
12868	Life's Lullaby — Hamilton Hill
12869	Jock O'Hazeldean — Thomas Reid
12870	There's Not Luck About the Heuse Thomas Reid
12871	That Old Sunny Window — Leonard Mackay
12872	The Best Enter (Gus Elen) — Fred T. Daniels
12873	The Lecturer (Gus Elen) — Fred T. Daniels
12874	The Jilted Shoeblack (Gus Elen) Albert Whelan
12875	Under the Deodar (From "Country Girl") Miss Octavia Barry
12915	Selection of Popular Songs—No. 4 British Military Band
12916	Selection from "Belle of New York" — No. 1 British Military Band
12917	Boys of the Old Brigade British Military Band
12918	Overture to William Tell British Military Band
12919	Comin' Thro' the Rye (Scotch Song) Thomas Reid
12920	Charlie is My Darling (Scotch Song) Thomas Reid
12921	Girl Wanted There (George Lashwood) Leonard Mackay
12922	Good-Bye, Piggonette — Leonard Mackay
12923	'E Grumbles (Gus Elen) — Albert Whelan
12924	Yes, Carter (Gus Elen) — Albert Whelan
12925	I'll Sing thee Songs of Araby — Wilfred Virgo
12926	The Miller's Daughter (From "Three Little Maids") Miss Octavia Barry
12927	Sons of the Brave March British Military Band
12928	Overture to Rienzi — British Military Band
12929	Oh Dry Those Tears — Miss Octavia Barry
12930	Did He to Love — Hamilton Hill

AN ADVERTISING AUTO.

A. O. Petit, Jobber at Newark, N. J., has a fine outdoor advertisement in an Oldsmobile runabout. He has constructed a box to represent a large Phonograph, which takes the place of the rear seat. This box is used as a receptacle for packages to be delivered. It has a huge gilt horn attached to it and the entire outfit is appropriately lettered for advertising purpose. Mr. Petit claims that as an advertising medium his auto ranks first.

RECORD PLAYING BY TELEPHONE.

"I notice many comments in regard to playing into a telephone," writes F. M. Barney, of Elm Creek, Neb. "I have long done the same. My method is to place Phonograph just under transmitter and put speaking tube on Phonograph, bending it up and fastening same to mouthpiece of transmitter with rubber bands. It is a perfect success. Also notice references on how to get correct speed. I take watch and adjust Phonograph so that mandrel will make thirteen revolutions in five seconds. This is quick and easy."

A. R. Quick, of Amityville, N. Y., writes: "There seems to be quite a number of ways to play the Phonograph over the telephone. Last night I took the receiver off the hook while the Phonograph was going and people on the line ten miles away say they could hear it. My telephone is twenty-five feet away from the Phonograph. The best way to play it so that people on the other end can hear it all over a small room, is to get a speaking tube and a mouthpiece for the transmitter. Put the mouthpiece of the transmitter in the mouth piece of the speaking tube and seal them with sealing wax. To play unscrew the mouthpiece on your telephone, screw on the one you have made and put Phonograph on other end. Record No. 8577, by Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley, is a very fine one to hear over the telephone."

PRINTED MATTER.

The folder referred to in the March issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY as No. 535 should have been No. 540. No. 535 is another folder showing the four popular types of the Edison Phonograph on the inside pages and designed to succeed Form No. 414. Sample copies will shortly be sent out to the trade.

The new Catalogue of Domestic Record titles, Form No. 545, is now being used to fill all orders for Record catalogues. Copies will be mailed at the first opportunity. This catalogue has a much more attractive cover than any Record Catalogue issued by us in some time. It is printed in purple, green and gold. This catalogue contains all Records listed to and including March, 1904.

Among the most persistent advertisers of Edison Phonographs and Records is William H. Kellar, Scranton, Pa. He runs a double half column advertisement in three daily papers of his city almost constantly. It is no coincidence that he does a large and constantly increasing business in Edison goods.

HE CHANGED HIS VIEWS.

"I want to buy an Edison Phonograph," said a resident of Gloversville, N. Y., to the manager of the American Phonograph Company at that place, one day recently. "I will say frankly that a talking machine is about the last thing I ever expected to own. But I've changed my views, and I'll tell you why. My wife and I called at a friend's house last night and he brought out his Phonograph. It was an Edison machine, of course, although at the time I did not know what make it was and cared less. I said to my wife quietly, 'We'll stand this for a little while and then go home.' I had heard scratchy and harsh sounding talking machines and hated them cordially. It never occurred to me that there could be any other kind. Before my friend had finished the second Record I realized that I had not kept up to the improvements to the Edison Phonograph, and in fifteen minutes my wife and I were delighted with Phonograph music. Instead of leaving in a half hour, we stayed till 11 o'clock. My friend played all of the twenty-four Records that he had, and we insisted upon hearing most of them a second time. I decided then that I would buy an outfit at once." He did and is now one of the best Record customers of the American Phonograph Company. Nor will he have anything but Edison Gold Moulded Records.

DEALERS' LETTERS.

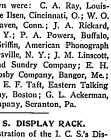
Interesting letters have been received from the following Dealers, lack of space making it impossible to publish them: John E. Finney, Savannah, Ga.; James Lawless, Millville, N. J.; Walter L. Prentiss, Worcester, Mass.; Herman Paetzell, Upper Black Eddy, Pa.; Willard L. Lathrop, Northport, Me.; John S. Smith, Philadelphia; Vaclav Kubes, West Hoboken, N. J.; W. C. Jones, Hammonton, N. J.; Amusement Machine Company, Green Bay, Wis.; C. W. Stokes, Byesville, O.; J. D. Kissenger, Tower City, Pa.; Howell & Boyer, Burlington Junction, Ind.; F. D. Stelzer, Frankfort, Mich.; Albert Palmer, Garrett, Ind.; J. F. Schaeberle, Ann Arbor, Mich.; C. T. Underwood, Weldon, N. C.; M. A. Hirdler, Kinsley, Kas.; Winfield S. Fisk, Philadelphia, and others.

RECORD SHIPMENTS.

A gain of five days was made in shipping March Records over the February shipments. It is hoped to do as well with the April Record shipments.

PERSONAL.

William E. Gilmore, President and General Manager of the National Phonograph Company, and Mrs. Gilmore, will sail for England on April 6 to be absent about two months.



L. Kaiser, well known in the Phonograph trade of the East, has been engaged by S. B. Davega, of Twenty-second street, New York, to manage the jobbing end of his Phonograph business.

E. B. Walthall, formerly with the Ray Company in Chicago, has been engaged as salesman by the National Phonograph Company. His first work for the company will be in the South.

Among recent visitors to the New York office of the National Phonograph Company from out of town were: C. A. Ray, Louisville, Ky.; George Ihten, Cincinnati, O.; W. O. Pardee, New Haven, Conn.; J. A. Rickard, Schenectady, N. Y.; P. A. Powers, Buffalo, N. Y.; N. D. Griffe, American Phonograph Company, Gloversville, N. Y.; J. M. Linscott, Boston Cycle and Sundry Company; E. H. Dakin, S. L. Crosby Company, Bangor, Me.; W. H. Beck and E. P. Taft, Eastern Talking Machine Company, Boston; G. L. Ackerman, Ackerman & Company, Scranton, Pa.

THE I. C. S. DISPLAY RACK.

This is an illustration of the I. C. S.'s Display Rack offered free with sample language lessons on the back cover of this issue.

Besides holding the printed language lessons these racks would be useful to display the Edison bulletin or sheet music with words of a popular song played on the Phonograph.

The rack is detachable and fits securely in the cover clamps, and presents an attractive appearance.

UP TO DATE.

The harp that once through Tara's halls
The soul of music shed
Is silent, for the Phonograph
Now turns out tunes instead.

—Toronto Saturday Night.

NO LONGER ANTAGONISTIC.

O. C. Thompson, a Dealer at New Albany, Ind., and also a member of Local No. 11, of Louisville, Ky., American Federation of Musicians, writes that all professional musicians of his acquaintance now admit that the introduction of the Phonograph has increased the business of the professional musicians. The antagonistic feeling has given place to one of cordial approval. It has been found that the Phonograph has created a demand for popular songs and airs at dances and social affairs that only professional musicians can supply. There is such a variety of this popular music that the self-taught amateur, who plays by ear, cannot keep pace with it.

The National Phonograph Co. has seen a similar change of heart among musical people. At one time music publishers were in doubt as to whether or not they would permit the reproduction of their music on Phonograph Records. They are now convinced that it helps their business greatly. One publishing firm had a demonstration of this kind that won them completely. As a sort of test they furnished our Record Department with advance sheets of a coming song production, and our Record appeared almost immediately after the publication of the song. The firm at once began to get orders for sheet music of the song from all parts of the country, proving beyond a doubt that it had been caused by the sale of our Record. As a result, publishers of popular music are not only willing but anxious to have their compositions used for Record making purposes. Thousands of people who do not own a Phonograph or other style talking machine get their first knowledge of the attractiveness of a song or instrumental selection by having it played in this way, and buy sheet music in consequence.

MORE APPROPRIATE.

A delay occurred early on a recent evening, and a long string of cars were stalled on Broad street between Orange street and Washington place for about ten minutes. A dealer in Phonographs on the east side of Broad street opened his front door and directed a big brass horn at one of the cars. The record he selected for the occasion was "Home, Sweet Home." The music was plainly heard on several of the cars, and an impatient girl remarked: "That man has a fine sense of humor, but why didn't he select 'We Won't Go Home 'Till Morning'?—Newark (N. J.) Sunday Call, March 6, 1904.

NUMBERS FOR RECORD STOCKS.

Many Dealers have at one time or another felt the need of good-sized and clearly printed figures with which to number their Record racks or shelves, but the cost of having a set printed or painted has been too heavy to consider. Victor C. Rapke, Jobber at 1661 Second avenue, New York, has set out to supply this want. Several of his Dealers wanted sets of numbers of this kind, and Mr. Rapke, believing that many others would also be glad to have them, decided to print a sufficient number of sets to supply his own and any other Dealers that might want them. These numbers are five-eighths of an inch high and can easily be read twenty-five or more feet away. They are printed on gummed paper, 36x25½ inches in size, and will be perforated. They are to be sold in sheets at $1.50 for the entire set of about 2,200 numbers. The numbers will correspond to those in the catalogues of Edison Gold Moulded Records, with enough additional to last for Records that may be listed during the next six months. A discount on this price will be allowed to Jobbers. Since the getting out of these numbers is not a money making venture, Mr. Rapke states that money must accompany all orders. The trade is asked to correspond with Mr. Rapke on the matter.

980

Size of letters.

A PHONOGRAPH ADDRESS.

A novel and interesting feature of the annual meeting of the Credit Men's Association, of Grand Rapids, Mich., on March 15, was an address by William A. Prendergast, Secretary of the National Association of Credit Men, delivered by means of an Edison Phonograph. Mr. Prendergast was unable to attend in person and conceived the idea of talking to a Phonograph and sending the Records to Grand Rapids. He enlisted the interest of F. K. Dalbeer, manager of our Credit Department, who arranged to have the Records made at the Edison Laboratory. Mr. Prendergast's remarks filled four cylinders. The latter were forwarded to Grand Rapids and were enthusiastically received when played by the Credit Men's Association. All who know Mr. Prendergast easily recognized his voice. The Records were clear and distinct and plainly heard by every one present.

TO ALSO MAKE MASTERS IN NEW YORK.

The National Phonograph Company has established a new plant for making Master Records at 65 to 69 Fourth avenue, New York. This is in addition to its present quarters at the Edison Laboratory, Orange, N. J. The new place is on the top floor and occupies the entire floor. It has been fitted up in the most complete manner and with the most approved apparatus and appliances for Record making. This move is the natural result of the determination of this company to leave nothing undone that will add to the popularity of Edison Gold Moulded Records. With this New York plant it will be possible to keep in the closest touch with the musical and theatrical world, upon which Record making depends for many of its artists. It is expected from time to time to make many additions to the "talent" because of the greater facilities afforded those desirous of making a name in the Phonograph world. Possession of the new quarters dates from April 1.

JOBBERS, ATTENTION!

Jobbers will confer a favor by sending us from time to time the names of any Dealers whom they know are no longer selling Edison goods. Please look over your lists NOW and see if any of yours are out of business.

DOWN EAST HUSTLERS.

LYNN, MASS., March 8, 1904.

Under separate cover we mailed you copy of Lynn Item, dated March 7. Our "ad." speaks for itself. We are pushing Edison goods, first, last and all the time.

While we have some annoyance from our local competitors who are forcing the "Scratch Records" for any old price to the public, we find that those very "Scratch Records" find their way to our establishment in a very short time to be exchanged for an Edison 50c. Record. Within four weeks we have accumulated over two barrels full of traded "Scratch Records," for which we shall find a suitable dumping ground.

From time to time we are annoyed by another company with undesirable literature, threats and other annoying matter. As a rule such matter finds its way side by side with those "Scratch Records."

MERRILOW BROS.

SEEMS LIKE AN INJUSTICE.

CONYERS, GA., March 17, 1904.

As we see no need of cutting prices on Edison goods, you may depend on us upholding prices. We have a few of the —— records in stock which we are offering at fifteen cents each, but after a customer hears an Edison Gold Moulded we cannot very often induce him to take a —— at any price, and we feel like we are doing our customers an injustice when we sell him one at all.

J. J. LANGFORD & SONS.

TRADE ADVERTISING PHRASES.

For home entertainment and for music-loving people the Edison Phonograph has never been equalled, either in quality or in price.—Ackerman & Co., Prairie City, Ill.

When any advertiser tells you that the discarded records made for machines that were discontinued years ago are equal to the improved Edison Gold Moulded Records—it is ignorance that is talking. An advertiser should become familiar with what he is trying to sell.—J. A. Foster & Co., Providence, R. I.

The Edison Phonograph and the Edison Gold Moulded Records stand for First Quality.—Penn Phonograph Co.

AN INVITATION IN RHYME.

Here's how the H. E. Sidles Cycle Co. of Lincoln, Neb., extended an invitation to its patrons to hear the February Records played:

Dear Friend:

A Phonograph Concert will be given for you,
Our February Records are novel and new.
Hear Harry MacDonough sing "Dear Old Girl,"
Make no mistake; this is a pearl.
If you like something semi-morose,
Hear our Phon' play for you, "The Bridal Rose."
"Marching Thro' Georgia" you all know is fine,
And also the song, "I Ain't Got No Time."
If you miss this you'll miss very much.
As we surely will spiel, "It Was the Dutch."
March 2d, thirty minutes of eight,
Sidles will give you this treat,
So do not be late.

NOT AN AMERICAN TREE.

James H. White, manager of the National Phonograph Co., Ltd., London, under date of February 26, sends the following amusing incident:

I was running through yesterday some Records from the January supplement (which Records, by the way, are without doubt the finest I have ever listened to), and one of our largest factors from Manchester, England, happened to be in our show room. We were running the song "Under the Anheuser Bush." Our client, Joseph Richardson, was very much impressed with the Record, indeed, and, after listening to it intently, made the request that we play it a second time. We did this, and noticed that he paid particular attention to the words. When the song had finished he turned to me with rather a puzzled expression and said:

"I say, old chap, I always thought the 'Anchester Bush was some particular sort of tree that grew in America."

When I explained to him that the Anheuser Busch was a very particular brand of American beer it created a great laugh, as we had several English people in at the time.

COMMENTS ON MAY RECORDS.

The May list of new Edison Gold Moulded Records contains more than the usual number of popular selections—songs and instrumental music that will soon be sung or played everywhere. In character the entire twenty-five selections are fully up to the Edison standard and a credit to the Record Department at the Edison Laboratory. The following necessarily brief comments do not in any case do justice to either the composition or the talent making the Record.

No. 8674, "Fashion Plate March," is a composition by W. P. English. It has an excellent and pleasing march air and is splendidly recorded by the Edison Military Band.

No. 8675, "Cordalia Malone," is one of the Irish waltz songs now so popular throughout the country. It is one of the features of the comic opera success "Glittering Gloria." It is sung by Edward M. Favor, with orchestra accompaniment, and is the first Record by Mr. Favor that we have had the pleasure of listening to in some time. He sings better than ever, and this Record cannot fail to add to his Phonographic popularity. The words of "Cordalia Malone" were written by William Jerome, and the music by Jean Schwartz.

No. 8676, "My San Domingo Maid," is one of the song hits from the "Yankee Consul," which was one of the most successful productions of the recent New York season. Harry MacDonough is the maker of this Record, and his fine voice and clear enunciation make it a most desirable addition to our list. This Record has an orchestra accompaniment. Henry N. Blossom, Jr., wrote the words of this song, and Alfred G. Robyn the music.

No. 8677, "You're the Flower of My Heart, Sweet Adeline," is a duet of unusually good quality. It is made by a new duet team, composed of Albert Campbell and Frederick Harrison. Mr. Campbell's tenor voice is too well known to need comment. Mr. Harrison has a noble baritone voice that will be much admired by all who hear this Record. Their voices blend perfectly in the chorus. The orchestra accompaniment adds much to the quality of the Record. The words of this song were written by Albert H. Gerard, and the music by Harry Armstrong.

No. 8678, "Pop Goes the Wessel Medley," is a violin solo, with orchestra accompaniment, by Charles D'Almaine. It introduces "Pop Goes the Wessel," "Irish Washerwoman," "Tempest," "Speed the Plow," "Miss McClintock's Reel" and "D'Almaine's Favorite Reel." As the name implies, this is a Record of jovi plain, old-fashioned violin music. We were induced to make it because of a repeated demand from the trade and from individuals in various parts of the country for a violin Record of this character. It is played in dance tempo and will be an excellent Record for a Virginia Reel or other dances of the same kind. We expect this Record to be a great seller.

No. 8679, "Good Bye, Fedora," is a comic Italian dialect duet by Collins and Harlan, and is sung with orchestra accompaniment. It introduces these two well-known singers in an entirely different role. Mr. Collins' Italian dialect is as good in its way as anything he has done in coon songs. It is an extremely funny selection. The words of this song were written by Harry Williams, and the music by Robert Adams.

No. 8680, "In the Days of Old," is the song with which Raymond Hitchcock made such a success in the "Yankee Consul." The air of this song was played by the orchestra upon the raising of the curtain, between the acts and as the audiences left the theatre at each presentation of this opera. By the time this Record is ready for the public this song will be widely known. Our Record is made by Bob Roberts, who sings it with excellent voice and distinct enunciation. Henry M. Blossom, Jr., wrote the words of this song, and Alfred G. Robyn the music.

No. 8681, "Yaller Gal," is another of Billy Golden's old-time coon songs. It needs no further comment than to say that it is made in Mr. Golden's inimitable style. The feature of the Record is Mr. Golden's laugh, and the listener cannot fail to be infected, unless too dyspeptic to laugh at anything.

No. 8682, "The Roses' Honeymoon" (a reverie), is a charming Record by the Edison Symphony Orchestra. Its music is somewhat classical in character; is delicate and refined, and cannot fail to meet the approval of all who admire Records of a better class of music. This composition is a credit to its composer, John W. Bratton.

No. 8683, "The Man in the Overalls," is a Record sung by Byron G. Harlan, with orchestra accompaniment. This song was written by Raymond A. Browne, the composer of "A Little Boy in Blue," and will certainly be well known everywhere in a short time. As its name indicates, it is a tribute to the workingman. Mr. Harlan sings the selection finely.

No. 8684, "Good Bye, My Lady Love," is a sentimental song by Harry MacDonough, with orchestra accompaniment. Joseph E. Howard wrote both the words and the music. The air is extremely pleasing, and Mr. MacDonough sings it in a finished manner.

No. 8685, "The Gondolier," is a Venetian love song which was listed as a band selection in March. In making this Record Arthur Collins shows how versatile are his accomplishments as a singer. He has made so many good Records of coon songs that the public may have gained the impression that his best work was along that line. This will show, however, that he is equally good in others. "The Gondolier" is a charming and popular selection, and this Record is a fine one in every respect. Harry H. Williams wrote the words of the song, and W. C. Powell the music.

No. 8686, "The Irish, The Irish," is another selection by Edward M. Favor, one of our best Records of this character. This is a comic song with orchestra accompaniment, and tells how the Irish set the pace for the rest of the world. An unusual feature of the Record is that it contains three verses and three choruses. This song is the work of Farrell and Trantzen.

No. 8687, "Dance of the Housebells," is an attractive Record by the Edison Military Band. The music of the bells is a feature, but it is much less prominent than usual and not at all of a solo character. The music throughout is pleasing, and the Record artistically made. Simone Mantia is the writer of this composition.

No. 8688, "I'll Do the Same for You," is a descriptive march song by Byron G. Harlan, with orchestra accompaniment. The music is full of life, and Mr. Harlan does it full justice. Farrell and Trantzen are also the authors of this song.

No. 8689, "That Is a Habit I Never Had," is a splendid coon song by Billy Murray, with orchestra accompaniment. Mr. Murray's rendition is truly coonlike. Walter Wilson wrote the words and music.

No. 8690, "California Minstrels," is another of the popular series of minstrel Records which we regard as the best of the kind ever made for a talking machine. This one has the usual amount of fun and then introduces the ballad "I'm Going Home to Cin," with Harry MacDonough as the singer.

No. 8691, "He Done Me Wrong," is a coon song by Hughie Cannon, and is sung by Arthur Collins, with orchestra accompaniment. It tells in verse of the shortcomings of Bill Bailey, who in this song has apparently passed from the land of the living. Mr. Collins sings it in unusually fine voice, and to hear his imitation of a coon gal carrying on the music of "Flee as a Bird" will bring a smile to the most solemn countenance.

No. 8692, "Down South," is a musical composition that has the unique distinction of being a negro cakewalk written by an Englishman, W. H. Myddleton, who never visited America or even saw the sunny South. He who hears it will agree that Mr. Myddleton has been most successful in his interpretation of Southern negro music. This Record is listed as a banjo solo by Vess L. Ossman, and has a very happy orchestra accompaniment.

No. 8693, "What I Heard at the Vaudeville," by Len Spencer, introduces Gus Williams' German dialect recitation "Only a Lock of Hair." It is accompanied by what is theatrically known as "shiver" music by the orchestra. This recitation is apparently pathetic, but it becomes extremely funny with the last line. This Record again shows Mr. Spencer's versatility in making records.

No. 8694, "Idle Moments" (Entr' Acte), is another delightful Record by the Edison Symphony Orchestra. The music is light and tuneful. The composition is the work of T. H. Rollinson.

No. 8695, "Nancy Lee," is a vocal duet by Harlan and Stanley, sung in march tempo. This is another instance in which an old name has been given to a new composition, this selection being quite different from the one so well known as "Nancy Lee." Messrs. Harlan and Stanley sing it in an exceedingly creditable manner, Mr. Stanley's voice being unusually good. The words of this song were written by James O'Dea, and the music by Robert J. Adams.

No. 8696, "On a Good Old Trolley Ride," is a new summer-time waltz song, with orchestra accompaniment, which it is expected will be as well known and as popular within another six months as "In the Good Old Summer Time." The music is of a striking character, and it would seem as if the predictions of the publishers concerning it could hardly fail to be verified. The Record is made by William H. Redmond, who has not sung for the Edison Phonograph for some time. Mr. Redmond's voice lends itself admirably to this character of song. Joseph C. Farrell wrote the words of this song, and Pat Rooney the music.

> "Out with my Pearlie, my steady young Girlie;
> This is the only time,"

No. 8697, "Possum Pie" (or "The Stuttering Coon"), is a coon song, with orchestra accompaniment, by Collins and Harlan. It tells of Nicodemus Harrison Lee's difficulties in endeavoring to spell "Possum Pie." Messrs. Collins and Harlan make his efforts quite pleasing to the ear. The words of this song were written by Joseph C. Farrell, and the music by Hughie Cannon.

No. 8698, "Turkey in the Straw Medley," by the Edison Military Band, is a Record that can hardly fail to be as popular as was the Record made of this song by Billy Golden. The latter was a great selling Record. The medley by the Edison Military Band introduces "Turkey in the Straw," "Blue Bell," "In Zanzibar," "Let The Man Behind" and "Hot Time Attack—on Guard!" It is another instance in which the purchaser will get considerable musical variety on one cylinder. It will be hard to keep one's feet still while this Record is being played.

A "RECORD" INCIDENT.

Winfield S. Fisk, of 937 Silver street, Philadelphia, contributes the following:

The Pretty Maiden and Dinah Jones took the Steamboat Leaving the Wharf for Finnigan's Jamboree. Being the Little Kinkies they sang the Pilgrim's Chorus for the Two of Us. Down on the Farm they saw the Moonlight on the Lake and the Spring Morning Serenade, Bird Imitations and the Birds of the Brook. We met Happy Hobo and Old Black Joe at the Camp Meeting Jubilee. They Were All Doing the Same in Vaudeville Alley, they were Always In the Way of the Laughing Coon, being Satisfied with Life; and In the Home of Too Much Trouble they said I'm Going to Leave—I Want to Go To-Morrow to the Refuge, to see Jack Tar March, to hear the Fiddle Talk, and go to the Monologue Minstrels in the Holy City and take the Trolley Galop to Coney Isle to see the Rooster Dance and the Turkey In the Straw. Rocked In the Cradle of the Deep. The Battle of Manassas will be Busy All Next Week on Any Rags, and Retella will take a Coaching Party and Sleighride Party to hear the Anvil Chorus play It was the Dutch.

DEALERS READ THIS!

Below is printed a letter received by the Perry B. Whitsit Co., of Columbus, O., from one of its Dealers. It should be read by every Edison Dealer in the land. Mr. Chandler is not the only Dealer who has been successful in consequence of putting in the entire line of Edison Gold Moulded Records. Many others have done equally well. Give it your careful consideration, Mr. Dealer. The letter follows:

CHILLICOTHE, OHIO, Feb. 29, 1904.
Perry B. Whitsit Co., Columbus, Ohio:

In enclosing herewith order for shorts in my stock I should like to state that I never made a better business move than when I put in the entire line of Edison Gold Moulded Records.

Previous to doing so I was in the habit of using my judgment as to what would sell. Since increasing my stock I find that I frequently sell Records that in my own opinion would never have sold. With the entire line it is so easy to fill your customers' wants. I used to have the experience of a customer dropping in and asking for something not in stock and then going away and not making any purchase at all. I find that where a customer makes his own selections from the catalogue that he will frequently take the Record that has been a slow mover.

With most dealers I believe that the tendency is to pick out the newest selections when playing for a customer. At least it has been so in my case. Now I let the customer do the selecting as much as possible, and I find it much more satisfactory.

I believe that I am safe in saying that my business has increased over one-third since putting in the entire list.

I realize the fact that I will likely have a few more Records on hand that I cannot dispose of, but this percentage is so small and the increased sales easily take care of this.

You will pardon the length of this missive, which I feel sure doesn't tell you anything new, but you will remember that I was very skeptical as to the advisability of making this move, and it is a good idea once in awhile to admit that you were wrong. I shall be glad to have you refer any Dealer to me in regard to this matter, and I can certainly convince him that it will pay him to do as I have done.

MARTIN G. CHANDLER.

A HISTORIC RECORD.

J. H. M. Davidson, manager of the New York Import Co., at Adelaide, South Australia, under date of January 25, wrote as follows:

Per same post I mail you copy of the S. A. Register, with notice of a speech made by the Governor-General, Lord Tennyson, into the Phonograph, and recorded by me.

This Record is the nucleus of a national historic collection of the voices of leading men in connection with the Australian Commonwealth, and I have been retained by the Public Library Board to do the recording, for which purpose I am using an Edison Concert Phonograph.

The Record made by His Excellency was a portion of his farewell speech to Australians upon the occasion of his departure for England.

Lord Tennyson also wrote his signature with a stylus on the blank, thus authenticating the Record.

His Excellency is an admirable subject for the recorder, and is no stranger to the Phonograph, having in his possession one with which his late father, the great Poet Laureate, used to amuse himself and the members of his family. He expressed himself as satisfied with the result attained.

MY PHONOGRAPH.

Thou mysterious invention
Brought so lately into the field
Where wonders, more than we mention,
From day to day are yet revealed;
Thou hast a form so beguiling
On thee we'd gaze some time or more
Didst thou not force us to smiling
By sounds from the of ghostly lore.

What art thou and who gave thee right
To make a record of my speech?
Anxious I with utmost might
Dare not attempt thee to impeach.
If I by chance should speak a word
Into thy polished rubber ear,
When meddling soul to thee referred,
Shall I trust thee or send in fear?

And can my friend with me to-day
Record with thee some tender word,
Ere tomorrow he pass away,
His soul to God, as flies the bird,—
Some words so clear and full of joy,
For me to hear in coming days,
Soothing my pain by thy employ,
Thus know a glint of heaven's rays?

How will it be in future age,
When ashes mine are scattered wide,
Shall my own voice as printed page
Speak unto those who here abide?
And may my child, when I am dead,
By thy fine art come near to me,
And feel that I caress his hand,
Hearing my tones, my soul to see?

Thank God aloud that it be so
That mind of man is searching deep
Into the truths we yet shall know
Of mind and soul, in that great sleep;
And while to us grim death alone
Can solve the truth beyond the tomb,
Speech from the dead may much atone
And cheer the heart o'erpressed with gloom.
—Maxime, in an old issue of the Daily Republic, Manhattan, Kas.

Dealers, are you doing any newspaper advertising or using other means to let the public know that you are selling Edison goods? If not, do it now. It will pay a handsome profit on the outlay.

FINAL DECREES IN THE WITTMANN CASES.

Copies of the final decrees in the suits of the Edison Phonograph Co. against The Wittmann Co., and the National Phonograph Co. against The Wittmann Co., are given below. The Wittmann Co., were formerly Jobbers in Edison Phonographs and Records at Kansas City, Mo., and Omaha and Lincoln, Neb. About two years ago they had a disagreement with the National Phonograph Co., and violated their agreement by cutting prices. Then when we refused to supply them with goods, they bought surreptitiously from others and removed the serial numbers from Phonographs to avoid detection. Suits for price cutting and infringement of patents were brought against them and vigorously fought by this company, resulting in our favor

United States Circuit Court, District of Nebraska

EDISON PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Complainant.
vs.
THE WITTMANN COMPANY, Defendant.
No. 101. Doc. V
FINAL DECREE.

This cause came on to be heard at this term, and was argued by counsel; and thereupon, upon consideration thereof, it was ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED as follows: That The Wittmann Company, defendant above named, and its associates, officers, managers, attorneys, servants, clerks, agents and workmen be and they are hereby jointly and severally, perpetually and forever enjoined from directly or indirectly selling or causing to be used, advertising or offering for sale, selling or causing to be sold any Edison Phonograph machines or apparatus described in the complainant's Bill of Complaint herein, not licensed or authorized by the licensee of the Edison Phonograph Company, complainant mentioned in the bill of complaint, embodying or containing or operated in accordance with the inventions or improvements set forth in the Letters Patent mentioned, and specifically described in the said complainant's said bill of Complaint.

* * * * * * *

Dated this 9th day of December A. D. 1903.

W. H. MUNGER, Judge.

ENDORSED: Filed December 10, 1903.

GEO. H. THUMMEL, Clerk.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, } ss.
District of Nebraska. }

I, Geo. H. Thummel, Clerk of the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Nebraska, do hereby certify the above and foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the Decree Entry of the proceedings of said court, in the above entitled action as the same appears of record in my office.

Witness my hand and seal of said court at Omaha, in said District this 5th day of March A. D. 1904.

[SEAL.]

GEO. H. THUMMEL, Clerk.

Attached to said Copy of Decree Return of the U. S. Marshal, in words and figures following, to wit:

RETURN ON SERVICE OF WRIT.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, } ss.
District of Nebraska. }

I hereby certify and return that I served the annexed subpœna Decree on the therein named The Wittmann Company by handing to and leaving a true and correct copy thereof with Otto Wittmann, as Vice President of the said The Wittmann Company, he being the highest officer found in my district, personally at Lincoln, in said District on the 5th day of March A. D. 1904.

T. S. MATHEWS, U. S. Marshal.

By JAMES WALLING, Deputy.

* * * * * * *

Filed March 9, 1904.

GEO. H. THUMMEL, Clerk.

United States Circuit Court, District of Nebraska

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Complainant,
vs.
THE WITTMANN COMPANY, Defendant.
No. 70. Doc. V
FINAL DECREE.

This cause came on to be heard at this term and was argued by counsel; and thereupon, upon consideration thereof, it was ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED as follows: That The Wittmann Company, defendant above named, its associates, officers, managers, attorneys, servants, clerks, agents and workmen be, and they are hereby jointly and severally, perpetually and forever enjoined from directly or indirectly advertising or offering for sale, and from directly or indirectly selling or causing to be sold, at prices less than the prices designated and fixed in the terms and conditions of the contract alleged in complainant's bill and referred to in the above named complainant's bill of complaint, any and all phonographs, phonograph records and supplies manufactured by the said complainant, National Phonograph Company and the said defendant, The Wittmann Company, and its predecessors, as alleged in the said Bill of Complaint.

* * * * * * *

Dated this 9th day of December A. D. 1903.

W. H. MUNGER, Judge.

ENDORSED: Filed December 10, 1903.

GEO. H. THUMMEL, Clerk.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, } ss.
District of Nebraska. }

I, Geo. H. Thummel, Clerk of the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Nebraska, do hereby certify the above and foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the Journal Entry of the proceedings of said court in the above entitled action as the same appears of record in my office.

Witness my hand and seal of said court at Omaha, in said District, this 5th day of March A. D. 1904.

[SEAL.]

GEO. H. THUMMEL, Clerk.

Attached to said copy of Order of Court is return of U. S. Marshal in words and figures following, to wit:

RETURN ON SERVICE OF WRIT.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, } ss.
District of Nebraska. }

I hereby certify and return that I served the annexed Order of Court on the therein named The Wittmann Company by handing to and leaving a true and correct copy thereof with Otto Wittmann, as Vice-President of the said The Wittmann Company, he being the highest officer found in my district, personally at Lincoln, Nebraska, in said district on the 5th day of March A. D. 1904.

T. S. MATHEWS, U. S. Marshal.

By JAMES WALLING, Deputy.

* * * * * * *

Filed March 9, 1904.

GEO. H. THUMMEL, Clerk.

CALLS ON THE FARMERS.

A Maine dealer writes: "I have a wide range of rural people to whom I shall carry my goods as soon as we get rid of our four feet of snow. I have sold goods to the people in this way for twenty years, and there are thousands of country folks who will buy Phonographs if they can only have them brought to them and played to them at home. When they go to the city their money goes before they get round to the Phonograph."

This Dealer has the right idea about pushing the sale of Edison goods. Nor does the plan apply to his territory alone. It can be followed with profit by any Dealer located in a farming or other sparsely settled country. When a Phonograph is taken into a farmer's home, where he and his family can hear and ask questions in their own way, it makes a much different impression upon them than it would if they called at a store to hear it. If they are at all interested in music they can hardly fail to become purchasers sooner or later. A Dealer will be doubly sure of his welcome if he arranges in advance for his visit.

INJUNCTIONS AGAINST PRICE CUTTING.

The United States Circuit Court, Southern District of New York, recently issued two injunction of importance to the Phonograph trade. Both were in favor of the National Phonograph Co. and against individuals who were selling Edison Phonographs and Edison Records at cut prices.

The first injunction was against Richmond Pease, who did business at 44 West 132d Street, New York City, against whom suit was brought for price cutting.

The second injunction was against David Switky, who formerly did business under the name of the Bronx Phonograph Company, 506 Willis Avenue, New York City, and later under the name of the Central Phonograph Company, at 160 East 42d Street, New York City, who was also sued for price cutting.

Neither Pease nor Switky had signed the agreement of this company, but were selling machines and Records secured surreptitiously through other parties. These injunctions by Judge Melville W. Fuller, of the Supreme Court of the United States, were firmly than ever establish our right to legal protection against price cutting. They show that even though dealers do not sign our agreement they cannot sell our goods at prices lower than those established by this company without infringing the Edison patents. The complete decisions are given below.

Every decision in our favor like these makes a precedent for other courts to follow and makes it easier to enforce our rights, a course that we shall continue to pursue against all individuals selling our goods illegally.

The decisions in full are as follows:

U. S. Circuit Court, Southern District of New York

EDISON PHONOGRAPH COMPANY and NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Complainants, } In Equity.
vs.
RICHMOND PEASE, Defendant.

(Seal.)

The President of the United States of America to Richmond Pease, his counsellors, attorneys, solicitors, servants and employees.

GREETING.

Whereas it has been represented to us in our Circuit Court of the United States for the Second Circuit and Southern District of New York, that letters patent of the United States No. 386,974 were issued to A. Edison, in due form of law on May 8, 1888, for improvements in phonographs blanks and that letters patent of the United States No. 386,961 were issued to Thomas A. Edison in due form of law on July 31, 1888, for improvements in phonographs and that said letters patent No. 386,974 are now the property of the National Edison Phonograph Company and that the National Phonograph Company is exclusive licensee of the said Edison Phonograph Company under said letters patent Nos. 386,961 and 386,974, and that you, the said Richmond Pease, have infringed said letters patent as follows:

Now therefore, we strictly command and enjoin you, the said Richmond Pease, your associates, attorneys, servants, clerks, agents and workmen, from directly or indirectly using or causing to be used, selling or causing to be sold, any phonograph blanks or devices and Records, or any parts thereof embodying or constructed or operating in accordance with the inventions and improvements set forth in said letters patent No. 386,974 and particularly claims 1 and 2 thereof, or either of them, at prices lower than those at which they are authorized to be sold by the complainants, viz.—Edison "Standard" Phonographs at ten dollars, Edison "Standard" Phonographs at twenty dollars, Edison "Home" Phonographs at thirty dollars, &c., or with the serial numbers thereof, publicly or privately, otherwise than licensed, or without the license of the said complainants.

Witness the Honorable Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States, at the City of New York, on the eighth day of February, 1904.

JOHN A. SHIELDS, Clerk.

FRANK R. BRADLEY, Solicitor for Complainants.

Service of the above is hereby accepted.

RICHMOND PEASE

Dated Feb. 8, 1904.

U. S. Circuit Court, Southern District of New York

EDISON PHONOGRAPH COMPANY and NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Complainants, } In Equity.
vs.
DAVID SWITKY, Defendant.

The President of the United States to David Switky, and each and every person concerned directly or indirectly with you, and your agencies, attorneys, solicitors, clerks, servants and employes.

GREETING.

Whereas, it has been represented to us, in our Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, in a certain cause therein depending wherein Edison Phonograph Company and National Phonograph Company are complainants, and the said David Switky is defendant, that the letters patent of the United States No. 386,974, issued to Thomas A. Edison, on the 8th day of May, 1888, and the letters patent of the United States No. 386,961, issued to Thomas A. Edison, on the 31st day of July, 1888, and the said David Switky, have infringed said letters patent No. 386,961 and particularly the 4th and 5th claims thereof.

Now therefore, we strictly command and enjoin you, the said David Switky, and each and every person, firm or corporation concerned directly or indirectly with you, your associates, attorneys, solicitors, clerks, servants, agents and employees, under the penalties that may fall on you in case of disobedience, that you forthwith, and until the further order of this court desist from directly or indirectly selling or causing to be sold, selling or causing to be sold, any phonograph blanks or devices, articles or devices embodying or constructed or operating in accordance with the inventions and improvements set forth in said letters patent No. 386,961 and particularly claims 4 and 5 thereof, or either of them, at prices lower than those at which they are authorized to be sold by the complainants, viz.—Edison "Standard" Phonographs at ten dollars, Edison "Standard" Phonographs at twenty dollars, Edison "Home" Phonographs at thirty dollars, &c., or with the serial numbers thereof, publicly or privately, otherwise than licensed, or without the license of the said complainants.

Witness the Honorable Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States, at the City [SEAL] of New York, on the 8th day of February, 1904.

JOHN A. SHIELDS, Clerk.

FRANK R. BRADLEY, Solicitor for Complainants, 290 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Borough of Manhattan.

ANOTHER PHONOGRAPH NOVELTY.

Peter Petersen, a Dealer at New Milford, Conn., has a novel device for calling attention to the Phonograph department of his music store. He has rigged up a life-size figure of a woman, similar to a dressmaker's dummy, and attired it with a full costume and hat. Concealed in the figure is an Edison Phonograph, and, when Records are played on the machine, the music appears to come from the head, which is open at the top, the opening being covered by the straw hat. As soon as the weather is mild enough the figure will be placed in front of the store.

STRAWS FROM JOBBERS.

A Philadelphia Jobber recently wrote:

"We are greatly in need of Records on orders. Every Record on these orders is needed here now. Please rush. The demand is increasing. Many Dealers formerly handling Records are coming back, and we were unprepared."

Ackerman & Co., of Scranton, Pa., wrote under date of March 12:

"We consider the March and April lists of Edison new Gold Moulded Records the finest ever produced, and will undoubtedly find that our March order placed with your firm will run short of supplying the demand, which these selections are bound to create."

OTHERS HAD BETTER DISCOVER A NEW COUNTRY.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19, 1904.

We beg to acknowledge the receipt of the Suspended List to date, March 1. Will say that we will do all in our power to aid in its good work. The February list was grand. The Gold Moulded Records are in a class by themselves, and all other records had better discover some new country where Phonographs are yet unknown, as they are failing from existence in the country of intelligence.

HAMMITT & COOK.

SUSPENDED LIST, APRIL 1, 1904.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

COLORADO.

BOULDER—BENTLEY & CRAIG.

KANSAS.

CLAY CENTRE—E. M. GOWENLOCK.
LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 374 Essex street.
E. O. MOSHER, 320 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DEWOLFF.
WORCESTER—OSBORN GILLETTE, or THE BOLTON JEWELRY COMPANY, L. F. MALONEY, Manager.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—P. J. SCHWANEKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORPER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

NASHUA—F. A. McMASTER & CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. CORWIN; also New York City.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
PLAINFIELD—S. W. PRUCHT, or R. PRUCHT; also New York City.
*ELSTON M. LEONARD.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

*Added since March 1, 1904.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus, either at addresses given or any other address.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
HORART—F. H. MARSHALL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. C. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
BRONX PHONOGRAPH CO., or DAVID SWITKY, 506 Willis Avenue.
*CENTRAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 160 E. 42d street.
R. L. CORWIN; also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
S. W. PRUCHT, or R. PRUCHT, 7 Barclay st., or 68 Cortlandt st.; also Plainfield, N. J.
O. HACKER, 2 Murray street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 207 Broadway; also Philadelphia, Pa.
N. HORN, 148 E. 58th street.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 192 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
RICHMOND PEASE, 44 W. 132d st.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.
SARATOGA SPRINGS—MARVIN A. COTE.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
URBICHSVILLE—F. A. MAURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2783 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street, or Oxford and Wascher streets; also New York City.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE—J. C. BLATZEK.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2021 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Ray Co., 54 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 933 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 614 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Cook & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Pardee-Hitchenberger Co., 155 Orange st.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Oscar J. Junge, 244 E. Chicago avenue.
Kohler & Chase, 26 Wabash avenue.
James L. Lyons, 77 Fifth avenue.
The Ray Co., 96 Washington street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 109 Madison street.
The Vim Co., 88 E. Lake street.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 111 Michigan ave
Peoria—Peoria Piano Co., 304 S. Adams street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Kipp Bros. Co., 31 S. Meridian street.
The Ray Co., 232 Massachusetts avenue.
Wulsin-Gausch Co., 125 S. Illinois street.
Lafayette—Wulsin-Gausch Co., 304 Main street.

IOWA.

Des Moines—The Vim Co., 702 West Walnut street.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 640 Fourth avenue.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—James L. Lyons, Tiemire Arcade.
National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 624 Gravier street.
The Ray Co., 111 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—S. L. Crosby Co., 160 Exchange street.
Portland—W. H. Shaw & Son, 607 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle Foundry Co., 48 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 127 Tremont street.
Oliver Ditson Co., 150 Tremont street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 165 Washington street.
Read & Read, 358 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 247 Main street.
Lowell—Ring Music Co., 112 Merrimac street.
Thomas Wardell, 111 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 304 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 106 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 259 Woodward avenue.
The Ray Co., 168 Griswold street.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 111 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 37 E. 7th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1013-1015 Walnut street.
The Ray Co., 1000 Grand avenue.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1111 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 323 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. E. Sidles Cycle Co., 1310 O street.
Omaha—H. B. Fruit-Chase, 1506-1510 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Supply and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Edison Phonograph Co., 202 Washington street.
Newark—A. O. Petit, New and Halsey streets.
H. J. Koehler Sporting Goods Co., 845 Broad street.
Paterson—James K. O'Dea, 122 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank C. Martin Auto. Co., 820 Park avenue.
Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
A. D. Matthews' Sons, 394 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1258 Broadway.
Buffalo—Iroquois Arms Co., 121 Main street.
Elmira—Elmira Arms Co., 117 Lake street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co., 29 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Forsyth & Davis, 29 Wall street.
New York City—Bartolemy & Co., 36 Vesey street.
Bettini Phonograph Co., 84 Chambers street.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 19 Beekman street.
J. F. Blackman & Son, 1654 3d avenue.
I. Davega, Jr., 602 Third avenue.
Davega, Jr., 32 E. 14th street.
John F. Dodge, 1 Broadway, Bridge street.
H. S. Gordon, 159 Fifth avenue.
Harry Jackson, 219 Bowery.
Jacot Music Box Co., 39 Union Square.
Victor H. Kayser, 1061 Second avenue.
Manhattan Phono. Co., 587 Fulton st.
Siegel-Cooper Co., 66th Avenue and 18th street.
John Wanamaker, Broadway and 4th street.
Rochester—A. J. Dempsey, 49 North street.
Hickes Hardware, 18 N. Co., 100 Stone street.
Talking Machine Co., 25 W. Clinton avenue.
Schenectady—Jay A. Sickard & Co., 213 State street.
Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 318 E. Railroad street.
Troy—James Lacey, 356-361 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark, Horrocks Co., 19 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelman Co., 216 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Harig & Co., 34 W. 6th street.
The Ray Co., 141 West 4th street.
Wulsin-Gausch Co., 107 W. 4th street.
Cleveland—W. J. Roberts, Jr., 850-854 Arcade.
Columbus—Perry B. Whitsit Co., 213 S. High street.
Dayton—Nielsen & Diestle, 35 E. 4th street.
East Liverpool—Smith & Phillips Music Co.
Toledo—Hayes Music Co., 606 Jefferson street.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Hennig, 1 Federal street.
Allentown—J. G. Brenner, 29-33 Hamilton street.
Easton—William Werner, 20-22 Northampton street.
Philadelphia—L. J. Happe & Son, 1 Chestnut street.
Lit Bros., Market and 8th streets.
Penn Phonograph Co., 19 S. 9th street.
John Wanamaker.
The Ray Co., 1031 Chestnut st.
Western Electric Co., 931-933 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 913 Market street.
Pittsburg—Theo. Bendel Co., Inc., 431 Wood street.
Kaufmann Bros., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 621 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Mellor Co., 319 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 937 Liberty avenue.
Reading—Reading Phonograph Co., 809 Penn street.
Scranton—Ackerman & Co., Coal Exchange Building.
Technical Supply Co.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Dean Co., 585-595 Westminster street.
J. A. Foster Co., Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Household Furniture Co., 231-237 Weybosset street.
Mowry, Goodchard, Young & Co., 26-30 Weybosset street.
A. T. Sweetgrood & Co., 106-110 N. Main street.

TENNESSEE.

Memphis—The Ray Co., Lyceum Building, 2d and Jefferson streets.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 30 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, Art., 197 Main street.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 1106 E. Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 193 3d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Limited, 143 Yonge street.

A STRIKING COMPARISON.

The following excellent presentation of the comparative selling quality of Edison Phonographs and other styles of talking machines appeared in the Daily Evening Item, of Lynn, Mass., on March 7:

IN

1900 we sold Edison Phonographs, 58; all other makes, 2
1901 we sold Edison Phonographs, 426; all other makes, 14
1902 we sold Edison Phonographs, 539; all other makes, 18
1903 we sold Edison Phonographs, 637; all other makes, 10
1904 we sold (to date) Edison Phonographs, 95; all other makes, 1

Edison Phonographs

Commanded the following prices in 1900:
$10, $20, $30, $50 and $75.

Edison Phonographs in 1904 at your service at $10, $20, $30, $50 and $75.

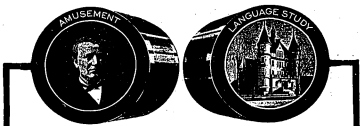
All other kinds of Talking Machines at your own price. All kinds of scratch records from 10c to 25c.



Edison Records

In 1900, 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.
Edison Records in 1904, 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.

The improvement of EDISON RECORDS and EDISON PHONOGRAPHS has enabled us to satisfy thousands of patrons. OUR TERMS: Complete outfit, with 12 Edison Records, $5.00 upon delivery; balance in weekly payments of $1.00.

Mendlow Brothers

14 Central Avenue, Lynn, Mass.

TWO GREAT RECORDS

Thomas A. Edison The enduring popularity of the phonograph is one of the greatest monuments to Mr. Edison's genius. Not only is the inventor honored for the unique design of the apparatus (which immediately became a great commercial success), but also for the sterling qualities of the man, shown in two decades of indefatigable work and successive triumphs, maintaining the superiority of the original talking machine.

The I. C. S. With twelve years of earnest and successful effort in educational work, and with unlimited facilities to accomplish a great enterprise, it is very fitting and proper that a new method of learning languages should be given to the world by the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa. The indorsement of thousands of Language Students and leading educators show that the collaboration of Mr. Edison and the I. C. S. has resulted in the best possible service.

Double Service for the Edison Phonograph means the employment of both of these great Records for Amusement and Language Study. Every dealer can increase his sales by demonstrating I. C. S. Language Lessons. A better or more attractive test for the perfect talking machine cannot be found.

Special Demonstrating Outfit This Month

Edison dealers who order Sample Lessons in French, German, and Spanish, consisting of three Moulded Records and three 40-page Textbooks (price $1.50 prepaid in the United States), receive an additional demonstrating outfit free this month, as follows:

A unique and attractive Wire Rack for holding display cards of any description on the phonograph, with three large printed Language Lessons (14 × 22) for attractive store displays and demonstrating at entertainments.

Apply to the Following Jobbers of I. C. S. Outfits

PORTLAND, ME., W. H. Rose & Son
LOWELL, MASS., Thomas Wardell
BOSTON, MASS., Eastern Talking Machine Co.
BOSTON, MASS., C. Hayens & Co.
BOSTON, MASS., John C. Cress & Sundry Co.
NEW HAVEN, CONN., Farnie-Bilenberger Co.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co.
KINGSTON, N. Y., Forsyth & Davis
SYRACUSE, N. Y., W. D. Andrews
NEW YORK CITY, Blackman Talking Machine Co.
NEW YORK CITY, I. Davega, Jr.
NEW YORK CITY, Douglas & Co.
NEW YORK CITY, Jacot Music Box Co.
NEW YORK CITY, John Wanamaker
NEWARK, N. J., The Edisonia Co.
PLAINFIELD, N. J., F. L. C. Martin Automobile Co.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Wells Phonograph Co.
EASTON, PA., William Werner
BUFFALO, N. Y., P. A. Powers
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Talking Machine Co.
COLUMBUS, OHIO, Jerry E. Whitsit Co.
CLEVELAND, OHIO, The Stone Tobee
CHICAGO, ILL., O. J. Lyons
CHICAGO, ILL., Jaded I. Lyons
MILWAUKEE, WIS., Kolesel Bros.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Thos. C. Hough
OMAHA, NEB., Rehrig & Otis Co.
OMAHA, NEB., Sherman & Clay Sons Music Co.
ST. LOUIS, MO., The Dunlop Co.
TORONTO, CAN., E. S. Williams & Sons Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Peter Bacigalupi
SINETEEN STORES, The Ray Co.

EDISON
Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY
THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. II. NEW YORK, MAY, 1904. No. 3.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 933 MARKET STREET.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., LTD., 25 CLERKENWELL ROAD, LONDON, ENG.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

National Phonograph Exhibit at St. Louis.. 1
Advance List of Edison Gold Moulded Records for June..... 2
Bicycle and Phonograph Popularity Compared..... 3
Dealers Should Have Catalogues..... 3
Criticism Wanted..... 3
An Important Decision..... 4
Dealers Get into a Rut..... 5
Printed Matter..... 5
Odds and Ends..... 5
Edison Records Can Not be Sold at Auction 6
L. C. S. Building at St. Louis..... 6
More British Records..... 6
Mr. Rapke's Printed Numbers..... 7
The Phonogram..... 7
Another Injunction Against Switky..... 7
Comments on June Records..... 8
Important Notice..... 9
What the Trade Says..... 10
After German Infringers..... 11
Keeping Record Stocks..... 12
A Jobber's Approval..... 12
Suspended List, May 1, 1904..... 13
New Border Electros..... 14
Jobbers of Edison Phonographs and Records 15

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO. EXHIBIT AT ST. LOUIS.

The exhibit of the National Phonograph Co. at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, at St. Louis, will be one of purely Edison products. Nothing will be shown that was not made at the factory of the Company, Orange, N. J. It will be thoroughly representative of the Company's output. Even the booth itself was made at the Edison factory. The exhibit will be located in Block 74, Space 178, in the Liberal Arts Building. It will be very attractive. The backboard will be white enamel with gold trimmings and plate glass doors. On either side there will be a pyramid of Edison Gold Moulded Records, each surmounted by a number of highly polished Phonograph horns. At the foot of the backboard the different types of Phonographs will be artistically arranged. Some of these machines will be made very attractive by being gold plated, nickel plated and highly decorated. A large Concert Phonograph will stand in the center and be used for exhibiting the Records.

A most interesting feature of the exhibit will be the first public display of the new Edison Business Phonograph. The various types will be shown, and all interested will be given an opportunity of learning with what ease the Phonograph may be used for dictation purposes.

The exhibit will be in charge of Frank E. Madison. For the first two months he will have the assistance of C. L. Hibbard, who will have especial charge of the Business Phonograph. Edison Jobbers and Dealers who may visit St. Louis are invited to call and make the acquaintance of Mr. Madison and Mr. Hibbard. It is expected that some of the officials of the Company or department heads will be at the booth at different times during the summer.

THE ADVANCE LIST OF JUNE RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR JUNE, 1904

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near June 1st as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to May 15th, will be shipped. June Supplements will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records. Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8699 Ramona (Indian Intermezzo) Edison Military Band
8700 All Aboard for Dreamland Byron G. Harlan
Harry Von Tilzer's new "Summer" waltz song hit with orchestra accompaniment.
8701 Evening Chimes (with Chimes) Mendelssohn Mixed Quartette
8702 Awakening of Spring (Romanze) Edison Symphony Orchestra
8703 The Ghost That Never Walked Bob Roberts
Comic song from "Puff, Puff, Pouf" with orchestra accompaniment.
8704 Rube Haskins' Trip on His Airship Len Spencer and Parke Hunter
Flying over Ireland, Germany, Turkey, Port Arthur, the Philippines and return to America.
8705 My Little Love-Bird Harry MacDonough
Descriptive love song from "The Girl from Kay's" with orchestra accompaniment.
8706 Medley of Southern Patriotic Airs Edison Military Band
Introducing "Dixie," "The Bonnie Blue Flag" and "Old Folks at Home."
8707 The Goo-Goo Man Arthur Collins
Comic song hit from "The Isle of Spice" with orchestra accompaniment.
8708 Old Jim's Christmas Hymn Campbell and Harrison
Introducing "Rock of Ages," tenor and baritone duet with chimes and orchestra accompaniment.
8709 Du Du Liebs Mir Im Herzen (or The Wearin' of the Green) Edward M. Favor
Comic descriptive Irish song with orchestra accompaniment.
8710 Slavery Days (Plantation Series No. 1) Edison Male Quintette
Descriptive singing and talking selection.
8711 Beauty's Cunning (Gavotte) Edison Symphony Orchestra
From the opera "May Queen."
8712 Down on the Brandywine Collins and Harlan
Coon love song wale duet with orchestra accompaniment.
8713 The Prettiest Little Song of All (Schottische) Albert Benzler
Bell solo with orchestra accompaniment.
8714 Then and Now James F. Harrison
Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment.
8715 Listen to the Mocking Bird Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley
Contralto and bazzo duet of Septimus Winner's famous old song with orchestra accompaniment.
8716 On the Wings of Love Francelli and Lewis
Soprano and baritone duet with orchestra accompaniment.
8717 Noisy Bill (Characteristic March) Edison Military Band
8718 It's the Band Byron G. Harlan
A spirited march song with orchestra accompaniment.
8719 For de Lawdy Sakes Feed My Dog Arthur Collins
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment.
8720 I Love You All the Time Harry MacDonough
Descriptive love song with orchestra accompaniment.
8721 The Mule Song (Characteristic) Collins and Harlan
Descriptive mule duet with orchestra accompaniment.
8722 Meet Me in St. Louis, Louis ("Meet Me at the Fair") Billy Murray
Waltz song with orchestra accompaniment.
8723 Good Bye Fedora Medley Edison Military Band
Introducing "Good Bye, Fedora," "On a Good old Trolley Ride," "Nancy Lee, "Cordalia Malone" and "The Men in the Overalls."

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

BICYCLE AND PHONOGRAPH POPULARITY COMPARED.

"The claim is occasionally made that the Phonograph is a fad, as was the bicycle a few years ago," recently said a New Yorker, who has been identified with the talking machine business for years and who is well known to the Eastern trade. "In my opinion there is no similarity between the two, and there is little likelihood of the Phonograph losing its popularity in the way that the bicycle did. In the first place the Phonograph is essentially a device for home amusement and its natural tendency is to keep the family at home and amused. The bicycle, on the contrary, takes one or more members away from the home and furnishes amusement for them only, those remaining behind having no part in their pleasure. The bicycle ceased to be a fad among the wealthy and better classes when they became so cheap that the poor could buy them, and when cycling ceased to be the fad of the fashionable, the many imitators of the latter also gave it up.

"The Phonograph never has been the fad of the wealthy and never will be. Money provides too many other means of gratifying musical tastes. Many wealthy families have Phonographs and enjoy them, but they also have pianos or other musical instruments, and they are constant patrons of the opera and theatre.

"The popularity of the Phonograph is greatest among the masses—people with less means and fewer opportunities for musical gratification. In thousands of homes—and good homes, too—it is the only musical instrument. In many homes that have pianos the Phonograph is the more popular instrument because no skill is required to play it. Then, too, there is always a new interest in the Phonograph due to the never-ending supply of new music. So long as songs and instrumental music continue to be popular, just so long will the Phonograph continue to grow in popularity. And who will care to fix a time when music will cease to be popular?

"For every person who tires of the Phonograph and puts it aside there are a hundred others who will eagerly buy one and enjoy it with even greater zest. The improvements constantly being made in the manufacture of Phonographs and Records are cutting down the number of persons who are tiring of them and are inducing many to take a renewed interest in the machines that they had put aside.

"If I were called upon to make a prediction I should have no hesitancy in declaring my belief that the demand for Phonographs will be greater in the future than it has been up to the present time. I am unable to see how it can be otherwise. Certain it is that there is no similarity between the Phonograph and the bicycle, and the decline of the latter will never be duplicated in the Phonograph."

DEALERS SHOULD HAVE CATALOGUES.

Occasionally we learn of a Dealer in our goods who hasn't a single catalogue in his store. Investigation shows that he is located some distance away from his Jobber and does not order goods frequently enough to keep supplied with catalogues. This is a condition that should not exist. We want every Dealer to have at least a few catalogues and while we are not anxious to send catalogues by mail, we would rather pay postage on a few than have prospective purchasers write that their Dealers cannot give them a catalogue. Dealers away from cities having Jobbers are therefore asked to write us if they cannot otherwise get a few catalogues.

CRITICISM WANTED.

Jobbers receiving sample Records each month will do our Record Department a favor if they write a frank criticism of each list as a whole and singly, stating why they approve certain Records and do not like others. This department especially wants the views of Jobbers concerning the Records they do not think good. No other use will be made of these letters than to furnish information to the Record Department. Candid criticism and suggestion of this kind will be beneficial to the trade.

RECORD SHIPMENTS.

We are continuing to gain on the shipments of new Records each month. The last of the orders for April Records were shipped on April 11. Unless the unexpected happens we will be even nearer the first of the month with May shipments.

HINTS.

To maintain a good, lively interest among your trade, order new records each month. Secure the name of every talking machine user and send him the supplements as issued. Keep up your regular stock; order once a week, at least, and as early in the week as possible. Display the machines and supplies conspicuously—makes new trade.—From the April Advance List to Dealers of the Penn Phonograph Co.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

An important opinion was, on March 10th, handed down by Judge Van Devanter, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit, in the suit brought by the National Phonograph Company against Christopher W. Schlegel and Thomas N. McNevin, doing business at Davenport, Iowa, under the name of Schlegel-McNevin Piano Company, for price cutting. Judge Van Devanter's opinion is concurred in by Judges Sanborn and Thayer of that court. The suit in question was originally decided by Judge McPherson, of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Iowa, who held that our agreement was "one that stifles trade," notwithstanding the fact that the agreement had been sustained in all the Circuit Courts east of the Mississippi. The Circuit Court of Appeals did not agree with this opinion of Judge McPherson's, and in the decision in question they reversed the decree and decided in our favor on all points, entering a decree enjoining defendant from violating our Agreement. We quote from the decision:

"An unconditional or unrestricted sale by the patentee or by a licensee authorized to make such sale, of an article embodying the patented invention or discovery passes the article without the limits of the monopoly and authorizes the buyer to use or sell it without restriction, but to the extent that the sale is subject to any restriction upon the use or future sale the article has not been released from the monopoly but is within its limits and, as against all who have notice of the restriction, is subject to the control of whoever retains the monopoly. This results from the fact that the monopoly is a substantial property right conferred by law as an inducement or stimulus to useful invention and discovery, and that it rests with the owner to say what part of this property he will reserve to himself and what part he will transfer to others, and upon what terms he will make the transfer. Bement v. National Harrow Co., 186 U. S. 70; Victor Talking Machine Co. v. The Fair — C. C. A. —, 123 Fed. 424; Dickerson v. Tinling, 28 C. C. A. 139, 84 Fed. 192; Heaton-Peninsular Button-Fastener Co. v. Eureka Specialty Co., 25 C. C. A. 257, 77 Fed. 288; Cortelyou v. Lowe, 29 C. C. A. 671, 111 Fed. 1005; Edison Phonograph Co. v. Kaufman 105 Fed. 500; Edison Phonograph Co. v. Pike, 116 Fed. 863; Fowle v. Park, 131 U. S. 88; Carst v. Harris, 177 Mass. 72. After mentioning limitations which attach to all property rights under the general law of the land, none of which is applicable to the facts of this case, it is said in Bement v. National Harrow Co., supra pp. 91, 93:

"Notwithstanding these exceptions, the general rule is absolute freedom in the use or sale of rights under the patent laws of the United States. The very object of these laws is monopoly, and the rule is, with few exceptions, that any conditions which are not in their very nature illegal with regard to this kind of property, imposed by the patentee and agreed to by the licensee for the right to manufacture or use or sell the articles, will be upheld by the courts."

"The provision in regard to the price at which the licensee would sell the article manufactured under the license was also an appropriate and reasonable condition. It tended to keep up the price of the implements manufactured and sold, but that was only recognizing the nature of the property dealt in, and providing for its value so far as possible. This the parties were legally entitled to do. The owner of a patented article can, of course, charge such price as he may choose, and the owner of a patent may assign it or sell the right to manufacture and sell the article patented upon the condition that the assignee shall charge a certain amount for such article.

"It was urged in that case that the stipulation respecting the price to be demanded was violative of the act of Congress of July 2, 1890, 26 Stat. 209, upon the subject of trusts and unlawful combinations, but the court held otherwise, saying, p. 92:

"'But that statute does not refer to that kind of restraint of interstate commerce which may arise from the reasonable and legal conditions imposed upon the assignee or licensee of a patent by the owner thereof, restricting the terms upon which the article may be used and the price to be demanded therefor. Such a construction of the act we have no doubt was never contemplated by its framers.'

"The condition against sales to retail dealers who do not sign a similar agreement governing such sales by them was imposed by complainant in the legitimate exercise of its property right in the monopoly and for the purpose of rendering it valuable. The complainant had the same right to require that such an agreement be entered from defendant's vendees that it had to demand it from defendants. Any sale by defendants outside of the terms of the under-license or contract was an invasion of complainant's lawful monopoly.

"The contract which the parties had made and which defendants were violating was a valid one, and upon the allegations of the bill, confessed by defendants and declared by the court to be not collusive, there should have been a decree for complainant."

CALL ROLL BY PHONOGRAPH.

An interesting incident of the meeting of the Society of Old Brooklynites, in Brooklyn on April 30, was the recording by Phonograph of the names of the members present. The Phonograph will be used at the May meeting in calling the roll.

ARE BEAUTIES.

The March Records are beauties, and I think one of the finest lists gotten up since I have been handling Edison goods.

Los Gatos, Cal. Z. J. LeFevre.

DEALERS GET INTO A RUT.

Too many of our Dealers get into a rut in selling Records. There is too much of a tendency to push one or two Records which appeal to the Dealer personally, or to his clerk, or whoever may be in charge of the Record stock. The result is that a demand is created for one or two selections each month at the expense of other selections equally good or better, and after a while the Dealer has accumulated a lot of Records which he calls slow sellers or unsalable Records, while to a very large extent the Dealer himself has created this very difficulty.

As an illustration I will cite the following: About one year ago I was calling upon one of our Jobbers who was waiting upon a retail customer. The customer had just purchased a Record of another make and was playing it on an Edison Phonograph. The Jobber turned to me and said: "Why don't the National Phonograph Company make that?" I looked at the record and found it a selection which we had had in our catalogue for a year or two and told him to hunt up our No. 521. He did so and played it, and his customer immediately bought it. The Jobber remarked to me: "Why, I didn't know that was in the catalogue!" Since then this Jobber has retailed over 100 of this selection alone. (Our 521, "Donau Wiebschen," the record referred to, was brought out by another company and called the Simplicius Waltz.)

Of course we all know that tastes differ, and that some records are naturally more popular than others; but the point is, that the Dealer is too prone to push what he personally likes, while the same amount of effort applied to the entire list would create a demand for many very fine records, which are now neglected. George M. Nisbett.

[Mr. Nisbett is connected with our Chicago office.]

PHONOGRAPH ENTERTAINMENT.

"An Evening with the Phonograph, or Edison's Wonderful Talking Machine," was the title of an entertainment given under the auspices of the Oakland Culture Club, at Chicago, April 6. Mr. and Mrs. George M. Dugan furnished the machines and Records and gave the entertainment. In addition to playing nearly fifty different Records, Mrs. Dugan read a very interesting paper outlining the life of Thomas A. Edison, and Major A. W. Clancy gave a very interesting history of the Phonograph from earliest times to the present. It was a most enjoyable evening and appeared to be thoroughly appreciated by the large audience present.

PRINTED MATTER.

We have had printed a folder giving full information, with illustrations, for the adjustment or repair of Edison Models B, C and D Reproducers and the Edison Recorder. Jobbers and Dealers who find it necessary to have information of this kind are asked to write for a copy of Form No. 553.

It is expected to have a new catalogue of Foreign Records, Form No. 555, ready in May. Until it appears orders for Foreign Record Catalogues will be filled with small quantities of No. 381. The new catalogue will have an attractive cover of brown, light blue and gold. This cover and also that of the Domestic Record Catalogue, Form No. 545, will probably be used for two or more editions.

Dealers who can use to advantage Form No. 535 (folder showing four machines on inside pages) and Form No. 540 (folder on Records), should arrange to get them from their Jobbers. If orders are placed direct with this company, shipping instructions must be given that will make it unnecessary for us to pay transportation charges.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The Talking Machine News, of London, England, compliments the Edison Phonograph Monthly by making liberal use of matter found in its columns each month, but it invariably forgets the trifling matter of credit.

The John M. Dean Company, Jobbers at at Providence, R. I., sends a copy of its annual catalogue. A picture of its store appears on the cover, and the most prominent item shown in the picture is one of Edison Phonographs. Two of the sixty-four pages in the catalogue are devoted to the Edison product.

Alfred K. Hobbs, Dealer at Manchester, N. H., announced the receipt of his stock of Edison Records for April with advertisements three columns wide and eight inches deep in two city papers. The advertisements gave the April list in full. The same course was pursued by William Keller, a Dealer at Easton, Pa. As a result of their progressiveness, both do a nice business in Edison goods.

A young lady at Asbury Park writes: "I have an Edison Home Phonograph, and am perfectly delighted with it. After hearing every variety of talking machines am satisfied that no such marvelous results could be obtained by any other than that bearing the name of Thomas A. Edison."

EDISON GOODS CANNOT BE SOLD AT AUCTION.

The circumstances herewith show with what promptness the National Phonograph Company takes action when it learns of the intention of any one, whether he has signed an agreement or not, to sell our goods at cut prices.

Information reached our New York office on April 27th to the effect that at 10.30 A. M. on the following day a lot of Edison Gold Moulded Records and Edison Phonographs would be sold at auction at 2,212 Seventh avenue, New York city. Application was at once made to Judge Lacombe for an order restraining the owners of the goods in question and the auctioneers who were to hold the sale from disposing of the goods at less than retail prices. Judge Lacombe granted the order and it was immediately served, causing a postponement of the sale until the owners of the goods could show that it was their intention to comply with our patent rights.

THE I. C. S. BUILDING AT ST. LOUIS.

The Edison trade who are interested in the subject of language study are cordially invited by the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., to visit their handsome building at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

A large part of the building will be devoted to the demonstration of the languages, including French, German and Spanish, and an English course for some twelve foreign nations. This latter course opens up a greater field for the Edison Phonograph, and should be of considerable interest to the trade.

The attention of the trade is called to the desirability of using the I. C. S. building for a headquarters, especially if there are any ladies in the visiting party. The second floor is devoted to the comfort of the visitors, and here they may receive their mail, deposit their packages, and the ladies may enjoy the comforts of a special room with attendants.

HEARING NEW RECORDS.

The plan of this company of sending sample Records to Jobbers each month has met with the approval of the entire number, all agreeing that it enables them to place orders with greater discrimination than before. In order that their Dealers may in turn be able to place orders with the same discrimination, a number of Jobbers now fix upon a night and invite their Dealers to call and hear the Records played. This has also resulted in enjoyable evenings for all hands, because of the opportunity of meeting one another and exchanging opinions.

MORE BRITISH RECORDS.

Below are published twenty-eight additional British Records which have not yet been listed for use in the United States and Canada. Orders for any of them, if received by May 15th, will be shipped with June Records. Since the twenty-eight selections published last month and those listed below will appear in the next edition of Foreign Record Catalogues, Form 555, to be ready in May, no special list of British titles will be issued.

12931	I've Got Something to be Thankful for	Leonard Mackay
12932	Fleeting Moments Galop	British Military Band
12933	Brave Dublin Fusiliers	British Military Band
12934	Selection of Scotch Airs	British Military Band
12935	Am I in the Way	Leonard Mackay
12936	I'm the Plumber	Leonard Mackay
12937	Viscount Nelson March	British Military Band
12938	Selection of Popular Songs No. 6	British Military Band
12939	Forget-me-not Intermezzo	British Military Band
12940	Bundle of Mischief	British Military Band
12941	Hot Stuff Cake Walk	British Military Band
12942	Selection from Belle of New York No. 2	British Military Band
12943	If I were King of England	Albert Whelan
12944	The Coster Serenade	Albert Whelan
12945	Here, There and Everywhere	British Military Band
12946	Selection from Patience	H. M. Grenadier Guards' Band
12947	What I Have I'll Hold	Leonard Mackay
12948	The Passing of England	British Military Band
12949	Overture to Massanella	H. M. Grenadier Guards' Band
12950	Has Anyone Been Asking for Me	Leonard Mackay
12951	Yo Ho Little Girls (from A Country Girl)	Leonard Mackay
12952	Kelvin Grove	Thomas Reid
12953	My Pin from Pinafore	Leonard Mackay
12954	La Reine de Saba	British Military Band
12955	Selection of Irish Airs	British Military Band
12956	Valse Bleue	British Military Band
12957	Always in Jail	Albert Whelan
12958	It's a Harvel 'ow 'e do it but 'e do	Albert Whelan

RECORD PLAYING BY TELEPHONE.

"I have been reading the articles about playing Records over the telephone," writes Harry Harmon, of Afton, Ia. "I have the long distance 'phone in the store, and on Sundays, and some other days, we have a concert. I have had a dozen or more towns on the line at the same time, and part of the towns had most of the patrons of their local switchboard on. We played to towns north, south, east and west, all at the same time. Some of the towns were over 100 miles away. They could hear every word distinctly. The way I work it is to put a thirty-inch brass horn on the machine and another one, about twenty-four inches, on the 'phone, with the small end in the transmitter to the telephone, leaving about sixteen inches space between the horns. It seems to me that every order of Records I get is better than the last one."

THE PHONOGRAM.

Beginning with July, we will republish The Phonogram. It will not take the place of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, which is printed for trade use only, nor will it affect the printing of the Monthly Record Supplements. It will be issued for retail trade use only. Its subscription price to the public per year will be Twenty Cents; single copies, two cents. It will be the same size as before, 3¾ x 6½ inches, 16 pages, and will go in a No. 6¾ envelope. It will weigh less than one ounce per copy. It will be neatly printed on smooth paper.

Each issue will contain a list of new Records for the month and "Comments" on the same, taken from the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. Another regular feature will be half-tone pictures of the "talent" making our Records. Special features from time to time will be articles on the care and operation of Phonographs, on making Records at home, on special lists of Records, references to Records of unusual merit, the words of a selection occasionally, and matters of general interest.

In a word, we hope to make it a publication that will assist in the sale of goods. It will interest the man who does not own a Phonograph and induce the Phonograph owner to continue to buy Records. No advertising of any kind will be accepted for it.

The Phonogram will be supplied to the trade at the rate of $2.50 per 1,000, or 25 cents per 100, Blank Postage Extra.

It is expected that the Phonogram will take the place of the "Comments" on new Records, now being printed in sheet form, but the latter will still be printed for those who insist upon having them.

ANOTHER INJUNCTION AGAINST SWITKY.

In addition to the injunction recently granted, enjoining David Switky, of New York city, doing business as the Bronx Phonograph Company and the Central Phonograph Company, from selling Edison Phonographs at cut prices or with obliterated serial numbers, a second injunction has just been granted by Judge Lacombe, of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, enjoining Switky "from directly or indirectly using or causing to be used, selling or causing to be sold, or advertising to sell any apparatus, articles or devices embodying or constructed or operating in accordance with the inventions and improvements set forth and claimed in said letters patent Nos. 382,462, 382,418 and 414,761 or either of them, at prices lower than those at which they are authorized by said complainants to be sold at retail, as set forth in schedules 1 and 2 of the bill of complaint, viz.: Edison Records (Standard size) at fifty cents apiece or five dollars a dozen, (if full dozen is sold at one time), Edison Concert Records at one dollar each, or twelve dollars a dozen."

PERSONAL.

John Otto, for the past eight years with Siegel, Cooper & Company, of Chicago, has entered the employ of the Chicago branch of R. Wurlitzer and Company, of Cincinnati, and will have charge of the retail Phonograph Department which they have just opened.

MR. RAPKE'S PRINTED NUMBERS.

The above cut shows how Victor H. Rapke, of 1661 Second avenue, New York, arranges his stock of Edison Gold Moulded Records, using the new numbers that he has just had printed for trade use. We regard Mr. Rapke's enterprise as of benefit to the entire trade, and for this reason are printing in these columns what seems like advertising. The illustration shows how easily the numbers may be read and how readily missing Records may be determined.

COMMENTS ON JUNE RECORDS.

Of excellent variety and unusual merit is the list of Edison Gold Moulded Records for June. The list comprises the customary twenty-five and an analysis of them shows the following: Four band Records, two orchestra, one bell solo, ten vocal solos, five vocal duets, one quartette, one quintette and one talking. Every Record, too, is representative of the progressive methods used by the Record Department of the National Phonograph Company. Most of the selections were made at the new Record plant in New York city. The following comments will give a scarcely adequate idea of the excellence of each:

No. 8609. "Ramona" (Indian intermezzo), by the Edison Military Band, is a composition by Lee Johnson, of San Francisco, which is widely known on the Pacific Coast and is rapidly growing in popularity in the East. It is being played by the more prominent bands. The music is intended to be of an Indian character. The Record is unique, and at the same time pleasing.

No. 8700, "All Aboard for Dreamland" is Harry Von Tilzer's new summer waltz song hit. It is sung by Byron G. Harlan, with orchestra accompaniment. The words were written by Andrew B. Sterling, and are suggestive of a Sunday outing in summer. Mr. Harlan gaskes the Record in good style.

No. 8701, "Evening Chimes," is a most attractive Cremaning Record by the Mendelssohn Mixed Quintette. The voices of the singers blend most perfectly and the ringing of chimes is a pleasing feature. The music of this selection was written by L. O. Emerson.

No. 8702. "The Awakening of Spring" (romanze), is a fine Record of Bach's beautiful composition. The Record is made by the Edison Symphony Orchestra in a most artistic manner. The work of the violin is especially good.

No. 8703. "The Ghost That Never Walked," is a comic song now being featured in "Piff, Paff, Pouf." It is sung by Bob Roberts, with orchestra accompaniment. The "Ghost That Never Walked" is that creature of theatrical life who fails to make his appearance on salary day. The words of this song are by William Jerome and the music by Jean Schwartz. Mr. Roberts' good voice and distinct articulation make this a good Record.

No. 8704, "Rube Haskins' Trip on His Airship," is another of Len Spencer's clever talking Records in which he is assisted by Parke Hunter, as Ezra. The Record is a two-and-a-half-minute trip around the world by the airship, passing over Ireland, Germany, Turkey, Port Arthur, the Philippines, and over the Rocky Mountains back home. The whistling of the wind which might naturally accompany so rapid a trip is distinctly heard. Rube Haskins has funny things to say about each country passed over and Ezra enlivens the trip with his whistling. This Record is an excellent addition to the Haskins' series.

No. 8705, "My Little Love-Bird," is a descriptive love song as sung by Hattie Williams in "The Girl from Kays." It is a song of the dove to his mate. The Record is made by Harry MacDonough with orchestra accompaniment, and is a good one in every respect, fully up to Mr. MacDonough's usual standard. The words and music of this selection were written by Maurice J. Stonehill.

No. 8706, "Medley of Southern Patriotic Airs," is a Record made in compliance with a request from some Southern admirers of the Phonograph that we should list something instrumental of a distinctly Southern character. We believe that this Record will meet the approval of our friends. It introduces "Dixie," "The Bonny Blue Flag," and "The Old Folks at Home." The Edison Military Band does the playing in a very satisfactory manner.

No. 8707, "The Goo Goo Man," is a song hit from the musical extravaganza, "The Isle of Spice." It is admirably sung by Arthur Collins, with instrumental accompaniment, the latter being very attractive. The music of this song was written by Paul Schindler and the words by Ben Jerome.

No. 8708, "Old Jim's Christmas Time," is a title that was most popular in the days of the wax Records, but which was not re-made by the new process. It is now being made over in the best possible manner. It is a Record that cannot fail to be popular, and it will be one of those Records that will continue popular for years. It is made as a tenor and baritone duet by Campbell and Harlan. It introduces "Rock of Ages," the playing of chimes, and has an orchestra accompaniment. The work of these two artists is delightful. William B. Gray wrote both the words and music of this almost classic selection.

No. 8709. "Du Du Liebs mir im Herzen" ("The Words of the Green"), is a comic and yet clever mixture of Irish and Dutch dialect and singing. The title itself furnishes some idea of how funny the Record may be. It is excellently sung by Edward M. Favor with orchestra accompaniment. This composition is the work of Heelan and Helf.

No. 8710, "Slavery Days," is the first of a plantation series by the Edison Male Quartette. The series will comprise three Records, which together will tell an interesting story of slavery life in the South, although each Record will be complete in itself. No. 1 opens with a scene on a river wharf, with a steamboat about to leave. The darkies are singing "Down in Florida" as the boat is being loaded. The cry "All Ashore" is given when a slave overseer discovers that one of his slaves is missing. He threatens vengeance, when the lad appears, stating that he did not intend running away. The overseer starts to make good his threat when Uncle Jasper interferes on behalf of the boy and discharges the overseer. The slaves are given a holiday and the Record closes with their singing "Carve dat 'Possum."

Nos. 2 and 3 of the series will be given in later months.

No. 8711, "Beauty's Cunning," is a gavotte by Czibulka from the opera, "May Queen." It is played by the Edison Symphony Orchestra and is a delightful Record. The music is sweet and delicate and the instruments blend perfectly, the playing of the string instruments being particularly good.

No. 8712, "Down on the Brandywine," is a Record in which Collins and Harlan have produced some splendid duet effects. It is a coon slave song, reminding one forcibly of the plantation melodies of the South. The accompaniment is by the orchestra. Many will pronounce this Record one of the best on the June list. The words of this song were written by Vincent Bryon and the music by J. B. Mullen.

No. 8713, "The Prettiest Song of All" (schottische), is a bell solo played by Albert Benzler, with orchestra accompaniment. Bells always make attractive Records, but this number is even better than the average. It will be a popular Record.

No. 8714, "Then and Now," is the first solo Record made for the Edison Phonograph by James F. Harrison. Mr. Harrison sang in a duet with Mr. Campbell in the May list, and his fine baritone voice was greatly admired. This solo Record by Mr. Harrison cannot fail to enhance the good impression made a month ago. His singing has the usual orchestra accompaniment. Theo. Tocchen is the writer of the words and music of this song.

No. 8715, "Listen to the Mocking Bird," is beyond question one of the most beautiful Records ever listed by this company. It is a contralto and tenor duet by Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley, with orchestra accompaniment. Their delightful rendition of Septimus Winner's famous old song will be alike pleasing to the older ones who are familiar with it and the younger generation who have heard little of it.

No. 8716, "On the Wings of Love," is a soprano and baritone duet with orchestra accompaniment, which introduces new singers in Elma Francelli and Thomas Lewis. Their singing is quite unlike anything before put out by this company, and we predict a favorable reception for their effort. The words of this selection were written by Harry T. O'Brien and the music by H. O. Wheeler.

No. 8717, "Noisy Bill," is a characteristic march written by F. H. Losey, composer of the "Waldmere March," listed some time ago. It is well played by the Edison Military Band. Its unique character will make it popular.

No. 8718, "It's the Band," is a military march song, sung in a spirited manner by Byron G. Harlan with orchestra accompaniment. "It's the Band" that makes the soldier boys fight and die for their country. The words are by Andrew B. Sterling and the music by Max Hoffmann.

No. 8719, "For de Lovely Sakes, Feed My Dog," is Arthur Collins' coon contribution for the month. This song is a coon's plea to have his dog fed even though he goes hungry and thirsty himself. It is sung with orchestra accompaniment. The song is the work of Hughie Canon.

No. 8720, "I Love You All the Time," is a Record of the song sung with such success by Bessie Wynne in "The Wizard of Oz." This Record is admirably made by Harry MacDonough, with orchestra accompaniment. Will Anderson wrote the words and music.

No. 8721, "The Mule Song" (characteristic), is another clever descriptive male duet by Collins and Harlan. The feature of the Record is the dialogue between two coons. This song is the work of Robert Adams.

No. 8722, "Meet Me in St. Louis, Louis" ("Meet Me at the Fair"), is a waltz song with a swing that will carry it to popularity. It is well sung by Billy Murray, and has an orchestra accompaniment. The words are by Andrew B. Sterling and the music by Kerry Mills.

No. 8723, "Good-Bye Fedora Medley," is a continuation of our successful series of medleys. This number introduces "Good-Bye Fedora," "On a Good Old Trolley Ride," "Cordalia Malone," and "The Man in the Overalls." It is played by the Edison Military Band.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

PRECAUTIONS THAT SHOULD BE TAKEN BY BUYER OR CONSIGNEE WHEN RECEIVING GOODS:

First. Before you give a receipt to a transportation company see that all the packages are in good order.

Second. If not in good order, state that fact (with particulars) on the receipt you give and take a duplicate.

Third. Goods that are crated and the contents of which can be easily looked over should be examined before receipt is given. If close examination cannot then be made, the right of later examination should be reserved. This also refers to goods shipped loose.

Fourth. All contents should be examined immediately and any damage should be reported at once to the transportation company, and claim made against it. This should be done promptly by you, as all goods are shipped at buyers' risk.

AN EDITOR'S KIND WORD.

The editor of the Labelle (Mo.) Star recently bought an Edison Phonograph and this is how he referred to the matter in the issue of April 8th:

The Star family is enjoying the evenings by listening to music from noted bands and musicians. This treat is due to the presence of an Edison Phonograph, purchased from L. G. Lamb, local agent. We do not think a better investment can be made than the purchasing of one of these wonderful machines. It adds to the pleasure of the home life and will keep your children at home at night, to say nothing of the pleasure we old people get out of the investment.

WHAT THE TRADE SAYS.

We are pleased to note the great increase of orders for Edison Records, not only for the new Records as they are issued each month but for the regular stock as well. Many Dealers who were selling the competitive record at twenty-five cents report their sales decreasing in that line and that their customers are expressing their choice for Edison Records. We hope those who are not already experiencing this change in the desires of the public may soon have that pleasure.—May Advance List to Dealers of the Penn Phonograph Co., Philadelphia.

Poor records make you apologize for the results. If you have an up-to-date Edison Phonograph and use Edison Gold Moulded Records, you can be proud of the results. April Advance List of the Blackman Talking Machine Company, New York.

Your article in April MONTHLY in regard to Dealers handling other than Edison goods just strikes me about right. While I am now in the business as a Dealer, I have had about six years' experience as a user of different records, and since I have become a Dealer I am more convinced than ever that Edison goods are far superior to any other, and then the people you sell to are of a better class.
Sidney, O. H. O. WILES.

On Saturday nights I fix up my store and have a Phonograph concert. I play three or four Records and then I quote them prices on goods and give them a little talk on common topics. Also in the summer time on Sunday evenings I take a Phonograph to my house and put it on the porch and start it going. It is not long before I have a crowd of seventy-five to a hundred, and I think that is good for a small country village.
Ellsworth, N. Y. E. L. DILLON.

Your methods of doing business are a continual source of pleasure and we often, when discussing the question of protecting the trade in connection with various other lines of goods we handle, point with pride to the methods of the National Phonograph Company and the Eastman Kodak Company. Gentlemen, you are doing the right thing, and the letters from various Dealers, published in the MONTHLY, evidence the fact that they appreciate the great amount of time and money you are expending annually to protect our mutual interests.
Jamestown, N. D. PICARD & MOSS.

Edison Records, like the Bank of England, are first with the intelligent public.
Prescott, Ont. THOS. COATES.

Your method of selling goods is the right one, as every Dealer knows just where he is at. I do not think it a good plan to sell the cheap records, and for my part will handle none but Edison goods. I have invited some of the cheap machine advocates to bring in their machines and records and play them. When they were through I put up an Edison Home and gave them some real music. I have not found one person but what says the Edison is so much ahead of any other that there can be no comparison.
Frankfort, Mich. F. D. STELZER.

We will stand by Edison Phonographs and Records, and maintain prices with pleasure. Why not? The National Phonograph Company turns out (and always have) the best goods in the talking machine line in the world. Their plans of business as to maintaining prices and the quality of their output cannot help but be admired by the intelligent public.
Norwalk, Ohio. THE C. F. JACKSON CO.

The Edison Gold Moulded Record is without a competitor when it comes to good music. Keep up the good work and I for one will try and dispose of all I can. I have never yet had a dissatisfied customer, as I handle no other make.
Hazelton, Pa. T. L. THOMAS.

Your card of the 21st inst., referring ——— to me, is at hand, and I have written him, giving as references a Home and a Standard Phonograph owner at that place, the latter outfit having been sold by me. I thank you for this favor, which, it is almost needless to say, is one of the features that encourage further the extension of the very best efforts to place Edison goods, the best on the market, from every standpoint, wherever a talking machine or records are sought. One of my Edison patrons, with a ——— phone, ordered two of the new twenty-five cent records from Chicago and received but one of them. He expressed himself as thankful that the other did not come. He says: "Edison's are good enough for me, and I want that other title in one of them."
Sandoval, Ill. C. A. DODDS.

The following is an extract from a letter from S. S. Sollee & Co., Dealers at Savannah, Ga., dated April 17, 1901: "The February and March Records have added new fame to the Edison Records, for no one could ask for better results, especially with regard to unmistakable improvement in tone."

How is this for an advertisement? I am agent for the Edison Phonograph, and I took this means to show the merit of Edison goods: I took an Edison Triumph Phonograph, with a good selection of Edison Gold Moulded Records and gave a free entertainment on the City Hall lawn. The consequence was that the next day I sold one Edison Standard and two Edison Gems, with five dozen Records. My machine could be heard for four blocks around. I think this is a very good scheme for my brother agents to adopt.
New Iberia, La. W. L. BROUSSARD.

The other day a lady wanted me to call at her house and bring some Records. When I got there she told me that she had a dozen of ——— records, but that she left them in a cold room and about all of them cracked. She asked me if the Edison Records would do the same. She bought a dozen of me. I saw her a week later, and she said they were as good as when she got them. She said she would always buy the Edison Records hereafter. I sell no other kind of record but the Edison, and I think that is the best way to get trade.

Nichewaug, Mass. BERT G. SMITH.

The March Records are simply elegant. We are enclosing you a few of our advertisements in the State daily papers for our concert which we hold each month when we receive the Records. This has proven to be the best scheme for selling Records which we have ever had. Our store is large enough to hold 175 people, comfortably seated, and we have only had one night during the concerts when every seat in the house was not full, as well as standing room. One evening when the cold wind was blowing perhaps sixty miles an hour, our crowd only numbered forty persons. This all goes to show that the people of Lincoln appreciate Records which are sustained by their reputation and that are made with the clearness of tone that the Edison have.
H. E. SIBLEY CYCLE CO.
Lincoln, Neb.

I don't know what to think of any dealer who cuts the price on Edison Gold Moulded Records. They are worth double the price asked for them. I sold a man two dozen Edison Records yesterday that has been buying the cheap records, and he said that he would not give ten cents apiece for any more of the latter. I think the Salt River will be full of the cheap records before very long. I will never keep any Records but the Edison Gold Moulded Records and the Edison Phonograph. I would rather go out of business than sell other records and talking machines.
W. H. DYER,
Frederick, Md.

Your Gold Moulded Records for March, which I received a week ago, are certainly the finest that have ever come to this county, and I must congratulate you on your efforts in keeping the Edison in the lead. I don't handle cheap records simply for the reason that I want to give my customers their money's worth, and have no time for trash.
Crescent City, Cal. PEYER DUFFY.

We are more than ever delighted with the Edison Records, and sincerely trust that you will not reduce the price. They are worth fifty cents now and for all time to come.—WILLIAM H. KELLER, Easton, Pa.

"Hurrah for Edison Gold Moulded Records! Best in the world—either flat or cylinder makes."—E. N. WHITFORD, Great Cacapon, W. Va.

AFTER GERMAN INFRINGERS.

The National Phonograph Company has been prosecuting in Germany infringers of the Edison patents in duplicating Edison Gold Moulded Records. It has already obtained some excellent decisions against individuals who have been copying its Records. The company published the following warning in the March 23d issue of the PHONOGRAPHISCHE ZEITSCHRIFT, published at Berlin, Germany:

WARNING.

The National Phonograph Company, hearing that worthless records are being sold in Germany and elsewhere under the appearance of genuine Edison Records, beg to bring the following warning before all concerned:

In English Courts of Justice certain persons have, within recent date, been condemned to severe punishments and have had to pay heavy costs for duplicating Edison Records and selling their duplicates.

Further, in Germany, has been lately decided against the defendant that the latter had no right to place Edison Records on the market, with the exception of those manufactured and sold by the National Phonograph Company, and at the same time a fine of Mk 500 was decided upon for each contravention of this decision.

We beg that any one, hearing of violation of our rights, will bring this to our notice.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.
24-25, Suedufer, Berlin.
G. Croydon Marks, Representative of Thos. A. Edison for Europe.

A UNIQUE ADVERTISEMENT.

L. R. Porter advertised the April list in the Bolivar (Mass.) Daily Enterprise on April 16th, in this unique manner:

THE COLORED MAJOR IN THE BREAK OF THE NIGHT, ONE SINGING IN THE RAIN, SOMEBODY'S A DEAR KIND KING by UNCLE TOM'S CABIN, THE ROBIN AND THE WREN singing I'VE GOT A FEELING FOR YOU as together IN A BUTSHELL, while the GEORGIA MINSTRELS down ZANZIBAR WAY, SWEETHEART MARCH, YE and the LAND WHERE THE NIGHTINGALES SING, ZANZIBAR the MAN BEHIND, MR. BLACK MAN come DOWN FROM THE BIG FIG TREE just as KING CARNIVAL passed by, to the tune of DIXIE LAND, with HIS COAT OF MANY COLORS holding a BUNCH OF VIOLETS which all remind us that MARCH you know are ALWAYS BEHIND LIKE AN OLD COW'S TAIL, and even the BELL and the BIRDS OF SPRING as they marched to the HOLY GRAIL cried IF I WERE ONLY YOU!

LANGUAGE COURSE DEMONSTRATION.

Yesterday afternoon a unique and delightful exhibition of the use of the Phonograph as an instructor was given at the Brooklyn Navy Yard in Building No. 23. Mr. Kelsey, who is the head of the department of phonography at A. D. Matthews' Sons, was in charge of the exhibition. A number of officers of the yard attended the exhibition, and appeared very much interested.

Professor Aol, who has been demonstrating the workings of the language phonograph at A. D. Matthews' Sons, for the past week, explained in a clear and comprehensive manner just how the instruction was accomplished.—Brooklyn Citizen, April 14th.

KEEPING RECORD STOCKS.

"I notice an article in your MONTHLY in reference to keeping stock," writes John P. Dougherty, Dealer at Chester, Pa. "I have found the best manner to be as follows:

"Have shelf boxes made about three inches wide, and twelve inches long, and three inches deep, so as to allow about two inches of second boxes to stand clear for easy handling. The Records will then stand above the boxes and show themselves, thus acting as an advertisement and relieving the monotony usually caused by a large number of box fronts. Then take the Numerical Catalogue and with a crayon marking-pencil mark the first box with the first four numbers and so on through catalogue, allowing four numbers to each box. I take it for granted, of course, that every man handling Records has shelving made for this purpose, twelve inches deep and five inches in the clear, to admit these stock boxes. Should any of your readers wish to try this system without incurring any expense for boxes, I am only too happy to inform them that every lady's furnishing store, where corsets are sold, throw out every week enough corset boxes of the exact size needed for Records, to supply all the dealers in the country, and will be only to glad to save them for any person who will take them out of their way.

"Another excellent thing in connection with this system is the ease with which orders can be made out. The Dealer never has to consult his catalogue numbers, being on his box-fronts he can tell from his empties. Where he has several of a popular number he keeps one in his "memorandum" balance in an extra box or boxes, labelled 'Any Rags,' etc."

Do not think you have much to fear from the cheap records as several of our customers who purchased them at first have turned in their entire lot. Our sales last week were one hundred and sixty-three Edisons against eight of the others—pretty near 16 to 1. Have noticed several methods of keeping Records. By ours, no matter how large the stock, you can have it on the machine the instant called for. We use the twelve-peg spindle box. Have these placed on slanting shelves all around the room at the right height to be handy. Keep each class of Record by itself; have one shelf for songs, one for band, one for instrumental solos, etc. We then arrange them in alphabetical order. For instance, some one asks for "Any Rags" song. We go to the shelf containing songs and find the Record in box A. In duets we label one box comic, one rube, one sentimental, and so on. We have found this the quickest and best way for you know right where the Record is and have no cotton to unwrap.

South Bend, Ind. MUSICAL SUPPLY CO.

A JOBBER'S APPROVAL.

We can hardly find words to express our appreciation and approval of your article in the current issue of the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY, relative to Edison Dealers handling the cheap records. We wish every Dealer would read it carefully. If they would we are sure they would see the common sense of your argument. We have done all in our power to present good, plain arguments to the Dealer in favor of the Edison Record against the twenty-five-cent article, and in many instances we have been able to restrain the Dealer from handling the cheap product. During this week we have had several dealers express their pleasure at not having put in a stock of the cheap records and have thanked us for our advice. From interviews with a number of dealers in the past two days we know that they are doing all they can to induce the old and new trade to purchase Edison Records. We believe it is only a matter of time, and a short time at that, until the Dealers will handle only your Records. We hope the present prices will be maintained.

PENN PHONOGRAPH CO.,
Philadelphia.

FROM TRADE ADVERTISEMENTS.

Following are some phrases from a half-page advertisement by Thomas Warded in the Lowell (Mass.) Sunday Telegram, of April 17th:

We have sold 1,000 Edison Phonographs in Lowell. Do you want any better proof of their superiority?

Talking Machines. No Pins to Change. No Scratches.

Edison Gold Moulded Records are in a Class by Themselves. They are much less brittle, and are never Harsh and Scratchy like cheap records.

Edison Records are Real Records. Edison Records played on an Edison Phonograph represent perfection.

An advertisement by L. R. Porter, of Brockton, Mass., in the Brockton Daily Enterprise of April 23d, contains the following:

If you want the Best talking machine in the world, buy this one, the Home. If you want the Best Records in the world, buy this kind, the Edison. (Cuts of an Edison Home Phonograph and an Edison Record accompanied these phrases.)

BETTER THAN AN AUTOMATIC BANJO.

Lowman & Hanford, Dealers at Seattle, Wash., send the following interesting incident:

A man came in our Phonograph Department and asked if we knew where he would be able to obtain an automatic banjo. He said he was very fond of banjo music, but played very little. We told him we did not think one was obtainable in the city, and asked him if he had heard any of the new banjo records on the Phonograph. He said he had not heard a Phonograph for two years. We put on the machine Record No. 8618, "Razzle Dazzle," banjo solo, and he was so pleased with the results that he did not look further for the automatic banjo, but bought a Home Phonograph with a $10 horn and two dozen Records.

A MONTANA DEALER'S EXPERIENCE.

I received the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY in this morning's mail, and I have read it from title page to back cover. I note where you state that many Dealers say that they could not continue in business if they didn't handle the Edison Phonograph. This is my case exactly. Without the Edison Phonographs and Gold Moulded Records I would have discontinued handling talking machines long ago. I do a great deal of canvassing all over Montana, and one day I carry a Phonograph, the next day a ——— phone. At many of the houses that I called at to exhibit the ——— phone, I had one of the ——— machines, and when I stated that the price of same was $20 the people would say: "Oh, I saw that very same ——— phone advertisement in the ——— (some cheap monthly paper, published in the East), and the advertisement stated that if I would sell some bluing or soap, and forward the amount of $3.60, I could have the ——— phone and a three-song record, etc." I beg to state that when I take along the $20 Edison Phonograph I am never told that it can be had for selling soap, bluing or peanuts.

CHARLES S. MAGUIRE.
Walkerville City, Mont.

SUSPENDED LIST, MAY 1, 1904.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

COLORADO.

BOULDER—BENTLEY & CRAIG.

KANSAS.

CLAY CENTRE—E. M. GOWENLOCK.
LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MAINE.

*BIDDEFORD—W. H. FIELD.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street.
E. O. MOSHER, 420 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
*NANTUCKET—ARTHUR M. TAYLOR.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DEWOLFE.
WOBURN—OSBORN GILLETTE, or THE BOLTON JEWELRY COMPANY, L. F. MALONEY, Manager.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

NASHUA—F. A. McMASTER & CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN; also New York City.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.
PLAINFIELD—S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT; also New York City.
ELSTON N. LEONARD.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

*Added since April 1, 1904.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus, either at addresses given or any other address.

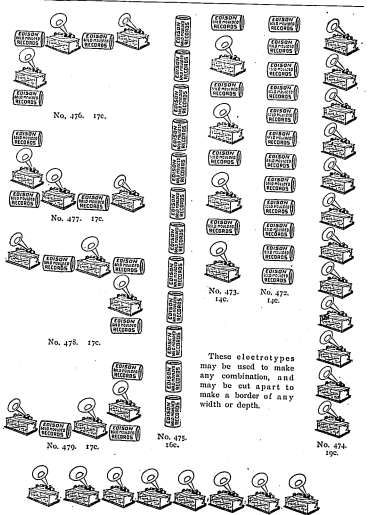
NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
HORART—F. H. MARSHALL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
BRONX PHONOGRAPH CO., or DAVID SWITKY, 506 Willis Avenue.
CENTRAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 160 E. 42d street.
R. L. CORWIN; also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT, 7 Barclay st., or 6 Cortlandt st.; also Plainfield, N. J.
O. HACKER, 2 Murray street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broadway; also Philadelphia, Pa.
N. HORN, 148 E. 58th street.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 124 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 193 Broadway.
J. McELLYNNE, 202 Broadway.
RICHMOND PEARL, 41 W. 125d st.
F. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.
SARATOGA SPRINGS—MARVIN A. COTE.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
UHRICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.



PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2783 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street, or Oxford and Wascher streets; also New York City.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE—J. C. BLATZEK.

These electrotypes may be used to make any combination, and may be cut apart to make a border of any width or depth.

NEW BORDER ELECTROTYPES.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Kay Co., 1904 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Kay Co., 14 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 933 Market street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 6th 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Cauldlen & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Fuchs-Hilsenberger Co., 1253 Dixwell ave.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Kelley Cigar Co., 80-82 Wabash avenue.
James I. Lyons, 23 Fifth avenue.
The Kay Co., 92 Washington street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 144 Madison street.
The Vim Co., 88 E. Lake street.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 111 Michigan ave.
Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 102 Bridge street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Craig Jay Co., 234 Massachusetts ave.
Kipp Bros. Co., 37 S. Meridian street.
Wahl-Gasnich Co., 122 S. Illinois street.
Lafayette—Wahl-Gasnich Co., 304 Main street.

IOWA.

Des Moines—The Vim Co., 702 West Walnut street.
Fort Dodge—Early Wood & Hosier, 822 Central ave.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Kay Co., 640 Fourth street.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—James I. Lyons, Theatre Arcade.
National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 614 Gravier street.
The Kay Co., 121 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—S. J. Crosby Co., 188 Exchange street.
Portland—W. H. Rose & Son, 507 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 18 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 127 Tremont street.
Oliver Ditson Co., 359 Tremont street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 169 Washington street.
Read & Read, 398 Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 247 Main street.
Lowell—King Music Co., 170 Merrimac street.
Thomas Wardell, 151 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 364 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 106 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 229 Woodward avenue.
The Kay Co., 168 Griswold street.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 234 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 37 E. 5th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1013-1015 Walnut street.
The Kay Co., 1021 Grand avenue.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1112 Olive street.
The Kay Co., 923 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. H. Sidles Cycle Co., 1317 O street.
Omaha—H. E. Fredrickson, 1502-1510 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 1518 and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 205 Washington street.
Newark—A. G. Post, New and Halsey streets.
H. J. Koehler Sporting Goods Co., 845 Broad street.
Paterson—James K. O'Dea, 117 Ellison street.
Plainfield—Frank L. C. Martin Auto. Co., 820 Park avenue.
Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
A. D. Matthews' Sons, 324 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1256 Broadway.
Buffalo—H. A. Powers, 649 Main street.
Talking Machine Co., 172 Main street.
Gloversville—Eureka Phonograph Co., 99 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Forsyth & Davis, 20 Wall street.
New York City—Bettini Phonograph Co., 82 Chambers street.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 19 Chatham street.
J. F. Blackman & Son, 1674 3d avenue.
I. Davega, Jr., 891 Third avenue.
S. H. Davega, Jr. E. 14th street.
Douglas & Co., 83 Chambers street.
The Gerard Co., 1107 Broadway.
Harry Jackson, 49 Bowery.
Jacot Music Box Co., 35 Union Square.
Victor H. Kohler, 666 Second avenue.
Rosenfeld Mfg Co., 187 Hudson st.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
John Wanamaker, Broadway and 4th street.
Rochester—A. J. Deninger, 297 North street.
Eclipse Photo. Co., 6 E. Co. 100 State street.
Hosley, Arnold & Co., 76-78 Clinton avenue.
Schenectady—A. Rickerd, 412 State street.
Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 106 E. Fayette street.
Troy—James Lucey, 2392-94 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark-Horrocks Co., 54 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelman Co., 216 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—Ilsen & Co., 25 W. 6th street.
The Kay Co., 139 West 4th street.
Wahl-Gasnich Co., 27 W. 5th street.
Cleveland—The Kay Co., 1814-16 Euclid avenue.
Columbus—Percy B. Whitehead, 61 High street.
Dayton—Nicholas & Dorbe, 31 E. 4th street.
East Liverpool—Smith & Phillips Music Co.
Toledo—Hayes Music Co., 608 Cherry street.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Braun, 900 Federal street.
Allentown—G. C. Aschbach, 139 Hamilton street.
Easton—William Werner, 401 Northampton street.
Philadelphia—C. J. Heppe & Son, 1300 Chestnut street.
Lit Bros., Market and 8th streets.
Penn Phonograph Co., 19 S. 9th street.
John Wanamaker.
Wells Phonograph Co., 41 N. 9th street
Western Electric Co., 232-233 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 923 Market street.
Pittsburg—Theo. P. Daniel Co., Inc., 433 Wood street.
Kaufmann Bros., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 201 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Mellor Co., 309 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 937 Liberty avenue.
Reading—Reading Phonograph Co., 829 Penn street.
Scranton—Ackerman & Co., Coal Exchange Building.
Technical Supply Co.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Dean Co., 189-191 Westminster street.
J. A. Foster Co., Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Household Furniture Co., 231-237 Weybosset street.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., 26-30 Pine street.
A. T. Scantergood & Co., 106-110 N. Main street.

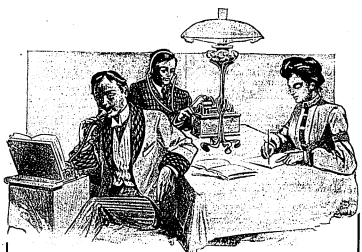
TENNESSEE.

Memphis—The Kay Co., Lyceum Building, 2nd and Jefferson streets.
Nashville—The Kay Co., 30 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, A&M., 247 Main street.

VIRGINIA.



Richmond—The Kay Co., 709 E. Main street.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 173 2d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—S. S. Williams & Sons Co., Limited, 143 Yonge street.

WE HELP INTRODUCE

Double Service in the Homes

An Offer in the Edison Trade

DOUBLE SERVICE—Pleasure and Profit—Amusement and Language Study—Are you able to demonstrate the Edison Phonograph for both uses?

We want to coach you on the Language Proposition. There is nothing out of your pocket to learn a good talking point for the Edison Phonograph. And you might just as well handle your part of the thousands of I. C. S. Language Outfits that are sold every year.

REMEMBER; Edison Dealers are the only merchants who handle our Outfits, and they are protected by regular National Phonograph Company Agreements. Edison Jobbers in every part of the World carry our Outfits in stock and can fill your orders.

Write Us Today for Advice and Literature.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

International Correspondence Schools

SCRANTON, PENNA.

EDISON

Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. II. NEW YORK, JUNE, 1904. No. 4.

The National Phonograph Co., ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 316 MISSION STREET.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., LTD., 25 CLERKENWELL ROAD, LONDON, ENG.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

Sixty Days Notice..... 1
Notice to Jobbers..... 3
An Important Improvement..... 3
Installing a Record Plant in Mexico..... 4
A British Columbia Enthusiast..... 4
The Whole World Its Field..... 4
Printed Matter..... 4
Gregorian Mass Sung Into Phonograph..... 4
The New Phonogram..... 5
Shaved or Unshaved?..... 5
Mahogany Cabinets Made to Order..... 5
Wanted—Articles on Best Methods of Selling Edison Goods..... 5
Phonograph in Pastor and Choir..... 5
Speed Regulator for Triumph..... 6
Stock Books for the Trade..... 6
Record Playing by Telephone in England.. 6
Edison Branches at Berlin, Paris and Brussels..... 7
A Swindling Gang Broken Up..... 7
Comments on July Records..... 8
Keeping Record Stocks..... 10
Ex-Governor Hill and the Phonograph... 11
The Phonograph in British Columbia..... 11
Trade Notes..... 12
Western Fiction..... 12
Four Notable Injunctions..... 13
Suspended List..... 14
Jobbers of Edison Phonographs and Records..... 15

SIXTY DAYS' NOTICE.

Orange, N. J., May 16, 1904.

Gentlemen:—Please take notice that 60 days from this date or thereafter, we purpose making changes in our price list, terms, discounts, conditions of sale and agreement.

Pending changes in question, we suggest that you use great care in placing your orders, and we especially caution you not to stock up with any style of Records, as the changes in question will, we believe, create radically different but entirely favorable trade conditions.

Kindly acknowledge receipt of this notice on appended form.

W. E. GILMORE
President.

The above is a copy of a notice sent on the date given to every Jobber and Dealer in Edison goods in the United States and Canada. Per the time being it simply means that we are carrying out a provision of our Agreement that requires us to give sixty days' notice before we can make any change in the prices of our goods or in the conditions under which they are sold.

Except that it will "create radically different but entirely favorable trade conditions," no statement can be made at present. Until July 16th at least the prices of Edison Gold Moulded Records will be 50 cents each or $5.00 per dozen; and all other goods must be sold at existing prices. Price cutting will be as vigorously prosecuted as though the above notice had never been issued and the trade must continue to conform to all the stipulations of the agreement now in force.

We fully realize the depressing effect that this notice will have upon our trade until the new conditions go into effect, but we have no hesitancy in declaring our belief that the business done by all who handle the Edison pro-

(Continued on page 3.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF JULY RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR JULY, 1904

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near July 1st as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to June 15th, will be shipped. July Supplements will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records. Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8724 The Japs' Tattoo — Characteristic Japanese war march. — Edison Military Band
8725 Starry Night for a Ramble — Popular waltz song with solo, duet and quartette chorus and orchestra accompaniment. — Edison Male Quartette
8726 The St. Louis Rag — Characteristic banjo solo with orchestra accompaniment. — Vess L. Ossman
8727 My Kangaroo — Contralto and basso duet with orchestra accompaniment. — Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley
8728 The Man with the Ladder and the Hose — (Dedicated to the Fire Heroes of the country) descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment. — W. H. Thompson
8729 Invitation to the Waltz (v. Weber) — Edison Symphony Orchestra
8730 Oysters and Clams — Descriptive huckster song with orchestra accompaniment. — Arthur Collins
8731 An Interrupted Courtship on the Elevated Railway (Leander and Lulu) — Campbell and Roberts
8732 Polly Prim March, by the composer of "The Colored Major" March — Xylophone solo with orchestra accompaniment. — Albert Benzler
8733 Just a Gleam of Heaven in Her Eyes — Charles K. Harris' latest sentimental ballad with orchestra accompaniment. — Byron G. Harlan
8734 My Old New Hampshire Home — Descriptive tenor and baritone duet with orchestra accompaniment. — Campbell and Harrison
8735 Sylvia (Scherzo) — Piccolo solo with orchestra accompaniment. — Frank S. Mazziotta
8736 Two Rubes at the Vaudeville — Descriptive selection, introducing a scene at a vaudeville theatre, with Miss Daisy Bonlats, xero-comic artist, and orchestra. — Harlan and Stanley
8737 Hannah — Coon song with orchestra accompaniment. — Billy Murray
8738 Encouragement Overture — Edison Symphony Orchestra
8739 Dream of Youth — Violin and flute duet. — Eugene A. Jaudas and Eugene C. Rose
8740 American Student's Waltzes — (Recorded at a slow tempo for dancing) Introducing the college songs "My Love at the Window," "Dear Eveline," "The Spanish Guitar" and "Climbing, Climbing, Climbing." — Edison Military Band
8741 Everywhere — Comic male duet with orchestra accompaniment. — Collins and Harlan
8742 A Bit o' Blarney — An Irish intermezzo and two-step. — Edison Concert Band
8743 Here's Your Hat, What's Your Hurry — Coon song with orchestra accompaniment. — Bob Roberts
8744 The Old Cabin Home (Plantation Series No. 2) — Descriptive singing and talking selection. — Edison Male Quintette
8745 Kryl's Favorite — Cornet solo with orchestra accompaniment. — Bohumir Kryl
8746 There's Nobody Just Like You — Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment. — Harry MacDonough
8747 Where the Mocking Birds were Singing — Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment. — James F. Harrison
8748 Down on the Brandywine Medley — Introducing "Down on the Brandywine," "Meet Me in St. Louis, Louis," "My Little Love Bird," "The Goo-Goo Man," "Good Bye, My Lady Love" and "The Irish, The Irish." — Edison Military Band

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

(Continued from page 1.)

duct will thereafter exceed their most sanguine expectations. Whatever loss may be occasioned by a quiet summer will be more than compensated for by a busy fall and winter. Jobbers and Dealers will do well to keep their stock of Records as low as possible during the next six weeks and at the same time to make arrangements to order and carry a larger stock than ever when the new conditions are announced.

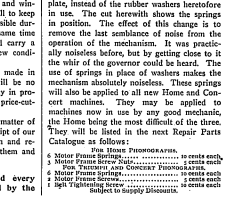
No matter what changes may be made in prices or other conditions, there will be no change in the policy of this company in protecting the trade and prosecuting price-cutters.

Dealers who have overlooked the matter of signing the form, acknowledging receipt of our sixty days' notice, are urged to sign and return at once. It will benefit both them and us.

Every Edison Phonograph and every Edison Record and Blank is sold by the NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY under restrictions as to the persons to whom and the prices at which such Phonographs, Records and Blanks are to be sold, and as to the removal or change in whole or in part of the serial numbers on such Phonographs. Any violation of such restrictions terminates the, license to use and vend such Phonographs, Records and Blanks implied from the sale thereof, and any subsequent use or sale of such Phonographs, Records or Blanks is an infringement of the Edison Patents.

NOTICE TO JOBBERS.

In having sub Dealers sign agreement from now until July 16th, Jobbers should change the clause "subject to change on 60 days notice" to "subject to change on or after July 16th." This phrase occurs twice on each copy.



As an evidence that Edison goods were still in demand, one of our Jobbers recently pointed out that his business with us in the year ending March 1st was $13,000 more than in the previous year; in fact, nearly double. We replied that, while his percentage of increase was high, every Jobber making an effort to push our goods made a handsome increase during the same year. Where increases were not shown the falling off was due to special causes.

AN IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT.

In every Edison Triumph Phonograph now being shipped from our factory, springs are being used to hold the motor frame to the top plate, instead of the rubber washers heretofore in use. The cut herewith shows the springs in position. The effect of this change is to remove the last semblance of noise from the operation of the mechanism. It was practically noiseless before, but by getting close to it the whir of the governor could be heard. The use of springs in place of washers makes the mechanism absolutely noiseless. These springs will also be applied to all new Home and Concert machines. They may be applied to machines now in use by any good mechanic, the Home being the most difficult of the three. They will be listed in the next Repair Parts Catalogue as follows:

FOR HOME PHONOGRAPHS.

6 Motor Frame Springs..... 10 cents each
3 Motor Frame Screw Nuts..... 5 cents each
FOR CONCERT AND STANDARD PHONOGRAPHS.
6 Motor Frame Springs..... 10 cents each
2 Motor Frame Screws..... 5 cents each
1 Belt Tightening Screw..... 10 cents each
Subject to supply Discounts.

A set of these springs were recently sent to the owner of an Edison Phonograph at Elm Creek, Neb. He acknowledged their receipt as follows:

"The suspension springs arrived this morning and I put them in. 'Twas only a few moments work, and the result—Well! All I can say that I haven't felt so pleased in a long time over anything as with that simple cure and I want to congratulate you over your success. I consider this an improvement equal to the Model C and D Reproducer or Moulded Record. There is very little more to be desired in a machine at present, so far as I can see. I also want to thank you for your courtesy in ordering these springs sent me. Again I congratulate you."

REMOVAL.

Peter Bacigalupi, Jobber at San Francisco, has moved from 933 Market street to the five story building at 764-788 Mission street.

INSTALLING A RECORD PLANT IN MEXICO.

The National Phonograph Company has just completed the installation of a Record plant at la Calle de Colon, No. 7, opposite the American Consulate, Mexico City, and have begun taking selections of Mexican vocal and instrumental music, executed by the highest class talent in the country. The Mexican repertoire will include all the popular national airs, as well as the favorite selections from zarzuelas, etc., sung by the most prominent artists.

The Master Records will be taken at the plant established in Mexico City. These will then be forwarded to the Edison Laboratory, at Orange, N. J., to be moulded by the well known Edison Gold Moulded process. George J. Werner, one of the Record experts at the Edison Laboratory, has been sent to Mexico to superintend the work.

The interests of the National Phonograph Company are represented in Mexico by Ralph Cabañas, who is well known among the English speaking residents of that city. Mr. Cabañas returned to Mexico some two months ago, and has been attending to the necessary preliminary arrangements in connection with the Record plant, as well as other details of the company's business in that country.

A BRITISH COLUMBIA ENTHUSIAST.

Captain John Thompson, a pilot living at Victoria, B. C., finds much pleasure in his leisure hours in running his Edison Home Phonograph. He writes that since he bought it two and a half years ago he has owned 520 Records and has 300 on hand now. He has about 200 of the old style wax records, which he uses to make records when he desires to amuse his friends. "The outfit has cost me over $200," he says, "and I must say that I have the loudest, finest and in every way the best Phonograph outfit in this city. Everybody says so that has heard it." He keeps his Records in a specially designed cabinet, built in his dining room and secured to the wall. This has two tiers of five drawers each at the bottom, with two tiers of four drawers each and one of three drawers above them, making twenty-one drawers. Each drawer holds a dozen Records. His Phonograph stands on another special cabinet, ornamented with paintings from his own brush and having a locker and shelf upon which to place a drawer of Records while playing them. His outfit includes five reproducers and two recorders.

THE WHOLE WORLD ITS FIELD.

We are glad to advise the trade that the suits which were brought by the Columbia Phonograph Company against the National Phonograph Company and two of its Dealers in Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md., in 1901, for violating the territory to which the Columbia Company claimed to have exclusive rights, have been discontinued, and the injunctions which heretofore have prevented the National Phonograph Company from operating directly in that territory are no longer in force.

By this action there is now no place in the entire world where this Company cannot establish Jobbers and Dealers to whom goods can be supplied direct from Orange, and without danger of any possible legal complications.

TESTIMONIAL TO MR. BANTA.

A testimonial entertainment and reception in remembrance of the late Frank P. Banta was given in Lyric Hall, Sixth avenue, New York City, on Wednesday night, May 10th. Mr. Banta was well known to owners of Edison Phonographs as a pianist of unusual ability. He was very popular with his Record making associates, many of whom took part in the entertainment.

GREGORIAN MASS SUNG INTO PHONOGRAPH.

ROME, April 30.—At the request of the Pope, the singing of the Gregorian mass in St. Peter's on the occasion of the centenary of St. Gregory, which was executed by a chorus of 1,500 voices, has been perpetuated for the use and instruction of the churches outside of Rome. Arrangements were made with a Phonograph Company to take the Records of the most important parts of the execution and a special meeting of all the singers was held in the church to-day following the celebration. The making of the Records was perfectly successful and soon lovers of church music all over the world will be able to listen to the most perfect execution of Gregorian music.—Chicago Record-Herald.

PRINTED MATTER.

A small edition has been printed of a supplement showing the British selections listed in the April and May issues of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. It is Form No. 570 and limited quantities can be supplied to the trade.

THE NEW PHONOGRAM.

The first issue of the new PHONOGRAM, which will appear about July 1st, will have an edition of from 80,000 to 100,000. Orders for about 75,000 have already been placed by Jobbers, all of whom are enthusiastic concerning its re-issue. All have agreed to pay the charge of $2.50 per thousand for them. In order that the cost may not be burdensome to any one, Jobbers are urged to make a similar charge for such quantities as are ordered by their Dealers. We cannot insist upon this charge being made to Dealers, but Jobbers will consult their own welfare by declining from the start to furnish them without charge.

It is hoped to make the PHONOGRAM a useful assistant in selling Phonographs and Records. Every owner of an Edison Phonograph is more or less of an enthusiast. He is always eager to know about the new Records each month. He is ever anxious to be informed about the improvements being made in Edison Phonographs and in the processes for making Edison Gold Moulded Records. He is keen for news from the Edison Laboratory and concerning Mr. Edison's work. This interest in all things Edison made the old Phonogram much sought for all over the country. The new PHONOGRAM will endeavor to make itself even more in demand.

A feature that is expected to aid much in popularizing the new PHONOGRAM will be the publication each month of half-tone pictures of one or two of the talent who make Edison Records. We daily receive letters from Dealers and Phonograph owners, asking for pictures of the talent. We are so certain of the demand for the PHONOGRAM on account of these pictures that a considerable extra quantity will be printed each month to supply orders not on file.

Information will be given in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY next month as to the way Dealers may secure small quantities by mail.

SHAVED OR UNSHAVED?

Jobbers and direct Dealers, in ordering blanks, should be careful to specify whether they are to be shaved or unshaved. The absence of this information either causes delay in shipment, by making it necessary to write for particulars, or wrong goods are shipped. The latter necessitates extra transportation charges, which must be borne by the parties who order the goods.

WANTED—ARTICLES ON BEST METHODS OF SELLING EDISON GOODS.

The friends of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY cannot do us a greater favor than to send in for publication articles on the best methods of selling Edison Phonographs and Records. These will be published with or without credit as the writers may desire. We prefer always to give full credit, but will withhold names when so requested. Articles of this kind will be of much assistance to all Edison Dealers. Nor can they be detrimental to the business of the writer, for no one can affect his business except other Dealers in his own city, and they can easily find out in other ways how they sell goods.

PHONOGRAPH IS PASTOR AND CHOIR.

In the lecture room of the Hudson City branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, in Central avenue, Jersey City, a Phonograph conducted religious services yesterday afternoon.

Promptly at 4 o'clock Dr. Henry A. Heath started the machine, and a voice called out: "We'll sing 'Wonderful Words of Life.'" There was a slight pause and then from the Phonograph a voice sang the well known gospel hymn, following with, "Some Time We'll Understand."

"What is your favorite hymn?" asked the machine in a matter of fact way.

"Saved by Grace," replied a young man in the congregation, and then all hands sang it with a will.

"Mr. Lewis Steck," said the Phonograph, as soon as the last strains had died away, "will lead in prayer." Then a new Record was set in motion and the words of a prayer, which had been spoken by Mr. Steck during the week, fell upon the ears of the congregation. Every head was reverently bowed.

Scriptural verses were recited by the Phonograph, and several hymns by W. S. Weedon, an evangelist, were sung. Several Gospel hymns, which had been sung to Records by the late John R. Sweeny seven years ago, were also reproduced. Mr. Sweeny has been dead five years.

The Phonograph asked three questions, which were answered by persons in the congregation, and then it sang "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," closing the meeting with a benediction.—New York Herald, May 9, 1904.

MAHOGANY CABINETS MADE TO ORDER.

We are now prepared to make to order Phonograph Cabinets and covers (not Record Cabinets) of mahogany to match the mahogany Record Cabinets now in general use. Those interested are asked to write the Sales Department for information.

SPEED INDICATOR FOR TRIUMPH.

We have fitted the Edison Triumph Phonograph with a speed indicator. It is now attached to all machines of this type. It is a simple device, consisting of a pointer attached to the body of the speed adjusting screw. There are three gilt lines marked on the top plate, indicating 120, 144 and 160 revolutions, respectively. The friction bracket and governor are so adjusted that the mandrel makes exactly 160 revolutions when the pointer points to the 160 mark; 144 revolutions when it points to the 144 mark and 120 revolutions when it points to the 120 mark. At the back of the screw is a stop pin which prevents the screw from being turned clear around and there is no chance of the speed being altered. Any one who reads the instructions that our Records are made at 160 revolutions per minute can readily adjust the machine to 160 revolutions.

INFORMATION WANTED.

The editor of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY is anxious to own a file of the Phonogram published from January, 1890, to May, 1892, and edited by V. H. McKee; also of the Phonograph, published September, 1893, by a Mr. Johnston; also of the Edison Phonographic News, published at Cincinnati from May, 1894, to April, 1896; also the Phonograph Record, published from 1897 to 1900; also a copy of the Echoes from the Talking Machine World, issued May, 1900. Any information concerning the above, or of any other talking machine publications, that our readers may be able to send will be appreciated.

STOCK BOOKS FOR THE TRADE.

All agreements signed by Jobbers contain this stipulation:

"Jobbers must keep a record of the serial numbers of all Phonographs sold by them to Dealers and furnish a copy thereof to the National Phonograph Company upon request."

Some two years ago we made up a number of blank books, with printed headings, for the use of Jobbers in keeping such records. They were listed at $1.00 each and many Jobbers bought copies. For some reason they never were included in any catalogue and not a few Jobbers will now learn of them for the first time. These books comprise 150 ruled pages, headed "Phonograph Stock Book," and have special headings, as follows: "From Whom Purchased"; "Received"; "Machine Nos."; "When Sold"; "To Whom Sold"; "Address"; "List or Dealer." They are very convenient books for Jobbers and worth several times their list price, $1.00. Dealers will also find them useful in keeping track of their machines.

RECORD PLAYING BY TELEPHONE IN ENGLAND.

"I notice an article in the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY for April having reference to playing Records by telephone," writes James H. White, of London, European Sales Manager for this company. "I have also read the various articles on this subject, and think I can give you a story which beats them all regarding the playing of Records over the telephone line.

"We have a customer in Manchester, England, which city is 200 miles from London. This customer frequently calls me up on the telephone to take up various questions in connection with the sale of our goods. While talking with him over the telephone a short time ago, he inquired as to the merits of one of the Records in our British Supplement No. 6, "Cavalleria Rusticana," No. 12854. He stated that if the Record was good he would want a large quantity of them. I happened to have the Record of this selection at hand, and told him to hold the line for a moment and I would let him hear it for himself. I then placed the Record on the Home Phonograph which sits within two feet of my desk 'phone, and, placing the receiver in the horn, started the Record. My factor in Manchester, 200 miles away, listened to the entire selection and stated that he heard every note clearly and distinctly; in fact, he was so pleased with the selection that he gave me an order then and there for 1,000 Records to be included in a large shipment which we already had in hand for him.

"I think this not only demonstrates the efficiency of the long-distance telephone service in England, but it is also a good pointer as to the possibilities of up-to-date Jobbers selling Edison Gold Mounted Records by telephone, and perhaps is an idea that might be adopted with profit by some of your up-to-date and hustling American Jobbers."

"ARE GRAND."

FREDERICK, MD., May 23, 1904.

The new Records for the last three months are grand, and I expect to do a fine business this summer.

W. H. DYER.

EDISON BRANCHES AT BERLIN, PARIS AND BRUSSELS.

The National Phonograph Company has now established Recording plants at Berlin, Paris and Brussels. All of these plants are running successfully and furnishing Records, which are being sold on the Continent and in Great Britain. We have also established a selling office in Berlin, from which we supply German, Austrian, and Russian customers. The capacity of the Berlin plant is almost exclusively devoted to the supplying of Records for German, Austrian and Russian territory. The Paris plant will manufacture Records for sale within the French Republic; the Brussels plant is devoted to turning out Records for Belgium, Holland, and Great Britain. An office is about to be established in Paris to control the sale of Edison Phonographs and Records in France, Spain, and Portugal. One of the most interesting features in connection with the sale of Edison goods in Germany is the fact that the price agreement has recently been put into effect in that country and is working quite as satisfactorily as the agreements now in force in the British Isles. In addition to the above, permanent master-making plants have been established in Berlin, Paris, and Brussels, where our experts are constantly at work making new masters of the best European artistes obtainable. Within a reasonably short time we expect to collect a very large and valuable repertoire of French, German, Spanish, Russian, Austrian, Flemish, Dutch, and other selections.

A SWINDLING GANG BROKEN UP.

Chiefly through the efforts of Victor H. Rapke, a Jobber in Edison goods on Second avenue, New York City, the local police have broken up a gang of men who for some time past have made a business of buying talking machines on the instalment plan, making the first payment thereon and then selling them at almost any price for cash. Mr. Rapke, having heard of the operation of the gang, set out to investigate a sale or two made by one of his branch stores. He soon learned that he had been victimized with the others. He obtained a lot of evidence against the gang, learned that the name of the man who had swindled him was Jack Greenfield and then presented all the facts to the District Attorney's office. He satisfied the assistant given charge of the case that a felony had been committed and detectives were assigned to make arrests. Greenfield was located a few days later and committed to jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. As Mr. Rapke expects to spend the summer abroad, he induced some of the other victims to appear as complainants. The names of Greenfield's accomplices were ascertained and they will be arrested if they return to New York. The New York talking machine deniers feel very grateful to Mr. Rapke for the successful outcome of his efforts as an amateur detective.

Charles A. Miller, Dealer, in New York city, sends copies of a novel advertising leaflet. It is printed in imitation of a street car transfer. It advertises the song "A Good Old Trolley Ride," and announces that Edison Gold Moulded Records of the song may be had at Mr. Miller's store.

WITH US TO THE FINISH.

A Dealer, who asks that his name and city be not published, writes as follows:

The article in the April number referring to Dealers handling different styles of machines and records along with the Edison make, hits the very record that I have been sounding for the past six months. No better illustration can be found anywhere than exists right here. There are three firms in this city which sell cylindrical records. Two of these firms also carry a line of disk goods. At no time will you find more than one Edison machine nor more than three dozen Edison Records in stock at either of these places. They push the other goods. I have been in the Phonograph business about five years. I say Phonograph business for I have never carried in stock any other make machine than the National Phonograph Company's product. This also applies to Records. I carry in stock the Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph machines. I also have the two latter equipped with repeating attachment. I carry from 1,200 to 2,000 Records in stock. I have upward of 100 customers. I have my first machine to sell that has not given the very best satisfaction, in fact, each and everyone thinks that the machine they purchased is the best on earth. As to the Records, they are in a class by themselves. You are not only giving me the best goods that are made and allowing me the largest profit, but you are protecting me against the bargain-counter and the department store, and as long as you do this I am with you to the finish.

THE HOME A WINNER.

Prospects are fine and we expect a fine business a little later. The Home is a winner, and will get home every time.

AINSWORTH MUSIC STORE.

Watertown, So. Dak.

COMMENTS ON JULY RECORDS.

The July list of Edison Gold Moulded Records will be a delight to all interested in the Edison product, whether as a Dealer or a user. The initiated will find in them ample evidence of the monthly improvement being made by our Recording Department. Not only is the quality of the highest character, but the list abounds in variety. Of the twenty-five given, twenty-one are made by different combinations of talent. The only combinations having more than one are the Edison Military Band and the Edison Symphony Orchestra. The proportion of instrumental to vocal is eleven of the former to fourteen of the latter.

No. 8724. "The Japs' Tattoo," is a characteristic Japanese war march by the Edison Military Band. In view of the war in the Far East its issue now is timely. While the music of this composition is distinctly Japanese, it has enough Western musical flavor to make it melodious and tuneful. The composer of this selection is L. P. Laurendeau.

No. 8725. "Starry Night for a Ramble," is a popular waltz song with solo, duet, quartette chorus and orchestra accompaniment. It is made by the Edison Male Quartette. The title of this composition is that of a song well known many years ago and which is here written to new music and to a large extent new words. The chorus will be recognized for its similarity to the old song of the same name.

No. 8726. "The St. Louis Rag," is a composition written by Tom Turbin, and is quite apropos of the Exposition. It is played as a banjo solo by Vess L. Ossman with orchestra accompaniment. It is a typical banjo composition and one calculated to bring out the best effects of that instrument. "The St. Louis Rag" is being played by Sousa and other bands throughout the country. It will be one of the popular airs of the summer.

No. 8727, "My Kangaroo," is a remarkably fine contralto and basso duet by Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley, with orchestra accompaniment. It is composed by Joseph C. Farrell and Charles Kohlman.

No. 8728, "The Man with the Ladder and the Hose," is a tribute to the fire fighting heroes of the country and is dedicated to them by its composer, T. Mayo Geary. It has an air that will make it popular. It is sung with splendid voice by W. H. Thompson and has an orchestra accompaniment.

No. 8729. "Invitation to the Waltz," is a record of von Weber's charming composition. It is splendidly made by the Edison Symphony Orchestra.

No. 8730, "Oysters and Clams," is a descriptive peddler's song that will remind all who hear it of that successful song, "Any Rags." Arthur Collins, whose excellent rendition did much to make the latter a success, also sings "Oysters and Clams." It is sung with orchestra accompaniment. Jack Drisdane is the writer of the words and Theodore Morse the composer of the music.

No. 8731, "An Interrupted Courtship on the Elevated Railway," tells a humorous story of the efforts of Leander to propose to Lulu on an elevated railway train in New York City. A feature of the Record is the characteristic calling out of the stations by the guard, who, as usual, cannot be understood. This Record is made by Campbell and Roberts.

No. 8732, "Polly Prim March," is an instrumental selection written by S. R. Henry, composer of "The Colored Major March." It is a clever and well written composition and is played as a xylophone solo by Albert Benzler, with orchestra accompaniment. Mr. Benzler ably seconds the work of the composer.

No. 8733, "Just a Gleam of Heaven in Her Eyes," is Charles K. Harris' latest sentimental ballad and is sung in Byron G. Harlan's best manner. The combination of Mr. Harris' music and Mr. Harlan's singing make an unusually attractive sentimental Record.

No. 8734, "My Old New Hampshire Home" will require no introduction to Phonograph users. It is an old friend, but is presented in this Record in a new and attractive form. When listed before it was sung as a tenor solo. It is here given as a tenor and baritone duet by Campbell and Harrison, with orchestra accompaniment. The voices of the singers blend finely and, with the attractive air of the song, make a Record that will meet with universal approval. The words of this song were written by Andrew B. Sterling and the music by Harry Von Tilzer.

No. 8735, "Sylvia," (scherzo) is one of the best piccolo solos by Frank S. Mazziotta that it has ever been our pleasure to get out. It is played with orchestra accompaniment. The composer is Ch. La Thierr.

No. 8736, "Two Rubes at the Vaudeville," is a descriptive selection introducing a scene at a vaudeville theatre. It is made by Harlan and Stanley, with the assistance of Daisy Boubla, a xylo-comic artist, and the orchestra. From a recording standpoint this is one of the most ambitious Records ever made, although it may not so appear to the ordinary listener. The scene opens with two Rubes at the ticket office, asking for seats. They are told that there is standing room only. A ticket speculator induces them to buy two seats "way up front," and they enter the theatre. While they are buying their tickets the orchestra is heard playing on the inside. As the door opens to admit them, the full volume of the orchestra is heard. The seats "way up front" prove to be in the last row. The soubrette on the stage begins to sing the popular song, "Blue Bell." The loud talking of the two Rubes interrupts her until finally she refuses to sing until the noise is stopped. The crowd remonstrates and the Rubes are suppressed for the moment, only to again begin talking when the soubrette continues her song. She then gives it up in disgust, saying that if they are so smart they can sing it themselves. They then take the stage, get the orchestra to play and sing, "Don't Get Weary." The various effects are realistically carried out.

No. 8737, "Hannah," is a popular coon song. It is sung by Billy Murray, with orchestra accompaniment. This composition is the work of Farrell and Frantzen.

No. 8738, "Encouragement Overture," is a delightful selection by the Edison Symphony Orchestra. It was composed by E. Boetger.

No. 8739, "Dream of Youth," is another delightful violin and flute duet. It is played by Eugene A. Jaudas and Eugene C. Rose. The composer of this selection is G. Langer. It is fully as meritorious as any of the violin and flute selections heretofore listed.

No. 8740, "American Students' Waltzes," is a selection by the Edison Military Band. It was formerly listed in wax. It is recorded in slow tempo for dancing in consequence of a general demand for a greater number of dancing Records. This number introduces the college songs, "My Love at the Window," "Dear Evaline," Spanish Guitar" and "Climbing, Climbing, Climbing." The composer is Jean M. Missued.

No. 8741, "Everywhere," is a comic male duet by Collins and Harlan, with orchestra accompaniment. The words and music are by Farrell and Frantzen. This song is just being issued by its publishers and our Record will be practically its first introduction to the American public. "Everywhere" is a song of the same character as "Oh! Didn't He Ramble," and will undoubtedly be as popular. The Record gives two verses and three choruses.

No. 8742, "A Bit o' Blarney," is an Irish intermezzo and twostep played by the Edison Concert Band. It was written by J. Fred. Helf. It is an original melody of an Irish character and the Record it is an occasional reminder of well known Irish airs. This Record will appeal strongly to those who are fond of Irish music.

No. 8743. "Here's Your Hat, What's Your Hurry?" is a clever and very funny Record by Bob Roberts. It tells of the hardships that befell a lovesick coon at the hands of his rival.

No. 8744, "The Old Cabin Home," is the second of the series of old plantation scenes. The first was listed in June under the title of "Slavery Days." This second selection is a continuation of the first. The latter closed with a 'possum feast. At the opening of this Record the 'possum feast is in progress and all the darkies are having a merry time. Uncle Jasper, however, discovers that his favorite boy, Ephraim, has disappeared and is afraid that the boy has run away to escape the vengeance of the overseer. The old man, however, maintains a cheerful appearance and asks the darkies to sing Mammy's favorite song, "Come Along, Chillun." They sing and then leave the cabin, their voices dying away in the distance. The old man then gives way to his fears for the safety of his boy. This Record is made by the Edison Male Quintette.

No. 8745, "Kryl Favorite," is a fine cornet solo by Bohumir Kryl, an artist of the first rank. Mr. Kryl is now filling an important engagement at the St. Louis Exposition. This Record is made with orchestra accompaniment Its composer is W. Paris Chambers.

No. 8746, "There's Nobody Just Like You," is a sentimental selection sung by Harry Macdonough, with orchestra accompaniment. It has a pretty air and is splendidly rendered.

No. 8747, "Where the Mocking Birds Were Singing," is a song that has been popularized through the efforts of a New York newspaper. Chimes and the singing of birds are introduced in the song, in a suggestive manner only. This Record is made by James F. Harrison with orchestra accompaniment. Mr. Harrison sings it in superb style. Harry J. Breen wrote the words of this song and T. Mayo Geary the music.

No. 8748, "Down on the Brandywine Medley," is the monthly medley contribution of the Edison Military Band. These medleys have become a strong feature of the usual list from the fact that each of them includes so many different airs. This one is even better than its predecessors in this respect, for it introduces "Down on the Brandywine," "Meet Me in St. Louis, Louis," "My Little Love Bird," "The Goo Goo Man," "Good-Bye, My Lady Love," and "The Irish, the Irish."

APPRECIATES PROTECTION.

Talking about cutting prices, why, I have been in all kinds of business. I am a watchmaker by trade, but that trade don't protect its dealers as the Edison does in cutting prices, for if any one gets my goods from the Jobbers then the Jobber is writing or sending catalogues to your Dick, Tom or Harry all around you, giving them the wholesale prices. When you think you have got a customer and you tell him the price of your goods he will answer: "Oh, I can get them at such a place (perhaps the very place you deal at) for so much. I get their catalogues." Now, such work disheartens any one and makes a dealer afraid to buy. But the Edisons don't deal that way, and I am proud of it. If they did I believe the business would soon go to pot. I handle Edison goods only.

WILLIAM HOBSON.

Vincentown, N. J.

DEALERS SHOULD STIMULATE THE SUMMER TRADE.

Customers buy fewer Records during the summer months because most of them look more for outdoor amusement or go away in the country or to the seashore, and leave their Phonographs at home.

If you want to stimulate your summer Record business, send a new list of Records each month to your customers and explain to them how fine the results are when Records are played in the open air on quiet summer nights. Also explain that the New Edison Gold Moulded Records are not affected by the summer heat, like the old wax Records or the cheap imitation so-called moulded records, but reproduce the music with full volume and brilliancy of quality and tone.—From the June Order Blank of the Blackman Talking Machine Co.

KEEPING RECORD STOCKS.

"We have read many articles in the EDISON PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY written by Dealers regarding the way they keep their Records, and as none of their methods (in our opinion) seem to be very convenient, we beg to submit our plan," writes O B. Daspit's Sons, of Houma, La.

"We use light wood boxes, from five to six inches deep, and large enough to hold from four to five dozen Records. We have these boxes lying flat upon a counter, placed next to one another, and place our Records in them, arranged in numerical order, and numbered on the cover of the Record box.

"Any Dealer who has made use of the numerical catalogue knows what little time it requires to find out the title of any Record number. The same applies to the above arrangement of keeping Records.

"A great many Dealers keep all of the band Records together in one box or section of shelving, and all of the songs in another, and so on. The trouble about this arrangement is that when your customer asks for a certain number, before you know what box or section to go to you must first find out the kind of Record, which necessitates looking over the catalogue before you can find the Record, whereas if they were kept in numerical order the Record could be found at once. The above arrangement may be changed from boxes to shelving to suit the Dealer."

ALL FROM ONE MONTH'S LIST.

"As an illustration of the evenness of quality which your Records possess I send you an account of an incident which occurred in my store recently," writes William J. Kilkes, a Dealer at Albany, N. Y.

"A lady customer congratulated me on the politeness with which my clerk used customers, saying: 'She never tries to push any bad records on me. I have just purchased eighteen Records and they are very, very fine.'

"I asked her to let me see what Records they were and upon opening the package I found that she had eighteen Records from the April list. The clerk had simply played the April list through for her in rotation and the customer easily found 'eighteen delightful Records.'"

OTHERS NOT IN THE RACE.

The Records for May are having a good sale. There are none finer than the Edison Records. I have sold none that were not satisfactory and hear nothing but praise for your Machines and Records. All of your agents should maintain prices. There is no cause why the price should be cut. Other makes are not in the race with the Edison.

F. C. DEVALLANT.

Earlville, N. Y.

STANDS BY THE EDISON.

I am still a lover of the Edison Phonographs and Records and your method of doing business. We got some ——— records, as we thought it would be a good plan to show them up beside the Edison. I knew they were not as good, but it is hard to tell a customer the difference. I have nearly all of them yet, but I am not sorry I got them, as I only had to show them to a customer once. Thereafter they stuck to the "old reliable," the Edison. A few days ago the ——— man was here. He wanted to put in a line of ——— machines. He claimed he had the very best machine on the market now (something new), and wanted to show it to me. I looked at it and he played it. I gave him the laugh. I set a little Standard beside it and beat him to death. There were several customers standing by, and they all gave him the laugh. A blind man could have told the difference. He was completely done up. He packed up and went his way, but did not leave town until he tried to sell to all the hardware stores, bicycle shops and gun stores, etc., in town. I stand by the Edison, as we stated in our ad the other day, "All others are inferior imitations."

F. J. COLLINGWOOD,
Mgr. Phono. Dept. C. F. Jackson Co.
Norwalk, Ohio.

John J. Doyle, a Jersey City Dealer, relates a funny incident: He sold a customer a dozen Records. At home the latter took them out of the cartons and put them in a peg box. The box was accidentally dropped on the floor. Eleven out of twelve were either broken or cracked. The blue ticket fell out of the good one and in order to identify its title it was placed on the Phonograph. It proved to be No. 7875. "Ain't Dat a Shame?"

G. C. Aschbach, Jobber at Allentown, Pa., sends a neatly gotten up and nicely printed booklet advertising the lines of musical merchandise he carries. It is called "Aschbach Notes." A page is devoted to Edison Phonographs and Edison Gold Moulded Records.

FROM CHILI.

The following letter was received by our Foreign Department from one of its customers in Chili:

For my part, I am more than pleased with the Edison Gold Moulded Records which, with the Home Phonograph and the large brass horn you supplied, give me excellent results.

Last week I gave an exhibition of the Phonograph in the club house here, and the members unanimously confessed that they had never heard anything to equal the Records that you forwarded to me with my Phonograph, and I only regretted that I ordered so few.

THE I. C. S. BUILDING AT ST. LOUIS.

The International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa., is represented at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition by a handsome building. The structure faces the Plaza in the Model Village, which is one of the most interesting features of the Exposition.

The lower floor of the building is devoted to a public exhibition of the plans and methods of the Schools, with specimens of the work of students. The second floor, furnished with all conveniences and comforts, is used as a post office, reading room, writing room, and, in fact, a rendezvous for I. C. S. students and their friends

A "POETICAL" INVITATION.

New Edison Records arrived to-day
25 Selections for the month of May,
Free Concert to-night from 7 to 9:
Better Records are hard to find,
They're 50c. each, $5 per dozen,
Come, bring your Uncle, Aunt and Cousin.
—Advertisement of L. B. Porter, 355 Centre St., Porter's Turnout, Brockton, Mass.

TRADE NOTES.

Douglas & Co., Jobbers, of New York city, are showing a novelty in the way of a waterproof cover for Standard and Home Phonographs and for any style horns. It is made of mackintosh material.

Edgar B. Hyatt, proprietor of the Portland Phonograph Agency, Portland, Oregon, sends a miniature of a revolving table that he uses for displaying Edison Phonographs for his trade. The table in actual use will accommodate one Gem, two Standards, one House, one Triumph and one Concert. The top revolves on a pivot, and the weight at the outer edges is borne by revolving castors placed on the under board. Attached to the latter board is a device for holding a 24 to 48-inch horn in a fixed position and at the proper height for reproducing, although it can be adjusted to any height. By revolving the upper board any style machine can be brought into position before the horn. Underneath the top boards is a shelf upon which to place the covers when removed from the machines. Mr. Hyatt is having printed a quantity of small booklets, giving in detail all the plans, dimensions, descriptions, etc., of this table, and will send a copy to any one interested for twenty-five cents. Even the above brief description will show that Mr. Hyatt has devised a useful and time-saving adjunct to any Phonograph business.

WESTERN FICTION.

Varney Russell, city ticket agent of the Wisconsin Central, is beginning to believe that landlords are as heartless as corporations. No sooner had Mr. Russell had his office at 230 Nicollet avenue fitted up in a sumptuous manner the past week than T. C. Hough rented the balance of what was the Wisconsin Central headquarters at 232 Nicollet for an Edison Phonograph parlor. The partition between the two offices is a thin wooden one, and the melodious tunes can be heard very distinctly in Russell's place of business.

Just as Miss Carrie came tripping into Mr. Russell's office a few days ago for the purpose of buying a railroad ticket a Phonograph next door started up, "Good Morning Carrie," and when she said that she had forgotten to bring her purse with her to pay for her ticket, another tune machine started, "Ain't That a Shame." Miss Carrie thought that some one was putting up a joke on her and left the office in high dudgeon, buying her ticket to Chicago the next day over another line.

While a couple of old gentlemen were sitting on the nice, new bench that Russell has recently placed in his office for the accommodation of prospective customers, one of the vindictive Phonographs began to play "On the Benches in the Park," while another soon commenced "They are Jays From Kansas."

Another man came in, ordered a ticket set aside for him, and while he was explaining that he would be in the next day and pay for it, one of the offending machines began to play, "When You Ain't Got No Money, Then You Needn't Come 'Round." The man never came back for his ticket.

While a well known temperance worker and a minister of the gospel were in the office discussing going to Chicago over the Wisconsin Central line, the Phonographs next door commenced playing with vigor, "We are Drunk and Out Upon a Spree," and "Down Where the Wurtzburger Flows." The good men decided to travel over some other road.

Just as a serious looking gentleman accompanied by three ladies was trying to explain to what point they desired to purchase tickets, a machine began to play "Hiawatha"—and they fled in terror.

When Mr. Russell was trying to telephone to Frank Towne a machine began, "Hello Central, Give Me Heaven"—a most ridiculous place to look for Towne.

When a man asked Russell where he could carry his dog on the train, a machine began "In the Baggage Coach Ahead."

Russell says that the machines have driven $200 worth of business out of his office during the past week, and threatens to bring suit against the Phonograph man.—From the Evening Tribune, Minneapolis, Minn., April 22d, 1904.

In sending this clipping Mr. Hough wrote: "As we didn't take possession of the above place until May 1st you can understand what an impression we made."

MORE EDISON PATENTS SUSTAINED.

The patents granted to Thomas A. Edison which cover the use of sapphire jewels in Phonograph Recorders and Reproducers have been recently sustained by Judge Archbald, who on May 9th at Trenton, New Jersey, granted injunctions in four suits against Louis A. Chipot, of Newark, N. J., restraining him from infringing the claims of said patents.

We print below the injunctions in full.

The defendant Chipot had been infringing these patents by manufacturing jewels similar in shape to those sold by the National Phonograph Company, though of inferior workmanship, and by regrinding or repolishing Edison jewels. Judge Archbald held both of these acts to constitute infringement and enjoined the defendant therefrom. The injunctions read as follows:

INJUNCTION.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT, DISTRICT OF NEW JERSEY.
EDISON PHONOGRAPH CO., Complainant,
vs.
LOUIS A. CHIPOT, Defendant.

The President of the United States to:

LOUIS A. CHIPOT, and each and every person, firm or corporation connected directly or indirectly with you, and your associates, attorneys, solicitors, clerks, servants, agents and employees, GREETING:

WHEREAS, It has been represented to us, in our Circuit Court of the United States in the District of New Jersey, in a certain cause therein depending wherein National Phonograph Company is complainant, and you the said Louis A. Chipot are defendant, that Letters Patent No. 493,293 and 493,294 were issued to Jon Kruesi on the 14th day of March, 1893, and that Letters Patent No. 493,295 were issued to Jon Kruesi on the 14th day of March, 1893, and that Letters Patent No. 493,296 were issued to Jon Kruesi on the 14th day of March, 1893, and that Letters Patent No.

SUSPENDED LIST, JUNE 1, 1904.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

COLORADO.

BOULDER—BENTLEY & CRAIG.

IOWA.

*BURLINGTON—JOHN P. WEISS, 711 Jefferson street.
*SIOUX CITY—HATTENBACH BROS.

INDIANA.

SOUTH BEND—*EUGENE MARSH, 126 Vistula avenue.
*SOUTH BEND BOOK BINDERY, Robert Lobelt, Prop., 203 North Michigan street.

KANSAS.

CLAY CENTRE—E. M. GOWENLOCK.
LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MAINE.

BIDDEFORD—W. H. FIELD.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 374 Essex strete, E. O. MOSHER, 400 Essex street.
MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.
NANTUCKET—ARTHUR M. TAYLOR.
NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DeWOLFF.
*SOMERVILLE—E. J. WINCHESTER, 32 Summit avenue.
WOBURN—OSBORN GILLETTE, or THE BOLTON JEWELRY COMPANY, L. F. MALONEY, Manager.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.
SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.
OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

*MANCHESTER—A. E. DUMAS.
NASHUA—F. A. McMASTER & CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.
BAYONNE—I. WIGDOR, 450 Avenue D.
JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.
NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN; also New York City.
*PASSAIC—I. HURWITZ.
PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.

*Added since May 1, 1904.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus, either at addresses given or any other address.

PLAINFIELD—S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT; also New York City.
ELSTON M. LEONARD.
WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 619 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.
HOSART—F. H. MARSHALL.
NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.
*BERN BEARWALD, 373 West 11th st.
BRONX PHONOGRAPH CO., or DAVID SWITKY, 506 Willis Avenue.
CENTRAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 160 E. 42d street.
R. L. CORWIN; also Newark, N. J.
EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.
EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.
S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT, 7 Barclay st., or 68 Cortlandt st.; also Plainfield, N. J.
O. HACKER, 2 Murray street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 297 Broad way; also Philadelphia, Pa.
N. HORN, 148 E. 58th street.
R. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., 67 Cortlandt street.
W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.
S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.
J. MEYENNE, 202 Broadway.
RICHMOND PEASE, 44 W. 132d st.
P. M. PRESCOTT, 44 Broad street.
*WINTHROP CYCLE CO., 2212 Seventh avenue.
SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.
SARATOGA SPRINGS—MARVIN A. COTE.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.
SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.
URBICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2783 Emerald street.
HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street, or Oxford and Wascher streets; also New York City.
*PENN NOVELTY CO., 15 South 9th street.
PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 615 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE—J. C. BLATZEK.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2021 Second avenue.
Mobile—The Ray Co., 54 Dauphin street.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Bacigalupi, 564-566 Mission street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 605 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Cauldron & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.
New Haven—Pardee-Ritenmeyer Co., 193 Orange st.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—Kelley Cigar Co., 80-82 Wabash avenue.
James I. Lyons, 31 Fifth avenue.
The Ray Co., 90 Washington street.
Siegel-Cooper Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 179 Madison street.
The Talk-O-Phone Co., 1 Quincy.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 111 Michigan ave.
Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 222 Hedge street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Craig Jay Co., 234 Massachusetts ave.
Kipp Bros. Co., 37 S. Meridian street.
Wulf-Guasch Co., 105 S. Illinois street.
Lafayette—Wulf-Guasch Co., 304 Main street.

IOWA.

Des Moines—The Vim Co., 304 West Walnut street.
Fort Dodge—Early Music House, 820 Central ave.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 620 Fourth street.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—James I. Lyons, Theatre Arcade.
National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 614 Gravier street.
The Ray Co., 111 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—S. L. Crosby Co., 186 Exchange street.
Portland—W. H. Ross & Son, 297 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 48 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 127 Tremont street.
Oliver Ditson Co., 159 Tremont street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 165 Washington street.
Reading—Reading Washington street.
Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 197 Main street.
Lowell—Thomas Wardell, 111 Central street.
Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 304 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 106 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 219 Woodward avenue.
The Ray Co., 168 Griswold street.
Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 314 Hennepin ave.
St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 37 E. 7th street.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1017-1019 Walnut street.
The Ray Co., 1001 Grand avenue.
St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1212 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 913 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln—H. E. Siddle Cycle Co., 1310 O street.
Omaha—H. E. Prediekson, 1501-1505 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 13th and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 605 Washington street.
Newark—A. O. Petit, New and Halsey streets.
Peterson—James K. O'Dea, 172 Ellison street.
Plainfield—F. C. L. Martin Main Co.
Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

Additions to list since May 1—Giles B. Miller, Rochester, N. Y.
Removals since May 1—Rosenfeld Mfg. Co., New York; Silver Music Co., Lowell; H. J. Koehler Sporting Goods Co., Newark.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
L. D. Mabie, 1266 Fulton street, 394 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1359 Broadway.
Buffalo—P. A. Powers, 641 Main street.
Elmira—Elmira Arms Co., 117 Main street.
Gloversville—American Phonograph Co., 29 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Forsyth & Co.
New York City—Gastini Phonograph Co., 8 Chambers street.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 19 Jeekman street.
I. Davega, Jr., & Son, 265 st avenue.
I. Davega, Jr., 62 Third avenue.
S. B. Davega, 32 E. 14th street.
Douglas & Co., 82 Chambers street.
H. S. Gordon, 139 Fifth avenue.
Henry Jaekson, 129 Bowery.
Jaeobs' Band Store, 19-21 Union Square.
Victor H. Kapke, 1 Columbus Circle.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
John Wanamaker, Broadway and 4th street.
Rochester—A. J. Deal, 82 North street.
Mackie Piano Co., 74 M. Co., 100 State street.
Giles B. Miller, 63 Main street.
Talking Machine Co., 29 S. Clinton avenue.
Schenectady—Jay A. Rickard & Co., 321 State street.
Syracuse—Empire Phonograph Co., 119 Salina street.
Troy—James Leary, 209-211 Fulton street.
Utica—Clark-Horrocks Co., 74 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffleman Co., 208 N. Market street.
Cincinnati—The Ray Co., 124 W. 4th street.
The Ray Co., 125 West 5th street.
Wulf-Guasch Co., 42 W. 4th street.
Cleveland—W. J. Roberts, Jr., 854-856 Arcade.
Columbus—B. Willitt Co., 272 S. High street.
Dayton—Stuckey & Lesher, H. St. 431 street.
East Liverpool—Sam Thompson, 1st street.
Toledo—Hayes Music Co., 2nd Cherry street.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Braun, 500 Federal street.
Allentown—Wm. Knauss, 1 North Seventh street.
Easton—William Werner, 20 Northampton street.
Philadelphia—C. J. Heppe & Son, 1217 Chestnut street.
Lit Bros., Market and 6th streets.
Penn Phonograph Co., 32 S. 9th street.
John Wanamaker.
Quaker Phonograph Co., 41 N. 9th street
Western Electric Co., 31-33 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 913 Market street.
Pittsburg—Thos. Goggel Co., Inc., 419 Wood street.
Kaufmann & Baer, Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 201 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Mellor Co., 312 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 937 Liberty avenue.
Reading—Reading Phonograph Co., 801 Penn street.
Scranton—Ackerman & Co., Coal Exchange Building.
Technical Supply Co.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Dean Co., 180-182 Westminster street.
J. A. Foster Co., Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Household Furniture Co., 231-237 Weybosset street.
Harvey, Hunnewell, Young & Co., 16-30 Pine street.
A. T. Scattergood & Co., 106-110 N. Main street.

TENNESSEE.

Memphis—The Ray Co., Lyceum Building, and Jefferson streets.
Nashville—The Ray Co., 70 The Arcade.

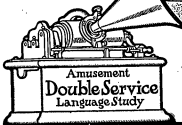
TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, Agt., 307 Main street.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 219 E. Main street.

WISCONSIN.



Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 173 3d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—G. S. Williams & Sons Co., Limited, 143 Yonge street.

Welcome to the Edison Trade

World's Fair St. Louis, 1904

YOU cannot miss our prominent building after passing through the main entrance to the Exposition. Here we will check your parcels and give you the best information about reaching the attractions. You may use our reading and writing room; and if there are any ladies in the party, they will appreciate the commodious room provided for their comfort in charge of a competent matron.

One entire wing of the building is devoted to the demonstration of the I. C. S. Language System. Thousands of visitors will be interested in the use of the Edison phonograph for "Double Service"—Amusement and Language Study. These people will question you on the subject when they return from St. Louis, for Edison dealers are the only merchants who can handle I. C. S. Language Outfits.

Important. Order sample demonstrating records for your store now. For $1.50 we will send you, express prepaid, three Edison Moulded Language Records with sample textbooks and literature in French, German, and Spanish. Edison jobbers in all parts of the world carry our Outfits in stock and make deliveries for us.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

International Correspondence Schools

SCRANTON, PA.

EDISON Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. II. NEW YORK, JULY, 1904. No. 5.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 582 MISSION STREET.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., LTD., 25 CLERKENWELL ROAD, LONDON, ENG.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

Beginning of New Conditions 1
Advance List of Edison Gold Moulded Records for August, 1904 2
Important Notice 3
Should be Easier to Fill Orders Quickly ... 3
Trustee in Bankruptcy must also sell our Goods at List Prices 4
Best Ways of Selling Edison Goods 5
How About Supplements? 5
Use Catalogues and Printed Matter 5
Printed Matter 6
Personal 6
The New Phonogram 7
A Bermuda Admirer 7
Comments on August Records 8
"Follow-up" Replies Requested 10
National Phonograph Co. in Great Britain. 10
Comments on British Records 11
More Business to Follow 12
Prayer vs. Benzine 12
Another Original Invitation 12
Another Way to Determine Speed 12
Ex-Governor Hill and the Phonograph 13
Suspended List, July 1, 1904 14
Jobbers of Edison Phonographs and Records 15

BEGINNING OF NEW CONDITIONS.

NEW YORK, June 16, 1904.

In view of the numerous inquiries received, asking whether stock orders for July Records would be shipped prior to or after changes, referred to in our letter of May 16th, were made, we would advise that July Records will be shipped and invoiced at present prices just as soon after July 1st, as possible.

After changes are made, however, we will allow rebate in the shape of credit memorandum for whatever differences there may be between the present and new price. With this assurance, it is to your interest to place your stock order for July Records at once, so that shipment will not be delayed. Orders for these Records received after June 25th, will be subject to delay.

We would further advise that all orders for any Records placed on or after July 1st, will be subject to rebate, after changes are made, for the difference between present and new price. This arrangement is made in order that you may keep your stock in shape to take care of the increased demand, which is bound to come after changes are made.

Jobbers will please advise their Dealers that they will allow them rebates in the same manner.

Yours very truly,
W. E. GILMORE,
President.

This notice, sent to every Jobber and Dealer in Edison goods, has had a most salutary effect. The sixty days' notice sent out on May 16th, as was anticipated, caused a certain falling off in business, not only with this company but with competing companies as well. We suggested to the trade that they keep their stock low, consequently no orders were placed except for goods that were absolutely needed to keep their stock complete.

When the above notice was sent out on June 16th no decision had been reached concerning new prices, etc., and it was not possible to make any announcement concerning them. The notice, however, was an assurance from this company that it would protect the trade

(Continued on page 3.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF AUGUST RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR AUGUST, 1904

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near August 1st as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to July 15th, will be shipped. August Supplements will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records. Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8749 Dance of the Hours — Edison Concert Band
Ballet music from "La Gioconda."

8750 Good-Bye, Little Girl, Good-Bye ("Par I'm Marching Away to be a Soldier") — W. H. Thompson
The new march song hit with orchestra accompaniment.

8751 Without Your Love, Ah, Let Me Die — Miss Corinne Morgan
Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment.

8752 Pretty as a Picture — Albert Benzler
Bell solo with orchestra accompaniment.

8753 I Can't Do the Sum — Edison Male Quartette
From "Babes in Toyland." Serio-comic song and chorus with orchestra accompaniment.

8754 Belle of the West (Cornet solo played by John Hazel) — Edison Military Band

8755 I Want to Be a Soldier — Byron G. Harlan
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment.

8756 Michael Clancy as a Policeman (Transferred again) — Campbell and Roberts

8757 Katinka (Intermezzo) — Edison Symphony Orchestra

8758 Little Rustic Cottage by the Stream — Harry Anthony
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment.

8759 Gone, Gone, Gone — Collins and Harlan
Coon male duet with orchestra accompaniment.

8760 On Jersey Shore March Arthur Pryor's new march — Edison Concert Band

8761 Don't You Cry My Honey — Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley
Coon lullaby, contralto and bazso duet with orchestra accompaniment.

8762 Mississippi Mamie — Harry MacDonough
Coon love song with orchestra accompaniment.

8763 Great Big Chickapoo Chief — Arthur Collins
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment.

8764 Psyche (Scherzetto) — Edison Symphony Orchestra

8765 Alexander — Billy Murray
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment.

8766 Pompernickle's Silver Wedding (Vaudeville specialty) — Len Spencer
German dialect recitation with incidental music by the orchestra.

8767 You're as Welcome as the Flowers in May — Harlan and Stanley
Descriptive tenor and baritone duet with orchestra accompaniment.

8768 Everywhere Medley — Edison Military Band
Introducing, "Everywhere," "The Man with the Ladder and the Hoe," "Starry Night for a Ramble," "My Kangaroo" and "St. Louis Rag."

8769 Minstrel Boy — William Tuson
Clarinet solo, air and variations with orchestra accompaniment.

8770 Two Eyes of Brown — James F. Harrison
Sentimental song with orchestra accompaniment.

8771 When the Coons have a Dreamland of Their Own — Bob Roberts
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment.

8772 Wanderer's Return (Phantasion Series No. 2) — Edison Male Quintette
Descriptive singing and talking selection.

8773 Two Rubes at the Circus — Harlan and Stanley
Descriptive selection introducing the arrival of the two Rubes at the side show, their trip through the menagerie, the ring performance and band, concluding with singing and dancing by the two Rubes in the concert.

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

(Continued from page 1)

in any changes that might be made, and orders at once begun to come in at a surprising rate and for unusual quantities. First came advance orders for July Records, and then for stock Records. It is evident at this date that a splendid business in Edison goods is anticipated by Jobbers and Dealers and that many of them are getting ready for it by ordering enough goods to make their stock complete. Those Dealers who have not already done so, should look over their shelves and make up orders at once, for even with our present excellent facilities it is going to be difficult for a time to fill all orders at once. Those who get in early are going to get goods first and be ready the first for a demand that is certain to come.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.
To the Trade.

Beginning with the August list of Records, all new selections listed thereafter will have the title number and name of selection moulded in white in the bevelled edge of the Record. They will also be boxed in new style cartons. Beginning July 1st, selections already listed will be changed over to conform with these improvements as rapidly as possible, but as it will take several months to complete these changes on the entire list, and as it will be impossible for us to inform you what particular selections will be changed over from time to time, we will be compelled, and reserve the right, to fill any and all orders received in the meantime with Records both of the old and new styles marking, and boxed both in old and new style cartons.

Yours very truly,

C. H. WILSON.

Manager of Sales.

New York, June 28, 1904.

MR. HARLAN TAKES A WIFE.

Byron G. Harlan, so well known to tens of thousands of owners of Edison Phonographs, and whose picture appears in the July issue of the new Phonogram, was married on June 22 to Miss Ethel Van Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Horn, of Flemington, N. J. The wedding took place at the Chelsea Hotel, New York city. The Rev. Dr. John F. Carson, of the Central Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, performed the ceremony. Only immediate relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Harlan spent their honeymoon at Point Independence, Mass. They will live in Orange, N. J.

SHOULD BE EASIER TO FILL ORDERS QUICKLY.

We recently sent a circular letter to a large number of persons who during several years past had asked us for catalogues of various kinds. Many interesting facts were gleaned from the hundreds of replies received from this letter. Of special interest to everyone selling Edison goods was the complaint of numerous writers from the rural districts that they were unable to get supplied with such goods as they wanted, because the Dealers in their towns carried but a small stock and were not able to fill orders without a delay of several weeks. There should be no occasion for such complaints as these. They do not occur where Dealers carry a full stock of Phonographs and Records, and they need not be heard concerning smaller Dealers if the proper amount of attention is given the subject. It is not feasible and probably would not be advisable for a Dealer in a small town to carry a large stock of Edison goods. The business he might do would not warrant it, even if he had the capital to invest in that way. He should, however, carry at all times a Gem, Standard and Home machine and at least 200 Records, the whole representing a very small investment. Two hundred Records, if carefully selected, will form a very fair nucleus with which to make sales. Among them can be found sufficient variety to satisfy most customers, even though they may prefer other selections in the catalogue. If a customer cannot make a choice from stock, then it should be possible to fill his order within a week. If he has not one already, every small Dealer should at once make an arrangement with his Jobber by which his order may be quickly filled. Few Dealers are so far away from their Jobbers that they cannot get goods in two days by express or in a week by freight. Paying express charges eats into the profits, but if a customer will not wait for freight trains it is better to pay expressage than to lose a sale entirely and send a patron away dissatisfied. In most cases, however, purchasers are willing to wait a reasonable time—long enough to get goods by freight if an order is put through at once.

It now needs the coöperation of the Jobber to complete the working arrangement suggested above. It is the duty of the Jobber to carry from five to twenty of every Record in the domestic catalogue if he expects to do a profitable jobbing business. Without such a stock a successful business cannot be conducted. He should also carry a well selected lot of foreign selections, one or two of each will usually meet the requirements of his trade. A little observation will enable a Jobber to determine what kinds of foreign selections are best for his territory. It goes without saying that a Jobber should always have an ample supply of machines on hand. Jobbers with such a stock of machines and Records should rarely have trouble in getting goods in the hands of Dealers within a week. Only one other thing remains to be done, i. e. keep the stock up by looking it over daily and sending orders for Record numbers running low, or for machines if the stock is not ample.

Undoubtedly much of the delay in filling orders in the past has been chargeable to this company because the demand has exceeded our factory capacity. This has been changed in the past six months and factory enlargements will enable us to do much better in this respect. The new Record plant is now in operation, giving us double the capacity of the old one, which can still be used as a reserve. It is important that Jobbers should not let their stocks run too low before they order. Bear in mind that we are farther away from you than you are from your Dealers, and the larger volume of business renders it more difficult for us to serve all at once, especially when most orders must go by freight.

TRUSTEES IN BANKRUPTCY MUST ALSO SELL OUR GOODS AT LIST PRICES

Below are printed copies of an injunction order and writ in a suit brought by the National Phonograph Company against Frederick B. Van Vleck as trustee in bankruptcy of the estate of Philip Marcus, a former dealer in Edison Phonographs and Records in Brooklyn. The injunction was granted after an extended argument before Judge Thomas. This decision is of unusual interest, for it is the first case on record where an attempt has been made to enjoin the sale of our goods under bankruptcy proceedings. Ordinarily, the trustee in jbankruptcy is empowered to dispose of the bankrupt's estate at auction for the benefit of the creditors, but this injunction establishes a precedent under which the trustee is subject to the same conditions as any one else, so far as the sale of our goods is concerned. A singular feature of the case was that the defendant, Van Vleck, was appointed trustee by Judge Thomas, who later granted the injunction restraining his appointee from selling our goods at less than the full list prices.

THE INJUNCTION.

At a stated term of the Circuit Court of the United States held in and for the Second Circuit and Eastern District of New York at the United States Court Rooms in the City of New York, Borough of Brooklyn, on the 28th day of June, 1904.

Present:

Hon. Edward B. Thomas, District Judge Presiding Judge.

EDISON PHONOGRAPH COMPANY and NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH COMPANY, Complainants,

VS.

PHILIP MARCUS and FREDERICK B. VAN VLECK, personally and as trustee in bankruptcy of the estate of Philip Marcus, Defendants.

IN EQUITY—Patents Nos. 382,418, 414,361.

A motion for a preliminary injunction herein having been made and brought on for argument upon the bill and exhibits thereto, and upon the affidavit of Frederick B. Van Vleck in opposition thereto, and after hearing Frank E. Bradley, Esq., in support of the motion, and George Brush, Esq., in opposition thereto, it is upon due consideration thereof, ORDERED that a preliminary injunction out of and under the seal of this court, strictly enjoining and restraining the defendant, Frederick B. Van Vleck, Trustee in bankruptcy of the Estate of Philip Marcus, his associates, attorneys, solicitors, clerks, servants, agents and employes until the further order of this Court from directly or indirectly using or causing to be used, selling or causing to be sold, or advertising to sell, any apparatus, articles or devices embodying or constructed or operating in accordance with the inventions and improvements set forth in Letters Patent Nos. 382,418 and 414,361, at prices lower than those at which the complainants as set forth in Schedules 1 and 2 of the Bill of Complaint, viz.:—Edison Records (standard size) at fifty cents a piece or Five dollars a dozen (if full dozen is sold at one time); Edison Concert Records at One dollar each, or twelve dollars a dozen; or without the license of complainants.

And it is also

ORDERED that the suit be dismissed as to Frederick B. Van Vleck individually without costs each as to the other.

Dated, EDWARD B. THOMAS, U. S. J.

Form approved:
Frank E. Bradley,
Solicitor for Complainants.
Geo. Brush,
Solicitor for Frederick B. Van Vleck, individually and as trustee of the estate of Philip Marcus.

THE WRIT.

The President of the United States to:

FREDERICK B. VAN VLECK as Trustee of the Estate of Philip Marcus, in bankruptcy, and Frederick B. Van Vleck individually, or his receiver upon, your associates, attorneys, solicitors, clerks, servants, workmen, agents and employes, GREETING:

WHEREAS, it has been represented to us in our Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of New York, in a certain cause of equity, wherein the National Phonograph Company and National Phonograph Company are complainants and you the said Frederick B. Van Vleck as Trustee of the Estate of Philip Marcus in bankruptcy, and Philip Marcus are defendants, that Letters Patent of the United States Nos. 382,418 and 414,361 were issued in due form of law to the said Edison Phonograph Co. and Frederick B. Van Vleck as Trustee in Bankruptcy of the said Philip Marcus, have threatened to infringe the claims of said Letters Patent Nos. 382,418 and 414,361.

NOW, THEREFORE, we strictly command and charge you, the said Frederick B. Van Vleck, Trustee in Bankruptcy of the said Philip Marcus, and your associates, attorneys, solicitors, clerks, servants, agents and employes, that you, and each of you, until the further order of this court, directly or indirectly using or causing to be used, selling or causing to be sold, or advertising to sell, any apparatus, articles or devices embodying or constructed or operating in accordance with the inventions and improvements set forth in Letters Patent Nos. 382,418 and 414,361, at prices lower than those at which the complainants as set forth in Schedules 1 and 2 of the Bill of Complaint, viz.:—Edison Records (standard size) at fifty cents a piece or Five dollars a dozen (if full dozen is sold at one time); Edison Concert Records at One dollar each, or twelve dollars a dozen; or without the license of complainants.

WITNESS, the Hon. Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States at the City of New York, Borough of Brooklyn, on the 28th day of June, 1904.

CLINCOLN BENEDICT, Clerk.

Frank E. Bradley,
Solicitor for Complainants.

BEST WAYS OF SELLING EDISON GOODS

There is no trouble in selling Phonograph goods, but articles as best methods of selling Edison goods will certainly be of ample interest to salesmen and Dealers. There are many points that govern the sale of Edison goods and will always increase it: no chance of needle, no scratch, no Records that wear out, etc. While on the other hand Edison Records are "natural as nature itself." They are durable, clear and distinct and good in many other respects. In showing up the Phonograph to an intending purchaser, use some importance to know how to suit his musical taste. Playing the right Records will help a great deal in selling the Phonograph. Many times one will buy a machine for the love of a certain kind of music. I am often asked why the Edison people do not have grand opera Records like those made in the disk records. There are a great number of grand opera instrumental pieces on pages 3 and 4 of the domestic catalogue, and it should not be forgotten that there are fine Records sung in French, German and especially in Italian in the foreign catalogue which are beautiful reproductions of fine pages of grand opera music sung by good talent. We now carry a full stock of foreign Records and do a most satisfactory business in this line.

I have sold a few outfits, consisting of two Home Phonographs complete, a number of Records and blanks to people who use one of the machines here and send the other abroad for the purpose of exchanging Records of their voices across the ocean.

To sell Phonograph goods, compare them with other makes, carry a complete stock, advertise with public demonstrations in the store, lodges, etc., and look for customers among every class of people, as the love of music is as strong in the poor as in the rich and what cheaper way is there to gratify this taste than by the Phonograph?

H. F. Tost.

With the Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 48 Hanover street, Boston, Mass.

HOW ABOUT SUPPLEMENTS?

Are you getting all the Record supplements that you can use to advantage each month, Mr. Jobber? Are you able to supply your Dealers with all they need? If not, write the Advertising Department. Can you use any more with benefit to your business, Mr. Dealer? If so, ask your Jobber for them. The most successful firms selling Edison goods are those who keep a list of all owners of Phonographs and send each of them a list of the new Records every month. Dealers who haven't such lists should lose no time in getting one up. A list of but fifty names would yield a nice business in a year, and it would only cost fifty cents a month to send them a monthly supplement.

USE CATALOGUES AND PRINTED MATTER.

It is no coincidence that the most successful Jobbers and Dealers in Edison goods are those who get out and use a liberal quantity of the catalogues and other printed matter issued by this company. We keep a record of all printed matter sent out, and the cards showing but few entries are invariably those of firms doing a limited business. We do not know just why this is so, but we would like to have such firms give the printed matter end more attention and see what effect it has upon their business. It is a form of advertising that costs little but pays handsomely. Be progressive and up-to-date. But don't get printed matter unless you can make it work effectively.

AN OFT TOLD TALE.

A Philadelphia admirer recently wrote that he owned an Edison Phonograph and 200 Records or more and then related how he came to buy an Edison outfit. He took the advice given in our advertisements and asked a Dealer in his city to play different makes. The first style shown was not an Edison.

"After he had run about twenty records," continued the writer, "I got tired of the noise and then I asked him if he would run me one on the Edison Phonograph. He did, and when he had run one piece I told him I would not have one of them 'talking machines' if given me, for it was nothing in comparison to the Edison. I have had it a little over two years. I have got one of the finest selections of Records in Kensington. Also one of the finest Phonographs I have ever heard. A friend came to my house to hear my Phonograph. He said he didn't want his 'talking machine' any more. Hundreds have heard it, and they all say that it is the best they ever heard."

PRINTED MATTER.

No effort will be made to get out a new Record catalogue before August. This is because we want to use up the quantity of No. 545 now on hand. Orders will be filled in such a manner as to keep the trade supplied without having many on hand when the new edition appears. The delay in getting out a new catalogue will give the trade about two months more time in which to dispose of the selections which are to be cut out of the new edition.

Jobbers should look over their stock of catalogues and other printed matter and when ordering machines or Records state what they need to make their stock complete. Business in Edison goods is going to be fine this fall and it is not too early to make plans to take care of it when it comes. Jobbers will naturally look out for their machine and Record stock, but it is quite important to be able to give Dealers catalogues and advertising literature when they ask for it. We have none of this to waste but we want every Dealer to have all that he can use to advantage. We give below a list of current forms from which to make up orders. A good plan would be to send the Advertising Department an inventory of catalogues, printed matter, signs, etc., on hand, with another column showing what you want sent. We will then know just how to take care of orders, and possibly be able to send some forms that have not been carrying. We try to keep the trade advised as to what we have in this line, but once in a while we learn that a Jobber does not know of a form that has been in use for some time.

CURRENT FORMS.

201. Jingle Book.
390. } Hangers.
391. }
432. }
433. }
400. Supplement of Chinese Records.
409. Colored card of boy and hatchet.
425. Record order blank.
427. How to make Records at home.
461. Supplement of Japanese Records.
467. Four-page folder.
484. Accessories Catalogue (for trade use only).
485. Coin Slot Catalogue (for trade use only).
495. Record Supplement for April
496. " " " May.
497. " " " June.
498. " " " July.
500. Machine Catalogue ("A Lasting Impression").
509. Supplement of British Records No. 1.
520. " " " " No. 2.
529. " " French-Canadian Records.
510. Numerical Record Catalogue (for trade use only).
515. Repair Parts Catalogue (for trade use only).
535. Folder showing Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph Phonographs.
540. Folder on Edison Gold Moulded Record.
545. Domestic Record Catalogue.
555. Foreign " "

Individuals or firms now on our mailing list but who are no longer handling our goods are asked to advise us of the fact, so that we may remove their names.

Victor H. Rapke, of New York, has extended his series of Record numbers on gummed sheets from 8741 to 9020. There are 280 of these numbers and they are being sold at thirty cents for the set.

A number of Jobbers and Dealers have made excellent use of the new series of border cuts shown in the May issue of the PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY. Especially good were the advertisements of the Eastern Talking Machine Co., Boston, and Graves & Co., Portland, Oregon.

PERSONAL.

William E. Gilmore, President and General Manager of the National Phonograph Company, returned on June 11 from a two months' trip to England and Europe. He visited the new plants of the company at London, Berlin, Paris and Brussels. He was accompanied by Mrs. Gilmore.

James H. White, European Sales Manager of the National Phonograph Company, arrived from London on the Bluecher on June 19. He will return on July 7.

LEADER GOES TO PRISON.

Reference was made last month to the breaking up of a gang of men who made it a business to buy Phonographs on the instalment plan from various New York Dealers and then sell them for half their value or less. We also told how Joseph Greenfield, the leader of the gang, was arrested, through the efforts of Victor H. Rapke. Greenfield later made a confession and gave the names of his confederates. He was brought before Judge McMahon, in the Court of General Sessions, New York city, on June 21, and was sentenced to three months in the penitentiary, the light sentence being due to his confession. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the others in the gang and their apprehension is daily expected. Mr. Rapke has been warmly congratulated on his success in breaking up the gang.

THE NEW PHONOGRAM.

The first issue of the new PHONOGRAM will be shipped with or just ahead of the July Records. It is especially requested that no effort will be made by either Jobbers or Dealers to send out the PHONOGRAM for retail use before the Records of the month have been received. It will contain a list of new Records each month and its distribution ahead of the receipt of the Records themselves would cause a demand that the Dealer cannot supply. A Phonograph owner, upon receiving a copy, would naturally assume that Records listed in it could be had and a useless trip to the Dealer's store would be an annoyance. It will be better for all if Jobbers will adopt a plan of sending PHONOGRAMS ordered by Dealers with their Records for the month, the same as they now do with Record Supplements. Those Jobbers who have PHONOGRAMS sent by express at their own expense may be able to beat out their competitors for a month or two in supplying Dealers a little sooner, but other Jobbers will quickly do the same thing, with the result that all will soon be incurring an expense that yields no advantage. We hope that all will see the force of this argument and will hesitate about beginning a plan that in the end will not benefit them.

Dealers who want a supply of the PHONOGRAM are urged to get them from their Jobbers, who will fill orders at the rate of 25 cents per hundred. This will yield the Jobber no profit but he will doubtless be glad to fill such orders as an accommodation and for the increased business that should result from the advertising gained through the publication. Dealers who cannot get copies in this way can have five or more copies mailed to one address by our Advertising Department at the rate of 8 cents per year for each copy. This will make five copies cost forty cents a year, most of which must be expended for postage, since publications of this kind cannot be mailed at publishers' rates. Twenty-five copies to one address will cost fifteen cents per month.

We do not expect that the first issue of the PHONOGRAM will meet the expectations of everyone in the trade, but rather expect to receive suggestions from Jobbers and Dealers that will make it a popular and useful medium for increasing business. The July issue will give half-tone pictures of Arthur Collins and Byron G. Harlan, and later issues will give one or two others of our Record making talent. This feature alone will, we believe, make the PHONOGRAM much sought for by Phonograph owners. A copy of the PHONOGRAM will be mailed to the trade each month.

ACOUSTICS TESTED BY PHONOGRAPH.

C. R. Zacharias, Dealer at Asbury Park, recently gave a practical demonstration of the excellent acoustic properties of the new Asbury Avenue Pavilion, recently built at Asbury Park. At the request of the Beach Commission, Mr. Zacharias played numerous selections in various parts of the building on a Concert Phonograph and both the musical and spoken Records were heard clearly and distinctly in all parts of the structure.

A BERMUDA ADMIRER.

Luke Goins, an employe of the Hotel Frascati, Bermuda, recently bought a Home Phonograph and a lot of Records from our Foreign Department. In acknowledging the receipt of the outfit he wrote as follows:

I came down here a year ago from Boston, my home. Up in Hamilton there is a druggist who does a large business selling patent medicines, and has a large ——— machine in the store with a great big horn out the door, and of all the noises you ever heard "that's it." Well, crowds of people stand there every Saturday evening and listen to what they think is music and think it great. Of course you know what it sounds like. About a year ago a fellow came down here with some kind of a machine and gave concerts in different towns, and he put a damper on the talking machine, as his would break down every second, and something was the matter with it all the time. Now you cannot fool these folks down here, as they are wise and know a good thing from the start. I received my machine a couple of days after the boat arrived. They were thrown in the ware room like baseballs, but to my surprise not a thing was broken or damaged. Well, I fixed things up a wee bit, and then to get her a-going. This hotel overhanges the water, or at least the verandas do, and the Home rings out as clear as a bell. The first night not many knew of it, but the second and third evenings people came from every section. Every one who has heard it says that it is simply wonderful and they can hardly believe themselves. I run the machine last night, which makes four nights I have run it, and so many people were out here and coming in on the grounds that I have concluded not to run it any more until I get a few more Records and give a few concerts and get back some of my money. I am going to give a concert next week, my first one, and I am all ready assured of good attendance. No doubt you will hear from parties down here in regard to buying machines. If you do, you can rest assured it is my good work that is doing it. In the meantime I am going to hustle and get the thing a-going, as I know there is money in it. It is the talk of the place already.

COMMENTS ON AUGUST RECORDS.

The August list of Edison Gold Moulded Records will receive more than ordinary attention throughout the world from the fact that the twenty-five selections will be the first to be made with the titles engraved on the ends, and they will be packed in our new style Record box. These inovations will do away with the blue Record slip and will make it unnecessary to wrap the Records in cotton and paper. The new boxes will also bear a handsome new label in gold, red and black on white paper. The entire outfit will be unusually attractive. A notice to the trade on the new style Record and carton is printed on page 3 of this issue.

There is a preponderance of what is known as popular music in the August list and consequently it will be a profitable one for the Dealers, for, with all that is said about the better grades of musical compositions, the public as a mass demand songs with catchy airs, and rhythmic accompaniments, with still a strong leaning toward ragtime. The admirer of a higher class of music will, however, find much in the list to suit his taste. Another feature of the list, as in July, is the number of different artists whose names appear as makers of the Records.

No. 8749, "Dance of the House," is a Record of the ballet music from the opera "La Gioconda," by Ponchielli. It is one of the most popular instrumental numbers in the opera. While it is a standard or classical number, it is at the same time very pretty and tuneful, and easily understood. It offers full scope for the excellent soloists of the Edison Concert Band, and, particularly, in the beautiful little flute effects which intermingle so charmingly with the melody. Then in the broad, clear tones of the clarionets is at once heard the top notch of both the instrumentalists' and the recorder's art. The brilliant execution of these instruments in the spirited gallop at the finale brings to a close a Record that is one of the gems of the Supplement.

No. 8750, "Good-bye, Little Girl, Good-bye," is a new march song by Cobb and Edwards. This song is somewhat similar to "Good-bye Dolly Grey" and has an equally pretty air. The introduction of bugles and an orchestra accompaniment of a martial character effectively carry out the phrase in the refrain: "For I'm Marching Away to be a Soldier," W. H. Thompson's rendition of this song is excellent.

No. 8751, "Without Your Love, Ah, Let Me Die," is a sentimental song by Charles K. Harris. It is by no means a new composition, but it is a charming tune and is admirably adapted to Miss Morgan's fine contralto voice. It is an unusually good Record of a female voice. It has an orchestra accompaniment.

No. 8752, "Pretty as a Picture," is a bell solo with orchestra accompaniment of T. B. Bishop's ever charming song and dance air. It is especially suited to the clear notes of the bells. All who hear it will recognize in it an old friend of the vaudeville stage. Albert Benzler makes the Record with his usual clever execution.

No. 8753, "I Can't Do That Sum," is a serio-comic song and chorus with orchestra accompaniment. It was one of the principle hits in the "Babes of Toyland," written by Glen MacDonough and Victor Herbert. The Record is made by the Edison Quartette. S. H. Dudley as the teacher puts the most ridiculous problems before the class and the quartette sings the chorus, giving a clever imitation of the scholars sitting on the wall and tapping their slates while singing:

"Put down six and carry two.
See! but this is hard to do.
You can think and think and think
Till your brains are numb;
I don't see what teacher says,
I can't do that sum."

No. 8754, "The Belle of the West," is the second of a series of three compositions by A. Liberati which were formerly made in wax and are now being made by the Gold Moulded process. No. 8101, "The Belle of Kentucky," was listed some time ago, and "The Belle of the East" will follow. "The Belle of the West," listed this month, is a well played Record, with a cornet solo by John Hazel as his principal feature; in fact, it could have been equally well listed as a cornet solo with band accompaniment. There is an absence of frills in the cornet playing that is sure to please. The Record is made by the Edison Military Band.

No. 8755, "I Want to be a Soldier," is a descriptive song by William Cahill and is sung by Byron G. Harlan. In it a boy sings of his determination when he grows up to take his father's place and be a soldier. The orchestra accompaniment is of a military character with fifes, drums, etc. Mr. Harlan's work is fully up to his reputation as a Record maker of the highest order.

No. 8756, "Michael Clancy as a Policeman," is a talking and singing Record by Campbell and Roberts. It tells of the troubles of Clancy, includes the singing of "My Little Irish Canary" and closes with Clancy being found off his beat by the sergeantman and "transferred again."

No. 8757, "Carmina," is an intermezzo written by Lee Orean Smith and is played by the Edison Symphony Orchestra. This composition has considerable character and is a most attractive air. It is listed in response to calls from the West where it is now very popular. It will be equally popular wherever the Record is sold.

No. 8758, "The Little Rustic Cottage by the Stream," is another Record by Harry Anthony whose rendition of "I'm Longing for My Old Kentucky Home" in the March list made him one of our most popular artists. We have had many requests from Phonographs for a new Mr. Anthony make other Records and have just succeeded in getting him to do so. "The Little Rustic Cottage by the Stream" is well adapted to Mr. Anthony's fine voice, and cannot fail to heighten the reputation he has already gained. The words of this composition are by M. H. Rosenfeld and the music by John and Otto Heinzman.

No. 8759, "Gone, Gone, Gone," a coon male duet by Collins and Harlan, with orchestra accompaniment, is one of the most popular Records of its kind in the August list. The chorus has an unusually catchy air. It will make it one of the leading songs of the season. Especially good is the singing of the opening and closing words in the chorus, "Gone, Gone, Gone." It is a ragtime song, pure and simple, and Collins and Harlan have made a splendid Record of it. The song was written by T. J. Farron, Jr., and the music by Joseph M. Hollander.

No. 8760, "On Jersey Shore March," played for our Record by the Edison Concert Band, is issued with the full confidence that it will be a big favorite, not only as a Record, but as a selection. It is Arthur Pryor's latest, and, we think, his best composition. The melody which begins the trio and concludes the march lingers in the memory, and the more it is heard the more it is enjoyed. We venture the opinion that this strain will be whistled from ocean to ocean.

No. 8761, "Don't You Cry, My Honey," is a coon lullaby and is sung as a contralto and basso duet, with orchestra accompaniment, by Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley. Perfect blending of voices and excellent rendition make this a charming Record. This composition was written by Albert M. Noll.

No. 8762, "Mississippi Mamie," is a clever Record, sung with clear enunciation by Harry MacDonough. This is a coon love song and already has a wide popularity. It is made with orchestra accompaniment. The words are by Andrew B. Sterling and the music by Maxwell Silser.

No. 8763, "A Great Big Chickapoo Chief," tells how a darky minister, disguised as an Indian chief, was found robbing a neighbor's chicken coop. He denied that he was a colored man and claimed that he was an Indian chief, simply after feathers to decorate his head. His captor, however, declares that he is disillusioned by the kink in his hair. This coon song Record is made by Arthur Collins in his inimitable style and has the usual orchestra accompaniment. Edward Madden wrote the words of the song and Victor Morse the music.

No. 8764, "Psyche" (Scherzetto), played by the Edison Symphony Orchestra, is quite a remarkable Record, introducing as it does the staccato bowing of the violins, clear and distinct, and in perfect unison. The string harmony effects are strikingly well defined throughout the Record, and the 'cello passages are rich with the characteristic tones of this instrument. The playful character of the composition, in parts, admits of splendid ography users to have Mr. Anthony make opportunities for the woodwind instruments, as does the crescendos, working up to double forte climaxes for the brass instruments. Harry Palser, the composer, doubtless had no idea that his composition would find its way to the Phonograph, but had he written it specially for the purpose it could not have been better adapted.

No. 8765, "Alexander," is Billy Murray's monthly coon song contribution, with orchestra accompaniment. It is the plea of a colored girl to her lover to be taken back into his affections, and is a sort of "Bill Bailey" song with the conditions reversed. "Alexander" has already become widely known and is daily increasing in popularity. The words are by Andrew B. Sterling and the music by Harry Von Tilzer.

No. 8766, "Pompernickle's Silver Wedding," is Len Spencer's vaudeville specialty for the month. It is a German dialect recitation with incidental music. Pompernickle is supposed to be addressing an audience in a vaudeville theatre and telling them about his silver wedding. He hasn't been married twenty-five years, but he had the celebration because he "needed the silver." He then proceeds to tell about the good things that were served at the supper, the orchestra at the same time playing "Wouldn't That Make You Hungry." This is one of the best things Mr. Spencer has made in a good while.

No. 8767, "You're Welcome as the Flowers in May," is an exceedingly attractive tenor and baritone duet by Harlan and Stanley, with orchestra accompaniment. Many will agree that this is one of the best Records in the August list. The composition is by Dan J. Sullivan.

No. 8768, "Everywhere Medley," by the Edison Military Band, introduces "Everywhere," "The Man with the Ladder and the Hose," "A Starry Night for a Ramble," "My Hungaroo" and "The St. Louis Rag." The band execution of this Record is unusually good.

No. 8769, "The Minstrel Boy," is a clarinet solo by William Tuson, played in an artistic manner. The air is played with variations, and the clarinet is accompanied by the orchestra.

No. 8770, "Two Eyes of Brown," is a fine baritone Record by James F. Harrison, whose splendid baritone voice has made him one of the most popular of our Record making force. "Two Eyes of Brown" is a sentimental song and is given with orchestra accompaniment. The words were written by Edward Madden and the music by Stephen Howard.

No. 8771, "When the Coons Have a Dreamland of Their Own," is a coon song with orchestra accompaniment in which Bob Roberts tells of the wonderful things that will happen when this pleasure resort for colored people has been established. This will be a popular Record. The words and music are by Heelan and Helf.

No. 8772, "The Wanderer's Return," is No. 3 and the last of the Plantation Series. It is a descriptive singing and talking selection by the Edison Male Quintette and tells how Ephraim returns to his father after an absence of fifteen years. The Record opens with singing by the darkies after which Ephraim appears on the scene, discloses his identity and states that he is rich enough to buy the freedom of Uncle Jasper. More singing follows and the Record closes with Uncle Jasper giving thanks.

No. 8773, "Two Rubes at the Circus," is another laughable Rube sketch by Harlan and Stanley. It gives their progress through the side show and menagerie, with funny remarks about the monkey, lion and the elephant. While they are in the latter place the band is heard playing in the distance; as they approach the ring performance the music increases in volume until they have entered the main tent. They witness the ring performance and attend the concert at the close, in which they are invited to sing and dance.

"FOLLOW UP" REPLIES REQUESTED.

Dealers who have recently had retail inquiries referred to them by this company have found that responses to them are requested by us. This is being done for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not Dealers are giving the inquiries proper attention. We will thank Dealers to endeavor to make a sale in each instance and at the end of three weeks to fill in the return card and mail it to us. We will then know whether or not it is desirable to send the inquirer a second letter.

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO. IN GREAT BRITAIN.

From the Talking Machine News, London.

It was but the other day that the invasion of Great Britain by the National Phonograph Company took place. Not that the talking machine world was not well and favorably acquainted with them and their products long before. That was how the desire to become better acquainted came about. Hence the plant in the Gray's Inn Road for making masters, and hence, still more recently, the leasing of the fine premises at the corner of John street and City Road, Clerkenwell, appropriately by-the-way, a goodly share of both thoroughfares. And, as Mr. James H. White, Managing Director, of the company, mentioned to me in the course of our chat, this new distributing center of theirs has in a few short months already become inadequate, so that they already contemplate a further extension. Yet there are seven floors to the present building, with a floor space of about seventeen thousand feet. Indeed, in going over the building in company with Mr. White, I felt as thought I were doing the Grand Tour. We passed in rapid succession through the correspondence department, the invoicing department, the credit department, the order department, the show room, the Record stock rooms, the packing and shipping rooms, the repair shop, and, last but not least, the agreement department. For the agreement is one of the special features of the National Phonograph Company's methods of business.

"We have," said Mr. White, to me, "upwards of eight thousand British agreements in operation. That is to say, of course, that we have that number of traders selling our goods all the time. In Germany we have about seven thousand agreements going."

"Can you give me an approximate idea of how many Edison Gold Moulded Records have been sold up to now?" I asked.

"That is rather a large order to fill at a moment's notice," replied Mr. White. "But I will look into the matter for you."

And the figures, as since forwarded me, stand at the pretty little total of about thirty millions.

"Since when," said I, "shall you date the figures?"

"Since August, 1901, when the Edison Gold Moulded was first put on the market. It began to 'go big' in March, 1902, and has been going big ever since. There has not been a time since then when we have been able to fill all the orders which have come to hand. We are only just now beginning to catch up with the trade. That has come about as the result of the installation of our three manufacturing plants on the Continent, which are at the present time running continuously night and day. We have a plant in France, at 61, Rue de Cormeille, Levallois-Perret; a plant in Brussels, at 56, Quai du Halage; and a plant at Berlin—the principal one—at 24-25, Sud-Ufer. Brussels, however, was the first place where we laid down a plant."

"You do not anticipate having a plant this side the Channel?"

"Yes; we shall probably have one in going order in about eighteen months or two years from now. Meanwhile, we start another Record-making plant in Russia next year, and are making masters in Russia now."

"How long has your British repertoire been going?"

"Nine months, and we are adding to it month by month. Our master plant in the Gray's Inn Road is a permanent establishment for the manufacture of British selections. I may say that while we have had considerable success with them, it has not made the least difference to the sale of our American Records. The output has simply been increased all around. By the way, we are printing 500,000 of these booklet catalogues for the British trade."

It was an attractive little publication in gold, blue and green, labelled "Edison Gold Moulded Records. Domestic Selections," and contains all the selections listed up to, and including, March, 1902. This booklet will be a most useful little guide to buyers of records.

"The world staff of the National Phonograph must be pretty strong in point of numbers?" was my question.

"Yes, we employ between four and five thousand people, not reckoning the office force, which would probably amount to a thousand more. That is directly; indirectly, through our agents, of course we employ many thousands more."

We made our way back through the stock rooms, with a capacity of 1,500,000 Records. And against the shelves, already crammed to repletion, there stood numberless cases waiting until there was room for them to disgorge their contents. Downstairs, in the basement, stood similar cases, tier upon tier and rank upon rank—each one holding three hundred Records. On the other side were stacks of machines, packed ready for delivery to the carrying companies. And yet all these by no means represent the business done in the Clerkenwell premises. For numbers of orders each year pass through the European headquarters only in a technical sense. That is to say, they are ordered from abroad, cleared in Clerkenwell, and sent on direct to the larger factors who have placed them, without so much as entering the Clerkenwell Road warehouse.

"Your readers," said Mr. White, next, "will be interested to hear that we are organizing a department for handling our increasing cinematograph business. At the present time our machines and films reach the showmans' through other firms. When we have the new department in going order we shall sell direct."

COMMENTS ON BRITISH RECORDS.

The following comments from the Talking Machine News, of London, refer to Edison Gold Moulded Records made in Great Britain and called British Records. A few of them have already been listed in this country; the others will be listed later:

The National Phonograph Company's Records last month arrived too late for us to review the whole of them in our May issue. We have now had time to go carefully over the remainder, and cannot speak too highly of the excellent selection of band Records which this firm is turning out. The Grenadier Guards, in a selection from "Carmen," the "New Colonial March," a stirring and melodious march, and the waltz "Night Breezes," with its soft, stirring refrain, are all three good specimens of high-class band records, as also is the selection from Les Cloches de Corneville. In these Records the brasses ring out true and clear without blasting. This remark also applies to the selections by the British Military Band, whose selections are "Here, There, and Everywhere," and the "Dublin Fusiliers." These two marches should go well. "The Passing of Regime," with a quaint trumpet effect, the "Happy Darkies Barn Dance," and the "Bunale of Mischief Cakewalk" are also three popular numbers, with plenty of life in them, whilst the "Fleeting Moments Galop" and "Forget-Me-Not Intermezzo" are well played, as also are the "Sons of the Brave March" and the "Banzi Overture." Hamilton Hill's powerful voice in "Somebody's Sailor Boy," "Love's Proving," "When We Meet, Sunshine Above," "While Life Shall Last," "What Might Have Been," and the "Anglo-Saxon Language," with orchestral accompaniment makes a very fine Record. Leonard Mackay gives us "My Pa," "Father's Footsteps," "What I Have I'll Hold," and "Yo, Ho, Little Girls," with much effect, while Miss Edith Manly's comic powers are clearly rendered in the "Piccadilly Johnny." Our Scotch friends would do well to obtain the Thomas Reid Records, given in the Scot's dialect. Among those sent are "Blue Bonnets over the Border," "Banks of Allan Water," "Kelvin Grove," "Duncan Gray," and "John Anderson." Fred Daniels in Dan Leno's famous patter song, with the eulogy on cups, would be difficult to beat. It is one of the best comics that has been brought to our notice. The National this month sends us their special All Star Records, as per their list for June. The comic element is well to the fore. Ernest Shand contributes "Little Mary," "Bang went Sixpence," "Don't Mention It, Please," "I Only Meant to be Polite," and "More Trouble in Store for Someone." T. E. Dunville, the well known music hall comedian, gives us "Three Stages of Woman," "Nine Distant Highlanders," "Empire Within," and the "Volunteer Fireman." Phil Ray, who is as usual up-to-date, is heard to advantage in "Let Her Drown," "I'll Ride It," "Nonsense," "The Restless Wife," "I'm Not a Coon," "Only Seventeen," "The Mad Wife," and a humorous recitation, "The Parting." Gus Elen's coster Records show a marked improvement on any we have before heard by him. They comprise "Who Could be Happier than Me," "The Postman's Holiday," "The Lucky Treasure Seeker," "The New Perjams 'At," and "The Faithless Dinah." George Bantow sings "I Didn't Know What to Do," "Varner Giles," "Mother's Nursery Rhymes," and "Let Us Pause amid Life's Pleasures;" and Lloyd Morgan is responsible for that quaint nigger melody, "I'se Awaiting for You, Josie." Dutch Daly, who has for so long held a high place not only as a "patter" artist, but for his inimitable business with the concertina, is well reproduced in "Stories" and "A Few Words on Love." They are laughable in the extreme. His concertina solos, "American Airs," "The Carnival" and "Imitations" are unique examples of what can be done with the concertina. In our opinion, two of the best Records sent us are by Joe O'Gorman, whose brogue in "Flanagan's Hotel Expenses" and "Flanagan at the Front" is not only rich, but at the same time quite distinct. He also contributes "What Did Patsy Do?" "Three Men Went out a-Hunting," and the "Irish Jubilee." Amongst the serious contributions we have Bruno Hesse in the Norwegian songs, "Solfeste," "Ege Eiblu," "Gamle Mor," and "Ved Rundarne:" and Hamilton Hill in "Who Goes For a Sailor," "Fuzzy Faces," "Good Luck to Japan," "The John Bull Store," and "No Alien Need Apply." No list would appear to be complete without some songs by Hamilton Hill. He certainly makes excellent Records. The British Military Band is responsible for Popular Songs, No. 7, with its catch waltz refrain on the reeds, "The Duchess of Dantzic," Nos. 1 and 2, "The Overture to Oberon," "The Orchid," and the "Earl and the Girl."

MORE BUSINESS TO FOLLOW.

We, also, wish to add our tribute to your Gold Moulded Records. To say that they are superb is putting it mildly.

We, as you are well aware, have had an uphill row to hoe with machines and records on all sides being sold at any price to get rid of them, and of course many people buy who do not appreciate the difference between the sweet music produced by the Edison and the scratchy, noisy, so-called music produced by various other machines because they could be bought for little or nothing. However, we have done much missionary work and some business and looks like much more to follow, especially when your contemplated changes are made.

Then, too, your method of protecting your agents is very commendatory. We always know that we are just as good as some one else.

Each month's list seems to be a little improvement over the last. Right here we wish to suggest that "Rock of Ages," sung by Campbell and Harrison, would seem to us to be a winner from the fact that the portion of this hymn sung in No. 8508 is the finest we have ever heard, and that is the sentiment of all who heard it.

SMITH & MOYER.

Dixon, Ill., June 13, 1904.

ANOTHER ORIGINAL INVITATION.

H. Schmidt & Son Co., Dealers at Muscatine, Ia., sends another bit of original printed matter in the shape of the following invitation to a Phonograph concert:

SATURDAY IS "RECORD DAY."

We cordially invite you to attend the concert given on that day by the world's most wonderful musician, "The Edison Phonograph."

Our Record shelves are filled with "Edison's Gold Moulded Records," the only Records that embody "PERFECTION" and "LASTING QUALITIES," everything that is good, new and up-to-date, including the June selections. 2,500 Records in all have been received for this "Record Day."

We trust that you will accept this invitation so that you may hear what the "Edison Phonograph, with Gold Moulded Records" can do. It is the only playing machine that possesses lasting qualities and will furnish music and other amusement for years to come.

Saturday is the day, don't forget it.

H. SCHMIDT & SON CO.

Muscatine, Iowa, June 9, 1904.

BEST THEY EVER HEARD.

I handle nothing but Edison machines and Records and have no trouble to get my price for them. I have had hundreds tell me that I have the best machine they ever heard. It's because I have nothing but new Records and they are the best.

LEOPOLD J. SCHREIBER.

Plymouth, Mass., June 12, 1904.

PRAYER VS. BENZINE.

A. C. D. Loucks, manager for Douglas & Co., of New York, sends the following:

The following story may interest readers of the MONTHLY. Some weeks since we received from a Brooklyn customer, a letter demanding the prompt attendance of one of our repair men to adjust his Triumph Phonograph. We sent the man, who, on his return, told the following story:

The owner took him up into a second story room, uncovered the instrument and to demonstrate the requirements of the occasion, placed "Lead, Kindly Light" Record on the mandrel, but the light would not lead, nor the machine run. The owner then spread a paper in the center of the room, placed the instrument carefully thereon, and asked the repair man to kneel down, while he asked the blessing of the Great Spirit on their work. The prayer proved a lengthy one and the position an uncomfortable one to the visitor. After ten minutes of exhortation the latter stealthily removed his benzine and oil cans and applied their contents to the Phonograph. After five minutes more of exhortation it was found that the Phonograph operated without trouble. The owner stated that the sending of such a nice Christian man on the part of Douglas & Co. bespoke the standing of the house. The prompt answer to prayer was a perfect manifestation of the Spirit's power. The repair man being a somewhat wild cat, thinks he has an idea it was more the work of the Devil and a can of benzine.

ANOTHER WAY TO DETERMINE SPEED.

"I have tried several devices for determining the speed of Phonographs," writes J. A. Bedworth, a Dealer at South Boston, Mass., "but they do not give satisfaction. I have had great success with a little scheme of my own. I take any record or blank and make a mark from one end of the record to the other. By putting this record on the machine and standing in front or any where near the horn, I find it much easier to count the required revolutions by hearing the click through the horn than to hold the finger on the set-screw. It also gives you the correct number of revolutions a machine makes in doing actual work. Most people retard the motion of the machine when putting their finger on the set-screw."

WITH APOLOGIES TO ANANIAS.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 23.—(Special.)—A runaway horse attached to a sewing machine wagon on Park drive was stopped to-day at the Falls of the Schuylkill by a Phonograph playing at the window of Samuel MacWhinney's residence near the drive. The horse had run from Main street and Walnut lane, Manayunk, nearly two miles, when the Phonograph sang out through a megaphone attachment the old song:

"Hey, Nellie, Hi, Nellie, listen unto me."

The horse, which happened to be named Nellie, pricked up its ears and stopped and the driver soon arrived and took charge of it.—Chicago Tribune.

NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH'S EXHIBIT AT ST. LOUIS.

EX-GOVERNOR HILL AND THE PHONOGRAPH.

Some time ago there appeared in many of the New York daily papers in prominent positions, a news item, headed "PHONOGRAPH BOTHERS GOVERNOR HILL." As many of the trade may have read this article, which was incorrect, I write to give you a correct version of the affair. Ex-Governor Hill occupies the office adjoining my Phonograph Concert Room. As I sell Edison Records it is of course unnecessary to state the store is busy all the time. There never was the ghost of a kick from Mr. Hill, who enjoyed the delightful music from our Edison Phonographs, until one day we had occasion to play a disk machine. (We don't have much call for them, anyway.) Then the trouble began. He would not stand for that.

As a result I have decided not to handle the disk goods. I want a machine and records to sell that are good enough for an ex-Governor of New York State. I have decided that that machine is the Edison, and the establishment is now being run with the aid of Edison goods only. All is harmony now, as far as talking machines are concerned.

W. J. KILLEA,
Albany Phonograph Headquarters.

NO GRAPHS OR GRAMS.

We sell nothing but Edison goods. We do not sell buzz saws. We sell Edison Phonographs in homes where they have other kinds of talking machines. They always want to trade their graph or gram in part payment for an Edison, but we tell them nixy.

C. C. THOMPSON & SON.

Barnboo, Wis., June 22, 1904.

SUSPENDED LIST, JULY 1, 1904.—SUPERSEDING ALL PREVIOUS LISTS.

COLORADO.

BOULDER—BENTLEY & CRAIG.

IOWA.

BURLINGTON—JOHN P. WEISS, 721 Jefferson street.

SIOUX CITY—HATTENBACH BROS.

INDIANA.

SOUTH BEND—EUGENE MARSH, 126 Vistula avenue.

SOUTH BEND BOOK BINDERY, Robert Leboli, Prop., 203 North Michigan street.

KANSAS.

CLAY CENTRE—E. M. GOWENLOCK.

LAWRENCE—BELL BROS.

MAINE.

BIDDEFORD—W. H. FIELD.

MASSACHUSETTS.

LAWRENCE—LORD & CO., 314 Essex street, E. O. MOSHER, 420 Essex street.

*JOHN E. O'NEIL.

MALDEN—A. T. FULLER.

NANTUCKET—ARTHUR M. TAYLOR.

NEW BEDFORD—H. B. DeWOLFF.

SOMERVILLE—E. J. WINCHESTER, 32 Summit avenue.

WOBURN—OSBORN GILLETTE, or THE BOSTON JEWELRY COMPANY, L. P. MALONEY, Manager.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT—F. J. SCHWANKOVSKY.

SAGINAW—GEO. W. EMENDORFER.

MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN—THE WITTMANN CO.

OMAHA—THE WITTMANN CO.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

*HILLSBORO BRIDGE—E. M. BARNES.

MANCHESTER—A. E. DUMAS.

NASHUA—F. A. McMASTER & CO.

NEW JERSEY.

ATLANTIC CITY—SAMUEL D. WOLF, 32-34 Arkansas avenue.

BAYONNE—I. VOIDOR, 450 Avenue D.

JERSEY CITY—W. L. HOFFMAN, 151 Montgomery street.

NEWARK—R. L. CORWIN; also New York City.

PASSAIC—I. HURWITZ.

PATERSON—CHAS. H. KELLY, 25 N. Main st.

*Added since June 1, 1904.

Jobbers and Dealers are asked to co-operate with us, FOR OUR MUTUAL GOOD, by being careful that they do not supply any of the above named firms with our apparatus, either at addresses given or any other address.

PLAINFIELD—S. W. FRUCHT, or R. FRUCHT; also New York City. ELSTON M. LEONARD.

WEST HOBOKEN—EMIL HOLLANDER, or THE WEST HOBOKEN BICYCLE & PHONOGRAPH CO., 629 Spring street.

NEW YORK.

BEDFORD PARK—GEO. H. TYRRELL.

HOBART—P. H. MARSHALL.

NEW YORK CITY—A. T. ARMSTRONG, or AMERICAN PHONOGRAPH CO., 106 Wall street.

BERN BEARWALD, 373 West 12th St.

BRONX PHONOGRAPH CO., or DAVID SWITKY, 356 Willis Avenue.

CENTRAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 160 E. 42d street.

R. L. CORWIN; also Newark, N. J.

EAGLE PHONOGRAPH CO., or C. LOWENTHAL, 83 Nassau Street.

EMPIRE PHONOGRAPH CO., 2 West 14th street.

S. W. FRUCHT; or R. FRUCHT, 7 Bar clay st., or 68 Cortlandt st.; also Plainfield, N. J.

O. HACKER, 2 Murray street.

HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 997 Broadway; also Philadelphia, Pa.

N. HORN, 148 E. 58th street.

W. L. ISAACS, 114 Fulton street.

S. LEMBURG & CO., 194 Broadway.

J. McELLYNNE, 209 Broadway.

RICHMOND PEASE, 44 W. 132d st.

P. M. PRESCOTT, 41 Broad street.

WINTHROP CYCLE CO., 2212 Seventh avenue.

SARATOGA—W. J. TOTTEN.

SARATOGA SPRINGS—MARVIN A. COTE.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI—J. L. ANDEM.

*CHRISTOPHER—BURNS & GOSSER.

SPRINGFIELD—D. & M. VANDERPOOL.

URBICHSVILLE—F. A. MAZURIE.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA—A. R. CASSIDY, 2783 Emerald street.

HAWTHORNE & SHEBLE, 604 Chestnut street, or Oxford and Wascler streets; also New York City.

PENN NOVELTY CO., 15 South 9th street.

*PHOENIXVILLE—KEINARD BROS.

PITTSBURG—A. LIPPARD, 625 Wylie avenue.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE—F. P. MOORE.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE—J. C. BLATZEK.

JOBBERS OF EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

ALABAMA.

Birmingham—The Ray Co., 2003 Second avenue.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco—Peter Ineichapel, 764-768 Mission street.

COLORADO.

Denver—Denver Dry Goods Co., 620 16th street.

CONNECTICUT.

Middletown—Cauldin & Post Co., 406-408 Main street.

New Haven—Darden-Eisenberger Co., 135 Orange st.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago—James I. Lyons, 19 Fifth avenue.
The Ray Co., 97 Washington street.
Talking Machine Co., State and Congress sts.
Talking Machine Co., 199 Madison street.
The Vim Co., 88 Clark street.
Montgomery Ward & Co., 191 Michigan ave.

Peoria—Peoria Phonograph Co., 322 Bridge street.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis—Graham Co., 231 Massachusetts ave.
Kipp Bros. Co., 37 S. Meridian street.
Talking Machine Co., 105 S. Illinois street.

Lafayette—Wabl-Guesch Co., 304 Main street.

IOWA.

Des Moines—The Vim Co., 704 West Walnut street.

Fort Dodge—Gatti Music House, 822 Central ave.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville—The Ray Co., 620 Fourth street.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans—James I. Lyons, Theatre Arcade.
National Automatic Fire Alarm Co., 624 Carondelet street.
The Ray Co., 121 Camp street.

MAINE.

Bangor—S. L. Crosby Co., 186 Exchange street.

Portland—W. H. Ross & Son, 507 Commercial street.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston—Boston Cycle & Sundry Co., 8 Hanover street.
Eastern Talking Machine Co., 177 Tremont street.
Oliver Ditson Co., 150 Tremont street.
Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 163 Washington street.
Read & Read, 418 Washington street.

Fitchburg—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 247 Main street.

Lowell—Thomas Wardell, 121 Central street.

Worcester—Iver Johnson Sporting Goods Co., 364 Main street.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—American Phonograph Co., 206 Woodward avenue.
Grinnell Bros. Music House, 259 Woodward avenue.
The Vim Co., 168 Griswold street.

Saginaw—Morley Bros.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis—Thomas C. Hough, 504 Hennepin ave.

St. Paul—Minnesota Phonograph Co., 37 E. 7th s treet.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City—J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., 1003-1005 Walnut street.
The Ray Co., 1001 Grand avenue.

St. Louis—Conroy Co., 1114 Olive street.
The Ray Co., 903 Olive street.

NEBRASKA.*

Lincoln—H. E. Sidles Cycle Co., 1317 O street.

Omaha—H. E. Fredrickson, 1206-1210 Capitol avenue.
Nebraska Cycle Co., 1318 and Harney streets.

NEW JERSEY.

Hoboken—Eclipse Phonograph Co., 205 Washington street.

Newark—A. O. Petit, New and Halsey streets.

Paterson—James K. Flynn, 119 Ellison street.

Trenton—Stoll Blank Book and Stationery Co., 30 E. State street.

Removed since June 1, 1904. Kelley Cigar Co., Chicago; P. C. L. Martin Auto Co., Plainfield, N. J.

NEW YORK.

Brooklyn—Chapman & Co., Fulton and Duffield streets.
A. D. Matthews' Sons, 394 Fulton street.
Price Phonograph Co., 1048 Broadway.
Ehrlich Bros., 61 Main street.
Elmira—Illinois Arms Co., 119 Main street.
Glovers—Johnstown Phonograph Co., 39 W. Fulton street.
Kingston—Parsell & Davis, 302 Wall street.
New York City—Bettini Phonograph Co., 80 Chambers street.
Blackman Talking Machine Co., 19 Thirty-fourth street.
J. F. Blackman & Son, 963-965 2d avenue.
I. Davega, Jr., 602 Third avenue.
S. B. Davega, 30 E. 14th street.
Douglas & Co., 89 Chambers street.
Fifth Avenue Co., 23 Fifth avenue.
Harry Hanson, 1876 Broadway.
Ingot Music Co., 36 Union Square.
Victor L. Kappe, 1662 Second avenue.
Siegel-Cooper Co., Sixth avenue and 18th street.
John Wanamaker, Broadway and 9th street.

Rochester—A. J. Dettinger, 347 North street.
Mackie Piano, O. & M. Co., 100 State street.
Otten to Miller, 63 State street.
Talking Machine Co., 70 S. Clinton avenue.

Schenectady—Wm. Wilkinson, 316 State street.

Syracuse—W. D. Andrews, 216 E. Fayette street.

Troy—James Lucey, 359-361 Fulton street.

Utica—Clark-Horrocks Co., 54 Genesee street.

OHIO.

Canton—Klein & Heffelman Co., 216 N. Market street.

Cincinnati—Ilsen & Co., 25 W. 6th street.
The Ray Co., 119 West 4th street.
Wabl-Guesch Co., 42 W. 4th street.

Cleveland—The Ray Co., 1109 Euclid avenue.

Columbus—Perry B. Hough, 82 E. Gay and Third streets.

Dayton—Nicholas & Bothe Co., 32 S. High street.

East Liverpool—Smith & Phillips Music Co.

Toledo—Hayes Music Co., 601 Cherry street.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Allegheny—Henry Braun, 300 Federal street.

Allentown—D. L. Auchenbach, 26 Hamilton street.

Easton—William Warner, 402 Northampton street.

Philadelphia—C. J. Heppe & Son, 1300 Chestnut street.
Ed. Ross, Market and 8th streets.
The Ray Co., 1031 Chestnut st.
John Wanamaker, Thirteenth st.
Wells Phonograph Co., 41 N. 9th street
Western Electric Co., 232-234 Market street.
H. A. Weymann & Son, 1303 Market street.

Pittsburg—Theo. P. Bentel Co., Inc., 432 Wood street.
Kaufmann Bros., Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 501 Fifth avenue.
C. C. Mellor Co., 319 Fifth avenue.
Pittsburg Phonograph Co., 237 Liberty avenue.

Reading—Reading Phonograph Co., 829 Penn street.

Scranton—Ackerman & Co., Coal Exchange Building.
Technical Supply Co.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence—J. M. Dean Co., 184-188 Westminster street.
J. A. Foster Co., Weybosset and Dorrance streets.
Horgan Furniture Co., 231-233 Weybosset street.
Murray, Blanchard, Young & Co., 96-98 Pine street.
A. T. Scattergood & Co., 106-110 N. Main street.

TENNESSEE.

Memphis—The Ray Co., Lyceum Building, and 208 Second street.

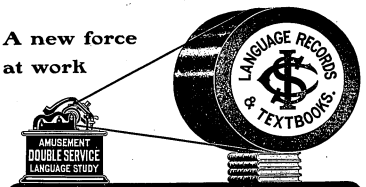
Nashville—The Ray Co., 30 The Arcade.

TEXAS.

Dallas—C. B. Harris, Adv. 342 Main street.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond—The Ray Co., 319 E. Main street.



WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee—McGreal Bros., 122 3d street.

CANADA.

Toronto—R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Limited, Yonge street.

A new force at work

The Power of Education

AN I. C. S. Language Outfit gives the Edison Phonograph power to teach a foreign tongue in the most convenient and practical manner. It cost $50,000 to produce this instruction—an amount invested for you, Mr. Edison Dealer, should you care to represent "double service"—amusement and language study.

Do not underestimate the importance of this great educational movement. The moulded language record alone marks an advancement as distinct in its character as the invention of printed books; here we have permanent metal moulds "printing" pronunciation on the wax for the ear just as the type prints the textbooks for the eye.

The public is quick to grasp the value of a standard language, both oral and written, printed from the same masters that have supplied instruction to leading colleges and thousands of successful students.

$25.00 Pays for a Complete Language

(Liberal Discount to the Trade)

An Outfit in either French, German, or Spanish, includes 25 Edison Gold Mould Language Records, reproducing 6,000 words; and four handsomely bound I. C. S. textbooks of over 2,000 pages.

Demonstrations Prove the Value. We have acquired a special demonstrating outfit for the Edison trade furnished without profit to introduce I. C. S. Language Outfits; contains 3 Moulded Language Records and Textbooks in French, German, and Spanish, with special literature for dealers' imprint. Price, $1.00 complete, delivered in U. S. and Canada. SEND NOW.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

International Correspondence Schools

Scranton, Pa.

EDISON Phonograph Monthly

PUBLISHED FOR TRADE USE ONLY BY THE NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO.

VOL. II. NEW YORK, AUGUST, 1904. No. 6.

The National Phonograph Co.,
ORANGE, N. J.

NEW YORK: 83 CHAMBERS STREET.
CHICAGO: 304 WABASH AVENUE.
SAN FRANCISCO: 568 MISSION STREET.
NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., LTD., 25 CLERKENWELL ROAD, LONDON, ENG.

EDISON PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS.

All communications to THE PHONOGRAPH MONTHLY should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 83 Chambers Street, New York.

C O N T E N T S

A Great Future Ahead	1
Advance List of Edison Gold Moulded Records for September	2
The New Agreement	3
How to Determine Imitation Air Holes in Records	5
Composers Names Added	5
The Whole Trade Awake and Hustling	5
New Carton and New Style Marking	6
Dealers Should Sign Promptly	6
How to Handle New Agreements	7
Where to Send Orders and Correspondence	7
Printed Matter	7
A Word to Canadian and Foreign Dealers	7
Comments on September Records	8
Coin Slot Phonographs	10
The Phonogram	10
New Record Catalogue	10
Change Catalogues to New Prices	11
Get Ready for Fairs	11
A Striking Sign	12
Our St. Louis Booklet	12
Suspended List, August, 1, 1904	14
Jobbers in Edison Phonographs and Records	15

A GREAT FUTURE AHEAD.

As premised by the sixty days' notice sent out on May 16th, the price of Edison Gold Moulded Records was on July 18th reduced to 35 cents each and are now being sold all over the United States at that price. Owing principally to the duty, the retail price in Canada has been made forty cents. Edison Concert Records have been reduced to 75 cents each, the same price prevailing in Canada. The impetus given to orders by the rebate letter sent out in June was very satisfactory, but was almost nothing as compared to the orders received since the lower prices were formally announced. The advance orders for August Records fully equals those for the same month of last year and the orders for stock Records have been phenomenal. It was only because of our belief that a largely increased business would follow that a decision was reached to reduce prices. Had our Record making facilities been no greater to-day than they were a year ago, it is quite unlikely that a lower price would have been seriously considered, at least not for a long time. But within the past year, finding ourselves unable to fill orders in a manner satisfactory to the trade, because of inadequate factory facilities, and anticipating a rapid and steady increase in the demand for Edison Records, we built and completely equipped an entirely new Record making plant. The plant and equipment represents an expenditure of many thousands of dollars.

With more than double the Record making capacity that we had a year ago, we determined to get the business necessary to keep it busy. We did not doubt that even with Edison Records at 50 cents each, we could get such a business in time, but we wanted it now, and have, therefore, set out to get it. We con-

(Continued on page 3.)

THE ADVANCE LIST OF SEPTEMBER RECORDS APPEARS ON PAGE 2. ORDER FROM IT. NO OTHER ADVANCE LIST WILL BE ISSUED.

ADVANCE LIST OF NEW EDISON GOLD MOULDED RECORDS FOR SEPTEMBER, 1904

RECORDS listed below will be ready for shipment as near September 1st as possible, at which time Jobbers' stock orders, if placed prior to August 15th, will be shipped. September Supplements will be forwarded to Jobbers with their stock order for Records. Retail Dealers should place stock orders with their Jobbers at once, to insure prompt shipment as soon as Jobbers' stock is received.

8774 Algonquin March (Seltzer) Edison Military Band
With bells and conducted by the composer, Frank R. Seltzer.
8775 Tippecanoe (Von Alstyne) Bob Roberts
Comic song as sung by Wm. Gould in "The Southerners", with orchestra accompaniment.
8776 How Can I Leave Thee (Cramer) Miss Morgan and Mr. Stanley
Contralto and bazo duet with orchestra accompaniment.
8777 The Russian Story (Wilder) Edison Symphony Orchestra
8778 Please Come and Play in My Yard (Morse) Byron G. Harlan
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment.
8779 A Bit o' Blarney (Held) Edward M. Favor
A popular Irish song with orchestra accompaniment.
8780 Karuma (Vivian Grey) "A Japo-Rhapsody" Vess L. Ossman
Banjo solo with orchestra accompaniment.
8781 Old Folks at Home (Foster) W. H. Thompson
The old standard song accompanied by the Edison Military Band
8782 Why, Hello Bill, Who's Your Friend? (Brown) Arthur Collins
Coon song with orchestra accompaniment
8783 On Tiptoe (Hosmer) Characteristic selection Edison Concert Band
8784 Dixie (Dan Emmett) "Way Down South in Dixie" Harlan and Stanley
Male duet with orchestra accompaniment
8785 Old Mother Goose (Jerome) Billy Murray
Characteristic song from the comic opera "The Royal Chef" with orchestra accompaniment
8786 Forsaken—Verlassen (Koschat) Edison Brass Quartette
8787 Back Among the Clover and the Corn (Petrie) James F. Harrison
Descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment
8788 Down in the Vale of Shenandoah (Harris) Harry MacDonough
Charles K. Harris' latest descriptive song with orchestra accompaniment
8789 Bluette (La Rose) Piccolo solo with orchestra accompaniment Frank S. Mazziotta
8790 In the Gloaming (Harrison) Edison Male Quartette
8791 Louisa Schmidt (Von Tilzer) Collins and Harlan
Comic Dutch male duet with orchestra accompaniment
8792 Varney's Ideal (Stinson) Negro sketch Albert Benzler
Xylophone solo with orchestra accompaniment
8793 The Bloom is on the Rye (Bishop) George Seymour Lenox
An old Scotch ballad with orchestra accompaniment
8794 Scissors to Grind (Allen) Arthur Collins
Character song by the composer of "Any Rags." with orchestra accompaniment.
8795 Yale College Life March (Reed) Edison Military Band
8796 Stories Adam Told to Eve (Jerome and Schwartz) Edison Male Quartette
Solo and chorus with orchestra accompaniment
8797 A Rheumatism Cure in Jayville Center Harlan and Stanley
Comic Rube talking and singing male duet
8798 I Want to be a Soldier Medley Edison Military Band
Introducing "I Want to be a Soldier," "Good-Bye Little Girl, Good-Bye" and "Mississippi Mamie"
8799 The Maple Leaf Forever (Muir) W. H. Thompson
National song of Canada with orchestra accompaniment

Names of Composers are given in italics and parentheses following the titles.

Edison Gold Moulded Records are made only in Standard size. Both Standard and Concert Records may be ordered from this list. Order by Number, not title. If Concert Records are wanted, give the number and letter C.

(Continued from page 1.)

fidently believe that at 35 cents we shall in a very short time practically occupy the entire cylindrical record field. We certainly shall so far as the trade is concerned. At 50 cents each, Edison Gold Moulded Records were universally admitted to be worth their price. At 35 cents each they represent the greatest value possible, and we know that the public will so regard them. They are of such marked superiority that the difference between their price and that of cheap goods will not be considered by Phonograph owners. We haven't the first doubt that our Record business will inside of two months be double that of any time in the past. The conditions are ripe and a business of this magnitude is as certain as anything of the future can be.

More than this, with Edison Gold Moulded Records being sold at 35 cents each, the Edison Phonograph is going to increase in popularity by leaps and bounds. After all has been said a talking machine is the musical instrument of the masses. A comparatively few will pay high prices for machines and records, but tens of thousands of others look at the cost carefully and buy the best they can get for the least money. Edison Phonographs and Edison Gold Moulded Records will fill this situation to the fullest extent. Thousands have not bought a Phonograph because of the cost of Records. The price of the machine has been no bar, but they have realized that a stock of Records must be had and that additions must be made to it all the time to get the proper benefit from the machine. Then when they figured up the total cost they have found it more than they could stand. Edison Records at 35 cents will bring the expenditure within their means and their long cherished desire to own an Edison Phonograph will then become an established fact.

This increase in the sale of Edison goods is going to be the Dealer's recompense for the lower discounts on Records made necessary by the reduced prices. He is not only going to sell many more Records and sell them more easily, but his sales of Phonographs, upon which discounts are unchanged, are going to increase handsomely. Every Dealer who carries an adequate stock of Edison goods and makes a reasonable effort to sell them is going to be more than satisfied with his business in the coming year. Not even general business depression or Presidential year causes can prevent it. It's in the air. It must come.

Stock up. Be ready.

THE NEW AGREEMENT.

The reduction in price of Edison Gold Moulded Records became an established fact on July 18th, at the expiration of the sixty days' notice required by our Agreement with Jobbers and Dealers. The first announcement concerning possible new conditions was sent out on May 16th. On July 16th a telegram was sent to every Jobber in the United States advising him that on the 18th the price of Edison Records, standard size, would be reduced to 35 cents each. At the same time a letter of similar purport and a copy of the new Agreement, Form No. 585, was also sent to every Jobber. Since then a supply of Retail Dealers' Agreements, Form No. 590, has been sent to all Jobbers and they are now being laid before Dealers for their signature. Most of the Jobbers have already signed the new form and no opposition to it has been manifested. Dealers' Agreements are also being freely received, showing that the new conditions are being received in the proper spirit and that they will receive the hearty coöperation of the entire trade.

In the new Agreement changes are made in the price list, the discounts, the terms and the conditions. The price of standard size Records is reduced from 50 cents to 35 cents each, or $4.20 per dozen, no lower price being permitted when a dozen is purchased at one time. Concert Records are reduced from $1.00 to 75 cents each, or $9.00 per dozen.

Edison standard Blanks are reduced from 20 cents to 15 cents each when unshaved, and from 25 cents to 20 cents each shaved. Concert Blanks are reduced to 50 cents each.

The price of the Edison Victor Phonograph is increased from $60.00 to $65.00 and that of the Edison Conqueror Phonograph is increased from $75.00 to $80.00.

Radical changes have been made in the styles, prices and discounts of Coin Slot Phonographs. The Imperial, Regal, Climax, Ajax and Vulcan types have been cut out and will no longer be furnished. Two new styles, the Windsor and Majestic, have been substituted, with new list prices and special discounts. The Windsor is a new style battery current machine, and the Majestic is operated by 110 volt direct current. The list price of the Windsor is $80.00 and of the Majestic $90.00. Discounts of a special character have been made on these two new types. They are given in full and the reason for them, in an article on Coin-Slot Phonographs on page 10.

The discounts on all but Windsor and Majestic Phonographs remain as before. Standard size Records are placed at net prices to Jobbers and Dealers, and the discounts on Concert Records and Blanks have been reduced. (See new Agreement for these discounts.)

Several changes have been made in the conditions under which Edison goods must be sold. In addition to having an established store, a Retail Dealer must at all times carry a sufficient stock of Edison Phonographs and Records for exhibition and sale purposes. Dealers must get full prices for all articles sold as part of an outfit with an Edison Phonograph. This is done to prevent the cutting of prices on accessories in order to sell an Edison Phonograph and is entirely in the interest of the Dealers themselves. Clause No. 1, of the Conditions, also prohibits the disposition of Edison Phonographs or parts thereof, Records or Blanks as premiums, or by lottery, raffle or game of chance, or in other ways by which such goods may be obtained at less than full current list prices. Clause No. 2 prohibits giving trading stamps or other premiums with Phonographs, Records or Blanks. Clause No. 4 prohibits the acceptance of records of any kind, at any price, in exchange for Edison goods. Clause No. 7 prohibits the sale of Edison Phonographs, Records or Blanks outside of the United States or for export except at full list prices. The new Conditions of Sale, in full are as follows:

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

All Edison Phonographs, Records and Blanks are sold at Orange, New Jersey, under the license of Thomas A. Edison, the Edison Phonograph Company, and others, subject to the following conditions:

